WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1865.

THE CITY.

TRAIN FOR SPRINGFIELD.—Extra sleeping cars will be provided on the regular train at 7:30 this evening for Springfield, for the accommodation of those who wish to attend the funeral ceremonies.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.—The Board of Managers of the Home for the Friendless will hold their monthly meeting at the Home on Wednesday, May 3d, at 3 o'clock, p. m.

JOHNNY ALLEN leaves the Academy of Music to-day on a brief journey to St. Louis, where he will enact the tambourine in Morris & Wilson's Minstrel Troupe. He opens with a first-class war song to the tune of "Tramp, Tramp."

SANITARY FAIR.—All who would like to attend a pleasant party for the benefit of the Sanitary Fair will go to Mr. Martine's Dancing Academy, this (Wednesday) evening. Tickets at the door or at Root & Cady's music store.

FOR THE FAIR.—A dramatic entertainment for the benefit of the Fair, will be given this evening in the University of St. Marys of the Lake. A first class programme has been arranged, and the students have determined that it shall be carried out faithfully.

AVE MARIA.—The first number of a monthly Catholic journal, "devoted to the honor" of the Virgin Mary, and bearing the title which forms the caption of this paragraph, has just been issued at Notre Dame, Indiana, edited by the faculty of the University. The periodical is neatly gotten up, and contains several very readable articles.—It is for sale at all the Catholic bookstores in the city.

VIEW OF THE PROCESSION.—A very fine view of the funeral procession as it filed into the Court House, showing the funeral car, military, &c., has been taken by T. Hine, the well known photographic artist, No. 83 Clark street. It is a memento that should be in the possession of every one. The view was taken at the most interesting moment in the whole course of the cortege.

TABLEAUX.—The veteran "boys in light blue" propose to do something for their comrades in the field and hospital. On Friday evening of this week they will give a fine entertainment in Uhlich's Concert Hall, in aid of the Fair, being assisted by many young ladies. The military scenes will be new and thrilling. We hope our citizens will give the encouragement that the occasion demands. See advertisement.

SEASON GOODS.—Messrs. Hunt, Barbour & Hale, Nos. 3, 5 and 7 Lake street, will this day open one hundred cases of new dress goods suitable to the season, comprising a large assortment of delaines and prints. Also a line of bleached and brown cottons. Tradesmen desirous of purchasing a stock of goods of unexceptionable quality, and containing all the best and most approved patterns, will do well to inspect the stock of Messrs. Hunt & Co. before they purchase elsewhere.

THE PHANTOM TRAVELER TO-NIGHT.—Our amusement lovers should bear in mind that this novel and beautiful entertainment opens for the first time in our city, to-night, at Smith & Nixon's Hall. The wonderful variety and beauty of its representations, the startling novelty of its effects, such as the Ghost Scene, &c., and its life-like portraitures of all that interests us from day to day, have won the most unequivocal approbation of the first minds of the age, and contribute to crowd its entertainments wherever given. It will doubtless be the same here.

N. W. FAIR.—The Ladies' Central Committee of the Congregational Churches for the North-western Fair are requested to meet on Wednesday, at three o'clock p. m., at the rooms of the Hartford Insurance Company, No. 49 Lasalle street.

All the ladies belonging to the various Methodist Churches, interested in the Fair, are urged to attend a special meeting this morning, at half past nine o'clock, in room No. 17 M. E. Church Block, per order of the chairman.

CHARLESTON AND SUMTER.—An address will be delivered in Bryan Hall on Thursday evening next by Henry M. Smith, Esq., of the TRIBUNE, under the auspices of the U. S. Sanitary Christian Commission, and narrating the principal incidents of the late memorable trip to Charleston to raise the old flag over Fort Sumter. Mr. Smith will describe the moral and religious aspect of the colored population; the return of the expedition to Washington, the call of the Illinois delegation on President Johnson and other subjects of absorbing interest to the American people to-day.

TRIAL OF THE WASHINGTON ASSASSINS.—Major General Hunter received yesterday a telegram commanding him immediately to proceed to Washington to preside over the trial of the parties charged with being accessories to the plot in partial pursuance of which the President was assassinated, Secretary Seward dangerously wounded, and all the other members of the Cabinet intended to have been destroyed. About eighty persons have been arrested on this charge. Gen. Hunter is a man who does not stand any humbug: he goes right to the substance of the thing at once, and universally renders judgment in accordance with the evidence adduced.

HOME COMFORT.—We are not advising people to smoke. It is not a particularly pleasant habit—to some people. But there is considerable truth as well as poetry in what a writer has said: "He who doth not smoke hath either known no great grief or refuseth himself the softest consolation, next to that which cometh from heaven." If people must smoke, and smoke they will, let them smoke good tobacco. The "Home Comfort" manufactured by Heath & Connable, is of this description. It is good tobacco. The demand for the "Home Comfort" has been so large that city dealers have not been able to obtain a supply. After the 22d inst. this will be remedied, and thereafter those who desire to buy this brand can be accommodated.

MORE PICKPOCKETS IN LIMBO.—A large delegation of thieves took their departure from this city yesterday morning bound for Springfield, where they hope to receive less opposition from the police than they found here. Twenty-one pickpockets were taken into custody on Monday, and yesterday seven more were caught. Their names are: James Stanton, John E. Harris, Thomas McHalo, John Stradley, John Williams, Thomas Andrews, and Jacob Scott. The man Stanton is reported to be the most scientific and dextrous pickpocket in the Northwest.

About six o'clock last evening two men were relieved of their wallets in the saloon in the alley at the rear of the TRIBUNE office. One of them lost $160 and the other $100. The thefts were committed by a party of rowdies congregated in the saloon. No arrests were made.

ROBBERIES.—The residence of Mr. Gearhardt, on Milwaukee avenue between Green and Indiana streets, during the absence of the family yesterday afternoon, was entered by some unknown robbers, and a chest broken open, from which they took $2,000. The entrance was made through the front door.

On Monday afternoon the grocery store of Messrs. Mahew & Baker, on the corner of Cottage Grove avenue and 22d street, was entered during the absence of the occupants and robbed of $34 in money and goods to the amount of about $50.

About ten o'clock on Monday night, two men with a two horse wagon drove up to a house on the southwest plank road, near Madison street, during the absence of all the men folks, and boldly entered the kitchen, carried out and loaded their vehicle with everything they could find in the way of eatables, and then drove off. There were two women in the house at the time, but they were deterred from giving an alarm by one of the robbers brandishing a revolver and threatening to kill them if they made any noise.

AN EXCHANGE.—The following is going the rounds of the papers, credited to the St. Louis Republican:

"The following occurrence, the result of a blunder on the part of an express agent, took place in this city recently. A young lady in delicate health, daughter of a prominent and highly esteemed citizen, was sent to a water-cure establishment in Wisconsin, where it was hoped her health would improve. They, however, were disappointed, and the girl died, and her remains were forwarded by express to this city for burial. When the afflicted family were about to take a last look at the face of the deceased, and the lid of the coffin was raised, they were shocked and mortified to discover that the corpse was the body of a man, which, by some unfortunate blunder of the agent of the express company, had been sent to them instead of the lady intended. Investigation showed that the coffins had been exchanged in Chicago and each sent in the wrong direction."

BOLD ROBBERY.—Yesterday afternoon two men entered the saloon kept by Abe Kay, on the corner of Desplaines and Fulton streets, and called for ale, which was given them by Mrs. Kay. In payment for the liquor one of the men offered a $20 note, but Mrs. Kay, mistrusting, from the suspicious appearance of the man, that his presenting such a large bill was merely a ruse to find out how much money she had, refused to change it. Twice more they drank, each time presenting the same bill. Not liking to lose thirty cents, she concluded to change the bill, and with that intent took out a wallet containing $64 and commenced counting out the required amount, when her suspicions again returning, she "pre-emptorally" refused to change the bill, and placed the wallet in the drawer. Just then something required her attention in the kitchen, and going there she left her little girl in the saloon. Scarcely was her back turned before one of the men reached over the counter and abstracted the wallet from the drawer, and ran out. The little girl followed them several blocks, calling on the passers by to arrest the men, but her cries were unheeded and they made good their escape.

AMUSEMENTS.

OPERA.—The opera season will be resumed on this evening. The repertoire for the week is as follows: On this evening M'lle Ortolani will make her debut as Amina, in Sonnambula. On Thursday evening, I Puritani will be given, with Miss Kellogg as Elvira. On Friday evening, Signor Mazzoleni, the celebrated tenor, will make his debut in Verdi's famous opera, Ballo in Maschera, as Richard the Governor, his great role, and Carlotta Zucchi as Amelia. On Saturday, for Matinee, Martha. The box office at the Opera House will be opened this morning at 9 o'clock.

MCVICKER'S.—This evening Mr and Miss Couldock will appear in an entirely new domestic drama entitled "Jessie McLane; or the Story of a Coal Mine," and a new farce written by a gentleman of this city, entitled "A Supper in Dixie." "Milky White" is in rehearsal.

COL. WOOD'S MUSEUM.—This excellent little theater will re-open this afternoon, on which occasion will be presented the successful drama entitled "Peep O' Day," with new scenery and a good cast. The management have several novelties in preparation.

HOWE'S CIRCUS.—This circus will exhibit in Chicago this evening, at the corner of State and Twelfth streets, under the direction of F. J. Howes, proprietor, and continue afternoon and evening until the 6th inst.

SMITH & NIXON'S.—The Phantom Traveler will commence his journey to-night at Smith & Nixon's. Entertainments will be given afternoon and evening until Saturday night.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Arlington, Leon & Kelly will re-commence their entertainments at the Academy of Music this evening. The attraction is the great equestrian spectacle of Mazeppa and an excellent programme of musical gems.

Rebuke of Flunkyism.

CHICAGO, May 2, 1865.

Editors Chicago Tribune:

The Directors of the Christian Commission ought at once to make a pledge that they will not use a dollar of the money and supplies furnished them to feed rebels; they are given for no such purpose; and that they will summarily dismiss all agents who go calling upon or toadying to General Lee or any other traitor. In the very paper in which you publish the fact that the contributions of the fathers and mothers of the soldiers whom these villains have starved are being bestowed upon pampered rebels, is a letter setting forth that these people shouted when they heard of Lincoln's death. Not another dime should the Christian Commission receive until it takes some action in this matter.

Will you call upon the Worcester Spy to give the name of its correspondent, and, if possible, to obtain and publish those of the six other fools who went with him. Yours, T.

THE PRESIDENT'S FUNERAL.

THE BODY DEPARTED FOR SPRINGFIELD.

Visiting the Corpse in the Court House Yesterday.

Escorting the Remains to the Depot—Torchlight Procession—The Funeral Dirge.

Meetings, Resolutions, &c.

The corse of our honored President has left Chicago—has gone forward on the last stage of its journey to the tomb. Ere these lines meet the eyes of a majority of our readers the sepulchral cortege will have deposited the remains in the State House—carried the lifeless form back to the place where little more than four years ago he took leave of his friends on departing to assume the honors and duties of the Presidential office. He has returned to that home, oh how sadly! yet not until he had accomplished the glorious mission on which he set out, yea one far more glorious than probably even he dared to picture to himself when last he stood in the streets of Springfield, and sadly bade them "farewell." In this, his return, he comes as one who has conquered through death—he has established in this his martyrdom his right to be called "The Savior of his country"—"HE DIED TO MAKE US FREE."

Chicago has shown during the past two days, fully as ever, how deeply his image and the record of his virtues is engraven on the popular heart. Out of the depths of our love for him and detestation of the foul sin which incited to his assassination, not less than of the crimsoned hand now laid low, which was but the accursed instrument of a Satanic power, we have shown how a people can mourn. The grim pageant of woe which saluted the corpse in its passage through our city, imposing though it were, was in truth but a feeble index of the grief which welled up in every breast, and remained unexpressed because too profound for utterance. The national mourning was nowhere more intense than in Chicago, perhaps nowhere so deep, so heartfelt. Here he was known and personally beloved, and of the untold thousands who assembled to receive here the dust, scarcely one felt but that he was honored in being able to pay the last sad tribute of respect to the remains.

And now the void, now the time that shall tell how great the loss, how poignant our sorrow. Our father, our friend, our deliverer, is dead; the first outburst of grief, great, overwhelming, though it were, was yet broken by the excitement of the occasion, and our subsequent wailings even have not been without sad interest. But now that the form is forever departed, and naught save the memory of the man remains, now comes the blank desolation and sorrow, which, though not so demonstrative, is more affective. The head of the nation, of the race, is gone from among us—even his form has departed. We mourn him now as indeed gone; the place which knew him so long, shall know him no more forever.

It is indeed a terrible, scarcely fathomable void. Lincoln has been identified with Chicago as no other President. He was peculiarly ours, both by education, by residence, by promotion, by homogeneity of thought and temperament. He was our President in every sense of the word. It was here that he gained those ideas of men and things which fitted him for the exalted position he occupied; here that his ability was first recognized. It was upon our shoulders that he was lifted up above the heads of the people, and sustained in his struggle, first for the Presidency, and then for the freedom and honor of the Nation. It was here that he commenced to ascend the ladder which has led him heavenward, and landed him among the clouds, whose gathering forms now obscure him from our view; and now as we stand at the base of that ladder, and look wistfully upward, we can discern the hand of our Heavenly Father, who doeth all things well; we can see, as did Jacob, the angels of God ascending and descending upon it, and we know that he is gone to his rest. Oh! that like that other man of God who was taken up into heaven, a double portion of his spirit may be upon his successor! Then will indeed the sting of the dread visitation be taken away, and we may cease to mourn if, bearing his mantle, we can see the flood of our national trouble divide and let us pass safely over.

'Twas thus and why we mourned here; it is for this that we will still mourn his loss, and hold in greater reverence his memory. Well may we, in the light of our bereavement, exclaim, as one man—

Remember thee?
Yes, from the table of our memory
We'll wipe away all trivial fond records,
And thy bright name alone shall live
Within the book and volume of our brain,
Unmixed with baser matter.

We cannot forget him if we would; the benefits he has conferred have made for him a fame which cannot perish, raised a monument more enduring than marble, on whose sides are graven the bright record as with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever. The four millions of bondmen whom he has led out of the worse than Egyptian slavery, are a living epistle to his name, known and read of all men, and we who have been also redeemed from the blight of the curse under his direction shall ever cherish him in grateful remembrance. It is not as the conqueror, but as the emancipator, that Lincoln is immortal. He was the genius at whose touch the chains fell from the hands of the captive, and the oppressed went forth free; he the prophet who came preaching the acceptable year of the Lord, and who brought also the day of vengeance of our God to the enemies of our national liberty.

The hundreds of thousands of people who followed the inanimate clay along our streets, and gazed on the cold features of the departed, are but the advance guard of the mighty host whose tramp enduring through the ages shall in this city bear devoted testimony to his virtues, and swear by the memory of the devoted martyr that the Union he died to maintain "must and shall be preserved." The lapse of a century will but hallow his memory the more, and still more deeply endear him to the hearts of the millions; and as the light of dawning civilization shall dawn over the peoples of the earth, and men everywhere shall be free, Chicago will find still greater reason to be proud of her martyr emancipator, and treasure up still more gratefully each memento of the man whose fame will be the brightest jewel in our civic crown.

LYING IN STATE.

The corpse of our murdered President was borne into the Court House about one o'clock on Monday afternoon, and passed by the whole procession of about forty thousand people. The doors were then closed till six o'clock in order to allow the body to be put in order. The doors were then thrown open, and the coffin-lid partially taken off leaving the face exposed. Thenceforward during all the night of Monday and until the remains were closed on Tuesday, there was a continuous stream of visitors passing through the rotunda of the Court House. It is, of course, impossible to arrive at the exact number of those who embraced the opportunity to look for the last time upon all that is left of the great and good President. The number must be reached only approximately. Up to midnight on Monday, it was estimated that fully 40,000 had visited the remains. Between midnight and daylight the number did not exceed 8,000, but after that they were as numerous as ever. Fully 75,000 passed through the Court House on Tuesday, or 125,000 altogether. This is a low estimate.

APPEARANCE OF THE BODY.

The appearance of the body had not sensibly changed. There was the same holy, calm expression, and the same placid smile resting upon those marble features, and except for their discoloration it was hard to believe that Abraham Lincoln was dead. The body looked rather as if in gentle slumber, and one could almost seem to hear the respiration, and see the breast heaving as if in sleep.

THE SINGING.

At intervals, while the people were filing silently by, from the second floor came the solemn strains of the singers as they sang their mournful chaunts for the dead. The effect was inexpressibly grand and solemn.

THE PROCESSION.

The people were forced to remain in line for several hours before they could have an opportunity to enter the Court House. This line extended, at intervals during the day for more than a score of blocks, and many were forced to stand for hours.

KENTUCKY DELEGATION.

Governor Bramlette, of Kentucky, staff and suite arrived in the city about five o'clock on Tuesday morning, from Indianapolis, having participated in the funeral ceremonies in that city on Sunday last. Major General Palmer, commanding the Department of Kentucky, accompanied the Governor with his staff, and a delegation also from the Common Council of the city of Louisville. The whole party number fifty persons. They proceeded to Springfield last evening with the funeral cortege, and will take part in the obsequies. The following is the delegation:

Governor Thomas E. Bramlette and staff; D. W. Lindsey, Adjutant General; S. E. Suddarth, Quartermaster General; W. T. Scott, Paymaster General; Wm. H. Granger, Aid-de-Camp; A. G. Hodges, Aid-de-Camp; Rev. D. P. Henderson, Chaplain; W. T. Samuels, Auditor; James R. Page, Assistant Secretary; J. R. Duncan, Aid-de-Camp; Hon. Wm. Kaye; D. R. Haggard, M. D.; W. B. Belknap, Esq.; A. B. Semple, Esq.; Arthur Peter, Esq.; B. F. Avery, Esq.; J. D. Orril, Esq.; R. C. Gwathmey, W. H. Goddard, T. C. Coleman, R. L. Post, A. J. Ballard, E. Slaughter, M. Redding, J. C. Nauts, W. B. Gurley, C. C. Hull, L. B. Todd, B. M. Patten, W. H. Kinney, E. N. Woodruff, W. D. Smith, J. H. Spear, Rev. C. Vansantvoord, Chaplain, U. S. A.; Rev. T. Carver, do., do.; Major General J. M. Palmer, commanding Department of Kentucky; staff—Major L. Hammond, A. I. G.; Captain B. B. Harlan, A. A. G.; Captain H. Howland, C. Q. M.; Captain J. F. Herbert, Chief of Artillery; I. M. Wood, orderly.

SPRINGFIELD DELEGATION.

The following gentlemen, forming the committee of reception of the remains, arrived from Springfield yesterday morning: Colonel George H. Harlow, W. J. Conkling, Esq., Colonel A. J. Babcock, Captain A. Johnson, Colonel W. D. Crowell, D. L. Gold, Esq., G. M. Brinkerhoff, Esq., Rev. N. W. Miner, Rev. A. Hale, A. A. Brackett, Esq., T. W. Tracy, Esq., H. G. Fitzhugh, Esq., T. A. Ragsdale, Esq., G. H. Souther, Esq., E. L. Gross, Esq., E. B. Hawley, Esq., S. S. Whitehurst, Esq., A. B. Mackenzie, Esq., Cyrus Vandeven, Esq., S. M. Parsons, Esq., R. P. Johnson, Esq., Charles Dunn, Esq., J. E. Roll, Esq., J. D. B. Salter, Esq., E. Wright, Colonel Wm. A. Schmidt, C. L. Conkling, C. S. Zane, S. G. Nesbit, Dr. J. J. Lord, T. Whitmore, W. W. Watson, A. T. Barnes, P. C. Canedy, J. Armstrong, J. Johnson, G. Keyes, S. M. Burkhardt, S. Holliday, Hon. James H. Beveridge, James P. McCoy, Ed. S. Mulliner.

DEPARTURE OF THE REMAINS.

According to announcement, the members of the old and new Council assembled in the Council Chamber at half past seven o'clock. Hon. F. C. Sherman called the meeting to order, and from the chamber they marched to the rotunda below, where, separated into two divisions, one headed by Hon. J. B. Rice and the other by Hon. F. C. Sherman, they took up their positions on the right and left of the catafalque.

CLOSING THE DOORS.

About this time the doors of the Court House were closed, and the mourners proper and the military escort, gathered around to take a last look of the President before them. While standing silently by, the embalmer closed the lid of the coffin and screwed it firmly down—fifteen young ladies, each dressed in white waists and black skirts, with black and white scarfs thrown over their left shoulders, advanced, and while the organ above pealed forth a solemn requiem scattered white roses upon the coffin lid.

REMOVING THE REMAINS.

The guard of soldiers upon whom devolved the duty of removing the remains, lifted the coffin upon their shoulders and with firm and solemn tread, carried it out of the south door of the Court House, and laid it reverently in the funeral car, prepared for its reception. This was the same car which figured in the procession on Monday. It was drawn by ten black horses furnished by the American and United States Express Companies, and driven by Captain Knights.

DIRGES.

As soon as it was placed in the car, it was surrounded by torch bearers, and immediately 250 German singers, from all parts of the city and county, under the leadership of Otto Loeb, commenced a dirge, composed, words and music, by the leader of the band.

TORCHES.

Grouped around the south side of the Court House Square were men and boys bearing torches to the number of one thousand. It was a decided feature of the procession and added immensely to the effect.

THE PROCESSION.

The procession formed in the following order:

Band.
Chief Marshal—Col. R. M. Hough.
Assistants—Col. John L. Hancock and Capt. Wm. Turtle.
Marshals—C. L. Wilson, Col. J. Mason Loomis, Col. Ezra Taylor, Col. H. D. Booth, C.
Wahl, Philip Wadsworth.
Aids—Maj. L. D. Hubbard, A. I. G., Capt. Arthur M. Kinzie, Dr. Brock McVickar, Maj. J. R. Hugunin, Adj. Edward F. Bishop, J. L. Pickard, Capt. I. Parsons Rumsey, Maj. Thad. S. Clarsson, W. M. Egan, Murray Nelson, Redmond Prindiville, J. E. Maple, Dr. F. Mahla, Fr. Mehring, George W. Gage, C. Y. Richmond, N. J. Howe, H. Wendt.
Maj. Gen. Joseph Hooker and Staff.
Brig. Gen. Sweet and Staff.

Hon. F. C. Sherman and the Common Council as Pall Bearers.	HEARSE	Hon. J. B. Rice and the Common Council as Pall Bearers.

Military Escort, as follows: Guard of Honor from Washington, D. C., on foot; Captain James McCanly, 9th V. R. C.; First Lieutenant J. R. Durkee, 7th U. S.; Second Lieutenant E. Murphy, 10th U. S.; Second Lieutenant E. Hoppy, 10th U. S.; twenty-five First Sergeants of the Veteran Reserve Corps.

Guard of Honor, in carriages, as follows: Major General Barnard, Rear Admiral Davis, General McCullum, Brigadier General Ramsey, Brigadier General Caldwell, Brigadier General Howe, Brigadier General Townsend, Brigadier General Eaton, Captain Taylor, U. S. N., Brigadier General Ekin, Major Field, U. S. M. C., Captain Penrose, Colonel Robinson, Captain Wyman.

ILLINOIS DELEGATION.—Col. J. H. Bowen, Chief Marshal. Gov. Oglesby, Jesse K. Dubois, S. M. Cullum, D. L. Phillips, Gen. Haynie, O. M. Hatch, E. F. Leonard, Hon. S. H. Melvin.

Congressional Delegation—George T. Brown, Sergeant-at-Arms and Marshal. Senator Nye, Nevada; Senator Williams, Oregon; E. B. Washburne, Illinois; J. F. Farnsworth, Illinois; Hon. T. White Ferry, Michigan; Hon. S. Clark, Kansas; Hon. Thomas B. Sherman, California; Hon. Charles E. Phelps, Maryland; Hon. R. V. Whaley, West Virginia; Hon. W. A. Newell, New Jersey; Hon. Samuel Hooper, Massachusetts; Hon. Joseph Bailey, Pennsylvania; J. K. Morehead, Pennsylvania; Hon. W. W. Wallace, Idaho Territory; Governors of States.

The cortege was escorted by the torch bearers, who marched parallel with it and three feet from the sidewalk.

AT THE DEPOT.

The procession, to the music of Vaas' Band, marched along Washington to Market, thence to Madison and along Canal street to the depot of the St. Louis and Chicago railroad. The depot buildings were appropriately draped, and across the track was suspended a magnificent flag, tastefully draped and festooned. The procession passed within the enclosure, and, while the remains were being placed in the car prepared for them, the German Sangerbund sang several airs, prominent among which were the following: "Schlummire Sanft," words by Otto Lob; "O Sanctissima;" "Eusegerviae," and "Unter allen Wipfeln."

THE CARS.

The special train, which carried the remains of the President and the escort in charge, consisted of ten cars, beautifully draped and decorated. It is drawn by Engine No. 58, over which J. Jackman, Master Mechanic of the St. Louis Road, presides. The Conductor of the train is Amos Brinckley, and Robert Hale, Esq., the Superintendent of the road, accompanies it. The train is preceded ten minutes in advance by a pilot engine, No. 40, and every precaution used to avoid accidents. The cortege will arrive at Springfield at eight o'clock this morning, making the rate of speed a little less than eighteen miles an hour.

DEPARTURE.

At 9:30 precisely, the train left the depot, followed by the prayers and tears of thousands. And thus have ended the demonstrations in Chicago in honor of the noble dead. We have reason to be proud of the part our city has taken in this. It was fitting that here in the midst of those who knew him best and loved him most, his death should be most sincerely lamented.

CREDITS.

Prominent in the procession were the Turners, dressed in white, each carrying a torch, and bearing at their head a transparency, designed by J. J. Richards, Esq., Marshal of the Fire Brigade. This was composed of three triangles, lying one above the other, and surmounted by a life sized bust of Lincoln, wrapped in the American flag. It was an excellent feature of the procession. Credit is especially due to the 19th Illinois Volunteers, Capt. Hayden, for becoming a portion of the torchlight escort, as well as for guarding the remains when they lay in state on Monday night. The 24th Illinois were also out in considerable numbers, the Seamen's Benevolent Society, and Col. Smith's company. All were particularly active and are entitled to great credit.

ACCIDENTS.

About twenty minutes past nine o'clock, as the procession was passing the corner of Washington and Market streets, about twenty feet of the sidewalk on the southeast corner gave way beneath the great weight of spectators standing upon it, and precipitated a large number to the earth below—a depth of seven or eight feet. About a score of persons were bruised and scratched by the accident, though, with the exception of a child eight or nine years of age, who received some very severe contusions on the head and breast, no one was seriously injured.

A few minutes after the last accident, the sidewalk on the south-east corner of Madison and Market streets also yielded to the external pressure and broke down, throwing between a hundred and twenty and a hundred and thirty spectators—many of them ladies—to the earth, among heaps of broken bottles, piles of bricks and other rubbish. Several torch bearers from the procession, came to the scene of the casualty with their lights, and materially aided in rescuing the sufferers from their dangerous situation, and sending those home who were unable to walk. Nearly every one who stood on the broken sidewalk was more or less injured, some quite seriously.

A man named Matthew McDonald residing in the Tremont Block received a severe contusion and it was feared fracture of the ankle. Another had his arm broken, and a third sustained a dislocation of the shoulder. A young lady residing on North Lasalle street was badly injured in the stomach, and also it was as feared in the spine. Another living in the Club House on State street received a severe injury on the shoulder, and three other young ladies, one of whom is engaged at the Tremont House, were seriously bruised about the breast and neck. One also received a severe contusion of the head.

A large number of hats, caps, bonnets, etc., were taken from the scenes of the accident by the police, and may be seen for identification at the Central Police Station.

THE RECEPTION ON MONDAY.

Several omissions occurred in our report of yesterday; we now supply them:

In the Fifth Division of the procession on Monday, immediately following the Gentleman's Sodality Society, were:

Members of the Dramatic Profession in Chicago, about thirty-five in all.

Journeymen Tailors' Association, one hundred members.

The Committee on Decorations to whom was intrusted the important task of designing and seeing executed the funeral arch, car, catafalque, &c., were: George M. Kimbark, Chairman; W. W. Boyington, J. M. Van Osdel, G. P. A. Healy, L. W. Volk.

A copy of the Emancipation Proclamation, draped in white, was suspended from the window of W. R. Stone's bonnet rooms, No. 134 Lake street. The surrounding drapery was very graceful.

The establishment of G. R. Chittenden & Co., No. 106 Lake street, was elaborately decorated, draped with festoons all around the front of the building.

In the procession with the Chicago Board of Trade, was Mr. Daniel Brooks, of New Hampshire, who, when a boy of sixteen, marched in the funeral procession of George Washington. Mr. Brooks is at the residence of his relative, Joseph H. Moore, Esq., in this city.

Among the decorations in Camp Douglas, there were three quite unique and appropriate at Mrs. M. W. Pennely's post sutler's store, 8th Veteran Reserve Corps.

The American flags handsomely mounted, and bordered with alternate stripes of black and white, the flags tied with crape, and between the flags medallion likenesses of Abraham Lincoln, and the following inscription surrounding the whole:

"The Nation Mourns Her Fallen Hero's Death."
"Let the Heavens be Hung in Black;
The Brightest Star on Our Horizon has Set!"
"Glorious Martyr!
Thou Hast Finished Thy Work Nobly!"
"Glorious in Life!
Immortal in Death!"

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred was held on Tuesday afternoon, in the Custom House, which was fully attended; Luther Haven, Esq., occupied the Chair.

The Lincoln Monument Committee appointed at a previous meeting, reported through J. C. Dore, Esq., the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The citizens of Chicago and the Northwest, in common with the whole nation, have suffered an irreparable loss in the untimely death of Abraham Lincoln, late President of the United States; and

WHEREAS, A life so pure, so ingenuous and so noble deserves all honor and commemoration; and

WHEREAS, He was of the people, and the people are all heirs to his fame; and

WHEREAS, It is eminently proper that all who lament his decease should have an opportunity to contribute something to give expression in some enduring form of their high appreciation of his exalted character; therefore,

Resolved, That a monument be erected to his memory on the plat of ground conveyed by the national Government to our city, known as Dearborn Park, emblematical of his purity, his patriotism, and his devotion to freedom.

Resolved, That the subscribers to a fund to be called the "Monument Fund" shall constitute an association, to be called the "Lincoln Monument Association," and that every subscriber shall be entitled to a certificate of membership bearing an engraving of the monument thereon.

Resolved, That books be opened immediately for subscriptions of one dollar each for adults, and for sums of not less than twenty-five cents for children and youth for said fund.

Resolved, That there be appointed an Executive Committee, whose duty it shall be to procure all necessary subscription books; to appoint such sub-committees, and to perform such other acts and duties as in their judgment may be deemed necessary to accomplish the object contemplated by the foregoing preamble and resolutions without delay.

Mr. Kimbark said that a plan for a Lincoln institute had been talked of, at a cost of half a million dollars, which would be much more useful than a mere marble monument. He doubted if the two could be carried out, and thought it would be best to combine them.

The resolutions were discussed at length, the chief objection raised to them being that it was not well to fix on the site, but leave the selection open to some future time.

S. A. Goodwin said that the monument must be erected forthwith, with all the characteristic energy of the Western people. It must not drag along as President Washington's did in Congress.

G. W. Gage said that with proper energy the money needed could be raised within sixty days.

I. Y. Munn had understood that the place of interment had not yet been decided on; if the remains were to be buried in Chicago, they would not then want a Chicago monument in Dearborn Park, but a National Monument.

On motion of Murry Nelson, the Committee decided to adjourn to Tuesday evening next in the Circuit Court room.

Hon. J. B. Rice read a call for a meeting to take into consideration the purchase of a residence for Mrs. Lincoln and family in this city, and invited signatures thereto.

Hon. J. Y. Scammon said that many different plans had been proposed for erecting mementoes of the death of the late President. He thought that the great idea they had to keep in view was that Lincoln had been the emancipator of the people. He believed that this idea could be best perpetuated by the erection of an edifice to be called "Emancipation Hall"—a great public hall which by its size, exterior, and contents, would ever proclaim the great fact that Lincoln had been the man who had led the great movement for the downfall of slavery.

On the motion of J. C. Dore, Esq., it was resolved to add John Jones to the committee, on the ground that the colored people ought to be represented.

The committee then adjourned.

THE RUSH FOR RELICS.

The avidity with which people sought to obtain mementoes of the funeral was wonderful. It was necessary to set a strong guard around the car, arch and catafalque, to prevent them from being torn in pieces. Ladies eagerly picked up the leaves of the flowers which had been strewn on the coffin, and put them carefully in paper for preservation. Scissors were pulled out to clip pieces from the drapery, and positive roughness had to be used in many cases to prevent the complete demolition of everything which had been used in the funeral obsequies. Their preservation was a matter of necessity, as it is intended to place these valued mementoes in the relic department of the Great Northwestern Fair.

THE DECORATIONS ON VIEW.

We are requested by the Committee on Decorations to say that the drapery and funeral furniture on the Court House will remain untouched for ten days, and that the Court House will be thrown open to-day and to-morrow (Wednesday and Thursday) to give to citizens and strangers who have been unable to gain admission heretofore, an opportunity to view the catafalque and decorations.

Court House Square.

Editors Chicago Tribune:

Money is again being spent to put Court House square in condition. But from past experience it is almost hopeless to expect it will remain so, unless some plan is adopted to prevent vandals from treading down the grass. I have seen such a square kept in good order by taking oak stakes and driving them into the ground wherever a path above ground was attempted to be made. The stake should be made strong, and the man that stubs his toes against those once, will not be likely to repeat the trial. ORDER.

OUR MIDNIGHT MARKET REPORT.

Special Dispatch to the Western Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, May 2.

At the Stock Exchange this morning there was a strong pressure to sell on the railway list. The market was from 1 to 3 ℔ cent lower. There was some heavy buying at a decline. The market was firmer at the Second Board, and strong at the last Board, and a little better. Government Securities were all firm and in demand. State Bonds were steady and slightly better. Coal and miscellaneous shares were generally heavy and lower, especially on Cumberland, and Quicksilver and Mariposa.

The price of gold to-day fell off 1@2 per cent, but towards noon the market improved. It was steady and uniform throughout the afternoon, with only slight fluctuations. There is very little interest now manifested in gold speculations. The supply of gold at this point is constantly on the increase, and the amount in the banks and the sub treasury is over forty millions.

The money market remains extremely easy.

Sales Petroleum stocks—Excelsior, $4 90; Oceanic, $2 57; Germania, 66c; Tack, $1 60; Buchanan Farm, $2.51.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Loss of a Steamer—Report that Jeff. Thompson, with 3,000 Men, has Invaded Missouri—Survivors of the Sultana—Arrest of Five Fiends.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

ST. LOUIS, May 2.

A dispatch received from Omaha this morning, states that the steamer Cora sunk about sixty miles above that place, in six feet of water. She was en route from this city to the gold mines with a large freight. The Cora was a stern-wheeler, owned by Capt. Kinney of this city. It is thought she will be raised, as the river is falling. A boat has already been dispatched to her assistance.

The Perryville Union mentions a report that Jeff. Thompson, with 3,000 men, had entered Southeast Missouri, and occupied Patterson, with the design of advancing upon Fredericktown and Pilot Knob.

The steamer Belle St. Louis arrived from Memphis at daylight this morning. On board were three hundred survivors of the Sultana disaster. Most of them were able to walk to Benton Barracks. Five deck hands belonging to the ill-fated steamer Sultana arrived from Memphis on Sunday morning, and attracted considerable attention by their reports of the disaster. Yesterday they were arrested by order of the Provost Marshal, Major Mattock, who had just received instructions from Memphis to arrest these men and send them back in irons, which was done last evening. After the Sultana was found to be on fire, these five men launched the yawl of the steamer, which would have held thirty, and jumping into it pushed down the stream through a mile of struggling, scalded, drowning soldiers, and resisted all efforts of the drowning men to cling to the boat by mashing their heads or hands with oars. Had they made any exertion, they could have saved hundreds; but no! they were bound for Memphis, and the first upward-bound boat, and they cared not who drowned.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Particulars of the Destruction of the Rebel Ram Webb—Kirby Smith Proposes to Surrender.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The steamer Guiding Star has arrived, from New Orleans April 25th and Havana April 28th. The destruction of the rebel ram Webb is fully confirmed. She passed New Orleans under a heavy fire from our war vessels, the Lackawana sending a 200-℔ shot through her bows. Only one vessel, the Hollyhock, Lieut. Commander Gherardi, was ready to follow, which kept close upon the track of the Webb until twenty-eight miles below the city. The rebels saw the sloop-of-war Richmond ready for action, and turned for the shore, the Hollyhock going straight at her. The Webb's officers and crew fired her in several places, and fled into the swamps. The boats from the Hollyhock boarded her and saved one man who had been abandoned, asleep aboard. They were unable to put out the flames from the inflammable nature of her cargo, and fear of explosion of her magazine. The Webb was armed with three guns, one a 32-pounder. There were 217 bales of cotton aboard, besides rosin and turpentine. It seems the pilot of the Richmond knew the Webb. Two of her crew had given themselves up.

The New Orleans Times of the 25th, reports that the steamer Gen. Hodges came out of Pea River on the 23d, under a flag of truce, for the purpose of negotiating with Col. Sprague, Chief of Staff of Gen. Pope, for the surrender of Gen. Kirby Smith and his force.

Colonel Sprague left for Cairo on the gunboat Lexington for the purpose of meeting the General Hodges at the mouth of the Red River, and there can be little doubt that Kirby Smith has surrendered his entire force. The terms of surrender are those proffered by Gen. Grant to Gen. Lee.

The Lexington and Hodges were at last accounts anchored at Hog Point, a few miles below the mouth of Red River.

The surrender of the rebel Secretary of Navy, Mallory, at Pensacola, is confirmed.

Eight millions of greenbacks had arrived at New Orleans to pay our troops, and as much more was on the way.

Claiborne, Ala., has been occupied by our cavalry, under Gen. Lucas, after a victory over a regiment of rebels north of Mount Pleasant—the rebels losing 10 killed, 15 wounded and 22 prisoners. Our loss was 3 killed and 9 wounded. Five hundred bales of cotton were secured.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Czar of Russia in France—Alleged Proposition of Louis Napoleon for a Treaty with England Against America—Markets—The Peace Prospects, &c., &c.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The steamer Scotia, from Liverpool 22d, and Queenstown 23d ultimo, has arrived.

Consols, 90¾@91 for money.

The Czarwitch continues dangerously ill at Nice.

The Czar passed through Paris and had an interview with Napoleon.

The Mexican loan is highly successful.

Bourse heavy.

LIVERPOOL, April 23—p. m.—Cotton buoyant, and advanced ½d, and in some cases more, for American.

Breadstuffs quiet and steady. Provisions quiet and steady.

The London Morning Advertiser asserts that on receipt of the fall of Richmond, Louis Napoleon proposed to the British Ambassador to Paris, that England and France should, by treaty offensive and defensive, make common cause and assist each other with all their land and sea forces, in the event of an attack on either Canada or Mexico. The Advertiser denounces the scheme, and trusts that inquiry will be made into it on the reassembling of Parliament. This statement must be taken for what it is worth, as it is not referred to by any other journal.

The belief that the struggle is over in the South continues to gain strength.

American securities and cotton are very buoyant and active in anticipation of peace.

The London Army and Navy Gazette thinks it impossible that organized resistance can be prolonged in the South.

The King of the Belgians, on his return to Brussels, was taken with illness.

The Index and some other pro-Southern journals still profess to look hopefully upon the second act of war which they argue is about to open.

Mr. Harvey, United States Minister to Portugal, publishes a letter in the Times, giving his version of the firing into the Niagara and Sacramento at Lisbon, showing that they were entirely blameless, and according high praise to Commodore Craven for his forbearance.

The extradition case of Windsor, the defaulting cashier of the Mercantile Bank, New York, had been before the Court of the Queen's Bench, and was postponed for a week.

The Bank of France lost one and three quarters million francs, in specie, during the week.

The Times thinks unless the South consents to re-enter the Union, the end is as far off as ever, but as the North shows evidence of liberality, and as slavery is already half extinct and verging on its final doom, the Times thinks reconstruction possible; but come what may, England will await the issue with the steady forbearance of neutrals, but with an earnest wish for steady and lasting peace.

FROM OREGON, ARIZONA, AND CALIFORNIA.

Hanging of Horse Thieves—Fight with the Indians—Business, Mining and Crop Prospects—Gold.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Oregon papers mention the hanging of fifteen horse-thieves in Walla-Walla and Boise counties by lynch law, within a short time. The vigilance committee had a list of one hundred and fifty rogues, who will be driven out of the country or punished.

Arizona advices to the 12th of April mention another fight with the Apaches, in which twelve Indians were killed, and one soldier killed and one wounded. The Indians fled.

Gilbert W. Hopkins, a member of the Arizona Legislature, Carlos Smith, one of the officers of that body, and several other whites, had lately been murdered by the Indians.

Mining and business prosper.

The crops in California all look well.

The deposits at the Mint during the last month were about $225,000.

Arrived last evening, the steamer Sierra Nevada, from Portland and Victoria, with $114,000 in gold.

FROM CUBA AND MEXICO

Victory for the Imperialists.

NEW YORK, May 2.—We have Havana advices to the 28th, and Vera Cruz to the 15th. The Mexican news is not important. The Imperialists are said to have bloodily repulsed an attack on Huatilla, and to have again defeated the same foe, after a pursuit of four leagues. The Revolutionists had defeated a squadron of Imperialists at Obispo, in Morelia.

The town of Parnandero, in the State of Michoacan, surrendered to the Juarists.

There is no news from Cuba.

The Assassination Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The New York Times' Washington special says: "In the further progress of the preliminary examinations as to the assassination conspiracy, arrests are continually being made, and thus far the whole number taken into custody will reach nearly 300. The trial of these conspirators will be commenced however, before a military commission, and if, upon this hearing, the same facts are brought out that have been disclosed in the preliminary examination, the magnitude of the plot will astonish the whole country. It is not true, as reported, that Harrold has been tried. His trial is set for to-morrow.

"Lieut. Dougherty, who commanded the detachment of the 16th New York cavalry, that assisted in the capture of Booth, has been promoted to a Captaincy by commission of the Governor of New York."

The Post's Washington special says: "The trial of persons implicated in the assassination will commence in this city early next week. Newspaper reporters will be admitted."

A Card from the Mayor of Erie.

ERIE, Pa., May 2.—Whilst acknowledging with profound humiliation the absence of a proper demonstration of respect, on the part of this city, to greet the remains of President Lincoln on their arrival on last Friday morning, justice to our citizens, who have ever delighted to honor the lamented patriot whilst living, and who are second to none in heartfelt devotion to the memory of the illustrious dead, requires publicity of the fact that, in the midst of preparations for the mournful occasion, they were informed by a Superintendent of the Cleveland and Erie Railroad that the funeral escort had made special request that no public demonstration be made at this place, in order that their committee might have rest and repose. Acquiescence with this unauthorized request is, therefore, the true cause of the apparent national discredit attributed to this city.

F. F. FARRAR, Mayor.

Jeff. Davis.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Herald's correspondent says: "Jeff. Davis remained in Danville six days, under the greatest suspense, waiting to hear from Lee, who was expected to reach that place and make the Staunton River his line of defense. The news of the surrender finally came, brought in by scouts, but was disbelieved. It was kept secret, however, as long as possible, and when it became known there was a panic. The next morning there was a grand exodus. Stoneman's men were between Danville and Greensboro, and fired on the train that carried Davis and his Cabinet away."

Refused to Surrender.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The World's Washington special says: "Wade Hampton was the only General who refused to be included in General Johnston's surrender. Johnston promptly relieved him, putting a General Baker in command of all the cavalry. Hampton went off with Davis and Breckinridge, endeavoring to reach Mexico, it is thought."

Arrest of Gov. Aiken, of South Carolina.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The New York Times' Charleston correspondent says Ex-Gov. Aiken was arrested by order of President Johnson, and that the arrest was based upon his refusal to take the oath of allegiance.

Chief Justice Chase Going South.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Herald's Washington special says: "Chief Justice Chase has gone South to re-organize the United States Courts."

From Buenos Ayres.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The New York Herald's Buenos Ayres correspondent, 11th of March, reports very fully the concluding scenes of the war between Brazil and Uruguay; and also furnishes a copy of the peace convention concluded at Montevideo, by virtue of which Gen. Flores was inaugurated Provisional President of Uruguay. Flores' new cabinet was made up of men of experience and talent, and met with very general approval. Buenos Ayres still maintained her course in the path of social progress and solid improvement.]

The New York and Providence Manufacturing Jewelry Association, Composed of extensive manufacturers and importers of all the leading and most fashionable styles of Watches and Jewelry, In Connection with the Metropolitan Gift Book Establishment,

Located in the leading cities of the United States, have resolved upon a grand and novel enterprise for expeditiously disposing of the above immense stock, amounting to OVER $1,000,000 Worth of Goods.

THE PLAN IS AS FOLLOWS:

Certificates of stock are prepared, naming each article and its value, and are placed in sealed envelopes and well mixed. One of these sealed envelopes, containing a certificate, together with a choice collection of New and Popular Songs published by a special arrangement with the owners of the copyright; also, twenty-five valuable new recipes, worth many dollars to every person, one of which alone has made a fortune for its discoverer, will be sold at any of the Company's Depots or Agencies, or sent by mail to any address for 25 cents.

ALL ARTICLES SOLD AT ONE DOLLAR EACH, WITHOUT REGARD TO VALUE.

On receipt of the certificate you will see what you are going to have, and then it is at your option to pay the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers may thus obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, Piano, Sewing Machine, or any Set of Jewelry on our list, for ONE DOLLAR,

And in no case can they get less than One Dollar's worth, as there are no blanks. The price of sealed envelope, containing certificate and the collection of Songs and Recipes, is only 25 cents; so come and try your fortune and see the immense display of valuable gifts, hear a tune on the superb pianos, and remember that they, with all the rest of the costly articles on exhibition, will be sold to some fortunate purchaser for the trifling sum of One Dollar each. Certificates sent by mail to any address on receipt of the price, 25 cents. Send for Circulars.

IMPROVED SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE. GET THE BEST; THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST.

The LEAVITT SEWING MACHINE CO. invite the attention of Manufacturers and the public generally to their Improved Sewing Machines for all kinds of Sewing in Cloth or Leather.

Three classes of machines, constructed on similar principles, with recent important improvements are made adapted to every variety of sewing.

The No. 1 or Family Machine is superior in all the qualities of a practically useful domestic machine to any other. It is simple, durable, light in operation, using silk, cotton or linen thread, and sewing equally well the lightest muslin or heaviest cloth. It is also extensively used in making clothing, cloaks, dresses, caps, &c., &c.

The Nos. 2 and 3, or Manufacturing Machines for tailors, upholsters, boot and shoe manufacturers, &c., &c., perform more and better work than any other.

The stitch is alike on both sides and will not rip or ravel.

For sale at GORE BLOCK, BOWDOIN SQUARE, until June 1, when the principal offices and salesroom will be moved to 104 TREMONT STREET, corner of Bromfield street, Boston.

FOR SALE—The patent of a new Reaping and Mowing Machine for the United States, the most simple, best and cheapest machine ever made. Those facts are at once evident on examination by any intelligent mind. The machine has been in the harvest field for the last four years, in the county of Middlesex, in Canada, and has proved itself unsurpassed in quality and quantity of work and ease of draft, to any other machine now in use, and can be made at a cost of about $40, in best manner. They are sold there at $70 to $75. I want to sell the patent as I have not the skill nor means to manufacture and introduce the machine. But I am satisfied there is more money in this patent, if in the hands of a competent enterprising machinist, with means, than in any other now in the United States. I will sell it cheap, or exchange for farm property, or a cottage house in Chicago in part payment. Model can be seen and all information obtained on application to owner at Farina, Fayette Co., Ill.
