[Back Flap]

CONTINUED FROM FRONT FLAP

firsthand narrative of the shah of Persia's 1873 visit to London, an 1891 description of Richard Wagner's operas performed at Bayreuth, an 1897 account of Queen Victoria's jubilee in London, and an 1898 analysis of vitriolic Austrian parliamentary proceedings. The texts of several of these "other travels" are presented in newly corrected and fully restored versions.

Roy Blount, Jr., editor, is the author of 21 books, most recently Alphabet Juice (2008). He has written introductions to four books by Mark Twain, including the first book-form publication of Twain's story A Murder, a Mystery and a Marriage (2001). He is a contributing editor at The Atlantic and a regular panelist on NPR's Wait Wait . . . Don't Tell Me.

THE LIBRARY OF AMERICA helps to preserve our nation's literary heritage by publishing, and keeping in print, authoritative editions of America's best and most significant writing. An independent nonprofit organization, it was founded in 1979 with seed money from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Ford Foundation.

Library of America editions will last for generations and withstand the wear of frequent use. They are printed on lightweight, acid-free paper that will not turn yellow or brittle with age. Sewn bindings allow the books to open easily and lie flat. Flexible yet strong binding boards are covered with a closely woven rayon cloth. The page layout has been designed for readability as well as elegance.

Cover photograph from the 1897 American Publishing Company edition of Following the Equator

THE LIBRARY OF AMERICA
14 East 60th Street
New York, NY 10022

www.loa.org

Jacket design by R.D. Scudellari

Calligraphy by Gun Larson

© 2010 Literary Classics of the U.S.