

Reserved Class Numbers F 180

BACKGROUND: Occasionally, “alternative” or “reserved” class numbers are included in the schedules. They are not assigned to works in the Library of Congress’ collections, but are provided for the convenience of other libraries, which may use them to serve the needs of their users. The numbers are shown in angle brackets. Examples:

<BM450> Complete text of the Tanakh

<PS8001-8599> Canadian literature
