INSIDE:

- Classification Web
- LC Classification Schedules, A-Z
- Classification and Shelisting Manual

Library of Congress Classification is a premier cataloging resource. The Library's Cataloging Distribution Service (CDS) is the authoritative source for LC Classification publications. The complete LC Classification system is available in 41 individually printed classification schedules as well as by subscribing to the web-based service, Classification Web. Classification Web includes all 41 classification schedules along with the complete LC subject headings and name headings. CDS also distributes additional LC Classification publications.

Prices do not include shipping; call or email CDS for a shipping quote. Items 10 pounds and more will incur additional shipping charges.

www.loc.gov/cds/classweb

Search, browse, and access, with full-text display, all Library of Congress Classification schedules, subject headings, and name headings on the web. Use the product's up-to-date data to construct, verify, and assign classification numbers, subject headings, and name headings. Classification Web is the only web-based subscription service that offers you this—and it's updated every day.

What Users Say About Classification Web

"I especially appreciate the product's using LCSH as indexing terms. Finding correct numbers is easier and faster than in the printed product."

— Sue Kamm, Inglewood Public Library, Inglewood, CA

"Best feature: ability to search all schedules at once. Correlation of subject headings and classification is fabulous."

— Gay Zimmerman, Lamson Library, Plymouth State College, Plymouth, NH

"The speed of access to changes in subject headings and classification is a valuable feature. It is also important for us that it is accessible to multiple users at one time."

— Heather Fraser, York University, Toronto, Ontario, Canada

ADDITIONAL CLASSIFICATION PUBLICATIONS

Classification and Shelflisting Manual

Combines and updates the guidelines for formulating the classification portion of the LC call number, formerly published separately as the Subject Cataloging Manual: Classification, and guidelines for formulating the unique book number portion of the call number, formerly published separately as the Subject Cataloging Manual: Shelflisting.

The manual is an accumulation of guidelines formulated over decades, dealing with commonly recurring questions that arise when using LC classification. Updates will be published as needed, on an irregular schedule. Included in Cataloger's Desktop.

Base text and updates are printed on looseleaf pages with tabs.

LC Classification Outline

7th edition

An excellent tool for catalogers to locate appropriate schedules and for advanced users to narrow their search for materials. A handy detailed outline of the LC classification system. Features the entire classification scheme. Provides a key to the LC Classification system greater than the captions of the subclasses, but less than the text for the 41 volumes of the published schedules. Included in Cataloger's Desktop and Classification Web.
