As part of a series of orientations to libraries and information centers, FLICC is offering an opportunity for federal librarians to become acquainted with the National Institute of Standards & Technology (NIST) Library in Gaithersburg, MD. Founded in 1901, NIST is a non-regulatory federal agency within the U.S. Department of Commerce. NIST's mission is to promote U.S. innovation and industrial competitiveness by advancing measurement science, standards, and technology in ways that enhance economic security and improve our quality of life.

The Information Services Office (ISO) supports the scientific and technical mission of NIST by managing the NIST Research Library and Information Commons; the NIST Virtual Library (NVL), the NIST Virtual Museum (NVM), and the physical Museum. The NIST Research Library was the proud winner of the 2003 and the 2008 Federal Library of the Year Award and the 2007 Silver Award from the Maryland Performance Excellence Award (MPEA) Program. Your visit will include a tour of the Library, demonstration of the recently launched NIST Digital Archive (NDA) and a tour of the Museum.
