

THE CITY OF TULSA OKLAHOMA

POLICE DEPARTMENT

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF POLICE

25 February 1966

Mr. Thurgood Marshall
Solicitor General
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Marshall,

I don't write many fan letters but I want to compliment you on your brief concerning police questioning of suspects. Along with many other law enforcement officers I have been greatly concerned with the trend towards prohibiting any questioning of suspected criminals.

I have wondered when the trend would be reversed and we might return to a system that concerns itself with the protection of society and the rights of victims of crimes as well as the rights of the individual.

You may have written the brief that will reverse the trend.

I met you at a meeting at Michigan State and I wish you continued success in your new work.

Yours truly,

Clinton E. Riggs
Administrative Chief
