MEDITERRANEAN FRUITFLY ERADICATION

Whereas, pursuant to S. J. Res. 177, Seventy-sixth Congress, first session, a subcommittee of the Committee on Claims of the Senate has held a hearing with respect to the losses sustained by certain persons in the State of Florida as a result of the Mediterranean fruitfly eradication and quarantine campaign conducted in the State of Florida by the United States Government; and

Whereas in the opinion of such subcommittee a satisfactory showing has been made to justify and require an accurate and dependable determination of the actual losses sustained as a result of such campaign, the nature and character of such losses, and the persons by whom such losses were sustained: Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate (The House of Representatives concurring), That there is hereby created a special joint congressional committee to be composed of three members of the Committee on Claims of the Senate, to be appointed by the chairman thereof, and three members of the Committee on Claims of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the chairman of such committee. It shall be the duty of such special committee to make a full and complete investigation with respect to the losses sustained as a result of the Mediterranean fruitfly eradication and quarantine campaign conducted in the State of Florida in 1929 and 1930 by the United States Government, with a view to determining, among other things, the nature, character, and amount of such losses, the circumstances under which such losses occurred, and the persons by whom such losses were sustained. The committee shall report to the Congress at the earliest practicable date the results of its investigation, together with its recommendations, if any, for necessary legislation.

Signed at London June 23, 1939; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States June 29, 1939; ratified by the President of the United States July 17, 1939; ratification of the United States deposited at London August 25, 1939; effective by exchange of notes August 25, 1939; proclaimed by the President of the United States September 6, 1939.*

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS an agreement between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland for the exchange of cotton and rubber was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at London on the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, the original of which agreement is word for word as follows:

Preamble.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENTS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE UNITED KINGDOM FOR THE EXCHANGE OF COTTON AND RUBBER.

THE Government of the United States of America and the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, desiring to make arrangements for the exchange of cotton and rubber, have agreed as follows—

Text.

ARTICLE 1.

The United States Government will supply to the Government of the United Kingdom, delivered on board ship, compressed to high density, at New Orleans, Louisiana, and at other Gulf and Atlantic deep water ports to be agreed upon between the two Governments, 600,000 bales of raw cotton of the grades and staples which will be specified by the Government of the United Kingdom. The United States Government will make available in adequate quantities for such purpose cotton from the stock on which the United States Government has made advances to growers.

Delivery of raw cotton by U. S.

- (a) The price will be fixed on the basis of the average market price as published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics for middling  $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch cotton during the period January 1st–June 23rd, 1939, for spot delivery at New Orleans, plus 0.24 cent per Determination of price.

lb. for cost of compression and delivery on board ship, with adjustments in price for other grades and staples according to differences above or below middling  $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch quoted in that period.

- Inspection. (b) The cotton will be inspected to determine its classification in accordance with the Universal Cotton Standards for grade and the official standards of the United States for staple, and shall be accepted, by experts appointed by the Government of the United Kingdom. Any disputes which may arise will be settled by Boards of Referees constituted of three members of whom one shall be nominated by the Government of the United Kingdom.
- Settlement of disputes. (c) Samples representing the cotton of the grades and staples specified by the Government of the United Kingdom will be made available for inspection and acceptance during a period of six months beginning 15 days after the entry into force of this Agreement, and such inspection and acceptance will be made within a reasonable time after the cotton is so made available. Delivery at the warehouse at the port of sailing with provision for free delivery on board ship at high density will be made within 15 days after inspection and acceptance, and storage and insurance charges will be borne by the United States Government for a period of two weeks but no more after delivery at the warehouse at the port of sailing.
- Samples, availability for inspection, etc.; period. (c) Samples representing the cotton of the grades and staples specified by the Government of the United Kingdom will be made available for inspection and acceptance during a period of six months beginning 15 days after the entry into force of this Agreement, and such inspection and acceptance will be made within a reasonable time after the cotton is so made available. Delivery at the warehouse at the port of sailing with provision for free delivery on board ship at high density will be made within 15 days after inspection and acceptance, and storage and insurance charges will be borne by the United States Government for a period of two weeks but no more after delivery at the warehouse at the port of sailing.
- Weights. (d) All cotton will be invoiced and accepted on gross weights at the time of delivery.

ARTICLE 2.

Delivery of rubber by United Kingdom; value.

The Government of the United Kingdom will supply to the Government of the United States, delivered on board ship at Singapore and, by agreement between the two Governments, at other convenient ports, rubber in bales, of the grades which will be specified by the Government of the United States, to a value equivalent to that of the total value of the cotton to be supplied in accordance with Article 1 of this Agreement. In determining such equivalent value, the rate of exchange between Straits Settlements dollars and United States dollars shall be deemed to be the average of the buying rate during the period January 1st-June 23rd, 1939, in the New York market, at noon, for cable transfers payable in Straits Settlements dollars, as certified by the Federal Reserve Bank to the Secretary of the United States Treasury and published in Treasury Decisions.

Determination of equivalent value; rate of exchange.

Calculation of quantity of rubber.

- (a) The quantity of rubber will be calculated upon the average market price, as published by the Department of Statistics in the Straits Settlements, for No. 1 ribbed smoked sheets, during the period January 1st-June 23rd, 1939, for spot delivery at Singapore plus 0.25 Straits Settlements cent per lb. for cost of baling and delivery on board ship, with adjustments in price for other grades according to differences quoted in that period.
- Inspection. (b) The rubber will be inspected and accepted by experts appointed by the United States Government. Any disputes will be settled in accordance with the normal custom of the trade.
- Settlement of disputes. (c) The rubber will be made available for inspection and acceptance by experts appointed by the Government of the United States during a period of six months beginning at a date to be agreed upon by the two Governments, and such inspection and acceptance will be made within a reasonable time after the rubber is so made available. Delivery at the warehouse at the port of shipment with provision for free delivery on board ship will be made within a period of 15 days after inspection and acceptance, and storage and insurance charges will be borne by the Government of the United Kingdom for a period of two weeks but no more after delivery at the warehouse at the port of shipment.
- Availability for inspection, etc.; period.

ARTICLE 3.

If either Government should find that delivery in accordance with the arrangements specified in Articles 1 and 2 is likely to restrict supplies available to commercial markets unduly or to stimulate undue price increases, the two Governments shall consult with a view to postponing delivery or taking other action in order to avoid or minimise such restriction of supplies or such price increases.

Consultation to avoid restriction of supplies, etc.

ARTICLE 4.

The intention of the United States Government and of the Government of the United Kingdom being to acquire the reserves of cotton and rubber, respectively, against the contingency of a major war emergency, each Government undertakes not to dispose of its stock (otherwise than for the purpose of replacing such stocks by equivalent quantities in so far as may be expedient for preventing deterioration) except in the event of such an emergency. If, however, either Government should at any future date decide that the time has come to liquidate its stock of cotton or rubber, as the case may be, it may do so only after (a) consulting the other Government as to the means to be employed for the disposal of such stock, and (b) taking all steps to avoid disturbance of the markets. In no case may either Government dispose of such stocks, except in the case of a major war emergency, before a date seven years after the coming into force of this Agreement.

Purpose of acquiring reserves declared.

Mutual restriction on disposal of stocks.

Consultation, etc., before liquidation.

Additional disposal restriction; exception.

ARTICLE 5.

The Government of the United Kingdom will use their best endeavours to secure that the export is permitted under the International Rubber Regulation Scheme of an amount of rubber approximately equivalent to the amount of rubber to be supplied to the United States Government under this Agreement in addition to the amount of rubber which would, under the normal operation of the Scheme, be released to meet current consumption needs.

Additional exports under International Rubber Regulation Scheme.

ARTICLE 6.

Each Government undertakes, in shipping to its own ports the stocks of cotton and rubber, respectively, provided for in this Agreement, so far as may be possible to distribute the tonnage equally between the ships of the two countries, provided that the shipping space required is obtainable at reasonable rates. Consultation for the purpose of giving effect to this Article shall be between the Board of Trade and the Maritime Commission.

Distribution of tonnage between ships of both countries.

ARTICLE 7.

Action by U. S. having effect of export subsidy on cotton.

Should the United States Government, before the delivery is completed of the cotton provided for in Article 1 of this Agreement, take any action which has the effect of an export subsidy, they will deliver to the Government of the United Kingdom an additional quantity of cotton proportionate to the reduction in price below that provided for in Article 1 of this Agreement caused by such action.

ARTICLE 8.

Date of coming into force.
Post, p. 1415.

The present Agreement shall come into force on a date to be agreed upon between the two Governments.

Signatures.

In witness whereof the Undersigned, duly authorised thereto, have signed the present Agreement and have affixed thereto their seals.

No. 1152

EMBASSY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

London, August 25, 1939.

MY LORD:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note of to-day's date, in which you propose, in accordance with the provisions of Article 8 of the Agreement between our two Governments regarding the exchange of cotton and rubber signed on June 23, 1939, that it shall come into force on August 25, 1939, and further suggest that Your Excellency's note and my reply thereto shall be regarded as placing on record the agreement between our Governments in this matter.

In reply I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that the proposal that the Agreement concerning the exchange of cotton and rubber shall come into force on August 25, 1939, is acceptable to my Government as is also Your Excellency's suggestion that Your Excellency's note and the present reply shall be regarded as making the record to that effect.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, My Lord,
Your most obedient, humble servant,

JOSEPH P. KENNEDY

The Right Honorable
Viscount HALIFAX, K. G., G. C. S. I.,

Final Radio Protocol (Cairo Revision, 1938)]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS a revision of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunications Convention signed at Madrid on December 9, 1932, was adopted at the International Radio Conference which convened at Cairo on February 1, 1938, and was signed on April 8, 1938, by the empowered delegates of the United States of America and sixty-nine other countries, together with a final protocol to the said revision of the General Radio Regulations, embracing reservations made by the Governments of certain countries, which revision and final protocol are word for word as follows:

Règlement général des radiocommunications

(Revision du Caire, 1938)

ANNEXÉ À LA

CONVENTION INTERNATIONALE DES TÉLÉCOMMUNICATIONS

(Madrid, 1932)

ARTICLE PREMIER.

§ 1.

Télécommunication: Toute communication télégraphique ou téléphonique de signes, de signaux, d'écrits, d'images et de sons de toute nature, par fil, radio ou autres systèmes ou procédés de signalisation électriques ou visuels (sémaphores) (voir annexe à la Convention).

Réseau général des voies de télécommunication: L'ensemble des voies de télécommunication existantes ouvertes au service public, à l'exclusion des voies de radiocommunication du service mobile.

Radiocommunication: Toute télécommunication à l'aide des ondes hertziennes (voir annexe à la Convention).

Radiotélégramme: Télégramme originaire ou à destination d'une station mobile transmis, sur tout ou partie de son parcours, par les voies de radiocommunication du service mobile (voir annexe à la Convention).

Télégraphie: Télécommunication par un système quelconque de signalisation télégraphique. Le mot "télégramme" vise aussi le "radiotélégramme", sauf lorsque le texte exclut expressément une telle signification.

Téléphonie: Télécommunication par un système quelconque de signalisation téléphonique.

Fréquence assignée à une station: La fréquence assignée à une station est la fréquence qui occupe le centre de la bande de fréquences dans laquelle la station est autorisée à travailler. En général, cette fréquence est celle de l'onde porteuse.

Bande de fréquences d'une émission: La bande de fréquences d'une émission est la bande de fréquences effectivement occupée par cette émission, pour le type de transmission et pour la vitesse de signalisation utilisée.

Tolérance de fréquence: La tolérance de fréquence est l'écart maximum admis entre la fréquence réelle d'une émission et la fréquence que

ANNEXED TO THE

INTERNATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATION CONVENTION

49 Stat. 2393.

(Madrid, 1932)

ARTICLE 1

[2] Telecommunication: Any telegraph or telephone communication of signs, signals, writings, images, and sounds of any nature, by wire, radio, or other systems or processes of electric or visual (semaphore) signaling (see the annex to the Convention.)

Definitions.

49 Stat. 2441.

[3] General network of telecommunication channels: The whole of the existing telecommunication channels open to public service, with the exception of the radio channels of the mobile service.

[4] Radio communication: Any telecommunication by means of Hertzian waves (see the annex to the Convention).

49 Stat. 2441.

[5] Radiotelegram: Telegram originating in or intended for a mobile station, transmitted on all or part of its route over the radio channels of the mobile service (see the annex to the Convention).

49 Stat. 2441.

[6] Telegraphy: Telecommunication by any system of telegraph signaling. The word "telegram" also covers "radiotelegram", except when the text expressly precludes such a meaning.

[7] Telephony: Telecommunication by any system of telephone signaling.

[8] Frequency assigned to a station: The frequency assigned to a station is the frequency occupying the center of the frequency band in which the station is authorized to work. In general, this frequency is that of a carrier wave.

[9] Frequency band of an emission: The frequency band of an emission is the frequency band actually occupied by this emission for the type of transmission and for the signaling-speed used.

cette émission devrait avoir (fréquence notifiée ou fréquence choisie par l'opérateur).

Puissance d'un émetteur radioélectrique: La puissance d'un émetteur radioélectrique est la puissance fournie à l'antenne. Les données suivantes sont applicables pour les types d'émetteurs indiqués ci-dessous:

Radiotélégraphie sur ondes entretenues: Dans le cas d'un émetteur utilisant les émissions des types A1 ou A2, la puissance est celle qui est fournie à l'antenne pendant que le manipulateur est abaissé.

Type usuel à double bande latérale: Dans le cas d'un émetteur d'ondes modulées par amplitude du type usuel à double bande latérale, la puissance dans l'antenne est représentée par deux nombres, l'un donnant la valeur de la puissance de l'onde porteuse fournie à l'antenne et l'autre exprimant le taux maximum réel de modulation utilisé.<sup>1)</sup>

Autres types: Dans le cas d'émetteurs d'ondes modulées par amplitude autres que le type usuel à double bande latérale, on indiquera comme puissance de l'émetteur la puissance maximum fournie à l'antenne.

§ 2.

Service fixe: Un service assurant des radiocommunications de toute nature entre points fixes, à l'exclusion des services de radiodiffusion et des services spéciaux.

Service mobile: Un service de radiocommunication exécuté entre stations mobiles et stations terrestres et par les stations mobiles communiquant entre elles, à l'exclusion des services spéciaux (voir annexe à la Convention).

Service aéronautique: Un service de radiocommunication exécuté entre stations d'aéronef et stations terrestres et par les stations d'aéronef entre elles. Ce terme s'applique également aux services fixes et spéciaux de radiocommunication destinés à assurer la sécurité de la navigation aérienne.

Service de radiodiffusion: Un service effectuant la diffusion d'émissions destinées à être reçues par le public en général; ce service comprend exclusivement <sup>2)</sup>:

- a) le service radiophonique: service effectuant la diffusion d'émissions pour l'audition à distance de la parole et de la musique;
- b) le service de télévision: service effectuant la diffusion d'émissions pour la vision à distance d'objets <sup>3)</sup> fixes ou en mouvement.

Service de fac-similés: Un service effectuant des émissions pour reproduire à distance des images fixes d'une façon permanente.<sup>4)</sup>

Service spécial: Un service de télécommunication opérant spécialement pour les besoins d'un service d'intérêt général déterminé

and the frequency which this emission should have (frequency notified or frequency chosen by the operator).

[11] Power of a radio transmitter: The power of a radio transmitter is the power supplied to the antenna. For the types of transmitters indicated hereinafter, the following data are applicable:

[12] Continuous wave radiotelegraphy: In the case of a transmitter employing type-A1 or -A2 emissions the power is that delivered to the antenna during the marking (key-closed) condition.

[13] Conventional double-sideband type: In the case of an amplitude-modulated wave transmitter of the conventional double-sideband type the power in the antenna is represented by two numbers, one indicating the value of the carrier-wave power supplied to the antenna and the other indicating the actual maximum percentage of modulation used.<sup>1</sup>

[14] Other types: In the case of amplitude-modulated wave transmitters of other than the conventional double-sideband type, the maximum power delivered to the antenna shall be given as the power of the transmitter.

[16] Fixed service: A service carrying on radio communication of any kind between fixed points, with the exception of the broadcasting services and special services.

[18] Mobile service: A radio service carried on between mobile and land stations and by mobile stations communicating among themselves, excluding special services (see the annex to the Convention).

49 Stat. 2443.

[19] Aeronautical service: A radio service carried on between aircraft stations and land stations and by aircraft stations among themselves. This term shall also apply to fixed and special radio services intended to insure the safety of aerial navigation.

[20] Broadcasting service: A service carrying on the broadcasting of transmissions intended to be received by the general public; this service shall include exclusively: <sup>2</sup>

[21] (a) radiotelephone service: service carrying on the broadcasting of transmissions for reception at a distance of voice and music;

[22] (b) television service: service carrying on the broadcasting of transmissions for the visual reception at a distance of fixed or moving objects.<sup>3</sup>

[23] Facsimile service: A service making transmissions for the reproduction at a distance of fixed images in a permanent form.<sup>4</sup>

[24] Special service: A telecommunication service carried on especially for the needs of a specific service of general interest and not

[29] <sup>3</sup> "Objects" is used here in the optical sense of the word.

[30] <sup>4</sup> This facsimile service may be carried on by broadcasting stations, fixed stations, or mobile service stations.

et non ouvert à la correspondance publique, tel que: un service de radiophare, de radiogoniométrie, de signaux horaires, de bulletins météorologiques réguliers, d'avis aux navigateurs, de messages de presse adressés à tous, d'avis médicaux (consultations radiométriques), de fréquences étalonnées, d'émissions destinées à des buts scientifiques, etc.

§ 3.

Station fixe: Station non susceptible de se déplacer et communiquant, par le moyen de radiocommunication, avec une ou plusieurs stations établies de la même manière.

Station terrestre: Une station non susceptible de se déplacer et effectuant un service mobile.

Station côtière: Une station terrestre effectuant un service avec les stations de navire. Ce peut être une station fixe affectée aussi aux communications avec les stations de navire; elle n'est alors considérée comme station côtière que pendant la durée de son service avec les stations de navire.

Station aéronautique: Une station terrestre effectuant un service avec les stations d'aéronef. Ce peut être une station fixe affectée aussi aux communications avec les stations d'aéronef; elle n'est alors considérée comme station aéronautique que pendant la durée de son service avec les stations d'aéronef.

Station mobile: Une station susceptible de se déplacer et qui habituellement se déplace.

Station de bord: Une station placée à bord, soit d'un navire qui n'est pas amarré en permanence, soit d'un aéronef.

Station de navire: Une station placée à bord d'un navire qui n'est pas amarré en permanence.

Station d'aéronef: Une station placée à bord de tout aéronef.<sup>1)</sup>

Station portative: Une station destinée à être facilement déplacée mais qui n'est pas habituellement utilisée lorsqu'elle est en mouvement.

Station de radiophare: Une station spéciale dont les émissions sont destinées à permettre à une station de bord de déterminer son relèvement ou une direction par rapport à la station de radiophare, éventuellement aussi la distance qui la sépare de cette dernière.

Station radiogoniométrique: Une station pourvue d'appareils spéciaux destinés à déterminer la direction des émissions d'autres stations.

Station d'amateur: Une station utilisée par un "amateur", c'est-à-dire par une personne dûment autorisée, s'intéressant à la technique radioélectrique dans un but uniquement personnel et sans intérêt pécuniaire.

Station expérimentale privée: Une station privée destinée à des expériences en vue du développement de la technique ou de la science radioélectrique.

open to public correspondence, such as: a service of radiobeacons, radio direction-finding, time signals, regular meteorological bulletins, notices to navigators, press messages addressed to all, medical notices (medical consultation by radio), standard frequencies, emissions for scientific purposes, et cetera.

[26] Fixed station: A station not capable of being moved and communicating by radio with one or more stations established in the same manner.

[27] Land station: A station not capable of being moved, carrying on a mobile service.

[31] Coast station: A land station carrying on a service with ship stations. This may be a fixed station assigned also to communication with ship stations; in this case, it shall be considered as a coast station only for the duration of its service with ship stations.

[32] Aeronautical station: A land station carrying on a service with aircraft stations. This may be a fixed station assigned also to communication with aircraft stations; in this case, it shall be considered as an aeronautical station only for the duration of its service with aircraft stations.

[33] Mobile station: A station capable of being moved and which ordinarily does move.

[34] On-board station: A station on board either a ship which is not permanently moored, or an aircraft.

[37] Portable station: A station intended to be moved easily but which is not ordinarily used while in motion.

[38] Radiobeacon station: A special station the emissions of which are intended to enable an on-board station to determine its bearing or a direction with reference to the radiobeacon station, and in some cases also the distance which separates it from the latter.

[39] Radio direction-finding station: A station equipped with special apparatus for determining the direction of the emissions of other stations.

[40] Amateur station: A station used by an "amateur," that is, by a duly authorized person interested in radio technique solely with a personal aim and without pecuniary interest.

[41] Private experimental station: A private station intended for experiments looking to the development of radio technique or science.

[42] <sup>1</sup> "Aircraft" is a general term including airplanes, dirigibles, free or captive balloons, et cetera.

Station privée de radiocommunication: Une station privée, non ouverte à la correspondance publique, qui est autorisée uniquement à échanger avec d'autres "stations privées de radiocommunication" des communications concernant les affaires propres du ou des licenciés.

ARTICLE 2.

Secret des radiocommunications.

Les administrations s'engagent à prendre les mesures nécessaires pour faire interdire et réprimer:

- a) l'interception, sans autorisation, de radiocommunications qui ne sont pas destinées à l'usage général du public,
- b) la divulgation du contenu ou simplement de l'existence, la publication ou tout usage quelconque, sans autorisation, des radiocommunications mentionnées sous le paragraphe a).

ARTICLE 3.

Licence.

§ 1. (1) Aucune station émettrice ne pourra être établie ou exploitée par un particulier, ou par une entreprise quelconque, sans licence spéciale délivrée par le gouvernement du pays dont relève la station en question.

(2) Les stations mobiles qui ont leur port d'attache dans une colonie, un territoire sous souveraineté ou mandat, un territoire d'outre-mer ou un protectorat peuvent être considérées comme dépendant de l'autorité de cette colonie, de ces territoires ou de ce protectorat, en ce qui concerne la délivrance des licences.

§ 2. Le titulaire d'une licence est tenu de garder le secret des télécommunications, comme il est prévu à l'article 24 de la Convention. En outre, il doit résulter de la licence qu'il est interdit de capter les correspondances de radiocommunications autres que celles que la station est autorisée à recevoir et que, dans le cas où de telles correspondances sont involontairement reçues, elles ne doivent être ni reproduites, ni communiquées à des tiers, ni utilisées dans un but quelconque, et leur existence même ne doit pas être révélée.

§ 3. Afin de faciliter la vérification des licences délivrées à des stations mobiles, il est ajouté, s'il y a lieu, au texte rédigé dans la langue nationale, une traduction en une langue dont l'usage est très répandu dans les relations internationales.

§ 4. Le gouvernement qui délivre la licence à une station mobile y mentionne la catégorie dans laquelle cette station est classée au point de vue de la correspondance publique internationale.

ARTICLE 4.

Choix des appareils.

§ 1. Le choix des appareils et des dispositifs radioélectriques à employer dans une station est libre, à condition que les ondes émises satisfassent aux stipulations du présent Règlement.

[43] Private radio station: A private station, not open to public correspondence, which is authorized solely to exchange with other "private radio stations" communications concerning the private business of the license-holder or -holders.

ARTICLE 2

Secrecy of Radio Communications

[44] The administrations agree to take the necessary measures to prohibit and prevent:

Secrecy of radio communications.

[45] (a) the unauthorized interception of radio communications not intended for the general use of the public;

[46] (b) the divulging of the contents or of the mere existence, the publication or any use whatever, without authorization, of the radio communication mentioned in paragraph (a) [No. 45].

ARTICLE 3

License

[47] §1. (1) No transmitting station may be established or operated by any person or by any enterprise whatever without a special license issued by the government of the country to which the station in question is subject.

License.

[48] (2) Mobile stations having their port of registry in a colony, a territory under sovereignty or mandate, an overseas territory, or a protectorate, may be considered as being subject to the authority of this colony, these territories, or this protectorate, so far as concerns the issuance of licenses.

[49] §2. The holder of a license shall be bound to preserve the secrecy of telecommunications, as provided for in article 24 of the Convention. In addition, the license must state that it is prohibited to receive radio correspondence other than that which the station is authorized to receive, and that, in case such correspondence is received involuntarily, it must neither be reproduced nor communicated to third persons, nor used for any purpose whatever, and that the very existence thereof must not be revealed.

49 Stat. 2411.

[50] §3. In order to facilitate the verification of licenses issued to mobile stations, there shall be added, when necessary, to the text drafted in the national language, a translation of this text into a language in general use in international relations.

[51] §4. The government issuing the license to a mobile station shall mention therein the category to which this station belongs from the standpoint of international public correspondence.

ARTICLE 4

Choice of Apparatus

[52] §1. The choice of radio apparatus and devices to be used in a station shall be unrestricted, provided that the waves emitted satisfy the provisions of the present Regulations.

Choice of apparatus.

§ 2. Toutefois, dans les limites compatibles avec les exigences économiques, le choix des appareils d'émission, de réception et de mesure doit s'inspirer des plus récents progrès de la technique, tels qu'ils sont indiqués notamment dans les avis du C.C.I.R.

ARTICLE 5.

Classification des émissions.

§ 1. Les émissions sont classées ci-dessous d'après l'usage auquel elles servent, en supposant que leur modulation ou leur manipulation éventuelle est faite seulement en amplitude.

1° Ondes entretenues:

Type A1. Télégraphie à ondes entretenues pures. Une onde entretenue qui est manipulée suivant un code télégraphique.

Type A2. Télégraphie modulée. Une onde porteuse modulée à une ou plusieurs fréquences audibles; la ou les fréquences audibles ou leur combinaison avec la porteuse étant manipulées suivant un code télégraphique.

Type A3. Téléphonie. Ondes résultant de la modulation d'une onde porteuse par des fréquences correspondant à la voix, à la musique ou à d'autres sons.

Type A4. Fac-similé. Ondes résultant de la modulation d'une onde porteuse par des fréquences produites lors de l'exploration d'une image fixe en vue de sa reproduction sous une forme permanente.

Type A5. Télévision. Ondes résultant de la modulation d'une onde porteuse par des fréquences produites lors de l'exploration d'objets <sup>2)</sup> fixes ou en mouvement.

2° Ondes amorties:

Type B. Ondes composées de séries successives d'oscillations dont l'amplitude, après avoir atteint un maximum, diminue graduellement, les trains d'ondes étant manipulés en suivant un code télégraphique.

§ 2. Dans la classification ci-dessus, on admet la présence d'une onde porteuse dans tous les cas. Cependant, celle-ci peut ne pas être transmise.

Cette classification n'envisage pas l'exclusion de l'emploi, dans des conditions déterminées par les administrations intéressées, de types d'ondes non compris dans les définitions précédentes.

§ 3. Les ondes seront désignées, en premier lieu, par leur fréquence en kilocycles par seconde (kc/s) ou en mégacycles par seconde

[53] §2. However, within limits compatible with economic requirements, the choice of transmitting, receiving, and measuring apparatus must be guided by the most recent technical progress as shown, notably, in the Opinions of the C. C. I. R.

ARTICLE 5

Classification of Emissions

[54] §1. Emissions shall be classified below according to the purpose for which they are used, assuming their modulation or their possible keying to be only in amplitude. Classification of emissions.

[55] 1. Continuous waves:

[56] Type A0. Waves the successive oscillations of which are identical under fixed conditions.<sup>1</sup>

[57] Type A1. Telegraphy on pure continuous waves. A continuous wave which is keyed according to a telegraph code.

[58] Type A2. Modulated telegraphy. A carrier wave modulated at one or more audible frequencies, the audible frequency or frequencies or their combination with the carrier wave being keyed according to a telegraph code.

[59] Type A3. Telephony. Waves resulting from the modulation of a carrier wave by frequencies corresponding to the voice, to music, or to other sounds.

[61] Type A4. Facsimile. Waves resulting from the modulation of a carrier wave by frequencies produced at the time of the scanning of a fixed image with a view to its reproduction in a permanent form.

[62] Type A5. Television. Waves resulting from the modulation of a carrier wave by frequencies produced at the time of the scanning of fixed or moving objects.<sup>2</sup>

[64] 2. Damped waves:

[65] Type B. Waves composed of successive series of oscillations the amplitude of which, after attaining a maximum, decreases gradually, the wave trains being keyed according to a telegraph code.

[66] §2. In the above classification, the presence of a carrier wave is assumed in all cases. However, such carrier wave may or may not be transmitted.

[67] This classification does not contemplate exclusion of the use, by the administrations concerned, under specified conditions, of types of waves not included in the foregoing definitions.

[68] §3. Waves shall be indicated first by their frequency in kilocycles per second (kc) or in megacycles per second (mc). Following

(Mc/s). A la suite de cette désignation sera indiquée, entre parenthèses, la longueur approximative en mètres. Dans le présent Règlement, la valeur approximative de la longueur d'onde en mètres est le quotient de la division du nombre 300 000 par la fréquence exprimée en kilocycles par seconde.

ARTICLE 6.

Qualité des émissions.

§ 1. Les ondes émises par une station doivent être, autant que le permet l'état de la technique, maintenues exactement à la fréquence autorisée et exemptes de toute émission qui n'est pas essentielle au type de la communication effectuée.

§ 2. (1) L'état de la technique dans les différents cas d'exploitation est défini par les appendices 1, 2 et 3 relatifs à l'exactitude de la fréquence, au niveau des harmoniques et à la largeur de la bande de fréquences occupée.

(2) En ce qui concerne la largeur des bandes de fréquences occupées par les émissions, il faut tenir compte, dans la pratique, des conditions suivantes:

1° Largeur de la bande donnée dans l'appendice 3.

2° Variation de la fréquence de l'onde porteuse.

3° Conditions techniques supplémentaires, telles que les possibilités techniques relatives à la forme des caractéristiques des circuits filtrants, tant pour les émetteurs que pour les récepteurs.

§ 3. (1) Les administrations vérifieront fréquemment si les ondes émises par les stations relevant de leur autorité répondent aux prescriptions du présent Règlement.

(2) On s'efforcera d'obtenir une collaboration internationale en cette matière.

§ 4. Afin de réduire les brouillages dans la bande de fréquences au-dessus de 6 000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 50 m), il est recommandé d'employer, lorsque la nature du service le permet, des systèmes d'antennes directives.

ARTICLE 7.

Répartition et emploi des fréquences (longueurs d'onde) et des types d'émission.

§ 1. Sous réserve des dispositions du § 4 (3) ci-dessous, les administrations des pays contractants peuvent attribuer une fréquence quelconque et un type d'onde quelconque à toute station radio-électrique sous leur autorité, à la seule condition qu'il n'en résulte pas de brouillages avec un service quelconque d'un autre pays.

§ 2. Toutefois, les administrations s'engagent à attribuer aux stations qui, en raison de leur nature même, sont susceptibles de causer de sérieux brouillages dans les services d'un autre pays contractant, des fréquences et des types d'onde, selon le genre de leur service, en conformité avec les règles de répartition et d'emploi des ondes telles qu'elles sont indiquées ci-dessous.

this indication, there shall be given, in parentheses, the approximate length in meters. In the present Regulations, the approximate value of the wavelength in meters is the quotient of the number 300,000 divided by the frequency expressed in kilocycles per second.

Quality of Emissions

[69] §1. The waves emitted by a station must be kept on the authorized frequency as exactly as the state of the art permits, and their radiation must be as free as practically possible from all emissions not essential to the type of communication carried on.

Quality of emissions.

[71] §2. (1) The state of the art in the various cases of operation is defined in appendixes 1, 2, and 3, concerning the exactitude of the frequency, the level of harmonics, and the width of the frequency band occupied.

Post, pp. 1589, 1593, 1595.

[72] (2) Concerning the widths of frequency bands occupied by emissions, in practice, the following conditions must be taken into account:

[73] 1. Width of the band as shown in appendix 3.

Post, p. 1595.

[74] 2. Variation of the frequency of the carrier wave.

[75] 3. Other technical conditions, such as the technical possibilities with regard to the form of filter-circuit characteristics, both for transmitters and for receivers.

[76] §3. (1) The administrations shall frequently check the waves emitted by the stations under their jurisdiction to determine whether or not they comply with the provisions of the present Regulations.

[77] (2) International cooperation in this matter shall be sought.

[78] §4. In order to reduce interference in the frequency bands above 6,000 kc (wavelengths below 50 m), the use of directive-antenna systems is recommended when such use is compatible with the nature of the service.

ARTICLE 7

Allocation and Use of Frequencies (Wavelengths) and of Types of Emission

[79] §1. Subject to the provisions of §4 (3) below [Nos. 86, 87, 88, and 89], the administrations of the contracting countries may assign any frequency and any type of wave to any radio station under their jurisdiction on the sole condition that no interference with any service of another country will result therefrom.

Allocation and use of frequencies, etc.

[80] §2. However, the administrations agree to assign to stations which, by their very nature, are capable of causing serious interference with the services of another contracting country, frequencies and types of waves, according to the type of service they operate, in conformity with rules for allocation and use of waves, as set forth below.

Les fréquences assignées par les administrations à leurs stations doivent être choisies de manière à éviter, autant que possible, de brouiller les services appartenant aux pays contractants et effectués par des stations existantes dont les fréquences ont été notifiées au Bureau de l'Union, selon les dispositions des articles 15 et 16 et de l'appendice 8.

§ 3. Dans le cas où des bandes de fréquences sont attribuées à un service déterminé, les stations de ce service doivent employer des fréquences suffisamment éloignées des limites de ces bandes, pour ne pas produire de brouillage nuisible dans le travail des stations appartenant aux services auxquels sont attribuées les bandes de fréquences immédiatement voisines.

§ 4. (1) a) Les administrations intéressées s'entendent, en cas de besoin, pour la fixation des ondes à attribuer aux stations dont il s'agit, ainsi que pour la détermination des conditions d'emploi des ondes ainsi attribuées.

b) Les administrations d'une région quelconque peuvent conclure, conformément à l'article 13 de la Convention, des arrangements régionaux concernant l'attribution soit de bandes de fréquences aux services des pays participants, soit de fréquences aux stations de ces pays, et concernant les conditions d'emploi des ondes ainsi attribuées. Les dispositions des §§ 1 et 2 ainsi que celles de l'article 16, § 1. (6) s'appliquent également à tout arrangement de cette nature.

(2) Les administrations intéressées prennent les accords nécessaires pour éviter les brouillages et, en cas de besoin, feront appel, à cet effet, conformément à la procédure qui sera convenue entre elles par des accords bilatéraux ou régionaux, à des organes soit d'expertise, soit d'expertise et de conciliation. Si aucun arrangement en vue d'éviter les brouillages ne peut être réalisé, les prescriptions de l'article 15 de la Convention peuvent être appliquées.

(3) a) En ce qui concerne la radiodiffusion européenne et sous réserve de tout droit qui reviendrait aux administrations extra-européennes en vertu du présent Règlement, les modalités ci-dessous, qui pourront être abrogées ou modifiées par accord entre les administrations européennes et qui ne modifient en rien les dispositions de l'article 16, § 1. (6), sont apportées à l'application du principe énoncé au § 1.

b) A défaut d'accord préalable entre les administrations des pays européens contractants, la faculté prévue au § 1 ne pourra, dans les limites de la région européenne, être utilisée en vue d'effectuer un service de radiodiffusion en dehors des bandes autorisées par le présent Règlement sur des fréquences au-dessous de 1560 kc/s (longueurs d'onde au-dessus de 192,3 m).

c) L'administration qui désire établir un tel service ou obtenir une modification des conditions fixées par un accord antérieur relatif à un tel service (fréquence, puissance, position géographique, etc.) en saisit les administrations européennes par l'intermédiaire du Bureau de l'Union. Toute administration qui n'aura pas répondu dans un délai de six [81] The frequencies assigned by the administrations to their stations must be selected in such a manner as to avoid, so far as possible, interfering with services belonging to the contracting countries and operated by existing stations of which the frequencies have been notified to the Bureau of the Union, in accordance with the provisions of articles 15 and 16, and of appendix 8.

Post, pp. 1499, 1501, 1605.

[82] §3. In the case where bands of frequencies are assigned to a specific service, the stations of that service must use frequencies sufficiently separated from the limits of these bands so as not to produce harmful interference with the operation of stations belonging to services to which the frequency bands immediately adjoining have been assigned.

[83] §4. (1) (a) The administrations concerned shall conclude agreements, if need be, for determining the waves to be assigned to the stations in question, as well as for laying down the conditions of use of the waves thus assigned.

[84] (b) The administrations of any region may, in accordance with article 13 of the Convention, conclude regional arrangements regarding the allocation either of frequency bands to the services of the participating countries or of frequencies to stations of these countries, and concerning the conditions for the use of the waves so assigned. The provisions of §§1 and 2 [Nos. 79, 80, and 81], as well as those of Article 16, §1 (6) [Nos. 345 and 346], shall also apply to any arrangement of this nature.

49 Stat. 2401.

[85] (2) The administrations concerned shall conclude the necessary agreements to avoid interference and, when needed, shall, for this purpose, in conformity with the procedure which will be agreed among them in bilateral or regional agreements, call upon organs of expert investigation or of expert investigation and conciliation. If no agreement can be reached with regard to avoiding interference, the provisions of article 15 of the Convention may be applied.

Agreements for avoiding of interference.

49 Stat. 2408.

[86] (3) (a) With regard to European broadcasting and subject to any right to which the extra-European administrations might be entitled by virtue of the present Regulations, the detailed provisions below, which can be abrogated or changed by agreement among the European administrations and which in no way change the provisions of article 16, §1 (6) [Nos. 345 and 346], shall be brought to bear in applying the principle laid down in §1 [No. 79].

Post, p. 1503; ante, p. 1429.

[87] (b) Failing a preliminary agreement between the administrations of the European contracting countries, the right contemplated in §1 [No. 79] may not, within the limits of the European region, be used for the purpose of carrying on a broadcasting service outside the bands authorized by the present Regulations on frequencies below 1,560 kc (wavelengths above 192.3 m).

[88] (c) An administration wishing to establish such a service or to obtain a change in the conditions laid down by a previous agreement with regard to such a service (frequency, power, geographic position, et cetera) shall submit the request to the European administrations through the Bureau of the Union. Any administration which does semaines après réception de ladite communication sera considérée comme ayant donné son assentiment.

d) Il est bien entendu qu'un tel accord préalable sera également nécessaire toutes les fois que, dans une station de radiodiffusion européenne, travaillant hors des bandes de fréquences autorisées, un changement sera apporté aux caractéristiques précédemment notifiées au Bureau de l'Union, et que ce changement sera susceptible d'affecter les conditions de brouillages internationaux.

§ 5. En principe, la puissance des stations de radiodiffusion qui travaillent avec des fréquences inférieures à 5 000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde supérieures à 60 m) ne doit pas dépasser la valeur permettant d'assurer économiquement un service national efficace et de bonne qualité dans les limites du pays considéré.

§ 6. En principe, l'emplacement des stations de radiodiffusion puissantes, et plus particulièrement de celles qui travaillent près des limites des bandes de fréquences réservées à la radiodiffusion, doit être choisi de manière à éviter, autant que possible, la gêne causée aux services de radiodiffusion des autres pays ou aux autres services travaillant avec des fréquences voisines.

§ 7. Le tableau ci-dessous donne la répartition des fréquences (longueurs d'onde approximatives) entre les divers services.

not answer within six weeks after the receipt of the said communication shall be considered as having given its assent.

[89] (d) It is fully understood that such a preliminary agreement shall also be necessary whenever, in a European broadcasting station, operating outside the authorized frequency bands, a change is made in the characteristics previously notified to the Bureau of the Union, and when such change is capable of affecting the conditions of international interference.

[90] §5. In principle, the power of broadcasting stations working on frequencies below 5,000 kc (wavelengths above 60 m) must not exceed the value necessary to insure economically an effective high-quality national service within the limits of the country considered.

[91] §6. In principle, the location of powerful broadcasting stations, and especially of those which operate near the limits of the frequency bands reserved to broadcasting, must be chosen in such a way as to avoid, so far as possible, interference caused to the broadcasting services of other countries or to other services operating on neighboring frequencies.

[92] §7. The following table shows the allocation of frequencies (approximate wavelengths) to the various services.

[93] *Definition of the European region: The European region is limited on the north and west by the natural boundaries of Europe, on the east by the meridian 40° E. of Greenwich and on the south by the parallel 30° N., so as to include the western part of the U.S.S.R. and the territories bordering on the Mediterranean, except the parts of Arabia and Saudi Arabia which are included in this sector.

[94] 1 The wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) is the calling-wave of mobile stations using long continuous waves.

[95] 2 A European or regional conference may admit one or several broadcasting stations by derogation, provided that mobile services are not hampered.

[96] <sup>2</sup> The European administrations shall be authorized to arrange among themselves for placing in the band of 240 to 265 kc (1,250 to 1,132 m) broadcasting stations which, by reason of their geographical position, will not interfere with services not open to public correspondence or with aeronautical services. Furthermore, these services shall be organized in such a way as not to interfere with the reception of the broadcasting stations thus chosen, within the limits of the national territories of these stations.

[97] <sup>4</sup> Services open to public correspondence shall not be admitted in the bands allocated to broadcasting, between 160 and 265 kc (1,875 and 1,132 m), even under the terms of Article 7, §1 [No. 79].

[98] <sup>4</sup> The band 160-265 kc (1,875-1,132 m) shall also be assigned to broadcasting in South Africa, Australia, British India, and New Zealand upon the condition that the stations which use these frequencies for broadcasting be placed in such a manner as to avoid interference with the services of countries not using these frequencies for broadcasting.

[99] <sup>4</sup> The band from 265 to 365 kc (1,132 to 822 m) shall be used in Japan for aeronautical and maritime radiobeacons.

Remarque.—Une conférence européenne qui aura lieu avant l'entrée en vigueur du présent Règlement, pourra décider exceptionnellement d'annexer à son protocole certaines des dérogations particulières qu'elle aura pu décider dans les bandes régionales et qu'elles estimera devoir y faire figurer. Ces dérogations s'ajouteront à celles prévues dans les notes relatives au tableau qui précède.

[111] <sup>17</sup> It is necessary for the frequencies of the carrier waves of broadcasting stations to keep a separation of 5 kc at least, from the upper limit of the allocated band.

[112] <sup>18</sup> The frequency of 1,650 kc (181.8 m) shall be both a calling-wave and the distress-wave for the mobile service of radiotelephony with low-power ship stations. The use of this wave shall be regulated by the provisions of article 31.

[113] <sup>19</sup> As a general rule, this frequency band shall be reserved for the telephone service with low-power ship stations. The countries whose ships do not use this type of communication will avoid the use of telegraphy in this band in regions adjacent to those where this telephone service is operated.

[115] <sup>21</sup> Within Europe, the frequency bands of 1,560-1,630 kc and of 1,670-1,715 kc (192.3-184.0 and 179.6-174.9 m) may be used by the short-distance fixed services, provided that they will not interfere with the mobile services.

[116] Note.—A European conference, which shall take place before the going into effect of these Regulations, may decide, as an exception, to annex to its protocol certain special derogations upon which it may decide in the regional bands and which it may deem necessary to show therein. Such derogations will be added to those provided for in the notes relating to the preceding table.

§ 8. Les services de radiodiffusion peuvent utiliser des fréquences comprises entre 2 300 et 2 500 kc/s (130,4 et 120 m), entre 3 300 et 3 500 kc/s (90,91 et 85,71 m) et entre 4 770 et 4 965 kc/s (62,89 et 60,42 m) aux conditions suivantes:

I. FRÉQUENCES COMPRISSES ENTRE 2 000 ET 3 500 KC/S (150 ET 85,71 M).

1° Dans la région comprise entre le méridien 30° Ouest et le méridien 50° Est d'une part (en se dirigeant vers l'est à partir du méridien 30° Ouest), le parallèle 30° N et le parallèle 30° S d'autre part, les deux bandes ci-dessous:

3 300-3 500 kc/s (90,91-85,71 m)

peuvent être employées pour les services de radiodiffusion, concurremment avec les services fixes et mobiles. Des accords régionaux fixeront la puissance maxima de nuit et la répartition des fréquences à l'intérieur de ces bandes, de manière à éviter

- a) que des brouillages ne se produisent dans la région considérée,
- b) que les stations de radiodiffusion de cette région ne provoquent des brouillages avec les stations des services fixes et mobiles travaillant déjà dans ces bandes.

2° Dans la région comprise entre le méridien 50° Est et le méridien 140° Ouest d'une part (en se dirigeant vers l'est à partir du méridien 50° Est), le parallèle 30° N et le parallèle 30° S d'autre part, à l'exclusion des îles Hawaï, les deux bandes de fréquences ci-dessus mentionnées peuvent être employées pour les services de radiodiffusion concurremment avec les services fixes et mobiles. Des accords régionaux fixeront la répartition des fréquences à l'intérieur de ces bandes de manière à éviter que des brouillages ne se produisent dans la région dont il s'agit.

[126] * By low-power stations must be understood stations by which the power is below 1 kw.

[127] * With respect to the assignment of the frequencies above 30 mc (wavelengths below 10 m), the table in appendix 4 indicates a distribution which will be used on the American Continents as a basis for future research and experiments.

[129] §8. The broadcasting services may use the frequencies included between 2,300 and 2,500 kc (130.4 and 120 m), between 3,300 and 3,500 kc (90.91 and 85.71 m), and between 4,770 and 4,965 kc (62.89 and 60.42 m) under the following conditions:

[130] I. FREQUENCIES INCLUDED BETWEEN 2,000 AND 3,500 KC
(150 AND 85.71 M)

[131] 1. In the region included between meridian 30° W. and meridian 50° E., on the one hand (going east from meridian 30° W.), parallel 30° N. and parallel 30° S., on the other, the following two frequency bands—

2,300-2,500 kc (130.4-120 m)
3,300-3,500 kc (90.91-85.71 m)

may be used for the broadcasting services jointly with the fixed and mobile services. Regional agreements will determine the maximum night power and the distribution of frequencies within these bands in such a way as to avoid:

[132] (a) the occurrence of interference in the region considered,
[133] (b) the creation of interference, by broadcasting stations of this region, with the stations of fixed and mobile services already working in these bands.

[134] 2. In the region included between meridian 50° E. and meridian 140° W., on the one hand (going east from meridian 50° E.), parallel 30° N. and parallel 30° S., on the other hand, excluding the Hawaiian Islands, the above two frequency bands may be used for the broadcasting services concurrently with the fixed and mobile services. Regional agreements will determine the distribution of frequencies within these bands in such a manner as to avoid the occurrence of interference in the region involved.

3° Dans la région comprise entre le méridien 30° Ouest et le méridien 140° Ouest (en se dirigeant vers l'ouest à partir du méridien 30° Ouest).

- a) en ce qui concerne la zone située au sud du parallèle 5° de latitude sud, la bande de 2 300 à 2 500 kc/s (130,4 à 120 m) peut être employée par les services de radiodiffusion, concurremment avec les services mobiles;
- b) en ce qui concerne les pays du continent américain compris entre le sud du Mexique et le nord de la Colombie, la bande de 2 300 à 2 350 kc/s (130,4 à 127,7 m) peut être réservée à la radiodiffusion. Cette allocation est faite en vertu d'un accord aux termes duquel il ne sera pas utilisé plus de 2 fréquences distinctes par pays à l'intérieur de cette bande, avec des restrictions convenables relativement à la puissance et à l'emploi d'antennes directives, et à condition que les stations de radiodiffusion ne provoquent pas de brouillages des stations des autres services qui utilisent actuellement ces fréquences, au nord et au sud de la partie du continent américain considérée au présent paragraphe;
- c) en outre, la bande de 2 350 à 2 400 kc/s (de 127,7 à 125 m) peut être employée pour la radiodiffusion par le Guatemala, El Salvador, le Honduras, le Nicaragua, Costa-Rica, Panama et la zone du Canal. Cet emploi est subordonné à un accord régional conclu entre les administrations des pays ci-dessus mentionnés, en vue d'éviter tout brouillage des services fixes et mobiles existants.
- d) en ce qui concerne les possessions anglaises, françaises et néerlandaises situées à l'est du méridien 80° Ouest d'une part, entre le parallèle 20° N et la côte de l'Amérique du Sud d'autre part, la bande de 2 300 à 2 400 kc/s (130,4–125 m) peut être employée par les services de radiodiffusion, concurremment avec les services fixes et mobiles, à condition que les stations de radiodiffusion ne provoquent pas de brouillages des stations des services fixes et mobiles du continent américain qui travaillent déjà dans cette bande.

II. FRÉQUENCES COMPRISES ENTRE 4 000 ET 5 500 KC/S (75 ET 54,55 M).

1° Dans la région comprise entre le méridien 0° et le méridien 140° Ouest d'une part (en se dirigeant vers l'est à partir du méridien 0°), le parallèle 30° N et le parallèle 30° S d'autre part, la bande de 4 835 à 4 965 kc/s (62,05 à 60,42 m) peut être employée par les services de radiodiffusion concurremment avec les services fixes et mobiles, à condition:

- a) que les stations de radiodiffusion ne provoquent pas de brouillages des stations fixes qui travaillent déjà dans cette bande. Dans ce but, il y aura lieu de faire usage, autant que possible, d'antennes directives;
- b) que la puissance maximum de nuit desdites stations n'excède pas 5 kilowatts.

2° Dans la région comprise entre le méridien 0° et le méridien 30° Ouest d'une part (en se dirigeant vers l'ouest à partir du méridien 0°), le parallèle 30° N et le parallèle 30° S d'autre part, la bande de 4 770 à 4 900 kc/s (62,89–61,22 m)—voies utilisables 4 775–4 895

[135] 3. In the region included between meridian  $30^{\circ}$  W. and meridian  $140^{\circ}$  W. (going west from meridian  $30^{\circ}$  W.):

[136] (a) As regards the zone situated south of parallel  $5^{\circ}$  S. latitude, the band of 2,300–2,500 kc (130.4–120 m) may be used by the broadcasting services concurrently with the mobile services.

[137] (b) As regards the countries of the American Continents included between the south of Mexico and the north of Colombia, the frequency band of 2,300–2,350 kc (130.4–127.7 m) may be reserved for broadcasting. This allocation is made pursuant to an agreement under the terms of which no more than two separate frequencies a country will be used within this band, with suitable restrictions as to power and the use of directive antennas, and on the condition that the broadcasting stations do not cause interference with the stations of other services now using these frequencies, north and south of that part of the American Continents considered in this paragraph.

[138] (c) In addition, the band of 2,350–2,400 kc (127.7–125 m) may be used for broadcasting by Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, and the Canal Zone. This use shall be subject to a regional agreement concluded between the administrations of the countries above mentioned, so as to avoid causing any interference in the existing fixed and mobile services.

[139] (d) Regarding the possessions of Great Britain, France, and the Dutch East Indies, which are located to the east of meridian  $80^{\circ}$  W., on the one hand, between parallel  $20^{\circ}$  N. and the coast of South America, on the other, the frequency band of 2,300–2,400 kc (130.4–125 m) may be used by the broadcasting services concurrently with the fixed and mobile services, on condition that the broadcasting stations cause no interference with the fixed and mobile stations of the American Continents which are already working in this band.

[140] II. FREQUENCIES INCLUDED BETWEEN 4,000 AND 5,500 KC (75 AND 54.55 M)

[141] 1. In the region included between meridian  $0^{\circ}$  and meridian  $140^{\circ}$  W., on the one hand (going east from meridian  $0^{\circ}$ ), parallel  $30^{\circ}$  N. and parallel  $30^{\circ}$  S., on the other, the band 4,835–4,965 kc (62.05–60.42 m) may be used by the broadcasting services concurrently with the fixed and mobile services, on condition:

[142] (a) That the broadcasting stations cause no interference with the fixed stations which are already working in this band. For that purpose, directional antennas should be used so far as possible.

[143] (b) That the maximum night power of the said stations does not exceed 5 kw.

[144] 2. In the region included between meridian  $0^{\circ}$  and meridian  $30^{\circ}$  W., on the one hand (going west from meridian  $0^{\circ}$ ), parallel  $30^{\circ}$  N. and parallel  $30^{\circ}$  S., on the other, the frequency band of 4,770 to 4,900 kc (62.89–61.22 m)—usable channels 4,775–4,895 kc (62.83– kc/s (62,83–61,29 m)—peut être employée par les services de radio-diffusion, concurremment avec les services fixes et mobiles, sous les mêmes réserves que celles qui figurent aux alinéas a) et b) de 1° ci-dessus.

3° Dans la région de l'Amérique du Sud située au nord du parallèle 5° S, la bande de 4 770 à 4 900 kc/s (62,89–61,22 m)—voies utilisables 4 775–4 895 kc/s (62,83–61,29 m)—peut être employée par les services de radiodiffusion concurremment avec les services fixes et mobiles sous les mêmes réserves que celles qui figurent aux alinéas a) et b) de 1° ci-dessus.

III. PRESCRIPTIONS DIVERSES S'APPLIQUANT À LA RADIODIFFUSION DANS LES RÉGIONS TROPICALES.

1° Les administrations intéressées s'engagent à collaborer pour rendre aussi efficace que possible la radiodiffusion dans les trois bandes de 2 300–2 500 kc/s (130,4–120 m), 3 300–3 500 kc/s (90,91–85,71 m) et 4 835–4 965 kc/s (62,05–60,42 m).

2° En ce qui concerne les dispositions relatives à la radiodiffusion dans les régions tropicales, les administrations intéressées dans la zone située entre le méridien 50° Est et le méridien 140° Ouest en se dirigeant vers l'est, d'une part, et entre le parallèle 30° N et le parallèle 30° S, d'autre part (à l'exclusion des îles Hawaï) se consulteront au sujet de la puissance et de la fréquence à employer dans l'établissement de nouvelles stations de radiodiffusion utilisant une puissance supérieure à 1 kW.

§ 9. Répartition des fréquences pour les services aéronautiques entre 6 000 et 25 000 kc/s (50–12 m).

a) Dans la région européenne, l'U.R.S.S., l'Afrique et l'Amérique du Sud, les bandes qui suivent sont attribuées à titre exclusif aux services aéronautiques:

6 500– 6 600 kc/s	(46,15–45,45 m)
8 480– 8 580 kc/s	(35,38–34,97 m)
11 300–11 400 kc/s	(26,55–26,32 m)
12 770–12 830 kc/s	(23,49–23,38 m)
17 250–17 375 kc/s	(17,39–17,27 m)
23 200–23 380 kc/s	(12,93–12,83 m)

b) Attribution générale des fréquences pour les routes aériennes intercontinentales.

Les fréquences (longueurs d'onde) suivantes sont réservées sur une base mondiale pour les routes aériennes intercontinentales.

61.29 m)—may be used by the broadcasting services concurrently with the fixed and mobile services, subject to the same conditions as those appearing in paragraphs (a) and (b) of 1 above [Nos. 142 and 143].

[145] 3. In the region of South America situated north of parallel 5° S., the band of 4,770 to 4,900 kc (62.89–61.22 m)—usable channels 4,775–4,895 kc (62.83–61.29 m)—may be used by the broadcasting services concurrently with the fixed and mobile services, subject to the same conditions as those appearing in paragraphs (a) and (b) of 1 above [Nos. 142 and 143].

[146] III. VARIOUS PROVISIONS APPLYING TO BROADCASTING IN TROPICAL REGIONS

[147] 1. The interested administrations undertake to collaborate with a view to making broadcasting as efficient as possible in the three bands of 2,300–2,500 kc (130.4–120 m), 3,300–3,500 kc (90.91–85.71 m), and 4,835–4,965 kc (62.05–60.42 m).

[148] 2. With respect to the provisions relating to broadcasting in tropical regions, the administrations concerned, in the zone located between the meridian of 50° E. and the meridian of 140° W., going east, on the one hand, and between parallel 30° N. and that of 30° S., on the other hand (excluding the Hawaiian Islands), shall consult each other regarding the power and the frequency to be used in constructing new broadcasting stations using power in excess of 1 kw.

[149] §9. Allocation of Frequencies for Aeronautical Services Between 6,000 and 25,000 kc (50–12 m)

[150] (a) In the European region, in the U. S. S. R., in Africa, and in South America, the following bands shall be assigned exclusively to the aeronautical services:

6,500–6,600 kc	(46.15–45.45 m)
8,480–8,580 kc	(35.38–34.97 m)
11,300–11,400 kc	(26.55–26.32 m)
12,770–12,830 kc	(23.49–23.38 m)
17,250–17,375 kc	(17.39–17.27 m)
23,200–23,380 kc	(12.93–12.83 m)

[151] (b) General allocation of frequencies for intercontinental aeronautical routes.

[152] The following frequencies (wavelengths) shall be reserved, on a universal basis, for intercontinental aeronautical routes:

[154] Note (a) Services existing outside the American Continents shall enjoy priority.

[155] Note (b) Existing services of the American Continents, as well as of the territories and possessions of the states of these continents, shall enjoy priority.

Remarque 1. Sauf exceptions mentionnées dans les notes a) et b), les stations aéronautiques et d'aéronef employant les fréquences des routes auxquelles elles sont assignées ont la priorité sur tous les autres services.

Remarque 2. Les fréquences assignées aux routes intercontinentales indiquées sont à la disposition des services aéronautiques de tous les pays utilisant ces routes. Les usagers de ces fréquences coopèrent en ce qui concerne l'exploitation des stations, afin d'éviter des brouillages mutuels.

Remarque 3. Sur les routes intercontinentales, seules les émissions type A1 peuvent être effectuées.

Remarque 4. Dans la Région européenne, l'U.R.S.S., l'Afrique et l'Amérique du Sud, les bandes mentionnées dans le tableau du § 9 a) du présent article peuvent être employées exclusivement pour le service aéronautique, sous réserve de la priorité indiquée par la Remarque 1 ci-dessus. Ces bandes peuvent être employées dans d'autres régions pour les services aéronautiques, exclusivement ou non exclusivement, dans les conditions indiquées à la Remarque 1.

Remarque 5. Dans la région européenne, la partie des bandes mobiles entre 6 000 et 25 000 kc/s (50 et 12 m) qui n'est pas allouée en exclusivité aux services aéronautiques demeure affectée exclusivement aux services mobiles maritimes, excepté pour l'onde générale d'appel des stations aéronautiques 6 210 kc/s (48,31 m). Toutefois, les stations mobiles aéronautiques pourront effectuer leur service de correspondance publique avec les stations côtières dans les bandes des services mobiles maritimes, conformément à des accords qui interviendront entre les administrations intéressées.

375 kc/s (800 m) radiogoniométrie seulement.
425 kc/s (706 m) trafic.
500 kc/s (600 m).

(2) L'usage des ondes du type B de toutes fréquences sera interdit à partir du 1er janvier 1940, sauf pour les émetteurs de navire qui, travaillant à pleine puissance, dépenseront moins de 300 watts mesurés aux bornes de l'alternateur.

(3) Les administrations s'efforceront d'abandonner le plus tôt possible les ondes du type B autres que l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m).

§ 11. (1) Dans les régions de trafic intense des côtes de l'Europe les postes de navire, travaillant en ondes du type A2, dans la gamme de 365 à 550 kc/s (822 à 545 m), doivent utiliser, dans la mesure du possible, les fréquences de 425 kc/s (706 m) et de 480 kc/s (625 m).

(2) Aucune station côtière européenne n'est autorisée à employer ces fréquences.

§ 12. L'emploi des ondes du type A1 seulement est autorisé entre 100 et 160 kc/s (3 000 et 1 875 m); la seule exception à cette règle est relative aux ondes du type A2 qui peuvent être utilisées dans la bande de 100 à 125 kc/s (3 000 à 2 400 m) pour les signaux horaires exclusivement.

[156] Remark 1. Except as indicated in Notes (a) and (b) [Nos. 154 and 155], aeronautical and aircraft stations using frequencies on the routes to which they are assigned shall have priority over all other services.

[157] Remark 2. The frequencies assigned to the intercontinental routes indicated shall be available to the aeronautical services of all countries using these routes. Users of the frequencies shall cooperate concerning the operation of stations so as to avoid mutual interference.

[158] Remark 3. Type-A1 emissions only may be used on the intercontinental routes.

[159] Remark 4. In the European region, the U.S.S.R., Africa, and South America, the bands mentioned in the table in §9 (a) of this article [No. 150] may be used exclusively for the aeronautical service, subject to the priority specified in Remark 1 above. [No. 156]. These bands may also be used in other regions for aeronautical services, exclusively or not, subject to the conditions contained in Remark 1. [No. 156].

Ante, p. 1459.

[160] Remark 5. In the European region, that part of the mobile bands between 6,000 and 25,000 kc (50 and 12 m) which is not exclusively allocated to the aeronautical services shall remain assigned exclusively to the maritime mobile services, except for the general calling-wave for aeronautical stations 6,210 kc (48.31 m). However, aeronautical mobile stations may carry on their public correspondence with coast stations in the bands of the maritime mobile services, in accordance with agreements to be made between the administrations concerned.

[161] §10. (1) The use of type-B waves shall be forbidden in all radio stations. As an exception, it shall be permitted in ship stations on the following frequencies:

Type-B waves.

375 kc (800 m) radio direction-finding only,
425 kc (706 m) traffic,
500 kc (600 m).

[162] (2) The use of type-B waves on all frequencies shall be prohibited, beginning January 1, 1940, except for ship transmitters which, when working at full power, shall use less than 300 watts measured at the terminals of the alternator.

[163] (3) The administrations shall endeavor to abandon as soon as possible type-B waves other than the 500-kc (600-m) wave.

[164] §11. (1) In regions of intense traffic on the coasts of Europe, ship stations operating on type-A2 waves in the range of 365 to 550 kc (822–545 m) must, so far as possible, use the frequencies of 425 kc (706 m) and of 480 kc (625 m).

[165] (2) No European coast station is authorized to use these frequencies.

[166] §12. The use of type-A1 waves only shall be authorized between 100 and 160 kc (3,000 and 1,875 m); the only exception to this rule shall be for type-A2 waves which may be used in the band 100 to 125 kc (3,000 to 2,400 m) for time signals exclusively.

§ 13. Dans la bande de 460 à 550 kc/s (652 à 545 m), aucun type d'émission susceptible de rendre inopérants les signaux de détresse, d'alarme, de sécurité ou d'urgence, émis sur 500 kc/s (600 m), n'est autorisé.

§ 14. (1) Dans la bande de 325 à 345 kc/s (923 à 870 m), aucun type d'émission susceptible de rendre inopérants les signaux de détresse, de sécurité ou d'urgence, n'est autorisé.

(2) Cette règle ne s'applique pas aux régions où des accords particuliers en disposent autrement.

§ 15. (1) En principe, toute station qui assure un service entre points fixes sur une onde de fréquence inférieure à 110 kc/s (longueur d'onde supérieure à 2 727 m) doit employer une seule fréquence, choisie parmi les bandes attribuées audit service (§ 7 ci-dessus), pour chacun des émetteurs qu'elle comporte, susceptibles de fonctionner simultanément.

(2) Il n'est pas permis à une station de faire usage, pour un service entre points fixes, d'une fréquence autre que celle attribuée comme il est dit ci-dessus.

§ 17. Une station fixe peut effectuer, sur sa fréquence normale de travail, comme service secondaire, des émissions destinées aux stations mobiles, à condition:

- a) que les administrations intéressées jugent nécessaire d'utiliser cette méthode exceptionnelle de travail;
- b) qu'il n'en résulte aucune augmentation des brouillages.

§ 18. Afin de faciliter l'échange des messages météorologiques synoptiques dans les régions européennes, les fréquences 41,6 kc/s; 42,25 kc/s; 89,5 kc/s et 99,85 ks/s (7 210 m; 7 100 m; 3 352 m et 3 005 m) sont attribuées au service météorologique.

§ 19. (1) Pour faciliter la transmission et la distribution rapides des renseignements utiles à la découverte des crimes et à la poursuite des criminels, une fréquence entre 37,5 et 100 kc/s (entre 8 000 et 3 000 m) sera réservée pour cet objet, par des arrangements régionaux [à savoir, pour l'Europe, l'onde de 83,40 kc/s (3 597 m)].

(2) En outre, les fréquences de 3 490 kc/s (85,96 m), 4 165 kc/s (72,03 m), 6 792 kc/s (44,17 m) sont attribuées aux services de police, dans les régions situées en dehors du continent américain.

§ 20. Chaque administration peut attribuer aux stations d'amateur des bandes de fréquences conformes au tableau de répartition (§ 7 ci-dessus).

§ 21. En vue de réduire les brouillages dans les bandes de fréquences supérieures à 4 000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 75 m), utilisées par le service mobile, et en particulier pour éviter de gêner les communications téléphoniques à grande distance de ce

[167] §13. In the band 460 to 550 kc (652 to 545 m) no type of emission capable of rendering inoperative the distress, alarm, safety, or urgent signals sent on 500 kc (600 m) shall be authorized.

Distress, etc., signals, interferences.

[168] §14. (1) In the band 325 to 345 kc (923 to 870 m), no type of emission capable of rendering inoperative distress, safety, or urgent signals shall be authorized.

[169] (2) This rule shall not apply to regions in which special agreements provide otherwise.

[170] §15. (1) In principle, any station carrying on a service between fixed points on a wave with a frequency below 110 kc (wavelength above 2,727 m) must use only one frequency, chosen from the bands allocated to the said service (§7 above), for each of its transmitters capable of simultaneous operation.

Use of only one frequency.

[171] (2) A station shall not be permitted to use a frequency other than that allocated as stated above, for a service between fixed points.

[172] §16. In principle, the stations shall use the same frequencies and the same types of emission for the transmission of messages by the unilateral method as for their normal service. Regional arrangements may, however, be made for the purpose of exempting the stations concerned from complying with this rule.

[173] §17. A fixed station may, as secondary service, on its normal working frequency, make transmissions intended for mobile stations on the following conditions:

Transmissions for mobile stations; conditions.

[174] (a) that the administrations concerned deem it necessary to use this exceptional working-method;

[175] (b) that no increase in interference results therefrom.

[176] §18. In order to facilitate the exchange of synoptic meteorological messages in the European regions, the frequencies of 41.6 kc, 42.25 kc, 89.5 kc, and 99.85 kc (7,210 m, 7,100 m, 3,352 m, and 3,005 m) shall be allocated to the meteorological service.

Exchange of synoptic meteorological messages.

[177] §19. (1) To facilitate rapid transmission and distribution of information of value in the detection of crime and pursuit of criminals, a frequency between 37.5 and 100 kc (between 8,000 and 3,000 m) shall be reserved for this purpose by regional arrangements [namely, for Europe, the wave of 83.40 kc (3,597 m)].

Criminal detection, etc.

[178] (2) In addition, the frequencies of 3,490 kc (85.96 m), 4,165 kc (72.03 m), 6,792 kc (44.17 m) shall be assigned to police services, in the regions located outside of the American Continents.

Police services.

[179] §20. Each administration may allocate to amateur stations frequency bands in accordance with the allocation table (§7 above).

Amateur stations.

[180] §21. In order to decrease interference in the frequency bands above 4,000 kc (wavelengths below 75 m), used by the mobile service, and particularly in order to avoid interfering with the long-distance telephone communications of this service, the administrations agree to service, les administrations sont d'accord pour adopter, autant que possible, les règles suivantes, en tenant compte du développement de la technique courante:

- (1) a) Dans les bandes de fréquences supérieures à 5 500 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 54,55 m) attribuées exclusivement au service mobile, les fréquences (longueurs d'onde) qui devront être utilisées par les stations de navire affectées au service commercial seront du côté des basses fréquences (ondes plus longues) et spécialement dans les limites des bandes harmoniques énumérées ci-dessous:

5 500 à 5 550 kc/s	(54,55 à 54,05 m)
6 200 à 6 250 kc/s	(48,39 à 48 m)
8 230 à 8 330 kc/s	(36,45 à 36,01 m)
11 000 à 11 100 kc/s	(27,27 à 27,03 m)
12 340 à 12 500 kc/s	(24,31 à 24 m)
16 460 à 16 660 kc/s	(18,23 à 18,01 m)
22 000 à 22 200 kc/s	(13,64 à 13,51 m).

Note. Les bandes de fréquences de 4 115 à 4 165 kc/s (72,90 à 72,03 m) peuvent également être utilisées par les stations susdites [voir aussi (2), c) ci-dessous].

- b) Cependant, toute station commerciale de navire dont l'émission satisfait aux tolérances de fréquence exigées des stations terrestres au § 2, (1) de l'article 6, peut émettre sur la même fréquence que la station côtière avec laquelle elle communique.
- c) Quant une communication, pour laquelle aucun arrangement spécial n'a été fait, doit être établie entre une station de navire, d'une part, et une autre station de navire ou une station côtière, d'autre part, la station mobile utilisera une des fréquences suivantes situées approximativement au milieu des bandes:

4 140 kc/s	(72,46 m)
5 520 kc/s	(54,35 m)
6 210 kc/s	(48,31 m)
8 280 kc/s	(36,23 m)
11 040 kc/s	(27,17 m)
12 420 kc/s	(24,15 m)
16 560 kc/s	(18,12 m)
22 080 kc/s	(13,59 m).

Note. Les administrations sont d'accord pour indiquer, en notifiant la fréquence d'une station côtière, celle des ondes spécifiées à l'alinéa (1), c) sur laquelle l'écoute sera faite.

- (2) a) Les stations de navire affectées au service commercial n'utiliseront les bandes communes supérieures à 4 000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 75 m) qu'autant que leurs émissions satisferont aux tolérances de fréquence spécifiées pour les stations terrestres au § 2, (1) de l'article 6. Dans ces cas, les fréquences employées doivent être choisies du côté des fréquences les plus hautes (ondes plus courtes) de la bande commune et, plus spécialement, dans les limites des bandes harmoniques énumérées ci-dessous:

8 800 à 8 900 kc/s	(34,09 à 33,71 m)
13 200 à 13 350 kc/s	(22,73 à 22,47 m)
17 600 à 17 750 kc/s	(17,05 à 16,90 m)
22 900 à 23 000 kc/s	(13,10 à 13,04 m).

adopt the following rules, wherever possible, taking into account current engineering development:

- [181] (1) (a) In the frequency bands above 5,500 kc (wavelengths below 54.55 m) allocated exclusively to the mobile service, the frequencies (wavelengths) which must be used by ship stations carrying on commercial service shall be on the low-frequency (long-wave) side of the band, and especially within the limits of the harmonic bands enumerated below:

5,500 to 5,550 kc (54.55 to 54.05 m)
 6,200 to 6,250 kc (48.39 to 48 m)
 8,230 to 8,330 kc (36.45 to 36.01 m)
 11,000 to 11,100 kc (27.27 to 27.03 m)
 12,340 to 12,500 kc (24.31 to 24 m)
 16,460 to 16,660 kc (18.23 to 18.01 m)
 22,000 to 22,200 kc (13.64 to 13.51 m)

- [182] Note.—The frequency bands of 4,115 to 4,165 kc (72.90 to 72.03 m) may also be used by the above-mentioned stations [see also (2) (c) below.] [No. 188]

- [183] (b) However, any commercial ship station the emissions of which comply with the frequency tolerances required of land stations under §2 (1) of article 6 [No. 71], may transmit on the same frequency as the coast station with which it communicates.

Ante, p. 1429.

- [184] (c) When a communication for which no special arrangement has been made must be established between a ship station, on one hand, and another ship station or a coast station, on the other hand, the mobile station shall use one of the following frequencies situated approximately in the middle of the bands:

4,140 kc (72.46 m)
 5,520 kc (54.35 m)
 6,210 kc (48.31 m)
 8,280 kc (36.23 m)
 11,040 kc (27.17 m)
 12,420 kc (24.15 m)
 16,560 kc (18.12 m)
 22,080 kc (13.59 m)

- [185] Note.—The administrations agree, in reporting the frequency of a coast station, to indicate on which one of the waves specified in No. 184 listening will be carried on.

- [186] (2) (a) Ship stations carrying on commercial service shall use the shared bands above 4,000 kc (wavelengths below 75 m) only when their emissions comply with the frequency tolerances specified for land stations in §2 (1) of article 6 [No. 71]. In this case, the frequencies used must be chosen on the higher-frequency (shorter-wave) side of the shared band and, more especially, in the limits of the harmonic bands enumerated below:

4,400 to 4,450 kc (68.18 to 67.42 m)
 8,800 to 8,900 kc (34.09 to 33.71 m)
 13,200 to 13,350 kc (22.73 to 22.47 m)
 17,600 to 17,750 kc (17.05 to 16.90 m)
 22,900 to 23,000 kc (13.10 to 13.04 m)

- b) On peut également utiliser des fréquences choisies dans la portion de la bande réservée aux services mobiles de 6 600 à 6 675 kc/s (45,45 à 44,94 m), en relation harmonique avec les bandes précédentes.
- c) Les prescriptions de l'alinéa (2), a) ne s'appliquent pas à la portion de la bande commune entre 4 115 et 4 165 kc/s (72,90 et 72,03 m) qui peut être utilisée par toute station de navire affectée au service commercial.
- (3) En choisissant les fréquences des nouvelles stations fixes et côtières, les administrations éviteront d'employer les fréquences des bandes spécifiées dans les alinéas (1), a), (2) a), (2), b) et (2), c).

§ 22. (1) Il est reconnu que les fréquences entre 5 000 et 30 000 kc/s (60 et 10 m) sont susceptibles de se propager sur de grandes distances.

(2) Etant donné que l'emploi de ces fréquences pour des communications à courte ou à moyenne distance est susceptible de brouiller les communications à grande distance, les administrations s'efforceront, dans toute la mesure du possible, de réserver les fréquences de cette bande pour des communications à grande distance.

(3) Il est recommandé de n'utiliser pour la radiodiffusion à longue distance dans cette bande de fréquences, que des émetteurs d'une puissance au moins égale à 5 kW.

§ 23. En Europe, Afrique, Asie, les radiophares directionnels de faible puissance et dont la portée ne dépasse pas 50 km environ peuvent faire usage de toute fréquence dans la bande de 1 560 à 3 500 kc/s (192,3 à 85,71 m), à l'exception de la bande de protection de 1 630 à 1 670 kc/s (184,0 à 179,6 m), sous réserve d'accord des pays dont les services sont susceptibles d'être brouillés.

ARTICLE 8.

Stations d'amateur et stations expérimentales privées.

§ 1. L'échange de communications entre stations d'amateur et entre stations expérimentales privées de pays différents est interdit si l'administration de l'un des pays intéressés a notifié son opposition à cet échange.

§ 2. (1) Lorsque cet échange est permis, les communications doivent s'effectuer en langage clair et se limiter aux messages ayant trait aux expériences et à des remarques d'un caractère personnel pour lesquelles, en raison de leur manque d'importance, le recours au service télégraphique public ne saurait entrer en considération. Il est absolument interdit aux titulaires des stations d'amateur de transmettre des communications internationales émanant de tierces personnes.

(2) Les dispositions ci-dessus peuvent être modifiées par des arrangements particuliers entre les pays intéressés.

- [187] (b) Frequencies chosen in the portion of the band reserved to mobile services from 6,600 to 6,675 kc (45.45 to 44.94 m), in harmonic relation with the preceding bands, may also be used.
- [188] (c) The provisions of paragraph (2) (a) [No. 186] shall not apply to the portion of the shared band between 4,115 and 4,165 kc (72.90 and 72.03 m) which may be used by any ship station carrying on a commercial service.
- [189] (3) In selecting frequencies for new fixed and coast stations, the administrations shall avoid using the frequencies in the bands specified in paragraphs (1) (a), (2) (a), (2) (b), and (2) (c) [Nos. 181, 186, 187, and 188].

[190] §22. (1) It is recognized that the frequencies between 5,000 and 30,000 kc (60 and 10 m) are capable of propagation over great distances.

Long-distance communications.

[191] (2) The administrations shall make every possible effort to reserve the frequencies of this band for long-distance communications, in view of the fact that their use for short- or medium-distance communications is likely to interfere with long-distance communications.

[192] (3) It is recommended that only transmitters having a power equal to at least 5 kw be used for long-distance broadcasting in this frequency band.

[193] §23. In Europe, Africa, and Asia, low-power directional radio-beacons the range of which does not exceed about 50 km may use any frequency in the band 1,560 to 3,500 kc (192.3 to 85.71 m) except the guard band of 1,630 to 1,670 kc (184.0 to 179.6 m), subject to agreements with the countries whose services are likely to suffer interference.

ARTICLE 8

Amateur Stations and Private Experimental Stations

[194] §1. The exchange of communications between amateur stations and between private experimental stations of different countries shall be forbidden if the administration of one of the interested countries has given notice of its opposition to this exchange.

Exchange provisions.

[195] §2. (1) When this exchange is permitted, the communications must be carried on in plain language and be limited to messages relating to experiments and to remarks of a private nature for which, by reason of their lack of importance, the use of the telegraph service could not enter into consideration. It shall be strictly forbidden for owners of amateur stations to transmit international communications emanating from third persons.

[196] (2) The foregoing provisions may be modified by special arrangements between the interested countries.

[197] §3. In amateur stations or in private experimental stations, authorized to conduct transmissions, any person operating the apparatus on his own account or for third persons must have proved that he is able to transmit texts in Morse code signals and to read, code Morse et à lire, à la réception radiotélégraphique auditive, les textes ainsi transmis. Elle ne peut se faire remplacer que par des personnes autorisées possédant les mêmes aptitudes.

§ 5. (1) La puissance maximum que les stations d'amateur et les stations expérimentales privées peuvent utiliser est fixée par les administrations intéressées, en tenant compte des qualités techniques des opérateurs et des conditions dans lesquelles lesdites stations doivent travailler.

(2) Toutes les règles générales fixées dans la Convention et dans le présent Règlement s'appliquent aux stations d'amateur et aux stations expérimentales privées. En particulier, la fréquence des ondes émises doit être aussi constante et aussi exempte d'harmoniques que l'état de la technique le permet.

(3) Au cours de leurs émissions, ces stations doivent transmettre, à de courts intervalles, leur indicatif d'appel, ou leur nom dans le cas de stations expérimentales non encore pourvues d'indicatif d'appel.

ARTICLE 9.

Conditions à remplir par les stations mobiles.

A. GÉNÉRALITÉS.

§ 2. La fréquence d'émission des stations mobiles sera vérifiée le plus souvent possible par le service d'inspection dont elles relèvent.

§ 3. Les appareils récepteurs doivent être tels que le courant qu'ils induisent dans l'antenne soit aussi réduit que possible et n'incommode pas les stations du voisinage.

§ 4. Les changements de fréquence dans les appareils émetteurs et récepteurs de toute station mobile doivent pouvoir être effectués aussi rapidement que possible. Toutes les installations doivent être telles que, la communication étant établie, le temps nécessaire au passage de l'émission à la réception et vice versa soit aussi réduit que possible.

§ 5. Diffusion d'émissions radiophoniques, voir l'article 21, § 1 (2).

B. STATIONS DE NAVIRE.

§ 6. (1) Les appareils d'émission utilisés dans les stations de navire travaillant sur des ondes du type A2 ou B dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m) doivent être pourvus de dispositifs permettant, d'une manière facile, d'en réduire sensiblement la puissance.

*En ce qui concerne la restriction de l'installation d'émetteurs d'ondes du type B et l'usage des ondes du type B sur des navires, voir l'article 7, § 10, (1) à (3).

by aural radiotelegraph reception, texts so transmitted. He can be replaced only by authorized persons possessing the same qualifications.

[198] §4. Administrations shall take such measures as they judge necessary to verify, from a technical standpoint, the qualifications of any person operating the apparatus.

[199] §5. (1) The maximum power which amateur stations and private experimental stations may use shall be fixed by the interested administrations, taking account of the technical qualifications of the operators and of the conditions under which the said stations must work.

[200] (2) All the general rules laid down in the Convention and in the present Regulations shall apply to amateur stations and to private experimental stations. In particular, the frequency of the wave emitted must be as constant and as free from harmonics as the state of the art permits.

[201] (3) In the course of their emissions, these stations must, at short intervals, transmit their call signals or, in the case of experimental stations not yet provided with call signals, their names.

ARTICLE 9

Conditions to be Observed by Mobile Stations

A. GENERAL

[202] §1. Mobile stations must be established in such a way as to conform, as regards frequencies and types of waves, to the provisions forming the subject of article 7.*

General regulations.

Ante, p. 1429.

[203] §2. The frequency of emission of mobile stations shall be verified as often as possible by the inspection service to which they are subject.

[204] §3. Receiving apparatus must be such that the current which they induce into the antenna shall be as low as possible and shall not disturb neighboring stations.

[205] §4. Transmitting and receiving sets of any mobile station must permit of making frequency changes as rapidly as possible. All installations must be such that, after the communication is established, the time necessary to change from transmission to reception and vice versa shall be as short as possible.

[207] §5. For broadcasting of radiophone transmissions, see article 21, §1 (2) [No. 473].

Post, p. 1523.

B. SHIP STATIONS

[208] §6. (1) The transmitting apparatus used in ship stations working on type-A2 or -B waves in the authorized band between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) must be provided with devices making it possible conveniently and appreciably to reduce the power thereof.

Ship stations.

[206] *Regarding the restriction upon the installation of type-B wave transmitters and the use of type-B waves on ships, see article 7, §10, (1) to (3) [Nos. 161, 162, and 163].

(2) Cette disposition n'est pas obligatoire pour les émetteurs d'ondes du type B, dont la puissance à pleine charge, mesurée aux bornes de l'alternateur, ne dépasse pas 300 watts.

(3) Toutes les stations de navire émettant sur des fréquences dans les bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m) et sur des fréquences supérieures à 4 000 kc/s (longueurs d'onde inférieures à 75 m) doivent être munies d'un ondemètre, ayant une précision au moins égale à 5/1 000, lorsque l'émetteur lui-même n'est pas susceptible d'être réglé avec cette précision ou une précision plus grande.

§ 7. Toute station établie à bord d'un navire obligatoirement pourvu d'un appareil radioélectrique par suite d'un accord international doit pouvoir émettre et recevoir:

- a) sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) du type A2 ou B et,
- b) en outre, au moins sur deux autres ondes du type A2 ou B, dans la bande autorisée entre 365 et 485 kc/s (822 et 619 m).

La disposition visée en b) ne s'applique pas aux émetteurs des bateaux de sauvetage ni aux émetteurs de secours des stations de navire.

§ 8. En plus des ondes visées ci-dessus, les stations de navire équipées pour émettre des ondes des types A1, A2 ou A3 peuvent employer les ondes autorisées à l'article 7.*

§ 9. Tous les appareils de stations de navire établis pour la transmission d'ondes du type A1 des bandes autorisées entre 100 et 160 kc/s (3 000 et 1 875 m) doivent permettre l'emploi, en plus de la fréquence de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), de deux fréquences au minimum choisies dans ces bandes.

§ 10. (1) Toutes les stations à bord des navires obligatoirement pourvus d'appareils radiotélégraphiques doivent être à même de recevoir l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) et, en outre, toutes les ondes nécessaires à l'accomplissement du service qu'elles effectuent.

(2) Ces stations doivent être à même de recevoir facilement et efficacement, sur les mêmes fréquences, les ondes des types A1 et A2.

(3) Il est recommandé de munir les stations de navire des première et deuxième catégories de dispositifs permettant l'émission et la réception sans manœuvre de commutation.

C. STATIONS D'AÉRONEF.

§ 11. Toute station d'aéronef, effectuant un parcours maritime et astreinte par une réglementation nationale ou internationale à entrer en communication avec les stations du service mobile maritime, doit pouvoir émettre et recevoir sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), type A2.

*En ce qui concerne la restriction de l'installation d'émetteurs d'ondes du type B et l'usage des ondes du type B sur des navires, voir l'article 7, § 10, (1) à (3).

[209] (2) This provision shall not be compulsory for type-B wave transmitters of which the power, at full load, measured at the terminals of the alternator, does not exceed 300 watts.

[210] (3) All ship stations transmitting on frequencies in the bands of 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m) and on frequencies above 4,000 kc (wavelengths below 75 m) must be equipped with a wave meter having a precision at least equal to 5/1000 when the transmitter itself is incapable of being adjusted with this precision or better.

[211] §7. Any station installed on board a ship compulsorily provided with radio apparatus as a result of an international agreement must be able to transmit and receive:

[212] (a) on the wave of 500 kc (600 m), type A2 or B and,

[213] (b) in addition, on at least two other waves of type A2 or B in the authorized band between 365 and 485 kc (822 and 619 m).

[214] The provision set forth in no. 213 shall not apply to transmitters on lifeboats or to emergency transmitters of ship stations.

[215] §8. In addition to the waves mentioned above, ship stations equipped to transmit type-A1, -A2, or -A3 waves may use the waves authorized in article 7.*

[216] §9. All the ship-station apparatus installed for the transmission of type-A1 waves in the authorized band between 100 and 160 kc (3,000 and 1,875 m) must permit of using at least two frequencies, selected in this band, in addition to the frequency of 143 kc (2,100 m).

[217] §10. (1) All stations on board ships compulsorily provided with radiotelegraph apparatus must be capable of receiving the wave of 500 kc (600 m) and, in addition, all the waves necessary to the operation of the service which they carry on.

[218] (2) These stations must be capable of receiving type-A1 and -A2 waves on the same frequencies easily and efficiently.

[219] (3) It is recommended that ship stations of the first and second categories be equipped with devices permitting transmission and reception without the manipulation of switches.

C. AIRCRAFT STATIONS

[220] §11. Any aircraft station, following a maritime course and required by national or international regulations to communicate with stations of the maritime mobile service, must be capable of transmitting and receiving on the wave of 500 kc (600 m), type A2.

Aircraft stations.

ARTICLE 10.

Certificats des opérateurs.

A. DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES.

§ 1. (1) Le service de toute station mobile, radiotélégraphique ou radiotéléphonique, doit être assuré par un opérateur radiotélégraphiste, titulaire d'un certificat délivré ou reconnu par le gouvernement dont dépend cette station. Toutefois, dans les stations mobiles pourvues d'une installation radioélectrique de faible puissance [d'une puissance d'onde porteuse dans l'antenne ne dépassant pas 100 watts, sauf dans le cas des accords régionaux prévus au § 8, (4)], et lorsque cette installation est utilisée seulement pour la téléphonie, le service peut être assuré par un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste.

(2) Dans le cas d'indisponibilité absolue de l'opérateur, au cours d'une traversée, d'un vol ou d'un voyage, le commandant ou la personne responsable de la station mobile peut autoriser, mais à titre temporaire seulement, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat délivré par un autre gouvernement contractant, à assurer le service radioélectrique. Lorsqu'il doit être fait appel, comme opérateur provisoire, à une personne ne possédant pas de certificat, ou à un opérateur n'ayant pas de certificat suffisant, son intervention doit se limiter uniquement aux signaux de détresse, d'urgence et de sécurité, aux messages qui s'y rapportent et aux messages urgents relatifs à la marche du navire ou de l'aéronef. De toute façon, cet opérateur (ou cette personne) doit être remplacé aussitôt que possible par un opérateur titulaire du certificat prévu au § 1 (1) ci-dessus. Les personnes utilisés dans ce cas sont astreintes aux mêmes devoirs que les opérateurs titulaires au sujet du secret des correspondances, comme prévu au § 2 ci-dessous.

§ 2. (1) Chaque administration prend les mesures nécessaires pour soumettre les opérateurs à l'obligation du secret des correspondances et pour éviter, dans la plus grande mesure possible, l'emploi frauduleux des certificats.

(2) A cet effet, les certificats portent les signes distinctifs permettant de reconnaître leur authenticité, tels que cachets de l'administration qui les a délivrés, signature du titulaire. Les administrations peuvent employer, si elles le désirent, d'autres moyens d'authentification.

(3) Afin de faciliter la vérification des certificats délivrés aux opérateurs du service mobile, il est ajouté, s'il y a lieu, au texte rédigé dans la langue nationale, une traduction de ce texte en une langue dont l'usage est très répandu dans les relations internationales.

§ 3. (1) Il y a deux classes de certificats ainsi qu'un certificat spécial pour les opérateurs radiotélégraphistes. Il y a, de plus, un certificat restreint pour les services aéronautiques.

Il y a deux catégories de certificats pour les opérateurs radiotéléphonistes (général et restreint).

ARTICLE 10

Operators' Certificates

A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

[221] §1. (1) The service of every mobile radiotelegraph or radiotelephone station must be performed by a radiotelegraph operator holding a certificate issued or recognized by the government to which this station is subject. However, in mobile stations equipped with a low-power radio installation [power of the carrier wave in the antenna not exceeding 100 watts, except in the case of regional agreements provided for in §8 (4)] [No. 269], and when this installation is used for telephony only, the service may be carried on by an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate.

General provisions.

Post, p. 1487.

[222] (2) In case of absolute unavailability of the operator in the course of a crossing, flight, or voyage, the master or the person responsible for the mobile station may authorize, but only temporarily, an operator holding a certificate issued by another contracting government to carry on the radio service. When it is necessary to employ, as temporary operator, a person not holding a certificate or an operator holding an inadequate certificate, this service must be limited entirely to distress, urgent, and safety signals, messages referring thereto, and urgent messages relating to the course of the ship or the aircraft. In any case, this operator (or this person) must be replaced as soon as possible by an operator holding the certificate provided for in §1 (1) above [No. 221]. The persons employed in these cases shall be held to the same duties in respect of secrecy of correspondence as regular operators, as provided in §2 below [No. 223].

Temporary operators.

[223] §2. (1) Each administration shall take the necessary measures to place the operators under obligation to observe the secrecy of correspondence and to avoid, to the greatest possible extent, the fraudulent use of certificates.

Secrecy of correspondence.

[224] (2) The certificates shall, to this effect, carry distinguishing signs by which their authenticity can be recognized, such as the stamp of the administration having issued them, bearer's signature. The administrations may, if they so desire, employ other means of authentication.

[225] (3) In order to facilitate verification of certificates issued to operators of the mobile service, there shall be added, when necessary, to the text written in the national language, a translation of this text into a language extensively used in international relations.

[226] §3. (1) There shall be two classes of certificates and a special certificate for radiotelegraph operators. In addition, there shall be a limited certificate for the aeronautical services.

Classes of certificates.

[227] There shall be two classes of certificates for radiotelephone operators (general and limited).

(2) Les conditions à imposer pour l'obtention de ces certificats sont contenues dans les paragraphes suivants; ces conditions sont des minima.

(3) Chaque gouvernement reste libre de fixer le nombre des examens jugés nécessaires pour accéder auxdits certificats.

(4) Le titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re classe ou de 2e classe <sup>1)</sup> peut assurer le service radiotéléphonique de toute station mobile.

B. CERTIFICAT DE RADIOTÉLÉGRAPHISTE DE 1RE CLASSE.

§ 4. Le certificat de 1re classe est délivré aux opérateurs qui ont fait preuve des connaissances et aptitudes techniques et professionnelles énumérées ci-dessous:

- a) La connaissance des principes généraux d'électricité et de la théorie de la radiotélégraphie et de la radiotéléphonie, ainsi que la connaissance du réglage et du fonctionnement pratique des types d'appareils utilisés dans le service mobile radiotélégraphique et radiotéléphonique, y compris les appareils utilisés pour la radiogoniométrie et la prise des relevements radiogoniométriques.
- b) La connaissance théorique et pratique du fonctionnement des appareils accessoires, tels que groupes électrogènes, accumulateurs, etc., utilisés pour la mise en œuvre et le réglage des appareils indiqués au littéra a).
- c) Les connaissances pratiques nécessaires pour effectuer, par les moyens du bord, les réparations d'avaries pouvant survenir aux appareils, en cours de voyage.
- d) L'aptitude à la transmission correcte et à la réception auditive correcte de groupes de code (mélange de lettres, de chiffres et de signes de ponctuation), à une vitesse de 20 (vingt) groupes par minute, et d'un texte en langage clair, à une vitesse de 25 (vingt-cinq) mots par minute. Chaque groupe de code doit comprendre cinq caractères, chaque chiffre ou signe de ponctuation comptant pour deux caractères. Le mot moyen du texte en langage clair doit comporter cinq caractères. La durée de chaque épreuve de transmission et de réception sera, en général, de cinq minutes.
- e) L'aptitude à la transmission correcte et à la réception correcte téléphoniques.
- f) La connaissance détaillée des Règlements s'appliquant à l'échange des radiocommunications, la connaissance des documents relatifs à la taxation des radiocommunications, la connaissance de la partie de la Convention pour la sauvegarde de la vie humaine en mer se rapportant à la radiotélégraphie, et, pour la navigation aérienne, la connaissance des dispositions spéciales régissant le service radioélectrique de la navigation aérienne. Dans ce cas, le certificat stipule que le titulaire a subi avec succès les épreuves portant sur ces dispositions.

[228] (2) The conditions to be required for obtaining these certificates are contained in the following paragraphs; they shall be minimum requirements.

[229] (3) Each government shall be free to fix the number of examinations deemed necessary to obtain the said certificates.

[230] (4) The holder of a first- or second-class<sup>1</sup> radiotelegraph operator's certificate may perform the radiotelephone service of any mobile station.

B. FIRST-CLASS RADIOTELEGRAPH OPERATOR'S CERTIFICATE

[232] §4. The first-class certificate shall be issued to operators who have shown that they possess the professional and technical qualifications enumerated below:

First-class certificate.

- [233] (a) Knowledge of the general principles of electricity and of the theory of radiotelegraphy and radiotelephony, as well as knowledge of the adjustment and of the practical operation of the types of apparatus used in the radiotelegraph and radiotelephone mobile service, including apparatus for radio direction-finding and the taking of radio direction-finding bearings.
- [234] (b) The theoretical and practical knowledge of the operation of the accessory apparatus, such as motor-generator sets, storage batteries, et cetera, used in the operation and adjustment of the apparatus specified in (a) [No. 233].
- [235] (c) The practical knowledge necessary to make, with the means on board, the repairs of damage which may have occurred to the apparatus during a voyage.
- [236] (d) Ability to transmit correctly and to receive correctly, by ear, code groups (mixtures of letters, figures, and punctuation marks) at a speed of 20 (twenty) groups per minute, and of a text in plain language, at a speed of 25 (twenty-five) words per minute. Each code group must contain 5 characters, each figure or punctuation mark counting as 2 characters. The average word of the text in plain language must contain 5 characters. The duration of each sending and receiving test shall, as a rule, be 5 minutes.
- [237] (e) Ability to perform correct telephone transmission and correct telephone reception.
- [238] (f) Detailed knowledge of the Regulations applying to the exchange of radio communications, knowledge of documents relative to charges for radio communications, knowledge of the radiotelegraph part of the Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, and, in the case of aerial navigation, knowledge of the special provisions regulating the radio service of aerial navigation. In that case, the certificate shall stipulate that the holder has successfully passed the examinations dealing with these provisions.

[231] <sup>1</sup> In exceptional cases, the second-class certificate may be limited exclusively to the radiotelegraph service. In this case, mention of the fact must be borne on this certificate.

- g) La connaissance de la géographie générale du monde, notamment des principales lignes de navigation (maritimes ou aériennes, suivant la catégorie du certificat) et des voies de télécommunication les plus importantes.
- h) S'il y a lieu, la connaissance d'une langue dont l'usage est très répandu dans la correspondance internationale du service mobile. Les candidats doivent être capables de s'exprimer d'une manière convenable, tant verbalement que par écrit. Chaque gouvernement indique lui-même la ou les langues qui sont imposées.

C. CERTIFICAT DE RADIOTÉLÉGRAPHISTE DE 2E CLASSE.

§ 5. Le certificat de 2e classe est délivré aux opérateurs qui ont fait preuve des connaissances et aptitudes techniques et professionnelles énumérées ci-dessous:

- a) La connaissance théorique et pratique élémentaire de l'électricité, de la radiotélégraphie et de la radiotéléphonie ainsi que la connaissance du réglage et du fonctionnement pratique des types d'appareils utilisés dans le service mobile radiotélégraphique et radiotéléphonique y compris les appareils utilisés pour la radiogoniométrie et la prise des relevements radiogoniométriques.
- b) La connaissance théorique et pratique élémentaire du fonctionnement des appareils accessoires, tels que groupes électrogènes, accumulateurs, etc., utilisés pour la mise en œuvre et le réglage des appareils mentionnés au littéra a).
- c) Les connaissances pratiques suffisantes pour pouvoir effectuer les petites réparations, en cas d'avaries survenant aux appareils.
- d) L'aptitude à la transmission correcte et à la réception auditive correcte de groupes de code (mélange de lettres, de chiffres et de signes de ponctuation) à une vitesse de 16 (seize) groupes par minute. Chaque groupe de code doit comprendre cinq caractères, chaque chiffre ou signe de ponctuation comptant pour deux caractères. La durée de chaque épreuve de transmission et de réception est, en général, de cinq minutes.
- e) L'aptitude à la transmission correcte et à la réception correcte téléphoniques<sup>1)</sup>.
- f) La connaissance des Règlements s'appliquant à l'échange des radiocommunications, la connaissance des documents relatifs à la taxation des radiocommunications, la connaissance de la partie de la Convention pour la sauvegarde de la vie humaine en mer se rapportant à la radiotélégraphie, et, pour la navigation aérienne, la connaissance des dispositions spéciales régissant le service radioélectrique de la navigation aérienne. Dans ce cas, le certificat stipule que le titulaire a subi avec succès les épreuves portant sur ces dispositions.
- g) La connaissance de la géographie générale du monde, notamment des principales lignes de navigation (maritimes ou aériennes, suivant la catégorie du certificat) et des voies de télécommunication les plus importantes.

- [239] (g) Knowledge of the general geography of the world, particularly the principal navigation lines (maritime or aerial, according to the class of certificate) and the most important telecommunication channels.
- [240] (h) If necessary, knowledge of one language very widely used in the international correspondence of the mobile service. Candidates must be capable of expressing themselves in a suitable manner, both verbally and in writing. Each government shall determine itself which language or languages will be required.

C. SECOND-CLASS RADIOTELEGRAPH OPERATOR'S CERTIFICATE

- [241] §5. The second-class certificate shall be issued to operators who have shown that they possess the professional and technical qualifications enumerated below: Second-class certificate.
- [242] (a) Elementary theoretical and practical knowledge of electricity, radiotelegraphy, and radiotelephony, as well as knowledge of the adjustment and practical operation of the types of apparatus used in the radiotelegraph and radiotelephone mobile service, including apparatus for radio direction-finding and the taking of radio direction-finding bearings.
- [243] (b) Elementary theoretical and practical knowledge of the operation of accessory apparatus, such as motor-generator sets, storage batteries, et cetera, used in the operation and adjustment of the apparatus mentioned in (a) [No. 242].
- [244] (c) Practical knowledge sufficient for making minor repairs in case of damage to the apparatus.
- [245] (d) Ability to transmit correctly and to receive correctly, by ear, code groups (mixtures of letters, figures, and punctuation marks) at a speed of 16 (sixteen) groups per minute. Each code group must contain 5 characters, each figure or punctuation mark counting as 2 characters. The duration of each sending and receiving test shall, as a rule, be 5 minutes.
- [246] (e) Ability to perform correct telephone transmission and correct telephone reception.<sup>1</sup>
- [247] (f) Knowledge of the Regulations applying to the exchange of radio communications, knowledge of documents relative to charges for radio communications, knowledge of the radiotelegraph part of the Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, and, in the case of aerial navigation, knowledge of the special provisions regulating the radio service of aerial navigation. In that case, the certificate shall stipulate that the holder has successfully passed the examinations dealing with these provisions.
- [248] (g) Knowledge of the general geography of the world, particularly the principal lines of navigation (maritime or aerial, according to the class of certificate) and the most important telecommunication channels.

[251] <sup>1</sup> Except as provided in footnote 1 concerning article 10, §3 (4) [No. 231].

- h)* S'il y a lieu, la connaissance élémentaire d'une langue dont l'usage est très répandu dans la correspondance internationale du service mobile. Les candidats doivent être capables de s'exprimer d'une manière convenable, tant verbalement que par écrit. Chaque gouvernement indique lui-même la ou les langues qui sont imposées.

D. CERTIFICAT SPÉCIAL DE RADIOTÉLÉGRAPHISTE.

- § 6. a) Le service radiotélégraphique des navires et de tous véhicules, autres que les aéronefs, auxquels une installation radiotélégraphique n'est pas imposée par des accords internationaux peut être effectué par des opérateurs titulaires d'un certificat spécial de radiotélégraphiste.
- b)* Le service radiotélégraphique des aéronefs desservant des lignes régulières internationales ou intercontinentales et dont les stations sont susceptibles d'entrer en communication avec des stations terrestres ou mobiles de services autres que les services aéronautiques, mais non admis à participer au service international de la correspondance publique, peut également être effectué par des opérateurs titulaires d'un certificat spécial de radiotélégraphiste.
- c)* Ce certificat est délivré aux opérateurs capables d'assurer les radiocommunications à la vitesse de transmission et de réception prévue pour l'obtention du certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 2e classe.
- d)* Il appartient à chaque gouvernement intéressé de fixer les autres conditions pour l'obtention de ce certificat.

E. CERTIFICAT RESTREINT DE RADIOTÉLÉGRAPHISTE POUR LES SERVICES AÉRONAUTIQUES <sup>1)</sup>

- § 7. a) Dans les services aéronautiques, un certificat restreint de radiotélégraphiste peut être délivré aux opérateurs des stations d'aéronef non affectés aux transports publics (avions de tourisme) qui, en général, ne sont pas autorisés à employer le service radioélectrique organisé pour les lignes régulières internationales ou intercontinentales, ni à entrer en communication avec des stations mobiles ou des stations terrestres de services autres que les services aéronautiques, ni à prendre part au service de la correspondance publique, à condition que ces opérateurs soient capables d'assurer les radiocommunications à la vitesse minimum de 16 mots à la minute, en langage clair, dans leur langue nationale.
- b)* Ce certificat restreint ne peut être délivré qu'en application d'accords régionaux, conclus entre gouvernements intéressés, fixant en particulier les autres conditions d'obtention et les régions pour lesquelles ce certificat sera valable.
- c)* Ce certificat restreint n'autorise son titulaire:

1° qu'à assurer le service des stations de bord ne pouvant travailler que dans les bandes ou sur les fréquences exclusivement réservées aux

- [249] (h) If necessary, elementary knowledge of one language very widely used in the international correspondence of the mobile service. Candidates must be capable of expressing themselves in a suitable manner, both verbally and in writing. Each government shall determine itself which language or languages will be required.

D. SPECIAL RADIOTELEGRAPH OPERATOR'S CERTIFICATE

- [250] §6. (a) The radiotelegraph service of ships and all vehicles other than aircraft for which a radiotelegraph installation is not required by international agreements may be carried on by operators holding a special radiotelegraph operator's certificate. Special certificate.
- [252] (b) The radiotelegraph service of aircraft serving regular international or intercontinental lines—the stations of which are capable of entering into communication with land or mobile stations of services other than aeronautical services—but not permitted to take part in the international service of public correspondence may also be carried on by operators holding a special radiotelegraph operator's certificate.
- [253] (c) This certificate shall be issued to operators capable of performing radio communications at the sending and receiving speed required for obtaining a second-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate.
- [254] (d) It shall devolve upon each interested government to determine the other requirements for obtaining this certificate.

E. LIMITED RADIOTELEGRAPH OPERATOR'S CERTIFICATE FOR THE AERONAUTICAL SERVICES<sup>1</sup>

- [255] §7. (a) In the aeronautical services, a limited radiotelegraph operator's certificate may be issued to operators of aircraft stations not engaged in public transportation (tourist airplanes) which, in general, shall not be authorized to make use of the radio service organized for regular international or intercontinental lines, nor to enter into communication with mobile stations or land stations of services other than the aeronautical services, nor to take part in the service of public correspondence, provided that these operators are capable of performing radio communications at a minimum speed of 16 words per minute, in plain language, in their national language. Limited certificate.
- [256] (b) This limited certificate may be issued only in application of regional agreements concluded between interested governments, laying down, in particular, the other conditions for obtaining this certificate and the areas in which it will be valid.
- [258] (c) This limited certificate shall authorize its bearer solely:
- [259] 1. To perform the service of on-board stations able to operate only in bands or on frequencies reserved exclusively for the aeronautiservices aéronautiques et fonctionnant de façon à ne pas créer de brouillages dans les autres services;

2° qu'à communiquer avec les stations aéronautiques désignées dans les accords régionaux susvisés.

- d) Il est fait mention, sur les certificats délivrés aux opérateurs, des conditions qui précèdent relatives à l'usage et à la validité de ce certificat, ainsi que des pays pour lesquels il est valable en vertu desdits accords.

F. CERTIFICAT DE RADIOTÉLÉPHONISTE.

§ 8. (1) Le certificat général de radiotéléphoniste est délivré aux opérateurs qui ont fait preuve des connaissances et aptitudes professionnelles énumérées ci-dessous [voir aussi § 3, (4)]:

- a) La connaissance pratique de la radiotéléphonie, surtout en vue d'éviter des brouillages.
- b) La connaissance du réglage et du fonctionnement des appareils de radiotéléphonie.
- c) L'aptitude à la transmission correcte et à la réception correcte téléphoniques.
- d) La connaissance des Règlements s'appliquant à l'échange des communications radiotéléphoniques et de la partie des Règlements des radiocommunications concernant la sécurité de la vie humaine.

(2) Pour les stations radiotéléphoniques dont la puissance de l'onde porteuse dans l'antenne ne dépasse pas 50 watts, il est admis que chaque gouvernement intéressé fixe lui-même les conditions d'obtention du certificat de radiotéléphoniste (certificat restreint de radiotéléphoniste).

(3) Dans un certificat de radiotéléphoniste, il doit être indiqué si celui-ci est un certificat général ou un certificat restreint.

(4) Pour satisfaire à des besoins spéciaux, des accords régionaux peuvent fixer les conditions à remplir pour l'obtention d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste, destiné à être utilisé dans des stations radiotéléphoniques remplissant certaines conditions techniques et certaines conditions d'exploitation. Il est fait mention de ces conditions et de ces accords sur les certificats délivrés à ces opérateurs. Ces accords sont admis sous réserve que les services internationaux ne soient pas brouillés.

G. STAGES PROFESSIONNELS.

§ 9. (1) Avant de devenir chef de poste d'une station de navire de la première catégorie (article 25, § 3), un opérateur de 1re classe doit avoir au moins une année d'expérience comme opérateur à bord d'un navire ou dans une station côtière.

(2) Pour devenir chef de poste d'une station de navire de la deuxième catégorie (article 25, §3), un opérateur de 1re classe doit avoir au moins six mois d'expérience comme opérateur à bord d'un navire ou dans une station côtière.

cal services and operating in such a manner as not to cause interference with other services;

[260] 2. To communicate with the aeronautical stations designated in the above-mentioned regional agreements.

[261] (d) The foregoing conditions concerning the use and validity of this certificate, as well as the countries in which it will be valid under the terms of these agreements, shall be mentioned on the certificates issued to the operators.

F. RADIOTELEPHONE OPERATOR'S CERTIFICATE

[262] §8. (1) The general radiotelephone operator's certificate shall be issued to operators who have shown that they possess the professional knowledge and ability described below [see also §3 (4)] [No. 230]:

Radiotelephone operator's certificate.

Ante, p. 1481.

[263] (a) Practical knowledge of radiotelephony, especially with a view to avoiding interference.

[264] (b) Knowledge of the adjustment and operation of radiotelephone apparatus.

[265] (c) Ability to transmit and receive correctly by telephone.

[266] (d) Knowledge of the Regulations applying to the exchange of radiotelephone communications and of that part of the Radio Regulations which relates to safety of human life.

[267] (2) For the radiotelephone stations in which the power of the carrier wave in the antenna does not exceed 50 watts, each government concerned shall be permitted to determine the conditions for obtaining its own radiotelephone operator's certificate (limited radiotelephone operator's certificate).

[268] (3) A radiotelephone operator's certificate must show whether it is a general or limited certificate.

[269] (4) In order to cover special needs, regional agreements may determine the conditions to be fulfilled in order to obtain a radiotelephone operator's certificate intended for use in radiotelephone stations fulfilling certain technical conditions and certain operating conditions. These conditions and agreements shall be stated in the certificates issued to these operators. Such agreements shall be accepted provided the international services be not interfered with.

G. PROFESSIONAL GRADES

[270] §9. (1) Before becoming chief operator in a ship station of the first category (article 25, §3) [No. 629] a first-class operator must have had at least 1 year's experience as operator on board a ship or in a coast station.

Professional grades.

Post, p. 1551.

[271] (2) In order to become chief operator in a ship station of the second category (article 25, §3) [Nos. 630, 632, and 633], a first-class operator must have had at least 6 months' experience as operator on board a ship or in a coast station.

(3) Les opérateurs munis d'un certificat de 1re classe sont autorisés à embarquer comme chef de poste sur les navires dont la station est classée dans la troisième catégorie (article 25, § 3).

(4) a) Les opérateurs munis d'un certificat de 2e classe sont autorisés à embarquer comme chef de poste sur les navires dont la station est classée dans la troisième catégorie (article 25, § 3).

b) Après avoir justifié d'un service d'au moins six mois à bord d'un navire, ils peuvent embarquer comme chef de poste sur les navires dont la station est classée dans la deuxième catégorie.

(5) Le gouvernement qui délivre un certificat peut n'autoriser un opérateur à assurer le service à bord d'un aéronef que lorsque cet opérateur aura rempli d'autres conditions (par exemple: accompli un certain nombre d'heures de vol dans le service mobile aéronautique, etc.)

ARTICLE 11.

Autorité du commandant.

§ 1. Le service radioélectrique d'une station mobile est placé sous l'autorité supérieure du commandant ou de la personne responsable du navire, de l'aéronef ou de tout autre véhicule portant la station mobile.

§ 2. Celui qui détient cette autorité doit exiger des opérateurs l'observation du présent Règlement.

§ 3. Le commandant ou la personne responsable, ainsi que toutes les personnes qui peuvent avoir connaissance du texte ou simplement de l'existence des radiotélégrammes, ou de tout renseignement quelconque obtenu au moyen du service radioélectrique, sont soumis à l'obligation de garder et d'assurer le secret des correspondances.

ARTICLE 12.

Inspection des stations.

(2) Les inspecteurs compétents doivent être en possession d'une carte ou d'un insigne d'identité qu'ils doivent montrer à la demande du commandant ou de son remplaçant.

(3) Lorsque la licence ne peut être produite, ou que des anomalies manifestes sont constatées, les gouvernements ou administrations peuvent faire procéder à l'inspection des installations radioélectriques, en vue de s'assurer qu'elles répondent aux stipulations du présent Règlement.

[272] (3) Operators provided with a first-class certificate shall be authorized to embark as chief operators on ships of which the station belongs to the third category (article 25, §3) [Nos. 631, 634, and 635].

[273] (4) (a) Operators holding a second-class certificate shall be authorized to embark as chief operators on ships of which the station belongs to the third category (article 25, §3) [Nos. 631, 634, and 635].

[274] (b) After having shown at least 6 months' service on board a ship, they may embark as chief operators on ships of which the station belongs to the second category.

[275] (5) The government issuing a certificate may authorize an operator to perform service on board an aircraft only after this operator has fulfilled other conditions (for example: accomplished a certain number of flying-hours in the aeronautical mobile service, et cetera).

Authority of the Master

[276] §1. The radio service of a mobile station shall be placed under the supreme authority of the master or the person responsible for the ship, aircraft, or any other vehicle carrying the mobile station. Authority of the master.

[277] §2. The person holding this authority must require the operators to comply with the present Regulations.

[278] §3. The master or responsible person as well as any persons who may have knowledge of the text or simply the existence of radiotelegrams, or of any information acquired by means of the radio service, shall be bound by the obligation to observe and insure the secrecy of the correspondence.

Inspection of Stations

[279] §1. (1) The competent governments or administrations of countries where a mobile station calls, may demand the production of the license. The operator of the mobile station or the person responsible for the station must submit to this verification. The license must be kept in such a way that it may be furnished without delay. However, the production of the license may be replaced by a permanent posting in the station, of a copy of the license certified by the authority which has granted it. Inspection of stations.

[280] (2) The competent inspectors must have in their possession a card or badge of identification which they must show upon the request of the master or of his substitute.

[281] (3) When the license cannot be produced or when manifest irregularities are detected, the governments or administrations may proceed to the inspection of radio installations in order to ascertain that they satisfy the requirements of the present Regulations.

(4) En outre, les inspecteurs sont en droit d'exiger la production des certificats des opérateurs, sans qu'aucune justification de connaissances professionnelles puisse être demandée.

§ 2. (1) Lorsqu'un gouvernement ou une administration s'est trouvé dans l'obligation de recourir à la mesure prévue au § 1 ci-dessus, ou lorsque les certificats d'opérateur n'ont pu être produits, le gouvernement ou l'administration dont dépend la station mobile en cause doit en être informé sans retard. Pour le surplus, il est procédé, le cas échéant, ainsi que le prescrit l'article 13.

(2) Le délégué du gouvernement ou de l'administration qui a inspecté la station doit, avant de quitter celle-ci, faire part de ses constatations au commandant ou à la personne responsable (voir l'article 11) ou à leur remplaçant.

§ 3. En ce qui concerne les conditions techniques et d'exploitation auxquelles doivent satisfaire, pour le service de radiocommunication international, les stations mobiles titulaires d'une licence, les gouvernements contractants s'engagent à ne pas imposer aux stations mobiles étrangères qui se trouvent temporairement dans leurs eaux territoriales, ou s'arrêtent temporairement sur leur territoire, des conditions plus rigoureuses que celles qui sont prévues dans le présent Règlement. Ces prescriptions n'affectent en rien les dispositions qui, étant du ressort d'accords internationaux relatifs à la navigation maritime ou aérienne, ne sont pas déterminés dans le présent Règlement.

ARTICLE 13.

Rapports sur les infractions.

§ 1. Les infractions à la Convention ou aux Règlements des radiocommunications sont signalées à leur administration par les stations qui les constatent et ce, au moyen d'états conformes au modèle reproduit à l'appendice 5.

§ 2. Dans le cas d'infractions importantes, commises par une station, les représentations y relatives doivent être faites à l'administration du pays dont dépend cette station par les administrations qui les constatent.

§ 3. Si une administration a connaissance d'une infraction à la Convention ou aux Règlements, commise dans une des stations qu'elle a autorisées, elle constate les faits, fixe les responsabilités et prend les mesures nécessaires.

ARTICLE 14.

Indicatifs d'appel.

§ 1. (1) Toutes les stations ouvertes au service international de la correspondance publique et toutes les stations d'aéronef non ouvertes au service international de la correspondance publique ainsi que les stations d'amateur, les stations expérimentales privées et les stations privées de radiocommunication, doivent posséder des indicatifs d'appel de la série internationale attribuée à chaque pays dans le tableau de répartition ci-dessous. Dans ce tableau, la première lettre ou les deux premières lettres prévues pour les indicatifs d'appel distinguent la nationalité des stations.

[282] (4) Moreover, the inspectors shall have the right to demand the production of the operators' certificates although no proof of professional qualifications may be demanded.

[283] §2. (1) When a government or an administration has found it necessary to resort to the measures provided for in §1 above [No. 281], or when it has not been possible to produce the operators' certificates, the government or the administration to which the mobile station is subject must be so informed without delay. In addition, the procedure specified in article 13 should be followed should necessity arise.

[284] (2) The representative of the government or of the administration which has inspected the station must, before leaving the latter, communicate his findings to the commander or to the responsible person (see article 11) or to their substitute.

[285] §3. As regards the technical and operating conditions which mobile stations holding a license must satisfy in the international radio-communication service, the contracting governments shall bind themselves not to impose upon foreign mobile stations which are temporarily located in their territorial waters, or which may stop temporarily in their territory, conditions more stringent than those which are provided for in the present Regulations. These provisions shall in no way affect the provisions which, coming within the scope of international agreements relative to maritime or air navigation, are not determined in the present Regulations.

ARTICLE 13

Reporting of Violations

[286] §1. Violations of the Convention or the Radio Regulations shall be reported by the stations detecting them to their administration by means of statements conforming to the model shown in appendix 5.

Reporting of violations.

[287] §2. In case of serious violations committed by a station, the representations relating to them must be made to the administration of the country to which this station is subject by the administrations detecting them.

Post, p. 1599.

[288] §3. If an administration has knowledge of a violation of the Convention or of the Regulations by a station which it has authorized, it shall ascertain the facts, determine the responsibility, and take the necessary action.

ARTICLE 14

Call Signals

[289] §1. (1) All stations open to the international service of public correspondence and all aircraft stations not open to the international service of public correspondence, as well as amateur stations, private experimental stations, and private radio stations, must have call signals from the international series assigned to each country in the following table. In this table, the first letter or the first two letters of the call signals show the nationality of the station.

Call signals.

(2) Lorsqu'une station fixe emploie, dans le service international, plus d'une fréquence, chaque fréquence est désignée par un indicatif d'appel distinct, utilisé uniquement pour cette fréquence.

§ 2. Les indicatifs d'appel sont formés de:

- a) trois lettres, dans le cas de stations terrestres;
- b) trois lettres, ou trois lettres suivies d'un seul chiffre (autre que 0 ou 1), dans le cas de stations fixes;
- c) quatre lettres, dans le cas de stations de navire;
- d) cinq lettres, dans le cas de stations d'aéronef;
- e) cinq lettres, précédées et suivies du signal du code Morse correspondant au "souligné" (. . - - . -), dans le cas de stations à bord d'aéronefs effectuant un transport intéressant le fonctionnement de la Société des Nations; en radiotéléphonie, l'indicatif d'appel de ces aéronefs est précédé des mots "Société des Nations";
- f) quatre lettres, suivies d'un seul chiffre (autre que 0 ou 1), dans le cas d'autres stations mobiles;
- g) une ou deux lettres et un seul chiffre (autre que 0 ou 1), suivi d'un groupe de trois lettres au plus dans le cas de stations d'amateur, de stations expérimentales privées et de stations privées de radiocommunication; toutefois, l'interdiction d'employer les chiffres 0 et 1 ne s'applique pas aux stations d'amateur.

§ 3. (1) Dans le service aéronautique, après que la communication a été établie au moyen de l'indicatif d'appel complet [voir § 2, d) et e)], la station d'aéronef peut employer un indicatif abrégé constitué:

- a) en radiotélégraphie, par les première et dernière lettres de l'indicatif d'appel complet de cinq lettres;
- b) en radiotéléphonie, par tout ou partie du nom du propriétaire de l'aéronef (compagnie ou particulier) suivi des deux dernières lettres de la marque d'immatriculation.

(2) Les dispositions de ce paragraphe pourront être complétées ou modifiées par des accords régionaux entre pays intéressés.

L'emploi de ces indicatifs abrégés ne sera valable qu'à l'intérieur du service aéronautique.

§ 4. (1) Les 26 lettres de l'alphabet, ainsi que les chiffres dans les cas prévus au § 2, peuvent être employés pour former les indicatifs d'appel; les lettres accentuées sont exclues.

(2) Toutefois, les combinaisons de lettres indiquées ci-dessous ne peuvent être employées comme indicatifs d'appel:

- a) combinaisons commençant par A ou par B, ces deux lettres étant réservées pour la partie géographique du Code International de Signaux;
- b) combinaisons employées dans le Code International de Signaux, deuxième partie;<sup>1)</sup>
- c) combinaisons qui pourraient être confondues avec les signaux de détresse ou avec d'autres signaux de même nature;
- d) combinaisons réservées pour les abréviations à employer dans les services de radiocommunication (appendice 11).

- [292] §2. Call signals shall consist of:
- [293] (a) three letters, in the case of land stations;
- [294] (b) three letters, or three letters followed by a single figure (other than 0 or 1), in the case of fixed stations;
- [295] (c) four letters, in the case of ship stations;
- [296] (d) five letters, in the case of aircraft stations;
- [297] (e) five letters preceded and followed by the Morse code signal corresponding to "underlined" (. . — — . —), in the case of stations on aircraft carrying matter having to do with the functioning of the League of Nations; in radiotelephony, the call signal of these aircraft shall be preceded by the words "Société des Nations";
- [298] (f) four letters followed by a single figure (other than 0 or 1), in the case of other mobile stations;
- [299] (g) one or two letters and a single figure (other than 0 or 1) followed by a group of not more than three letters, in the case of amateur stations, private experimental stations, and private radio stations; however, the prohibition against the use of the figures 0 and 1 shall not apply to amateur stations.

[300] §3. (1) In the aeronautical service, after communication has been established by means of the complete call signal [see §2 (d) and (e)] [Nos. 296 and 297], the aircraft station may use an abbreviated call signal composed:

- [301] (a) in radiotelegraphy, of the first and last letters of the complete 5-letter call signal;
- [302] (b) in radiotelephony, of all or part of the name of the owner of the aircraft (company or individual) followed by the last two letters of the registration mark.

[303] (2) The provisions of this paragraph may be completed or changed by regional agreements between the countries concerned.

[304] The use of these abbreviated signals shall be valid only in the interior of the aeronautical service.

[305] §4. (1) The 26 letters of the alphabet, as well as the figures in the cases provided for in §2, may be used to form call signals; accented letters shall be excluded.

[306] (2) However, the following letter combinations may not be used for call signals:

Combinations not to be used.

- [307] (a) combinations beginning with A or B, these two letters being reserved for the geographical part of the International Code of Signals;
- [308] (b) combinations used in the International Code of Signals, second part;<sup>1</sup>
- [309] (c) combinations which might be confused with distress signals or with other signals of a similar character;
- [310] (d) combinations reserved for the abbreviations to be used in the radio services (appendix 11).

Post, p. 1621.

[316] <sup>1</sup> The combinations indicated in (b) [No. 308] may be used by aircraft after the Permanent Committee of the International Code of Signals has agreed on this question, and after it has taken, so far as this code is concerned, the measures necessary to avoid any confusion. This agreement will be notified by the Bern Bureau.

(2) Les signaux distinctifs qui ont été attribués aux navires lors de leur enregistrement dans la liste des navires de leur pays, en vue de la signalisation visuelle et auditive, doivent, en général, concorder avec les indicatifs d'appel des stations de navire.

(3) Le Bureau de l'Union veille à ce qu'un même indicatif d'appel ne soit pas attribué plus d'une fois et à ce que les indicatifs d'appel qui pourraient être confondus avec les signaux de détresse, ou avec d'autres signaux de même nature, ne soient pas attribués.

ARTICLE 15.

Documents de service.

§ 1. Le Bureau de l'Union dresse et publie les documents de service suivants:

- a) les nomenclatures de toutes les stations terrestres, mobiles, fixes ayant un indicatif d'appel de la série internationale et ouvertes ou non à la correspondance publique; les nomenclatures des stations effectuant des services spéciaux et des stations de radiodiffusion;
- b) la liste des fréquences. Cette liste indique toutes les fréquences attribuées aux stations de radiocommunication et notifiées au Bureau de l'Union en vertu des prescriptions de l'article 16;
- c) une statistique générale des radiocommunications;
- d) une carte des stations côtières ouvertes à la correspondance publique;
- e) un tableau et une carte destinés à être annexés à la nomenclature des stations côtières et de navire, et indiquant les zones et les heures de service à bord des navires dont les stations sont classées dans la deuxième catégorie (voir appendices 6 et 7);
- f) une liste alphabétique des indicatifs d'appel des stations mentionnées sous a) et pourvues d'un indicatif d'appel de la série internationale. Cette liste est dressée sans considération de nationalité. Elle est précédée du tableau de répartition des indicatifs d'appel figurant à l'article 14.

§ 2. (1) Les nomenclatures des stations [§ 1, a)] sont publiées en fascicules séparés, ainsi qu'il suit:

- I. Nomenclature des stations côtières et de navire.
- II. Nomenclature des stations aéronautiques et d'aéronef.
- III. Nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux.
- IV. Nomenclature des stations fixes (Index à la liste des fréquences pour les stations fixes en service).
- V. Nomenclature des stations de radiodiffusion.

[311] §5. (1) Each country shall choose call signals for its stations from the international series which is allocated to it and shall notify the Bureau of the Union of the call signals which it has assigned to its stations. This notification does not concern the call signals allocated to amateur stations, to private experimental stations, and to private radio stations.

[312] (2) The special signals which have been allocated to ships at the time of their registry in the list of ships of their country, for visual and aural signaling, must in general agree with the call signals of ship stations.

[313] (3) The Bureau of the Union shall see that the same call signal is not allocated more than once and that those call signals which might be confused with distress signals, or with other signals of a similar character, are not allocated.

Service Documents

[314] §1. The Bureau of the Union shall prepare and publish the following service documents:

Service documents.

[315] (a) The nomenclatures of all the land, mobile, and fixed stations having a call signal from the international series, whether or not open to public correspondence; the nomenclatures of the stations operating special services and broadcasting stations.

[317] (b) The frequency list. This list shall give all the frequencies assigned to radio stations and reported to the Bureau of the Union pursuant to the provisions of article 16.

[318] (c) General radio statistics.

[319] (d) A chart of coast stations open to public correspondence.

[320] (e) A table and a chart to be annexed to the nomenclature of coast and ship stations indicating the zones and hours of service on board ships of which the stations belong to the second category (see appendixes 6 and 7).

Post, pp. 1001, 1005.

[321] (f) An alphabetical list of the call signals of the stations mentioned in (a) [No. 315] and provided with a call signal of the international series. This list shall be arranged without considering nationality. It shall be preceded by the call-signal-allocation table appearing in article 14.

[322] §2. (1) The nomenclatures of stations [§1 (a)] [No. 315] shall be published in separate volumes as follows:

Nomenclatures.

[323] I. Nomenclature of Coast and Ship Stations.

[324] II. Nomenclature of Aeronautical and Aircraft Stations.

[325] III. Nomenclature of Stations Operating Special Services.

[326] IV. Nomenclature of Fixed Stations (Index to the List of Frequencies for Fixed Stations in Service).

[327] V. Nomenclature of Broadcasting Stations.

(2) Dans les nomenclatures I, II et III, chaque catégorie de stations est rangée dans une section spéciale.

§ 3. La forme à donner aux différentes nomenclatures et à la liste des fréquences est indiquée à l'appendice 8. Les renseignements détaillés sur l'établissement de ces documents sont donnés dans les préfaces, dans l'en-tête des colonnes et dans les annotations desdits documents.

§ 4. Les administrations notifient une fois par mois au Bureau de l'Union, au moyen de formules identiques à celles données par l'appendice 8, les additions, modifications et suppressions à apporter aux documents susvisés.

§ 5. (1) La nomenclature des stations côtières et de navire est rééditée tous les neuf mois, sans supplément entre deux rééditions. La nomenclature des stations aéronautiques et d'aéronef est rééditée tous les six mois sans supplément entre deux rééditions. En ce qui concerne la nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux et la nomenclature des stations de radiodiffusion, le Bureau de l'Union décide à quels intervalles elles doivent être rééditées.

(2) Un supplément récapitulatif est publié tous les 3 mois pour la nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux et tous les 6 mois pour la nomenclature des stations de radiodiffusion.

(3) La liste des fréquences et la nomenclature des stations fixes qui constitue un index à la liste des fréquences, pour les stations fixes mises en service, sont rééditées séparément chaque année. Elles sont tenues à jour au moyen de suppléments mensuels édités également séparément.

(4) La liste alphabétique des indicatifs d'appel est rééditée lorsque le Bureau de l'Union le juge utile. Elle est tenue à jour au moyen de suppléments mensuels et récapitulatifs.

§ 6. (1) Les noms des stations côtières et aéronautiques sont suivis respectivement des mots RADIO et AERADIO.

(2) Les noms des stations radiogoniométriques et des radiophares du service mobile maritime sont suivis respectivement des mots GONIO et PHARE.

(3) Les noms des stations radiogoniométriques et des radiophares du service aéronautique sont suivis respectivement des mots AEROGONIO et AEROPHARE.

§ 7. L'appendice 9 contient les notations employées dans les documents pour indiquer la nature et l'étendue du service des stations.

§ 8. Les documents de service dont les stations mobiles doivent être pourvues sont énumérés dans l'appendice 10.

ARTICLE 16.

Notification et publication des fréquences.

[328] (2) In the nomenclatures I, II, and III, each class of stations shall occupy a special section.

[329] §3. The form for the different nomenclatures and for the frequency list is given in appendix 8. Detailed information concerning the preparation of these documents shall be given in the prefaces, in the headings of columns, and in the notes of the said documents.

Post, p. 1605.

[330] §4. Once a month, by means of forms similar to those given in appendix 8, the administrations shall notify the Bureau of the Union of the additions, changes, and deletions to be made in the above-mentioned documents.

[331] §5. (1) The nomenclature of coast and ship stations shall be reedited every nine months without supplements between the two reeditions. The nomenclature of aeronautical and aircraft stations shall be reedited every six months without supplements between the two reeditions. As regards the nomenclature of stations operating special services and the nomenclature of broadcasting stations, the Bureau of the Union shall decide upon the intervals at which they must be reedited.

[332] (2) A summarizing supplement shall be published every three months for the nomenclature of stations operating special services, and every six months for the nomenclature of broadcasting stations.

[333] (3) The frequency list and the nomenclature of fixed stations constituting an index to the frequency list, for fixed stations in service, shall be reedited separately each year. They shall be kept up to date by means of monthly supplements also edited separately.

[334] (4) The alphabetical list of call signals shall be reedited when the Bureau of the Union considers this useful. It shall be kept up to date by means of monthly and summarizing supplements.

[335] §6. (1) The names of coast and aeronautical stations shall be followed respectively by the words RADIO and AERADIO.

[336] (2) The names of radio direction-finding stations and the radiobeacons of the maritime mobile service shall be followed respectively by the words GONIO and PHARE.

[337] (3) The names of radio direction-finding and radiobeacon stations of the aeronautical service shall be followed respectively by the words AEROGONIO and AEROPHARE.

[338] §7. Appendix 9 contains the symbols used in the documents to indicate the nature and the scope of the service of stations.

Post, p. 1617.

[339] §8. The service documents with which mobile stations must be provided are listed in appendix 10.

Post, p. 1619.

Notification and Publication of Frequencies

[340] §1. (1) The administrations shall notify the Bureau of the Union, with a view to their publication in the frequency list, of the frequencies assigned to fixed, land, and broadcasting stations, as

Notification and publication of frequencies.

la limite supérieure de la puissance prévue lorsque ces stations sont susceptibles de causer des brouillages internationaux.

(2) Sont notifiées, en outre, les fréquences attribuées aux stations mobiles, portatives, expérimentales privées, d'amateur et effectuant des services spéciaux.

(3) Doivent également être notifiées au Bureau de l'Union, en vue de leur publication, les fréquences sur lesquelles reçoit une station côtière pour effectuer un service particulier avec les stations de navire utilisant des émetteurs stabilisés.

(4) Les fréquences prévues par le présent Règlement pour un emploi commun par les stations d'un service donné [500 kc/s (600 m), 333 kc/s (900 m), 375 kc/s (800 m) etc.] ne sont pas notifiées au Bureau de l'Union.

(5) La notification prévue à l'alinéa (1) doit être faite avant la mise en service de la fréquence et suffisamment à temps pour permettre aux administrations de prendre toute mesure qui leur semblerait nécessaire en vue d'assurer une bonne exécution de leurs services.

(6) a) Toutefois, lorsque la fréquence qu'une administration a l'intention d'assigner à une station fixe, terrestre ou de radiodiffusion est une fréquence se trouvant en dehors des bandes autorisées par le présent Règlement pour le service en cause, cette administration fait la notification prévue à l'alinéa (5) au moins six mois avant la mise en exploitation de cette fréquence ou, en cas d'urgence, au moins trois mois avant cette date.

b) La procédure de notification indiquée ci-dessus est également observée lorsqu'une administration a l'intention d'augmenter la puissance ou d'apporter un changement dans les conditions de rayonnement d'une station travaillant déjà en dehors des bandes autorisées, même si la fréquence utilisée doit rester la même.

§ 2. (1) Lorsqu'une fréquence est notifiée en raison de la conclusion d'un arrangement régional, il sera fait mention de cet arrangement lors de la notification de la fréquence.

(2) Lorsqu'un arrangement régional prévoit qu'une fréquence peut être utilisée par plusieurs stations effectuant un service donné, seules l'attribution de cette fréquence pour ce service et, éventuellement, la région englobée dans l'arrangement régional sont publiées.

§ 3. En ce qui concerne les stations fixes, terrestres et de radiodiffusion, les administrations notifient au Bureau de l'Union un état signalétique complet pour chaque fréquence attribuée à ces stations.

§ 5. Quant aux stations mobiles, il n'est pas fourni d'état signalétique complet. On indique seulement pour chaque pays, séparément pour chaque catégorie de stations (de navire, d'aéronef, d'autres véhicules), les fréquences attribuées à ces stations dans les bandes qui leur sont réservées.

well as the upper limit of the power provided when these stations are capable of causing international interference.

[341] (2) In addition, notification shall be given of frequencies assigned to mobile, portable, private experimental, and amateur stations, as well as those carrying on special services.

[342] (3) Likewise, the frequencies used for reception by a coast station for the operation of a special service with ship stations using stabilized transmitters must also be notified to the Bureau of the Union, with a view to their publication.

[343] (4) The frequencies provided for by the present Regulations for joint use by stations of a given service [500 kc (600 m), 333 kc (900 m), 375 kc (800 m), et cetera] shall not be notified to the Bureau of the Union.

[344] (5) The notification provided in paragraph (1) [No. 340] should be made before the frequency is placed in service and sufficiently soon to enable the administrations to take any step which they might find necessary for the purpose of assuring the good operation of their services.

[345] (6) (a) However, when the frequency which an administration intends to assign to a fixed, land, or broadcasting station is a frequency located outside of the bands authorized by the present Regulations for the service in question, this administration shall make the notification provided for in paragraph (5) [No. 344] at least six months before this frequency is placed in operation, or, in urgent cases, at least three months before this date.

[346] (b) The notification procedure indicated above shall also be observed when an administration intends to increase the power or effect a change in the radiation conditions of a station already working outside the authorized bands, even if the frequency used is to remain the same.

[347] §2. (1) When a frequency is notified by reason of the conclusion of a regional arrangement, mention shall be made of this arrangement at the time of the notification of the frequency.

[348] (2) When a regional arrangement makes the provision that a frequency may be used by several stations carrying on a given service, only the allocation of this frequency for this service and, if necessary, the region covered by the regional arrangement shall be published.

[349] §3. With regard to fixed, land, and broadcasting stations, the administrations shall furnish the Bureau of the Union with a complete descriptive list for each frequency assigned to these stations.

[350] §4. The administrations shall notify the Bureau of the Union of all changes which they propose to effect in the radiation conditions of a station the descriptive list of which has been notified in accordance with the provisions of §1 (1) [No. 340].

[351] §5. As to mobile stations no complete descriptive list shall be furnished. The only data given consists, for each country and for each class of stations separately (ship, aircraft, other vehicles), of the frequencies assigned to these stations within the bands reserved to them.

Fixed, etc., stations.

Mobile stations.

Pour les stations de navire, on indique les fréquences individuelles et/ou les bandes de fréquences [voir par exemple art. 7, § 21, (1), a)].

§ 6. Les fréquences attribuées aux stations effectuant des services spéciaux, aux stations portatives et aux stations expérimentales privées sont indiquées en bloc, par pays, lorsque la même fréquence est attribuée à plusieurs stations. Lorsqu'une de ces fréquences est attribuée à une station déterminée, elle peut être notifiée sous forme d'un état signalétique complet. Les fréquences attribuées aux stations d'amateur sont notifiées en bloc, par pays. [exemple: 3 500 à 4 000 kc/s (85,71 à 75 m) stations d'amateur, Canada].

§ 7. Dans le cas d'un système multiplex, on indique toutes les fréquences porteuses dans la colonne 1 et, en regard de chacune des fréquences, on répète, dans la colonne des observations toutes les autres fréquences porteuses du système avec la mention "système multiplex".

§ 8. Dans le cas d'une émission où la fréquence porteuse est supprimée, on indique dans la colonne 1, une fréquence qui, combinée avec le chiffre de la colonne 9 (fréquence de modulation), déterminera la bande employée. Dans la colonne 14 (observations), on indique que la fréquence porteuse est supprimée et si la transmission se fait avec une bande latérale unique.

§ 10. Le Bureau de l'Union inscrit une ou deux dates de notification en regard de chaque fréquence notifiée par une administration. Ces dates sont les suivantes:

- a) une date de première notification de la fréquence pour le pays intéressé (colonne 3a).
- b) une date de première notification de la fréquence pour une station déterminée du pays intéressé (colonne 3b).

Par pays, on entend le territoire dans les limites duquel est installée la station. On considère également comme un pays une colonie, un protectorat, un territoire d'outre-mer ou un territoire sous souveraineté, autorité ou mandat.

§ 11. (1) La date de notification d'une fréquence, à insérer dans la colonne 3a, est la date que porte la communication par laquelle le Bureau de l'Union a été informé de la première attribution de cette fréquence pour le pays indiqué.

(2) Lors de la première notification d'une fréquence pour une station d'un pays, la date à inscrire dans la colonne 3b, en regard de cette station, est la même que celle portée dans la colonne 3a. Si l'on attribue ultérieurement la même fréquence à une autre station du même pays, on insère en regard de la nouvelle station, dans la

For ship stations, the individual frequencies and/or the bands of frequencies shall be indicated [see, for instance, article 7, §21 (1) (a)] [No. 181].

Ship stations.

Ante, p. 1471.

[352] §6. The frequencies assigned to stations carrying on special services, to portable stations, and to private experimental stations shall be indicated collectively for each country, when the same frequency is assigned to several stations. When one of these frequencies is assigned to a specified station, it may be notified by means of a complete descriptive list. The frequencies assigned to amateur stations shall be notified collectively for each country [example: 3,500–4,000 kc (85.71–75 m) amateur stations, Canada].

Special services, etc.

[353] §7. In case of a multiplex system, all carrier frequencies shall be indicated in column 1 (see appendix 8) and, opposite each frequency, there shall be repeated, in the "remarks" column, all other carrier frequencies of the system with the note "multiplex system".

Multiplex system.

Post, p. 1605.

[354] §8. In the case of a transmission in which the carrier frequency is eliminated, there shall be indicated in column 1 (see appendix 8) a frequency which, combined with the figure in column 9 (modulation frequency) (see appendix 8), will determine the band used. In column 14 (remarks) (see appendix 8), it shall be indicated that the carrier frequency is eliminated and whether the transmission is made with a single sideband.

Post, p. 1605.

[355] §9. In order to facilitate the use of the frequency list, the Bureau of the Union shall show on each page the frequency range of the allocation table which corresponds to the frequencies appearing on this page [example: 7,300 to 8,200 kc (41.10 to 36.59 m), fixed services].

[356] §10. The Bureau of the Union shall record one or two notification dates with regard to each frequency notified by an administration. These dates shall be the following:

[357] (a) a date for the first notification of the frequency by the country concerned [column 3a (see appendix 8)],

[358] (b) a date for the first notification of the frequency for a specified station of the country concerned [column 3b (appendix 8)].

[359] Country shall be understood to mean the territory within the limits of which the station is set up. A colony, protectorate, overseas territory, or a territory under sovereignty, authority, or mandate shall also be considered as a country.

[360] §11. (1) The date of notification of a frequency, to be inserted in column 3a (appendix 8), shall be the date of the communication by which the Bureau of the Union was informed of the first allocation of this frequency to the country indicated.

[361] (2) When a frequency is first notified for a station of a country, the date to be written in column 3b (appendix 8) opposite this station shall be the same as that in column 3a (appendix 8). If the same frequency is later assigned to another station of the same country, the date of the first notification mentioned above shall be inserted colonne 3a, la date de la première notification visée ci-dessus, et, dans la colonne 3b, la date de l'attribution de cette fréquence à cette nouvelle station.

(3) En cas de notification sommaire, sans indication de nom de station, d'une fréquence déterminée, seule la date de la colonne 3a est inscrite.

(4) Aucune date n'est indiquée pour les fréquences notifiées en bloc de même que pour les fréquences attribuées aux stations mobiles.

§ 12. (1) Si, deux ans après la notification d'une fréquence pour une station déterminée [date de la colonne 3b], la fréquence notifiée n'a pas été mise en exploitation par cette station, les inscriptions publiées par le Bureau de l'Union sont annulées à moins que l'administration intéressée, obligatoirement consultée par le Bureau de l'Union six mois avant l'expiration du délai précité, n'en ait demandé le maintien. Dans ce cas, les dates de notification subsistent.

(2) En cas de notification d'une fréquence sans que la station à laquelle cette fréquence est attribuée soit déterminée, les inscriptions publiées seront annulées deux ans après la notification à moins que l'administration intéressée, obligatoirement consultée par le Bureau de l'Union, ne précise que la fréquence a été mise en exploitation.

(3) Les administrations notifient sans délai au Bureau de l'Union la mise en service des fréquences pour lesquelles un état signalétique complet doit figurer dans la liste des fréquences.

§ 1. (1) Dans le service mobile, la procédure détaillée ci-dessus est obligatoire, sauf dans le cas d'appel ou de trafic de détresse auquel sont applicables les dispositions de l'article 24.

(2) Dans le service exclusivement aéronautique la procédure visée au présent article est applicable, sauf lorsque des procédures particulières fixées dans des accords régionaux par les gouvernements intéressés seront en vigueur.

(3) Pour l'échange des radiocommunications, les stations du service mobile utilisent les abréviations visées à l'appendice 11.

En outre, dans le service mobile maritime, seules les abréviations visées à l'appendice 11 doivent être utilisées.

(4) Dans les zones de trafic intense, les stations de navire tiendront compte des prescriptions du § 2 (2) de l'article 21.

in column 3a (appendix 8) opposite the new station and, in column 3b (appendix 8), the date of the assignment of this frequency to this new station.

Post, p. 1605.

[362] (3) In case of summary notification of a specified frequency without indication of the name of the station, only the date of column 3a (appendix 8) shall be indicated.

[363] (4) No date shall be indicated for the frequencies notified collectively nor for the frequencies allocated to mobile stations.

[364] §12. (1) If, two years after the notification of a frequency to a specified station [the date in column 3b (appendix 8)], the frequency notified has not been placed in operation by this station, the records published by the Bureau of the Union shall be canceled unless the administration concerned, consulted, as a compulsory procedure, by the Bureau of the Union six months before the expiration of the above-mentioned period, shall have requested that it be retained. In this case, the notification dates shall stand.

[365] (2) In case of the notification of a frequency when the station to which this frequency is assigned has not been specified, the records published shall be canceled two years after the notification unless the administration concerned, consulted, as a compulsory procedure, by the Bureau of the Union, specifies that the frequency has been placed in operation.

[366] (3) The administrations shall notify the Bureau of the Union without delay of the placing in service of the frequencies, of which a complete descriptive list must appear in the frequency list.

General Radiotelegraph Procedure in the Mobile Service<sup>1 2</sup>

[367] §1. (1) In the mobile service, the following detailed procedure shall be obligatory except in the case of distress calls or distress traffic to which the provisions of article 24 shall apply.

General radiotelegraph procedure in the mobile service.

Post, p. 1535.

[368] (2) In the exclusively aeronautical service, the procedure contemplated in the present article shall apply, except when special procedures, determined in regional agreements by the governments concerned, shall be in force.

[369] (3) For the exchange of radio communications, stations of the mobile service shall use the abbreviations given in appendix 11.

Post, p. 1621.

[372] Furthermore, in the maritime mobile services only those abbreviations given in appendix 11 may be used.

[373] (4) In heavy-traffic areas, ship stations shall take account of the provisions of §2(2) of article 21 [No. 476].

Post, p. 1523.

[374] §2. (1) Before transmitting, any station must keep watch over a sufficient interval to assure itself that it will cause no harmful interference with the transmissions being made within its range; if such interference is likely, the station shall await the first stop in the transmission which it may disturb.

[370] <sup>1</sup> This procedure shall be applicable to short waves so far as possible.

[371] <sup>2</sup> The provisions of §§ 2 and 8 shall be applicable to radiotelephone transmissions of the mobile service.

(2) Toutefois, même si, en opérant ainsi, l'émission de cette station vient à brouiller une transmission radioélectrique déjà en cours, on appliquera les règles suivantes:

- a) Dans la zone de communication d'une station terrestre ouverte au service de la correspondance publique ou d'une station aéronautique quelconque, la station dont l'émission produit le brouillage doit cesser d'émettre à la première demande de la station terrestre ou aéronautique précitée.
- b) Dans le cas où une transmission radioélectrique déjà en cours entre deux navires vient à être brouillée par une émission d'un autre navire, ce dernier doit cesser d'émettre à la première demande de l'un quelconque des deux autres.
- c) La station qui demande cette cessation doit indiquer la durée approximative de l'attente imposée à la station dont elle suspend l'émission.

§ 3. Les radiotélégrammes de toute nature transmis par les stations de navire sont numérotés par séries quotidiennes en donnant le numéro 1 au premier radiotélégramme transmis chaque jour à chaque station terrestre différente.

§ 4. APPEL D'UNE STATION ET SIGNAUX PRÉPARATOIRES AU TRAFIC.

(1) Formule d'appel.

L'appel est constitué comme suit:

trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelée;

le mot DE

trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante.

(2) Onde à utiliser pour l'appel et les signaux préparatoires.

Pour faire l'appel ainsi que pour transmettre les signaux préparatoires, la station appelante utilise l'onde sur laquelle veille la station appelée.

(3) Indication de l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic.

L'appel, tel qu'il est indiqué à l'alinéa (1) ci-dessus, doit être suivi de l'abréviation réglementaire indiquant la fréquence et/ou le type d'onde que la station appelante se propose d'utiliser pour transmettre son trafic.

Lorsque, par exception à cette règle, l'appel n'est pas suivi de l'indication de l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic:

- a) si la station appelante est une station terrestre:
c'est que cette station se propose d'utiliser pour le trafic son onde normale de travail, indiquée dans la nomenclature;
- b) si la station appelante est une station mobile:
c'est que l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic est à choisir par la station appelée.

[375] (2) If, however, even after taking these precautions the emissions of this station should cause interference with a radio transmission already in progress, the following rules shall be applied:

[376] (a) In the communication zone of a land station open to the public correspondence service or of any aeronautical station, the station whose emission produces the interference must cease transmitting at the first request of the above-mentioned land or aeronautical station.

[377] (b) In the case where a radio transmission already in progress between two ships happens to be interfered with by an emission from another ship, the latter must cease transmitting at the first request of either of the other two.

[378] (c) The station requesting this cessation must indicate the approximate length of the wait imposed upon the station whose emission it is suspending.

[379] §3. Radiotelegrams of all kinds transmitted by ship stations shall be numbered in daily series, assigning number 1 to the first radiotelegram transmitted each day to each land station separately.

[380] §4. CALLING A STATION AND SIGNALS PREPARATORY TO TRAFFIC

[381] (1) Method of calling

The call shall consist of the following:

not more than three times the call signal of the station called;
the word DE;
not more than three times the call signal of the calling station.

[382] (2) Wave to be used for the call and for preparatory signals

To make the call as well as to transmit preparatory signals the calling station shall use the wave on which the station called is listening.

[383] (3) Indication of the wave to be used for the traffic

[384] The call, as indicated in subparagraph (1) above, must be followed by the regulatory abbreviation indicating the frequency and/or the type of wave which the calling station proposes to use to transmit its traffic.

[385] When, as an exception to this rule, the call is not followed by the indication of the wave to be used for the traffic:

[386] (a) if the calling station is a land station: it shall mean that this station proposes to use its normal working-wave, as indicated in the nomenclature for the traffic;

[387] (b) if the calling station is a mobile station: it shall mean that the wave to be used for the traffic is to be chosen by the station called.

(4) Indication éventuelle du nombre de radiotélégrammes ou de la transmission par série

Lorsque la station appelante a plus d'un radiotélégramme à transmettre à la station appelée, les signaux préparatoires précédents sont suivis de l'abréviation réglementaire et du chiffre spécifiant le nombre de ces radiotélégrammes.

En outre, lorsque la station appelante désire transmettre ces radiotélégrammes par série, elle l'indique en ajoutant l'abréviation réglementaire pour demander le consentement de la station appelée.

§5. RÉPONSE AUX APPELS ET SIGNAUX PRÉPARATOIRES AU TRAFIC.

(1) Formule de réponse aux appels.

La réponse aux appels est constituée comme suit:

trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante;

le mot DE;

l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelée.

(2) Onde de réponse.

Pour transmettre la réponse aux appels et aux signaux préparatoires, la station appelée emploie l'onde sur laquelle doit veiller la station appelante, à moins que la station appelante n'ait désigné une fréquence pour la réponse.

Par exception à cette règle, quand une station mobile appelle une station côtière sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), la station côtière transmet la réponse aux appels sur son onde normale de travail des bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m), telle qu'elle est indiquée dans la nomenclature.

(3) Accord sur l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic.

A. Si la station appelée est d'accord avec la station appelante, elle transmet:

- a) la réponse à l'appel;
- b) l'abréviation réglementaire indiquant qu'à partir de ce moment elle écoute sur la fréquence et/ou le type d'onde annoncés par la station appelante;
- c) éventuellement les indications prévues à l'alinéa (4);
- d) la lettre K si la station appelée est prête à recevoir le trafic de la station appelante;
- e) éventuellement, si c'est utile, l'abréviation réglementaire et le chiffre indiquant la force des signaux reçus (voir l'appendice 12).

B. Si la station n'est pas d'accord, ou si elle doit choisir l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic, elle transmet:

- a) la réponse à l'appel;
- b) l'abréviation réglementaire indiquant la fréquence et/ou le type d'onde demandés *;
- c) éventuellement les indications prévues à l'alinéa (4).

* Dans le cas où le choix de l'onde à utiliser pour le trafic revient à la station appelée, et si, exceptionnellement, cette dernière station ne donne pas l'indication correspondante, le trafic a lieu sur l'onde utilisée pour l'appel.

[388] (4) Indication, when required, of the number of radiotelegrams or of transmission by series [389] When the calling station has more than one radiotelegram to transmit to the station called, the preceding preparatory signals shall be followed by the regulatory abbreviation and by the figure specifying the number of these radiotelegrams.

[390] Furthermore, when the calling station wishes to transmit these radiotelegrams in series, it shall so indicate by adding the regulatory abbreviation requesting the consent of the station called.

[391] §5. REPLY TO CALLS AND SIGNALS PREPARATORY TO TRAFFIC

[392] (1) Method of reply to calls

The reply to calls shall consist of the following:

not more than three times the call signal of the calling station;
the word DE;
the call signal of the station called.

[393] (2) Wave for reply

[394] To transmit the reply to calls and to preparatory signals, the station called shall use the wave on which the calling station must listen, unless the calling station has specified a frequency for the reply.

[395] As an exception to this rule, when a mobile station calls a coast station on the wave 143 kc (2,100 m), the coast station shall transmit the reply to the calls on its normal working-wave of the bands between 100 and 160 kc (3,000 and 1,875 m), as indicated in the nomenclature.

[396] (3) Understanding as to the wave to be used for the traffic

[397] A. If the station called has an understanding with the calling station, it shall transmit:

[398] (a) the reply to the call;

[399] (b) the regulatory abbreviation indicating that from that time on it is listening on the frequency and/or the type of wave announced by the calling station;

[400] (c) in some cases, the indications mentioned in paragraph (4) [No. 409];

[401] (d) the letter K, if the station called is ready to receive the traffic of the calling station;

[402] (e) in certain cases, if it is useful, the regulatory abbreviation and the figure indicating the strength of the signals received. (See appendix 12.)

[403] B. If the station has no preliminary understanding, or if it must choose the wave to be used for the traffic, it shall transmit:

[404] (a) the reply to the call;

[405] (b) the regulatory abbreviation indicating the frequency and/or the type of wave requested;*

[406] (c) in some cases, the indications mentioned in paragraph (4) [No. 409].

[408] *In the case where the choice of the wave to be used for the traffic falls to the station called, and if, in exceptional cases, the latter station does not give the corresponding indication, the traffic shall take place on the wave used for the call.

Post, p. 1641.

Lorsque l'accord est réalisé sur l'onde que devra employer la station appelante pour son trafic, la station appelée transmet la lettre K à la suite des indications contenues dans sa réponse.

(4) Réponse à la demande de transmission par série.

La station appelée, répondant à une station appelante qui a demandé à transmettre ses radiotélégrammes par série [§ 4, (4) ], indique, au moyen de l'abréviation réglementaire, son refus ou son acceptation et, dans ce dernier cas, s'il y a lieu, elle spécifie le nombre des radiotélégrammes qu'elle est prête à recevoir en une série.

(5) Difficultés de réception.

- a) Si la station appelée est empêchée de recevoir, elle répond à l'appel comme il est indiqué à l'alinéa (3) ci-dessus, mais elle remplace la lettre K par le signal . — . . . (attente), suivi d'un nombre indiquant en minutes la durée probable de l'attente. Si cette durée probable excède 10 minutes (5 minutes dans le service mobile de l'aéronautique), l'attente doit être motivée.
- b) Lorsqu'une station reçoit un appel sans être certaine que cet appel lui est destiné, elle ne doit pas répondre avant que l'appel n'ait été répété et compris. Lorsque, par ailleurs, une station reçoit un appel qui lui est destiné, mais a des doutes sur l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante, elle doit répondre immédiatement en utilisant l'abréviation réglementaire en lieu et place de l'indicatif d'appel de cette dernière station.

§ 6. ACHEMINEMENT DU TRAFIC.

(1) Onde de trafic.

- a) Chaque station du service mobile transmet son trafic en employant, en principe, une de ses ondes de travail, telles qu'elles sont indiquées dans la nomenclature, pour la bande dans laquelle a eu lieu l'appel.
- b) En dehors de son onde normale de travail, imprimée en caractères gras dans la nomenclature, chaque station peut employer des ondes supplémentaires de la même bande, conformément aux dispositions de l'article 21, § 4. (2).
- c) L'emploi des ondes d'appel pour le trafic est réglementé par l'article 21.
- d) Si la transmission d'un radiotélégramme a lieu sur une autre fréquence et/ou type d'onde que celle sur laquelle l'appel a été effectué, la transmission du radiotélégramme est précédée de:

trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelée; le mot DE;
trois fois, au plus, l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante.

Si la transmission est effectuée sur la même fréquence et type d'onde que l'appel, la transmission du radiotélégramme est précédée, si besoin est, de l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelée; du mot DE; de l'indicatif d'appel de la station appelante.

[407] When an agreement is reached on the wave which the calling station must use for its traffic, the station called shall transmit the letter K after the indications contained in its reply.

[409] (4) Reply to the request for transmission by series

The station called, replying to a calling station which has asked to transmit its radiotelegrams in series [§4 (4)] [Nos. 389 and 390], shall indicate, by means of the regulatory abbreviation, whether it refuses or accepts and, in the latter case, if need be, shall specify the number of radiotelegrams which it is ready to receive in one series.

[411] (a) If the station called is prevented from receiving, it shall reply to the call as indicated in paragraph (3) [No. 396], but it shall replace the letter K by the signal . _ . . . (wait), followed by a number indicating in minutes the probable duration of the wait. If this probable duration exceeds 10 minutes (5 minutes in the aeronautical mobile service), a reason must be given therefor.

[412] (b) When a station receives a call without being certain that this call is intended for it, it must not reply before the call has been repeated and understood. When, on the other hand, a station receives a call which is intended for it, but is doubtful about the call signal of the calling station, it must reply immediately, using the regulatory abbreviation instead of the call signal of the latter station.

[413] §6. ROUTING OF TRAFFIC

[414] (1) Traffic wave

[415] (a) Each station of the mobile service shall transmit its traffic by using, in principle, one of its working-waves, as they are indicated in the nomenclature for the band in which the call was made.

Routing of traffic.

[416] (b) Outside of its normal working-wave, which is printed in boldface type in the nomenclature, each station may use additional waves of the same band, in accordance with the provisions of article 21, §4 (2) [No. 484].

Post, p. 1525.

[417] (c) The use of calling-waves for traffic shall be governed by article 21.

[418] (d) If the transmission of a radiotelegram takes place on another frequency and/or type of wave than that on which the call was made, the transmission of the radiotelegram shall be preceded by:

not more than three times, the call signal of the station called;
the word DE;

not more than three times, the call signal of the calling station.

[419] If the transmission is made on the same frequency and type of wave as the call, the transmission of the radiotelegram shall be preceded, in case of need, by the call signal of the station called; by the word DE; by the call signal of the calling station.

(2) Longs radiotélégrammes.

- a) En principe, tout radiotélégramme contenant plus de 100 mots est considéré comme formant une série, ou met fin à la série en cours.
- b) En règle générale, les longs radiotélégrammes, tant ceux en langage clair que ceux en langage convenu ou chiffré, sont transmis par tranches, chaque tranche contenant 50 mots dans le cas du langage clair et 20 mots ou groupes lorsqu'il s'agit du langage convenu ou chiffré.
- c) A la fin de chaque tranche, le signal . . — . . (?) signifiant "avez-vous bien reçu le radiotélégramme jusqu'ici?" est transmis. Si la tranche a été correctement reçue, la station réceptrice répond par la lettre K et la transmission du radiotélégramme est poursuivie.

(3) Suspension du trafic.

Quand une station du service mobile transmet sur une onde de travail d'une station terrestre et cause ainsi du brouillage à ladite station terrestre, elle doit suspendre son travail à la demande de cette dernière.

§ 7. FIN DU TRAFIC ET DU TRAVAIL.

(1) Signal de fin de transmission.

- a) La transmission d'un radiotélégramme se termine par le signal . — . — . (fin de transmission), suivi de l'indicatif d'appel de la station transmettrice et de la lettre K.
- b) Dans le cas d'une transmission par série, la fin de chaque radiotélégramme est indiquée par le signal . — . — . et la fin de la série par l'indicatif d'appel de la station transmettrice et la lettre K.

(2) Accusé de réception.

- a) L'accusé de réception d'un radiotélégramme est donné en transmettant la lettre R, suivie du numéro du radiotélégramme; cet accusé de réception est précédé de la formule suivante: indicatif d'appel de la station qui a transmis, mot DE, indicatif d'appel de la station qui a reçu.
- b) L'accusé de réception d'une série de radiotélégrammes est donné en transmettant la lettre R, suivie du numéro du dernier radiotélégramme reçu. Cet accusé de réception est précédé de la formule ci-dessus.
- c) L'accusé de réception est fait par la station réceptrice sur la même onde que pour la réponse à l'appel [voir § 5 (2), ci-dessus].

(3) Fin du travail.

- a) La fin du travail entre deux stations est indiquée par chacune d'elles au moyen du signal . . . — . — (fin du travail), suivi de son propre indicatif d'appel.
- b) Pour ces signaux, la station émettrice continue à utiliser l'onde de trafic et la station réceptrice l'onde de réponse à l'appel.

[420] (2) Long radiotelegrams

- [421] (a) In principle, any radiotelegram containing more than 100 words shall be considered as forming a series or shall end a series in progress.
- [422] (b) As a general rule, long radiotelegrams, both in plain language and in code or cipher language, shall be transmitted in sections, each section containing 50 words in the case of plain language, and 20 words or groups in the case of code or cipher.
- [423] (c) At the end of each section the signal . . . — . . . (?) meaning "Have you received the radiotelegram correctly up to this point?" shall be transmitted. If the section has been correctly received, the receiving station shall reply by the letter K and the transmission of the radiotelegram shall be continued.

[424] (3) Suspension of traffic

When a station of the mobile service transmits on a working-wave of a land station and thus causes interference with the said land station, it must suspend its work at the request of the latter.

[425] §7. END OF TRAFFIC AND OF WORK

[426] (1) Signal for the end of transmission

- [427] (a) The transmission of a radiotelegram shall be ended by the signal . . . — . . . (end of transmission), followed by the call signal of the transmitting station and the letter K. End of traffic, etc.
- [428] (b) In the case of transmission by series, the end of each radiotelegram shall be indicated by the signal . . . — . . . and the end of the series by the call signal of the transmitting station and the letter K.

[429] (2) Acknowledgment of receipt

- [430] (a) The acknowledgment of receipt of a radiotelegram shall be given by transmitting the letter R, followed by the number of the radiotelegram; this acknowledgment of receipt shall be preceded by the following formula: call signal of the station which has transmitted, word DE, call signal of the station which has received.
- [431] (b) The acknowledgment of receipt of a series of radiotelegrams shall be given by transmitting the letter R followed by the number of the last radiotelegram received. This acknowledgment of receipt shall be preceded by the above formula.
- [432] (c) The acknowledgment of receipt shall be made by the receiving station on the same wave as for the reply to the call [see §5 (2) below] [No. 393]. Ante, p. 1511.

[433] (3) End of work

- [434] (a) The end of work between two stations shall be indicated by each of them by means of the signal . . . — . . . (end of work), followed by its own call signal.
- [435] (b) For these signals, the sending station shall continue to use the traffic wave and the receiving station the wave for the reply to the call.

- c) Le signal . . . — . — (fin du travail) est aussi utilisé lorsque la transmission des radiotélégrammes d'information générale, des informations météorologiques et des avis généraux de sécurité se termine et que la transmission se termine dans le service de radiocommunication à grande distance avec accusé de réception différé ou sans accusé de réception.

§ 8. DURÉE DU TRAVAIL.

- (1) a) En aucun cas, dans le service mobile maritime, le travail sur 500 kc/s (600 m) ne doit dépasser cinq minutes.
 b) En aucun cas, dans le service mobile aéronautique, le travail sur 333 kc/s (900 m) ne doit dépasser cinq minutes.
- (2) Sur les fréquences autres que celles de 500 kc/s (600 m) et 33 kc/s (900 m), la durée des périodes de travail est déterminée:
- a) entre station terrestre et station mobile, par la station terrestre,
 b) entre stations mobiles, par la station réceptrice.

§ 9. ESSAIS.

Lorsqu'il est nécessaire de faire des signaux d'essais, soit pour le réglage d'un émetteur avant de transmettre l'appel, soit pour le réglage d'un récepteur, ces signaux ne doivent pas durer plus de 10 secondes et ils doivent être constitués par une série de VVV suivie de l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui émet pour essais.

ARTICLE 18.

Appel général "à tous".

§ 1. Deux types de signaux d'appel "à tous" sont reconnus:

- 1° appel CQ suivi de la lettre K (voir §§ 2 et 3);
 2° appel CQ non suivi de la lettre K (voir § 4).

§ 2. Les stations qui désirent entrer en communication avec des stations du service mobile, sans toutefois connaître le nom de celles de ces stations qui sont dans leur rayon d'action, peuvent employer le signal de recherche CQ, remplaçant l'indicatif de la station appelée dans la formule d'appel, cette formule étant suivie de la lettre K (appel général à toutes les stations du service mobile, avec demande de réponse).

§ 3. Dans les régions où le trafic est intense, l'emploi de l'appel CQ suivi de la lettre K est interdit. Par exception, il peut être utilisé avec des signaux d'urgence.

§ 4. L'appel CQ non suivi de la lettre K (appel général à toutes les stations sans demande de réponse) est employé avant la transmission des informations de toute nature destinées à être lues ou utilisées par quiconque peut les capter.

- [436] (c) The signal . . . . . (end of work) shall also be used when the transmission of radiotelegrams of general information, meteorological information, and general safety warnings is ended and the transmission ends in the long-distance radio-communication service with deferred acknowledgment of receipt or without acknowledgment of receipt.

[437] §8. DURATION OF WORK

- [438] (1) (a) In no case, in the maritime mobile service, must the work on 500 kc (600 m) exceed 5 minutes. Duration of work.
- [439] (b) In no case, in the aeronautical mobile service, must the work on 333 kc (900 m) exceed 5 minutes.
- [440] (2) On frequencies other than those of 500 kc (600 m) and 333 kc (900 m) the duration of the periods of work shall be determined:
- [441] (a) between a land station and a mobile station, by the land station,
- [442] (b) between mobile stations, by the receiving station.

[443] §9. TESTS

When it is necessary to make test signals, either for the adjustment of a transmitter before transmitting the call, or for the adjustment of a receiver, these signals must not last more than 10 seconds, and they must be composed of a series of V's followed by the call signal of the station transmitting for the tests. Tests.

ARTICLE 18

General Call "to all"

- [444] §1. Two types of call signals "to all" shall be recognized: General call "to all."
- [445] 1. the CQ call followed by the letter K (see §§2 and 3) [Nos. 447 and 448];
- [446] 2. the CQ call not followed by the letter K (see §4) [No. 449].
- [447] §2. Stations desiring to enter into communication with stations of the mobile service, without however, knowing the names of the mobile stations within their range, can use the inquiry signal CQ, in place of the call signal of the station called, in the calling formula, this formula being followed by the letter K (general call to all mobile stations, with request for reply).
- [448] §3. In regions where traffic is heavy, the use of the CQ call followed by the letter K shall be forbidden. As an exception, it can be used with urgent signals.
- [449] §4. The CQ call not followed by the letter K (general call to all stations without request for reply) shall be used before transmission of information of all kinds intended to be read or used by anyone who can receive it.

ARTICLE 19.

Appel à plusieurs stations sans demande de réponse.

L'appel CP suivi de deux ou plusieurs indicatifs d'appel ou d'un mot conventionnel (appel à certaines stations réceptrices sans demande de réponse) n'est employé que pour la transmission des informations de toute nature destinées à être lues ou utilisées par les personnes autorisées.

ARTICLE 20.

Appels.

§ 1. Les dispositions du présent article ne sont pas applicables aux aéronefs quand des accords régionaux entre pays intéressés ont fixé des procédures particulières et que ces procédures sont en vigueur. Ces dispositions seront néanmoins toujours applicables aux aéronefs qui entrent ou qui désirent entrer en communication avec une station du service radiomaritime.

§ 2. (1) En règle générale, il incombe à la station mobile d'établir la communication avec la station terrestre. Elle ne peut appeler la station terrestre dans ce but qu'après être arrivée dans le rayon d'action de celle-ci.

(2) Toutefois, une station terrestre qui a du trafic pour une station mobile peut appeler cette station si elle est en droit de supposer que ladite station mobile est à sa portée et assure l'écoute.

§ 3. (1) En outre, les stations côtières doivent, dans toute la mesure du possible, transmettre leurs appels sous forme de "listes d'appels" formées des indicatifs d'appel de toutes les stations mobiles pour lesquelles elles ont du trafic en instance, à des intervalles déterminés, espacés d'au moins deux heures, ayant fait l'objet d'accords conclus entre les gouvernements intéressés. Les stations côtières qui émettent leurs appels sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) les transmettent sous forme de "listes d'appels," par ordre alphabétique, en y insérant seulement les indicatifs d'appel de ces stations mobiles pour lesquelles elles ont du trafic en instance et qui se trouvent dans leur rayon d'action. Elles ajoutent à leur propre indicatif d'appel les abréviations pour l'indication de l'onde de travail dont elles veulent faire usage pour la transmission. Les stations côtières qui utilisent des ondes entretenues en dehors de la bande de 365 à 515 kc/s (822 à 583 m) transmettent les indicatifs d'appel dans l'ordre qui leur convient le mieux.

(2) L'heure à laquelle les stations côtières transmettent leur liste d'appels, ainsi que les fréquences et les types d'onde qu'elles utilisent à cette fin doivent être mentionnés dans la nomenclature.

(3) Les stations mobiles qui, dans cette transmission, perçoivent leur indicatif d'appel, doivent répondre, aussitôt qu'elles le peuvent, en observant entre elles, autant que possible, l'ordre dans lequel elles ont été appelées.

(4) Lorsque le trafic ne peut être écoulé immédiatement, la station côtière fait connaître à chaque station mobile intéressée l'heure pro-

ARTICLE 19

Call to Several Stations Without Request for Reply

[450] The call CP followed by two or more call signals or by a code word (call to certain receiving stations without request for reply) shall be used only for the transmission of information of any nature intended to be read or utilized by anyone who is authorized.

Call to several stations without request for reply.

ARTICLE 20

Calling

[451] §1. The provisions of this article shall not apply to aircraft when special procedures, determined in regional agreements between the countries concerned, are in force. These provisions shall nevertheless always apply to aircraft entering into or wishing to enter into communication with a station of the radiomaritime service.

Calling.

[452] §2. (1) As a general rule, it shall devolve upon the mobile station to establish communication with the land station. It may call the land station for this purpose only after having arrived within the range of the latter.

[453] (2) However, a land station having traffic for a mobile station may call that station if it has reason to assume that the said mobile station is within its range and is listening.

[454] §3. (1) Furthermore, coast stations must, to the extent possible, transmit their calls in the form of "lists of calls" consisting of the call signals of all mobile stations for which they have traffic on hand, at definite intervals, at least 2 hours apart, which have been established by agreements between the governments concerned. Coast stations which transmit their calls on the wave of 500 kc (600 m) shall transmit them in the form of "lists of calls", in alphabetical order, to include only the call signals of mobile stations for which they have traffic on hand and which are within their range. To their own call signal they shall add the abbreviations to indicate the working-wave they wish to use in the transmission. Coast stations which use continuous waves outside of the band of 365 to 515 kc (822 to 582 m) shall transmit the call signals in the order which is most convenient for them.

[455] (2) The time at which coast stations transmit their lists of calls, as well as the frequencies and types of waves which they use for this purpose, must be indicated in the nomenclature.

[456] (3) Mobile stations which, during this transmission, hear their call signal, must answer as soon as they can, following, so far as possible, the order in which they were called.

[457] (4) When the traffic cannot be disposed of immediately, the coast station shall inform each mobile station concerned of the nable à laquelle le travail pourra commencer ainsi que, si cela est nécessaire, la fréquence et le type d'onde qui seront utilisés pour le travail avec elle.

(2) La station terrestre peut, au moyen de l'abréviation PTR, demander à la station mobile de lui fournir les indications ci-dessous :

- a) distance approximative en milles marins et relèvement par rapport à la station terrestre ou bien position indiquée par la latitude et la longitude;
- b) prochain lieu d'escale.

(3) Les indications visées à l'alinéa (2) sont fournies après autorisation du commandant ou de la personne responsable du véhicule portant la station mobile et seulement dans le cas où elles sont demandées par la station terrestre.

§ 7. Dans les échanges entre stations mobiles, et sauf dans le cas de détresse, la station appelée a le contrôle du travail, comme il est indiqué au § 6 ci-dessus.

§ 8. (1) Lorsqu'une station appelée ne répond pas l'appel émis trois fois, à des intervalles de deux minutes, l'appel doit cesser et il ne peut être repris que 15 minutes plus tard.

Lorsqu'il s'agit de communications entre une station du service mobile maritime et une station d'aéronef, l'appel peut être repris 5 minutes plus tard.

La station appelante, avant de recommencer l'appel, doit s'assurer que la station appelée n'est pas, à ce moment, en communication avec une autre station.

(2) L'appel peut être répété à des intervalles moins longs, s'il n'est pas à craindre qu'il vienne brouiller des communications en cours.

§ 9. Lorsque le nom et l'adresse de l'exploitant d'une station mobile ne sont pas mentionnés dans la nomenclature ou ne sont plus en concordance avec les indications de celle-ci, il appartient à la station mobile de donner d'office à la station terrestre à laquelle elle probable time at which the work can begin, as well as the frequency and the type of wave which will be used in the work with it, if this is necessary.

[458] §4. When a land station receives calls from several mobile stations at practically the same time, it shall decide as to the order in which these stations may transmit their traffic to it, its decision being based only on the necessity for permitting each calling station to exchange with it the greatest possible number of radiotelegrams.

[459] §5. (1) When communication is first established with a land station, every mobile station, if it deems it advisable on account of possible confusion, can transmit its name spelled out as it appears in the nomenclature. If the mobile station does not yet appear in the nomenclature, it may transmit its name fully spelled out.

[460] (2) The land station can, by means of the abbreviation PTR, request the mobile station to give it the following information:

[461] (a) approximate distance in nautical miles and bearing with reference to the land station, or else the position indicated by latitude and longitude;

[462] (b) next place of call.

[463] (3) The information covered by paragraph (2) [No. 460] shall be furnished by authorization of the commander or the person responsible for the vehicle carrying the mobile station and only in case it is requested by the land station.

[464] §6. In communications between land stations and mobile stations, the mobile station shall comply with the instructions given by the land station, in all questions relative to the order and the time of transmission, to the choice of frequency (wavelength) and/or of the type of wave, and to the suspension of work. This provision shall not apply to cases of distress.

[465] §7. In communications between mobile stations, and except for cases of distress, the station called shall control the work as indicated in §6 above [No. 464].

[466] §8. (1) When a station called does not answer a call sent three times, at intervals of 2 minutes, the call must cease and it may be resumed only 15 minutes later.

[467] In the case of communications between a station of the maritime mobile service and an aircraft station, the call may be resumed 5 minutes later.

[468] The calling station, before resuming the call, must make certain that the station called is not in communication with another station at that time.

[469] (2) The call may be repeated at shorter intervals if there is no danger that it will interfere with communications in progress.

[470] §9. When the name and the address of the operating agency of a mobile station are not shown in the nomenclature or are no longer in accord with the data given therein, it shall devolve upon the mobile station, as a matter of routine, to furnish the land station to which it transmet du trafic, tous les renseignements nécessaires, sous ce rapport, en utilisant, à cette fin, les abréviations appropriés.

Emploi des ondes dans le service mobile.

A. RESTRICTIONS (TYPE B ET DIFFUSION).

§ 1. (1) L'usage des ondes du type B est interdit dans toutes les stations radioélectriques.

Par exception, dans les stations de navire, il est admis sur les fréquences suivantes:

375 kc/s (800 m) pour la radiogoniométrie seulement
425 kc/s (706 m) pour le trafic
500 kc/s (600 m).

(2) Il est interdit aux stations mobiles en mer d'effectuer la diffusion d'émissions radiophoniques destinées à être reçues directement par le public en général.

B. BANDE 365-515 KC/S (822-583 M).

§ 2. Appel et réponse.

(1) L'onde générale d'appel qui doit être employée par toute station de navire et toute station côtière travaillant en radiotélégraphie dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m), ainsi que par les aéronefs qui désirent entrer en communication avec une station côtière ou une station de navire, est l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) (A1, A2 ou B).

(2) Afin de réduire les brouillages dans les régions de trafic intense, les administrations se réservent le droit de considérer comme satisfaites les conditions de l'alinéa (1) lorsque les ondes d'appel attribuées aux stations côtières pour transmettre la correspondance publique ne s'écartent pas de plus de 5 kilocycles de l'onde générale d'appel de 500 kc/s (600 m).

(3) L'onde de réponse à un appel émis sur l'onde générale d'appel [voir § 2, (1)] est l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), la même que celle d'appel.

§ 3. Détresse.

(1) L'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) est l'onde internationale de détresse; elle est utilisée dans ce but par les stations de navire et par les stations d'aéronef qui demandent l'assistance des services maritimes. Elle ne peut être utilisée que pour l'appel et la réponse, ainsi que pour le trafic de détresse, les signaux et messages d'urgence et de sécurité.

(2) Par exception, cette onde peut cependant être utilisée pour le trafic dans les conditions indiquées au § 4 (3), ci-dessous.

(3) En dehors de l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), l'usage des ondes de tous types comprises entre 485 et 515 kc/s (620 et 583 m) est interdit.

sends traffic with all the necessary information in this connection, using for this purpose the appropriate abbreviations.

ARTICLE 21

Use of Waves in the Mobile Service

A. RESTRICTIONS (TYPE B AND BROADCASTING)

[471] §1. (1) The use of type-B waves shall be forbidden in all radio stations. Use of waves in mobile service.

[472] As an exception, it shall be permitted in ship stations on the following frequencies:

- 375 kc (800 m) for radio direction-finding only,
- 425 kc (706 m) for traffic,
- 500 kc (600 m).

[473] (2) Mobile stations at sea shall be prohibited from making radiotelephone broadcast transmissions intended to be received by the general public.

B. BAND OF 365-515 KC (822-583M)

[474] §2. Calling and reply

[475] (1) The general calling-wave which must be used by all ship stations and all coast stations working in radiotelegraphy in the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m), as well as by aircraft wishing to enter into communication with a coast station or a ship, shall be the wave of 500 kc (600 m) (A1, A2, or B).

[476] (2) In order to reduce interference in the regions of heavy traffic, the administrations reserve the right to consider that the requirements of paragraph (1) [No. 475] are satisfied if the calling-waves assigned to coast stations for the handling of public correspondence are not separated from the general calling-wave of 500 kc (600 m) by more than 5 kc.

[477] (3) The wave for the reply to a call transmitted on the general calling-wave [see §2 (1)] [No. 475] shall be the wave of 500 kc (600 m), the same as that for calling.

[479] (1) The wave of 500 kc (600 m) shall be the international distress-wave; it shall be used for that purpose by ship stations and aircraft stations in requesting help from the maritime services. It may be used only for calls and replies, as well as for distress traffic, urgent and safety messages, and signals.

[480] (2) By way of exception, this wave may nevertheless be used for traffic under the conditions indicated in §4 (3) below [Nos. 485, 486, and 487].

[481] (3) Aside from the wave of 500 kc (600 m), the use of waves of all types between 485 and 515 kc (620 and 583 m) shall be forbidden.

(1) Les stations côtières et de navire travaillant dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m) doivent être en mesure de faire usage d'au moins une onde en plus de celle de 500 kc/s (600 m); quand une onde additionnelle est imprimée en caractères gras dans la nomenclature, c'est l'onde normale de travail de la station. Les ondes additionnelles ainsi choisies pour les stations côtières peuvent être les mêmes que celles des stations de bord ou peuvent être différentes. En tout cas, les ondes de travail des stations côtières doivent être choisies de manière à éviter les brouillages avec les stations voisines.

(2) En dehors de leur onde normale de travail imprimée en caractère gras dans la nomenclature, les stations terrestres et de bord peuvent employer, dans les bandes autorisées, des ondes supplémentaires qui sont mentionnées en caractères ordinaires dans la nomenclature. Toutefois, la bande de fréquences de 365 à 385 kc/s (822 à 779 m) est réservée au service de la radiogoniométrie; elle ne peut être utilisée par le service mobile, pour la correspondance radiotélégraphique, que sous les réserves indiquées à l'article 7.

(3) Par exception, à condition de ne pas troubler les signaux de détresse, d'urgence et de sécurité, d'appel et de réponse, l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m) peut aussi être utilisée:

- a) dans les régions de trafic intense, exclusivement par les stations de navire et uniquement pour la transmission d'un radiotélégramme unique et court;<sup>1) 2)</sup>
- (b) dans les autres régions, pour la transmission des radiotélégrammes et pour la radiogoniométrie, mais avec discrétion.

(4) Dans les régions de trafic intense des côtes de l'Europe, les postes de navire travaillant en ondes du type A2 dans la gamme de 365 à 550 kc/s (822 à 545 m), doivent utiliser, dans la mesure du possible, les fréquences de 425 kc/s (706 m) et de 480 kc/s (625 m).

(5) Aucune station côtière européenne n'est autorisée à employer ces fréquences.

§ 5. Veille.

(1) En vue d'augmenter la sécurité de la vie humaine sur mer (navires) et au-dessus de la mer (aéronefs), toutes les stations du service mobile maritime qui écoutent normalement les ondes des bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m) doivent, pendant la durée de leurs vacations, prendre les mesures utiles pour assurer l'écoute sur l'onde de détresse [500 kc/s (600 m)] deux fois par heure, pendant trois minutes, commençant à x h 15 et à x h 45, temps moyen de Greenwich (T.M.G.).

[483] (1) Coast and ship stations working within the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) must be able to use at least one wave besides that of 500 kc (600 m); when an additional wave is printed in heavy type in the nomenclature, this is the normal working-wave of the station. The additional waves thus chosen for coast stations may or may not be the same as those of ship stations. In any case, the working-waves of coast stations must be chosen in such a way as to avoid interference with neighboring stations.

[484] (2) Besides their normal working-waves, printed in heavy type in the nomenclature, land and on-board stations may use, in the authorized bands, supplementary waves which shall be mentioned in the nomenclature in ordinary print. However, the band of frequencies from 365 to 385 kc (822 to 779 m) shall be reserved to the radio direction-finding service; it can be used by the mobile service, for radiotelegraph correspondence, subject only to the conditions set forth in article 7.

Ante, p. 1420.

[485] (3) As an exception, on condition that no interference will result therefrom for distress, urgent and safety, calling and reply signals, the wave of 500 kc (600 m) may also be used:

[486] (a) in regions of heavy traffic, exclusively by ship stations and only for the transmission of a single and short radiotelegram;<sup>1 2</sup>

[487] (b) in other regions, for the transmission of radiotelegrams and for radio direction-finding, but with discretion.

[488] (4) In regions of heavy traffic of the European coasts, ship stations working with type-A2 waves in the band of 365 to 550 kc (822 to 545 m), must use, to the extent possible, the frequencies of 425 kc (706 m) and 480 kc (625 m).

[489] (5) No European coast station shall be authorized to use these frequencies.

§5. Watch

[493] (1) In order to increase safety of life at sea (ships), and over the sea (aircraft), all the stations of the maritime mobile service which normally listen on the waves of the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583 m) must, during their working hours, make the necessary provisions to insure the watch on the distress-wave [500 kc (600 m)] twice per hour, for 3 minutes, beginning at x:15 and at x:45 o'clock, Greenwich mean time (G.M.T.)

[490] <sup>1</sup> The regions of heavy traffic are indicated in the nomenclature of coast stations. These regions consist of the service areas of the coast stations indicated as not accepting traffic on 500 kc (600 m) (see appendix 9).

[491] <sup>2</sup> In principle, such use shall be permitted only for ship stations provided with a break-in device or an equivalent apparatus.

(2) Pendant les intervalles indiqués ci-dessus, en dehors des émissions envisagées à l'article 24 (§§ 22 à 28):

- 1° Les émissions doivent cesser dans les bandes de 480 à 520 kc/s (625 à 577 m);
- 2° Hors de ces bandes:

- (a) les émissions des ondes du type B sont interdites;
- (b) les autres émissions des stations du service mobile peuvent continuer; les stations du service mobile maritime peuvent écouter ces émissions sous réserve expresse que ces stations assurent d'abord la veille sur l'onde de détresse, comme il est prévu à l'alinéa (1) de ce paragraphe.

(3) Les appels dans les bandes autorisées entre 365 et 515 kc/s (822 et 583 m) étant faits normalement sur l'onde générale d'appel [§ 2. (1) ci-dessus], les stations du service mobile maritime ouvertes au service de la correspondance publique et utilisant pour leur travail des ondes de ces bandes doivent pendant leurs heures de veille rester à l'écoute sur l'onde d'appel de leur service. La veille sur 500 kc/s (600 m) n'est obligatoire que sur les ondes type A2 ou B. Ces stations, tout en observant les prescriptions des § 5 (1) et (2) et § 7. (4) D, ne sont autorisées à abandonner cette écoute que lorsqu'elles sont engagées dans une communication sur d'autres ondes.

C. BANDE 100—160 KC/S (3000—1875 M).

§ 6. Appel et réponse.

(1) L'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) (du type A1 seulement) est l'onde internationale d'appel employée dans les communications du service mobile à grande distance dans les bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m).

(2) En dehors de l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), l'usage de toutes ondes comprises entre 140 et 146 kc/s (2 143 et 2 055 m) est interdit.

(3) L'onde de réponse à un appel émis sur l'onde internationale d'appel de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) [voir § 6. (1)] est:

- pour une station mobile, l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m);
- pour une station côtière, son onde normale de travail.

§ 7. Trafic.

Les règles ci-dessous doivent être suivies dans l'exploitation des stations du service mobile employant des ondes du type A1 des bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m):

- (1) a) Toute station côtière assurant une communication sur une de ces ondes doit faire l'écoute sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), à moins qu'il n'en soit disposé autrement dans la nomenclature.
- b) La station côtière transmet tout son trafic sur l'onde ou sur les ondes qui lui sont spécialement attribuées.
- c) Une station côtière, à laquelle une ou plusieurs ondes comprises dans la bande de 125 à 150 kc/s (2 400 à 2 000 m) sont allouées, possède sur cette ou ces ondes un droit de préférence.

[494] (2) During the intervals indicated above, outside the transmissions mentioned in article 24 (§§ 22 to 28):

Post, p. 1546.

[495] 1. Transmissions must cease in the bands of 480 to 520 kc (625 to 577 m);

[496] 2. Outside these bands:

[497] (a) transmissions of type-B waves shall be forbidden;

[498] (b) other transmissions of the mobile service stations may continue; stations of the maritime mobile service may listen to these transmissions on the express condition that these stations shall first insure the watch on the distress-wave, as provided for in paragraph (1) [No. 493].

[499] (3) Since calls in the authorized bands between 365 and 515 kc (822 and 583) are normally made on the general calling-wave [§2 (1) above] [No. 475], maritime mobile service stations open to the service of public correspondence and using waves from these bands for their work must, during their hours of watch, remain on watch on the calling-wave of their service. The watch on 500 kc (600 m) shall be compulsory only on type-A2 or -B waves. These stations, while observing the provisions of §5 (1) and (2) and §7 (4) D [Nos. 492-498 and 515], shall be authorized to abandon this watch only when they are engaged in a communication on other waves.

C. BAND OF 100-160 KC (3,000-1,875 M)

[500] §6. Calling and reply

[501] (1) The wave 143 kc (2,100 m) (type A1 only) shall be the international calling-wave for use in long-distance communications of the mobile service in the bands 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m).

[502] (2) Except for the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) the use of any wave between 140 and 146 kc (2,143 and 2,055 m) shall be forbidden.

[503] (3) The wave for the reply to a call transmitted on the international calling-wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) [see §6 (1)] [No. 501] shall be:

the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m), for a mobile station;
the normal working-wave, for a coast station.

[504] §7. Traffic

[505] The following rules must be followed in the operation of stations of the mobile service using type-A1 waves in the bands of 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m):

[506] (1) (a) Any coast station carrying on a communication on one of these waves must listen on the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m), unless otherwise indicated in the nomenclature.

[507] (b) The coast station shall transmit all its traffic on the wave or on the waves which are specifically assigned to it.

[508] (c) A coast station to which one or more waves within the band 125 to 150 kc (2,400 to 2,000 m) have been allocated, shall have a prior right to this or these waves.

- d) Toute autre station du service mobile transmettant un trafic public sur cette ou sur ces ondes, et causant ainsi du brouillage à ladite station côtière, doit suspendre son travail à la demande de cette dernière.
- (2) a) Lorsqu'une station mobile désire établir la communication sur une de ces ondes avec une autre station du service mobile, elle doit employer l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), à moins qu'il n'en soit disposé autrement dans la nomenclature.
- b) Cette onde, désignée comme onde générale d'appel, doit être employée exclusivement dans l'Atlantique Nord:
- 1° pour les appels individuels et les réponses à ces appels;
2° pour la transmission des signaux préalables à la transmission du trafic.

(3) Une station mobile, après avoir établi la communication avec une autre station du service mobile sur l'onde générale d'appel de 143 kc/s (2 100 m), doit, autant que possible, transmettre son trafic sur une autre onde quelconque des bandes autorisées, à condition de ne pas troubler le travail en cours d'une autre station.

(4) En règle générale, toute station mobile équipée pour le service sur les ondes du type A1 des bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m) et qui n'est pas engagée dans une communication sur une autre onde doit, en vue de permettre l'échange du trafic avec d'autres stations du service mobile, revenir chaque heure sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) pendant 5 minutes à partir de x h 35, temps moyen de Greenwich, durant les heures prévues, suivant la catégorie à laquelle appartient la station envisagée.

- (5) a) Les stations terrestres doivent, autant que possible, transmettre les appels sous forme de listes d'appels; dans ce cas, les stations transmettent leurs listes d'appels à des heures déterminées, publiées dans la nomenclature, sur l'onde ou sur les ondes qui leur sont attribuées, dans les bandes de 100 à 160 kc/s (3 000 à 1 875 m), mais non sur l'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m).

Toutefois, si l'écoulement de son trafic s'en trouve facilité, une station terrestre peut être autorisée par l'autorité dont elle dépend à commencer ses listes d'appels par le bref préambule suivant, émis sur 143 kc/s (2 100 m):

CQ de ----- (indicatif de la station terrestre)
QSW ----- suivi de l'indication de la longueur d'onde de priorité de la station sur laquelle la liste d'appels va être transmise aussitôt après. En aucun cas, ce préambule ne peut être répété.

- b) Les stations terrestres peuvent, toutefois, appeler individuellement les stations mobiles à une heure quelconque, en dehors des heures fixées pour l'émission des listes d'appels, selon les circonstances ou le travail qu'elles ont à effectuer.
- c) L'onde de 143 kc/s (2 100 m) peut être employée pour les appels individuels et sera, de préférence, utilisée dans ce but pendant la période indiquée au § 7. (4).

[509] (d) Any other mobile service station transmitting public traffic on this or these waves and thereby causing interference with the said coast station must discontinue its work at the request of the latter.

[510] (2) (a) When a mobile station wishes to establish communication on one of these waves with another station of the mobile service, it must use the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m), unless otherwise indicated in the nomenclature.

[511] (b) This wave, designated as a general calling-wave, must be used exclusively in the North Atlantic:

[512] 1. For making individual calls and answering these calls;

[513] 2. For transmitting signals preliminary to the transmission of traffic.

[514] (3) A mobile station, after having established communication with another station of the mobile service on the general calling-wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) must, so far as possible, transmit its traffic on some other wave of the authorized bands, provided it does not interfere with the work in progress of another station.

[515] (4) As a general rule, any mobile station equipped for service on type-A1 waves in the band 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m), which is not engaged in a communication on another wave, must, in order to permit the exchange of traffic with other stations of the mobile service, return each hour to the wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) for 5 minutes beginning at x:35 o'clock Greenwich mean time, during the specified hours, according to the category to which the station in question belongs.

[516] (5) (a) Land stations must, to the extent possible, transmit the calls in the form of calling lists; in this case, the stations transmit their calling lists at definite hours published in the nomenclature, on the wave or waves which are allocated to them, in the bands of 100 to 160 kc (3,000 to 1,875 m), but not on the waves of 143 kc (2,100 m).

[517] However, if the flow of its traffic is facilitated thereby, a land station may be authorized by the authority to which it is subject to begin its calling lists by the following brief preamble transmitted on 143 kc (2,100 m):

CQ from. . . (land-station call signal).

QSW . . . . followed by the indication of the priority wavelength of the station on which the calling list will be immediately afterward transmitted. Under no circumstances may this preamble be repeated.

[518] (b) Land stations can, however, call individually mobile stations at any time, outside the hours fixed for the transmission of calling lists, according to the circumstances or the work to be done.

[519] (c) The wave of 143 kc (2,100 m) may be used for individual calls and will, preferably, be utilized to this end during the period indicated in §7 (4) [No. 515].

D. SERVICES AÉRONAUTIQUES.<sup>1)</sup>

§ 8. (1) Les ondes d'appel général, pour les services aéronautiques, sont les suivantes, sauf dans les régions où des accords régionaux qui en disposent autrement sont en vigueur:

333 kc/s (900 m)

6 210 kc/s (48,31 m) en plus de l'usage indiqué à l'article 7, § 21 (1) c).

D'autres fréquences pourront, en plus, être choisies comme ondes d'appel par des accords entre les gouvernements intéressés. Ces fréquences, ainsi que les conditions de leur utilisation, sont énumérées dans les documents de service publiés par le Bureau de l'Union.

(2) Les ondes générales de réponse dans les services aéronautiques sont les suivantes, sauf dans les régions où des accords régionaux qui en disposent autrement sont en vigueur:

6 210 kc/s (48,31 m) en plus de l'usage indiqué à l'article 7, § 21 (1) c).

D'autres fréquences pourront être choisies comme ondes de réponse par des accords entre gouvernements intéressés. Ces fréquences, ainsi que les conditions de leur utilisation, sont énumérées dans les documents de service publiés par le Bureau de l'Union.

(3) Les radiocommunications des stations aéronautiques sont réglées par des accords régionaux entre les gouvernements intéressés, sauf ce qui est prévu, par ailleurs, dans le présent Règlement.

ARTICLE 22.

Brouillages.

§ 1. (1) La transmission de signaux ou de correspondances superflus ou dont l'identité n'est pas donnée est interdite à toutes les stations.

(2) Des essais et des expériences sont tolérés dans les stations mobiles, s'ils ne troublent point le service d'autres stations. Quant aux stations autres que les stations mobiles, chaque administration apprécie, avant de les autoriser, si les essais ou expériences proposés sont susceptibles ou non de troubler le service d'autres stations.

§ 2. Il est recommandé de transmettre le trafic se rapportant à la correspondance publique sur des ondes du type A1, plutôt que sur des ondes du type A2 et sur des ondes du type A2, plutôt que sur des ondes du type B.

§ 3. Toutes les stations du service mobile sont tenues d'échanger le trafic avec le minimum d'énergie rayonnée nécessaire pour assurer une bonne communication.

D. AERONAUTICAL SERVICES<sup>1</sup>

[520] §8. (1) The general calling-waves, for the aeronautical services, shall be the following, except in regions where regional agreements providing otherwise are in effect:

333 kc (900 m),
6,210 kc (48.31 m) in addition to the use as indicated in article 7, §21 (1) (c) [No. 184].

Ante, p. 1471.

[521] Other frequencies may, in addition, be selected as calling-waves by agreements between the interested governments. These frequencies, as well as the requirements for their use, shall be listed in the service documents published by the Bureau of the Union.

[522] (2) The general waves for the reply in the aeronautical services shall be the following, except in regions where regional agreements providing otherwise are in effect:

333 kc (900 m),
6,210 kc (48.31 m) in addition to the use as indicated in article 7, §21 (1) (c) [No. 184].

Ante, p. 1471.

[523] Other frequencies may be selected as waves for the reply by agreements between the interested governments. These frequencies, as well as the requirements for their use, shall be listed in the service documents published by the Bureau of the Union.

[524] (3) Radio communications of aeronautical stations shall be regulated by regional agreements between the governments concerned, except as otherwise provided for in these Regulations.

ARTICLE 22

Interference

[525] §1. (1) The transmission of unnecessary or unidentified signals or correspondence shall be forbidden to all stations.

Interference.

[527] (2) Tests and experiments shall be permitted in mobile stations if they do not interfere with the service of other stations. As for stations other than mobile stations, each administration shall judge, before authorizing them, whether or not the proposed tests or experiments are likely to interfere with the service of other stations.

[528] §2. It is recommended that traffic relating to public correspondence be transmitted on type-A1 waves rather than on type-A2 waves, and on type-A2 waves rather than on type-B waves.

[529] §3. All stations of the mobile service shall be required to exchange traffic with the minimum of radiated power necessary to insure good communication.

[530] §4. Except in cases of distress, communications between on-board stations must not interfere with the work of the land stations. When this work is thus interfered with, the on-board stations which sont la cause doivent cesser leurs transmissions ou changer d'onde à la première demande de la station terrestre intéressée.

§ 5. Les signaux d'essais et de réglage doivent être choisis de telle manière qu'aucune confusion ne puisse se produire avec un signal, une abréviation, etc., d'une signification particulière définie par le présent Règlement ou par le Code International de Signaux.

§ 6. (1) Quand il est nécessaire d'émettre des signaux d'essais ou de réglage, et qu'il y a risque de troubler le service de la station terrestre voisine, le consentement de cette station terrestre doit être obtenu avant d'effectuer de telles émissions.

(2) Une station quelconque effectuant des émissions pour des essais, des réglages ou des expériences doit transmettre, autant que possible à vitesse lente, son indicatif d'appel ou, en cas de besoin, son nom, à de fréquents intervalles au cours de ces émissions.

§ 7. L'administration ou l'entreprise qui formule une plainte en matière de brouillage doit, pour étayer et justifier celle-ci :

- a) préciser les caractéristiques du brouillage constaté (fréquence, variations de réglage, indicatif d'appel du poste brouilleur s'il est connu, et tous autres renseignements utiles que l'on peut obtenir relativement au brouillage);
- b) déclarer que le poste brouillé utilise bien la fréquence qui lui est attribuée;
- c) faire connaître qu'elle emploie régulièrement des appareils de réception d'un type équivalent au type le meilleur utilisé dans la pratique courante du service dont il s'agit.

§ 8. Les administrations prennent les mesures qu'elles jugent utiles et qui sont compatibles avec leur législation intérieure, pour que les appareils électriques susceptibles de troubler sérieusement un service autorisé de radiocommunication soient employés de manière à éviter de telles perturbations.

Installations de secours.

§ 1. La Convention pour la sauvegarde de la vie humaine en mer détermine quels sont les navires qui doivent être pourvus d'une installation de secours* et définit les conditions à remplir par les installations de cette catégorie.

§ 2. Pour l'utilisation des installations de secours, toutes les prescriptions du présent Règlement doivent être observées.

*Convention pour la sauvegarde de la vie humaine en mer: Article 31 (5).

(5). L'installation doit comprendre une installation principale et une installation de secours (réserve). Toutefois, si l'installation principale remplit toutes les conditions d'une installation de secours (réserve), cette dernière n'est pas dans ce cas obligatoire.

cause it must stop transmitting or change waves upon the first request of the land station concerned.

[531] §5. Test and adjustment signals must be selected in such a way that there will result no confusion with a signal, an abbreviation, et cetera, having a particular meaning defined by these Regulations or by the International Code of Signals.

[532] §6. (1) When it is necessary to transmit test or adjustment signals, and there is danger of interfering with the service of the neighboring land station, permission must be obtained from that land station before such transmissions are made.

[533] (2) Any station making transmissions for purposes of testing, adjusting, or experimenting must, so far as possible, at frequent intervals in the course of these transmissions, transmit at low speed its call signal or, if need be, its name.

[534] §7. The administration or enterprise which makes a complaint regarding interference must, to support and justify the complaint:

[535] (a) Specify the characteristics of the interference noted (frequency, variations in adjustment, call signal of the interfering station, if known, and such other pertinent information as may be obtainable regarding the interference);

[536] (b) State that the station interfered with actually uses the frequency assigned to it;

[537] (c) State that it regularly uses receiving instruments of a type equivalent to the best used in the current practice of the service concerned.

[538] §8. The administrations shall take such steps as they deem advisable and as are in keeping with their domestic legislation in order that electrical apparatus capable of serious interference with an authorized radio service will be used in such a manner as to avoid such interference.

Emergency Installations

[539] §1. The Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea shall determine which ships must be provided with an emergency installation* and shall define the conditions to be fulfilled by installations of this category.

[540] §2. In the use of emergency installations, all the provisions of the present Regulations must be observed.

[541] §3. Ships provided with a type-A1 or -A2 transmitting installation in operating condition shall not use the type-B emergency installation to transmit any other than distress signals and traffic.

[543] *Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea [article 31 (5)]: "The installation shall comprise a main installation and an emergency (reserve) installation. If, however, the main installation complies with all the requirements of an emergency (reserve) installation the latter is not then obligatory."

Emergency installations.

50 Stat. 1154.

ARTICLE 24.

Signal et trafic de détresse. Signaux d'alarme, d'urgence et de sécurité.

A. GÉNÉRALITÉS.

§ 1. Aucune disposition du présent Règlement ne peut faire obstacle à l'emploi, par une station mobile en détresse, de tous les moyens dont elle dispose pour attirer l'attention, signaler sa situation et obtenir du secours.

§ 2. (1) La vitesse de transmission télégraphique dans les cas de détresse, d'urgence ou de sécurité ne doit pas, en général, dépasser 16 mots à la minute.

(2) La vitesse de transmission du signal d'alarme est indiquée au § 21, (1).

B. ONDES À EMPLOYER EN CAS DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 3. (1) Navires. a) En cas de détresse, l'onde à employer est l'onde internationale de détresse, c'est-à-dire 500 kc/s (600 m) (voir article 21); elle doit être, de préférence, utilisée en type A2 ou B. Les stations de navire qui ne peuvent émettre sur l'onde internationale de détresse utilisent leur onde normale d'appel.

b) Les stations radiotéléphoniques de faible puissance font usage, dans ce but, de l'onde d'appel et de détresse de 1 650 kc/s (182 m), comme indiqué dans l'article 31.

(2) Aéronefs. Tout aéronef en détresse doit transmettre l'appel de détresse sur l'onde de veille des stations terrestres ou mobiles susceptibles de lui porter secours; les ondes à employer, quand l'appel est adressé aux stations du service maritime, sont les ondes de détresse ou de veille de ces stations.

C. SIGNAL DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 4. (1) En radiotélégraphie, le signal de détresse consiste dans le groupe . . . — — — . . . , émis comme un seul signe et dans lequel les traits doivent être cadencés de manière à être distingués nettement des points.

En radiotéléphonie, le signal de détresse consiste dans l'expression parlée MAYDAY (correspondant à la prononciation française de l'expression "m'aider").

(2) Ces signaux de détresse annoncent que le navire, l'aéronef, ou tout autre véhicule qui émet le signal de détresse est sous la menace d'un danger grave et imminent et demande une assistance immédiate.

D. APPEL DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 5. (1) L'appel de détresse, lorsqu'il est émis par radiotélégraphie sur 500 kc/s (600 m), est, en règle générale, immédiatement précédé du signal d'alarme tel que ce dernier est défini au § 21, (1).

ARTICLE 24

Distress Traffic and Distress Signal—Alarm, Emergency, and Safety Signals

A. GENERAL

[542] §1. No provision of these Regulations shall prevent a mobile station in distress from using any means available to it for drawing attention, signaling its position, and obtaining help.

Distress traffic and distress signal, etc.

[544] §2. (1) When distress, emergency, or safety is involved, the telegraph transmission speed, in general, must not exceed 16 words per minute.

[545] (2) The transmission speed for the alarm signal is indicated in §21 (1) [No. 593].

Post, p. 1543.

B. WAVES TO BE USED IN CASE OF DISTRESS

[546] §3. (1) Ships.

Waves to be used in case of distress.

(a) In case of distress, the wave to be used shall be the international distress-wave, that is, 500 kc (600 m) (see article 21) [No. 479]; it must preferably be used in type A2 or B. Ship stations which cannot transmit on the international distress-wave shall use their normal calling-wave.

Ante, p. 1523.

[547] (b) Low-power radiotelephone stations shall use, for this purpose, the calling- and distress-wave of 1,650 kc (182 m), as indicated in article 31.

Post, p. 1567.

[548] (2) Aircraft. Any aircraft in distress must transmit the distress call on the watching-wave of the land or mobile stations capable of helping it; when the call is addressed to stations of the maritime service, the waves to be used are the distress-wave or watching-wave of these stations.

C. DISTRESS SIGNAL

[549] §4. (1) In radiotelegraphy, the distress signal shall consist of the group . . . — — . . ., transmitted as one signal, in which the dashes must be emphasized so as to be distinguished clearly from the dots.

Distress signal.

[550] In radiotelephony, the distress signal shall consist of the spoken expression MAYDAY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the expression "m'aider").

[551] (2) These distress signals shall announce that the ship, aircraft, or any other vehicle which sends the distress signal is threatened by serious and imminent danger and requests immediate assistance.

D. DISTRESS CALL

[552] §5. (1) The distress call, when sent in radiotelegraphy on 500 kc (600 m) shall, as a general rule, be immediately preceded by the alarm signal as the latter is defined in §21 (1) [No. 593].

Distress call.

Post, p. 1543.

(2) Lorsque les circonstances le permettent, l'émission de l'appel est séparée de la fin du signal d'alarme par un silence de deux minutes.

(3) L'appel de détresse comprend :

le signal de détresse transmis trois fois, le mot DE, et l'indicatif d'appel de la station mobile en détresse, transmis trois fois

(4) Cet appel a priorité absolue sur les autres transmissions. Toutes les stations qui l'entendent doivent cesser immédiatement toute transmission susceptible de troubler le trafic de détresse et écouter sur l'onde d'émission de l'appel de détresse. Cet appel ne doit pas être adressé à une station déterminée et ne donne pas lieu à l'accusé de réception.

E. MESSAGE DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 6. (1) L'appel de détresse doit être suivi aussitôt que possible du message de détresse. Ce message comprend l'appel de détresse, suivi du nom du navire, de l'aéronef ou du véhicule en détresse, des indications relatives à la position de celui-ci, à la nature de la détresse et à la nature du secours demandé et, éventuellement, de tout autre renseignement qui pourrait faciliter ce secours.

(2) Lorsque, dans son message de détresse, un aéronef ne peut signaler sa position, il s'efforce, après la transmission du message incomplet, d'émettre son indicatif d'appel suffisamment longtemps pour permettre aux stations radiogoniométriques de déterminer sa position.

§ 7. (1) En règle générale, un navire ou un aéronef à la mer signale sa position en latitude et longitude (Greenwich), en employant des chiffres pour les degrés et les minutes, accompagnés de l'un des mots NORTH ou SOUTH et de l'un des mots EAST ou WEST; un point sépare les degrés des minutes. Eventuellement, le relèvement vrai et la distance en milles marins par rapport à un point géographique connu peuvent être donnés.

(2) Un navire muni d'appareils radiotélégraphiques, après avoir transmis ce message de détresse, transmet, dans la mesure du possible, l'indicatif d'appel du navire pendant un délai suffisamment long pour permettre aux stations terrestres et de navire munies de radiogoniomètres de déterminer sa position.

(3) En règle générale, un aéronef en vol au-dessus de la terre signale sa position par le nom de la localité la plus proche, sa distance approximative par rapport à celle-ci, accompagnée, selon le cas, de l'un des mots NORTH, SOUTH, EAST ou WEST ou, éventuellement, des mots indiquant les directions intermédiaires.

§ 8. L'appel et le message de détresse ne sont émis que sur ordre du commandant ou de la personne responsable du navire, de l'aéronef ou de tout autre véhicule portant la station mobile.

[553] (2) When circumstances permit, the transmission of the call shall be separated from the end of the alarm signal by a 2-minute silence.

[554] (3) The distress call shall include:

the distress signal transmitted three times,
the word DE, and the call signal of the mobile station in distress transmitted three times.

[555] (4) This call shall have absolute priority over other transmissions. All stations hearing it must immediately cease all transmission capable of interfering with the distress traffic, and must listen on the wave used for the distress call. This call must not be sent to any particular station and shall not require an acknowledgment of receipt.

E. DISTRESS MESSAGE

[556] §6. (1) The distress call must be followed as soon as possible by the distress message. This message shall include the distress call followed by the name of the ship, aircraft, or the vehicle in distress, information regarding the position of the latter, the nature of the distress and the nature of the help requested, and any other further information which might facilitate this assistance.

Distress message.

[557] (2) When, in its distress message, an aircraft is unable to signal its position, it shall endeavor after the transmission of the incomplete message to send its call signal long enough so that the radio direction-finding stations may determine its position.

[558] §7. (1) As a general rule, a ship or aircraft at sea shall signal its position in latitude and longitude (Greenwich) using figures, for the degrees and minutes, accompanied by one of the words NORTH or SOUTH and one of the words EAST or WEST. A period shall separate the degrees from the minutes. In some cases, the true bearings and the distance in nautical miles from some known geographical point may be given.

[559] (2) A ship equipped with radiotelegraph apparatus, after having sent this distress message, shall transmit, to the extent practicable, the ship's call signal for a period long enough to enable the land and ship stations equipped with radio direction-finders to determine its position.

[560] (3) As a general rule, an aircraft flying over land shall signal its position by the name of the nearest locality, its approximate distance from this point, accompanied, according to the case, by one of the words NORTH, SOUTH, EAST, or WEST, or, in some cases, words indicating intermediate directions.

[561] §8. The distress call and message shall be sent only by order of the master or person responsible for the ship, aircraft, or other vehicle carrying the mobile station.

§ 9. (1) Le message de détresse doit être répété, par intervalles, jusqu'à ce qu'une réponse soit reçue et, notamment, pendant les périodes de silence prévues à l'article 21, § 5.

(2) Le signal d'alarme peut également être répété, si nécessaire.

(3) Les intervalles doivent, toutefois, être suffisamment longs pour que les stations qui se préparent à répondre aient le temps de mettre leurs appareils émetteurs en marche.

(4) Dans le cas où la station de bord en détresse ne reçoit pas de réponse à un message de détresse transmis sur l'onde de 500 kc/s (600 m), le message peut être répété sur toute autre onde disponible, à l'aide de laquelle l'attention pourrait être attirée.

§ 10. De plus, une station mobile qui apprend qu'une autre station mobile est en détresse peut transmettre le message de détresse dans l'un des cas suivants:

- a) la station en détresse n'est pas à même de le transmettre elle-même;
- b) le commandant (ou son remplaçant) du navire, aéronef ou autre véhicule portant la station intervenante juge que d'autres secours sont nécessaires.

§ 11. (1) Les stations du service mobile qui reçoivent un message de détresse d'une station mobile se trouvant, sans doute possible, dans leur voisinage doivent en accuser réception immédiatement (voir les §§ 18 et 19 ci-dessous). Si l'appel de détresse n'a pas été précédé du signal d'alarme automatique, ces stations peuvent transmettre ce signal d'alarme automatique avec l'autorisation de l'autorité responsable de la station (pour les stations mobiles voir l'art. 11, § 1), en prenant soin de ne pas troubler la transmission de l'accusé de réception dudit message effectué par d'autres stations.

F. TRAFIC DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 12. Le trafic de détresse comprend tous les messages relatifs au secours immédiat nécessaire à la station mobile en détresse.

§ 13. Tout radiotélégramme d'un trafic de détresse doit comprendre le signal de détresse précédant l'appel et répété au début du préambule.

[562] §9. (1) The distress message must be repeated at intervals until an answer has been received, and especially during the periods of silence provided for in article 21, §5 [No. 492].

Ante, p. 1525.

[563] (2) The alarm signal may also be repeated, if necessary.

[564] (3) The intervals must, however, be sufficiently long so that stations preparing to reply may have time to put their transmitters in operation.

[565] (4) In case the on-board station in distress received no answer to a distress message sent on the 500-kc (600-m) wave, the message may be repeated on any other available wave by means of which attention might be attracted.

[566] §10. Furthermore, a mobile station which becomes aware that another mobile station is in distress, may transmit the distress message in either of the following cases:

[567] (a) when the station in distress is not itself in a position to transmit it;

[568] (b) when the master (or his relief) of the vessel, aircraft, or other vehicle carrying the station which intervenes, believes that further help is necessary.

[569] §11. (1) Stations of the mobile service which receive a distress message from a mobile station which is unquestionably in their vicinity, must acknowledge receipt thereof at once (see §§18 and 19 below) [Nos. 587, 588, and 589]. If the distress call has not been preceded by an auto-alarm signal, these stations may transmit this auto-alarm signal with the authorization of the authority responsible for the station (for mobile stations, see article 11, §1) [No. 276], taking care not to interfere with the transmission of the acknowledgment of the receipt of said message by other stations.

Post, p. 1543.

Ante, p. 1489.

[570] (2) Stations of the mobile service which receive a distress message from a mobile station which unquestionably is not in their vicinity, must wait a short period of time before acknowledging receipt thereof, in order to make it possible for stations nearer to the mobile station in distress to answer and acknowledge receipt without interference.<sup>1</sup>

F. DISTRESS TRAFFIC

[571] §12. Distress traffic shall include all messages relative to immediate assistance needed by the mobile station in distress.

Distress traffic.

[572] §13. Every distress-traffic radiotelegram must include the distress signal preceding the call and repeated at the beginning of the preamble.

[573] §14. The control of distress traffic shall devolve upon the mobile station in distress or upon the mobile station which, by application of the provisions of §10 (a) [No. 567], has sent the distress call. These stations may delegate the control of the distress traffic to another station.

[574] §15. (1) When it considers it indispensable, any station of the mobile service in the proximity of the ship, aircraft, or vehicle in peut imposer silence soit à toutes les stations du service mobile dans la zone, soit à une station qui troublerait le trafic de détresse. Dans les deux cas il est fait usage de l'abréviation réglementaire (QRT) suivie du mot DETRESSE; suivant le cas, les indications sont adressées "à tous" ou seulement à une station. L'emploi de l'abréviation QRT doit être réservé, autant que possible, au navire en détresse et à la station qui exerce la direction du trafic de détresse.

(2) Lorsque la station en détresse veut imposer silence, elle emploie la procédure qui vient d'être indiquée, en substituant le signal de détresse . . . — — — . . . au mot DETRESSE.

§ 16. (1) Toute station qui entend un appel de détresse doit se conformer aux prescriptions du § 5, (4).

(2) Toute station du service mobile qui a connaissance d'un trafic de détresse doit suivre ce trafic, même si elle n'y participe pas.

(3) Pendant toute la durée d'un trafic de détresse, il est interdit à toutes les stations qui ont connaissance de ce trafic et qui n'y participent pas:

- a) d'employer l'onde de détresse [500 kc/s (600 m)] ou l'onde sur laquelle a lieu le trafic de détresse;
- b) d'employer des ondes du type B.

(4) Une station du service mobile qui, tout en suivant un trafic de détresse dont elle a connaissance, est capable de continuer son service normal, peut le faire, lorsque le trafic de détresse est bien établi, dans les conditions suivantes:

- a) l'emploi des ondes indiquées en (3) est interdit;
- b) l'emploi des ondes du type A1, à l'exception de celles qui pourraient troubler le trafic de détresse, lui est permis;
- c) l'emploi des ondes des types A2 ou A3 ne lui est permis que dans la ou les bandes affectées au service mobile et qui ne comprennent pas de fréquence utilisée pour le trafic de détresse [la bande autour de 500 kc/s (600 m) s'étend de 385 à 550 kc/s (779 à 545 m)].

§ 17. Lorsque l'observation du silence n'est plus nécessaire ou que le trafic de détresse est terminé, la station qui a eu la direction de ce trafic transmet sur l'onde de détresse et, s'il y a lieu, sur l'onde utilisée pour ce trafic de détresse, un message adressé "à tous" indiquant que le trafic de détresse est terminé. Ce message affecte la forme suivante:

- le signal de détresse,
- l'appel à tous CQ (trois fois),
- le mot DE,
- l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui transmet le message (une fois),
- l'heure de dépôt du message,
- le nom et l'indicatif d'appel de la station mobile qui était en détresse,
- l'abréviation "QUM".

distress, may impose silence either to all the stations of the mobile service in the zone, or to any one station which may be causing interference with the distress traffic. In both cases, the regulatory abbreviation (QRT) shall be used, followed by the word DISTRESS; these indications shall be addressed "to all" stations or to one station only, as the case may be. The use of the abbreviation QRT must be reserved, so far as possible, for the ship in distress and for the station which is directing the distress traffic.

[575] (2) When the station in distress wishes to impose silence, it shall use the above-mentioned procedure, substituting the distress signal . . . — — . . . for the word DISTRESS.

[576] §16. (1) Any station hearing a distress call must conform to the provisions of §5 (4) [No. 555].

[578] (2) Any station of the mobile service which becomes aware of distress traffic must listen to this traffic even if it is not taking part in it.

[579] (3) For the entire duration of distress traffic, it shall be prohibited for all stations which are aware of this traffic and which are not taking part in it:

[580] (a) to use the distress wave [500 kc (600 m)] or the wave on which the distress traffic is taking place;

[581] (b) to use type-B waves.

[582] (4) A station of the mobile service which, while following distress traffic of which it is aware, is able to continue its normal service, may do so, when the distress traffic is well established, under the following conditions:

[583] (a) the use of the waves specified in (3) [Nos. 579 to 581] shall be forbidden;

[584] (b) the use of type-A1 waves, with the exception of those which might interfere with the distress traffic, shall be permitted;

[585] (c) it shall be allowed to use type-A2 or -A3 waves only in the band or bands allocated to the mobile service and which do not include frequencies used for distress traffic [the band around 500 kc (600 m) extends from 385 to 550 kc (779 to 545 m)].

[586] §17. When it is no longer necessary to observe silence, or when the distress traffic is ended, the station which has controlled this traffic shall send on the distress-wave, and, where necessary, on the wave used for this distress traffic, a message addressed "to all", indicating that the distress traffic is ended. This message shall take the following form:

the distress signal,
CQ call "to all" (three times),
the word DE,
call signal of the station transmitting the message (once), time of filing of the message, name and call signal of the mobile station which was in distress, abbreviation "QUM".

G. ACCUSÉ DE RÉCEPTION D'UN MESSAGE DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 18. L'accusé de réception d'un message de détresse est donné sous la forme suivante:

l'indicatif d'appel de la station mobile en détresse (trois fois),
le mot DE,
l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui accuse réception (trois fois), le groupe RRR,
le signal de détresse.

§ 19. (1) Toute station mobile qui donne l'accusé de réception à un message de détresse doit, sur ordre du commandant ou de son remplaçant, faire connaître, aussitôt que possible, les renseignements ci-dessous dans l'ordre indiqué:

son nom,
sa position dans la forme indiquée au § 7, la vitesse maximum avec laquelle elle se dirige vers le navire (aéronef ou autre véhicule) en détresse.

(2) Avant d'émettre ce message, la station devra s'assurer qu'elle ne brouille pas les émissions d'autres stations mieux placées pour apporter un secours immédiat à la station en détresse.

H. RÉPÉTITION D'UN APPEL OU D'UN MESSAGE DE DÉTRESSE.

§ 20. (1) Toute station du service mobile, qui n'est pas à même de fournir du secours et qui a entendu un message de détresse auquel il n'a pas été donné immédiatement d'accusé de réception, doit prendre toutes les dispositions possibles pour attirer l'attention des stations du service mobile qui sont en situation de fournir du secours.

(2) Dans ce but, avec l'autorisation de l'autorité responsable de la station, l'appel de détresse ou le message de détresse peut être répété. Cette répétition est, en général, précédée de l'émission du signal d'alarme automatique, tel que ce dernier est défini au § 21. Un intervalle de temps suffisant est ménagé entre l'émission du signal d'alarme automatique et la répétition de l'appel (ou du message) de détresse pour que les stations mobiles dont l'écoute n'est pas permanente et qui se trouvent alertées par le fonctionnement de leur appareil d'alarme automatique aient le temps de se porter à l'écoute. La répétition de l'appel (ou du message) de détresse est faite à pleine puissance, soit sur l'onde de détresse, soit sur une des ondes qui peuvent être employées en cas de détresse (§ 3 du présent article); en même temps, toutes les dispositions nécessaires seront prises pour aviser les autorités qui peuvent intervenir utilement.

(3) Une station qui répète un appel de détresse ou un message de détresse le fait suivre du mot DE et de son propre indicatif d'appel transmis 3 fois.

I. SIGNAL D'ALARME AUTOMATIQUE.

§ 21. (1) Le signal d'alarme se compose d'une série de douze traits transmis en une minute, la durée de chaque trait étant de

G. ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT OF A DISTRESS MESSAGE

[587] §18. The acknowledgment of receipt of a distress message shall be given in the following form:

Acknowledgment of receipt of distress message.

call signal of the mobile station in distress (three times),
the word DE,
call signal of the station acknowledging receipt (three times), group RRR,
distress signal.

[588] §19. (1) Any mobile station acknowledging receipt of a distress message must, on the order of the master or his relief, give the following information as soon as possible, in the order indicated:

its name,
its position, in the form specified in §7 [Nos. 558, 559, and 560], the maximum speed at which it is proceeding toward the ship (aircraft or other vehicle) in distress.

Ante, p. 1537.

[589] (2) Before transmitting this message the station must make sure that it is not interfering with the emissions of other stations in a better position to render immediate assistance to the station in distress.

H. REPETITION OF A DISTRESS CALL OR MESSAGE

[590] §20. (1) Any station of the mobile service which is not in a position to render assistance and which has heard a distress message for which acknowledgment of receipt has not immediately been given, must take all possible steps to attract the attention of stations of the mobile service which are in a position to furnish help.

Repetition of distress call or message.

[591] (2) For this purpose, with the permission of the authority responsible for the station, the distress call or distress message may be repeated; this repetition shall be preceded generally by transmission of the auto-alarm signal as defined in §21. A sufficient interval of time shall be provided between the transmission of the auto-alarm signal and the repetition of the distress call (or message) so that mobile stations whose watch is not permanent and which are warned by the sounding of their auto-alarm apparatus may have time to go on watch. Repetition of the distress call (or message) shall be made at full power, either on the distress-wave or on one of the waves which may be used in case of distress (§3 of this article) [Nos. 546, 547, and 548]; at the same time all necessary steps shall be taken to inform the authorities whose assistance may be advantageous.

Ante, p. 1535.

[592] (3) A station which repeats a distress call or a distress message shall transmit after it the word DE followed by its own call signal three times.

I. AUTOMATIC ALARM SIGNAL

[593] §21. (1) The alarm signal shall consist of a series of 12 dashes sent in one minute, the duration of each dash being four seconds and quatre secondes et la durée de l'intervalle entre deux traits de une seconde. Il peut être émis à la main ou par un appareil automatique. Toute station de navire travaillant dans la bande de 365 à 515 kc/s (822 à 583 m) qui ne dispose pas d'un appareil automatique pour l'émission du signal d'alarme automatique doit être pourvue en permanence d'une pendule indiquant nettement la seconde et de préférence munie d'une aiguille trotteuse faisant un tour par minute. Cette pendule doit être placée en un point suffisamment visible de la table de manipulation pour que l'opérateur puisse, en la suivant du regard, donner sans difficulté aux différents signaux élémentaires du signal d'alarme leur durée correcte.

Automatic alarm signal.

(2) Ce signal spécial a pour seul but de faire fonctionner les appareils automatiques donnant l'alarme. Il doit être employé uniquement soit pour annoncer qu'un appel ou message de détresse va suivre, soit pour annoncer une émission d'avis urgent de cyclone; dans ce dernier cas, il ne peut être employé que par les stations côtières dûment autorisées par leur gouvernement.

(3) Dans les cas de détresse, l'emploi du signal d'alarme est indiqué au § 5, (1); dans le cas d'avis urgent de cyclone, l'émission de cet avis ne doit commencer que deux minutes après la fin du signal d'alarme.

(4) Les appareils automatiques destinés à la réception du signal d'alarme doivent satisfaire aux conditions suivantes:

1° répondre au signal d'alarme, même lorsque de nombreux postes travaillent, et aussi quand il y a du brouillage atmosphérique;

2° n'être pas mis en action par des "atmosphériques" ou par des signaux puissants autres que le signal d'alarme;

3° posséder une sensibilité égale à celle d'un récepteur détecteur-cristal relié à la même antenne;

4° avertir quand son fonctionnement cesse d'être normal.

(5) Avant qu'un récepteur automatique d'alarme soit approuvé pour l'usage des navires, l'administration dont ils relèvent doit s'être assurée, par des expériences pratiques faites dans des conditions de brouillage convenables, que l'appareil satisfait aux prescriptions du présent Règlement.

(6) L'adoption du type de signal d'alarme mentionné en (1) n'empêche pas une administration d'autoriser l'emploi d'un appareil automatique qui répondrait aux conditions fixées ci-dessus et qui serait actionné par le signal de détresse . . . — — . . . . .

J. SIGNAL D'URGENCE.

§ 22. (1) En radiotélégraphie, le signal d'urgence consiste en trois répétitions du groupe XXX, transmis en séparant bien les lettres de chaque groupe et les groupes successifs; il est émis avant l'appel.

the duration of the interval between two dashes, one second. It can be transmitted by hand or by means of an automatic instrument. Any ship station working in the band of 365 to 515 kc (822 to 583 m), which is not provided with an automatic apparatus for the transmission of the auto-alarm signal, must be permanently equipped with a clock distinctly marking the seconds, preferably by means of a moving hand completing one revolution per minute. This clock must be placed at a point sufficiently visible from the keying table so that the operator may, by watching it, easily and correctly time the different elements of the alarm signal.

[594] (2) The only purpose of this special signal is to set into operation the automatic apparatus used to give the alarm. It must only be used either to announce that a distress call or message is to follow, or to announce the transmission of an urgent cyclone warning; in the latter case it can only be used by coast stations duly authorized by their government.

[595] (3) In cases of distress, the use of the alarm signal is indicated in §5 (1) [No. 552]; in the case of urgent cyclone warnings, the emission of this warning must begin only two minutes after the end of the alarm signal.

Ante, p. 1535.

[596] (4) The automatic instruments intended for the reception of the alarm signal must satisfy the following conditions:

[597] 1. They must be set into operation by the alarm signal even when numerous stations are working, and also when there is atmospheric interference;

[598] 2. They must not be made to operate by "atmospherics" or by powerful signals other than the alarm signal;

[599] 3. They must possess a sensitivity equal to that of a crystal-detector receiver connected to the same antenna;

[600] 4. They must give warning when their operation ceases to be normal.

[601] (5) Before an automatic alarm receiver may be approved for use on ships, the administration having jurisdiction must be satisfied by practical tests made under suitable conditions of interference, that the apparatus complies with the provisions of these Regulations.

[602] (6) The adoption of the type of alarm signal mentioned in (1) [No. 593] shall not prevent an administration from authorizing the use of an automatic instrument complying with the conditions set forth above and which would be operated by the distress signal . . . — — — . . .

J. URGENT SIGNAL

[603] §22. (1) In radiotelegraphy, the urgent signal shall consist of the group XXX transmitted three times, with the letters of each group, as well as the consecutive groups, well separated; it shall be sent before the call.

Urgent signal.

(2) En radiotéléphonie, le signal d'urgence consiste en trois répétitions de l'expression PAN (correspondant à la prononciation française du mot "panne"); il est émis avant l'appel.

(3) Le signal d'urgence indique que la station appelante a un message très urgent à transmettre concernant la sécurité d'un navire, d'un aéronef, d'un autre véhicule ou celle d'une personne quelconque se trouvant à bord ou en vue du bord.

(4) Dans le service aéronautique, le signal d'urgence PAN est employé en radiotélégraphie et en radiotéléphonie pour indiquer que l'aéronef qui l'émet est en difficulté et obligé d'atterrir, mais qu'il n'a pas besoin de secours immédiat. Ce signal doit être, autant que possible, suivi d'un message donnant des renseignements complémentaires.

(5) Le signal d'urgence a la priorité sur toutes autres communications, sauf sur celles de détresse, et toutes les stations mobiles ou terrestres qui l'entendent doivent prendre soin de ne pas brouiller la transmission du message qui suit le signal d'urgence.

(6) Dans le cas où le signal d'urgence est employé par une station mobile, ce signal doit, en règle générale et sous réserve des dispositions de l'alinéa (4) ci-dessus, être adressé à une station déterminée.

§ 23. Quand le signal d'urgence est employé, les messages que ce signal précède doivent, en règle générale, être rédigés en langage clair, sauf dans le cas des messages médicaux, entre des navires ou entre un navire et une station côtière.

§ 24. (1) Les stations mobiles qui entendent le signal d'urgence doivent rester sur écoute pendant trois minutes au moins. Passé ce délai, et si aucun message d'urgence n'a été entendu, elles peuvent reprendre leur service normal.

(2) Toutefois, les stations terrestres et de bord qui sont en communication sur des ondes autres que celles utilisées pour la transmission du signal d'urgence et de l'appel qui le suit peuvent continuer sans arrêt leur travail normal, à moins qu'il ne s'agisse d'un message adressé "à tous" (CQ).

§ 25. (1) Le signal d'urgence ne peut être transmis qu'avec l'autorisation du commandant ou de la personne responsable du navire, de l'aéronef ou de tout autre véhicule portant la station mobile.

(2) Dans le cas d'une station terrestre, le signal d'urgence ne peut être transmis qu'avec l'approbation de l'autorité responsable.

(3) Lorsque le signal d'urgence a été employé avant l'émission d'un message destiné à toutes les stations et comportant des mesures à prendre par les stations qui ont reçu ce message, la station responsable de l'émission doit l'annuler aussitôt qu'elle sait qu'il n'est plus nécessaire d'y donner suite. Ce message d'annulation doit également être adressé "à tous" (CQ).

K. SIGNAL DE SÉCURITÉ.

§ 26. (1) En radiotélégraphie, le signal de sécurité consiste en trois répétitions du groupe TTT, transmis en séparant bien les lettres de chaque groupe et les groupes successifs. Ce signal est suivi du mot

[604] (2) In radiotelephony the urgent signal shall consist of three transmissions of the expression PAN (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the word "panne"); it shall be transmitted before the call.

[605] (3) The urgent signal shall indicate that the calling station has a very urgent message to transmit concerning the safety of a ship, an aircraft, or another vehicle, or concerning the safety of some person on board or sighted from on board.

[606] (4) In the aeronautical service, the urgent signal PAN shall be used in radiotelegraphy and in radiotelephony to indicate that the aircraft transmitting it is in trouble and is forced to land, but that it is not in need of immediate help. This signal should, so far as possible, be followed by a message giving additional information.

[607] (5) The urgent signal shall have priority over all other communications, except distress communications, and all mobile or land stations hearing it must take care not to interfere with the transmission of the message which follows the urgent signal.

[609] §23. When the urgent signal is used the messages which this signal precedes must, as a general rule, be written in plain language, except in the case of medical messages exchanged between ships or between a ship and a coast station.

[610] §24. (1) Mobile stations hearing the urgent signal must listen for at least three minutes. After this interval, and if no urgent message has been heard, they may resume their normal service.

[611] (2) However, land and on-board stations which are in communication on waves other than those used for the transmission of the urgent signal and the call following it, may continue their normal work without interruption, unless the message is addressed "to all" (CQ).

[612] §25. (1) The urgent signal may be transmitted only with the authorization of the master or of the person responsible for the ship, aircraft, or any other vehicle carrying the mobile station.

[613] (2) In the case of a land station, the urgent signal may be transmitted only with the approval of the responsible authority.

[614] (3) When the urgent signal has been used before the transmission of a message intended for all stations and including measures to be taken by stations which have received this message, the station responsible for the transmission must cancel it as soon as it knows that there is no longer necessity of acting upon it. This message of cancelation must likewise be addressed "to all" (CQ).

K. SAFETY SIGNAL

[615] §26. (1) In radiotelegraphy, the safety signal shall consist of the group TTT, transmitted three times, with the letters of each group, as well as the consecutive groups, well separated. This signal Safety signal.

DE et de trois fois l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui l'émet. Il annonce que cette station va transmettre un message concernant la sécurité de la navigation ou donnant des avertissements météorologiques importants.

(2) En radiotéléphonie, le mot SECURITE (correspondant à la prononciation française du mot "sécurité") répété trois fois est utilisé comme signal de sécurité.

§ 27. Le signal de sécurité et le message qui le suit sont transmis sur l'onde de détresse ou sur une des ondes qui peuvent éventuellement être employées en cas de détresse (voir § 3 du présent article).

§ 28. (1) Dans le service mobile maritime, en dehors des messages dont la transmission est faite à heure fixe, le signal de sécurité doit être transmis vers la fin de la première période de silence qui se présente (article 21, § 5) et le message est transmis immédiatement après la période de silence; dans les cas prévus à l'article 32, A, § 4, (3) et § 5, (1), B, § 7, le signal de sécurité et le message qui le suit doivent être transmis dans le plus bref délai possible, mais doivent être répétés, comme il vient d'être indiqué, à la première période de silence suivante.

(2) Toutes les stations qui perçoivent le signal de sécurité doivent rester à l'écoute sur l'onde sur laquelle le signal de sécurité a été émis jusqu'à ce que le message ainsi annoncé soit terminé; elles doivent de plus observer le silence sur toute onde susceptible de brouiller le message.

(3) Les règles précédentes sont applicables au service aéronautique dans la limite où elles ne sont pas en opposition avec des arrangements régionaux assurant à la navigation aérienne une protection au moins égale.

ARTICLE 25.

Vacations des stations du service mobile.

§ 1. (1) Afin de permettre l'application des règles indiquées ci-dessous au sujet des heures de veille, toute station du service mobile doit avoir une montre précise et prendre les dispositions voulues pour que celle-ci soit correctement réglée sur le temps moyen de Greenwich (T.M.G.).

(2) Le temps moyen de Greenwich (T. M. G.) (compté de 0000 à 2400 heures à partir de minuit) sera employé pour toutes les inscriptions dans le journal du service radioélectrique, et dans tous les autres documents analogues des navires obligatoirement munis d'appareils radioélectriques en exécution d'un accord international; il en sera autant que possible de même pour les autres navires.

A. STATIONS TERRESTRES.

§ 2. (1) Le service des stations terrestres est, autant que possible, permanent (de jour et de nuit). Toutefois, certaines stations terrestres peuvent avoir un service de durée limitée. Chaque administration ou exploitation privée, dûment autorisée à cet effet, fixe les heures de service des stations terrestres placées sous son autorité.

shall be followed by the word DE and three transmissions of the call signal of the station sending it. It announces that this station is about to transmit a message concerning the safety of navigation or giving important meteorological warnings.

[616] (2) In radiotelephony, the word SECURITY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the word "sécurité") repeated three times, shall be used as the safety signal.

[617] §27. The safety signal and the message which follows it shall be transmitted on the distress-wave or on one of the waves which, in some instances, may be used in case of distress (see §3 of this article) [Nos. 546, 547, and 548].

Ante, p. 1535.

[618] §28. (1) In the maritime mobile service, apart from messages transmitted according to a schedule, the safety signal must be transmitted toward the end of the first ensuing period of silence (article 21, §5) [No. 492], and the message shall be transmitted immediately after the period of silence; in the cases provided for in article 32, A, §4 (3) and §5 (1), B, §7 [Nos. 741, 744, and 747], the safety signal and the message which follows it must be transmitted with as little delay as possible, but must be repeated, as has just been indicated, at the first ensuing period of silence.

Ante, p. 1525.

Post, pp. 1571, 1573.

[619] (2) All stations hearing the safety signal must continue listening on the wave on which the safety signal has been sent until the message so announced has been completed; they must moreover keep silence on all waves likely to interfere with the message.

[620] (3) The foregoing rules shall be applicable to the aeronautical service so far as they are not in conflict with regional arrangements providing aerial navigation with at least equivalent protection.

ARTICLE 25

Working Hours of Stations of the Mobile Service

[621] §1. (1) In order to permit the application of the rules indicated below regarding the hours of watch, every station of the mobile service must have an accurate clock and must take the necessary steps to see that it is correctly adjusted to Greenwich mean time (G.M.T.)

Working hours of stations of mobile service.

[622] (2) Greenwich mean time (G.M.T.) (counted from 00:00 to 24:00 o'clock, beginning at midnight) shall be used for all entries in the radio service log and in all other similar documents of ships compulsorily equipped with radio apparatus pursuant to an international agreement; the same shall, so far as possible, apply to other ships.

A. LAND STATIONS

[623] §2. (1) The service of land stations shall, so far as possible, be continuous (day and night). However, the duration of the service of certain land stations may be limited. Each administration or public enterprise duly authorized to this effect shall determine the service hours of the land stations under its authority.

Land stations.

(2) Les stations terrestres dont le service n'est pas permanent ne peuvent prendre clôture avant d'avoir:

1° terminé toutes les opérations motivées par un appel de détresse;
2° échangé tous les radiotélégrammes originaux ou à destination des stations mobiles qui se trouvent dans leur rayon d'action et ont signalé leur présence avant la cessation effective du travail.

(3) Le service des stations aéronautiques est continu pendant toute la durée du vol dans le ou les secteurs du ou des parcours dont la station considérée assure le service des radiocommunications.

B. STATIONS DE NAVIRE.

§ 3. (1) Pour le service international de la correspondance publique, les stations de navire sont classées, suivant la réglementation intérieure des administrations dont elles dépendent, en trois catégories:

stations de première catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service permanent; stations de deuxième catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service de durée limitée, tel qu'il est indiqué à l'alinéa (2) ci-dessous; stations de troisième catégorie: ces stations effectuent un service de durée plus limitée que celui des stations de deuxième catégorie ou un service dont la durée n'est pas fixée par le présent Règlement.

(2) a) Les stations de navire classées dans la deuxième catégorie doivent assurer le service au moins pendant la durée qui leur est attribuée dans l'appendice 6. Il est fait mention de cette durée dans la licence.

b) Dans le cas de courtes traversées, elles assurent le service pendant les heures fixées par l'administration dont elles dépendent.

(3) Le cas échéant, les heures de service des stations de navire de la troisième catégorie peuvent être mentionnées dans la nomenclature.

§ 4. (1) Les stations de navire dont le service n'est pas permanent ne peuvent prendre clôture qu'après avoir:

1° terminé toutes les opérations motivées par un appel de détresse;

2° échangé autant que possible tous les radiotélégrammes originaux ou à destination des stations terrestres qui se trouvent dans leur rayon d'action et des stations mobiles qui, se trouvant dans leur rayon d'action, ont signalé leur présence avant la cessation effective du travail.

[624] (2) Land stations the service of which is not continuous may not close before having:

[625] 1. Finished all operations called for by a distress call;

[626] 2. Exchanged all radiotelegrams originating in or destined to the mobile stations which are within their range and have signaled their presence before the effective cessation of work.

[627] (3) The service of aeronautical stations shall be continuous during the entire period of flight in the sector or sectors of the course or courses for which the station in question carries on the radio service.

B. SHIP STATIONS

[628] §3. (1) For the international service of public correspondence, ship stations shall be classified into three categories according to the internal regulations of the administration to which they are subject, as follows:

Ship stations.

[629] stations of the first category: these stations shall carry on a continuous service;

[630] stations of the second category: these stations shall carry on a service of limited duration, as outlined in paragraph (2) below [Nos. 632 and 633];

[631] stations of the third category: these stations shall carry on a service of a more limited duration than that of the stations of the second category, or a service the duration of which is not determined by these Regulations.

[632] (2) (a) Ship stations classified in the second category must carry on their service at least during the period assigned to them in appendix 6. This period shall be mentioned in the license.

[633] (b) In the case of short crossings, they shall carry on the service during the hours determined by the administration to which they belong.

[634] (3) In certain cases, the service hours of stations on ships of the third category may be mentioned in the nomenclature.

[635] (4) As a general rule, when a coast station has traffic on hand for a ship station of the third category not having fixed listening hours which is presumed to be within the range of the coast station, the latter shall call the ship station during the first half hour of the first and third listening periods of ship stations of the second category carrying on an 8-hour service in accordance with the provisions of appendix 6.

Post, p. 1601.

[636] §4. (1) Ship stations the service of which is not continuous may not close before having:

[637] 1. Finished all operations called for by a distress call;

[638] 2. Exchanged, so far as possible, all radiotelegrams originating in or destined to land stations which are within their range, and mobile stations which, being within their range, have signaled their presence before the effective cessation of work.

(2) Une station mobile qui n'a pas de vacations déterminées doit communiquer à la station terrestre, avec laquelle elle est entrée en relation, l'heure de clôture et l'heure de réouverture de son service.

(3) a) Toute station mobile arrivant dans un port et dont le service est, par suite, sur le point de cesser doit en avertir la station terrestre la plus proche et, s'il est utile, les autres stations terrestres avec lesquelles elle correspond en général.

Elle ne doit prendre clôture qu'après liquidation du trafic en instance, à moins que les dispositions du pays où elle fait escale ne le permettent pas.

b) Lors de son départ, elle doit aviser de sa réouverture la ou les stations terrestres intéressées dès le moment où cette réouverture lui est permise par les dispositions en vigueur dans le pays où se trouve le port de départ.

C. STATIONS D'AÉRONEF.

§ 5. En ce qui concerne le service international de la correspondance publique, les stations d'aéronef constituent une seule catégorie. Ces stations effectuent un service dont la durée n'est pas fixée par le présent Règlement.

D. CLASSE ET NOMBRE MINIMUM D'OPÉRATEURS.

§ 6. En ce qui concerne le service international de la correspondance publique des stations mobiles, il appartient à chaque gouvernement contractant de prendre les mesures nécessaires pour que les stations de sa nationalité aient un personnel suffisant pour assurer un service efficace pendant les heures qui correspondent à la catégorie dans laquelle ces stations sont classées; le personnel de ces stations devra, compte tenu de l'article 10, § 9, (G. Stages professionnels) comporter au moins:

1° pour les stations de navire de la première catégorie: un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re classe;

2° pour les stations de navire de la deuxième catégorie: un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re ou de 2e classe;

3° a) pour les stations de navire de la troisième catégorie, sauf dans les cas prévus aux littéras b) et c) qui suivent, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 2e classe;

b) pour les stations des navires auxquels l'installation radiotélégraphique n'est pas imposée par des accords internationaux, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat spécial, répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, D, § 6;

c) pour les stations des navires munis d'une installation radiotéléphonique de faible puissance, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste, répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, F, § 8.

4° a) pour les stations d'aéronef, sauf dans les cas prévus aux alinéas b) et c) qui suivent, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotélégraphiste de 1re ou de 2e classe, suivant les dispositions d'ordre intérieur prises par les gouvernements dont dépendent ces stations;

[639] (2) A mobile station which has no fixed working hours must advise the land station with which it is in communication of the closing and reopening hours of its service.

[640] (3) (a) Any mobile station which arrives in a port and the service of which is accordingly about to close, must so advise the nearest land station and, if necessary, the other land stations with which it generally communicates.

[641] It must not close until it has cleared all traffic on hand, unless the regulations of the country where it calls prohibit.

[642] (b) At the time of its departure, it must advise the interested land station or stations of its reopening, as soon as such reopening is permitted by the regulations in force within the country in which the port of departure is located.

C. AIRCRAFT STATIONS

[643] §5. With respect to the international service of public correspondence, aircraft stations shall constitute a single category. These stations shall carry on a service the duration of which is not determined by the present Regulations.

Aircraft stations.

D. CLASS AND MINIMUM NUMBER OF OPERATORS

[644] §6. Concerning the international service of public correspondence of mobile stations, it shall devolve upon each contracting government to take the appropriate steps to have the stations of its nationality carry adequate personnel to insure effective service during the hours which correspond to the category in which these stations are classified; taking account of article 10, G, §9, the personnel of these stations must include at least:

Class and minimum number of operators.

[645] 1. For ship stations of the first category, an operator holding a first-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate;

[646] 2. For ship stations of the second category, an operator holding a first- or second-class operator's certificate;

[647] 3. (a) For ship stations of the third category, except in the cases provided for in paragraphs (b) and (c) below [Nos. 648 and 649], an operator holding a second-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate;

[648] (b) For ship stations of which radiotelegraph equipment is not made compulsory by international agreements, an operator holding a special certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, D, §6;

Ante, p. 1485.

[649] (c) For ship stations equipped with a low-power radiotelephone installation, an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, F, §8;

Ante, p. 1487.

[650] 4. (a) For aircraft stations, except in the cases provided for in paragraphs (b) and (c) below [Nos. 651 and 652], an operator holding a first- or second-class radiotelegraph operator's certificate, according to provisions of an internal character laid down by the government to which these stations are subject;

- b) pour les stations des aéronefs auxquels l'installation radiotélégraphique n'est pas imposée par des accords internationaux, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat spécial répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, D, § 6;
- c) pour les stations des aéronefs munis d'une installation radiotéléphonique de faible puissance, un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste, répondant aux conditions de l'article 10, F, § 8.

ARTICLE 26.

Ordre de priorité des communications dans le service mobile.

L'ordre de priorité des radiocommunications dans le service mobile est le suivant:

- 1° appels de détresse, messages de détresse et trafic de détresse;
- 2° communications précédées d'un signal d'urgence;
- 3° communications précédées du signal de sécurité;
- 4° communications relatives aux relèvements radiogoniométriques;
- 5° radiotélégrammes d'Etat pour lesquels le droit de priorité n'a pas été abandonné;
- 6° toutes les autres communications.

ARTICLE 27.

Indication de la station d'origine des radiotélégrammes.

§ 1. Lorsque, par suite d'homonymie, le nom d'une station est suivi de l'indicatif de cette station, on sépare ce dernier du nom de la station par une barre de fraction. Exemple: Oregon/OZOC (et non Oregonozoc); Rose/DDOR (et non Roseddor).

§ 3. La station terrestre peut, si elle le juge utile, compléter l'indication du nom de la station mobile d'origine par le mot "navire" ou "avion" ou "dirigeable" placé avant le nom de ladite station d'origine, en vue d'éviter toute confusion avec un bureau télégraphique ou une station fixe de même nom.

ARTICLE 28.

Direction à donner aux radiotélégrammes.

§ 1. (1) En règle générale, la station mobile qui fait usage d'ondes du type A2, A3 ou B comprises dans la bande de 365 à 515 kc/s (822 à 583 m) transmet ses radiotélégrammes à la station terrestre la plus proche. En vue d'accélérer ou de faciliter la transmission des radiotélégrammes elle peut cependant les transmettre à une autre station

- [651] (b) For stations on board aircraft for which radiotelegraph equipment is not made compulsory by international agreements, an operator holding a special certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, D, §6;
- [652] (c) For stations on board aircraft equipped with a low-power radiotelephone installation, an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate covering the conditions contained in article 10, F, §8.

Ante, p. 1485.

Ante, p. 1487.

ARTICLE 26

Order of Priority of Communications in the Mobile Service

[653] The order of priority of radio communications in the mobile service shall be as follows:

Communications in mobile service.
Order of priority.

1. Distress calls, distress messages, and distress traffic;
2. Communications preceded by an urgent signal;
3. Communications preceded by a safety signal;
4. Communications relative to radio direction-finding bearings;
5. Government radiotelegrams for which priority right has not been waived;
6. All other communications.

ARTICLE 27

Indication of the Station of Origin of Radiotelegrams

[654] §1. When the name of a station is to be followed by the call signal of that station, because of homonymy, the latter shall be separated from the name of the station by a fraction bar. Example: Oregon/OZOC (and not Oregonozoc); Rose/DDOR (and not Roseddor).

Indication of station of origin.

[655] §2. When reforwarding, over the communication channels of the general network, a radiotelegram received from a mobile station, the land station shall transmit, as the origin, the name of the mobile station where the radiotelegram originated, as that name is shown in the nomenclature, followed by the name of the said land station. If need be, the provisions of §1 [No. 654] shall also be applied.

[656] §3. If it deems advisable, the land station may complete the indication of the mobile station of origin by the word "ship," or "airplane," or "dirigible" placed before the name of the said station of origin, for the purpose of avoiding any confusion with a telegraph office or a fixed station having the same name.

ARTICLE 28

Routing of Radiotelegrams

[657] §1. (1) As a general rule, a mobile station using type-A2, -A3, or -B waves within the band 365 to 515 kc (822 to 583 m) shall send its radiotelegrams to the nearest land station. In order to accelerate or facilitate the transmission of radiotelegrams, it may, however, transmit them to another mobile station. The latter shall treat radio-mobile. Cette dernière traite les radiotélégrammes ainsi reçus comme ceux déposés chez elle-même (voir également l'article 7 du Règlement additionnel).

(2) Toutefois, lorsque la station mobile peut choisir entre plusieurs stations terrestres se trouvant approximativement à la même distance, elle doit donner la préférence à celle qui est située sur le territoire du pays de destination ou de transit normal des radiotélégrammes. Quand la station choisie n'est pas la plus proche, la station mobile doit cesser le travail ou changer de type ou de fréquence d'émission à la première demande faite par la station terrestre du service intéressé qui est réellement la plus proche, demande motivée par le brouillage que ledit travail cause à celle-ci.

§ 3. Si l'expéditeur d'un radiotélégramme déposé dans une station mobile a désigné la station terrestre à laquelle il désire que son radiotélégramme soit transmis, la station mobile doit, pour effectuer cette transmission à la station terrestre indiquée, attendre éventuellement que les conditions prévues aux paragraphes précédents soient remplies.

ARTICLE 29.

Comptabilité des radiotélégrammes.

A. ETABLISSEMENT DES COMPTES.

§ 1. En principe, les taxes terrestres et de bord n'entrent pas dans les comptes télégraphiques internationaux.

§ 2. Les gouvernements se réservent la faculté de prendre entre eux et avec les exploitations privées intéressées des arrangements différents, en vue de l'adoption d'autres dispositions concernant la comptabilité, notamment l'adoption, autant que possible, du système sous lequel les taxes terrestres et de bord suivent les radiotélégrammes de pays à pays, par la voie des comptes télégraphiques. De tels arrangements sont sujets à un accord préalable entre les administrations intéressées.

§ 3. Sauf arrangement différent, suivant les dispositions du § 2 ci-dessus, les comptes concernant ces taxes sont établis mensuellement par les administrations dont dépendent les stations terrestres et communiqués par elles aux administrations intéressées.

§ 4 (1) Dans le cas où l'exploitant des stations terrestres n'est pas l'administration du pays, cet exploitant peut être substitué, en ce qui concerne les comptes, à l'administration de ce pays.

(2) Les radiotélégrammes visés à l'article 20 § 9 peuvent entrer éventuellement dans un compte destiné à l'administration dont le navire dépend.

telegrams thus received like those filed in its own station. (See also article 7 of the Additional Regulations.)

[658] (2) However, when the mobile station can choose among several land stations situated at approximately the same distance, it must give the preference to the station located on the territory of the country of destination or of normal transit of the radiotelegrams. When the station chosen is not the nearest, the mobile station must cease working or change the type or frequency of emission upon the first request made by the land station of the service concerned which is actually the nearest, when this request is based upon the interference which the work in question causes to the latter.

[659] §2. Mobile stations using either type-A1 waves or type-A2 or -A3 waves, outside the band 365 to 515 kc (822 to 583 m) must, as a general rule, give preference to the land station located on the territory of the country of destination or of the country which it appears could most reasonably effect the transit of the radiotelegrams.

[660] §3. If the sender of a radiotelegram filed in a mobile station has designated the land station to which he desires his radiotelegram sent, the mobile station must, in some cases, wait until the conditions specified in the preceding paragraphs are fulfilled, in order to make the transmission to the designated land station.

ARTICLE 29

Accounting for Radiotelegrams

A. ESTABLISHMENT OF ACCOUNTS

[661] §1. In principle, land and on-board charges shall not enter into international telegraph accounts.

Accounting.

[662] §2. Governments reserve the right to make different arrangements among themselves and with the private enterprises concerned, with a view to the adoption of other provisions for accounting, notably the adoption, so far as possible, of the system in which land and on-board charges follow radiotelegrams from country to country through the telegraph accounts. Such arrangements shall be subject to a prior agreement between the administrations concerned.

[663] §3. In the absence of a different arrangement, in accordance with the provisions of §2 above [No. 662], accounts for these charges shall be set up each month by the administrations to which the land stations are subject and sent by them to the administrations concerned.

[664] §4 (1) Where the land stations are not operated by the administration of the country, the operating agency may be substituted for the administration of the country, so far as accounts are concerned.

[665] (2) The radiotelegrams covered in article 20, §9 [No. 470] may in some cases be entered in an account intended for the administration to which the ship is subject.

Ante, p. 1521.

§ 6. Pour les radiotélégrammes à destination d'un pays situé au-delà de celui auquel appartient la station terrestre, les taxes télégraphiques à liquider, conformément aux dispositions ci-dessus, sont celles qui résultent soit des tableaux des tarifs afférents à la correspondance télégraphique internationale, soit d'arrangements spéciaux conclus entre les administrations de pays limitrophes et publiés par ces administrations, et non les taxes qui pourraient être perçues en appliquant des minima par télégramme ou des méthodes d'arrondir les prix par télégramme de quelque manière que ce soit.

Toutefois, on doit tenir compte du minimum réglementaire de cinq mots pour les radiotélégrammes CDE et les radiotélégrammes du régime européen.

§ 7. (1) Pour les radiotélégrammes à destination des stations de bord, l'administration dont dépend le bureau d'origine est débitée directement par celle dont dépend la station terrestre des taxes terrestres et de bord plus les taxes terrestres et de bord applicables au collationnement, mais seulement dans le cas où le radiotélégramme a été transmis à la station de bord. Toutefois, dans le cas visé au § 6 de l'article 9 du Règlement additionnel, l'administration dont dépend le bureau d'origine est débitée de la taxe terrestre par celle dont dépend la station terrestre.

(2) L'administration dont dépend le bureau d'origine est toujours débitée, de pays à pays, s'il y a lieu, par la voie des comptes télégraphiques, et par l'administration dont dépend la station terrestre, des taxes télégraphiques, des taxes totales afférentes aux réponses payées et des taxes télégraphiques afférentes au collationnement. En ce qui concerne les taxes relatives aux copies des télégrammes multiples, il est opéré, pour ce qui regarde les comptes télégraphiques, conformément à la procédure télégraphique normale.

(3) L'administration dont dépend la station terrestre créditée, pour autant que le radiotélégramme ait été transmis, celle dont dépend la station de bord destinataire :

a) de la taxe de bord ; b) s'il y a lieu, des taxes revenant aux stations de bord intermédiaires, de la taxe totale perçue pour les réponses payées, de la taxe de bord relative au collationnement, des taxes maxima fixées par le Règlement télégraphique pour les copies des télégrammes multiples.

[666] §5. For radiotelegrams originating with on-board stations, the administration to which the land station is subject shall debit the administration to which the on-board station of origin is subject with the land charges, the charges pertaining to the course on the general system of telecommunication channels—hereinafter called telegraph charges—the total charges collected for prepaid replies, land and telegraph charges collected for collating, charges collected for delivery by special messenger, mail or air mail, and charges collected for copies of multiple telegrams. For transmission over telegraph-communication channels, radiotelegrams shall be handled, from the standpoint of accounts, in accordance with the Telegraph Regulations.

[667] §6. For radiotelegrams addressed to a country situated beyond the one to which the land station is subject, the telegraph charges to be settled in conformity with the above provisions shall be those resulting either from rate tables pertaining to the international telegraph correspondence, or from special arrangements concluded among administrations of bordering countries and published by these administrations, and not the charges which might be collected by applying either minimum charges per telegram, or methods for rounding off prices per telegram in any way whatever.

[668] However, for CDE radiotelegrams and for radiotelegrams of the European regime, the 5-word minimum provided for by the Regulations must be taken into account.

[669] §7. (1) For radiotelegrams addressed to on-board stations, the administration to which the office of origin is subject shall be debited directly by that to which the land station is subject, with the land and on-board charges plus the land and on-board charges applicable for collating, but only in the case where the radiotelegram has been transmitted to the on-board station. However, in the case covered in §6 of article 9 of the Additional Regulations [No. 893], the administration to which the office of origin is subject shall be debited with the land charge by the administration to which the land station is subject.

[670] (2) The administration to which the office of origin is subject shall always be debited from country to country, if necessary, through the telegraph accounts, and by the administration to which the land station is subject, with the telegraph charges, with the total charges appertaining to prepaid replies, and with the telegraph charges pertaining to collating. With respect to charges concerning copies of multiple telegrams, the normal telegraph procedure shall be adopted with respect to telegraph accounts.

[671] (3) The administration to which the land station is subject shall, so far as the radiotelegram has been transmitted, credit the administration to which the on-board station of destination is subject:

[672] (a) with the on-board charge;

[673] (b) if necessary, with the charges accruing to intermediate on-board stations, with the total charge collected for prepaid replies, with the on-board charge relative to collating, and with the maximum charges fixed in the Telegraph Regulations for copies of multiple telegrams.

§ 8. Les réponses aux radiotélégrammes avec réponse payée sont traitées, à tous égards, dans les comptes du service mobile comme les autres radiotélégrammes.

§ 9. Pour les radiotélégrammes échangés entre stations de bord

a) sans l'intermédiaire de stations terrestres:

Sauf lorsque d'autres arrangements ont été conclus, l'exploitation dont dépend la station de bord de destination débite celle dont dépend la station de bord d'origine de toutes les taxes perçues, déduction faite des taxes revenant à cette dernière station,

b) par l'intermédiaire d'une seule station terrestre:

L'administration dont dépend la station terrestre débite celle dont dépend la station de bord d'origine de toutes les taxes perçues, déduction faite des taxes revenant à cette station de bord, conformément aux prescriptions du § 5. Ensuite, on opère selon les stipulations du § 7;

c) par l'intermédiaire de deux stations terrestres:

L'administration dont dépend la première station terrestre débite celle dont dépend la station de bord d'origine de toutes les taxes perçues, déduction faite des taxes revenant à cette station de bord, conformément aux prescriptions du § 5. Ensuite, on opère selon les stipulations du § 7, en considérant la première station terrestre comme bureau d'origine en ce qui concerne les comptes.

§ 10. Pour les radiotélégrammes qui sont acheminés sur la demande de l'expéditeur, en recourant à une ou deux stations de bord intermédiaires, chacune de celles-ci débite de la taxe de bord lui revenant pour le transit:

a) la station de bord de destination, s'il s'agit d'un radiotélégramme destiné à une station de bord originaire de la terre ferme, ou des cas envisagés au § 9, b) et c) (second parcours radiotélégraphique);

b) la station de bord d'origine, s'il s'agit d'un radiotélégramme originaire d'une station de bord à destination de la terre ferme, ou des cas envisagés au § 9, a) et au § 9, b) et c) (premier parcours radiotélégraphique).

B. ECHANGE, VÉRIFICATION ET LIQUIDATION DES COMPTES.

§ 12. La notification de l'acceptation d'un compte ou des observations y relatives a lieu dans un délai de six mois prenant cours à la date de son envoi.

[674] §8. In the mobile service accounts, replies to radiotelegrams with prepaid reply shall be handled in every respect like other radiotelegrams.

[675] §9. For radiotelegrams exchanged between on-board stations—

[676] (a) Without the intermediary of land stations:

Except when other arrangements have been made, the operating enterprise to which the on-board station of destination is subject shall debit that enterprise to which the on-board station of origin is subject with all charges collected, deducting the charges due to the latter station.

[677] (b) Through the intermediary of a single land station:

The administration to which the land station is subject shall debit the one to which the on-board station of origin is subject with all charges collected, deduction being made of the charges accruing to such on-board station, in conformity with the requirements of §5. Following this, the stipulations of §7 shall be followed.

[678] (c) Through the intermediary of two land stations:

The administration to which the first land station is subject shall debit the one to which the on-board station of origin is subject with all the charges collected, deduction being made of the charges accruing to this on-board station, in conformity with the requirements of §5. Following this, the stipulations of §7 shall be followed, considering the first land station as the office of origin so far as accounts are concerned.

[679] §10. For radiotelegrams which are routed, at the sender's request, through one or two intermediary on-board stations, each of these shall debit with the on-board charge accruing to it for transit:

[680] (a) the on-board station of destination, in the case of a radiotelegram originating on land and addressed to an on-board station, or in the cases contemplated in §9, (b) and (c) [Nos. 677 and 678] (second radiotelegraph route);

[681] (b) the on-board station of origin, in the case of a radiotelegram originating with an on-board station and addressed to land, or in the cases contemplated in §9 (a) and in §9, (b) and (c) [Nos. 676, 677, and 678] (first radiotelegraph route).

B. EXCHANGE, VERIFICATION, AND SETTLEMENT OF ACCOUNTS

[682] §11. In principle, in monthly accounts serving as the basis for the accounting of radiotelegrams dealt with in this article, radiotelegrams shall be entered individually with all the necessary indications. A model form of this account shall constitute appendix 13. The accounts shall be sent within three months after the month to which they refer.

[683] §12. Notice of acceptance of an account, or comments concerning it, shall be sent within six months from the date on which the latter is rendered.

Exchange, verification, and settlement of accounts.

Post, p. 1643.

§ 14. Sauf entente contraire, les dispositions suivantes sont applicables aux comptes radiotélégraphiques visés au présent article.

§ 15. (1) Les comptes mensuels sont admis sans revision quand la différence entre les comptes dressés par les deux administrations intéressées n'est pas supérieure à vingt-cinq francs (25 frs) ou ne dépasse pas 1 pour 100 du compte de l'administration créditrice pourvu que le montant de ce compte ne soit pas supérieur à cent mille francs (100 000 frs); lorsque le montant du compte dressé par l'administration créditrice est supérieur à cette dernière somme, la différence ne peut pas dépasser un montant total de:

- 1° 1 pour 100 des premiers cent mille francs (100 000 frs);
- 2° 0,5 pour 100 de la somme excédente.

(2) Une revision commencée est arrêtée dès que, à la suite d'échanges d'observations entre les administrations intéressées, la différence a été ramenée à une valeur ne dépassant pas le maximum fixé par le premier alinéa du présent paragraphe.

§ 16. (1) Immédiatement après l'acceptation des comptes afférents au dernier mois d'un trimestre, un compte trimestriel, faisant ressortir le solde pour l'ensemble des trois mois du trimestre, est, sauf arrangement contraire entre les deux administrations intéressées, dressé par l'administration créditrice et transmis en deux exemplaires à l'administration débitrice qui, après vérification, renvoie l'un des deux exemplaires revêtu de son acceptation.

(2) A défaut d'acceptation de l'un ou l'autre des comptes mensuels d'un même trimestre avant l'expiration du 6e mois qui suit le trimestre auquel ces comptes se rapportent, le compte trimestriel peut, néanmoins, être dressé par l'administration créditrice en vue d'une liquidation provisoire qui devient obligatoire pour l'administration débitrice dans les conditions fixées par le § 17 ci-dessous. Les rectifications reconnues ultérieurement nécessaires sont comprises dans une liquidation trimestrielle subséquente.

[684] §13. The periods mentioned in the two preceding paragraphs [Nos. 682 and 683] may exceed the time stipulated when exceptional difficulties arise in the postal transport of documents between land stations and the administrations to which they belong. Nevertheless, the closing and settlement of accounts presented more than 18 months after the date of the filing of the radiotelegrams, to which the accounts relate, may be refused by the debtor administration.

[685] §14. In the absence of contrary arrangement, the following provisions shall be applicable to radiotelegraph accounts considered in the present article.

[686] §15. (1) Monthly accounts shall be accepted without revision when the difference between the accounts prepared by the two administrations concerned does not amount to more than twenty-five francs (fr. 25) or does not exceed one percent of the account of the creditor administration, provided that the amount of this account be not greater than one hundred thousand francs (fr. 100,000); when the amount of the account drawn by the creditor administration is greater than the latter sum, the difference must not exceed a total amount of:

- [687] 1. 1 percent of the first hundred thousand francs (fr. 100,000);
- [688] 2. 0.5 percent of the sum in excess thereof.

[689] (2) A revision once begun shall cease as soon as, following an exchange of comments between the administrations concerned, the difference has been reduced to an amount not exceeding the maximum fixed by the first paragraph of this section [Nos. 686, 687, and 688].

[690] §16. (1) Immediately after the acceptance of the accounts appertaining to the last month of a quarter, a quarterly account, setting forth the balance for the whole of the three months of the quarter, shall, in the absence of a contrary arrangement between the two administrations concerned, be prepared by the creditor administration and forwarded in duplicate to the debtor administration, which, after checking it, shall return one of the two copies endorsed with its acceptance.

[691] (2) Failing acceptance of one or the other of the monthly accounts of the same quarter before the expiration of the sixth month following the quarter to which the accounts refer, the quarterly account may, nevertheless, be prepared by the creditor administration for a provisional settlement, which shall become obligatory for the debtor administration in the conditions set forth in §17 below [No. 692]. Corrections subsequently found to be necessary shall be included in a subsequent quarterly settlement.

[692] §17. The quarterly account must be verified and the amount thereof must be paid within six weeks from the date on which the debtor administration has received it. After this period, the sums due to one administration by another shall bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum, dating from the day following expiration of the said period of grace.

§ 18. (1) Le solde du compte trimestriel en francs-or est payé par l'administration débitrice à l'administration créditrice, pour un montant équivalent à sa valeur; ce paiement peut être effectué:

- a) au choix de l'administration débitrice, en or ou au moyen de chèques ou de traites répondant aux conditions prévues aux alinéas (2) et (3) ci-dessous et payables à vue sur la capitale ou sur une place commerciale du pays créateur.
- b) suivant accord entre les deux administrations, par l'intermédiaire d'une banque utilisant le clearing de la Banque des règlements internationaux à Bâle,
- c) par tout autre moyen convenu entre les intéressés.

(2) En cas de paiement au moyen de chèques ou de traites, ces titres sont établis en monnaie d'un pays où la banque centrale d'émission ou une autre institution officielle d'émission achète et vend de l'or ou des devises-or contre la monnaie nationale, à des taux fixes déterminés par la loi ou en vertu d'un arrangement avec le gouvernement.

(3) Si les monnaies de plusieurs pays répondent à ces conditions, il appartient à l'administration créditrice de désigner la monnaie qui lui convient. La conversion est faite au pair des monnaies d'or.

(4) Dans le cas où la monnaie d'un pays créateur ne répond pas aux conditions prévues à l'alinéa (2), et si les deux pays se sont mis d'accord à ce sujet, les chèques ou traites peuvent aussi être exprimés en monnaie du pays créateur. Dans ce cas, le solde est converti au pair des monnaies d'or en monnaie d'un pays répondant aux conditions susvisées. Le résultat obtenu est ensuite converti dans la monnaie du pays débiteur, et de celle-ci dans la monnaie du pays créateur, au cours de la bourse de la capitale ou d'une place commerciale du pays débiteur au jour de l'achat du chèque ou de la traite.

(5) A la demande de l'administration créditrice, lorsque le montant du solde dépasse 5 000 francs-or, la date de l'envoi d'un chèque ou d'une traite, la date de son achat et son montant doivent être notifiés, par l'administration débitrice, au moyen d'un télégramme de service.

§ 19. Les frais de paiement sont supportés par l'administration débitrice.

C. DÉLAIS DE CONSERVATION DES ARCHIVES.

[693] §18. (1) The balance of the quarterly account, in gold francs, shall be paid by the debtor administration to the creditor administration in an amount equivalent to its value; this payment may be made:

[694] (a) at the election of the debtor administration, either in gold or by means of checks or drafts conforming with the requirements stipulated in paragraphs (2) and (3) below [Nos. 697 and 698], and made payable on sight on the capital or on a commercial place of the creditor country,

[695] (b) in accordance with an agreement between the two administrations, through a bank using the clearing of the Bank for International Settlements at Basel, [696] (c) by any other means agreed upon by the interested parties.

[697] (2) In case payment is made by means of checks or drafts, these instruments shall be made out in the currency of a country where the central issuing bank or another official issuing institution buys and sells gold or gold currencies for the national currency, at fixed rates determined by law or pursuant to an arrangement with the government.

[698] (3) If the currencies of several countries fulfil these requirements, it shall devolve upon the creditor administration to indicate the currency which is suitable to it. Conversion shall be made at the par value of gold currencies.

[699] (4) In the event that the currency of a creditor country does not conform with the requirements provided for in paragraph (2) [No. 697], and if both countries have agreed in this respect, the checks or drafts may also be made out in the currency of the creditor country. In that case, the balance shall be converted at par of the gold currencies in the currency of a country which fulfils the above-mentioned requirements. The result obtained shall then be converted into the currency of the debtor country, and from the latter into the currency of the creditor country, at the rate of exchange of the capital or of a commercial place of the debtor country on the day of purchase of the check or draft.

[700] (5) At the request of the creditor administration, when the balance is more than 5,000 gold francs, the date on which a check or a draft is sent, the date on which it is purchased, and the amount thereof, must be reported, by the debtor administration, by means of a service telegram.

[701] §19. Remittance charges shall be borne by the debtor administration.

C. PERIOD DURING WHICH RECORDS ARE TO BE PRESERVED

[702] §20. The originals of radiotelegrams and the documents relating thereto which are kept by the administrations shall be preserved until the accounts covering them are settled and, in any case, for at least ten months, counting from the month following the month of filing of the radiotelegram, with all necessary precautions to maintain secrecy.

Period during which records are to be preserved.

ARTICLE 30.

Service aéronautique de correspondance publique.

Sauf arrangements spéciaux (article 13 de la Convention), les dispositions du présent Règlement visant la procédure d'échange et de comptabilité des radiocommunications sont applicables, d'une façon générale, au service aéronautique de correspondance publique.

ARTICLE 31.

*Service des stations radiotéléphoniques mobiles de faible puissance.*)*

§ 1. Le service de ces stations doit être assuré par un opérateur titulaire d'un certificat de radiotéléphoniste (article 10, § 8).

§ 2. (1) La fréquence de 1 650 kc/s (181,8 m) est à la fois une onde d'appel et l'onde de détresse pour le service mobile maritime de radiotéléphonie avec les stations de navire de faible puissance travaillant dans les parties de la bande de 1 560 à 3 635 kc/s (192,3 à 82,53 m) dans lesquelles les services radiotéléphoniques sont admis (art. 7, § 7).

(2) a) Dans la région européenne, en dehors de l'appel et du trafic de détresse, des signaux et messages d'urgence et de sécurité pour lesquels elle est obligatoire, elle ne peut être employée que pour l'appel et la réponse.

b) Cette disposition n'exclut pas l'emploi des autres fréquences qui peuvent être fixées par les administrations pour le service radiotéléphonique avec des stations côtières ou des stations de navire désignées par elle.

(3) Dans les autres régions, son emploi n'est pas obligatoire.

§ 3. Les dispositions suivantes ne concernent que le service des stations radiotéléphoniques mobiles qui se servent de la fréquence de 1 650 kc/s (181,8 m) comme onde d'appel et de détresse, et dont la puissance d'onde porteuse dans l'antenne ne dépasse pas 100 watts [sauf accords régionaux prévus à l'article 10, § 8 (4)] à l'intérieur de la bande.

(2) Pour appeler les stations de navire, on peut employer comme indicatif d'appel radiotéléphonique soit le nom du navire, soit un indicatif d'appel établi conformément à l'article 14.

(3) Dans les cas où le nom et la nationalité du navire ne peuvent être établis avec certitude, l'indicatif d'appel ou le nom sera précédé du nom du propriétaire.

(4) Les dispositions précédentes du présent paragraphe ne s'appliquent pas dans le cas où l'on fait usage de dispositifs automatiques de signaux d'appel.

*) Le cas échéant, ces dispositions peuvent être appliquées aux stations d'aéronef.

ARTICLE 31

*Service of Low-Power Mobile Radiotelephone Stations**

[704] §1. The service of these stations must be performed by an operator holding a radiotelephone operator's certificate (article 10, §8).

Service of low-power mobile radiotelephone stations.
Ante, p. 1487.

[705] §2. (1) The frequency of 1,650 kc (181.8 m) shall be a calling-wave and the distress-wave for the maritime mobile radiotelephone service with low-power ship stations working in the parts of the band of 1,560 to 3,635 kc (192.3 to 82.53 m) in which radiotelephone services are admitted (art. 7, §7).

Ante, p. 1433.

[706] (2) (a) In the European region, aside from distress calls and distress traffic, urgent and safety signals and messages for which it is compulsory, it may only be used for calling and reply.

[707] (b) This provision shall not preclude the use of other frequencies which may be fixed by the administrations for radiotelephone service with coast stations or ship stations designated by them.

[708] (3) In other regions, its use shall not be mandatory.

[709] §3. The following provisions shall apply only to the service of mobile radiotelephone stations using the frequency of 1,650 kc (181.8 m) as a calling- and distress-wave, in which the carrier-wave power in the antenna does not exceed 100 watts within the band [except by regional agreements provided for in article 10, §8 (4)] [No. 269].

Ante, p. 1487.

[710] §4. (1) In order to call coast stations, the call signal or the geographical name of the place, as it appears in the nomenclature of coast and ship stations, or in the nomenclature of stations operating special services, may be used as a radiotelephone call signal.

[711] (2) In order to call ship stations, either the name of the ship or a call signal conforming to the provisions of article 14 may be used as a radiotelephone call signal.

Ante, p. 1491.

[713] (3) In case the name and the nationality of the ship cannot be ascertained beyond doubt, the call signal or the name shall be preceded by the name of the owner.

[714] (4) The foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable where automatic call-signal devices are used.

[712] *When the occasion arises, these provisions may be applied to aircraft stations.

§ 5. (1) Toute station côtière participant au service radiotéléphonique public dans cette bande doit, autant que possible, assurer l'écoute sur 1 650 kc/s (181,8 m) pendant ses heures d'ouverture.

(2) Dans la région européenne, en vue d'augmenter la sécurité de la vie humaine sur mer, toutes les stations du service mobile qui assurent le service téléphonique des navires de faible tonnage, prennent, dans la mesure du possible, les mesures utiles pour assurer l'écoute sur l'onde de détresse de 1 650 kc/s (181,8 m) une fois par heure pendant trois minutes commençant à x h 00, temps moyen de Greenwich (T.M.G.) de 0 à 24 h. (à partir de minuit).

(3) Pendant les intervalles indiqués ci-dessus, en dehors des émissions de détresse, d'urgence et de sécurité, toute émission doit cesser dans les bandes de 1 630 à 1 670 kc/s (184,0 à 179,6 m).

§ 6. (1) Les stations côtières et de navire qui utilisent l'onde d'appel de 1 650 kc/s (181,8 m) devront disposer d'au moins une autre onde dans les parties de la bande de 1 560 à 3 635 kc/s (192,3 à 82,53 m) dans lesquelles les services radiotéléphoniques sont admis (art. 7, § 7).

Cette deuxième onde sera imprimée en caractères gras dans la nomenclature des stations pour indiquer qu'elle est l'onde normale de travail de la station. Les ondes de travail de ces stations devront être choisies de manière à éviter les brouillages avec les autres stations de radiocommunication.

(2) En dehors de leur onde normale de travail, les stations côtières et de navire peuvent employer, dans la bande mentionnée, des ondes supplémentaires. Ces ondes sont indiquées dans la nomenclature en caractères ordinaires.

§ 7. (1) En cas de détresse, s'il n'est pas possible d'utiliser pour la radiotéléphonie l'onde internationale de détresse de 500 kc/s (600 m) ou l'onde d'appel et de détresse de 1 650 kc/s (181,8 m) la station peut employer toute autre onde pour attirer l'attention, signaler sa situation et obtenir du secours.

(2) Le signal de détresse radiotéléphonique consiste dans l'expression parlée MAYDAY (correspondant à la prononciation française de l'expression "m'aider").

§ 8. Dans la mesure où cela sera pratique et raisonnable, on appliquera au service radiotéléphonique mobile les dispositions concernant le service radiotélégraphique relatives aux brouillages, aux services de détresse, d'urgence, de sécurité, à la clôture du service et aux appels (articles 17, 20, 22, 24 et 25).

§ 9. Dans le service des stations radiotéléphoniques mobiles de faible puissance, la procédure indiquée dans l'appendice 14 peut être appliquée.

A. MÉTÉOROLOGIE.

§ 1. Les messages météorologiques comportent:

- a) des messages destinés aux services de météorologie chargés officiellement de la prévision du temps et de la protection des navigations maritime et aérienne;

[715] §5. (1) All coast stations participating in the public radiotelephone service in this band must, so far as possible, assure the watch on 1,650 kc (181.8 m) during their working hours.

[716] (2) In the European region, in order to increase the safety of human life at sea, all stations of the mobile service maintaining telephone service with ships of low tonnage must, so far as possible, make the necessary arrangements to keep watch on the distress-wave of 1,650 kc (181.8 m) for three minutes each hour beginning at x o'clock, Greenwich mean time (G. M. T.), from 0 to 24 o'clock (beginning at midnight).

[717] (3) During the above-mentioned intervals, all transmission, except distress, urgent, and safety transmissions, must cease in the 1,630 to 1,670 kc (184.0 to 179.6 m) bands.

[718] §6. (1) Coast and ship stations using the 1,650-kc (181.8-m) calling-wave must have available at least one other wave in those parts of the band of 1,560 to 3,635 kc (192.3 to 82.53 m) in which radiotelephone services are admitted (art. 7, §7).

Ante, p. 1433.

[719] This second wave shall be printed in boldface type in the nomenclature of the stations, to indicate that it is the normal working-wave of the station. The working-waves of these stations must be selected in such a manner as to avoid interference with the other radio stations.

[720] (2) In addition to the normal working-wave, coast and ship stations may use additional waves in the band mentioned. These waves shall be indicated in the nomenclature in ordinary type.

[721] §7. (1) In case of distress, if it is not possible to use for radiotelephony the international distress-wave of 500 kc (600 m) or the calling- and distress-wave of 1,650 kc (181.8 m), the station may use any other wave to call attention, report its position, and obtain help.

[722] (2) The radiotelephone distress signal shall consist of the spoken expression MAYDAY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the expression "m'aider").

[723] §8. So far as it is practicable and reasonable, the provisions concerning radiotelegraph service shall be applied to the mobile radiotelephone service as regards interference; distress, urgent, and safety services; closing of service and calling (articles 17, 20, 22, 24, and 25).

Ante, pp. 1507, 1519, 1531, 1535, 1549.

[724] §9. In the service of low-power mobile radiotelephone stations, the procedure given in appendix 14 of these Regulations may be applied.

Post, p. 1643.

Special Services

A. METEOROLOGY

[725] §1. Meteorological messages shall include:

Meteorology.

[726] (a) messages intended for meteorological services officially charged with making weather forecasts and with the protection of maritime and aerial navigation;

b) des messages de ces services météorologiques destinés spécialement:

- 1° aux stations mobiles du service maritime;
- 2° à la protection du service aérien;
- 3° au public.

Les renseignements contenus dans ces messages peuvent être:

- 1° des observations à heure fixe;
- 2° des avis de phénomènes dangereux;
- 3° des prévisions et avertissements;
- 4° des exposés de la situation météorologique générale.

§ 2. (1) Les différents services météorologiques nationaux s'entendent pour l'établissement de programmes communs d'émissions de manière à utiliser les émetteurs les mieux placés, au bénéfice de régions étendues que ceux-ci peuvent desservir.

(2) Les observations météorologiques contenues dans les catégories a) et b) 1° et 2° ci-dessus (§ 1) sont rédigées, en principe, dans un code météorologique international, qu'elles soient transmises par des stations mobiles ou qu'elles leur soient destinées.

§ 3. Les messages d'observation destinés à un service météorologique officiel profitent des facilités résultant de l'attribution d'ondes exclusives à la météorologie synoptique et à la météorologie aéronautique, conformément aux accords régionaux établis par les services intéressés pour l'emploi de ces ondes.

§ 4. (1) Les messages météorologiques destinés spécialement à l'ensemble des stations mobiles du service maritime sont émis, en principe, d'après un horaire déterminé et, autant que possible, aux heures où leur réception peut se faire par celles de ces stations n'ayant qu'un seul opérateur, la vitesse de transmission étant choisie de manière que la lecture des signaux soit possible à un opérateur ne possédant que le certificat de 2e classe.

(2) Pendant les transmissions "à tous" des messages météorologiques destinés aux stations du service mobile, toutes les stations de ce service dont les transmissions brouilleraient la réception des messages en question doivent observer le silence, afin de permettre à toutes les stations qui le désirent de recevoir lesdits messages.

(3) Les messages d'avertissements météorologiques sont transmis immédiatement et doivent être répétés après la fin de la première période de silence qui se présente (voir article 21, § 5). Ces messages doivent être transmis sur les ondes attribuées au service mobile maritime. Leur transmission est précédée du signal de sécurité.

(4) En plus des services réguliers d'information, prévus dans les alinéas précédents, les administrations prennent les mesures nécessaires pour que certaines stations soient chargées de communiquer, sur demande, des messages météorologiques aux stations du service mobile.

(5) Les règles précédentes sont applicables au service aérien, dans la limite où elles ne sont pas en opposition avec des arrangements régionaux plus précis assurant à la navigation aérienne une protection au moins égale.

[727] (b) messages of these meteorological services intended especially:

- [728] 1st, for mobile stations of the maritime service;
- [729] 2d, for the protection of the aeronautical service;
- [730] 3d, for the public.

[731] The information contained in these messages may be:

- [732] (1) observations at scheduled hours;
- [733] (2) notices of dangerous phenomena;
- [734] (3) forecasts and warnings;
- [735] (4) statements on the general meteorological situation.

[736] §2. (1) The various national meteorological services shall arrange for the establishment of common transmission programs in such a way as to use the transmitters best located for such extensive areas as the latter can serve.

[737] (2) The meteorological observations contained in categories (a) and (b) 1st and 2d above (§1) [Nos. 726, 727, 728, and 729] shall, in principle, be written in an international meteorological code, whether they are transmitted by mobile stations or intended for them.

[738] §3. For weather-observation messages intended for an official meteorological service, advantage shall be taken of the facilities resulting from the assignment of exclusive waves to synoptic meteorology and to aeronautical meteorology, in conformity with the regional agreements established by the services concerned for the use of these waves.

[739] §4. (1) Meteorological messages intended especially for all mobile stations of the maritime service shall, in principle, be transmitted in accordance with a definite time schedule and, so far as possible, at hours when they may be received by those of the stations mentioned which have but one operator, the transmission speed being selected in such a way that the reading of the signals will be possible for an operator having only a second-class certificate.

[740] (2) During transmissions "to all" of meteorological messages intended for stations of the mobile service, all stations of this service whose transmissions might interfere with the reception of the messages in question must observe silence, in order that all stations desiring to do so may receive the said messages.

[741] (3) Meteorological warning messages shall be transmitted immediately and must be repeated at the end of the first period of silence ensuing (see article 21, §5) [No. 492]. These messages must be sent on the waves allocated to the maritime mobile service. Their transmission shall be preceded by the safety signal.

Ante, p. 1525.

[742] (4) In addition to the regular information services provided for in the preceding subparagraphs, the administrations shall take the necessary steps so that, upon request, certain stations will be charged with communicating meteorological messages to stations of the mobile service.

[743] (5) The preceding rules shall be applicable to the aeronautical service so far as they do not conflict with more definite regional arrangements insuring at least equivalent protection to aerial navigation.

§ 5. (1) Les messages provenant de stations mobiles et contenant des renseignements sur la présence de cyclones tropicaux doivent être transmis, dans le plus bref délai possible, aux autres stations mobiles voisines et aux autorités compétentes du premier point de la côte avec lequel le contact peut être établi. Leur transmission est précédée du signal de sécurité.

(2) Toute station mobile peut écouter, pour son propre usage, les observations météorologiques émises par d'autres stations mobiles, même quand elles sont adressées à un service météorologique national. Les stations du service mobile qui transmettent des observations météorologiques, adressées à un service météorologique national, ne sont pas tenues de répéter ces observations; mais l'échange, sur demande, des renseignements relatifs à l'état du temps est autorisé entre stations mobiles.

B. SIGNAUX HORAIRES. AVIS AUX NAVIGATEURS.

§ 6. Les prescriptions du § 4 ci-dessus sont applicables aux signaux horaires et aux avis aux navigateurs, à l'exception, en ce qui concerne les signaux horaires, des prescriptions du § 4, (3) du titre A.

§ 7. Les messages contenant des renseignements sur la présence de glaces dangereuses, d'épaves dangereuses ou de tout autre danger imminent pour la navigation doivent être transmis, dans le plus bref délai possible, aux autres stations mobiles voisines et aux autorités compétentes du premier point de la côte avec lequel le contact peut être établi. Ces transmissions doivent être précédées du signal de sécurité.

§ 8. Lorsqu'elles le jugent utile, et à condition que l'expéditeur y consente, les administrations peuvent autoriser leurs stations terrestres à communiquer des renseignements concernant les avaries et sinistres maritimes ou présentant un intérêt général pour la navigation, aux agences d'information maritime, agréées par elles et suivant des conditions fixées par elles-mêmes.

C. SERVICE DES STATIONS RADIOGONIOMÉTRIQUES.

§ 9. Les administrations sous l'autorité desquelles sont placées les stations radiogoniométriques n'acceptent aucune responsabilité quant aux conséquences résultant d'un relèvement inexact ou du fait que, pour une cause quelconque, un relèvement n'aurait pu être donné.

§ 10. Ces administrations notifient, pour être insérées dans la nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux, les caractéristiques de chaque station radiogoniométrique en indiquant, pour chacune d'elles, les secteurs dans lesquels les relèvements sont normalement sûrs. Tout changement en ce qui concerne ces renseignements doit être publié sans retard; si le changement est d'une nature permanente, il doit être communiqué au Bureau de l'Union.

[744] §5. (1) Messages emanating from mobile stations and containing information relative to the presence of tropical cyclones must be transmitted in as short a time as possible to the other neighboring mobile stations and to the competent authorities at the first point on the coast with which contact may be established. Their transmission shall be preceded by the safety signal.

[745] (2) Any mobile station may, for its own use, listen to the meteorological observations transmitted by other mobile stations even when they are addressed to a national meteorological service. The stations of the mobile service which transmit meteorological observations addressed to a national meteorological service shall not be required to repeat these observations; but the exchange, upon request, of information relating to weather conditions shall be authorized between mobile stations.

B. TIME SIGNALS—NOTICES TO NAVIGATORS

[746] §6. The provisions of §4 above shall be applicable to time signals and to notices to navigators, with the exception, as regards time signals, of the provisions of §4 (3) of title A. [No. 741].

Time signals; notices to navigators.

[747] §7. Messages containing information relative to the presence of dangerous ice, dangerous wrecks, or of any other imminent danger to navigation, must be transmitted with as little delay as possible to the other neighboring mobile stations and to the competent authorities at the first point of the coast with which contact may be established. These transmissions must be preceded by the safety signal.

[748] §8. When they deem it necessary, and on condition that the sender consents, the administrations may authorize their land stations to communicate to such maritime information agencies as they choose, and under conditions laid down by themselves, information concerning accidents and disasters at sea or information of a general interest to navigation.

C. SERVICE OF RADIO DIRECTION-FINDING STATIONS

[749] §9. The administrations to which radio direction-finding stations are subject accept no responsibility for the consequences of an inexact bearing or for the fact that, for any reason whatever, a bearing could not be given.

Radio direction-finding stations.

[750] §10. These administrations shall notify, for insertion in the nomenclature of stations carrying on special services, the characteristics of each radio direction-finding station, indicating for each one the sectors in which bearings are normally reliable. Any change concerning this information must be published without delay; if the change is of a permanent nature, it must be communicated to the Bureau of the Union.

[751] §11. In the exclusively aeronautical service, the procedure determined in this article shall apply, except when special procedures determined in regional agreements by the governments concerned shall be in force.

[752] §12. (1) The normal radio direction-finding wave in the maritime services shall be the wave of 375 kc (800 m). All coast radio goniométriques côtières doivent, en principe, pouvoir l'utiliser <sup>1)</sup>. Elles doivent, en outre, être à même de prendre des relèvements d'émissions faites sur 500 kc/s (600 m), en particulier pour relever les signaux de détresse, d'alarme et d'urgence.

(2) Une station d'aéronef qui se trouve à proximité d'une station côtière et qui s'adresse à celle-ci pour obtenir un relèvement doit faire usage de la fréquence de veille de cette station côtière.

§ 13. La procédure à suivre dans le service radiogoniométrique est donnée à l'appendice 15.

D. SERVICE DES RADIOPHARES.

§ 14. (1) Lorsqu'une administration juge utile, dans l'intérêt de la navigation maritime et aérienne, d'organiser un service de radiophares, elle peut employer dans ce but:

- a) des radiophares proprement dits, établis sur terre ferme ou sur des navires amarrés de façon permanente; ces radiophares sont à émission circulaire ou à émission directionnelle;
- b) des stations fixes, des stations côtières ou des stations aéronautiques, désignées pour fonctionner aussi comme radiophares à la demande des stations mobiles.

(2) Les radiophares proprement dits emploient les ondes suivantes:

- a) Dans la région européenne, pour les radiophares maritimes, les ondes de la bande de 290 à 320 kc/s (1 034 à 938 m) et, pour les radiophares aéronautiques, les ondes de la bande de 350 à 365 kc/s (857 à 822 m), ainsi que certaines ondes des bandes de 255 à 290 kc/s (1 176 à 1 034 m) et de 395 à 415 kc/s (759 à 723 m) choisies par des organismes aéronautiques internationaux.
- b) Dans les autres régions, pour les radiophares maritimes, les ondes de la bande de 285 à 315 kc/s (1 053 à 952 m) et, pour les radiophares aéronautiques des ondes choisies dans la bande de 194 à 365 kc/s (1 546 à 822 m).
- c) En outre, en Europe, Afrique, Asie, les radiophares directionnels (maritimes et aéronautiques) peuvent employer les ondes des bandes de 1 560 à 1 630 kc/s (192,3 à 184,0 m) et de 1 670 à 3 500 kc/s (179,6 à 85,71 m) aux conditions fixées par le § 23 de l'article 7.
- d) L'emploi des ondes du type B est interdit aux radiophares proprement dits.

(3) Les autres stations notifiées comme radiophares utilisent leur fréquence normale et leur type normal d'émission.

§ 15. Les signaux émis par les radiophares doivent permettre des repérages exacts et précis; ils doivent être choisis de manière à éviter tout doute lorsqu'il s'agit de distinguer entre eux deux ou plusieurs radiophares.

§ 16. Les administrations qui ont organisé un service de radiophares prendront toutes les dispositions nécessaires pour assurer l'efficacité et la régularité de ce service, c'est-à-dire pour que les direction-finding stations must, in principle, be able to use it.<sup>1</sup> In addition, they must be able to take bearings from emissions made on 500 kc (600 m), particularly to locate distress, alarm, and urgent signals.

[753] (2) An aircraft station within proximity of a coast station and which calls the latter to obtain a bearing, must use the watch frequency of this coast station.

[754] §13. The procedure to be followed in the radio direction-finding service is given in appendix 15.

Post, p. 1645.

D. RADIOBEACON SERVICE

[755] §14. (1) When an administration deems it advisable, in the interests of maritime and aerial navigation, to organize a radiobeacon service, it may use for this purpose:

Radiobeacon service.

[756] (a) radiobeacons proper, established on land or on vessels permanently moored; the emissions of these radiobeacons may be either non-directional or directional;

[757] (b) fixed stations, coast stations, or aeronautical stations designated to function also as radiobeacons, upon request of mobile stations.

[759] (2) Radiobeacons proper shall use the following waves:

[760] (a) In the European region, for the maritime radiobeacons, the waves of the band 290 to 320 kc (1,034 to 938 m) and, for the aeronautical radiobeacons, the waves of the band 350 to 365 kc (857 to 822 m), as well as certain waves of the bands 255 to 290 kc (1,176 to 1,034 m) and 395 to 415 kc (759 to 723 m) selected by international aeronautical organizations.

[761] (b) In the other regions, for the maritime radiobeacons, the waves of the band 285 to 315 kc (1,053 to 952 m) and, for the aeronautical radiobeacons, the waves taken from the band 194 to 365 kc (1,546 to 822 m).

[762] (c) In addition, in Europe, Africa, Asia, the directional radiobeacons (maritime and aeronautical) may use the waves of the bands 1,560 to 1,630 kc (192.3 to 184.0 m) and 1,670 to 3,500 kc (179.6 to 85.71 m) under the conditions set forth in §23 of article 7 [No. 193].

Ante, p. 1473.

[763] (d) The use of type-B waves shall be prohibited for radiobeacons proper.

[764] (3) Other stations notified as radiobeacons shall use their normal frequency and their normal type of emission.

[765] §15. Signals sent by radiobeacons must permit of exact and accurate observations; they must be chosen in such a way as to eliminate all doubt when the question arises of distinguishing among them two or more radiobeacons.

[766] §16. The administrations which have organized a radiobeacon service shall take all measures necessary to assure the efficiency and regularity of this service, that is, to have the transmissions made émissions soient faites exactement aux heures fixées et sur les longueurs d'onde spécifiées, mais les administrations n'acceptent aucune responsabilité quant aux conséquences de relèvements inexacts obtenus au moyen des radiophares de ce service, du fonctionnement défectueux ou de l'arrêt de fonctionnement d'un radiophare.

[758] <sup>1</sup> It is recognized that certain existing stations are not able to use this wave, but all new stations must be able to take bearings on 375 kc (800 m) and on 500 kc (600 m).

(2) Toute modification ou toute irrégularité de fonctionnement survenant dans le service des radiophares doit être publiée sans délai; si la modification ou l'irrégularité de fonctionnement est d'une nature permanente, elle doit être notifiée au Bureau de l'Union.

(3) a) Les stations côtières des pays où des radiophares sont en service, émettent journallement, en cas de besoin, des avis de changements ou d'irrégularités de fonctionnement jusqu'au moment où le travail normal du ou des radiophares est rétabli ou, si un changement permanent a été effectué, jusqu'au moment où il peut être admis raisonnablement que tous les navigateurs intéressés ont été prévenus.

b) Dans le cas de changements permanents ou d'irrégularités de longue durée, l'information précitée est publiée dans les avis aux navigateurs dans le plus bref délai possible.

Comité consultatif international des radiocommunications (C.C.I.R.)

§ 1. Un comité consultatif international des radiocommunications (C.C.I.R.) est chargé d'étudier les questions radioélectriques techniques et les questions d'exploitation dont la solution dépend principalement de considérations d'ordre technique.

§ 2. (1) Il est formé d'experts des administrations contractantes et des exploitations privées ou groupes d'exploitations privées reconnues par les gouvernements contractants respectifs, qui déclarent vouloir participer à ses travaux et qui s'engagent à contribuer aux frais communs de ses réunions.

(2) Sont aussi admis des organismes internationaux s'intéressant aux études radioélectriques qui sont désignés par la dernière conférence de plénipotentiaires ou administrative, qui déclarent vouloir participer à ses travaux et s'engagent à contribuer aux frais communs des réunions.<sup>1)</sup>

1. Association internationale des intérêts radiomaritimes (A.I.I.R.M.);
2. Commission internationale de Navigation aérienne (C.I.N.A.);
3. Comité international radiomaritime (C.I.R.M.);
4. International Amateur Radio Union (I.A.R.U.);
5. Union internationale de radiodiffusion (U.I.R.).

exactly at fixed times and on specified wavelengths, but the administrations accept no responsibility for the consequence of inexact bearings obtained by means of the radiobeacons of that service, or those of defective operation or cessation of operation of the radiobeacon.

[767] §17. (1) The administrations shall notify, for insertion in the nomenclature of stations operating special services, the characteristics of each radiobeacon proper, and of each station designated to operate as a radiobeacon, including, if necessary, indications of the sectors in which bearings are normally reliable.

[768] (2) Any modification or irregularity of operation occurring in the radiobeacon service must be published without delay; if the modification or irregularity of operation is of a permanent nature, it must be reported to the Bureau of the Union.

[769] (3) (a) Coast stations of countries where radiobeacons are in service shall transmit daily, in case of need, notices of changes or irregularities in operation, until the normal operation of the radiobeacon or radiobeacons is resumed, or, if a permanent change is made, until it can be reasonably believed that all the navigators concerned have been advised.

[770] (b) In case of permanent changes, or irregularities of long duration, the aforementioned information shall be published in the notices to navigators within the shortest possible time.

ARTICLE 33

International Radio Consulting Committee (C. C. I. R.)

[771] §1. An International Radio Consulting Committee (C. C. I. R.) shall be charged with the study of technical radio questions and operating questions the solution of which depends principally upon considerations of a technical character.

International Radio
tee.

[772] §2. (1) It shall be formed of experts of the contracting administrations and of private operating enterprises or groups of private operating enterprises recognized by the respective contracting governments, which state their desire to participate in its work and undertake to contribute to the common expense of its meetings.

[773] (2) International organizations interested in radio studies, which shall have been designated by the last plenipotentiary or administrative conference, which state their desire to participate in its work, and which undertake to contribute to the common expenses of the meetings, shall also be admitted.<sup>1</sup>

1. Association internationale des intérêts radiomaritimes (A. I. I. R. M.);
2. Commission internationale de navigation aérienne (C. I. N. A.);
3. Comité international radiomaritime (C. I. R. M.);
4. International Amateur Radio Union (I. A. R. U.);
5. Union internationale de radiodiffusion (U. I. R.).

(3) La déclaration est adressée au Bureau de l'Union, lequel en donne connaissance à toutes les administrations.

(4) Chaque administration, exploitation privée et organisme international a droit de mettre fin à l'engagement qu'il a pris de participer aux travaux du C.C.I.R. en notifiant sa décision au Bureau de l'Union qui en donne connaissance à toutes les administrations. Cette notification produit son effet dès la première réunion du C.C.I.R. qui suit.

§ 3. Les administrations et les exploitations privées non adhérentes au Règlement, ainsi que les administrations et les organismes internationaux reconnus par leurs gouvernements respectifs qui, ne participant pas de façon permanente aux travaux du C.C.I.R., n'ont pas fait la déclaration prévue au § 2, peuvent être admis aux conditions stipulées dans le règlement intérieur du C.C.I.R. dont il est question au § 6.

§ 4. (1) Les dépenses personnelles des experts de chaque administration, exploitation privée ou organisme international sont supportées par ceux-ci.

(2) Pendant les réunions du C.C.I.R., les experts des gouvernements, des exploitations privées et des organismes internationaux, ainsi que les représentants du Bureau de l'Union, ont droit à la franchise des télécommunications dans les conditions fixées par l'administration organisatrice, d'accord avec les administrations et les exploitations privées intéressées.

§ 5. En principe, les réunions du C.C.I.R. ont lieu de trois en trois ans. Cependant, une réunion fixée peut être avancée ou ajournée par l'administration organisatrice, sur demande de douze des administrations participantes, si le nombre et la nature des questions à examiner le justifient.

§ 6. Les dispositions qui précèdent concernant l'organisation du C.C.I.R. sont complétées par le règlement intérieur annexé au présent Règlement (voir appendice 16).

Frais du Bureau de l'Union.

§ 1. Les frais communs du Bureau de l'Union pour le service des radiocommunications ne doivent pas dépasser, par année, la somme de 200 000 francs-or.

§ 2. Toutefois, si une dépense exceptionnellement élevée en imprimés ou documents divers se présente au cours d'une année, sans que les recettes correspondantes soient encaissées pendant la même année, le Bureau est autorisé, exclusivement dans ce cas, à dépasser le crédit maximum prévu, sous la réserve que le maximum du crédit pour l'année suivante sera réduit d'un montant égal à l'excédent susvisé.

§ 3. La somme de 200 000 francs-or pourra être modifiée entre deux conférences du consentement de toutes les parties contractantes.

[774] (3) The statement shall be addressed to the Bureau of the Union, which will give notice thereof to all the administrations.

[775] (4) Each administration, private operating enterprise, and international organization shall have the right to withdraw its undertaking to participate in the C. C. I. R. work by notifying the Bureau of the Union of its decision. The latter shall give notice thereof to all the administrations. This notification shall take effect beginning with the C. C. I. R. meeting which follows.

[776] §3. The administrations and private operating enterprises not adhering to the Regulations, as well as the administrations, and international organizations recognized by their respective governments which, not permanently participating in the work of the C. C. I. R., have not made the statement provided in §2 [Nos. 772 and 773], may be admitted under the conditions stipulated in the internal regulations of the C. C. I. R. as mentioned in §6 [No. 781].

[777] §4. (1) Each administration, private operating enterprise, or international organization shall defray the personal expenses of its own experts.

[778] (2) During C. C. I. R. meetings, experts from governments, private operating enterprises, and international organizations, as well as representatives of the Bureau of the Union, have the right to the telecommunications franking privileges, under conditions fixed by the organizing administration, in agreement with the administrations and private operating enterprises concerned.

[780] §5. In principle, the meetings of the C. C. I. R. shall take place every three years. However, a meeting which has been scheduled may be advanced or postponed by the organizing administration, upon request of twelve of the participating administrations, if the number and nature of the questions to be studied warrant it.

[781] §6. The preceding provisions relative to the organization of the C. C. I. R. shall be supplemented by the internal regulations annexed to the present Regulations (see appendix 16).

Expenses of the Bureau of the Union

[782] §1. The ordinary expenses of the Bureau of the Union for the radio service must not exceed the amount of 200,000 gold francs annually.

Expenses of Bureau.

[783] §2. However, if an exceptionally high expense is incurred for printed matter or for various documents during a year, and the corresponding revenue is not collected during the same year, the Bureau shall be authorized, in this case only, to exceed the maximum credit provided for, with the understanding that the maximum credit for the following year shall be reduced by an amount equal to the above-mentioned excess.

[784] §3. The sum of 200,000 gold francs may be modified between two conferences, with the consent of all the contracting parties.

ARTICLE 35.

Invitation aux conférences administratives.

§ 1. (1) Le gouvernement chargé de la convocation des conférences (gouvernement gérant) fixe la date définitive des réunions.

(2) Dix-huit mois avant cette date, il adresse les invitations aux gouvernements contractants, qui les communiquent aux exploitations privées reconnues par leur gouvernement respectif, adhérent au présent Règlement, et organismes internationaux qui peuvent y avoir intérêt.

(3) Le gouvernement gérant a la faculté d'inviter les gouvernements signataires de la Convention, ou adhérents à cet acte, qui n'ont pas encore adhéré au présent Règlement.

§ 2. (1) Les gouvernements invités, en envoyant leur réponse au gouvernement gérant, lui transmettent la liste des exploitations privées reconnues par eux qui ont demandé à être admises à la conférence.

(2) Les demandes d'admission des organismes internationaux doivent être envoyées au gouvernement gérant (par l'entremise des gouvernements compétents), dans un délai de cinq mois à partir de la date de l'invitation.

§ 3. (1) Six mois avant la réunion de la conférence, le gouvernement gérant communique aux gouvernements contractants les demandes visées au § 2, (2) et les invite à se prononcer sur l'acceptation de ces demandes.

(2) Les gouvernements contractants doivent faire parvenir leur réponse quatre mois avant la date de la réunion.

§ 4. Sont admis aux conférences:

a) les délégations des gouvernements contractants ou adhérents au présent Règlement, les délégations des gouvernements visés au § 1, (3) et les représentants des exploitations privées reconnues par les gouvernements contractants;

b) les organismes internationaux visés au § 2, (2) pour lesquels la moitié au moins des gouvernements contractants qui ont répondu dans le délai fixé au § 3, (2) se sont prononcés favorablement.

§ 5. Pour les autres organismes internationaux, la décision sur l'admission est prise dans la première assemblée plénière.

ARTICLE 36.

Mise en vigueur du Règlement général.

Le présent Règlement général entrera en vigueur le 1er janvier 1939, sauf l'article 7 qui sera applicable à partir du 1er septembre 1939.

En foi de quoi, les délégués respectifs ont signé ce Règlement général en un exemplaire qui restera déposé aux archives du Gouvernement de l'Égypte et dont une copie certifiée conforme sera remise à chaque gouvernement contractant.

ARTICLE 35

Invitation to Administrative Conferences

Invitation to administrative conferences.

[785] §1. (1) The government in charge of convening the conferences (managing government) shall fix the definitive date of the meetings.

[786] (2) Eighteen months before this date, it shall send the invitations to the contracting governments, which shall forward them to the private operating enterprises recognized by their respective governments adhering to the present Regulations, and to the international organizations which may have an interest therein.

[787] (3) The managing government shall have the right to invite the governments signatories to the Convention, or adhering to this act, which have not yet adhered to the present Regulations.

[788] §2. (1) The invited governments shall send to the managing government, together with their reply, a list of the private operating enterprises recognized by them which have applied for admission to the conference.

[789] (2) Applications for admission made by international organizations must be sent to the managing government (through the competent governments), within a period of five months from the date of the invitation.

[790] §3. (1) Six months before the meeting of the conference, the managing government shall advise the contracting governments of the applications mentioned in §2 (2) [No. 789] and invite them to state their position as to the acceptance of these applications.

[791] (2) The contracting governments must send their answer so that it will reach its destination four months before the date of the meeting.

[792] §4. The following shall be admitted to the conferences:

[793] (a) the delegations of the contracting governments or governments adhering to the present Regulations, the delegations of the governments referred to in §1 (3) [No. 787], and the representatives of the private operating enterprises recognized by the contracting governments;

[794] (b) the international organizations referred to in §2 (2) [No. 789] concerning which at least one half of the contracting governments have sent a favorable answer within the period fixed under §3 (2) [No. 791].

[795] §5. As to the other international organizations, the decision as to whether or not they shall be admitted shall rest with the plenary assembly.

ARTICLE 36

Effective Date of the General Regulations

[796] The present General Regulations shall go into effect on January 1, 1939, except for article 7, which shall apply from September 1, 1939.

Effective date of general regulations. Ante, p. 1429.

[797] In witness whereof the respective delegates have signed the present General Regulations in a single copy which shall remain deposited in the archives of the Egyptian Government and a certified copy of which shall be forwarded to each contracting government.

APPENDICE 1.

Tableau des tolérances de fréquence.

(Voir l'article 6.)

1° La tolérance de fréquence est l'écart maximum admis entre la fréquence réelle d'une émission et la fréquence que cette émission devrait avoir (fréquence notifiée ou fréquence choisie par l'opérateur).

2° Cet écart résulte des erreurs suivantes:

- a) erreur faite lors de l'étalonnage du poste; cette erreur présente un caractère semi-permanent;
- b) l'erreur faite lors de l'emploi du poste (erreur variable d'une émission à l'autre et qui résulte des conditions effectives d'emploi: température ambiante, tension d'alimentation, antenne, habileté de l'opérateur, etc.); cette erreur généralement faible pour les autres services est particulièrement importante dans le cas des stations mobiles;
- c) erreur due aux variations lentes de la fréquence de l'émetteur au cours d'une émission.

Note. Dans le cas des émissions sans onde porteuse, la définition précédente s'applique à la fréquence de l'onde porteuse avant sa suppression.

3° Dans le cas des stations de navire, la fréquence de référence est la fréquence sur laquelle commence l'émission et les chiffres marqués d'un astérisque dans le présent tableau ne se rapportent qu'aux écarts de fréquence observés pendant une durée d'émission de dix minutes.

4° Dans la tolérance de fréquence, il n'est pas tenu compte de la modulation.

e) Stations d'aéronef	0,5%	0,3%
f) Radiodiffusion	50c/s	20c/s

APPENDIX 1

Table of Frequency Tolerances

(See article 6)

Ante, p. 1429.

1. The frequency tolerance is the maximum permissible separation between the actual frequency of an emission and the frequency which this emission should have (frequency notified or frequency chosen by the operator).

2. This separation results from the following errors:

- (a) Error made when the station was calibrated; this error presents a semi-permanent character.
- (b) Error made during use of the station (error variable from one transmission to another and resulting from actual operating conditions: ambient temperature, voltage of supply, antenna, skill of the operator, et cetera). This error, which is usually small in other services, is particularly important in the case of mobile stations.
- (c) Error due to slow variations of the frequency of the transmitter during a transmission.

Note.—In the case of transmissions without a carrier wave, the preceding definition applies to the frequency of the carrier wave before its suppression.

3. In the case of ship stations, the reference frequency is the frequency on which the transmission begins, and the figures appearing in the present table, marked by an asterisk, refer only to frequency separations observed during a ten-minute period of transmission.

4. In the frequency tolerance, modulation is not considered.

(e) Aircraft stations . . . . .	0. 5%	0. 3%
(f) Broadcasting . . . . .	50 cycles	20 cycles

* See preamble, under 3.

Note 1. Les administrations s'efforceront de profiter des progrès de la technique pour réduire progressivement les tolérances de fréquence.

Note 2. Il est entendu que les stations de navire travaillant dans des bandes communes doivent observer les tolérances applicables aux stations terrestres et doivent se conformer à l'article 7, § 21 (2) a).

Note 3. Les stations de radiotéléphonie de puissance inférieure à 25 watts, utilisées par les services de phares maritimes pour les relations avec les phares isolés en mer, sont assimilées, pour la stabilité de fréquence, aux stations mobiles indiquées en C ci-dessus.

Note 4. Les bateaux pourvus d'un émetteur d'une puissance inférieure à 100 watts travaillant dans la bande 1 560-4 000 kc/s (192,3-75 m) ne sont pas soumis aux stipulations de la colonne 1.

APPENDICE 2.

Tableau des tolérances pour l'intensité des harmoniques des stations fixes, terrestres et de radiodiffusion.<sup>1)</sup>

(Voir l'article 6.)

Bandes de fréquences	Tolérances
Fréquence inférieure à 3 000 kc/s (longueur d'onde supérieure à 100 m)	L'intensité du champ produit par un harmonique quelconque doit être inférieure à 300 microvolts/m à 5 km de l'antenne d'émission.
Fréquence supérieure à 3 000 kc/s (longueur d'onde inférieure à 100 m)	La puissance dans l'antenne d'un harmonique doit être 40 db en-dessous de la puissance de la fondamentale mais ne doit en aucun cas être supérieure à 200 milliwatts <sup>2)</sup>

Note 1.—The administrations shall endeavor to profit by the progress of the art in order to reduce frequency tolerances progressively.

Note 2.—It shall be understood that ship stations working in shared bands must observe the tolerances applicable to land stations and must conform to article 7, §21 (2) (a). [No. 186].

Note 3.—Radiotelephone stations with less than 25 watts' power, employed by maritime beacons for communications with beacons isolated at sea, shall be comparable, with reference to frequency stability, to mobile stations indicated in C above.

Note 4.—Ships equipped with a transmitter, the power of which is under 100 watts, working in the band of 1,560–4,000 kc (192.3–75 m), shall not be subject to the stipulations of column 1.

Ante, p. 1471.

APPENDIX 2

Table of Tolerances for the Intensity of Harmonics of Fixed, Land, and Broadcasting Stations <sup>1</sup>

(See article 6)

Ante, p. 1429.

Frequency bands	Tolerances
Frequency under 3,000 kc (wavelength above 100 m)	The field intensity produced by any harmonic must be under 300 $\mu\text{v}/\text{m}$ at 5 km from the transmitting antenna.
Frequency above 3,000 kc (wavelength under 100 m)	The power of a harmonic in the antenna must be 40 db under the power of the fundamental, but in no case may it be above 200 milliwatts. <sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> With regard to tolerances for mobile stations, an attempt shall be made to achieve, so far as possible, the figures specified for fixed stations.

APPENDICE 3.

Tableau des largeurs de bande de fréquences occupées par les émissions.

(Voir les articles 5 et 6.)

Les bandes de fréquences nécessaires aux différents types d'émission, en l'état actuel du progrès de la technique, sont indiquées ci-dessous. Ce tableau est basé uniquement sur la modulation d'amplitude. Pour la modulation de fréquence ou de phase, les largeurs de bandes nécessaires pour les diverses émissions sont plusieurs fois plus grandes.

Types d'émission	Largeur totale de la bande en périodes par seconde. Pour l'émission à deux bandes latérales.
A0 Ondes entretenues pas de signalisation.
A1 Télégraphie, onde entretenue pure Code Morse Code Baudot Imprimeur arythmique  Imprimeur du type à exploration	Numériquement égale à la vitesse télégraphique en bauds pour la fréquence fondamentale, 3 fois cette largeur pour le 3e harmonique, etc. [Pour un code de 8 éléments de temps (points ou espaces) par lettre et 48 éléments de temps par mot, la vitesse en bauds est égale à 0,8 fois la vitesse en mots par minute]. 300-1 000, pour des vitesses de 50 mots par minute, selon les conditions de fonctionnement et le nombre de lignes explorées (par exemple 7 ou 12) (Il n'est pas tenu compte des harmoniques dans les valeurs ci-dessus).
A2 Télégraphie modulée à fréquence musicale	Valeurs figurant sous A1, plus deux fois la fréquence de modulation la plus élevée.
A3 Radiotéléphonie commerciale  Radiodiffusion	Deux fois le nombre indiqué par les avis du C. C. I. F. (environ 6 000 à 8 000). <sup>1)</sup> 15 000 à 20 000
A4 Fac-similé	A peu près le rapport du nombre de composantes d'images <sup>2)</sup> à transmettre au nombre de secondes nécessaires à l'émission.
A5 Télévision	A peu près le produit du nombre de composantes d'images <sup>2)</sup> par le nombre d'images transmises par seconde.

APPENDIX 3

Table of Frequency-Band Widths Occupied by the Emissions

(See articles 5 and 6)

Ante, pp. 1427, 1429.

The frequency bands necessary for the various types of transmission, at the present state of technical development, are indicated below. This table is based solely upon amplitude modulation. For frequency or phase modulation, the band widths necessary for the various transmissions are many times greater.

Type of transmission	Total width of the band in cycles For transmission with two sidebands
A0 Continuous waves, no signaling
A1 Telegraphy, pure, continuous wave Morse code Baudot code Stop-start printer  Scanning-type printer	Numerically equal to the telegraph speed in bauds for the fundamental frequency, 3 times this width for the 3d harmonic, etc. [For a code of 8 time elements (dots or blanks) per letter and 48 time elements per word, the speed in bauds shall be equal to 0.8 times the speed in words per minute.] 300-1,000, for speeds of 50 words per minute, according to the conditions of operation and the number of lines scanned (for example, 7 or 12). (Harmonics are not considered in the above values.)
A2 Telegraphy modulated to musical frequency	Figures appearing under A1, plus twice the highest modulation frequency.
A3 Commercial radiotelephony  Broadcasting	Twice the number indicated by the C.C.I.F. Opinions (about 6,000 to 8,000). <sup>1</sup>  15,000 to 20,000.
A4 Facsimile	Approximately the ratio between the number of picture components <sup>2</sup> to be transmitted and the number of seconds necessary for the transmission.
A5 Television	Approximately the product of the number of picture components <sup>3</sup> multiplied by the number of pictures transmitted per second.

Report of a Violation of the Telecommunications Convention or of the Radio Regulations

(See article 13)

Ante, p. 1491.

Particulars concerning the station violating the Regulations

- 1. Name, if known (in printed letters) [Note (a)].
2. Call signal (in printed letters).
3. Nationality, if known
4. Wave used (kc or m)
5. System [Note (b)]

Particulars concerning the station reporting the irregularity

- 6. Name (in printed letters).
7. Call signal (in printed letters).
8. Nationality.
9. Approximate position [Note (c)].

Details of the irregularity

- 10. Name [Note (d)] of the station in communication with the station committing the violation
11. Call signal of the station in communication with the station committing the violation
12. Time [Note (e)] and date.
13. Nature of the irregularity [Note (f)]

14. Excerpts from ship log and other documents supporting the report (to be continued on reverse side, if necessary). Time.

15. Certificate.

I certify that the foregoing report represents, to the best of my knowledge, a complete and accurate account of what took place.

Date: . . . . . 19. . . . (*) . . . . .

(* This report must be signed by the operator who called attention to the violation, and countersigned by the master of the ship or aircraft, or by the chief of the land station.

INDICATIONS POUR REMPLIR CETTE FORMULE.

Remarque a) Chaque rapport ne fera mention que d'un seul navire ou d'une seule station, voir remarque d).

Remarque b) Type A1, A2, A3 ou B.

Remarque c) Applicable seulement aux navires et aéronefs, doit être exprimée en latitude et longitude (Greenwich) ou par un relèvement vrai et distance en milles marins ou en kilomètres de quelque endroit bien connu.

Remarque d) Si les deux stations en communication enfreignent les Règlements, un rapport sera fait séparément pour chacune de ces stations.

Remarque e) Doit être exprimée par un groupe de quatre chiffres (0000 à 2400), temps moyen de Greenwich (T.M.G.). Si l'infraction porte sur une période considérable, les heures devront être indiquées dans la marge du n° 14.

Remarque f) Un rapport séparé est requis pour chacune des irrégularités, à moins que les erreurs n'aient évidemment été faites par la même personne et n'aient eu lieu que dans une courte période de temps. Tous les rapports doivent être envoyés en deux exemplaires et être établis dans la mesure du possible à la machine à écrire.

POUR L'USAGE EXCLUSIF DE L'ADMINISTRATION.

- |  |           |

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING IN THIS FORM

Note (a) Each report will refer only to one ship or one station. See Note d.

Note (b) Type A1, A2, A3, or B.

Note (c) Applicable to ships and aircraft only; must be expressed either in latitude and longitude (Greenwich) or by a true bearing and distance in nautical miles or in kilometers from some well-known place.

Note (d) If both communicating stations violate the Regulations, a separate report shall be made for each one of these stations.

Note (e) Must be expressed by a group of four figures (0000 to 2400) Greenwich mean time (G. M. T.). If the violation covers a considerable period of time, the hours must be shown in the margin of item no. 14.

Note (f) A separate report is required for each irregularity, unless the violations have obviously all been made by the same person and have occurred within short time. All reports must be forwarded in duplicate and, when practicable, must be typewritten.

(Indelible pencil and carbon paper may be used.)

FOR THE USE OF THE ADMINISTRATION ONLY

1. Company controlling the installation of the station against which complaint is made. . . . .
2. Name of the operator of the station held responsible for the violation of the Regulations. . . . .
3. Action taken. . . . .

PARTIE C. ETAT SIGNALÉTIQUE DES STATIONS DE NAVIRE.

Les renseignements relatifs à ces stations sont publiés en deux ou trois lignes dans l'ordre suivant :

1re ligne.

Indicatif d'appel au-dessous duquel figurera la taxe du navire, suivie d'un renvoi pour désigner l'administration ou l'exploitation privée à laquelle les comptes de taxe doivent être adressés. En cas de changement de l'adresse de l'exploitant, un second renvoi, après la taxe, donnera la nouvelle adresse et la date à partir de laquelle le changement entrera en vigueur; nom du navire rangé à l'ordre alphabétique sans considération de nationalité, suivi de l'indicatif d'appel en cas d'homonymie; dans ce cas, le nom et l'indicatif sont séparés par une barre de fraction; ensuite, des notations X, Δ, etc. Lorsque deux ou plusieurs stations de navire de même nationalité portent le même nom, ainsi que dans les cas où les comptes de taxes doivent être adressés directement au propriétaire du navire, il est fait, dans un renvoi, mention du nom de la compagnie de navigation ou de l'armateur auquel appartient le navire; puissance dans l'antenne en kilowatts;

mètres-ampères, entre parenthèses, pour 500 kc/s (600 m).

Pour établir le produit "mètres-ampères", on multiplie la hauteur réelle de l'antenne en mètres à partir de la ligne de charge par le courant efficace en ampères à la base de l'antenne;

nature du service;

heures d'ouverture sous forme de notation de service ou de renvoi.

Les heures indiquées autrement que sous forme de notation de service doivent être indiquées en temps moyen de Greenwich (T. M. G.).

PART B. DESCRIPTIVE LIST OF COAST STATIONS

(Name of the country
Name of the stations } in alphabetical order)

Name of the station <sup>8</sup>	Call signal	Wave		Exact geographical location of the transmitting antenna <sup>5</sup>	Power in the antenna <sup>3</sup> kw	Service		Charges <sup>6</sup>	Remarks <sup>7</sup>
		Frequencies (wave-lengths) <sup>1</sup> kc (m)	Type			Nature	Working hours <sup>4</sup>
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

<sup>5</sup> The internal telegraph charge of the country to which the coast station belongs and the charge applied by this country to telegrams addressed to adjoining countries are given in an annex to the present nomenclature.

<sup>6</sup> If the accounts for charges are settled by a private operating enterprise, indicate, if need be, the name and address of this private operating enterprise.

<sup>8</sup> There must be indicated for each country the coast station or coast stations to which radiotelegrams intended for short-wave transmission to ship stations must be sent.

PART C. DESCRIPTIVE LIST OF SHIP STATIONS

The information relating to these stations is published in two or three lines in the following order:

First line:

Call signal below which will appear the ship charge, followed by a reference to indicate the administration or private operating enterprise to which the accounts for charges must be addressed. In case of a change of address of the operating agency, a second reference after the charge will give the new address and the date on which the change will become effective.

Name of the ship, placed in alphabetical order without regard to nationality followed by the call signal in case of homonymy; in this case, the name and call signal shall be separated by a fraction bar; next, the symbols X, Δ, et cetera. When two or more ship stations of the same nationality have the same name, as well as in cases where statements of charges must be sent directly to the owner of the ship, mention shall be made, in a footnote, of the name of the shipping company or of the ship-owner to which the ship belongs.

Power in the antenna in kilowatts.

Meter amperes, in parentheses, for 500 kc (600 m).

In order to obtain the "meter-ampere" product, the real height of the antenna in meters, measured from the transmission line, is multiplied by the effective current in amperes at the base of the antenna.

Nature of the service.

Working hours shown as a service indication or note.

Hours shown otherwise than in the form of service indications must be given in Greenwich mean time (G.M.T.)

2e et 3e lignes.

(pour la taxe, voir 1re ligne).

Pays dont relève la station (indication abrégée); types et indications des bandes de fréquences d'émission.

Les indications des bandes de fréquences sont données par les abréviations suivantes imprimées en caractères gras:

w=	100—	160 kc/s	(3 000—1 875 m)
x=	375—	500 kc/s	( 800— 600 m)
y=	1 500—	3 500 kc/s	( 200— 86 m)
z=	4 000—	22 000 kc/s	( 75— 14 m)

La signification des abréviations est indiquée au bas de chaque deuxième page de la nomenclature.

Ces abréviations sont, si nécessaire, suivies de renvois à la fin de la nomenclature, pour des observations succinctes et l'indication des fréquences (longueurs d'onde) d'émission pour lesquelles les réglages sont faits, l'onde normale de travail étant imprimée en caractères gras.

Second and third lines:

(For charges, see first line)

Country to which the station is subject (abbreviated indication); types and indications of frequency band of emission.

The indications of frequency bands shall be given by the following abbreviations printed in boldface type:

- w= 100- 160 kc (3,000-1,875 m)
- x= 375- 500 kc ( 800- 600 m)
- y=1,500- 3,500 kc ( 200- 86 m)
- z=4,000-22,000 kc ( 75- 14 m)

The meaning of the abbreviations shall be indicated at the foot of each second page of the nomenclature.

These abbreviations shall, if necessary, be followed by footnotes at the end of the nomenclature for brief remarks and indication of the frequencies of emission (wavelengths) for which adjustments are made, the normal working-wave being printed in boldface type.

Ante, pp. 1499, 1525.

- ✕ station on board a warship or a war aircraft
- A automatic alarm apparatus
- △ radio direction-finder on board a mobile station
- station classified among those located in a heavy-traffic region for which traffic on 500 kc (600 m) is limited in accordance with article 21, §4 (3) (a) [No. 486].

Ante, p. 1525.

D 30°	antenne dirigée dans la direction de rayonnement maximum de 30° (exprimé en degrés à partir du nord vrai, de zéro à 360, dans le sens des aiguilles d'une montre)
DR	antenne dirigée pourvue d'un réflecteur
FA	station terrestre effectuant un service avec les stations d'aéronef
FC	station terrestre effectuant un service avec les stations de navire
FR	station réceptrice seulement, reliée au réseau général des voies de télécommunication
FS	station terrestre établie dans le seul but de la sécurité de la vie humaine
FX	station effectuant un service de radiocommunication entre points fixes
H24	station ayant un service permanent, de jour et de nuit
H16	station de navire de la 2e catégorie effectuant 16 heures de service
H8	station de navire de la 2e catégorie effectuant 8 heures de service
HJ	station ouverte du lever au coucher du soleil (service de jour)
HX	station n'ayant pas de vacations déterminées
CO	station ouverte à la correspondance exclusivement officielle
CP	station ouverte à la correspondance publique
CR	station ouverte à la correspondance publique restreinte
CV	station ouverte exclusivement à la correspondance d'une entreprise privée
RC	radiophare circulaire
RD	radiophare directionnel
RG	station radiogoniométrique
RT	radiophare tournant
RV	radiophare directionnel variable

Documents dont les stations mobiles doivent être pourvues.

(Voir les articles 3, 10, 12, 15 et l'appendice 8.)

A. les "stations de navire" à bord des navires obligatoirement pourvus d'une installation radiotélégraphique:

- 1° la licence radioélectrique;
- 2° le certificat du ou des opérateurs;
- 3° le registre (journal du service radioélectrique) sur lequel sont mentionnés, au moment où ils se produisent, les incidents de service de toute nature, ainsi que les communications échangées avec des stations terrestres ou des stations mobiles et relatives à des avis de sinistre. Si le règlement de bord le permet, la position du véhicule sera indiquée une fois par jour sur ledit registre;
- 4° la liste alphabétique des indicatifs d'appel;
- 5° la nomenclature des stations côtières et de navire;

D 30°	directive antenna having maximum radiation in the direction of 30° (expressed in degrees from the true north, from 0 to 360 clockwise)
DR	directive antenna provided with a reflector
FA	land station carrying on a service with aircraft stations
FC	land station carrying on a service with ship stations
FR	receiving station only, connected with the general network of telecommunication channels
FS	land station established solely for the safety of life
FX	station carrying on radio-communication service, between fixed points
H 24	station having a continuous day and night service
H 16	ship station of the second category carrying on 16 hours of service
H 8	ship station of the second category carrying on 8 hours of service
HJ	station open from sunrise to sunset (day service)
HX	station having no specific working hours
CO	station open to official correspondence exclusively
CP	station open to public correspondence
CR	station open to limited public correspondence
CV	station open exclusively to the correspondence of a private enterprise
RC	non-directional radiobeacon
RD	directional radiobeacon
RG	radio direction-finding station
RT	rotating radiobeacon
RV	variable directional radiobeacon

Documents With Which Mobile Stations Must Be Provided

(See articles 3, 10, 12, 15, and appendix 8)

Ante, pp. 1425, 1479, 1489, 1499, 1605.

A. "Ship stations" on board ships compulsorily equipped with a radiotelegraph installation:

1. The radio license.
2. The operator(s)' certificate.
3. Register (radio service log) in which shall be mentioned, at the time when they occur, service incidents of all kinds, as well as the communications exchanged with land stations or mobile stations and relating to reports of disaster. If the regulations on board permit, the position of the vehicle shall be indicated once a day in the said register.
4. Alphabetical list of the call signals.
5. The nomenclature of coast and ship stations.

6° la nomenclature des stations effectuant des services spéciaux;
7° le Règlement général et le Règlement additionnel des radiocommunications, ainsi que les dispositions de la Convention qui sont nécessaires pour l'exploitation du service des radiocommunications à bord des navires;

8° les tarifs télégraphiques des pays à destination desquels la station accepte le plus fréquemment des radiotélégrammes.

B. les autres "stations de navire":

les documents visés aux chiffres 1° à 5° inclus sous le titre A.

C. les "stations d'aéronef":

1° les documents visés aux chiffres 1°, 2° et 3° sous le titre A;

2° la nomenclature des stations aéronautiques et d'aéronef ou d'autres documents contenant les renseignements officiels relatifs aux stations aéronautiques et aux stations d'aéronef qui sont nécessaires à la station d'aéronef pour l'exécution de son service.

APPENDICE 11.

Abréviations à employer dans les radiocommunications.

A. LISTE DES ABRÉVIATIONS PAR ORDRE ALPHABÉTIQUE.

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QRA	Quel est le nom de votre station?	Le nom de ma station est . . .
QRB	A quelle distance approximative vous trouvez-vous de ma station?	La distance approximative entre nos stations est de . . . milles marins (ou . . . kilomètres).
QRC	Par quelle exploitation privée (ou administration d'Etat) sont liquidés les comptes de taxes de votre station?	Les comptes de taxes de ma station sont liquidés par l'exploitation privée . . . (ou par l'administration de l'Etat . . .).
QRD	Où allez-vous et d'où venez-vous?	Je vais à . . . et je viens de . . .
QRG	Voulez-vous m'indiquer ma fréquence (longueur d'onde) exacte en kc/s (ou m)?	Votre fréquence (longueur d'onde) exacte est de . . . kc/s (ou . . . m).
QRH	Ma fréquence (longueur d'onde) varie-t-elle?	Votre fréquence (longueur d'onde) varie.
QRI	La tonalité de mon émission est-elle régulière?	La tonalité de votre émission varie.
QRJ	Me recevez-vous mal? Mes signaux sont-ils faibles?	Je ne peux pas vous recevoir. Vos signaux sont trop faibles.
QRK	Quelle est la lisibilité de mes signaux (1 à 5)?	La lisibilité de vos signaux est . . . (1 à 5).

6. Nomenclature of stations carrying on special services.

7. The General Radio Regulations and the Additional Radio Regulations as well as the provisions of the Convention necessary for the operation of radio-communication service on board ships.

8. The telegraph rates of the countries for which the station most frequently accepts radiotelegrams.

B. Other "ship stations":

The documents indicated in items 1 to 5 under part A.

C. "Aircraft stations":

1. The documents indicated in items 1, 2, and 3 under part A.

2. The nomenclature of aeronautical and aircraft stations, or other documents containing official information relative to aeronautical and aircraft stations, necessary to the aircraft station for the performance of its service.

ABBREVIATIONS TO BE USED IN ALL SERVICES<sup>1 2</sup>

A. LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QRA	What is the name of your station?	The name of my station is . . . .
QRB	At what approximate distance are you from my station?	The approximate distance between our stations is . . . nautical miles ( or . . . kilometers).
QRC	By what private operating enterprise ( or government administration) are the accounts for charges of your station settled?	The accounts for charges of my station are settled by the . . . private operating enterprise ( or by the government administration of . . .).
QRD	Where are you going and where do you come from?	I am going to . . . and I come from . . . .
QRG	Will you tell me what my exact frequency (wavelength) is in kilocycles ( or meters)?	Your exact frequency (wavelength) is . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters).
QRH	Does my frequency (wavelength) vary?	Your frequency (wavelength) varies.
QRI	Is the tone of my transmission regular?	The tone of your transmission varies.
QRJ	Are you receiving me badly? Are my signals weak?	I cannot receive you. Your signals are too weak.
QRK	What is the legibility of my signals ( 1 to 5 )?	The legibility of your signals is . . . ( 1 to 5 ).

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QRL	Etes-vous occupé?	Je suis occupé ( ou Je suis occupé avec . . .). Prière de ne pas brouiller.
QRM	Etes-vous brouillé?	Je suis brouillé.
QRN	Etes-vous troublé par les atmosphériques?	Je suis troublé par les atmosphériques.
QRO	Dois-je augmenter l'énergie?	Augmentez l'énergie.
QRP	Dois-je diminuer l'énergie?	Diminuez l'énergie.
QRQ	Dois-je transmettre plus vite?	Transmettez plus vite (. . . mots par minute).
QRS	Dois-je transmettre plus lentement?	Transmettez plus lentement (. . . mots par minute).
QRT	Dois-je cesser la transmission?	Cessez la transmission.
QRU	Avez-vous quelque chose pour moi?	Je n'ai rien pour vous.
QRV	Etes-vous prêt?	Je suis prêt.
QRW	Dois-je aviser . . . que vous l'appellez sur . . . kc/s ( ou . . . m)?	Prière d'aviser . . . que je l'appelle sur . . . kc/s ( ou . . . m).
QRX	Dois-je attendre? A quel moment me rappellerez-vous?	Attendez ( ou Attendez jusqu'à ce que j'aie fini de communiquer avec . . .). Je vous rappellerai à . . . heure ( ou aussitôt).
QRY	Quel est mon tour?	Votre tour est numéro . . . ( ou d'après toute autre indication).
QRZ	Par qui suis-je appelé?	Vous êtes appelé par . . .
QSA	Quelle est la force de mes signaux (1 à 5)?	La force de vos signaux est (1 à 5).
QSB	La force de mes signaux varie-t-elle?	La force de vos signaux varie.
QSD	Ma manipulation est-elle correcte; mes signaux sont-ils nets?	Votre manipulation est incorrecte; vos signaux sont mauvais.
QSG	Dois-je transmettre . . . télégrammes ( ou un télégramme) à la fois?	Transmettez . . . télégrammes ( ou un télégramme) à la fois.
QSJ	Quelle est la taxe à percevoir par mot pour . . ., y compris votre taxe télégraphique intérieure?	La taxe à percevoir par mot pour . . . est de . . . francs, y compris ma taxe télégraphique intérieure.
QSK	Dois-je continuer la transmission de tout mon trafic, je peux vous écouter entre mes signaux?	Continuez la transmission de tout votre trafic, je vous interromprai s'il y a lieu.
QSL	Pouvez-vous me donner accusé de réception?	Je vous donne accusé de réception.
QSM	Dois-je vous répéter le dernier télégramme que je vous ai transmis?	Répétez le dernier télégramme que vous m'avez transmis.
QSO	Pouvez-vous communiquer avec . . . directement ( ou par l'intermédiaire de . . .)?	Je puis communiquer avec . . . . . directement ( ou par l'intermédiaire de . . .).

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QRL	Are you busy?	I am busy ( or I am busy with . . . ). Please do not interfere.
QRM QRN	Are you being interfered with? Are you troubled by static?	I am being interfered with. I am troubled by static.
QRO QRP QRQ	Must I increase the power? Must I decrease the power? Must I transmit faster?	Increase the power. Decrease the power. Transmit faster (. . . words per minute).
QRS	Must I transmit more slowly?	Transmit more slowly (. . . words per minute).
QRT QRU	Must I stop transmission? Have you anything for me?	Stop transmission. I have nothing for you.
QRV QRW	Are you ready? Must I advise . . . that you are calling him on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters )?	I am ready. Please advise . . . that I am calling him on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ).
QRX	Must I wait? When will you call me again?	Wait ( or Wait until I have finished communicating with . . . ). I shall call you again at . . . o'clock ( or immediately ).
QRY	Which is my turn?	Your turn is number . . . ( or according to any other indication ).
QRZ QSA	By whom am I being called? What is the strength of my signals ( 1 to 5 )?	You are being called by . . . The strength of your signals is ( 1 to 5 ).
QSB	Does the strength of my signals vary?	The strength of your signals varies.
QSD	Is my keying correct; are my signals distinct?	Your keying is incorrect; your signals are bad.
QSG	Must I transmit . . . telegrams ( or one telegram ) at a time?	Transmit . . . telegrams ( or one telegram ) at a time.
QSJ	What is the charge to be collected per word to . . . including your internal telegraph charge?	The charge to be collected per word to . . . is . . . francs, including my internal telegraph charge.
QSK	Must I continue the transmission of all my traffic; I can hear you between my signals?	Continue the transmission of all your traffic; I shall interrupt you if necessary.
QSL	Can you acknowledge receipt?	I am acknowledging receipt.
QSM	Must I repeat the last telegram which I transmitted to you?	Repeat the last telegram which you transmitted to me.
QSO	Can you communicate with . . . directly ( or through . . . )?	I can communicate with . . . directly ( or through . . . ).

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QSP	Voulez-vous retransmettre à . . . gratuitement?	Je retransmettrai à . . . gratuitement.
QSR	L'appel de détresse reçu de . . . a-t-il été réglé?	L'appel de détresse reçu de . . . a été réglé par . . .
QSU	Dois-je transmettre (ou répondre) sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3, ou B?	Transmettez (ou Répondez) sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B.
QSV	Dois-je transmettre une série de VVV . . . ?	Transmettez une série de VVV . . .
QSW	Voulez-vous transmettre sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B?	Je vais transmettre (ou Je transmettrai) sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B.
QSX	Voulez-vous écouter . . . ( indicatifs d'appel ) sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m)?	J'écoute . . . ( indicatif d'appel ) sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m).
QSY	Dois-je passer à la transmission sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m), sans changer de type d'onde? ou	Passez à la transmission sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) sans changer de type d'onde ou
	Dois-je passer à la transmission sur une autre onde?	Passez à la transmission sur une autre onde.
QSZ	Dois-je transmettre chaque mot ou groupe deux fois?	Transmettez chaque mot ou groupe deux fois.
QTA	Dois-je annuler le télégramme n° . . . comme s'il n'avait pas été transmis?	Annulez le télégramme n° . . . comme s'il n'avait pas été transmis.
QTB	Etes-vous d'accord avec mon compte de mots?	Je ne suis pas d'accord avec votre compte de mots; je répète la première lettre de chaque mot et le premier chiffre de chaque nombre.
QTC	Combien avez-vous de télégrammes à transmettre?	J'ai . . . télégrammes pour vous (ou pour . . .).
QTE <sup>1)</sup>	Quel est mon relèvement vrai relativement à vous? ou	Votre relèvement vrai relativement à moi est de . . . degrés ou
	Quel est mon relèvement vrai relativement à . . . ( indicatif d'appel )? ou	Votre relèvement vrai relativement à ( indicatif d'appel ) est de . . . degrés à . . . (heure) ou
	Quel est le relèvement vrai de . . . ( indicatif d'appel ) relativement à . . . ( indicatif d'appel )?	Le relèvement vrai de . . . ( indicatif d'appel ) relativement à . . . ( indicatif d'appel ) est de . . . degrés à . . . (heure).
QTF	Voulez-vous m'indiquer la position de ma station sur la base des relèvements pris par les postes radiogoniométriques que vous contrôlez?	La position de votre station sur la base des relèvements pris par les postes radiogoniométriques que je contrôle est . . . latitude, . . . longitude.

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QSP	Will you relay to . . . free of charge?	I will relay to . . . free of charge.
QSR	Has the distress call received from . . . been attended to?	The distress call received from . . . has been attended to by . . .
QSU	Must I transmit ( or answer ) on . . . kilocycles ( or meters ) and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B?	Transmit ( or answer ) on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ) and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B.
QSV	Must I transmit a series of V's?	Transmit a series of V's.
QSW	Do you wish to transmit on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ), and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B?	I am going to transmit ( or I shall transmit ) on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ), and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B.
QSX	Will you listen to . . . ( call signal ) on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters )?	I am listening to . . . ( call signal ) on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ).
QSY	Must I shift to transmission on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ), without changing the type of wave? or Must I shift to transmission on another wave?	Shift to transmission on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters ) without changing the type of wave. Shift to transmission on another wave.
QSZ	Must I transmit each word or group twice?	Transmit each word or group twice.
QTA	Must I cancel telegram no. . . . as if it had not been transmitted?	Cancel telegram no. . . . as if it had not been transmitted.
QTB	Do you agree with my word count?	I do not agree with your word count; I shall repeat the first letter of each word and the first figure of each number.
QTC	How many telegrams have you to transmit?	I have . . . telegrams for you ( or for . . . ).
QTE <sup>1</sup>	What is my true bearing in relation to you? or	Your true bearing in relation to me is . . . degrees or
	What is my true bearing in relation to . . . ( call signal )? or	Your true bearing in relation to . . . ( call signal ) is . . . degrees at . . . ( time ) or
	What is the true bearing of . . . ( call signal ) in relation to . . . ( call signal )?	The true bearing of . . . ( call signal ) in relation to . . . ( call signal ) is . . . degrees at . . . ( time ).
QTF	Will you give me the position of my station on the basis of bearings taken by the radio direction-finding stations which you control?	The position of your station on the basis of bearings taken by the radio direction-finding stations which I control is . . . latitude, . . . longitude.

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QTG	Voulez-vous transmettre votre indicatif d'appel pendant cinquante secondes, en terminant par un trait de dix secondes, sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) pour que je puisse prendre votre relèvement radiogoniométrique?	Je vais transmettre mon indicatif d'appel pendant cinquante secondes, en terminant par un trait de dix secondes, sur . . . kc/s (ou . . . m) pour que vous puissiez prendre mon relèvement radiogoniométrique.
QTH	Quelle est votre position en latitude et en longitude (ou d'après toute autre indication)?	Ma position est . . . latitude . . . longitude (ou d'après toute autre indication).
QTI	Quelle est votre route vraie?	Ma route vraie est de . . . degrés.
QTJ	Quelle est votre vitesse de marche?	Ma vitesse de marche est de . . . noeuds (ou de . . . kilomètres) à l'heure.
QTM	Transmettez des signaux radio-électriques et des signaux acoustiques sousmarins pour me permettre de déterminer mon relèvement et ma distance.	Je transmets des signaux radio-électriques et des signaux acoustiques sousmarins pour vous permettre de déterminer votre relèvement et votre distance.
QTO	Etes-vous sorti du bassin (ou du port)?	Je viens de sortir du bassin (ou du port).
QTP	Allez-vous entrer dans le bassin (ou dans le port)?	Je vais entrer dans le bassin (ou dans le port).
QTQ	Pouvez-vous communiquer avec ma station à l'aide du Code International de Signaux?	Je vais communiquer avec votre station à l'aide du Code International de Signaux.
QTR	Quelle est l'heure exacte?	L'heure exacte est . . .
QTU	Quelles sont les heures d'ouverture de votre station?	Les heures d'ouverture de ma station sont de . . . à . . .
QUA	Avez-vous des nouvelles de . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile)?	Voici les nouvelles de . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile).
QUB	Pouvez-vous me donner, dans l'ordre, les renseignements concernant: la visibilité, la hauteur des nuages, le vent au sol pour . . . (lieu d'observation)?	Voici les renseignements demandés: . . . . .
QUC	Quel est le dernier message reçu pour vous de . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile)?	Le dernier message reçu par moi de . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile) est . . .
QUD	Avez-vous reçu le signal d'urgence fait par . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile)?	J'ai reçu le signal d'urgence fait par . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile) à . . . (heure).
QUF	Avez-vous reçu le signal de détresse fait par . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile)?	J'ai reçu le signal de détresse fait par . . . (indicatif d'appel de la station mobile) à . . . (heure).
QUG	Allez-vous être forcé d'amerrir (ou d'atterrir)?	Je suis forcé d'amerrir (ou d'atterrir) à . . . (lieu).
QUH	Voulez-vous m'indiquer la pression barométrique actuelle au niveau de la mer?	La pression barométrique actuelle au niveau de la mer est de . . . (unités).

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QTG	Will you transmit your call signal during 50 seconds ending with a 10-second dash, on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters) so that I may take your radio direction-finding bearings?	I will transmit my call signal during 50 seconds, ending with a 10-second dash, on . . . kilocycles ( or . . . meters) so that you may take my radio direction-finding bearings.
QTH	What is your position in latitude and in longitude (or according to any other indication)?	My position is . . . latitude, . . . longitude (or according to any other indication).
QTI	What is your true course?	My true course is . . . degrees.
Q TJ	What is your speed?	My speed is . . . knots ( or . . . kilometers) per hour.
QTM	Transmit radio signals and submarine sound signals to enable me to determine my bearing and my distance.	I am transmitting radio signals and submarine sound signals to enable you to determine your bearing and your distance.
QTO	Have you left dock ( or port)?	I have left dock ( or port).
QTP	Are you going to enter dock ( or port)?	I am going to enter dock ( or port).
Q TQ	Can you communicate with my station by the International Code of Signals?	I am going to communicate with your station by the International Code of Signals.
QTR	What is the exact time?	The exact time is . . .
Q TU	What are the hours during which your station is open?	My station is open from . . . to . . .
QUA	Have you any news from . . . ( call signal of the mobile station )?	This is the news from . . . ( call signal of the mobile station ).
QUB	Can you give me, in the following order, information concerning: visibility, height of clouds, ground wind at . . . ( place of observation )?	This is the information requested: . . .
QUC	What is the last message you received from . . . ( call signal of the mobile station )?	The last message I received from . . . ( call signal of the mobile station ) is . . .
QUD	Have you received the urgent signal transmitted by . . . ( call signal of the mobile station )?	I have received the urgent signal transmitted by . . . ( call signal of the mobile station ) at . . . ( time ).
QUF	Have you received the distress signal sent by . . . ( call signal of the mobile station )?	I have received the distress signal sent by . . . ( call signal of the mobile station ) at . . . ( time ).
QUG	Will you be forced to come down on water ( or on land)?	I am forced to come down on water ( or on land) at . . . ( place ).
QUH	Will you give me the present barometric pressure at sea level?	The present barometric pressure at sea level is . . . ( units ).

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QUJ <sup>1)</sup>	Voulez-vous m'indiquer le cap vrai à suivre, par vent nul, pour me diriger vers vous?	Le cap vrai à suivre, par vent nul, pour vous diriger vers moi est de . . . degrés à . . . (heure).
QUK	Pouvez-vous m'indiquer l'état de la mer observé à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées)?	La mer à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées) est . . .
QUL	Pouvez-vous m'indiquer la houle observée à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées)?	La houle à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées) est . . .
QUM	Le trafic de détresse est-il terminé?	Le trafic de détresse est terminé.

B. LISTE DES ABRÉVIATIONS PAR NATURE DES QUESTIONS, RÉPONSES OU AVIS:

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
	Nom
QRA	Quel est le nom de votre station?	Le nom de ma station est . . .
	Parcours
QRD	Où allez-vous et d'où venez-vous?	Je vais à . . . et je viens de . . .
	Position
QRB	A quelle distance approximative vous trouvez-vous de ma station?	La distance approximative entre nos stations est de . . . milles marins (ou . . . kilomètres).
QTH	Quelle est votre position en latitude et en longitude (ou d'après toute autre indication)?	Ma position est . . . latitude . . . longitude (ou d'après toute autre indication).
	Qualité des signaux
QRI	La tonalité de mon émission est-elle régulière?	La tonalité de votre émission varie.
QRK	Quelle est la lisibilité de mes signaux (1 à 5)?	La lisibilité de vos signaux est . . . (1 à 5).
	Force des signaux
QRJ	Me recevez-vous mal? Mes signaux sont-ils faibles?	Je ne peux pas vous recevoir. Vos signaux sont trop faibles.
QRO	Dois-je augmenter l'énergie?	Augmentez l'énergie.
QRP	Dois-je diminuer l'énergie?	Diminuez l'énergie.
QSA	Quelle est la force de mes signaux (1 à 5)?	La force de vos signaux est . . . (1 à 5).
QSB	La force de mes signaux varie-t-elle?	La force de vos signaux varie.

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QUJ <sup>1</sup>	Will you please indicate the proper course to steer toward you, with no wind?	The proper course to steer toward me, with no wind, is . . . degrees at . . . ( time ).
QUK	Can you tell me the condition of the sea observed at . . . ( place or coordinates )?	The sea at . . . ( place or coordinates ) is . . .
QUL	Can you tell me the surge observed at . . . ( place or coordinates )?	The surge at . . . ( place or coordinates ) is . . .
QUM	Is the distress traffic ended?	The distress traffic is ended.

B. LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS ACCORDING TO THE NATURE OF QUESTIONS, ANSWERS, OR STATEMENTS

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
	Name
QRA	What is the name of your station?	The name of my station is . . .
	Route
QRD	Where are you going and where do you come from?	I am going to . . . and I come from . . .

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
	Manipulation
QRQ	Dois-je transmettre plus vite?	Transmettez plus vite (. . . mots par minute).
QRS	Dois-je transmettre plus lentement?	Transmettez plus lentement (. . . mots par minute).
QSD	Ma manipulation est-elle correcte; mes signaux sont-ils nets?	Votre manipulation est incorrecte; vos signaux sont mauvais.
	Brouillage
QRM	Etes-vous brouillé?	Je suis brouillé.
QRN	Etes-vous troublé par les atmosphériques?	Je suis troublé par les atmosphériques.
	Réglage de la longueur d'onde
QRG	Voulez-vous m'indiquer ma fréquence (longueur d'onde) exacte en kc/s (ou m)?	Votre fréquence (longueur d'onde) exacte est de ... kc/s (ou ... m).
QRH	Ma fréquence (longueur d'onde) varie-t-elle?	Votre fréquence (longueur d'onde) varie.
	Choix de la longueur d'onde et/ou du type d'onde
QSU	Dois-je transmettre (ou répondre) sur ... kc/s (ou ... m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B?	Transmettez (ou Répondez) sur ... kc/s (ou ... m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B.
QSV	Dois-je transmettre une série de VVV ... ?	Transmettez une série de VVV ...
QSW	Voulez-vous transmettre sur ... kc/s (ou ... m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B?	Je vais transmettre (ou Je transmettrai) sur ... kc/s (ou ... m) et/ou sur ondes du type A1, A2, A3 ou B.
QSX	Voulez-vous écouter ... (indicatif d'appel) sur ... kc/s (ou ... m) ?	J'écoute ... (indicatif d'appel) sur ... kc/s (ou ... m).
	Changement de longueur d'onde.
QSY	Dois-je passer à la transmission sur ... kc/s (ou ... m), sans changer de type d'onde?	Passez à la transmission sur ... kc/s (ou ... m), sans changer de type d'onde?
	ou	ou
	Dois-je passer à la transmission sur une autre onde?	Passez à la transmission sur une autre onde.
	Etablissement de la communication
QRL	Etes-vous occupé?	Je suis occupé (ou Je suis occupé avec ...). Prière de ne pas brouiller.
QRV	Etes-vous prêt?	Je suis prêt.

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
Keying
QRQ	Must I transmit faster?	Transmit faster (. . . words per minute).
QRS	Must I transmit more slowly?	Transmit more slowly (. . . words per minute).
QSD	Is my keying correct; are my signals distinct?	Your keying is incorrect; your signals are bad.
Interference
QRM	Are you being interfered with?	I am being interfered with.
QRN	Are you troubled by static?	I am troubled by static.
Adjustment of the wavelength
QRG	Will you tell me what my exact frequency (wavelength) is in kilocycles (or meters)?	Your exact frequency (wavelength) is . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters).
QRH	Does my frequency (wavelength) vary?	Your frequency (wavelength) varies.
Choice of the wavelength and/or type of wave
QSU	Must I transmit (or answer) on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters) and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B?	Transmit (or answer) on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters) and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B.
QSV	Must I transmit a series of V's?	Transmit a series of V's.
QSW	Do you wish to transmit on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters), and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B?	I am going to transmit (or I shall transmit) on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters), and/or on waves of type A1, A2, A3, or B.
QSX	Will you listen to . . . (call signal) on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters)?	I am listening to . . . (call signal) on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters).
Change of wavelength
QSY	Must I shift to transmission on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters), without changing the type of wave? or	Shift to transmission on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters), without changing the type of wave, or
	Must I shift to transmission on another wave?	Shift to transmission on another wave.
Making contact
QRL	Are you busy?	I am busy (or I am busy with . . .). Please do not interfere.
QRV	Are you ready?	I am ready.

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QRX	Dois-de attendre? A quel moment me rappellerez-vous?	Attendez ( ou Attendez jusqu'à ce que j'aie fini de communiquer avec . . . ).
		Je vous rappellerai à . . . heure ( ou aussitôt ).
QRY	Quel est mon tour?	Votre tour est numéro . . . ( ou d'après toute autre indication ).
QRZ	Par qui suis-je appelé?	Vous êtes appelé par . . .
QTQ	Pouvez-vous communiquer avec ma station à l'aide du Code International de Signaux?	Je vais communiquer avec votre station à l'aide du Code International de Signaux.
	Heure
Q'ZR	Quelle est l'heure exacte?	L'heure exacte est . . .
QTU	Quelles sont les heures d'ouverture de votre station?	Les heures d'ouverture de ma station sont de . . . à . . .
	Taxes
QRC	Par quelle exploitation privée ( ou administration d'Etat ) sont liquidés les comptes de taxes de votre station?	Les comptes de taxes de ma station sont liquidés par l'exploitation privée . . . ( ou par l'administration de l'Etat . . . ).
QSJ	Quelle est la taxe à percevoir par mot pour . . . , y compris votre taxe télégraphique intérieure?	La taxe à percevoir par mot pour . . . est de . . . francs, y compris ma taxe télégraphique intérieure.
	Transit
QRW	Dois-je aviser . . . que vous l'appellez sur . . . kc/s ( ou . . . m )?	Prière d'aviser . . . que je l'appelle sur . . . kc/s ( ou . . . m ).
QSO	Pouvez-vous communiquer avec . . . directement ( ou par l'intermédiaire de . . . )?	Je puis communiquer avec . . . directement ( ou par l'intermédiaire de . . . ).
QSP	Voulez-vous retransmettre à . . . gratuitement?	Je retransmettrai à . . . gratuitement.
QUA	Avez-vous des nouvelles de . . . ( indicatif d'appel de la station mobile )?	Voici les nouvelles de . . . ( indicatif d'appel de la station mobile ).
QUC	Quel est le dernier message reçu par vous de . . . ( indicatif d'appel de la station mobile )?	Le dernier message reçu par moi de . . . ( indicatif d'appel de la station mobile ) est . . .
	Echange de la correspondance
QRU	Avez-vous quelque chose pour moi?	Je n'ai rien pour vous.
QSG	Dois-je transmettre . . . télégrammes ( ou un télégramme ) à la fois?	Transmettez . . . télégrammes ( ou un télégramme ) à la fois.

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QRX	Must I wait? When will you call me again?	Wait (or Wait until I have finished communicating with . . .). I shall call you again at . . . o'clock (or immediately).
QRY	Which is my turn?	Your turn is number . . . (or according to any other indication).
QRZ	By whom am I being called?	You are being called by . . .
QTQ	Can you communicate with my station by the International Code of Signals?	I am going to communicate with your station by the International Code of Signals.
Time
QTR	What is the exact time?	The exact time is . . .
QTU	What are the hours during which your station is open?	My station is open from . . . to . . .
Charges
QRC	By what private operating enterprise (or government administration) are the accounts for charges of your station settled?	The accounts for charges of my station are settled by the . . . private operating enterprise (or by the government administration of . . .).
QSJ	What is the charge to be collected per word to . . . including your internal telegraph charge?	The charge to be collected per word to . . . is . . . francs, including my internal telegraph charge.
Transit
QRW	Must I advise . . . that you are calling him on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters)?	Please advise . . . that I am calling him on . . . kilocycles (or . . . meters).
QSO	Can you communicate with . . . directly (or through . . .)?	I can communicate with . . . directly (or through . . .).
QSP	Will you relay to . . . free of charge?	I will relay to . . . free of charge.
QUA	Have you any news from . . . (call signal of the mobile station)?	This is the news from . . . (call signal of the mobile station).
QUC	What is the last message you received from . . . (call signal of the mobile station)?	The last message I received from . . . (call signal of the mobile station) is . . .
Exchange of correspondence
QRU	Have you anything for me?	I have nothing for you.
QSG	Must I transmit . . . telegrams (or one telegram) at a time?	Transmit . . . telegrams (or one telegram) at a time.

Abréviation	Question	Réponse ou avis
QSK	Dois-je continuer la transmission de tout mon trafic, je peux vous écouter entre mes signaux?	Continuez la transmission de tout votre trafic, je vous interromprai s'il y a lieu.
QSL	Pouvez-vous me donner accusé de réception?	Je vous donne accusé de réception.
QSM	Dois-je vous répéter le dernier télégramme que je vous ai transmis?	Répétez le dernier télégramme que vous m'avez transmis.
QSZ	Dois-je transmettre chaque mot ou groupe deux fois?	Transmettez chaque mot ou groupe deux fois.
QTA	Dois-je annuler le télégramme n° . . . comme s'il n'avait pas été transmis?	Annulez le télégramme n° . . . comme s'il n'avait pas été transmis.
QTB	Etes-vous d'accord avec mon compte de mots?	Je ne suis pas d'accord avec votre compte de mots; je répète la première lettre de chaque mot et le premier chiffre de chaque nombre.
QTC	Combien avez-vous de télégrammes à transmettre?	J'ai . . . télégrammes pour vous (ou pour . . .).
Mouvement.
QTI	Quelle est votre route vraie?	Ma route vraie est de . . . degrés.
QTI	Quelle est votre vitesse de marche?	Ma vitesse de marche est de . . . noeuds (ou de . . . kilomètres) à l'heure.
QTO	Etes-vous sorti du bassin (ou du port)?	Je viens de sortir du bassin (ou du port).
QTP	Allez-vous entrer dans le bassin (ou dans le port)?	Je vais entrer dans le bassin (ou dans le port).
QUG	Allez-vous être forcé d'amerrir (ou d'atterrir)?	Je suis forcé d'amerrir (ou d'atterrir) à . . . (lieu).
QUK	Pouvez-vous m'indiquer l'état de la mer observé à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées)?	La mer à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées) est . . .
QUL	Pouvez-vous m'indiquer la houle observée à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées)?	La houle à . . . (lieu ou coordonnées) est . . .
Météorologie
QUB	Pouvez-vous me donner, dans l'ordre, les renseignements concernant: la visibilité, la hauteur des nuages, le vent au sol pour . . . (lieu d'observation)?	Voici les renseignements demandés: . . .
QUH	Voulez-vous m'indiquer la pression barométrique actuelle au niveau de la mer?	La pression barométrique actuelle au niveau de la mer est de . . . (unités).

Abbreviation	Question	Answer or statement
QSK	Must I continue the transmission of all my traffic; I can hear you between my signals?	Continue the transmission of all your traffic; I shall interrupt you if necessary.
QSL	Can you acknowledge receipt?	I am acknowledging receipt.
QSM	Must I repeat the last telegram which I transmitted to you?	Repeat the last telegram which you transmitted to me.
QSZ	Must I transmit each word or group twice?	Transmit each word or group twice.
QTA	Must I cancel telegram no. . . . as if it had not been transmitted?	Cancel telegram no. . . . as if it had not been transmitted.
QTB	Do you agree with my word count?	I do not agree with your word count; I shall repeat the first letter of each word and the first figure of each number.
QTC	How many telegrams have you to transmit?	I have . . . telegrams for you (or for . . .).
Movement
QTI	What is your true course?	My true course is . . . degrees.
QTI	What is your speed?	My speed is . . . knots (or . . . kilometers) per hour.
QTO	Have you left dock (or port)?	I have left dock (or port).
QTP	Are you going to enter dock (or port)?	I am going to enter dock (or port).
QUG	Will you be forced to come down on water (or on land)?	I am forced to come down on water (or on land) at . . . (place).
QUK	Can you tell me the condition of the sea observed at . . . (place or coordinates)?	The sea at . . . (place or coordinates) is . . .
QUL	Can you tell me the surge observed at (place or coordinates)?	The surge at . . . (place or coordinates) is . . .
Meteorology
QUB	Can you give me, in the following order, information concerning: visibility, height of clouds, ground wind at . . . (place of observation)?	This is the information requested: . . . . .
QUH	Will you give me the present barometric pressure at sea level?	The present barometric pressure at sea level is . . . (units).

BQ	Réponse à RQ.
CL	Je ferme ma station.
CS	Indicatif d'appel (à employer pour demander ou faire répéter un indicatif d'appel).
DB	Je ne puis pas vous fournir de relèvement, vous n'êtes pas dans le secteur vérifié de cette station.
DC	Le minimum de votre signal convient pour le relèvement.
DF	Votre relèvement à . . . (heure) était de . . . degrés, dans le secteur douteux de cette station, avec une erreur possible de deux degrés.
DG	Veuillez m'aviser si vous constatez une erreur dans le relèvement donné.
DI	Relèvement douteux par suite de la mauvaise qualité de votre signal.
DJ	Relèvement douteux par suite du brouillage.
DL	Votre relèvement à . . . (heure) était de . . . degrés, dans le secteur incertain de cette station.
DO	Relèvement douteux. Demandez un autre relèvement plus tard ou à . . . (heure).
DP	Au delà de 50 milles, l'erreur possible de relèvement peut atteindre deux degrés.
DS	Réglez votre transmetteur, le minimum de votre signal est trop étendu.
DT	Je ne puis pas vous fournir de relèvement, le minimum de votre signal est trop étendu.
DY	Cette station est bilatérale, quelle est votre direction approximative en degrés relativement à cette station?
DZ	Votre relèvement est réciproque (à utiliser seulement par la station de contrôle d'un groupe de stations radiogoniométriques lorsqu'elle s'adresse à d'autres stations du même groupe).
ER	Ici . . . (à employer avant le nom de la station mobile dans la transmission des indications de route).
GA	Reprenez la transmission (à employer plus spécialement dans le service fixe).
JM	Si je puis transmettre, faites une série de traits. Pour arrêter ma transmission, faites une série de points [à ne pas utiliser sur 500 kc/s (600 m)].
MN	Minute ou minutes (à employer pour marquer la durée d'une attente).
NW	Je reprends la transmission (à employer plus spécialement dans le service fixe).
OK	Nous sommes d'accord.

CL	I am closing my station.
CS	Call signal ( to be used in requesting that call signal be given or repeated ).
DB	I cannot give you a bearing, you are not in the calibrated sector of this station.
DC	The minimum of your signal is suitable for the bearing.
DF	Your bearing at . . . ( time ) was . . . degrees, in the doubtful sector of this station, with a possible error of two degrees.
DG	Please advise me if you find an error in the bearing given.
DI	Doubtful bearing due to the bad quality of your signal.
DJ	Doubtful bearing due to interference.
DL	Your bearing at . . . ( time ) was . . . degrees, in the uncertain sector of this station.
DO	Doubtful bearing. Request another bearing later, or at . . . ( time ).
DP	Beyond 50 miles, possible error of bearing can attain two degrees.
DS	Adjust your transmitter, your minimum signal is too broad.
DT	I cannot give you a bearing, your minimum signal is too broad.
DY	This is a two-way station, what is your approximate direction, in degrees, in relation to this station?
DZ	Your bearing is reciprocal ( to be used only by the control station of a group of radio direction-finding stations when addressing other stations of the same group ).
ER	Here . . . ( to be used before the name of the mobile station in the transmission of routing indications ).
GA	Resume transmission ( to be used more especially in the fixed service ).
JM	If I may transmit, make a series of dashes. To stop my transmission, make a series of dots [ not to be used on 500 kc (600 m) ].
MN	Minute or minutes ( to be used to indicate the duration of the waiting period ).
NW	I am resuming transmission ( to be used more especially in the fixed service ).

 telegram ended, over.

5° A répond :

Allo B, A répond, exact, exact, coupons.

6° A coupe ensuite la communication et les deux stations reprennent l'écoute normale.

Remarque: Au commencement d'une communication, la formule d'appel est prononcée deux fois, et par la station appelante et par la station appelée. Lorsque la communication est établie, elle n'est prononcée qu'une fois.

§ 2. Lorsqu'il est nécessaire d'épeler des indicatifs d'appel, des abréviations de service et des mots, on utilisera le tableau ci-après:

Chiffre à transmettre <sup>1)</sup>	Lettre à transmettre	Mot à utiliser	Lettre à transmettre	Mot à utiliser
1	A	Amsterdam	O	Oslo
2	B	Baltimore	P	Paris
3	C	Casablanca	Q	Québec

§ 3. Lorsque la station réceptrice a la certitude d'avoir reçu correctement le radiotélégramme, la répétition visée au 4° du § 1 n'est pas nécessaire sauf pour un radiotélégramme avec collationnement. Si l'on renonce à la répétition, la station B accuse réception du radiotélégramme transmis, dans la forme suivante:

Allo A, B répond, bien reçu votre radiotélégramme, commutez.

APPENDICE 15.

Obtention des relèvements radiogoniométriques.

(Voir l'article 32).

I. Instructions générales.

A. Avant d'appeler une ou plusieurs stations radiogoniométriques, pour demander son relèvement, la station mobile doit rechercher dans la nomenclature:

1° Les indicatifs d'appel des stations à appeler pour obtenir les relèvements radiogoniométriques qui l'intéressent.

2° L'onde sur laquelle les stations radiogoniométriques veillent, et l'onde ou les ondes sur lesquelles elles prennent les relèvements.

3° Les stations radiogoniométriques qui, grâce à des liaisons par fils spéciaux, peuvent être groupées avec la station radiogoniométrique à appeler.

<sup>1)</sup> Toute transmission de chiffres est annoncée et se termine par les mots "en nombre" répétés deux fois.

5th. A replying:

Hello B, A replying, exact, exact, cut off.

6th. A then cuts off the communication and the two stations resume their normal listening.

Remark: At the beginning of a communication, the calling formula shall be pronounced twice, both by the calling station and the station called. When the communication is established, it shall be pronounced once only.

§2. Whenever the spelling of call letters, service abbreviations, and words is necessary, the following table shall be used:

Figure to be transmitted <sup>1</sup>	Letter to be transmitted	Word to be used	Letter to be transmitted	Word to be used
1	A	Amsterdam	O	Oslo
2	B	Baltimore	P	Paris
3	C	Casablanca	Q	Quebec

Separating signal	M	Madagascar
Period	N	New York

§3. When the receiving station is certain that it has received the radiotelegram correctly, the repetition provided for in item 4 of §1 shall not be necessary except for a radiotelegram with collation. If repetition is waived, station B shall acknowledge receipt of the radiotelegram transmitted in the following manner:

Hello A, B replies, your radiotelegram well received, over.

APPENDIX 15

Procedure to Obtain Radio Direction-Finding Bearings

(See article 32)

Ante, p. 1580.

I. General Instructions

A. Before calling one or more radio direction-finding stations, the mobile station, in order to request its bearing, must refer to the nomenclature for:

1. The call signals of the stations to be called to obtain the radio direction-finding bearings desired.

2. The wave on which the radio direction-finding stations watch, and the wave or waves on which they take bearings.

3. The radio direction-finding stations which, by means of special wire connections, may be grouped with the radio direction-finding station to be called.

B. La procédure à suivre par la station mobile dépend de diverses circonstances. D'une façon générale, elle doit tenir compte de ce qui suit:

1° Si les stations radiogoniométriques ne veillent pas sur la même onde, que ce soit l'onde pour l'opération du relèvement ou une autre onde, les relèvements doivent être demandés séparément à chaque station ou groupe de stations utilisant une onde donnée.

2° Si toutes les stations radiogoniométriques intéressées veillent sur une même onde, et si elles sont en mesure de prendre des relèvements sur une onde commune — qui peut être une autre onde que l'onde de veille — il y a lieu de les appeler ensemble, afin que les relèvements soient pris par toutes ces stations à la fois, sur une seule et même émission.

3° Si plusieurs stations radiogoniométriques sont groupées à l'aide de fils spéciaux, une seule d'entre elles doit être appelée, même si toutes sont munies d'appareils émetteurs. Dans ce cas, la station mobile doit cependant, s'il est nécessaire, mentionner dans l'appel, au moyen des indicatifs d'appel, les stations radiogoniométriques dont elle désire obtenir des relèvements.

C. Les indications relatives: a) au signal à employer pour obtenir le relèvement; b) à la durée des émissions à faire par la station mobile et c) à l'heure utilisée par la station radiogoniométrique considérée, sont données dans la nomenclature.

II. Règles de procédure.

A. POUR OBTENIR UN RELÈVEMENT.

(1) La station mobile appelle la station radiogoniométrique sur l'onde indiquée dans la nomenclature comme étant son onde de veille. La station appelante transmet l'abréviation QTE? (suivie, si la station radiogoniométrique est une station mobile, par l'abréviation QTH?) et indique, si nécessaire, l'onde qu'elle va employer pour faire prendre son relèvement. Ensuite, la station appelante attend des instructions.

(2) La station radiogoniométrique appelée invite la station appelante à transmettre.

(3) Après avoir, si nécessaire, préparé sa nouvelle onde de transmission, la station appelante répond en transmettant son indicatif d'appel combiné éventuellement avec un autre signal, pendant un temps suffisamment prolongé pour permettre le relèvement.

(4) La station radiogoniométrique détermine la direction et, si possible, le sens du relèvement, et transmet l'information à la station appelante dans l'ordre suivant:

- a)* abréviation QTE;
- b)* relèvement vrai en degrés par rapport à la station radiogoniométrique;
- c)* heure d'observation;
- d)* si la station radiogoniométrique est mobile, sa propre position en latitude et longitude, précédée par l'abréviation QTH.

B. The procedure to be followed by the mobile station depends on varying circumstances. Generally, the following must be taken into account:

1. If the radio direction-finding stations do not listen on the same wave, whether it be the wave on which bearings are taken or another wave, the bearings must be requested separately from each station or group of stations using a given wave.

2. If all the radio direction-finding stations concerned listen on the same wave, and if they are able to take bearings on a common wave—which may be a wave other than the listening-wave—they must all be called together, in order that the bearings may be taken by all these stations at the same time, on one and the same transmission.

3. If several radio direction-finding stations are grouped by means of special wires, only one of them must be called, even if all are furnished with transmitting apparatus. In this case, the mobile station must, however, if it is necessary, specify in the call by means of the call signals, the radio direction-finding stations whose bearings it wishes to obtain.

C. The data concerning: (a) the signal to be used to obtain the bearings, (b) the duration of the transmission to be made by the mobile station, and (c) the time used by the radio direction-finding station in question, shall be given in the nomenclature.

II. Rules of Procedure

A. TO OBTAIN A BEARING

(1) The mobile station shall call the radio direction-finding station on the wave indicated, in the nomenclature, as being its watching-wave. The station calling shall transmit the abbreviation QTE ? (followed, if the radio direction-finding station is a mobile station, by the abbreviation QTH ?) and indicate, if necessary, the wave it is going to use to have a bearing determined. The station calling shall then await instructions.

(2) The radio direction-finding station called shall direct the calling station to transmit.

(3) After having prepared its new transmitting wave, wherever this is required, the calling station shall reply by sending its call signal sometimes combined with another signal, during a length of time sufficiently prolonged to take the bearing.

(4) The radio direction-finding station shall determine the direction and, if possible, the sense of the bearing, and transmit the information to the calling station in the following order:

- (a) the abbreviation QTE;
- (b) the true bearing in degrees from the radio direction-finding station;
- (c) the time of observation;
- (d) if the radio direction-finding station is a mobile station, its own position in latitude and longitude, preceded by the abbreviation QTH.

Si la station radiogoniométrique n'est pas satisfaite de l'opération, elle demande à la station appelante de répéter l'émission indiquée sous (3).

(5) Dès que la station appelante a reçu le résultat de l'observation, elle répète le message à la station radiogoniométrique, celle-ci confirme ensuite que la répétition est exacte ou, le cas échéant, la rectifie en répétant le message à nouveau. Quand la station radiogoniométrique a la certitude que la station mobile a correctement reçu le message, elle transmet le signal "fin de travail". Ce signal est alors répété par la station appelante pour indiquer que l'opération est terminée.

B. POUR OBTENIR UNE POSITION DE DEUX OU PLUSIEURS STATIONS RADIOGONIOMÉTRIQUES ORGANISÉES EN GROUPE.

Si la station appelante désire être informée de sa position par la station de contrôle d'un groupe de stations radiogoniométriques, elle appelle la station de contrôle comme ci-dessus et demande une position en utilisant l'abréviation QTF? <sup>1)</sup>.

La station de contrôle répond à l'appel et, quand les stations radiogoniométriques sont prêtes, invite la station appelante à transmettre; ayant déterminé la position, elle la transmet à la station appelante comme ci-dessus, en utilisant l'abréviation QTF.

C. POUR OBTENIR DES RELÈVEMENTS SIMULTANÉS DE DEUX STATIONS RADIOGONIOMÉTRIQUES, OU PLUS, ORGANISÉS EN GROUPE.

Sur une demande de relèvements, la station de contrôle d'un groupe de stations radiogoniométriques procède comme en B ci-dessus, et ensuite transmet les relèvements observés par chaque station du groupe, chaque relèvement étant précédé de l'indicatif d'appel de la station qui l'a pris.

APPENDICE 16.

Règlement intérieur du Comité consultatif international des radiocommunications. (C.C.I.R.)

(Voir l'article 33 du Règlement).

ARTICLE PREMIER.

Administration organisatrice. Définition et rôle.

On entend par "administration organisatrice", l'administration qui est chargée d'organiser une réunion du C.C.I.R. Son rôle expire cinq mois après la clôture de la réunion qu'elle a organisée.

If the radio direction-finding station is not satisfied with the operation, it shall request the calling station to repeat the transmission indicated under (3).

(5) As soon as the calling station has received the result of the observation, it shall repeat the message to the radio direction-finding station. The latter shall then confirm the accuracy of the repetition or, when necessary, shall correct it by again repeating the message. When the radio direction-finding station is certain that the mobile station has received the message correctly, it shall transmit the signal "end of work". This signal shall then be repeated by the calling station, as an indication that the operation is completed.

B. TO OBTAIN A POSITION FROM TWO OR MORE DIRECTION-FINDING STATIONS ORGANIZED AS A GROUP

If the calling station wishes to be informed of its position by the control station of a group of radio direction-finding stations, it shall call the control station as above and request a position, using the abbreviation QTF? <sup>1</sup>

The control station shall reply to the call and, when the radio direction-finding stations are ready, shall direct the calling station to transmit. When it has determined the position, it shall transmit it to the calling station as above, using the abbreviation QTF.

C. TO OBTAIN SIMULTANEOUS BEARINGS FROM TWO OR MORE RADIO DIRECTION-FINDING STATIONS ORGANIZED AS A GROUP

Upon receiving a request for bearings, the control station of a group of radio direction-finding stations shall proceed as in B above, and then transmit the bearings observed by each station of the group, each bearing being preceded by the call signal of the station which has taken it.

APPENDIX 16

Internal Regulations of the International Radio Consulting Committee (C.C.I.R.)

(See article 33)

Ante, p. 1577.

ARTICLE 1

Organizing Administration. Definition and Functions

By "organizing administration" shall be meant the administration in charge of organizing a meeting of the C.C.I.R. Its functions shall expire five months after the closing of the meeting it has organized.

<sup>1</sup> Coast stations, as a general rule, shall not give positions.

ARTICLE 2.

Invitation à la réunion.

§ 1. L'administration organisatrice fixe le lieu et la date exacte de la réunion et les fait connaître aux autres administrations par l'intermédiaire du Bureau de l'Union au moins une année d'avance.

§ 2. Six mois au moins avant cette date, l'administration organisatrice adresse, par l'intermédiaire du Bureau de l'Union, l'invitation à cette réunion à toutes les administrations de l'Union internationale des télécommunications et aux organismes internationaux visés au § 2, (2) de l'article 33.

Les administrations communiquent l'invitation aux exploitations privées reconnues par elles et aux autres organismes internationaux dont elles jugent utile la participation à la réunion.

Quatre mois au moins avant la réunion, elles transmettent au Bureau de l'Union, leur réponse, celles des exploitations privées reconnues par leur gouvernement respectif adhérent au Règlement des radiocommunications, ainsi que celles des organismes internationaux visés à l'alinéa précédent.

Les organismes internationaux visés au § 2, (2) de l'article 33 transmettent directement leur réponse au Bureau de l'Union dans le délai fixé.

En ce qui concerne les pays où les services radioélectriques sont assurés par des exploitations privées, ces exploitations privées et les autres organismes internationaux reçoivent l'invitation de l'administration organisatrice, par l'intermédiaire des deux gouvernements respectifs.

§ 3. Sont admis à la réunion:

- a) de droit, les experts des administrations, adhérentes ou non au Règlement des radiocommunications (délégués), des exploitations privées reconnues par les gouvernements respectifs (représentants) et des organismes internationaux (auditeurs) visés au § 2, (2) de l'article 33;
- b) de droit, le directeur du Bureau de l'Union ou son représentant et les représentants des autres comités consultatifs internationaux;
- c) après décision de l'assemblée plénière d'ouverture, les experts des autres organismes internationaux (auditeurs), signalés par les administrations.

§ 4. L'administration organisatrice, cinq mois avant la réunion, fait connaître à toutes les administrations, les commissions dont elle a l'intention de proposer la constitution en s'inspirant de la classification des avis et de la répartition des questions entre ces commissions. Immédiatement avant la date de l'ouverture de la réunion, les chefs de délégations se réunissent pour examiner ce projet.

ARTICLE 2

Invitation to the Meeting

§1. The organizing administration shall set the place and definite date of the meeting and inform the other administrations thereof through the Bureau of the Union at least one year in advance.

§2. At least six months before such date, the organizing administration shall address, through the Bureau of the Union, an invitation for this meeting to all the administrations of the International Telecommunications Union and to all the international organizations cited in §2 (2) of article 33 [No. 773].

Ante, p. 1577.

The administrations shall communicate the invitation to private operating enterprises recognized by them and to other international organizations whose participation in the meeting they deem useful.

At least four months before the meeting, they shall forward their reply to the Bureau of the Union, including those of the private operating enterprises recognized by their respective governments adhering to the Radio Regulations, as well as those of the international organizations cited in the preceding paragraph.

The international organizations cited in §2 (2) of article 33 [No. 773] shall transmit their reply directly to the Bureau of the Union in the specified period.

Ante, p. 1577.

With respect to the countries in which radio services are performed by private operating enterprises, such private operating enterprises and other international organizations shall receive the invitation of the organizing administration through the intermediary of the two respective governments.

§3. The following shall be admitted to the meeting:

(a) As a matter of right, the experts of administrations adhering or not adhering to the Radio Regulations (delegates), of private operating enterprises recognized by the respective governments (representatives), and of international organizations (observers) cited in §2 (2) of article 33 [No. 773].

Ante, p. 1577.

(b) As a matter of right, the Director of the Bureau of the Union or his representative and the representatives of other international consulting committees.

(c) After decision by the opening plenary assembly, the experts of other international organizations (observers) mentioned by the administrations.

§4. The organizing administration, five months before the meeting, shall communicate to all the administrations the list of committees the appointment of which it intends to propose upon the basis of the classification of opinions and the distribution of questions among the committees. Immediately before the date of opening of the meeting, the heads of delegations shall assemble to examine this plan.

ARTICLE 3.

Assemblée plénière d'ouverture. Rôle du président de la réunion du C. C. I. R.

§ 1. L'assemblée plénière d'ouverture est présidée par un représentant de l'administration organisatrice. Cette assemblée constitue les commissions nécessaires et répartit entre elles, par catégories, les questions à traiter. Elle désigne le président et le ou les vice-présidents de la réunion du C. C. I. R., le président, le ou les vice-présidents et le ou les rapporteurs de chaque commission, et elle décide aussi sur l'admission des organismes internationaux dont il est question au § 3, c) de l'article précédent.

§ 2. Le président de la réunion du C. C. I. R. dirige les assemblées plénières; il a, en outre, la direction générale des travaux de la réunion. Les vice-présidents prêtent assistance au président et le remplacent en cas d'absence.

ARTICLE 4.

Secrétariat.

Le secrétariat de la réunion du C. C. I. R. est assuré par le Bureau de l'Union.

ARTICLE 5.

Procès-verbaux des assemblées plénières.

En principe, les procès-verbaux des assemblées plénières ne reproduisent les exposés des délégués que dans leurs points principaux. Cependant, chaque délégué a le droit de demander l'insertion analytique ou in extenso au procès-verbal de toute déclaration qu'il a faite, à condition qu'il en fournisse le texte au plus tard dans les deux heures qui suivent la fin de la séance.

ARTICLE 6.

Langues et mode de votation aux assemblées plénières.

§ 1. Les langues employées dans les assemblées plénières sont celles indiquées à l'article 21 de la Convention.

§ 2. Dans les assemblées plénières, seules ont voix délibératives les délégations des administrations qui contribuent aux dépenses du service des radiocommunications du Bureau de l'Union et qui ont eu ce droit dans la dernière conférence de plénipotentiaires ou administrative.*

* Un Etat souverain qui n'était pas adhérent au Règlement général des radiocommunications et qui a adhéré dans l'intervalle de deux conférences de plénipotentiaires ou administrative, pourra avoir voix délibérative, en tenant compte des principes concernant le droit de vote, établis par la Conférence du Caire.

ARTICLE 3

Opening Plenary Assembly. Duties of the President of the C. C. I. R. Meeting

§1. A representative of the organizing administration shall preside over the opening plenary assembly. This assembly shall organize the necessary committees and distribute among them, by categories, the questions to be treated. It shall designate the president and the vice president or vice presidents of the meeting of the C. C. I. R., the chairman and the vice chairman or vice chairmen, and the reporter or reporters of each committee, and it shall also decide upon the admission of the international organizations mentioned in §3 (c) of the foregoing article.

§2. The president of the meeting of the C. C. I. R. shall conduct the plenary assemblies; moreover, he shall have general supervision over the work of the meeting. The vice presidents shall assist the president and replace him in case of absence.

ARTICLE 4

Secretariat

The secretariat for the meeting of the C. C. I. R. shall be provided by the Bureau of the Union.

ARTICLE 5

Minutes of Plenary Assemblies

In principle, the minutes of the plenary assemblies shall give only the main points of the delegates' statements. However, each delegate shall have the right to request the summary or verbatim insertion in the minutes of any statement he shall have made, provided he shall supply the text thereof not later than two hours after the end of the meeting.

ARTICLE 6

Languages and Method of Voting in Plenary Assemblies

§1. The languages used in the plenary assemblies shall be those indicated in article 21 of the Convention.

§2. In plenary assemblies, only the delegations of those administrations which contribute to the expenses of the radio service of the Bureau of the Union and which were entitled to vote at the last plenipotentiary or administrative conference,* shall have the right to vote.

*A sovereign state which, not having adhered to the General Radio Regulations, adheres during the interval between two plenipotentiary or administrative conferences, may have the right to vote in conformity with the principles concerning the right to vote established by the Cairo Conference.

Toutes les autres administrations, exploitations privées et organismes internationaux visés au §2, (2) de l'article 33, le directeur du Bureau de l'Union et les représentants des autres comités consultatifs ont seulement voix consultative. Toutefois, lorsqu'un pays n'est pas représenté par une administration ayant voix délibérative, les représentants des exploitations privées de ce pays disposent, pour leur ensemble et quel que soit leur nombre, d'une seule voix délibérative.

Pour les autres organismes internationaux, les dispositions du § 3, c) de l'article 2 sont appliquées.

§ 3. Une délégation qui serait empêchée, pour une cause grave, d'assister à des séances, a la faculté de charger de sa ou de ses voix une autre délégation. Toutefois, une même délégation ne peut disposer dans ces conditions des voix de plus de deux délégations, y compris la sienne ou les siennes.

§ 4. Aucune proposition n'est adoptée si elle ne réunit la majorité absolue des suffrages exprimés; en cas d'égalité de voix elle est écartée.

§ 5. Les votations ont lieu soit à mains levées, soit, sur demande d'une délégation, par appel nominal, dans l'ordre alphabétique des noms français des pays participants. Dans le premier cas, les procès-verbaux indiquent le nombre des délégations qui ont voté pour et le nombre de celles qui ont voté contre la proposition; dans le dernier cas, ils indiquent les délégations qui ont voté pour et celles qui ont voté contre la proposition.

ARTICLE 7.

Fonctionnement des commissions, sous-commissions et sous-sous-commissions.

§ 1. Les commissions instituées par l'assemblée plénière peuvent se subdiviser en sous-commissions, et les sous-commissions en sous-sous-commissions.

§ 2. Les présidents des commissions proposent à la ratification de leurs commissions respectives le choix du président et du ou des rapporteurs de chaque sous-commission et sous-sous-commission.

§ 3. Les présidents peuvent inviter des experts de l'industrie privée à participer à certaines séances des commissions, s'il apparaît que leur collaboration peut être utile.

§ 4. Les avis émis par les commissions doivent porter l'une des formules "à l'unanimité" ou "à la majorité", selon qu'ils ont été adoptés à l'unanimité ou à la majorité des votants.

§ 5. Les dispositions des articles 5 et 6 sont applicables aux travaux des commissions, sous-commissions et sous-sous-commissions. Toutefois, seules les délégations et les représentations répondant aux conditions fixées au § 2 de l'article 6 et désignées pour faire partie de ces commissions, sous-commissions et sous-sous-commissions ont voix délibérative.

All the other administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations contemplated in §2 (2) of article 33 [No. 773], the Director of the Bureau of the Union and representatives of other consulting committees shall attend only in an advisory capacity. However, when a country is not represented by an administration possessing the right to vote, the representatives of the private operating enterprises of such country, as a whole and regardless of their number, shall be entitled to not more than one vote.

Ante, p. 1577.

With regard to other international organizations, the provisions of §3 (c) of article 2 shall be applied.

§3. Any delegation which might, for serious reasons, be prevented from attending meetings, shall have the right to entrust its vote or votes to another delegation. However, a single delegation may not, under these circumstances, use the votes of more than two delegations, including its own vote or votes.

§4. No proposal shall be adopted if it is not supported by an absolute majority of the votes cast; in case of a tie, it shall be rejected.

§5. Voting shall be conducted either by raising the hands, or, at the request of a delegation, by roll call in the alphabetical order of the French names of the participating countries. In the former case, the minutes shall indicate the number of delegations that voted for and the number that voted against the proposal; in the latter case, they shall indicate the delegations that voted for and those that voted against the proposal.

ARTICLE 7

Functioning of Committees, Subcommittees, and Sub-subcommittees

§1. The committees created by the plenary assembly may be divided into subcommittees, and the subcommittees into sub-subcommittees.

§2. The chairmen of the committees shall propose, for ratification by their respective committees, the selection of the chairman and one or more reporters for each subcommittee and sub-subcommittee.

§3. The chairmen may invite experts from private industry to participate in certain meetings of the committees, if it appears that their collaboration may be useful.

§4. The opinions expressed by the committees must be marked "unanimously" or "by a majority", according to whether they were adopted unanimously or by a majority of those voting.

§5. The provisions of articles 5 and 6 shall be applicable to the work of the committees, subcommittees, and sub-subcommittees. However, only the delegations and representatives meeting the requirements of §2 of article 6 and designated as members of such committees, subcommittees, and sub-subcommittees shall have the right to vote.

ARTICLE 8.

Publication des documents.

Le Bureau de l'Union prend part aux divers travaux du C. C. I. R. en vue de la centralisation et de la publication des avis et d'une documentation générale à l'usage des administrations.

ARTICLE 9.

Assemblée plénière de clôture.

§ 1. A l'assemblée plénière de clôture, le président communique la liste des avis, la liste des questions restant à résoudre et la liste des questions nouvelles soumises par les commissions.

§ 2. Le président constate, le cas échéant, l'adoption définitive des avis exprimés. S'il y a lieu à votation, les formules "à l'unanimité" ou "à la majorité" s'appliquent à cette votation.

§ 3. L'assemblée plénière établit ensuite la liste des questions non résolues et des questions nouvelles, dont l'étude doit être effectuée; elle procède à la constitution de "Groupes d'administrations", chargées d'étudier les questions susdites entre les réunions et de préparer les avis à soumettre au C. C. I. R.

Pour chaque groupe d'administrations, l'assemblée désigne l'administration centralisatrice et les administrations, exploitations privées et organismes internationaux collaborateurs.

§ 4. A la même assemblée plénière, le C. C. I. R., sur l'offre ou avec le consentement de la délégation intéressée, désigne l'administration qui organisera la réunion suivante et la date approximative de cette réunion.

ARTICLE 10.

Répartition et payement des frais

Les frais qui se rapportent à une réunion du C.C.I.R. sont répartis entre les administrations, exploitations privées et organismes internationaux participants. Pour la répartition des frais, les participants sont divisés en quatre classes, contribuant chacun dans la proportion d'un certain nombre d'unités, savoir:

- 1re classe: 25 unités,
- 2e classe: 20 unités,
- 3e classe: 15 unités,
- 4e classe: 10 unités.

Les trois premières classes comprennent les administrations dont les gouvernements sont rangés dans les trois premières classes prévues à l'article 17 de la Convention.

ARTICLE 8

Publication of Documents

The Bureau of the Union shall take part in the various tasks of the C. C. I. R. for the purpose of centralization and publication of opinions and a general documentation for the use of the administrations.

ARTICLE 9

Closing Plenary Assembly

§1. At the closing plenary assembly, the president shall communicate the list of opinions, the list of questions still to be solved, and the list of new questions submitted by the committees.

§2. The president shall place on record the final adoption of the opinions expressed, if any. If there is occasion for voting, the expressions "unanimously" or "by a majority" shall apply to this vote.

§3. The plenary assembly shall then establish the list of unsolved questions and new questions of which a study is to be made; it shall proceed to the organization of "groups of administrations" charged with studying the above-mentioned questions between meetings and with preparing opinions to be submitted to the C. C. I. R.

For each group of administrations, the assembly shall designate the centralizing administration, and the collaborating administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations.

§4. During the same plenary assembly, the C. C. I. R., upon the offer or with the consent of the delegation concerned, shall designate the administration that is to organize the next meeting, together with the approximate date of such meeting.

ARTICLE 10

Distribution and Payment of Expenses

The expenses relating to a C. C. I. R. meeting shall be apportioned among the participating administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations. To apportion such expenses, the participants shall be divided into four classes, each contributing according to a certain number of units, to wit:

- 1st class: 25 units
- 2d class: 20 units
- 3d class: 15 units
- 4th class: 10 units

The first three classes shall include the administrations whose governments are in the first three classes provided for in article 17 of the Convention.

La 4<sup>e</sup> classe comprend les administrations dont les gouvernements sont rangés dans les trois dernières classes de l'article 17 de la Convention, et, en outre, les exploitations privées et organismes internationaux participants.

Les quotes-parts doivent être payées selon les dispositions de l'article 17, § 3 (5) de la Convention.

ARTICLE 11.

Répartition et traitement des affaires.

§ 1. Après la clôture d'une réunion, toutes les questions nouvelles, que les administrations, les exploitations privées et les organismes internationaux désirent soumettre au comité, sont adressées au Bureau de l'Union, accompagnées d'un exposé destiné à préciser la portée de chaque question.

Toutefois, une question nouvelle ne sera mise à l'étude que si la demande est appuyée par au moins cinq administrations participantes.

§ 3. Dans les autres cas, le Bureau de l'Union consulte, par correspondance, tous les groupes d'administrations sur l'attribution de la question nouvelle, à un groupe d'administrations existant ou, éventuellement, sur la constitution d'un nouveau groupe d'administrations, qui serait chargé de cette question et sur le choix de l'administration qui serait priée d'être l'administration centralisatrice.

§ 4. Dans le cas où les groupes d'administrations seraient d'accord pour la constitution d'un nouveau groupe d'administrations, ils doivent indiquer les administrations qui pourraient en faire partie et celle qui pourrait être invitée à être administration centralisatrice. Le Bureau de l'Union communique cette opinion aux administrations intéressées en vue de la constitution de ce groupe d'administrations.

Si l'opinion des groupes d'administrations n'est pas unanime, le Bureau de l'Union procédera suivant l'opinion de la majorité.

ARTICLE 12.

Préparation d'une réunion.

§ 1. Tous les documents afférents à une réunion sont imprimés et distribués par le Bureau de l'Union.

§ 2. (1) Lorsque l'étude d'une question a été confiée à un "groupe d'administrations", il appartient à l'administration centralisatrice de faire le nécessaire pour procéder à l'étude de la question. A cet effet,

The fourth class shall include the administrations whose governments are in the last three classes of article 17 of the Convention, and, in addition, the participating private operating enterprises and international organizations.

49 Stat. 2405.

The dues must be paid in accordance with the provisions of article 17, §3 (5), of the Convention.

ARTICLE 11

Distribution and Handling of Business

§1. After the closing of a meeting, all the new questions which the administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations wish to submit to the committee shall be sent to the Bureau of the Union, accompanied by a statement specifying the scope of each question.

However, a new question will only be admitted for study if the request is supported by at least five participating administrations.

§2. When a new question enters into the assignment of an existing group of administrations, the Bureau of the Union shall consult the centralizing administration of the said group in order to ascertain whether it agrees to study this new question. In case of refusal, the Bureau of the Union shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of §§3 and 4.

§3. In other cases, the Bureau of the Union shall consult, through correspondence, all groups of administrations with regard to the assignment of the new question to an existing group of administrations, or, possibly, with regard to the institution of a new group of administrations, which will be charged with this question and with regard to the selection of the administration which will be requested to be the centralizing administration.

§4. In case the groups of administrations agree in reference to the institution of a new group of administrations, they must indicate the administrations which might participate and the one which will be invited to be the centralizing administration. The Bureau of the Union shall communicate this opinion to the administrations concerned for the purpose of instituting this group of administrations.

If the opinion of the groups of administrations is not unanimous, the Bureau of the Union shall proceed in accordance with the opinion of the majority.

ARTICLE 12

Preparation for a Meeting

§1. All documents pertaining to a meeting shall be printed and distributed by the Bureau of the Union.

§2. (1) When the study of a question has been entrusted to a "group of administrations," it shall devolve upon the centralizing administration to take the necessary steps to proceed to the study l'administration centralisatrice assume la direction des travaux et a compétence pour convoquer les administrations, exploitations privées et organismes internationaux collaborateurs. Ces réunions n'auront lieu que si la majorité des administrations collaboratrices sont d'accord.

(2) Les questions doivent, dans la mesure du possible, être résolues par correspondance; l'administration centralisatrice peut, à cet effet, correspondre directement par écrit avec les administrations, exploitations privées et organismes internationaux collaborateurs. Mais, si la solution complète d'une question ne peut pas être obtenue par cette voie, l'administration centralisatrice a le droit de proposer des réunions à des endroits convenables, afin de pouvoir discuter verbalement la question à l'étude.

(3) Les groupes d'administrations peuvent inviter des experts de l'industrie privée à participer à certaines de leurs études et discussions, s'il apparaît que leur collaboration peut être utile.

§ 3. L'administration centralisatrice doit faire parvenir son rapport général au Bureau de l'Union au plus tard cinq mois avant la date de la réunion du C.C.I.R.

§ 4. Les administrations, exploitations privées et organismes internationaux qui, après la clôture d'une réunion, désirent collaborer à l'étude d'une question, doivent adresser leur demande à l'administration centralisatrice compétente. Celle-ci en informe toutes les administrations, par l'entremise du Bureau de l'Union.

ARTICLE 13.

Représentation du C.C.I.R. dans les réunions d'autres organismes internationaux.

§ 1. Si d'autres organismes internationaux désirent que le C.C.I.R. participe à leurs réunions, ils doivent adresser leur demande au Bureau de l'Union.

§ 2. Le Bureau de l'Union consulte, par correspondance, toutes les administrations participantes sur la suite à donner à l'invitation. Les frais de la représentation sont à la charge des administrations dont dépendent les experts chargés de représenter le C.C.I.R.

§ 3. En tout cas, le Bureau de l'Union communique aux organismes internationaux intéressés les décisions prises sur leur demande et en informe les adhérents au C.C.I.R.

of the question. To this end, the centralizing administration shall assume the direction of the work and have the authority to call together the collaborating administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations. These meetings shall take place only if the majority of the collaborating administrations agree.

(2) The questions must, so far as possible, be solved through correspondence; for this purpose, the centralizing administration may correspond directly, in writing, with the collaborating administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations. However, if the complete solution of a question cannot be obtained by such means, the centralizing administration shall have the right to propose meetings at suitable places in order that the question under study may be discussed verbally.

(3) The groups of administrations may invite experts from private industry to participate in certain of their studies and discussions if it appears that their collaboration may be useful.

§3. The centralizing administration must send its general report to the Bureau of the Union not later than five months before the date of the C. C. I. R. meeting.

§4. The administrations, private operating enterprises, and international organizations which, after the closing of a meeting, desire to collaborate in the study of a question, must address their request to the competent centralizing administration. The latter shall inform all the administrations thereof through the Bureau of the Union.

ARTICLE 13

Representation of the C. C. I. R. in the Meetings of Other International Organizations

§1. If other international organizations wish to have the C. C. I. R. participate in their meetings, they must address their requests to the Bureau of the Union.

§2. The Bureau of the Union shall consult all the participating administrations, by correspondence, as to the action to be taken on the invitation. The costs of the representation shall be borne by the administrations to which the experts charged with representing the C. C. I. R. are subject.

§3. In any case, the Bureau of the Union shall communicate to the international organizations concerned the decisions rendered on their requests and shall inform the members of the C. C. I. R. thereof.

Protocole final
au Règlement général des radiocommunications

(Revision du Caire, 1938)

ANNEXÉ À LA CONVENTION INTERNATIONALE
DES TÉLÉCOMMUNICATIONS

(Madrid, 1932).

Au moment de procéder à la signature du Règlement général des radiocommunications annexé à la Convention internationale des télécommunications, les délégués soussignés prennent acte des déclarations suivantes:

1.

La délégation de l'Allemagne déclare formellement que l'Allemagne se réserve le droit de maintenir l'usage des ondes de 105 kc/s (2 857 m) et 117,5 kc/s (2 553 m) pour quelques services de presse spéciaux faits par radiotéléphonie.

2.

La République de Colombie, vu les conditions défavorables dans sa région, n'accepte pas la limitation fixée dans la bande de 4 770 à 4 900 kc/s (62,89 à 61,22 m) pour la radiodiffusion tropicale, et emploiera les fréquences comprises dans cette bande, en respectant les droits acquis par les services déjà existants pourvu qu'ils aient été préalablement enregistrés au Bureau de l'Union internationale des télécommunications, à Berne.

3.

Les Colonies françaises se réservent le droit de continuer à utiliser dans la bande de 9 600 à 9 700 kc/s (31,25 à 30,93 m) les fréquences qu'elles utilisent actuellement, à moins qu'elles ne puissent obtenir des fréquences équivalentes dans les bandes autorisées pour les services fixes.

4.

L'Administration espagnole se réserve le droit de continuer à utiliser pour la radiodiffusion sur ondes courtes certaines fréquences [9 490 kc/s (31,61 m), 9 860 kc/s (30,43 m), 10 365 kc/s (28,94 m)] situées dans les bandes des services fixes, jusqu'au moment où il lui sera possible d'obtenir des fréquences équivalentes dans les bandes autorisées.

5.

Les Etats-Unis d'Amérique se réservent la faculté d'utiliser la bande de 21 650 à 21 750 kc/s (13,86 à 13,79 m) pour les services mobiles aussi bien que pour le service de radiodiffusion.

Final Protocol to the General Radio Regulations

(Cairo Revision, 1938)

ANNEXED TO THE INTERNATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATION CONVENTION

49 Stat. 2393.

(Madrid, 1932)

At the time of signing the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention, the undersigned delegates take note of the following statements:

Reservations.

The delegation of Germany states formally that Germany reserves the right to continue using the waves of 105 kc (2,857 m) and 117.5 kc (2,553 m) for some special press services carried on by radio-telephony.

Germany.

The republic of Colombia, considering the unfavorable conditions in its region, does not accept the limitation fixed in the band of 4,770 to 4,900 kc (62.89 to 61.22 m) for tropical broadcasting, and will use the frequencies included in this band, while respecting the rights acquired by the already existing services provided they are previously registered with the Bureau of the International Telecommunications Union at Bern.

Colombia.

The French Colonies reserve the right to continue using, in the band of 9,600 to 9,700 kc (31.25 to 30.93 m), the frequencies they now use, unless they can obtain equivalent frequencies in the bands authorized for fixed services.

French Colonies.

The Spanish administration reserves the right to continue using, for short-wave broadcasting, certain frequencies [9,490 kc (31.61 m), 9,860 kc (30.43 m), 10,365 kc (28.94 m)] located in the fixed service bands until it can obtain equivalent frequencies in the authorized bands.

Spanish administration.

The United States of America reserves the option of using the band of 21,650 to 21,750 kc (13.86 to 13.79 m) for mobile services as well as for the broadcasting service.

United States of America.

6.

La Finlande se réserve le droit de continuer à utiliser la bande de 2 835 à 2 860 kc/s (105,8 à 104,9 m) pour ses services mobiles maritimes tant qu'un nouvel accord régional ne lui aura pas donné la possibilité de faire autrement.

7.

La France se réserve le droit de continuer à utiliser dans la bande de 9 600 à 9 700 kc/s (31,25 à 30,93 m) les fréquences qu'elle utilise actuellement, à moins qu'elle ne puisse obtenir des fréquences équivalentes dans les bandes autorisées pour les services fixes.

8.

Le Gouvernement de la Hongrie se réserve le droit d'utiliser, dans la bande de fréquences de 515 à 550 kc/s (583 à 545 m) tel service, dans les limites du Règlement général des radiocommunications, qu'il jugera nécessaire pour protéger les intérêts nationaux de la Hongrie.

9.

Le Gouvernement de la Pologne se réserve, dans les limites du Règlement général des radiocommunications, le droit d'utiliser dans la bande de fréquences de 515 à 550 kc/s (583 à 545 m) tel service qu'elle jugera nécessaire pour protéger les intérêts nationaux de la Pologne.

10.

L'Administration portugaise déclare formellement que dans le cas où elle constaterait l'impossibilité de faire ses services de radiodiffusion pour les territoires portugais d'outre-mer dans les bandes allouées à la radiodiffusion sur ondes courtes, en raison de leur insuffisance, se réserve le droit d'employer une fréquence voisine à toute bande où il ne lui sera pas possible de travailler. La ou les fréquences à employer dans ce cas exceptionnel seront choisies de façon à ne pas brouiller les services existants.

11.

Les délégués de la Suède déclarent formellement que leur administration se réserve le droit d'utiliser la fréquence de 8 525 kc/s (35,19 m) pour son service maritime jusqu'à ce qu'il soit possible d'obtenir une fréquence équivalente pour la remplacer.

12.

L'Administration suisse se réserve le droit de continuer à utiliser la fréquence de 401 kc/s (748 m) pour les émissions de radiodiffusion de la station de Genève, à moins qu'une autre fréquence équivalente au point de vue de la propagation ne lui soit attribuée par la prochaine conférence européenne. Elle est prête, d'ailleurs, à rechercher un arrangement spécial avec le service des radiophares de son pays.

Finland reserves the right to continue using the band of 2,835 to 2,860 kc (105.8 to 104.9 m) for its maritime mobile services until a new regional agreement permits it to do otherwise.

Finland.

7

France reserves the right to continue using, in the band of 9,600 to 9,700 kc (31.25 to 30.93 m), the frequencies it now uses, unless it can obtain equivalent frequencies in the bands authorized for fixed services.

France.

8

The Government of Hungary reserves the right to use, in the band of frequencies from 515 to 550 kc (583 to 545 m), such service as it shall deem necessary to protect the national interests of Hungary, within the limits of the General Radio Regulations.

Hungary.

The Government of Poland reserves the right, within the limits of the General Radio Regulations, to use such service within the bands of frequencies from 515 to 550 kc (583 to 545 m) as it may deem necessary in order to protect the national interests of Poland.

Poland.

10

The Portuguese administration states formally that in the event that it is convinced of the impossibility of carrying on its broadcasting services for the overseas Portuguese territories in the bands allocated to short-wave broadcasting, because of the insufficiency of such bands, it reserves the right to use a frequency adjacent to any band in which it would not be possible for it to operate. The frequency or frequencies to be used in this exceptional case will be so selected as not to interfere with existing services.

Portuguese administration.

11

The delegates from Sweden formally state that their administration reserves the right to use the frequency of 8,525 kc (35.19 m) for its maritime service until it is possible to obtain an equivalent frequency to replace it.

Sweden.

12

The Swiss administration reserves the right to continue using the frequency of 401 kc (748 m) for broadcasting transmissions of the Geneva station, unless another frequency, equivalent from the standpoint of propagation, is allocated to it by the next European conference. Moreover, it is ready to seek a special arrangement with the radiobeacon service of its country.

Swiss administration.

13.

La délégation des Etats-Unis de Vénézuéla déclare que son gouvernement se réserve le droit d'employer ses émetteurs radiotéléphoniques qui travaillent actuellement sur les fréquences de:

8 173 kc/s et 5 220 kc/s	(36,70 et 57,47 m)	émetteur YVA
7 920 kc/s et 5 215 kc/s	(37,88 et 57,53 m)	émetteur YVB
7 842 kc/s et 5 035 kc/s	(38,26 et 59,58 m)	émetteur YVO
13 345 kc/s et 6 672 kc/s	(22,48 et 44,96 m)	émetteur YVQ
18 295 kc/s et 9 147 kc/s	(16,40 et 32,80 m)	émetteur YVR

pour effectuer de la radiodiffusion toutes les fois qu'il le jugera nécessaire.

Aussi fait-elle savoir qu'elle n'accepte pas les limitations spécifiées dans les bandes réservées à la radiodiffusion tropicale [fréquences entre 2 000 et 3 500 kc/s (150 et 85,71 m) et fréquences entre 3 500 et 5 200 kc/s (85,71 et 57,69 m)]. Elle n'accepte pas non plus la limitation de puissance fixée.

En conséquence, l'Administration de Vénézuéla fera tous les efforts possibles pour accomplir la distribution ordonnée par le tableau du RG, mais si elle se trouvait devant quelque situation limitant ou portant préjudice à ses services, l'administration prendra toutes les mesures nécessaires pour les protéger, tout en respectant la priorité des services établis dans les autres pays et qui sont déjà enregistrés au Bureau de l'Union internationale des télécommunications à Berne.

14.

La délégation de l'Union des Républiques Soviétistes Socialistes déclare formellement que son administration se réserve le droit d'utiliser sur son territoire les bandes de fréquences suivantes:

I. Pour la radiodiffusion.

De 150 à 160 kc/s . . . sur le territoire de l'U.R.S.S. se trouvant à l'Est du méridien 40° Est.

De 265 à 285 kc/s et de 340 à 415 kc/s . . . sur le territoire de l'U.R.S.S. se trouvant à l'Est du méridien 40° Est, en maintenant sur le territoire de la partie européenne de l'U.R.S.S. les stations de radiodiffusion déjà existantes. L'utilisation de la bande de 340 à 415 kc/s pour la radiodiffusion est considérée par l'Administration de l'U.R.S.S. comme secondaire complétant l'attribution fondamentale de cette bande prévue par le Règlement général aux services aéronautiques sur tout le territoire de l'U.R.S.S.

De 5 100 à 5 200 kc/s . . . sur le territoire de l'U.R.S.S. se trouvant à l'Est du méridien 40° Est.

De 15 350 à 15 450 kc/s . . . sur tout le territoire de l'U.R.S.S.

13

The delegation from the United States of Venezuela states that its Government reserves the right to use radiotelephone transmitters, now working on the frequencies of:

United States of Venezuela.

8,173 kc and 5,220 kc (36.70 and 57.47 m) transmitter YVA
7,920 kc and 5,215 kc (37.88 and 57.53 m) transmitter YVB
7,842 kc and 5,035 kc (38.26 and 59.58 m) transmitter YVO
13,345 kc and 6,672 kc (22.48 and 44.96 m) transmitter YVQ
18,295 kc and 9,147 kc (16.40 and 32.80 m) transmitter YVR to carry on broadcasting any time it deems necessary.

It also announces that it does not accept the limitations specified in the bands reserved for tropical broadcasting [frequencies between 2,000 and 3,500 kc (150 and 85.71 m) and frequencies between 3,500 and 5,200 kc (85.71 and 57.69 m)]. It also does not accept the limitation of determined power.

Consequently, the administration of Venezuela will make every possible effort to achieve the allocation ordered by the RG table, but should it find itself in a situation limiting or causing prejudice to its services, the administration will take all the necessary steps to protect the latter, while respecting the priority of the services established in other countries, and already registered with the Bureau of the International Telecommunications Union at Bern.

14

The delegation from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics states formally that its administration reserves the right to use on its territory the following frequency bands:

Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

I. For Broadcasting

From 150 to 160 kc [2,000 to 1,875 m]	over the territory of the U.S.S.R. lying east of the meridian 40° E.
From 265 to 285 kc [1,132 to 1,053 m] and from 340 to 415 kc [882 to 723 m]	over the territory of the U.S.S.R. lying east of meridian 40° E., retaining on territory of the European part of the U.S.S.R. the already-existing broadcasting stations. The use of the band 340 to 415 kc (882 to 723 m) for broadcasting is considered by the administration of the U.S.S.R. as secondary, supplementing the fundamental allocation of this band provided by the General Regulations for the aeronautical services over the entire territory of the U.S.S.R.
From 5,100 to 5,200 kc [58.82 to 57.69 m]	over the territory of the U. S. S. R. lying east of meridian 40° E.
From 15,350 to 15,450 kc [19.54 to 19.42 m]	over the entire territory of the U. S. S. R.

De 6 600 à 6 675 kc/s

De 8 430 à 8 480 kc/s

De 11 200 à 11 300 kc/s

De 12 630 à 12 770 kc/s

De 17 120 à 17 250 kc/s

15.

La délégation de la Lithuanie déclare formellement que son administration se réserve le droit de maintenir la fréquence de travail de sa station nationale de radiodiffusion dans la bande de 150 à 160 kc/s (2 000 à 1 875 m), jusqu'à ce qu'il soit possible de trouver une autre fréquence appropriée pour sa station.

16.

La délégation de la Grande-Bretagne, vu la déclaration de la délégation de la Lithuanie, déclare formellement que, dans l'éventualité d'une augmentation de la puissance ou d'un changement de la fréquence de la station de radiodiffusion de Kaunas, qui aurait pour résultat d'augmenter l'interférence déjà causée par cette station aux services mobiles maritimes de la Grande-Bretagne qui travaillent dans la bande mobile de 150 à 160 kc/s, l'Administration de la Grande-Bretagne se réserve le droit de protéger ses services maritimes par l'augmentation de la puissance de ses émetteurs ou le changement des fréquences employées par ces services dans cette bande. La délégation de la Grande-Bretagne déclare que la responsabilité pour toute interférence qui, comme conséquence de l'application de la présente réserve, serait causée dans les services de radiodiffusion fonctionnant dans la bande de 150 à 160 kc/s incomberait à l'administration lithuanienne.

17.

Comme suite à la réserve de la délégation de la Lithuanie, la délégation roumaine déclare formellement que l'Administration roumaine prendra toutes les mesures nécessaires pour défendre son service de radiodiffusion contre les brouillages qui en résulteraient.

18.

Dans le cas où, par des mesures résultant d'une des déclarations quelconques formulées ci-dessus, les services radioélectriques des pays parties au Règlement général des radiocommunications seraient gênés, ces pays se réservent le droit, sans porter préjudice aux tiers, de prendre toutes les mesures susceptibles d'assurer le bon fonctionnement de leurs services de toute nature. En particulier, ces pays se réservent le droit de ne pas attendre le délai prévu à l'article 16, § 1, (6) du Règlement général des radiocommunications pour la notification des fréquences.

En foi de quoi, les délégués ci-dessous ont dressé le présent Protocole et ils l'ont signé en un exemplaire qui restera déposé aux archives du Gouvernement de l'Égypte, lequel en remettra une copie certifiée conforme à chaque gouvernement contractant.

II. For the Aeronautical Services Over the Entire Territory of the U. S. S. R.

From 6,600 to 6,675 kc	[45.45 to 44.94 m]
From 8,430 to 8,480 kc	[35.59 to 35.38 m]
From 11,200 to 11,300 kc	[26.79 to 26.55 m]
From 12,630 to 12,770 kc	[23.75 to 23.49 m]
From 17,120 to 17,250 kc	[17.52 to 17.39 m]

15

The delegation from Lithuania formally states that its administration reserves the right to maintain the working frequency of its national broadcasting station in the band from 150 to 160 kc (2,000 to 1,875 m), until it is possible to find another appropriate frequency for its station.

The delegation of Great Britain, in view of the statement by the delegation from Lithuania, formally declares that in the event of an increase in the power or a change in the frequency of the Kaunas broadcasting station—which would have as a result an increase in the interference already caused by this station to the maritime mobile services of Great Britain working in the mobile band of 150 to 160 kc—the administration of Great Britain reserves the right to protect its maritime services by an increase in the power of its transmitters or a change in the frequencies used by these services within this band. The delegation of Great Britain declares that the responsibility for any interference which may be caused in the broadcasting services operating in the band of 130 to 160 kc as a result of the application of this reservation shall devolve upon the Lithuanian administration.

As a result of the reservation by the Lithuanian delegation, the Rumanian delegation formally declares that the Rumanian administration will take all necessary steps to protect its broadcasting service from the interference which may result therefrom.

18

In the event that, through steps resulting from any one of the statements given above, interference occurs with the radio services of countries parties to the General Radio Regulations, these countries reserve the right, without prejudice to third parties, to take any measures which might assure the good operation of their services of any kind. In particular, these countries reserve the right not to await the period provided for in article 16, §1 (6) [Nos. 345 and 346] of the General Radio Regulations for the notification of frequencies.

Right reserved where interference occurs.

Ante, p. 1503.

In witness whereof the delegates listed below have drawn up this protocol and have signed it in one copy which shall remain deposited in the archives of the Egyptian Government, which will forward one certified copy of the same to each contracting government.

Proclamation.

AND WHEREAS the said revision of the General Radio Regulations and the said Final Protocol were duly ratified on the part of the United States of America on August 11, 1939, and, in accordance with Article 7 of the Madrid International Telecommunications Convention of December 9, 1932, the Bureau of the International Telecommunications Union at Bern, Switzerland, was notified thereof on August 24, 1939, by the Government of the United States of America;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have caused the said revision of the General Radio Regulations and the said Final Protocol to be made public, to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this eighteenth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and [SEAL] thirty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

By the President:

CORDELL HULL

Secretary of State.

Convention between the United States of America (in behalf of the Canal Zone) and other powers respecting regional radio. Signed at Guatemala City December 8, 1938; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States July 21, 1939; ratified by the President of the United States August 11, 1939; President's instrument of ratification in behalf of the Canal Zone deposited with the Government of Guatemala September 8, 1939; proclaimed by the President of the United States September 18, 1939.

December 8, 1938

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Parte II

PRINCIPIOS DE INGENIERIA

Los siguientes principios básicos de Ingeniería fueron adoptados para llegar a la repartición arriba especificada:

a) Las frecuencias primarias asignadas a Administraciones contiguas, deben de estar por lo menos veinte (20) kilociclos distantes;

b) Las asignaciones primarias y secundarias de la misma Administración, deben de estar por lo menos veinte (20) kilociclos distantes;

c) Las asignaciones secundarias de Administraciones contiguas, deben de estar separadas por lo menos veinte (20) kilociclos; pero donde sea necesario, las asignaciones secundarias de países contiguos, pueden estar separadas solamente diez (10) kilociclos;

d) Todas las asignaciones de frecuencias de radiodifusión, deberán terminar en cero;

e) La potencia de las estaciones primarias y los tipos de antena, deben ser escogidos de manera que se ajusten a las provisiones del artículo 7º párrafo 8º, 1ª sección, 3ª subsección, inciso b) del Reglamento General de Radio de El Cairo, 1938.

Part Two

ENGINEERING PRINCIPLES

The following basic engineering principles have been adopted in order to arrive at the allocations above specified:

a) The primary frequency assignments to contiguous administrations must be at least twenty (20) kilocycles apart;

b) The primary and secondary assignments to the same administration must be at least twenty (20) kilocycles apart;

c) The secondary assignments to contiguous administrations should be separated by at least twenty (20) kilocycles, but when necessary secondary assignments to contiguous countries may be only ten (10) kilocycles apart;

d) All broadcast frequency assignments shall end in zero;

e) The power of primary stations and the types of the antennae must be so chosen as to comply with the provisions of Article 7, paragraph 8, Section I, Subsection 3, division b) of the General Radio Regulations of Cairo, 1938.

Basic engineering principles.

La potencia de las estaciones secundarias se limita a doscientos cincuenta (250) vatios;

The power of secondary stations is limited to two hundred and fifty (250) watts;

f) Todas las estaciones de radio-difusión, deberán ajustarse a las estipulaciones para estaciones de radiodifusión, contenidas en la tabla de tolerancia del apéndice I del Reglamento General de Radio de El Cairo, 1938;

f) All broadcasting stations must comply with the requirements for broadcasting stations as contained in the tolerance table in Appendix I of the General Radio Regulations of Cairo, 1938;

g) Las frecuencias que terminen en cero y que no estén asignadas como frecuencias primarias, pueden también usarse para radiodifusión terciaria, bajo la base de no interferencia. Tal uso deberá ser modificado o suspendido inmediatamente al tenerse aviso de interferencia del Gobierno que tenga prioridad en la correspondiente frecuencia.

g) Frequencies ending in zero and not assigned as primary frequencies may also be used for tertiary broadcasting on a non-interfering basis. Such use must be modified or discontinued immediately upon notice of interference from the government having priority on the frequency concerned.

Part Three

PRINCIPIOS LEGALES

LEGAL PRINCIPLES

Legal principles.

La distribución contenida en esta Convención se basa en los siguientes principios legales:

The distribution contained in this Convention is based on the following legal principles:

a) Los Gobiernos participantes estiman que esta Convención tiene el carácter de un arreglo regional;

a) The participating governments consider that this convention has the character of a regional agreement;

b) Los Gobiernos convienen que la banda de 2300 a 2350 kcs., se asigna exclusivamente para radiodifusión en Centro América y Panamá, sin que esté sujeta a interferencia alguna por servicios de ninguna clase en esta región.

b) The governments agree that the band 2300 to 2350 kilocycles is assigned exclusively for broadcasting in Central America and Panamá, subject to no interference by any other services in this region.

Noninterference by U. S. military services on assigned channels.

En relación con este particular, se conviene que, en tiempo de paz, los servicios militares de las fuerzas terrestres, marítimas o aéreas de los Estados Unidos de América, operando en la vecindad de la Zona del Canal de Panamá, no interferirán en los canales asignados para radiodifusión a los Gobiernos de Centro América y Panamá, en esta banda;

In this connection, it is agreed that, in time of peace, the military services of land, maritime, or air forces of the United States of America operating in the vicinity of the Panamá Canal Zone will not interfere on channels assigned for broadcasting to the Governments of Central America and Panamá in this band;

c) Para asignar un canal separado, primario de radiodifusión a cada uno de los siete Gobiernos representados en esta Conferencia, sin canal secundario de radiodifusión en el canal primario, se conviene en asignar a Honduras la frecuencia de 2,380 kilociclos como canal primario de radiodifusión y queda convenido por todos los Gobiernos representados que la asignación a Honduras de una frecuencia primaria en la banda de 2,350 a 2,400 kilociclos, no establece precedente ni limita en manera alguna los derechos que puedan tener los Estados Unidos de América al uso de frecuencias en la banda de 2,350 a 2,400 kilociclos sujeto a no interferencia de Estaciones de Radiodifusión en Centro América y Panamá, de acuerdo con el Reglamento General de Radio de El Cairo, 1938.

El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos conviene, sin embargo, en que, hasta donde sea posible, su uso en el área geográfica comprendida por esta Conferencia de otras frecuencias distintas de las actualmente en uso en la banda de 2,350 a 2,400 kilociclos y proporcionadas a la Conferencia, serán bajo la base de no interferir en radiodifusión en Centro América y Panamá.

Parte IV

DISPOSICIONES GENERALES

a) Durante la vigencia de esta Convención, cada Gobierno conviene en no usar ningún canal primario asignado a otro cualquiera de los Gobiernos contratantes, excepto lo previsto en otra parte de esta Convención;

b) Los Gobiernos participantes reconocen el derecho de los servicios militares para usar la banda de

c) In order to provide a separate, primary broadcast channel for each of the seven Governments represented at this Conference, with no secondary broadcast channel on the primary channel, it is agreed that the frequency of 2380 kilocycles be assigned to Honduras as a primary broadcast channel, and it is agreed by all governments represented that the assignment to Honduras of a primary frequency in the band 2350 to 2400 kilocycles does not establish a precedent nor limit in any way whatever rights may be held by the United States of America to the use of frequencies in the band 2350 to 2400 kilocycles subject to non-interference from broadcasting stations in Central America and Panamá in accordance with the General Radio Regulations of Cairo, 1938.

However, the Government of the United States agrees that, insofar as practicable, its use in the geographical area covered by this Conference of frequencies other than those now in use in the band 2350 to 2400 kilocycles and furnished to the Conference will be on a basis of non-interference to broadcasting in Central America and Panamá.

Part Four

GENERAL PROVISIONS

a) During the time this Convention is in force, each Government agrees not to use any primary channel assigned to any of the other contracting Governments, except as provided elsewhere in this Convention;

b) The participating Governments acknowledge the right of

ARTICLE 7.

1. In respect of the territories referred to in Article 35 of the Constitution of the International Labour Organisation, each Member of the Organisation which ratifies this Convention shall append to its ratification a declaration stating:

- (a) the territories in respect of which it undertakes to apply the provisions of the Convention without modification;

Declaration to be appended to ratification.

- b) les territoires pour lesquels il s'engage à appliquer les dispositions de la convention, avec des modifications, et en quoi consistent lesdites modifications;
- c) les territoires pour lesquels la convention est inapplicable et, dans ces cas, les raisons pour lesquelles elle est inapplicable;
- d) les territoires pour lesquels il réserve sa décision.
- (b) the territories in respect of which it undertakes to apply the provisions of the Convention subject to modifications, together with details of the said modifications;
- (c) the territories in respect of which the Convention is inapplicable and in such cases the grounds on which it is inapplicable;
- (d) the territories in respect of which it reserves its decision.

2. Les engagements mentionnés aux alinéas a) et b) du premier paragraphe du présent article seront réputés partie intégrante de la ratification et porteront des effets identiques.

2. The undertakings referred to in sub-paragraphs (a) and (b) of paragraph 1 of this Article shall be deemed to be an integral part of the ratification and shall have the force of ratification.

3. Tout Membre pourra renoncer par une nouvelle déclaration à tout ou partie des réserves contenues dans sa déclaration antérieure en vertu des alinéas b), c) ou d) du paragraphe premier du présent article.

3. Any Member may by a subsequent declaration cancel in whole or in part any reservations made in its original declaration in virtue of sub-paragraphs (b), (c) or (d) of paragraph 1 of this Article.

ARTICLE 8.

ARTICLE 8.

Les ratifications officielles de la présente convention seront communiquées au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations et par lui enregistrées.

The formal ratifications of this Convention shall be communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration.

ARTICLE 9.

ARTICLE 9.

1. La présente convention ne liera que les Membres de l'Organisation internationale du Travail dont la ratification aura été enregistrée par le Secrétaire général.

1. This Convention shall be binding only upon those Members of the International Labour Organisation whose ratifications have been registered with the Secretary-General.

2. Elle entrera en vigueur douze mois après que les ratifications de deux Membres auront été enregistrées par le Secrétaire général.

2. It shall come into force twelve months after the date on which the ratifications of two Members have been registered with the Secretary-General.

3. Par la suite, cette convention entrera en vigueur pour chaque Membre douze mois après la date où sa ratification aura été enregistrée.

3. Thereafter, this Convention shall come into force for any Member twelve months after the date on which its ratification has been registered.

ARTICLE 10.

Aussitôt que les ratifications de deux Membres de l'Organisation internationale du Travail auront été enregistrées, le Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations notifiera ce fait à tous les Membres de l'Organisation internationale du Travail. Il leur notifiera également l'enregistrement des ratifications qui lui seront ultérieurement communiquées par tous autres Membres de l'Organisation.

ARTICLE 10.

As soon as the ratifications of two Members of the International Labour Organisation have been registered, the Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall so notify all the Members of the International Labour Organisation. He shall likewise notify them of the registration of ratifications which may be communicated subsequently by other Members of the Organisation.

Notification to Members.

ARTICLE 11.

1. Tout Membre ayant ratifié la présente convention peut la dénoncer à l'expiration d'une période de dix années après la date de la mise en vigueur initiale de la convention, par un acte communiqué au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations, et par lui enregistré. La dénonciation ne prendra effet qu'une année après avoir été enregistrée.

2. Tout Membre ayant ratifié la présente convention qui, dans le délai d'une année après l'expiration de la période de dix années mentionnée au paragraphe précédent, ne fera pas usage de la faculté de dénonciation prévue par le présent article sera lié pour une nouvelle période de dix années, et, par la suite, pourra dénoncer la présente convention à l'expiration de chaque période de dix années dans les conditions prévues au présent article.

ARTICLE 11.

1. A Member which has ratified this Convention may denounce it after the expiration of ten years from the date on which the Convention first comes into force, by an act communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration. Such denunciation shall not take effect until one year after the date on which it is registered.

2. Each Member which has ratified this Convention and which does not, within the year following the expiration of the period of ten years mentioned in the preceding paragraph, exercise the right of denunciation provided for in this Article, will be bound for another period of ten years and, thereafter, may denounce this Convention at the expiration of each period of ten years under the terms provided for in this Article.

Revision of Convention, effect.

1. Au cas où la Conférence adopterait une nouvelle convention portant revision totale ou partielle de la présente convention, et à moins que la nouvelle convention ne dispose autrement:

1. Should the Conference adopt a new Convention revising this Convention in whole or in part, then, unless the new Convention otherwise provides,

a) la ratification par un Membre de la nouvelle convention portant revision entraînerait de plein droit, nonobstant l'article 11 ci-dessus, dénonciation immédiate de la présente convention, sous réserve que la nouvelle convention portant revision soit entrée en vigueur;

(a) the ratification by a Member of the new revising Convention shall ipso jure involve the immediate denunciation of this Convention, notwithstanding the provisions of Article 11 above, if and when the new revising Convention shall have come into force;

b) à partir de la date de l'entrée en vigueur de la nouvelle convention portant revision, la présente convention cesserait d'être ouverte à la ratification des Membres.

(b) as from the date when the new revising Convention comes into force this Convention shall cease to be open to ratification by the Members.

2. La présente convention demeurerait en tout cas en vigueur dans sa forme et teneur pour les Membres qui l'auraient ratifiée et qui ne ratifieraient pas la convention portant revision.

2. This Convention shall in any case remain in force in its actual form and content for those Members which have ratified it but have not ratified the revising Convention.

ARTICLE 14.

ARTICLE 14.

Texts, authenticity.

Les textes français et anglais de la présente convention feront foi l'un et l'autre.

The French and English texts of this Convention shall both be authentic.

AND WHEREAS it is provided in Article 8 of the said draft convention that the formal ratifications thereof shall be communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration and in Article 9 that the convention shall come into force twelve months after the date on which the ratifications of two Members of the International Labor Organization have been registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, and that thereafter the convention shall come into force for any Member twelve months after the date on which its ratification has been registered;

AND WHEREAS the said draft convention was duly ratified on the part of the United States of America subject to understandings as follows:

U. S. ratification subject to understandings.

"That the United States Government understands and construes the words 'vessels registered in a territory' appearing in this convention to include all vessels of the United States as defined under the laws of the United States.

"That the United States Government understands and construes the words 'maritime navigation' appearing in this convention to mean navigation on the high seas only.

"Nothing in this convention shall be so construed as to prevent the authorities of the United States from making such inspection of any vessel referred to in article V, paragraph 3, within the jurisdiction of the United States, as may be necessary to determine that there has been a compliance with the terms of this convention, or to prevent such authorities from withholding clearance to any such vessel which they find has not complied with the provisions of the convention until such time as any such deficiency shall be corrected.

"That the provisions of this Convention shall apply to all territory over which the United States exercises jurisdiction except the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippine Islands and the Panama Canal Zone, with respect to which this Government reserves its decision.";

AND WHEREAS the ratifications of the said draft convention by Norway, New Zealand, Belgium, subject to subsequent decisions regarding application to the Belgian Congo and to territories under Belgian mandate, Estonia, Denmark, applicable to all Danish territories except Greenland, Brazil, and Egypt were registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations on July 7, 1937, March 29, 1938, April 11, 1938, June 20, 1938, July 13, 1938, October 12, 1938, and May 20, 1939, respectively, and by such registrations the said draft convention became a formal convention between Norway and New Zealand on March 29, 1938, which came into force, pursuant to Article 9 thereof, between Norway and New Zealand on March 29, 1939, twelve months after the date on which the ratification of New Zealand was registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, and, pursuant to the same Article came into force for Belgium, Estonia and Denmark on April 11, 1939, June 20, 1939 and July 13, 1939, respectively, and will come into force for Brazil on October 12, 1939 and for Egypt on May 20, 1940;

Ratification by designated parties; effective dates.

AND WHEREAS the ratification of the said draft convention by the United States of America, subject to the understandings above recited was registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations on October 29, 1938;

Registration of U. S. ratification.

AND WHEREAS by such registration the said convention will come into force, pursuant to Article 9 thereof, for the United States of America with respect to Norway, New Zealand, Belgium, Estonia, Denmark and Brazil on October 29, 1939, twelve months after the date on which the ratification of the United States of America was registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, and, pursuant to the same article, will come into force for Egypt and other Members of the International Labor Organization whose ratifications have been or may be registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations subsequent to October 29, 1938, twelve months after the date on which the ratification has been or may be registered in each case;

Exemptions for certain vessels.

AND WHEREAS it is provided in paragraph 2 of Article 1 of the said draft convention that national laws or regulations may grant exceptions or exemptions in respect of vessels of less than 200 tons gross registered tonnage;

AND WHEREAS the Congress of the United States of America by an Act, Public, No. 16, 76th Congress, 1st Session, entitled "AN ACT To exempt all vessels of the United States of less than two hundred tons gross registered tonnage from the provisions of the Officers' Competency Certificates Convention, 1936 (being International Labor Conference Treaty, Convention Numbered 53, adopted by the International Labor Conference at Geneva in 1936)," approved March 29, 1939 (53 Stat. 554), did enact that

46 U. S. C., Supp. V, § 241.

". . . vessels of the United States of less than two hundred tons gross registered tonnage are hereby exempted from the provisions of such convention: Provided, however, That neither the ratification of the said convention by the President of the United States, nor the advice and consent of the United States Senate given thereto, nor any provision of the said convention as ratified, nor any provision of this Act shall be deemed to alter, amend, or repeal any statute of the United States existing at the time of said ratification, or thereafter enacted, with regard to any such vessel of less than two hundred tons gross registered tonnage.";

AND WHEREAS the Congress of the United States of America, by an Act, Public, No. 188, 76th Congress, 1st Session, entitled "AN ACT To make effective the provisions of the Officers' Competency Certificates Convention, 1936" approved July 17, 1939 (53 Stat. 1049), did enact such legislation as was required to give full force and effect to the provisions of the aforesaid convention;

46 U. S. C., Supp. V, § 224a.

Proclamation.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled in good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof, except in respect of vessels of the United States of less than two hundred tons gross registered tonnage, on and from October 29, 1939, subject to the understandings above recited and to the legislation which has been enacted to make effective the provisions of the said convention on the part of the United States of America.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

October 24, 1936
[T. S. No. 951]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a draft convention (No. 55) with regard to the liability of the shipowner in case of sickness, injury, or death of seamen, was adopted on the twenty-fourth day of October nineteen hundred and thirty-six, by the General Conference of the International Labor Organization at its twenty-first session held at Geneva October 6-24, 1936, a certified copy of which draft convention, communicated by the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, acting in conformity with the requirements in the nineteenth Article of the Constitution of the International Labor Organization, to the Government of the United States of America as a Member of the said Organization, is, in the French and English languages, word for word as follows:

Shipowners' Liability (Sick and Injured Seamen) Convention, 1936.
Preamble.

La Conférence générale de l'Organisation internationale du Travail,

Convoquée à Genève par le Conseil d'administration du Bureau international du Travail, et s'y étant réunie le 6 octobre 1936 en sa vingt et unième session,

Après avoir décidé d'adopter diverses propositions relatives aux obligations de l'armateur en cas de maladie, d'accident ou de décès des gens de mer, question qui est comprise dans le deuxième point à l'ordre du jour de la session,

Après avoir décidé que ces propositions prendraient la forme d'un projet de convention internationale,

The General Conference of the International Labour Organization,

Having been convened at Geneva by the Governing Body of the International Labour Office, and having met in its Twenty-first Session on 6 October 1936, and

Having decided upon the adoption of certain proposals with regard to the liability of the shipowner in case of sickness, injury or death of seamen, which is included in the second item on the Agenda of the Session, and

Having determined that these proposals shall take the form of a Draft International Convention, General Conference, International Labor Organization.

Adoption of Draft Convention.

adopte, ce vingt-quatrième jour d'octobre mil neuf cent trente-six, le projet de convention ci-après qui sera dénommé Convention sur les obligations de l'armateur en cas de maladie ou d'accident des gens de mer, 1936:

adopts, this twenty-fourth day of October of the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, the following Draft Convention which may be cited as the Shipowners' Liability (Sick and Injured Seamen) Convention, 1936:

ARTICLE 1.

ARTICLE 1.

Application.

1. La présente convention s'applique à toute personne employée à bord d'un navire, autre qu'un navire de guerre, immatriculé dans un territoire pour lequel la présente convention est en vigueur et qui effectue habituellement une navigation maritime.

1. This Convention applies to all persons employed on board any vessel, other than a ship of war, registered in a territory for which this Convention is in force and ordinarily engaged in maritime navigation.

Exceptions by national law or regulation permitted.

2. Toutefois, tout Membre de l'Organisation internationale du Travail pourra prévoir dans sa législation nationale telles exceptions qu'il estimerait nécessaires en ce qui concerne:

2. Provided that any Member of the International Labour Organisation may in its national laws or regulations make such exceptions as it deems necessary in respect of—

- a) les personnes employées à bord:
  - i) des navires appartenant à une autorité publique lorsque ces navires n'ont pas une affectation commerciale;
  - ii) des bateaux de pêche côtière;
  - iii) des bateaux d'une jauge brute inférieure à vingt-cinq tonnes;
  - iv) des bateaux en bois de construction primitive, tels que des "dhows" et jonques;
- b) les personnes employées à bord pour le compte d'un employeur autre que l'armateur;
- c) les personnes employées, exclusivement dans les ports, à la réparation, au nettoyage, au chargement ou au déchargement des navires;
- d) les membres de la famille de l'armateur;
- e) les pilotes.

- (a) persons employed on board,
  - (i) vessels of public authorities when such vessels are not engaged in trade;
  - (ii) coastwise fishing boats;
  - (iii) boats of less than twenty-five tons gross tonnage;
  - (iv) wooden ships of primitive build such as dhows and junks;
- (b) persons employed on board by an employer other than the shipowner;
- (c) persons employed solely in ports in repairing, cleaning, loading or unloading vessels;
- (d) members of the shipowner's family;
- (e) pilots.

ARTICLE 2.

ARTICLE 2.

1. Les obligations de l'armateur doivent couvrir les risques:

1. The shipowner shall be liable in respect of—

Liability of shipowner.

- a) de maladie ou d'accident survenus entre la date stipulée dans le contrat d'engagement pour le commencement du service et l'expiration de l'engagement;
- b) de décès résultant d'une telle maladie ou d'un tel accident.

- (a) sickness and injury occurring between the date specified in the articles of agreement for reporting for duty and the termination of the engagement;
- (b) death resulting from such sickness or injury.

Sickness and injury during term of employment.

Resultant death.

2. Toutefois, la législation nationale peut prévoir des exceptions:

2. Provided that national laws or regulations may make exceptions in respect of:

Exceptions by national law or regulation permitted.

- a) pour l'accident qui n'est pas survenu au service du navire;
- b) pour l'accident ou la maladie imputable à un acte intentionnel ou à une faute intentionnelle ou à l'inconduite du malade, du blessé ou du décédé;
- c) pour la maladie ou l'infirmité dissimulée volontairement au moment de l'engagement.

- (a) injury incurred otherwise than in the service of the ship;
- (b) injury or sickness due to the wilful act, default or misbehaviour of the sick, injured or deceased person;
- (c) sickness or infirmity intentionally concealed when the engagement is entered into.

3. La législation nationale peut prévoir que les obligations de l'armateur ne s'appliqueront pas en ce qui concerne la maladie, ni en ce qui concerne le décès imputable directement à la maladie, lorsque la personne employée a refusé de se soumettre à un examen médical au moment de l'engagement.

3. National laws or regulations may provide that the shipowner shall not be liable in respect of sickness, or death directly attributable to sickness, if at the time of the engagement the person employed refused to be medically examined.

Refusal to be medically examined.

ARTICLE 3.

ARTICLE 3.

Aux fins de la présente convention l'assistance à la charge de l'armateur comprend:

For the purpose of this Convention, medical care and maintenance at the expense of the shipowner comprises:

Medical care and maintenance, scope.

- a) le traitement médical et la fourniture des médicaments et autres moyens thérapeutiques de qualité et quantité suffisantes;
- b) la nourriture et le logement.

- (a) medical treatment and the supply of proper and sufficient medicines and therapeutical appliances; and
- (b) board and lodging.

ARTICLE 4.

ARTICLE 4.

Period of liability.

1. L'assistance doit être à la charge de l'armateur jusqu'à guérison du malade ou du blessé, ou jusqu'à constatation du caractère permanent de la maladie ou de l'incapacité.

1. The shipowner shall be liable to defray the expense of medical care and maintenance until the sick or injured person has been cured, or until the sickness or incapacity has been declared of a permanent character.

Limitation permitted.

2. Toutefois, la législation nationale peut prévoir que l'assistance à la charge de l'armateur sera limitée à une période qui ne pourra être inférieure à seize semaines à partir du jour de l'accident ou du début de la maladie.

2. Provided that national laws or regulations may limit the liability of the shipowner to defray the expense of medical care and maintenance to a period which shall not be less than sixteen weeks from the day of the injury or the commencement of the sickness.

Provisions where compulsory sickness insurance, etc., is in force.

3. En outre, s'il existe un système d'assurance-maladie obligatoire, un système d'assurance-accidents obligatoire ou un système de réparation des accidents du travail, qui soit en vigueur pour les marins dans le territoire où le navire est immatriculé, la législation nationale peut prévoir:

3. Provided also that, if there is in force in the territory in which the vessel is registered a scheme applying to seamen of compulsory sickness insurance, compulsory accident insurance or workmen's compensation for accidents, national laws or regulations may provide—

- a) que l'armateur cessera d'être responsable à l'égard d'une personne malade ou blessée à partir du moment où cette personne a droit à l'assistance médicale en vertu du système d'assurance ou de réparation;
- b) que l'armateur cessera d'être responsable, à partir du moment prescrit par la loi pour l'octroi de l'assistance médicale en vertu du système d'assurance ou de réparation aux bénéficiaires dudit système, même lorsque la personne malade ou blessée n'est pas elle-même couverte par ce système, à la condition qu'elle n'en soit pas exclue en raison de toute restriction visant particulièrement les

- (a) that a shipowner shall cease to be liable in respect of a sick or injured person from the time at which that person becomes entitled to medical benefits under the insurance or compensation scheme;
- (b) that the shipowner shall cease to be liable from the time prescribed by law for the grant of medical benefits under the insurance or compensation scheme to the beneficiaries of such schemes, even when the sick or injured person is not covered by the scheme in question, unless he is excluded from the scheme by reason of any restriction which affects particularly foreign workers or workers not travailleurs étrangers ou les travailleurs ne résidant pas sur le territoire où le navire est immatriculé.

ARTICLE 5.

1. Lorsque la maladie ou l'accident entraîne une incapacité de travail, l'armateur doit payer:

- a) tant que le malade ou le blessé demeure à bord, la totalité du salaire;
- b) à partir du débarquement, si le malade ou le blessé a des charges de famille, la totalité ou une partie du salaire selon les prescriptions de la législation nationale, jusqu'à guérison ou jusqu'à constatation du caractère permanent de la maladie ou de l'incapacité.

2. Toutefois, la législation nationale peut limiter la responsabilité de l'armateur quant au paiement de la totalité ou d'une partie du salaire à une personne débarquée à une période qui ne pourra être inférieure à seize semaines à partir du jour de l'accident ou du début de la maladie.

3. En outre, s'il existe un système d'assurance-maladie obligatoire, un système d'assurance-accidents obligatoire ou un système de réparation des accidents du travail qui soit en vigueur pour les marins dans le territoire où le navire est immatriculé, la législation nationale peut prévoir:

- a) que l'armateur cessera d'être responsable à l'égard d'une personne malade ou blessée à partir du moment où cette personne a droit aux prestations en espèces en vertu du système d'assurance ou de réparation;

resident in the territory in which the vessel is registered.

ARTICLE 5.

1. Where the sickness or injury results in incapacity for work the shipowner shall be liable—

- (a) to pay full wages as long as the sick or injured person remains on board;
- (b) if the sick or injured person has dependants, to pay wages in whole or in part as prescribed by national laws or regulations from the time when he is landed until he has been cured or the sickness or incapacity has been declared of a permanent character.

2. Provided that national laws or regulations may limit the liability of the shipowner to pay wages in whole or in part in respect of a person no longer on board to a period which shall not be less than sixteen weeks from the day of the injury or the commencement of the sickness.

3. Provided also that, if there is in force in the territory in which the vessel is registered a scheme applying to seamen of compulsory sickness insurance, compulsory accident insurance or workmen's compensation for accidents, national laws or regulations may provide:

- (a) that a shipowner shall cease to be liable in respect of a sick or injured person from the time at which that person becomes entitled to cash benefits under the insurance or compensation scheme;

Incapacity for work.

Limitation permitted.

Provisions where compulsory sickness insurance, etc., is in force.

- b) que l'armateur cessera d'être responsable, à partir du moment prescrit par la loi pour l'octroi des prestations en espèces en vertu du système d'assurance ou de réparation aux bénéficiaires dudit système, même lorsque la personne malade ou blessée n'est pas elle-même couverte par ce système, à la condition qu'elle n'en soit pas exclue en raison de toute restriction visant particulièrement les travailleurs étrangers ou les travailleurs ne résidant pas sur le territoire où le navire est immatriculé.
- b) that the shipowner shall cease to be liable from the time prescribed by law for the grant of cash benefits under the insurance or compensation scheme to the beneficiaries of such schemes, even when the sick or injured person is not covered by the scheme in question, unless he is excluded from the scheme by reason of any restriction which affects particularly foreign workers or workers not resident in the territory in which the vessel is registered.

ARTICLE 6.

ARTICLE 6.

Expense of repatriation.

1. L'armateur doit supporter les frais de rapatriement de tout malade ou blessé débarqué en cours de route par suite d'une maladie ou d'un accident.

1. The shipowner shall be liable to defray the expense of repatriating every sick or injured person who is landed during the voyage in consequence of sickness or injury.

Port to which return is effected.

2. Le port de rapatriement doit être:

2. The port to which the sick or injured person is to be returned shall be—

- a) ou le port d'engagement;
- b) ou le port de départ du navire;
- c) ou un port du pays du malade ou du blessé ou du pays dont relève le malade ou le blessé;
- d) ou un autre port fixé par accord entre l'intéressé et le capitaine ou l'armateur, avec l'approbation de l'autorité compétente.

- (a) the port at which he was engaged; or
- (b) the port at which the voyage commenced; or
- (c) a port in his own country or the country to which he belongs; or
- (d) another port agreed upon by him and the master or shipowner, with the approval of the competent authority.

Charges included in expense of repatriation.

3. Les frais de rapatriement doivent comprendre toutes dépenses relatives au transport, au logement et à la nourriture du malade ou du blessé pendant le voyage, ainsi que les frais d'entretien du malade ou du blessé jusqu'au moment fixé pour son départ.

3. The expense of repatriation shall include all charges for the transportation, accommodation and food of the sick or injured person during the journey and his maintenance up to the time fixed for this departure.

4. Si le malade ou le blessé est en état de travailler, l'armateur peut s'acquitter de la prestation de rapatriement à sa charge en lui procurant un emploi convenable à bord d'un navire se rendant à l'une des destinations prévues au paragraphe 2 du présent article.

4. If the sick or injured person is capable of work, the shipowner may discharge his liability to repatriate him by providing him with suitable employment on board a vessel proceeding to one of the destinations mentioned in paragraph 2 of this Article.

Person capable of work.

ARTICLE 7.

1. L'armateur doit supporter les frais funéraires en cas de décès survenu à bord, ou en cas de décès survenu à terre lorsqu'au moment de sa mort le décédé aurait pu prétendre à l'assistance à la charge de l'armateur.

1. The shipowner shall be liable to defray burial expenses in case of death occurring on board, or in case of death occurring on shore if at the time of his death the deceased person was entitled to medical care and maintenance at the shipowner's expense.

Burial expenses.

2. La législation nationale peut prévoir le remboursement, par une institution d'assurance, des frais supportés par l'armateur, lorsque le système d'assurance sociale ou de réparation comporte une prestation pour frais funéraires.

2. National laws or regulations may provide that burial expenses paid by the shipowner shall be reimbursed by an insurance institution in cases in which funeral benefit is payable in respect of the deceased person under laws or regulations relating to social insurance or workmen's compensation.

Reimbursement by insurance institution.

ARTICLE 8.

La législation nationale doit exiger de l'armateur ou de son représentant qu'il prenne des mesures afin de sauvegarder les biens laissés à bord par le malade, le blessé ou le décédé visé par la présente convention.

National laws or regulations shall require the shipowner or his representative to take measures for safeguarding property left on board by sick, injured or deceased persons to whom this Convention applies.

Safeguarding of personal property.

ARTICLE 9.

La législation nationale doit prévoir des dispositions en vue d'assurer une solution rapide et peu coûteuse des litiges auxquels peuvent donner lieu les obligations de l'armateur en vertu de la présente convention.

National laws or regulations shall make provision for securing the rapid and inexpensive settlement of disputes concerning the liability of the shipowner under this Convention.

ARTICLE 17.

ARTICLE 17.

Denunciation.

1. Tout Membre ayant ratifié la présente convention peut la dénoncer à l'expiration d'une période de dix années après la date de la mise en vigueur initiale de la convention, par un acte communiqué au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations, et par lui enregistré. La dénonciation ne prendra effet qu'une année après avoir été enregistrée.

1. A Member which has ratified this Convention may denounce it after the expiration of ten years from the date on which the Convention first comes into force, by an act communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration. Such denunciation shall not take effect until one year after the date on which it is registered.

Extensions.

2. Tout Membre ayant ratifié la présente convention qui, dans le délai d'une année après l'expiration de la période de dix années mentionnée au paragraphe précédent, ne fera pas usage de la faculté de dénonciation prévue par le présent article sera lié pour une nouvelle période de dix années, et, par la suite, pourra dénoncer la présente convention à l'expiration de chaque période de dix années dans les conditions prévues au présent article.

2. Each Member which has ratified this Convention and which does not, within the year following the expiration of the period of ten years mentioned in the preceding paragraph, exercise the right of denunciation provided for in this Article, will be bound for another period of ten years and, thereafter, may denounce this Convention at the expiration of each period of ten years under the terms provided for in this Article.

ARTICLE 18.

Reports at 10-year intervals.

A l'expiration de chaque période de dix années à compter de l'entrée en vigueur de la présente convention, le Conseil d'administration du Bureau international du Travail devra présenter à la Conférence générale un rapport sur l'application de la présente convention et décidera s'il y a lieu d'inscrire à l'ordre du jour de la Conférence la question de sa révision totale ou partielle.

At the expiration of each period of ten years after the coming into force of this Convention, the Governing Body of the International Labour Office shall present to the General Conference a report on the working of this Convention and shall consider the desirability of placing on the Agenda of the Conference the question of its revision in whole or in part.

ARTICLE 19.

1. Au cas où la Conférence adopterait une nouvelle convention portant revision totale ou partielle de la présente convention, et à moins que la nouvelle convention ne dispose autrement:

- a) la ratification par un Membre de la nouvelle convention portant revision entraînerait de plein droit, nonobstant l'article 17 ci-dessus, dénonciation immédiate de la présente convention, sous réserve que la nouvelle convention portant revision soit entrée en vigueur;
- b) à partir de la date de l'entrée en vigueur de la nouvelle convention portant revision, la présente convention cesserait d'être ouverte à la ratification des Membres.

2. La présente convention demeurerait en tout cas en vigueur dans sa forme et teneur pour les Membres qui l'auraient ratifiée et qui ne ratifieraient pas la convention portant revision.

ARTICLE 20.

Les textes français et anglais de la présente convention feront foi l'un et l'autre.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a draft convention (No. 58) fixing the minimum age for the admission of children to employment at sea was adopted on the twenty-fourth day of October nineteen hundred and thirty-six, by the General Conference of the International Labor Organization at its twenty-second session held at Geneva October 22–24, 1936, a certified copy of which draft convention, communicated by the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, acting in conformity with the requirements in the nineteenth Article of the Constitution of the International Labor Organization, to the Government of the United States of America as a Member of the said Organization, is, in the French and English languages, word for word as follows:

Minimum Age
(Sea) Convention
(Revised), 1936.
Preamble.

La Conférence générale de l'Organisation internationale du Travail,

Convoquée à Genève par le Conseil d'administration du Bureau international du Travail, et s'y étant réunie le 22 octobre 1936 en sa vingt-deuxième session,

Après avoir décidé d'adopter diverses propositions relatives à la révision partielle de la convention fixant l'âge minimum d'admission des enfants au travail maritime adoptée par la Conférence à sa deuxième session, question inscrite à l'ordre du jour de la présente session,

The General Conference of the International Labour Organization,

Having been convened at Geneva by the Governing Body of the International Labour Office, and having met in its Twenty-second Session on 22 October 1936, and

Having decided upon the adoption of certain proposals with regard to the partial revision of the Convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to employment at sea adopted by the Conference at its Second Session, the question forming the Agenda of the present Session, and

General Conference of the International Labor Organization.

Considérant que ces propositions doivent prendre la forme d'un projet de convention internationale,

Considering that these proposals must take the form of a Draft International Convention,

Pour l'application de la présente convention, le terme "navire" doit être entendu de tous les bateaux, navires ou bâtiments, quels qu'ils soient, de propriété publique ou privée, effectuant une navigation maritime, à l'exclusion des navires de guerre.

For the purpose of this Convention, the term "vessel" includes all ships and boats, of any nature whatsoever, engaged in maritime navigation, whether publicly or privately owned; it excludes ships of war.

ARTICLE 2.

ARTICLE 2.

Employment of children under 15.

Exception.

Certificates for children over 14.

1. Les enfants de moins de quinze ans ne peuvent être employés au travail à bord des navires, autres que ceux sur lesquels sont seuls employés les membres d'une même famille.

1. Children under the age of fifteen years shall not be employed or work on vessels, other than vessels upon which only members of the same family are employed.

2. Toutefois, la législation nationale peut autoriser la délivrance de certificats permettant aux enfants âgés de quatorze ans au moins d'être employés dans les cas où une autorité scolaire ou une autre autorité appropriée désignées par la législation nationale s'est assurée, après avoir dûment pris en considération la santé et l'état physique de l'enfant, ainsi que les avantages futurs aussi bien qu'immédiats que l'emploi envisagé peut comporter pour lui, que cet emploi est dans l'intérêt de l'enfant.

2. Provided that national laws or regulations may provide for the issue in respect of children of not less than fourteen years of age of certificates permitting them to be employed in cases in which an educational or other appropriate authority designated by such laws or regulations is satisfied, after having due regard to the health and physical condition of the child and to the prospective as well as to the immediate benefit to the child of the employment proposed, that such employment will be beneficial to the child.

ARTICLE 3.

ARTICLE 3.

School-ships or training-ships.

Les dispositions de l'article 2 ne s'appliqueront pas au travail des enfants sur les bateaux-écoles,

The provisions of Article 2 shall not apply to work done by children on school-ships or à la condition que ce travail soit approuvé et surveillé par l'autorité publique.

training-ships, provided that such work is approved and supervised by public authority.

ARTICLE 4.

Dans le but de permettre le contrôle de l'application des dispositions de la présente convention, tout capitaine ou patron devra tenir un registre d'inscription ou un rôle d'équipage mentionnant toutes les personnes de moins de seize ans employées à bord, avec l'indication de la date de leur naissance.

In order to facilitate the enforcement of the provisions of this Convention, every shipmaster shall be required to keep a register of all persons under the age of sixteen years employed on board his vessel, or a list of them in the articles of agreement, and of the dates of their births.

Register of employees under 16.

ARTICLE 5.

La présente convention n'entrera en vigueur qu'après l'adoption, par la Conférence internationale du Travail, d'un projet de convention portant revision de la convention fixant l'âge minimum d'admission des enfants aux travaux industriels (1919) et d'un projet de convention portant revision de la convention concernant l'âge d'admission des enfants aux travaux non industriels (1932).

This Convention shall not come into force until after the adoption by the International Labour Conference of a Draft Convention revising the Convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to industrial employment, 1919, and a Draft Convention revising the Convention concerning the age for admission of children to non-industrial employment, 1932.

Coming into force, conditions.

ARTICLE 6

Les ratifications officielles de la présente convention seront communiquées au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations et par lui enregistrées.

The formal ratifications of this Convention shall be communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration.

Ratifications, registration.

ARTICLE 7.

1. La présente convention ne liera que les Membres de l'Organisation internationale du Travail dont la ratification aura été enregistrée par le Secrétaire général.

1. This Convention shall be binding only upon those Members of the International Labour Organisation whose ratifications have been registered with the Secretary-General.

Scope.

2. Sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 5 ci-dessus, elle entrera en vigueur douze mois après que les ratifications de deux Membres

ARTICLE 8.

Notifications.

Aussitôt que les ratifications de deux Membres de l'Organisation internationale du Travail auront été enregistrées, le Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations notifiera ce fait à tous les Membres de l'Organisation internationale du Travail. Il leur notifiera également l'enregistrement des ratifications qui lui seront ultérieurement communiquées par tous autres Membres de l'Organisation.

As soon as the ratifications of two Members of the International Labour Organisation have been registered, the Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall so notify all the Members of the International Labour Organisation. He shall likewise notify them of the registration of ratifications which may be communicated subsequently by other Members of the Organisation.

ARTICLE 9.

ARTICLE 9.

Denunciation.

1. Tout Membre ayant ratifié la présente convention peut la dénoncer à l'expiration d'une période de dix années après la date de la mise en vigueur initiale de la convention, par un acte communiqué au Secrétaire général de la Société des Nations, et par lui enregistré. La dénonciation ne prendra effet qu'une année après avoir été enregistrée.

1. A Member which has ratified this Convention may denounce it after the expiration of ten years from the date on which the Convention first comes into force, by an act communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration. Such denunciation shall not take effect until one year after the date on which it is registered.

Renewal for 10-year periods.

2. Tout Membre ayant ratifié la présente convention qui, dans un délai d'une année après l'expiration de la période de dix années mentionnée au paragraphe précédent, ne fera pas usage de la faculté de dénonciation prévue par le présent article sera lié pour une nouvelle période de dix années, et, par la suite, pourra dénoncer la présente convention à l'expiration de chaque période de dix années dans les conditions prévues au présent article.

2. Each Member which has ratified this Convention and which does not, within the year following the expiration of the period of ten years mentioned in the preceding paragraph, exercise the right of denunciation provided for in this Article, will be bound for another period of ten years and, thereafter, may denounce this Convention at the expiration of each period of ten years under the terms provided for in this Article.

ARTICLE 10.

A l'expiration de chaque période de dix années à compter de l'entrée en vigueur de la présente convention, le Conseil d'administration du Bureau international du Travail devra présenter à la Conférence générale un rapport sur l'application de la présente convention et décidera s'il y a lieu d'inscrire à l'ordre du jour de la Conférence la question de sa revision totale ou partielle.

ARTICLE 11.

1. Au cas où la Conférence adopterait une nouvelle convention portant revision totale ou partielle de la présente convention, et à moins que la nouvelle convention ne dispose autrement:

- a) la ratification par un Membre de la nouvelle convention portant revision entraînerait de plein droit, nonobstant l'article 9 ci-dessus, dénonciation immédiate de la présente convention, sous réserve que la nouvelle convention portant revision soit entrée en vigueur;
- b) à partir de la date de l'entrée en vigueur de la nouvelle convention portant revision, la présente convention cesserait d'être ouverte à la ratification des Membres.

2. La présente convention demeurerait en tout cas en vigueur dans sa forme et teneur pour les Membres qui l'auraient ratifiée et qui ne ratifieraient pas la convention portant revision.

ARTICLE 12.

Les textes français et anglais de la présente convention feront foi l'un et l'autre.

ARTICLE 10.

At the expiration of each period of ten years after the coming into force of this Convention, the Governing Body of the International Labour Office shall present to the General Conference a report on the working of this Convention and shall consider the desirability of placing on the Agenda of the Conference the question of its revision in whole or in part.

ARTICLE 11.

1. Should the Conference adopt a new Convention revising this Convention in whole or in part, then, unless the new Convention otherwise provides,

- (a) the ratification by a Member of the new revising Convention shall ipso jure involve the immediate denunciation of this Convention, notwithstanding the provisions of Article 9 above, if and when the new revising Convention shall have come into force;
- (b) as from the date when the new revising Convention comes into force this Convention shall cease to be open to ratification by the Members.

2. This Convention shall in any case remain in force in its actual form and content for those Members which have ratified it but have not ratified the revising Convention.

AND WHEREAS it is provided in Article 6 of the said draft convention that the formal ratifications thereof shall be communicated to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations for registration and in Article 7 that, subject to the provisions of Article 5, the convention shall come into force twelve months after the date on which the ratifications of two Members of the International Labor Organization have been registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, and that thereafter the convention shall come into force for any Member twelve months after the date on which its ratification has been registered;

AND WHEREAS it is provided in Article 5 of the said draft convention that the convention shall not come into force until after the adoption by the International Labor Conference of a draft convention revising the convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to industrial employment, 1919, and a draft convention revising the convention concerning the age for admission of children to nonindustrial employment, 1932;

AND WHEREAS a draft convention revising the convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to industrial employment, 1919, and a draft convention revising the convention concerning the age for admission of children to nonindustrial employment, 1932, were adopted by the International Labor Conference at its twenty-third session on June 22, 1937;

AND WHEREAS the aforesaid draft convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of children to employment at sea, 1936, was duly ratified on the part of the United States of America subject to understandings as follows:

“That the United States Government understands and construes the words ‘maritime navigation’ appearing in this Convention to mean navigation on the high seas only.

“That the provisions of this Convention shall apply to all territory over which the United States exercises jurisdiction except the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippine Islands and the Panama Canal Zone, with respect to which this Government reserves its decision.”;

AND WHEREAS the ratifications of the said draft convention by Norway, Belgium, subject to subsequent decisions regarding application to the Belgian Congo and to territories under Belgian Mandate, Brazil and Sweden were registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations on July 7, 1937, April 11, 1938, October 12, 1938 and January 6, 1939, respectively, and by such registrations the said draft convention became a formal convention between Norway and Belgium on April 11, 1938, which came into force, pursuant to Article 7 thereof, between Norway and Belgium on April 11, 1939, twelve months after the date on which the ratification of Belgium was registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, and, pursuant to the same article, will come into force for Brazil on October 12, 1939 and for Sweden on January 6, 1940;

Registration of U. S. ratification.

AND WHEREAS by such registration the said convention will come into force, pursuant to Article 7 thereof, for the United States of America with respect to Norway, Belgium and Brazil on October 29, 1939, twelve months after the date on which the ratification of the United States of America was registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, and, pursuant to the same article, will come into force for Sweden and other Members of the International Labor Organization whose ratifications have been or may be registered with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations subsequent to October 29, 1938, twelve months after the date on which the ratification has been or may be registered in each case;

Date of coming into force for U. S.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled in good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof, on and from October 29, 1939, subject to the understandings above recited and to any legislation or regulations in accordance with the provisions of the convention which may be made on the part of the United States of America.

Convention between the United States of America and Finland regulating military obligations of persons having dual nationality. Signed at Helsinki January 27, 1939; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States August 1, 1939; ratified by the President of the United States August 14, 1939; ratified by Finland September 29, 1939; ratifications exchanged at Helsinki October 3, 1939; proclaimed by the President of the United States October 7, 1939.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Preamble.

WHEREAS a convention between the United States of America and the Republic of Finland regulating the military obligations of persons possessing the nationality of both the High Contracting Parties was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Helsinki on the twenty-seventh day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, the original of which convention, in the English and Finnish languages, is word for word as follows:

Texts.

The United States of America and the Republic of Finland, being desirous of regulating the question of exemption from military obligations of persons possessing the nationality of both the High Contracting Parties, have decided to conclude a convention for that purpose, and have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries:

Amerikan Yhdysvallat ja Suomen Tasavalta, haluten järjestää kysymyksen kummankin Korkean Sopimuspuolen kansalaisuuden omaavien henkilöiden vapauttamisesta sotilaallisista velvollisuuksista, ovat päättäneet tässä tarkoituksessa solmia sopimuksen ja ovat valtuutetuikseen määränneet:

Plenipotentiaries.

The President of the United States of America: Mr. H. F. Arthur SCHOENFELD, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Republic of Finland; and The President of the Republic of Finland: Mr. Juho Eljas ERKKO, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Finland;	Amerikan Yhdysvaltain Presidentti: Herra H. F. Arthur SCHOENFELDin, Amerikan Yhdysvaltain Suomen Tasavallassa olevan erikoislähettilään ja täysivaltaisen ministerin, ja Suomen Tasavallan Presidentti: Herra Juho Eljas ERKON, Suomen Tasavallan ulkoasiainministerin,
---	--

Who, having communicated to each other their full powers found to be in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I

A person possessing the nationality of both the High Contracting Parties who habitually resides in the territory of one of them and who is in fact most closely connected with that Party shall be exempt from all military obligations in the territory of the other Party.

ARTICLE II

The present convention shall be ratified and the ratifications thereof shall be exchanged at Helsinki. It shall take effect in all its provisions on the day of the exchange of ratifications and shall continue in force for the term of ten years from that day.

If within six months before the expiration of ten years from the day on which the present convention shall come into force, neither High Contracting Party notifies the other of an intention of terminating the convention upon the expiration of the aforesaid period of ten years, the convention shall remain in full force and effect after the aforesaid period and until six months from such a time as either of the High Contracting Parties shall have notified to the other an intention of terminating the convention.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the present convention and have affixed their seals thereto.

I ARTIKLA

Henkilö, jolla on kummankin Korkean Sopimuspuolen kansalaisuus ja joka tavallisesti asuu toisen sopimuspuolen alueella sekä jolla todella on lähin yhteys siihen, on vapautettava kaikista sotilaallisista velvollisuuksista toisen sopimuspuolen alueella.

Exemption, except in country of habitual residence.

II ARTIKLA

Tämä sopimus on ratifioitava ja ratifioimiskirjat on vaihdettava Helsingissä. Se tulee kaikkine määräyksineen voimaan ratifioimiskirjojen vaihdon päivänä ja on oleva voimassa kymmenen vuoden ajan sanotusta päivästä.

Ratification.

Effective date; duration.

Ellei kumpikaan Korkea Sopimuspuoli kuutta kuukautta ennen kymmenen vuoden päättymistä siitä päivästä lukien, jolloin tämä sopimus on tullut voimaan, ilmoita toiselle tahtovansa luopua sopimuksesta sanotun kymmenvuotisen ajanjakson päättyessä, sopimus jää voimaan sanotun ajan jälkeen kunnes kuusi kuukautta on kulunut siitä päivästä, jolloin jompikumpi Korkea Sopimuspuoli on ilmoittanut toiselle tahtovansa luopua sopimuksesta.

Termination.

Tämän vakuudeksi asianomaiset täysivaltaiset edustajat ovat tämän sopimuksen allekirjoittaneet ja sineteillään varustaneet.

Signatures.

Texts, authenticity.

Quienes, después de haber exhibido sus Plenos Poderes, que fueron hallados en buena y debida forma, han convenido en lo siguiente:

Artículo I.—Se creará en la Biblioteca Nacional u oficial de la Capital de cada una de las Partes Contratantes, una sección dedicada a cada uno de los otros Estados que intervienen en este Convenio.

Art. II.—Para la instalación de estas secciones, cada Gobierno se compromete a proveer a cada uno de los otros Contratantes de este Convenio de una colección de obras capaces de dar concepto sobre la ideología de sus hombres de estudio y de ciencia.

Art. III.—Cada Gobierno se compromete a hacer proveer a las misiones diplomáticas de las otras Partes Contratantes acreditadas ante aquél, de dos ejemplares de cada una de sus publicaciones oficiales y de todas aquellas que fueren editadas con su auxilio. Estos ejemplares serán destinados a las secciones indicadas en el Artículo I.

Art. IV.—Las Bibliotecas Nacionales u oficiales de las capitales de las Partes Contratantes entrarán en acuerdos para mantener, con la deseable frecuencia, el servicio de canje de las obras editadas en cada una de ellas y de copias fotográficas de documentos que puedan tener interés para la Historia Americana.

Art. V.—La presente Convención no afecta los compromisos contraídos anteriormente por las Altas Partes Contratantes en virtud de acuerdos internacionales.

Art. VI.—La presente Convención será ratificada por las Altas

Partes Contratantes, de acuerdo y sellan la presente Convención en español, inglés, portugués y francés, con sus procedimientos constitucionales. El Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores de la República Argentina guardará los originales de la presente Convención y queda encargado de enviar copias certificadas auténticas a los Gobiernos para el referido fin. Los instrumentos de ratificación serán depositados en los archivos de la Unión Panamericana, en Washington, que notificará dicho depósito a los Gobiernos signatarios; tal notificación valdrá como canje de ratificaciones.

Art. VII.—La presente Convención entrará en vigor entre las Altas Partes Contratantes en el orden en que vayan depositando sus respectivas ratificaciones.

Art. VIII.—La presente Convención regirá indefinidamente, pero podrá ser denunciada mediante aviso anticipado de un año a la Unión Panamericana, que lo transmitirá a los demás Gobiernos signatarios. Transcurrido este plazo, la Convención cesará en sus efectos para el denunciante, quedando subsistente para las demás Altas Partes Contratantes.

Art. IX.—La presente Convención quedará abierta a la adhesión y acesión de los Estados no signatarios. Los instrumentos correspondientes serán depositados en los archivos de la Unión Panamericana, que los comunicará a las otras Altas Partes Contratantes.

En fe de lo cual, los Plenipotenciarios arriba mencionados, firman en la ciudad de Buenos Aires, Capital de la República Argentina, a los veintitrés días del mes de diciembre del año mil novecientos treinta y seis.

Lesquels, après s'être communiqué leurs Pleins Pouvoirs, trouvés en bonne et due forme, ont convenu ce qui suit:

Art. I.—A la Bibliothèque Nationale ou Officielle de la capitale de chacune des Parties Contractantes sera créée une section dédiée à chacun des autres Etats qui interviennent dans cet Accord.

Art. II.—Pour l'installation de ces sections, chaque Gouvernement s'engage à pourvoir chacun des autres contractants de cet Accord d'une collection d'oeuvres capable de donner une idée complète sur la tendance et la pensée de ses hommes de lettres et de ses savants.

Art. III.—Chaque Gouvernement s'engage à faire parvenir aux missions diplomatiques des autres Parties Contractantes accréditées auprès de lui, deux exemplaires de chacune de ses publications officielles et de toutes celles qui seraient éditées avec son aide. Ces exemplaires seront destinés aux sections signalées à l'Article premier.

Art. IV.—Les Bibliothèques Nationales ou officielles des capitales des Parties Contractantes entreront en accord pour maintenir, avec la fréquence désirable, le service d'échange des oeuvres qu'elles éditeront et des copies photographiques de documents, qui peuvent être d'intérêt pour l'Histoire Américaine.

Art. V.—La présente Convention n'affecte pas les engagements contractés précédemment par les Hautes Parties Contractantes en vertu d'accords internationaux.

Art. VI.—La présente Convention sera ratifiée par les Hautes Parties Contractantes, conformément à leurs procédures constitutionnelles. Le Ministère des Af-fares Etrangères de la République Argentine conservera les originaux de la présente Convention et est chargé d'en envoyer, dans ce but, des copies certifiées authentiques aux Gouvernements. Les instruments de ratification seront déposés aux archives de l'Union Panaméricaine, à Washington, qui en notifiera le dépôt aux Gouvernements signataires; cette notification équivaldra à l'échange des ratifications.

Art. VII.—La présente Convention entrera en vigueur les Hautes Parties Contractantes dans l'ordre où elles déposeront leurs respectives ratifications.

Art. VIII.—La présente Convention restera indéfiniment en vigueur, mais pourra être dénoncée moyennant un préavis d'un an à l'Union Panaméricaine, qui le transmettra aux autres Gouvernements signataires. Ce délai écoulé, la Convention cessera de produire ses effets à l'égard de la Partie qui l'aura dénoncée, mais restera en vigueur à l'égard des autres Hautes Parties Contractantes.

Art. IX.—La présente Convention restera ouverte à l'adhésion des Etats non signataires. Les instruments correspondants seront déposés aux archives de l'Union Panaméricaine, qui les communiquera aux autres Hautes Parties Contractantes.

En foi de quoi, les Plénipotentiaires ci-après nommés ont signé la présente Convention en espagnol, en anglais, en portugais et en français et y ont apposé leurs sceaux dans la ville de Buenos Aires, Capitale de la République Argentine, ce vingt-trois, Décembre mil neuf cent trente-six.

November 1, 1937

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS an Extradition Treaty between the United States of America and the Republic of Liberia was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Monrovia on the first day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, the original of which Treaty, being in the English language, is word for word as follows:

Preamble.

TREATY OF EXTRADITION BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE REPUBLIC OF LIBERIA

The United States of America and the Republic of Liberia, desiring to promote the cause of justice, have resolved to conclude a treaty for the extradition of fugitives from justice between the two countries and have appointed for that purpose the following Plenipotentiaries:

Text.

The President of the United States of America:

Plenipotentiaries.

His Excellency Lester A. Walton, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Liberia;

The President of the Republic of Liberia:

His Excellency C. L. Simpson, Secretary of State;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

It is agreed that the Government of the United States and the Government of the Republic of Liberia shall, upon requisition duly made as herein provided, deliver up to justice any person who may be charged with, or may have been convicted of, any of the crimes or offenses specified in Article II of the present Treaty committed within the jurisdiction of one of the High Contracting Parties, and who Reciprocal delivery of persons charged, etc., with certain crimes.

shall seek an asylum or shall be found within the territories of the other; provided that such surrender shall take place only upon such evidence of criminality, as according to the laws of the place where the fugitive or person so charged shall be found, would justify his apprehension and commitment for trial if the crime or offense had been there committed.

ARTICLE II.

Extraditable crimes.

Persons shall be delivered up according to the provisions of the present Treaty, who shall have been charged with or convicted of any of the following crimes or offenses:

1. Murder (including crimes designated by the terms parricide, poisoning, and infanticide); manslaughter, when voluntary.

2. Malicious wounding or inflicting grievous bodily harm with premeditation.

3. Rape, abortion, carnal knowledge of children under the age of sixteen years.

4. Abduction or detention of women or girls for immoral purposes.

5. Bigamy.

6. Arson.

7. Willful and unlawful destruction or obstruction of railroads, which endangers human life.

8. Crimes committed at sea:

(a) Piracy, as commonly known and defined by the law of nations, or by statutes;

(b) Wrongfully sinking or destroying a vessel at sea or attempting to do so;

(c) Mutiny or conspiracy by two or more members of the crew or other persons on board of a vessel on the high seas, for the purpose of rebelling against the authority of the Captain or Commander of such vessel, or by fraud or violence taking possession of such vessel;

(d) Assault on board ship upon the high seas with intent to do bodily harm.

9. Burglary; house-breaking.

10. The act of breaking into and entering the offices of the Government or public authorities, or other buildings not dwellings with intent to commit a felony therein.

11. Robbery.

12. Forgery or the utterance of forged papers.

13. The forgery or falsification of the official acts of the Government or public authorities, including Courts of Justice, or the uttering or fraudulent use of any of the same.

14. The fabrication of counterfeit money, whether coin or paper, counterfeit titles or coupons of public debt, created by National, State, Provincial, Territorial, Local or Municipal Governments, bank notes or other instruments of public credit, counterfeit seals, stamps, dies and marks of State or public administrations, and the utterance, circulation or fraudulent use of the above mentioned objects.

15. Embezzlement.

16. Kidnapping of minors or adults, defined to be abduction or detention of a person or persons, in order to exact money from them, their families or any other person or persons, or for any other unlawful end.

17. Larceny, defined to be the theft of effects, personal property, or money, of the value of twenty-five dollars or more.

18. Obtaining money, valuable securities or other property by false pretenses, or receiving any money, valuable securities or other property knowing the same to have been unlawfully obtained, where the amount of money or the value of the property so obtained or received exceeds one hundred dollars.

19. Perjury.

20. Fraud or breach of trust by a bailee, banker, agent, factor, executor, administrator, guardian, director or officer of any company or corporation, or by any one in any fiduciary position, where the amount of money or the value of the property misappropriated exceeds one hundred dollars.

21. Crimes and offenses against the laws of both countries for the suppression of slavery and slave trading.

22. Willful desertion or willful non-support of minor or dependent children, or of other dependent persons, provided that the crime or offense is punishable by the laws of both countries.

23. Bribery.

24. Crimes or offenses against the bankruptcy laws.

25. Crimes or offenses against the laws for the suppression of traffic in narcotics.

26. Crimes and offenses against the laws regulating the postal service of both countries, with respect to using the mails to promote frauds.

27. Extradition shall also take place for participation in any of the crimes or offenses before mentioned as an accessory before or after the fact, or in any attempt to commit any of the aforesaid crimes or offenses.

Accessories, etc.

ARTICLE III.

The provisions of the present Treaty shall not import a claim of extradition for any crime or offense of a political character, nor for acts connected with such crimes or offenses; and no person surrendered by or to either of the High Contracting Parties in virtue of this Treaty shall be tried or punished for a political crime or offense committed before his extradition. The State applied to, or Courts of such State, shall decide whether the crime or offense is of a political character. When the offense charged comprises the act either of murder or assassination or of poisoning, either consummated or attempted, the fact that the offense was committed or attempted against the life of the Head of the State of one of the High Contracting Parties, or against the Sovereign or Head of a foreign State, or against the life of any member of the family of either, shall not be deemed sufficient to sustain that such crime or offense was of a political character, or was an act connected with crimes or offenses of a political character.

Political offenses.

ARTICLE IV.

Trial limited to offense for which surrendered.

No person shall be tried for any crime or offense, committed prior to his extradition, other than that for which he was surrendered, unless he has been at liberty for one month after having been tried, to leave the country, or, in case of conviction, for one month after having suffered his punishment or having been pardoned.

ARTICLE V.

Time limitation, etc.

A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered under the provisions hereof, when, from lapse of time or other lawful cause, according to the laws of the demanding country, the criminal is exempt from prosecution or punishment for the offense for which the surrender is asked.

ARTICLE VI.

Person under prosecution in country where found.

If a fugitive criminal whose surrender may be claimed pursuant to the stipulations hereof, be actually under prosecution, out on bail or in custody, for a crime or offense committed in the country where he has sought asylum, or shall have been convicted thereof, his extradition may be deferred until such proceedings be determined, and until he shall have been set at liberty in due course of law.

ARTICLE VII.

Person claimed by other powers.

If a fugitive criminal claimed by one of the two parties hereto, shall be also claimed by one or more powers pursuant to treaty provisions, on account of crimes or offenses committed within their jurisdiction, such criminal shall be delivered to that State whose demand is first received unless the demand is waived.

Existing treaties with other states not affected.

This article shall not affect such treaties as have previously been concluded by one of the contracting parties with other States.

ARTICLE VIII.

Citizens of country appealed to.

Under the stipulations of this Treaty, neither of the High Contracting Parties shall be bound to deliver up its own citizens, except in cases where such citizenship has been obtained after the perpetration of the crime for which extradition is sought. The State appealed to shall decide whether the person claimed is its own citizen.

ARTICLE IX.

Expenses of arrest and transportation.

The expense of transportation of the fugitive shall be borne by the Government which has preferred the demand for extradition. The appropriate legal officers of the country where the proceedings of extradition are had, shall assist the officers of the Government demanding the extradition before the respective judges and magistrates, by every legal means within their power; and no claim other than for the board and lodging of a fugitive prior to his surrender, arising out of the arrest, detention, examination and surrender of fugitives under this Treaty, shall be made against the government demanding the extradition; provided, however, that any officer or officers of the surrendering government giving assistance, who shall, in the usual course of their duty receive no salary or compensation other than specific fees for services performed, shall be entitled to receive from the government demanding the extradition the customary fees for the acts or services performed by them in the same manner and to the same amount as though such acts or services had been performed in ordinary criminal proceedings under the laws of the country of which they are officers.

ARTICLE X.

Everything found in the possession of the fugitive criminal at the time of his arrest, whether being the proceeds of the crime or offense, or which may be material as evidence in making proof of the crime, shall so far as practicable, according to the laws of either of the High Contracting Parties, be delivered up with his person at the time of surrender. Nevertheless, the rights of a third party with regard to the articles referred to shall be duly respected.

Articles seized with fugitive.

ARTICLE XI.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to all territory wherever situated, belonging to either of the High Contracting Parties, or in the occupancy and under the control of either of them, during such occupancy or control.

Territory affected.

Requisitions for the surrender of fugitives from justice shall be made by the respective diplomatic agents or superior consular officers of the High Contracting Parties. In the event of the absence of such agents or officers from the country or where extradition is sought from territory included in the preceding paragraphs, other than the United States or Liberia, requisitions may be made by superior consular officers.

Requisitions.

The arrest of the fugitive shall be brought about in accordance with the laws of the respective countries, and if, after an examination, it shall be decided, according to the law and the evidence, that extradition is due pursuant to this Treaty, the fugitive shall be surrendered in conformity to the forms of law prescribed in such cases.

Arrest.

The person provisionally arrested shall be released, unless within two months from the date of commitment in the territory of either one of the High Contracting Parties, the formal requisition for surrender with the documentary proofs hereinafter prescribed shall be made as aforesaid by the diplomatic agent or superior consular officer of the demanding government, or, in his absence, by a consular officer thereof.

Release, condition.

If the fugitive criminal shall have been convicted of the crime or offense for which his surrender is asked, a copy of the sentence of the court before which such conviction took place, duly authenticated, shall be produced. If, however, the fugitive is merely charged with crime, a duly authenticated copy of the warrant of arrest in the country where the crime was committed shall be produced, together with the evidence of criminality mentioned in Article I hereof.

Papers required.

ARTICLE XII.

Ratification.

The present Treaty, written in English, shall be ratified by the High Contracting Parties in accordance with their respective constitutional methods, and shall take effect on the date of the exchange of ratifications which shall take place at Monrovia as soon as possible.

ARTICLE XIII.

Duration.

The present Treaty shall remain in force for a period of five years, and in case neither of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice one year before the expiration of that period of its intention to terminate the Treaty, it shall continue in force until the expiration of one year from the date on which such notice of termination shall be given by either of the High Contracting Parties.

Signatures.

In witness whereof the above named Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Treaty and have hereunto affixed their seals.

Done in duplicate at Monrovia this first day of November, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven.

Ratifications exchanged.

AND WHEREAS the said Treaty has been duly ratified on both parts, and the ratifications of the two Governments were exchanged in the city of Monrovia, on the twenty-first day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine;

Proclamation.

Now, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have caused the said Treaty to be made public, to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS a Treaty of Friendship, Commerce and Navigation between the United States of America and the Republic of Liberia was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Monrovia on the eighth day of August, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, the original of which Treaty, being in the English language, is word for word as follows:

Preamble.

The United States of America and the Republic of Liberia, desirous of strengthening the bond of peace which happily prevails between them, by arrangements designed to promote friendly intercourse between their respective territories through provisions responsive to the spiritual, cultural, economic and commercial aspirations of the people thereof, have resolved to conclude a Treaty of Friendship, Commerce and Navigation and for that purpose have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries,

Text.

The President of the United States of America:

Plenipotentiaries.

Lester A. Walton, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Republic of Liberia, and

The President of the Republic of Liberia:

His Excellency C. L. Simpson, Secretary of State of the Republic of Liberia,

Who, having communicated to each other their full powers found to be in due form, have agreed upon the following Articles:

ARTICLE I

The nationals of each of the High Contracting Parties shall be permitted to enter, travel and reside in the territories of the other; to exercise liberty of conscience and freedom of worship; to engage in professional, scientific, religious, philanthropic, manufacturing and commercial work of every kind without interference; to carry on every form of commercial activity which is not forbidden by the local law; to own, erect or lease and occupy appropriate buildings and to lease lands for residential, scientific, religious, philanthropic,

Reciprocal liberty of travel, residence, commerce, etc.

manufacturing, commercial and mortuary purposes; to employ agents of their choice, and generally to do anything incidental to or necessary for the enjoyment of any of the foregoing privileges upon the same terms as nationals of the State of residence or as nationals of the nation hereafter to be most favored by it, submitting themselves to all local laws and regulations duly established.

Equality of taxes,
etc.

The nationals of either High Contracting Party within the territories of the other shall not be subjected to the payment of any internal charges or taxes other or higher than those that are exacted of and paid by nationals of the State of residence.

Access to courts of justice.

The nationals of each High Contracting Party shall enjoy freedom of access to the courts of justice of the other on conforming to the local laws, as well for the prosecution as for the defense of their rights, and in all degrees of jurisdiction established by law.

Protection of persons and property.

The nationals of each High Contracting Party shall receive within the territories of the other, upon submitting to conditions imposed upon its nationals, the most constant protection and security for their persons and property, and shall enjoy in this respect that degree of protection that is required by international law. Their property shall not be taken without due process of law and without payment of just compensation.

Immigration, etc.,
statutes not affected.

Nothing contained in this Treaty shall be construed to affect existing statutes of either of the High Contracting Parties in relation to emigration or to immigration or the right of either of the High Contracting Parties to enact such statutes, provided, however, that nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the nationals of either High Contracting Party from entering, traveling and residing in the territories of the other Party in order to carry on international trade or to engage in any commercial activity related to or connected with the conduct of international trade on the same terms as nationals of the most-favored nation.

International trade activities.

ARTICLE II

Civil liability for injuries or death.

With respect to that form of protection granted by National, State or Provincial laws establishing civil liability for bodily injuries or for death, and giving to relatives or heirs or dependents of an injured person a right of action or a pecuniary compensation, such relatives or heirs or dependents of the injured person, himself a national of either of the High Contracting Parties and injured within any of the territories of the other, shall, regardless of their alienage or residence outside of the territory where the injury occurred, enjoy the same rights and privileges as are or may be granted to nationals, and under like conditions.

ARTICLE III

Buildings and other property to be respected.

The dwellings, warehouses, manufactories, shops, and other places of business, and all premises thereto appertaining of the nationals of each of the High Contracting Parties in the territories of the other, lawfully used for any purposes set forth in Article I, shall be respected.

It shall not be allowable to make a domiciliary visit to, or search of any such buildings and premises, or there to examine and inspect books, papers or accounts, except under the conditions and in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws, ordinances and regulations for nationals of the State of residence or nationals of the nation most favored by it.

Search of premises.

ARTICLE IV

Where, on the death of any person holding real or other immovable property or interests therein within the territories of one High Contracting Party, such property or interests therein would, by the laws of the country or by a testamentary disposition, descend or pass to a national of the other High Contracting Party, whether resident or non-resident, were he not disqualified by the laws of the country where such property or interests therein is or are situated, such national shall be allowed a term of three years in which to sell the same, this term to be reasonably prolonged if circumstances render it necessary, and withdraw the proceeds thereof, without restraint or interference and exempt from any estate succession, probate or administrative duties or charges other than those which may be imposed in like cases upon the nationals of the country from which such proceeds may be drawn.

Term for sale of inherited, etc., property.

Nationals of either High Contracting Party may have full power to dispose of their personal property of every kind within the territories of the other, by testament, donation, or otherwise, and their heirs, legatees and donees, of whatsoever nationality, whether resident or non-resident, shall succeed to such personal property, and may take possession thereof, either by themselves or by others acting for them, and retain or dispose of the same at their pleasure subject to the payment of such duties or charges only as the nationals of the High Contracting Party within whose territories such property may be or belong shall be liable to pay in like cases. In the same way, personal property left to nationals of one of the High Contracting Parties by nationals of the other High Contracting Party, and being within the territories of such other Party, shall be subject to the payment of such duties or charges only as the nationals of the High Contracting Party within whose territories such property may be or belong shall be liable to pay in like cases.

Rights of disposal and succession.

Payment of duties, etc.

ARTICLE V

The nationals of each of the High Contracting Parties in the exercise of the right of freedom of worship, within the territories of the other, as hereinabove provided, may, without annoyance or molestation of any kind by reason of their religious belief or otherwise, conduct services either within their own houses or within any appropriate buildings which they may be at liberty to erect and maintain in convenient situations, provided their teachings or practices are not contrary to public morals; and they shall also be permitted to bury their dead according to their religious customs in suitable and convenient places established and maintained for the purpose, subject to the mortuary and sanitary laws and regulations of the place of burial.

Freedom of worship.

ARTICLE VI

Military obligations.

In the event of war between either High Contracting Party and a third State, such Party may draft for compulsory military service nationals of the other having a permanent residence within its territories and who have formally, according to its laws, declared an intention to adopt its nationality by naturalization, unless such persons depart from the territories of said belligerent Party within sixty days after the declaration of war. Such right to depart shall apply also to persons possessing the nationality of both High Contracting Parties unless they habitually reside in the territory of the country drafting for compulsory military service.

Natives declaring intention to resume nationality.

It is agreed, however, that such right to depart shall not apply to natives of the country drafting for compulsory military service, who, after having become nationals of the other Party, have declared an intention to acquire or resume the nationality of the country of their birth. Such persons shall nevertheless be entitled in respect of this matter to treatment no less favorable than that accorded the nationals of any other country who are similarly situated.

ARTICLE VII

Freedom of commerce and navigation.

Between the territories of the High Contracting Parties there shall be freedom of commerce and navigation. The nationals of each of the High Contracting Parties equally with those of the most-favored nation, shall have liberty freely to come with their vessels and cargoes to all places, ports and waters of every kind within the territorial limits of the other which are or may be open to foreign commerce and navigation.

ARTICLE VIII

Duties, etc., most-favored-nation treatment.

With respect to customs duties or charges of any kind imposed on or in connection with importation or exportation, and with respect to the method of levying such duties or charges, and with respect to all rules and formalities in connection with importation or exportation, and with respect to all laws or regulations affecting the sale, taxation, or use of imported goods within the country, any advantage, favor, privilege or immunity which has been or may hereafter be granted by either High Contracting Party to any article originating in or destined for any third country, shall be accorded immediately and unconditionally to the like article originating in or destined for the other High Contracting Party.

With respect to the amount and collection of duties on imports and exports of every kind, each of the two High Contracting Parties binds itself to give to the nationals, vessels and goods of the other the advantage of every favor, privilege or immunity which it shall have accorded to the nationals, vessels and goods of a third State, whether such favored State shall have been accorded such treatment gratuitously or in return for reciprocal compensatory treatment.

Every such favor, privilege or immunity which shall hereafter be granted to nationals, vessels or goods of a third State shall simultaneously and unconditionally, without request and without compensation, be extended to the other High Contracting Party, for the benefit of itself, its nationals, vessels, and goods.

ARTICLE IX

Neither of the High Contracting Parties shall establish or maintain any import or export prohibition or restriction on any article originating in or destined for the territory of the other High Contracting Party, which is not applied to the like article originating in or destined for any third country. Any abolition of an import or export prohibition or restriction which may be granted even temporarily by either High Contracting Party in favor of an article originating in or destined for a third country shall be applied immediately and unconditionally to the like article originating in or destined for the territory of the other High Contracting Party.

Import or export restrictions.

If either High Contracting Party establishes or maintains any form of quantitative restriction or control of the importation or sale of any article in which the other High Contracting Party has an interest, or imposes a lower import duty or charge on the importation or sale of a specified quantity of any such article than the duty or charge imposed on importations in excess of such quantity, the High Contracting Party taking such action shall, upon request, inform the other High Contracting Party as to the total quantity, or any change therein, of any such article permitted to be imported or sold, or permitted to be imported or sold at such lower duty or charge during a specified period, and shall allot to the other High Contracting Party for such specified period a proportion of such total quantity as originally established or subsequently changed in any manner equivalent to the proportion of the total importation of such article which the other High Contracting Party supplied during a previous representative period, unless it is mutually agreed to dispense with such allotment. Neither of the High Contracting Parties shall, by import licenses, regulate the total quantity of importations into its territory or sales therein of any article in which the other High Contracting Party has an interest, unless the total quantity of such article permitted to be imported or sold during a quota period of not less than three months shall have been established, and unless the regulations covering the issuance of such licenses or permits shall have been made public before such regulations are put into force.

Import quotas, etc.

ARTICLE X

If either High Contracting Party establishes or maintains, directly or indirectly, any form of control of the means of international payment, it shall, in the administration of such control:

International payments.

(a) Impose no prohibition, restriction, or delay on the transfer of payment for imported articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of the other High Contracting Party, or of payments necessary for and incidental to the importation of such articles;

(b) Accord unconditionally, with respect to rates of exchange and taxes or surcharges on exchange transactions in connection with payments for or payments necessary and incidental to the importation of articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of the other High Contracting Party, treatment no less favorable than that accorded in connection with the importation of any article whatsoever the growth, produce, or manufacture of any third country; and

(c) Accord unconditionally, with respect to all rules and formalities applying to exchange transactions in connection with payments for or payments necessary and incidental to the importation of articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of the other High Contracting Party, treatment no less favorable than that accorded in connection with the importation of the like articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any third country.

With respect to non-commercial transactions, each High Contracting Party shall apply any form of control of the means of international payment in a non-discriminatory manner as between the nationals of the other High Contracting Party and the nationals of any third country.

ARTICLE XI

Government, etc.,
monopolies.

In the event that either High Contracting Party establishes or maintains a monopoly for the importation, production or sale of a particular product or grants exclusive privileges, formally or in effect, to one or more agencies to import, produce or sell a particular product, the High Contracting Party establishing or maintaining such monopoly, or granting such monopoly privileges, shall, in respect of the foreign purchases of such monopoly or agency, accord the commerce of the other High Contracting Party fair and equitable treatment. In making its foreign purchases of any article such monopoly or agency shall be influenced solely by competitive considerations such as price, quality, marketability, and terms of sale.

ARTICLE XII

Carriage by sea, reciprocal privileges.

All articles which are or may be legally imported from foreign countries into ports of the United States of America or are or may be legally exported therefrom in vessels of the United States may likewise be imported into those ports or exported therefrom in Liberian vessels, without being liable to any other or higher duties or charges whatsoever than if such articles were imported or exported in vessels of the United States; and reciprocally, all articles which are or may be legally imported from foreign countries into the ports of Liberia or are or may be legally exported therefrom in Liberian vessels may likewise be imported into those ports or exported therefrom in vessels of the United States without being liable to any other or higher duties or charges whatsoever than if such articles were imported or exported in Liberian vessels.

In the same manner there shall be perfect reciprocal equality in relation to the flags of the two countries with regard to bounties, drawbacks, and other privileges of this nature of whatever denomination which may be allowed in the territories of each of the Contracting Parties, on goods imported or exported in national vessels so that such bounties, drawbacks and other privileges shall also and in like manner be allowed on goods imported or exported in vessels of the other country.

Bounties, drawbacks, etc.

ARTICLE XIII

The nationals, goods, products, wares, and merchandise of each High Contracting Party within the territories of the other shall receive the same treatment as nationals, goods, products, wares, and merchandise of the country with regard to internal taxes, transit duties, charges in respect of warehousing and other facilities and the amount of drawbacks and export bounties.

Internal taxes, transit duties, etc.

ARTICLE XIV

The merchant or other private vessels and cargoes of one of the High Contracting Parties shall, within the territorial waters and harbors of the other Party in all respects and unconditionally be accorded the same treatment as the vessel and cargoes of that Party, irrespective of the port of departure of the vessel, or the port of destination, and irrespective of the origin or the destination of the cargo. It is especially agreed that no duties of tonnage, harbor, pilotage, lighthouse, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties or charges of whatever denomination, levied in the name or for the profit of the Government, public functionaries, private individuals, corporations or establishments of any kind shall be imposed in the ports of the territories or territorial waters of either country upon the vessels of the other, which shall not equally, under the same conditions, be imposed on national vessels.

Vessels, reciprocal treatment.

ARTICLE XV

Merchant vessels and other privately owned vessels under the flag of either of the High Contracting Parties, and carrying the papers required by its national laws in proof of nationality shall, both within the territorial waters of the other High Contracting Party and on the high seas, be deemed to be the vessels of the Party whose flag is flown.

Nationality of vessels.

ARTICLE XVI

Merchant vessels and other privately owned vessels under the flag of either of the High Contracting Parties shall be permitted to discharge portions of cargoes at any port open to foreign commerce in the territories of the other High Contracting Party, and to proceed with the remaining portions of such cargoes to any other ports of the same territories open to foreign commerce, without paying other or higher tonnage dues or port charges in such cases than would be paid by national vessels in like circumstances, and they shall be permitted to load in like manner at different ports in the same voyage outward, provided, however, that the coasting trade of the High Contracting Parties is exempt from the provisions of this Article and from the other provisions of this Treaty, and is to be regulated according to the laws of each High Contracting Party in relation thereto. It is agreed, however, that nationals and vessels of either High Contracting Party shall within the territories of the other enjoy with respect to the coasting trade most-favored-nation treatment.

Discharge of portions of cargoes at open ports.

Loading.

Exception; coasting trade.

ARTICLE XVII

Corporations, legal rights.

Limited liability and other corporations and associations, whether or not for pecuniary profit, which have been or may hereafter be organized in accordance with and under the laws, National, State or Provincial, of either High Contracting Party and which maintain a central office within the territories thereof, shall have their juridical status recognized by the other High Contracting Party provided that they pursue no aims within its territories contrary to its laws. They shall enjoy free access to the courts of law and equity, on conforming to the laws regulating the matter, as well for the prosecution as for the defense of rights in all the degrees of jurisdiction established by law.

The right of corporations and associations of either High Contracting Party which have been so recognized by the other to establish themselves in the territories of the other Party or to establish branch offices and fulfill their functions therein shall depend upon and be governed solely by the consent of such Party as expressed in its National, State or Provincial laws.

ARTICLE XVIII

Right to organize corporations, etc.

The nationals of either High Contracting Party shall enjoy within the territories of the other, upon compliance with the conditions there imposed, such rights and privileges as have been or may hereafter be accorded the nationals of any other State with respect to organization of and participation in limited liability and other corporations and associations, for pecuniary profit or otherwise, including the rights of promotion, incorporation, purchase and ownership and sale of shares and the holding of executive or official positions therein. In the exercise of the foregoing rights and with respect to the regulation or procedure concerning the organization or conduct of such corporations or associations, such nationals shall be subjected to no condition less favorable than those which have been or may hereafter be imposed upon the nationals of the most-favored nation. The right of any of such corporations or associations as may be organized or controlled or participated in by the nationals of either High Contracting Party within the territories of the other to exercise any of their functions therein, shall be governed by the laws and regulations, National, State or Provincial, which are in force or may hereafter be established within the territories of the Party wherein they propose to carry on their activities. The foregoing stipulations do not apply to organization of and participation in political associations.

ARTICLE XIX

The nationals, including corporations and associations, of either High Contracting Party shall enjoy in the territories of the other Party, upon compliance with the conditions there imposed, most-favored-nation treatment in respect of the exploration for and exploitation of mineral resources; provided that neither Party shall be required to grant rights and privileges in respect of the mining of coal, phosphate, oil, oil shale, gas and sodium on the public domain, or in respect of the ownership of stock in domestic corporations engaged in such operations, greater than its nationals, corporations and associations receive from the other Party.

Mining privileges.

Restriction.

It is understood, however, that neither High Contracting Party shall be required by anything in this paragraph to grant any application for any such right or privilege if at the time such application is presented the granting of all similar applications shall have been suspended or discontinued.

ARTICLE XX

Commercial travelers representing manufacturers, merchants and traders domiciled in the territories of either High Contracting Party shall on their entry into and sojourn in the territories of the other Party and on their departure therefrom be accorded the most-favored-nation treatment in respect of customs and other privileges and of all charges and taxes of whatever denomination applicable to them or to their samples.

Commercial travelers.

If either High Contracting Party requires the presentation of an authentic document establishing the identity and authority of a commercial traveler, a signed statement by the concern or concerns represented, certified by a consular officer of the country of destination shall be accepted as satisfactory.

ARTICLE XXI

There shall be complete freedom of transit through the territories including territorial waters of each High Contracting Party on the routes most convenient for international transit, by rail, navigable waterway, and canal, other than the Panama Canal and waterways and canals which constitute international boundaries, to persons and goods coming from, going to or passing through the territories of the other High Contracting Party, except such persons as may be forbidden admission into its territories or goods of which the importation may be prohibited by law or regulations, provided that Freedom of transit.

Exceptions.

Exclusion from special areas.

the foregoing shall not be construed to prevent either High Contracting Party from excluding aliens from special areas within its territories closed to visit by law, military order or regulations. The measures of a general or particular character which either of the High Contracting Parties is obliged to take in case of an emergency affecting the safety of the State or vital interests of the country may, in exceptional cases and for as short a period as possible, involve a deviation from the provisions of this paragraph, it being understood that the principle of freedom of transit must be observed to the utmost possible extent.

Persons and goods in transit.

Persons and goods in transit shall not be subjected to any transit duty, or to any unnecessary delays or restrictions, or to treatment as regards charges, facilities, or any other matter less favorable than that accorded to the most-favored nation.

Goods in transit must be entered at the proper customhouse, but they shall be exempt from all customs or other similar duties.

It is understood that all goods in transit through the territory of the United States of America and all goods in transit through the territory of Liberia when warehoused or otherwise stored shall be subject to storage charges.

All charges imposed on transport in transit shall be reasonable, having regard to the conditions of the traffic.

Arms, etc.

Nothing in this Article shall affect the right of either of the High Contracting Parties to prohibit or restrict the transit of arms, munitions and military equipment in accordance with treaties or conventions that may have been or may hereafter be entered into by either Party with other countries.

ARTICLE XXII

Gold or silver exportation or importation.

Nothing in this Treaty shall be construed to prevent the adoption of measures prohibiting or restricting the exportation or importation of gold or silver, or to prevent the adoption of such measures as either High Contracting Party may see fit with respect to the prohibition, or the control, of the export or sale for export, of arms, ammunition, or implements of war, and, in exceptional circumstances, all other military supplies.

Control of arms, etc.

Designated prohibitions or restrictions.

Subject to the requirement that, under like circumstances and conditions, there shall be no arbitrary discrimination by either High Contracting Party against the other High Contracting Party in favor of any third country, the stipulations of this Treaty shall not extend to prohibitions or restrictions (1) imposed on moral or humanitarian grounds; (2) designed to protect human, animal, or plant life or health; (3) relating to prison-made goods; (4) relating to the enforcement of police or revenue laws.

Frontier traffic.

The stipulations of this Treaty do not extend to advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded to neighboring States in order to facilitate short frontier traffic, or to advantages resulting from a customs union to which either High Contracting Party may become a party so long as such advantages are not extended to any other country.

The stipulations of this Treaty do not extend to advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions or the Panama Canal Zone to one another or to the Republic of Cuba. The provisions of this paragraph shall continue to apply in respect of any advantages now or hereafter accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions or the Panama Canal Zone to one another, irrespective of any change in the political status of any of the territories or possessions of the United States of America.

Advantages granted by U. S. to its territories, etc., or to Cuba.

ARTICLE XXIII

Subject to any limitation or exception hereinabove set forth, or hereafter to be agreed upon the territories of the High Contracting Parties to which the provisions of this Treaty extend shall be understood to comprise all areas of land and water over which the Parties, respectively, claim and exercise dominion as sovereign thereof, except the Panama Canal Zone.

Areas affected.

ARTICLE XXIV

The present Treaty shall come into force in all of its provisions on the day of the exchange of ratifications and shall continue in force for the term of five years from that day.

Effective date; duration.

If within one year before the expiration of five years from the date on which the present Treaty shall come into force, neither High Contracting Party notifies to the other Party an intention of terminating the Treaty upon the expiration of the aforesaid period of five years, the Treaty shall remain in full force and effect after the aforesaid period and until one year from such a time as either of the High Contracting Parties shall have notified to the other Party an intention of terminating it.

Termination.

The present Treaty shall, from the date of the exchange of ratifications, be deemed to supplant the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between the United States of America and Liberia, concluded at London on October 21, 1862.

Former treaty supplanted.

12 Stat. 1245.

ARTICLE XXV

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications thereof shall be exchanged at Monrovia as soon as possible.

Ratification.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Treaty and have affixed their seals thereto.

Signatures.

October 7, 1938
[T. S. No. 957]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS a Convention between the United States of America and the Republic of Liberia, defining the duties, rights, prerogatives and immunities of consular officers of each country in the territory of the other country, was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Monrovia on the seventh day of October, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, the original of which Convention, being in the English language, is word for word as follows:

Preamble.

The President of the United States of America and the President of the Republic of Liberia, being desirous of defining the duties, rights, prerogatives and immunities of consular officers of each country in the territory of the other country, have decided to conclude a convention to that end and have appointed the following Plenipotentiaries; that is to say:

Text.

The President of the United States of America:

Plenipotentiaries.

Lester A. Walton, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Republic of Liberia, and

The President of the Republic of Liberia:

His Excellency C. L. Simpson, Secretary of State of the Republic of Liberia,

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles:

ARTICLE I

Each of the High Contracting Parties agrees to receive from the other, consular officers in those of its ports, places, and cities, where it may be convenient and which are open to consular representatives of any foreign country.

Reception of consular officers.

Consular officers of each of the High Contracting Parties shall, after entering upon their duties, enjoy reciprocally in the territories of the other all the rights, privileges, exemptions and immunities which are enjoyed by officers of the same grade of the most avored nation. As official agents, such officers shall be entitled to the high consideration of all officials, national or local, with whom they have official intercourse in the State which receives them.

Enjoyment of rights, etc., accorded most favored nation.

Exequaturs, etc.

The Government of each of the High Contracting Parties shall furnish free of charge the necessary exequatur of such consular officers of the other as present a regular commission signed by the chief executive of the appointing State and under its great seal; and they shall issue to a subordinate or substitute consular officer duly appointed by an accepted superior consular officer with the approbation of his Government, or by any other competent officer of that Government, such documents as according to the laws of the respective countries shall be requisite for the exercise by the appointee of the consular function. On the exhibition of an exequatur, or other document issued in lieu thereof to such subordinate, such consular officer shall be permitted to enter upon his duties and to enjoy the rights, privileges and immunities granted by this Convention.

ARTICLE II

Exemption from arrest; exception.

Consular officers, nationals of the State by which they are appointed, and not engaged in any profession, business or trade, shall be exempt from arrest except when charged with the commission of offenses locally designated as crimes other than misdemeanors and subjecting the individual guilty thereof to punishment. Such officers shall be exempt from military billetings, and from service of any military or naval, administrative or police character whatsoever.

Military billetings and service.

Testimony in criminal cases.

In criminal cases the attendance at court by a consular officer as a witness may be demanded by the prosecution or defense, or by the court. The demand shall be made with all possible regard for the consular dignity and the duties of the office; and there shall be compliance on the part of the consular officer.

Civil cases.

When the testimony of a consular officer who is a national of the State which appoints him and is engaged in no private occupation for gain is taken in civil cases, it shall be taken orally or in writing at his residence or office and with due regard for his convenience. The officer should, however, voluntarily give his testimony at the trial whenever it is possible to do so without serious interference with his official duties.

Testimony regarding official acts not required.

No consular officer shall be required to testify in either criminal or civil cases regarding acts performed by him in his official capacity.

ARTICLE III

Exemption from taxes; exception.

Consular officers, including employees in a consulate, nationals of the State by which they are appointed, other than those engaged in private occupations for gain within the State where they exercise their functions, shall be exempt from all taxes, National, State, Provincial and Municipal, except taxes levied on account of the possession or ownership of immovable property situated in, or income derived from property of any kind situated or belonging within the territories of the State within which they exercise their functions.

All consular officers and employees, nationals of the State appointing them, shall be exempt from the payment of taxes on the salary, fees or wages received by them in compensation for their consular services.

The exemptions of the foregoing paragraph shall apply equally to officials who are duly appointed by one of the High Contracting Parties to exercise in its behalf essential governmental functions in the territory of the other High Contracting Party, provided that such officials shall be nationals of the State appointing them and shall not be engaged in private occupations for gain within the country to which they are accredited. The State appointing them shall communicate to the other State satisfactory evidence of the appointment and shall indicate the character of the service of the officials to whom the exemptions of this Article are intended to apply.

The Government of each High Contracting Party shall have the right to lease land and to lease acquire and own buildings required for diplomatic or consular premises in the territory of the other High Contracting Party and also to erect buildings in such territory for the purposes stated subject to local building regulations.

Lands and buildings situated in the territory of either High Contracting Party, of which the other High Contracting Party is the legal or equitable owner and which are used exclusively for governmental purposes by that owner, shall be exempt from taxation of every kind, National, State, Provincial and Municipal, other than assessments levied for services or local public improvements by which the premises are benefited.

ARTICLE IV

Each of the High Contracting Parties agrees to permit the entry free of all duty and without examination of any kind, of all furniture, equipment and supplies intended for official use in the consular offices of the other, and to extend to such consular officers of the other and their families and suites as are its nationals, the privilege of entry free of duty of their baggage and all other personal property whether accompanying the officer, his family or suite, to his post or imported at any time during his incumbency thereof; provided, nevertheless, that no article, the importation of which is prohibited by the law of either of the High Contracting Parties, may be brought into its territories.

The exemptions of the foregoing paragraph shall apply equally to officials who are duly appointed by one of the High Contracting Parties to exercise in its behalf essential governmental functions in the territory of the other High Contracting Party, provided that such officials shall be nationals of the State appointing them and shall not be engaged in private occupations for gain within the country to which they are accredited. The State appointing them shall communicate to the other satisfactory evidence of the appointment and shall indicate the character of the service of the officials to whom the exemptions of this Article are intended to apply.

Application to other representatives.

Lease or acquisition of realty.

Erection of buildings.

Government-owned realty, tax exemption.

Exception.

Free entry of office supplies and personal property.

Prohibited articles.

Application to other representatives.

Officers in private occupation for gain.

It is understood, however, that this privilege shall not be extended to officers who are engaged in any private occupation for gain in the countries to which they are accredited, save with respect to governmental supplies.

ARTICLE V

Arms and flags at offices, etc.

Consular officers may place over the outer door of their respective offices the arms of their State with an appropriate inscription designating the official office, and they may place the coat of arms of their State on automobiles employed by them in the exercise of their consular functions. Such officers may also fly the flag of their country on their offices including those situated in the capitals of the two countries. They may likewise fly such flag over any boat or vessel employed in the exercise of the consular function.

Inviolability of offices and archives.

The quarters where consular business is conducted and the archives of the consulates shall at all times be inviolable, and under no pretext shall any authorities of any character within the country make any examination or seizure of papers or other property deposited with the archives. When consular officers are engaged in business within the territory of the State where they are exercising their duties, the files and documents of the consulate shall be kept in a place entirely separate from the one where private or business papers are kept. Consular offices shall not be used as places of asylum. No consular officers shall be required to produce official archives in court or testify as to their contents.

Separation of official and private papers.

Ad interim officers.

Upon the death, incapacity, or absence of a consular officer having no subordinate consular officer at his post, secretaries or chancellors, whose official character may have previously been made known to the Government of the State where the consular function was exercised, may temporarily exercise the consular function of the deceased or incapacitated or absent consular officer; and while so acting shall enjoy all the rights, prerogatives and immunities that were granted to the consular officer.

ARTICLE VI

Communications with officials for protection of countrymen of consuls.

Consular officers of either High Contracting Party, nationals of the State by which they are appointed, may, within their respective consular districts, address the authorities concerned, National, State, Provincial or Municipal, for the purpose of protecting their countrymen in the enjoyment of their rights accruing by treaty or otherwise. Complaint may be made for the infraction of those rights. Failure upon the part of the proper authorities to grant redress or to accord protection may justify interposition through the diplomatic channel, and, in the absence of a diplomatic representative, a consul general or the consular officer stationed at the capital may apply directly to the Government of the country.

Right of interview, etc.

Consular officers shall have the right to interview, to communicate with, and to advise their countrymen within their consular districts; and, upon notification to the appropriate authority, to visit any of their countrymen who are imprisoned or detained by authorities of the State in which they exercise their consular functions; to assist them in proceedings before or relations with such authorities; and to inquire into any incidents which have occurred within the consular district affecting the interests of their countrymen.

Nationals of either of the High Contracting Parties shall have the right at all times to communicate with the consular officers of their country.

ARTICLE VII

Consular officers, in pursuance of the laws of their own country may (a) take, at any appropriate place within their respective districts, the depositions of any occupants of vessels of their own country, or of any national of, or of any person having permanent residence within the territory of, their own country; (b) draw up, attest, certify and authenticate unilateral acts, translations, deeds, and testamentary dispositions of their countrymen, and also contracts to which a countryman is a party; (c) authenticate signatures; (d) draw up, attest, certify and authenticate written instruments of any kind purporting to express or embody the conveyance or encumbrance of property of any kind within the territory of the State by which such officers are appointed, and unilateral acts, deeds, testamentary dispositions and contracts relating to property situated, or business to be transacted, within the territories of the State by which they are appointed, embracing unilateral acts, deeds, testamentary dispositions or agreements executed solely by nationals of the State within which such officers exercise their functions.

Notarial functions.

Authentications,
etc.

Instruments and documents thus executed and copies and translations thereof, when duly authenticated by the consular officer, under his official seal, shall be received as evidence in the territories of the High Contracting Parties as original documents or authenticated copies, as the case may be, and shall have the same force and effect as if drawn by and executed before a notary or other public officer duly authorized in the country by which the consular officer was appointed; provided, always, that such documents shall have been drawn and executed in conformity to the laws and regulations of the country where they are designed to take effect.

Acceptance as evidence.

Effect.

ARTICLE VIII

In case of the death of a national of either High Contracting Party in the territory of the other without having in the locality of his decease any known heirs or testamentary executors by him appointed, the competent local authorities shall at once inform the nearest consular officer of the State of which the deceased was a national of the fact of his death, in order that necessary information may be forwarded to the parties interested.

Notice of death in one country of a national of the other.

In case of the death of a national of either of the High Contracting Parties without will or testament whereby he has appointed testamentary executors, in the territory of the other High Contracting Party, the consular officer of the State of which the deceased was Provisional holding of intestate property.

a national and within whose district the deceased made his home at the time of death, shall, so far as the laws of the country permit and pending the appointment of an administrator and until letters of administration have been granted, be deemed qualified to take charge of the property left by the decedent for the preservation and protection of the same. Such consular officer shall have the right to be appointed as administrator within the discretion of a tribunal or other agency controlling the administration of estates provided the laws of the place where the estate is administered so permit.

Officer as administrator of estate.

Whenever a consular officer accepts the office of administrator of the estate of a deceased countryman, he subjects himself as such to the jurisdiction of the tribunal or other agency making the appointment for all necessary purposes to the same extent as a national of the country where he was appointed.

ARTICLE IX

Representative of nonresident heirs, etc.

A consular officer of either High Contracting Party shall within his district have the right to appear personally or by delegate in all matters concerning the administration and distribution of the estate of a deceased person under the jurisdiction of the local authorities for all such heirs or legatees in said estate, either minors or adults, as may be non-residents and nationals of the country represented by the said consular officer, with the same effect as if he held their power of attorney to represent them, unless such heirs or legatees themselves have appeared, either in person or by duly authorized representative.

Receipt of share of nonresident beneficiary.

A consular officer of either High Contracting Party may on behalf of his non-resident countrymen collect and receipt for their distributive shares derived from estates in process of probate or accruing under the provisions of so-called Workmen's Compensation Laws or other like statutes, for transmission through channels prescribed by his Government to the proper distributees.

ARTICLE X

Jurisdiction in maritime cases.

A consular officer shall have exclusive jurisdiction over controversies arising out of the internal order of private vessels of his country, and shall alone exercise jurisdiction in cases, wherever arising, between officers and crews, pertaining to the enforcement of discipline on board, provided the vessel and the persons charged with wrongdoing shall have entered a port within his consular district. Such an officer shall also have jurisdiction over issues concerning the adjustment of wages and the execution of contracts relating thereto provided, however, that such jurisdiction shall not exclude the jurisdiction conferred on local authorities under existing or future laws.

Crimes on private vessels in territorial waters.

When an act committed on board of a private vessel under the flag of the State by which the consular officer has been appointed and within the territorial waters of the State to which he has been appointed constitutes a crime according to the laws of that State, subjecting the person guilty thereof to punishment as a criminal, the consular officer shall not exercise jurisdiction except in so far as he is permitted to do so by the local law.

A consular officer may freely invoke the assistance of the local police authorities in any matter pertaining to the maintenance of internal order on board of a vessel under the flag of his country within the territorial waters of the State to which he is appointed, and upon such a request the requisite assistance shall be given.

Local aid to maintain order on ship-board.

A consular officer may appear with the officers and crews of vessels under the flag of his country before the judicial authorities of the State to which he is appointed for the purpose of observing the proceedings or of rendering assistance as an interpreter or agent.

Appearance before judicial authorities.

ARTICLE XI

A consular officer of either High Contracting Party shall have the right to inspect within the ports of the other High Contracting Party within his consular district, the private vessels of any flag destined or about to clear for ports of the country appointing him in order to observe the sanitary conditions and measures taken on board such vessels, and to be enabled thereby to execute intelligently bills of health and other documents required by the laws of his country, and to inform his Government concerning the extent to which its sanitary regulations have been observed at ports of departure by vessels destined to its ports, with a view to facilitating entry of such vessels therein.

Inspection of vessels clearing for ports of consul's country.

In exercising the right conferred upon them by this Article, consular officers shall act with all possible despatch and without unnecessary delay.

ARTICLE XII

All proceedings relative to the salvage of vessels of either High Contracting Party wrecked upon the coasts of the other shall be directed by the consular officer of the country to which the vessel belongs and within whose district the wreck may have occurred, or by some other person authorized thereto by the law of that country. Pending the arrival of such officer, who shall be immediately informed of the occurrence, or the arrival of such other person, whose authority shall be made known to the local authorities by the consular officer, the local authorities shall take all necessary measures for the protection of persons and the preservation of wrecked property. The local authorities shall not otherwise interfere than for the maintenance of order, the protection of the interests of the salvors, if these do not belong to the crews that have been wrecked and to carry into effect the arrangements made for the entry and exportation of the merchandise saved. It is understood that such merchandise is not to be subjected to any customhouse charges, unless it be intended for consumption in the country where the wreck may have taken place.

Salvage of ship-wrecked vessels.

Local intervention limited.

The intervention of the local authorities in these different cases shall occasion no expense of any kind, except such as may be caused by the operations of salvage and the preservation of the goods saved, together with such as would be incurred under similar circumstances by vessels of the nation.

ARTICLE XIII

Territories affected.

The territories of the High Contracting Parties to which the provisions of this Convention extend shall be understood to comprise all areas of land, water, and air over which the Parties respectively claim and exercise dominion as sovereign thereof, except the Panama Canal Zone.

ARTICLE XIV

Ratification.

Effective date; duration.

The present Convention shall be ratified and the ratifications thereof shall be exchanged at Monrovia. The Convention shall take effect in all its provisions thirty days from the day of the exchange of ratifications and shall remain in full force for the term of five years thereafter.

Modification or termination.

If within six months before the expiration of the aforesaid period of five years neither High Contracting Party notifies to the other an intention of modifying, by change or omission, any of the provisions of any of the Articles in this Convention or of terminating it upon the expiration of the aforesaid period, the Convention shall remain in full force and effect after the aforesaid period and until six months from such a time as either of the High Contracting Parties shall have notified to the other an intention of modifying or terminating the Convention.

Signatures.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed this Convention and have affixed their seals thereto.

Done in duplicate, at Monrovia, this seventh day of October, 1938.

The taxes referred to in this Convention are:

(a) In the case of the United States of America:

(1) The Federal income taxes, including surtaxes and excess-profits taxes.

(2) The Federal capital stock tax.

(b) In the case of Sweden:

(1) The National income and property tax, including surtax.

(2) The National special property tax.

(3) The communal income tax.

De skatter, som avses i detta avtal äro:

(a) såvitt angår Amerikas Förenta Stater:

(1) "The Federal income taxes", tilläggsskatter och skatter å "excess profits" inbegripna;

(2) "The Federal capital stock tax",

(b) såvitt angår Sverige:

(1) statlig inkomst- och förmögenhetsskatt, tilläggsskatt inbegripen;

(2) särskild skatt å förmögenhet till staten;

(3) kommunal inkomstskatt.

Subsequent taxes.

It is mutually agreed that the present Convention shall also apply to any other or additional taxes imposed by either contracting State, subsequent to the date of signature of this Convention, upon substantially the same bases as the taxes enumerated herein.

Det har ömsesidigt överenskommits att föreliggande avtal också skall tillämpas å alla andra skatter och tilläggsskatter, som av någon av de två avtalslutande staterna efter undertecknandet av detta avtal påläggas enligt i huvudsak samma grunder som här uppräknade skatter.

Scope of Convention.

The benefits of this Convention shall accrue only to citizens and residents of the United States of America, to citizens and residents of Sweden and to United States or Swedish corporations and other entities.

I detta avtal tillförsäkrade förmåner skola tillkomma endast medborgare i Förenta Staterna och i Förenta Staterna boende personer samt svenska medborgare och i Sverige boende personer, så ock amerikanska och svenska bolag eller andra juridiska personer.

Tax on profits, restriction.

An enterprise of one of the contracting States is not subject to taxation by the other contracting State in respect of its industrial and commercial profits except in respect of such profits allocable to its permanent establishment in the latter State. The income thus taxed in the latter State shall

Ett företag hemmahörande i en av de avtalslutande staterna, är ej föremål för beskattning i den andra avtalslutande staten för inkomster av industri och handel, utom såvitt angår vinster, vilka hänföra sig till något företaget tillhörigt fast driftställe i sistnämnda stat. Inkomst, som så-be exempt from taxation in the former State.

No account shall be taken, in determining the tax in one of the contracting States, of the mere purchase of merchandise effected therein by an enterprise of the other State.

The competent authorities of the two contracting States may lay down rules by agreement for the apportionment of industrial and commercial profits.

Article III

When an enterprise of one of the contracting States, by reason of its participation in the management or capital of an enterprise of the other contracting State, makes or imposes on the latter in their commercial or financial relations conditions different from those which would be made with an independent enterprise, any profits which should normally have appeared in the balance sheet of the latter enterprise but which have been in this manner diverted to the former enterprise may, subject to applicable measures of appeal, be incorporated in the taxable profits of the latter enterprise. In such case consequent rectifications may be made in the accounts of the former enterprise.

Article IV

Income which an enterprise of one of the contracting States derives from the operation of ships or aircraft registered in that State is taxable only in the State in which registered. Income delunda beskattats av den senare staten, skall vara undantagen från beskattning i den förra staten.

Vid fastställande av skatt i en av de avtalslutande staterna skall hänsyn ej tagas till enbart inköp av varor, som där verkställts av ett företag i den andra staten.

Behöriga myndigheter i de båda avtalslutande staterna må genom överenskommelse fastställa regler för uppdelning av inkomster från industri och handel.

Artikel III

När ett företag, hemmahörande i en av de avtalslutande staterna, på grund av sin delaktighet i ledningen av ett i den andra staten hemmahörande företag eller i ett sådant företags kapital, i handels- eller andra ekonomiska förbindelser mellan företagen tillämpar eller bestämmer andra villkor än dem, som skulle ha tillämpats i förhållande till ett oberoende företag, skola alla vinster, som normalt bort ingå i det senare företagets balansräkning, men som på detta sätt överförts till det förra företaget, kunna inräknas i det senare företagets beskattningsbara inkomst, med möjlighet likväl att begagna den klagorätt som må stå till buds. I dylikt fall kan erforderlig justering vidtagas i fråga om det förra företagets inkomstberäkning.

Artikel IV

Inkomst, som ett företag hemmahörande i en av de avtalslutande staterna erhåller genom utövande av verksamhet medelst därstädes registrerade fartyg eller luftfartyg, skall beskattas endast

Artikel VI

Royalties from real property, mines, etc.

Royalties from real property or in respect of the operation of mines, quarries, or other natural resources shall be taxable only in the contracting State in which such property, mines, quarries, or other natural resources are situated.

Royalty från fast egendom eller för utnyttjande av gruvor, stenbrott eller andra naturtillgångar skall beskattas endast i den av de avtalslutande staterna, i vilken sådan egendom eller sådana gruvor, stenbrott eller andra naturtillgångar äro belägna.

Royalties for use of copyrights, patents, etc.

Other royalties and amounts derived from within one of the contracting States by a resident or by a corporation or other entity of the other contracting State as consideration for the right to use copyrights, patents, secret processes and formulas, trade-marks and other analogous rights, shall be exempt from taxation in the former State.

Övriga royalties eller andra belopp, som åtnjuts från den ena av de avtalslutande staternas område av person boende i den andra avtalslutande staten, eller av bolag eller annan juridisk person hemmahörande i sistnämnda stat, såsom vederlag för rätten att utöva författarrättigheter, patent, hemliga fabrikationsmetoder och recept, varumärken och andra liknande rättigheter skola undantagas från beskattning i den förra staten.

For the purposes of this Article the National income and property tax imposed by Sweden shall be deemed to be a tax deducted at the source.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article XXII of this Convention, the provisions of this Article may be terminated by either of the contracting States at the end of two years from the date upon which this Convention enters into force or at any time thereafter, provided at least six months' prior notice of termination is given, such termination to become effective on the first day of January following the expiration of such six-month period. In the event the provisions of this Article are terminated, the provisions of—

Artikel XI

(a) Compensation for labor or personal services, including the practice of the liberal professions, shall be taxable only in the contracting State in which such services are rendered.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) are, however, subject to the following exceptions:

A resident of Sweden shall be exempt from United States tax upon compensation for labor or personal services performed within the United States of America if he falls within either of the following classifications:

1. He is temporarily present within the United States of America for a period or periods not exceeding a total of one hundred eighty days during the taxable year and his compensation is received for labor or personal services performed as an employee of, or under contract with, a resident or corporation or other entity of Sweden; or

2. He is temporarily present in the United States of America for a period or periods not exceeding a total of ninety days during the taxable year and the compensation received for such services does not exceed $3,000.00 in the aggregate.

In such cases Sweden reserves the right to the taxation of such income.

Article XIV

It is agreed that double taxation shall be avoided in the following manner:

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Convention, the United States of America in determining the income and excess-profits taxes, including all surtaxes, of its citizens or residents or corporations, may include in the basis upon which such taxes are imposed all items of income taxable under the revenue laws of the United States of America as though this Convention had not come into effect. The United States of America shall, however, deduct the amount of the taxes specified in Article I (b) (1) and (3) of this Convention or other like taxes from the income tax thus computed but not in excess of that portion of the income tax liability which the taxpayer's net income taxable in Sweden bears to his entire net income.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Convention, Sweden, in determining the graduated tax on income and property of its residents or corporations or other entities, may include in the basis upon which such tax is imposed all items of income and property subject to such tax under the taxation laws of Sweden. Sweden shall, however, deduct from the tax so calculated that portion of such tax liability which the taxpayer's income and property exempt from taxation in Sweden under the provisions of this Con-

Artikel XIV

Det är överenskommet, att dubbelbeskattning skall undvikas genom följande förfaringssätt:

(a) Oavsett vad som eljest stadgas i detta avtal äga Amerikas Förenta Stater att vid fastställande av skatt å inkomst och "excess-profits", tilläggsskatter inbegripna, för sina medborgare eller i Förenta Staterna boende fysiska personer eller där hemmahörande juridiska personer, i det belopp på vilket skatten påföres inräkna enligt amerikansk skattelagstiftning skattepliktig inkomst av alla slag, som om detta avtal icke gällt. Emellertid skola Förenta Staterna från sålunda beräknad inkomstskatt avdraga beloppet av de i artikel I (b) (1) och (3) av detta avtal angivna eller andra liknande skatter, dock högst motsvarande så stor andel av den beräknade inkomstskatten, som den skattskyldiges i Sverige skattepliktiga inkomst utgör i förhållande till hans hela nettoinkomst.

(b) (1) Oavsett vad som eljest stadgas i detta avtal äger Sverige att vid fastställande av progressiv skatt å inkomst och förmögenhet, såvitt angår där boende fysiska personer eller där hemmahörande juridiska personer, i det belopp på vilket sådan skatt påföres, inräkna inkomst eller förmögenhet av alla slag, för vilken skattskyldighet föreligger enligt svensk skattelagstiftning. Emellertid skall Sverige från den på dylikt sätt uträknade skatten avdraga så stor andel som skattebetalarens i Sverige icke skattepliktiga in-

(1) att vidtaga förvaltningsåtgärder, som avvika från endera av de avtalsslutande staternas lagstiftning eller praxis, eller

(2) to supply particulars which are not procurable under its own legislation or that of the State making application.

(2) att lämna upplysningar, som icke kunna erhållas enligt dess egen lagstiftning eller lagstiftningen i den stat, som gör framställningen.

The State to which application is made for information or assistance shall comply as soon as possible with the request addressed to it. Nevertheless, such State may refuse to comply with the request for reasons of public policy or if compliance would involve violation of a business, industrial or trade secret or practice. In such case it shall inform, as soon as possible, the State making the application.

Den stat, till vilken framställning om erhållande av upplysningar eller handräckning gjorts, skall så snart sig göra låter efterkomma den gjorda framställningen. Dock må ifrågavarande stat vägra att efterkomma framställningen på grund av allmänna hänsyn eller om bifall till framställningen skulle innebära kränkning av en industriell hemlighet eller affärshemlighet eller affärskutym. I dylikt fall skall nämnda stat så snart som möjligt underrätta den stat, som gjort framställningen

PROTOCOL

PROTOKOLL

Protocol.

At the moment of signing the Convention for the avoidance of double taxation, and the establishment of rules of reciprocal administrative assistance in the case of income and other taxes, this day concluded between the United States of America and Sweden, the undersigned Plenipotentiaries have agreed that the following provisions shall form an integral part of the Convention:

Vid undertecknandet denna dag av avtal mellan Amerikas Förenta Stater och Sverige för undvikande av dubbelbeskattning och fastställande av bestämmelser angående ömsesidig handräckning beträffande inkomst- och andra skatter hava undertecknade befullmäktigade ombud överenskommit att följande bestämmelser skola utgöra en integrerande del av avtalet:

Definitions.

1. As used in this Convention:

1. I detta avtals mening skall:

“Permanent establishment.”

(a) The term “permanent establishment” includes branches, mines and oil wells, plantations, factories, workshops, warehouses, offices, agencies, installations, and other fixed places of business of an enterprise but

(a) begreppet “fast driftställe” innefatta filialer, gruvor och oljekällor, plantager, fabriker, verkstäder, magasin, kontor, agenturer, anläggningar och andra ett företag tillhörande fasta affärsställen, men icke in-

does not include the casual or temporary use of merely storage facilities. A permanent establishment of a subsidiary corporation shall not be deemed to be a permanent establishment of the parent corporation. When an enterprise of one of the contracting States carries on business in the other State through an employee or agent, established there, who has general authority to contract for his employer or principal, it shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the latter State. But the fact that an enterprise of one of the contracting States has business dealings in the other State through a bona fide commission agent, broker or custodian shall not be held to mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the latter State.

(b) The term "enterprise" includes every form of undertaking whether carried on by an individual, partnership, corporation, or any other entity.

(c) The term "enterprise of one of the contracting States" means, as the case may be, "United States enterprise" or "Swedish enterprise".

(d) The term "United States enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in the United States of America by a resident of the United States of America or by a United States corporation or other entity; the term "United States corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation or other entity created or organized in the United States of America or under the law of the United States of America or of any State or Territory of the United States of America.

(e) The term "Swedish enterprise" is defined in the same manner, mutatis mutandis, as the term "United States enterprise".

begripa en allenast tillfällig eller kortfristig användning av upplagsplats. Ett dotterföretag tillhörigt fast driftställe skall icke anses utgöra ett fast driftställe för moderföretaget. Om ett företag hemmahörande i en av de avtalslutande staterna bedriver affärer i den andra staten genom en därstädes etablerad befattningshavare eller agent, som har en generell fullmakt att avsluta kontrakt för sin arbetsgivare eller huvudman, skall det anses hava ett fast driftställe i sistnämnda stat. Men den omständigheten att ett företag hemmahörande i en av de avtalslutande staterna upprätthåller affärsförbindelser i den andra staten genom förmedling av fristående kommissionär, mäklare eller ansvarig förvaltare skall icke anses innebära, att ett dylikt företag har fast driftställe i den andra staten;

(b) uttrycket "företag" inbegripa varje slag av företagsverksamhet, vare sig den utövas av enskild person, kompanjonskap, bolag eller annan juridisk person;

(c) uttrycket "företag hemmahörande i en av de avtalslutande staterna" betyda allt efter omständigheterna "företag i Förenta Staterna" eller "svenskt företag";

(d) uttrycket "företag i Förenta Staterna" betyda ett företag, som i Förenta Staterna bedrivs av där boende person eller av bolag eller annan juridisk person i Förenta Staterna; uttrycket "bolag eller annan juridisk person i Förenta Staterna" betyda kompanjonskap, bolag eller annan juridisk person, som bildats eller organiserats i Amerikas Förenta Stater eller enligt lagstiftningen i Förenta Staterna eller någon dess delstat eller något dess territorium;

(e) uttrycket "svenskt företag" definieras på samma sätt, mutatis mutandis, som "företag i Förenta Staterna".

"Enterprise."

"Enterprise of one of the contracting States."

"United States enterprise."

"United States corporation or other entity."

"Swedish enterprise."

"Corporation."

2. The term "corporation" includes associations, joint-stock companies, and insurance companies.

2. Uttrycket "bolag" inbegriper föreningar, aktiebolag och försäkringsbolag.

Citizen of one State not residing in either.

3. A citizen of one of the contracting States not residing in either shall be deemed, for the purpose of this Convention, to be a resident of the contracting State of which he is a citizen.

3. En medborgare i en av de avtalslutande staterna, som ej bor i någon av dessa stater, skall vid tillämpning av detta avtal anses bo i den stat, vars medborgare han är.

When doubt arises with respect to residence or with respect to the taxable status of corporations or other entities, the competent authorities of the two contracting States may settle the question by mutual agreement.

I händelse av tvivelsmål rörande frågan om var en person skall anses vara boende eller om var bolag eller andra juridiska personer i beskattningsavseende skola anses höra hemma, må vederbörande myndigheter i de båda avtalslutande staterna träffa avgörande genom ömsesidig överenskommelse.

Swedish tax on undivided estates.

4. The provisions of Swedish law concerning the taxation of the undivided estates of deceased persons shall not apply where the beneficiaries are directly liable to taxation in the United States of America.

4. Föreskrifterna i svensk lagstiftning rörande beskattning av oskifta dödsbon skola ej äga tillämpning där dödsbodelägarna äro direkt skattskyldiga i Amerikas Förenta Stater.

"Life annuities."

Ante, p. 1764.

5. The term "life annuities" referred to in Article X of this Convention means a stated sum payable periodically at stated times during life, or during a specified number of years, under an obligation to make the payments in consideration of a gross sum paid for such obligation.

5. Uttrycket "livränta" i artikel X avser viss fastställd summa, som enligt given förbindelse utbetalas periodiskt på bestämda tidpunkter under livstid eller visst angivet antal år såsom vederlag för gjorda inbetalningar.

Swedish "fees tax."

6. The Swedish so-called "fees tax" (bevillningsavgift för vissa offentliga föreställningar) based on gross income in so far as it affects such individuals as actors, artists, musicians and professional athletes shall be deemed to be an income tax for the purposes of Article XIV (a).

6. De svenska bevillningsavgifterna för vissa offentliga föreställningar, utgående & bruttoinkomst för artister, musiker och professionella idrottsmän, m.fl. skola vid tillämpning av artikel XIV (a) anses vara skatter & inkomst.

Ante, p. 1767.

Taxes deducted from dividends and interest.

The credit for taxes provided in Article XIV shall have no application to taxes deducted at the Avdraget för skatter enligt artikel XIV skall icke äga tillämpning & sådan skatt & utdelning eller rän-source from dividends and interest except to the extent provided in paragraph (b) (2) of that Article.

In the application of the provisions of this Convention the benefits of section 131 of the United States Revenue Act of 1938, relating to credits for foreign taxes, shall be accorded, but the credit provided for in Article XIV (a) shall not extend to United States excess-profits taxes nor to the surtax imposed on personal holding companies.

7. Citizens of each of the contracting States residing within the other contracting State shall not be subjected in the latter State to other or higher taxes than are imposed upon the citizens of such latter State.

8. The provisions of this Convention shall not be construed to deny or affect in any manner the right of diplomatic and consular officers to other or additional exemptions now enjoyed or which may hereafter be granted to such officers, nor to deny to either of the contracting States the right to subject to taxation its own diplomatic and consular officers.

9. The provisions of the present Convention shall not be construed to restrict in any manner any exemption, deduction, credit or other allowance accorded by the laws of one of the contracting States in the determination of the tax imposed by such State.

10. In the administration of the provisions of this Convention relating to exchange of information, service of documents, and mutual assistance in collection of taxes, fees and costs incurred in the ordinary course shall be borne by the State to which application is made ta, som avdragits vid källan, i vidare mån än som stadgas i (b) (2) av samma artikel.

Vid tillämpning av detta avtal skola de förmåner, som inbegripas i Section 131 av Förenta Staternas inkomstskattelag av 1938 beträffande avdrag för utländska skatter, medgivas, men avdraget jämlikt artikel XIV (a) skall icke utsträckas att gälla skatt i Förenta Staterna å "excess-profits" eller tilläggsskatt som påförts "personal holding companies".

7. Medborgare i en av de avtalslutande staterna, vilka äro bosatta i den andra avtalslutande staten, skola ej i den senare staten vara föremål för andra eller högre skatter än dem, som påföras dess egna medborgare.

8. Vad i detta avtal stadgas skall icke anses på något sätt inkräkta på eller beröra diplomatiska och konsulära befattningshavares rätt till andra eller längre gående undantag, som nu åtnjutas eller framdeles må beviljas, eller betaga någondera av de avtalslutande staterna rätten att beskatta sina egna diplomatiska och konsulära befattningshavare.

9. Vad i detta avtal överenskommits skall icke anses på något sätt inkräkta på undantag, avdrag eller andra lätnader som medgivits enligt lagstiftningen i en av de avtalslutande staterna vid fastställande av dess skatter.

10. Vid tillämpning av avtalets bestämmelser rörande utbyte av upplysningar, delgivning av handlingar och ömsesidig handräckning beträffande skatteindrivning skola avgifter och kostnader, som förekomma vid sedvanligt förfarande, bäras av den stat, till vilken fram-

Information held confidential.

11. Documents and other communications or information contained therein, transmitted under the provisions of this Convention by one of the contracting States to the other contracting State shall not be published, revealed or disclosed to any person except to the extent permitted under the laws of the latter State with respect to similar documents, communications or information.

11. Handlingar och andra meddelanden eller däri förekommande upplysningar, vilka enligt föreskrifterna i detta avtal överlämnats från en av de avtalslutande staterna till den andra staten, må icke offentliggöras, uppenbaras eller utlämnas till någon utom i den mån sådant medgives enligt lagstiftningen i den senare staten i fråga om liknande handlingar, meddelanden och upplysningar.

Ante, p. 1770.

"Finally determined," definition.

12. As used with respect to revenue claims in Article XVII of this Convention the term "finally determined" shall be deemed to mean:

12. Då uttrycket "vunnit laga kraft" i artikel XVII brukas i fråga om skatteanspråk, skall det anses innebära:

(a) In the case of Sweden, claims which have been finally established, even though still open to revision by exceptional procedure;

(a) såvitt angår Sverige, att anspråket slutligen fastställts, även om det fortfarande kan ändras genom extraordinärt förfarande;

(b) In the case of the United States of America, claims which are no longer appealable, or which have been determined by decision of a competent tribunal, which decision has become final.

(b) såvitt angår Förenta Staterna, att skatteanspråket ej längre kan överklagas eller att det fastställts genom ett slutgiltigt avgörande av vederbörlig myndighet.

"Competent authority," etc.

13. As used in this Convention the term "competent authority" or "competent authorities" means, in the case of the United States of America, the Secretary of the Treasury and in the case of Sweden, the Finance Ministry.

13. Uttrycken "behörig myndighet" eller "behöriga myndigheter" enligt detta avtal betyda för Förenta Staternas vidkommande "the Secretary of the Treasury" och för Sveriges vidkommande finansdepartementet.

"United States of America."

14. The term "United States of America" as used in this Convention in a geographical sense includes only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

14. Där i detta avtal uttrycket "Amerikas Förenta Stater" användes i geografisk bemärkelse, skall det anses innefatta allenast delstaterna, territorierna Alaska och Hawaii samt distriktet Columbia.

from the country or its seat of government, by the consuls or consular agents. ceux-ci, soit du Pays soit du siège du Gouvernement, par les Consuls ou Agents consulaires.

Accompanying documents.

If the requisition concerns a fugitive who has been convicted after a hearing in court (contradictoirement), it must be accompanied with a duly authenticated copy of the sentence; if it concerns a fugitive who has merely been charged with a crime or offense or convicted in his default or absence, it must be accompanied with a duly authenticated copy of the warrant of arrest and of the depositions or other evidence upon which such warrant was issued. Si la demande concerne un fugitif condamné contradictoirement, elle devra être accompagnée d'une expédition authentique de la sentence; si elle concerne un fugitif, soit simplement inculpé, soit condamné par contumace ou par défaut, elle sera accompagnée d'une copie authentique du mandat d'arrêt et des dépositions ou autres preuves sur lesquelles le mandat a été décerné. La procédure d'extradition sera suivie conformément aux lois en vigueur sur la matière dans le Pays requis.

Procedure.

The procedure of extradition shall be followed according to the laws regulating extradition in force in the country on which the requisition is made.

ARTICLE IV

ART. 4.

Arrest.

The arrest of the fugitive criminal may be requested on information even by telegraph, of the existence of a judgment of conviction or of a warrant of arrest.

L'arrestation du criminel fugitif peut être demandée sur avis même télégraphique de l'existence d'une sentence de condamnation ou d'un mandat d'arrêt.

In Monaco.

In Monaco, the application for the arrest shall be addressed to the Minister of State, who shall transmit it to the proper authority.

A Monaco, la demande d'arrestation est adressée au Ministre d'Etat, qui la transmet à l'Autorité compétente.

In U. S. A.

In the United States of America, the application for arrest shall be addressed to the Secretary of State, who shall deliver a warrant certifying that the application is regular and requesting the competent authorities to take action thereon in conformity with law.

Aux Etats-Unis d'Amérique, la demande d'arrestation est adressée au Secrétaire d'Etat qui délivrera un mandat constatant qu'elle est régulière et requérant les Autorités compétentes d'y donner suite conformément à la Loi.

Urgent cases.

In each country, in case of urgency, the application for arrest may be addressed directly to the competent magistrate in conformity with the laws in force.

Dans chaque Pays, en cas d'urgence, le magistrat compétent peut être saisi directement de la demande d'arrestation conformément aux lois en vigueur.

Release, condition.

In both countries, the person provisionally arrested shall be

Dans les deux Pays, la personne arrêtée provisoirement sera mise released, if, within a period of forty days from the date of arrest in Monaco, or from the date of commitment in the United States of America, the formal requisition for extradition accompanied with the documents prescribed in the foregoing article has not been submitted by the diplomatic agent of the country making the requisition or, in his absence, by a consul or consular agent of said country.

ARTICLE V

The contracting Parties shall not be bound to deliver up their own citizens or subjects under the stipulations of this treaty.

ARTICLE VI

No person shall be surrendered if the offense for which his extradition is requested is of a political character, or if he proves that the requisition for his surrender has, in fact, been made with a view to try or punish him for an offense of a political character.

If any question arises as to whether a case comes within the provisions of this article, the authorities of the Government on which the requisition is made shall decide.

However, when the violation comprises the act of murder, assassination or poisoning, either consummated or attempted, the fact that the offense was committed or attempted against the life of the Sovereign or Head of any State, or against the life of any member of his family, shall not be deemed sufficient to sustain that such crime or offense is of a political character, or that it has any connection with crimes or offenses of a political character.

en liberté si, dans un délai de quarante jours à dater de l'arrestation à Monaco ou du mandat de dépôt aux Etats-Unis d'Amérique, la demande régulière d'extradition, accompagnée des pièces prescrites à l'article précédent, n'a pas été présentée par L'Agent diplomatique du Pays requérant ou, en son absence, par un Consul ou Agent consulaire de ce Pays.

ART. 5.

Les parties contractantes ne seront pas obligées de livrer leurs propres citoyens ou sujets, en vertu des stipulations du présent traité.

ART. 6.

Aucun individu ne sera livré si l'infraction pour laquelle son extradition est demandée a un caractère politique ou s'il prouve que la demande d'extradition a été faite en réalité dans le but de le poursuivre ou de le punir pour une infraction de caractère politique.

Si la question s'élève de savoir si le cas rentre dans les prévisions de la disposition qui précède, la décision appartiendra aux Autorités du Pays requis.

Cependant, lorsque l'infraction comprend l'acte de meurtre ou d'assassinat ou d'empoisonnement, soit accompli, soit tenté, le fait que l'offense a été commise ou entreprise contre les jours du Souverain ou Chef d'un Etat quel qu'il soit, ou contre les jours de n'importe quel membre de sa famille, ne sera pas estimé suffisant pour soutenir que ce crime ou délit est d'un caractère politique, ou qu'il a quelque rapport avec des crimes ou délits de caractère politique.

ART. 7.

Trial limited to offense for which surrendered.

No person surrendered by one of the High Contracting Parties to the other shall be prosecuted, judged or punished for any crime or offense committed prior to his extradition, other than the offense for which his surrender was accorded, and no person shall be arrested or detained by civil process for a cause prior to the extradition, unless, in either case, he has been at liberty for one month to leave the country, after having been tried, or, in case of conviction, after having either served his sentence or obtained pardon.

Aucun individu livré par une des hautes parties contractantes à l'autre ne sera poursuivi, jugé ou puni pour aucune infraction commise antérieurement à son extradition, autre que celle pour laquelle sa remise a été accordée; aucun individu ne sera arrêté ni détenu au civil pour une cause antérieure à l'extradition, à moins que, soit dans un cas, soit dans l'autre, il n'ait eu la liberté de quitter de nouveau le Pays pendant un mois, après avoir été jugé, ou, en cas de condamnation, après avoir soit subi sa peine, soit obtenu sa grâce.

ARTICLE VIII

ART. 8.

Prior trial for same act.

Extradition shall not be granted, under the stipulations of this Convention, if the person claimed has been tried for the same act in the country to which the requisition is addressed, or if, subsequent to the acts with which he is charged, the prosecution or the conviction, the action or the sentence has become barred by limitation, according to the law of the said country.

L'extradition ne sera pas accordée, en vertu des stipulations de la présente Convention, si l'individu réclamé a été jugé pour le même fait dans le Pays requis, ou, si depuis les faits qui lui sont imputés, les poursuites ou la condamnation, la prescription de l'action ou de la peine est acquise d'après la loi de ce Pays.

Time limitation.

ARTICLE IX

ART. 9.

Person under prosecution in country where found.

If, at the time of the requisition, the person claimed is being prosecuted, or has been convicted of a crime or offense committed in the country of refuge, his extradition may be deferred until such prosecution is terminated, and/or until he has been released in conformity with law.

Si l'individu réclamé est poursuivi au moment de la demande, ou se trouve condamné pour un crime ou un délit commis dans le Pays de refuge, son extradition pourra être différée jusqu'à ce que ces poursuites soient terminées et jusqu'à ce qu'il ait été mis en liberté conformément à la loi.

ARTICLE X

ART. 10.

Person claimed by other powers.

If the person claimed by one of the High Contracting Parties, in virtue of this treaty, is also claimed

Si l'individu réclamé par l'une des hautes parties contractantes en vertu du présent Traité est by one or more other Powers on account of crimes or offenses committed in their respective jurisdictions, his extradition shall be granted to the State whose demand is received first; unless the Government from which extradition is asked is bound by treaty, in case of concurrent demands, to accord preference to the one that is first in date, in which event that rule shall be followed, unless also an arrangement exists between the demanding Governments which would decide the preference either on account of the gravity of the offenses committed or for any other reason.

aussi réclamé par une ou plusieurs autres Puissances, du chef de crimes ou délits commis dans leurs juridictions respectives, son extradition sera accordée à l'Etat dont la demande aura été reçue la première, à moins que le Gouvernement requis ne soit tenu par Traité, dans le cas de demandes concurrentes, d'accorder la préférence à celle qui est la première en date, et alors on se conformera à cette règle, à moins également qu'il n'existe entre les Gouvernements requérants un arrangement qui déciderait de la préférence, soit à raison de la gravité des infractions commises, soit pour tout autre motif.

ARTICLE XI

ART. 11.

All articles seized which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his arrest, whether they are the proceeds of the crime or offense charged, or can be used as elements to establish the proof of the crime or offense, shall, so far as practicable, and if the competent authority of the State applied to orders the delivery thereof, be given up at the time the extradition is effected. Nevertheless, the rights of third parties with regard to the articles aforesaid shall be duly respected.

Tous les objets saisis qui étaient, au moment de son arrestation, en la possession de la personne à livrer, qu'ils proviennent du crime ou délit relevé à sa charge ou qu'ils puissent servir d'éléments pour établir la preuve du crime ou du délit seront, autant que possible, et si l'autorité compétente de l'Etat requis en ordonne la remise, délivrés au moment où l'extradition s'effectuera. Toutefois, les droits des tiers sur les objets dont il s'agit seront dûment respectés.

Articles seized with fugitive.

ARTICLE XII

ART. 12.

The expenses occasioned by the arrest, examination and delivery of the persons claimed shall be borne by the Government requesting the extradition. However, such Government shall not have to bear any expense for the services of such public officers or functionaries of the Government

Les frais occasionnés par l'arrestation, l'interrogatoire et la remise des individus réclamés seront à la charge du Gouvernement requérant. Toutefois, ce Gouvernement n'aura pas à supporter les frais se rapportant à l'intervention de fonctionnaires ou officiers publics du Gouvernement requis dont

Effective date.

This treaty shall take effect in 30 days after the date of the exchange of ratifications, and shall not operate retroactively.

Le présent Traité sera exécutoire trente jours après l'échange de ratifications et ne s'appliquera qu'aux crimes et délits commis après sa mise en vigueur.

Ratifications.

The ratifications of this treaty shall be exchanged at Monaco as soon as possible, and it shall continue to produce its effects for a period of six months after either of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice of its intention to terminate it.

Les ratifications en seront échangées à Monaco aussitôt que possible, et il continuera à produire ses effets pendant six mois à partir de la dénonciation qui en serait faite par l'une des deux hautes parties contractantes.

Treaty between the United States of America and Iraq respecting commerce and navigation. Signed at Baghdad December 3, 1938; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States August 1, 1939; ratified by the President of the United States August 30, 1939; ratified by Iraq May 1, 1940; ratifications exchanged at Baghdad May 20, 1940; proclaimed by the President of the United States May 29, 1940.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Preamble.

WHEREAS a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between the United States of America and the Kingdom of Iraq was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Baghdad on the third day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, the original of which Treaty, being in the English and Arabic languages, is word for word as follows:

TREATY OF COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE KING- DOM OF IRAQ.

Texts.

47 Stat. 1810.

The United States of America and His Majesty the King of Iraq, taking cognizance of the provisions of Article 7 of the Convention, signed at London January 9, 1930, to which the United States of America, Great Britain, and Iraq are Parties, whereby on the termination of the special relations existing between His Britannic Majesty and His Majesty the King of Iraq, negotiations shall be entered into between the United States and Iraq for the conclusion of a treaty in regard to their future relations, have resolved to conclude a treaty of Commerce and Navigation and for that purpose have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries:

Plenipotentiaries.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA:

PAUL KNABENSHUE,

Minister Resident of the United States of America at Baghdad.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF IRAQ:

His Excellency Sayid TOWFIK AL SWAIDI, Minister for Foreign Affairs.

Who, having communicated to each other their full powers found to be in due form, have agreed upon the following articles:

Article 1.

Mutual according of most-favored-nation
treatment.

In respect of import and export duties, all other charges imposed on or in connection with importation or exportation, and the method of levying such duties and charges, as well as in respect of transit, warehousing and customs formalities, and the treatment of commercial traveler's samples, the United States of America will accord to Iraq and Iraq will accord to the United States of America, its territories and possessions, unconditional most-favored-nation treatment.

Therefore, no higher or other duties shall be imposed on the importation into or the disposition in the United States of America, its territories or possessions, of any articles the growth, produce or manufacture of Iraq than are or shall be payable on like articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any other foreign country.

Similarly, no higher or other duties shall be imposed on the importation into or the disposition in Iraq of any articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America, its territories or possessions, than are or shall be payable on like articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any other foreign country.

Similarly, no higher or other duties shall be imposed in the United States of America, its territories or possessions, or in Iraq, on the exportation of any articles to the other or to any territory or possession of the other, than are payable on the exportation of like articles to any other foreign country.

Any advantage, of whatsoever kind, which either High Contracting Party may extend to any article, the growth, produce or manufacture of any other foreign country shall simultaneously and unconditionally, without request and without compensation, be extended to the like article the growth, produce or manufacture of the other High Contracting Party.

The stipulations of this Treaty regarding the treatment to be accorded by each High Contracting Party to the commerce of the other do not extend:

Exceptions.

(a) to the advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions or the Panama Canal Zone to one another or to the Republic of Cuba. The provisions of this paragraph shall continue to apply in respect of any advantages now or hereafter accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions or the Panama Canal Zone to one another, irrespective of any change in the political status of any of the territories or possessions of the United States of America;

(b) to any advantages in customs matters which Iraq may grant to goods the produce or manufacture of Turkey, or of any country whose territory was in 1914 wholly included in the Ottoman Empire in Asia;

(c) to any advantages which are, or may in the future be accorded by either Party to purely border traffic within a zone not exceeding ten miles (15 kilometres) wide on either side of the customs frontier;

(d) to any advantages in customs matters which are, or may in the future be accorded to States in customs union with either High Contracting Party so long as such advantages are not accorded to any other State.

Article II

Having regard to the volume and nature of the trade between the two countries it is agreed that in all that concerns matters of pro-

Prohibitions or restrictions on imports and exports.

hibitions or restrictions on importations and exportations each of the two countries will accord, whenever they may have recourse to the said prohibitions or restrictions, to the commerce of the other country treatment equally favorable to that which is accorded to any other country and that in the event either country establishes or maintains import or customs quotas, or other quantitative restrictions, or any system of foreign exchange control, the share of the total permissible importation of any product or of the total exchange made available for importation of any product of the other country shall be equal to the share in the trade in such product which such other country enjoyed in a previous representative period.

Article III

Treatment of vessels.

Vessels of the United States of America will enjoy in Iraq and Iraqi vessels will enjoy in the United States of America treatment not less favorable than that accorded to national vessels or the vessels of the most favored nation.

Coasting trade.

The coasting trade of the High Contracting Parties is exempt from the provisions of this Article and from the other provisions of this Treaty, and is to be regulated according to the laws of each High Contracting Party in relation thereto. It is agreed, however, that vessels of either High Contracting Party shall enjoy within the territory of the other with respect to the coasting trade the most-favored-nation treatment.

Article IV

Reservations.
Gold or silver.

Munitions.

Neutrality, etc.

Nothing in this Treaty shall be construed to prevent the adoption of measures prohibiting or restricting the exportation or importation of gold or silver, or to prevent the adoption of such measures as either Government may see fit with respect to the control of the export or sale for export of arms, ammunition or implements of war, and in exceptional circumstances, all other military supplies. It is agreed, further, that nothing in this Treaty shall be construed to prevent the adoption or enforcement of measures relating to neutrality or to rights and obligations arising under the Covenant of the League of Nations.

Protection of health, life, or national treasures.

State monopolies.

Revenue or police laws.
Foreign purchases of state monopoly.

Subject to the requirement that, under like circumstances and conditions, there shall be no arbitrary discrimination by either High Contracting Party against the other High Contracting Party in favor of any third country, nothing in this Treaty shall be construed to restrict the right of either High Contracting Party to impose (1) prohibitions or restrictions designed to protect human, animal, or plant health or life or national treasures of artistic, historical or archaeological value; (2) prohibitions or restrictions applied to products which as regards production or trade are or may in the future be subject within the country to state monopoly or monopolies exercised under state control; or (3) regulations for the enforcement of revenue or police laws.

Each of the High Contracting Parties agrees that, in respect of the foreign purchases of any state monopoly for the importation, production, or sale of any commodity or of any agency having such monopoly privileges, the commerce of the other High Contracting Party shall receive fair and equitable treatment, and that, in making its foreign purchases, such monopoly or agency will be influenced solely by those considerations which would normally be taken into account by a private commercial enterprise interested solely in purchasing goods on the most favorable terms.

Article V

Should measures be taken by either High Contracting Party seriously affecting the chief exports of the other Party, the Party taking such measures will give sympathetic consideration to any representations which the other Party may make in respect to such measures. If agreement with respect to the question or questions involved in such representations shall not have been reached within ninety days from the date of the receipt of the said representations the Government making the representations may, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VII, terminate this Treaty, such termination to be effective at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the receipt of a notification given subsequent to the expiration of the ninety-day period provided herein.

Conditions of termination.

Article VI

The present Treaty shall, from the day on which it comes into force supplant Article 7 of the convention between the United States of America and Great Britain and Iraq signed at London January 9, 1930, in so far as commerce and navigation are concerned.

Article 7 of existing convention supplanted.
47 Stat. 1819.

Article VII

The present Treaty shall take effect in all its provisions on the thirtieth day after the exchange of ratifications, and shall continue in force for the term of three years from that day. If neither High Contracting Party notifies to the other at least one year in advance an intention of terminating the Treaty upon the expiration of the aforesaid period of three years, the Treaty shall remain in full force and effect after the aforesaid period and until one year from such a time as either of the High Contracting Parties shall have notified to the other an intention of terminating the Treaty.

Effective date; duration.

Article VIII

The present Treaty shall be ratified and the ratifications thereof shall be exchanged at Baghdad as soon as possible.

Ratification.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Treaty and have affixed their seals thereto.

Signatures.

Done in duplicate in the English and Arabic languages, which have the same value and shall have equal force, at Baghdad this 3rd day of December, 1938, of the Christian Era, corresponding with the 10th. day of Shawaal, 1357, of the Hijra.

Convention between the United States of America and Canada respecting emergency regulation of level of Rainy Lake and of other boundary waters in the Rainy Lake watershed. Signed at Ottawa September 15, 1938; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States August 30, 1940; ratified by the President of the United States September 10, 1940; ratified by His Majesty in respect of Canada May 19, 1939; ratifications exchanged at Ottawa October 3, 1940; proclaimed by the President of the United States October 18, 1940.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, a convention between the United States of America and Canada, providing for emergency regulation of the level of Rainy Lake and of other boundary waters in the Rainy Lake watershed, as recommended by the International Joint Commission established pursuant to the provisions of the treaty signed at Washington on January 11, 1909, relating to questions arising between the United States of America and Canada, was signed by their respective plenipotentiaries at Ottawa on the 15th day of September, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, the original of which convention is word for word as follows:

36 Stat. 2448.

Text.

The United States of America and His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, in respect of Canada,

Desirous of providing for emergency regulation of the level of Rainy Lake and of the level of other boundary waters in the Rainy Lake watershed, in such a way as to protect the interests of the inhabitants of the United States of America and Canada, and,

Accepting as a basis of agreement the following recommendations made by the International Joint Commission in its Final Report dated May 1, 1934, on the Reference concerning Rainy Lake and the boundary waters flowing into and from that lake, and particularly in answer to Question 2 of that Reference, namely, that it would be wise and in the public interest that the Commission be clothed with power to determine when unusual or extraordinary conditions exist throughout the watershed, whether by reason of high or low water, and that it be empowered to adopt such measures of control as to it may seem proper with respect to existing dams at Kettle Falls and International Falls, as well as any future dams or works, in the event of the Commission determining that such unusual or extraordinary conditions exist.

Have resolved to conclude a convention for that purpose and have accordingly named as their plenipotentiaries:—

The President of the United States of America:

Plenipotentiaries.

JOHN FARR SIMMONS, Charge d'Affaires ad interim of the United States of America at Ottawa;

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, for Canada:

The Right Honourable WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE KING, Prime Minister, President of the Privy Council and Secretary of State for External Affairs;

Who, after having communicated to each other their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I

The International Joint Commission, established pursuant to the provisions of the treaty signed at Washington on the 11th day of January, 1909, relating to questions arising between the United States of America and Canada, is hereby clothed with power to determine when emergency conditions exist in the Rainy Lake watershed, whether by reason of high or low water, and the Commission is hereby empowered to adopt such measures of control as to it may seem proper with respect to existing dams at Kettle Falls and International Falls, as well as with respect to any existing or future dams or works in boundary waters of the Rainy Lake watershed, in the event the Commission shall determine that such emergency conditions exist.

Powers, etc., of International Joint Commission.

ARTICLE II

This convention shall be ratified in accordance with the constitutional forms of the Contracting Parties and shall take effect immediately upon the exchange of ratifications which shall take place at Ottawa as soon as possible.

Ratification; effective date.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned plenipotentiaries have signed the present convention and have hereunto affixed their seals.

Done in duplicate at Ottawa this fifteenth day of September, A. D., 1938.

JOHN FARR SIMMONS [SEAL]      W. L. MACKENZIE KING [SEAL]

AND WHEREAS, the said convention has been duly ratified on both parts and the ratifications of the two Governments were exchanged at Ottawa on October 3, 1940;

Ratifications exchanged.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof.

Proclamation.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this eighteenth day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and [SEAL] forty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fifth.

[E. A. S. No. 159]

The Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs (Mackenzie King) to the American Minister (Roper)

OFFICE OF
THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR EXTERNAL AFFAIRS CANADA

No. 166

OTTAWA, August 18, 1939.

SIR:

I have the honour to refer to negotiations which have recently taken place between the Government of Canada and the Government of the United States of America for the conclusion of a reciprocal arrangement relating to air transport services.

It is my understanding that it has been agreed in the course of the negotiations, now terminated, that this arrangement shall be as follows:

ARRANGEMENT BETWEEN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA RELATING TO AIR TRANSPORT SERVICES

ARTICLE I

Having in mind the desirability of mutually stimulating and promoting the sound economic development of air transportation between the United States and Canada, the Parties to this Arrangement agree that the establishment and development of air transport services between their respective territories by air carrier enterprises holding proper authorizations from their respective Governments, shall be governed by the following provisions.

Purpose.

ARTICLE II

The present Arrangement shall apply to continental United States of America, including Alaska, and to Canada, including their territorial waters.

Area affected.

The privileges accorded by this Arrangement shall be available only to air carrier enterprises bona fide owned and controlled by nationals of the respective Parties.

Limitation.

ARTICLE III

Permits for non-stop services.
Post, p. 2422.

Inland non-stop services, U. S.-Alaska.

Air carrier enterprises, operating rights.

Adjustment of details.

Each of the Parties agrees, subject to compliance with its laws and regulations, to grant to air carrier enterprises of the other Party permits for non-stop services through the air space over its territory between two points within the territory of the other Party; provided however that inland non-stop services between the United States and Alaska shall be the subject of a separate understanding.

Each Party further agrees, subject to compliance with its laws and regulations and on a basis of reciprocity, to grant operating rights to the air carrier enterprises of the other Party for the operation of international services between a place in the territory of one Party and a place in the territory of the other Party.

The details of the application of the principle of reciprocity contained herein shall be the subject of amicable adjustment between the competent aeronautical authorities of the Parties to this Arrangement.

ARTICLE IV

Application for operation, transmittal through diplomatic channels.

53 Stat. 1925.

Issuance of permits or licenses; requirements.

Any air carrier enterprise of either Party applying for permission to operate in territory of the other Party shall be required to transmit its application through diplomatic channels in accordance with Article III (c) of the Air Navigation Arrangement effected by an exchange of notes between the two Parties, signed on July 28, 1938.

The air carrier enterprises of each Party will be required to qualify before the competent aeronautical authorities of the other Party under the latter's applicable laws and regulations before being permitted to engage in the operations contemplated by this Arrangement, and upon so qualifying will be issued permits or licenses by such authorities accordingly.

ARTICLE V

Determination of terms of permits, etc.

Validity, etc., of permit.

The terms of the permits referred to in Article IV, the airports to be used by the respective services, the routes or airways to be flown within the respective territories of the Parties between the designated airports, and other appropriate details of the conduct of the air transport services contemplated by this Arrangement, shall be determined by the competent aeronautical authorities of the Parties. Any permit issued by the competent aeronautical authorities for the air transport services contemplated hereunder shall be valid only so long as the holder thereof shall be authorized by its own Government to engage in the service envisaged by such permit. The holding of such permit shall be subject to compliance by the holder with all applicable laws of the issuing Government and with all valid rules, regulations and orders issued thereunder. Such permit may not be revoked for any cause other than non-compliance with such laws, rules, regulations or orders or for such reasons as the public interest may require.

ARTICLE VI

Mutual enjoyment of privileges.

Each of the Parties hereto agrees not to impose, and to use its best efforts to prevent the imposition of, any restrictions or limitations as to airports, airways or connections with other transportation services and facilities in general to be utilized within its territory which might be competitively or otherwise disadvantageous to the air carrier enterprises of the other Party.

ARTICLE VII

The aircraft operated by United States air carrier enterprises shall conform at all times with the airworthiness requirements prescribed by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States for aircraft employed in air transportation of the character contemplated by this Arrangement.

Airworthiness requirements.

The aircraft operated by Canadian air carrier enterprises shall conform at all times with the airworthiness requirements prescribed by the competent aeronautical authorities of Canada for aircraft employed in air transportation of the character contemplated by this Arrangement.

The competent aeronautical authorities of the Parties hereto may communicate with a view to bringing about uniformity of safety standards for the operations contemplated by this Arrangement and compliance therewith, and whenever the need therefor appears the Parties may enter into an agreement prescribing such uniform safety standards.

ARTICLE VIII

The matter of the transportation of mail shall be subject to agreement between the competent authorities of both Parties.

Mail transportation.

ARTICLE IX

The operations contemplated hereunder shall be conducted subject to the applicable terms of the Air Navigation Arrangement effected by an exchange of notes between the two Parties signed on July 28, 1938.

Conduct of operations.

53 Stat. 1925.

ARTICLE X

This Arrangement shall remain in force for a period of two years and thereafter until terminated on six months notice given by either Government to the other Government.

Duration; termination.

I shall be glad to have you inform me whether it is the understanding of your Government that the terms of the arrangement agreed to in the negotiations are as above set forth. If so, it is suggested that the arrangement become effective on this date. If your Government concurs in this suggestion the Government of Canada will regard it as becoming effective on this date.

Effective date.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Article 2. This agreement shall continue in effect for a period of one year from the date of its signature.

Article 3. The present agreement is subject to extension by mutual consent at its expiration for a period of one year.

Article 4. It is agreed that the services to be rendered by the Parties of the Second Part, as set forth in Article 1, shall be suspended in the event that any of the armed forces of Argentina engage in activities other than those normally carried on during times of peace. It is agreed further that in case of war being declared between the Argentine Republic and any other nation, or between the United States and any other nation, the present agreement shall at once be considered terminated, subject to the return of the officers, their families and household effects to the United States, as indicated in Articles 13, 14, 15, 16 and 19.

como lo requieran los Reglamentos del Ejército de los E. E. U. U. Al efectuar vuelos las Segundas Partes no asumen responsabilidad alguna por daños causados al equipo o por daños o muerte a otros como resultado de cualquier accidente en que tomen parte dentro de las estipulaciones del presente contrato.

El oficial de mayor categoría será el encargado de mantener regularmente las relaciones con el Ministerio de Guerra, el Estado Mayor General de Ejército y el Comando de las Fuerzas Aéreas.

Artículo 2°. Este contrato durará un año desde la fecha de su firma.

Artículo 3°. El presente contrato puede ser extendido por consentimiento mútuo a su vencimiento, por un nuevo período de un año.

Artículo 4°. Se conviene que los servicios que deban prestar las Segundas Partes según se establece en el Artículo 1° se considerarán suspendidos, en el caso de que cualquiera de las Fuerzas Armadas de la República Argentina tome parte en otras actividades que aquellas que se ejercen normalmente en tiempo de paz. Se conviene además que en caso de declaración de guerra entre la República Argentina y cualquiera otra nación, o entre los Estados Unidos y cualquiera otra nación, de inmediato se considerará rescindido el presente contrato, disponiéndose el regreso de los oficiales, sus familias y efectos personales a los E. E. U. U. en la forma indicada en los Artículos 13, 14, 15, 16 y 19.

Article 5. It is stipulated and agreed that while the Parties of the Second Part shall be employed under this agreement, or any extension thereof, the Party of the First Part will not engage the services of any personnel of any other foreign government for the duties and purposes contemplated by this agreement, unless expressly agreed to between the Argentine Government and the Government of the United States.

Artículo 5º. Se establece y conviene que durante la vigencia del presente contrato o cualquiera prórroga del mismo, la Primera Parte no podrá utilizar los servicios de personal alguno de otro gobierno extranjero para las obligaciones y propósitos contemplados en este contrato, fuera del caso en que ello sea expresamente convenido por el Gobierno Argentino y el Gobierno de los E. E. U. U.

Artículo 7º. Durante toda la estada en la República Argentina al servicio de la Primera Parte, las Segundas Partes gozarán de los beneficios que los reglamentos del Ejército Argentino conceden a sus oficiales del mismo grado.

Article 8. In case the Party of the First Part should desire that the services of the Parties of the Second Part be extended beyond the period stipulated in Article 2, as referred to in Article 3, written proposal to that effect must be made three months before the expiration of the present agreement.

Artículo 8º. En caso de que la Primera Parte deseara que los servicios de las Segundas Partes fueran prorrogados más allá del período estipulado en el Artículo 2º según se establece en el Artículo 3º, deberá presentar una propuesta escrita en tal sentido, tres meses antes del vencimiento del presente contrato.

Article 9. The present agreement may be cancelled by either of the Parties subject to thirty (30) days' notice in writing.

Article 10. For the purposes of the present contract the family of an officer is construed to include his wife and dependent children.

Article 11. After each year of service with the Argentine Government, or proportional part thereof, should this contract be terminated prior to one year, the Parties of the Second Part are individually entitled to one month's leave or proportional part thereof with pay.

Article 12. The leave cited in the preceding Article may be spent in foreign countries, subject to the standing instructions of the United States War Department concerning visits to foreign countries. In all cases, a previously written application, containing full details, addressed to the appropriate Argentine Army authority, will be necessary. Unused portions of such leave including that deriving from the previous individual contracts shall be cumulative from year to year.

TITLE III

COMPENSATIONS

Article 13. For the services specified in Article 1 of this contract the officers of the Regular Army of the United States of America shall receive from the Argentine Government monthly compensation in pesos, national money, of legal tender, additional Artículo 9º. El presente contrato puede ser cancelado por cualquiera de las dos Partes previa notificación por escrito, presentada con treinta días de anticipación.

Artículo 10º. A los efectos del presente contrato la familia de un oficial se considera compuesta por la esposa y los hijos que de él dependen.

Artículo 11º. Después de cada año de servicio con el Gobierno Argentino, o fracción en caso de terminar este contrato antes del plazo de un año, las Segundas Partes tendrán derecho a un mes de licencia, o fracción proporcional, con goce de sueldo.

Artículo 12º. De la licencia mencionada en el artículo precedente se podrá hacer uso en el extranjero, sujeto a las instrucciones vigentes del Ministerio de Guerra de los E. E. U. U. acerca de las visitas a países extranjeros. En todos los casos será menester formular un pedido previo por escrito conteniendo todos los detalles, a la autoridad militar argentina correspondiente. Las licencias de que no han hecho uso y las que deriven de los previos contratos individuales podrán acumularse de un año a otro.

TITULO III

REMUNERACIÓN DE SERVICIOS

Artículo 13º. Por los servicios especificados en el Artículo 1º del presente contrato, los oficiales del Ejército de los E. E. U. U. recibirán del Gobierno Argentino una remuneración mensual en pesos moneda nacional de curso legal que se agregará al pago que recito the pay and allowances which they receive from the Government of the United States, according to the following schedule:

Major and Chief Officer	1400	Mayor y Oficial Jefe	1.400
Major	1300	Mayor	1.300
Captains	1200	Capitanes	1.200
First Lieutenants	1100	Tenientes Primeros	1.100

The said salary shall be payable on the last day of each month, it being hereby stipulated that neither said compensation nor the pay and allowances which they receive from the Government of the United States, shall be subject to any Argentine Government tax now in force, and that if any other tax or taxes are imposed by the Argentine Government, the compensation shall be so increased as to cover this taxation.

Article 14. The compensation set forth in Article 13 shall begin from the date of signature of this agreement in the case of such officers as may be in the Argentine Republic at that time, and in the case of any newly assigned officer shall begin on the date of leaving New York, traveling by sea. The compensation shall continue until the termination of this contract, plus the time required to travel by the usual sea route from Buenos Aires to New York, plus such additional time as may cover the leave periods.

Article 15. The Party of the First Part will furnish the expenses of transportation if necessary by land and sea of the Parties of the Second Part, their families, household effects and baggage, including automobile, in advance, the officers and their families being furnished with first-class accommodations.

birán del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de acuerdo con estas bases:

Esos salarios serán pagaderos el último día de cada mes, siendo entendido que dicha remuneración y la que reciban del Gobierno de los E. E. U. U. no serán gravadas con ningún impuesto del Gobierno Argentino en vigor al presente y que si se aprobara por el Gobierno Argentino un impuesto o impuestos, la remuneración será aumentada para cubrir tales impuestos.

Artículo 14°. El goce de la remuneración estipulada en el Artículo 13° comenzará el día de la firma de este contrato en el caso de que los oficiales estuvieran en ese tiempo en la República Argentina; en el caso de la designación de un nuevo oficial el goce de la remuneración empezará el día de salida de Nueva York viajando por mar. La remuneración continuará hasta la terminación de este contrato más el tiempo necesario para el viaje por la ruta marítima ordinaria de Buenos Aires a Nueva York, agregando la correspondiente a los periodos de licencia.

Artículo 15°. La Primera Parte pagará los gastos necesarios de transporte por mar y por tierra a los oficiales del Ejército de los E. E. U. U., sus familias, sus efectos personales, incluyendo el automóvil, por adelantado, proveyéndolos siempre de pasajes de primera clase.

Article 16. An additional allowance of one-half month's compensation will be provided in advance by the Argentine Government to cover expenses of locating and housing any additional officer and his family as may proceed to the Argentine Republic under this contract.

Article 17. The cases of cancellation mentioned in Article 9 shall be compensated as follows:

a) The United States may, if the public interest so requires, recall at any time any or all of the officers, substituting for them other officers acceptable to the Argentine Government, all expenses in connection therewith being incumbent upon the Government of the United States of America. If on the request of the Argentine Government, any member of the officers is recalled for due or just cause other than the termination of his services or illness, all expenses connected with the return shall be incumbent upon the United States of America.

b) If cancellation of this contract be effected on the request of the United States of America, all expenses of the return of the officers and all effects thereof to the United States shall be borne by the Government of the United States of America; should cancellation be effected on the initiative of the Argentine Government, or as a result of war between the Argentine Republic and a foreign government or as the result of the contingency envisaged in Article 4, the Argentine Government shall bear these costs.

Artículo 16°. Se otorgará por adelantado una bonificación adicional de un medio mes de remuneración, destinada a compensar los gastos originados por cambio de residencia de las Segundas Partes y sus familias, si un nuevo oficial fuera enviado a la República Argentina de acuerdo a este contrato.

Artículo 17°. Los casos de cancelación mencionados en el Artículo 9° serán compensados en la siguiente forma:

a) Si los Estados Unidos, requeridos por su interés público, ordena el regreso en cualquier tiempo de uno o de todos los oficiales, sustituyéndolos por otros, de acuerdo con el Gobierno Argentino; todos los gastos originados por este motivo corresponderán al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América. Si por el pedido del Gobierno Argentino alguno de los oficiales es llamado a su país por otra causa que la terminación de sus servicios o enfermedad, todos los gastos relacionados con este retorno, si hubiera justa causa, incumben al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América.

b) Si la propuesta de cancelación fuera presentada a pedido de los Estados Unidos de América, todos los gastos para el regreso de los oficiales y sus efectos personales serán satisfechos por el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América; si la propuesta de cancelación se efectuara a pedido del Gobierno Argentino, o como resultado de una guerra entre la República Argentina y un Gobierno extranjero o como resultado de los casos previstos en el Artículo 4°, todos los gastos estarán a cargo del Gobierno Argentino.

Article 18. The Party of the First Part will not provide for annual leave any additional allowance or compensation further than that stipulated in Article 13 and mentioned in Article 14.

Article 19. The additional allowance of Article 16 for the Parties of the Second Part shall be paid by the Party of the First Part prior to departure from present station in the United States proceeding by the usual traveled route.

Article 20. The household effects and baggage, including an automobile, of officers arriving in the Argentine Republic additional to or in replacement of the original officers, shall be exempt from customs duties in the Argentine Republic, or if such customs duties are imposed and required, an equivalent additional allowance to cover such charge shall be paid by the Argentine Government.

Article 21. The compensation for transportation and traveling expenses in the Argentine Republic necessitated by the Argentine official business in compliance with Article 1 will be provided according to conditions specified in Article 7.

Article 22. a) Should any of the Parties of the Second Part become ill, he shall be cared for by the Argentine Government in such hospital, after consultation, as may be considered suitable; any officer unable to perform his duties by reason of long continued physical disability shall be changed.

b) If any of the Parties of the Second Part, or one of his family, should die in the Argentine Re-

Artículo 18°. La Primera Parte no otorgará por la licencia anual ninguna remuneración o bonificación adicional, salvo la estipulada en el Artículo 13° y mencionada en el Artículo 14°.

Artículo 19°. La bonificación adicional del Artículo 16° otorgada a las Segundas Partes será pagada por la Primera Parte por adelantado y antes de la salida de su actual residencia oficial en los Estados Unidos por la ruta ordinaria.

Artículo 20°. El mobiliario, el equipaje, incluyendo un automóvil de los oficiales que lleguen a la República Argentina como complemento o en reemplazo de los oficiales actualmente en servicio, estarán libres de derechos aduaneros en la República Argentina; pero si tales derechos fueran impuestos y exigidos, la Primera Parte abonará una bonificación adicional equivalente para cubrir dicho gasto.

Artículo 21°. La compensación por transporte y gastos de viaje en la República Argentina, originada por comisiones oficiales en cumplimiento del Artículo 1° será otorgada de acuerdo con las condiciones especificadas en el Artículo 7°.

Artículo 22°. a) En caso de que las Segundas Partes o alguna de ellas contrayesen alguna enfermedad, serán hospitalizadas por el Gobierno Argentino en el lugar que se considere apropiado, previa consulta; cualquier oficial incapacitado de cumplir con sus obligaciones por razones de continuada imposibilidad física deberá ser cambiado.

b) Si alguna de las Segundas Partes o cualquier miembro de su familia llegara a fallecer en la public while the present or any extension of this agreement is in force, the Party of the First Part shall have the body transported to such place in the United States as the family may decide. Should the deceased be any of the Parties of the Second Part this agreement will be considered terminated with reference to him fifteen days after his death, and compensation will be provided as specified in Articles 13, 14, 15, 16, 19 and 20, payable to the widow of the Party of the Second Part or other person who may be designated in writing by the Party of the Second Part any time during the continuance of this contract, provided such widow or other person will not be compensated for the accrued leave of the deceased, and provided further that these compensations be paid within fifteen days of the death of the Party of the Second Part.

Article 23. In faith whereof, the undersigned, being duly authorized, sign the present agreement in two texts in duplicate, each one in the Spanish and English languages, this twelfth day of September, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, in Washington, D. C., United States of America.

Agreement between Egypt and the United States of America concerning the exchange of parcel post, with regulations of execution; signed at Cairo July 17, 1939 and at Washington September 13, 1939; approved and ratified by the President of the United States September 18, 1939.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN EGYPT AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA CONCERNING THE EXCHANGE OF PARCEL POST.

The undersigned, provided with full powers by their respective governments, have by mutual consent and subject to ratification by the competent superior authorities, drawn up the following Agreement:

ARTICLE I.

Object of the Agreement.

Contracting parties. Between the United States of America (including Alaska, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, Samoa, and Hawaii) on one hand, and Egypt on the other hand, there may be exchanged under the denomination of parcel post, parcels up to the maximum weight and the maximum dimensions indicated in the Regulations of Execution.

Post, p. 1832.

ARTICLE II.

Transit parcels.

Right of transit. 1. Each Postal Administration guarantees the right of transit through its service, to or from any country with which it has parcel post communication, of parcels originating in or addressed for delivery in the service of the other contracting Administration.

Administrations as intermediaries. 2. Each Postal Administration shall inform the other to which countries parcels may be sent through it as intermediary, and the amount of the charges due to it therefor, as well as other conditions.

3. To be accepted for onward transmission, parcels sent by one of the contracting Administrations through the service of the other Administration must comply with the conditions prescribed from time to time by the intermediate Administration.

ARTICLE III.

Postage and fees.

Collection from sender. 1. The Administration of origin is entitled to collect from the sender of each parcel the postage and the fees for requests for information as to the disposal of a parcel made after it has been posted, and also, in the case of insured parcels, the insurance fees and the fees for return receipts that may from time to time be prescribed by its regulations.

Prepayment. 2. Except in the case of returned or redirected parcels, the postage and such of the fees mentioned in the preceding section as are applicable must be prepaid.

ARTICLE IV.

Preparation of parcels.

Every parcel shall be packed in a manner adequate for the length of the journey and the protection of the contents as set forth in the Regulations of Execution.

Packing.
Post, p. 1832.

ARTICLE V.

Prohibitions.

1. The following articles are prohibited transmission by parcel post:

Articles prohibited transmission.

(a) A letter or a communication having the nature of a letter. Nevertheless, it is permitted to enclose in a parcel an open invoice, confined to the particulars which constitute an invoice, and also a simple copy of the address of the parcel, with mention of the address of the sender.

(b) An enclosure which bears an address different from that placed on the cover of the parcel.

(c) Any live animal, except leeches.

(d) Opium, morphine, cocaine, and other narcotics.

(e) Any article, the admission of which is forbidden by the Customs or other laws or regulations in force in either country.

(f) Any explosive or inflammable article, and in general, any article the conveyance of which is dangerous, including articles which from their nature or packing may be a source of danger to postal employees or may soil or damage other parcels.

(g) Obscene or immoral articles.

(h) It is, moreover, forbidden to send coin, bank notes, currency notes, or any kind of securities payable to bearer; platinum, gold, or silver (whether manufactured or not); precious stones, jewelry, or other precious articles in uninsured parcels.

Coin; gold, etc.

2. When a parcel contravening any of these prohibitions is handed over by one Administration to the other, the latter shall proceed in accordance with its laws and inland regulations. Explosive or inflammable articles, as well as documents, pictures, and other articles injurious to public morals may be destroyed on the spot by the Administration which has found them in the mails.

Parcel contravening prohibitions, action to be taken.

The fact that a parcel contains a letter or a communication having the nature of a letter, may not in any case entail return of the parcel to the sender. The letter is, however, marked for collection of postage due from the addressee at the regular rate.

The two Administrations advise each other, by means of the List of Prohibited Articles published by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union, of all prohibited articles. However, they do not assume on that account any responsibility towards the customs or police authorities, or the sender.

List of Prohibited Articles.

3. If parcels wrongly admitted to the post are neither returned to origin nor delivered to the addressees, the Administration of origin must be precisely informed of the treatment accorded to the parcels.

Parcels wrongly admitted.

ARTICLE VI.

Insurance.

Parcels may be insured up to the amount of 500 gold francs or its equivalent in the currency of the country of origin. However, the Chiefs of the Postal Administrations of the two contracting countries may, by mutual consent, increase or decrease this maximum amount of insurance.

Indemnity, limitation.

A parcel cannot give rise to the right to an indemnity higher than the actual value of its contents, but it is permissible to insure it for only part of that value.

ARTICLE VII.

Responsibility. Indemnity.

Ordinary parcels.

1. The Postal Administrations of the two contracting countries will not be responsible for the loss, abstraction, or damage of an ordinary parcel.

Insured parcels.

2. Except in the cases mentioned in the Article following, the Administrations are responsible for the loss of insured parcels mailed in one of the two contracting countries for delivery in the other and for the loss, abstraction of, or damage to their contents, or a part thereof.

Indemnity, computation.

The sender, or the addressee if he proves that the sender has waived his rights in his favor, is entitled to compensation corresponding to the actual amount of the loss, abstraction, or damage. The amount of indemnity is calculated on the basis of the actual value (current price or, in the absence of current price, the ordinary estimated value) at the place where and the time when the parcel was accepted for mailing; provided in any case that the indemnity may not be greater than the amount for which the parcel was insured and on which the insurance fee has been collected, or the maximum amount of 500 gold francs.

Indirect damages, etc.

3. No indemnity is paid for indirect damages or loss of profits resulting from the loss, rifling, damage, nondelivery, misdelivery, or delay of an insured parcel dispatched in accordance with the conditions of the present Agreement.

Return of postal charges.

4. In the case where indemnity is payable for the loss of a parcel or for the destruction or abstraction of the whole of the contents thereof, the sender is entitled to return of the postal charges, if claimed. However, the insurance fees are not in any case returned.

Loss, etc., of certain transit insured parcels.

5. In the absence of special agreement to the contrary between the countries involved, which agreement may be made by correspondence, no indemnity will be paid by either country for the loss, rifling, or damage of transit insured parcels, that is, parcels originating in a country not participating in this Agreement and destined for one of the two contracting countries or parcels originating in one of the two contracting countries and destined for a country not participating in this Agreement.

Insured parcels re-forwarded to a third country, etc.

6. When an insured parcel originating in one country and destined to be delivered in the other country is reforwarded from there to a third country or is returned to a third country at the request of the sender or of the addressee, the party entitled to the indemnity in case of loss, rifling, or damage occurring subsequent to the reforwarding or return of the parcel by the original country of destination, can lay claim, in such a case, only to the indemnity which the country where the loss, rifling, or damage occurred consents to pay, or which that country is obliged to pay in accordance with the agreement made between the countries directly interested in the reforwarding or return. Either of the two countries signing the present Agreement which wrongly forwards an insured parcel to a third country is responsible to the sender to the same extent as the country of origin, that is, within the limits of the present Agreement.

7. The sender is responsible for defects in the packing and insufficiency in the closing and sealing of insured parcels. Moreover, the two Administrations are released from all responsibility in case of loss, rifling, or damage caused by defects not noticed at the time of mailing.

Defective packing.

ARTICLE VIII.

Exceptions to the principle of responsibility.

The Administrations are relieved from all responsibility:

(a) In case of parcels of which the addressee has accepted delivery without reservation.

Exceptions to the principle of responsibility.

(b) In case of loss or damage through force majeure (causes beyond control); although either Administration may at its option and without recourse to the other Administration pay indemnity for loss or damage due to force majeure even in cases where the Administration of the country in the service of which the loss or damage occurred recognizes that the damage was due to force majeure. The country responsible for the loss, abstraction, or damage must decide, in accordance with its internal legislation, whether this loss, abstraction, or damage was due to circumstances constituting a case of force majeure.

(c) When, their responsibility not having been proved otherwise, they are unable to account for parcels in consequence of the destruction of official documents through force majeure.

(d) When the damage has been caused by the fault or negligence of the sender, or of the addressee, or the representative of either, or when it is due to the nature of the article.

(e) For parcels which contain prohibited articles.

(f) In case the sender of an insured parcel, with intent to defraud, shall declare the contents to be above their real value; this rule, however, shall not prejudice any legal proceedings necessitated by the legislation of the country of origin.

(g) For parcels seized by the Customs because of false declaration of contents.

(h) When no inquiry or application for indemnity has been made by claimant or his representative within a year commencing with the day following the posting of the insured parcel.

(i) For parcels which contain matter of no intrinsic value, or perishable matter, or which did not conform to the stipulations of this Agreement, or which were not posted in the manner prescribed; but the country responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage may pay indemnity in respect of such parcels without recourse to the other Administration.

ARTICLE IX.

Termination of responsibility.

Administrations cease to be responsible for parcels of which they have effected delivery in accordance with their internal regulations for parcels of the same nature.

Termination of responsibility.

Responsibility is, however, maintained when the addressee or, in case of return, the sender makes reservations in taking delivery of a parcel the contents of which have been abstracted or damaged.

ARTICLE X.

Obligation to pay compensation.

Obligation to pay compensation.

The obligation to pay compensation, as well as the postage charges due to be refunded, rests with the Administration to which the office of origin of the parcel is subordinate. However, in cases where the compensation is paid to the addressee in accordance with Article VII, Section 2, second paragraph, the obligation shall rest with the Administration of destination.

The paying Administration retains the right to make a claim against the responsible Administration.

ARTICLE XI.

Period for payment of compensation.

Period for payment of compensation.

1. The payment of compensation for an insured parcel shall be made to the rightful claimant as soon as possible and at the latest within a period of one year counting from the day following that on which the application is made.

Deferred payment.

However, the Administration responsible for making payment may exceptionally defer payment of indemnity for a longer period than that stipulated if, at the expiration of that period, it has not been able to determine the disposition made of the article in question or the responsibility incurred.

Payment if matter deferred nine months.

2. Except in cases where payment is exceptionally deferred as provided in the second paragraph of the foregoing section, the Postal Administration which undertakes payment of compensation is authorized to pay indemnity on behalf of the Office which, after being duly informed of the application for indemnity, has let nine months pass without settling the matter.

ARTICLE XII.

Fixing of responsibility.

Fixing of responsibility.

1. Until the contrary is proved, responsibility for an insured parcel rests with the Administration which, having received the parcel without making any reservations and being put in possession of all the regulation means of investigation, cannot establish the disposal of the parcel.

2. When the loss, rifling, or damage of an insured parcel is detected upon opening the receptacle at the receiving exchange office and has been regularly pointed out to the dispatching exchange office, the responsibility falls on the Administration to which the latter office belongs, unless it be proved that the irregularity occurred in the service of the receiving Administration.

3. If the loss, rifling, or damage has taken place in the course of transportation, without its being possible to establish on the territory or in the service of which country the act took place, the Offices involved bear the loss in equal shares.

4. The Administration paying compensation takes over to the extent of the amount paid, the rights of the person who has received it in any action which may be taken against the addressee, the sender, or a third party.

5. If a parcel which has been regarded as lost is subsequently found, the person to whom compensation has been paid must be informed that he is at liberty to take possession of the parcel against repayment of the amount of compensation.

ARTICLE XIII.

Repayment of compensation.

1. The Administration responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage, and on whose account the payment is effected, is bound to repay the amount of the indemnity to the country which has effected payment. This reimbursement must take place without delay, and at the latest within the period of nine months after notification of payment.

Repayment of compensation.

2. These repayments to the creditor country must be made without expense for that Office, by money order or draft, in money valid in the creditor country, or in any other way to be agreed upon mutually by correspondence.

ARTICLE XIV.

Certificate of mailing. Receipts.

The sender will, on request at the time of mailing an ordinary (uninsured) parcel, receive a certificate of mailing from the post office where the parcel is mailed on a form provided for the purpose; and each country may fix a reasonable fee therefor.

Certificate of mailing.

The sender of an insured parcel receives without charge, at the time of posting, a receipt for his parcel.

Receipt.

ARTICLE XV.

Return receipts and inquiries.

1. The sender of an insured parcel may obtain an advice of delivery upon payment of such additional charge, if any, as the country of origin of the parcel shall stipulate and under the conditions laid down in the Regulations.

Advice of delivery.

2. A fee may be charged at the option of the country of origin on a request for information as to the disposal of an ordinary parcel and also for an insured parcel made after it has been posted if the sender has not already paid the special fee to obtain an advice of delivery.

Inquiries.

3. A fee may also be charged at the option of the country of origin in connection with any complaint of any irregularity which prima facie was not due to the fault of the Postal Service.

Complaints.

ARTICLE XVI.

Recall and change of address.

So long as a parcel has not been delivered to the addressee, the sender may recall it or cause its address to be changed. The Postal Administration of the country of origin may collect and retain for this service the charge fixed by its regulations. The requests for recall or change of address of parcels to be delivered in the United States of America shall be addressed to the Central Administration at Washington; those relating to parcels for delivery in Egypt shall be addressed to the claims Office, Postal Administration, Cairo.

Recall and change of address.

ARTICLE XVII.

Customs charges.

The parcels are subject to all customs laws and regulations in force in the country of destination. The duties collectible on that account are collected from the addressee on delivery of the parcel in accordance with the customs regulations of the country of destination.

Collection from addressee.

ARTICLE XVIII.

Customs charges to be canceled.

Returned or redirected parcels.

The customs charges on parcels sent back to the country of origin or redirected to another country shall be canceled both in Egypt and in the United States of America.

ARTICLE XIX.

Fee for customs clearance.

Collection from addressee.

The office of delivery may collect from the addressee either in respect of delivery to the Customs and clearance through the Customs or in respect of delivery to the Customs only, a fee not exceeding 50 centimes gold per parcel.

ARTICLE XX.

Delivery to the addressee. Fee for delivery at the place of address.

Delivery to address-see; fee.

Parcels are delivered to the addressees as quickly as possible in accordance with the conditions in force in the country of destination. This country may collect in respect of delivery of parcels to the addressee, a fee not exceeding 50 centimes gold per parcel. The same fee may be charged, if the case arises, for each presentation after the first at the addressee's residence or place of business.

Notice of nondelivery.

In the event the parcels are not delivered at the addressee's residence or place of business, the addressee is duly advised at the time of arrival of the parcel. The country of destination may collect a fee for the notice sent to the addressee for the purpose. This fee should in no case exceed the inland charge for the prepayment of an ordinary letter.

ARTICLE XXI.

Warehousing charges.

Parcels addressed
"General Delivery,"
etc.

The country of destination is authorized to collect the warehousing charge fixed by its legislation for parcels addressed "General Delivery" or which are not claimed within the prescribed period. This charge may in no case exceed five francs gold.

ARTICLE XXII.

Missent parcels.

Ordinary parcels.

Ordinary parcels, when missent, are reforwarded to their correct destination by the most direct route at the disposal of the reforwarding Administration. They must not be charged with customs or other charges by that Administration. Insured parcels, when missent, may not be reforwarded to their destination except as insured mail. If this is impossible, they must be returned to origin.

Insured parcels.

Refund, if returned.

When the reforwarding involves return of the parcel to the office of origin, the retransmitting Administration refunds to that office the credits received and reports the error by a bulletin of verification.

Reforwarding to a third country.

When the reforwarding involves dispatch of a parcel to a third country and if the amount credited to the retransmitting Administration is insufficient to cover the expenses of retransmission which it has to defray, the retransmitting Administration allows to the Administration to which it forwards the parcel the credits due it; it then recovers the amount of the deficiency by claiming it from the office of exchange from which the missent parcel was directly received. The reason for this claim is notified to the latter by means of a bulletin of verification.

ARTICLE XXIII.

Reforwarding.

1. A parcel may be redirected in consequence of the addressee's change of address in the country of destination, at the request of either the sender or the addressee.

Reforwarding; supplementary charges.

The reforwarding of a parcel within one of the contracting countries gives rise to collection of the supplementary charges provided for by the Administration of that country. The same is true, if occasion arises, in regard to delivery of such parcel to another person at the original place of destination. These charges shall not be canceled even in case the parcel is returned to origin or reforwarded to another country.

2. If a parcel must be reforwarded to one of the two countries signatory to the present Agreement, it is liable to new postage charges and, if occasion arises, new insurance fees, unless such charges and fees have been paid in advance. The new postage and fees are collected from the addressee by the Administration effecting delivery. Insured parcels must be reforwarded as such.

3. At the request of the sender or addressee, parcels may also be reforwarded or returned to another country. Insured parcels may not, however, be reforwarded or returned except as such. The senders may mark the parcels: "Do not forward to a third country." In that case the parcels must not be reforwarded to any other country. In case of loss, rifling, or damage of an insured parcel reforwarded to another country or returned by that country, the indemnity is decided upon exclusively in accordance with the provisions of Article VII, Section 6.

Ante, p. 1824.

ARTICLE XXIV.

Nondelivery.

1. Undeliverable parcels returned to the sender are liable to new postage charges as well as insurance fees if necessary, and are returned as parcels of the same class in which they were received. The charges are collectible from the sender and are collected by the Administration which delivers the parcels to him.

Undeliverable parcels.

2. At the time of mailing, the sender must state how his parcel is to be disposed of in the event of nondelivery; that is, the sender must mark the parcel and the despatch note with one of the following notes:

"In case of nondelivery, the parcel should be returned to sender."

"In case of nondelivery, the parcel should be considered as abandoned."

"In case of nondelivery, the parcel should be delivered to _____."

No note other than those provided for above or note of similar import is permitted, except as provided in Article XXIII, Section 3.

3. Barring contrary instructions, undeliverable parcels are returned to origin, without previous notification, 30 days after their arrival at the office of destination. Parcels which the addressee refuses to accept shall be returned immediately. In all cases, the reason for nondelivery must be indicated on the parcel.

4. Parcels liable to deterioration or corruption may be sold immediately, even en route, on the outward or return voyage without previous notice and without judicial formality for the benefit of the rightful party.

If for any reason sale is impossible, the deteriorated or corrupted articles are destroyed. The sale or destruction gives rise to the making of a report which is sent to the Administration of origin.

5. Undeliverable parcels which the sender has abandoned may, at the expiration of a 30-day period, be sold for the profit of the Administration of the country of destination. However, in the case of an insured parcel, a report is made up which must be sent to the Administration of the country of origin. Likewise, the Administration of the country of origin must be advised when an insured parcel which is undeliverable is not returned to origin.

6. The provisions of Article XXV, Section 2, shall be applied to a parcel which is returned in consequence of nondelivery.

ARTICLE XXV.

Charges.

Credits.

1. For each parcel exchanged between the contracting countries, the dispatching office credits to the office of destination in the parcel bills the quotas due to the latter and indicated in the Regulations of Execution.

Post, p. 1832.

Reforwarding or return to origin.

2. In case of reforwarding or return to origin of a parcel, if new postage and new insurance fees (in the case of insured parcels) are collected by the redispaching office, the parcel is treated as if it had originated in that country. Otherwise, the redispaching office recovers from the other office the quota due to it; namely, as the case may be:

(a) The charges prescribed by Section 1 above.

(b) The charges for reforwarding or return.

Reforwarding or return to a third country.

In case of reforwarding or return to a third country, the accrued charges, that is, such of the charges mentioned in (a) and (b) above as are applicable, shall follow the parcel; but in the case that the third country concerned refuses to assume the charges because they cannot be collected from the addressee or the sender, as the case may be, or for any other reason, they shall be charged back to the reforwarding country.

Return or reforwarding in transit.

In the case of a parcel returned or reforwarded in transit through one of the two Administrations to or from the other, the intermediary Administration may claim also the sum due to it for any additional territorial or sea service provided, together with any amounts due to any other Administration or Administrations concerned.

ARTICLE XXVI.

Postal charges other than those prescribed not to be collected.

Postal charges, restriction.

The parcels to which this Agreement applies shall not be subject to any postal charges other than those contemplated by the different articles hereof.

ARTICLE XXVII.

Air parcels.

Air surtax.

The Chiefs of the Postal Administrations of the two contracting countries have the right to fix by mutual consent the air surtax and other conditions in the case where the parcels are conveyed by the air routes.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

Temporary suspension of service.

In extraordinary circumstances such as will justify the measure, either Administration may temporarily suspend the parcel-post service, either entirely or partially, or restrict it to certain offices, on condition of giving immediate notice, if necessary by telegraph, to the other Administration.

Temporary suspension of service.

ARTICLE XXIX.

Matters not provided for in the present agreement.

1. Unless they are provided for in the present Agreement, all questions concerning requests for recall or change of address of parcels, the obtaining and disposition of return receipts, and the settlement of indemnity claims in connection with insured parcels shall be treated in accordance with the provisions of the Universal Postal Convention and its Regulations of Execution, in so far as they are applicable and are not contrary to the foregoing provisions. If the case is not provided for at all, the domestic legislation of the United States of America, or of Egypt, or the decisions made by one country or the other are applicable in the respective country.

Matters not herein provided for.

Universal Postal Convention, etc., to govern.
Post, pp. 2049, 2105.

2. The details relative to the application of the present Agreement will be fixed by the two Administrations in Regulations of Execution, the provisions of which may be modified or completed by mutual consent by way of correspondence.

Details to be fixed by mutual consent.

3. The two Administrations notify each other mutually of their laws, ordinances, and tariffs concerning the exchange of parcel post, as well as of all modifications in rates which may subsequently be made.

Mutual notice of postal laws, etc.

ARTICLE XXX.

Duration of the Agreement.

1. This Agreement shall become effective on ratification but, pending ratification, it may be put into force administratively on a date to be mutually settled between the Administrations of the two countries.

Entry into force.

2. It shall remain in effect as long as it has not been terminated six months in advance by one or the other of the two Administrations.

Duration.

Done in duplicate and signed at Washington, the 13th day of September 1939 and at Cairo, the 17th day of July 1939.

REGULATIONS OF EXECUTION FOR THE PARCEL POST AGREEMENT.

The following detailed Regulations for the Execution of the Parcel Post Agreement have been agreed upon by the Chiefs of the Postal Administrations of the United States of America and Egypt.

ARTICLE 1.

Limits of weight and size.

Limits of weight and size.

1. The parcels to be exchanged under the provisions of this Agreement may not exceed 22 pounds (10 kilograms) in weight nor the following dimensions:

Greatest length 4 feet, on condition that parcels over 42 inches but not over 44 inches long do not exceed 24 inches in girth; that parcels over 44 inches but not over 46 inches long do not exceed 20 inches in girth; that parcels over 46 inches but not over 48 inches long do not exceed 16 inches in girth; and that parcels up to 3½ feet in length do not exceed 6 feet in length and girth combined.

The limit of weight and maximum dimensions stated above may be changed from time to time by agreement made through correspondence.

2. In regard to the exact calculation of the weight and dimensions, the indications furnished by the dispatching office will be accepted save in case of obvious error.

ARTICLE 2.

Preparation of parcels.

Preparation of parcels.

1. The name and address of the sender and of the addressee must be written legibly and correctly, on the parcel itself if possible, or on a label or tag securely affixed to the parcel.

It is recommended that a duplicate of the address be inserted in every parcel, especially when the use of a tag for the address is rendered necessary by the packing or form of the parcel.

Parcels on which the name of the sender or of the addressee is indicated merely by initials are not admitted, unless the initials are the adopted trade name of the sender or addressee which is generally understood.

Addresses in ordinary pencil are not admitted. However, addresses written in indelible pencil on a previously dampened surface are accepted.

2. Each parcel must be packed in such a manner that the contents are protected over the whole route, and in such a way as to prevent the contents from damaging other parcels or objects or injuring postal agents. The packing must protect the contents sufficiently that, in case of rifling, the traces thereof may be easily discovered.

Insured parcels must be closed and securely sealed with wax or otherwise. Ordinary parcels may be sealed at the option of the sender or careful tying is sufficient as a mode of closing.

As a protective measure, either Administration may require that a special imprint or mark of the sender appear on the wax or lead seals closing insured parcels mailed in its service.

The Customs Administration of the country of destination is authorized to open the parcels in order to inspect the contents. To that end, the seals or any other fastenings may be broken. Parcels opened by the Customs must be refastened and also officially resealed, except in the case of ordinary parcels which were not sealed by the senders in the first instance.

3. Each insured parcel must bear on the address side an insurance number and must bear a label with the word "Insured" or this word must be marked or stamped on the parcel.

4. For insured parcels, the amount of insured value must appear on the parcel and on the dispatch note in currency of the country of origin and in gold francs, in roman letters spelled out in full, and in arabic figures. Also, the exact weight of each parcel in pounds and ounces or in kilograms and grams must be entered by the Administration of origin (a) on the address side of the parcel and (b) on the dispatch note in the place reserved for this purpose.

5. The labels or postage stamps affixed to insured parcels must be spaced so that they cannot serve to conceal injuries to the packing. Neither may they be folded over two faces of the wrapping so as to cover the edge.

6. Liquids and easily liquefiable substances must be sent in a double receptacle. Between the first (bottle, flask, box, etc.) and the second (box of metal, strong wood, strong corrugated cardboard, or strong carton of fibreboard, or receptacle of equal strength), there must be left a space to be filled with sawdust, bran, or other absorbent material in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid in case the receptacle is broken.

7. Powders and dyes in powder form must be packed in strong boxes of tin or other metal which, after soldering, must be placed in turn in substantial outer covers in such a way as to avoid all damage to other articles.

ARTICLE 3.

Customs declarations and dispatch notes.

1. The sender shall prepare one customs declaration for each parcel sent from either country upon a special form provided for the purpose by the country of origin.

The customs declaration shall give a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement in detail of its contents and value, date of mailing, gross and net weight, the sender's name and address, and the name and address of the addressee; and shall be securely attached to the parcel in the case of parcels sent to the United States of America, or to the dispatch note in the case of parcels sent to Egypt.

However, as an exception to the foregoing, only one customs declaration may serve for as many as three uninsured parcels mailed simultaneously by the same sender in the United States of America to the same addressee at the same address in Egypt, and vice versa, in which case the customs declaration shall show, in addition to the particulars set forth in the preceding paragraph, the total number of parcels comprising the shipment; and shall be securely attached to one of the parcels in the case of parcels for the United States of America, or to the dispatch note in the case of parcels for Egypt. The parcels comprising the entire shipment shall be clearly marked in such case with a fractional number, the numerator of which will indicate in arabic figures the number of the parcel and the denominator the number of parcels comprising the shipment; for example, if a single shipment were composed of 3 parcels, each parcel would be numbered, respectively, 1/3, 2/3, and 3/3.

Customs declarations.

Dispatch notes.

2. The sender shall also prepare one dispatch note in accordance with the forms in use in the country of origin for each parcel or for each consignment of three ordinary parcels sent from the same sender to the same addressee and mailed simultaneously.

The dispatch notes relating to parcels sent to the United States of America must be attached to the parcels to which they relate; those relating to parcels sent to Egypt must be forwarded with the regular mails.

Responsibility.

3. The Administrations accept no responsibility for the correctness of the information on the customs declarations or on that part of the dispatch note which is filled in by the public.

ARTICLE 4.

Return receipts.

Return receipts.

1. When a return receipt is requested, the office of origin places on the parcel the words or letters "Avis de réception", "Return receipt requested", or "A. R." The office of origin or any other office appointed by the dispatching Administration shall fill out a return receipt form and attach it to the parcel to which it relates in the case of parcels for the United States of America, or to the dispatch note in the case of parcels for Egypt. If the form does not reach the office of destination, that office makes out a duplicate.

2. The office of destination, after having duly filled out the return receipt form, returns it free of postage to the address of the sender of the parcel.

3. When the sender applies for a return receipt after a parcel has been mailed, the office of origin duly fills out a return receipt form and attaches it to a form of inquiry which is entered with the details concerning the transmission of the parcel and then forwards it to the office of destination of the parcel. In the case of the due delivery of the parcel, the office of destination withdraws the inquiry form and the return receipt is treated in the manner prescribed in the foregoing section.

ARTICLE 5.

Receptacles.

Receptacles.

1. The Postal Administrations of the two contracting countries shall provide the respective bags necessary for the dispatch of their parcels and each bag shall be marked to show the name of the office or country to which it belongs.

2. Bags must be returned empty to the dispatching office by the next mail. Empty bags to be returned are made up in bundles of ten, enclosing nine bags in one. The total number of bags returned shall be entered on the relative parcel bills.

3. The cost of any empty parcel bag proved after investigation to have been lost will be paid by the Administration responsible for the loss.

ARTICLE 6.

Method of exchange of parcels.

1. The parcels shall be exchanged in sacks duly fastened and sealed by the offices appointed by agreement between the two Administrations and shall be dispatched to the country of destination by the country of origin at its cost and by such means as it provides.

Exchange of parcels.

2. Insured parcels shall be enclosed in separate sacks from those in which ordinary parcels are contained, and the labels of sacks containing insured parcels shall be marked with such distinctive symbols as may from time to time be agreed upon.

ARTICLE 7.

Billing of parcels.

1. Separate parcel bills must be prepared for the ordinary parcels on the one hand and for the insured parcels on the other hand.

Billing of parcels.

The parcel bills are prepared in duplicate. The original is sent in the regular mails while the duplicate is inserted in one of the sacks. The sack containing the parcel bill is designated by the letter "F" traced in a conspicuous manner on the label.

2. The ordinary parcels included in each dispatch to the United States of America are to be entered on the parcel bills to show the total number of parcels and the total net weight thereof. The ordinary parcels included in each dispatch to Egypt are to be entered on the parcel bills to show the number of each category of parcels according to their weight. The credit due for each category will also be shown.

3. Insured parcels shall be entered individually on the parcel bills to show the insurance number and the name of the office of origin. In the case of insured parcels for the United States of America the total net weight of all the parcels must also be shown. In the case of insured parcels for Egypt the weight and the insurance amount for each parcel must also be shown.

4. Parcels sent "à découvert" must be entered separately on the parcel bills.

5. Returned or redirected parcels must be entered individually on the parcel bills and be followed by the word "Returned" or "Redirected", as the case may be. A statement of the charges which may be due on these parcels should be shown in the "Observations" column.

6. The total number of sacks comprising each dispatch must also be shown on the parcel bills.

7. Each dispatching exchange office numbers the parcel bills in the upper left-hand corner in accordance with an annual series. The last number of the preceding year must be mentioned on the first bill of the following year.

8. The exact method of advising parcels or the receptacles containing them sent by one Administration in transit through the other, together with any details of procedure in connection with the advice of such parcels or receptacles for which provision is not made in this Agreement, shall be settled by mutual agreement through correspondence between the two Administrations.

ARTICLE 8.

Verification by the exchange office.

Verification by exchange office.

1. Upon receipt of a dispatch, the exchange office of destination proceeds to verify it. The entries in the parcel bill must be verified exactly. Each error or omission must be brought immediately to the knowledge of the dispatching exchange office by means of a bulletin of verification. A dispatch is considered as having been found in order in all regards when no bulletin of verification is made up.

If an error or irregularity is found upon receipt of a dispatch, all objects which may serve later on for investigations or for examination of requests for indemnity must be kept.

2. The dispatching exchange office to which a bulletin of verification is sent returns it after having examined it and entered thereon its observations, if any. That bulletin is then attached to the parcel bills of the parcels to which it relates. Corrections made on a parcel bill which are not justified by supporting papers are considered as devoid of value.

3. If necessary, the dispatching exchange office may also be advised by telegram at the expense of the Office sending such telegram.

4. In case of shortage of a parcel bill, a duplicate is prepared, a copy of which is sent to the exchange office of origin of the dispatch.

5. The office of exchange which receives from a corresponding office a parcel which is damaged or insufficiently packed must re-dispatch such parcel after repacking, if necessary, preserving the original packing as far as possible.

If the damage is such that the contents of the parcel may have been abstracted, the office must first officially open the parcel and verify its contents.

In either case the weight of the parcel will be verified before and after repacking, and be indicated on the wrapper of the parcel itself. That indication will be followed by the note "Repacked at _____" and the signature of the agents who have effected such repacking.

ARTICLE 9.

Payment.

Payment.

1. For each parcel, ordinary or insured, sent to Egypt, payment shall be made as follows:

1.25 gold franc per parcel weighing up to 5 kilograms.

2.25 gold francs per parcel exceeding 5 kilograms in weight up to 10 kilograms.

For parcels sent to the Sudan, payment shall be made as follows:

2 gold francs per parcel weighing up to 5 kilograms.

3 gold francs per parcel weighing up to 10 kilograms.

2. For each parcel, ordinary or insured, sent to the United States of America or to its possessions, payment shall be made as follows, based on the bulk net weight of each dispatch:

0.70 gold franc per kilogram for parcels for the United States proper.

1.05 gold franc per kilogram for parcels for the U. S. Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

1.85 gold franc per kilogram for parcels for Hawaii, Guam, and Samoa.

2.20 gold francs per kilogram for parcels for Alaska.

3. The terminal quotas and transit charges above mentioned may be reduced or increased on three months previous notice given by one country to the other. The reduction or increase shall remain in force for at least one year.

4. In respect of insured parcels, the Post Office of the country of origin shall allow to the Post Office of the country of destination for land service a rate of 10 gold centimes for each insured parcel. If the country of destination provides a sea service, the dispatching office shall allow an additional rate of 20 gold centimes for each insured parcel.

ARTICLE 10.

Accounting.

1. At the end of each quarter, each Administration makes up an account on the basis of the parcel bills.

Accounting.

2. These accounts shall be submitted to the examination of the corresponding Administration in the course of the month following the quarter to which they relate.

3. The recapitulation, transmission, examination, and acceptance of these accounts must not be delayed and the payment of the balance shall take place, at the latest, at the expiration of the following quarter.

4. The balance resulting from adjustment of the accounts between the two Administrations is paid by a sight draft drawn on New York, or by some other means mutually agreed upon by correspondence. The expenses of payment are chargeable to the debtor Administration.

ARTICLE 11.

Miscellaneous notifications.

The Administrations shall communicate to each other a summary of the provisions of their laws or regulations applicable to the parcels exchanged between the two contracting countries, and other items necessary for carrying out the exchange of parcels.

Notifications.

These Regulations shall come into operation on the day on which the Parcel Post Agreement comes into force and shall have the same duration as the Agreement.

Effective date; duration.

Done in duplicate and signed at Washington, the 13th day of September 1939 and at Cairo, the 17th day of July 1939.

WASHINGTON, September 18, 1939.

August 14, 1939
September 13, 1939

Agreement between Barbados and the United States of America for the exchange of parcel post, with regulations of execution; signed at Bridgetown August 14, 1939 and at Washington September 13, 1939; approved and ratified by the President of the United States September 20, 1939.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE POSTAL ADMINISTRATION OF BARBADOS AND THE POSTAL ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA FOR THE EXCHANGE OF PARCELS BY PARCEL POST.

Contracting parties.

The Postal Administrations of Barbados and the United States of America (including Alaska, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, Samoa, and Hawaii) agree to effect a regular direct exchange of parcels between Barbados and the United States.

AGREEMENT

ARTICLE I.

Limits of weight and size.

Weight.

1. The parcels to be exchanged under the provisions of this Agreement may not exceed 22 pounds in weight nor the following dimensions:

Dimensions.

Greatest length, 4 feet, on condition that parcels over 42 inches but not over 44 inches long do not exceed 24 inches in girth; that parcels over 44 inches but not over 46 inches long do not exceed 20 inches in girth; that parcels over 46 inches but not over 48 inches long do not exceed 16 inches in girth; and that parcels up to 3½ feet in length do not exceed 6 feet in length and girth combined.

Alteration permitted.

The limit of weight and maximum dimensions stated above may be changed from time to time by agreement made through correspondence.

2. In regard to the exact calculation of the weight and dimensions, the indications furnished by the dispatching office will be accepted save in the case of obvious error.

ARTICLE II.

Transit of parcels.

Right of transit.

1. The two Administrations guarantee the right of transit for parcels over their territory to or from any country with which they respectively have parcel-post communication.

Administrations as intermediaries.

2. Each Postal Administration shall inform the other to which countries parcels may be sent through it as intermediary, and the amount of the charges due to it therefor, as well as other conditions to which the parcels are subject. Transit parcels shall be subject to the provisions of this Agreement and the Detailed Regulations so far as they are applicable.

ARTICLE III.

Prepayment of postage. Rates.

Prepayment of postage.

The prepayment of the postage on a parcel shall be compulsory, except in the case of a redirected or returned parcel.

ARTICLE IV.

Territorial rate.

1. For prepaid parcels, ordinary or insured, sent to Barbados, payment shall be made as follows, based on the bulk net weight of such parcels included in each dispatch :

Rates.

4 cents per pound.

2. For prepaid parcels, ordinary or insured, sent to the United States of America or to its possessions, payment shall be made as follows, based on the bulk net weight of such parcels included in each dispatch :

6 cents per pound for parcels for the United States of America.

3 cents per pound for parcels for the U. S. Virgin Islands, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, and Samoa.

6 cents per pound for parcels for Alaska.

3. In addition, the following transit charges, based on the bulk net weight of the parcels, shall be paid for prepaid parcels, ordinary or insured, sent to the possessions of the United States of America :

Transit charges.

6 cents per pound when only sea service is provided.

10 cents per pound when only land service is provided.

13 cents per pound when both land and sea service are provided.

4. The terminal quotas and transit charges above mentioned may be reduced or increased on three months previous notice given by one country to the other. These reductions or increases shall hold good for at least one year.

Terminal quotas and transit charges, modifications.

5. For each insured parcel exchanged between the two Administrations, one cent will be allowed to the country of destination as an insurance terminal credit in addition to the terminal credits stated in Section 2. Also, for insured parcels for the possessions of the United States in addition to the transit charges stated in Section 3 above, there will be paid an insurance credit of one cent for each land or sea service involved.

Insurance terminal credits.

6. The amounts to be allowed in respect of parcels sent from one Administration to the other for onward transmission to a third country shall be fixed by the intermediary Administration.

Forwarding allowance.

ARTICLE V.

Sea rate.

Each of the two Administrations shall be entitled to fix the rate for any sea service which it provides.

Sea rate.

ARTICLE VI.

Fee for clearance through the Customs. Fee for delivery to the addressee.

The Administration of destination may collect in respect of delivery to the addressee and in respect of delivery to the Customs and clearance through the Customs, or in respect of delivery to the Customs only, a fee not exceeding 50 centimes per parcel or such other fee as it may from time to time fix for similar services in its parcel-post relations with other countries generally.

Collection of fees.

ARTICLE VII.

Customs and other non-postal charges.

Customs charges and all other non-postal charges shall be paid by the addressees of parcels, except as provided otherwise in this Agreement.

Payment by addressees; exception.

ARTICLE VIII.

Warehousing charge.

Warehousing charge.

Each of the two Administrations may collect any warehousing charge fixed by its regulations for a parcel which is addressed "Poste Restante" or which is not claimed within the prescribed period.

This charge shall in no case exceed five francs.

ARTICLE IX.

Prohibitions.

Postal parcels, restriction.

1. Postal parcels must not contain any letter, note, or document having the character of an actual and personal correspondence, or packets of any kind bearing an address other than that of the addressee of the parcel or of persons dwelling with him.

Exception.

It is, however, permissible to enclose in a parcel an open invoice confined to the particulars which constitute an invoice.

Articles prohibited transmission.

2. It is also forbidden to enclose in a parcel:

(a) Articles which from their nature or packing may be a source of danger to postal employees or may soil or damage other parcels.

(b) Explosive, inflammable, or dangerous substances (including loaded metal caps, live cartridges, and matches).

(c) Living animals, except bees, leeches, and silkworms which must be packed in suitably constructed boxes.

(d) Articles the admission of which is forbidden by law, or by the customs or other regulations.

(e) Articles of an obscene or immoral nature.

Coin; gold, etc.

It is, moreover, forbidden to send coin; platinum, gold, or silver, whether manufactured or unmanufactured; precious stones, jewelry, or other precious articles in uninsured parcels.

Parcel wrongly admitted, disposition.

3. A parcel which has been wrongly admitted to the post shall be returned to the country of origin, unless the Administration of destination is authorized by its regulations to dispose of it otherwise.

Parcel containing letter.

Nevertheless, the fact that a parcel contains a letter or communications which constitute an actual and personal correspondence shall not, in any case, entail return of the parcel to the country of origin.

Disposition of explosives, etc.

4. Explosive, inflammable, or dangerous substances and articles of an obscene or immoral nature shall not be returned to the country of origin; they shall be disposed of by the Administration which has found them in the mails in accordance with its own internal regulations.

Parcel wrongly admitted, advice of treatment.

5. If a parcel wrongly admitted to the post is neither returned to origin nor delivered to the addressee, the Administration of origin shall be informed in a precise manner of the treatment accorded to the parcel in order that it may take such steps as are necessary.

ARTICLE X.

Advice of delivery.

Advice of delivery.

1. The sender may obtain an advice of delivery for an insured parcel under the conditions prescribed for postal packets by the Convention of the Postal Union. An advice of delivery cannot be obtained for an uninsured parcel.

Fee.

2. The Administration of origin may collect from the sender who requests an advice of delivery, such fee as may from time to time be prescribed by its regulations.

ARTICLE XI.

Redirection.

1. A parcel may be redirected in consequence of the addressee's change of address in the country of destination. The Administration of destination may collect the redirection charge prescribed by its internal regulations. Similarly, a parcel may be redirected from one of the two countries which are parties to this Agreement to another country, provided that the parcel complies with the conditions required for its further conveyance and provided, as a rule, that the extra postage is prepaid at the time of redirection, or documentary evidence is produced that the addressee will pay it.

Redirection.

2. Additional charges levied in respect of redirection and not paid by the addressee or his representative shall not be canceled in case of further redirection or of return to origin, but shall be collected from the addressee or from the sender as the case may be, without prejudice to the payment of any special charges incurred which the Administration of destination does not agree to cancel.

ARTICLE XII.

Missent parcels.

Parcels received out of course, or wrongly allowed to be dispatched, shall be retransmitted or returned in accordance with the provisions of Article 1, Section 2, and Article 15, Sections 1 and 2, of the Detailed Regulations.

Missent parcels.

Post, pp. 1847, 1851.

ARTICLE XIII.

Non-delivery.

1. The sender may request at the time of posting that, if the parcel cannot be delivered as addressed, it be either (a) treated as abandoned, or (b) tendered for delivery at a second address in the country of destination. No other alternative is admissible. If the sender avails himself of this facility, his request must appear on the dispatch note and must be in conformity with or analogous to one of the following forms:

Nondelivery.

"If not deliverable as addressed, abandon."

"If not deliverable as addressed, deliver to _____"

The same request must also be written on the cover of the parcel.

2. In the absence of a request by the sender to the contrary, a parcel that cannot be delivered shall be returned to the sender without previous notification and at his expense thirty days after its arrival at the office of destination.

Nevertheless, a parcel which is definitely refused by the addressee shall be returned immediately.

3. The charges due on returned undeliverable parcels shall be recovered in accordance with the provisions of Article XXVIII.

Post, p. 1845.

ARTICLE XIV.

Cancellation of customs charges.

The customs charges on parcels sent back to the country of origin or redirected to another country shall be canceled both in Barbados and the United States of America.

Cancellation of customs charges.

ARTICLE XV.

Sale. Destruction.

Articles of which the early deterioration or corruption is to be expected, and these only, may be sold immediately, even when in transit

Sale or destruction.

on the outward or return journey, without previous notice or judicial formality. If for any reason a sale is impossible, the spoilt or putrid articles shall be destroyed.

ARTICLE XVI.

Abandoned parcels.

Abandoned parcels.

Parcels which cannot be delivered to the addressees and which the senders have abandoned shall not be returned by the Administration of destination, but shall be treated in accordance with its regulations. No claim shall be made by the Administration of destination against the Administration of origin in respect of such parcels.

ARTICLE XVII.

Inquiries.

Inquiries.

1. A fee not exceeding 60 centimes may be charged for every inquiry concerning a parcel.

No fee shall be charged if the sender has already paid the special fee for an advice of delivery.

2. Inquiries shall be admitted only if made by the sender within the period of one year from the day following the date of posting of the parcel.

3. When an inquiry is the outcome of an irregularity in the postal service, the inquiry fee shall be refunded.

ARTICLE XVIII.

Insured parcels. Rates and conditions.

Insured parcels.

1. Parcels may be insured up to the sum of £20 in Barbados, or $100 in the United States of America.

Insurance fee.

2. The Administration of origin is entitled to collect from the sender of an insured parcel, an insurance fee fixed according to its internal regulations.

Dispatch fee.

3. The Administration of origin is also entitled to collect from the sender of an insured parcel a dispatch fee not exceeding 50 centimes.

Receipt.

4. A receipt must be given free of charge at the time of posting to the sender of an insured parcel.

ARTICLE XIX.

Fraudulent insurance.

Fraudulent insurance.

The insured value may not exceed the actual value of the contents of the parcel, but it is permitted to insure only part of this value.

The fraudulent insurance of a parcel for a sum exceeding the actual value shall be subject to any legal proceedings which may be admitted by the laws of the country of origin.

A parcel the contents of which have no pecuniary value may, however, be insured for a nominal sum in order to obtain the safeguards of the insurance system.

ARTICLE XX.

Responsibility for loss, damage, or abstraction.

Insured parcels.

1. Except in the cases mentioned in the following article, the two Administrations shall be responsible for the loss of insured parcels and for the loss, damage, or abstraction of their contents or of a part thereof.

The sender or other rightful claimant is entitled under this head to compensation corresponding to the actual amount of the loss, abstraction, or damage. The amount of compensation for an insured parcel shall not exceed the amount for which it was insured.

In cases where the loss, damage, or abstraction occurs in the service of the country of destination, the Administration of destination may pay compensation to the addressee at its own expense and without consulting the Administration of origin, provided that the addressee can prove that the sender has waived his rights in the addressee's favor.

2. In calculating the amount of compensation, indirect loss or loss of profits shall not be taken into consideration.

3. Compensation shall be calculated on the current price of goods of the same nature at the place and time at which the goods were accepted for transmission or, in the absence of current price, at the ordinary estimated value.

4. Where compensation is due for the loss, destruction, or complete damage of an insured parcel or for the abstraction of the whole of the contents, the sender is entitled to return of the postage also, if claimed.

5. In all cases, the insurance fees and, if the case arises, the dispatch fee shall be retained by the Administrations concerned.

6. In the absence of special agreement to the contrary between the countries involved, which agreement may be made by correspondence, no indemnity will be paid by either country for the loss of transit insured parcels; that is, parcels originating in a country not participating in this Agreement and destined for one of the two contracting countries or parcels originating in one of the two contracting countries and destined for a country not participating in this Agreement.

7. When an insured parcel originating in one country and destined to be delivered in the other country is reforwarded from there to a third country or is returned to a third country at the request of the sender or of the addressee, the party entitled to the indemnity in case of loss, rifling, or damage occurring subsequent to the reforwarding or return of the parcel by the original country of destination can lay claim, in such a case, only to the indemnity which the country where the loss, rifling, or damage occurred consents to pay, or which that country is obliged to pay in accordance with the agreement made between the countries directly interested in the reforwarding or return. Either of the two countries signing the present Agreement which wrongly forwards an insured parcel to a third country is responsible to the sender to the same extent as the country of origin, that is, within the limits of the present Agreement.

ARTICLE XXI.

Exceptions to the principle of responsibility.

The two Administrations shall be relieved from all responsibility:

- (a) In cases beyond control (force majeure).
- (b) When, their responsibility not having been proved otherwise, they are unable to account for parcels in consequence of the destruction of official documents through a cause beyond control (force majeure).
- (c) When the damage has been caused by the fault or negligence of the sender, or when it arises from the nature of the article.
- (d) For parcels the contents of which fall under the ban of one of the prohibitions mentioned in Article IX.
- (e) For parcels which have been fraudulently insured for a sum exceeding the actual value of the contents, or parcels seized by the Customs for false declaration of contents.

Compensation.

Return of postage on loss of parcel.

Retention of fees.

Loss of transit insured parcels.

Insured parcels re-forwarded to a third country, etc.

Exceptions to the principle of responsibility.

(f) In respect of parcels regarding which the sender has not made inquiry within the period prescribed by Article XVII.

(g) In respect of any parcels containing precious stones, jewelry, or any article of gold, silver, or platinum exceeding $500 or £100 in value not packed in a box of the size prescribed by Article 6, Section 3, of the Detailed Regulations.

Post, p. 1849.

(h) For parcels which contain matter of no intrinsic value or perishable matter, or which do not conform to the stipulations of this Agreement, or which were not posted in the manner prescribed; but the country responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage may pay indemnity in respect of such parcels without recourse to the other Administration.

ARTICLE XXII.

Termination of responsibility.

Termination of responsibility.

The two Administrations shall cease to be responsible for parcels which have been delivered in accordance with their internal regulations and of which the owners or their agents have accepted delivery without reservation.

Responsibility is, however, maintained when the addressee or, in case of return, the sender makes reservations in taking delivery of a parcel the contents of which have been abstracted or damaged.

ARTICLE XXIII.

Payment of compensation.

Payment of compensation.

The payment of compensation shall be undertaken by the Administration of origin except in the cases indicated in Article XX, Section 1, where payment is made by the Administration of destination. The Administration of origin may, however, after obtaining the sender's consent, authorize the Administration of destination to settle with the addressee. The paying Administration retains the right to make a claim against the Administration responsible.

ARTICLE XXIV.

Period for payment of compensation.

Period for payment of compensation.

1. Compensation shall be paid as soon as possible and, at the latest, within one year from the day following the date of the inquiry.

2. The Administration responsible for making payment is authorized to settle with the claimant on behalf of the other Administration if the latter, after being duly informed of the application, has let nine months pass without giving a decision in the matter.

3. The Administration responsible for making payment may, exceptionally, postpone it beyond the period of one year when a decision has not yet been reached upon the question whether the loss, damage, or abstraction is due to a cause beyond control.

ARTICLE XXV.

Incidence of cost of compensation.

Incidence of cost of compensation.

1. Until the contrary is proved responsibility shall rest with the Administration which, having received the parcel from the other Administration without making any reservation and having been furnished with all the particulars for investigation prescribed by the regulations, cannot establish either proper delivery to the addressee or his agent, or other proper disposal of the parcel.

2. When the loss, rifling, or damage of an insured parcel is detected upon opening the receptacle at the receiving exchange office and after it has been regularly pointed out to the dispatching exchange office, the responsibility falls on the Administration to which the latter office belongs, unless it be proved that the irregularity occurred in the service of the receiving Administration.

3. If, in the case of a parcel dispatched from one of the two countries for delivery in the other, the loss, damage, or abstraction has occurred in course of conveyance without it being possible to prove in the service of which country the irregularity took place, the two Administrations shall bear the amount of compensation in equal shares.

4. By paying compensation, the Administration concerned takes over to the extent of the amount paid, the rights of the person who has received compensation in any action which may be taken against the addressee, the sender, or a third party.

5. If a parcel which has been regarded as lost is subsequently found, in whole or in part, the person to whom compensation has been paid shall be informed that he is at liberty to take possession of the parcel against repayment of the amount paid as compensation.

ARTICLE XXVI.

Repayment of the compensation to the Administration of origin.

The Administration responsible or on whose account the payment is made in accordance with Article XXIII is bound to repay the amount of the compensation within a period of six months after notification of payment. The amount shall be recovered from the Administration responsible through the accounts provided for in Article 21 of the Detailed Regulations.

The Administration of which the responsibility is duly proved and which has originally declined to pay compensation is bound to bear all the additional charges resulting from the unwarranted delay in payment.

ARTICLE XXVII.

Credits for conveyance.

For each parcel dispatched from one of the two countries for delivery in the other, the dispatching office shall allow to the office of destination the rates which accrue to it by virtue of the provisions of Articles IV and V.

For each parcel dispatched from one of the two countries in transit through the other, the dispatching office shall allow to the other office the rates due for the conveyance and insurance of the parcel.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

Claims in case of redirection or return.

In case of the redirection or return of a parcel from one country to the other, the retransmitting Administration shall claim from the other Administration the charges due to it and to any other Administration taking part in the redirection or return. The claim shall be made on the parcel bill relating to the mail in which the parcel is forwarded.

Repayments.

Post, p. 1853.

Credits for conveyance.

Ante, p. 1839.

Claims in case of redirection or return.

ARTICLE XXIX.

Charge for redirection in the country of destination.

Charge for redirection in country of destination.

In case of further redirection or return to the country of origin, the redirection charge prescribed by Article XI shall accrue to the country which redirected the parcel within its own territory.

ARTICLE XXX.

Miscellaneous fees.

Miscellaneous fees.

The following fees shall be retained in full by the Administration which has collected them:

- (a) The fee for advice of delivery referred to in Article X.
- (b) The inquiry fee referred to in Article XVII, Section 1.
- (c) The dispatch fee for an insured parcel referred to in Article XVIII, Section 3.
- (d) The delivery fee and the fee for customs clearance referred to in Article VI.

ARTICLE XXXI.

Miscellaneous provisions.

Francs and centimes.
Post, p. 2062.

1. The francs and centimes mentioned in this Agreement are gold francs and centimes as defined in the Universal Postal Union Convention.

Postal charges.

2. Parcels shall not be subjected to any postal charges other than those contemplated in this Agreement except by mutual consent of the two Administrations.

Temporary suspension of service.

3. In extraordinary circumstances either Administration may temporarily suspend the parcel-post service, either entirely or partially, on condition of giving immediate notice, if necessary by telegraph, to the other Administration.

Mutual arrangement of details.

4. The two Administrations have drawn up the following Detailed Regulations for insuring the execution of the present Agreement. Further matters of detail, not inconsistent with the general provisions of this Agreement and not provided for in the Detailed Regulations may be arranged from time to time by mutual consent.

Application of internal regulations.

5. The internal regulations of Barbados and of the United States of America shall remain applicable as regards everything not provided for by the stipulations contained in the present Agreement and in the Detailed Regulations for its execution.

ARTICLE XXXII.

Entry into force and duration of the Agreement.

Entry into force and duration of Agreement.

This Agreement shall come into force on the 1st day of November, 1938, and shall remain in operation until the expiration of one year from the date on which it may have been denounced by either of the two Administrations.

Signatures.

In witness whereof the undersigned, duly authorized for that purpose, have signed the present Agreement, and have affixed their seals thereto.

Done in duplicate at Washington on the 13th day of September 1939 and at Bridgetown on the 14 day of August 1939.

DETAILED REGULATIONS FOR CARRYING OUT THE PARCEL POST AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE POSTAL ADMINISTRATION OF BARBADOS AND THE POSTAL ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMER-ICA.

ARTICLE 1.

Circulation.

1. Each Administration shall forward by the routes and means which it uses for its own parcels, parcels delivered to it by the other Administration for conveyance in transit through its territory.

Circulation.

2. Missent parcels shall be retransmitted to their proper destination, by the most direct route at the disposal of the office retransmitting them. Insured parcels, when missent, may not be reforwarded to their destination except as insured mail. If this is impossible, they must be returned to origin.

ARTICLE 2.

Method of transmission. Provision of bags.

1. The exchange of parcels between the two countries shall be effected by the offices appointed by agreement between the two Administrations. The parcels shall be dispatched to the country of destination by the country of origin at its cost and by such means as it provides.

Method of transmission.

2. Parcels shall be exchanged between the two countries in bags duly fastened and sealed.

Provisions as to bags.

In the absence of any arrangement to the contrary, the transmission of parcels dispatched by one of the two contracting countries in transit through the other shall be effected "à découvert".

3. A label showing the office of exchange of origin and the office of exchange of destination shall be attached to the neck of each bag, the number of parcels contained in the bag being indicated on the back of the label.

4. The bag containing the parcel bill and other documents shall be distinctively labeled.

5. Insured parcels shall be forwarded in separate bags. The neck label attached to any bag containing one or more insured parcels shall be marked with any distinctive symbol that may from time to time be agreed upon by the two Administrations.

6. The weight of any bag of parcels shall not exceed 36 kilograms (80 pounds avoirdupois).

7. The Postal Administrations of Barbados and of the United States of America shall provide the respective bags necessary for the dispatch of their parcels and each bag shall be marked to show the name of the office or country to which it belongs.

8. Bags must be returned empty to the dispatching office by the next mail. Empty bags to be returned are to be made up in bundles of ten, enclosing nine bags in one. The total number of bags returned shall be entered on the relative parcel bills.

9. Each Administration shall be required to make good the value of any bags which it fails to return.

ARTICLE 3.

Information to be furnished.

Information to be furnished.

1. Each Administration shall communicate to the other Administration all necessary information on points of detail in connection with the exchange of parcels between the two Administrations and also:—

(a) The names of the countries to which it can forward parcels handed over to it.

(b) The routes available for transmission of the said parcels from the point of entry into its territory or into its service.

(c) The total amount to be credited to it by the other Administration for each destination.

(d) The number of customs declarations which must accompany each parcel.

(e) Any other necessary information.

2. Each Administration shall make known to the other the names of the countries to which it intends to send parcels in transit through the other.

ARTICLE 4.

Fixing of equivalents.

Fixing of equivalents.

In fixing the charges for parcels, either Administration shall be at liberty to adopt such approximate equivalents as may be convenient in its own currency.

ARTICLE 5.

Make-up of parcels.

Make-up of parcels.

Every parcel shall:—

(a) Bear the exact name and address of the sender and of the addressee in Roman characters. Addresses in pencil shall not be allowed except that parcels bearing addresses written with indelible pencil on a previously dampened surface shall be accepted. The address shall be written on the parcel itself or on a label so firmly attached to it that it cannot become detached. The sender of a parcel shall be advised to enclose in the parcel a copy of the address together with a note of his own address.

Parcels on which the name of the sender or of the addressee is indicated merely by initials are not admitted, unless the initials are the adopted trade name of the sender or addressee which is generally understood.

Packing.

(b) Be packed in a manner adequate for the length of the journey and for the protection of the contents.

Articles liable to injure postal employees or to damage other parcels shall be so packed as to prevent any risk.

Ordinary parcels may be sealed at the option of the sender, or careful tying is sufficient as a mode of closing.

ARTICLE 6.

Special packing.

Special packing.

1. Liquids and substances which easily liquefy shall be packed in two receptacles. Between the first receptacle (bottle, flask, pot, box, etc.) and the second (box of metal or of stout wood, strong carton of fibreboard, or receptacle of equal strength) shall be left a space which shall be filled with sawdust, bran, or some other absorbent material in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid contents in the case of breakage.

2. Dry coloring powders such as aniline blue, etc., shall be admitted only if enclosed in stout metal boxes placed inside wooden boxes with sawdust between the two receptacles.

3. Every parcel containing precious stones, jewelry, or any article of gold, silver, or platinum exceeding $500 or £100 in value shall be packed in a box measuring not less than 3 feet 6 inches (1.05 meters) in length and girth combined.

ARTICLE 7.

Customs declarations and dispatch notes.

1. The sender shall prepare one customs declaration and one dispatch note for each parcel sent from either country, on a special form provided for the purpose by the country of origin.

Customs declarations and dispatch notes.

The customs declaration shall give a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement in detail of its contents and value, date of mailing, gross weight, the sender's name and address, and the name and address of the addressee; and shall be securely attached to the parcel.

However, as an exception to the foregoing, the use of only one customs declaration may be allowed for a single consignment of any number of uninsured parcels sent by the same sender to the same addressee at the same time. In this case the customs declaration shall show, in addition to the particulars set forth in the preceding paragraph, the total number of parcels comprising the shipment, and shall be securely attached to one of the parcels. The parcels comprising the entire shipment shall be clearly marked in such case with a fractional number, the numerator of which will indicate, in arabic figures, the number of the parcel, and the denominator the number of parcels comprising the shipment; for example, if a single shipment were composed of 15 parcels, each parcel would be numbered respectively 1/15, 2/15, 3/15, etc.

The dispatch note shall also be securely attached to the parcel.

2. The Administrations accept no responsibility for the correctness of the customs declarations or dispatch notes.

ARTICLE 8.

Advice of delivery.

1. Insured parcels for which the senders request an advice of delivery shall be very prominently marked "Advice of delivery" or "A. R."

Advice of delivery.

2. Such parcels shall be accompanied by a form similar to that annexed to the Detailed Regulations of the Convention of the Universal Postal Union. This advice of delivery form shall be prepared by the office of origin or by any other office appointed by the Administration of origin and shall be firmly attached to the dispatch note of the parcel to which it relates in the case of parcels sent to Barbados and to the parcel to which it relates in the case of parcels sent to the United States of America. If it does not reach the office of destination, that office shall make out officially a new advice of delivery form.

3. The office of destination, after having duly filled out the form, shall return it, by ordinary post, unenclosed and free of postage to the address of the sender of the parcel.

4. When the sender makes inquiry concerning an advice of delivery which has not been returned to him after a reasonable interval, action shall be taken in accordance with the rules laid down in Article 9 following. In that case a second fee shall not be charged, and the office of origin shall enter at the top of the form the words "Duplicate advice of delivery".

ARTICLE 9.

Advice of delivery applied for after posting.

Advice of delivery applied for after posting.

When the sender applies for an advice of delivery after an insured parcel has been posted, the office of origin or any other office appointed by the Administration of origin shall fill up an advice of delivery form and shall attach it to a form of inquiry to which postage stamps representing the fee prescribed by the Convention of the Universal Postal Union have been affixed.

The form of inquiry accompanied by the advice of delivery form shall be treated according to the provisions of Article 18 with the single exception that, in the case of the due delivery of the parcel, the office of destination shall withdraw the form of inquiry and shall return the advice of delivery form in the manner prescribed in paragraph 3 of the preceding Article.

ARTICLE 10.

Indication of insured value.

Indication of insured value.

Every insured parcel and the relative dispatch note shall bear an indication of the insured value in the currency of the country of origin. The indication on the parcel shall be both in words and in figures.

ARTICLE 11.

Insurance numbers, labels, and seals.

Insurance numbers, labels, and seals.

Every insured parcel and its dispatch note as well shall bear on the address side an insurance number and a small red label with the indication "Insured" or "Valeur déclarée" in large letters or these words shall be marked or stamped on the parcel and on the dispatch note.

The wax or other seals, the labels of whatever kind, and any postage stamps affixed to insured parcels shall be so spaced that they cannot conceal injuries to the cover. Moreover, the labels and postage stamps, if any, shall not be folded over two sides of the cover so as to hide the edge.

ARTICLE 12.

Sealing of parcels.

Sealing of insured parcels.

Every insured parcel shall be sealed by means of wax or by lead or other seals, the seals being sufficient in number to render it impossible to tamper with the contents without leaving an obvious trace of violation. Either Administration may require a special design or mark of the sender on the sealing of insured parcels mailed in its service, as a means of protection.

The Customs Administration of the country of destination is authorized to open the parcels. To that end, the seals or other fastenings may be broken. Parcels opened by the Customs must be refastened and also officially resealed.

The senders of insured parcels shall be strongly recommended to furnish the relative dispatch note, whenever possible, with an exact reproduction of the seal referred to above.

ARTICLE 13.

Indication of weight of insured parcels.

The exact weight in grams or in pounds and ounces of each insured parcel shall be entered by the Administration of origin :—

Indication of weight of insured parcels.

- (a) On the address side of the parcel.
- (b) On the dispatch note, in the place reserved for this purpose.

ARTICLE 14.

Date-stamp impression.

Each parcel and the relative dispatch note shall be impressed by the office of posting, on the address side, with a stamp showing the place and date of posting.

Date-stamp impression.

ARTICLE 15.

Retransmission.

1. The Administration retransmitting a missent parcel shall not levy customs or other non-postal charges upon it.

Retransmission.

When an Administration returns such a parcel to the country from which it has been directly received, it shall refund the credits received and report the error by means of a verification note.

In other cases, and if the amount credited to it is insufficient to cover the expenses of retransmission which it has to defray, the retransmitting Administration shall allow to the Administration to which it forwards the parcel the credits due for onward conveyance; it shall then recover the amount of the deficiency by claiming it from the office of exchange from which the missent parcel was directly received. The reason for this claim shall be notified to the latter by means of a verification note.

2. When a parcel has been wrongly allowed to be dispatched in consequence of an error attributable to the postal service and has for this reason to be returned to the country of origin, the Administration which sends the parcel back shall allow to the Administration from which it was received the sums credited in respect of it.

3. The charges on a parcel redirected, in consequence of the removal of the addressee or of an error on the part of the sender, to a country with which Barbados or the United States of America has parcel-post communication shall be claimed from the Administration to which the parcel is forwarded, unless the charge for conveyance is paid at the time of redirection, in which case the parcel shall be dealt with as if it had been addressed directly from the retransmitting country to the new country of destination. In case the third country to which the parcel is forwarded refuses to assume the charges because they cannot be collected from the sender or the addressee, as the case may be, or for any other reason, they shall be charged back to the country of origin.

4. A parcel which is redirected unpaid shall be retransmitted in its original packing and shall be accompanied by the original dispatch note. If the parcel, for any reason whatsoever, has to be repacked or if the original dispatch note has to be replaced by a substitute note, the name of the office of origin of the parcel and the original serial number and, if possible, the date of posting at that office shall be entered both on the parcel and on the dispatch note.

ARTICLE 16.

Return of undeliverable parcels.

Return of undeliverable parcels.
Ante, p. 1841.

1. If the sender of an undeliverable parcel has made a request not provided for by Article XIII, Section 1, of the Agreement, the Administration of destination need not comply with it but may return the parcel to the country of origin, after retention for the prescribed period.

2. The Administration which returns a parcel to the sender shall indicate clearly and concisely on the parcel and on the relative dispatch note the cause for non-delivery. This information may be furnished in manuscript or by means of a stamped impression or a label. The original dispatch note belonging to the returned parcel must be sent back to the country of origin with the parcel.

3. A parcel to be returned to the sender shall be entered on the parcel bill with the word "Rebut" in the "Observations" column. It shall be dealt with and charged like a parcel redirected in consequence of the removal of the addressee.

ARTICLE 17.

Sale. Destruction.

Sale or destruction.
Ante, p. 1841.

When an insured parcel has been sold or destroyed in accordance with the provisions of Article XV of the Agreement, a report of the sale or destruction shall be prepared, a copy of which shall be transmitted to the Administration of origin.

ARTICLE 18.

Inquiries concerning parcels.

Inquiries concerning parcels.

For inquiries concerning parcels which have not been returned, a form shall be used similar to the specimen annexed to the Detailed Regulations of the Parcel Post Agreement of the Universal Postal Union. These forms shall be forwarded to the offices appointed by the two Administrations to deal with them and they shall be dealt with in the manner mutually arranged between the two Administrations.

ARTICLE 19.

Parcel bill.

Parcel bills.

1. Separate parcel bills must be prepared for the ordinary parcels on the one hand, and for the insured parcels on the other hand.

The parcel bills are prepared in duplicate. The original is sent in the regular mails, while the duplicate is inserted in one of the sacks. The sack containing the parcel bill is designated by the letter "F" traced in a conspicuous manner on the label.

2. The ordinary parcels included in each dispatch are to be entered on the parcel bills to show the total number of parcels and the total net weight thereof.

3. Insured parcels shall be entered individually on the parcel bills to show the insurance number and the name of the office of origin. The parcel bills must also show the total net weight of the parcels.

4. Parcels sent "à découvert" must be entered separately on the parcel bills.

5. Returned or redirected parcels must be entered individually on the parcel bills and be followed by the word "Returned" or "Redirected" as the case may be. A statement of the charges which may be due on these parcels should be shown in the "Observations" column.

6. The total number of sacks comprising each dispatch must also be shown on the parcel bills.

7. Each dispatching exchange office numbers the parcel bills in the upper left-hand corner in accordance with an annual series. The last number of the preceding year must be mentioned on the first bill of the following year.

8. The exact method of advising parcels or the receptacles containing them sent by one Administration in transit through the other together with any details of procedure in connection with the advice of such parcels or receptacles for which provision is not made in this Agreement, shall be settled by mutual agreement through correspondence between the two Administrations.

ARTICLE 20.

Check by offices of exchange. Notification of irregularities.

1. Upon receipt of a dispatch, the exchange office of destination proceeds to verify it. The entries in the parcel bill must be verified exactly. Each error or omission must be brought immediately to the knowledge of the dispatching exchange office by means of a bulletin of verification. A dispatch is considered as having been found in order in all regards when no bulletin of verification is made up.

If an error or irregularity is found upon receipt of a dispatch, all objects which may serve later on for investigation or for examination of requests for indemnity, must be kept.

2. The dispatching exchange office to which a bulletin of verification is sent, returns it after having examined it and entered thereon its observations, if any. That bulletin is then attached to the parcel bills of the parcels to which it relates. Corrections made on a parcel bill which are not justified by supporting papers are considered as devoid of value.

3. If necessary, the dispatching exchange office may also be advised by telegram, at the expense of the Office sending such telegram.

4. In case of shortage of a parcel bill, a duplicate is prepared, a copy of which is sent to the exchange office of origin of the dispatch.

5. The office of exchange which receives from a corresponding office a parcel which is damaged or insufficiently packed must redispach such parcel after repacking, if necessary, preserving the original packing as far as possible.

If the damage is such that the contents of the parcel may have been abstracted, the office must first officially open the parcel and verify its contents.

In either case, the weight of the parcel will be verified before and after repacking, and indicated on the wrapper of the parcel itself. That indication will be followed by the note "Repacked at _____" and the signature of the agents who have effected such repacking.

ARTICLE 21.

Accounting for credits.

1. At the end of each quarter, the creditor Administration makes up an account on the basis of the parcel bills.

2. These accounts shall be submitted to the examination of the corresponding Administration in the course of the month following the quarter to which they relate.

3. The recapitulation, transmission, examination, and acceptance of these accounts must not be delayed. The payment of the balances shall take place, at the latest, at the expiration of the following quarter.

Check by offices of exchange; notification of irregularities.

Accounting for credits.

4. The balance resulting from adjustment of the accounts between the two Administrations is paid by a sight draft drawn on the Capital or a commercial city of the creditor Administration, or by some means mutually agreed upon by correspondence. The expenses of payment are chargeable to the debtor Administration.

ARTICLE 22.

Entry into force and duration of the Detailed Regulations.

Entry into force and duration of the Detailed Regulations.

The present Detailed Regulations shall come into force on the day on which the Parcel Post Agreement comes into force and shall have the same duration as the Agreement. The Administration concerned shall, however, have the power by mutual consent to modify the details from time to time.

Signatures.

Done in duplicate at Washington on the 13th day of September 1939 and at Bridgetown on the 14 day of August 1939.

MINISTRY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS AND WORSHIP

D. A. P.

BUENOS AIRES, September 30, 1939.

MR. AMBASSADOR:

With reference to the Embassy's note No. 1022 of January 12 last,<sup>4</sup> I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that the Argentine Government agrees to conclude with the Government of the United States the following agreement proposed by the United States for the exchange of official publications:

There shall be a complete exchange of publications between the Government of the Argentine Republic and the Government of the United States of America, to be effected as follows:

1.—The office of official exchange on the part of the Argentine Republic is the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Worship, through the medium of its Fourth Section. The office of official exchange for the transmission of publications from the United States of America is the Smithsonian Institution.

2.—The remittance of such exchanged publications shall be received on behalf of the Argentine Republic by the Fourth Section of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Worship; on behalf of the United States of America by the Library of Congress.

3.—The Government of the Argentine Republic shall supply regularly in one copy a complete collection of the official publications of its various departments, offices, sections, and institutions. A list of these entities is enclosed.<sup>5</sup> This list shall be extended in such a way as to include, without requiring subsequent formalities, any new office which the Government may establish hereafter.

4.—The Government of the United States of America shall supply regularly in one copy a complete collection of the official publications of its various departments, offices, sections, and institutions. A list of these entities is enclosed.<sup>6</sup> This list shall be extended in such a way as to include, without requiring subsequent formalities, any new office which the Government may establish hereafter.

5.—With regard to entities which at present do not issue publications and which do not figure in the enclosed lists, it is understood that the publications which such entities may issue in the future shall be transmitted in one copy.

6.—Neither of the Governments shall be obliged by the present agreement to supply confidential publications, forms, or circulars that are not of a public character.

7.—Both contracting parties shall be responsible for postal, railway, maritime, and other expenses originating in their own country in fulfillment of the present agreement.

8.—Both parties express their desire to hasten, as much as possible, the forwarding of their publications.

9.—The present agreement shall not be considered as a modification of the agreements on exchange already existing between the entities of both Governments.

If Your Excellency's Government should be agreeable to the text quoted above, with the reception of an identical note from Your Excellency, my Government will consider the foregoing agreement to be concluded.

I avail myself of this opportunity to reiterate to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

JOSÉ MARÍA CANTILLO

The American Ambassador (Armour) to the Argentine Minister for Foreign Affairs and Worship (Cantillo)

No. 76            EMBASSY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
Buenos Aires, October 17, 1939.

EXCELLENCY:

In acknowledging the receipt of Your Excellency's note of September 30, 1939, I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that the Government of the United States agrees to conclude with the Government of the Argentine Republic the following agreement, proposed in the Embassy's note no. 1022 of January 12, 1939,<sup>7</sup> for the exchange of official publications.

<sup>5</sup> [See p. 1865.]

There shall be a complete exchange of official publications between the Government of Argentina and the Government of the United States, which shall be conducted in accordance with the following provisions:

"1. The official exchange office for the transmission of publications of the United States of America is the Smithsonian Institution. The official exchange office on the part of Argentina is the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

"2. The exchange sendings shall be received on behalf of the United States of America by the Library of Congress; on behalf of Argentina by the Fourth Section of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

"3. The Government of the United States of America shall furnish regularly in one copy a full set of the official publications of its several departments, bureaus, offices, and institutions. A list of such instrumentalities is attached (List No. 1).<sup>8</sup> This list shall be extended to include, without the necessity of subsequent negotiation, any new offices that the Government may create in the future.

"4. The Government of Argentina shall furnish regularly in one copy a full set of the official publications of its several departments, bureaus, offices, and institutions. A list of such departments is attached (List No. 2).<sup>9</sup> This list shall be extended to include, without the necessity of subsequent negotiation, any new offices that the Government may create in the future.

"5. With respect to instrumentalities which at this time do not issue publications and which are not mentioned in the attached lists, it is understood that publications issued in the future by those instrumentalities shall be furnished in one copy.

"6. Neither Government shall be obligated by this agreement to furnish confidential publications, blank forms, or circular letters not of a public nature.

"7. Each party to the agreement shall bear the postal, railroad, steamship, and other charges arising in its own country.

"8. Both parties express their willingness as far as possible to expedite shipments.

"9. This agreement shall not be understood to modify the already existing exchange agreements between the various instrumentalities of the two Governments".

In accordance with the suggestion contained in Your Excellency's note above referred to, the Government of the United States will consider this exchange of notes as constituting an agreement.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

Agreement and supplementary exchange of notes between the United States of America and Turkey respecting reciprocal trade. Signed at Ankara April 1, 1939; proclaimed by the President of the United States April 5, 1939; effective provisionally May 5, 1939; ratified by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey June 20, 1939; ratification by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey notified to the Government of the United States of America September 9, 1939; President's proclamation communicated to the Turkish Government November 20, 1939; effective definitively November 20, 1939; supplementary proclamation by the President of the United States November 30, 1939.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is provided in the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending Act was extended by Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), as follows:

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, §§ 1351-1352.
Ante, p. 107.

"Sec. 350. (a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and for such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part."

WHEREAS I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have found as a fact that certain existing duties and other import restrictions of the United States of America and the Turkish Republic are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States of America and that the purpose declared in the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the said Act of June 12, 1934, as extended by the said Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937, will be promoted by a foreign trade agreement between the United States of America and the Turkish Republic;

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, §§ 1351-1352.
Ante, p. 107.

WHEREAS reasonable public notice of the intention to negotiate such foreign trade agreement was given and the views presented by persons interested in the negotiation of such agreement were received and considered;

WHEREAS, after seeking and obtaining information and advice with respect thereto from the United States Tariff Commission, the Departments of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, and from other sources, I entered into a foreign Trade Agreement on April 1, 1939, through my duly empowered Plenipotentiaries, with the President of the Turkish Republic, through his duly empowered Plenipotentiaries, which Agreement, including two Schedules annexed thereto, in the English and Turkish languages, is in words and figures as follows:

TRADE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE TURKISH REPUBLIC

The President of the United States of America and the President of the Turkish Republic, being desirous of strengthening the traditional bonds of friendship and of extending commercial relations between the two countries by granting mutual and reciprocal concessions and Purpose declared.

Plenipotentiaries. advantages for the promotion of trade, have decided to conclude a Trade Agreement and for that purpose have appointed their Plenipotentiaries as follows:

The President of the United States of America:

Mr. John V. A. MacMurray, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Turkish Republic, and

Mr. Robert F. Kelley, First Secretary of Embassy of the United States of America; and

The President of the Turkish Republic:

Mr. Şükrü Saracoğlu, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Turkish Republic, and

Mr. Numan Menemencioğlu, Ambassador, Secretary General of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs;

Who, after communicating to each other their respective full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles:

ARTICLE 1

Imports from United States.
Post, p. 1878.

Natural or manufactured products originating in the United States of America, enumerated and described in Schedule I annexed to this Agreement, shall, on their importation into the territory of the Turkish Republic, be accorded the tariff reductions provided for in the said Schedule.

In the event that the Government of the Turkish Republic should increase the duties provided for in the said Schedule, such increased duties shall not be applied to the said products until two months after the date of their promulgation.

If before the expiration of the aforesaid period of two months an agreement between the two Governments has not been reached with respect to such compensatory modifications of this Agreement as may be deemed appropriate, the Government of the United States of America shall be free within fifteen days after the date of the application of such increased duties to terminate this Agreement in its entirety on thirty days' written notice.

ARTICLE 2

Imports from Turkish Republic.
Post, p. 1880.

Natural or manufactured products originating in the Turkish Republic, enumerated and described in Schedule II annexed to this Agreement, shall, on their importation into the United States of America, be exempt from ordinary customs duties in excess of those set forth and provided for in the said Schedule, subject to the conditions therein set out. The said products shall also be exempt from all other duties, taxes, fees, charges or exactions, imposed on or in connection with importation, in excess of those imposed on the day of the signature of this Agreement or required to be imposed thereafter under laws of the United States of America in force on the day of the signature of this Agreement.

ARTICLE 3

The provisions of Articles 1 and 2 of this Agreement shall not prevent the Government of either country from imposing at any time on the importation of any product a charge equivalent to an internal tax imposed in respect of a like domestic product or in respect of a product from which the imported product has been manufactured or produced in whole or in part.

Imposition of charges on imports.

ARTICLE 4

Natural or manufactured products originating in the United States of America or the Turkish Republic shall, after importation into the other country, be exempt from all internal taxes, fees, charges or exactions other or higher than those payable on like products of national or foreign origin.

Limitation on internal taxes, etc.

ARTICLE 5

Natural or manufactured products originating in the United States of America, enumerated and described in Schedule I, and natural or manufactured products originating in the Turkish Republic, enumerated and described in Schedule II, shall be permitted to be imported into the other country without any prohibition or restriction whatsoever.

Freedom of imports.

Post, p. 1878.

Post, p. 1880.

Nevertheless, the two Governments reserve the right to impose quantitative restrictions on the importation of products enumerated and described in the said schedules in conjunction with governmental measures

Quantitative restrictions.

- (a) operating to regulate the production or market supply or to control the prices of like domestic products or
- (b) tending to increase the labor costs of production of such products;

Provided, however, that the Government proposing to impose any such quantitative restriction is satisfied, in the case of measures described in subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, that such quantitative restriction is necessary to assure the effective operation of such measures, and, in the case of measures described in subparagraph (b), that such measures are causing the domestic production of the product concerned to be injuriously affected by imports which constitute an abnormal proportion of the total consumption of such product in relation to the proportion supplied in the past by foreign countries.

If the Government of either of the two countries proposes to establish or change such import restrictions, it shall give written notice thereof to the other Government at least two months before they are put into force. If an agreement between the two Governments concerning the proposed measures is not reached before the expiration of the said period of two months, the other Government shall be free, within fifteen days after the application of any such restriction or change, to terminate the present Agreement in its entirety on thirty days' written notice.

Notice of proposed change.

ARTICLE 6

Most-favored-nation
treatment.

Unconditional most-favored-nation treatment shall be accorded by the Government of each country to the commerce of the other country with respect to customs duties or charges imposed on or in connection with imports or exports and the method of levying such duties or charges, with respect to all regulations and formalities in connection with importation or exportation, the sale or use of imported products within the country, transit, warehousing, the transshipment of goods, the re-exportation of goods, and with respect to official charges applicable to these various operations.

Unconditional most-favored-nation treatment shall likewise be accorded by the Government of each country to the commerce of the other country with respect to all duties, charges or exactions other than customs duties imposed on or in connection with imports or exports.

In awarding contracts for public works and in purchasing non-military supplies, the Government of neither country shall discriminate against the other country in favor of any third country.

ARTICLE 7

No limitation, etc.,
upon imports; exceptions.

No prohibition, restriction or limitation of any kind shall be imposed by the Government of either country upon the importation of natural or manufactured products originating in the other country or upon the exportation of natural or manufactured products destined for the other country, except as provided below.

Imposition of quantitative restrictions,
etc.

Subject to the provisions of Article 5 of this Agreement, either of the two Governments may impose prohibitions or quantitative restrictions upon the importation of products originating in the other country as well as upon the exportation of products destined for the other country, provided that importation of the like products originating in all third countries, or exportation of the same products to all third countries, respectively, is similarly prohibited or restricted. If the Government of either country applies quantitative restrictions to the importation of any products in which the other country has an interest, and these restrictions are implemented by quantitative allocation among the various exporting countries, there shall be allocated to the other country a proportion of the total importations equivalent to the proportion of the imports of such product supplied by the other country during a representative period prior to the establishment of the restrictions in question.

Allocations.

ARTICLE 8

Control of means of international payment.

In the event that the Government of either of the two countries shall establish or maintain, either directly or indirectly, any form of control of the means of international payment, it shall, in all aspects of the administration of such control, accord to the other country unconditional most-favored-nation treatment.

It is agreed that this provision does not affect the provisions of Article 9.

ARTICLE 9

The Government of the Turkish Republic undertakes that, so long as it maintains, directly or indirectly, any form of control of the means of international payment, it will provide, in any calendar year, for the transfer of payments for commercial importations of natural or manufactured products originating in the United States of America, imported into the territory of the Turkish Republic during the calendar year in question, an amount of free foreign exchange which shall not be less, in proportion to the total value of the commercial imports of the Turkish Republic during the said calendar year, than the amount corresponding to the proportion of the total commercial imports supplied by the United States of America in the period from January 1, 1935 to December 31, 1937.

Free foreign exchange provisions.

ARTICLE 10

The provisions of this Agreement relating to the treatment to be accorded by the United States of America and the Turkish Republic, respectively, to the commerce of the other country shall apply, on the part of the United States of America, to the continental territory of the United States of America and such of its territories and possessions as are included in its customs territory on the day of the signature of this Agreement. The provisions of this Agreement relating to most-favored-nation treatment shall apply, however, to all the territories under the sovereignty or authority of the United States of America, other than the Panama Canal Zone.

Scope of Agreement.

ARTICLE 11

The provisions of this Agreement shall not apply to:

(a) advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by either country to adjacent countries in order to facilitate frontier traffic within a zone not exceeding fifteen kilometers on either side of the frontier;

Advantages to which provisions inapplicable. Adjacent countries.

(b) advantages resulting from a customs union to which either the United States of America or the Turkish Republic may become a party, so long as such advantages are not accorded to any third country;

Customs union.

(c) advantages which the Turkish Republic has accorded or may hereafter accord in the matter of the customs tariff affecting products originating within the territories detached in 1923 from the Ottoman Empire;

Territories detached from Ottoman Empire.

(d) advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions, or the Panama Canal Zone, to one another or to the Republic of Cuba, irrespective of any change in the political status of any of the territories or possessions of the United States of America.

U. S. trade with possessions, etc.

ARTICLE 12

Gold or silver. Nothing in the present Agreement shall be construed to prevent the adoption of measures prohibiting or restricting the exportation or importation of gold or silver, or to prevent the adoption of such measures as either Government may see fit with respect to the control of the export or sale for export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war, and, in exceptional circumstances, all other military supplies.

Arms, ammunition, etc.

Neutrality measures. Nothing in the present Agreement shall prevent the adoption or enforcement of measures relating to neutrality.

Provisions not to extend to certain prohibitions, etc. Subject to the requirement that, under like circumstances and conditions, there shall be no arbitrary discrimination by either country against the other country in favor of any third country, the provisions of this Agreement shall not extend to prohibitions or restrictions:

- (a) relative to public security;
- (b) imposed on moral or humanitarian grounds;
- (c) designed to protect public health or the life of animals or plants;
- (d) relative to prison-made goods; or
- (e) relative to measures taken for the enforcement of police or revenue laws.

ARTICLE 13

Adjustments. In the event that either the Government of the United States of America or the Government of the Turkish Republic adopts any measure which, even though it does not conflict with the terms of this Agreement, is considered by the Government of the other country to impair the effectiveness of the Agreement, the Government which has adopted any such measure shall consider such representations and proposals as the other Government may make with a view to effecting a mutually satisfactory adjustment of the matter. If no agreement is reached with respect to such representations or proposals within thirty days after they are received, the Government making them shall be free, within fifteen days after the expiration of the aforesaid period of thirty days, to terminate this Agreement in its entirety on sixty days' written notice.

Right to terminate Agreement.

ARTICLE 14

When rate of exchange prejudicial. In the event that the rate of exchange between the currencies of the United States of America and the Turkish Republic varies considerably from the rate obtaining on the day of the signature of this Agreement, the Government of either country, if it considers the change in rate so substantial as to prejudice the industry or commerce of the country, shall be free to propose negotiations for the modification of this Agreement. If such negotiations have not resulted in an agreement within a period of thirty days, the Government which has proposed them shall be free to terminate this Agreement in its entirety on thirty days' written notice.

ARTICLE 15

Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to affect the rights and obligations arising out of the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between the United States of America and the Turkish Republic, signed at Ankara on October 1, 1929.

Specified treaty not affected.
46 Stat. 2743.

ARTICLE 16

The present Agreement shall be proclaimed by the President of the United States of America and shall be ratified by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey.

Agreement to be proclaimed, etc.

The present Agreement shall come provisionally into force on May 5, 1939. The Agreement shall come definitively into force on the day on which the Government of the United States of America shall have communicated officially to the Government of the Turkish Republic the proclamation of the President of the United States of America and the Government of the Turkish Republic on its part shall have informed the Government of the United States of America of the ratification of the Agreement by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey.

Dates of coming into force.

The Agreement shall remain in force, subject to the provisions of Articles 1, 5, 13 and 14, until it is terminated in accordance with the provisions set forth below. The Government of either country may terminate this Agreement on December 31, 1939, December 31, 1940 or December 31, 1941, in each case on two months' written notice. After December 31, 1941, the Agreement, if not previously terminated, shall continue in force subject to the provisions of Articles 1, 5, 13 and 14 until six months from the day on which the Government of either country shall have given notice to the other Government of its intention to terminate the Agreement.

Duration.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed this Agreement and have affixed their seals hereto.

Signatures.

Done in duplicate, in the English and Turkish languages, both authentic, at the City of Ankara, this 1st day of April, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine.

ANKARA, April 1, 1939.

MR. AMBASSADOR:

I have the honor to refer to the provisions of the Trade Agreement between our two Governments signed this day and to inform Your Excellency that my understanding of the agreement with respect to the application of Article 9, reached during the negotiations, is as follows:

1. The total value of the commercial imports from the United States of America into the territory of the Turkish Republic during the period from January 1, 1935 to December 31, 1937, mentioned in Article 9, is 10.91 percent of the total value of the commercial imports of the Turkish Republic from all sources during the same period. It is agreed that, in determining the amount of free foreign exchange which shall be made available each year, this percentage shall be applied to the total value of the commercial imports into the territory of the Turkish Republic from all sources during the year in question, after deducting from such total value the amount by which the value of commercial imports resulting, during the same year, from the utilization of the credits provided for in the Agreement with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and North Ireland, signed on May 27, 1938, and the Agreement with Germany, the principles of which were established in October, 1938, at Ankara, exceeds the payments made during that year in accordance with the provisions of the said credit agreements. This deduction has been decided upon for the reason that the total value of commercial imports into the Turkish Republic will be temporarily increased to an abnormal extent by imports under the governmental credits mentioned above.

The amount of available free foreign exchange envisaged in Article 9, shall be applied to payments for commercial imports originating in all the territories under the sovereignty or authority of the United States of America.

2. The amount of free foreign exchange mentioned above which shall be made available each year under Article 9 shall be utilized for the transfer of payments for the said commercial imports in the chronological order in which requests for exchange are made.

3. In view of the fact that the Turkish Republic derives its principal supply of free foreign exchange from the export of products, the sale of which has a seasonal character, it is understood that it may not be possible to avoid temporary delays in making available free foreign exchange for the transfer of payments for commercial imports originating in the United States of America. It is agreed that the provisions of Article 9 do not preclude seasonal delays in making available free foreign exchange for transfer of the said payments within any calendar year.

4. If the Government of the Turkish Republic should not be in a position, through lack of free foreign exchange, as a result of unforeseen developments affecting adversely the commerce of the Turkish Republic, to make available the amount of free foreign exchange agreed upon in Article 9, the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Turkish Republic shall enter into negotiations for the purpose of reaching an arrangement satisfactory to the two Governments.

5. The present note constitutes an integral part of the Trade Agreement signed this day.

Accept, Mr. Ambassador, the assurances of my highest consideration.

murahhas tayin eylemişlerdir.

Mezkûr Murahhaslar salâhiyetnamelerini yekdiğerlerine tebliğ edip bunları usulüne muvafık bularak aşağıdaki maddeler üzerinde mutabık kalmışlardır:

MADDE I

Bu anlaşmaya merbut I sayılı listede tadat ve tarif edilmiş olan, Amerika Birleşik Devletleri menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalât, Türkiye Cumhuriyeti arazisine ithallerinde, mezkûr listede derpiş edilmiş bulunan tarife tenzilâtından istifade edeceklerdir.

Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Hükûmeti mezkûr listede derpiş edilmiş olan resimleri arttırdığı takdirde, bu suretle tezyit edilmiş olan resimler, neşirleri tarihinden iki ay geçmeden mezkûr müstahsalâta tatbik edilmeyecektir.

Salifüzzikir iki aylık müddetin inkızasından önce, iki Hükûmet arasında, bu anlaşmada münasip görülecek tavizi mutazammın tadilâta mütedair bir mutabakat hasıl olmadığı takdirde Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Hükûmeti, bu suretle tezyit edilmiş resimlerin tatbiki tarihinden itibaren on beş gün içinde, bu anlaşmanın tamamını, otuz gün evvelden tahriren ihbar etmek şartile feshetmekte serbest olacaktır.

MADDE 2

Bu anlaşmaya merbut II sayılı listede tarif ve tadat edilmiş olan, Türkiye Cumhuriyeti menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalât, Amerika Birleşik Devletlerine ithallerinde, mezkûr listede beyan olunan şartlar dahilinde, bu listede derpiş ve tesbit edilmiş olanların fevkinde alelâde gümrük resimlerinden muaf tutulacaktır. Mezkûr müstahsalât, bu anlaşmanın imzası tarihinde mevzu olanların veya bu anlaşmanın imzası gününde mer'î bulunan Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Kanunlarına müsteniden bilâhare vazedilmesi icap edecek olanların fevkinde ithalât üzerine mevzu veya ithalâtla münasebattar diğer bütün vergi, rüsum, ücret, harç veya mükellefiyetlerden de muaf tutulacaktır.

MADDE 3

Bu anlaşmanın 1 inci ve 2 nci maddeleri ahkâmı, iki memleketten birinin Hükûmetini, herhangi bir zamanda, herhangi bir müstahsalin ithaline, mümasil yerli bir müstahsale veya ithal olunan müstahsalin tamamen veya kısmen imal veya istihsalinde kullanılan bir müstahsale mevzu dahilî bir teklife muadil bir teklif vazetmekten menetmeyecektir.

MADDE 4

Amerika Birleşik Devletleri veya Türkiye Cumhuriyeti menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalât, diğer memlekete ithallerinden sonra, millî veya ecnebi menşeli mümasil müstahsaller için vacibütediye olanlardan gayri veya daha yüksek bütün dahilî rüsum, ücret, harç veya mükellefiyetlerden muaf tutulacaktır.

MADDE 5

I sayılı listede tadat ve tarif edilmiş olan, Amerika Birleşik Devletleri menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalât ile II sayılı listede tadat ve tarif edilmiş olan, Türkiye Cumhuriyeti menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalâtın, diğer memlekete, herhangi bir memnuiyet veya tahdide tâbi olmaksızın ithaline müsaade edilecektir.

Bununla beraber, her iki Hükûmet, Hükûmetlerce müttehaz:

- a) Mümasil yerli müstahsalâtın istihsalini veya piyasa mevcudunu tanzim veya fiatlarını kontrol etmeyi istihdaf eden veya
- b) bu kabil müstahsalâtın istihsaline müteallik işçilik maliyetini yükseltmeye müncer olabilecek tedbirler ile müterafik olarak, mezkûr listelerde tadat ve tarif edilmiş olan müstahsalâtın ithaline mikdar tahditleri vazetmek hakkını muhafaza eder. Bununla beraber, bu kabil mikdar tahdidi vazetmeyi düşünen Hükûmetin, bu fıkranın (a) bendinde tasrih olunan tedabirin mevzuubahs olması halinde bu kabil miktar tahdidinin bu gibi tedbirlerin müessir bir surette tatbikini temin için lüzumlu olduğuna ve (b) bendinde tasrih olunan tedabirin mevzuubahs olması halinde de, bu kabil tedbirlerin, mevzuubahs müstahsalin dahilî istihsaline, bu müstahsalin umumî istihlâkinin evvelce ecnebi memleketler tarafından temin olunan nisbetine nazaran gayri tabii bir nisbetini teşkil eden ithalât dolayısıyla muzir bir şekilde icrayı tesir edeceğine kanaat getirmiş olması meşruttur.

Her iki memlekettten birinin Hükûmeti, bu kabil ithalât tahdidatını tesis veya tadil etmeyi düşündüğü takdirde, bu tahdidatın mer'iyete konmasından en az iki ay evvel keyfiyeti diğer Hükûmete tahriren ihbar edecektir. Mezkûr iki aylık müddetin inkızasından önce, iki Hükûmet arasında, düşünülen tedbirlere müteallik bir mutabakat hasil olmadığı takdirde, diğer Hükûmet, bu kabil tahdid veya tādilin tatbikini müteakip 15 gün içinde, bu anlaşmanın tamamını, 30 gün evvelden tahriren ihbar etmek şartile feshetmekte serbest olacaktır.

MADDE 6

İki memlekettten her birinin Hükûmeti tarafından diğer memleketin ticaretine, ithalât veya ihracata mevzu veya bunlarla münasebattar olarak vazedilmiş olan gümrük resimleri veya harçlar ve bu kabil rüsum veya harçların istifa tarzı ve ithalât veya ihracata müteallik bütün nizamât ve merasim, memlekete ithal edilmiş olan müstahsalâtın satış veya istimali, emteanın transitî, antrepolara vaz'ı, aktarması, emteanın tekrar ihracı ve bu muhtelif amelîyelerin tabii olduğu resmî masarif hususunda şartsız en ziyade müsaadeye mazhar millet muamelesi bahşedilecektir.

İki memlekettten her birinin Hükûmeti tarafından diğer memleketin ticaretine, ithalât veya ihracata mevzu veya bunlarla münasebettar olarak vazedilmiş olan gümrük rüsumundan gayri bilûmum vergi, harç veya mükellefiyetler hususunda dahi şartsız en ziyade müsaadeye mazhar Millet muamelesi bahşedilecektir.

Nafia işlerine müteallik mukavelelerin akdi ve gayri askerî malzeme mübayaası hususunda iki memlekettten her birinin Hükûmeti diğer memlekete üçüncü bir memleket nef'ine olarak farklı bir muamele tatbik etmeyecektir.

MADDE 7

İki memlekettten her birinin Hükûmeti tarafından, diğer memleket menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalât ithalâtı veya diğer memlekete tabii veya mamul müstahsalât ihracatı üzerine, aşağıdaki hususat müstesna, hiçbir nevi memnuiyet, takyit veya tahdid vazedilmeyecektir.

İşbu anlaşmanın 5 inci maddesi ahkâmı mahfuz kalmak şartile, iki Hükûmetten her biri, diğer memleket menşeli müstahsalât ithalâtı üzerine olduğu gibi diğer memlekete müstahsalât ihracatı üzerine de memnuiyet veya miktar tahdidatı vazedebilir, bean şart ki bütün üçüncü memleketler menşeli mümâsil müstahsalât ithalâtı veya aynı müstahsalâtın bütün üçüncü memleketlere ihracatı, mütenazaran, müşabih surette men veya tahdid edilmiş olsun. İki memleketten her birinin Hükûmeti, diğer memleketin alâkadar bulunduğu herhangi bir müstahsal ithalâtı üzerine mikdar tahdidatı vazettiği ve bu tahditler muhtelif ihracatçı memleketler arasında mikdar tahsisatı verilmek suretile tatbik edildiği takdirde, diğer memlekete umumî ithalâtın, mevzuubahis tahdidatın tesisine tekaddüm eden temsilî bir devre zarfında diğer memleket tarafından temin olunan bu kabil müstahsal ithalâtı nisbetine muadil bir nisbeti tahsis edilecektir.

MADDE 8

İki memleketten her birinin Hükûmeti, beynelmilel tediye vasıtaları üzerinde, doğrudan doğruya veya bilvasıta, herhangi bir kontrol te'sis veya idame ettiği takdirde, bu kabil kontrolün tedvirinde her cephe-den diğer memlekete şartsız en ziyade müsaadeye mazhar millet muamelesi bahşedecektir.

Şurası mukarrerdir ki bu hüküm, 9 uncu madde ahkâmını ihlâl etmeyecektir.

MADDE 9

Türkiye Cümhuriyeti Hükûmeti, beynelmilel tediye vasıtaları kontrolünü herhangi bir şekilde, doğrudan doğruya veya bilvasıta, idame ettiği müddetce, herbir takvim yılında, mevzuubahis takvim yılında Türkiye Cümhuriyeti arazisine ithal edilen Amerika Birleşik Devletleri menşeli tabii veya mamul müstahsalâtın ticarî ithalâtına müteallik tediye transferi için, mezkûr takvim yılı zarfında Türkiye Cümhuriyetinin ticarî ithalâtının mecmu kıymetine nisbetle, Amerika Birleşik Devletlerinden 1 Kânunusani 1935 den 31 Kânunuevvel 1937 ye kadar olan müddet zarfında yapılmış olan ticarî ithalât mecmuu nisbetine tekabül eden meblâğdan dun olmayacak bir serbest döviz meblâğı temin edeceğini taahhüt eder.

MADDE 10

Bu anlaşmanın, Amerika Birleşik Devletleri ve Türkiye Cümhuriyeti tarafından, mütenazıran, diğer memleket ticaretine bahşedilecek muameleye müteallik hükümleri, Amerika Birleşik Devletleri cihetinden, Amerika Birleşik Devletlerinin kit'a arazisine ve bu anlaşmanın imzası gününde Amerika Birleşik Devletleri gümrük arazisine dahil bulunan arazi ve mutasarrıfata tatbik edilecektir. Mamafih, bu anlaşmanın en ziyade müsaadeye mazhar Millet muamelesine müteallik hükümleri, Panama Kanalı muntakasından gayri, Amerika Birleşik Devletlerinin hakimiyeti veya sultanı altındaki bütün araziye tatbik edilecektir.

MADDE 11

Bu anlaşma hükümleri:

a) İki memleketten biri tarafından hemhudud memlekete hududun her iki tarafında on beşer kilometreyi tecavüz etmeyen bir muntaka dahilinde hudud ticaretini kolaylaştırmak için bahşedilmiş veya ilerde bahşedilecek olan menfaatlere,

b) Amerika Birleşik Devletleri veya Türkiye Cumhuriyetinin biri tarafından akdedilecek bir gümrük ittihadından mütevellit menfaatlere, bu menfaatler herhangi üçüncü bir memlekete bahşedilmediği müddetce,

c) Türkiye Cumhuriyeti tarafından 1923 de Osmanlı İmparatorluğundan ayrılan arazi menşeli müstahsalâta gümrük tarifesi bakımından bahşedilmiş veya ilerde bahşedilecek olan menfaatlere, d) Amerika Birleşik Devletleri arazi veya mutasarrıfatından herhangi birisinin siyasi statüsünde vukua gelecek tadilâta bakılmaksızın, Amerika Birleşik Devletleri, arazisi veya mutasarrıfatı veya Panama kanalı mıntakasının birbirlerine veya Küba Cumhuriyetine bahşetmiş oldukları veya ilerde bahşedecekleri menfaatlere şamil olmayacaktır.

MADDE 12

İşbu anlaşma hükümlerinden hiç birisi altın veya gümüş ihracat veya ithalâtını men veya tahdit eden tedabir alınmasını, veya iki Hükümetten her hangi birinin silâh, cepane veya harp malzemesinin ve istisnaî ahvalde diğer bilcümle harp levazımının ihracının veya ihrac için satışının kontrolü hususunda münasip göreceği tedbirlerin itti hazını menedecek mahiyette tefsir edilmeyecektir. İşbu anlaşma hükümlerinin hiç birisi bitarafığa müteallik tedabir itti haz ve tatbikine mani teşkil etmeyecektir.

Mümasil ahval ve şerait altında, iki memleketten herhangi biri tarafından üçüncü bir memleket nefine olarak diğeri aleyhine indî surette farklı bir muamele tatbik edilmemek şartile bu anlaşmanın hükümleri:

- a) Amme emniyetine müteallik,
- b) Ahlâkî veya insanî maksatlarla mevzu,
- c) Amme sıhhatini veyahut hayvan veya nebat hayatını himaye matuf,
- d) Hapishanelerde imal edilmiş eşyaya müteallik veya
- e) asayiş veya varidat Kanunlarının tatbiki için alınmış tedabire müteallik memnuiyet veya takyitlere şamil değildir.

MADDE 13

Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Hükümeti veya Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Hükümeti işbu anlaşma ahkâmına muğayir olmamakla beraber, diğeri memleket Hükümetince anlaşmanın müessiriyetini ihlâl edici mahiyette telâkî edilecek herhangi bir tedbir itti haz ettiği takdirde, bu gibi tedabiri itti haz eden Hükümet, mes'elenin tarafeynce mucibi memnuiyet şekilde halli hususunda diğeri taraf Hükümetince yapılabilecek teşebbüs ve teklifleri nazarı itibare alacaktır. Bu gibi teşebbüs ve tekliflerin tebellüğü tarihinden itibaren otuz gün içinde bunlara müteallik bir mutabakat hasıl olmadığı takdirde, teşebbüs ve teklifleri yapan Hükümet, salifüzzikir otuz günlük müddetin hitâmından itibaren on beş gün içinde, işbu anlaşmanın tamamını altmış gün evvelden tahriren ihbar etmek şartile feshetmekte serbest olacaktır.

MADDE 14

Amerika Birleşik Devletleri ile Türkiye Cumhuriyeti paraları arasındaki kambiyo kurunun, işbu anlaşmanın imzası tarihindeki kura nazaran ehemmiyetli derecede tahavvül etmesi halinde, iki memleketten her birinin Hükûmeti, kurdaki değişikliği memleketin sanayi veya ticaretini zarardide edecek derecede ehemmiyetli telâkki ettiği takdirde, bu anlaşmanın tâdili için müzakere teklifinde bulunmakta serbest olacaktır. Bu müzakereler otuz günlük bir müddet içinde bir mutabakata varmadığı takdirde, müzakere teklifinde bulunmuş olan Hükûmet işbu anlaşmanın tamamını otuz gün evvelden tahriren ihbar etmek şartile fesihle serbest olacaktır.

MADDE 15

Bu anlaşmanın hiçbir hükmü, 1 Teşrinievvel 1929 da Ankara'da imza edilmiş olan Amerika Birleşik Devletleriyle Türkiye Cumhuriyeti arasında ticaret ve seyrisefain muahedenamesinden mütevellit hukuk ve vecaibi ihlâl eder mahiyette telekki edilmeyecektir.

MADDE 16

Bu anlaşma Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Reisi tarafından ilân ve Türkiye Büyük Millet Meclisi tarafından tasdik olunacaktır.

Bu anlaşma 5 Mayıs 1939 tarihinden itibaren muvakkaten meriyet mevkiine girecektir. Anlaşma Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Hükûmetinin, Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Reisi tarafından yapılan ilânı Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Hükûmetine resmen iş'ar edeceği ve diğer taraftan da Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Hükûmetinin, Türkiye Büyük Millet Meclisi tarafından anlaşmanın tasdik edildiğini Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Hükûmetine bildireceği gün kat'î olarak meriyet mevkiine girecektir.

Anlaşma 1, 5, 13 ve 14 üncü maddeler ahkâmı mahfuz kalmak şartile aşağıda tasrih olunan hükümler dairesinde feshedilinceye kadar meriyet mevkiinde kalacaktır. İki memleketten her birinin Hükûmeti anlaşmayı 31 Kânunuevvel 1939, 31 Kânunuevvel 1940 veya 31 Kânunuevvel 1941 tarihlerinde ve her defasında iki ay evvelden tahriren ihbar etmek şartile feshedebilir. 31 Birincikânun 1941 den sonra, anlaşma, daha evvel fesh edilmemiş olduğu takdirde 1, 5, 13 ve 14 üncü maddeler hükümleri mahfuz kalmak şartile, iki memleketten biri veya diğerinin Hükûmeti tarafından anlaşmaya nihayet vermek niyetinin diğer Hükûmete bildirildiği tarihten itibaren daha altı ay müddetle meriyet mevkiinde kalmakta devam edecektir.

Yukarıdaki maddelerle vazolunan hükümleri tasdik etmek üzere her iki taraf murahhasları bu anlaşmayı imza etmişler ve mühürlemişlerdir.

Her ikisi de muteber olmak üzere İngilizce ve Türkçe iki nüsha olarak Ankara'da 1 Nisan 1939 da tanzim edilmiştir.

ANKARA 1 Nisan 1939

BAY BÜYÜK ELÇİ,

Hükümetlerimiz arasında bugün imzalanan Ticaret Anlaşması hükümlerine atfen, müzakereler esnasında 9 uncu maddenin tatbiki bakımından varılan itilâfı aşağıdaki şekilde anlamakta olduğumu Ekselansınıza bildirmekle kesbi şeref eylerim.

1—Amerika Birleşik Devletlerinden Türkiye Cumhuriyeti arazisine 1 Kânunusani 1935 den 31 Kânunuevvel 1937 tarihine kadar olan, 9 uncu maddede mezkûr müddet zarfında vaki ticarî ithalâtın mecmu kıymeti Türkiye Cumhuriyetinin aynı devre zarfında bilûmum menabiden vaki ticarî ithalâtının mecmu kıymetinin % 10,91 i dir. Şurası mukarrerdir ki her sene disponibl olacak serbest döviz miktarının tayininde, bu yüzde nisbeti, Büyük Britanya ve Şimalî İrlanda Müttehit Kırallığı ile 27 Mayıs 1938 tarihinde imza edilmiş olan anlaşma ve esasları 1938 Teşrinievvelinde Ankara'da tesbit edilmiş olan Alman anlaşması ile derpiş edilmiş bulunan kredilerin istimali dolayısıyla aynı sene zarfında yapılan ticarî ithalât kıymeti yekûnunun o sene zarfında mezkûr kredi anlaşmaları ahkâmına tevfikan yapılan tediyatı aşan kısmı mevzuubahs sene zarfında Türkiye Cumhuriyeti arazisine bilûmum menabiden vaki ticarî ithalât mecmu kıymetinden düşürüldükten sonra bakiye kalacak meblâğa tatbik edilecektir. Bu tarh amelîyesinin yapılmasına karar verilmiş olmasının sebebi, Türkiye Cumhuriyetine vaki ticarî ithalâtın mecmu kıymetinin yukarıda mezkûr Hükümet kredileri yolu ile yapılacak ithalât dolayısıyla muvakkaten anormal derecede tezayüt edeceği keyfiyettir.

9 uncu maddede derpiş olunan disponibl serbest döviz miktarı Amerika Birleşik Devletlerinin hakimiyet veya sultanı altında bulunan bütün arazi menşeli ticarî ithalât tediyatına şamil olacaktır.

2—9 uncu madde mucibince her sene disponibl olacak yukarda mezkûr serbest döviz miktarı sözü edilen ticarî ithalâta müteallik tediyatın transferinde döviz taleplerinin yapıldığı tarih sırasına göre kullanılacaktır.

3—Türkiye Cumhuriyetinin esaslı serbest döviz gelirinin satışları mevsime tabi olan müstahsalât ihracatından mütevellit olmasına binaen Amerika Birleşik Devletleri menşeli ticarî ithalâta müteallik tediyatın transferi için serbest döviz disponibilitesi temininde muvakkat teahhürlerin önüne geçilemeyeceği tabiidir. Şurası mukarrerdir ki 9 uncu madde ahkâmı her bir takvim yılı zarfında mezkûr tediyat transferleri için serbest döviz disponibilitesi temini hususunda mevsim teahhürlerine mani teşkil etmeyecektir.

4—Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Hükümeti Türkiye Cumhuriyeti ticaretini gayri müsait şekilde tesiri altında bırakan gayri memul hâdisatın neticesi olarak serbest döviz noksanlığı dolayısıyla 9 uncu madde ile kabul olunan serbest döviz disponibilitelerini temin edecek vaziyette bulunmadığı takdirde Amerika Birleşik Devletleri Hükümeti ve Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Hükümeti her iki Hükümet için şayanı memnuniyet bir anlaşmaya varmak maksadile müzakerata girişeceklerdir.

5-Bu mektup bugün imzalanan ticaret anlaşmasının ayrılmaz bir parçasını teşkil eder.

İhtiramatı faikamın lütfen kabulünü rica ederim Bay Büyük Elçi.

ANKARA, April 1, 1939

"MR. MINISTER:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of today's date containing a statement of your understanding of the agreement reached with respect to the application of Article 9 of the Trade Agreement signed this day, which is as follows:

Ante, p. 1875.

"1. The total value of the commercial imports from the United States of America into the territory of the Turkish Republic during the period from January 1, 1935 to December 31, 1937, mentioned in Article 9, is 10.91 percent of the total value of the commercial imports of the Turkish Republic from all sources during the same period. It is agreed that, in determining the amount of free foreign exchange which shall be made available each year, this percentage shall be applied to the total value of the commercial imports into the territory of the Turkish Republic from all sources during the year in question, after deducting from such total value the amount by which the value of commercial imports resulting, during the same year, from the utilization of the credits provided for in the Agreement with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, signed on May 27, 1938, and the Agreement with Germany, the principles of which were established in October, 1938, at Ankara, exceeds the payments made during that year in accordance with the provisions of the said credit agreements. This deduction has been decided upon for the reason that the total value of commercial imports into the Turkish Republic will be temporarily increased to an abnormal extent by imports under the governmental credits mentioned above.

"The amount of available free foreign exchange envisaged in Article 9, shall be applied to payments for commercial imports originating in all the territories under the sovereignty or authority of the United States of America.

"2. The amount of free foreign exchange mentioned above which shall be made available each year under Article 9 shall be utilized for the transfer of payments for the said commercial imports in the chronological order in which requests for exchange are made.

"3. In view of the fact that the Turkish Republic derives its principal supply of free foreign exchange from the export of products, the sale of which has a seasonal character, it is understood that it may not be possible to avoid temporary delays in making available free foreign exchange for the transfer of payments for commercial imports originating in the United States of America. It is agreed that the provisions of Article 9 do not preclude seasonal delays in making available free foreign exchange for transfer of the said payments within any calendar year.

"4. If the Government of the Turkish Republic should not be in a position, through lack of free foreign exchange, as a result of unforeseen developments affecting adversely the commerce of the Turkish Republic, to make available the amount of free foreign exchange agreed upon in Article 9, the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Turkish Republic shall enter into negotiations for the purpose of reaching an arrangement satisfactory to the two Governments.

"5. The present note constitutes an integral part of the Trade Agreement signed this day.

"I have the honor to confirm Your Excellency's understanding of the agreement thus reached.

"Accept, Mr. Minister, the assurances of my highest consideration.

JOHN V. A. MACMURRAY

Minister of Foreign Affairs
of the Turkish Republic".

WHEREAS such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions and such continuance of existing customs and excise treatment as are set forth and provided for in the said Agreement, the two Schedules thereunto annexed and the said notes, are required and appropriate to carry out the said Agreement;

WHEREAS it is stipulated in Article 16 of the said Agreement that it shall be proclaimed by the President of the United States of America and shall be ratified by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey, and that the Agreement shall come definitively into force on the day on which the Government of the United States of America shall have communicated officially to the Government of the Turkish Republic the proclamation of the President of the United States of America and the Government of the Turkish Republic, on its part, shall have informed the Government of the United States of America of the ratification of the Agreement by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey;

Ante, p. 1877.

WHEREAS it is also provided in Article 16 that the Agreement shall come provisionally into force on May 5, 1939;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, acting under the authority conferred by the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the said Act of June 12, 1934, as extended by the said Joint Resolution of March 1, 1937, do hereby proclaim the said Agreement, including the said Schedules and notes, to the end that the same and every part thereof may be observed and fulfilled by the United States of America and the citizens thereof provisionally on and from May 5, 1939, and definitively on and from the day on which the Government of the United States of America shall have communicated this proclamation officially to the Government of the Turkish Republic and the Government of the Turkish Republic, on its part, shall have informed the Government of the United States of America of the ratification of the Agreement by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey as provided for in Article 16 of the Agreement.

[SUPPLEMENTARY PROCLAMATION]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, by my proclamation of April 5, 1939, I did make public the Trade Agreement, including two Schedules annexed thereto, which, pursuant to Section 350 (a) of the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending act was extended by Joint Resolution of Congress approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), I entered into on April 1, 1939 with the President of the Turkish Republic, in order that the said agreement including the said Schedules and two Notes incorporated in the said proclamation should be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof provisionally on and from May 5, 1939 and definitively on and from the day on which the Government of the United States of America should have communicated my aforesaid proclamation officially to the Government of the Turkish Republic and the Government of the Turkish Republic on its part should have informed the Government of the United States of America of the ratification of the agreement by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey as provided for in Article 16 of the agreement;

AND WHEREAS, as provided for in Article 16 of the aforesaid trade agreement, the Government of the United States of America was officially notified by the Government of the Turkish Republic on September 9, 1939 of the ratification of the agreement by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey on June 20, 1939, and the proclamation of the said agreement by the President of the United States of America executed on April 5, 1939 was communicated officially to the Government of the Turkish Republic on November 20, 1939.

Now, THEREFORE, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, supplementing my said proclamation of April 5, 1939 do hereby make known and proclaim that the said trade agreement, including the two schedules annexed thereto and the two notes aforesaid, came into force definitively on November 20, 1939; wherefore, I do hereby call upon the United States of America and all the citizens thereof to observe and fulfill the said agreement with good faith definitively on and from that date.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this thirtieth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-[SEAL] nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

[E. A. S. No. 164]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it is provided in the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending Act was extended by Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), as follows:

Preamble.

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, § 1352.
Ante, p. 107.

"Sec. 350. (a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and for such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part."

WHEREAS I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have found as a fact that certain existing duties and other import restrictions of the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Newfoundland, and certain British non-selfgoverning Colonies, Protectorates and Protected States, are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States of America and that the purpose declared in the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the said Act of June 12, 1934, as extended by the said Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937, will be promoted by a foreign trade agreement between the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland;

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, § 1352. Acte, p. 107.

WHEREAS reasonable public notice of the intention to negotiate such foreign trade agreement was given and the views presented by persons interested in the negotiation of such agreement were received and considered;

WHEREAS, after seeking and obtaining information and advice with respect thereto from the United States Tariff Commission, the Departments of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, and from other sources, I entered into a foreign Trade Agreement on November 17, 1938, through my duly empowered Plenipotentiary, with His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, in respect of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, through his duly empowered Plenipotentiaries, which Agreement, including four Schedules annexed thereto, is in words and figures as follows:

Purposes declared.

The President of the United States of America and His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, in respect of Great Britain and Northern Ireland;

Desiring to grant reciprocal concessions and advantages in order to facilitate and extend mutual relations of trade and commerce;

Taking into account the absence of any restriction upon the settlement of commercial obligations arising out of such relations;

Have resolved to conclude a Trade Agreement and have appointed for this purpose as their Plenipotentiaries:

Plenipotentiaries.

The President of the United States of America:

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State of the United States of America; and

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India:

For Great Britain and Northern Ireland:

The Right Honorable Sir Ronald Charles Lindsay, G. C. M. G., K. C. B., C. V. O., his Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at Washington, and

Arnold Eidersheim Overton, Esquire, C. M. G., M. C., a Second Secretary in his Board of Trade;

Who, having communicated to each other their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I

The territories to which this Agreement shall apply are, on the part of the United States of America, the continental territory of the United States of America and such of its territories and possessions as are included in its customs territory on the day of the signature of this Agreement; and, on the part of His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India (hereinafter referred to as His Majesty the King), Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Newfoundland, the British non-self-governing Colonies, Protectorates and Protected States (except the High Commission Territories in South Africa, namely, Basutoland, Bechuanaland Protectorate and Swaziland, and excluding any territories in the region of the Persian Gulf) and the Mandated Territories of Palestine including Trans-Jordan, the Cameroons under British Mandate, Tanganyika Territory and Togoland under British Mandate. The provisions of this Agreement relating to most-favored-nation treatment shall apply, however, to all territories under the sovereignty or authority of the United States of America, other than the Panama Canal Zone.

Territories embraced.

ARTICLE II

1. Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the territories of either High Contracting Party shall not be subjected, upon importation into the territories of the other, from whatever place arriving, to other or higher duties or charges of any kind or to any rules or formalities other or more burdensome than those to which the like articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any other foreign country are subject.

Most-favored-nation treatment.

2. Articles exported from the territories of either High Contracting Party to the territories of the other shall not be subjected to other or higher duties or charges of any kind or to any rules or formalities other or more burdensome than those to which the like articles exported to any other foreign country are subject.

3. Any advantage, favor, privilege or immunity which has been or may hereafter be granted in the territories of either High Contracting Party in respect of any article originating in or destined for any other foreign country in regard to customs duties and other charges of any kind imposed on or in connection with importation or exportation, to the method of levying such duties or charges, to all matters concerning the rules, formalities and charges imposed in connection with importation or exportation, and to all laws or regulations affecting the sale or use of imported goods within those territories, shall be accorded immediately and unconditionally in respect of the like article originating in or destined for the territories of the other High Contracting Party.

ARTICLE III

Internal taxes, etc.

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the territories of either High Contracting Party shall, after importation into the territories of the other, be exempt from all internal taxes, fees, charges or exactions other or higher than those payable on or in connection with like articles of domestic or any other origin, except as otherwise required by laws in force on the day of the signature of this Agreement and subject, in the case of the United States of America, to the constitutional limitations on the authority of the Federal Government.

ARTICLE IV

Freedom of imports and exports.

1. No prohibition or restriction shall be imposed or maintained on the importation into the territories of either High Contracting Party of any article, from whatever place arriving, the growth, produce or manufacture of the territories of the other High Contracting Party, to which the importation of the like article the growth, produce or manufacture of any other foreign country is not similarly subject.

2. No prohibition or restriction shall be imposed or maintained on the exportation of any article from the territories of either High Contracting Party to the territories of the other, to which the exportation of the like article to any other foreign country is not similarly subject.

ARTICLE V

Allocations when imports regulated.

If imports of any article into any of the territories of either High Contracting Party should be regulated either as regards the total amount permitted to be imported or as regards the amount permitted to be imported at a specified rate of duty, and if shares are allocated to countries of export, the share allocated to the territories of the other High Contracting Party shall be based upon the proportion of the total imports of such article from all foreign countries supplied by the territories of that High Contracting Party in past years, account being taken in so far as practicable in appropriate cases of any special factors which may have affected or may be affecting the trade in that article. In those cases in which a territory of one of the High Contracting Parties is a relatively large supplier of any such article, the High Contracting Party imposing the regulation shall, whenever practicable, consult with the other High Contracting Party before the share to be allocated to such territory is determined. If the share allocated should, otherwise than from temporary and unavoidable causes, fail to be supplied, the High Contracting Party imposing the regulation may, after due consultation with the other, adjust the allocation to meet the new situation thus created.

ARTICLE VI

"Most-favored-nation treatment" construed.

All the provisions of this Agreement providing for most-favored-nation treatment shall be interpreted as meaning that such treatment shall be accorded immediately and unconditionally, without request or compensation.

ARTICLE VII

The provisions of this Agreement do not extend to favors which are or may hereafter be granted in the territories of either High Contracting Party

Provisions inapplicable to designated favors.

- (1) to facilitate frontier traffic with an adjoining country;
- (2) in virtue of a customs union which has already been, or may hereafter be, concluded with another country.

ARTICLE VIII

1. If either High Contracting Party should establish a monopoly for the importation into or the production or sale in the territories of that High Contracting Party of a particular article, or should grant exclusive privileges to one or more agencies for any of these purposes, or if either High Contracting Party should take measures to enable such a monopoly to be established or such exclusive privileges to be granted, the commerce of the territories of the other High Contracting Party shall receive fair and equitable treatment in respect of the foreign purchases of such monopoly or agency. To this end such monopoly or agency will, in making its foreign purchases of any article, be influenced solely by considerations, such as those of price, quality, marketability and terms of sale, which would ordinarily be taken into account by a private commercial enterprise interested solely in purchasing on the most favorable terms.

Monopolies.

2. In awarding contracts for public works and in purchasing supplies, neither High Contracting Party shall discriminate against articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the territories of the other High Contracting Party in favor of those of any other foreign country.

Contracts for public works, etc.

ARTICLE IX

1. Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America specified in Schedule I annexed to this Agreement shall, on their importation into the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, from whatever place arriving, be accorded the treatment provided for in the said Schedule.

Designated imports into United Kingdom. Post, p. 1907.

2. If, however, the Government of the United Kingdom is satisfied after inquiry (a) that any article the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America of the description specified in Schedule I is being imported and sold in the United Kingdom at less than the comparable price in the United States of America, due allowance being made for costs of transportation and other charges incidental to making delivery of the goods, or (b) that any such article imported into the United Kingdom is the subject of export bounties or subsidies in the United States of America, and that in consequence of the fulfilment of either of the foregoing conditions a trade or industry in the United Kingdom is or is likely to be injuriously affected; then, notwithstanding anything in paragraph 1 of this Article, the Government of the United Kingdom shall be at liberty, after consultation with the Government of the United States of America, in cases coming under (a) above, to take such measures as the two Governments may deem necessary and appropriate in order to act as an effective deterrent to the practice in question; and, in cases coming under (b) above, to impose such additional duties or charges on the article concerned as may be required to compensate for the bounty or subsidy.

Countervailing duties, etc.

3. Any measures taken under the preceding paragraph shall be withdrawn as soon as the circumstances which gave rise to their imposition have ceased to operate.

ARTICLE X

Designated imports
into Newfoundland.
Post, p. 1919.

Countervailing duties,
etc.

1. Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America specified in Schedule II annexed to this Agreement shall, on their importation into Newfoundland, from whatever place arriving, be accorded the treatment provided for in the said Schedule.

2. If, however, the Government of Newfoundland is satisfied after inquiry (a) that any article the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America of the description specified in Schedule II is being imported and sold in Newfoundland at less than the comparable price in the United States of America, due allowance being made for costs of transportation and other charges incidental to making delivery of the goods, or (b) that any such article imported into Newfoundland is the subject of export bounties or subsidies in the United States of America, and that in consequence of the fulfilment of either of the foregoing conditions a trade or industry in Newfoundland is or is likely to be injuriously affected; then, notwithstanding anything in paragraph 1 of this Article, the Government of Newfoundland shall be at liberty, after consultation between the Government of the United Kingdom and the Government of the United States of America, in cases coming under (a) above, to take such measures as the Governments may deem necessary and appropriate in order to act as an effective deterrent to the practice in question; and, in cases coming under (b) above, to impose such additional duties or charges on the article concerned as may be required to compensate for the bounty or subsidy.

3. Any measures taken under the preceding paragraph shall be withdrawn as soon as the circumstances which gave rise to their imposition have ceased to operate.

ARTICLE XI

Imports into designated British territories,
etc.
Post, p. 1924.

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America specified in Schedule III annexed to this Agreement shall, on their importation into the territories named in the said Schedule in respect of which they are specified, from whatever place arriving, be accorded the treatment provided for in the said Schedule.

ARTICLE XII

Designated imports
into U. S.
Post, p. 1954.

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any of the territories to which this Agreement applies on the part of His Majesty the King, enumerated and described in Schedule IV annexed to this Agreement, shall, on their importation into the United States of America, from whatever place arriving, be exempt from ordinary customs duties other or higher than those set forth and provided for in the said Schedule IV, subject to the conditions therein set out. The said articles shall also be exempt from all other duties, taxes, fees, charges or exactions of any kind, imposed on or in connection with importation, in excess of those imposed on the day of the signature of this Agreement or required to be imposed thereafter under laws of the United States of America in force on the day of the signature of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XIII

Schedules deemed integral part of Agreement.

The Schedules annexed to this Agreement, and the notes included in them, shall have force and effect as integral parts of the Agreement.

ARTICLE XIV

The provisions of Article IX, Article X, Article XI and Article XII of this Agreement shall not prevent the imposition at any time on the importation of any article of a charge equivalent to an internal tax imposed in respect of a like domestic article or in respect of a commodity from which the imported article has been produced or manufactured in whole or in part.

Charge equivalent to internal tax.

ARTICLE XV

1. No prohibition, restriction or any form of quantitative regulation, whether or not operated in connection with an agency of centralized control, shall be imposed or maintained in the United Kingdom or Newfoundland on the importation or sale of any article the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America specified in Schedules I or II, respectively; or in any territory named in Schedule III on the importation or sale of any such article specified in that Schedule in respect of such territory; or in the United States of America on the importation or sale of any article the growth, produce or manufacture of any of the territories to which this Agreement applies on the part of His Majesty the King, enumerated and described in Schedule IV, except as otherwise expressly provided in the said Schedules I, II, III or IV, as the case may be.

No quantitative regulation, etc.

Post, pp. 1907, 1919.

Post, p. 1924.

Post, p. 1954.

2. The foregoing provision shall not apply to quantitative regulations, in whatever form, which may hereafter be imposed by either High Contracting Party on the importation or sale of any article the growth, produce or manufacture of the territories of the other, in conjunction with governmental measures or measures under governmental authority

Exceptions.

(a) operating to regulate or control the production, market supply, quality or price of the like article of domestic growth, production or manufacture; or

(b) operating to increase the labor costs of production of the like article of domestic growth, production or manufacture;

Provided, however, that the High Contracting Party proposing to impose any such quantitative regulation is satisfied, in the case of measures described in subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, that such quantitative regulation is necessary to secure the effective operation of such measures, and, in the case of measures described in subparagraph (b), that such measures are causing the domestic production of the article concerned to be injuriously affected by imports which constitute an abnormal proportion of the total consumption of such article in relation to the proportion supplied in the past by foreign countries.

3. Whenever either High Contracting Party proposes to impose or to effect a substantial alteration in any quantitative regulation authorized by the preceding paragraph, that High Contracting Party shall give notice in writing to that effect to the other and shall, upon request, enter into consultation regarding the matter. If agreement is not reached within thirty days after the receipt of the notice the High Contracting Party giving such notice shall be free to impose or alter the regulation at any time, and the other High Contracting Party shall be free within fifteen days after such action is taken to terminate this Agreement in its entirety on giving thirty days' notice in writing to that effect.

Notice to other party of proposed change.

Right to terminate.

Not applicable to designated quantitative regulations.

4. The provisions of paragraph 1 of this Article shall not apply to quantitative regulations, in whatever form, imposed by either High Contracting Party on the importation or sale of any article the growth, produce or manufacture of the territories of the other High Contracting Party, in connection with a multilateral agreement, binding both High Contracting Parties, designed to regulate or control the international marketing of such article.

ARTICLE XVI

Prohibitions, etc., excluded.

1. The provisions of this Agreement shall not extend to prohibitions or restrictions

Sanitary, etc., measures.

(a) imposed for the protection of public health or on moral or humanitarian grounds;

(b) imposed for the protection of animals or plants, including measures for protection against disease, degeneration or extinction as well as measures taken against harmful seeds, plants and animals;

Obligations under certain international agreements.

(c) imposed by either High Contracting Party in pursuance of obligations under international agreements in force on the day of the signature of this Agreement by which that High Contracting Party is bound;

Gold or silver.

(d) relating to the importation or exportation of gold or silver;

Traffic in arms.

(e) relating to the control of the traffic in arms, ammunition or implements of war, and, in exceptional circumstances, all other military supplies;

Neutrality, etc.

(f) relating to neutrality or to public security;

Engagement in war, etc.

(g) imposed by either High Contracting Party should that Party be engaged in hostilities or war.

2. The provisions of Article XV shall not extend to prohibitions or restrictions Prison-made goods.

(a) relating to prison-made goods;

Police or revenue laws.

(b) relating to the enforcement of police or revenue laws.

ARTICLE XVII

Ad valorem rates of duty, etc.

Post, pp. 1907, 1919.

In respect of articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America specified in Schedules I or II, imported into the United Kingdom or Newfoundland, respectively, and of articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any of the territories to which this Agreement applies on the part of His Majesty the King, enumerated and described in Schedule IV, imported into the United States of America, on which ad valorem rates of duty, or duties based upon or regulated in any manner by value, are or may be assessed, the general principles on which dutiable value is determined in each of the importing territories, on the day of the signature of this Agreement, shall not be altered to the detriment of importers.

Post, p. 1954.

ARTICLE XVIII

Where rate of exchange prejudicial.

If a wide variation should occur in the rate of exchange between the currencies of the United States of America and the United Kingdom, and if either High Contracting Party should consider the variation so substantial as to prejudice the industries or commerce of the territories of that High Contracting Party, such High Contracting Party shall be free to propose negotiations for the modification of this Agreement; and if agreement is not reached within thirty days after the receipt of such proposal, the High Contracting Party making the proposal shall be free to terminate the Agreement in its entirety on giving thirty days' notice in writing to that effect.

ARTICLE XIX

Each High Contracting Party reserves the right to withdraw or to modify any concession granted in any territory of that High Contracting Party on any article enumerated and described, or specified, in any of the Schedules annexed to this Agreement, or to impose quantitative regulations on the importation of any such article into that territory if, as the result of the extension of such concession to other foreign countries, any such country obtains the major benefit of the concession, and if in consequence imports of the article concerned increase to such an extent as to threaten serious injury to producers in the territories of that High Contracting Party: Provided, That before any action authorized by this Article is taken, the High Contracting Party proposing to take such action shall give the other thirty days' notice thereof in writing and shall consult with that High Contracting Party concerning the proposed action.

Right to withdraw,
etc., concessions.

Previous written notice to be given.

ARTICLE XX

Should any measure be adopted in any territory of either High Contracting Party which, while not conflicting with the terms of this Agreement, appears to the other High Contracting Party to have the effect of nullifying or impairing any of the objects of the Agreement, the first High Contracting Party shall consider such representations and proposals as the other may make, with a view to effecting a mutually satisfactory adjustment of the matter.

Adjustments.

ARTICLE XXI

Except as otherwise required by Article III of this Agreement or by any of the Schedules annexed hereto:

(a) Nothing in the Agreement shall entitle His Majesty the King to claim the benefit of any treatment, preference or privilege which may at any time be accorded exclusively by the United States of America, its territories or possessions or the Panama Canal Zone to one another or to the Republic of Cuba. The provisions of this subparagraph shall continue to apply in respect of any benefits now or hereafter accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions or the Panama Canal Zone to the Philippine Islands, irrespective of any change in the political status of the Philippine Islands.

(b) Nothing in the Agreement shall entitle the United States of America to claim the benefit of any treatment, preference or privilege which may at any time be in force exclusively between territories under the sovereignty of His Majesty the King or under His Majesty's protection or suzerainty; or of any special customs privileges which may be accorded in Palestine to articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any State the territory of which in 1914 was wholly included in Asiatic Turkey or Arabia.

Parties excluded from designated preferential treatment.

Trade of U. S., etc.

Trade of United Kingdom, etc.

ARTICLE XXII

Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to affect the rights or obligations of either High Contracting Party under any treaty or other international instrument in force between them on the day of the signature of the Agreement.

Existing rights and obligations.

ARTICLE XXIII

Agreement to be proclaimed, etc.

Entry into force.

This Agreement shall be proclaimed by the President of the United States of America and shall be ratified by His Majesty the King. It shall enter definitively into force thirty days after the exchange of the instrument of ratification and a copy of the proclamation, which shall take place in London as soon as possible.

ARTICLE XXIV

Provisional application of designated articles.

Post, p. 1924.

Pending the definitive coming into force of this Agreement as provided in Article XXIII, the provisions thereof other than those of Article XI and of Schedule III shall be applied provisionally on and after January 1, 1939, subject to a right to terminate the provisional application of the Agreement pursuant to the provisions of paragraph 3 of Article XV and of Article XVIII. The provisional application of Article XI and of Schedule III shall be effected as to the several provisions thereof as soon as may be possible.<sup>1</sup>

ARTICLE XXV

Duration.

Subject to the provisions of paragraph 3 of Article XV and of Article XVIII, this Agreement shall remain in force until December 31, 1941, and, unless at least six months before December 31, 1941, either High Contracting Party shall have given notice in writing to the other of intention to terminate the Agreement on that date, it shall remain in force thereafter until the expiration of six months from the date on which such notice shall have been given.

Signatures.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed this Agreement and have affixed hereto their seals.

Done at the city of Washington, in duplicate, this seventeenth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight.

PART II

Article

---

Added sugar contained in articles specified in Part I, Section A, of this Schedule

NOTE: As regards the sugar content of any such articles the preferential duty margins allowed in the United Kingdom in respect of the sugar content of similar British Empire articles shall be stabilised as long as the main preferential duty margins in respect of sugar imported as such remain stabilised. If such margins in respect of sugar imported as such are changed, the preferential duty margins in respect of the sugar content of any of the articles specified in Part I, Section A, of this Schedule shall be changed correspondingly.

Similarly, the rates of duty on the sugar content of any article specified in Part I, Section A, of this Schedule shall remain unchanged as long as the main rates of duty on sugar imported as such remain unchanged. If such rates of duty on sugar imported as such are changed, the rates of duty on the sugar content of any article specified in Part I, Section A, of this Schedule shall be changed correspondingly.

Tobacco, unmanufactured

NOTE: In the course of the discussions leading to the Agreement signed this day, the United States Government have asked for a reduction in the preference accorded in the United Kingdom to Empire tobacco. The Government of the United Kingdom have recognised that this request is one to which the United States Government have attached much importance but they have been prevented from entertaining it by the existence of Agreements with several Governments within the British Empire which guarantee continuance of the present margin of preference until August, 1942. The Government of the United Kingdom will be prepared before decisions are taken as to the level of the preference after August, 1942, to examine the position as it then stands and the possibility of reducing the margin of preference. Meanwhile it will not be increased.

SCHEDULE II

NOTE: Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America specified in this Schedule shall not, on their importation into Newfoundland, from whatever place arriving, be subject to duties or charges of any kind other or higher than those specified in the third column; nor shall the said articles be subject to duties or charges of any kind which exceed the duties or charges applicable to like articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any territory under the sovereignty of His Majesty the King or under His Majesty's suzerainty or protection by more than the margin of preference indicated in the fourth column.

The provisions of the foregoing paragraph shall not apply to those rates of duty or margins of preference marked with an asterisk. In respect of these items it is recognised that the equilibrium of the Agreement would be disturbed if the rates of duty or margins of preference so marked were increased above the rates or margins shown. In such a case it is agreed that the Government of the United Kingdom would, after consultation with the Government of Newfoundland, enter into discussions with the Government of the United States, not less than thirty days before the date on which such increased rate of duty or margin of preference becomes effective, with a view to restoring the equilibrium of the Agreement. It is further agreed that the Government of the United Kingdom would adopt the same procedure if a preference were accorded on any article specified in this Schedule to any territory under the sovereignty of His Majesty the King or under His Majesty's suzerainty or protection which does not enjoy such a preference on the day of the signature of this Agreement.

The provisions of this Schedule shall be interpreted as though they had been included in the Newfoundland tariff law in force on the day of the signature of this Agreement by an amendment to that law.

SCHEDULE IV

NOTE: The provisions of this Schedule shall be construed and given the same effect, and the application of collateral provisions of the customs laws of the United States to the provisions of this Schedule shall be determined, insofar as may be practicable, as if each provision of this Schedule appeared respectively in the statutory provision noted in the column at the left of the respective descriptions of articles.

In the case of any article enumerated in this Schedule, which is subject on the day of the signature of this Agreement to any additional or separate ordinary customs duty, whether or not imposed under the statutory provision noted in the column at the left of the respective description of the article, such separate or additional duty shall continue in force, subject to any reduction indicated in this Schedule or hereafter provided for, until terminated in accordance with law, but shall not be increased.

In the case of any article provided for in this Schedule, with respect to which a lower rate of United States duty than is specified herein is provided for pursuant to any trade agreement concluded under section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, such lower rate shall not be deemed to be rendered ineffective by reason of any provision of this Schedule.

In the event that any reduction shall be made in the rate of duty of 34 cents per pound of clean content applicable to wools, not specially provided for, in the grease or washed, under paragraph 1102 (b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, the specific part of any rate of duty provided for in items 1106, 1107 (except as to articles valued at not more than $1 per pound), 1108, 1109 (a) (except as to articles valued at not more than 80 cents per pound), 1109 (b), 1110, 1112, 1113, 1114 (b), (c), and (d), 1115 (a) (except as to articles valued at not more than $4 per pound), 1115 (b), and 1119 (except as to articles valued at not more than 80 cents per pound) shall, insofar as it applies to articles wholly or in chief value of wool of sheep, be reduced (calculated to the nearest cent per pound) by the same ratio as such rate of 34 cents per pound of clean content is reduced, and the reduced rates thus calculated with respect to such articles shall be effective ninety days after the said date on which such reduced rate applicable to wools, not specially provided for, in the grease or washed, is effective, and shall remain in effect during the remainder of the period during which such reduced rate is in effect.

[SUPPLEMENTARY PROCLAMATION]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, by my proclamation of November 25, 1938 I did make public the Trade Agreement, including four Schedules annexed thereto, which, pursuant to Section 350 (a) of the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), as extended by Joint Resolution of Congress approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), I entered into on November 17, 1938, through my duly empowered plenipotentiary, with His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, in respect of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, through his duly empowered plenipotentiary, in order that the said Agreement, including the said Schedules, should be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof provisionally, as provided for in Article XXIV of the Agreement on and after January 1, 1939, and definitively thirty days after the day of the exchange of the aforesaid proclamation of the President of the United States of America for the ratification of His Majesty as provided for in Article XXIII of the said Agreement;

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, § 1352.
Ante, p. 107.

Ante, p. 1906.

AND WHEREAS the aforesaid proclamation of the said Agreement by the President of the United States of America and the ratification of the said Agreement by His Majesty in respect of Great Britain and Northern Ireland were exchanged at London on the twenty-fourth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, supplementing my said proclamation of November 25, 1938, do hereby make known and proclaim that the said Trade Agreement, including the four Schedules annexed thereto, will come into force definitively on December 24, 1939, the thirtieth day after the exchange of my proclamation and His Majesty's ratification as aforesaid, and I do hereby call upon the United States of America and the citizens thereof to observe and fulfill the same and every article and part thereof definitively with good faith on and from that day.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this sixth day of December, 1938, [SEAL] the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

EXCHANGES OF NOTES

The Secretary of State (Hull) to the British Ambassador (Lindsay)

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, November 17, 1938.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to propose that, in view of the importance of maintaining conditions favorable to the international exchange of goods, and in order to supplement those provisions of the Trade Agreement signed this day which relate to import and export duties and regulations, each of the High Contracting Parties to the Agreement shall give sympathetic consideration to any representations which the other may make with respect to questions concerning access to raw materials.

I have the honor to suggest that this note and Your Excellency's reply thereto accepting the above proposal shall be regarded as constituting an agreement in this sense.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

CORDELL HULL

His Excellency

The Honorable SIR RONALD LINDSAY,
P. C., G. C. M. G., K. C. B., C. V. O.,
British Ambassador.

The British Ambassador (Lindsay) to the Secretary of State (Hull)

BRITISH EMBASSY,
Washington, D. C., November 17th, 1938.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Note of today's date proposing that, in view of the importance of maintaining conditions favourable to the international exchange of goods, and in order to supplement those provisions of the Trade Agreement signed this day which relate to import and export duties and regulations, each of the High Contracting Parties to the Agreement shall give sympathetic consideration to any representations which the other may make with respect to questions concerning access to raw materials.

I have the honour in accepting this proposal, to confirm that Your Excellency's Note together with this Note in reply shall be regarded as constituting an agreement in the above sense.

I have the honour to be, with the highest consideration, Sir,
Your Excellency's most obedient, humble servant,

The Secretary of State (Hull) to the British Ambassador (Lindsay)

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, November 17, 1938.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to make the following statement of my understanding of the agreement reached, with reference to certain special duties, between the United States and United Kingdom Delegations in connection with the Trade Agreement signed this day.

These conversations have disclosed a mutual understanding that no anti-dumping duty, or new or additional duty to countervail the payment or bestowal of a bounty or grant, will be imposed on articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any of the territories to which the Trade Agreement applies, without the Government of the United Kingdom or the Government of the United States of America, as the case may be, first having given the other Government, through an informal notice, an opportunity to make representations with respect to the proposed duty. No decision to impose any such duty will be made within thirty days after the date of the informal notice, unless an earlier decision is required by law. Any representations submitted by either Government in response to such a notice will be carefully considered by the other Government.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Note of to-day's date containing a statement of Your Excellency's understanding of the agreement reached, with reference to certain special duties, between the United States and United Kingdom Delegations in connection with the Trade Agreement signed this day.

These conversations have disclosed a mutual understanding that no anti-dumping duty, or new or additional duty to countervail the payment or bestowal of a bounty or grant, will be imposed on articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any of the territories to which the Trade Agreement applies, without the Government of the United States of America or the Government of the United Kingdom, as the case may be, first having given the other Government, through an informal notice, an opportunity to make representations with respect to the proposed duty. No decision to impose any such duty will be made within thirty days after the date of the informal notice, unless an earlier decision is required by law. Any representations submitted by either Government in response to such a notice will be carefully considered by the other Government.

I have the honour to confirm Your Excellency's understanding of the agreement thus reached.

I have the honour to be, with the highest consideration, Sir,

Washington, D. C.

The Secretary of State (Hull) to the British Ambassador (Lindsay)

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, November 17, 1938.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to inform you, with reference to the Trade Agreement signed this day, that the United States of America will, in the special circumstances, refrain from claiming under the provisions of the Agreement other than Article III or the Schedules any advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by any territories under the sovereignty of His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, or under His Majesty's protection or suzerainty, to which the Trade Agreement applies, to any territory under His Majesty's mandate which is administered as an integral portion of territory under His Majesty's sovereignty or protection or which is joined in a customs union with a territory under His Majesty's sovereignty or protection.

If any territories under His Majesty's sovereignty, protection or suzerainty to which the Agreement applies should become free, except in relation to the United States of America, to grant preferential tariff treatment to Palestine or Trans-Jordan, the Government of the United States will give sympathetic consideration to any requests addressed to it for consent to the granting of preferential tariff treatment to particular articles of Palestine or Trans-Jordan origin.

I avail myself of this occasion to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

CORDELL HULL

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Note of today's date informing me, with reference to the Trade Agreement signed this day, that the United States of America will, in the special circumstances, refrain from claiming under the provisions of the Agreement other than Article III or the Schedules any advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by any territories under the sovereignty of His Majesty the King or under His Majesty's protection or suzerainty, to which the Trade Agreement applies, to any territory under His Majesty's mandate which is administered as an integral portion of territory under His Majesty's sovereignty or protection or which is joined in a customs union with a territory under His Majesty's sovereignty or protection.

Your Excellency's Note further states that if any territories under His Majesty's sovereignty, protection or suzerainty to which the Agreement applies should become free, except in relation to the United States of America, to grant preferential tariff treatment to Palestine or Trans-Jordan, the Government of the United States will give sympathetic consideration to any requests addressed to it for consent to the granting of preferential tariff treatment to particular articles of Palestine or Trans-Jordan origin.

I have taken note with pleasure of Your Excellency's communication in the above sense.

I have the honour to be, with the highest consideration, Sir,
Your Excellency's most obedient, humble servant,

R. C. LINDSAY

The Honourable CORDELL HULL,
Secretary of State of the United States,
Washington, D. C.

The British Ambassador (Lindsay) to the Secretary of State (Hull)

BRITISH EMBASSY,
Washington, D. C., November 17th, 1938.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I have the honour to refer to Article XI and Schedule III of the Trade Agreement signed this day, relative to the tariff concessions to be accorded to the United States of America by the territories listed in that Schedule; and, in order that the position regarding trade and commerce between the United States of America and certain territories under His Majesty's sovereignty, suzerainty, protection or mandate may be made clear, I have the honour to invite attention to the fact that the United States of America have, by virtue of various conventions and treaties, for many years enjoyed equality of tariff treatment with all other countries, including the United Kingdom, in the following territories among others:

Ante, pp. 1902, 1924.

Kenya
Uganda
Zanzibar
Nyasaland
Tanganyika Territory
The Cameroons under British Mandate
Togoland under British Mandate
Palestine and Trans-Jordan.

The United States of America have for many years also enjoyed equality of tariff treatment with the United Kingdom and other countries in Aden, Gibraltar, the Straits Settlements and Hong Kong, with the exception that in Gibraltar, the Straits Settlements and Hong Kong preferential tariff treatment is given to tobacco, liquors and wines and spirits. I am instructed to inform you that there is no present intention to extend preferential tariff treatment to additional products in these territories.

Imports from the United States of America into the territories mentioned in the above two paragraphs have amounted in recent years to more than a quarter of the total import trade of the United States of America into the colonies and into territories under His Majesty's suzerainty, protection or mandate.

I have the honour to be, with the highest consideration, Sir,
Your Excellency's most obedient, humble servant,

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of today's date setting out the position with regard to the tariff treatment which is accorded to goods of United States origin in certain territories under His Majesty's sovereignty, suzerainty, protection or mandate.

I note with pleasure Your Excellency's statement that there is no present intention of extending preferential tariff treatment to products in Aden, Gibraltar, the Straits Settlements and Hong Kong in addition to those mentioned in your note.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

The Secretary of State (Hull) to the British Ambassador (Lindsay)

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, November 17, 1938.

EXCELLENCY:

During the course of the negotiation of the Trade Agreement signed this day, it has been explained that the fruit growers of certain parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations, together with the United Kingdom producers, have for some time past cooperated in an organization called the Empire Fruits Council, which has made arrangements concerning the shipment of apples to the United Kingdom market from overseas, with the object of maintaining a stable and remunerative market in the interests of all concerned and of avoiding, so far as possible, temporary periods either of oversupply or of shortage. It is understood that British Empire producers of citrus fruits are also represented on this Council.

It has been represented to me that the cooperation of the exporting interests in the United States, which is the only other major apple-exporting country, would be of great assistance in securing the orderly marketing of the apple crop and would be of no less benefit to them than to the other suppliers. I have the honor to inform you that the Government of the United States of America inclines to the view that it is in the general interest that the shipment of apples to the United Kingdom market should be so planned as to avoid excessive variations in supplies and prices, and that it will call the attention of United States exporting interests to the desirability of their cooperating with the Empire Fruits Council in such arrangements as may be feasible to assure the orderly supply of apples to the United Kingdom market.

In the foregoing connection, your attention is invited to legislation in effect (Public No. 39, 73d Congress, approved June 10, 1933) which provides for the regulation of exports of apples (and pears) from the United States on the basis of grade or quality. Under this Act, the Department of Agriculture has issued regulations which require that all apples (and pears) shipped to foreign countries meet certain export standards. The effect of these regulations is to make large shipments of low-quality fruit to British or other foreign markets impossible.

I understand that up to the present no similar arrangements have been made for planning the shipment of citrus fruits to the United Kingdom market, but that certain British Empire producers have expressed a desire for some form of arrangement for the orderly marketing of citrus fruits in the United Kingdom, with a view to avoiding disturbances resulting from sudden fluctuations in supplies. I have the honor to inform you that, if the principal supplying countries (including foreign countries) should agree to cooperate in arrangements for the orderly supply of citrus fruits to the United Kingdom market, the Government of the United States of America would call the attention of United States exporters to the desirability of cooperating in any feasible arrangements to this end.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

I have the honor to state, with reference to Article IV of the Trade Agreement signed this day, that in the event of the Government of the United Kingdom deciding to regulate, in connection with a recommendation of the International Beef Conference, imports of any type of beef or veal, including offals thereof, imported from the United States of America, the Government of the United States of America would not claim for such products any freedom from quantitative regulation to which a right would otherwise exist by virtue of the provisions of the said Article IV.

It is my understanding that the Government of the United Kingdom would not impose any regulation of imports in the circumstances described in the foregoing paragraph unless exports from the countries represented on the Conference were being regulated by the countries concerned in accordance with plans approved by the Government of the United Kingdom, and that before imposing such quantitative regulation the Government of the United Kingdom would consult with the Government of the United States of America regarding the proposed action.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

With reference to the discussions which have taken place in connexion with the negotiation of the Trade Agreement signed this day concerning the bases and methods of determining dutiable value in the United Kingdom and the United States of America and the desirability of removing, in so far as possible, any uncertainties in respect of these matters, I have to assure you that the Government of the United Kingdom will be ready to afford full opportunity to the Government of the United States for consultation between representatives of the two Governments concerning general problems of valuation as well as specific difficulties of application which may arise from time to time.

I should much appreciate hearing from you that the Government of the United States will likewise be ready to afford opportunity for such consultation.

December 18, 1939
[E. A. S. No. 165]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it is provided in the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending Act was extended by Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), as follows:

Preamble.

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, § 1352
Ante, p. 107.

"Sec. 350. (a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and for such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part.

"(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the application, with respect to rates of duty established under this section pursuant to agreements with countries other than Cuba, of the provisions of the treaty of commercial reciprocity concluded between the United States and the Republic of Cuba on December 11, 1902, or to preclude giving effect to an exclusive agreement with Cuba concluded under this section, modifying the existing preferential customs treatment of any article the growth, produce, or manufacture of Cuba: Provided, That the duties payable on such an article shall in no case be increased or decreased by more than 50 per centum of the duties now payable thereon."

33 Stat. 2136.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, an exclusive and preferential Trade Agreement was entered into between the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba on August 24, 1934, which Agreement I did make public by my proclamation of August 24, 1934, and which Agreement is now in force between the two countries;

49 Stat. 3559.

WHEREAS I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have found as a fact that certain existing duties and other import restrictions of the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States of America and that the purpose declared in the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the said Act of June 12, 1934, as extended by the said Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937, will be promoted by a trade agreement to supplement and amend the exclusive and preferential Trade Agreement entered into between the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba on August 24, 1934;

48 Stat. 943; 50 Stat.
24.
19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-
1354; Supp. V. § 1352.
Ante, p. 107.

WHEREAS, reasonable public notice of the intention to negotiate such supplementary trade agreement was given and the views presented by persons interested in the negotiation of such agreement were received and considered.

WHEREAS, after seeking and obtaining information and advice with respect thereto from the United States Tariff Commission, the Departments of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, and from other sources, I entered into an exclusive and preferential Trade Agreement on December 18, 1939, through my duly empowered Plenipotentiary, with the President of the Republic of Cuba, through his duly empowered Plenipotentiary, to supplement and amend the exclusive and preferential Trade Agreement entered into between the two countries on August 24, 1934, which supplementary Agreement, including an accompanying Protocol, in the English and Spanish languages, is in words and figures as follows:

Text.

The President of the United States of America and the President of the Republic of Cuba, being desirous of strengthening still further the traditional bonds of friendship and commerce between their respective countries by maintaining the basis of reciprocal preferential treatment in their commercial relations, and of making certain changes in the provisions of the trade agreement between the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba signed at Washington on August 24, 1934, have resolved to conclude a supplementary agreement for that purpose and have, through their respective Plenipotentiaries, agreed on the following Articles:

ARTICULO II

1.—La Partida 501 de la Lista II del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, queda modificada mediante la inclusión de los siguientes párrafos adicionales a la Nota a dicha Partida:

Si, en cualquier momento posterior a la notificación pública prevista en las estipulaciones del párrafo precedente, el Presidente de los Estados Unidos de América diera aviso público de que la suspensión del Título II de la Ley Azucarera de 1937, por él proclamada el 11 de septiembre de 1939, ha sido o será terminada, los adeudos aplicables a los artículos enumerados y descritos en la Partida 501 de esta Lista, importados o extraídos de almacén y admitidos a consumo en o después del día siguiente al registro de tal aviso público en la División de Registro Federal de los Archives, shall be determined without regard to the provisions of the preceding paragraph which shall thereafter cease to have any force or effect.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding paragraph, if the powers vested in the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America under title II of the Sugar Act of 1937 expire and the President of the United States of America gives public notice that no limitation equivalent to that provided for in title II of the Sugar Act of 1937 on the importation into, or the marketing in, the United States of America of sugar originating in the Republic of Cuba has been imposed or provided for by law, the rates of duty on articles enumerated and described in item 501 of this Schedule entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the day following the filing of such public notice with the aforesaid Division of Federal Register, shall be determined without regard to the provisions of Column 2 of this Schedule but such rates of duty shall not exceed those in effect on August 24, 1934. If, however, at any time after the issuance of any such public notice, an equivalent limitation is imposed on the importation into, or the marketing in, the United States of America of sugar originating in the Republic of Cuba, the President of the United States of America shall give public notice of such fact and the maximum rates of duty on such articles, entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the day following the filing of such public notice with the aforesaid Division of Federal Register, shall again be those set forth in Column 2 of this Schedule, subject to the provisions of this paragraph.

50 Stat. 904.
7 U. S. C., Supp. V,
§§ 1111-1122.

The term "sugar" as used in the two preceding paragraphs shall mean "sugar" as defined in Section 101(c) of the Sugar Act of 1937.

50 Stat. 903.
7 U. S. C., Supp. V,
§ 1101.

2. Items 601, 603, 605, the note following item 605, and items 771 and 802 of Schedule II of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, are amended to read as follows:

Items amended.
49 Stat. 3638, 3642,
3644.

Tariff Act of 1930 Paragraph	Description of Articles	Column 1 Minimum preferential reduction to Cuba	Column 2 Maximum rates of duty. Specific rates in United States dollars
601	Wrapper tobacco, and filler tobacco when mixed or packed with more than 35 per centum of wrapper tobacco, if unstemmed	20%	1. 20 per lb.
601	Filler tobacco, not specially provided for, other than cigarette leaf tobacco:
	If stemmed	20%	0. 25 per lb.
	If unstemmed	20%	0. 175 per lb.
603	Scrap tobacco	20%	0.175 per lb.
	NOTE: Filler tobacco, not specially provided for, unstemmed or stemmed (other than cigarette leaf tobacco), and scrap tobacco, the growth, produce or manufacture of the Republic of Cuba, entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in excess of a total quantity (unstemmed equivalent) of 22,000,000 pounds in any calendar year after 1939, shall be subject to duty as though such articles were not enumerated and described in this Schedule, but the rates of duty thereon shall not exceed Archivos Nacionales de los Estados Unidos, serán determinados sin tomar en consideración las estipulaciones del párrafo precedente que en lo sucesivo dejará de tener validez o surtir efecto alguno.

No obstante lo estipulado en los dos párrafos precedentes, si expiraran las facultades de que se halla investido el Secretario de Agricultura de los Estados Unidos de América de acuerdo con el Título II de la Ley Azucarera de 1937, y el Presidente de los Estados Unidos de América diera aviso público de que no ha sido impuesta o estipulada por una ley ninguna limitación equivalente a la estipulada en el Título II de la Ley Azucarera de 1937 sobre la importación o venta en los Estados Unidos de América de azúcar originario de la República de Cuba, los tipos de derecho aplicables a los artículos enumerados y descritos en la Partida 501 de esta Lista importados o extraídos de almacén y admitidos a consumo en o después del día siguiente al registro de tal aviso público en la antes mencionada División de Registro Federal, serán determinados sin tomar en consideración las estipulaciones de la Columna 2 de esta Lista, pero tales tipos de derecho no excederán de los aplicables el 24 de agosto de 1934. Sin embargo, si en cualquier momento después de la publicación de tal notificación, una limitación equivalente fuera impuesta sobre la importación o venta en los Estados Unidos de América de azúcar originario de la República de Cuba, el Presidente de los Estados Unidos de América dará aviso público de tal hecho y los tipos máximos de derecho aplicables a tales artículos importados o extraídos de almacén y admitidos a consumo en o después del día siguiente al registro de tal aviso público en la antes mencionada División de Registro Federal, serán otra vez aquellos establecidos en la Columna 2 de esta Lista, con sujeción a las estipulaciones de este párrafo.

La palabra "azúcar" según se emplea en los párrafos precedentes significará "azúcar" tal como se halla definida en la Sección 101 (c) de la Ley Azucarera de 1937.

2.—Las Partidas 601, 603, 605, la Nota al pie de la Partida 605, y las Partidas 771 y 802 de la Lista II del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, quedan modificadas y redactadas de la siguiente manera:

ARTICLE III

Equal treatment of imports.
49 Stat. 3564.

Article VIII of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, is amended to read as follows:

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America or the Republic of Cuba shall, after importation into the other country, be exempt from all internal taxes, fees, charges or exactions other or higher than those payable on like articles of national or any other foreign origin, subject, in the case of the United States of America, to the constitutional limitations on the authority of the Federal Government.

49 Stat. 3570.

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United States of America enumerated and described in Schedule I annexed to this Agreement, with respect to which a rate of duty is specified in Column 2 of the said Schedule, shall be exempt from all other duties, taxes, fees, charges or exactions, in excess of those imposed on September 3, 1934, or required to be imposed thereafter by laws of the Republic of Cuba in force on September 3, 1934. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply, however, to the tax of 1½ percent on gross sales and incomes referred to in Decree-Law No. 393 of November 8, 1935, or to any increase which may be made in the general rate of such tax.

49 Stat. 3636.

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the Republic of Cuba enumerated and described in Schedule II annexed to this Agreement shall, on their importation into the United States of America, be exempt from all duties other than ordinary customs duties and all taxes, fees, charges or exactions, imposed on or in connection with importation, in excess of those imposed on September 3, 1934, or required to be imposed thereafter by laws of the United States of America in force on September 3, 1934.

ARTICULO III

El Artículo VIII del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, queda modificado y redactado de la siguiente manera:

Los artículos cosechados, producidos o fabricados en los Estados Unidos de América o en la República de Cuba estarán exentos después de su importación en el otro país, de todos los impuestos, derechos, cargas o exacciones interiores distintos o mayores que los pagaderos sobre análogos artículos de origen nacional o de otro país extranjero, con sujeción, en el caso de los Estados Unidos de América, a las limitaciones constitucionales de las facultades del Gobierno Federal.

Los artículos cosechados, producidos o fabricados en los Estados Unidos de América, enumerados y descritos en la Lista I anexa a este Convenio, con respecto a los cuales se especifica un tipo de derecho en la Columna 2 de dicha Lista, quedarán exentos de todos los demás impuestos, derechos, cargas o exacciones, en exceso de los establecidos el 3 de septiembre de 1934 o cuya imposición posterior fuese exigida por leyes de la República de Cuba vigentes el 3 de septiembre de 1934. Las estipulaciones de este párrafo no serán aplicables, sin embargo, al impuesto del 1-½% sobre la venta bruta y sobre las entradas mencionado en el Decreto-Ley No. 393, de 8 de noviembre de 1935, ni a cualquier aumento que pueda efectuarse en el tipo general de tal impuesto.

Los artículos cosechados, producidos o fabricados en la República de Cuba, enumerados y descritos en la Lista II anexa a este Convenio, quedarán exentos a su importación en los Estados Unidos, de todos los derechos con excepción de los derechos ordinarios de aduana y de todos los impuestos, derechos, cargas o exacciones establecidos sobre o en relación con la importación, en exceso de aquellos vigentes el 3 de septiembre de 1934, o cuya imposición posterior fuese exigida por leyes de los Estados Unidos de América vigentes el 3 de septiembre de 1934.

No internal Federal taxes shall be imposed on articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the Republic of Cuba enumerated and described in item 501 of Schedule II annexed to this Agreement in excess of those imposed on September 3, 1937, or required to be imposed thereafter by laws of the United States of America in effect on September 3, 1937.

49 Stat. 3636.

49 Stat. 3559, 3561.

The provisions of Article I and Article III of this Agreement and of the third paragraph of this Article shall not prevent the Government of the United States of America from imposing at any time on the importation of any article a charge equivalent to an internal tax imposed in respect of a like domestic article or in respect of a commodity from which the imported article has been manufactured or produced in whole or in part.

ARTICLE IV

Duration of Agreement.
49 Stat. 3568.

1. The second paragraph of Article XVII of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, is amended by changing the period at the end thereof to a comma and adding the following:

49 Stat. 3566.

subject to the provisions of Article XI and the third and fourth paragraphs of this Article.

Duty on sugar, etc.
49 Stat. 3569.

2. The third paragraph of Article XVII of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, is amended to read as follows:

49 Stat. 3636.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, if the rates of duty specified in Column 2 of Schedule II annexed to this Agreement in respect of item 501 of the said Schedule should be increased in accordance with the provisions set forth in the note to the said item 501, the Government of the Republic of Cuba may propose negotiations for the modification of this Agreement. If agreement with respect to such proposal is not reached within thirty days following receipt thereof by the Government of the United States of America, the Government of the Republic of Cuba shall be free, within fifteen days after the expiration of the aforesaid period of thirty days, to terminate this Agreement in its entirety on thirty days' written notice.

Termination of Agreement.

Measures considered as nullifying, etc.

3. Article XVII of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, is amended by adding the following new paragraph after the third paragraph of the said Article:

Termination of Agreement.

It is further agreed that, in the event that the Government of either country adopts any measure which, even though it does not conflict with the terms of this Agreement, is considered by the Government of the other country to have the effect of nullifying or impairing any object of the Agreement, the Government which has adopted any such measure shall consider such written representations and proposals as the other Government may make with a view to effecting a mutually satisfactory adjustment of the matter; if no agreement is reached with respect to such representations or proposals within thirty days after they are received, the Government which made them shall be free, within fifteen days after the expiration of the aforesaid period of thirty days, to terminate this Agreement in its entirety on thirty days' written notice.

No se establecerán impuestos internos federales sobre los artículos cosechados, producidos o fabricados en la República de Cuba, enumerados y descritos en la Partida 501 de la Lista II anexa a este Convenio, mayores que los vigentes en 3 de septiembre de 1937 o cuya imposición posterior fuese exigida por leyes de los Estados Unidos de América vigentes el 3 de septiembre de 1937.

Las estipulaciones del Artículo I y del Artículo III de este Convenio y del tercer párrafo de este Artículo no impedirán que el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América pueda imponer en cualquier momento sobre la importación de cualquier artículo una carga equivalente a un impuesto interno establecido con respecto a un artículo doméstico semejante o con respecto a una materia de la cual el artículo importado haya sido fabricado o producido en todo o en parte.

ARTICULO IV

1.—El párrafo segundo del Artículo XVII del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, queda enmendado cambiando el punto que aparece al final del mismo por una coma y añadiendo lo siguiente:

con sujeción a las estipulaciones del Artículo XI, y a los párrafos tercero y cuarto de este Artículo.

2.—El tercer párrafo del Artículo XVII del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, queda modificado y redactado de la siguiente manera:

No obstante lo establecido en las estipulaciones que anteceden, si los tipos de derecho especificados en la Columna 2 de la Lista II anexa a este Convenio con respecto a la Partida 501 de dicha Lista fueran aumentados de acuerdo con las estipulaciones fijadas en la Nota a dicha Partida 501, el Gobierno de la República de Cuba podrá proponer negociaciones para la modificación de este Convenio. Si no se llegare a un acuerdo con respecto a tal proposición dentro de los treinta días siguientes al recibo de la misma por el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América, el Gobierno de la República de Cuba quedará en libertad, dentro de los quince días siguientes a la terminación del plazo de treinta días antes mencionado, de terminar este Convenio en su totalidad con treinta días de aviso por escrito.

3.—El Artículo XVII del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, queda modificado mediante la adición del siguiente párrafo nuevo después del tercer párrafo de dicho Artículo:

Se estipula además que, en el caso de que el Gobierno de cualquiera de los dos países adoptase cualquiera medida que aunque no estuviera en conflicto con las estipulaciones de este Convenio, el Gobierno del otro país considerara que produce el efecto de anular o alterar un objetivo cualquiera de este Convenio, el Gobierno que haya adoptado una medida tal, tomará en consideración las proposiciones y representaciones escritas que el otro Gobierno pudiera hacer con el objeto de llegar a un arreglo mutuamente satisfactorio de la cuestión; si no se llegare a un acuerdo con respecto a tales representaciones o proposiciones dentro de los treinta días siguientes a su recibo, el Gobierno que las hubiere hecho quedará en libertad dentro de los quince días siguientes a la terminación del plazo de treinta días antes mencionado, de terminar este Convenio en su totalidad con treinta días de aviso por escrito.

ARTICLE V

ARTICULO V

Present instruments deemed integral part of prior Agreement.

The present Agreement and the accompanying Protocol shall constitute an integral part of the Agreement of August 24, 1934.

El presente Convenio y el Protocolo anexo constituirán parte integral del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934.

PROTOCOL

The undersigned, the duly empowered Plenipotentiaries of their respective Governments, have agreed on the following Articles with regard to the interpretation of the trade agreement between the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba, signed August 24, 1934, as amended by the supplementary agreement which they have signed this day:

ARTICLE I

The term "duty" as used in Article I of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, in relation to the undertakings of the United States of America and in Article III of that Agreement shall be understood to continue to refer to ordinary customs duties.

ARTICLE II

The provisions of Article I of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, shall not be construed to be in conflict with Section 3424 of the Internal Revenue Code of the United States of America.

ARTICLE III

The term "duties" as used in the first sentence of Article XIII of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, shall be understood to refer to rates of duty.

PROTOCOLO

Los infrascritos, Plenipotenciarios debidamente acreditados de sus respectivos Gobiernos, han acordado los siguientes Artículos en relación con la interpretación del Convenio Comercial entre los Estados Unidos de América y la República de Cuba, firmado el 24 de agosto de 1934, tal y como ha sido modificado por el Convenio Suplementario que han firmado hoy:

ARTICULO I

La palabra "derecho", tal y como se emplea en el Artículo I del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, en relación con los compromisos asumidos por los Estados Unidos de América y en el Artículo III de ese Convenio, se entenderá que continúa refiriéndose a los derechos ordinarios de aduana.

ARTICULO II

Las disposiciones del Artículo I del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, no serán interpretadas como opuestas a la Sección 3424 del Código de Impuestos Internos de los Estados Unidos de América.

ARTICULO III

La palabra "derechos" tal y como se emplea en la primera frase del Artículo XIII del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, se entenderá que se refiere a los tipos de derecho o adeudos.

ARTICLE IV

ARTICULO IV

"Become inoperative."

49 Stat. 3638.

Signatures.

Authenticity of texts.

It is agreed that the words, "become inoperative", which appear in the English text of the Note to Item 501 of Schedule II of the Agreement of August 24, 1934, express the meaning intended by the Governments of the two countries, and that the corresponding Spanish text should read "quedaran sin efecto" in place of "fuesen derogadas".

Se conviene en que las palabras "become inoperative", que aparecen en el texto inglés de la Nota a la Partida 501 de la Lista II del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, expresan el significado deseado por los Gobiernos de los dos países y que el texto español correspondiente deberá de decir "quedaran sin efecto" en lugar de "fuesen derogadas".

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed this Protocol and have affixed their seals hereto.

En fe de lo cual, los respectivos Plenipotenciarios han firmado este Protocolo y le han fijado sus sellos.

Exchange of proclamations, date.

AND WHEREAS the proclamation of the President of the United States of America and the proclamation of the President of the Republic of Cuba were exchanged at Habana on December 22, 1939;

Proclamation.

Now, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, supplementing my said proclamation of December 19, 1939, do hereby make known and proclaim that the said supplementary Trade Agreement, including the said Protocol, signed on December 18, 1939, will come into force on December 23, 1939, wherefore, I do hereby call upon the United States of America and the citizens thereof to observe and fulfill the same and every article and part thereof with good faith on and from December 23, 1939.

Coming into force of Agreement.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

EMBAJADA DE CUBA

WASHINGTON, D. C.

18 de diciembre de 1939.

EXCELENCIA:

Tengo el honor de referirme a la nota que ha sido insertada al final de la Partida 253 de la Lista I del Convenio Comercial concluído entre la República de Cuba y los Estados Unidos de América el 24 de agosto de 1934, por una estipulación del Convenio Comercial Suplementario entre la República de Cuba y los Estados Unidos de América, firmado en Washington en el día de hoy.

Como he informado a Vuestra Excelencia, es la intención de mi Gobierno prestar ulterior consideración a la posibilidad de mejorar el trato arancelario otorgado al arroz americano importado en Cuba, mejora que se mantendría en vigor mientras la participación en las necesidades del consumo de azúcar de los Estados Unidos que pueda ser abastecida por azúcar originario de la República de Cuba, no sea modificada en perjuicio de Cuba en relación con la establecida en las estipulaciones relativas a cuota de la Ley Azucarera de los Estados Unidos de 1937.

Entiendo que en el caso de que mi Gobierno formule un arreglo a este objeto y tal arreglo resulte aceptable al Gobierno de Vuestra Excelencia, podrá ser aplicado al arroz americano importado en Cuba no obstante lo estipulado en el Artículo II y en las Partidas 253-A y 253-B de la Lista I del Convenio de 24 de agosto de 1934, a condición, sin embargo, de que en el caso de que mi Gobierno ponga término a este trato más favorable, las estipulaciones relativas al arroz, de las Partidas 253-A y 253-B de la Lista I antes mencionada del Convenio firmado el 24 de agosto de 1934, entrarán de nuevo en pleno vigor.

Aprovecho esta oportunidad para reiterar a Vuestra Excelencia las seguridades de mi más alta consideración,

MARTÍNEZ FRAGA

A Su Excelencia

Mr. CORDELL HULL,

EMBASSY OF CUBA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
December 18, 1939.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to refer to the note which has been inserted after Item 253 of Schedule I of the trade agreement entered into between the United States and Cuba on August 24, 1934, by a provision of the supplementary trade agreement between the United States and Cuba signed at Washington on this day.

Ante, p. 2002.

It is, as I have informed you, the intention of my Government to give further consideration to the possibility of arranging an improvement in the tariff treatment of American rice imported into Cuba, such improvement to remain in effect so long as the share of United States consumption requirements of sugar which may be supplied by sugar originating in the Republic of Cuba is not altered to Cuba's disadvantage as compared with that established in the quota provisions of the United States Sugar Act of 1937.

50 Stat. 904.
7 U. S. C., Supp. V,
§§ 1111-1122.

It is my understanding that in the event that my Government devises an arrangement for this purpose and such arrangement is found acceptable to your Government it may be applied to American rice imported into Cuba notwithstanding the provisions of Article II and Items 253-A and 253-B of Schedule I of the agreement of August 24, 1934, provided, however, that in the event such improved treatment is terminated by my Government, the provisions relating to rice in the aforesaid Items 253-A and 253-B of Schedule I of the trade agreement signed on August 24, 1934, shall again come into full effect.

49 Stat. 3560, 3622;
ante, p. 2002.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my very high consideration.

December 18, 1939.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge your note of this date, in which you state that it is the intention of your Government to give further consideration to the possibility of improving the customs treatment of American rice imported into Cuba, such improvement to remain in effect so long as the share of United States consumption requirements of sugar which may be supplied by sugar originating in the Republic of Cuba is not altered to Cuba's disadvantage as compared with that established in the quota provisions of the United States Sugar Act of 1937.

50 Stat. 904.
7 U. S. C., Supp. V,
§§ 1111-1122.

I further have the honor to confirm your understanding that the note which has been inserted, by a provision of the supplementary trade agreement between the United States and Cuba signed at Washington on this day, after Item 253 of Schedule I of the trade agreement entered into between the United States and Cuba on August 24, 1934, will make possible the application of such an arrangement in the event it is desired by your Government and is found acceptable by my Government, notwithstanding the provisions of Article II and items 253-A and 253-B of Schedule I of the agreement of August 24, 1934.

Ante, p. 2002.

49 Stat. 3560, 3622;

No. 190a LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

MONROVIA, LIBERIA

June 14, 1939

EXCELLENCY:

Air navigation agreement with Liberia.

I have the honor to set forth below the terms of the Air Navigation Agreement between the United States and Liberia as understood by me to have been approved in the course of the negotiations recently conducted by the Legation with your Department of State:

AIR NAVIGATION AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND LIBERIA

ARTICLE 1

Application.

(a) The present arrangement shall apply to continental United States of America, exclusive of Alaska, and to Liberia, including their territorial waters.

(b) Subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, civil aircraft registered by either Party to this arrangement and not engaged in regular scheduled services, shall be accorded liberty of passage above and of landing upon the territory of the other Party.

ARTICLE 2

Safety requirements.

(a) Aircraft of either Party operating in the territory of the other Party must be airworthy. The members of the operating personnel must have the necessary qualifications, and also possess airman certificates issued by the competent authorities of the country of registration.

(b) The aircraft of each Party, their crews, passengers and goods carried thereon shall, while within the territory of the other Party, be subject to the laws in force in that territory, including all regulations relating to air navigation applicable to foreign aircraft, the transport of passengers and goods, and public safety and order, as well as any regulations concerning immigration, quarantine, customs, and clearance.

ARTICLE 3

Most-favored-nation treatment.

In respect to the establishment and operation of air routes and air transport services and all matters pertaining thereto, the nationals and aircraft of the United States of America shall receive most-favored-nation treatment in Liberia. However, the United States of America may not claim any rights in respect of such routes and air transport services if it should be unwilling to accord similar rights to the Government or nationals of Liberia.

ARTICLE 4

The present arrangement shall be subject to termination by either Party upon six months' notice given in writing to the other Party.

Termination.

I should be pleased if you would inform me whether your Government accepts the foregoing text as the text which was agreed to in the course of the recent negotiations. If so, my Government suggests that the agreement become effective on June 15, 1939.

Effective date.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

SIR:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of June 14, 1939 requesting to be informed whether my Government accepts the text set forth in the note under acknowledgment as the text of the Air Navigation Agreement between Liberia and the United States which was agreed to in the course of the negotiations recently conducted by the Department of State with the Legation. The text as set forth in the Legation's note is as follows:

Agreement by Liberia.

AIR NAVIGATION AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND LIBERIA

ARTICLE I

(a) The present arrangement shall apply to continental United States of America, exclusive of Alaska, and to Liberia, including their territorial waters.

(b) Subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, civil aircraft registered by either Party to this arrangement and not engaged in regular scheduled services, shall be accorded liberty of passage above and of landing upon the territory of the other Party.

ARTICLE II

(a) Aircraft of either Party operating in the territory of the other Party must be airworthy. The members of the operating personnel must have the necessary qualifications, and also possess airman certificates issued by the competent authorities of the country of registration.

(b) The aircraft of each Party, their crews, passengers and goods carried thereon shall, while within the territory of the other Party, be subject to the laws in force in that territory, including all regulations relating to air navigation applicable to foreign aircraft, the transport of passengers and goods, and public safety and order, as well as any regulations concerning immigration, quarantine, customs, and clearance.

ARTICLE III

In respect of the establishment and operation of air routes and air transport services and all matters pertaining thereto, the nationals and aircraft of the United States of America shall receive most-favored-nation treatment in Liberia. However, the United States of America may not claim any rights in respect of such routes and air transport services if it should be unwilling to accord similar rights to the Government or nationals of Liberia.

ARTICLE IV

The present arrangement shall be subject to termination by either Party upon six months' notice given in writing to the other Party.

I am glad to assure you that my Government accepts the foregoing text as the text which was agreed to by it in the course of the recent negotiations. My Government also accepts your Government's suggestion that the agreement become effective on June 15, 1939 and will accordingly regard it as becoming effective on that date.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Parcels which are three and one-half feet (105 centimeters) or less in length may not exceed 6 feet (180 centimeters) in length and girth combined.

2. As regards the exact calculation of the weight and dimensions of parcels, the view of the dispatching office shall be accepted, except in cases of obvious error.

ARTICLE 3.

Postage and fees.

Postage and fees.

1. The Administration of origin is entitled to collect from the sender of each parcel such postage and fees for requests for information as to the disposal of a parcel made after it has been posted, and also, in the case of insured parcels, such insurance fees and fees for return receipts as may from time to time be prescribed by its regulations.

Prepayment.

2. Except in the case of returned or redirected parcels, the postage and such of the fees mentioned in the preceding section as are applicable must be prepaid.

ARTICLE 4.

Preparation of parcels.

Addresses.

1. The name and address of the sender and of the addressee must be legibly and correctly written in every case when possible on the parcel itself or on a label gummed thereto, and, in the case of parcels addressed by tag only because of their shape or size, must also be written on a separate slip which slip must be enclosed in the parcel. It is recommended that such address slips be enclosed in all parcels.

Siuntiniai, kurių ilgis yra trys su puse pėdos (105 centimetrai) arba mažiau, neturi viršyti 6 pėdų (180 centimetrų), ilgį ir apimtį kartu paėmus.

2. Kas liečia tikslų siuntinių svorio ir dydžio apskaičiavimą, tai išsiuntimo įstaigos nurodomi duomenys bus laikomi teisingi, išskyrus atsitikimus, kur klaida yra aiški.

3 STRAIPSNIS.

Pašto mokestis ir rinkliavos.

1. Išsiuntimo Valdyba turi teisę imti iš kiekvieno siuntinio siuntėjo tokį pašto mokestį ir rinkliavas už prašymus suteikti žinių, kaip pasielgta su siuntiniu, jį įdavus paštan, o paduodant įvertintus siuntinius, tokias draudimo rinkliavas ir įtekimo pranešimų rinkliavas, kokios laikas nuo laiko bus jos vidaus taisyklėmis austatytos.

2. Pašto mokestis ir aukštesnėje pastraipoje nurodytos rinkliavos, kurias galima pritaikyti, turi būti sumokamos iš anksto, išskyrus atsitikimus, kai siuntiniai gražinami arba dasiunčiami.

4 STRAIPSNIS.

Siuntinių paruošimas.

1. Siuntėjo ir gavėjo pavadinimai ir adresai visada turi būti aiškiai ir teisingai užrašomi, kai galima, ant paties siuntinio arba ant prilipintos prie jo žymelės, o kai dėl siuntinio formos ar dydžio siuntinio adresas būna užrašomas tik ant pririštos prie siuntinio kortelės, tai siuntėjo ir gavėjo pavadinimai ir adresai turi būti, taip pat, užrašomi ant atskiros kortelės, kuri įdedama į siuntinį. Patariama tokias adreso korteles dėti į visus siuntinius.

Parcels will not be accepted when sent by or addressed to initials, unless the initials are the adopted trade name of the senders or addressees.

Addresses in ordinary pencil are not allowed, but copying ink or indelible pencil on a surface previously dampened may be used.

2. The sender shall prepare one customs declaration for each parcel sent from Lithuania and two customs declarations for each parcel sent from the United States of America, upon a special form provided for the purpose, which customs declarations shall give a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement in detail of its contents and value, date of mailing, the weight, the sender's name and address, and the name and address of the addressee; and shall be securely tied to the parcel. The customs declarations of insured parcels must be marked or labeled or stamped "Insured".

3. The Administrations accept no responsibility for the correctness of the customs declarations.

4. Parcels must be packed in boxes of wood or other strong material adequate for the length of the journey and for the protection of the contents. Ordinary parcels may be closed by means of wax, lead seals, or otherwise.

Insured parcels must be closed and securely sealed with wax or otherwise, but the country of destination shall have the right to open them as well as ordinary parcels (including the right to break the seals) in order to inspect the contents. Parcels which have been so opened shall be closed again and officially sealed, except that in the case of ordinary parcels they need not be sealed if they were not sealed by the sender in the first instance.

Either Administration may require a special impress or mark of the sender in the sealing of insured parcels mailed in its service, as a means of protection.

Siuntiniai, kurių siuntėjai arba gavėjai pažymėti inicialais, jei tie inicialai nėra siuntėjų arba gavėjų prisimtas firmos pavadinimas, paštan neprimumami.

Adresus rašyti paprastu pieštuku neleidžiama, bet kimiškus arba neištrinamus pieštukus galima var-toti ant pirmiau sudrėkinto pavirš-šiaus.

2. Siuntėjas surašo po vieną muitinės deklaraciją kiekvienam siunčiamam iš Lietuvos siuntiniui ir po dvi muitinės deklaracijas kiekvienam siunčiamam iš Jungtinių Amerikos Valstybių siuntiniui, specialiai tam tikslui skirtuose blankuose. Šiose muitinės deklaracijose duodama bendras siuntinio aprašymas, tiksliai nusakoma smulkus siuntinio indėlis ir vertė, išsiuntimo laikas, svoris, siuntėjo pavadinimas ir adresas, gavėjo pavadinimas ir adresas ir jos tvirtai pririšamos prie siuntinio. Įvertintų siuntinių muitinės deklaracijos turi būti atžymėtos ranka arba žymele arba spaudu "Insured" (Įvertintas).

3. Valdybos neatsako už muitinės deklaracijų surašymo teisingumą.

4. Siuntiniai turi būti užtaisyti medžio dėžėse arba kitoj kokioj tvirtoj medžiagoj atitinkamoj kelio ilgį ir indėlio apsaugą. Paprasti siuntiniai gali būti uždaromi antspauduojant, plombuojant arba kitaip.

Įvertinti siuntiniai turi būti uždaryti ir saugiai užantspauduoti laku ar kitaip, bet paskyrimo šalis turi teisę juos, kaip ir paprastus siuntinius, atidaryti (su teise nu-plėšti ir antspaudas), jų indėliui patikrinti. Taip atidaryti siuntiniai vėl užtaisomi ir oficialiai užantspauduojami išskyrus pa-prastus siuntinius, kuriuos nėra reikalo antspauduoti, jei jie nebuvo siuntėjo antspauduoti, juos paduodant paštan.

Kiekviena Valdyba gali siuntinio apsaugojimo tikslu reikalauti įduotų jos žinybos paštan įvertintų siuntinių antspaudavime specialaus siuntėjo įspaudu ar ženkle.

Customs declarations.

Packing.

Ordinary parcels. Sealing, etc.

Insured parcels. Sealing, etc.

Labels, stamps, etc.

5. On the address side, each insured parcel must bear a label with the word "Insured", or be stamped or marked with the same word in close proximity to the number given the parcel, and it must also bear an indication of the amount of the insured value, mentioned fully and legibly in the currency of the country of origin and in roman letters. This amount must be converted into gold francs by the sender or by the office of origin, and the result of the conversion is added below the original description.

6. The labels or stamps on insured parcels must be so placed that they cannot serve to conceal injuries to the covers. They must not be folded over two sides of the cover so as to hide the edge.

Liquids, etc.

7. Any liquid or any substance which easily liquefies must be packed in a double receptacle. Between the inner receptacle (bottle, flask, pot, box, etc.) and the outer (box of metal, strong wood, strong corrugated cardboard, or strong fibreboard, or receptacle of equal strength) shall be left a space which shall be filled with sawdust, bran, or some other absorbent material in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid contents in the case of breakage.

Powders, etc.

8. Powders and dyes in powder form must be packed in metal containers which containers must be enclosed in substantial outer covers so as to afford the utmost protection to the accompanying mail matter.

5. Kiekvieno įvertinto siuntinio adreso pusėje arti siuntinio numerio turi būti žymelė su žodžiu "Insured" (Įvertintas), arba uždėtas spaudas ar pažymėjimas su tuo pat žodžiu. Taip pat, ir įvertinimo suma turi būti pilnai ir aiškiai užrašyta siuntinio adreso pusėje išsiuntimo šalies valiuta ir lotynų raidėmis. Siuntėjas arba išsiuntimo įstaiga turi išversti šią sumą į aukso frankus. Išvertimo daviniai įrašomi žemiau išsiuntimo šalies valiutoje išreikštos sumos.

6. Žymelės ir spaudai ant įvertintų siuntinių turi būti uždedami taip, kad jie negalėtų paslėpti apdaro sužalojimų. Jos neturi būti užlenkiamos per dvi apdaro puses, kad nepaslėptų siuntinio briaunos.

7. Bet kokie skysčiai arba lengvai skystančios medžiagos turi būti užtaisomos dvigubuose apdaruose. Tarp vidurinio apdaro (butelio, flakono, puodo, dėžės ir t. t.) ir viršutinio (metalo, tvirtu medžio, tvirtu banguoto kartono arba tvirtų fibro lentelių dėžės arba panašaus tvirtumo apdaro) paliekama tuščia vieta, kuri užpildoma pakankamu kiekiu piuvėnų, sėlenų arba kitos skysti sugeriančios medžiagos, kad indui sudužus susigertų visas skystimas.

8. Milteliai arba miltelių formos dažai turi būti užtaisomi metalinėse dėžutėse, kurios turi būti įdedamos į tvirtus išorinius apdarus, kad kuo labiausiai apsaugojus kitas drauge siunčiamas pašto siuntas.

ARTICLE 5.

Prohibitions.

Articles prohibited transmission.

1. The following articles are prohibited transmission by parcel post:

(a) A letter or a communication having the nature of an actual and personal correspondence. Nevertheless, it is permitted to enclose in a parcel an open invoice confined to the particulars which constitute an invoice, and also a simple copy of the address of the parcel, that of the sender being added.

5 STRAIPSNIS.

Draudimai.

1. Pašto siuntiniais draudžiama siųsti šie daiktai:

(a) Laiškai arba raštai turi asmeniško arba aktualaus susirašinėjimo pobūdį. Tačiau į siuntinį leidžiama įdėti atvirą, apribotą daiktaraščio privalumais, daiktaraštį ir, taip pat, paprastą siuntinio adreso nuorašą, pridėtant ir siuntėjo adresą.

(b) An enclosure which bears an address other than that of the addressee of the parcel or that of a person living with him.

(c) Any live animals (except leeches).

(d) Any article of which the admission is not authorized by the customs or other laws or regulations in force in either country.

(e) Any explosive or inflammable article and, in general, any article of which the conveyance is dangerous.

2. When a parcel contravening any of these prohibitions is handed over by one Administration to the other, the latter shall proceed in accordance with its laws and its inland regulations.

3. The two Postal Administrations shall furnish each other with a list of prohibited articles; but they will not thereby undertake any responsibility whatever towards the police, the Customs Authorities, or the senders of parcels.

ARTICLE 6.

Customs duties.

The parcels shall be subject in the country of destination to all customs duties and all customs regulations in force in that country for the protection of its customs revenue, and the customs duties properly chargeable thereon shall be collected on delivery, in accordance with the customs regulations of the country of destination.

ARTICLE 7.

Method of exchange of parcels.

1. The parcels shall be exchanged in sacks duly fastened and sealed, by the offices appointed by agreement between the two Administrations, and shall be dispatched to the country of destination by the country of origin at its cost and by such means as it provides.

2. Insured parcels shall be enclosed in separate sacks from those in which ordinary parcels are contained and the labels of sacks

(b) Indėlis, ant kurio bŭtų pažymėta kitas adresas negu siuntinio gavėjo arba su juo gyvenančio asmens.

(e) Bet kokie sprogstą arba lengvai užsidegą daiktai ir bendrai bet kokie daiktai, kurių pervežimas sudaro pavojaus.

2. Atsitikimuose, kada siuntinys, prieštaraujantis bet kuriems iš šių draudimų, yra vienos Valdybos perduotas kitai, ši pastaroji elgiasi su juo pagal savo įstatymus ir savo vidaus taisykles.

3. Abi Pašto Valdybos patiekia viena kitai uždraustų įvežti daiktų sąrašus, bet tuo jos neprisiima jokios atsakomybės nei policijos nei muitinės organų, nei siuntinių siuntėjų atžvilgiu.

6 STRAIPSNIS.

Muito rinkliavos

Paskyrimo šalyje siuntiniams taikoma visos muito rinkliavos ir visos veikiančios toj šaly, apsaugojimui jos muito įplaukų, muito taisyklės. Tinkamai uždėtos muito rinkliavos išieškamos, siuntinius išduodant, prisilaikant paskyrimo šalies muito taisyklių.

Billing of parcels.Siuntinių įrašymas į lakštus.

Billing of parcels.

1. The insured parcels and the ordinary parcels are entered in separate parcel bills. The parcel bills are prepared in duplicate. The original is sent in the regular mails, while the duplicate is inserted in one of the parcel sacks. The sack containing the parcel bill is designated by the letter "F" conspicuously marked on the label.

2. The ordinary parcels included in each dispatch sent to Lithuania are to be entered in bulk on the parcel bills, but by classes of parcels (a) up to 1 kilogram in weight, (b) from 1 to 5 kilograms, (c) from 5 to 10 kilograms, (d) from 10 to 15 kilograms, and (e) from 15 to 20 kilograms.

The ordinary parcels included in each dispatch sent to the United States of America are to be entered on the parcel bills to show the total number of parcels and the total net weight thereof.

Insured parcels shall be entered individually on the parcel bills to show the insurance number and the name of the office of origin.

In the case of insured parcels for Lithuania, the parcel bills must also show the indication of the division of weight to which the parcel belongs.

In the case of insured parcels for the United States of America, the parcel bills must also show the total net weight of the parcels.

3. Returned or redirected parcels must be entered individually on the parcel bills and must be followed by the word "Returned" or "Redirected", as the case may be. A statement of the charges which may be due on these parcels should be shown in the "Observations" column.

1. Įvertinti siuntiniai ir paprasti siuntiniai įrašomi į atskirus siuntinių lakštus. Siuntinių lakštai surašomi dviejuose egzemplioriuose. Originalas siunčiamas paprastu paštu, o dublikatas įdedamas į vieną siuntinių maišą. Maišas, kuriame įdėtas siuntinių lakštas atžymimas raide "F", aiškiai ją įrašant žymelėje.

2. Paprasti siunčiami kiekvienu paštu į Lietuvą siuntiniai įrašomi į siuntinių lakštus bendru skaičiumi, bet paskirstyti kategorijomis: (a) iki 1 kilogramo svorio, (b) nuo 1 iki 5 kilogramų, (c) nuo 5 iki 10 kilogramų, (d) nuo 10 iki 15 kilogramų ir (e) nuo 15 iki 20 kilogramų.

Paprasti siuntiniai, siunčiami kiekvienu paštu į Jungtines Amerikos Valstybes, įrašomi siuntinių lakštuose nurodant bendrą siuntinių skaičių ir bendrą jų neto svorį.

Įvertinti siuntiniai įrašomi į siuntinių lakštus kiekvienas atskirai, nurodant įvertinimo numerį ir padavimo įstaigos pavadinimą.

Įvertintų siuntinių siunčiamų į Lietuvą siuntinių lakštuose turi, taip pat, būti nurodyta svorio kategorija, kuriai siuntinys priklauso.

Įvertintų siuntinių, siunčiamų į Jungtines Amerikos Valstybes, siuntinių lakštuose, turi, taip pat, būti nurodyta bendras siuntinių neto svoris.

3. Gražinamieji arba dasiunčiamieji siuntiniai turi būti įrašyti siuntinių lakštuose skyrium, ties kiekvienu pažymint ir žodį "Returned" (Gražinamas) arba "Redirected" (Dasiunčiamas) žiūrint reikalo. Nustatytas už šiuos siuntinius mokestis turi būti nurodytas "Observations" (Pastabų) skylyje.

Returned or redirected parcels.

4. The total number of sacks comprising each dispatch must also be shown on the parcel bills.

5. Parcels sent à découvert must be entered separately on the parcel bills.

6. Each dispatching office of exchange shall number the parcel bills in the upper left-hand corner, commencing each year a fresh series for each office of exchange of destination. The last number of the year shall be shown on the parcel bill of the first dispatch of the following year.

7. The exact method of advising parcels or the receptacles containing them sent by one Administration in transit through the other, together with any details of procedure in connection with the advice of such parcels or receptacles for which provision is not made in this Agreement, shall be settled by mutual agreement through correspondence between the two Administrations.

4. Bendras skaičius maišų sudarančių kiekvieną paštą irgi turi būti nurodytas siuntinių lakštuose.

5. Palaidai (à découvert) siunčiamieji siuntiniai turi būti įrašomi į siuntinių lakštus atskirai.

6. Kiekviena išsiuntimo apsimainymo įstaiga numeruoja siuntinių lakštus viršutiniame kairiajame kampe, pradedant kiekvienais metais naują numeraciją kiekvienai paskyrimo apsimainymo įstaigai atskirai. Paskutinis metų numeris nurodomas pirmojo kitų metų pašto siuntinių lakšte.

7. Dėl tikslaus būdo, kaip, būtent, įrašyti į siuntinių lakštus vienos Valdybos siunčiamus tranzitu per antrąją siuntinius ar maišus su tokiais siuntiniais, kaip ir dėl bet kokių vykdymo smulkmenų, susijusių su tokių siuntinių ar maišų su tokiais siuntiniais įrašymu, kurios šioje sutartyje nenustatytos, abi Valdybos susitaria tarpusavyje susirašinėdamos.

ARTICLE 9.

Insurance.

1. The sender of a parcel may have the same insured up to a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, when mailed in the United States of America, or 1200 litas, when mailed in Lithuania.

Both Administrations reserve the right to arrange by mutual agreement through correspondence for a higher or lower limit of insurance than that mentioned in this Agreement.

2. The insurance of all parcels containing coin, bank notes, paper money, bullion, jewelry, or any other precious article exchanged between the two Administrations is obligatory.

If a parcel containing coin, bank notes, paper money, bullion, jewelry, or any other precious article, is mailed uninsured, it shall be placed under insurance by the post office which first observes the fact of its having been mailed uninsured and treated in accord-

9 STRAIPSNIS.

Siuntinių įvertinimas.

1. Siuntinio siuntėjas gali siuntinį įvertinti iki 1200 Litų, kai siuntinys paduodamas paštan Lietuvoje arba iki 200 dolerių sumos, kai siuntinys paduodamas paštan Jungtinėse Amerikos Valstybėse.

Abi Valdybos pasilieka sau teisę tarpusavyje susirašinėjimo būdu susitarusios nustatyti didesnę ar mažesnę, negu šioje sutartyje nustatyta, įvertinimo maksimumą.

2. Visi tarp abiejų Valdybų apsimainomi siuntiniai, kurių indėlių sudaro metaliniai pinigai, banknotai, popieriniai pinigai, aukso ar sidabro lydiniai, brangenybės arba kiti brangūs daiktai turi būti būtinai įvertinami.

Jei siuntinys su metaliniais pinigais, banknotais, popieriniais pinigais, aukso ar sidabro lydiniais, brangenybėmis ar kokiais kitais brangiais daiktais buvo paduotas paštan kaip neįvertintas siuntinys, tai pašto įstaiga, kuri pirmoji pastebi tokį siuntinį, priskiria jį

Advice of delivery.

1. The sender of an insured parcel may obtain an advice of delivery upon payment of such additional charge, if any, as the country of origin of the parcel shall stipulate.

1. Įvertinto siuntinio siuntėjas gali gauti įteikimo pranešimą, sumokėdamas už tai siuntinio išsiuntimo šalies nustatytą papildomąjį mokestį, jei toks mokestis yra.

Inquiries.

2. A fee may be charged, at the option of the country of origin, on a request for information as to the disposal of an ordinary parcel and also of an insured parcel made after it has been posted if the sender has not already paid the special fee to obtain an advice of delivery.

2. Išsiuntimo šalis gali imti iš siuntėjo savo nuožiūra nustatytą rinkliavą patenkinimui siuntėjo prašymo pranešti jam kas padaryta su paprastu siuntiniu arba ir su įvertintu siuntiniu, kuris jau paduotas paštan, bet kurio siuntėjas nebuvo dar sumokėjęs specialaus įteikimo pranešimo mokesčio.

Complaints.

A fee may also be charged, at the option of the country of origin, in connection with any complaint of any irregularity which prima facie was not due to the fault of the Postal Service.

Išsiuntimo šalis gali, taip pat, savo nuožiūra imti mokestį sąryšy su bet kokiais nusiskundimais dėl bet kokių netikslumų įvykusių, aiškiai, ne dėl pašto tarnybos kaltės.

Marking of parcels, etc.

3. When an advice of delivery is desired, the sender or office of origin shall write or stamp on the parcel and the customs declaration in a conspicuous manner, the words "Return receipt requested", "Advice of delivery requested", or the letters "A. R."

3. Kai norima gauti įteikimo pranešimą, siuntėjas arba išsiuntimo įstaiga aiškiai pastebimai užrašo arba uždeda spaudą ant siuntinio ir ant muitinės deklaracijos su žodžiais "Return receipt requested", "advice of delivery requested" (Prašoma atsiųsti įteikimo pranešimą) arba raidėmis "A. R."

Ordinary parcels.

1. Neither the sender nor the addressee of an ordinary (uninsured) parcel shall be entitled to compensation for the loss of the parcel or for the abstraction of or damage to its contents.

1. Paprasto (neįvertinto) siuntinio nei siuntėjas, nei adresatas neturi teisės gauti atlyginimą už siuntinio dingimą arba jo turinio išplėšimą ar sugadinimą.

Insured parcels.

2. Except in cases of loss or damage through force majeure as that term is defined by the legal decisions or rulings of the country in the service of which the loss or damage occurs, when an insured parcel has been lost, rifled, or damaged, the sender or other

2. Išskyrus atsitikimus, kai siuntinys dingsta arba yra sugadinamas per "force majeure" (dėl nenugalimų gamtos kliūčių), taip kaip tas terminas suprantamas teisėtais nutarimais ar taisyklėmis tos šalies, kurios tarnyboje dingimas ar sugadinimas įvyko, din-rightful claimant is entitled to an indemnity corresponding to the actual amount of loss, rifling, or damage, based on the actual value at the time and place of mailing of the lost, rifled, or damaged article; unless the loss, rifling, or damage has arisen from the fault or negligence of the sender or the addressee, or of the representative of either, or from the nature of the article; provided that the indemnity shall not exceed the sum for which the required insurance fee was paid in the country of origin.

While, as stated in the preceding paragraph, the Administrations are not obligated to pay indemnity in the case of loss or damage due to force majeure, either Administration may, at its option and without recourse to the other Administration, pay indemnity for loss or damage due to force majeure even in the cases where the Administration of the country in the service of which the loss or damage occurred recognizes that the damage was due to force majeure.

3. In the absence of special agreement to the contrary between the countries involved (which agreement may be made through correspondence) no indemnity will be paid by either country for the loss, rifling, or damage of transit insured parcels originating in one of the two contracting countries addressed for delivery in some other country not a party to this Agreement or originating in a third country addressed for delivery to one of the two contracting countries.

4. In case an insured parcel originating in one country and addressed for delivery in the other country is forwarded or returned from the country of original address to a third country, the rightful claimant shall be entitled to gusio, apiplėšto ar sugadinto įvertinto siuntinio siuntėjas, ar kitas kuris teisėtas ieškovas turi teisę gauti atlyginimą atitinkanti tikrąją dingimo, apiplėšimo ar sugadinimo vertę, kuri apskaičiuojama pasiremiant tikrąja dingusio, apiplėšto ar sugadinto daikto vertę tuo laiku ir toj vietoj, kurioj jis buvo paduotas paštan, jei tik dingimas, apiplėšimas arba sugadinimas neįvyko dėl siuntėjo, adresato arba vieno bet kurio iš jų igaliojinio kaltės ar apsileidimo arba dėl pačios daikto prigimties ir su sąlyga, kad atlyginimas neviršytų tos sumos, atitinkamai už kurią išsiuntimo šaliai buvo sumokėta įvertinimo mokestis.

Nors, kaip aukščiau esančioj pastraipoj nustatyta, Valdybos neprivalo mokėti atlyginimą tais atvejais, kai dingimas arba sugadinimas įvyksta dėl nenugalimų gamtos jėgų (force majeure), tačiau kiekviena Valdyba gali, savo nuožiūra ir ne atsiklausdama antrosios Valdybos, mokėti atlyginimą už dingimą arba sugadinimą įvykusį dėl nenugalimų gamtos jėgų (force majeure), net ir tokiais atvejais, kada Valdyba tos šalies, kurios tarnyboje dingimas arba sugadinimas įvyko, pripažįsta, kad žala įvyko dėl nenugalimų gamtos jėgų (force majeure).

3. Nesant tarp abiejų suinteresuotų šalių atskiro, tam priešingo, susitarimo (tokį susitarimą galima sudaryti susirašinėjimų keliu), nė viena iš šių dviejų šalių nemoka atlyginimo už dingimą, apiplėšimą arba sugadinimą įvertintų tranzito siuntinių, paduotų paštan bet kurioje iš sudarančių šią sutartį šalių ir adresuotų įteikimui kurioj kitoj šaly, kuri nėra dalyvė šios sutarties, arba paduotų paštan kurioj nors trečioj šaly ir adresuotų įteikti kurioj nors iš sudarančių šią sutartį šalių.

Either country adhering to this Agreement which improperly forwards an insured parcel to a third country, shall be responsible therefor to the extent of liability of the country of origin to the sender within the limit of indemnity fixed by this Agreement.

Bet kuri iš surištų šia sutartimi šalių, netinkamai pasiuntusi įvertintą siuntinį į kokią nors trečią šalį, yra atsakinga už tai siuntėjui išsiuntimo šaliai nustatytais atsakomungumo sąlygomis, šios sutarties nustatytose atlyginimui ribose.

Time limitation.

5. No application for indemnity will be entertained unless a claim or an initial inquiry, oral or written, shall be filed by claimant or his representative within a year commencing with the day following the posting of the insured parcel.

5. Joks prašymas atlyginimui gauti nesvarstomas, jeigu ieškovas arba jo įgaliojtinis neįteikia pareikalavimo atlyginimui gauti arba nepadarė pirmojo paieškojimo žodžiu ar raštu per vienu metų laikotarpį, skaitant nuo dienos sekančios po įvertinto siuntinio įdavimo paštan.

Indirect, etc., damages.

6. No compensation shall be given for loss, injury, or damage consequential upon, i. e., indirectly arising from, the loss, nondelivery, damage, misdelivery, or delay of any insured parcel transmitted under this Agreement, nor for parcels seized by the Customs because of false declaration of contents.

6. Jokio atlyginimo nemokama už nuostolius, žalą ar išlaidas, kurios buvo išdava, t. y., kilo netiesioginiai iš bet kokio siūsto pagal šią sutartį įvertinto siuntinio dingimo, neįteikimo, sugadinimo, klaidingo įteikimo arba pavėlavimo jį įteikti, nei už siuntinius, kurie buvo muitinėje sukonfiskuoti dėl neteisingo indėlio nurodymo deklaracijoje.

Losses not indemnifiable.

7. No indemnity will be paid for insured parcels which contain matter of no intrinsic value nor for perishable matter or matter prohibited transmission in the parcel-post mails exchanged between the contracting Administrations, or which did not conform to the stipulations of this Agreement, or which were not posted in the manner prescribed; but the country responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage may pay indemnity in respect of such parcels without recourse to the other Administration.

7. Jokio atlyginimo nemokama už įvertintus siuntinius, kurių indėlių sudaro neturį jokios tikros vertės daiktai, greit gendą daiktai, arba daiktai, kurie yra uždrausti siūsti siuntinių paštais, apsimainomais tarp šia sutartimi surištų Valdybų arba kurie nesiderina su šios sutarties nuostatais arba kurie nebuvo paduoti paštan pagal nustatytą tvarką, tačiau šalis, kuri yra atsakinga už dingimą, apiplėšimą arba sugadinimą, gali mokėti atlyginimą už tokius siuntinius neatsiklausdama antrosios Valdybos.

of complete loss, irreparable damage of entire contents, or rifling of entire contents for the amount of postage or special charges borne by an insured parcel, if claimed. The insurance fees are not returned in any case.

9. No responsibility will be admitted for insured parcels which cannot be accounted for in consequence of the destruction of official documents through causes beyond control.

10. In case the sender, addressee, or owner of an insured parcel, or his representative shall at any time knowingly allege the contents to be above their real value, or whenever any false, fictitious, or fraudulent evidence is knowingly and wilfully introduced, the Administration responsible for the indemnity reserves the right without any refund of fee or postage to decline to pay indemnity or to pay such indemnity as may in its discretion be considered equitable in the light of the evidence produced. The enforcement of this rule shall not prejudice any legal proceedings to which such fraudulent evidence may have rendered the claimant liable.

11. When an insured article has been lost, rifled, or damaged, the Administration of origin shall pay indemnity to the rightful claimant as soon as possible and at the latest within a period of one year counting with the day following that on which the application is made, which payment shall be made on account of the Administration of destination, if that Administration is responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage, and has been duly notified.

12. However, the Administration of origin may, in the cases indicated in the foregoing section, exceptionally defer payment of indemnity for a longer period than that stipulated if, at the expiration of that period, it has not been able to determine the disposition made of the article in question or the responsibility incurred.

13. Except in cases where payment is exceptionally deferred as

9. Jokios atsakomybės neprisiimama už įvertintus siuntinius, kurių negalima išaiškinti dėl tokių siuntinių oficialių dokumentų dingimo per nenugalimas gamtos jėgas.

10. Įvertinto siuntinio siuntėjui, gavėjui, savininkui ar savininko įgaliotiniui bet kuriuo laiku sąmoningai nurodžius indėlį esant didesnės vertės negu jis tikrai yra arba sąmoningai ir laisvu noru patiekus bet kokius neteisingus, prasimanytus ar apgaulingus parodymus, atsakingoji už atlyginimą Valdyba pasilieka sau teisę, negražindama jokių rinkliavų ar pašto mokesčio, atsakyti mokėti atlyginimą arba mokėti tokį atlyginimą, kokį ji savo nuožiūra randa esant tinkamų, patiektųjų įrodymų šviesoje. Šios taisyklės vykdymas nesukliudys jokių teisinių veiksmų, kokių ieškovas būtų užsitarnavęs tokiais apgaulingais parodymais.

11. Įvertintam siuntiniui dingus, esant apiplėštam arba sugadintam, išsiuntimo Valdyba išmoka atlyginimą teisėtam ieškovui kaip galima greičiau ir ne vėliau kaip per vienų metų laikotarpį, skaitant nuo kitos po pareiškimo padavimo dienos; šis išmokėjimas atliekamas paskyrimo šalies Valdybos sąskaiton, jei ši Valdyba atsakinga už dingimą, apiplėšimą arba sugadinimą ir jeigu apie tai buvo tinkamai informuota.

12. Tačiau išsiuntimo Valdyba, aukštesniame paragrafe nurodytais atvejais, gali, išimtiniais atsitikimais, atidėti atlyginimo išmokėjimą ilgesniam negu nustatyta laikotarpiui, jei ji šiam terminui praėjus, negalėjo nustatyti, kas su rūpimuoju siuntiniu atsitiko arba kas turi už jį atsakyti.

Payment of indemnity.

provided in the foregoing section, the country of origin is authorized to pay indemnity on behalf of the country of destination if that country has, after being duly informed of the application for indemnity, let nine months pass without settling the matter.

14. The obligation of paying the indemnity shall rest with the country to which the mailing office is subordinate. That country can make a claim on the country responsible, that is to say, against the Administration on the territory or in the service of which the loss, rifling, or damage took place.

Repayment.

15. The country responsible for the loss, rifling, or damage and on whose account payment is made is bound to repay to the country making payment on its behalf, without delay and within not more than nine months after receiving notice of payment, the amount of indemnity paid.

16. Repayments are to be made free of cost to the creditor country by means of either a money order or a draft, or in money valid in the creditor country, or by such other means as may be mutually agreed upon by correspondence.

Administration responsible.

17. Until the contrary is proved, responsibility for an insured parcel rests with the country which, having received the parcel without making any observation and being furnished all necessary particulars for inquiry, is unable to show its proper disposition.

If the loss, abstraction, or damage has occurred in the course of conveyance without its being possible to ascertain in which service the irregularity took place, the Postal Administrations concerned bear the loss in equal shares.

18. Responsibility for loss, rifling, or damage of an insured parcel discovered by the receiving office of exchange at the time of opening the receptacles and duly notified to the dispatching office of exchange by bulletin of verification, shall fall upon the Adminis-

14. Prievolė mokėti atlyginimą palieka šaliai, kuriai priklauso išsiuntimo įstaiga. Šioji šalis gali reikalauti atlyginimo iš atsakingos šalies, t. y. iš Valdybos, kurios teritorijoje arba tarnyboje dingimas, apiplėšimas arba sugadinimas įvyko.

15. Atsakomingoji už dingimą, apiplėšimą arba sugadinimą šalis, kurios sąskaiton išmokėta atlyginimas, turi neatidėliodama ir ne vėliau kaip per devynių mėnesių laikotarpį po gavimo pranešimo apie atlyginimo išmokėjimą grąžinti išmokėto atlyginimo sumą šaliai, kuri išmokėjo atlyginimą jos vardan.

16. Atlyginimas grąžinamas kreditoriai šaliai nemokamai pašto perlaidomis, čekiais arba esančiais apyvartoje kreditorėje šalyje pinigais ar bet kuriuo kitu savitarpiai susitartu per susirašinėjimus būdu.

17. Kol neįrodyta kitaip, atsakomybė už įvertintą siuntinį tenka šaliai, kuri, priėmusi siuntinį be jokių pastabų ir gavusi visas paieškojimui reikalingas žinias, negali įrodyti, kad su siuntiniu buvo tinkamai pasielgta.

Jei dingimas, apiplėšimas arba sugadinimas įvyko kelyje ir negalima nustatyti kurioje tarnyboje tas atsitiko, tai suinteresuotos Pašto Valdybos atsako lygiomis dalimis.

18. Už įvertinto siuntinio dingimą, apiplėšimą arba sugadinimą, gavimo apsomainymo įstaigos pastebėtą atidarant maišus ir tinkamai patikrinimo pranešimu praneštą išsiuntimo apsomainymo įstaigai, atsako Valdyba, kuriai priklauso išsiuntimo apsomainymo

ARTICLE 12.

Transit parcels.

1. Each Administration guarantees the right of transit over its territory to or from any country with which it has parcel-post communication, of parcels originating in or addressed for delivery in the territory of the other contracting Administration.

2. Each Administration shall inform the other to which countries and under what conditions parcels may be sent through it as intermediary.

3. To be accepted for onward transmission, parcels sent by one of the contracting Administrations through the service of the other Administration must comply with the conditions prescribed from time to time by the intermediary Administration.

ARTICLE 13.

Check by office of exchange.

1. On the receipt of a parcel mail, the receiving office of exchange shall check it. The insured parcels must be carefully compared with the accompanying bills. 2. When this retransmission involves the return of the parcels to the office of origin, the retransmitting office of exchange shall credit that office with the allowances received after having called attention to the error by means of a verification note.

In the contrary case and if the amount allowed by the dispatching office to the retransmitting office is insufficient to cover the expenses of retransmission which it had to defray, it shall recover the difference by making a suitable amendment to the parcel bill of the dispatching office of exchange. The reason for this amendment shall be notified to the said office by means of a verification note.

3. When a parcel has been wrongly allowed to be dispatched in consequence of an error on the part of the postal service and has for this reason to be returned to the country of origin, the procedure followed shall be the same as if the parcel had to be sent back to the dispatching office in consequence of missending.

4. A redirected parcel shall be accompanied by the customs declaration prepared at the office of origin. In case the parcel, for any reason whatsoever, has to be repacked or the original customs declaration replaced by a substitute declaration, it is essential that the name of the office of origin of the parcel and the original serial number appear on the parcel and that the name of the office of origin of the parcel appear on the customs declaration.

3. Už kiekvieną siuntinį neapmokėtai gražintą arba dasiustą iš vienos šių dviejų Valdybų į antrą, gražinančioji arba dasiunčiančioji Valdyba turi teisę išieškoti iš antrosios Valdybos:

(a) Mokesčius, nustatytus šio straipsnio 1 skirsnyje,

(b) Mokesčius už dasiuntimą arba gražinimą,

(c) Muito formalumų atlikimo, pristatymo ir saugojimo mokesčius, numatytus 14 straipsnyje.

Dasiunčiant arba gražinant siuntinį į trečią šalį, minėti mokesčiai seka siuntinį, bet jei trečioji šalis, negalėdama jų išieškoti iš adresato arba, žiūrint atsitikimo, siuntėjo arba dėl bet kurios kitos priežasties atsisako priimti šiuos mokesčius, tai jie uždedami išsiuntimo šaliai.

Gražinant arba dasiunčiant siuntinį neapmokėtai tranzitu per vieną iš šių dviejų Valdybų į arba iš antrosios, tarpininkaujanti įstaiga gali, taip pat, reikalauti priklausančios jai sumos už bet kokį jos atliktą papildomą žemės ar jūros patarnavimą, kartu su bet kokiais mokesčiais, priklausančiais bet kuriai kitai suinteresuotai Valdybai arba Valdyboms.

Netoli nuo tokio pažymėjimo turi būti nurodytas duotasis siuntiniui numeris, kuris yra jo įvertinimo numeris, (tiksliai vienas originalus numeris), ir po juo turi būti lotynų raidėmis ir arabų skaitmenimis parašyta tiksli išperkamojo mokesčio suma. Į išperkamojo mokesčio sumą papildomai perlaidos rinkliava, kuri bus išieškota siuntinio išdavimo šalyje sumos persiuntimui siuntėjui į siuntinio padavimo šalį, neįskaitoma.

2. Be to, kad siuntiniai turi būti atžymėti arba turėti užlipintą žymelę, pagal duotus pirmoje pastraipoje, viršuj, nurodymus, kiekvienas išperkamojo mokesčio siuntinys dar gali turėti pritvirtintą prie jo bendrai susitartos formos išperkamojo mokesčio žymelę.

34 STRAIPSNIS.

Dasiuntimas. Gražinimas.

1. Jei tarpusavy kitaip nesusitarta, išperkamojo mokesčio siuntiniai į trečią šalį nedasiunčiami.

2. Išperkamojo mokesčio siuntinio siuntėjas gali siuntinį atšaukti, atlikdamas tokius formalumus, kurie yra tokiam reikalui nustatyti siuntinio padavimo šalyje.

35 STRAIPSNIS.

Neįteikimas.

Siuntėjas gali pasirūpinti, kad, jeigu jo išperkamojo mokesčio siuntinio nebūtų galima įteikti pagal pirmąją adresą, su juo būtų pasielgta kaip kitaip, būtent, panašiai kaip su siuntiniais be išperkamojo mokesčio ir kaip tas nustatyta 18 straipsnyje.

C. GALUTINIAI NUOSTATAI.

36 STRAIPSNIS.

Nenumatyti šioje sutartyje dalykai.

1. Visi reikalai liečią įvertintų siuntinių atšaukimo arba adreso pakeitimo prašymus, jų įteikimo pranešimų išgavimą, jais pasireceipts therefor, and the adjustment of indemnity claims in connection therewith not covered by this Agreement shall be governed by the provisions of the Universal Postal Union Convention and the Detailed Regulations for its Execution, and of the Postal Money Order Convention in force between the two countries, insofar as they are applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement, and then, if no other arrangement has been made, the internal legislation, regulations, and rulings of the United States of America and of Lithuania, according to the country involved, shall govern.

2. The Postmaster General of the United States of America and the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs of Lithuania shall have authority jointly to make from time to time by correspondence such changes and modifications and further regulations of order and detail as may become necessary to facilitate the operation of the services contemplated by this Agreement.

3. The Administrations shall communicate to each other from time to time the provisions of their laws or regulations applicable to the conveyance of parcels by parcel post.

ARTICLE 37.

Temporary suspension of service.

Either Administration may temporarily suspend the insurance and the collect-on-delivery services, in whole or in part, when there are special reasons for doing so, or restrict them to certain offices; but on the condition that previous and opportune notice of such a measure is given to the other Administration, such notice to be given by the most rapid means, if necessary.

TITRE I.

DE L'UNION POSTALE UNIVERSELLE.

CHAPITRE I.

ORGANISATION ET RESSORT DE L'UNION.

ARTICLE PREMIER.

Constitution de l'Union.

Les Pays entre lesquels est conclue la présente Convention for-

MANDATE (SYRIA AND LEBANON), the REPUBLIC OF LIBERIA, LITHUANIA, LUXEMBURG, MOROCCO (EXCEPT THE SPANISH ZONE), MOROCCO (SPANISH ZONE), MEXICO, NICARAGUA, NORWAY, NEW ZEALAND, the REPUBLIC OF PANAMA, PARAGUAY, the NETHERLANDS, CURAÇAO AND SURINAM, the NETHERLANDS INDIES, PERU, the COMMONWEALTH OF THE PHILIPPINES, POLAND, PORTUGAL, the PORTUGUESE COLONIES IN WEST AFRICA, the PORTUGUESE COLONIES IN EAST AFRICA, IN ASIA AND OCEANIA, RUMANIA, the REPUBLIC OF SAN MARINO, SIAM, SWEDEN, the SWISS CONFEDERATION, CZECHO-SLOVAKIA, TUNISIA, TURKEY, the UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS, the EASTERN REPUBLIC OF URUGUAY, the VATICAN CITY STATE, the UNITED STATES OF VENEZUELA, YEMEN, AND THE KINGDOM OF YUGOSLAVIA.

The undersigned, plenipotentiaries of the Governments of the countries above enumerated, being assembled in Congress at Buenos Aires by virtue of Article 13 of the Universal Postal Convention concluded at Cairo on March 20, 1934, have, by common consent and subject to ratification, revised the said Convention to read as follows:

TITLE I

UNIVERSAL POSTAL UNION

CHAPTER I

ORGANIZATION AND EXTENT OF THE UNION

ARTICLE 1

Constitution of the Union

The countries between which the present Convention is con-ment, sous la dénomination d'Union postale universelle, un seul territoire postal pour l'échange réciproque des correspondances.

L'Union postale a également pour objet d'assurer l'organisation et le perfectionnement des divers services postaux internationaux.

cluded form, under the name of Universal Postal Union, a single postal territory for the reciprocal exchange of correspondence.

The purpose of the Postal Union is also to assure the organization and perfection of the various international postal services.

Purpose.

ARTICLE 2.

ARTICLE 2

Adhésions nouvelles. Procédure.

New adhesions. Procedure

Tout Pays est admis en tout temps à adhérer à la Convention.

Any country is permitted at any time to adhere to the Convention.

Adhesions.

L'adhésion doit être notifiée par voie diplomatique au Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse et par celui-ci aux Gouvernements de tous les Pays de l'Union.

Notice of the adhesion shall be given through diplomatic channels to the Government of the Swiss Confederation and by the latter to the Governments of all the countries of the Union.

Procedure.

ARTICLE 3.

ARTICLE 3

Convention et Arrangements de l'Union.

Convention and Agreements of the Union

Le service de la poste aux lettres est réglé par les dispositions de la Convention.

The regular-mail service is governed by the provisions of the Convention.

Regular-mail service.

D'autres services, tels que ceux des lettres et des boîtes avec valeur déclarée, des colis postaux, des mandats de poste, des virements postaux, des valeurs à recouvrer et des abonnements aux journaux et écrits périodiques, font l'objet d'Arrangements entre Pays de l'Union.

Other services, such as those of insured letters and boxes, parcel post, money orders, postal checks, collection orders, and subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals, form the subject of Agreements between countries of the Union.

Other services.

Ces Arrangements ne sont obligatoires que pour les Pays qui y ont adhéré.

Such Agreements are binding only upon countries which have adhered to them.

Countries bound by Agreements.

L'adhésion à un ou plusieurs de ces Arrangements est soumise aux dispositions de l'article 2.

Adhesion to one or more of those agreements is subject to the provisions of Article 2.

Adhesions.

ARTICLE 4.

ARTICLE 4

Règlements d'exécution.

Regulations of Execution

Les Administrations postales des Pays de l'Union arrêtent d'un commun accord, dans des Règlements d'exécution, les mesures d'ordre et de détail nécessaires à l'exécution de la Convention et des Arrangements.

The Postal Administrations of the countries of the Union draw up, by mutual agreement, in the form of Regulations of Execution, the measures of order and detail necessary for the execution of the Convention and the Agreements.

Regulations of Execution.

ARTICLE 5.

Unions restreintes. Arrangements spéciaux.

Restricted unions; special agreements.

Les Pays de l'Union et, pour autant que leur législation ne s'y oppose pas, les Administrations, peuvent établir des Unions restreintes et prendre entre eux des arrangements spéciaux concernant les objets traités dans la Convention et dans son Règlement, à la condition toutefois de ne pas y introduire des dispositions moins favorables, pour le public, que celles qui sont prévues par ces Actes.

Option to participating countries.

La même faculté est accordée aux Pays qui participent aux Arrangements et, le cas échéant, à leurs Administrations, en ce qui concerne les objets visés par ces Actes et leurs Règlements.

Restricted Unions. Special Agreements

The countries of the Union and, insofar as their legislation is not opposed to it, the Administrations, may establish restricted Unions and make special agreements among themselves concerning the subjects dealt with in the Convention and its Regulations, on the condition, however, that they do not introduce therein any provisions less favorable, for the public, than those which are provided for by those Acts.

The same option is granted to the countries which participate in the Agreements and, as the case may be, to their Administrations, in regard to the subjects contemplated by those Acts and their Regulations.

ARTICLE 6.

Législation intérieure.

Domestic legislation.

Les stipulations de la Convention et des Arrangements de l'Union ne portent pas atteinte à la législation de chaque Pays dans tout ce qui n'est pas expressément prévu par ces Actes.

ARTICLE 6

Domestic legislation

The provisions of the Convention and Agreements of the Union do not affect the legislation of any country concerning anything which is not expressly provided for by those Acts.

ARTICLE 7.

Relations exceptionnelles.

Administrations as intermediaries.

Les Administrations qui desservent des territoires non compris dans l'Union sont tenues d'être les intermédiaires des autres Administrations. Les dispositions de la Convention et de son Règlement sont applicables à ces relations exceptionnelles.

ARTICLE 7

Exceptional relations

Administrations which serve territories not comprised in the Union are bound to act as intermediary for the other Administrations. The provisions of the Convention and its Regulations are applicable to such exceptional relations.

ARTICLE 8.

Colonies, Protectorats, etc.

Colonies, etc., considered as units.

Sont considérés comme formant un seul Pays ou une seule Administration de l'Union, suivant le cas, au sens de la Convention et des Arrangements en ce qui concerne, notamment, leur droit de vote aux Congrès, aux Conférences et dans l'intervalle entre les réunions ainsi que leur contribution

ARTICLE 8

Colonies, Protectorates, etc.

The following are considered as forming a single country or a single Administration of the Union, as the case may be, in the sense of the Convention and Agreements, particularly in regard to their right to vote in Congresses and Conferences and in the interval between meetings, as aux dépenses du Bureau international de l'Union postale universelle:

- 1° l'ensemble des Possessions des Etats-Unis d'Amérique comprenant Hawaï, Porto-Rico, Guam et les Iles Vierges des Etats-Unis d'Amérique;
- 2° la Colonie du Congo belge;
- 3° l'ensemble des Colonies espagnoles;
- 4° l'Algérie;
- 5° les Colonies et Protectorats français de l'Indochine;
- 6° l'ensemble des autres Colonies françaises;
- 7° l'ensemble des Colonies britanniques, y compris les Territoires d'outre-mer, les Protectorats et les Territoires sous suzeraineté ou sous mandat;
- 8° l'ensemble des Colonies et Possessions italiennes autres que l'Afrique orientale italienne;
- 9° l'Afrique orientale italienne;
- 10° le Chosen;
- 11° l'ensemble des autres Dépendances japonaises;
- 12° Curaçao et Surinam;
- 13° les Indes néerlandaises;
- 14° les Colonies portugaises de l'Afrique occidentale;
- 15° les Colonies portugaises de l'Afrique orientale, de l'Asie et de l'Océanie.

ARTICLE 9.

Application de la Convention aux Colonies, Protectorats, etc.

1.—Toute Partie contractante peut déclarer, soit au moment de sa signature, de sa ratification ou de son adhésion, soit ultérieurement, que l'acceptation par elle de la présente Convention comprend toutes ses Colonies, tous ses Territoires d'outre-mer, Protectorats ou Territoires sous suzeraineté ou sous mandat ou certains d'entre eux seulement. Ladite déclaration, à moins qu'elle ne soit faite au moment de la signature de la Convention, devra être adressée au Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse.

well as their contribution to the expenses of the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union:

- 1° The whole of the Possessions of the United States of America, comprising Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands of the United States of America;
- 2° The Colony of the Belgian Congo;
- 3° The whole of the Spanish Colonies;
- 4° Algeria;
- 5° The French Colonies and Protectorates in Indochina;
- 6° The whole of the other French Colonies;
- 7° The whole of the British Colonies, including the Oversea Territories, the Protectorates and the Territories under Suzerainty or Mandate;
- 8° The whole of the Italian Colonies and Possessions other than Italian East Africa;
- 9° Italian East Africa;
- 10° Chosen;
- 11° The whole of the other Japanese Dependencies;
- 12° Curaçao and Surinam;
- 13° The Netherlands Indies;
- 14° The Portuguese Colonies in West Africa;
- 15° The Portuguese Colonies in East Africa, Asia and Oceania.

ARTICLE 9

Application of the Convention to Colonies, Protectorates, etc.

1. Any contracting party may declare, either at the time of its signature, ratification or adhesion, or subsequently, that its acceptance of the present Convention includes all its colonies, oversea territories, protectorates and territories under suzerainty or mandate, or certain of them only. The said declaration, unless made at the time of signing the Convention, shall be addressed to the Government of the Swiss Confederation.

Application of Convention to colonies, protectorates, etc.

Limitation.

2.—La Convention ne s'appliquera qu'aux Colonies, Territoires d'outre-mer, Protectorats ou Territoires sous suzeraineté ou sous mandat au nom desquels des déclarations auront été faites en vertu du § 1.

2. The Convention will apply only to the colonies, oversea territories, protectorates or territories under suzerainty or mandate in whose name declarations have been made by virtue of Section 1.

Denunciation.

3.—Toute Partie contractante peut en tout temps adresser au Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse une notification en vue de dénoncer l'application de la Convention à toute Colonie, tout Territoire d'outre-mer, Protectorat ou Territoire sous suzeraineté ou sous mandat au nom duquel cette Partie a fait une déclaration en vertu du § 1. Cette notification produira ses effets un an après la date de sa réception par le Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse.

3. Any contracting party may at any time address to the Government of the Swiss Confederation a notification with a view to denouncing the application of the Convention to any colony, oversea territory, protectorate or territory under suzerainty or mandate in the name of which that party has made a declaration by virtue of Section 1. That notification will become effective one year after the date of its receipt by the Government of the Swiss Confederation.

Transmission of copies of declarations, etc.

4.—Le Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse communiquera à toutes les Parties contractantes copie de chaque déclaration ou notification reçue en vertu des §§ 1 à 3.

4. The Government of the Swiss Confederation will transmit to all the contracting parties a copy of every declaration or notification received by virtue of Sections 1 to 3.

Territory excluded.

5.—Les dispositions du présent article ne s'appliquent à aucune Colonie, aucun Territoire d'outre-mer, aucun Protectorat ou Territoire sous suzeraineté ou sous mandat qui figure dans le préambule de la Convention.

5. The provisions of the present Article do not apply to any colony, oversea territory, protectorate or territory under suzerainty or mandate enumerated in the Preamble of the Convention.

ARTICLE 10.

Ressort de l'Union.

Extent of the Union.

Sont considérés comme appartenant à l'Union postale universelle:

a) les bureaux de poste établis par des Pays de l'Union dans des territoires non compris dans l'Union;

b) la Principauté de Liechtenstein, comme relevant de l'Administration des postes suisses;

c) les Iles Féroë, comme faisant partie du Danemark, et le Groenland, comme relevant de l'Administration des postes du Danemark, en qualité de colonie danoise;

d) les Possessions espagnoles de la côte septentrionale d'Afrique, comme faisant partie de l'Espagne;

ARTICLE 10

Extent of the Union

The following are considered as belonging to the Universal Postal Union:

(a) The post offices established by countries of the Union in territories not included in the Union;

(b) The Principality of Liechtenstein, as belonging to the Postal Administration of Switzerland;

(c) The Faeroe Islands as forming part of Denmark, and Greenland, as belonging to the Postal Administration of Denmark, in its capacity as a Danish colony;

(d) The Spanish possessions on the north coast of Africa, as forming part of Spain;

e) les Vallées d'Andorre, comme desservies par l'Administration des postes espagnoles et l'Administration des postes françaises;

f) la Principauté de Monaco, comme relevant de l'Administration des postes de France;

g) Walfisch-Bay, comme faisant partie de l'Union de l'Afrique du Sud; Basutoland et Swaziland, comme relevant de l'Administration des postes de l'Union de l'Afrique du Sud.

(e) The Valleys of Andorra, as served by the Spanish and French Postal Administrations;

(f) The Principality of Monaco, as belonging to the Postal Administration of France;

(g) Walvis Bay, as forming part of the Union of South Africa; Basutoland and Swaziland, as belonging to the Postal Administration of the Union of South Africa.

ARTICLE 11.

Arbitrages.

1.—En cas de dissentiment entre deux ou plusieurs membres de l'Union relativement à l'interprétation de la Convention et des Arrangements ainsi que de leurs Règlements d'exécution ou de la responsabilité dérivant, pour une Administration, de l'application de ces Actes, la question en litige est réglée par jugement arbitral. A cet effet, chacune des Administrations en cause choisit un autre membre de l'Union qui n'est pas directement intéressé dans l'affaire.

Au cas où l'une des Administrations en désaccord ne donne pas suite à une proposition d'arbitrage dans le délai de six mois, ou de neuf mois pour les Pays éloignés, le Bureau international, si la demande lui en est faite, provoque à son tour la désignation d'un arbitre par l'Administration défaillante ou en désigne un lui-même, d'office.

2.—La décision des arbitres est donnée à la majorité absolue des voix.

3.—En cas de partage des voix, les arbitres choisissent, pour trancher le différend, une autre Administration également désintéressée dans le litige.

A défaut d'une entente sur le choix, cette Administration est désignée par le Bureau international parmi les membres de l'Union non proposés par les arbitres.

ARTICLE 11

Arbitration

1. In case of disagreement between two or more members of the Union as to the interpretation of the Convention and Agreements, as well as their Regulations of Execution, or as to the responsibility imposed upon an Administration by the application of those Acts, the question in dispute is settled by arbitration. To that end, each of the Administrations concerned chooses another member of the Union which is not directly interested in the matter.

If one of the Administrations involved in the dispute does not take any action on a proposal for arbitration within a period of six months, or nine months in the case of distant countries, the International Bureau, if a request is made of it to that effect, calls upon the defaulting Administration to appoint an arbitrator, or appoints one itself officially.

2. The decision of the arbitrators is made on an absolute majority of votes.

3. In case of a tie vote, the arbitrators, for the purpose of settling the difference, choose another Administration which likewise has no interest in the dispute.

In case of disagreement as to a choice, that Administration is designated by the International Bureau from among the members of the Union not proposed by the arbitrators.

Arbitration of disputes.

Decision.

Tie vote, etc.

Disputes concerning Agreements; arbitrators.

4.—S'il s'agit d'un différend concernant l'un des Arrangements, les arbitres ne peuvent être désignés en dehors des Administrations qui exécutent cet Arrangement.

4. If it is a question of a dispute concerning one of the Agreements, only such Administrations as execute that Agreement may be designated as arbitrators.

ARTICLE 12.

Sortie de l'Union. Cessation de participation aux Arrangements.

ARTICLE 12

Withdrawal from the Union. Termination of participation in the Agreements

Withdrawals, etc.

Chaque Partie contractante a la faculté de se retirer de l'Union ou de cesser sa participation aux Arrangements moyennant avertissement donné un an à l'avance par voie diplomatique au Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse et par celui-ci aux Gouvernements des Pays contractants.

Any contracting party has the option of withdrawing from the Union or of ceasing to participate in the Agreements by notice given one year in advance through diplomatic channels to the Government of the Swiss Confederation and by the latter to the Governments of the contracting countries.

Meetings.

1.—Les délégués des Pays de l'Union se réunissent en Congrès au plus tard cinq ans après la date de mise à exécution des Actes du Congrès précédent, en vue de soumettre ces Actes à revision ou de les compléter, s'il y a lieu.

1. Delegates from the countries of the Union meet in Congress not later than five years after the effective date of the Acts of the preceding Congress, with a view to revising or completing those Acts, if necessary.

Representatives.

Chaque Pays se fait représenter au Congrès par un ou plusieurs délégués plénipotentiaires munis, par leur Gouvernement, des pouvoirs nécessaires. Il peut, au besoin, se faire représenter par la délégation d'un autre Pays. Toutefois, il est entendu qu'une délégation ne peut être chargée que de la représentation de deux Pays, y compris celui qui l'a primitivement accréditée.

Each country is represented at the Congress by one or more plenipotentiary delegates, provided with the necessary credentials, by their Government. It may, if necessary, be represented by the delegation of another country. However, it is understood that a delegation may be charged with representing only two countries, including the one by which it was originally accredited.

Ratifications. Mise à exécution et durée des Actes des Congrès.

Les Actes des Congrès sont ratifiés aussitôt que possible et les ratifications sont communiquées au Gouvernement du Pays, siège du Congrès, et par ce Gouvernement aux Gouvernements des Pays contractants.

Dans le cas où une ou plusieurs des Parties contractantes ne ratifieraient pas l'un ou l'autre des Actes signés par elles, ceux-ci n'en seraient pas moins valables pour les Etats qui les auront ratifiés.

Ces Actes sont mis à exécution simultanément et ont la même durée.

ARTICLE 14

Ratifications. Entry into force and duration of the Acts of Congresses

The Acts of Congresses are ratified as soon as possible, and the ratifications are communicated to the Government of the country where the Congress was held, and by that Government to the Governments of the contracting countries.

In case that one or more of the contracting countries do not ratify one or another of the Acts signed by them, the latter will nevertheless be valid for the countries which have ratified them.

Those Acts are put into effect simultaneously and have the same duration.

From the date fixed for the entry into force of the Acts adopted by a Congress, all the Acts of the preceding Congress are abrogated.

ARTICLE 15

Extraordinary Congresses

An extraordinary Congress is called together by agreement with the International Bureau when a request to that effect is made or approved by at least two-thirds of the contracting countries.

The rules laid down by Articles 13 and 14 are applicable to the delegations, the deliberations, and the Acts of extraordinary Congresses.

PROPOSITIONS DANS L'INTERVALLE DES RÉUNIONS.

ARTICLE 19.

Introduction des propositions.

Introduction of propositions.

Dans l'intervalle des réunions, toute Administration a le droit d'adresser aux autres Administrations, par l'intermédiaire du Bureau international, des propositions concernant la Convention, son Protocole final et son Règlement.

Le même droit est accordé aux Administrations des Pays participant aux Arrangements en ce qui concerne ces Arrangements, leurs Règlements et leurs Protocoles finals.

Support necessary.

Pour être mises en délibération, toutes les propositions introduites par une Administration dans l'intervalle des réunions doivent être appuyées par au moins deux autres Administrations. Ces propositions restent sans suite lorsque le Bureau international ne reçoit pas, en même temps, le nombre nécessaire de déclarations d'appui.

CHAPTER III

PROPOSITIONS IN THE INTERVAL BETWEEN MEETINGS

ARTICLE 19

Introduction of propositions

In the interval between meetings any Administration has the right to address to the other Administrations, through the intermediary of the International Bureau, propositions concerning the Convention, its Final Protocol, and its Regulations.

The same right is accorded to the Administrations of the countries participating in the Agreements in regard to those Agreements, their Regulations, and their Final Protocols.

In order to be considered, all propositions introduced by an Administration in the interval between meetings must be supported by at least two other Administrations. Such propositions are ignored when the International Bureau does not receive, at the same time, the necessary number of declarations of support.

ARTICLE 20

Examination of propositions

Every proposition is submitted to the following procedure:

A period of six months is allowed for the Administrations to examine the propositions and ant, pour faire parvenir leurs observations au Bureau international. Les amendements ne sont pas admis. Les réponses sont réunies par les soins du Bureau international et communiquées aux Administrations avec invitation de se prononcer pour ou contre. Celles qui n'ont pas fait parvenir leur vote dans un délai de six mois sont considérées comme s'abstenant. Les délais précités comptent à partir de la date des circulaires du Bureau international.

send in their observations, if any, to the International Bureau. Amendments are not admitted. The replies are assembled by the International Bureau and communicated to the Administrations, with an invitation to pronounce themselves for or against. Those which have not sent in their votes within a period of six months are considered as abstaining. The periods above mentioned are counted from the dates of the circulars of the International Bureau.

Si la proposition concerne un Arrangement, son Règlement ou leurs Protocoles finals, seules les Administrations ayant adhéré à cet Arrangement peuvent prendre part aux opérations indiquées ci-dessus.

If the proposition concerns an Agreement, its Regulations, or their Final Protocols, only the Administrations which have adhered to that Agreement may take part in the procedure indicated above.

ARTICLE 21.

Conditions d'approbation.

1.—Pour devenir exécutoires, les propositions doivent réunir:

a) l'unanimité des suffrages, s'il s'agit de l'addition de nouvelles dispositions ou de la modification des dispositions des Titres I et II et des articles 33 à 37, 54 à 59, 61 à 63, 65 à 68, 70 à 82 de la Convention, de tous les articles de son Protocole final et des articles 101, 105, 116, 164, 175 et 196 de son Règlement;

b) les deux tiers des suffrages, s'il s'agit de la modification des dispositions autres que celles qui sont mentionnées à l'alinéa précédent;

c) la majorité absolue, s'il s'agit de l'interprétation des dispositions de la Convention, de son Protocole final et de son Règlement, hors le cas de dissentiment à soumettre à l'arbitrage prévu à l'article 11.

DU BUREAU INTERNATIONAL.

ARTICLE 24.

Attributions générales.

Operation.

1.—Un Office central, fonctionnant à Berne sous la dénomination de Bureau international de l'Union postale universelle, et placé sous la haute surveillance de l'Administration des postes suisses, sert d'organe de liaison, d'information et de consultation aux Pays de l'Union.

Functions, duties, etc.

Ce Bureau est chargé, notamment, de réunir, de coordonner, de publier et de distribuer les renseignements de toute nature qui intéressent le service international des postes; d'émettre, à la demande des Parties en cause, un avis sur les questions litigieuses; d'instruire les demandes en modification des Actes du Congrès; de notifier les changements adoptés et, en général, de procéder aux études et aux travaux de rédaction ou de documentation que la Convention, les Arrangements et leurs Règlements lui attribuent ou dont il serait saisi dans l'intérêt de l'Union.

CHAPTER IV

INTERNATIONAL BUREAU

ARTICLE 24

General functions

1. A central Office, operating at Berne under the name of International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union, and placed under the supervision of the Swiss Postal Administration, serves as an organ of liaison, information and consultation for the countries of the Union.

That Bureau is charged, in particular, with assembling, coordinating, publishing and distributing information of all kinds concerning the international postal service; with giving, at the request of the interested parties, an opinion on questions in dispute; with making known requests for modification of the Acts of the Congress; with giving notice of the changes adopted; and, in general, with undertaking such studies and work in connection with editing and arranging material as the Convention, the Agreements and their Regulations may assign to it, or which may be entrusted to it in the interests of the Union.

2.—Il intervient, à titre d'office de compensation, dans la liquidation des comptes de toute nature relatifs au service international des postes, entre les Administrations qui réclament cette intervention.

2. It acts as a clearing-house for the settlement of accounts of all kinds relative to the international postal service, between Administrations requesting such intervention.

Settlement of postal accounts.

ARTICLE 25.

Dépenses du Bureau international.

1.—Chaque Congrès arrête le chiffre maximum que peuvent atteindre annuellement les dépenses ordinaires du Bureau international.

Ces dépenses, ainsi que les frais extraordinaires auxquels donne lieu la réunion d'un Congrès, d'une Conférence ou d'une Commission, et les frais que pourraient entraîner des travaux spéciaux confiés à ce Bureau sont supportés en commun par tous les Pays de l'Union.

2.—Ceux-ci sont divisés, à cet effet, en 7 classes dont chacune contribue au payement des dépenses dans la proportion ci-après:

1 <sup>re</sup> classe, 25 unités
2 <sup>e</sup> " 20 "
3 <sup>e</sup> " 15 "
4 <sup>e</sup> " 10 "
7 <sup>e</sup> " 1 unité.

3.—En cas d'adhésion nouvelle, le Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse détermine, d'un commun accord avec le Gouvernement du Pays intéressé, la classe dans laquelle celui-ci doit être rangé au point de vue de la répartition des frais du Bureau international.

ARTICLE 25

Expenses of the International Bureau

1. Each Congress fixes the maximum figure for the ordinary annual expenses of the International Bureau.

Those expenses, as well as the extraordinary expenses arising from the meeting of a Congress, a Conference or a Committee, and the expenses incurred in connection with special work entrusted to that Bureau, are shared by all the countries of the Union.

2. The latter are divided, for that purpose, into 7 classes, each of which contributes to the payment of the expenses in the following proportion:

1st class, 25 units
2d " 20 "
3d " 15 "
4th " 10 "
5th " 5 "
6th " 3 "
7th " 1 unit

6.—Sauf les exceptions prévues au Règlement, les papiers d'affaires, les imprimés, les impres-papers and periodicals published in its country a reduction of 50 per cent in the general rate for prints, while reserving the right to limit that reduction to newspapers and periodicals sent direct by the publishers or their representatives. There are excluded from the reduction, regardless of the regularity of their publication, commercial prints such as catalogs, prospectuses, price lists, etc.

Administrations may also, with the consent of the Administrations of destination, grant the same reduction, irrespective of the senders, to books and pamphlets, sheet-music and maps which do not contain any publicity or advertising other than that appearing on the covers or fly-leaves of these articles.

In a general manner, the Administrations of origin which have accepted, in principle, the reduction of 50 per cent, reserve the right to fix, for the articles contemplated in the 1st and 2d paragraphs above, a minimum charge which, while remaining within the limits of the reduction of 50 per cent, is not lower than the charge applicable to the same articles in their domestic service.

4. Articles other than registered letters in sealed envelopes may not contain coins, banknotes, paper money or any values payable to the bearer; manufactured or unmanufactured platinum, gold or silver; precious stones, jewelry, or other precious articles.

5. The Administrations of the countries of origin and destination have the option of treating, in accordance with their domestic legislation, letters which contain documents having the character of actual personal correspondence addressed to persons other than the addressee or persons residing with the latter.

6. With the exceptions provided for in the Regulations, commercial papers, prints, prints

b) ne peuvent porter aucune annotation ni contenir aucun document ayant le caractère de correspondance actuelle et personnelle;

c) ne peuvent contenir aucun timbre-poste, aucune formule d'affranchissement, oblitérés ou non, ni aucun papier représentatif d'une valeur.

7.—Les paquets d'échantillons de marchandises ne peuvent renfermer aucun objet ayant une valeur marchande.

8.—Le service des envois "Phonopost" est limité aux Pays qui se sont déclarés d'accord pour échanger ces envois, soit dans leurs relations réciproques, soit dans un seul sens.

Les dispositions applicables aux lettres s'appliquent également aux envois "Phonopost" en tout ce qui n'est pas expressément prévu pour cette dernière catégorie d'envois.

9.—La réunion en un seul envoi d'objets de correspondance de catégories différentes (objets groupés) est autorisée dans les conditions fixées par le Règlement.

10.—Sauf les exceptions prévues par la Convention et son Règlement, il n'est pas donné cours aux envois qui ne remplissent pas les conditions requises par le présent article et par les articles correspondants du Règlement.

Les objets qui auraient été admis à tort doivent être renvoyés à l'Administration d'origine. Toutefois, l'Administration de destination est autorisée à les remettre aux destinataires. Dans ce cas, elle leur applique, s'il y a lieu, les taxes et surtaxes prévues pour la catégorie de correspondances dans laquelle les font placer leur contenu, leur poids ou leurs dimensions. En ce qui concerne les envois dépassant les limites de poids maxima fixées au § 1, ils for the use of the blind, samples of merchandise, and small packets shall:

(a) be made up in such a way as to be able to be easily inspected;

(b) not bear any annotation or contain any document having the character of actual personal correspondence;

(c) not contain any postage stamp or form of prepayment, canceled or uncanceled, or any paper representing a value.

7. Packages of samples of merchandise may not contain any article having a salable value.

8. The service of Phonopost articles is limited to the countries which have agreed to exchange such articles, either in their reciprocal relations or in one direction only.

The provisions applicable to letters are likewise applicable to Phonopost articles, in regard to everything not expressly prescribed for the latter class of articles.

9. The inclusion in a single package of articles of correspondence of different classes (grouped articles) is authorized under the conditions fixed by the Regulations.

10. With the exceptions provided for by the Convention and its Regulations, articles which do not fulfill the conditions prescribed by the present Article and the corresponding Articles of the Regulations are not forwarded.

Articles which have been wrongly accepted shall be returned to the country of origin. However, the Administration of destination is authorized to deliver them to the addressees. In such a case, it applies to them, if need be, the rates and surcharges prescribed for the class of correspondence in which they have to be placed because of their contents, weight or dimensions. As for articles exceeding the maximum weight-limits fixed

Affranchissement.

Prepayment

Prepayment.

En règle générale, tous les envois désignés à l'article 33 doivent être complètement affranchis par l'expéditeur.

As a general rule, all the articles designated in Article 33 must be fully prepaid by the sender.

Unprepaid, etc., articles.

Il n'est pas donné cours aux envois non ou insuffisamment affranchis autres que les lettres et les cartes postales simples, ni aux cartes postales avec réponse payée dont les deux parties ne sont pas entièrement affranchies au moment du dépôt.

Articles other than letters and single post cards which are unprepaid or insufficiently prepaid, or reply post cards both halves of which are not fully prepaid at the time of mailing, are not dispatched.

Taxe en cas d'absence ou d'insuffisance d'affranchissement.

Charge on unprepaid or insufficiently prepaid correspondence

Charge on unprepaid, etc., correspondence.

Post, pp. 2078, 2137, 2138.

En cas d'absence ou d'insuffisance d'affranchissement et sauf les exceptions prévues par l'article 54, § 5, pour les envois recommandés et par l'article 147, §§ 3, 4 et 5, du Règlement pour certaines catégories d'envois réexpédiés, les lettres et les cartes postales simples sont passibles, à la charge des destinataires, d'une taxe double du montant de l'affranchissement manquant, sans que cette taxe puisse être inférieure à 5 centimes.

With the exceptions provided for by Article 54, Section 5, for registered articles, and by Article 147, Sections 3, 4, and 5 of the Regulations for certain classes of redirected articles, letters and single post cards not prepaid or insufficiently prepaid are liable to a charge equal to double the amount of the missing postage, to be paid by the addressee; but that charge may not be lower than 5 centimes.

Improperly dispatched articles.

Le même traitement peut être appliqué, dans les cas précités, aux autres objets de correspondance qui auraient été transmis à tort au pays de destination.

The same treatment may be applied, in the cases above contemplated, to other articles of correspondence which have been improperly dispatched to the country of destination.

Taxes spéciales.

1.—Les Administrations sont autorisées à frapper d'une taxe additionnelle, selon les dispositions de leur législation, les objets remis à leurs services d'expédition en dernière limite d'heure.

2.—Les objets adressés poste restante peuvent être frappés par les Administrations des pays de destination de la taxe spéciale qui serait prévue par leur législation pour les objets de même nature du régime interne.

3.—Les Administrations des pays de destination sont autorisées à percevoir une taxe spéciale de 40 centimes au maximum pour chaque petit paquet remis au destinataire. Cette taxe peut être augmentée de 20 centimes au maximum en cas de remise à domicile.

ARTICLE 38

Special charges

1. The Administrations are authorized to charge late fees in accordance with the provisions of their own legislation for articles posted in their services for dispatch after the mails have closed.

2. Articles addressed to general delivery may be subjected by the Administrations of the countries of destination to such special charge as may be prescribed by their legislation for articles of the same kind in the domestic service.

3. The Administrations of the countries of destination are authorized to levy a special charge of 40 centimes at most for each small packet delivered to the addressee. That charge may be increased by 20 centimes at most in case of delivery at the addressee's residence.

Les envois soumis au contrôle douanier dans le pays de destination peuvent être frappés de ce chef, au titre postal, d'un droit de dédouanement de 40 centimes au maximum par envoi.

ARTICLE 41

Customs-clearance fee

Articles submitted to customs inspection in the country of destination may be charged on that account, by the postal service, with a customs-clearance fee of 40 centimes at most per article.

ARTICLE 42.

Droits de douane et autres droits non postaux.

Customs duties, etc.

Les Administrations sont autorisées à percevoir, sur les destinataires des envois, les droits de douane et tous autres droits non postaux éventuels.

ARTICLE 42

Customs duties and other non-postal charges

The Administrations are authorized to collect from the addressees of mail articles the customs duties and all other non-postal charges which may be due.

ARTICLE 43.

Envois francs de droits.

Payment of charges by sender.

1.—Dans les relations entre les pays qui se sont déclarés d'accord à cet égard, les expéditeurs peuvent prendre à leur charge, moyennant déclaration préalable au bureau de départ, la totalité des droits postaux et non postaux dont les envois sont grevés à la livraison.

Surety.

Dans ce cas, les expéditeurs doivent s'engager à payer les sommes qui pourraient être réclamées par le bureau destinataire et, le cas échéant, verser des arrhes suffisantes.

Commission fee.

L'Administration destinataire est autorisée à percevoir un droit de commission qui ne peut dépasser 40 centimes par envoi. Ce droit est indépendant de celui qui est prévu à l'article 41.

Limitation.

2.—Toute Administration a le droit de limiter le service des envois francs de droits aux objets recommandés.

ARTICLE 43

Prepayment of customs duty, etc.

1. In relations between countries which have come to an agreement to that effect, senders may, by means of a previous declaration at the office of mailing, assume payment of the whole of the postal and non-postal charges with which the articles are assessed on delivery.

In such a case, senders must promise to pay such amounts as may be claimed by the office of destination, and, if need be, post sufficient surety.

The Administration of destination is authorized to collect a commission fee which may not exceed 40 centimes per article. This fee is independent of the one provided for by Article 41.

2. Any Administration has the right to limit this prepayment service to registered articles.

Envois exprès.

1.—Les objets de correspondance sont, à la demande des expéditeurs, remis à domicile par porteur spécial immédiatement après l'arrivée, dans les pays dont les Administrations consentent à se charger de ce service dans leurs relations réciproques.

2.—Ces envois, qualifiés «exprès», sont soumis, en sus du port ordinaire, à une taxe spéciale s'élevant, au minimum, au montant de l'affranchissement d'une lettre ordinaire de port simple et au maximum à 60 centimes. Cette taxe doit être acquittée complètement à l'avance.

3.—Lorsque le domicile du destinataire se trouve en dehors du rayon de distribution locale du bureau de destination, la remise par exprès peut donner lieu à la perception d'une taxe complémentaire jusqu'à concurrence de celle qui est fixée pour les objets de même nature du régime interne.

La remise par exprès n'est toutefois pas obligatoire dans ce cas.

4.—Les objets exprès non complètement affranchis pour le montant total des taxes payables à l'avance sont distribués par les moyens ordinaires, à moins qu'ils n'aient été traités comme exprès par le bureau d'origine. Dans ce dernier cas, les envois sont taxés d'après les dispositions de l'article 36.

5.—Il est loisible aux Administrations de s'en tenir à un seul essai de remise par exprès. Si cet essai est infructueux, l'objet peut être traité comme un envoi ordinaire.

ARTICLE 45

Special-delivery articles

1. Articles of correspondence are, at the request of the senders, delivered to the addressees by special messenger immediately after their arrival, in countries whose Administrations agree to undertake that service in their reciprocal relations.

2. Such articles, known as special-delivery articles, are liable, in addition to the regular postage, to a special fee amounting at least to the postage on an ordinary single-rate letter, and at most to 60 centimes. This fee must be fully prepaid.

3. When the addressee's residence is situated outside the local delivery zone of the office of destination, delivery by special messenger may give rise to the collection of a supplementary charge not exceeding that collected in the domestic service for articles of the same kind.

However, special delivery is not obligatory in such cases.

4. Special-delivery articles upon which the total amount of the charges payable in advance has not been prepaid are delivered by the ordinary means, unless they have been treated as special-delivery articles by the office of origin. In the latter case, the articles are rated in accordance with the provisions of Article 36.

5. It is permissible for Administrations to make only one attempt to deliver by special messenger. If such attempt is unsuccessful, the article may be treated as an ordinary article.

Notification of disposal.

2.—Dans les cas où des envois admis à tort à l'expédition ne seraient ni renvoyés à l'origine, ni remis au destinataire, l'Administration expéditrice doit être informée, d'une manière précise, du traitement appliqué à ces envois.

2. In cases where articles wrongly accepted for mailing are neither returned to origin nor delivered to the addressee, the dispatching Administration shall be notified, in a precise manner, of the disposal made of such articles.

Reservation.

3.—Est d'ailleurs réservé le droit de tout pays de ne pas effectuer, sur son territoire, le transport en transit à découvert des objets autres que les lettres et les cartes postales, à l'égard desquels il n'a pas été satisfait aux dispositions légales qui règlent les conditions de leur publication ou de leur circulation dans ce pays.

3. Moreover, the right is reserved for any country not to convey in transit in open mail over its territory articles other than letters and post cards in regard to which the legal provisions regulating the conditions of their publication or circulation in that country have not been observed.

Ces objets doivent être renvoyés à l'Administration d'origine.

Such articles shall be returned to the country of origin.

ARTICLE 47.

Modalités d'affranchissement.

1. — L'affranchissement est opéré, soit au moyen de timbres-poste valables dans le pays d'origine pour la correspondance des particuliers, soit au moyen d'empreintes de machines à affranchir, officiellement adoptées et fonctionnant sous le contrôle immédiat de l'Administration ou, en ce qui concerne les imprimés, au moyen d'empreintes à la presse d'imprimerie ou par un autre procédé lorsqu'un tel système d'impression est autorisé par les règlements intérieurs de l'Administration d'origine.

2.—Sont considérés comme dûment affranchis: les cartes-réponse portant, imprimés ou collés, des timbres-poste du pays d'émission de ces cartes, les envois régulièrement affranchis pour leur premier parcours et dont le complément de taxe a été acquitté avant leur réexpédition, ainsi que les journaux ou paquets de journaux et écrits périodiques dont la suscription porte la mention "Abonnements-poste" et qui sont expédiés en vertu de l'Arrangement concernant les abonnements aux journaux et écrits périodiques.

Methods of prepayment

1. Prepayment of postage is effected either by means of postage stamps valid in the country of origin for the correspondence of private individuals, or by means of impressions of stamping machines officially adopted and operating under the immediate control of the Administration; or, in the case of prints, by means of impressions, printed or otherwise obtained, when such a system of indicia is authorized by the domestic regulations of the Administration of origin.

Means of indicating prepayment.

2. The following are considered as duly prepaid: Reply post cards bearing printed or adhesive postage stamps of the country of issue of such cards; articles regularly prepaid for their first transmission on which the additional postage has been paid before their redirection; as well as newspapers or packages of newspapers and periodicals whose address bears the words Abonnements-poste (Subscription by mail) which are sent under the Agreement concerning subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals.

Items considered prepaid.

Franchise postale.

Franking privilege.

1.—Sont exonérées de toutes taxes postales les correspondances relatives au service postal échangées entre les Administrations des postes, entre ces Administrations et le Bureau international, entre les bureaux de poste des pays de l'Union, et entre ces bureaux et les Administrations ainsi que celles dont le transport en franchise est expressément prévu par les dispositions de la Convention, des Arrangements et de leurs Règlements.

2.—Sauf lorsqu'ils sont grevés de remboursement, les envois destinés aux prisonniers de guerre ou expédiés par eux sont également exonérés de toutes taxes postales, aussi bien dans les pays d'origine et de destination que dans les pays intermédiaires.

Il en est de même des correspondances concernant les prisonniers de guerre, expédiées ou reçues, soit directement, soit à titre d'intermédiaire, par les bureaux de renseignements qui seraient établis éventuellement pour ces personnes dans des pays belligérants ou dans les pays neutres ayant recueilli des belligérants sur leur territoire.

Les belligérants recueillis et internés dans un pays neutre sont assimilés aux prisonniers de guerre proprement dits en ce qui concerne l'application des dispositions ci-dessus.

ARTICLE 50.

Coupons-réponse.

Reply coupons.

Des coupons-réponse sont mis en vente dans les pays de l'Union.

Selling price.

Le prix de vente en est déterminé par les Administrations intéressées, mais ne peut être inférieur à 28 centimes ou à l'équivalent dans la monnaie du pays de débit.

ARTICLE 49

Franking privilege

1. Correspondence relating to the postal service exchanged between Postal Administrations, between those Administrations and the International Bureau, between post offices of countries of the Union, and between those offices and the Administrations, as well as that for which the franking privilege is expressly provided by the stipulations of the Convention, the Agreements and their Regulations, is exempt from all postal charges.

2. Except when they bear C. O. D. charges, mail articles addressed to prisoners of war or mailed by them are likewise exempt from all postal charges, not only in the countries of origin and destination but also in the intermediary countries.

The same is true of correspondence concerning prisoners of war, sent or received either directly or as intermediary by the information offices which may be established on behalf of such persons in belligerent countries or in neutral countries which have received belligerents on their territory.

Belligerents received and interned in a neutral country are assimilated to prisoners of war properly so called, insofar as the application of the above provisions is concerned.

ARTICLE 50

Reply coupons

Reply coupons are placed on sale in the countries of the Union.

Their selling-price is determined by the interested Administrations, but may not be less than 28 centimes or the equivalent in money of the country selling them.

Chaque coupon est échangeable dans tout pays contre un timbre ou des timbres représentant l'affranchissement d'une lettre ordinaire de port simple originaire de ce pays à destination de l'étranger.

Est, en outre, réservée à chaque pays la faculté d'exiger le dépôt simultané des coupons-réponse et des envois de correspondance à affranchir en échange de ces coupons.

ARTICLE 51.

Retrait. Modification d'adresse.

1.—L'expéditeur d'un objet de correspondance peut le faire retirer du service ou en faire modifier l'adresse tant que cet objet n'a pas été livré au destinataire.

2.—La demande à formuler à cet effet est transmise, par voie postale ou par voie télégraphique, aux frais de l'expéditeur qui doit payer, pour toute demande par voie postale, la taxe applicable à une lettre recommandée de port simple et, pour toute demande par voie télégraphique, la taxe du télégramme.

Si la demande de retrait ou de modification d'adresse concerne plusieurs envois remis simultanément au même bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire, l'expéditeur paie, pour toute demande postale, la taxe applicable à une seule lettre recommandée de port simple et, pour toute demande télégraphique, la taxe du télégramme contenant les données de tous les envois visés.

ARTICLE 52.

Réexpédition. Rebuts.

1.—En cas de changement de résidence du destinataire, les objets de correspondance lui sont réexpédiés, à moins que l'expéditeur n'ait interdit la réexpédition par une annotation portée sur la suscription en une langue connue dans le pays de destination.

Each coupon is exchangeable in any country for a stamp or stamps representing the postage on a single-rate ordinary letter originating in that country and addressed to a foreign country.

Moreover, the right is reserved for any country to require that the reply coupons and the articles of correspondence for the prepayment of which they are to be exchanged be presented at the same time.

ARTICLE 51

Withdrawal. Change of address

1. The sender of an article of correspondence may cause it to be withdrawn from the mails or have its address changed, provided that such article has not been delivered to the addressee.

2. The request to be made to that effect is sent by mail or by telegraph at the expense of the sender, who shall pay, for every request by mail, the charge applicable to a single-rate registered letter; and, for every request by telegraph, the charge for the telegram.

If the request for withdrawal or modification of address relates to several articles mailed simultaneously at the same office by the same sender addressed to the same addressee, the sender pays, for every request by mail, the charge applicable to one single-rate registered letter; and, for every request by telegraph, the charge for the telegram containing the particulars of all the articles contemplated.

ARTICLE 52

Forwarding. Undelivered correspondence

1. In case of change of residence by the addressee, articles of correspondence are forwarded to him, unless the sender has forbidden the forwarding by a notation placed on the address side in a language known in the country of destination.

Exchangeability.

Undeliverable correspondence.

2.—Les correspondances tombées en rebut doivent être renvoyées immédiatement au pays d'origine.

2. Correspondence which is undeliverable shall be returned immediately to the country of origin.

Retention of correspondence.

3.—Le délai de conservation des correspondances gardées en instance à la disposition des destinataires ou adressées poste restante est fixé par les règlements du pays de destination. Toutefois, ce délai ne peut dépasser, en règle générale, deux mois, sauf dans des cas particuliers où l'Administration de destination juge nécessaire de le prolonger jusqu'à quatre mois au maximum. Le renvoi au pays d'origine doit avoir lieu dans un délai plus court, si l'expéditeur l'a demandé par une annotation portée sur la suscription en une langue connue dans le pays de destination.

3. The period of retention for correspondence held at the disposal of the addressees or addressed to general delivery is fixed by the regulations of the country of destination. However, such period may not exceed two months as a general rule, except in particular cases where the Administration of destination deems it necessary to extend it to four months at most. The return to the country of origin must take place within a shorter period, if the sender has so requested by a notation placed on the address side in a language known in the country of destination.

Prints.

4.—Les imprimés dénués de valeur ne sont pas renvoyés, sauf si l'expéditeur en a demandé le retour par une annotation portée sur l'envoi. Les imprimés recommandés doivent toujours être renvoyés.

4. Prints without value are not returned, unless the sender has requested their return by a notation placed on the article. Registered prints shall always be returned.

No extra charge for forwarding, etc.; exceptions.

5.—La réexpédition d'objets de correspondance de pays à pays ou leur renvoi au pays d'origine ne donne lieu à la perception d'aucun supplément de taxe, sauf les exceptions prévues au Règlement.

5. The forwarding of articles of correspondence from country to country, or their return to the country of origin, does not give rise to the collection of any additional charge, apart from the exceptions provided for by the Regulations.

Forwarded or returned articles.

6.—Les objets de correspondance qui sont réexpédiés ou tombés en rebut sont livrés aux destinataires ou aux expéditeurs contre paiement des taxes dont ils ont été grevés au départ, à l'arrivée ou en cours de route par suite de réexpédition au-delà du premier parcours, sans préjudice du remboursement des droits de douane ou autres frais spéciaux dont le pays de destination n'accorde pas l'annulation.

6. Forwarded or returned articles of correspondence are delivered to the addressees or senders upon payment of the charges due on them on departure, on arrival or in the course of transmission, as a result of redirection after the first transmission, without prejudice to the repayment of the customs duties or other special charges which the country of destination does not agree to cancel.

General-delivery, etc., fees canceled.

7.—En cas de réexpédition sur un autre pays ou de non-remise, la taxe de poste restante, le droit de dédouanement, le droit de commission, la taxe complémentaire d'express et le droit spécial de remise aux destinataires des petits paquets sont annulés.

7. In case of forwarding to another country, or of non-delivery, the general-delivery fee, the customs-clearance fee, the commission fee, the additional special-delivery fee, and the special fee for the delivery of small packets to the addressees, are canceled.

ARTICLE 53

Réclamations et demandes de renseignements.

Inquiries and requests for information

1.—La réclamation ou la demande de renseignements concernant tout envoi peut donner lieu à la perception d'un droit de 40 centimes au maximum.

1. An inquiry or request for information as to the disposal made of any article may give rise to the collection of a fee of 40 centimes at most.

Inquiries and requests for information. Fee.

Ce droit n'est perçu qu'une seule fois pour les réclamations ou les demandes de renseignements concernant plusieurs envois déposés simultanément par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire.

That fee is collected only once for inquiries or requests for information concerning several articles mailed simultaneously by the same sender addressed to the same addressee.

En ce qui concerne les envois recommandés, aucun droit n'est perçu si l'expéditeur a déjà acquitté le droit spécial pour un avis de réception.

As for registered articles, no fee is collected if the sender has already paid the special fee for a return receipt.

2.—Les réclamations ne sont admises que dans le délai d'un an à compter du lendemain du dépôt de l'envoi.

2. Inquiries are accepted only within the period of one year, counting from the day following the date of mailing of the article.

Time limit.

Chaque Administration est, toutefois, tenue de donner suite aux simples demandes de renseignements, introduites après ce délai, dont elle est saisie par une autre Administration au sujet d'envois expédiés depuis moins de deux ans.

However, every Administration is bound to comply with simple requests for information presented after that period which it receives from another Administration regarding articles mailed less than two years previously.

3.—Chaque Administration est obligée d'accepter les réclamations et les demandes de renseignements concernant des envois déposés sur le territoire d'autres Administrations.

3. Every Administration is obliged to accept inquiries and requests for information concerning articles mailed on the territory of other Administrations.

Acceptance of inquiries, etc.

4.—Lorsqu'une réclamation ou une demande de renseignements a été motivée par une faute de service, le droit perçu de ce chef est restitué.

4. When an inquiry or a request for information has been made necessary through a fault of the service, the fee collected therefor is returned.

Return of fee.

ENVOIS RECOMMANDÉS.

REGISTERED ARTICLES

ARTICLE 54.

ARTICLE 54

Taxes.

Charges

1.—Les objets de correspondance désignés à l'article 33 peuvent être expédiés sous recommandation.

1. The articles of correspondence designated in Article 33 may be sent under registration.

Registration charges. Ante, p. 2064.

2.—La taxe de tout envoi recommandé doit être acquittée à l'avance. Elle se compose:

- a) du port ordinaire de l'envoi, selon sa nature;
- b) d'un droit fixe de recommandation de 40 centimes au maximum.

Le droit fixe de recommandation afférent à la partie «Réponse» d'une carte postale ne peut être valablement acquitté que par l'expéditeur de cette partie.

3. — Un récépissé doit être délivré gratuitement, au moment du dépôt, à l'expéditeur d'un envoi recommandé.

4.—Les pays disposés à se charger des risques pouvant dériver du cas de force majeure sont autorisés à percevoir une taxe spéciale de 40 centimes au maximum pour chaque envoi recommandé.

5. — Les envois recommandés non ou insuffisamment affranchis qui auraient été transmis à tort au pays de destination sont passibles, à la charge des destinataires, d'une taxe égale au montant de l'affranchissement manquant.

2. The postage on all registered articles must be paid in advance. It consists of:

- (a) The ordinary postage on the article, according to its class;
- (b) A fixed registration fee of 40 centimes at most.

The fixed registration fee applicable to the reply half of a post card can not be legally paid by anyone but the sender of that half.

3. A receipt shall be delivered without charge to the sender of a registered article at the time of mailing.

4. Countries disposed to undertake risks arising from force majeure (causes beyond control) are authorized to collect a special charge of 40 centimes at most for each registered article.

5. Unprepaid or insufficiently prepaid registered articles which have been wrongly sent to the country of destination are liable, at the expense of the addressees, to a charge equal to the amount of the missing postage.

Receipt.

Special fee for certain risks.

Collection of missing postage.

ARTICLE 55.

Avis de réception.

L'expéditeur d'un envoi recommandé peut demander un avis de réception en payant, au moment du dépôt, un droit fixe de 30 centimes au maximum.

L'avis de réception peut être demandé postérieurement au dépôt de l'envoi dans le délai d'un an et moyennant la taxe prévue à l'article 53 pour les réclamations.

ARTICLE 56.

Etendue de la responsabilité.

1.—Sauf les cas prévus à l'article 57 ci-après, les Administrations répondent de la perte des envois recommandés.

L'expéditeur a droit, de ce chef, à une indemnité dont le montant est fixé à 50 francs par objet.

Seizure by customs.

2.—Les Administrations n'assument aucune responsabilité

ARTICLE 55

Return receipts

The sender of a registered article may request a return receipt by paying, at the time of mailing, a fixed charge of 30 centimes at most.

The return receipt may be requested after the mailing of the article, within the period of one year and upon payment of the fee prescribed by Article 53 for inquiries.

ARTICLE 56

Extent of responsibility

1. With the exceptions provided for by Article 57 following, Administrations are responsible for the loss of registered articles.

The sender is entitled, on that account, to indemnity, the amount of which is fixed at 50 francs per article.

2. Administrations assume no responsibility for articles seized pour les envois saisis par la douane par suite de fausse déclaration de leur contenu.

by the customs as a result of false declaration of their contents.

ARTICLE 57.

Exceptions au principe de la responsabilité.

Les Administrations sont dégagées de toute responsabilité pour la perte d'envois recommandés:

a) en cas de force majeure; toutefois, la responsabilité subsiste à l'égard de l'Administration expéditrice qui a accepté de couvrir les risques de force majeure (article 54, § 4). Le pays responsable de la perte doit, suivant sa législation intérieure, décider si cette perte est due à des circonstances constituant un cas de force majeure;

b) lorsque, la preuve de leur responsabilité n'ayant pas été administrée autrement, elles ne peuvent rendre compte des envois par suite de la destruction des documents de service résultant d'un cas de force majeure;

c) lorsqu'il s'agit d'envois dont le contenu tombe sous le coup des interdictions prévues aux articles 34, §§ 4 et 6, lettre c), et 46, § 1;

d) lorsque l'expéditeur n'a formulé aucune réclamation dans le délai d'un an prévu à l'article 53.

ARTICLE 58.

Cessation de la responsabilité.

Les Administrations cessent d'être responsables des envois recommandés dont elles ont effectué la remise dans les conditions prescrites par leur règlement intérieur pour les envois de même nature.

ARTICLE 59.

Payement de l'indemnité.

L'obligation de payer l'indemnité incombe à l'Administration dont relève le bureau expéditeur de l'envoi, sous réserve de son droit de recours contre l'Administration responsable.

ARTICLE 57

Exceptions to the principle of responsibility

Administrations are released from all responsibility for loss of registered articles:

(a) In case of force majeure; however, responsibility is maintained in regard to an Administration of origin which has undertaken to cover risks of force majeure (Article 54, Section 4). The country responsible for the loss must decide, in accordance with its domestic legislation, whether such loss is due to circumstances constituting a case of force majeure;

(b) When, proof of their responsibility not having been furnished otherwise, they can not account for articles as a result of destruction of service records due to a case of force majeure;

(c) When it is a question of articles whose contents fall within the scope of the prohibitions laid down by Articles 34, Sections 4 and 6, letter (c), and 46, Section 1;

(d) When the sender has not made any inquiry within the period of one year contemplated by Article 53.

Release from responsibility in certain cases.

Ante, pp. 2066, 2067, 2071.

ARTICLE 58

Termination of responsibility

Administrations cease to be responsible for registered articles the delivery of which they have effected under the conditions prescribed by their domestic regulations for articles of the same nature.

Termination of responsibility.

ARTICLE 59

Payment of indemnity

The obligation of paying indemnity falls upon the Administration to which the office of origin of the article belongs, subject to its right to make a claim against the responsible Administration.

Payment of indemnity.

ARTICLE 60.

ARTICLE 60

Délai de paiement de l'indemnité. Period for payment of indemnity

Period for payment.

1.—Le paiement de l'indemnité doit avoir lieu le plus tôt possible et, au plus tard, dans le délai de six mois à compter du lendemain du jour de la réclamation. Ce délai est porté à neuf mois dans les relations avec les pays éloignés.

1. Payment of indemnity must take place as soon as possible, and at the latest within the period of six months, counting from the day following the date of the inquiry. That period is extended to nine months in relations with distant countries.

Postponement.

L'Administration expéditrice qui n'accepte pas de se charger des risques dérivant du cas de force majeure peut différer le règlement de l'indemnité au-delà du délai prévu à l'alinéa précédent lorsque la question de savoir si la perte de l'envoi est due à un cas de l'espèce n'est pas tranchée.

A dispatching Administration which does not accept risks arising from force majeure may postpone settlement for the indemnity beyond the period prescribed by the preceding paragraph when the question of knowing whether the loss of the article was due to a case of that kind has not yet been settled.

2.—L'Administration d'origine est autorisée à désintéresser l'expéditeur pour le compte de l'Administration intermédiaire ou destinataire qui, régulièrement saisie, a laissé s'écouler trois mois sans donner de solution à l'affaire; ce délai est porté à six mois dans les relations avec les pays éloignés.

2. The Administration of origin is authorized to settle with the sender on behalf of an Administration of intermediation or destination which, duly notified, has let three months pass without settling the matter; that period is extended to six months in relations with distant countries.

ARTICLE 61.

ARTICLE 61

Détermination de la responsabilité.

Fixing of responsibility

Responsibility for loss.

Receiving administration.

1.—Jusqu'à preuve du contraire, la responsabilité pour la perte d'un envoi recommandé incombe à l'Administration qui, ayant reçu l'objet sans faire d'observation et étant mise en possession de tous les moyens réglementaires d'investigation, ne peut établir ni la délivrance au destinataire ni, s'il y a lieu, la transmission régulière à l'Administration suivante.

1. Until the contrary is proved, responsibility for the loss of a registered article falls on the Administration which, having received the article without making any observations, and, being furnished all particulars of inquiry prescribed by the regulations, can not establish either delivery to the addressee or regular transmission to the next Administration, as the case may be.

Administration of intermediation or destination.

Une Administration intermédiaire ou destinataire est, jusqu'à preuve du contraire, déchargée de toute responsabilité:

An Administration of intermediation or destination is, until the contrary is proved, released from all responsibility:

Post, p. 2154.

a) lorsqu'elle a observé les dispositions de l'article 162, § 3, du Règlement;

(a) When it has observed the provisions of Article 162, Section 3, of the Regulations;

b) lorsqu'elle peut établir qu'elle n'a été saisie de la réclamation qu'après la destruction des documents de service relatifs à l'envoi recherché, le délai de garde prévu

(b) When it can establish that it did not receive the inquiry until after the destruction of the service records relating to the article sought, the retention-period pre-à l'article 181 du Règlement étant expiré; cette réserve ne porte pas atteinte aux droits du réclamant.

Toutefois, si la perte a eu lieu en cours de transport sans qu'il soit possible d'établir sur le territoire ou dans le service de quel pays le fait s'est accompli, les Administrations en cause supportent le dommage par parts égales.

2.—Lorsqu'un objet recommandé a été perdu dans des circonstances de force majeure, l'Administration sur le territoire ou dans le service de laquelle la perte a eu lieu n'en est responsable envers l'Administration expéditrice que si les deux pays se chargent des risques dérivant du cas de force majeure.

3.—Les droits de douane et autres dont l'annulation n'a pu être obtenue tombent à la charge des Administrations responsables de la perte.

4.—L'Administration qui a effectué le paiement de l'indemnité est subrogée, jusqu'à concurrence du montant de cette indemnité, dans les droits de la personne qui l'a reçue, pour tout recours éventuel, soit contre le destinataire, soit contre l'expéditeur ou contre des tiers.

5.—En cas de découverte ultérieure d'un envoi recommandé considéré comme perdu, la personne à qui l'indemnité a été payée doit être avisée qu'elle peut prendre possession de l'envoi contre restitution du montant de l'indemnité.

ARTICLE 62.

Remboursement de l'indemnité à l'Administration expéditrice.

1.—L'Administration responsable ou pour le compte de laquelle le paiement est effectué en conformité de l'article 60 est tenue de rembourser à l'Administration expéditrice, dans un délai de trois mois à compter de l'envoi de la notification du paiement, le montant de l'indemnité effectivement payée à l'expéditeur.

scribed by Article 181 of the Regulations having expired; this reservation does not affect the rights of the claimant.

However, if the loss has taken place in the course of transmission, without its being possible to determine on the territory or in the service of what country the loss occurred, the Administrations concerned bear the loss in equal shares.

2. When a registered article has been lost under circumstances of force majeure, the Administration on whose territory or in whose service the loss took place is not responsible therefor to the Administration of origin unless both countries undertake risks arising from cases of force majeure.

3. The customs duties and other charges whose cancelation it has been impossible to obtain are charged to the Administrations responsible for the loss.

4. The Administration which has effected payment of the indemnity is subrogated up to the amount of such indemnity in the rights of the person who has received it for all eventual recourse against the addressee, the sender, or third parties.

5. In case of subsequent recovery of a registered article considered as lost, the person to whom indemnity has been paid shall be advised that he may obtain possession of the article upon repayment of the amount of the indemnity.

ARTICLE 62

Repayment of the indemnity to the Administration of origin

1. The Administration which is responsible, or on whose behalf payment is made in accordance with Article 60, is bound to reimburse the Administration of origin, within a period of three months, counted from the sending of the notification of payment, for the amount of indemnity actually paid to the sender.

Post, p. 2176.

Undeterminable responsibility.

Loss by force majeure.

Subrogation.

Recovery of lost article.

Reimbursement for indemnity paid.

Si l'indemnité doit être supportée par plusieurs Administrations en conformité de l'article 61, l'intégralité de l'indemnité due doit être versée à l'Administration expéditrice, dans le délai mentionné à l'alinéa précédent, par la première Administration qui, ayant dûment reçu l'envoi réclamé, ne peut en établir la transmission régulière au service correspondant. Il appartient à cette Administration de récupérer sur les autres Administrations responsables la quote-part éventuelle de chacune d'elles dans le dédommagement de l'ayant droit.

Method of reimbursement.

2.—Le remboursement à l'Administration créancière s'effectue sans frais pour cette Administration, soit au moyen d'un mandat de poste, d'un chèque ou d'une traite payable à vue sur la capitale ou sur une place commerciale du pays créancier, soit en espèces ayant cours dans ce pays.

Lorsque la responsabilité a été reconnue, de même que dans le cas prévu à l'article 60, § 2, le montant de l'indemnité peut également être repris d'office sur le pays responsable par la voie d'un décompte quelconque, soit directement, soit par l'intermédiaire d'une Administration qui échange régulièrement des décomptes avec l'Administration responsable.

Passé le délai de trois mois, la somme due à l'Administration expéditrice est productive d'intérêt à raison de 5% l'an à compter du jour de l'expiration dudit délai.

Time limit.

3.—L'Administration d'origine ne peut réclamer le remboursement de l'indemnité à l'Administration responsable que dans le délai d'un an à compter de l'envoi de la notification de la perte, ou, s'il y a lieu, du jour de l'expiration du délai prévu à l'article 60, § 2.

Delay in making payment; penalty.

4.—L'Administration dont la responsabilité est dûment établie et qui a tout d'abord décliné le paiement de l'indemnité doit prendre à sa charge tous les frais accessoires résultant du retard non justifié apporté au paiement.

If the indemnity must be paid by several Administrations in conformity with article 61, the whole of the indemnity due must be turned over to the Administration of origin, within the period mentioned in the preceding paragraph, by the first Administration which, having duly received the article inquired about, can not establish its regular transmission to the corresponding service. It is incumbent upon that Administration to recover from the other responsible Administrations any share of each of them in the indemnity paid to the rightful claimant.

2. The reimbursement of the creditor Administration is effected without expense for that Administration by means of either a money order, a check or a draft payable at sight on the capital or a commercial city of the creditor country, or in coin current in that country.

When responsibility has been acknowledged, as well as in the case contemplated by Article 60, Section 2, the amount of indemnity may likewise be recovered from the responsible country officially through any account, either directly or through the intermediary of an Administration which regularly exchanges accounts with the responsible Administration.

At the expiration of the period of three months, the sum due to the Administration of origin bears interest at the rate of 5 per cent a year, counting from the date of expiration of the said period.

3. The Administration of origin may claim repayment of the indemnity from the responsible Administration only within the period of one year, counting from the date of sending the notification of the loss; or, if occasion arises, from the date of expiration of the period contemplated by Article 60, Section 2.

4. An Administration whose responsibility is duly established and which has at first declined to pay the indemnity must bear all the additional expenses resulting from the unjustified delay in making payment.

5.—Les Administrations peuvent s'entendre pour liquider périodiquement les indemnités qu'elles ont payées aux expéditeurs et dont elles ont reconnu le bien-fondé.

5. Administrations may agree among themselves to make periodical settlements of the indemnities which they have paid to the senders and the justness of which they have recognized.

Periodical settlements.

CHAPITRE III.

ENVOIS CONTRE REMBOURSEMENT.

ARTICLE 63.

Taxes et conditions. Liquidation.

1.—Les correspondances recommandées peuvent être expédiées contre remboursement dans les relations entre les pays dont les Administrations conviennent d'assurer ce service.

2.—Les objets expédiés contre remboursement sont soumis aux formalités et aux taxes des envois recommandés. En outre, l'expéditeur paie à l'avance:

a) une taxe fixe qui ne peut dépasser 40 centimes par envoi et un droit proportionnel de  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  au maximum du montant du remboursement, s'il désire que ce montant soit liquidé au moyen d'un mandat de remboursement émis gratuitement à son profit;

b) une taxe fixe de 20 centimes au maximum, s'il demande la liquidation au moyen d'un versement en compte courant postal dans le pays de destination de l'envoi.

3.—Le mode de liquidation prévu au § 2, lettre b), n'est admis que si les Administrations intéressées se chargent d'appliquer ce procédé de liquidation. L'Administration de destination verse en compte courant, au moyen d'un bulletin de versement du régime intérieur, le montant encaissé sur le destinataire, après déduction d'une taxe fixe de 20 centimes au maximum et de la taxe ordinaire des versements applicable dans son service intérieur.

4.—Quel que soit le mode de liquidation, le montant maximum du remboursement est égal à celui qui est fixé pour les mandats de poste à destination du pays d'origine de l'envoi.

CHAPTER III

COLLECT-ON-DELIVERY ARTICLES

ARTICLE 63

Rates and conditions. Settlement

1. Registered articles may be sent C. O. D. in relations between countries whose Administrations agree to perform such service.

2. Articles sent C. O. D. are subject to the conditions and rates applicable to registered articles. Moreover, the sender pays in advance:

(a) A fixed fee which may not exceed 40 centimes per article and a proportional fee of  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent at most of the amount of the C. O. D. charge, if he desires that such amount be settled by means of a C. O. D. money order issued free of charge in his favor;

(b) A fixed fee of 20 centimes at most, if he requests settlement by means of a transfer to a current postal-check account in the country of destination of the article.

3. The method of settlement contemplated by Section 2, letter (b), is permitted only if the Administrations concerned undertake to apply such procedure for settlement. The Administration of destination turns over to the current account, by means of a domestic transfer bulletin, the amount collected from the addressee, after deducting a fixed fee of 20 centimes at most and the ordinary transfer fee applicable in its domestic service.

4. Irrespective of the method of settlement, the maximum amount of the C. O. D. charge is equal to that fixed for money orders addressed to the country of origin of the article.

Maximum charge.

Money in which charge expressed.

5.—Sauf arrangement contraire, le montant du remboursement est exprimé dans la monnaie du pays d'origine de l'envoi. Toutefois, en cas de versement en compte courant postal tenu dans le pays de destination de l'envoi, ce montant doit être indiqué dans la monnaie de ce pays.

5. In the absence of contrary agreement, the amount of the C. O. D. charge is expressed in money of the country of origin of the article. However, in case of transfer to a current postal-check account held in the country of destination of the article, such amount shall be indicated in money of that country.

Collection.

6.—Chaque Administration a la faculté d'adopter, pour la perception du droit proportionnel prévu au § 2, lettre a), l'échelle qui répond le mieux à ses convenances de service.

6. Each Administration has the option of adopting, for the collection of the proportional fee contemplated by Section 2, letter (a), the scale which is most convenient for its service.

ARTICLE 64

Annulation ou modification du montant du remboursement.

Cancellation or modification of the amount to be collected

Cancellation or modification of amount.

L'expéditeur d'un envoi recommandé grevé de remboursement peut demander le dégrèvement total ou partiel ainsi que l'augmentation du montant du remboursement. Dans ce dernier cas, il doit payer pour le montant de la majoration le droit proportionnel fixé par l'article 63.

The sender of a registered C. O. D. article may request total or partial cancellation of the amount to be collected, or an increase therein. In the latter case, he must pay, for the amount of the increase, the proportional fee fixed by Article 63.

Request provisions.

Les demandes de cette nature sont soumises aux mêmes dispositions que les demandes de retrait ou de modification d'adresse.

Requests of this nature are subject to the same provisions as requests for withdrawal or change of address.

Si la demande de dégrèvement total ou partiel ou d'augmentation du montant du remboursement doit être transmise par voie télégraphique, la taxe du télégramme est augmentée de la taxe applicable à une lettre recommandée de port simple.

If the request for total or partial cancellation of the C. O. D. charge or an increase therein must be sent by telegraph, the charge for the telegram is increased by the rate applicable to a single-rate registered letter.

ARTICLE 67.

Indemnité en cas de non-encaissement du montant du remboursement, d'encaissement insuffisant ou frauduleux.

1.—Si l'envoi a été livré au destinataire sans encaissement du montant du remboursement, l'expéditeur a droit à une indemnité, pourvu qu'une réclamation ait été formulée dans le délai d'un an prévu à l'article 53 et à moins que le non-encaissement ne soit dû à une faute ou à une négligence de sa part, ou que le contenu de l'envoi ne tombe sous le coup des interdictions prévues aux articles 34, §§ 4 et 6, lettre c), et 46, § 1.

Il en est de même si la somme encaissée du destinataire est inférieure au montant du remboursement indiqué ou si l'encaissement a été effectué frauduleusement.

L'indemnité ne pourra dépasser, en aucun cas, le montant du remboursement.

2.—L'Administration qui a effectué le paiement de l'indemnité est subrogée, jusqu'à concurrence du montant de cette indemnité, dans les droits de la personne qui l'a reçue, pour tout recours éventuel, soit contre le destinataire, soit contre l'expéditeur ou contre des tiers.

ARTICLE 68.

Sommes encaissées régulièrement. Indemnités. Paiement et recours.

L'obligation de payer les sommes encaissées régulièrement ou l'indemnité dont il est question à l'article 67 incombe à l'Administration dont relève le bureau expéditeur de l'envoi, sous réserve de son droit de recours contre l'Administration responsable.

ARTICLE 67

Indemnity in case of non-collection, insufficient or fraudulent collection of the C. O. D. charge

1. If the article has been delivered to the addressee without collecting the amount of the C. O. D. charge, the sender is entitled to indemnity, provided that inquiry has been made within the period of one year prescribed by Article 53, and unless the non-collection is due to fault or negligence on his part, or unless the contents of the article come under the prohibitions laid down by Articles 34, Sections 4 and 6, letter (c), and 46, Section 1.

The same applies if the sum collected from the addressee is lower than the amount of the C. O. D. charge indicated, or if the collection has been made fraudulently.

In no case may the indemnity exceed the amount to be collected on delivery.

2. The Administration which has effected payment of the indemnity is subrogated up to the amount of such indemnity in the rights of the person who has received it for all eventual recourse against the addressee, the sender, or third parties.

Les dispositions de l'article 60 concernant les délais de paiement de l'indemnité pour la perte d'un envoi recommandé s'appliquent au paiement des sommes encaissées ou de l'indemnité pour les envois contre remboursement.

ARTICLE 69

Period for payment

The provisions of Article 60 concerning the periods for payment of indemnity for the loss of a registered article are applicable to the payment of the sums collected or of the indemnity for C. O. D. articles.

ARTICLE 70.

Détermination de la responsabilité.

Fixing of responsibility.

Le paiement, par l'Administration expéditrice, des sommes encaissées régulièrement ou de l'indemnité prévue à l'article 67 se fait pour le compte de l'Administration destinataire. Celle-ci est responsable, à moins qu'elle ne puisse prouver que la faute est due à la non-observation d'une disposition réglementaire par l'Administration expéditrice.

ARTICLE 70

Fixing of responsibility

The payment by the dispatching Administration of the sums regularly collected, or of the indemnity provided for by Article 67, is effected on behalf of the Administration of destination. The latter is responsible, unless it can prove that the irregularity was due to the failure of the dispatching Administration to observe a provision of the regulations.

En cas d'encaissement frauduleux à la suite de la disparition, dans le service, d'un envoi contre remboursement, la responsabilité des Administrations en cause est déterminée selon les règles prévues à l'article 61 pour la perte d'un envoi recommandé. Toutefois, la responsabilité d'une Administration intermédiaire qui ne participe pas au service des remboursements est limitée à celle qui est prévue aux articles 56 et 57 pour les envois recommandés. Les autres Administrations supportent par parts égales le montant non couvert.

In case of fraudulent collection as a result of the loss of a C. O. D. article in the service, the responsibility of the Administrations involved is determined in accordance with the rules laid down by Article 61 for the loss of a registered article. However, the responsibility of an intermediate Administration which does not participate in the C. O. D. service is limited to that prescribed by Articles 56 and 57 for registered articles. The other Administrations pay the amount not covered in equal shares.

C. O. D. money orders and transfer bulletins

1. The amount of a C. O. D. money order which, for any rea-quelconque, n'a pas été payé au bénéficiaire, n'est pas remboursé à l'Administration d'émission. Il est tenu à la disposition du bénéficiaire par l'Administration expéditrice de l'envoi grevé de remboursement et revient définitivement à cette Administration après l'expiration du délai légal de prescription.

A tous les autres égards, et sous les réserves prévues au Règlement, les mandats de remboursement sont soumis aux dispositions fixées par l'Arrangement concernant les mandats de poste.

2.—Lorsque, pour une cause quelconque, un bulletin de versement émis en conformité des prescriptions de l'article 63 ne peut être porté au crédit du bénéficiaire indiqué par l'expéditeur de l'envoi contre remboursement, le montant de ce bulletin doit être mis, par l'Administration qui l'a encaissé, à la disposition de l'Administration d'origine pour être payé à l'expéditeur de l'envoi.

Si ce paiement ne peut être effectué, il est procédé comme il est prévu au § 1.

In all other respects, and apart from the exceptions laid down by the Regulations, C. O. D. money orders are subject to the provisions of the Agreement concerning money orders.

2. When, for any reason, a transfer bulletin issued in accordance with the provisions of Article 63 can not be entered to the credit of the payee indicated by the sender of the C. O. D. article, the amount of such bulletin shall be placed, by the Administration which has cashed it, at the disposal of the Administration of origin, to be paid to the sender of the article.

If this payment can not be effected, the procedure outlined in Section 1 is followed.

Transfer bulletins.

Ante, p. 2083.

ARTICLE 73.

Bonification de la taxe et du droit de remboursement.

L'Administration d'origine bonifie à l'Administration de destination, dans les conditions prescrites par le Règlement, une quote-part fixe de 20 centimes par remboursement, plus  $\frac{1}{4}\%$  de la somme totale des mandats de remboursement payés.

ARTICLE 73

Sharing of C. O. D. charges and fees

The Administration of origin credits the Administration of destination, under the conditions fixed by the Regulations, with a fixed quota of 20 centimes per C. O. D. article, plus  $\frac{1}{4}$  per cent of the total amount of C. O. D. money orders paid.

Sauf les cas expressément prévus par la Convention, chaque Administration garde en entier les taxes qu'elle a perçues.

CHAPTER IV

RETENTION OF POSTAGE.
TRANSIT CHARGES

ARTICLE 74

Retention of postage

Except in cases expressly provided for by the Convention, each Administration retains the whole of the postage which it collects.

Retention of postage.

ARTICLE 75.

Frais de transit.

Transit charges.

1.—Les correspondances échangées en dépêches closes entre deux Administrations, au moyen des services d'une ou de plusieurs autres Administrations (services tiers), sont soumises, au profit de chacun des pays traversés ou dont les services participent au transport, aux frais de transit indiqués dans le tableau suivant:

Maritime service.

2.—Les frais de transit pour le transport maritime sur un trajet n'excédant pas 300 milles marins sont fixés au tiers des sommes prévues au § 1, si l'Administration intéressée reçoit déjà, du chef des dépêches transportées, la rémunération afférente au transit territorial.

Transit by two or more Administrations.

3.—En cas de transport maritime effectué par deux ou plusieurs Administrations, les frais du parcours maritime total ne peuvent pas dépasser 4 francs 80 par kilogramme de lettres et de cartes postales et 60 centimes par kilogramme d'autres objets. Le cas échéant, ces montants maxima sont répartis entre les Administrations participant au transport, au prorata des distances parcourues.

ARTICLE 75

Transit charges

1. Articles of correspondence exchanged in closed mails between two Administrations, by means of the services of one or more other Administrations (third services), are liable, for the benefit of each of the countries traversed or whose services participate in the conveyance, to the transit charges indicated in the following table:

	Per kilogram

From 1,500 to 6,000 nautical miles.....	3. 20	0. 40
Over 6,000 nautical miles.....	4. 80	0. 60

2. The transit charges for maritime conveyance on a route not exceeding 300 nautical miles are fixed at one-third the amounts set forth in Section 1, if the Administration concerned already receives, on account of the mails transported, compensation for territorial transit.

3. In the case of maritime transit effected by two or more Administrations, the total maritime transit charges may not exceed 4 francs 80 centimes per kilogram of letters and post cards or 60 centimes per kilogram of other articles. When occasion arises, those maximum amounts are divided between the Administrations taking part in the transportation in proportion to the distances traversed.

4.—Sont considérés comme services tiers, à moins d'arrangement contraire, les transports maritimes effectués directement entre deux pays au moyen de navires de l'un d'eux ainsi que les transports effectués entre deux bureaux d'un même pays par l'intermédiaire de services d'un autre pays.

5.—Sont considérés comme autres objets, en ce qui concerne le transit, les petits paquets, les journaux ou paquets de journaux et écrits périodiques expédiés en vertu de l'Arrangement concernant les abonnements aux journaux et écrits périodiques ainsi que les boîtes avec valeur déclarée expédiées en vertu de l'Arrangement concernant les lettres et les boîtes avec valeur déclarée.

6.—Les dépêches mal dirigées sont considérées, en ce qui concerne le paiement des frais de transit, comme si elles avaient suivi leur voie normale.

ARTICLE 76.

Exemption de frais de transit.

Sont exempts de tous frais de transit territorial ou maritime, les correspondances en franchise postale mentionnées à l'article 49, les cartes postales-réponse renvoyées au pays d'origine, les envois réexpédiés, les rebuts, les avis de réception, les mandats de poste et tous autres documents relatifs au service postal, notamment les plis concernant les virements postaux.

ARTICLE 77.

Services extraordinaires.

Les frais de transit spécifiés à l'article 75 ne s'appliquent pas au transport au moyen de services extraordinaires spécialement créés ou entretenus par une Administration sur la demande d'une ou de plusieurs autres Administrations. Les conditions de cette catégorie de transports sont réglées de gré à gré entre les Administrations intéressées.

4. Barring contrary agreement, maritime transportation effected directly between two countries by means of ships of one of them, as well as conveyance effected between two offices of one and the same country through the intermediary of services of another country, is considered as a third service.

5. Small packets, newspapers or packages of newspapers and periodicals sent by virtue of the Agreement concerning subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals, as well as insured boxes sent by virtue of the Agreement concerning insured letters and boxes, are considered as other articles in regard to transit.

6. Missent dispatches are considered, in regard to the payment of transit charges, as if they had followed their normal route.

ARTICLE 76

Freedom from transit charges

The following are exempt from all territorial or maritime transit charges: The correspondence sent free of postage mentioned in Article 49; reply post cards returned to the country of origin; redirected articles; returned undeliverable articles; return receipts; money orders; and all other documents relating to the postal service, particularly correspondence relative to postal checks.

ARTICLE 77

Extraordinary services

The transit charges specified in Article 75 do not apply to transportation by means of extraordinary services specially created or maintained by one Administration at the request of one or more other Administrations. The conditions for that class of conveyance are fixed by mutual agreement between the Administrations concerned.

ARTICLE 78.

Payements et décomptes.

ARTICLE 78

Payments and accounts

Transit cost.

1.—Les frais de transit sont à la charge de l'Administration du pays d'origine.

1. The cost of transit is borne by the Administration of the country of origin.

Basis for charges.

2.—Le décompte général de ces frais a lieu d'après les données de relevés statistiques établis, une fois tous les trois ans, pendant une période de quatorze jours. Cette période est portée à vingt-huit jours pour les dépêches échangées moins de six fois par semaine par les services d'un pays quelconque.

2. The general accounting for such charges is effected on the basis of statistics taken once every three years, during a period of fourteen days. That period is extended to twenty-eight days for dispatches exchanged less than six times a week through the services of any country.

Le Règlement détermine la période et la durée d'application des statistiques.

The Regulations determine the period and length of application of the statistics.

Arbitration.

3.—Toute Administration est autorisée à soumettre à l'appréciation d'une Commission d'arbitres les résultats d'une statistique qui, d'après elle, différerait trop de la réalité. Cet arbitrage est constitué ainsi qu'il est prévu à l'article 11.

3. Any Administration is authorized to submit to a board of arbiters for consideration the results of statistics which, in its opinion, differ too greatly from reality. Such arbitration is effected in accordance with the provisions of Article 11.

Anst., p. 2065.

Les arbitres ont le droit de fixer en bonne justice le montant des frais de transit à payer.

The arbitrators are authorized to determine the proper amount of transit charges to be paid.

ARTICLE 79.

Echange de dépêches closes avec des bâtiments de guerre.

ARTICLE 79

Exchange of closed mails with warships

Exchange of closed mails with warships.

1.—Des dépêches closes peuvent être échangées entre les bureaux de poste de l'un des pays contractants et les commandants de divisions navales ou bâtiments de guerre de ce même pays en station à l'étranger, ou entre le commandant d'une de ces divisions navales ou d'un de ces bâtiments de guerre et le commandant d'une autre division ou d'un autre bâtiment du même pays, par l'intermédiaire des services territoriaux ou maritimes d'autres pays.

1. Closed mails may be exchanged between the post offices of any one of the contracting countries and the commanding officers of naval divisions or warships of the same country stationed abroad, or between the commanding officer of one of those naval divisions or warships and the commanding officer of another division or ship of the same country, through the intermediary of land or sea services of other countries.

2.—Les correspondances de toute nature comprises dans ces dépêches doivent être exclusivement à l'adresse ou en provenance des états-majors et des équipages des bâtiments destinataires ou expéditeurs des dépêches; les tarifs et conditions d'envoi qui leur sont applicables sont déterminés,

2. Correspondence of all kinds comprised in such dispatches shall be exclusively addressed to or sent by the officers and crews of the ships of destination or origin of the mails; the rates and conditions of dispatch applicable to them are determined, according to its domestic regulations, by the d'après ses règlements intérieurs, Postal Administration of the country to which the ships belong. par l'Administration des postes du pays auquel appartiennent les bâtiments.

3.—Sauf arrangement contraire entre les Administrations intéressées, l'Administration postale expéditrice ou destinataire des dépêches dont il s'agit est redevable, envers les Administrations intermédiaires, de frais de transit calculés conformément aux dispositions de l'article 75.

3. Barring contrary agreement between the Administrations concerned, the Postal Administration dispatching or receiving the mails in question is indebted to the intermediate Administrations for transit charges calculated in accordance with the provisions of Article 75.

DISPOSITIONS DIVERSES.

VARIOUS PROVISIONS

ARTICLE 80.

ARTICLE 80

Inobservation de la liberté de transit. Failure to observe liberty of transit

Lorsqu'un pays n'observe pas les dispositions de l'article 26 concernant la liberté de transit, les Administrations ont le droit de supprimer le service postal avec ce pays. Elles doivent donner préalablement avis de cette mesure par télégramme aux Administrations intéressées.

When a country does not observe the provisions of Article 26 concerning liberty of transit, Administrations have the right to discontinue postal service with that country. They must give advance notice of that measure by telegraph to the Administrations concerned.

Counterfeiting.

Fraudulent use of identity cards.

Fraudulent manufacture, etc., of stamps.

Unlawful mailing of narcotics.

c) pour punir l'emploi frauduleux de cartes d'identité régulières;

d) pour interdire et réprimer toutes opérations frauduleuses de fabrication et de mise en circulation de vignettes et timbres en usage dans le service postal, contrefaits ou imités de telle manière qu'ils pourraient être confondus avec les vignettes et timbres émis par l'Administration d'un des Pays contractants;

e) pour empêcher et, le cas échéant, punir l'insertion d'opium, de morphine, de cocaïne ou d'autres stupéfiants dans des envois postaux en faveur desquels cette insertion ne serait pas expressément autorisée par la Convention et les Arrangements.

(c) For punishing the fraudulent use of regular identity cards;

(d) For prohibiting and suppressing all fraudulent operations of manufacture and placing in circulation of embossed or adhesive stamps in use in the postal service, which are counterfeited or imitated in such a way that they could be confused with embossed or adhesive stamps issued by one of the contracting countries;

(e) For preventing, and, if occasion arises, punishing the insertion of opium, morphine, cocaine or other narcotics in mail articles in favor of which such insertion is not expressly authorized by the Convention and Agreements.

Having examined and considered the provisions of the foregoing Convention, signed at Buenos Aires on the 23rd day of May, 1939, revising the Universal Postal Convention which was concluded at Cairo on the 20th day of March, 1934; the same is by me, by virtue of the powers vested by law in the Postmaster General, hereby ratified and approved, by and with the advice and consent of the President of the United States of America.

Ratification and approval by Postmaster General.

This ratification is applicable to the United States of America, the insular possessions of the United States of America mentioned in Article 8 (1°), and to Samoa and the Panama Canal Zone.

Art. p. 2053.

In witness whereof, I have caused the seal of the Post Office Department of the United States of America to be hereunto affixed this 12th day of January, 1940.

[SEAL]

JAMES A FARLEY
Postmaster General.

I hereby approve the above-mentioned Convention, and in testimony thereof have caused the seal of the United States of America to be hereto affixed.

Approval by the President.

PROTOCOLE FINAL DE LA CONVENTION.

FINAL PROTOCOL OF THE CONVENTION

Final protocol.

Au moment de procéder à la signature de la Convention postale universelle conclue à la date de ce jour, les Plénipotentiaires sous-signés sont convenus de ce qui suit:

At the moment of proceeding to sign the Universal Postal Convention concluded on the present date, the undersigned plenipotentiaries have agreed as follows:

I.

I

Retrait. Modification d'adresse.

Withdrawal. Change of address

Provisions not applicable to Great Britain, etc.
Ante, p. 2075.

Les dispositions de l'article 51 ne s'appliquent pas à la Grande-Bretagne, ni à ceux des Dominions, Colonies et Protectorats britanniques dont la législation intérieure ne permet pas le retrait ou la modification d'adresse de correspondances à la demande de l'expéditeur.

The provisions of Article 51 do not apply to Great Britain, nor to those of the British Dominions, Colonies and Protectorates, whose domestic legislation does not permit the withdrawal or change of address of correspondence at the request of the sender.

Avoirdupois ounce

It is agreed, as an exceptional measure, that countries which, on account of their domestic legislation, can not adopt the decimal metric system of weights, have the option of substituting therefor the avoirdupois ounce (28.3465 grams), assimilating one ounce to 20 grams for letters and Phonopost articles, and 2 ounces to 50 grams for commercial papers, prints, raised print for the use of the blind, samples and small packets.

Avoirdupois ounce.

IV.

Dépôt de correspondances à l'étranger.

Aucun pays n'est tenu d'acheminer, ni de distribuer aux destinataires, les envois que des expéditeurs quelconques domiciliés sur son territoire déposent ou font déposer dans un pays étranger en vue de bénéficier des taxes plus basses qui y sont établies. La règle s'applique sans distinction, soit aux envois préparés dans le pays habité par l'expéditeur et transportés ensuite à travers la frontière, soit aux envois confectionnés dans un pays étranger. L'Administration intéressée a le droit, ou de renvoyer les objets en question à l'origine, ou de les frapper de ses taxes intérieures. Les modalités de la perception des taxes sont laissées à son choix.

IV

Mailing of correspondence in another country

No country is bound to forward or deliver to addressees articles which any senders domiciled on its territory mail or cause to be mailed in a foreign country with a view to profiting by lower rates which are established there. The rule applies, without distinction, either to articles prepared in the country inhabited by the sender and subsequently transported across the border, or to articles prepared in a foreign country. The Administration concerned has the right either to return the articles in question to origin or to charge them with its domestic postage rates. The methods of collecting the charges are left to its discretion.

Mailing of correspondence in another country.

V.

Coupons-réponse.

Les Administrations ont la faculté de ne pas se charger du débit des coupons-réponse.

V

Reply coupons

Administrations have the option of not undertaking the sale of reply coupons.

VI.

Droit de recommandation.

Registration fee.

Ante, p. 2078.

Les pays qui ne peuvent pas fixer à 40 centimes le droit de recommandation prévu à l'article 54, § 2, sont autorisés à percevoir un droit pouvant s'élever jusqu'à 50 centimes ou éventuellement jusqu'au taux fixé pour leur service intérieur.

VII.

Services aériens.

Provisions considered part of Convention, etc.

Les dispositions concernant le transport de la poste aux lettres par voie aérienne sont annexées à la Convention postale universelle et sont considérées comme faisant partie intégrante de celle-ci et de son Règlement.

Modifications.

Toutefois, par dérogation aux dispositions générales de la Convention, la modification de ces dispositions peut être envisagée de temps à autre par une Conférence comprenant les représentants des Administrations directement intéressées.

Calling of Conference.

Cette Conférence peut être convoquée par l'intermédiaire du Bureau international à la demande de trois au moins de ces Administrations.

Submission of proposals.

L'ensemble des dispositions proposées par cette Conférence devra être soumis, par l'intermédiaire du Bureau international, au vote des Pays de l'Union. La décision sera prise à la majorité des voix exprimées.

VIII.

Exception à la liberté du transit des petits paquets.

Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.
Exception to liberty of transit for small packets.
Ante, p. 2061.

Par dérogation aux dispositions de l'article 26 de la Convention, l'Administration des postes de l'Union des Républiques Socialistes est autorisée à ne pas admettre les petits paquets en transit par ses territoires, étant entendu que cette restriction s'appliquera indistinctement à tous les pays de l'Union.

VI

Registration fee

Countries which can not fix at 40 centimes the registration fee contemplated by Article 54, Section 2, are authorized to collect a fee which may amount to as much as 50 centimes, or their domestic registration fee if this is higher.

VII

Air services

The provisions concerning the transportation of regular mails by air are appended to the Universal Postal Convention and are considered as forming an integral part of it and its Regulations.

However, by exception to the general provisions of the Convention, the modification of those provisions may be undertaken from time to time by a Conference comprising the representatives of the Administrations directly interested.

That Conference may be called together through the intermediary of the International Bureau, at the request of at least three of those Administrations.

All the provisions proposed by that Conference shall be submitted, through the medium of the International Bureau, to the other countries of the Union, to be voted upon. The decision will be made on a majority of the votes cast.

VIII

Exception to liberty of transit for small packets

By exception to the provisions of Article 26 of the Convention, the Postal Administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is authorized to refuse the transit of small packets over its territories, with the understanding that this restriction will apply indiscriminately to all the countries of the Union.

Frais spéciaux de transit par le Transsibérien et le Transandin. Special transit charges for the Trans-Siberian and Trans-Andean routes

Par dérogation aux dispositions de l'article 75, § 1 (Tableau), l'Administration postale de l'Union des Républiques Soviétiques Socialistes est autorisée à percevoir les frais de transit par la voie du Transsibérien pour les deux directions (Mandchourie ou Vladivostok), à raison de 4 francs 50 par kilogramme de lettres et de cartes postales et de 50 centimes par kilogramme d'autres objets, pour les distances dépassant 6000 kilomètres.

By exception to the provisions of Article 75, Section 1 (Table), the Postal Administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is authorized to collect transit charges for the Trans-Siberian Railway for both routes (Manchuria or Vladivostok) at the rate of 4 francs 50 centimes per kilogram of letters and post cards and 50 centimes per kilogram of other articles, for distances exceeding 6,000 kilometers.

Special transit charges. Trans-Siberian Railway.

L'Administration de la République Argentine est autorisée à percevoir un supplément de 30 centimes sur les frais de transit mentionnés à l'article 75, § 1, chiffre 1<sup>o</sup>, de la Convention, pour chaque kilogramme de correspondance de toute nature transportée en transit par la section argentine du «Ferrocaril Transandin».

The Administration of the Argentine Republic is authorized to collect a charge of 30 centimes in addition to the transit charges mentioned in Article 75, Section 1, Figure 1<sup>o</sup>, of the Convention, for each kilogram of correspondence of any kind carried in transit by the Argentine section of the Trans-Andean Railway.

Protocole laissé ouvert aux Pays non représentés.

Protocol left open to countries not represented.

Le Protocole reste ouvert aux Pays de l'Union, non représentés au Congrès, pour leur permettre d'adhérer à la Convention et aux Arrangements qui y ont été conclus, ou seulement à l'un ou à l'autre d'entre eux.

XIII.

Protocole laissé ouvert aux Pays représentés pour signatures et adhésions.

Signatures and adhesions of countries represented.

Le Protocole demeure ouvert en faveur des Pays dont les représentants n'ont signé aujourd'hui que la Convention ou un certain nombre seulement des Arrangements arrêtés par le Congrès, à l'effet de leur permettre d'adhérer aux autres Arrangements signés ce jour, ou à l'un ou à l'autre d'entre eux.

XIV.

Délai pour la notification des adhésions.

Period for notification of adhesions.

Les adhésions prévues aux articles XII et XIII devront être notifiées, en la forme diplomatique, par les Gouvernements intéressés au Gouvernement de la République Argentine et par celui-ci aux autres États de l'Union. Le délai accordé auxdits Gouvernements pour cette notification expirera le 1er juillet 1940.

Signatures.

En foi de quoi, les Plénipotentiaires ci-dessous ont dressé le présent Protocole, qui aura la même force et la même valeur que si ses dispositions étaient insérées dans le texte même de la Convention et ils l'ont signé en un exemplaire qui restera déposé aux Archives du Gouvernement de la République Argentine et dont une copie sera remise à chaque Partie.

Fait à Buenos Aires, le 23 mai 1939.

XII

Protocol left open to the countries not represented

The Protocol remains open to the countries of the Union which were not represented at the Congress, in order to permit them to adhere to the Convention and Agreements concluded there, or merely to one or another of them.

XIII

Protocol left open to the countries represented for signatures and adhesions

The Protocol remains open to those countries whose representatives have today signed only the Convention or only a certain number of the Agreements drawn up by the Congress, for the purpose of permitting them to adhere to the other Agreements signed on this date, or to one or another of them.

XIV

Period for notification of adhesions

The adhesions contemplated in Articles XII and XIII shall be communicated by the respective Governments, through diplomatic channels, to the Government of the Argentine Republic, and by the latter to the other States of the Union. The period which is allowed to the said Governments to make such notification will expire on July 1, 1940.

In faith of which, the undersigned plenipotentiaries have drawn up the present Protocol, which will have the same force and validity as if its provisions were included in the text of the Convention itself, and they have signed it in one copy, which will be filed in the Archives of the Government of the Argentine Republic, and a copy of which will be delivered to each party.

RÈGLEMENT D'EXÉCUTION DE LA CONVENTION POSTALE UNIVERSELLE. REGULATIONS OF EXECUTION OF THE UNIVERSAL POSTAL CONVENTION

Les soussignés, vu l'article 4 de la Convention postale universelle conclue à Buenos Aires, le 23 mai 1939, ont, au nom de leurs Administrations respectives, arrêté, d'un commun accord, les mesures suivantes pour assurer l'exécution de ladite Convention:

The undersigned, in view of Article 4 of the Universal Postal Convention concluded at Buenos Aires on May 23, 1939, have, in the name of their respective Administrations, drawn up, by common consent, the following measures to assure the execution of the said Convention:

Measures adopted.
Ante, p. 2051.

TITRE I.

TITLE I

DISPOSITIONS GÉNÉRALES.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

CHAPITRE UNIQUE.

SOLE CHAPTER

ARTICLE 101.

ARTICLE 101

Transit en dépêches closes et transit à découvert.

Transit in closed mails and transit in open mail

1.—Les Administrations peuvent s'expédier réciproquement, par l'intermédiaire d'une ou de plusieurs d'entre elles, tant des dépêches closes que des correspondances à découvert, suivant les besoins du trafic et les convenances du service.

1. Administrations may send reciprocally, through the intermediary of one or more of them, both closed mails and correspondence in open mail, in accordance with the needs of the traffic and the requirements of the service.

Use of closed and open mails.

2.—La transmission des correspondances à découvert à une Administration intermédiaire doit se limiter strictement aux cas où la confection de dépêches closes, soit pour le pays de destination même, soit pour un pays plus proche de ce dernier, ne se justifie pas.

2. The transmission of correspondence in open mail to an intermediate Administration must be limited strictly to cases where the preparation of closed mails, either for the country of destination itself or for a country nearer the latter, is not justified.

Open mail to intermediate Administration, limitation.

ARTICLE 102.

ARTICLE 102

Echange en dépêches closes.

Exchange in closed mails

1.—L'échange des correspondances en dépêches closes est réglé d'un commun accord entre les Administrations intéressées.

1. The exchange of correspondence in closed mails is governed by mutual agreement between the Administrations concerned.

Exchange in closed mails.

Il est obligatoire de former des dépêches closes toutes les fois qu'une des Administrations intermédiaires en fait la demande, se basant sur le fait que le nombre de correspondances à découvert est de nature à entraver ses opérations.

It is obligatory to make up closed mails whenever one of the intermediate Administrations so requests, basing its request on the fact that the number of articles in open mail is such as to hinder its operations.

Notification.

2.—Les Administrations par l'intermédiaire desquelles des dépêches closes sont à expédier doivent être prévenues en temps opportun.

2. The Administrations through whose intermediary closed mails are to be exchanged shall be duly notified in advance.

Alteration in exchange, etc.

3.—En cas de changement dans un service d'échange en dépêches closes établi entre deux Administrations par l'intermédiaire d'un ou de plusieurs pays tiers, l'Administration d'origine de la dépêche en donne connaissance aux Administrations de ces pays.

3. In case of alteration in an exchange of closed mails established between two Administrations through the intermediary of one or more third countries, the Administration of origin of the dispatch gives notice thereof to the Administrations of those countries.

S'il s'agit d'une modification dans la voie d'acheminement des dépêches, la nouvelle voie à suivre doit être indiquée aux Administrations qui effectuaient précédemment le transit, tandis que l'ancienne voie est signalée, pour mémoire, aux Administrations qui assureront désormais ce transit.

If it is a question of a change in the routing of the dispatches, the new route to be followed should be indicated to the Administrations which have previously effected the transit, while the former route is indicated, as information, to the Administrations which will subsequently perform such transit.

ARTICLE 103.

Acheminement des correspondances.

ARTICLE 103

Routing of mails

Routing of mails.

1.—Chaque Administration est obligée d'acheminer, par les voies les plus rapides qu'elle emploie pour ses propres envois, les dépêches closes et les correspondances à découvert qui lui sont livrées par une autre Administration.

1. Each Administration is bound to forward by the most rapid routes which it employs for its own dispatches the closed mails and articles in open mail which are delivered to it by another Administration.

Lorsqu'une dépêche se compose de plusieurs sacs, ceux-ci doivent, autant que possible, rester réunis et être acheminés par le même courrier.

When a mail is composed of several sacks, they shall, as far as possible, remain together and be forwarded in the same dispatch.

Missent articles.

Les objets de toute nature mal dirigés sont, sans aucun délai, réexpédiés sur leur destination par la voie la plus prompte.

Missent articles of all kinds are forwarded without any delay to their destination by the most rapid route.

Optional routes.

2.—L'Administration du pays d'origine a la faculté d'indiquer la voie à suivre par les dépêches closes qu'elle expédie, pourvu que l'emploi de cette voie n'entraîne pas, pour une Administration intermédiaire, des frais spéciaux.

2. The Administration of the country of origin has the option of indicating the route to be followed by the closed mails which it dispatches, provided that the employment of that route does not involve special expenses for an intermediate Administration.

Sous la même réserve, les Administrations intervenant dans le transport doivent tenir compte de la voie à suivre portée par l'expéditeur sur les envois qui leur sont transmis à découvert.

With the same reservation, the Administrations intervening in the transportation shall take account of the route to be followed indicated by the sender on articles sent to them in open mail.

Unpaid or insufficient postage.

3.—Les Administrations qui usent de la faculté de percevoir des taxes supplémentaires, en repré-

3. Administrations which make use of the option of collecting supplementary charges, represent-sensation des frais extraordinaires afférents à certaines voies, sont libres de ne pas diriger par ces voies les correspondances non ou insuffisamment affranchies.

ing the extraordinary expenses pertaining to certain routes, are at liberty not to send unprepaid or insufficiently prepaid correspondence by those routes.

ARTICLE 104.

Pays éloignés.

1.—Sont considérés comme pays éloignés les pays entre lesquels la durée des transports par la voie de terre ou de mer la plus rapide est de plus de dix jours ainsi que ceux entre lesquels la fréquence moyenne des courriers est inférieure à deux voyages par mois.

2.—Sont assimilés aux pays éloignés, en ce qui concerne les délais prévus par la Convention et les Arrangements, les pays de très grande étendue ou dont les voies de communication intérieures sont peu développées, pour les questions où ces facteurs jouent un rôle prépondérant.

3.—Le Bureau international dresse la liste des pays visés aux §§ 1 et 2.

ARTICLE 104

Distant countries

1. Countries between which the shortest transit time by land or sea is more than ten days, as well as those between which the average frequency of the mails is less than two trips a month, are considered as distant countries.

2. Countries of very great extent, or those whose internal routes of communication are but little developed, for questions where those factors play a decisive part, are assimilated to distant countries, in regard to the periods prescribed by the Convention and Agreements.

3. The International Bureau prepares a list of the countries mentioned in Sections 1 and 2.

Distant, etc., countries.

List.

ARTICLE 105.

Fixation des équivalents.

1.—Les Administrations fixent les équivalents des taxes et droits prévus par la Convention et les Arrangements après entente avec l'Administration des postes suisses, à laquelle il appartient de les faire notifier par l'intermédiaire du Bureau international. La même procédure est suivie en cas de changement d'équivalents.

Les équivalents ou les changements d'équivalents ne peuvent entrer en vigueur que le premier d'un mois et, au plus tôt, quinze jours après leur notification par le Bureau international.

Ce Bureau dresse un tableau indiquant, pour chaque pays, les équivalents des taxes et droits mentionnés au 1<sup>er</sup> alinéa, et renseignant, le cas échéant, sur le pourcentage de la majoration ou de la réduction de taxe appliquée en vertu de l'article II du Protocole final de la Convention.

ARTICLE 105

Fixing of equivalents

1. Administrations fix the equivalents of the rates and fees contemplated by the Convention and Agreements by agreement with the Swiss Postal Administration, which latter Administration shall give notice of the equivalents through the intermediary of the International Bureau. The same procedure is followed in case of change of equivalents.

The equivalents or changes of equivalents can not enter into force except on the first of a month, and at the earliest fifteen days after their notification by the International Bureau.

That Bureau makes up a table indicating, for each country, the equivalents of the rates and fees mentioned in the first paragraph, showing the percentage of increase or reduction, if any, made in the rates by virtue of article II of the Final Protocol of the Convention.

Fixing of equivalents.

Ante, p. 2086.

Monetary fractions.	2.—Les fractions monétaires résultant du complément de taxe applicable aux correspondances insuffisamment affranchies peuvent être arrondies par les Administrations qui en effectuent la perception. La somme à ajouter de ce chef ne peut excéder la valeur de 5 centimes.	2. Monetary fractions resulting from the additional charge applicable to shortpaid correspondence may be rounded off by the Administrations which collect such charge. The sum to be added on that account may not exceed the amount of 5 centimes.
Equivalent for indemnity.	3.—Chaque Administration notifie directement au Bureau international l'équivalent fixé par elle pour l'indemnité prévue à l'article 56 de la Convention.	3. Each Administration notifies the International Bureau directly of the equivalent fixed by it for the indemnity contemplated by Article 56 of the Convention.

ARTICLE 106.

ARTICLE 106

Timbres-poste et empreintes d'affranchissement.

Postage stamps and postage-paid impressions

Colors.	1.—Les timbres-poste représentant les taxes-types de l'Union ou leurs équivalents dans la monnaie de chaque pays sont confectionnés dans les couleurs suivantes:	1. The postage stamps representing the basic rates of the Union or their equivalents in the money of each country are made up in the following colors:
Letter.	en bleu, le timbre représentant la taxe d'une lettre de port simple;	The stamp representing the postage on a single-rate letter, in blue;
Post card.	en rouge, le timbre représentant la taxe d'une carte postale;	The stamp representing the rate for a post card, in red;

Stamping-machine impressions.	Les empreintes produites par les machines à affranchir doivent être de couleur rouge vif, quelle que soit la valeur qu'elles représentent.	Impressions produced by stamping machines shall be bright red, whatever value they represent.
Lettering, etc.	2.—Les timbres-poste et les empreintes d'affranchissement doivent porter, autant que possible en caractères latins, l'indication du pays d'origine et mentionner leur valeur d'affranchissement d'après le tableau des équivalents adoptés. L'indication du nombre d'unités ou de fractions de l'unité monétaire, servant à exprimer cette valeur, est faite en chiffres arabes.	2. Postage stamps and postage-paid impressions shall bear, in Latin characters as far as possible, the indication of the country of origin, and mention their postage value in accordance with the table of equivalents adopted. The number of monetary units or fractions of the unit serving to express that value is indicated in Arabic figures.
Prepaid prints.	En ce qui concerne les imprimés affranchis au moyen d'empreintes obtenues à la presse d'imprimerie ou par un autre procédé d'impression (article 47 de la Convention), les indications du pays d'origine et de la valeur d'affranchissement peuvent être remplacées par le nom du bureau d'origine et la	As for prints prepaid by means of indicia, printed or otherwise obtained (Article 47 of the Convention), the indication of the country of origin and the postage value may be replaced by the name of the office of origin and the note Taxe perçue (postage collected), Port payé (postage paid), mention «Taxe perçue», «Port payé» ou une expression analogue. Cette mention peut être libellée en français ou dans la langue du pays d'origine; elle peut aussi revêtir une forme abrégée, par exemple «T. P.» ou «P. P.». Dans tous les cas, l'indication adoptée doit être encadrée ou soulignée d'un fort trait.

3.—Les timbres-poste commémoratifs ou de charité, pour lesquels un supplément de taxe est à payer indépendamment de la valeur d'affranchissement, doivent être confectionnés de façon à éviter tout doute au sujet de cette valeur.

4.—Les timbres-poste peuvent être marqués à l'emporte-pièce de perforations distinctives selon les conditions fixées par l'Administration qui les a émis.

or a similar expression. That note may be worded in French or in the language of the country of origin; it may also be abbreviated, e. g.: T. P. or P. P. In all cases, the indication adopted shall be inclosed or underscored with a heavy line.

3. Commemorative or charity stamps, for which an additional charge is to be paid in addition to the postage value, shall be made up in such a way as to avoid any doubt as to that value.

4. Postage stamps may be marked with distinctive perforations, under the conditions fixed by the Administration which has issued them.

Commemorative, etc., stamps.

CONDITIONS D'ACCEPTATION DES OBJETS DE CORRESPONDANCE.

CHAPITRE I.

DISPOSITIONS APPLICABLES À TOUTES LES CATÉGORIES D'ENVOIS.

ARTICLE 107.

Conditionnement et adresse.

1.—Les Administrations doivent recommander au public:

a) de libeller l'adresse en caractères latins et de la mettre dans le sens de la longueur de façon à ménager la place nécessaire pour les mentions ou étiquettes de service;

b) d'indiquer l'adresse d'une manière précise et complète, afin que l'acheminement de l'envoi et sa remise au destinataire puissent avoir lieu sans recherches;

c) d'appliquer les timbres-poste ou les empreintes d'affranchissement à l'angle droit supérieur du côté de la suscription;

d) d'indiquer le nom et le domicile de l'expéditeur, soit au recto et de préférence du côté gauche de

TITLE II

CONDITIONS FOR ACCEPTANCE OF ARTICLES OF CORRESPONDENCE

CHAPTER I

PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CLASSES OF ARTICLES

ARTICLE 107

Preparation and address

1. The Administrations shall advise the public:

(a) To address mail articles in Latin characters, and to place the address lengthwise, in such a way as to leave the necessary space for the service notations or labels;

(b) To indicate the address in a precise and complete manner, so that the dispatch of the article and its delivery to the addressee may be effected without research;

(c) To place postage stamps or postage-paid impressions in the upper right-hand corner of the address side;

(d) To indicate the name and address of the sender, either on the front (preferably in the upper façon à ne nuire ni à la clarté de l'adresse, ni à l'application des mentions ou étiquettes de service, soit au verso;

e) d'utiliser pour les envois de toute nature des enveloppes dont les dimensions ne soient pas inférieures à 10 cm. en longueur et 7 cm. en largeur;

f) de conditionner solidement leurs envois, particulièrement s'ils sont destinés à des pays éloignés;

g) d'ajouter le mot «Lettre» du côté de l'adresse des lettres qui, en raison de leur volume ou de leur conditionnement, pourraient être prises pour d'autres envois;

h) en ce qui concerne les envois expédiés à la taxe réduite, d'indiquer, par des annotations telles que «Papiers d'affaires», «Imprimés», «Echantillon», «Petit paquet», etc., la catégorie à laquelle ils appartiennent.

2.—Les envois de toute nature, dont le côté réservé à l'adresse a été divisé, en tout ou en partie, en plusieurs cases destinées à recevoir des adresses successives, ne sont pas admis.

Non - postage stamps, etc.

3.—Les timbres non postaux et les vignettes de bienfaisance ou autres susceptibles d'être confondus avec les timbres-poste, ne peuvent être appliqués du côté de la suscription. Il en est de même des empreintes de timbres qui pourraient être confondues avec les empreintes d'affranchissement.

4.—Les correspondances du service postal expédiées en franchise de port doivent porter au recto l'annotation «Service des postes» ou une mention analogue.

left-hand corner, in such a way as not to affect either the clarity of the address or the application of the service notations or labels) on the back;

(e) To use, for articles of all kinds, envelopes whose dimensions are not less than 10 centimeters in length and 7 centimeters in width;

(f) To make up their articles securely, particularly if they are addressed to distant countries;

(g) To add the word Lettre (letter) on the address side of letters which, by reason of their volume or packing, may be mistaken for other articles.

(h) On articles sent at the reduced rate, to indicate, by annotations such as: Papiers d'affaires (commercial papers), Imprimés (prints), Echantillon (sample), Petit paquet (small packet), etc.; the class to which they belong.

2. Articles of any kind whose address side has been wholly or partly divided into several spaces intended to receive successive addresses are not admitted.

3. Non-postage stamps and charity or other stamps capable of being mistaken for postage stamps may not be affixed to the address side. The same applies to imprints of stamps which might be confused with postage-paid impressions.

4. Correspondence of the postal service sent under frank shall bear on the front the note Service des postes (postal service) or a similar notation.

ARTICLE 108.

Envois poste restante.

L'adresse des envois expédiés poste restante doit indiquer le nom du destinataire. L'emploi d'initiales, de chiffres, de simples prénoms, de noms supposés ou de marques conventionnelles quelconques n'est pas admis pour ces envois.

General-delivery articles.

ARTICLE 108

General-delivery articles

The address of articles sent to general delivery shall indicate the name of the addressee. The use of initials, figures, simple given names, fictitious names, or conventional marks of any kind, is not permitted for such articles.

ARTICLE 109.

Envois sous enveloppe à panneau.

1.—Les envois sous enveloppe à panneau transparent sont admis aux conditions suivantes:

a) le panneau doit être disposé parallèlement à la plus grande dimension, de façon que l'adresse du destinataire apparaisse dans le même sens et que l'application du timbre à date ne soit pas entravée;

b) la transparence du panneau doit assurer une parfaite lisibilité de l'adresse, même à la lumière artificielle, et ne pas empêcher l'application d'une écriture; les enveloppes à panneau dont la partie vitrifiée provoque des reflets à la lumière artificielle sont exclues;

c) seuls les nom et adresse du destinataire doivent apparaître à travers le panneau; le contenu de l'enveloppe doit être plié de façon que l'adresse ne puisse se trouver masquée, en tout ou en partie, par suite de glissement;

d) l'adresse doit être indiquée, d'une façon bien lisible, à l'encre ou à la machine à écrire; les envois dont l'adresse est écrite au crayon ou au crayon-encre ne sont pas admis.

2.—Les envois sous enveloppe entièrement transparente ou à panneau ouvert ne sont pas admis.

ARTICLE 110.

Envois soumis au contrôle douanier.

1.—Les envois à soumettre au contrôle douanier doivent être revêtus, au recto, d'une étiquette verte, conforme au modèle C 1 ci-annexé. En ce qui concerne les petits paquets, l'apposition de cette étiquette est obligatoire dans tous les cas.

Si le pays de destination l'exige ou si l'expéditeur le préfère, les envois visés à l'alinéa précédent sont, en outre, accompagnés de déclarations en douane séparées, conformes au modèle C 2 ci-annexé et au nombre prescrit; ces déclarations sont reliées à l'envoi

ARTICLE 109

Articles in panel envelopes

1. Articles in transparent-panel envelopes are admitted under the following conditions:

(a) The panel shall lie parallel to the longest dimension, so that the address of the addressee appears in the same direction and the application of the date stamp is not hindered;

(b) The transparency of the panel shall assure perfect legibility of the address, even by artificial light, and shall not interfere with the application of a written note; panel envelopes whose vitrified part allows reflection of artificial light are excluded;

(c) Only the name and address of the addressee shall appear through the panel; the contents of the envelope shall be folded in such a way that the address can not be wholly or partly covered as a result of slipping;

(d) The address shall be indicated legibly, in pen and ink or in typewriting; articles whose addresses are written in ordinary or indelible pencil are not admitted.

2. Articles in entirely transparent envelopes or open-panel envelopes are not admitted.

Articles in panel envelopes.

Entirely transparent, etc., envelopes.

ARTICLE 110

Articles subject to customs inspection

1. Articles to be submitted to customs inspection shall bear on the front a green label conforming to Model C 1 hereto appended. In regard to small packets, the affixing of that label is obligatory in all cases.

If the country of destination requires it or if the sender prefers, the articles mentioned in the preceding paragraph are also accompanied by the prescribed number of separate customs declarations conforming to Model C 2 hereto appended, attached se-extérieurement et d'une manière solide par un croisé de ficelle ou insérées dans l'envoi même. Dans ce cas, la partie supérieure de l'étiquette C 1 est seule apposée sur l'envoi.

Prints, serums, and vaccines.

En ce qui concerne les imprimés et les envois de sérums et de vaccins, l'absence de l'étiquette C 1 ne peut entraîner le renvoi de ces objets au bureau d'origine.

Responsibility not assumed by Administrations.

2.—Les Administrations n'assument aucune responsabilité du chef des déclarations en douane, sous quelque forme qu'elles soient faites.

curely to the outside of the article by a crossed string or inserted within the article itself. In this case, only the upper part of the label C 1 is affixed to the article.

In regard to prints, and shipments of serums and vaccines, the absence of the label C 1 can not involve the return of those articles to the office of origin.

2. The Administrations do not assume any responsibility for the customs declarations, regardless of the form in which they are made up.

ARTICLE 111.

Envois francs de droits.

Delivery free of charge.

1.—Les envois à remettre aux destinataires francs de tous droits doivent porter sur le recto l'entête très apparent «Franc de droits» ou une mention analogue dans la langue du pays d'origine. Ces envois sont pourvus, du côté de la suscription, d'une étiquette de couleur jaune portant également, en gros caractères, l'indication «Franc de droits».

Prepayment bulletin.

2.—Tout envoi expédié franc de droits est accompagné d'un bulletin d'affranchissement conforme au modèle C 3 ci-annexé, confectionné en carton de couleur jaune et dont le recto est rempli par le bureau expéditeur. Le bulletin d'affranchissement est solidement attaché à l'envoi.

Post, pp. 2192, 2193.

Prepayment of customs duty, etc.

1. Articles to be delivered to the addressees free of all charges shall bear at the top of the address side the conspicuous heading Franc de droits (free of charges) or a similar notation in the language of the country of origin. Such articles shall bear, on the address side, a yellow label also bearing in large letters the notation Franc de droits (free of charges).

2. Every article sent free of charges is accompanied by a prepayment bulletin conforming to Model C 3 hereto appended, made of yellow cardboard, the front of which is filled in by the office of mailing. The prepayment bulletin is securely attached to the article.

CHAPITRE II.

DISPOSITIONS SPÉCIALES APPLICABLES À CHAQUE CATÉGORIE D'ENVOIS.

ARTICLE 112.

Lettres.

Letters.

Aucune condition de forme ou de fermeture n'est exigée pour les lettres, sous réserve de l'observation des prescriptions de l'article 109. La place nécessaire au recto pour l'affranchissement, l'adresse et les mentions ou étiquettes de service doit être laissée entièrement libre.

CHAPTER II

SPECIAL PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO EACH CLASS OF ARTICLES

Letters

No condition of form or sealing is prescribed for letters, provided that the stipulations of Article 109 are observed. The necessary space must be left absolutely free on the front for the prepayment, the address, and the service notes or labels.

ARTICLE 113.

Cartes postales simples.

1.—Les cartes postales doivent être confectionnées en carton ou en papier assez consistant pour ne pas entraver la manipulation.

Sont assimilées aux cartes postales les feuilles de papier repliées dont les deux faces internes ont été collées complètement l'une sur l'autre, de sorte que d'autres objets ne risquent pas de s'y fourvoyer.

Les cartes postales doivent porter, en tête du recto, le titre «Carte postale» en français ou l'équivalent de ce titre dans une autre langue. Ce titre n'est pas obligatoire pour les cartes émanant de l'industrie privée.

2.—Les cartes postales doivent être expédiées à découvert, c'est-à-dire sans bande ni enveloppe.

3.—La moitié droite au moins du recto est réservée à l'adresse du destinataire et aux mentions ou étiquettes de service; les timbres-poste ou empreintes d'affranchissement doivent être appliqués au recto et, autant que possible, sur la partie droite de la carte. L'expéditeur dispose du verso et de la partie gauche du recto, sous réserve des dispositions du § 4 ci-après.

4.—Il est interdit de joindre ou d'attacher aux cartes postales des échantillons de marchandises ou des objets analogues. Toutefois, des vignettes, des photographies, des timbres de toute espèce, des étiquettes et des coupures de toute sorte, en papier ou autre matière très mince, de même que des bandes d'adresse ou des feuilles à replier, peuvent y être collés, à condition que ces objets ne soient pas de nature à altérer le caractère des cartes postales et qu'ils soient complètement adhérents à la carte. Ces objets ne peuvent être collés que sur le verso ou sur la partie gauche du recto des cartes postales, sauf les bandes ou étiquettes d'adresse qui peuvent occuper tout le recto. Quant aux timbres de toute espèce, susceptibles d'être confondus avec les timbres d'affranchissement, ils ne sont admis qu'au verso.

ARTICLE 113

Single post cards

1. Post cards shall be made of cardboard, or of paper strong enough not to hinder manipulation.

Folded sheets of paper whose two inner faces have been glued completely one over the other, so that other articles do not run the risk of slipping inside, are assimilated to post cards.

Post cards shall bear, at the top of the address side, the heading Carte postale (post card) in French or the equivalent of that heading in another language. That heading is not obligatory for cards of private manufacture.

2. Post cards shall be sent uninclosed, i. e., without wrapper or envelope.

3. At least the right half of the front is reserved for the address of the addressee and the service notes or labels; the postage stamps or postage-paid impressions shall be applied to the front, and, as far as possible, to the right half of the card. The sender may use the back and the left half of the front, subject to the provisions of Section 4 following.

4. It is forbidden to join or attach samples of merchandise or similar articles to post cards. However, illustrations, photographs, stamps of any kind, labels and clippings of any kind, of paper or other very thin material, as well as address labels or slips to be folded back, may be affixed thereto, on condition that such articles are not of such a nature as to alter the character of the post cards, and that they adhere completely to the card. These articles may be placed only on the back or on the left half of the address side of the post card, except address labels or slips, which may occupy the entire front. As for stamps of any kind likely to be mistaken for postage stamps, they may be placed only on the back.

Post cards.

Sending of post cards uninclosed.

Reserved, etc., spaces.

Attachment of designated articles.

Treatment if conditions not fulfilled.

5.—Les cartes postales ne remplissant pas les conditions prescrites pour cette catégorie d'envois sont traitées comme lettres, à l'exception, toutefois, de celles dont l'irrégularité résulte seulement de l'application de l'affranchissement au verso. Ces dernières sont considérées comme non affranchies et traitées en conséquence, selon la catégorie à laquelle elles appartiennent d'après leur texte ou leurs dimensions.

5. Post cards not fulfilling the conditions laid down for that class of articles are treated as letters with the exception, however, of those on which the irregularity consists solely of the application of the stamps on the back. The latter are considered as unprepaid and are treated accordingly, depending upon the classification to which they belong, based on the text which they contain or their dimensions.

ARTICLE 114.

Cartes postales avec réponse payée.

Reply - paid post cards.

1.—Les cartes postales avec réponse payée doivent présenter au recto, en langue française, comme titre sur la première partie: «Carte postale avec réponse payée»; sur la seconde partie: «Carte postale-réponse». Les deux parties doivent d'ailleurs remplir, chacune, les autres conditions imposées à la carte postale simple; elles sont repliées l'une sur l'autre de façon que le pli forme le bord supérieur et ne peuvent être fermées d'une manière quelconque.

Addresses, etc.

2.—L'adresse de la carte-réponse doit se trouver à l'intérieur de l'envoi.

Il est loisible à l'expéditeur d'indiquer son nom et son adresse au recto de la partie «Réponse».

L'expéditeur est également autorisé à faire imprimer au verso de la carte-réponse un questionnaire destiné à être rempli par le destinataire.

Prepayment of reply.

3.—L'affranchissement de la partie «Réponse» au moyen de timbres-poste du pays qui a émis la carte n'est valable que si les deux parties de la carte postale avec réponse payée sont parvenues adhérentes du pays d'origine et si la partie «Réponse» est expédiée du pays où elle est parvenue par la poste à destination dudit pays d'origine.

Treatment if conditions not fulfilled.

Si ces conditions ne sont pas remplies, elle est traitée comme carte postale non affranchie.

ARTICLE 114

Post cards with reply paid

1. Post cards with reply paid shall have on the front, in the French language, as the heading of the first part: Carte postale avec réponse payée (post card with reply paid), and Carte postale-réponse (reply post card) on the second part. Each of the two halves shall, moreover, fulfill the other conditions laid down for a single post card; they are folded, one over the other, so that the fold forms the upper edge, and may not be fastened in any manner.

2. The address of the reply card shall be found on the inside of the article.

It is permissible for the sender to indicate his name and address on the front of the reply half.

The sender is also authorized to have printed on the back of the reply card a questionnaire to be filled in by the addressee.

3. The prepayment of the reply half by means of postage stamps of the country which has issued the card is valid only if both halves of the post card with reply card have arrived joined together from the country of origin and if the reply half is sent from the country where it was received by mail and is addressed to the said country of origin.

If those conditions are not fulfilled, it is treated as an unprepaid post card.

ARTICLE 115.

Papiers d'affaires.

1.—Sont considérés comme papiers d'affaires, à condition qu'ils n'aient pas le caractère d'une correspondance actuelle et personnelle, toutes les pièces et tous les documents écrits ou dessinés en tout ou partie, tels que les correspondances—lettres ouvertes et cartes postales—de date ancienne qui ont déjà atteint leur but primitif, et leurs copies, les pièces de procédure, les actes de tout genre dressés par les officiers ministériels, les lettres de voiture ou connaissements, les factures, certains documents des compagnies d'assurance, les copies ou extraits d'actes sous seing privé écrits sur papier timbré ou non timbré, les partitions ou feuilles de musique manuscrites, les manuscrits d'ouvrages ou de journaux expédiés isolément, les devoirs originaux et corrigés d'élèves, à l'exclusion de toute indication ne se rapportant pas directement à l'exécution du travail.

Ces documents peuvent être accompagnés de fiches de rappel ou bordereaux d'envoi portant les mentions suivantes ou des indications analogues: énumération des pièces composant l'envoi, références à une correspondance échangée entre l'expéditeur et le destinataire, telles que:

«Annexe à notre lettre du _____ à M. _____ Notre référence _____
Références du client _____».

Les correspondances de date ancienne peuvent être munies des timbres-poste oblitérés ou des empreintes qui ont servi à leur affranchissement primitif.

2.—Sont également considérés comme papiers d'affaires, même quand ils revêtent le caractère d'une correspondance actuelle et personnelle, tous les envois contenant des objets de correspondance échangés entre élèves d'écoles, à condition que ces envois empruntent l'intermédiaire des directeurs des écoles intéressées.

ARTICLE 115

Commercial papers

1. The following are considered as commercial papers, on condition that they do not have the character of actual personal correspondence: All papers and documents, wholly or partly written or drawn; such as out-of-date articles of correspondence (opened letters and post cards) which have already reached their original destination, and copies thereof; papers of legal procedure; documents of all kinds drawn up by ministerial officers; waybills or bills of lading; invoices; certain documents of insurance companies; copies of or extracts from documents under private seal written on stamped or unstamped paper; scores or sheets of music in manuscript; manuscripts of works or newspapers sent separately; original and corrected exercises of students, but without any notes not relating directly to the execution of the work.

Such documents may be accompanied by reference slips or notes bearing the following or similar notations: Enumeration of the pieces composing the shipment, references to correspondence exchanged between the sender and the addressee, such as:

“Inclosure for our letter of _____ addressed to M. _____ Our reference _____ Customer's reference _____”

Out-of-date correspondence may bear canceled postage stamps or postage-paid impressions which have served to pay the original postage.

2. The following are also considered as commercial papers, even when they have the character of actual and personal correspondence: All articles containing correspondence exchanged between students in schools, provided that such articles are sent through the intermediary of the heads of the schools concerned.

Commercial papers.

Reference slips, notations.

Form and makeup.

3.—Les papiers d'affaires sont soumis, en ce qui concerne la forme et le conditionnement, aux dispositions prescrites à l'article 119 ci-après pour les imprimés.

3. Commercial papers are subject, in regard to form and makeup, to the provisions laid down by Article 119 hereafter for prints.

Post, p. 2120.

ARTICLE 116.

Imprimés.

Articles considered as prints.

1.—Sont considérés comme imprimés, les journaux et ouvrages périodiques, les livres, les brochures, les papiers de musique, les cartes de visite, les cartes-adresse, les épreuves d'imprimerie, les gravures, les photographies et les albums contenant des photographies, les images, les dessins, plans, cartes géographiques, patrons à découper, catalogues, prospectus, annonces et avis divers, imprimés, gravés, lithographiés ou autographiés, et, en général, toutes les impressions ou reproductions obtenues sur papier ou autre matière assimilable au papier, sur parchemin ou sur carton, au moyen de la typographie, de la gravure, de la lithographie et de l'autographie, ou de tout autre procédé mécanique facile à reconnaître, hormis le décalque, les timbres à caractères mobiles ou non et la machine à écrire.

1. The following are considered as prints: Newspapers and periodicals, books, pamphlets, sheet-music, visiting cards, address cards, printing proofs, engravings, photographs and albums containing photographs, pictures, drawings, plans, maps, patterns to be cut out, catalogs, prospectuses, advertisements, and printed, engraved, lithographed or autographed notices of various kinds, and, in general, all impressions or reproductions obtained on paper or other material assimilable to paper, on parchment or on cardboard, by means of printing, engraving, lithography, autography or any other easily recognizable mechanical process, with the exception of the copying press, stamps with movable or immovable type, and the typewriter.

Exclusions.

2.—La taxe des imprimés n'est pas applicable aux imprimés qui portent des signes quelconques susceptibles de constituer un langage conventionnel, ni, sauf les exceptions explicitement autorisées par les articles 117 et 118 ci-après, à ceux dont le texte a été modifié après tirage.

2. The print rate does not apply to prints which bear any marks capable of constituting a conventional language, or, with the exceptions specifically authorized by Articles 117 and 118 hereafter, to those whose text has been modified after printing.

Motion-picture films, etc.

3.—Les films cinématographiques, les disques pour gramophones ainsi que les papiers perforés destinés à être adaptés à des instruments de musique automatiques ne sont pas admis au tarif des imprimés.

3. Motion-picture films, phonograph records, as well as perforated papers intended to be used on automatic musical instruments, are not admitted at the print rate.

Stationery articles.

Il en est de même des articles de papeterie proprement dits, dès l'instant où il apparaît clairement que la partie imprimée n'est pas l'essentiel de l'objet.

The same applies to articles of stationery properly so called, when it appears clearly that the printed text is not the essential part of the article.

Post cards.

4.—Les cartes portant le titre «Carte postale» ou l'équivalent de ce titre dans une langue quelconque sont admises au tarif des imprimés, pourvu qu'elles répon-

Objets assimilés aux imprimés.

Sont assimilées aux imprimés, en tant qu'elles sont déposées dans les conditions prescrites par les règlements intérieurs de l'Administration d'origine les reproductions, par un procédé mécanique de polygraphie, chromographie, etc., d'une copie-type faite à la plume ou à la machine à écrire. Chacune de ces reproductions peut recevoir les annotations autorisées pour les imprimés.

ARTICLE 117

Articles assimilated to prints

The following are assimilated to prints, provided that they are mailed under the conditions prescribed by the domestic regulations of the Administration of origin: Reproductions, by a mechanical process of polygraphy, chromography, etc., of a manuscript or typewritten original. Each such reproduction may receive the annotations authorized for prints.

Articles assimilated to prints.

ARTICLE 118.

Imprimés. Annotations et annexes autorisées.

1.—Il est permis, à l'extérieur et à l'intérieur de tous les envois d'imprimés:

a) d'indiquer les nom, qualité, profession, raison sociale et adresse de l'expéditeur et du destinataire, la date d'expédition, la signature, le numéro d'appel au téléphone, l'adresse et le code télégraphiques, le compte courant postal ou bancaire de l'expéditeur ainsi qu'un numéro d'ordre ou d'immatriculation se rapportant exclusivement à l'envoi;

b) de corriger les fautes d'impression;

c) de biffer, de souligner ou d'encadrer, au moyen de traits, certains mots ou certaines parties du texte imprimé, à moins que ces opérations ne soient faites dans le dessein de constituer une correspondance.

2.—Il est, en outre, permis d'indiquer ou d'ajouter:

a) sur les avis concernant les départs et les arrivées des navires: les dates et heures des départs et arrivées ainsi que les noms des navires et des ports de départ, d'escale et d'arrivée;

ARTICLE 118

Prints. Authorized annotations and inclosures

1. It is permissible, on the outside and inside of all print articles:

(a) To indicate the name, title, profession, firm and address of the sender and the addressee, the date of mailing, the signature, telephone number, telegraphic address and code, and current postal-check or bank account of the sender, as well as an order or entry number relating exclusively to the article;

(b) To correct mistakes in printing;

(c) To strike out, underline or inclose by means of marks certain words or passages in the printed text, unless that is done with the intention of constituting correspondence.

2. It is also permissible to indicate or add:

(a) On notices concerning the departure and arrival of ships:

The dates and hours of such departures and arrivals, as well as the names of the ships and the ports of departure, call and arrival;

Prints; authorized annotations and inclosures.

Prints. Make-up of packets

1. Prints shall be placed either under wrapper, in rolls, between boards, in an open case, or in an unsealed envelope, provided, if need be, with easily removable fasteners offering no danger, or be fastened with a string which is easily untied.

2. Prints in the shape and consistency of a card may be sent open, without wrapper, envelope or fastening. The same mode of dispatch is allowed for prints folded in such a way that they can not become unfolded en route.

3. At least the right half of the front of prints sent in the form of cards, including illustrated post cards benefiting by the reduced rate, is reserved for the address of the addressee and the service notations or labels. The postage stamps or postage-paid impressions shall be applied to the front and, as far as possible, to the right half of the card.

4. In all cases, the articles shall be made up in such a way that other articles do not run the risk of becoming lost within them.

ARTICLE 120

Articles assimilated to raised print for the blind

Plates bearing characters for the use of the blind are assimilated to raised prints for the blind.

The same applies to sound recordings intended only for the use of the blind, provided that they are sent by an officially recognized institution for the blind or addressed to such an institution.

(c) Fatty substances which do not easily liquefy, such as ointments, soft soap, resin, etc., as well as silkworm eggs, the transmission of which presents fewer difficulties, shall be inclosed in an inside cover (box, bag of linen or parchment, etc.), which shall itself be placed in a second box of wood, metal or stout, thick leather;

(d) Dry powdered dyes such as aniline blue, etc., are not admitted unless inclosed in stout tin boxes, placed in turn inside wooden boxes, with sawdust between the two packings. Dry non-coloring powders shall be placed in boxes of metal, wood or pasteboard; those boxes themselves shall be inclosed in a bag of linen or parchment;

(e) Live bees, leeches and parasites shall be inclosed in boxes so constructed as to avoid all danger.

3. Articles which would deteriorate if packed in accordance with the general rules may, as an exception, be admitted in a hermetically sealed container. The same applies to samples of industrial or vegetable products mailed under seal by the manufacturer or sealed by the inspection authorities of the country of origin. In such cases, the Administrations concerned may require the sender or the addressee to facilitate inspection of the contents, either by opening certain articles indicated by them, or in some other satisfactory manner.

4. No packing is required for articles consisting of a single pièce, tels que pièces de bois, pièces métalliques, etc., qu'il n'est pas dans les usages du commerce d'emballer.

5.—L'adresse du destinataire doit être indiquée, autant que possible, sur l'emballage ou sur l'objet lui-même. Si l'emballage ou l'objet ne se prête pas à l'inscription de l'adresse et des indications de service ou à l'application des timbres-poste, il doit être fait usage d'une étiquette volante, de préférence en parchemin, attachée solidement. Il en est de même lorsque le timbrage est susceptible de provoquer la détérioration de l'envoi.

ARTICLE 123.

Objets assimilés aux échantillons.

Sont admis au tarif des échantillons: les clichés d'imprimerie, les patrons découpés isolés, les clefs isolées, les fleurs fraîches coupées, les objets d'histoire naturelle (animaux et plantes séchés ou conservés, spécimens géologiques, etc.), tubes de sérum ou de vaccin et objets pathologiques rendus inoffensifs par leur mode de préparation et d'emballage. Ces objets, à l'exception des tubes de sérum et de vaccin expédiés dans un intérêt général par les laboratoires ou institutions officiellement reconnus, ne peuvent être envoyés dans un but commercial. Leur emballage doit être conforme aux prescriptions générales concernant les échantillons de marchandises.

ARTICLE 123

Articles assimilated to samples

The following are admitted at the sample rate: Electrotypes, cut out patterns sent singly, keys sent singly, fresh cut flowers, articles of natural history (dried or preserved animals and plants, geological specimens, etc.), tubes of serum or vaccine and pathological objects rendered inoffensive by their mode of preparation and packing. Those articles, with the exception of tubes of serum and vaccine sent in the general interest by laboratories or institutions officially recognized, may not be sent for commercial purposes. Their packing shall be in accordance with the general regulations concerning samples of merchandise.

Articles assimilated to samples.

ARTICLE 124.

Objets groupés.

1.—La réunion dans un seul envoi d'objets de correspondance de catégories différentes est limitée aux papiers d'affaires, aux imprimés, à l'exception des impressions en relief à l'usage des aveugles, et aux échantillons de marchandises sous réserve:

a) que chaque objet pris isolément ne dépasse pas les limites qui lui sont applicables quant au poids et aux dimensions;

ARTICLE 124

Grouped articles

1. The inclusion in a single packet of articles of correspondence of different classes is limited to commercial papers, to prints other than raised print for the blind, and to samples of merchandise, on condition:

(a) That each article taken singly does not exceed the limits which are applicable to it in regard to weight and dimensions;

Grouped articles.

Conditions.

b) que le poids total ne dépasse pas 2 kilogrammes par envoi;

c) que la taxe payée soit au moins la taxe minimum des papiers d'affaires si l'envoi contient des papiers d'affaires, et la taxe minimum des échantillons s'il se compose d'imprimés et d'échantillons.

2.—Ces dispositions ne sont applicables qu'aux objets soumis à la même taxe unitaire. Lorsqu'une Administration constate la réunion dans un même envoi d'objets passibles de taxes différentes, cet envoi est frappé pour son poids total de la taxe afférente à la catégorie dont le tarif est le plus élevé.

(b) That the total weight does not exceed 2 kilograms per packet;

(c) That the postage paid is at least the minimum charge for commercial papers if the packet contains commercial papers, and the minimum charge for samples if it is composed of prints and samples.

2. These provisions are applicable only to articles subject to the same rate per unit. When an Administration detects the inclusion in one and the same packet of articles liable to different rates, that packet is charged, for its total weight, with the rate applicable to the class for which the rate is highest.

Articles of different classes.

3.—Les nom et adresse des expéditeurs doivent figurer à l'extérieur des envois.

ARTICLE 125

Small packets

1. Small packets are subject to the provisions laid down for samples of merchandise in regard to preparation and packing.

2. It is permissible to inclose therein an open invoice, reduced to its essential elements, as well as a simple copy of the address of the article with mention of the address of the sender.

3. The names and addresses of the senders shall appear on the outside of the packets.

ARTICLE 126.

Envois "Phonopost".

Phonopost articles.

1.—Les envois "Phonopost" contenant des disques phonographiques doivent être protégés par une enveloppe solide non fermée.

2.—L'expéditeur doit mentionner en caractères très apparents, sur le recto de l'enveloppe, outre les indications ordinaires, le mot "Phonopost". Il est loisible d'imprimer au recto, en une ou plusieurs langues, une notice relative à la manière de reproduction sonore de l'enregistrement du disque.

3.—Il est permis d'insérer dans l'envoi, convenablement protégées, des aiguilles devant servir à obtenir la reproduction de l'enregistrement.

ARTICLE 126

"Phonopost" articles

1. Phonopost articles containing phonograph records shall be inclosed in strong unsealed envelopes.

2. The sender shall mention in conspicuous characters on the front of the envelope, in addition to the ordinary annotations, the word Phonopost. It is permissible to print on the front, in one or more languages, an explanatory notice concerning the manner of reproducing the record.

3. It is permitted to inclose, adequately protected, the necessary needles for the reproduction of the record.

Envois recommandés.

Registered articles

1.—Les envois recommandés doivent porter au recto l'en-tête très apparent "Recommandé" ou une mention analogue dans la langue du pays d'origine.

1. Registered articles shall bear on the address side the conspicuous notation Recommandé (registered), or a similar notation in the language of the country of origin.

Marking, etc.

Sauf les exceptions ci-après, aucune condition spéciale de forme, de fermeture ou de libellé de l'adresse n'est exigée pour ces envois.

With the exceptions below, no special conditions as to form, sealing or wording of the address are laid down for such articles.

2.—Les objets de correspondance qui portent une adresse écrite au crayon ou constituée par des initiales ne sont pas admis à la recommandation.

2. Articles of correspondence which bear an address written in pencil or consisting of initials are not accepted for registration.

Toutefois, l'adresse des envois autres que ceux qui sont expédiés sous enveloppe à panneau transparent peut être écrite au crayon-encre.

However, the address of articles other than those which are sent in transparent-panel envelopes may be written with indelible pencil.

3.—Les envois recommandés doivent être revêtus, à l'angle gauche de la suscription, d'une étiquette conforme au modèle C 4 ci-annexé, avec l'indication en caractères latins de la lettre «R», du nom du bureau d'origine et du numéro d'ordre de l'envoi.

3. Registered articles shall bear, on the left-hand corner of the address side, a label conforming to Model C 4 hereto appended, with indication in Latin characters of the letter R, the name of the office of origin and the order number of the article.

Registry requirements.

Post, p. 2104.

Toutefois, il est permis aux Administrations dont le régime intérieur s'oppose actuellement à l'emploi des étiquettes d'ajourner la mise à exécution de cette mesure et d'employer pour la désignation des envois recommandés des timbres «Recommandé» ou «R», à côté desquels doivent figurer l'indication du bureau d'origine et celle du numéro d'ordre. Ces timbres doivent être apposés également à l'angle gauche de la suscription.

However, it is permissible for Administrations whose domestic legislation at present opposes the use of labels to defer the adoption of this measure and to use, for the designation of registered articles, stamps reading Recommandé (registered) or R, beside which shall appear the indication of the office of origin and that of the order number. Those stamps shall likewise be applied in the left-hand corner of the address side.

4.—Aucun numéro d'ordre ne doit être porté au recto des objets recommandés par les Administrations intermédiaires.

4. No order number shall be placed on the front of registered articles by the intermediate Administrations.

ARTICLE 128.

Avis de réception.

Marking of return receipts.

1.—Les envois dont l'expéditeur demande un avis de réception doivent porter, au recto, l'annotation très apparente «Avis de réception» ou l'empreinte d'un timbre «A. R.». L'expéditeur doit indiquer à l'extérieur de l'envoi son nom et son adresse en caractères latins.

Prescribed form.

2.—Ils sont accompagnés d'une formule de la consistance d'une carte postale, de couleur rouge clair, conforme au modèle C 5 ci-annexé; cette formule est établie par le bureau d'origine ou par tout autre bureau à désigner par l'Administration expéditrice et réunie à l'objet extérieurement et d'une manière solide. Si elle ne parvient pas au bureau de destination, celui-ci dresse d'office un nouvel avis de réception.

Il n'est pas tenu compte du poids de la formule de l'avis de réception pour le calcul de la taxe d'affranchissement.

Return to sender.

Post, pp. 2195, 2196.

3.—Le bureau de destination renvoie la formule C 5, dûment remplie, dans le courrier ordinaire, à découvert et en franchise de port, à l'adresse de l'expéditeur de l'objet.

Failure to return to sender.

4.—Lorsque l'expéditeur réclame un avis de réception qui ne lui est pas parvenu dans les délais voulus, il est procédé conformément aux règles tracées à l'article 129 ci-après. Dans ce cas, il n'est pas perçu une deuxième taxe et le bureau d'origine inscrit en tête de la formule C 5 la mention «Duplicata de l'avis de réception, etc.».

ARTICLE 128

Return receipts

1. Articles for which the sender requests a return receipt shall bear, on the front, the conspicuous notation: Avis de réception (return receipt); or the imprint of a stamp: A. R. The sender shall mention his name and address on the outside of the article, in Latin characters.

2. They are accompanied by a form of the consistency of a post card, light red in color, conforming to Model C 5 hereto appended; that form is made up by the office of origin or any other office to be designated by the Administration of origin, and fastened securely to the outside of the article. If it does not reach the office of destination, the latter officially makes up a new return receipt.

The weight of the return-receipt form is not considered in calculating the postage.

3. The office of destination returns the Form C 5, duly completed, in the ordinary mail, without cover and free of postage, to the address of the sender of the article.

4. When the sender makes inquiry about a return receipt which has not reached him within a reasonable period, the procedure set forth in Article 129 hereafter is followed. In such a case, a second fee is not collected, and the office of origin enters at the head of the Form C 5 the note: Duplicata de l'avis de réception etc. (duplicate return receipt requested, etc.).

Return receipts requested after mailing

1. When the sender requests a return receipt after mailing the article, the office of origin fills out a Form C 5.

La formule C 5 est attachée à une réclamation C 13 mentionnée à l'article 153 ci-après; cette réclamation, après avoir été revêtue d'un timbre-poste représentant la taxe due, est traitée selon les prescriptions dudit article 153, sauf que, en cas de distribution régulière de l'envoi, le bureau de destination retire la formule C 13 et renvoie la formule C 5 à l'origine de la manière prescrite à l'article 128, § 3.

The Form C 5 is attached to a tracer, Form C 13, mentioned in Article 153 hereafter; that tracer, after having been provided with a postage stamp representing the fee payable, is treated in accordance with the provisions of the said Article 153, except that, in case of regular delivery of the article, the office of destination removes the Form C 13 and returns the Form C 5 to origin in the manner prescribed by Article 128, Section 3.

Post, pp. 2195, 2196, 2206, 2207, 2143.

2.—Les dispositions particulières adoptées par les Administrations en vertu de l'article 153 ci-après, pour la transmission des réclamations d'envois recommandés, sont applicables aux demandes d'avis de réception formulées postérieurement au dépôt.

Label

C. O. D. articles shall bear, on the front, an orange-colored label conforming to Model C 6 hereto appended. The label, Form C 4, prescribed by Article 127, Section 3, or the imprint of the special stamp taking its place, shall be applied as far as possible in the upper corner of the label, Form C 6.

However, it is permissible for Administrations to make use, instead of the two labels mentioned in the preceding paragraph, of a single label conforming to Model C 7 hereto appended, bearing in Latin characters the name of the office of origin, the letter R, the order number of the article, and an orange-colored triangle on which appears the word Remboursement (C. O. D.).

ARTICLE 132.

Mandat de remboursement.

C. O. D. money order.

Post, pp. 2197, 2198.

Sauf le cas prévu à l'article 133 ci-après, tout envoi contre remboursement est accompagné d'une formule de mandat de remboursement en carton résistant, de couleur vert clair, conforme au modèle C 8 ci-annexé. Cette formule doit porter l'indication du montant du remboursement dans la monnaie du pays d'origine et en règle générale, indiquer l'expéditeur de l'envoi comme bénéficiaire du mandat. Lorsque le règlement de l'Administration d'origine le permet, l'expéditeur a la faculté de mentionner sur ce titre, au lieu et place de son adresse, le titulaire et le numéro d'un compte courant postal tenu dans le pays d'origine ainsi que le bureau qui tient ce compte. Chaque Administration est libre de faire adresser aux bureaux d'origine des envois ou à d'autres de ses bureaux les mandats afférents aux envois originaires de son service.

Le mandat est réuni d'une manière solide à l'objet auquel il se rapporte.

ARTICLE 132

C. O. D. money order

Except in the case contemplated by Article 133 following, every C. O. D. article is accompanied by a form of C. O. D. money order of strong cardboard, of light green color, conforming to Model C 8 hereto appended. That form shall indicate the amount of the C. O. D. charge in the currency of the country of origin, and, as a general rule, indicate the sender of the article as the payee of the money order. When the regulations of the Administration of origin permit, the sender has the option of mentioning on that order, instead of his address, the holder and number of a current postal-check account held in the country of origin, as well as the office where that account is kept. Any Administration is at liberty to cause money orders relating to articles originating in its service to be addressed to the offices of origin of the articles, or to others of its offices.

The money order is securely attached to the article to which it relates.

ARTICLE 133.

Versement en compte courant postal dans le pays de destination de l'envoi.

Tout envoi dont le montant encaissé doit être versé en compte courant postal dans le pays de destination est accompagné, sauf arrangement contraire, d'un bulletin de versement conforme à la formule prescrite dans le service intérieur de ce pays. Le bulletin doit désigner le titulaire du compte à créditer et contenir toutes les autres indications que comporte le texte de la formule, à l'exception du montant à créditer qui sera inscrit par l'Administration de destination après encaissement du montant du remboursement. Si le bulletin de versement est pourvu d'un coupon, l'expéditeur y mentionne son nom et son adresse ainsi que les autres indications qu'il juge nécessaires.

Le bulletin de versement est réuni solidement à l'objet.

ARTICLE 134.

Conversion du montant du remboursement.

Sauf entente contraire, le montant du remboursement exprimé dans la monnaie du pays d'origine de l'envoi est converti en monnaie du pays destinataire par les soins de l'Administration de ce pays, qui se sert du taux de conversion dont elle fait usage pour les mandats de poste à destination du pays d'origine des envois.

ARTICLE 135.

Divergence entre les indications du montant du remboursement.

En cas de divergence entre les indications du montant du remboursement figurant sur l'envoi et sur le mandat, la somme la plus élevée doit être encaissée sur le destinataire.

ARTICLE 133

Transfer to a current postal-check account in the country of destination of the article

Every article whose amount, when collected, is to be turned over to a current postal-check account in the country of destination is accompanied, barring contrary agreement, by a transfer bulletin conforming to the model prescribed in the domestic service of that country. The bulletin shall designate the holder of the account to be credited, and shall contain all other information called for by the text of the form, with the exception of the amount to be credited, which will be entered by the Administration of destination after collecting the amount of the C. O. D. charge. If the transfer bulletin has a coupon, the sender mentions thereon his name and address, as well as such other information as he deems necessary.

The transfer bulletin is attached securely to the article.

ARTICLE 134

Conversion of the amount collected

Barring contrary agreement, the amount of the trade charge, expressed in money of the country of origin of the article, is converted into money of the country of destination by the Administration of that country, which makes use of the conversion rate which it employs for money orders destined for the country of origin of the articles.

Conversion of collections.

ARTICLE 135

Difference between indications of the amount of the C. O. D. charge

In case of difference between the indications of the amount of the charge to be collected on delivery shown on the article and on the money order, the higher sum shall be collected from the addressee.

Settlement of delivery charges.

Refusal to pay.

Si celui-ci refuse de verser cette somme, l'envoi peut être livré, sauf l'exception prévue ci-après, contre paiement de la somme inférieure, mais sous réserve qu'un paiement complémentaire sera effectué, s'il y a lieu, dès réception des renseignements qui seront fournis par l'Administration expéditrice. Si le destinataire n'accepte pas cette condition, il est sursis à la livraison de l'envoi.

Dans tous les cas, une demande de renseignements est transmise immédiatement à l'Administration expéditrice qui doit y répondre, dans le plus court délai possible, en précisant le montant exact du remboursement et en appliquant, le cas échéant, les prescriptions de l'article 137, § 2, ci-après.

Lorsque le destinataire est de passage ou doit s'absenter, le paiement de la somme la plus élevée est toujours exigé. En cas de refus, l'envoi n'est livré qu'à la réception de la réponse à la demande de renseignements.

If the latter refuses to pay that sum, the article may be delivered, except as provided below, upon payment of the lower sum, but with the understanding that an additional payment is to be made, if necessary, upon receipt of the information to be furnished by the Administration of origin. If the addressee does not accept that condition, delivery of the article is postponed.

In all cases, a request for information is sent immediately to the Administration of origin, which shall reply thereto as soon as possible, stating the precise amount to be collected, and applying, if occasion arises, the provisions of Article 137, Section 2, hereafter.

When the addressee is traveling or must be away, payment of the higher sum is always required. In case of refusal, the article is not delivered until reply is received to the request for information.

ARTICLE 136.

Délai de paiement.

Period for payment.

Le montant du remboursement doit être payé dans un délai de sept jours à compter du lendemain de l'arrivée de l'envoi au bureau destinataire. Ce délai peut être porté à un mois au maximum lorsque la législation interne du pays de destination l'exige. A l'expiration du délai de garde, l'objet est renvoyé au bureau d'origine. L'expéditeur peut toutefois demander, par une annotation, le retour immédiat de l'objet au cas où le destinataire ne payerait pas le montant du remboursement lors de la première présentation. Le renvoi immédiat a également lieu si le destinataire, lors de la présentation, a formellement refusé tout paiement.

Return to sender.

ARTICLE 136

Period for payment

The amount to be collected shall be paid within a period of seven days, counting from the day following the arrival of the article at the office of destination. That period may be extended to one month at most when the domestic legislation of the country of destination so requires. At the expiration of the period of retention, the article is returned to the office of origin. The sender may, however, by an annotation, request the immediate return of the article in case that the addressee does not pay the amount of the C. O. D. charge when the article is first tendered for delivery. Immediate return is also effected if the addressee, on presentation, has formally refused to make any payment.

S'il s'agit d'une demande télégraphique, celle-ci doit être confirmée, par le premier courrier, par une demande postale accompagnée du facsimilé dont il est question à l'article 150, § 1, ci-après, et portant en tête l'annotation soulignée au crayon de couleur «Confirmation de la demande télégraphique du . . .».

Dans ce cas, le bureau destinataire se borne à retenir l'envoi, à la réception du télégramme, et attend la confirmation postale pour faire droit à la demande.

Toutefois, l'Administration destinataire peut, sous sa propre responsabilité, donner suite à une demande télégraphique sans attendre cette confirmation.

2.—Excepté le cas prévu à l'article 133, toute demande par voie postale de modification du montant du remboursement doit être accompagnée d'une nouvelle formule de mandat de remboursement indiquant le montant rectifié.

Lorsqu'il s'agit d'une demande par voie télégraphique, le mandat de remboursement doit être remplacé par le bureau destinataire dans les conditions déterminées par l'article 140 ci-après.

Réexpédition.

Les envois recommandés grevés de remboursement peuvent être réexpédiés si le pays de la nouvelle destination assure, avec celui d'origine, le service des envois de cette catégorie. Dans ce cas, les envois sont accompagnés des formules de mandats de remboursement établies par le service d'origine. L'Administration de la nouvelle destination procède à la liquidation des remboursements comme si les envois lui avaient été expédiés directement.

In case of a telegraphic request, it shall be confirmed, by the first mail, by a postal request accompanied by the facsimile mentioned in Article 150, Section 1, hereafter, bearing at the head the notation, underlined in colored pencil: Confirmation de la demande télégraphique du . . . . ." (confirmation of the telegraphic request of . . . . .).

In that case, the office of destination merely holds the article on receipt of the telegram, and waits for confirmation by mail before complying with the request.

However, the Administration of destination may, on its own responsibility, comply with a telegraphic request without awaiting such confirmation.

2. Except in the case contemplated by Article 133, every request by mail for modification of the amount to be collected on delivery shall be accompanied by a new C. O. D. money-order form indicating the correct amount.

In case of a request by telegraph, the C. O. D. money order shall be replaced by the office of destination under the conditions fixed by Article 140 hereafter.

Forwarding

Registered C. O. D. articles may be forwarded if the country of new destination carries on the C. O. D. service with the country of origin. In such a case, the articles are accompanied by C. O. D. money-order forms made out by the service of origin. The Administration of new destination proceeds to settle for the C. O. D. charges as if the article had been sent to it direct.

Articles on which the amount collected is to be turned over to a current postal-check account in the original country of destination may not be forwarded.

Il en est de même des mandats de remboursement qui ont été remis aux ayants droit, mais dont le montant n'a pas été encaissé. Toutefois, ces titres doivent, au préalable, être remplacés par des autorisations de paiement dressées par l'Administration d'origine des mandats.

Application du timbre à date.

Application of the date stamp

Application of date stamp.

1.—Les correspondances sont frappées au recto par le bureau d'origine d'un timbre indiquant, autant que possible en caractères latins, le lieu d'origine et la date du dépôt à la poste.

1. Correspondence is post-marked on the front by the office of origin with a stamp indicating, in Latin characters as far as possible, the place of origin and the date of mailing.

Dans les localités pourvues de plusieurs bureaux de poste, le timbre doit indiquer quel est le bureau de dépôt.

In localities having several post offices, the stamp shall indicate which is the office of mailing.

Application not obligatory in designated cases.

L'application du timbre prévu aux alinéas précédents n'est pas obligatoire pour les correspondances affranchies au moyen d'empreintes de machines à affranchir si l'indication du lieu d'origine et de la date du dépôt à la poste figure dans ces empreintes. L'application du timbre dont il s'agit n'est pas non plus exigée pour les objets à tarif réduit non recommandés, à condition que le lieu d'origine soit indiqué sur ces envois.

The application of the stamp contemplated in the preceding paragraphs is not obligatory for correspondence prepaid by means of impressions of stamping machines if the indication of the place of origin and date of mailing appears in such impressions. Neither is the application of the stamp in question required for unregistered articles at the reduced rate, on condition that the place of origin is indicated on such articles.

Cancellation.

2.—Tous les timbres-poste valables doivent être oblitérés.

2. All valid postage stamps shall be canceled.

Les timbres-poste non oblitérés par suite d'erreur ou d'omission dans le service d'origine doivent être biffés d'un fort trait ou annulés d'une autre manière par le bureau qui constate l'irrégularité, mais ils ne sont pas frappés du timbre à date.

However, each Administration has the right to cause the return of prepayment bulletins bearing charges to be effected by offices specially designated, and to request that the bulletins be sent to a certain office.

The name of the office to which the bulletins are to be returned is indicated, in all cases, by the office of origin of the article on the front of the prepayment bulletin.

Return of prepayment bulletins.

2.—Lorsqu'un envoi qui porte l'indication «Franc de droits» parvient au service destinataire sans bulletin d'affranchissement, le bureau chargé du dédouanement établit un duplicata du bulletin sur lequel il mentionne le nom du pays d'origine et, autant que possible, la date du dépôt de l'envoi.

Lorsque le bulletin d'affranchissement est perdu après livraison de l'envoi, un duplicata est établi dans les mêmes conditions.

3.—Les bulletins d'affranchissement afférents aux envois qui, pour un motif quelconque, sont renvoyés à l'origine doivent être annulés par les soins de l'Administration destinataire.

4.—A la réception d'un bulletin d'affranchissement indiquant les frais déboursés par le service destinataire, l'Administration d'origine convertit le montant de ces frais dans sa propre monnaie à un taux qui ne doit pas être supérieur au taux fixé pour l'émission des mandats de poste à destination du pays correspondant. When the prepayment bulletin is lost after the delivery of the article, a duplicate is prepared under the same conditions.

3. Prepayment bulletins belonging to articles which are returned to origin for any reason shall be canceled by the Administration of destination.

4. On receipt of a prepayment bulletin indicating the charges paid by the service of destination, the Administration of origin converts the amount of those charges into its own money at a rate which shall not be higher than the rate fixed for the issuance of money orders destined for the corresponding country. The result of the conversion is indicated in the body of the form and on the coupon at the side. Incorrectly addressed articles.

7.—Les correspondances ordinaires ou recommandées qui sont renvoyées aux expéditeurs pour qu'ils en complètent ou en rectifient l'adresse, ne sont pas considérées, lors de leur remise dans le service, comme des correspondances réexpédiées; elles sont traitées comme de nouveaux envois et deviennent, par suite, passibles d'une nouvelle taxe.

Customs duties, etc. Recovery.

8.—Les droits de douane et les autres droits non postaux dont l'annulation n'a pu être obtenue à la réexpédition ou au renvoi à l'origine (article 149 ci-après) sont recouvrés, par voie de remboursement, sur l'Administration de la nouvelle destination. Dans ce cas, l'Administration de la destination primitive joint à l'envoi une note explicative et un mandat de remboursement (modèle C 8).

and on which the additional charge for their subsequent transmission has not been paid before their redirection are marked with a charge equal to the difference between the amount of postage already paid and that which would have been collected if the articles had originally been sent to their new destination.

4. Articles originally addressed to the interior of a country and duly prepaid in accordance with the domestic rates are considered as articles regularly prepaid for their first transmission.

5. Articles originally sent free of postage in the domestic service of a country are marked with the charge to which they would have been liable if they had been addressed directly from the point of origin to the place of new destination.

6. At the time of forwarding, the redispaching office applies its date stamp on the front in the case of articles in the form of cards, and on the back for all other classes of mail.

7. Ordinary or registered articles which are returned to the senders for completion or correction of the address are not considered as redirected correspondence when returned to the service; they are treated as new correspondence, and are therefore liable to new postage charges.

8. The customs duties and other non-postal charges whose cancelation it has been impossible to obtain upon redirection or return to origin (Article 149 hereafter) are recovered, through the C. O. D. service, from the Administration of new destination. In that case, the Administration of original destination attaches to the article an explanatory note and a C. O. D. money order (Form C 8).

If the C. O. D. service is not in operation between the Administrations concerned, the charges in question are recovered through correspondence.

9.—Dans le cas où l'essai de remise d'un objet exprès à domicile par un porteur spécial est resté infructueux, le bureau réexpéditeur doit biffer l'étiquette ou la mention «Exprès» par deux forts traits transversaux.

9. In case that the attempt to deliver an article at the addressee's residence by special messenger has been unsuccessful, the redispaching office shall strike out the label or the notation Exprès (special delivery) by means of two heavy transverse lines.

Indication of cause of nondelivery.

1.—Avant de renvoyer à l'Administration d'origine les correspondances non distribuées pour un motif quelconque, le bureau de destination doit indiquer d'une manière claire et concise, en langue française, au verso de ces objets, la cause de la non-remise sous la forme suivante: inconnu, refusé, en voyage, parti, non réclamé, décédé, etc. En ce qui concerne les cartes postales et les imprimés sous forme de cartes, la cause de la non-remise est indiquée sur la moitié droite du recto.

Cette indication est fournie par l'application d'un timbre ou l'apposition d'une étiquette. Chaque Administration a la faculté d'ajouter la traduction, dans sa propre langue, de la cause de la non-remise et les autres indications qui lui conviennent.

Le bureau de destination doit biffer les indications de lieu qui le concernent et porter au recto de l'objet la mention «Retour» à côté de l'indication du bureau d'origine. Il doit, en outre, appliquer son timbre à date au verso des lettres et au recto des cartes postales.

Undeliverable articles

1. Before returning correspondence which has not been delivered for any reason to the Administration of origin, the office of destination shall indicate in a clear and concise manner, in the French language, on the back of such articles, the cause of the non-delivery, in the following form: Inconnu (unknown), Refusé (refused), En voyage (traveling), Parti (removed), Non réclamé (unclaimed), Décédé (deceased), etc. In the case of post cards and prints in the form of cards, the reason for the non-delivery is indicated on the right half of the front.

That indication is furnished by applying a stamp or affixing a label. Each Administration has the option of adding a translation in its own language of the cause of non-delivery, and any other indications which may be convenient for it.

The office of destination shall strike out the indications of place which concern it, and place on the front of the article the note Retour (return), beside the indication of the office of origin. It shall also apply its date stamp to the back of letters and the front of post cards.

2. Undelivered articles are returned either singly or in a special bundle labeled Rebuts (undeliverable mail matter).

Le montant des taxes perçues sur ces correspondances doit être restitué.

ARTICLE 150.

Retrait. Modification d'adresse.

1.—Les demandes de retrait de correspondances ou de modification d'adresse donnent lieu à l'établissement, par l'expéditeur, d'une formule conforme au modèle C 11 ci-annexé; une seule formule peut être utilisée pour plusieurs envois remis simultanément au même bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire. En remettant cette demande au bureau de poste, l'expéditeur doit justifier de son identité et produire, s'il y a lieu, le bulletin de dépôt. Après la justification, dont l'Administration du pays d'origine assume la responsabilité, il est procédé de la manière suivante:

a) si la demande est destinée à être transmise par voie postale, la formule, accompagnée d'un fac-similé parfait de l'enveloppe ou de la suscription de l'envoi, est expédiée directement, sous pli recommandé, au bureau destinataire;

b) si la demande doit être faite par voie télégraphique, la formule est déposée au service télégraphique chargé d'en transmettre les termes au bureau de poste destinataire. Le télégramme est rédigé en langue française.

2.—A la réception de la formule C 11 ou du télégramme en tenant lieu, le bureau destinataire recherche la correspondance signalée et donne à la demande la suite nécessaire.

Withdrawal. Change of address

1. Requests for withdrawal of correspondence or for change of address give rise to the preparation, by the sender, of a form agreeing with Model C 11 hereto appended; a single form may be used for several articles mailed simultaneously at the same office by the same sender addressed to the same addressee. In submitting that request to the post office, the sender shall prove his identity and produce the certificate of mailing, if any. After he has proved his identity, for which the Administration of the country of origin assumes responsibility, the procedure is as follows:

(a) If the request is intended to be sent by mail, the form, accompanied by a perfect facsimile of the envelope or address of the article, is sent directly, under registered cover, to the office of destination;

(b) If the request is to be made by telegraph, the form is turned over to the telegraph service, which is charged with transmitting the terms thereof to the post office of destination. The telegram is worded in the French language.

2. On receipt of the Form C 11 or the telegram taking its place, the office of destination searches for the correspondence in question and takes the necessary action.

Exchange of requests.

3.—Toute Administration peut demander, par une notification adressée au Bureau international, que l'échange des demandes, en ce qui la concerne, soit effectué par l'entremise de son Administration centrale ou d'un bureau spécialement désigné.

Dans les cas où l'échange des demandes s'effectue par l'entremise des Administrations centrales, il doit être tenu compte des demandes expédiées directement par les bureaux d'origine aux bureaux de destination, dans ce sens que les correspondances y relatives sont exclues de la distribution jusqu'à l'arrivée de la demande de l'Administration centrale.

3. Any Administration may request, by a notification addressed to the International Bureau, that the exchange of requests concerning it be effected through the intermediary of its central Administration or an office specially designated.

In case that the exchange of requests is effected through the intermediary of the central Administrations, account shall be taken of requests sent directly by the offices of origin to the offices of destination, to the extent that the correspondence in question is withheld from delivery pending the arrival of the request from the central Administration.

Administrations which avail themselves of the option provided for by the first paragraph assume any expense which may be incurred by the transmission, in their domestic service, by mail or telegraph, of the communications to be exchanged with the office of destination.

Employment of the telegraph service is obligatory when the sender himself has made use of that service, and when the office of destination can not be advised in time by mail.

ARTICLE 151

Simple correction of address

A simple correction of address (without modification of the name or description of the addressee) may be requested directly by the sender of the office of destination; that is to say, without fulfilling the formalities prescribed for change of address properly so called.

ARTICLE 152

Inquiries. Ordinary articles

1. Every inquiry relative to an ordinary article gives rise to the preparation of a form agreeing with Model C 12 hereto appended.

Le bureau qui reçoit la réclamation transmet directement cette formule, sans lettre d'envoi et sous enveloppe fermée, au bureau correspondant. Celui-ci, après avoir recueilli les renseignements nécessaires auprès du destinataire ou de l'expéditeur, selon le cas, renvoie la formule de la même manière au bureau qui l'a dressée.

Si la réclamation est reconnue fondée, ce dernier bureau fait parvenir la formule à son Administration centrale en vue des investigations ultérieures.

Une seule formule peut être utilisée pour plusieurs envois remis simultanément au même bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire.

2.—Toute Administration peut demander, par une notification adressée au Bureau international, que les réclamations qui concernent son service soient transmises à son Administration centrale ou à un bureau spécialement désigné.

3.—La formule C 12 doit être renvoyée à l'Administration d'origine de l'envoi réclamé selon les conditions prévues à l'article 153, § 5, ci-après.

ARTICLE 153.

1.—Toute réclamation relative à un envoi recommandé est établie sur une formule conforme au modèle C 13 ci-annexé qui doit être accompagnée, autant que possible, d'un fac-similé de l'enveloppe ou de la suscription de l'envoi.

Si la réclamation concerne un envoi contre remboursement, elle doit être accompagnée, en outre, d'un duplicata de mandat C 8 ou d'un bulletin de versement, selon le cas.

Une seule formule peut être utilisée pour plusieurs envois remis simultanément au même bureau par le même expéditeur à l'adresse du même destinataire.

The office which receives the inquiry sends that form directly, without letter of transmittal, in a sealed envelope, to the corresponding office. The latter, after having obtained the necessary information from the addressee or from the sender, as the case may be, returns the form in the same manner to the office which has prepared it.

If the inquiry is seen to be well founded, the latter office sends the form to its central Administration, for purposes of further investigation.

A single form may be used for several articles mailed simultaneously at the same office by the same sender addressed to the same addressee.

2. Any Administration may request, by a notification addressed to the International Bureau, that inquiries concerning its service be transmitted to its central Administration or an office specially designated.

3. Form C 12 shall be returned to the Administration of origin of the article inquired about in accordance with the provisions of Article 153, Sec. 5, hereafter.

ARTICLE 153

Inquiries. Registered articles

1. Every inquiry relative to a registered article is made on a form agreeing with Model C 13 hereto appended, which shall be accompanied, as far as possible, by a facsimile of the envelope or address of the article.

If the inquiry concerns a C. O. D. article, it shall also be accompanied by a duplicate of the money order C 8 or by a transfer bulletin, as the case may be.

A single form may be used for several articles mailed simultaneously at the same office by the same sender addressed to the same addressee.

destination; cette transmission a lieu sans lettre d'envoi et sous enveloppe fermée. Si le bureau destinataire est en état de fournir les renseignements sur le sort définitif de l'envoi, il complète la formule et la retourne au bureau d'origine.

Lorsque le sort de l'envoi ne peut être établi par le bureau de destination, celui-ci constate le fait sur la formule et la réexpédie au bureau d'origine en y ajoutant, autant que possible, une déclaration du destinataire constatant qu'il n'a pas reçu l'envoi. Dans ce cas, l'Administration d'origine complète la formule en y indiquant les données de la transmission à la première Administration intermédiaire. Elle l'adresse ensuite à cette dernière Administration, qui y consigne ses observations et la transmet éventuellement à l'Administration suivante. La réclamation passe ainsi d'une Administration à l'autre jusqu'à ce que le sort de l'envoi réclamé soit établi. L'Administration qui a effectué la remise au destinataire, ou qui, le cas échéant, ne peut établir ni la remise, ni la transmission régulière à une autre Administration, constate le fait sur la formule et la renvoie à l'Administration d'origine.

3.—Toutefois, si l'Administration d'origine ou l'Administration de destination le demande, la réclamation est transmise de prime abord de bureau à bureau en suivant la même voie d'acheminement que l'envoi.

Dans ce cas, les recherches se poursuivent depuis l'Administration d'origine jusqu'à l'Administration de destination en observant la procédure visée au dernier alinéa du § 2.

4.—Toute Administration peut demander, par une notification adressée au Bureau international, que les réclamations qui concernent son service soient transmises à son Administration centrale ou à un bureau spécialement désigné.

such transmission takes place without letter of transmittal and in a sealed envelope. If the office of destination is in a position to furnish information as to the final disposal made of the article, it completes the form and returns it to the office of origin.

When the disposal of the article can not be established by the office of destination, the latter states the fact on the form and returns it to the office of origin, attaching thereto, when possible, a declaration of the addressee stating that he has not received the article. In that case, the Administration of origin completes the form by indicating thereon the particulars of dispatch to the first intermediate Administration. It then transmits it to this latter Administration, which places its observations thereon and transmits it to the following Administration, if any. The inquiry thus passes from one Administration to another until the disposal of the article inquired about is established. The Administration which has effected delivery to the addressee, or which can not prove either delivery or regular transmission to another Administration, as the case may be, shows the fact on the form and returns it to the Administration of origin.

3. However if the Administration of origin or of destination requests it, the inquiry is first transmitted from office to office, following the same route as the article.

In that case, the investigations are continued from the Administration of origin as far as the Administration of destination, observing the procedure indicated in the last paragraph of Section 2.

4. Any Administration may request, by a notification addressed to the International Bureau, that inquiries concerning its service be transmitted to its central Administration or an office specially designated.

5.—La formule C 13 et les pièces y annexées doivent, dans tous les cas, faire retour à l'Administration d'origine de l'envoi réclamé, dans le plus bref délai possible et au plus tard dans un délai de trois mois à partir de la date de la réclamation. Ce délai est porté à six mois dans les relations avec les pays éloignés.

5. The Form C 13 and the papers attached thereto shall in all cases be returned to the Administration of origin of the article inquired about within the shortest period possible, and at the latest within a period of three months, counting from the date of the inquiry. That period is extended to six months in relations with distant countries.

Post, pp. 2206, 2207.

6.—Les dispositions qui précèdent ne s'appliquent pas aux cas de spoliation de dépêche, manque de dépêche ou autres cas semblables qui comportent une correspondance plus étendue entre les Administrations.

6. The foregoing provisions do not apply to cases of rifling of mails, shortage of a dispatch or other similar cases which involve more extended correspondence between the Administrations.

Le nombre des envois recommandés qui peuvent être inscrits sur une seule et même liste spéciale est limité à 60;

d) Tableau IV: Le cas échéant, le nombre des sacs vides appartenant à une Administration autre que celle à laquelle la dépêche est adressée doit être mentionné séparément avec indication de cette Administration.

Sont, en outre, mentionnées au tableau IV les lettres de service ouvertes et les communications ou recommandations diverses du bureau expéditeur ayant trait au service d'échange;

e) Tableau V: Ce tableau est destiné à l'inscription des envois recommandés lorsqu'il n'est pas exclusivement fait usage de listes spéciales.

Dans le cas où les Administrations correspondantes se sont entendues pour l'inscription globale des objets recommandés sur les feuilles d'avis, le nombre total de ces objets doit être indiqué en chiffres et en toutes lettres.

Lorsque la dépêche ne contient pas d'envois recommandés, la mention «Néant» est portée au tableau V.

3.—Les Administrations peuvent s'entendre pour créer d'autres tableaux ou rubriques sur la feuille d'avis lorsqu'elles le jugent nécessaire. Elles peuvent, notamment, disposer les tableaux V et VI conformément à leurs besoins.

4.—Lorsqu'un bureau d'échange n'a aucun objet à livrer à un bureau correspondant, et que, dans les relations entre les Administrations intéressées, les feuilles d'avis ne sont pas numérotées par application du § 2, lettre b), ce bureau se borne à envoyer une feuille d'avis négative dans la prochaine dépêche.

The open letters on official business and the various communications or notes of the dispatching office relative to the exchange service are also mentioned in Table IV;

(e) Table V: This Table is set aside for the entry of the registered articles when exclusive use is not made of special lists.

In case that the corresponding Administrations have agreed upon the bulk billing of registered articles in the letter bills, the total number of such articles shall be indicated in figures and spelled out in full.

When the dispatch does not contain any registered articles, the note Néant (nil) is entered in Table V.

3. Administrations may come to an agreement to create other tables or headings in the letter bill, when they deem it necessary. They may, in particular, arrange Tables V and VI in accordance with their requirements.

4. When an exchange office has no articles to deliver to a corresponding office, and when, in relations between the Administrations concerned, the letter bills are not numbered, by application of Section 2, letter (b), that office merely sends a negative letter bill in the next dispatch.

Transmission des envois recommandés.

1.—Les envois recommandés et, s'il y a lieu, les listes spéciales prévues à l'article 157, § 2, sont réunis en un ou plusieurs paquets ou sacs distincts qui doivent être convenablement enveloppés ou fermés et cachetés ou plombés de manière à en préserver le contenu. Les envois recommandés sont classés dans chaque paquet d'après leur ordre d'inscription. Quand on emploie plusieurs listes spéciales, chacune d'elles est enliassée avec les objets recommandés auxquels elle se rapporte.

Sous réserve d'entente entre les Administrations intéressées et lorsque le volume des envois recommandés le permet, ces envois peuvent être insérés dans l'enveloppe spéciale contenant la feuille d'avis. Cette enveloppe doit être cachetée.

En aucun cas, les envois recommandés ne peuvent être confondus avec les correspondances ordinaires.

2.—Au paquet d'envois recommandés est attachée extérieurement, par un croisé de ficelle, l'enveloppe spéciale contenant la feuille d'avis; lorsque les envois recommandés sont renfermés dans un sac, ladite enveloppe est fixée au col de ce sac.

3.—S'il y a plus d'un paquet ou sac d'envois recommandés, chacun des paquets ou sacs supplémentaires est muni d'une étiquette indiquant la nature du contenu.

Transmission of registered articles

1. Registered articles, and, if occasion arises, the special lists mentioned in Article 157, Section 2, are made up into one or more separate packets or sacks, which shall be suitably wrapped or inclosed and sealed with wax or lead in such a manner as to protect the contents. The registered articles are arranged in each packet according to their entry numbers. When several special lists are used, each of them is tied up with the registered articles to which it relates.

Subject to agreement between the Administrations concerned, and when the volume of registered articles permits it, such articles shall be included in the special envelope containing the letter bill. That envelope shall be sealed.

In no case may registered articles be mixed with ordinary correspondence.

2. To the outside of the packet of registered articles is attached, by means of a crossed string, the special envelope containing the letter bill; when the registered articles are contained in a sack, the said envelope is tied to the neck of such sack.

3. If there is more than one packet or sack of registered articles, each of the supplementary packets or sacks is provided with a label indicating the nature of the contents.

Toutefois, si cette enveloppe doit être fixée au col du sac des envois recommandés (article 158, § 2), la liasse des envois exprès est placée dans le sac extérieur. La présence, dans la dépêche, des correspondances de l'espèce est alors annoncée par une fiche placée dans l'enveloppe contenant la feuille d'avis. La même procédure est suivie lorsque les envois exprès n'ont pu être joints à la feuille d'avis en raison de leur nombre, de leur forme ou de leurs dimensions.

However, if that envelope must be affixed to the neck of the sack of registered articles (Article 158, Section 2), the bundle of special-delivery articles is placed in the outside sack. The presence in the dispatch of articles of that kind is then announced by a slip placed inside the envelope containing the letter bill. The same procedure is followed when it has not been possible to inclose the special-delivery articles with the letter bill because of their number, form or dimensions.

Registered special-delivery articles are arranged in order among the other registered articles, and the note Exprès (special delivery) is placed in the Observations column of Table V of the letter bill or of the special lists, opposite the entry concerning each of them. Sorting; bundles.

1.—En règle générale, les objets sont classés et enliassés par nature de correspondances, les lettres et les cartes postales étant comprises dans la même liasse et les journaux et écrits périodiques devant faire l'objet de liasses distinctes de celles des imprimés ordinaires. Les liasses sont désignées par des étiquettes portant l'indication du bureau destinataire ou réexpéditeur des envois insérés dans les liasses. Les objets de correspondance susceptibles d'être enliassés doivent être disposés dans le sens de l'adresse. Les objets affranchis sont séparés de ceux qui ne le sont pas ou le sont insuffisamment et les étiquettes de liasses d'objets non ou insuffisamment affranchis sont frappées du timbre T.

Preparation of dispatches

1. As a general rule, articles are sorted and tied in bundles according to the nature of the correspondence, letters and post cards being included in the same bundle, and newspapers and periodicals being made up into packets, apart from those containing ordinary prints. The bundles are designated by labels bearing the indication of the office of destination or redispach of the articles contained in the bundles. Articles of correspondence capable of being tied in bundles shall be arranged in the direction of the address. Prepaid articles are separated from those which are unprepaid or shortpaid, and the labels of bundles of articles which are unprepaid or shortpaid are marked with the T-stamp.

Les lettres portant des traces d'ouverture, de détérioration ou d'avarie doivent être munies d'une mention du fait et frappées du timbre à date du bureau qui l'a constaté.

Les mandats de poste expédiés à découvert sont réunis en une liasse distincte, qui doit être insérée dans un paquet ou sac contenant des objets recommandés et éventuellement dans le paquet ou sac avec valeurs déclarées. Si la dépêche ne comprend ni objets recommandés ni valeurs déclarées, les mandats sont placés dans l'enveloppe contenant la feuille d'avis ou enliassés avec celle-ci.

2.—Les dépêches sont renfermées dans des sacs convenablement clos, cachetés ou plombés et étiquetés. Lorsqu'il est fait usage de ficelle, elle doit être passée deux fois autour du col avant d'être nouée. Les empreintes des cachets ou des plombs doivent reproduire, en caractères latins très lisibles, le nom du bureau d'origine ou une indication suffisante pour permettre de déterminer ce bureau.

Les étiquettes des dépêches doivent être en toile, carton fort, parchemin ou en papier collé sur une planchette; dans les relations entre bureaux limitrophes, il peut être fait usage d'étiquettes en papier fort. Les étiquettes sont confectionnées dans les couleurs suivantes:

a) en rouge vermillon, pour les sacs contenant des envois recommandés;

b) en blanc, pour les sacs ne contenant que des lettres et des cartes postales ordinaires;

c) en bleu clair, pour les sacs contenant exclusivement d'autres objets ordinaires;

d) en vert, pour les sacs contenant seulement des sacs vides renvoyés à l'origine.

Les sacs contenant de la correspondance ordinaire mixte (lettres, cartes postales et autres objets) doivent être munis de l'étiquette blanche.

L'emploi d'étiquettes de couleur rouge vermillon, blanche et bleu clair est obligatoire; en revanche,

Letters bearing traces of opening, deterioration or damage shall be marked with a mention of the fact and be struck with the date stamp of the office which has detected it.

Money orders sent uninclosed are tied in a separate bundle, which shall be included in a packet or sack containing registered articles and, in appropriate cases, in the packet or sack of insured articles. If the dispatch does not contain either registered or insured articles, the orders are placed in the envelope containing the letter bill or tied up with the latter.

2. Dispatches are inclosed in sacks suitably closed, sealed with wax or lead, and labeled. When use is made of string, it shall be passed twice around the neck of the sack before being tied. The imprints on the wax or lead seals shall reproduce, in very legible Latin characters, the name of the office of origin or an indication sufficient to permit that office to be determined.

The labels of the dispatches shall be of cloth, strong cardboard, parchment, or paper pasted on a wooden block; in relations between adjacent offices, use may be made of labels of strong paper. The labels are made up in the following colors:

(a) In vermillon red, for sacks containing registered articles;

(b) In white, for sacks containing only ordinary letters and post cards;

(c) In light blue, for sacks containing only ordinary other articles;

(d) In green, for sacks containing only empty sacks returned to origin.

Sacks containing mixed ordinary correspondence (letters, post cards and other articles) shall bear the white label.

The use of vermillon red, white and light blue labels is obligatory; on the other hand, green

Les étiquettes portent l'indication imprimée en petits caractères latins du nom du bureau expéditeur et, en caractères latins gras, du nom du bureau destinataire, précédés respectivement des mots «de» et «pour». Dans les échanges entre les pays éloignés non effectués par des services maritimes directs, ces indications sont complétées par la mention de la date d'expédition, du numéro de l'envoi et, le cas échéant, du port de débarquement si l'Administration intéressée le demande.

Les sacs doivent indiquer d'une façon lisible, en caractères latins, le bureau ou le pays d'origine, et porter la mention «Postes» ou toute autre analogue les signalant comme dépêches postales.

Les bureaux intermédiaires ne doivent porter aucun numéro d'ordre sur les étiquettes des sacs ou paquets de dépêches closes en transit.

Small or negative dispatches.

En cas de plombage, ces dépêches doivent être conditionnées de telle façon que la ficelle ne puisse pas être détachée. Lorsqu'elles ne contiennent que des correspondances ordinaires, elles peuvent être fermées au moyen de cachets gommés portant l'indication imprimée du bureau ou de l'Administration expéditrice. Les suscriptions des paquets doivent correspondre, en ce qui concerne les indications imprimées et les couleurs, aux prescriptions prévues au § 2 pour les étiquettes des sacs de correspondances.

Use of more than one sack.

4.—Lorsque le nombre ou le volume des envois exige l'emploi de plus d'un sac, des sacs distincts doivent, autant que possible, être utilisés:

a) pour les lettres et cartes postales;

labels are used only if the Administration of destination so demands.

The labels bear the indication, printed in small Latin characters, of the name of the dispatching office, and, in heavy Latin characters, the name of the office of destination, preceded by the words de (from) and pour (for) respectively. In exchanges between distant countries not effected by direct maritime services, those indications are completed by the mention of the date of dispatch, the number of the mail, and the port of debarkation, if any, if the Administration concerned so requests.

The sacks shall indicate legibly, in Latin characters, the office or country of origin, and shall bear the note Postes (posts) or some other similar note characterizing them as postal dispatches.

Intermediate offices shall not place any serial number on labels of sacks or packets of closed mails in transit.

3. Barring contrary agreement, dispatches of small size or negative dispatches are simply wrapped in strong paper in such a manner as to avoid all harm to the contents, then tied and sealed with wax or lead.

In case of lead sealing, those dispatches shall be prepared in such a way that the string can not be detached. When they contain nothing but ordinary correspondence, they may be fastened by means of gummed seals bearing the printed indication of the dispatching office or Administration. The addresses of the packets shall comply, in regard to the printed indications and the colors, with the provisions laid down by Section 2 for the labels of sacks of mail.

4. When the number or volume of the mails requires the employment of more than one sack, separate sacks shall be used, as far as possible:

(a) For letters and post cards;

b) pour les autres objets; le cas échéant, des sacs distincts doivent encore être utilisés pour les petits paquets; les étiquettes de ces derniers sacs portent la mention «Petits paquets».

Le paquet ou sac des envois recommandés, réuni avec la feuille d'avis de la façon prévue à l'article 158, § 2, est placé dans un des sacs de lettres ou dans un sac spécial; le sac extérieur doit porter, en tout cas, l'étiquette rouge. Lorsqu'il y a plus d'un sac d'envois recommandés, les sacs supplémentaires ne contenant que des objets recommandés autres que des lettres et des cartes postales peuvent être expédiés à découvert munis de l'étiquette rouge.

5.—L'étiquette du sac ou paquet renfermant la feuille d'avis, même si celle-ci est négative, est toujours revêtue de la lettre F tracée d'une manière apparente.

6.—Le poids de chaque sac ne doit pas dépasser 30 kilogrammes.

7.—Les bureaux d'échange insèrent autant que possible, dans leurs propres dépêches pour un bureau déterminé, toutes les dépêches de petites dimensions (paquets ou sacs) qui leur parviennent pour ce bureau.

ARTICLE 161.

Remise des dépêches.

1.—La remise des dépêches entre deux bureaux correspondants s'effectue suivant les dispositions prises par les Administrations intéressées.

Seuls les sacs et paquets signalés par des étiquettes rouges doivent, au moment de la livraison, être soumis à une vérification complète de leur fermeture et de leur conditionnement. Quant aux autres sacs et paquets, la vérification en est facultative et ils sont toujours remis globalement.

2.—Les dépêches doivent être livrées en bon état. Cependant, une dépêche ne peut pas être refusée pour cause d'avarie. Lorsqu'une dépêche est reçue en mauvais état par un bureau inter-

(b) For other articles; if occasion arises, separate sacks shall also be used for small packets; the labels of these latter sacks bear the note Petits paquets (small packets).

The packet or sack of registered articles, tied together with the letter bill in the manner prescribed by Article 158, Section 2, is placed in one of the letter sacks or in a separate sack; the outside sack shall in any case bear the red label. When there is more than one sack of registered articles, the additional sacks containing nothing but registered articles other than letters and post cards may be sent uninclosed, bearing the red label.

5. The label of the sack or packet containing the letter bill, even if the latter is negative, is always marked with the letter F, traced in a conspicuous manner.

6. The weight of each sack shall not exceed 30 kilograms.

7. As far as possible, the exchange offices insert in their own dispatches for a given office, all dispatches of small dimensions (packets or sacks) which reach them for that office.

ARTICLE 161

Delivery of dispatches

1. The delivery of dispatches between two corresponding offices is effected in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the Administrations concerned.

Only the sacks and packets designated by red labels need, at the time of delivery, be subjected to complete verification of their closing and condition. As for the other sacks and packets, their verification is optional and they are always delivered in bulk.

2. Dispatches shall be delivered in good condition. However, a dispatch may not be refused because of damage. When a dispatch is received in bad condition by an intermediate office, it shall

ARTICLE 162.

Vérification des dépêches.

1.—Lorsqu'un bureau intermédiaire doit procéder au réemballage d'une dépêche, il en vérifie le contenu s'il présume que celui-ci n'est pas resté intact.

Il dresse un bulletin de vérification conforme au modèle C 18 ci-annexé en se conformant aux dispositions du § 3 ci-après. Ce bulletin est envoyé au bureau d'échange d'où la dépêche a été reçue; une copie en est adressée au bureau d'origine et une autre est insérée dans la dépêche réemballée.

2.—Le bureau destinataire vérifie si la dépêche est au complet et si les inscriptions de la feuille d'avis et, le cas échéant, des listes spéciales d'envois recommandés sont exactes. En cas de manque d'une dépêche ou d'un ou plusieurs sacs en faisant partie, d'objets recommandés, d'une feuille d'avis, d'une liste spéciale d'envois recommandés, ou lorsqu'il s'agit de toute autre irrégularité, le fait est constaté immédiatement par deux agents. Ceux-ci font les rectifications nécessaires sur les feuilles ou listes en ayant soin de biffer les indications erronées de manière à laisser reconnaître les inscriptions primitives. A moins d'une erreur évidente, les rectifications prévalent sur la déclaration originale.

Lorsqu'un bureau reçoit des feuilles d'avis ou des listes spéciales qui ne lui sont pas destinées, il envoie ces documents au bureau de destination ou, si ses règlements internes le prescrivent, des copies certifiées conformes.

3.—Les faits constatés sont signalés, au moyen d'un bulletin de vérification, au bureau d'origine

ARTICLE 162

Verification of dispatches

1. When an intermediate office must proceed to repack a dispatch, it verifies the contents thereof if it presumes that they have not remained intact.

It makes up a bulletin of verification conforming to Model C 18 hereto appended, complying with the provisions of Section 3 hereafter. That bulletin is sent to the exchange office from which the dispatch was received; a copy thereof is addressed to the office of origin and another is inserted in the repacked dispatch.

2. The office of destination verifies whether the dispatch is intact, and whether the entries on the letter bill, and on the special lists of registered articles, if any, are correct. In case of shortage of a dispatch, or of one or more sacks forming part thereof, of registered articles, of a letter bill, of a special list of registered articles, or when it is a question of any other irregularity, the fact is established at once by two employees. The latter make the necessary corrections on the bills or lists, taking care to strike out the erroneous items in such a manner as to allow the original entries to be recognized. Except in case of obvious error, the corrections prevail over the original statement.

When an office receives letter bills or special lists which are not intended for it, it sends those documents to the office of destination, or, if its domestic regulations so prescribe, certified copies thereof.

3. The facts established are reported by means of a bulletin of verification to the office of de la dépêche et, en cas de manquant réel, au dernier bureau intermédiaire, par le premier courrier utilisable après vérification complète de la dépêche.

Les indications de ce bulletin doivent spécifier aussi exactement que possible de quel sac, paquet ou objet il s'agit.

Un duplicata du bulletin de vérification est envoyé, dans les mêmes conditions que l'original, à l'Administration dont relève le bureau d'origine de la dépêche, lorsque cette Administration l'exige. Lorsqu'il s'agit d'irrégularités importantes permettant de présumer une perte ou une spoliation, l'enveloppe ou le sac ainsi que la ficelle et le cachet ou plomb de fermeture du paquet ou du sac des envois recommandés sont, autant que possible, joints au bulletin de vérification destiné au bureau d'origine. Il en est de même de l'enveloppe ou du sac extérieurs, avec leur ficelle, leur étiquette, leur cachet ou plomb de fermeture, chaque fois que l'envoi de ces pièces justificatives est possible.

Dans l'échange avec les Administrations qui exigent l'envoi d'un duplicata, les pièces justificatives mentionnées ci-dessus sont annexées au duplicata.

Dans les cas prévus aux §§ 1 et 2, le bureau d'origine et, le cas échéant, le dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire peuvent, en outre, être avisés par télégramme aux frais de l'Administration qui expédie celui-ci.

Un avis télégraphique doit être émis toutes les fois que la dépêche présente des traces évidentes de spoliation, afin que le bureau expéditeur ou intermédiaire procède sans aucun retard à l'instruction de l'affaire et, le cas échéant, avise également par télégramme l'Administration précédente pour la continuation de l'enquête.

4.—Lorsque l'absence d'une dépêche est le résultat d'un défaut de coïncidence des courriers ou lorsqu'elle est dûment expliquée sur le bordereau de remise, l'établissement d'un bulletin de vérification n'est nécessaire que si la origin of the dispatch, and, in case of actual shortage, to the last intermediate office, by the first mail available after complete verification of the dispatch.

The indications of that bulletin shall specify as exactly as possible what sack, packet or article is involved.

A duplicate of the bulletin of verification is sent, under the same conditions as the original, to the Administration to which the office of origin of the dispatch belongs, when that Administration so demands. When it is a question of important irregularities giving rise to the presumption of loss or rifling, the envelope or sack as well as the string and the wax or lead seal which fastens the packet or sack of registered articles are, when possible, attached to the bulletin of verification addressed to the office of origin. The same applies to the outer envelope or sack, with its string, label and wax or lead seal, whenever the transmission of such pieces of evidence is possible.

In the exchange with Administrations which require the sending of a duplicate, the supporting evidence mentioned above is attached to the duplicate.

In the cases contemplated by Sections 1 and 2, the office of origin, and the last intermediate exchange office, if any, may also be advised by telegram at the expense of the Administration sending the telegram.

Telegraphic notice shall be given whenever the dispatch shows evident traces of rifling, in order that the dispatching or intermediate office may proceed without any delay to investigate the matter, and, if need be, advise the preceding Administration, likewise by telegram, for the continuance of the investigation.

4. When the absence of a dispatch is the result of a failure of mails to connect, or when it is duly explained on the waybill, the preparation of a bulletin of verification is not necessary, unless the dispatch does not reach the dépêche ne parvient pas au bureau destinataire par le plus prochain courrier.

L'envoi du duplicata prévu au § 3 peut être différé si l'on présume que le manque de la dépêche provient d'un retard ou d'une fausse direction.

Dès la rentrée d'une dépêche dont l'absence avait été signalée au bureau d'origine et, le cas échéant, au dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire, il y a lieu d'adresser à ces bureaux un second bulletin de vérification annonçant la réception de cette dépêche.

by receiving office.

5.—Les bureaux auxquels sont adressés les bulletins de vérification les renvoient le plus promptement possible après les avoir examinés et y avoir mentionné leurs observations, s'il y a lieu.

Si ces bulletins ne sont pas renvoyés à l'Administration d'origine dans le délai de deux mois à compter de la date de leur expédition, ils sont considérés, jusqu'à preuve du contraire, comme dûment acceptés par les bureaux auxquels ils ont été adressés.

Ce délai est porté à quatre mois dans les relations avec les pays éloignés.

Presumption of correctness.

6.—Lorsqu'un bureau réceptif auquel la vérification de la dépêche incombait n'a pas fait parvenir au bureau d'origine et, le cas échéant, au dernier bureau d'échange intermédiaire, par le premier courrier utilisable après la vérification, un bulletin constatant des irrégularités quelconques, il est considéré, jusqu'à preuve du contraire, comme ayant reçu la dépêche et son contenu. La même présomption existe pour les irrégularités dont la mention a été omise ou signalée d'une manière incomplète dans le bulletin de vérification.

Transmittal of bulletins.

7.—Les bulletins de vérification et les duplicata sont transmis sous pli recommandé.

1.—Sauf arrangement contraire entre les Administrations correspondantes, les sacs doivent office of destination by the next mail.

The sending of the duplicate provided for by Section 3 may be postponed if it is presumed that the shortage of the dispatch is due to delay or misdirection.

When a dispatch, the absence of which had been reported to the office of origin, and to the last intermediate exchange office, if any, is located, it is necessary to send a second bulletin of verification to the said offices announcing the receipt of that mail.

5. The offices to which the bulletins of verification are addressed return them as promptly as possible after having examined them, and after having entered thereon their observations, if any.

If those bulletins are not returned to the Administration of origin within the period of two months, counting from the date of their issue, they are considered, until the contrary is proved, as duly accepted by the offices to which they were addressed.

That period is extended to four months in relations with distant countries.

6. When a receiving office upon which the verification of the dispatch was incumbent has not sent to the office of origin, and to the last intermediate exchange office, if any, by the first mail available after verification, a bulletin reporting any irregularities, it is considered, until the contrary is proved, as having received the dispatch and its contents. The same presumption exists in the case of irregularities which have not been mentioned, or which have been reported in an incomplete manner, in the bulletin of verification.

7. The bulletins of verification and the duplicates are transmitted under registered cover.

Le renvoi est effectué entre les bureaux d'échange désignés à cet effet.

Les sacs vides doivent être roulés en paquets convenables; le cas échéant, les planchettes à étiquettes ainsi que les étiquettes en toile, parchemin ou autre matière solide doivent être placées à l'intérieur des sacs. Les paquets doivent être revêtus d'une étiquette indiquant le nom du bureau d'échange d'où les sacs ont été reçus, chaque fois qu'ils sont renvoyés par l'intermédiaire d'un autre bureau d'échange.

Si les sacs vides à renvoyer ne sont pas trop nombreux, ils peuvent être placés dans les sacs contenant la correspondance; dans le cas contraire, ils doivent être placés à part dans des sacs cachetés, étiquetés au nom des bureaux d'échange. Les étiquettes doivent porter la mention «Sacs vides».

2.—Dans le cas où le contrôle exercé par une Administration sur le renvoi des sacs qui lui appartiennent démontrerait que 10% du nombre total des sacs utilisés pendant une année pour la confection des dépêches n'ont pas été renvoyés avant la fin de cette année, l'Administration qui ne peut établir le renvoi des sacs vides est tenue de rembourser à l'Administration expéditrice la valeur des sacs manquants. Le remboursement doit également avoir lieu si le nombre des sacs manquants n'atteint pas 10% mais excède 50 unités.

turned empty, by the next mail, in a direct dispatch for the country to which such sacks belong. The number of sacks returned by each mail shall be entered under the Service Information heading of the letter bill.

The return is effected between the exchange offices designated for that purpose.

The empty sacks shall be rolled up in suitable bundles; the label blocks, as well as the labels of cloth, parchment or other strong material, if any, shall be placed inside the sacks. The bundles shall be provided with a label indicating the name of the exchange office from which the sacks were received, whenever they are returned through the intermediary of another exchange office.

If the empty sacks to be returned are not too numerous, they may be placed inside the sacks containing the correspondence; otherwise, they shall be placed in separate sealed sacks labeled with the names of the exchange offices. The labels shall bear the note Sacs vides (empty sacks).

2. In case that the check made by an Administration on the return of sacks belonging to it shows that 10 per cent of the total number of sacks used during a year for the preparation of dispatches have not been returned before the end of that year, the Administration which can not prove the return of the empty sacks is bound to reimburse the dispatching Administration for the value of the missing sacks. Reimbursement shall also be effected if the number of missing sacks does not reach 10 per cent but exceeds 50 sacks.

Each Administration fixes, periodically, and uniformly for all kinds of sacks which are used by its exchange offices, an average value in francs, and communicates it to the Administrations concerned through the intermediary of the International Bureau.

Reimbursement for unreturned sacks.

Average value.

TITRE VII.

DISPOSITIONS CONCERNANT LES FRAIS DE TRANSIT.

CHAPITRE I.

OPÉRATIONS DE STATISTIQUE.

ARTICLE 164.

Statistique des frais de transit.

1.—Les frais de transit exigibles en exécution des articles 75 et suivants de la Convention sont établis sur la base de statistiques dressées une fois tous les trois ans et alternativement pendant les quatorze ou vingt-huit premiers jours du mois de mai ou pendant les quatorze ou vingt-huit premiers jours qui suivent le 14 octobre.

La statistique est dressée pendant la deuxième année de chaque période triennale.

Les dépêches confectionnées à bord des navires sont comprises dans les statistiques lorsqu'elles sont débarquées pendant la période de statistique.

2.—La statistique d'octobre-novembre 1939 ainsi que les comptes y relatifs, dressés d'après les dispositions de la Convention du Caire, s'appliqueront jusqu'à fin 1940.

La statistique de mai 1942 s'appliquera aux années 1941, 1942 et 1943; celle d'octobre-novembre 1945 aux années 1944, 1945 et 1946.

3.—Les paiements annuels des frais de transit à effectuer en raison d'une statistique doivent être continués, provisoirement, jusqu'à ce que les comptes établis d'après la statistique suivante soient approuvés ou considérés comme admis de plein droit (article 173 ci-après). A ce moment, il est procédé à la régularisation des paiements effectués à titre provisoire.

4.—Lorsqu'il se produit une modification importante dans l'acheminement des correspondances d'un pays pour un autre et si cette modification affecte une

PROVISIONS CONCERNING TRANSIT CHARGES

CHAPTER I

STATISTICAL OPERATIONS

ARTICLE 164

Transit statistics

1. The transit charges collectible under Articles 75 et seq. of the Convention are computed on the basis of statistics taken once every three years, and alternately during the first fourteen or twenty-eight days of the month of May or during the first fourteen or twenty-eight days following the 14th of October.

The statistics are taken during the second year of each triennial period.

Dispatches made up on board ships are included in the statistics when they are unloaded during the statistical period.

2. The statistics of October-November, 1939, as well as the accounts relating thereto made up in accordance with the provisions of the Convention of Cairo, will apply up to the end of 1940.
