The statistics of May, 1942, will apply to the years 1941, 1942 and 1943; those of October-November, 1945, to the years 1944, 1945 and 1946.

3. The annual payments of transit charges to be made on the basis of a set of statistics shall be continued provisionally, until the accounts made up in accordance with the following statistics are approved or considered as automatically accepted (Article 173 hereafter). période ou des périodes s'élevant à un total d'au moins douze mois, chaque Administration intéressée peut demander une révision des comptes de frais de transit. Dans ce cas, les sommes à payer par les Administrations expéditrices sont déterminées d'après les services intermédiaires réellement employés, mais les poids totaux qui servent de base aux nouveaux comptes doivent normalement être les mêmes que ceux des dépêches expédiées pendant la période de statistique mentionnée au § 1. Lorsqu'une entente sur le mode de répartition ne peut être obtenue, une statistique spéciale doit être dressée pour régler le partage de ces poids entre les divers services empruntés. Aucune modification dans l'acheminement des correspondances pour un pays déterminé n'est considérée comme importante si elle n'affecte pas de plus de 5000 francs par an les comptes entre l'Administration d'origine et l'Administration intermédiaire intéressée. Si la modification dépasse cette somme, elle a sa répercussion sur les décomptes de l'Administration d'origine avec les Administrations qui ont effectué le transit antérieurement et les Administrations qui l'assurent postérieurement à la modification survenue, même lorsque la réduction des comptes n'atteint pas pour certaines Administrations le minimum fixé. La demande d'une révision des comptes et, le cas échéant, d'une statistique spéciale peut être faite lorsque la modification dans l'acheminement des correspondances dont il s'agit a duré au moins neuf mois. Toutefois, les données de cette statistique ne sont prises en considération que si la période de douze mois est réellement accomplie.

Si, lors d'une statistique spéciale, il est établi que les poids totaux des courriers échangés entre deux Administrations et transportés par une tierce Administration ont augmenté de 100% ou diminué de 50% par rapport aux données de la dernière statistique périodique ods amounting to a total of at least twelve months, any Administration concerned may request a revision of the transit-charge accounts. In that case, the sums to be paid by the dispatching Administrations are determined in accordance with the intermediate services actually employed, but the total weights which serve as the basis for the new accounts shall normally be the same as those of the dispatches sent during the statistical period mentioned in Section 1. When an agreement as to the manner of division can not be reached, special statistics shall be taken in order to adjust the apportionment of those weights among the various services employed. No modification in the routing of correspondence for a given country is considered as important unless it affects the accounts between the Administration of origin and the intermediate Administration concerned by more than 5000 francs a year. If the modification exceeds that amount it has its effect on the accounts of the Administration of origin with the Administrations which have performed the transit previously and the Administrations which perform it subsequent to the modification brought about, even when the reduction of the accounts does not attain the prescribed minimum for certain Administrations. The request for a revision of the accounts, and, if need be, for special statistics, may be made when the modification in the routing of the correspondence in question has lasted at least nine months. However, the results of those statistics are not taken into consideration unless the period of twelve months is actually completed.

If, when special statistics are taken, it is found that the total weights of the mails exchanged between two Administrations and transported by a third Administration have increased by 100 per cent or diminished by 50 per cent as compared with the results et que le compte de la tierce Administration subirait de ce chef une modification de plus de 5000 francs par an, les nouveaux poids constatés doivent servir de base pour les frais de transit dus à cette Administration.

Demand for new statistics; condition.

De même, lorsqu'une Administration intermédiaire constate, dans les six mois qui suivent la statistique, qu'il existe entre les expéditions faites par une autre Administration pendant la période de statistique et le trafic normal une différence de 20% au moins sur les poids totaux du transport, l'Administration intéressée peut exiger l'établissement d'une nouvelle statistique si les comptes entre deux Administrations sont affectés d'une modification de plus de 5000 francs par an.

of the last statistical period, and that the account of the third Administration would undergo, for that reason, a modification of more than 5000 francs a year, the new weights established shall serve as the basis for the transit charges due to that Administration.

Likewise, when an intermediate Administration establishes, during the six months following the statistics, that a difference of 20 per cent at least in the total weights conveyed exists between the dispatches sent by another Administration during the statistical period and the normal traffic, the Administration concerned may demand the taking of new statistics, if the accounts between two Administrations are affected by a modification of more than 5000 francs a year.

Confection et désignation des dépêches closes pendant la période de statistique.

Preparation, etc., of closed mails during statistical period.

1.—Pendant chaque période de statistique, l'échange des correspondances en dépêches closes à travers le territoire ou au moyen des services d'une ou de plusieurs Administrations intermédiaires donne lieu à l'utilisation de sacs distincts pour les «lettres et les cartes postales» et pour les «autres objets».

ARTICLE 165

Preparation and designation of closed mails during the statistical period

1. During each statistical period, the exchange of correspondence in closed mails across the territory or by means of the services of one or more intermediate Administrations gives rise to the employment of separate sacks for letters and post cards and for other articles.

The number of sacks utilized for the preparation of a dispatch must be reduced to the strict minimum.

The obligation of preparing separate sacks for letters and post cards and for other articles does not apply to dispatches whose total gross weight does not exceed 3 kg., i. e., the average weight considered in the accounts for light sacks by virtue of Article 173 hereafter. Each Administration therefore has the option, in such cases, of including all the articles in a single sack, which is then counted as an L. C. sack. It is understood, however, that such a dispatch may not contain any other sack giving rise to the payment of transit charges.

Lorsque le volume des dépêches le permet, les sacs distincts d'objets de toutes catégories (L. C. et A. O.), pour une même destination, doivent être réunis dans un seul sac collecteur.

2.—Par dérogation aux dispositions des articles 158 et 159, chaque Administration à la faculté, pendant la période de statistique, de comprendre les objets recommandés et les envois exprès, autres que les lettres et les cartes postales, dans un des sacs destinés aux autres objets, en faisant mention de ce fait sur la feuille d'avis; mais si, conformément aux articles 158 et 159, ces objets sont compris dans un sac de lettres, ils sont considérés comme lettres en ce qui concerne la statistique.

3.—Pendant la période de statistique, toutes les dépêches échangées en transit doivent être munies, en dehors des étiquettes ordinaires, d'une étiquette spéciale portant en gros caractères la mention «Statistique», suivie de l'indication «5 kilogrammes», «15 kilogrammes» ou «30 kilogrammes» selon la catégorie de poids (article 166, § 1, ci-après). L'étiquette «Statistique» doit porter en outre la mention «L. C.» ou «A. O.», suivant le cas.

5.—Lorsque des sacs composant la dépêche sont réunis dans un sac collecteur, celui-ci doit être pourvu de l'étiquette spéciale «Statistique», sur laquelle la mention «S. C.» est ajoutée. Les indications concernant la statistique qui figurent sur les sacs intérieurs ne sont pas répétées sur le sac collecteur.

When the volume of the mails permits, the separate sacks of articles of all kinds (L. C. and A. O.) for one and the same destination shall be inclosed in a single collective sack.

2. By exception to the provisions of Articles 158 and 159, every Administration has the option, during the statistical period, of including registered and special-delivery articles other than letters and post cards in one of the sacks intended for other articles, mentioning that fact on the letter bill; but if, in accordance with Articles 158 and 159, those articles are included in a sack of letters, they are considered as letters insofar as the statistics are concerned.

3. During the statistical period all dispatches exchanged in transit shall bear, in addition to the ordinary labels, a special label bearing in large letters the note Statistique (statistics), followed by the indication 5 kilograms, 15 kilograms, or 30 kilograms, according to the division of weight (Article 166, Section 1, hereafter). The statistical label shall also bear the note L. C. or A. O., as the case may be.

4. In regard to sacks which contain nothing but empty sacks, or correspondence exempt from all transit charges (Article 76 of the Convention), the note Statistique is followed by the word Exempt.

5. When the sacks composing the dispatch are inclosed in a collective sack, the latter shall be provided with the special Statistique label, on which the note S. C. is added. The indications concerning the statistics which appear on the inside sacks are not repeated on the collective sack.

Si ce bureau constate une erreur dans les nombres inscrits, il rectifie la feuille et signale immédiatement l'erreur au bureau d'échange expéditeur au moyen d'un bulletin de vérification conforme au modèle C 20 ci-annexé. Toutefois, en ce qui concerne le poids d'un sac, l'indication du bureau d'échange expéditeur est tenue pour valable, à moins que le poids réel ne dépasse de plus de 250 grammes le poids maximum de la catégorie dans laquelle ce sac a été inscrit.

If that office finds an error in the numbers entered, it corrects the bill and immediately reports the error to the dispatching exchange office by means of a bulletin of verification conforming to Model C 20 hereto appended. However, in regard to the weight of a sack, the statement of the dispatching exchange office is considered as valid unless the actual weight exceeds the maximum weight of the class in which that sack has been entered by more than 250 grams.

Lorsqu'une Administration seulement a fourni le relevé C 25, les indications de cette Administration font foi, à moins que le relevé correspondant de l'Administration retardataire ne parvienne au Bureau international en temps opportun pour l'établissement du prochain décompte général annuel.

At the same time, a copy of the account is addressed to the Administration concerned. Upon receipt of an account coming from one Administration, the International Bureau so advises the other Administration concerned.

Liquidation des frais de transit.

1.—Le solde résultant du décompte général annuel du Bureau international ou des règlements spéciaux, y compris, le cas échéant, la régularisation prévue à l'article 164, § 3, est payé par l'Administration débitrice à l'Administration créancière de l'une des manières suivantes:

a) au choix de l'Administration débitrice, en or ou au moyen de chèques ou de traites répondant aux conditions prévues au § 2 ci-après et payables à vue sur la capitale ou sur une place commerciale du pays créancier, ou

b) suivant accord entre les deux Administrations, par l'intermédiaire d'une banque utilisant le service des virements de la Banque des Règlements Internationaux à Bâle ou par tout autre moyen.

ARTICLE 175

Settlement of transit charges

1. The balance resulting from the general annual account of the International Bureau or from special settlements, including, if occasion arises, the adjustment provided for in Article 164, Section 3, is paid by the debtor Administration to the creditor Administration in one of the following manners:

(a) At the choice of the debtor Administration, in gold or by means of checks or drafts fulfilling the conditions prescribed by Section 2 hereafter and payable at sight in the capital or in a commercial city of the creditor country; or

(b) Following agreement between the two Administrations, through the intermediary of a bank utilizing the transfer service of the Bank for International Settlements at Basel, or by any other means.

Settlement of transit charges.

Ante, p. 2168.

2.—En cas de paiement au moyen de chèques ou traites, ces chèques ou traites sont exprimés en monnaie d'un pays où la banque centrale d'émission ou une autre institution officielle d'émission achète et vend de l'or ou des devises-or contre la monnaie nationale à des taux fixes déterminés par la loi ou en vertu d'un arrangement avec le Gouvernement.

Si les monnaies de plusieurs pays répondent à ces conditions, c'est au pays créancier de désigner la monnaie qui lui convient. La conversion se fait au pair des monnaies d'or.

3.—Lorsque les deux pays se sont mis d'accord à ce sujet, les chèques ou traites peuvent être exprimés aussi en monnaie du pays créancier, même si cette monnaie ne répond pas aux conditions prévues au § 2. Dans ce cas, le solde est converti au pair des monnaies d'or en monnaie d'un pays répondant aux conditions prévues au § 2. Le résultat obtenu est ensuite converti dans la monnaie du pays débiteur et de celle-ci dans la monnaie du pays créancier au cours de la bourse de la capitale ou d'une place commerciale du pays débiteur au jour de l'achat du chèque ou de la traite.

4.—Lorsque le montant du solde dépasse 5000 francs-or, la date de l'envoi d'un chèque ou d'une traite, la date de son achat et son montant doivent, si l'Administration créditriche le demande, lui être notifiés par télégramme et à ses frais.

5.—Les frais de paiement sont supportés par l'Administration débitriche à l'exception des frais extraordinaires, tels les frais de clearing, imposés par le pays débiteur.

6.—Le paiement précité doit être effectué dans le plus bref délai possible et, au plus tard, avant l'expiration d'un délai de quatre mois à partir de la date d'envoi du décompte par le Bureau international ou de l'invitation à payer,

2. In case of payment by means of checks or drafts, such checks or drafts are expressed in money of a country where the central bank of issue or other official issuing institution buys and sells gold or gold currency for national money at fixed rates determined by law or by virtue of an agreement with the Government.

If the moneys of several countries fulfill those conditions, it is incumbent upon the creditor country to designate the money which is convenient for it. The conversion is effected at the gold par rate.

3. When the two countries have come to an agreement on that subject, the checks or drafts may also be expressed in money of the creditor country, even if such money does not fulfill the conditions laid down by Section 2. In that case, the balance is converted at the gold par rate into money of a country fulfilling the conditions prescribed by Section 2. The result obtained is then converted into money of the debtor country and from the latter into money of the creditor country at the rate of exchange prevailing in the capital or in a commercial city of the debtor country on the day of purchase of the check or draft.

4. When the amount of the balance exceeds 5000 gold francs, the date of sending of a check or draft, the date of its purchase and its amount shall, if the creditor Administration so requests, be communicated to it by telegram at its own expense.

5. The expenses of payment are borne by the debtor Administration, with the exception of extraordinary expenses, such as the clearing fees, imposed by the creditor country.

6. The payment above mentioned shall be made as soon as possible, and at the latest before the expiration of a period of four months, counting from the date of transmission of the account by the International Bureau, or of adressée par l'Administration créancière à l'Administration débitrice, quand il s'agit d'un compte réglé à part. Ce délai peut être porté à cinq mois dans les relations entre pays éloignés.

Passé ces délais, les sommes dues sont productives d'intérêt à raison de 5% l'an, à compter du jour d'expiration desdits délais.

Arrearage.

7.—Si le paiement n'est pas effectué un an après l'expiration des délais fixés au § 6, il est loisible à l'Administration créancière, en ce qui concerne les sommes dont le décompte est établi par le Bureau international, d'en informer ledit Bureau lequel invite l'Administration débitrice à payer dans un délai qui ne doit pas dépasser quatre mois.

Si le paiement des sommes prévues à l'alinéa précédent n'est pas effectué à l'expiration de ce nouveau délai, le Bureau international les fait figurer dans le décompte général annuel suivant, à l'Avoir de l'Administration créancière. Dans ce cas, des intérêts composés sont dus, c'est-à-dire que l'intérêt est ajouté au capital à la fin de chaque année jusqu'au moment du paiement.

En cas d'application des dispositions de l'alinéa précédent, le décompte général dont il s'agit et ceux des quatre années qui suivent ne doivent, autant que possible, pas contenir, dans les soldes du Tableau 2, des sommes à payer par l'Administration défailante à l'Administration créancière intéressée.

the invitation to pay sent by the creditor Administration to the debtor Administration when it is a question of accounts settled separately. That period may be extended to five months in relations between distant countries.

After those periods have expired, the sums due bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent a year, counting from the date of expiration of the said periods.

7. If payment has not been effected one year after the expiration of the periods fixed by Section 6, it is permissible for the creditor Administration, in the case of sums for which the account is made up by the International Bureau, to so advise the said Bureau, which invites the debtor Administration to pay within a period which shall not exceed four months.

If payment of the sums contemplated in the preceding paragraph is not effected at the expiration of that new period, the International Bureau enters them in the following general annual account, to the credit of the creditor Administration. In this case, compound interest is due; i. e., the interest is added to the principal at the end of each year, until the time of payment.

In case of application of the provisions of the preceding paragraph, the general annual account in question and those for the four years following, shall not, as far as possible, contain, in the balances of Table 2, any amounts to be paid by the defaulting Administration to the creditor Administration concerned.

2.—Chaque Administration a la faculté:

a) de donner aux coupons-réponse une perforation distinctive qui ne nuise pas à la lecture du texte et ne soit pas de nature à entraver la vérification de ces valeurs;

b) de modifier, à la main ou au moyen d'un procédé d'impression, le prix de vente indiqué sur les coupons.

4.—Sauf entente contraire, les coupons échangés sont envoyés annuellement, au plus tard dans un délai de trois mois après expiration de l'année, aux Administrations qui les ont émis, avec l'indication globale de leur nombre et de leur valeur.

5.—Aussitôt que deux Administrations se sont mises d'accord sur le nombre des coupons échangés dans leurs relations réciproques, elles dressent chacune et transmettent au Bureau international un relevé conforme au modèle C 27 ci-annexé indiquant le solde débiteur ou créditeur, si ce solde dépasse 25 francs et si un règlement spécial n'a pas été prévu entre les deux pays. A défaut d'accord dans un délai de six mois, l'Administration créancière établit son décompte et l'envoie au Bureau international.

Dans le cas où l'une des Administrations seulement fournit son relevé, les indications de celui-ci font foi.

Le solde est compris par le Bureau international dans un décompte annuel et le paiement a lieu dans les conditions prévues à l'article 175.

(b) Of modifying, by hand or by means of a printing process, the selling price indicated on the coupons.

3. In accounts between Administrations, the value of reply coupons is calculated at the rate of 28 centimes per unit.

4. Barring contrary agreement, exchanged coupons are sent annually, at the latest within a period of three months after the expiration of the year, to the Administrations which have issued them, with an indication of their total number and value.

5. As soon as two Administrations have come to an agreement as to the number of coupons exchanged in their reciprocal relations, they each make up and transmit to the International Bureau a statement conforming to Model C 27 hereto appended, indicating the debit or credit balance, if such balance exceeds 25 francs and if special settlement has not been provided for between the two countries. In the absence of an agreement within a period of six months, the creditor Administration makes up its account and sends it to the International Bureau.

In case that only one of the Administrations furnishes its statement, the indications of the latter are considered as valid.

The balance is included by the International Bureau in an annual account and payment takes place under the conditions prescribed by Article 175.

L'agent inscrit cette demande sur un registre, remplit à l'encre et en caractères latins toutes les indications que comporte la formule de carte d'identité, fixe sur celle-ci la photographie à l'endroit désigné, applique mi-partie sur cette photographie et mi-partie sur la carte un timbre-poste représentant la taxe perçue et annule cette figurine au moyen d'une empreinte bien nette du timbre à date.

Identity cards

1. Each Administration designates the offices or services which issue identity cards.

2. Such cards are made up on forms agreeing with Model C 28 hereto appended. Those forms are furnished at cost by the International Bureau.

3. At the time of application, the applicant submits his photograph and proves his identity. The Administrations fix the necessary requirements so that cards may not be issued until after careful investigation as to the identity of the applicant.

The employee enters that application in a register; fills in with ink, and in Latin characters, all the information called for by the form of identity card; affixes the photograph to it in the designated place; applies, half on the photograph and half on the card, a postage stamp representing the charge collected; and cancels that stamp by means of a very neat impression of the date stamp.

He then also applies an impression of that stamp or his official seal in such a manner that it appears both on the upper part of the photograph and on the card, then reproduces that impression on the third page of the card, signs the latter, and delivers it to the interested party after obtaining his signature.

4. When the appearance of the holder becomes changed to such an extent that it no longer agrees with the photograph or description, the card shall be renewed.

5. Each country reserves the right to issue identity cards for the international service in accordance with the rules applicable to cards used in its domestic service.

Administrations may attach a leaflet to Form C 28 to receive such special annotations as may be required in the domestic service.

Balance et liquidation des comptes.

1.—Le Bureau international est chargé d'opérer la balance et la liquidation des comptes de toute nature relatifs au service international des postes entre les Administrations qui déclarent vouloir emprunter son intermédiaire. Celles-ci se concertent, à cet effet, entre elles et avec ce Bureau.

2.—Sur la demande des Administrations intéressées, les décomptes télégraphiques peuvent aussi être indiqués au Bureau international pour entrer dans la compensation des soldes.

3.—Chaque Administration conserve le droit d'établir à son choix des décomptes spéciaux pour diverses branches du service et d'en opérer à sa convenance le règlement avec ses correspondants, sans employer l'intermédiaire du Bureau international, auquel elle se borne à indiquer pour quelles branches de service et pour quels pays elle réclame ses offices.

4.—Les Administrations qui empruntent l'intermédiaire du Bureau international pour la balance et la liquidation des décomptes peuvent cesser d'user de cet intermédiaire trois mois après en avoir donné avis.

ARTICLE 190.

Etablissement des comptes.

1.—Lorsque les comptes particuliers ont été débattus et arrêtés d'un commun accord, les Administrations débitrices transmettent aux Administrations créancières, pour chaque nature d'opérations, une reconnaissance, établie en francs et centimes, du montant de la balance des deux comptes particuliers, avec l'indication de l'objet de la créance et de la période à laquelle elle se rapporte.

ARTICLE 189

Balancing and settlement of accounts

1. The International Bureau is charged with effecting the balancing and settlement of accounts of all kinds relating to the international postal service between Administrations which express their desire to use its intermediary. The latter come to an agreement to that effect between themselves and with the Bureau.

2. At the request of the Administrations concerned, telegraphic accounts may also be transmitted to the International Bureau, to be included in the striking of balances.

3. Each Administration reserves the right to make up, at its option, special accounts for various branches of the service, and to settle them, at its convenience, with its correspondents, without employing the intermediary of the International Bureau, to which it merely gives notice of those branches of the service and the countries for which it requests its offices.

4. Administrations which employ the intermediary of the International Bureau in balancing and settling accounts may cease to use that intermediary three months after having given notice thereof.

ARTICLE 190

Preparation of accounts

1. When the detailed accounts have been checked and agreed upon, the debtor Administrations transmit to the creditor Administrations, for each class of operations, an acknowledgment, stated in francs and centimes, of the amount of the balance of the two detailed accounts, with indication of the subject of the credit and the period to which it relates.

General accounts.

Sauf entente contraire, l'Administration qui désire, pour sa comptabilité intérieure, avoir des comptes généraux, doit les établir elle-même et les soumettre à l'acceptation de l'Administration correspondante.

Barring contrary agreement, an Administration which desires, for its own accounting purposes, to have general accounts, shall make them up itself, and submit them to the corresponding Administration for acceptance.

Other systems.

Les Administrations peuvent s'entendre pour pratiquer un autre système dans leurs relations.

Administrations may come to agreements to apply another system in their relations.

Credit tables.

2.—Chaque Administration adresse au Bureau international mensuellement ou trimestriellement, si des circonstances spéciales le rendent désirable, un tableau indiquant son Avoir du chef des décomptes particuliers ainsi que le total des sommes dont elle est créancière envers chacune des Administrations contractantes; chaque créance figurant dans ce tableau doit être justifiée par une reconnaissance de l'Administration débitrice.

2. Each Administration addresses to the International Bureau monthly, or quarterly, if special circumstances render it desirable, a table indicating its credit resulting from the detailed accounts, as well as the total of the sums due to it by each of the contracting Administrations; each credit figuring in that table shall be justified by an acknowledgment from the debtor Administration.

Ce tableau doit parvenir au Bureau international le 19 de chaque mois ou du premier mois de chaque trimestre au plus tard. A défaut, il n'est compris que dans la liquidation du mois ou du trimestre suivant.

That table shall reach the International Bureau by the 19th of each month or of the first month of each quarter at the latest. Otherwise, it is carried over for settlement to the account for the following month or quarter.

Examination
by Bureau.

3.—Le Bureau international examine, en rapprochant les reconnaissances, si les tableaux sont exacts. Toute rectification nécessaire est notifiée aux Administrations intéressées.

3. The International Bureau examines, by comparing the acknowledgments, whether the tables are correct. Notice of any necessary correction is given to the Administrations concerned.

Le Doit de chaque Administration envers une autre est reporté dans un tableau récapitulatif; l'addition des sommes portées dans les diverses colonnes de ce tableau forme le solde débiteur global de chaque Administration.

The debit of each Administration to another is carried over to a recapitulatory table; the sum of the amounts entered in the various columns of that table constitutes the total debit balance of each Administration.

ARTICLE 191.

Balance générale.

1.—Le Bureau international réunit les tableaux et les récapitulations en une balance générale indiquant:

a) le total du Doit et de l'Avoir de chaque Administration;

b) le solde débiteur ou le solde créditeur de chaque Administration;

c) les sommes à payer par les Administrations débitrices et la répartition de ces sommes entre les Administrations créancières.

ARTICLE 191

General balance sheet

1. The International Bureau assembles the tables and recapitulations into a general balance sheet indicating:

(a) The total debit and credit of each Administration;

(b) The debit or credit balance of each Administration;

(c) The sums to be paid by the debtor Administrations, and the distribution of those sums among the creditor Administrations.

General balance sheet.

Il veille, dans la mesure du possible, à ce que chaque Administration n'ait à effectuer, pour se libérer, qu'un ou deux paiements distincts.

Toutefois, l'Administration qui se trouve habituellement à découvert envers une autre Administration d'une somme supérieure à 50,000 francs a le droit de réclamer des acomptes.

Ces acomptes sont inscrits, tant par l'Administration créancière que par l'Administration débitrice, au bas des tableaux à adresser au Bureau international.

2.—Les reconnaissances transmises au Bureau international avec les tableaux sont classées par Administration.

Elles servent de base pour l'établissement de la liquidation des comptes de chacune des Administrations intéressées. Dans cette liquidation doivent figurer:

a) les sommes afférentes aux comptes spéciaux portant sur les divers échanges;

b) le total des sommes résultant de tous les comptes spéciaux par rapport à chacune des Administrations intéressées;

c) les totaux des sommes dues à toutes les Administrations créancières pour chaque branche du service ainsi que leur total général.

Au bas du bordereau de liquidation, la balance est établie entre le Doit et l'Avoir résultant des tableaux adressés par les Administrations au Bureau international. Le montant net du Doit ou de l'Avoir doit être égal au solde débiteur ou au solde créditeur porté dans la balance générale. En outre, le bordereau indique les Administrations en faveur desquelles le paiement doit être effectué par l'Administration débitrice.

Les bordereaux de liquidation doivent être transmis aux Administrations intéressées, par le Bureau international, au plus tard le 22 de chaque mois.

As far as possible, it sees that each Administration does not have to make more than one or two separate payments in order to settle its obligations.

However, an Administration which habitually finds a sum exceeding 50,000 francs due to it by another Administration has the right to claim payments on account.

Such remittances are entered, by both the creditor and the debtor Administrations, at the bottom of the tables which they address to the International Bureau.

2. The acknowledgments transmitted to the International Bureau with the tables are classified according to Administrations.

They serve as the basis for settlement of the accounts of each of the Administrations concerned. In the balance-sheet shall appear:

(a) The sums relative to the special accounts concerning the various exchanges;

(b) The total of the sums resulting from all the special accounts relating to each of the Administrations concerned;

(c) The totals of the sums due to all the creditor Administrations for each branch of the service, as well as their grand total.

That total must be equal to the debit appearing in the recapitulation.

At the bottom of the balance-sheet, the balance is struck between the debit and the credit resulting from the tables addressed by the Administrations to the International Bureau. The net amount of the debit or credit must be equal to the debit or credit balance carried into the general balance sheet. Moreover, the sheet indicates the Administrations in favor of which the payment is to be effected by the debtor Administration.

The balance sheets shall be sent to the Administrations concerned by the International Bureau by the 22d of each month at the latest.

Classification of acknowledgments.

Payement.

Payment.

Le payement des sommes dues, en vertu d'une liquidation, par une Administration à une autre Administration, doit être effectué aussitôt que possible et au plus tard quinze jours après la réception du bordereau de liquidation par l'Administration débitrice. Les dispositions de l'article 175, § 1, sont applicables en ce qui concerne les autres conditions de payement. Les dispositions du § 6 dudit article font règle en cas de non-payement du solde dans le délai fixé.

Ante, p. 2168.

Small balances.

Les soldes débiteurs ou créditeurs n'excédant pas 500 francs peuvent être reportés à la liquidation du mois suivant, à la condition toutefois que les Administrations intéressées soient en rapport mensuel avec le Bureau international. Il est fait mention de ce report dans les récapitulations et dans les liquidations pour les Administrations créancières et débitrices. L'Administration débitrice fait parvenir, le cas échéant, à l'Administration créancière, une reconnaissance de la somme due, pour être portée au prochain tableau.

ARTICLE 192

Payment

Payment of the sums due, by virtue of a balance sheet, by one Administration to another Administration, shall be made as soon as possible, and at the latest fifteen days after receipt of the balance sheet by the debtor Administration. The provisions of Article 175, Section 1, are applicable in regard to the other conditions of payment. The provisions of Section 6 of the said Article govern in case of non-payment of the balance within the period fixed.

Debit or credit balances not exceeding 500 francs may be carried over to the balance sheet for the following month; provided, however, that the Administrations concerned are in monthly communication with the International Bureau. Mention is made of such carrying over in the recapitulations and in the settlement accounts for the creditor and debtor Administrations. The debtor Administration, in such a case, sends the creditor Administration an acknowledgment of the sum due, to be carried over to the next table.

A cet effet, les Administrations lui font parvenir une série aussi complète que possible de renseignements statistiques sur formules conformes aux modèles C 30 et C 31 ci-annexés. 2.—Les Administrations qui ne disposent pas d'un service aérien acheminent les correspondances-avion par les voies les plus rapides utilisées par la poste.

4. Closed air-mail dispatches shall be sent by the route requested by the Administration of the country of origin, provided that such route is utilized by the Administration of the transit country for the transmission of its own dispatches.

5. ## ARTICLE 14

Aerial transportation charges for closed mails

1. The provisions of Article 75 of the Convention concerning transit charges apply to air-mail correspondence only for its transmission, if any, by land or sea.

The aerial transportation charges for air-mail articles sent in closed dispatches are collectible from the Administration of the country of origin.

2. Every Administration which assures the transportation of air-mail correspondence by the air route, as intermediate Administration, is entitled, on that account, to payment of transportation charges. These charges are computed in accordance with the actual length of the routes over which the dispatch or the articles have been carried. If the plane stops at several airports, the payment is due as far as the airport where the unloading takes place.

3. Transportation charges must also be paid for transportation within the country of destination. These payments must be uniform for all the routes traversed in the domestic service; they are computed in accordance with the average length of all the routes traversed in the domestic service and their importance for the international service.

4. The transportation charges relative to one and the same air route are uniform for all Administrations using that service without participating in the operating costs.

5. With the exceptions provided for in Sections 6 and 7 following, the aerial transportation charges are payable to the Postal Administration of the country in which the airport where the dispatches have been taken in charge by the air service is located.

6. An Administration which delivers to an air-transport enterprise mails intended for conveyance by several separate air services in succession may, if it has agreed elle est d'accord avec les Administrations intermédiaires, régler directement avec cette entreprise les frais de transport pour la totalité du parcours. Les Administrations intermédiaires ont, de leur côté, le droit de demander l'application pure et simple des dispositions du § 5.

7.—Par dérogation aux stipulations des §§ 5 et 6, est réservé à chaque Administration dont dépend un service aérien le droit de percevoir directement de chaque Administration qui utilise ce service les frais de transport afférents à la totalité du parcours.

8.—Le tarif de base à appliquer aux règlements de compte entre les Administrations du chef des transports aériens ordinaires (services ordinaires) est fixé, par kilogramme de poids brut et par kilomètre, à 6 millièmes de franc au maximum. Ce tarif est appliqué proportionnellement aux fractions de kilogramme.

Les dépêches ou correspondances transportées dans le service interne des pays sont soumises au même tarif, à moins que les pays correspondants ne se soient mis d'accord pour ne percevoir aucune bonification du chef de ce transport.

10.—Les frais de transport précités sont dus aussi pour les correspondances exemptes de frais de transit. Les dépêches ou correspondances mal dirigées ou détournées sont considérées, en ce qui concerne le paiement des frais de transport comme si elles avaient suivi leur voie normale. Cependant, pour le transport de dépêches à réexpédier par des services extraordinaires, l'Admiwith the intermediate Administrations, settle directly with that enterprise for the transportation charges for the whole route. The intermediate Administrations, for their part, have the right to request the application pure and simple of the provisions of Section 5.

7. By exception to the provisions of Sections 5 and 6, every Administration maintaining an air service reserves the right to collect directly from each Administration utilizing that service the transportation charges for the whole route.

8. The basic rate to be applied in the settlement of accounts between Administrations for ordinary aerial transportation (ordinary services) is fixed, for each kilogram of gross weight and for each kilometer, at 6 thousandths of a franc at most. That rate is applied proportionally to fractions of a kilogram.

The dispatches or articles carried by the domestic service of the countries are subject to the same rate, unless the corresponding countries agree to collect no payment for such transportation.

9. The transportation rate specified above does not apply to transportation effected by means of services whose creation and upkeep give rise to extraordinary expenses (extraordinary services). The transportation charges relative to those services are fixed, for each kilogram, by the Administrations to which such services belong; they are applied proportionally to fractions of a kilogram.

10. The transportation charges mentioned are also payable for articles which are exempt from transit charges. Misdirected or missent dispatches or articles are considered, for purposes of payment of transportation charges, as having followed their normal route. However, for the conveyance of dispatches to be forwarded by extraordinary services, the intermediary Administration may re-

Cette liste générale, qui doit correspondre au modèle AV 1, est répartie sans délai entre les Administrations.

Le Bureau international est chargé également de dresser des cartes indiquant les lignes postales de communications aériennes intérieures et internationales de tous les pays.

4.—A titre de renseignement provisoire, une copie de la liste AV 1 visée au § 1 est transmise directement par chaque Administration à toutes les Administrations qui en expriment le désir.

5.—Les Administrations communiquent, en outre, régulièrement, au moins quinze jours avant le commencement de chaque saison, à toutes les Administrations avec lesquelles elles sont reliées par des lignes aériennes, les horaires complets des lignes aériennes de leurs réseaux intérieur et international. Dans les relations avec les autres Administrations, ces indications sont fournies seulement sur demande.

That general list, which shall conform to Model A V 1, is distributed without delay among the Administrations.

The International Bureau is also charged with making up maps indicating the lines of domestic and international air-mail communications of all countries.

Dans ce cas, les dispositions des articles 19, 21 et 22 ci-après sont appliquées à la constatation du poids et à l'établissement des comptes, étant entendu que les relevés AV 3 et AV 4 doivent être établis mensuellement pour tous les transports aériens effectués.

In such a case, the provisions of Articles 19, 20, and 21 hereafter are applied to the ascertainment of weight and preparation of accounts, with the understanding that the statements AV 3 and AV 4 are to be made up monthly for all air transportation effected.

ARTICLE 18

Preparation of ordinary or aerial dispatches during the statistical periods for air-mail transportation charges

However, during such statistical periods, the labels or addresses of dispatches containing air-mail correspondence shall bear the conspicuous notation Statistique-avion (air-mail statistics).

ARTICLE 19

Fixing the weight of air-mail dispatches and correspondence

1. During the statistical periods, the date of dispatch and the gross weight of the mail are indicated on the label or outside address of the dispatch. The inclusion of air-mail dispatches in another dispatch of the same kind is prohibited.

If the letters and post cards, as well as the other articles, are com-

Dans ce cas, le poids de l'emballage extérieur (sac ou paquet) est ajouté au poids des autres objets.

En cas d'emploi d'un sac collecteur, le poids de ce sac est négligé.

2.—Dans le cas où des correspondances à découvert, destinées à être réacheminées par voie aérienne, sont comprises dans une dépêche ordinaire ou dans une dépêche-avion, ces correspondances, réunies en une liasse spéciale étiquetée «Par avion», sont accompagnées d'un bordereau conforme au modèle AV 2 ci-annexé. Le poids des correspondances en transit à découvert est indiqué séparément pour chaque pays de destination. Si une dépêche-avion renferme des correspondances-avion en transit à découvert à destination de plusieurs pays pour lesquels les frais de transit sont uniformes, on inscrit ces frais en commun comme une position du bordereau AV 2. Dans les relations entre les pays qui se sont mis d'accord pour ne percevoir aucune bonification du chef du réacheminement par la voie aérienne dans leur réseau interne, le poids des correspondances à découvert pour le pays de destination même n'est pas indiqué. La feuille d'avis est revêtue de la mention «Bordereau AV 2». Les pays de transit ont la faculté de demander l'emploi de bordereaux spéciaux AV 2 mentionnant dans un ordre fixe les pays et les lignes aériennes les plus importants.

3.—Ces indications sont vérifiées par le bureau d'échange destinataire. Si ce bureau constate que le poids réel des dépêches diffère de plus de 100 grammes et celui des correspondances à découvert de plus de 20 grammes du poids annoncé, il rectifie l'étiquette ou le bordereau AV 2 et signale immédiatement l'erreur au bureau binned in a dispatch carried by routes for which a reduced transportation charge is applied to A. O., the weight of each of the two classes must be shown in addition to the total weight on the label or outer address of the dispatch. In such case, the weight of the outer wrapping (sack or package) is added to the weight of the other articles.

If a collector sack is used, its weight is ignored.

2. In case that open-mail correspondence intended to be redispached by the air route is included in an ordinary or air-mail dispatch, such correspondence, made up into a special bundle labeled Par avion (by air mail), is accompanied by a list conforming to Model A V 2 hereto appended. The weight of the correspondence in transit in open mail is indicated separately for each country of destination. If an air-mail dispatch contains transit air mail destined to several countries for which the transit charges are uniform, these charges are shown as one entry on the list A V 2. In relations between countries which have agreed not to collect any payment for redispach by their domestic service, the weight of the articles in open mail for the country of destination itself is not indicated. The letter bill is provided with the note "Bordereau A V 2" (List A V 2). Transit countries have the option of requesting the use of special lists A V 2 showing the most important countries and air routes in a fixed order.

3. Those entries are verified by the exchange office of destination. If that office finds that the actual weight of the dispatches differs by more than 100 grams, and that of the open mail articles by more than 20 grams, from the weight announced, it corrects the label or the list A V 2 and immediately reports the error to the Liste des dépêches-avion closes.

List of closed air mails.

Aussitôt que possible et, en tout cas, dans un délai d'un mois après chaque période de statistique, les Administrations qui ont expédié des dépêches-avion closes envoient, sur une formule C 22 appropriée, la liste de ces dépêches aux différentes Administrations dont elles ont emprunté les services aériens, y compris, le cas échéant, celle de destination.

List of closed air mails

As soon as possible, and in any case within a period of one month after each statistical period, the Administrations which have dispatched closed air mails send a list of such dispatches, on an appropriate Form C 22, to the different Administrations whose air services they have used, including that of destination, if occasion arises.

ARTICLE 21.

Compte des frais de transport aérien réglés sur la base des statistiques.

Settlement on basis of statistics.

ARTICLE 21

Account of air-transportation charges settled on the basis of statistics

1. During the statistical periods, the intermediate Administrations take note, on a form agreeing with Model A V 3 hereto appended, of the weights indicated on the labels or outside addresses of the air-mail dispatches which they have reforwarded by the air route, either in their domestic services or beyond the frontiers of their countries. As concerns air-mail articles in open mail which reach them from other Administrations and which they forward by air, a statement like Form A V 4 hereto appended is prepared in accordance with the indications appearing on the lists A V 2. Air-mail articles contained in ordinary dispatches are subjected to the same procedure. Separate statements are prepared for each dispatching exchange office of air dispatches or air-mail articles in open mail.

2.—Les Administrations de destination qui assurent le réacheminement de dépêches-avion ou de correspondances-avion par la voie aérienne dans leur réseau interne procèdent de la même manière.

3.—Aussitôt que possible et, au plus tard, six semaines après la clôture des opérations de statistique, les relevés AV 3 et AV 4 sont transmis en double expédition aux bureaux d'échange expéditeurs pour être revêtus de leur acceptation. Ces bureaux, après avoir accepté les relevés, les transmettent à leur tour à leur Administration centrale qui en fait parvenir un exemplaire à l'Administration centrale créancière.

4.—Si l'Administration créancière n'a reçu aucune observation rectificative dans un intervalle de trois mois à compter de l'envoi, les relevés sont considérés comme admis de plein droit. Dans les relations entre pays éloignés, ce délai est porté à quatre mois.

2. The Administrations of destination which assure the reforwarding of air dispatches or of air-mail articles by air in their domestic services proceed in the same manner.

3. As soon as possible, and at the latest six weeks after the close of statistical operations, the forms A V 3 and A V 4 are sent in duplicate to the dispatching exchange offices for acceptance. Those offices, after accepting the statements, send them in turn to their central Administration, which forwards a copy to the central Administration of the creditor country.

4. If the creditor Administration has not received any statement of differences within an interval of three months, counting from the date of transmittal, the statements are considered as automatically accepted. In relations between distant countries, that period is extended to four months.

Compte des frais de transport aérien.

2.—Le soin de dresser ces comptes incombe à l'Administration créancière qui les transmet à l'Administration débitrice.

1. The gross weights of the dispatches, and the net weights increased by 10 per cent of the articles in open mail, shown in the statements A V 3 or A V 4, are multiplied by a figure determined by the frequency of the summer and winter services; the products thus obtained serve as the basis for individual accounts showing, in francs, the transportation charges due to each Administration for the current six-month period.

2. The duty of preparing those accounts is incumbent upon the creditor Administration, which transmits them to the debtor Administration.

PROTOCOLE FINAL DES DIS- POSITIONS CONCERNANT LE TRANSPORT DE LA POSTE AUX LETTRES PAR VOIE AÉRIENNE.	FINAL PROTOCOL OF THE PROVISIONS CONCERN- ING THE TRANSPORTA- TION OF REGULAR MAILS BY AIR
---	--

I.

Frais de transport aérien des dépêches closes.

Aerial transportation charges for closed mails.

Les Administrations de l'Inde
Républiques Soviétiques Socialistes ont la faculté de percevoir, pour chaque parcours de leur réseau aérien interne, les frais de transport prévus à l'article 14.

Ante, p. 2240.

I

Aerial transportation charges for closed mails

The Administrations of British India and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics have the option of collecting, for each section of their domestic air systems, the transportation charges provided

II.

Faculté de réduire l'échelon de poids unitaire des correspon-dances-avion.

Option of reducing weight unit.

Les Administrations dont le système de poids le permet ont la faculté d'adopter des échelons d'un poids inférieur à celui de 20 grammes prévu à l'article 5, § 2.
Dans ce cas, la surtaxe est fixée suivant l'échelon de poids adopté.

Ante, p. 2235.

II

Option of reducing the weight-unit for air-mail correspondence

Administrations whose system of weights permits it have the option of adopting units of weight lower than that of 20 grams provided for in Article 5, Section 2.
In that case, the surcharge is fixed in accordance with the scale of weight adopted.

III.

Surtaxes exceptionnelles en faveur de certains pays d'Europe.

Exceptional surcharges.

Les Administrations d'Europe qui, par suite de la situation géographique de leurs pays, éprou-vent des difficultés à adopter une surtaxe uniforme pour toute l'Europe sont autorisées à percevoir des surtaxes proportionnelles aux distances, suivant les dispositions de l'article 5, § 2.

Ante, p. 2235.

Cette faculté est accordée également aux autres pays d'Europe pour leur trafic avec les pays mentionnés à l'alinéa précédent.

Fait à Buenos Aires, le 23 mai 1939.

III

Exceptional surcharges in favor of certain European countries

Administrations of Europe which, due to the geographic situation of their countries, find it difficult to adopt a uniform surcharge for all Europe, are authorized to collect surcharges in proportion to the distances, in accordance with the provisions of Article 5, Section 2.

That option is also granted to other European countries in their relations with the countries mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

The American Consul General (Pinkerton) to the Prime Minister of the Dominion of New Zealand (Savage)

AMERICAN CONSULATE GENERAL
WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND
January 30, 1940

SIR:

I have the honor to set forth below the terms of the Arrangement between the United States and New Zealand relating to the importation into New Zealand of aircraft and aircraft components manufactured in the United States as understood by me to have been approved in the course of the negotiations recently conducted by the Consulate General with the Office of the Prime Minister:

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF ARRANGEMENT

(a) This Arrangement applies to civil aircraft and to aircraft components constructed in the continental United States of America, including Alaska, and exported to the Dominion of New Zealand.

Application.

(b) This Arrangement shall extend to complete aircraft of all types, and to aircraft components when imported into New Zealand as merchandise and not as a part of a complete aircraft.

(c) For the purpose of classifying import procedure, aircraft and aircraft components are divided into three general classes of aircraft Units, as follows:

Classification of aircraft units.

- (1) Class I Units are defined as any complete aircraft or aircraft components having type approvals in themselves, or any major assemblies of aircraft structural parts exported not as a part of a complete aircraft.

Items in this class include, among others, complete aircraft, aircraft engines, propellers, appliances, and such major assemblies of structural parts as wings, tail surfaces, ailerons and fuselages.

- (2) Class II Units are defined as any assemblies or parts, other than those included in Class I, which directly influence the airworthiness of an aircraft or aircraft component, except small standard parts and materials. Items in this class include components not having type approvals in themselves, such as any structural part or assembly of an aircraft, and any functioning or structural part of an engine or propeller, except small standard parts.

- (3) Class III Units are defined as small standard parts and materials not having type approvals in themselves. Items in this class include, among others, sound-proofing materials, cowling, ventilation equipment, tires, bolts, nuts, rivets, cotter pins, and standard ball or roller bearings.

ARTICLE II—IMPORTATION OF CLASS I UNITS

Importation of Class I Units into New Zealand.

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand will confer the same validity upon Certificates of Airworthiness for Export issued by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States for complete aircraft subsequently to be registered in New Zealand, and for other Class I Units imported into New Zealand, as if such certificates had been issued pursuant to the regulations in force on the subject in New Zealand, upon receipt of the applicable documents and technical data specified in special requirements prescribed by the New Zealand authorities pursuant to Article III of this Arrangement.

“Certificate of Airworthiness for Export” defined.

As used in this Arrangement, the term “Certificate of Airworthiness for Export” means a document issued by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States, certifying that, at the time of the issuance thereof, a specified aircraft Unit identified by specific markings or otherwise, has been found, after inspection by a qualified representative of such authorities, to comply with any special requirements specified by the New Zealand authorities as provided in Article III of this Arrangement; and

- (1) to conform to a type which the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States have found to be of proper design, material, specifications, construction and performance for safe operation; or
- (2) to be airworthy (either generally or subject to special conditions).

ARTICLE III—SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Special requirements.

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand may make the validity conferred upon Certificates of Airworthiness for Export and the importation and use of Class II and Class III Units dependent upon the fulfillment of any special requirements which are for the time being specified by them for the issuance of certificates of airworthiness, or for the use of similar Units, in New Zealand, provided such requirements shall have been communicated to the United States authorities 60 days or more prior to the date of shipment of the aircraft Unit or Units involved. Pursuant to Article VII, the details of such special requirements shall be communicated by the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand directly to the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States.

ARTICLE IV—IMPORTATION OF CLASS II UNITS

Inspection Tag, etc., required.

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand will approve the importation and use of Class II Units provided each Unit or shipment of like Units is accompanied by an Inspection Tag and by the technical data specified in the special requirements prescribed by the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand pursuant to Article III of this Arrangement.

As used in this Arrangement, the term "Inspection Tag" means a document signed by a qualified representative of the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States, certifying that at the time of issuance thereof, the specified Unit to which the tag is affixed has been inspected and approved as airworthy by such authorities.

"Inspection Tag" defined.

ARTICLE V—IMPORTATION OF CLASS III UNITS

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand will approve the importation and use of Class III Units provided each Unit or shipment of like Units is accompanied by a manufacturer's invoice which shall set forth

Manufacturer's invoice required.

- (1) that such Units were manufactured for use with aircraft or aircraft components for which the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States issue Certificates of Airworthiness for Export;
- (2) that the Units are new and were manufactured in accordance with approved specifications, naming the applicable specifications;
- (3) full details of the conditions under which the Unit may be operated, such as permissible loads and information of like nature, if necessary; and
- (4) with respect to materials, their conformity with certain stated specifications and a report of tests of specimens taken from the material under consideration.

ARTICLE VI—COMPULSORY AND NON-COMPULSORY MODIFICATION

(a) As used in this Arrangement, the term "compulsory modification" means a modification of an aircraft Unit required by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States. The term "noncompulsory modification" means a modification approved, but not required, with respect to an aircraft Unit, by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States.

Terms defined.

(b) The competent aeronautical authorities of the United States shall arrange for the effective communication to the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand of the Particulars of compulsory modifications affecting aircraft Units of such make and model as have been imported under this Arrangement.

Notice of modifications.

(c) The competent aeronautical authorities of the United States shall, to the extent that they may from time to time deem practicable and desirable, advise the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand of the provisions of noncompulsory modifications affecting aircraft Units of such make and model as have been imported pursuant to this Arrangement.

ARTICLE VII—DIRECT CORRESPONDENCE

(a) The competent aeronautical authorities of each Party shall keep the competent aeronautical authorities of the other Party fully and currently informed of all their regulations in force in regard to the airworthiness of aircraft Units and any changes therein that may from time to time be made.

(b) In the event that, as a result of difficulties encountered in service (such as structural failure, etc.), the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand should suspend or prohibit the further operation of aircraft imported pursuant to the terms of this Arrangement, they shall promptly inform the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States of the nature of the difficulties encountered.

(c) The furnishing of the information required by this Arrangement and the notification of special requirements pursuant to Article III shall be communicated by the competent aeronautical authorities of one Party directly to the competent aeronautical authorities of the other Party. All questions of procedure to be followed in the application of the provisions of the present Arrangement shall be the subject of direct correspondence, whenever necessary, between the competent aeronautical authorities of the Parties.

ARTICLE VIII—TERMINATION

Duration of arrangement.

The present Arrangement shall be subject to termination by either Party upon six months' notice given in writing to the other Party.

Effective date.

I should be pleased if you would inform me whether your Government accepts the foregoing text as the text which was agreed to in the course of the recent negotiations. If so, my Government suggests that the Arrangement become effective on March 1, 1940.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

L. C. PINKERTON,

The Right Honorable MICHAEL JOSEPH SAVAGE, P. C., *Prime Minister of the Dominion
Wellington.*

"Certificate of Compliance" defined.

As used in this Arrangement, the term "Certificate of Compliance" means a document issued by the competent aeronautical authorities Anticipation of issue in urgent cases.

(e) The competent aeronautical authorities of the United States will be advised directly by the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand of the issue or contemplated issue of a License to Import in respect to a Class I or a Class II Unit of American manufacture.

Notice of issuance.

2. The competent aeronautical authorities of the United States shall furnish the following documents and data upon receipt of advice from the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand that a License to Import has been or will be issued:

the American Consul General (Pinkerton)*

DOMINION OF NEW ZEALAND

WELLINGTON.

28th. February, 1940.

SIR:

Agreement by New Zealand.

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your note of January 30th, 1940, requesting to be informed whether my Government accepts the text set forth in the note under acknowledgement as the text of the Arrangement between New Zealand and the United States relating to the importation into New Zealand of aircraft and aircraft components manufactured in the United States, which was agreed to in the course of the negotiations recently conducted by the Office of the Prime Minister with the Consulate General. The text as set forth in the note from the Consul General is as follows:—

"ARRANGEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE DOMINION OF NEW ZEALAND RELATING TO THE IMPORTATION INTO NEW ZEALAND OF AIRCRAFT AND AIRCRAFT COMPONENTS MANUFACTURED IN THE UNITED STATES

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF ARRANGEMENT

(a) This Arrangement applies to civil aircraft and to aircraft components constructed in the continental United States of America, including Alaska, and exported to the Dominion of New Zealand.

(b) This Arrangement shall extend to complete aircraft of all types, and to aircraft components when imported into New Zealand as merchandise and not as a part of a complete aircraft.

(c) For the purpose of classifying import procedure, aircraft and aircraft components are divided into three general classes of aircraft Units, as follows:—

- (1) Class I Units are defined as any complete aircraft or aircraft components having type approvals in themselves, or any major assemblies of aircraft structural parts exported not as a part of a complete aircraft.

Items in this class include, among others, complete aircraft, aircraft engines, propellers, appliances, and such major assemblies of structural parts as wings, tail surfaces, ailerons and fuselages.

- (2) Class II Units are defined as any assemblies or parts, other than those included in Class I, which directly influence the airworthiness of an aircraft or aircraft component, except small standard parts and materials. Items in this class include components not having type approvals in themselves, such as any structural part or assembly of an aircraft, and any functioning or structural part of an engine or propeller, except small standard parts.

- (3) Class III Units are defined as small standard parts and materials not having type approvals in themselves. Items in this class include, among others, sound-proofing materials, cowling, ventilation equipment, tires, bolts, nuts, rivets, cotter pins, and standard ball or roller bearings.

ARTICLE II—IMPORTATION OF CLASS I UNITS

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand will confer the same validity upon Certificates of Airworthiness for Export issued by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States for complete aircraft subsequently to be registered in New Zealand, and for other Class I Units imported into New Zealand, as if such certificates had been issued pursuant to the regulations in force on the subject in New Zealand, upon receipt of the applicable documents and technical data specified in special requirements prescribed by the New Zealand authorities pursuant to Article III of this arrangement.

As used in this Arrangement, the term "Certificate of Airworthiness for Export" means a document issued by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States, certifying that, at the time of the issuance thereof, a specified aircraft Unit identified by specific markings or otherwise, has been found, after inspection by a qualified representative of such authorities, to comply with any special requirements specified by the New Zealand authorities as provided in Article III of this Arrangement; and

- (1) to conform to a type which the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States have found to be of proper design, material, specifications, construction and performance for safe operation; or

- (2) to be airworthy (either generally or subject to special conditions).

ARTICLE III—SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand may make the validity conferred upon Certificates of Airworthiness for Export and the importation and use of Class II and Class III Units dependent upon the fulfilment of any special requirements which are for the time being specified by them for the issuance of certificates of airworthiness, or for the use of similar Units, in New Zealand, provided such requirements shall have been communicated to the United States authorities 60 days or more prior to the date of shipment of the aircraft Unit or Units involved. Pursuant to Article VII, the details of such special requirements shall be communicated by the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand directly to the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States.

ARTICLE IV—IMPORTATION OF CLASS II UNITS

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand will approve the importation and use of Class II Units provided each Unit or shipment of like Units is accompanied by an Inspection Tag and by the technical data specified in the special requirements prescribed by the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand pursuant to Article III of this Arrangement.

As used in this Arrangement, the term "Inspection Tag" means a document signed by a qualified representative of the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States, certifying that at the time of issuance thereof, the specified Unit to which the tag is affixed has been inspected and approved as airworthy by such authorities.

ARTICLE V—IMPORTATION OF CLASS III UNITS

The competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand will approve the importation and use of Class III Units provided each Unit or shipment of like Units is accompanied by a manufacturer's invoice which shall set forth

- (1) that such Units were manufactured for use with aircraft or aircraft components for which the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States issue Certificates of Airworthiness for Export;
- (2) that the Units are new and were manufactured in accordance with approved specifications, naming the applicable specifications;
- (3) full details of the conditions under which the Unit may be operated, such as permissible loads and information of like nature, if necessary; and
- (4) with respect to materials, their conformity with certain stated specifications and a report of tests of specimens taken from the material under consideration.

ARTICLE VI—COMPULSORY AND NON-COMPULSORY MODIFICATION

(a) As used in this Arrangement, the term “compulsory modification” means a modification of an aircraft Unit required by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States. The term “non-compulsory modification” means a modification approved, but not required, with respect to an aircraft Unit, by the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States.

(b) The competent aeronautical authorities of the United States shall arrange for the effective communication to the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand of the Particulars of compulsory modifications affecting aircraft Units of such make and model as have been imported under this Arrangement.

(c) The competent aeronautical authorities of the United States shall, to the extent that they may from time to time deem practicable and desirable, advise the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand of the provisions of non-compulsory modifications affecting aircraft Units of such make and model as have been imported pursuant to this Arrangement.

ARTICLE VII—DIRECT CORRESPONDENCE

(a) The competent aeronautical authorities of each Party shall keep the competent aeronautical authorities of the other Party fully and currently informed of all their regulations in force in regard to the airworthiness of aircraft Units and any changes therein that may from time to time be made.

(b) In the event that, as a result of difficulties encountered in service (such as structural failure, etc.) the competent aeronautical authorities of New Zealand should suspend or prohibit the further operation of aircraft imported pursuant to the terms of this Arrangement, they shall promptly inform the competent aeronautical authorities of the United States of the nature of the difficulties encountered.

(c) The furnishing of the information required by this Arrangement and the notification of special requirements pursuant to Article III shall be communicated by the competent aeronautical authorities of one Party directly to the competent aeronautical authorities of the other Party. All questions of procedure to be followed in the application of the provisions of the present Arrangement shall be the subject of direct correspondence, whenever necessary, between the competent aeronautical authorities of the Parties.

ARTICLE VIII—TERMINATION

The present Arrangement shall be subject to termination by either Party upon six months' notice given in writing to the other Party.”

I am glad to assure you that my Government accepts the foregoing text as the text which was agreed to by it in the course of the recent negotiations. My Government also accepts your Government's suggestion that the Arrangement become effective on March 1, 1940, and will accordingly regard it as becoming effective on that date.

I have the honour to be Sir,
Your obedient servant,

P. FRASER
for the Prime Minister

L. C. PINKERTON, Esquire,

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to refer to Article III of the Convention between Panamá and the United States regarding the construction of a Trans-Isthmian Highway,<sup>1</sup> which as Your Excellency will recall provides that:

“Prior to the undertaking of further construction on the Trans-Isthmian Highway, each Government will appoint an equal number of representatives, who will constitute a joint board with authority to adjust questions of detail regarding the location, design and construction of the portions of the Highway falling under the jurisdiction of each Government. Questions of detail on which the board may fail to reach an agreement will be referred to the two Governments for settlement.”

My Government has given consideration to the constitution of the Joint Highway Board contemplated in the foregoing Article of the Convention and it believes that the Board might well consist of only two members, one to be appointed by the Government of the Republic of Panamá and one to be appointed by the President of the United States. My Government has directed me to submit its views in the matter to Your Excellency with the request that the Panamanian Government be good enough to indicate whether it approves the constitution of the Joint Highway Board in the manner suggested.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it is provided in the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending Act was extended by Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), as follows:

Ante, p. 107.
19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-
1354; Supp. V. §§ 1351-
1352.

"Sec. 350. (a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and for such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists.

The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part."

WHEREAS, pursuant to the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, I entered into a Trade Agreement on November 17, 1938, with His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India, in respect of Canada;

53 Stat. 2348.

WHEREAS, by my proclamation of November 25, 1938, I did make public the said Trade Agreement, including two Schedules annexed thereto, and in my proclamation provided that the provisions of Article VII of the said Agreement should be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and the citizens thereof on and after January 1, 1939;

53 Stat. 2393.

WHEREAS, Article VII of the said Agreement provides as follows:

"1. Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of Canada enumerated and described in Schedule II annexed to this Agreement shall, on their importation into the United States of America, be exempt from ordinary customs duties in excess of those set forth and provided for in the said Schedule, subject to the conditions therein set out. The said articles shall also be exempt from all other duties, taxes, fees, charges, or exactions, imposed on or in connection with importation, in excess of those imposed on the day of the signature of this Agreement or required to be imposed thereafter under laws of the United States of America in force on the day of the signature of this Agreement.

53 Stat. 2378.

"2. Schedule II shall have full force and effect as an integral part of this Agreement."

WHEREAS, Schedule II annexed to the said Agreement provides in part as follows:

"United States Tariff Act of 1930 Paragraph	Description of Article	Rate of Duty
701	Cattle, weighing seven hundred pounds or more each:
	Cows, imported specially for dairy purposes	1½¢ per lb.
	Other	1½¢ per lb.
	Provided , That after December 31, 1938, such cattle weighing seven hundred pounds or more each (other than cows imported specially for dairy purposes) entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in excess of 60,000 head in any quarter year shall not be entitled to a reduction in duty by virtue of this item, and such cattle (other than cows imported specially for dairy purposes) entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in excess of 225,000 head in any calendar year shall not be entitled to a reduction in duty by virtue of this item, but the rate of duty thereon shall not exceed	3¢ per lb.

Provided further, That if, after consultation with the Government of the United States of America, the Government of Canada requests the allocation of the quantity entitled to enter at the reduced rate of duty under this item, the Government of the United States of America shall take the necessary steps to allocate the said quantity among countries of export on the basis provided for in Article III of this Agreement."

WHEREAS, Article III of the said Agreement reads as follows:

"If imports of any article into either country should be regulated either as regards the total amount permitted to be imported or as regards the amount permitted to be imported at a specified rate of duty, and if shares are allocated to countries of export, the share allocated to the other country shall be based upon the proportion of the total imports of such article from all foreign countries supplied by that country in past years, account being taken in so far as practicable in appropriate cases of any special factors which may have affected or may be affecting the trade in that article. In those cases in which the other country is a relatively large supplier of any such article, the Government of the country imposing the regulation shall, whenever practicable, consult with the Government of the other country before the share to be allocated to that country is determined."

53 Stat. 2397.

WHEREAS, by my proclamation of February 27, 1939, I did proclaim the allocation among countries of export, on the basis therein set forth, of the quantity of cattle weighing seven hundred pounds or more each (other than cows imported specially for dairy purposes) entitled to a reduction in duty by virtue of the said item 701 of Schedule II annexed to the said Agreement during the period April 1 to December 31, 1939 inclusive;

WHEREAS, after consultation with the Government of the United States of America, the Government of Canada has requested the Government of the United States of America to continue such allocation during the calendar year 1940;

WHEREAS such allocation is required and appropriate to carry out the said Agreement;

WHEREAS I find that, taking into account special factors affecting the trade, imports into the United States of America from all countries of such cattle weighing seven hundred pounds or more each (other than cows imported specially for dairy purposes) during the years 1936 and 1937 were representative of the trade in such articles;

WHEREAS I find that the proportions of total imports into the United States of America for consumption of such cattle weighing seven hundred pounds or more each (other than cows imported specially for dairy purposes) supplied by Canada and by other foreign countries, respectively, during the years 1936 and 1937 were as follows:

No. 686 LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

OTTAWA, CANADA.

April 29, 1938.

SIR:

I have the honor to inform you that the appropriate authorities of my Government have received copies of the Canada Gazette of August 28, 1937, containing an Order-in-Council, P. C. 1903, under date of August 6, 1937, making effective as of October 1, 1937, load line rules for ships making voyages on lakes or rivers.

The Coastwise Load Line Act, 1935, as amended, of the United States, provides in the U. S. C., title 46, sec. 88 d:

"§ 88d. Foreign vessels; application of sub-chapter. Whenever the Secretary of Commerce shall certify that the laws and regulations in force in any foreign country relating to load lines are equally effective with the regulations established under sections 88 to 88i of this title, the Secretary of Commerce may direct, on proof that a vessel of that country has complied with such foreign laws and regulations, that such vessel and her master and owner shall be exempted from compliance with the provisions of sections 88 to 88i of this title, except as hereinafter provided: Provided, That this section shall not apply to the vessels of any foreign country which does not similarly recognize the load lines established under sections 88 to 88i of this title and the regulations made thereunder. (Aug. 27, 1935, c. 747, § 5, 49 Stat. 889.)"

The American authorities have concluded that, except for subdivision load lines applicable to passenger vessels, the aforementioned Canadian load line regulations are as effective as the regulations set forth in Section C of the Load Line Regulations of the United States (Rules and Regulations Series, No. 4, January 1938 edition),<sup>1</sup> of which three copies are enclosed.

The Government of the United States will recognize the Canadian load line regulations as promulgated in the Canada Gazette of August 28, 1937, to be as effective as Section C of the United States Load Line Regulations (January 1938 edition), provided that the Canada.

Reciprocal recognition of load line regulations for certain vessels.

46 U. S. C., Supp. V, § 88d.

Canadian Government will similarly recognize United States load line regulations.

As no provision is made in the Canadian load line regulations for sub-division marks for passenger vessels, and as the United States Load Line Regulations under Section D require passenger vessels to be provided with such marks, I am desired by my Government to inquire whether, in order to prevent Canadian passenger vessels from becoming liable to a penalty when entering United States ports, the Canadian Great Lakes Load Line Regulations could be extended to give effect to sub-division and other matters pertaining thereto.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

OTTAWA, 24th August, 1938.

SIR,

With reference to your note No. 686 of the 29th April, 1938, in the matter of load line regulations which apply to the Great Lakes, I have the honour to state that this matter was considered by the Canadian authorities concerned.

It is observed that the United States authorities have concluded that, except for sub-division load lines applicable to passenger vessels, the Canadian load line regulations applicable to ships making voyages on the Great Lakes are as effective as the regulations set forth in Section (C) of the Load Line Regulations of the United States (Rules and Regulations Series No. 4, January, 1938, edition), and that the Government of the United States will recognize the Canadian load line regulations promulgated in the Canada Gazette of the 28th August, 1937, that is to say the "Load Line Rules for Ships making Voyages on Lakes or Rivers", approved by Order-in-Council of the 6th August, 1937, provided that the Canadian Government will similarly recognize the United States Load Line Regulations referred to above.

The Canadian authorities consider that the Load Line Regulations of the United States applicable to ships engaged in making voyages on the Great Lakes (Rules and Regulations Series No. 4, January, 1938, edition) are as effective as the Canadian regulations, "Load Line Rules for Ships Making Voyages on Lakes or Rivers", approved by Order-in-Council of the 6th August, 1937.

The Canadian Government recognize that the United States Load Line Regulations mentioned above are equivalent to the Load Line Rules for ships Making Voyages on Lakes or Rivers approved by Order-in-Council of the 6th August, 1937.

With reference to the last paragraph of your note, the Canadian authorities advise that the Canada Shipping Act, 1934, inasfar as it concerns load lines, does not deal with the sub-division of passenger ships, this question being dealt with under the part of the Act which refers to the construction and inspection of ships. General regulations dealing with the construction and inspection of the hulls of steamships are now under consideration, and the matter of sub-division will be dealt with in them.

The Canadian authorities will not be in a position to have these regulations in force before the end of the season of navigation this year for passenger ships employed on the Great Lakes, plying to United States ports. It is understood, however, that there are few such ships, and that their season of navigation ends not later than the 30th of September.

As most of the passenger ships making voyages on the Great Lakes from Canadian to United States ports are old ships, there is doubt in the minds of the Canadian technical officers as to whether it would be reasonable and practicable to have them comply fully with the sub-division regulations laid down by the United States authorities, which are based, generally, on the International Convention for Safety of Life at Sea. The Canadian authorities would appreciate if information could be obtained as to what action the United States authorities propose to take in the matter of such ships of United States registry.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

SIR:

With reference to Dr. Skelton's note No. 125, dated August 24, 1938, in the matter of load-line regulations applicable to the Great Lakes, I have the honor to inform you that the American authorities have noted that the Canadian Government recognizes that the load-line regulations of the United States applicable to vessels making voyages on the Great Lakes of North America are equivalent to Canadian "Load-line Rules for Ships Making Voyages on Lakes or Rivers", approved by Order-in-Council on the 6th of August, 1937, except as to subdivision load-lines applicable to passenger vessels.

The American authorities have noted also that the Canadian Government will not be in a position to have in force subdivision load-line regulations applicable to vessels of the Great Lakes before the close of navigation this year. In this regard, when the subdivision load-line regulations are issued by the Canadian authorities, the competent American authorities must give consideration to them before accepting them as being equal to the United States subdivision load-line regulations.

The American Government will appreciate, therefore, receiving copies of these subdivision load-line regulations as soon as possible after they are issued.

With regard to the request contained in Dr. Skelton's note under reference for information as to the procedure for marking existing passenger vessels with subdivision load-lines and to what extent such ships are required to comply with the subdivision load-line regulations, the competent American authorities have stated that each existing passenger ship is considered on its merits in relation to its physical compliance with the subdivision load-line requirements. In interpreting the meaning of the words reasonable and practicable, the decisions of the Department of Commerce have resulted in most cases in a one-compartment standard of subdivision.

The American authorities have directed attention to the following slight difference in the scope of the basic load-line laws of the United States and of Canada: The laws of the United States are more general and probably embrace more vessels; for instance, tug boats do not seem to be required to have load-lines under the Canadian law, but are required to have them under the United States law. In the case of such Canadian vessels which are exempt from Canadian load-line regulations and which visit United States ports, it will satisfy the American load-line authorities if such vessels are marked with load-lines under the Canadian load-line regulations, even though Canadian load-line law would not require them to be marked.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

SIR,

With reference to the despatch No. 819 of the 22nd October, 1938, from the United States Chargé d'Affaires at Ottawa, and previous correspondence, in the matter of Load Line Regulations applicable to the Great Lakes, I have the honour to state that, by Order-in-Council of the 7th July, 1939, P. C. 1790, certain regulations relating to sub-division have been made, bearing the title, "Regulations respecting the Sub-Division and Pumping Arrangements of Passenger Steamships employed making Inland Voyages between Canada and the United States of America".

These regulations were published in the "Canada Gazette" of the 12th August, 1939, and I enclose herewith a copy of the "Gazette",<sup>1</sup> so that the competent authorities of the United States Government may be in a position to give consideration to the acceptance of these regulations as being equal to the United States Sub-Division Load Line Regulations.

Sir:

With reference to my note No. 185 of the 2nd September, 1939, advising that certain regulations relating to the sub-division of ships making inland voyages between Canada and the United States of America had been made, and enclosing a copy of the Canada Gazette of the 12th August containing these Regulations, I have the honour to state that these Regulations contained two errors and that action was taken to have these errors corrected by Order-in-Council.

An Order-in-Council P. C. 2669, dated September 14th, was issued, amending the errors in question, and was published in the Canada Gazette of September 30th, 1939.

I enclose herewith three copies of an extract from the Canada Gazette of that date,<sup>2</sup> containing the Order-in-Council, and wish to request that a copy of the extract be forwarded to the Government of the United States.

SIR:

I have the honor to refer to your note No. 217 dated October 18, 1939, and to previous correspondence concerning a proposed arrangement between Canada and the United States for the reciprocal recognition of load line regulations for vessels engaged in international voyages on the Great Lakes.

I am desired by my Government to advise you that the Canadian regulations set forth by Orders-in-Council of July 7, 1939, P. C. 1790 and 1791, as published in the Canada Gazette of August 12, 1939, have been examined carefully and compared by the competent American authorities with the similar regulations of the Secretary of Commerce, as set forth in Section D of the Load Line Regulations of the United States, approved September 28, 1937 (Part 46, Section 46.42 of the Codification of the Load Line Regulations), and have been found, subject to the following comments, to be the equivalent of the said United States regulations:

(a) United States regulations are applicable to all passenger vessels of 150 gross tons and above, whereas Canadian regulations are applicable only to steamships (motorships) of 150 gross tons and above.

(b) A United States passenger vessel on the Great Lakes is one carrying more than 16 passengers, whereas a Canadian passenger vessel is one carrying more than 12 passengers.

(c) Canadian regulation 4, subparagraph (2), defines the freeboard as the distance from the subdivision water line to the margin line and it is presumed that when marked on the ship as provided by regulation 49, subparagraph (2), that proper allowances will be made.

It is the opinion of the competent American authorities that any differences which may arise with reference to the foregoing comments can be adjusted administratively.

It appears from Canadian regulation no. 2 (P. C. 1790) that these regulations apply only to steel vessels, and that in the case of wooden vessels, if any, the breadth will be taken to the outside of the planking.

The Coastwise Load Line Act, 1935, as amended, of the United States, provides in the U. S. C., title 46, sec. 88 d:

“§ 88d. Foreign vessels; application of sub-chapter. Whenever the Secretary of Commerce shall certify that the laws and regulations in force in any foreign country relating to load lines are equally effective with the regulations established under sections 88 to 88i of this title, the Secretary of Commerce may direct, on proof that a vessel of that country has complied with such foreign laws and regulations, that such vessel and her master and owner shall be exempted from compliance with the provisions of sections 88 to 88i of this title, except as hereinafter provided: Provided, That this section shall not apply to the vessels of any foreign country which does not similarly recognize the load lines established under sections 88 to 88i of this title and the regulations made thereunder. (Aug. 27, 1935, c. 747, § 5, 49 Stat. 889.)”

The Government of the United States recognizes the Canadian Load Line Regulations, as promulgated in the Canada Gazette dated August 12, 1939, respecting subdivision, pumping arrangements, watertight doors, and other appliances of passenger steamers making inland voyages on the Great Lakes between Canada and the United States, to be as effective as comparable United States regulations applicable to passenger vessels engaged in voyages on the Great Lakes between the United States and Canada, provided that the Canadian Government similarly recognizes the Subdivision Load Line Regulations of the United States applicable to passenger vessels engaged in voyages on the Great Lakes.

With further reference to your note No. 217 of October 18, 1939, which stated that an Order-in-Council, P. C. 2669, dated September 14, 1939, was issued, amending two errors which occurred in the Order-in-Council of July 7, 1939, P. C. 1790, I am requested to inform you of the receipt by the Secretary of Commerce of the United States of this information.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

SIR:

With reference to the note No. 208, of the 10th January, 1940, from the United States Chargé d'Affaires ad interim, concerning a proposed arrangement between the United States and Canada for the reciprocal recognition of load line regulations for vessels engaged in international voyages on the Great Lakes, I have the honour to state that it is noted that the United States Government recognizes the Canadian regulations respecting subdivision, pumping arrangements, watertight doors and other appliances on passenger steamships engaged in making inland voyages on the Great Lakes between Canada and the United States to be as effective as comparable United States regulations applicable to passenger vessels engaged on voyages in the Great Lakes between Canada and the United States, provided that the Canadian Government similarly recognizes the subdivision load line regulations of the United States applicable to passenger vessels engaged in voyages on the Great Lakes.

I may say that the Canadian Government recognizes the subdivision load line regulations of the United States applicable to passenger vessels engaged in voyages on the Great Lakes, as set forth in Section D of the Load Line Regulations of the United States, approved September 28th, 1937, as being as effective as the Canadian regulations respecting subdivision, pumping arrangements, watertight doors and other appliances for passenger steamships making inland voyages between Canada and the United States, as set forth in the Regulations respecting Subdivision and Pumping Arrangements of Passenger Steamships employed making Inland Voyages between Canada and the United States, P. No. 84

SIR:

With reference to recent conversations between representatives of the Government of Canada and the Government of the United States of America regarding the extension to individuals ordinarily resident in Canada who are nationals of the United States and are not British subjects of certain exemptions from orders and regulations now or hereafter in force respecting the acquisition and disposition of foreign currency and foreign securities, I have the honour to propose an agreement concerning these exemptions in the following terms:—

Terms proposed.

1. Such individuals will be exempt from any required declaration or sale of, and will be permitted freely to use or dispose of, foreign currency and foreign securities held by them (in which no non-exempted resident has any beneficial interest) which were

(a) acquired by them before the time of the coming into force of the Foreign Exchange Control Order, viz., before September 16, 1939; or

(b) acquired by them subsequent to such time from non-residents of Canada, excluding any foreign currency and foreign securities so acquired (1) in connection with exports from or imports into Canada of property not exempted by this agreement, or (2) as the result of business carried on in Canada.

2. The foregoing paragraph shall apply to private individuals and not to corporations, companies, associations, firms or partnerships.

3. Any of the exemptions mentioned above shall lapse if and when such individual becomes a British subject or ceases to be a United States national.

4. In the event similar exchange control measures should be enforced in the United States with respect to individuals ordinarily resident in the United States who are nationals of Canada and are not nationals of the United States, without like exemptions being granted such individuals, the Government of Canada shall consider themselves released from the obligation to continue to grant such of the exemptions provided for in this agreement as may not be accorded to the said individuals.

5. "Foreign currency", as used in this agreement, is defined as meaning any currency (excluding coin) other than Canadian currency, including bank notes and other notes intended to circulate as money in any country outside Canada and also postal notes, money orders, cheques, travellers' cheques, prepaid letters of credit, bank drafts and other similar instruments payable in any currency other than Canadian currency, and includes any foreign currency on deposit; and "foreign currency on deposit" or "deposit" means any amount in foreign currency of which a resident has a right to obtain payment by reason of a deposit, credit or balance of any kind at or with a bank, savings bank, trust company, loan company, stockbroker, investment dealer or other similar depositary or any other person or institution designated by the Canadian Foreign Exchange Control Board as a depositary.

I have the honour to suggest that if an agreement in the sense of the foregoing paragraphs is acceptable to the Government of the United States this note and your reply thereto in similar terms shall be regarded as placing on record the understanding arrived at between the two Governments concerning this matter.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

ACCOMPANIMENT

AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS REGARDING COMMERCIAL RELATIONS, EFFECTED BY EXCHANGE OF NOTES SIGNED AUGUST 4, 1937

The American Ambassador (Davies) to the People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs (Litvinoff)

Moscow, August 4, 1937.

EXCELLENCY:

With reference to recent conversations which have taken place in regard to commerce between the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, I have the honor to confirm and to make of record by this note the following agreement which has been reached between the Governments of our respective countries:

One. The United States of America will grant to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics unconditional and unrestricted most-favored-nation treatment in all matters concerning customs duties and charges of every kind and in the method of levying duties, and, further, in all matters concerning the rules, formalities and charges imposed in connection with the clearing of goods through the customs, and with respect to all laws or regulations affecting the sale or use of imported goods within the country.

Accordingly, natural or manufactured products having their origin in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics shall in no case be subject, in regard to the matters referred to above, to any duties, taxes or charges other or higher, or to any rules or formalities other or more burdensome, than those to which the like products having their origin in any third country are or may hereafter be subject.

Similarly, natural or manufactured products exported from the territory of the United States of America and consigned to the territory of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics shall in no case be subject with respect to exportation and in regard to the above-mentioned matters, to any duties, taxes, or charges other or higher, or to any rules or formalities other or more burdensome, than those to which the like products when consigned to the territory of any third country are or may hereafter be subject.

Any advantage, favor, privilege or immunity which has been or may hereafter be granted by the United States of America in regard to the above-mentioned matters, to a natural or manufactured product originating in any third country or consigned to the territory of any third country shall be accorded immediately and without compensation to the like product originating in or consigned to the territory of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

It is understood that so long as and in so far as existing law of the United States of America may otherwise require, the foregoing provisions, in so far as they would otherwise relate to duties, taxes or charges on coal, coke manufactured therefrom, or coal or coke briquettes, shall not apply to such products imported into the United States of America. If the law of the United States of America shall not permit the complete operation of the foregoing provisions with respect to the above-mentioned products, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics reserves the right within fifteen days after January 1, 1938, to terminate this agreement in its entirety on thirty days' written notice.

It is understood, furthermore, that the advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions, the Philippine Islands, or the Panama Canal Zone to one another or to the Republic of Cuba shall be excepted from the operation of this agreement.

Nothing in this agreement shall be construed to prevent the adoption of measures prohibiting or restricting the exportation or importation of gold or silver, or to prevent the adoption of such measures as the Government of the United States of America may see fit with respect to the control of the export or sale for export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war, and, in exceptional cases, all other military supplies. It is understood that any action which may be taken by the President of the United States of America under the authority of Section 2 (b) of the Neutrality Act of 1937 in regard to the passage of title to goods shall not be considered as contravening any of the provisions of this agreement relating to the exportation of natural or manufactured products from the territory of the United States of America.

Subject to the requirement that no arbitrary discrimination shall be effected by the United States of America against importations from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and in favor of those from any third country, the foregoing provisions shall not extend to prohibitions or restrictions (1) imposed on moral or humanitarian grounds, (2) designed to protect human, animal, or plant life, (3) relating to prison-made goods, or (4) relating to the enforcement of police or revenue laws.

Two. On its part the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics will take steps to increase substantially the amount of purchases in the United States of America for export to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics of articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States of America.

Three. This agreement shall come into force on the day of proclamation thereof by the President of the United States of America and of approval thereof by the Soviet of People's Commissars of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, which proclamation and approval shall take place on the same day. It shall continue in effect for twelve months. Both parties agree that not less than thirty days prior to the expiration of the aforesaid period of twelve months they shall start negotiations regarding the extension of the period during which the present agreement shall continue in force.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it is provided in the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending Act was extended by Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), as follows:

Preamble.

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354; Supp. V, §§ 1351, 1352.
Ante, p. 107.

"Sec. 350. (a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and for such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part."

WHEREAS I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have found as a fact that certain existing duties and other import restrictions of the United States of America and the United States of Venezuela are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States of America and that the purpose declared in the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the said Act of June 12, 1934, as extended by the said Joint Resolution of Congress, approved March 1, 1937, will be promoted by a foreign trade agreement between the United States of America and the United States of Venezuela;

Ante, p. 107.

WHEREAS reasonable public notice of the intention to negotiate such foreign trade agreement was given and the views presented by persons interested in the negotiation of such agreement were received and considered;

WHEREAS, after seeking and obtaining information and advice with respect thereto from the United States Tariff Commission, the Departments of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, and from other sources, I entered into a definitive agreement, including two Schedules annexed thereto, on November 6, 1939, through my duly empowered Plenipotentiary, with the President of the United States of Venezuela, through his duly empowered Plenipotentiary, and, on the same day and in like manner, into a modus vivendi in the form of an exchange of notes, including two Schedules annexed thereto, to be effective on and after December 16, 1939, pending the entry into force of the definitive agreement between the two countries;

CARACAS, 6 de noviembre de 1939

SEÑOR EMBAJADOR:

El infrascrito, debidamente autorizado por el Presidente de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela, tiene a honra dejar constancia y confirmar por la presente nota que, mientras entre en vigor el tratado de reciprocidad comercial concluido en esta fecha entre los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y los Estados Unidos de América, los dos Gobiernos han convenido en regular sus relaciones comerciales por el siguiente modus vivendi:

ARTICULO I

Los artículos cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en los Estados Unidos de América, enumerados y descritos en la Lista N<sup>o</sup> I anexa a este Convenio, del cual forma parte, no pagarán al ser importados en los Estados Unidos de Venezuela derechos ordinarios de importación en las aduanas que excedan de los especificados en dicha Lista. Tales artículos estarán asimismo exentos del pago de cualquier otro derecho, impuesto, contribución, carga o exacción establecidos sobre la importación o en relación con ella, que excedan de los que rijan en el día de la firma de este Convenio, o cuya ulterior aplicación esté ya prevista por leyes vigentes en los Estados Unidos de Venezuela en el día de la firma de este Convenio.

ARTICULO II

Los artículos cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en los Estados Unidos de Venezuela, enumerados y descritos en la Lista N<sup>o</sup> II anexa a este Convenio, del cual forma parte, no pagarán al ser importados en los Estados Unidos de América, derechos ordinarios de importación en las aduanas que excedan de los incluidos y especificados en dicha Lista. Tales artículos estarán asimismo exentos del pago de cualquier otro derecho, impuesto, contribución, carga o exacción establecidos sobre la importación o en relación con ella, que exceda de los que rijan en el día de la firma de este Convenio, o cuya ulterior aplicación esté ya prevista por leyes vigentes en los Estados Unidos de América en el día de la firma de este Convenio.

ARTICULO III

Las disposiciones de los Artículos I y II de este Convenio no impedirán a los Gobiernos de las Partes Contratantes, establecer en cualquier tiempo, sobre la importación de cualquier artículo, un gravamen equivalente a los impuestos internos establecidos con respecto a productos nacionales análogos o con respecto a un producto del cual el artículo importado haya sido manufacturado o producido en todo o en parte.

ARTICULO IV

Los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y los Estados Unidos de América convienen en que las notas incluidas en las Listas I y II, tendrán fuerza y efecto como partes integrantes de este Convenio.

ARTICULO V

Los artículos cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o en los Estados Unidos de América, estarán, después de su importación en el otro país, exentos de cualesquiera impuestos, contribuciones, cargas o exacciones internos, diferentes o mayores que los que graven artículos análogos de origen nacional o extranjero.

Las estipulaciones de este Artículo referentes al tratamiento nacional no se aplicarán a los impuestos con que los Estados Unidos de Venezuela gravan los cigarrillos; pero los cigarrillos originarios de los Estados Unidos de América estarán, después de su importación a Venezuela, exentos de cualesquiera impuestos, contribuciones, cargas o exacciones diferentes o mayores que los vigentes para el día de la firma de este Convenio.

Las estipulaciones de este Artículo no se aplicarán a las bebidas alcohólicas.

ARTICULO VI

Se permitirá la importación en el otro país sin restricciones cuantitativas, a los artículos cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en los Estados Unidos de América enumerados y descritos en la Lista I, y a los artículos cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en los Estados Unidos de Venezuela, enumerados y descritos en la Lista II. Sin embargo, si el Gobierno de una de las Partes Contratantes creyere necesario en circunstancias especiales establecer una restricción cuantitativa sobre cualquiera de tales artículos, informará de su propósito al otro Gobierno. Si no se llegare entre los dos Gobiernos a un acuerdo sobre la restricción, el otro Gobierno podrá dar por terminado el presente Convenio notificándolo por escrito con treinta días de anticipación. Cualquiera restricción cuantitativa que establezca conforme a este Artículo el Gobierno de cualquiera de las Partes Contratantes no se aplicará hasta después de transcurridos treinta días contados desde la publicación de la noticia de tales restricciones, a las importaciones cuyas facturas hayan sido visadas antes de la fecha de ese aviso público por un funcionario consular del Gobierno que estableciere la restricción.

ARTICULO VII

En caso de que el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América regulare la importación de artículos de interés para el otro país, ya sea respecto a la cantidad total que se permita importar o respecto a la cantidad que se permita importar bajo determinado aforo, el Gobierno que adopte tal medida fijará de antemano, y hará pública la cantidad total que se permita importar de todos los países durante un período determinado, no menor de tres meses, así como cualquier aumento o disminución de dicha cantidad durante dicho período, y si dicha cantidad fuese distribuida entre los países exportadores, la parte atribuida al otro país tendrá por base la proporción que en el total de la importación de dichos artículos de todos los países extranjeros haya correspondido al otro país en un período representativo anterior, teniendo en cuenta, en la medida de lo posible, los factores especiales que hubieren afectado o que afectaren el comercio de dicho artículo.

ARTICULO VIII

En caso de que el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o el de los Estados Unidos de América establezca o mantenga un monopolio para la importación, producción o venta de cierto artículo o conceda privilegios exclusivos en forma legal o de hecho a una o más agencias, para importar, producir o vender cierto artículo, el Gobierno del país que establezca o mantenga dicho monopolio o que conceda tales privilegios exclusivos, conviene, en lo que respecta a las compras en el exterior de tal monopolio o agencia, que el comercio del otro país deberá recibir un tratamiento justo y equitativo.

ARTICULO IX

En caso de que el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América establezca o mantenga, directa o indirectamente, cualquier forma de control de los medios de pagos internacionales, en la administración de dicho control, convienen:

a) En no imponer restricciones o dilaciones al transferimiento de pagos de los artículos importados, cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en el otro país, o para el transferimiento de pagos necesarios para la importación o incidentales a la importación de dichos artículos, que sean mayores o más onerosas que las que se apliquen al transferimiento de pagos para la importación de cualquier artículo de cualquier tercer país;

b) En acordar incondicionalmente, respecto a los tipos de cambio e impuestos o recargos sobre transacciones de cambio relacionados con el pago de la importación de todo artículo cosechado, producido o manufacturado en el otro país, o los pagos necesarios o incidentales para dicha importación, y respecto de todos los reglamentos y formalidades que los rijan, un tratamiento no menos favorable que el que fuere acordado en relación con la importación de cualquier artículo cosechado, producido o manufacturado en cualquier tercer país.

En caso de que el Gobierno de cualquiera de los dos países formule representaciones relativas a la aplicación por parte del Gobierno del otro país de las estipulaciones de este artículo, este último considerará amistosamente dichas representaciones y en caso de que, en un plazo de 30 días después de recibidas éstas, no se haya obtenido un resultado satisfactorio o no se haya llegado a un acuerdo sobre la materia objeto de dichas representaciones, el Gobierno que las haya formulado, dentro de los 15 días posteriores a la expiración del anterior período de 30 días, podrá dar por terminado este Convenio en su totalidad, dando aviso por escrito con 30 días de anticipación.

ARTICULO X

Cualquier favor, ventaja, privilegio o inmunidad, relativos a derechos de aduana o contribuciones de cualquier clase sobre la importación o la exportación o conexos con ellas, a los métodos de percepción de dichos derechos o contribuciones, a los reglamentos y formalidades relacionados con la importación y exportación; a las leyes y reglamentos relativos a la venta, gravámenes o uso de los artículos importados, que hayan sido o fueren en lo futuro concedidos por los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o por los Estados Unidos de América a los artículos originarios de cualquier tercer país o destinados a él, se entenderán inmediata e incondicionalmente concedidos a los artículos similares originarios de los Estados Unidos de América o de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o destinados a ellos, respectivamente.

Ni los Estados Unidos de Venezuela ni los Estados Unidos de América establecerán o mantendrán prohibición o restricción de importación o de exportación de ningún artículo originario del territorio del otro país, o destinado a él, que no fuere aplicable a artículos similares originarios de cualquier tercer país, o destinados a él. Toda abolición de prohibición o de restricción de importación o exportación, que fuere concedida aún temporalmente por cualquiera de los dos países a favor de un artículo originario de un tercer país o destinado a él, será aplicada inmediata e incondicionalmente al mismo artículo originario del territorio del otro país o destinado a él.

ARTICULO XI

Las leyes, los reglamentos de las autoridades administrativas y las decisiones de las autoridades judiciales o administrativas de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y de los Estados Unidos de América relativos a la clasificación arancelaria de artículos o a los aforos, se publicarán con tiempo suficiente de modo que lleguen a conocimiento de los comerciantes. Tales leyes, reglamentos y decisiones se aplicarán de manera uniforme, a todos los puertos abiertos al comercio exterior del respectivo país, excepto cuando específicamente se disponga de otra manera en las leyes, reglamentos y resoluciones de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y de los Estados Unidos de América.

ARTICULO XII

Si el tipo de cambio entre las monedas de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y de los Estados Unidos de América variare sensiblemente con relación al tipo de cambio de dichas monedas en el día de la firma de este Convenio, el Gobierno de una de las Partes Contratantes que considere la diferencia tan substancial que perjudique las industrias o el comercio de su país, estará en libertad de proponer negociaciones para la modificación de este Convenio o darlo por terminado en su totalidad, notificando al Gobierno de la otra Parte Contratante por escrito, con treinta días de anticipación.

ARTICULO XIII

El Gobierno de cada una de las Partes Contratantes otorgará el tratamiento más favorable que permitan las leyes con respecto a las multas aplicables en casos de errores en la documentación para la importación de artículos cosechados, producidos o manufacturados en el otro país, cuando la índole de la infracción no dé lugar a duda sobre la buena fé o cuando tales errores tengan su origen, de manera evidente, en meras equivocaciones de copia.

El Gobierno de cada uno de las Partes Contratantes considerará atentamente las representaciones que el Gobierno del otro país hiciera relativas al cumplimiento de los reglamentos de aduana y de restricciones cuantitativas de la importación, a la aplicación de formalidades de aduana y de las leyes y reglamentos sanitarios para la protección de la vida o la salud humana, animal o vegetal. Si hubiere desacuerdo con respecto a la aplicación de dichas leyes y reglamentos sanitarios se constituirá a solicitud de cualquiera de las Partes Contratantes un Comité de expertos en el cual estarán representados ambos Gobiernos. El Comité, después de considerar el asunto, someterá su informe a los dos Gobiernos.

ARTICULO XIV

Las cláusulas de este Convenio relativas al tratamiento que los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y los Estados Unidos de América conceden respectivamente al comercio del otro país serán aplicables, por parte de los Estados Unidos de América a su territorio continental y todo otro territorio y posesiones comprendidos dentro de su territorio aduanero. Las cláusulas de este Convenio relativas al tratamiento de la nación más favorecida, serán aplicables a todos los territorios bajo la soberanía o la autoridad de los Estados Unidos de América excepto la Zona del Canal de Panamá.

ARTICULO XV

Las cláusulas de este Convenio no se aplicarán:

a) A las ventajas acordadas o que fueren acordadas en lo futuro por los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o por los Estados Unidos de América a países vecinos con el fin de facilitar el tráfico fronterizo, o a las ventajas que resultaren de una unión aduanera de la cual formaren parte los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o los Estados Unidos de América en tanto que dichas ventajas no se hagan extensibles a otro país.

b) A las ventajas acordadas o que se acordaren en lo futuro por los Estados Unidos de América, sus territorios o posesiones, o la Zona del Canal de Panamá, entre sí o a la República de Cuba, independientemente de todo cambio del estatuto político de cualquiera de los territorios o posesiones de los Estados Unidos de América.

El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela se reserva el derecho de aplicar a los artículos importados en los Estados Unidos de Venezuela de las Antillas que no estén comprendidas dentro del territorio aduanero de los Estados Unidos de América, la sobretasa especial aplicable a tales artículos según las leyes vigentes en Venezuela.

ARTICULO XVI

Con sujeción al requisito de que, bajo circunstancias y condiciones análogas, no habrá discriminación arbitraria por uno y otro país en contra del otro en favor de cualquier tercer país, y sin perjuicio de las estipulaciones del párrafo segundo del Artículo XIII, las disposiciones de este Convenio no se aplicarán a las prohibiciones o restricciones (1) impuestas con fines humanitarios o morales; (2) destinadas a proteger la vida o la salud humana, animal o vegetal; (3) relacionadas con mercancías producidas en prisiones; (4) con respecto a la ejecución de leyes policiales o fiscales.

Nada de lo contenido en este Convenio se interpretará en un sentido que impida la adopción de medidas de prohibición o restricción de la importación o la exportación de oro o plata, o que impida la adopción de las medidas que los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o los Estados Unidos de América, respectivamente, estimen necesarias para el control de la exportación o venta para la exportación de armas, municiones o máquinas de guerra, y, en circunstancias excepcionales, de todo otro material de guerra; y nada en este Convenio impedirá la adopción o ejecución de medidas relativas a la neutralidad.

ARTICULO XVII

En caso de que el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de Venezuela o el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América adopte cualquier medida que aún cuando no esté en contradicción con los términos de este Convenio sea considerada por el Gobierno del otro país como anulando o desvirtuando cualquiera de sus fines, el Gobierno que haya adoptado tal medida considerará las representaciones y proposiciones que el otro Gobierno haga en el sentido de un arreglo mutuamente satisfactorio.

ARTICULO XVIII

Todas las diferencias entre las Altas Partes Contratantes, relativas a la interpretación o ejecución de este Convenio, se decidirán por los medios pacíficos reconocidos en el Derecho Internacional, de conformidad con los tratados y convenciones en vigor entre las Partes.

ARTICULO XIX

El presente convenio entrará en vigor el día dieciseis de diciembre de 1939 y reemplazará el modus vivendi entre los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y los Estados Unidos de América celebrado por cambio de notas firmadas el 12 de mayo de 1938 y prorrogado por cambio de notas de fecha 9 de mayo de 1939, y, con sujeción a lo previsto en los artículos VI, IX y XII, continuará por un período de un año. Podrá ser prorrogado, a la expiración de dicho período de un año o a la expiración de cualquier prórroga, por períodos adicionales de seis meses. Este modus vivendi terminará al entrar en vigor el Tratado de Reciprocidad Comercial entre los Estados Unidos de Venezuela y los Estados Unidos de América, firmado en esta fecha.

SIR,

I have the honour under instructions from His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to inform you that in view of the friendly and sympathetic interest of His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom in the national security of the United States and their desire to strengthen the ability of the United States to cooperate effectively with the other nations of the Americas in the defence of the Western Hemisphere, His Majesty's Government will secure the grant to the Government of the United States, freely and without consideration, of the lease for immediate establishment and use of naval and air bases and facilities for entrance thereto and the operation and protection thereof, on the Avalon Peninsula and on the southern coast of Newfoundland, and on the east coast and on the Great Bay of Bermuda.

Furthermore, in view of the above and in view of the desire of the United States to acquire additional air and naval bases in the Caribbean and in British Guiana, and without endeavouring to place a monetary or commercial value upon the many tangible and intangible rights and properties involved, His Majesty's Government will make available to the United States for immediate establishment and use naval and air bases and facilities for entrance thereto and the operation and protection thereof, on the eastern side of the Bahamas, the southern coast of Jamaica, the western coast of St. Lucia, the west coast of Trinidad in the Gulf of Paria, in the island of Antigua and in British Guiana within fifty miles of Georgetown, in exchange for naval and military equipment and material which the United States Government will transfer to His Majesty's Government.

All the bases and facilities referred to in the preceding paragraphs will be leased to the United States for a period of ninety-nine years, free from all rent and charges other than such compensation to be mutually agreed on to be paid by the United States in order to compensate the owners of private property for loss by expropriation or damage arising out of the establishment of the bases and facilities in question.

His Majesty's Government, in the leases to be agreed upon, will grant to the United States for the period of the leases all the rights, power, and authority within the bases leased, and within the limits of the territorial waters and air spaces adjacent to or in the vicinity of such bases, necessary to provide access to and defence of such bases, and appropriate provisions for their control.

Without prejudice to the above-mentioned rights of the United States authorities and their jurisdiction within the leased areas, the adjustment and reconciliation between the jurisdiction of the authorities of the United States within these areas and the jurisdiction of the authorities of the territories in which these areas are situated, shall be determined by common agreement.

The exact location and bounds of the aforesaid bases, the necessary seaward, coast and anti-aircraft defences, the location of sufficient military garrisons, stores and other necessary auxiliary facilities shall be determined by common agreement.

His Majesty's Government are prepared to designate immediately experts to meet with experts of the United States for these purposes. Should these experts be unable to agree in any particular situation, except in the case of Newfoundland and Bermuda, the matter shall be settled by the Secretary of State of the United States and His Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part."

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

WASHINGTON

October 14, 1940

SIR:

I have the honor to refer to the conversations which have taken place recently between officials of the Governments of the United States and Canada in regard to the desirability of taking immediate steps looking to the early development of certain portions of the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Basin project. These conversations have indicated that there is apprehension in both countries over the possibility of a power shortage; these apprehensions have been heightened by the necessity for increased supplies of power in consequence of Canada's war effort and of the major national defense effort in the United States.

U. S. proposals.

In the light of these considerations the Government of the United States proposes that each Government appoint forthwith a Temporary Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Basin Committee consisting of not more than five members. These two Committees would cooperate in preliminary engineering and other investigations for that part of the project which is located in the International Rapids Section of the St. Lawrence River, in order that the entire project may be undertaken without delay when final decision is reached by the two Governments. The Government of the United States is prepared to advance the necessary funds up to $1,000,000 to pay for these preliminary engineering and other investigations, on the understanding that their cost shall ultimately be prorated by agreement between the two Governments.

Advance of funds.

Utilization of certain waters by Ontario.

Meanwhile, to assist in providing an adequate supply of power to meet Canadian defense needs and contingent upon the Province of Ontario's agreeing to provide immediately for diversions into the Great Lakes System of waters from the Albany River Basin which normally flow into Hudson Bay, the Government of the United States will interpose no objection, pending the conclusion of a final Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Basin agreement between the two countries, to the immediate utilization for power at Niagara Falls by the Province of Ontario of additional waters equivalent in quantity to the diversions into the Great Lakes Basin above referred to.

I shall be glad if you will let me know if your Government is in accord with the foregoing proposals.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Department of Public Economy*

No. 97

LEGATION OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Legation of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Division of Commerce of the Federal Department of Public Economy and, under instructions from the Secretary of State, has the honor to refer to previous correspondence and personal conversations with regard to the intention of the American Government to modify the Trade Agreement between the United States of America and Switzerland with respect to the concession relating to handkerchiefs included in Item 1529 (b) of Schedule II of the agreement.

In the light of representations received as a result of the public announcement in Washington on March 29, 1940,<sup>1</sup> of intention to withdraw, in part, the handkerchief concession in the manner described in the Legation's note No. 87 of April 1, 1940,<sup>2</sup> it is proposed to reword the concluding proviso attached to the list of items remaining subject to the reduced rates of duty, as follows:

"Provided, that no handkerchiefs which were provided for in Item 1529 (b) of Schedule II of the Trade Agreement between the United States of America and Switzerland as proclaimed by the President of the United States of America on January 9, 1936, shall be excluded from classification under this item by reason of incidental handwork necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects."

It is the intention of the Government of the United States to take action in the near future, under Article 16 of the Trade Agreement, withdrawing the handkerchief concession, in part, as stated in this Legation's note dated April 1, 1940, except that the proviso will be reworded as indicated in the second paragraph of the present note. Although the modification in the handkerchief concession will not be made effective until January 1, 1941, it is the intention of the American Government to announce the modification immediately in order to give importers as much advance notice as possible. Accordingly, the American Government hopes that the Swiss Government will signify its agreement in the next few days with respect to the modification in the handkerchief concession proposed by the Government of the United States of America. But, in any event, the American Government will feel constrained in the very near future to take the action proposed in accordance with the provisions of Article 16.

In expressing the hope of the Government of the United States that a reply to the foregoing may be received in the very near future, the Legation avails itself of the opportunity to renew to the Division of Commerce of the Federal Department of Public Economy the assurance of its high consideration.

DIVISION DU COMMERCE

La Division du commerce du Département fédéral de l'économie publique a l'honneur d'accuser réception à la Légation des Etats-Unis d'Amérique de sa note du 19 septembre dernier (No. 97) concernant la modification de la clause concernant les mouchoirs (No. 1529 (b) du tarif américain) contenue dans la liste II à l'accord commercial, signé entre les Etats-Unis d'Amérique et la Suisse le 9 janvier 1936, et de lui faire savoir qu'elle accède à la proposition figurant à la page 1 de la dite note ainsi conçue :

"Provided, that no handkerchiefs which were provided for in Item 1529 (b) of Schedule II of the Trade Agreement between the United States of America and Switzerland as proclaimed by the President of the United States of America on January 9, 1936, shall be excluded from classification under this item by reason of incidental handwork necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects."

La Division du commerce prend toutefois la liberté d'ajouter que selon l'opinion des industriels suisses de la branche, il serait préférable de remplacer dans le texte reproduit ci-dessus les mots "necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects" par le texte suivant :

" . . . necessary to finish the work done on the multiple-needle embroidery machine or to mend or correct defects."

La Division du commerce du Département fédéral de l'économie publique saisit cette occasion de renouveler à la Légation des Etats-Unis d'Amérique les assurances de sa haute considération.

BERN, *October 4, 1940.*FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ECONOMY, DIVISION OF COMMERCE.

The Division of Commerce of the Federal Department of Public Economy has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the note of September 19 last (no. 97) from the Legation of the United States of America concerning the modification of the clause concerning handkerchiefs (no. 1529 (b) of the American tariff) contained in Schedule II of the trade agreement between the United States of America and Switzerland, signed on January 9, 1936, and to inform the Legation that it agrees with the proposal appearing on page 1 of the said note worded as follows:

“Provided, that no handkerchiefs which were provided for in Item 1529 (b) of Schedule II of the Trade Agreement between the United States of America and Switzerland as proclaimed by the President of the United States of America on January 9, 1936, shall be excluded from classification under this item by reason of incidental handwork necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects.”

The Division of Commerce takes the liberty, nevertheless, of adding that according to the opinion in Swiss handkerchief-manufacturing circles it would be preferable in the text quoted above to replace the words “necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects”, by the following text:

“. . . necessary to finish the work done on the multiple-needle embroidery machine or to mend or correct defects.”

The Division of Commerce of the Federal Department of Public Economy takes this occasion to renew to the Legation of the United States of America the assurances of its high consideration.

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

No. 100

LEGATION OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Legation of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Division of Commerce of the Federal Department of Public Economy and has the honor to state that the Legation did not fail to transmit to its Government the contents of the Division's note dated October 4, 1940, expressing the Swiss Government's acceptance of the proviso relating to handkerchiefs as set forth on page 1 of the Legation's note No. 97 of September 19, 1940.

As regards the changes desired by the interested Swiss manufacturers, as set forth in the Division's note of October 4, the Legation has been directed to inform the Swiss authorities that after careful and sympathetic consideration, it has not been found feasible to adopt these suggestions for the following reasons:

1. It is felt that the revised concession (as given in the wording of the proviso contained in the second paragraph of this Legation's note No. 97 dated September 19, 1940) is sufficient to prevent handkerchiefs, on which any substantial part of the ornamentation has been done by hand, from being entered at the agreement rate.
2. If the purpose of the Swiss suggestion is to exclude from the scope of the concession, handkerchiefs which are ornamented on machines, other than multiple-needle machines, it is believed that there is a misunderstanding as to the purpose of the proviso, which is simply to make it clear that the words "which are not embroidered, tamboured or appliquéd in any part by hand", et cetera, do not exclude from the concession such incidental hand operations as are described in the proviso. The Swiss proposal for amendment of the proviso would not exclude handkerchiefs ornamented on machines other than multiple-needle machines from the benefit of the concession, if they have not been ornamented or finished in any part by hand. Adoption of the Swiss language would, however, create uncertainty as to the treatment which would be accorded to such handkerchiefs when they had been incidentally hand finished.
3. Past experience, in any event, does not indicate that any important trade could be developed under the concession in handkerchiefs ornamented on machines other than multiple-needle machines. It is not believed, therefore, that Switzerland would be particularly benefited by the adoption of the suggestion regarding revision of the proviso, while the wording might involve considerable administrative difficulty.
4. The suggestion that the word "machine" be administratively interpreted to mean multiple-needle machine does not appear to be legally feasible, as it is believed that such an interpretation would not be upheld by the courts.

The Legation expresses its Government's most cordial appreciation of the cooperation which the Swiss Government has given in this matter and would be glad if it may now finally report the agreement of the Swiss Government to the modification of the handkerchief concession pursuant to the formal notice of intention to make such change in accordance with Article XVI of the Trade Agreement.

The Legation avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Division of Commerce of the Federal Department of Public Economy the assurance of its high consideration.

DIVISION DU COMMERCE

La Division du commerce du Département fédéral de l'économie publique a l'honneur d'accuser réception à la Légation des États-Unis d'Amérique de sa note du 5 de ce mois (n° 100) concernant la modification de la stipulation concernant les mouchoirs (n° 1529 (b) du tarif américain) contenue dans la liste II à l'accord commercial, signé entre les États-Unis d'Amérique et la Suisse le 9 janvier 1936. La Division du commerce prend acte que pour les raisons exposées dans la note précitée, le Gouvernement américain estime ne pas pouvoir donner suite aux propositions contenues dans la note de la Division du 4 octobre dernier. Ces propositions n'ayant été présentées qu'à titre de simple suggestion, la Division du commerce a l'honneur de déclarer que le Conseil fédéral accepte la modification proposée par le Gouvernement des États-Unis en conformité de l'article XVI de l'accord commercial du 9 janvier 1936. Vu les notes échangées entre la Légation des États-Unis et la Division du commerce, le texte de la stipulation concernant les mouchoirs (n° 1529 (b) du tarif américain) contenue dans la liste II à l'accord commercial du 9 janvier 1936 aura dorénavant la teneur suivante :

Handkerchiefs, wholly or in part of machine-made lace; handkerchiefs embroidered (whether with a plain or fancy initial, monogram, or otherwise, and whether or not the embroidery is on a scalloped edge), tamboured, appliqued, or from which threads have been omitted, drawn, punched, or cut, and with threads introduced after weaving to finish or ornament the openwork, not including one row of straight hemstitching adjoining the hem; any of the foregoing, finished or unfinished, which contain no handmade lace, which are not embroidered, tamboured, or appliqued in any part by hand, from which threads have not been omitted, drawn, punched, or cut by hand, and having no threads introduced by hand to finish or ornament the openwork:

- Composed wholly or in chief value of cotton 2¢ each and 30% ad val.
- Composed wholly or in chief value of vegetable fiber other than cotton:
  - If finished and valued at 80 cents or more per dozen 2¢ each and 30%
ad val.
  - If unhemmed and without any finished edge, and valued at 45¢ or more per dozen 2¢ each and 30%
ad val.

Provided, that no handkerchiefs which were provided for in Item 1529 (b) of Schedule II of the Trade Agreement between the United States of America and Switzerland as proclaimed by the President of the United States of America on January 9, 1936, shall be excluded from classification under this item by reason of incidental handwork necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects.”

Agreement between the United States of America and Great Britain respecting a strategic reserve of Australian wool. Effected by exchange of notes signed December 9, 1940; effective December 9, 1940.

The British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to the American Chargé d'Affaires ad interim at London.

No. W 11985/79/49.

FOREIGN OFFICE, S. W. 1.

SIR,

I have the honour to inform you that in order to enable the Government of the United States of America to establish in the United States a reserve of Australian wool against a possible emergency shortage of wool supplies in the United States, the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland are prepared to enter into an agreement with the Government of the United States in the following terms:—

Agreement proposed by Great Britain.

Terms.

(1) The Government of the United Kingdom shall make available to the United States Government (or an agency acting on its behalf) 250 million pounds of Australian wool as a strategic reserve for the United States Government against a possible emergency shortage of wool supplies in the United States. The wool shall be transported to the United States where it shall be stored in bonded warehouses. The Government of the United Kingdom shall retain title to the wool, but all or any part of the wool may be purchased by the United States Government (or an agency acting on its behalf) for use in the United States or may be sold to the United States domestic trade, if and when it has been determined by the United States Government that an emergency shortage of wool exists in the United States.

(2) The Government of the United Kingdom may withdraw wool from the reserve for shipment to the United Kingdom or other British territory in the case of emergency shortage of supplies in such territory, or in the contingency of an interruption of wool textile production in the United Kingdom for the manufacture of textiles in the United States to meet United Kingdom emergency textile requirements, provided that (a) replacements for wool so withdrawn are on the way to the United States and (b) at no time the total of the reserve in the United States is temporarily depleted by more than twenty per cent by such withdrawals.

(3) At any time after the signing of a General Armistice between the United Kingdom and Germany, the Government of the United Kingdom shall be at liberty to dispose of the wool remaining in the reserve, but the United States Government and the Government of the United Kingdom shall consult together with a view to ensuring that the disposal of any such wool in the United States shall be effected under conditions which will avoid a dislocation of normal wool marketing there.

(4) The wool for the reserve shall be made available by the Government of the United Kingdom f.o.b. at Australian ports, and the United States Government (directly or through an agency acting on its behalf) shall thereafter accept responsibility for the safe custody of the wool and shall pay transport, handling, storage, insurance including war risk, and other charges in connexion with the establishment and maintenance of the wool reserve. Payments shall be made between the United States Government and the Government of the United Kingdom on sale of wool from the reserve to offset any savings secured by the Government of the United Kingdom owing to the wool having been transported to and stored in the United States by the United States Government and any loss incurred by the Government of the United Kingdom by reason of depreciation in the value of the wool stored in the United States as a result of deterioration of the wool or by reason of the position in which the wool is stored in the United States, provided that (a) in the case of sales in the United States no payment shall be made which would reduce the receipts by the Government of the United Kingdom for the wool in question below the amount which would have been received on sale f.o.b. Australia at the same date, and (b) in the case of sales outside the United States any payments as between the two Governments shall not involve the Government of the United Kingdom in any net expenditure of United States dollars in respect thereof.

(5) It is tentatively agreed that the 250,000,000 pounds of Australian wool which will be made available by the Government of the United Kingdom for the reserve shall be composed of the following:—

270,000 bales of 58/60s of types normally imported into the United States and of good topmaking Bradford styles;

290,000 bales of 60s and finer of types normally imported into the United States and of good topmaking Bradford styles;

190,000 bales of 60s and finer of good to average Bradford styles; balance (to make up 250,000,000 pounds) of 60s and finer of average Bradford styles;

two-thirds of all the 60s and finer wools to consist of 64/60s.

The counts are as normally understood in the United States. Although this tentative agreement on grades and types is subject to modification following consultation between the two Governments after examination of samples of the wool by the United States authorities, it shall become definitive if the examination of samples indicates that the grades and types of wool included in the above mentioned general categories are such that they could be readily used in American mills without interruption of or delays in the production of the mills. It is understood that the Government of the United Kingdom in estimating the quantities available for the reserve have provided for the retention of sufficient supplies in Australia to ensure that the commercial demand can be met. It is also understood that both the total quantity estimated to be available for the reserve after providing for sales abroad and shipments to the United Kingdom, and the distribution by types and descriptions, have been based upon the results of the 1939-40 clip, and that should the results of the 1940-41 clip differ it may be necessary to vary the supply for the reserve.

(6) Space on established British shipping lines running between Australia and the United States shall be used for the transport of the wool so far as available. The wool will be made available in Australia as rapidly as possible, provided that the sale of wool from Australia on commercial account or its shipment to the Wool Control in the United Kingdom or Canada shall not be prejudiced, and every endeavour shall be made to complete the allocations in Australia by the end of March 1941.

2. If the Government of the United States are prepared to accept the foregoing provisions, I have the honour to propose that the present note and your reply to that effect be regarded as constituting an agreement between the two Governments which shall come into force immediately.

I have the honour to be, with high consideration, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

HALIFAX

Payments shall be made between the United States Government and the Government of the United Kingdom on sale of wool from the reserve to offset any savings secured by the Government of the United Kingdom owing to the wool having been transported to and stored in the United States by the United States Government and any loss incurred by the Government of the United Kingdom by reason of depreciation in the value of the wool stored in the United States as a result of deterioration of the wool or by reason of the position in which the wool is stored in the United States, provided that (a) in the case of sales in the United States no payment shall be made which would reduce the receipts by the Government of the United Kingdom for the wool in question below the amount which would have been received on sale f. o. b. Australia at the same date, and (b) in the case of sales outside the United States any payments as between the two Governments shall not involve the Government of the United Kingdom in any net expenditure of United States dollars in respect thereof.

(5) It is tentatively agreed that the 250 million pounds of Australian wool which will be made available by the Government of the United Kingdom for the reserve shall be composed of the following: 270,000 bales of 58/60s of types normally imported into the United States and of good topmaking Bradford styles; 290,000 bales of 60s and finer of types normally imported into the United States and of good topmaking Bradford styles; 190,000 bales of 60s and finer of good to average Bradford styles; balance (to make up 250 million pounds) of 60s and finer of average Bradford styles; two-thirds of all the 60s and finer wools to consist of 64/60s.

The counts are as normally understood in the United States. Although this tentative agreement on grades and types is subject to modification following consultation between the two Governments after examination of samples of the wool by the United States authorities, it shall become definitive if the examination of samples indicates that the grades and types of wool included in the above mentioned general categories are such that they could be readily used in American mills without interruption of or delays in the production of the mills. It is understood that the Government of the United Kingdom in estimating the quantities available for the reserve have provided for the retention of sufficient supplies in Australia to ensure that the commercial demand can be met. It is also understood that both the total quantity estimated to be available for the reserve after providing for sales abroad and shipments to the United Kingdom, and the distribution by types and descriptions, have been based upon the results of the 1939-40 clip, and that should the results of the 1940-41 clip differ it may be necessary to vary the supply for the reserve.

(6) Space on established British shipping lines running between Australia and the United States shall be used for the transport of the wool so far as available. The wool will be made available in Australia as rapidly as possible, provided that the sale of wool from Australia on commercial account or its shipment to the Wool Control in the United Kingdom or Canada shall not be prejudiced, and every endeavor shall be made to complete the allocations in Australia by the end of March 1941.

In reply to numbered paragraph 2 of Your Lordship's note, I have the honor to confirm under instructions of my Government that Your Lordship's statement of our understanding as set forth above is agreed to by my Government and that the present exchange of notes is to be regarded as constituting an agreement between the two Governments which shall come into force immediately.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, My Lord,
Your most obedient, humble servant,

Se référant à la note verbale de la Légation en date du 4 septembre 1939 le Ministre de Suède a l'honneur de porter à la connaissance de l'Honorable, le Secrétaire d'Etat des Etats-Unis que le Ministre du Roi des Affaires Etrangères, en raison de la situation actuelle, s'est vu dans la nécessité d'étendre aux personnes des catégories visées ci-dessus au premier alinéa l'obligation du visa à l'exception toutefois des ressortissants danois, finlandais, islandais et norvégiens. LEGATION OF SWEDEN
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Extension of visa requirement.

According to the terms of article 59 of the decree of November 26, 1937, in which are set forth the regulations relative to the law of June 11, 1937 on the stay of foreigners in Sweden, the diplomatic agents and the consular agents of career of foreign powers in Sweden, as well as their families and their servants, must be provided with passports of their countries or other identification papers which are accepted in their stead. In the cases for which provision is made by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, the passports or other identification papers must bear a visa.

With reference to the note verbale of the Legation of September 4, 1939, the Minister of Sweden has the honor to advise The Honorable the Secretary of State of the United States that His Majesty's Minister of Foreign Affairs, because of the existing situation, has been obliged to extend to the persons of the categories referred to above in the first paragraph the visa requirement, excepting, however, Danish, Finnish, Icelandic, and Norwegian nationals. Passport inspectors have therefore been ordered to make sure, starting October 1, 1939, that passports or other identification papers of the said persons bear a visa.

The Minister of Sweden wishes to add that entry visas and non-immigrant visas to be delivered to diplomatic agents and to consular agents of career, to the members of their families and to their servants shall, subject to reciprocity, be worded so as to permit the interested parties to make an unlimited number of journeys into Sweden and that they shall be delivered free of charge.

repudiated in the international relations of the American Republics, thus placing in danger the essence and pattern of the institutions of America;

3. The doctrine of inter-American solidarity agreed upon at the meetings at Lima and at Panama requires the adoption of a policy of vigilance and defense so that systems or regimes in conflict with their institutions shall not upset the peaceful life of the American Republics, the normal functioning of their institutions, or the rule of law and order;

The Second Meeting of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the American Republics, DECLARES:

That when islands or regions in the Americas now under the possession of non-American nations are in danger of becoming the subject of barter of territory or change of sovereignty, the American nations, taking into account the imperative need of continental security and the desires of the inhabitants of the said islands or regions, may set up a regime of provisional administration under the following conditions:

(a) That as soon as the reasons requiring this measure shall cease to exist, and in the event that it would not be prejudirepudiada en las relaciones internacionales de las Repúblicas Americanas poniendo de este modo en peligro la esencia y la modalidad de las instituciones de América;

Tercero: Que la doctrina de la solidaridad interamericana acordada en las Reuniones de Lima y Panamá exige la adopción política de vigilancia y de defensa a fin de que sistemas o regímenes en desacuerdo con sus instituciones no entorpezcan la vida pacífica de las Repúblicas de América, la práctica normal de sus instituciones, el imperio del orden y del derecho;

Cuarto: Que el curso de los acontecimientos militares en Europa y los cambios resultantes de los mismos, pueden crear la grave amenaza de que cualesquiera posesiones territoriales europeas en América se conviertan en centros estratégicos para agresión contra naciones del Continente americano,

Terceiro: Que a doutrina de solidariedade interamericana, asentada nas Reuniões de Lima e Panamá, exige a adoção de uma política de vigilância e de defesa, afim de que os sistemas, ou regimes, em desacôrdo com as suas instituições, não perturbem a vida pacífica das Repúblicas da América, a prática normal das suas instituições, o império da ordem e do direito;

The use of such frequencies by these countries must not cause interference to other services in the Northern and Southern zones using such frequencies at the present time.

NOTES

(1) 4500-5200 Kc/s.

The high contracting parties each agree to make a special study of this band of frequencies with a view to solving the problem of national broadcasting in those countries within the central zone located to the south of Panama.

This study should be presented to the Cairo Conference for consideration and should be accompanied by pertinent recommendations based on the following considerations:

a. The use of directional antennas by broadcasting stations to avoid interference to services carried on in other regions.

b. Determination of the maximum night power for broadcasting stations within this band of frequencies.

c. The maximum total width of the broadcast band within the frequency range 4500-5200 Kc/s. should be not greater than 300 Kc/s.

(2) 5900-6000 and 9600-9700 Kc/s.

The proposals of Brazil to assign the frequency bands 5900 to 6000 Kc/s. and 9600 to 9700 Kc/s. to broadcasting shall be studied prior to the Cairo Conference in accordance with Note 3 below.

(3) 6000-25000 Kc/s.

In considering the needs of the broadcasting service in the frequency band 6000-25000 Kc/s. the Inter-American Radio Conference agrees to apply the following principles in the study of this problem and to make recommendations based thereon to the Cairo Radio Conference:

49 Stat. 2475.

1. Strict adherence to the provisions of paragraph 19, Article 7, of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the Madrid Telecommunication Convention, 1932, which states as follows:

"It is recognized that the frequencies between 6000 and 30000 Kc/s (50 and 10 m) are very efficient for long-distance communications. The administrations shall make the greatest possible effort to reserve the frequencies of this band for this purpose, except when their use for short- or medium-distance communication is not likely to interfere with long-distance communications".

2. Broadcast channels shall be assigned primarily for international long-distance communications and secondarily for long-distance national services, particularly between points not served by wire lines. In every case the frequency should be optimum for the distance involved.

3. Stations operating within the present allocated broadcast bands, and in derogation thereof, for the purpose of rendering local service, should be moved to lower frequency standard broadcast bands below 6000 Kc/s.

Ante, p. 1429.

4. It would be unwise to extend the present high frequency broadcast bands until positive assurance is given by all nations that there will be strict adherence to any table of allocation of frequencies to services that may be adopted at the Cairo radio conference. In this connection attention is invited to the fact that an examination of the records discloses that frequencies throughout the high frequency radio spectrum are being used by many broadcast, telephone and telegraph stations in derogation of the provisions of the Madrid Radio Regulations.

49 Stat. 2453.

5. Following good engineering practice in rendering good broadcast service, it is agreed that:

(a) Not less than 5 kw power shall be used for international broadcast service.

(b) Directional antennas shall be used wherever practicable to provide good service to specified countries or regions depending upon the time of day, the listening hours of the receiving public, the particular frequency in use, etcetera.

(c) Bands shall be subdivided so as to give priority to different classes of broadcasting stations, depending upon the adequacy of power and quality of emissions from the standpoint of good engineering practice.

6. The shared use, on an engineering basis, of high frequency broadcast channels between countries throughout the world promises some relief in the present high frequency broadcast bands.

7. Existing services operating within the present authorized bands shall not be displaced therefrom unless suitable replacement frequencies are provided; therefore, it is important that the recommendations to Cairo contain specific recommendations on this subject.

8. In view of their dependence upon radio as a means for carrying on communication and for the protection of life and property, mobile services shall be given first consideration in any alteration of the present authorized bands.

9. Recommendations for additional broadcast frequencies which may be found necessary shall be based upon extensions of the present broadcast bands rather than upon the creation of any new bands.

Special Note

The action taken at Cairo with respect to the recommendations to be submitted in compliance with notes (1) (2) and (3) shall automatically modify the allocation to services in Table IV above.

SECTION 3. ASSIGNABLE FREQUENCIES BASED ON RADIOTELEGRAPH EMISSIONS.

Assignable frequencies.

In general, in the frequency range 1600–4000 Kc/s, the frequencies assigned shall be integral multiples of 4 Kc/s from 1600 to 3000 Kc/s and integral multiples of 5 Kc/s from 3000 to 4000 Kc/s. Communication channels wider than 4 Kc/s or 5 Kc/s may be assigned where the authorized band width of the emission requires the use of such wider channels. For example, two adjoining telegraph channels may be assigned for telephony, in which case the frequency assigned to a station should be the mid-frequency of such channels. The frequencies to be assigned to stations are given in the Table below. Departure from these assignments may be made in order to make more efficient use of the frequency space available.

TABLE OF FREQUENCY TOLERANCES AND OF INSTABILITIES

The Inter-American Radio Conference, Considering:

Frequency tolerances and instabilities.

a) that technical progress since the preparation of the Table given in Appendix I of the Madrid General Radio Regulations permits an appreciable reduction of the figures therein given for tolerances and instabilities;

49 Stat. 2585; ante, p. 1589.

b) that, although the tolerances and instabilities applicable according to the Madrid General Regulations should continue to be applied for present transmitters, transmitters constructed after the date given in the Table below should be held to more severe requirements;

c) that it is desirable to have supplementary data for the tolerances and instabilities that can be applied in current practice, particularly on frequencies higher than 23000 Kc/s., which may become the subject of international regulations;

Agrees to accept:

(1) that technical progress in the matter of frequency stabilization is such that all stations may keep themselves within the limits of tolerance and instabilities specified in the Table below and assist in reducing interference caused by frequency variations;

(2) that the Table below should be substituted for that given in Appendix 1 of the Madrid General Regulations;

(3) that the question of improving tolerance and stability conditions should be kept on the Agenda and extended to higher frequencies than those appearing in the following table within the limits of regulations to be adopted by the Cairo Conference;

49 Stat. 2585; ante, p. 1589.

REVISED TABLE OF FREQUENCY TOLERANCE AND INSTABILITIES.

(1) frequency tolerance is the maximum permissible separation between the frequency assigned to a station and the real transmission frequency.

(2) this separation results from the combination of three errors;

(a) error of the radio frequency meter or of the frequency indicator used;

(b) error made during the adjustment of the transmitter.

(c) slow variations of the transmitter frequency.

(3) in frequency tolerance no account is taken of modulation.

(4) frequency instability is the maximum permissible separation resulting only from the error contemplated in (c) above.

Ante, p. 1589.

- Notes: 1. The administrations will endeavour to take advantage of the progress of the art in order gradually to reduce the frequency tolerances and limits of instabilities.
2. It is understood that ship stations operating within shared bands must conform to the tolerances applicable to land stations and should comply with article 7, Paragraph 117, of the Madrid General Radio Regulations.

PREVENTION OF SPURIOUS RADIATION

The participating Governments agree to require stations under their jurisdiction to use transmitters which are as free as practicable from all spurious emissions.

Spurious radiation.

These radiations should not be of sufficient intensity to cause interference on receiving sets of modern design which are tuned outside the frequency band of emission required for the type of emission employed.— In the case of type A-3 emission, (radiotelephony), the transmitter should not be modulated in excess of its modulation capability to the extent that interfering spurious radiations occur and in the case of amplitude modulation the operation percentage of modulation should not be less than 75 per cent on peaks of frequent recurrence. Adequate means should be employed to insure that the transmitter is not modulated in excess of its modulation capability.

A spurious radiation is any radiation from a transmitter which is outside the frequency band of emission normal for the type of transmission employed, including any harmonic modulation products, key clicks, parasitic oscillations or other transient effects.

SECTION 5. NON USE OF 333 Kc/s. AS AIR CALLING FREQUENCY.

49 Stat. 2471.

Referring to Article 7, Paragraph 11 of the Madrid Radiocommunications the frequency 333 kc/s. is not to be used as an international Air Calling frequency in the American Continent, except in special cases in connection with transatlantic flights.

SECTION 6. USE OF 500 Kc/s.

49 Stat. 2515.

Referring to Article 19, Section I, Paragraph 6-a of the Madrid Radio Regulations, the entire American Continent, except for Hudson Bay and Regions North thereof, shall be considered a region of heavy traffic within the meaning of said Article, therefore, except for Hudson Bay and Regions North thereof, traffic on 500 kc/s. shall be limited to the transmission of distress traffic, urgent and safety messages, signals and single short radio telegrams.

- 2) twice the specified "frequency tolerance".
- 3) the "interference guard bands", if required.

The term frequency band of emission, means that the frequency band of an emission is the frequency band actually occupied by this emission for the type of transmission and for the signalling speed used.

(40) INTERFERENCE GUARD BANDS:

The term "interference guard bands" means the frequency bands additional, to the frequency band of emission and frequency tolerance, which may be allowed in order that there shall be no interference between stations having adjacent frequency assignments. In general this provision is dependent upon receiver selectivity and transmitter characteristics.

(41) PRIMARILY:

The term "primarily" used in connection with certain bands in the allocation table of this agreement means that as duly authorized installations of the primary services are undertaken, they will have preference on the available channels in that particular band.

The assignment of channels to other services in the general allocation for each of these bands will be carried out in such a manner as to prevent undue interference with existing stations of the primary service.

(42) FACSIMILE BROADCAST STATION:

SECTION 8. AMATEURS

Amateurs.

The following provisions concerning amateurs were unanimously agreed upon in addition to the allocation tables:

1. That the band from 1750 to 2050 kc. be allocated for A-1 and A-3 emissions.
2. That, after a study of the recommendations issued by the Radio Conference at Buenos Aires, (revised at Rio de Janeiro, 1937) e) and f) of Recommendation number 10, they have agreed to amend them, without altering the spirit thereof, substituting in their stead, the following:
  - e) That the Administrations should point out the convenience that amateurs use the bands from 1750 to 2050 and 3500 to 4000 Kc/s preferably for short distance communication.

f) That the Administrations recommend that the bands from 7000 to 7300 Kc/s and 14000 to 14400 Kc/s should not be used for short distance communications between amateur stations.

3. That frequencies included between 3500 to 4000, 7000 to 7300 and 14000 to 14400 be available for allocation in accordance with the following table:

3500 to 3800 Kc/s. for A-1 only.
 3800 to 4000 Kc/s. for A-1 and A-3.
 7000 to 7050 Kc/s. for A-1 only.
 7050 to 7150 Kc/s. for A-1 and A-3
 (A-3 for Latin-America only).
 7150 to 7300 Kc/s. for A-1 only.
 14000 to 14100 Kc/s. for A-1 only.
 14100 to 14300 Kc/s. for A-1 and A-3.
 14300 to 14400 Kc/s. for A-1 only.

Emission type A-1 may be used in the entire frequency band comprised between 14000 and 14400 Kc/s. The Latin-American countries, Canada and Newfoundland may use type A-3 in the frequencies comprised between 14100 and 14300 Kc/s. The United States will operate with emission type A-3 on frequencies 14150 to 14250 Kc/s., at least until December 31, 1939.

4. The bands from

1750 to 2050 Kc/s
 3500 to 4000 Kc/s
 7000 to 7300 Kc/s
 14000 to 14400 Kc/s
 28000 to 30000 Kc/s

shall be amateur bands.

5. In order to make a better use of the 14 megacycle band insofar as radiotelephone communication is concerned, and to avoid at the same time any undue congestion which may be caused by the operation of beginners not familiar with the use of high frequencies, it is recommended that an adequate probationary period in which to acquire the necessary experience, as well as a technical and practical test, be required before an amateur will be granted a license to operate on the 14 megacycle band for radiotelephony.

6. The amateurs bands lately assigned shall not be used for any type of broadcasting fixed or mobile service.

SECTION 9. AMATEUR THIRD PARTY MESSAGES.

Whereas the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunication Convention of Madrid provide that unless modified by special arrangements between interested countries amateur stations are forbidden to transmit international communications emanating from third persons; and Amateur third party messages.

 49 Stat. 2477; ante,
 p. 1473.

Whereas it is apparent that the community of interest of the peoples of all the Americas would be fostered by encouraging the exchange, by amateur stations, without charge, of friendly messages emanating from our citizens.

Be it resolved, by the Inter-American Radio Conference, that:

In the interest of close and friendly contacts between the peoples of the Americas, the administrations of the contracting countries whose internal legislation permits it agree that amateur radio stations in their respective countries and possessions may internationally exchange messages emanating from third parties; provided, however, that such messages shall be of a character that would not normally be sent by any other existing means of electrical communication and on which no compensation may be directly or indirectly paid.

SECTION 10. INTERNATIONAL POLICE RADIO.

International police radio.

1. Realizing the advantage to be gained by coordinating international police communications, all countries parties to this agreement are encouraged to authorize police radiotelegraph stations in close proximity to the boundaries of contiguous countries for the transmission of emergency information regarding law enforcement matters. In general, only important police messages are to be handled, such as that which would lose its value due to slowness and time limitations of other communication methods.

2. Stations engaged in international police communication service shall normally use the facilities provided for national police service; provided (a) that police frequencies used primarily for radiotelephone communication with mobile police units shall not be used for radiotelegraph communication, (b) that stations of different countries in close proximity to the boundary between countries may be authorized by their administrations to exchange point to point radiotelephone communication, and (c) that initially the following frequencies be used for both national and international police radiotelegraph communication:

2804 Kc/s calling	5195 Kc/s day only calling
2808 Kc/s working	5135 Kc/s day only working
2812 Kc/s working	5140 Kc/s day only working.

3. Notifications concerning the particulars of stations engaged in international police service shall be forwarded to the Bureau of the International Telecommunication Union, Berne, Switzerland, in order that all stations desiring to inter-communicate may be kept informed of the details concerning individual operation.

Operating procedure.

4. In order to insure uniformity in the handling of messages, the following operating procedure shall be followed:

49 Stat. 2501.

(a) This service shall, in general, conform with the provisions of Article 16 of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunications Convention, Madrid, 1932.

(b) Full use shall be made of the list of abbreviations appearing in Appendix 9 to the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunications Convention, Madrid, 1932. Plain language shall not be used if an abbreviation will suffice. Service indications are as follows: P—Priority, for messages which are to be sent immediately regardless of the number of other messages on file. No service indication, messages that are to be transmitted in the order of receipt.

49 Stat. 2619.

(c) The message shall contain the preamble, text, and signature, as follows:

(1) Preamble: The preamble of the message shall consist of the following: The serial number preceded by the letters NR; service indications as appropriate; check (this is the group count according to standard cable count system, the letters "CK" followed by numerals indicating the number of words contained in the text of the message); office and country of origin (not abbreviated); day of month and month; hour of filing; address.

(2) Text: The text may be in either plain language or code.

(3) Signature: The signature shall include the name and title of the person originating the message.

SECTION 11. RADIO AIDS TO AIR NAVIGATION

STANDARDS OF FIELD STRENGTH AND INTERFERENCE RATIOS

1. WHEREAS the Inter-American Radio Conference has carefully considered the various resolutions of the September 1937 Inter-American Technical Aviation Conference of Lima, and in particular resolutions XIV, XVII and XVIII which were referred to this Conference and Radio aids to air navigation.

2. Considering

a) the great importance of radio aids to air navigation, the phenomenal growth of air traffic and the further expansion which will certainly take place in the future;

b) the exacting requirements of such radio aids to air navigation with respect to stability of emissions as affected by multiple path transmission which can be minimized to the greatest extent by selection of frequencies least subject to sky wave effects;

c) the extremely limited range of frequencies which possesses the necessary propagation characteristics as mentioned in (b) above;

d) the absolute dependence of aircraft in flight upon radio for navigational guidance and communication;

e) the vast number of aircraft throughout the world that now use, and must continue to share the limited number of frequencies suitable for aids to air navigation, therefore making the strictest economy of use necessary in order that all may be accommodated with a minimum of interference;

f) the standardization which therefore seems desirable in order to facilitate international flying by coordination, and, as far as possible, standardization of equipment and operating procedure;

g) that it is possible for a single ground station such for instance as the radio range beacon to simultaneously give navigational guidance to a practically unlimited number of aircraft;

h) the grave responsibility of radio aids to air navigation for rendering reliable service to aircraft which, under certain circumstances, may be entirely dependent for their safety upon uninterrupted reception of satisfactory navigational signal; and

i) the short period of time that has been available for engineering study since the September 1937 Inter-American Technical Aviation Conference at Lima;

3. The Inter-American Radio Conference resolves:

a) That in accordance with the recommendations of the Lima Convention the countries participating in this conference should prepare and exchange not later than June 1, 1938 all pertinent data which may be of value in the drafting of the following tables which may serve as a guide in connection with the application of the engineering principles herein set forth.

Table I listing various types of radio aids to air navigation which have been approved for service operation;

Table II establishing minimum signal intensities required for satisfactory reception of the various types of radio aids to air navigation, such data to be used as a basis for determination of normal service areas;

Table III establishing permissible values of interfering signal strength for the various types of radio aids to air navigation expressed in ratios of desired to undesired signal at the minimum service signal contour (a) on the same frequency, (b) 3 kc/s removed in frequency, and (c) 6 kc/s removed in frequency.

b) that radio aids to air navigation, especially those which are of a one-way or broadcast nature, such as radiobeacons, should be expected to maintain the highest possible standards of reliability, stability, and quality of emissions;

c) that in the interests of economy of frequencies the limited number of channels suitable for the use of radio air navigational aids should be assigned with the closest practicable separation, considering the type of service and class of emission, and that, as far as possible, all nations should reserve the same bands for similar types of service in order to simplify receiver design and through standardization extend the geographical limits of usefulness.

d) that the sharing of frequencies to provide facilities within the authorized bands might be arranged by regional agreement between the countries within whose borders lie portions of the interference area of existing stations as determined by the table of interference ratios and service signals;

e) that the power radiated by radio aids to air navigation in the authorized frequency bands should ordinarily be confined to a value consistent with the normal required signal intensity within the area in which it is desired to render service in order that interference beyond the service area may be reduced to a minimum.

NOTE: See additional material submitted by the U.S.A. for informative purposes, annexed.

SECTION 12. SUPPRESSION OF INTERFERENCE CAUSED BY ELECTRICAL APPARATUS.

1. Diathermy apparatus, induction field heaters, carrier call systems, and similar non-radio apparatus which use radio frequency currents as an essential to their operation, may be a serious source of interference to radio communications.

Interference from electrical apparatus.

2. The use of such apparatus has an important place in therapeutics, surgery, industry, etc.

3. The radiation of radio energy is not essential to the proper functioning of the apparatus and can be prevented or controlled without impairing the usefulness of the apparatus for its intended purpose.

4. The radiation takes place generally from the output circuit, internal circuits or power supply connection, all of which are essential elements.

5. The extent of the radiation depends upon the operating frequency or frequencies, power, and the design, installation and operation of the apparatus.

6. The radiation through the power supply connection can be prevented by means of the proper line filter. Radiation from the internal circuits can be prevented by means of suitable metallic cases. The radiation from the output circuits can be reduced to a level so as not to cause interference to radio communications by means of suitable metallic shielding, if the shielding encloses the entire apparatus and is of sufficient dimensions that large eddy currents are not produced in the shield.

7. In many cases it may not be practicable to employ the required shielding.

8. The frequencies used for such apparatus may be any frequency in the useful radio spectrum. However, many modern diathermy units (which cause most long-distance radio interference) operate on frequencies from approximately 10,000 to 20,000 kilocycles. Operations on other frequencies mainly cause interference to local or moderate distance reception.

9. In cases where it is not practicable to shield the entire apparatus to control the radiation, then the only means of operating machines without causing interference would be to use frequencies which are not assigned to any radio services.

10. The usual diathermy machine is essentially a radio transmitter of the self-excited oscillating type and generally uses self-rectifying plate power supply. Due to the inherent instability of the oscillator circuits, the wide variation in voltage during a plate supply cycle, and the different uses to which the output circuit is subject, the operating frequency varies during normal operation over very wide bands, possibly one or two megacycles, when operating on a frequency of approximately 15 megacycles.

11. All diathermy machines designed for the same service could operate on the same frequency without impairing their usefulness, since their operation is not affected by radiation from other machines. To operate on a fixed frequency would require additional apparatus and cost in that automatic frequency control would be required—to maintain the operating frequency within at least  $\frac{1}{20}$  percent to be effective. At 15 megacycles this would require a band width of 15 kilocycles, or virtually one communication channel.

12. From the best information available diathermy operation should be restricted until the art advances to the point where apparatus may be designed to completely suppress interfering radiations, to three frequencies, namely, approximately 12 megacycles, 25 megacycles, and 50 megacycles.

13. Such apparatus as carrier call systems and certain types of induction furnaces and similar apparatus using medium or low frequencies should be required to restrict the generation of harmonics and make the necessary test to determine that radiation of signal does not result beyond a prescribed level.

14. Each subscribing country should make the necessary regulations to require the complete shielding or operation on designated frequencies of all non-radio apparatus which generate radio frequency electric energy as an essential to its operation but does not engage in radio communication.

15. There is annexed hereto a report on "Radio Interference from Electro Therapeutic Apparatus" presented by Canada which is to be considered part of the material adopted on this subject.

NOTE: See "Radio Interference from Electro Therapeutic Apparatus" report presented by Canada, contained in document C.I.R./Doc. 43.

In witness whereof, the respective Delegates have signed various copies of this instrument in Spanish, English, Portuguese and French, to be deposited in the archives of the Government of Cuba, which shall forward an authenticated copy thereof in each language to the other contracting Governments.

ADDITIONAL DOCUMENT FOR INFORMATION PURPOSES.

In accordance with the suggestion made for an interchange of technical information, the Inter-American Radio Conference takes into consideration the following points, which shall be presented at the appropriate time by the Government of the United States of America, to all the American countries.

1. Lists of all aeronautical stations in the United States operated by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Air Commerce. This list will give the following information concerning each station:

Location and type of station.

Bearings of all range beacon courses.

Call letters.

Operating frequency in kilocycles.

Station identification signals.

Bearing and distance to nearest landing field, including exact elevation of such field above sea level.

Schedule of radiotelephone broadcasts of weather information and notices to airmen.

Las altas partes contratantes convienen, cada una, en hacer un estudio especial sobre estas frecuencias considerándolas como una de las posibles soluciones para la radiodifusión nacional en aquellos países de la Zona Central situada al sur de Panamá.

Este estudio debería ser presentado a la consideración de la Conferencia de El Cairo, con las respectivas recomendaciones, basadas en los siguientes puntos:

a).—Uso de antenas direccionales en las estaciones radiodifusoras para evitar interferencias a otros servicios.

b).—Determinación de la potencia máxima nocturna para estaciones radiodifusoras, en esta banda de frecuencias.

c).—La amplitud total de esta banda entre los 4500 y los 5200 Kc/s. no deberá exceder de 300 Kc/s.

(2) 5900-6000 y 9600-9700 Kc/s.

La proposición presentada por el Brasil, de que se asignen las bandas de frecuencias de los 5900 a los 6000 kc., y de los 9600 a los 9700 kc. a la radiodifusión, será estudiada antes de celebrarse la Conferencia de El Cairo, de acuerdo con los principios expuestos en la nota No. 3 siguiente.

(3) 6000-25000 Kc/s.

Al considerar las necesidades del servicio de radiodifusión en la banda de frecuencias de los 6000 a los 25000 kc. la Conferencia Interamericana de Radio conviene en aplicar los siguientes principios al estudio de este problema, y en presentar recomendaciones a la Conferencia de Radio de El Cairo, tomándolos como base:

1.—Cumplimiento estricto de las disposiciones del Párrafo 19 del Artículo 7 del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones, anexo a la Convención Internacional de Telecomunicaciones celebrada en Madrid, en 1932, que dice así:

“Se reconoce que las frecuencias entre 6000 y 30000 kc. (50 y 10 m) son muy eficaces para las comunicaciones a larga distancia. Las Administraciones se esforzarán todo lo posible por reservar las frecuencias de esta banda para ese fin, excepto cuando su empleo para comunicaciones a corta distancia o a distancias medias no sea susceptible de causar interferencia a las comunicaciones de larga distancia”.

2.—Los canales de radiodifusión serán asignados preferentemente para comunicaciones internacionales a larga distancia, y, en segundo término, a los servicios nacionales de larga distancia, particularmente entre puntos que no estén comunicados por hilo telegráfico. En todo caso, la frecuencia deberá ser la óptima para la distancia en cuestión.

3.—Las estaciones que funcionen dentro de las bandas de radiodifusión asignadas en la actualidad, y en derogación de las mismas, con el fin de prestar servicio local, deberán ser trasladadas a bandas de radiodifusión de frecuencias más bajas, inferiores a los 6000 kc.

4.—No sería prudente extender las bandas de radiodifusión de altas frecuencias que rigen hoy día, hasta que se obtenga la promesa formal de todas las naciones de que cumplirán estrictamente con las tablas de asignación de frecuencias que se adopten en la Conferencia de El Cairo. Sobre este particular, se llama la atención hacia el hecho de que un estudio de la documentación respectiva demostraría que muchas estaciones radiodifusoras, telefónicas y telegráficas están usando frecuencias en toda la gama de altas frecuencias en el “spectrum”, en violación de las disposiciones contenidas en el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones de Madrid.

5.—Siguiendo buenos principios de ingeniería práctica, a fin de prestar un servicio adecuado de radiodifusión, se acuerda:

a) Que no se usará una potencia menor de 5 K. W. para el servicio internacional de radiodifusión.

b) Que se usarán antenas direccionales siempre que sea conveniente a fin de prestar buen servicio a determinados países o regiones, dependiendo esto de la hora, de las horas que prefiera el público radioescucha, la frecuencia que se esté usando, etc.

c) Que las bandas se subdividirán de manera que den prioridad a clases distintas de estaciones radiodifusoras, dependiendo de que la potencia sea adecuada y de la calidad de las emisiones, desde el punto de vista de las buenas normas de ingeniería.

6.—El uso en común basado en la buena ingeniería, de canales de radiodifusión en altas frecuencias entre países de todo el mundo, promete algún alivio en lo que respecta a las presentes bandas de radiodifusión de altas frecuencias.

7.—Los servicios actuales que funcionen dentro de las bandas de frecuencia autorizadas no serán eliminados de ellas a menos que se suministren frecuencias adecuadas que las reemplacen; siendo de importancia, en consecuencia, que las recomendaciones que se presenten a la Conferencia de El Cairo contengan recomendaciones especiales sobre este asunto.

8.—En vista de que de la comunicación por radio puede depender la protección de la vida y la propiedad, se dará consideración primordial a los servicios móviles al hacer cualquiera alteración en las bandas actualmente autorizadas.

9.—Las recomendaciones que se presenten respecto a frecuencias adicionales que se consideren necesarias, deberán hacerse a base de ampliaciones de las bandas de radiodifusión ya existentes, en vez de la creación de nuevas bandas.

Nota especial:

La resolución que se tome en El Cairo con respecto a las recomendaciones que serán presentadas en cumplimiento de las notas (1), (2) y (3) modificarán automáticamente la asignación a servicios en la Tabla IV que antecede.

SECCION 3.—FRECUENCIAS ASIGNABLES BASADAS EN EMISIONES
RADIOTELEGRAFICAS

En principio, la asignación de frecuencias, en la banda de 1600 a 3000, se hará en múltiplos enteros de 4 Kc/s., y en la banda de 3000 a 4000 Kc/s., se hará en múltiplos enteros de 5 Kc/s.—Los canales de comunicación de mayor amplitud de 4 o 5 Kc/s., podrán ser asignados cuando la amplitud de la banda para el tipo de transmisión autorizada requiera el uso de canales más anchos, por ejemplo: Dos canales adyacentes de telegrafía podrán ser destinados a telefonía, en cuyo caso la frecuencia asignada a la estación deberá ser la frecuencia intermedia de ambos canales. En la siguiente tabla se dan las frecuencias que deberán ser asignadas a las estaciones radiotelegráficas; la modificación de estas asignaciones podrán hacerse siempre que ella redunde en beneficio de la separación entre las frecuencias.

La siguiente tabla indica las frecuencias asignables:

SECCION 4.—TOLERANCIA Y EMISIONES ESPURIAS.

-I-

TABLA DE TOLERANCIAS DE FRECUENCIA Y DE INESTABILIDADES.—

La Conferencia Interamericana de Radio,

CONSIDERANDO:

a) Que el progreso técnico alcanzado desde la formulación de la tabla contenida en el Apéndice I del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones de Madrid, permite una reducción apreciable de las cifras que en ella se dan para tolerancias e inestabilidades.

b) Que, aun cuando sería conveniente continuar la aplicación de las tolerancias e inestabilidades que fija el Reglamento General de Madrid a los emisores actualmente en uso, debería imponérseles requisitos más severos a los emisores construídos despues de la fecha indicada en la tabla que a continuación se inserta;

c) Que convendría obtener datos suplementarios en cuanto a las tolerancias e inestabilidades que pueden aplicarse en la práctica actual, especialmente respecto a las frecuencias mayores de 23000 kc. que podrían ser objeto de reglamentación internacional;

ACUERDA:

1.—Aceptar que el progreso técnico en materia de estabilización de frecuencias ha llegado al extremo de que todas las estaciones pueden mantenerse dentro de los límites de tolerancias o inestabilidades especificados en la tabla que más adelante se inserta, así como cooperar en la reducción de interferencias causadas por la fluctuación de las frecuencias;

2.—Que la susodicha tabla debería reemplazar a la contenida en el Apéndice 1 del Reglamento General de Madrid;

3.—Que el asunto de la mejora en las condiciones de tolerancias y de estabilidad debería mantenerse en la Agenda y ampliarse hasta incluir frecuencias más altas que las que aparecen en la siguiente tabla, con sujeción a la reglamentación que se adopte en la Conferencia de El Cairo;

TABLA REVISADA DE TOLERANCIA DE FRECUENCIAS Y DE INESTABILIDADES.—

1) La tolerancia de frecuencia es el máximo de separación admisible entre la frecuencia asignada a una estación y la frecuencia real de trasmisión.

2) Esta separación resulta de la combinación de estos 3 errores:

- a) el error del radiofrecuencímetro o del indicador de frecuencia empleado;
- b) el error cometido al ajustar el trasmisor.
- c) variaciones lentas de la frecuencia del emisor.

3) En la tolerancia de frecuencia no se tiene en cuenta la modulación.—

4) La inestabilidad de frecuencias es el máximo de desviación admisible resultante solamente del error comprendido en el inciso (c) anterior.

(1) Se reconoce el hecho de que en este servicio existe un gran número de transmisores de chispa y de auto-osciladores, que no pueden cumplir con este requisito.

NOTAS: 1.—Las administraciones se esforzarán por aprovechar los progresos de la técnica radioeléctrica para reducir progresivamente las tolerancias de frecuencia y los límites de inestabilidad.

2.—Entiéndese que las estaciones de barco que operen dentro de las bandas comunes deberán ajustarse a las tolerancias aplicables a las estaciones terrestres, y deberán observar las disposiciones del Artículo 7, Párrafo 117, del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones de Madrid.

3.—Este texto de tolerancias fué aprobado de acuerdo con la Opinión No. 93 adoptada por el C. C. I. R. de Bucarest, con las modificaciones de los encazamientos de las columnas 1 y 3.

SUPRESION DE EMISIONES ESPURIAS

Los Gobiernos convienen en requerir de las estaciones que se hallan bajo su jurisdicción que usen transmisores lo más libre posible de toda clase de emisiones espurias. Estas radiaciones no deberán ser de suficiente intensidad para causar interferencia a aparatos receptores de diseño moderno que se sintonicen fuera de la banda de frecuencia de emisión necesaria para el tipo de emisión que se utilice. En el caso de emisión del tipo A-3 (radio-telefonía) el transmisor no deberá modularse en exceso de su capacidad de modulación hasta el punto en que ocurran las radiaciones espurias, interferentes y tratándose de la modulación por amplitud, el porcentaje de modulación en los máximos de recurrencia frecuente, no deberá ser menor del 75 por ciento. Deberán emplearse medios adecuados para asegurar que el transmisor no sea modulado en exceso de su capacidad de modulación.

Una radiación espuria es cualquiera radiación de un transmisor que se halle fuera de la banda de frecuencia normal de emisión, para el tipo de transmisión que se utilice, incluso cualesquiera productos de armónicos de modulación, golpes de llave, oscilaciones parásitas u otros efectos transitorios.

SECCION 5.—NO USO DE LOS 333 Kc/s. COMO FRECUENCIA DE LLAMADA AEREA.

En relación con el Artículo 7, inciso 11, del Reglamento de Madrid, la frecuencia de 333 Kc/s. no deberá utilizarse como llamada internacional en el Servicio Aéreo en el Continente americano, excepto en casos especiales en conexión con vuelos trasatlánticos.

SECCION 6.—USO DE LOS 500 Kc/s.

En relación al artículo 19, Sección 1, párrafo 6-a del Reglamento de Radio de Madrid, todo el Continente americano con excepción de la Bahía de Hudson y regiones al Norte de la misma, serán consideradas como región de intenso tráfico, de acuerdo con la definición de dicho artículo. Por lo tanto, excepto la Bahía de Hudson y las regiones al Norte de la misma, el servicio de los 500 kc/s. quedará limitado a la trasmisión de llamadas de emergencia, de mensajes urgentes y de seguridad y radiotelegramas cortos y aislados.

SECCION 7.—DEFINICIONES <sup>1</sup>

(42).—ESTACION DE RADIODIFUSION DE FACSIMIL:

Una estación autorizada para transmitir imágenes de objetos fijos para la impresión o registro de la recepción por el público en general.

SECCION 8.—AFICIONADOS:

Las siguientes disposiciones concernientes a aficionados fueron convenidas por unanimidad en adición a las tablas de asignaciones:

1.—Que la banda de 1750 a 2050 Kc/s. quede asignada para las emisiones A-1 y A-3.

2.—Que estudiadas las recomendaciones de la Conferencia de Radio de Buenos Aires, Revisión de Río de Janeiro, 1937, e y f, de la Recomendación No. 10, han convenido en modificarlas, sin que ésto altere el espíritu de ellas, sustituyéndolas como sigue:

e) Que las Administraciones indiquen la conveniencia de que las bandas de 1750 a 2050 Kc/s. y de 3500 a 4000 Kc/s, sean utilizadas por los aficionados preferentemente para las comunicaciones a corta distancia.

f) Que las Administraciones recomienden el no emplear las bandas de 7000 a 7300 Kc/s. y de 14000 a 14400 Kc/s, para comunicaciones de estaciones de aficionados a corta distancia.

3.—Las frecuencias comprendidas entre 3500 a 4000 Kc/s., 7000 a 7300 Kc/s, y 14000 a 14400 Kc/s., sean disponibles de acuerdo con la Tabla siguiente:

3500 a 3800 Kcs para A-1	Solamente.
3800 a 4000 “ “ A-1 y A-3
7000 a 7050 “ “ A-1	Solamente.
7050 a 7150 “ “ A-1 y A-3	(A-3 solamente para la América Latina.)
7150 a 7300 “ “ A-1	Solamente.
14000 a 14100 “ “ A-1	Solamente.
14100 a 14300 “ “ A-1 y A-3
14300 a 14400 “ “ A-1	Solamente.

Podrá usarse la emisión de tipo A-1 en toda la banda de frecuencia comprendida entre los 14000 a 14400 Kc/s. Los países latino-americanos, Canadá y Terranova, podrán usar emisión tipo A-3 en las frecuencias comprendidas entre los 14100 y los 14300 Kc/s. Los Estados Unidos operarán con emisiones del tipo A-3 entre los 14150 y los 14250 Kc/s. por lo menos hasta el 31 de diciembre de 1939.

4.—Las bandas de:

1750 a 2050	Kc/s.

7000 a 7300	“
14000 a 14400	“
28,000 a 30000	“	y
56,000 a 60000	“

serán bandas de aficionados.

5.—Con el objeto de hacer un mejor uso de la banda de 14 megaciclos, en cuanto a la radiotelefonía se refiere, y a fin de evitar una congestión indebida por la presencia de principiantes no familiarizados con el uso de altas frecuencias, se sugiere: que se exija un período suficiente de prueba para adquirir la experiencia necesaria y, además, un exámen técnico y práctico, antes de que se conceda permiso a un aficionado para usar la banda de 14 megaciclos para la radiotelefonía.

6.—Las bandas de aficionados asignadas recientemente no serán empleadas para ningún tipo de servicio de radiodifusión, ya sean fijos o móviles.

SECCION 9.—MENSAJES A TERCERA PERSONA CURSADOS POR AFICIONADOS.

Considerando que el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones anexo a la Convención Internacional de Telecomunicaciones de Madrid dispone, que, a menos que haya sido modificado por acuerdos especiales entre países interesados, se prohíbe a las estaciones de aficionados transmitir mensajes internacionales que emanen de tercera persona; y

Considerando: que es evidente que se fomentaría la comunidad de intereses entre los pueblos de todas las Américas estimulando el intercambio, por estaciones de aficionados y sin compensación alguna, de mensajes amistosos que emanen de nuestros ciudadanos;

RESUELVE: La Conferencia Interamericana de Radio

Con el propósito de fomentar relaciones estrechas y amistosas entre los pueblos de las Américas, las administraciones de los países contratantes cuyas legislaciones internas lo permitan, acuerdan que las estaciones de radioaficionados en sus respectivos países y en las posesiones de los mismos podrán efectuar intercambio internacional de mensajes procedentes de tercera persona; siempre que tales mensajes sean de tal índole que normalmente no serían transmitidos por ningún otro medio existente de comunicación eléctrica, y que por ellos no se pague directamente ni indirectamente, compensación alguna.

SECCION 10.—SERVICIO INTERNACIONAL DE RADIO PARA POLICIA.

1.—Considerando las ventajas que puedan obtenerse de la coordinación de las comunicaciones de policía internacional, se recomienda a todos los países que son parte de este Convenio, que autoricen estaciones radiotelegráficas de Policía lo más próximas a sus límites con países contiguos para la trasmisión de informaciones de emergencia, relativas a materias sobre observancia de las leyes. En general, solo se tratará de aquellos mensajes de policía que perderían su valor por la lentitud y limitaciones de tiempo de otros métodos de comunicaciones.

2808 “ operar	5135 “ solo de día operar.
2812 “ operar	5140 “ solo de día operar.

3.—Las notificaciones concernientes a las características de las estaciones dedicadas al servicio internacional de radio para policía, serán remitidas a la Oficina de la Unión Internacional de Telecomunicaciones de Berna, Suiza, a fin de que todas las estaciones que deseen intercomunicarse puedan mantenerse informadas de los detalles concernientes al funcionamiento individual.

4.—A fin de asegurar uniformidad en el manejo de los mensajes, se seguirá el procedimiento operativo siguiente:

a) Este servicio se ajustará, en general, a las disposiciones del Artículo XVI del Reglamento General de Radio anexo al Convenio Internacional de Telecomunicaciones de Madrid, 1932.

b) Se hará amplio uso de la lista de abreviaturas que aparece en el apéndice 9 del Reglamento General de Radio anexo al Convenio Internacional de Telecomunicaciones de Madrid, 1932. No se empleará lenguaje corriente si una abreviatura es suficiente. Las indicaciones de servicio son como siguen: P — Prioridad, para mensajes que hayan de ser enviados inmediatamente prescindiendo del número de otros mensajes depositados. ## SECCIÓN 11. AUXILIO POR RADIO A LA NAVEGACIÓN AÉREA.

NORMAS DE INTENSIDAD DE CAMPO Y RELACIÓN DE INTERFERENCIAS.

1.—POR CUANTO la Conferencia Interamericana de Radio ha considerado cuidadosamente las diversas resoluciones de la Conferencia Técnica Interamericana de Aviación, reunida en Lima en Septiembre de 1937, y en especial las Resoluciones XIV, XVII y XVIII referidas a esta Conferencia, y

2.—CONSIDERANDO

a) la gran importancia que la radiocomunicación tiene en auxilio de la navegación aérea; el desarrollo fenomenal del tránsito aéreo y la mayor expansión que seguramente ésta ha de tener en el futuro;

b) la precisión que exigen los servicios radioeléctricos de ayuda a la navegación aérea respecto a la estabilidad de las emisiones en cuanto las afecta la transmisión de trayectoria múltiple, la cual puede ser reducida al mínimum escogiendo frecuencias que estén menos expuestas a los efectos de las ondas reflejadas;

c) lo extremadamente limitada que es la gama de las frecuencias que poseen las características de propagación necesarias mencionadas en el considerando b) anterior;

d) que las aeronaves en vuelo dependen en absoluto del radio para su orientación y comunicación;

e) el gran número de aeronaves de todas partes del mundo que en la actualidad usan y tienen que seguir usando en común, el número limitado de frecuencias adecuadas para la ayuda a la navegación aérea, lo cual obliga a practicar la economía más estricta en su uso, de manera que a todas pueda atenderse con un mínimum de interferencia;

f) la normalización que, por lo tanto, convendría efectuar para facilitar la navegación aérea internacional, coordinando, y en lo posible haciendo uniforme, el equipo y el procedimiento de operación;

g) que le es posible, a una sola estación terrestre, como por ejemplo, un radiofaro de orientación, prestar simultáneamente ayuda en la navegación a un número prácticamente ilimitado de aeronaves;

h) la gran responsabilidad que asumen los servicios radioeléctricos que ayudan a la navegación aérea de prestar un servicio competente a las aeronaves, las que, en ciertas circunstancias, pueden depender por completo para su seguridad de la recepción ininterrumpida de señales satisfactorias de navegación; e

i) el corto plazo con que se ha contado para hacer estudios de ingeniería desde la clausura de la Conferencia Técnica Inter-Americana de Aviación reunida en Lima en Septiembre de 1937;

RESUELVE:

a) Que, de acuerdo con las recomendaciones de la Conferencia de Lima, los países representados en esta Conferencia preparen y cambien entre sí, a más tardar el 1ro. de junio de 1938, todos los datos pertinentes que puedan utilizarse en la redacción de las siguientes tablas, las cuales servirían de guía en lo que respecta a la aplicación de los principios de ingeniería que aquí se exponen:

Tabla I, que contenga una lista de los diversos tipos de servicios radioeléctricos de ayuda a la navegación aérea que han sido aprobados para ponerlos en operación.

Tabla II, que especifique las intensidades de señal mínimas que son necesarias para la recepción satisfactoria de las diversas clases de ayuda radioeléctrica a la navegación aérea; datos que se usarán como base para determinar las áreas de servicio normal;

Tabla III, que especifique los valores admisibles de la intensidad de la señal interferente de los diversos tipos de ayuda radioeléctrica a la navegación aérea, expresándose dichos valores en forma de relación entre señales interferidas y señales interferentes en el contorno mínimo de señal de servicio; a) en la misma frecuencia, b) 3 Kc/s fuera de la frecuencia y c) 6 Kc/s fuera de la frecuencia.

b) Que es de esperarse que los servicios radioeléctricos de ayuda a la navegación aérea, especialmente los de radiodifusión unilateral, como los radiofaros, mantengan las más altas normas de seguridad, estabilidad y calidad de emisión.

c) Que, con el objeto de economizar frecuencias, se asigne el número limitado de canales adecuados para los servicios radioeléctricos de ayuda a la navegación aérea separándolos lo menos que sea posible desde un punto de vista práctico, tomando en consideración el tipo de servicio y la clase de emisión; y que, en lo posible, todas las naciones deben reservar las mismas bandas para tipos análogos de servicio, de manera que se puedan simplificar los receptores y se logre, por medio de la normalización, extender los límites geográficos de utilidad.

d) Que podría convenirse el uso en común de frecuencias para proveer los medios necesarios dentro de las bandas autorizadas, mediante un acuerdo regional celebrado entre los países dentro de cuyas fronteras existan secciones del área de interferencia de las estaciones existentes según la tabla de relaciones de interferencias y señales de servicio;

e) Que la potencia radiada por las estaciones de ayuda a la navegación aérea, en las bandas de frecuencias autorizadas, deben por lo común, limitarse a los valores compatibles con la intensidad de señal que se necesite normalmente, dentro del área en que se desee prestar servicio, a fin de reducir a un minimum la interferencia fuera del área de servicio.

SECCIÓN 12.—SUPRESIÓN DE INTERFERENCIAS CAUSADAS POR APARATOS ELÉCTRICOS.

1.—Los aparatos diatérmicos, hornos de inducción, sistemas de intercomunicación doméstica mediante altas frecuencias y otros aparatos eléctricos que emplean corrientes de radiofrecuencia como elemento esencial a su funcionamiento, pueden causar interferencia a las radiocomunicaciones.

2. El uso de tales aparatos es de mucha importancia en terapéutica, cirugía, las industrias, etc.

3. La radiación de la energía radioeléctrica no es esencial para el funcionamiento adecuado de los aparatos, y puede evitarse o controlarse sin mermar la utilidad de cada aparato, al objeto a que se dedique.

4. La radiación ocurre por lo general en el circuito de salida, los circuitos internos o en las fuentes de energía, todos los cuales son elementos esenciales.

5. La magnitud de la radiación depende de la frecuencia o frecuencias de funcionamiento, de la potencia y del diseño, instalación y funcionamiento del aparato.

6. La radiación que emana de las fuentes de energía puede evitarse usando un filtro de línea adecuado. La radiación de los circuitos internos puede evitarse usando cajas metálicas adecuadas. La radiación de los circuitos de salida puede reducirse a un nivel en que no se cause interferencia a las radiocomunicaciones usando una pantalla metálica siempre que el protector cubra todo el aparato y sus dimensiones sean tales que no se produzcan grandes corrientes parásitas.

7. En muchos casos puede que no sea práctico emplear tal blindaje.

8. Se puede usar en dichos aparatos cualquier frecuencia en la porción útil del espectro de radio. Sin embargo, muchos de los aparatos terapéuticos modernos, que causan la mayor parte de la interferencia a larga distancia, operan en frecuencias de 10,000 a 20,000 kc/s, aproximadamente. Cuando se utilizan otras frecuencias se causa interferencia principalmente a la recepción a corta distancia o a distancia moderada.

9. En los casos en que no es práctico blindar todo el aparato para controlar la radiación, el único medio para conseguir que las máquinas funcionen sin causar interferencia es usar frecuencias no asignadas a servicios de radio.

10. El aparato terapéutico usual, es esencialmente un emisor de radio del tipo oscilante de autoexcitación, y emplea generalmente corriente de placa autorectificada. A causa de la inestabilidad inherente a los circuitos osciladores, a las grandes variaciones de voltaje durante cada ciclo de la corriente suministrada a la placa, y a los usos distintos que puede darse al circuito de salida, la frecuencia en servicio varía durante la operación normal, en un margen muy amplio, posiblemente uno o dos megaciclos, cuando se opera en una frecuencia aproximada de 15 megaciclos.

11. Todas las máquinas terapéuticas diseñadas para un mismo servicio pueden operar en la misma frecuencia sin limitar su utilidad, ya que la radiación emitida por otras máquinas no afecta su funcionamiento. Se necesitarían más aparatos y mayores gastos para poder funcionar en una frecuencia fija, pues habría que tener control automático de frecuencias a fin de mantener la frecuencia en que se opera, con una variación de por lo menos 1/20 por ciento. En 15 megaciclos esto representaría una anchura de banda de 15 Kc/s, lo que corresponde prácticamente a todo un canal de comunicación.

12. Conforme a la información más acertada de que se dispone, el funcionamiento diatérmico debería restringirse hasta que la ciencia alcance a tal punto, en que los aparatos puedan ser diseñados hasta suprimir completamente las radiaciones interferentes, a tres frecuencias, o sean, aproximadamente, 12, 25 y 50 megaciclos.

13. Respecto a los aparatos tales como sistemas de intercomunicación doméstica y ciertos tipos de hornos de inducción, así como aparatos análogos que emplean frecuencias medias o bajas, debería exigirse que limiten todo lo posible la generación de armónicos, y que hagan la prueba de rigor a fin de ver que la radiación no pase de un nivel determinado.

14. Cada país contratante deberá reglamentar lo necesario para obligar a que se blinden por completo y que se sujeten a frecuencias determinadas los aparatos eléctricos que generan energía eléctrica de radiofrecuencia, como medida esencial a su operación, pero que no se dedican a las radiocomunicaciones.

15. Se anexa al presente un informe sobre "la radio-interferencia por aparatos electro-terapéuticos", presentado por el Canadá, el cual debe ser considerado como parte de las disposiciones adoptadas sobre esta materia.

NOTA: Ver "La Radio Interferencia por Aparatos Electro Terapéuticos", informe presentado por el Canadá, en el Documento C. I. R./Doc. 43.—

Notas:*(1) 4500-5200 Kc./s.

As altas partes contractantes convêm, cada uma, em fazer um estudo especial sobre estas frequencias, considerando-as como uma das possiveis soluções para a radiodifusão nacional naquelles paizes da Zona Central situada ao Sul do Panamá.

Este estudo deveria ser apresentado á consideração da Conferencia do Cairo com as respectivas recommendações baseadas nos seguintes pontos:

- a.—Uso de antenas direccionaes nas estações radiodifusoras para evitar interferencias a outros serviços.
- b.—Determinação da potencia maxima nocturna para estações radiodifusoras, nesta faixa de frequencia.
- c.—A amplitude total desta faixa entre 4500 e 5200 Kc/s. não deverá exceder de 300 Kc/s.

(2) 5900-6000 e 9600-9700 Kc/s.

A proposta apresentada pelo Brasil, de que se assignem as faixas de frequencias dos 5900 aos 6000 Kc. e dos 9600 aos 9700 Kc. á radiodifusão, será estudada antes de celebrar-se a Conferencia do Cairo, de accôrdo com os principios expostos na chamada n° 3 subsequente.

(3) 6000-25000 Kc./s.

Ao considerar as necessidades do serviço de radiodifusão na faixa de frequencias dos 6000 aos 25000 Kc. a Conferencia Interamericana de Radiocommunicções convêm em applicar os seguintes principios ao estudo deste problema, e apresentar recommendações á Conferencia de Radiocommunicções do Cairo, tomando-os como base:

1.—Cumprimento estricto das disposições do paragrapho 19 do Artigo 7 do Regulamento Geral de Radiocommunicções, annexo á Convenção Internacional de Telecommunicções celebrada em Madrid, em 1932, que diz:

"Se reconhece que as frequencias entre 6000 e 30.000 Kc. (50 e 10 m.) são mui efficazes para as communicações a longas distancias. As Administrações se esforçarão todo o possivel por reservar as frequencias desta faixa para esse fim, excepto quando seu emprego para communicações á curta distancia ou a distancias medias não seja susceptivel de causar interferencias ás communicações de longa distancia".

3.—As estações que funcionem dentro das faixas de radiodifusão actualmente assignadas, e em derogação das mesmas, com o fim de prestar serviço local, deverão ser trasladades a faixas de radiodifusão de frequencias mais baixas, inferiores aos 6000 Kc.

4.—Não seria prudente estender as faixas de radiodifusão de altas frequencias que regem neste momento até que se obtenha a promessa formal de todas as nações de que cumprirão estrictamente com as tábuas de assignação de frequencias que se adoptem na Conferencia do Cairo. Sobre este particular, chama-se a attenção para o facto de que um estudo da documentação respectiva demonstraria que muitas estações radiodifusoras, telephónicas e telegraphicas estão usando frequencias em toda a gamma de altas frequencias no "spectrum" em violação das disposições contidas no Regulamento Geral de Radiocommunicções de Madrid.

5.—Seguindo bons principios de engenharia práctica afim de prestar um serviço adequado de radiodifusão, accorda-se:

- a) Que não se fará uso de uma potencia menor de 5 kw para o serviço internacional de radiodifusão.
- b) Que se usarão antenas direccionaes sempre que seja conveniente afim de prestar bom serviço a determinados paizes ou regiões, dependendo isto da hora, das horas que prefira o publico radio-ouvinte, a frequencia que se estiver usando, etc.
- c) Que as faixas se sub-dividirão de maneira a assegurar dem prioridade a classes diferentes de estações radiodifusoras, dependendo de que a potencia seja adequada e da qualidade das emissões, desde o ponto de vista das boas normas de engenharia.

6.—O uso em commum, baseado na boa engenharia, de canaes de radiodifusão em altas frequencias entre paizes de todo o mundo, promette algúm alivio no que diz respeito ás presentes faixas de radiodifusão de altas frequencias.

7.—Os serviços actuaes que funcionem dentro das faixas de frequencias autorizadas, não serão dellas eliminados a menos que se subministrem frequencias adequadas que as substituam; sendo de importancia, em consequencia, que as recommendações que se apresentem á Conferencia do Cairo conttenham recommendações especiaes sobre este assumpto.

8.—Em vista de que da communicação pelo radio pode depender a protecção da vida e da propriedade dar-se-á consideração primordial aos serviços móveis ao fazer-se qualquer alteração nas faixas actualmente autorizadas.

9.—As recommendações que se apresentem a respeito a frequencias adicionaes, necessarias, deverão fazer-se na base de ampliações das faixas de radiodifusão actualmente existentes, em vez de criação de novas faixas.

Nota especial:

A resolução que se tome no Cairo com respeito ás recommendações que serão apresentadas em cumprimento das notas (1), (2) e (3) modificarão automaticamente a assignação a serviços na precedente Tábua IV.

SECÇÃO 3.—FREQUENCIAS ASSIGNAVEIS BASEADAS EM EMISSÕES RADIOTELEGRAPHICAS.

Em principio, a assignação de frequencias na faixa de 1600 a 3000, se fará em multiplos inteiros de 4 kilocyclos, e na faixa de 3000 a 4000 Kc/s., se fará em multiplos inteiros de 5 Kc/s.

Os canaes de communicacão de maior amplitude que 4 ou 5 Kc/s poderão ser assignados quando a extensão da faixa para o typo de transmissão autorizada requeira o uso de canaes mais extensos, por exemplo: dois canaes adjacentes de telegraphia poderão, ser destinados a telephonia; no cujo caso a frequencia assignada á estação deverá ser a frequencia intermedia de ambos canaes. Na seguinte tábua indica-se as frequencias que deverão ser assignadas ás estações radiotelegraphicas; a modificacão destas assignações poderá fazer-se sempre que resulte em beneficio da separacão entre as frequencias.

SECCÃO 4.—TOLERANCIAS E EMISSÕES ESPURIAS

-I-

TÁBUA DE TOLERANCIA DE FREQUENCIA E DE INESTABILIDADES.

A Conferencia Interamericana de Radiocommunições,

CONSIDERANDO:

- a) Que o progresso técnico alcançado desde a formulação da tábua contida no Appendice I do Regulamento Geral de Radiocommunições de Madrid permite uma redução apreciavel das cifras nella indicadas para tolerancias e Inestabilidade;
- b) Que, mesmo se fosse conveniente continuar a applicação das tolerancias e inestabilidades que fixa o Regulamento Geral de Madrid ás emmissoras actualmente em uso se deveria impôr-lhes requisitos mais severos ás emmissoras construidas depois da data indicada na tábua que a continuação se transcreve;
- c) Que conviria obter dados supplementarios em quanto ás tolerancias e inestabilidades que podem applicar-se na prática actual, especialmente no que diz respeito ás frequencias maiores de 23,000 Kc., que poderiam ser objecto de regulamentação internacional;

ACCÔRDA:

- 1.—Admittir que o progresso técnico em matéria de estabilização de frequencias chegou ao extremo de que todas as estações podem manter-se dentro dos limites de tolerancias e inestabilidades especificados na tábua que mais adiante se transcreve assim como cooperar na redução de interferencias causadas pela fluctuação das frequencias;
- 2.—Que a mencionada tábua deveria substituir a contida no Appendice I do Regulamento Geral de Madrid;
- 3.—Que o assumpto da melhoria nas condições de tolerancias e de estabilidade deveria manter-se na agenda e ampliar-se até incluir frequencias mais altas do que as que apparecem na seguinte tábua, sujeitas á regulamentação que se adopte na Conferencia do Cairo.

TÁBUA REVISADA DE TOLERANCIA DE FREQUENCIAS E DE INESTABILIDADES.

- 1) A tolerancia de frequencia é o máximo de separação admissivel entre a frequencia assignada a uma estação o a frequencia real de transmissão.
- 2) Esta separação resulta da combinação destes trez erros:
  - a) o erro de radiofrecuencimetro ou do indicador de frequencia empregado;
  - b) o erro commetido ao regular o transmissor;
  - c) variações lentas da frequencia do emissor.
- 3) Na tolerancia de frequencia não se leva em conta a modulação.
- 4) A inestabilidade de frequencias é o máximo de desviação admissivel resultante sómente do erro comprehendido no inciso c) anterior.

(1) Se reconhece o facto de que neste serviço existe um grande número de transmissores de fiação e de auto-os-cilladores que não podem cumprir este requisito.

Notas: 1.—As administrações deverão esforçar-se por aproveitar os progressos da técnica para reduzir progressivamente as tolerancias de frequencia e os limites de inestabilidade.

2.—Fica entendido que as estações de navio que operem dentro de faixas comuns deverão ajustar-se ás tolerancias applicaveis ás estações terrestres o deverão observar as disposições do Artigo 7, paragrapho 117, do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações de Madrid.

3.—Este texto de tolerancia foi approved de accôrdo com a Opinião n° 93 adoptada pelo C. C. I. R. de Bucarest, com as modificacões dos encabeçamentos das columnas 1 e 3.

SUPPRESSÃO DE EMISSÕES ESPURIAS.

Os Governos convêm em requerer das estações que se encontram sob sua jurisdicção que empreguem transmissores o mais livre possivel de toda classe de emissões espurias. Estas irradiações não deverão ser de sufficiente intensidade para causar interferencias a aparelhos receptores de desenho moderno que se sintonizem fóra da faixa de frequencia de emissão necessaria para o typo de emissão que se utilize. No caso de emissão do typo A-3 (radio-telephonia) o transmissor não deverá modular-se em excesso de sua capacidade de modulação até o ponto em que ocorram as irradiações espurias interferentes e tratando-se da modulação por amplitude, a percentagem de modulação nos maximos de recorrencia frequente não deverá ser menor do 75 por cento. Deverão empregar-se meios adequados para assegurar que o transmissor não seja modulado em excesso de sua capacidade de modulação.

Uma irradiação espuria é qualquer irradiação de um transmissor que se encontre fóra da faixa de frequencia normal de emissão, para o typo de transmissão que se utilize, inclusive quaesquer productos de harmonicos de modulação, golpes de chave, oscilações parasitas ou outros efeitos transitorios.

SECÇÃO 5.—NÃO USAR OS 333 Kc/s COMO FREQUENCIA DE CHAMADA AEREA.

Em relação com o Artigo 7, inciso 11, do Regulamento de Madrid, a frequencia de 333 Kc não deverá utilizar-se como chamada internacional no serviço Aereo no Continente americano, excepto nos casos especiaes em connexão com vôos trasatlanticos.

SECÇÃO 6.—Uso DOS 500 Kc/s.

Em relação ao artigo 19, Secção 1, paragrapho 6-a, do Regulamento de Radio de Madrid, todo o Continente americano, com excepção da Bahia de Hudson e regiões ao Norte da mesma, serão consideradas como região de intenso trafico, de accôrdo com a definição do mencionado artigo. Portanto, excepto a Bahia de Hudson e as regiões ao Norte da mesma, o serviço nos 500 Kc/s, ficará limitado á transmissão de chamadas de emergencia, de mensagens urgentes e de segurança o radiotelegrammas curtos e isolados.

SECÇÃO 7.—DEFINIÇÕES.<sup>1</sup>

Segundo está empregado em relação com cortas faixas da tábua de assignações deste accôrdo, significa que á medida em que se empreendem instalações devidamente autorizadas dos serviços principaes, ellas terão a preferencia dos canaes disponiveis naquella faixa.

Em cada uma destas faixas, a assignação de canaes para outros serviços diferentes dos da assignação geral, se fará de maneira tal que se evite a interferencia indevida com estações existentes do serviço principal.

(42) ESTAÇÃO DE RADIODIFFUSÃO DE FAC-SIMILE

SECÇÃO 8.—AMADORES.

As seguintes disposições referentes a amadores foram acceitas por unanimidade, em additamento ás tábuas de assignações:

1.—Que a faixa de 1750 a 2050 Kc/s fique assignada para as emissões A-1 e A-3.

2.—Que estudadas as recommendações da Conferencia de Radio de Buenos Aires, Revisão do Rio de Janeiro, 1937, e e f, da Recommendation No. 10, convieram em modificical-as, sem que isto altere o espirito dellas, substituindo-as como segue:

e) Que as Administrações indiquem a conveniencia de que as faixas de 1750 a 2050 Kc/s., e de 3500 a 4000 Kc/s., sejam utilizadas pelos amadores, preferentemente para as communicações á curta distancia.

f) Que as Administrações recommendem que não se empregue as faixas de 7000 a 7300 Kc/s e de 14000 a 14400 Kc/s para communicações de estações de amadores á curta distancia.

3500 a 3800 Kc/s para A-1 sómente.

3800 a 4000 “ “ A-1 e A-3

7000 a 7050	“	“	A-1 sómente.
7050 a 7150	“	“	A-1 e A-3 (A-3 sómente para a America Latina).
7150 a 7300	“	“	A-1 sómente.
14000 a 14100	“	“	A-1 sómente
14100 a 14300	“	“	A-1 e A-3
14300 a 14400	“	“	A-1 sómente.

Poderá usar-se a emissão do typo A-1 em toda a faixa de frequencias comprehendida entre 14000 e 14400 Kc/s.— Os paizes latino-americanos, Canada e Terranova, poderão usar emissão typo A-3 nas frequencias comprehendidas entre 14100 e 14300 Kc/s. Os Estados Unidos de America operarão com emissões do typo A-3 entre 14150 e 14250 Kc/s, pelo menos até o dia 31 de Dezembro de 1939.

4.—As faixas de

1750 a 2050 Kc/s.
3500 a 4000 “
7000 a 7300 “
14000 a 14400 “
28000 a 30000 “ 56000 a 60000 “

serão faixas de amadores.

5.—Com o objecto de fazer um melhor uso da faixa de 14 megacyclos, no que se refere á radiotelephonia, e afim de evitar uma congestão indevida pela presença de principiantes não familiarizados com o uso de altas frequencias, se suggere: que se exija um periodo sufficiente de prova para adquirir a experiencia necessaria e, além disso, um exame técnico e pratico, antes de que se conceda permissão a um amador para usar a faixa de 14 megacyclos, para a radiotelephonia.

6.—As faixas de amadores assignadas recentemente não serão empregadas para nenhum typo de serviço de radiodifusão, sejam fixos ou móveis.

SECÇÃO 9.—MENSAGENS DE TERCEIRA PESSOA TRANSMITTIDOS POR AMADORES.

Considerando que o Regulamento Geral de Radiocommunições Anexo á Convenção Internacional de Telecommunições de Madrid, dispõe que, a menos que haja sido modificado por accórdos e speciaes entre os paizes interessados, se prohibe ás estações de amadores transmittir mensagens internacionaes que emanem de terceira pessoa; e

Considerando que é evidente que se fomentaria a communhão de interesses entre os povos de todas as Americas estimulando o intercambio, por estações de amadores e sem compensação alguma, de mensagens amistosos que emanem de nossos cidadãos;

RESOLVE: a Conferencia Interamericana de Radio.

Com o proposito de fomentar relações estreitas e amistosas entre os povos das Americas, as Administrações dos paizes contractantes cujas legislações internas o permitam, accórdam que as estações de radio-amadores em seus respectivos paizes e suas posseções poderão effectuar intercambio internacional de mensagens procedentes de terceiras pessoas, desde que taes mensagens sejam de indole tal que normalmente não seriam transmittidas por nenhum outro meio existente de comunicação electrica, e que por elles não se pague directa ou indirectamente compensação alguma.

SECÇÃO 10. SERVIÇO INTERNACIONAL DE RADIOCOMUNICAÇÕES PARA POLICIA.

1.—Considerando as vantagens que se possam obter da coordinação das comunicações de policia internacional, recommenda-se a todos os paizes que fazem parte deste convenio que autorizem estações radiotelegraphicas de policia o mais proximas aos seus limites com paizes contiguos para a transmissão de informações de emergencia, relativas a materias sobre a observancia das leis.— Em geral, só se tratará daquellos mensagens de policia que perderiam seu valor pela lentidão e limitações de tempo de outros methodos de comunicações.

2.—As estações occupadas na comunicações do serviço internacional de policia farão uso normalmente das facilidades proporcionadas ao serviço nacional de policia; sempre que: (a) as frequencias de policia usadas primordialmente para comunicações radiotelephónicas com unidades de policia movel não sejam usadas para comunicações radiotelegraphicas; (b) que as estações de diferentes paizes proximas aos limites entre paizes possam ser autorizadas por seus administrações para trocar de ponto a ponto comunicação radiotelephonica; e (c) que as seguintes frequencias sejam usadas inicialmente tanto para a comunicação radiotelegraphica de policia nacional como internacional:

2812 kc operar	5140 kc operar só de dia.

3.—As notificações referentes ás características de estações dedicadas ao serviço internacional de radio para policia, serão remetidas ao Escritorio da União Internacional de Telecomunicações de Berna, Suissa, afim de que todas as estações que desejem intercomunicar-se possam manter-se informadas dos detalhes relativos ao funcionamento individual.

4.—Afim de assegurar a uniformidade na manipulação das mensagens, se seguirá o procedimento seguinte:

(a) Este serviço se ajustará, em geral, ás disposições do artigo XVI do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações anexo ao Convenio Internacional de Telecomunicações de Madrid, 1932.

(b) Se fará amplo uso da lista de abreviaturas constante do appendice 9 do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações anexo ao Convenio Internacional de Telecomunicações de Madrid, 1932. Não se empregará linguagem corrente se uma abreviatura fôr sufficiente. As indicações de serviço são as seguintes: P – Prioridade, para mensagens que tenham de ser enviados immediatamente prescindindo do numero dos outros mensagens depositados. As mensagens sem indicação de serviço, serão transmitidas na ordem em que sejam recebidas.

(c) As mensagens conterão o preambulo, texto e assignatura, como segue:

(1) Preambulo: O preambulo da mensagem consistirá no seguinte: número de ordem precedido pelas letras NR; indicações de serviço como sejam apropriadas; check (isto é a contagem de palavras de conformidade com o systema de contagem typo do telegramma, as letras "CK" seguidas por cifras que indicam o numero de palavras contidas no texto da mensagem); repartição e paiz de origem (sem abreviar); dia do mez e mez; hora do deposito; endereço.

(2) Texto: O texto poderá ser em linguagem corrente ou cifra.

(3) Assignatura: A assignatura incluirá o nome e titulo do remetente da mensagem.

SECÇÃO 11.—AUXILIO POR RADIOCOMMUNICAÇÃO Á NAVEGAÇÃO AEREA.

"STANDARDS" DE INTENSIDADE DE CAMPO E RELAÇÃO DE INTERFERENCIAS.

1.—PORQUANTO a Conferencia Interamericana de Radiocommunições considerou cuidadosamente as diversas resoluções da Conferencia Técnica Interamericana de Aviação, reunida em Lima em Setembro de 1937, e especialmente as Resoluções XIV, XVII e XVIII referidas a esta Conferencia, e

2.—CONSIDERANDO:

a) a grande importancia da radiocommunição como auxilio a navegação aérea; o desenvolvimento phenomenal do trânsito aéreo e a maior expansão que certamente ha de ter no futuro;

b) a precisão que exigem os serviços radioeléctricos de ajuda á navegação aérea com respeito á estabilidade das emissões emquanto as affecta a transmissão de trajetoria múltipla, a qual pode ser reduzida ao minimum escolhendo frequencias que estejam menos expostas aos effectos das ondas reflectidas;

c) o extremadamente limitada que é a gamma das frequencias que possuem as characteristics de propagação necessarias mencionadas no considerando b) anterior;

d) que as aeronaves em vôo dependem no absoluto do radio para a sua orientação e communicação;

e) o grande número de aeronaves de todas partes do mundo que na actualidade empregam e têm continuar empregando em commum, o número limitado de frequencias adequadas para ajudar a navegação aérea, o qual obriga a praticar a economia mais estricta no seu uso, de forma que seja possível attender a todas com um minimum de interferencia;

f) a normalização que portanto conviria effectuar para facilitar a navegação aérea internacional coordinando e no possivel fazendo uniforme o aparelhamento e o procedimento de operação.

g) que é possivel a uma só estação terrestre, um radiopharol de orientação, por exemplo, prestar simultaneamente ajuda para a navegação a um número praticamente illimitado de aeronaves;

h) a grande responsabilidade que assumen os serviços radioelétricos que ajudam a navegação aérea, ao prestar um serviço competente ás aeronaves, cuja segurança pode, em determinadas circunstancias, vir a depender por completo da recepção ininterrupta de signaes de navegação satisfactorios, e

i) o curto prazo que tem havido para fazer estudos de engenharia desde o encerramento da Conferencia Técnica Interamericana de Aviação reunida em Lima em Setembro de 1937;

RESOLVE:

a) Que, de accôrdo com as recommendações da Conferencia de Lima, os paizes representados nesta Conferencia preparem e troquem entre sí, ao mais tardar a primeiro de Junho de 1938, todos os dados pertinentes que possam utilizar-se na redacção das seguintes tábuas, as quaes serviriam de guia no que diz respeito á applicação dos principios de engenharia que aquí se expoem:

Tábua I, que contenha uma lista dos diversos typos de serviços radioelétricos de ajuda á navegação aérea que foram approvados para os pôr em operação.

Tábua II, que especifique as intensidades de signal mínimas necessarias para a recepção satisfactoria das diversas clases de ajuda radioelétrica á navegação aérea; dados que se usarão como base para determinar as áreas de serviço normal;

Tábua III que especifique os valores admissiveis da intensidade de signal interferente dos diversos typos de ajuda radioelétrica á navegação aérea expresando-se os mencionados valores em forma de relação entre signaes interferidos e signaes interferentes no contôrno mínimo de signal de serviço; a) na mesma frequencia, b) 3 kc. fóra da frequencia e c) 6 kc. fóra da frequencia;

b) Que é de esperar que os serviços radioelétricos de ajuda á navegação aérea, especialmente os de radiodifusão unilateral, como os radio-pharoes, mantenham as mais altas normas de segurança estabilidade e qualidade de emissão.

c) Que, com o fim de economizar frequencias, se assigne o número limitado de canaes adequados para os serviços radioelétricos de ajuda á navegação aerea separando-os o menos possivel desde um ponto de vista práctico, tomando em consideração o typo de serviço e a classe de emissão; e que, no possivel, todas as nações devem reservar as mesmas faixas para typos análogos de serviço, de maneira que se possa simplificar os receptores e que se logre por meio da normalização extender os limites geographicos de utilidade.

d) Que se poderia convencionar o uso em commum de frequencias, para prover os meios necessarios dentro das faixas autorizadas, mediante um convenio regional celebrado entre os paizes dentro de cujas fronteiras existam secções da área de interferencia das estações existentes segundo a tábua de relações de interferencias e signaes de serviço.

e) Que a potencia irradiada pelas estações de ajuda á navegação aérea nas faixas de frequencias autorizadas devem geralmente limitar-se aos valores compatíveis com a intensidade de signal necessaria normalmente dentro da área em que se deseje prestar serviço, a fim de reduzir ao mínimo a interferencia fóra de área de serviço

SECÇÃO 12.—SUPPRESSÃO DE INTERFERENCIAS CAUSADAS POR APPARELHOS ELECTRICOS

1.—Os aparelhos diathermicos, fornos de inducção, systemas de intercommunição domestica mediante altas frequencias e outros aparelhos electricos que empregam correntes de radiofrequencia como elemento essencial ao seu funcionamento, podem causar interferencia ás radiocommunições.

2.—O uso de taes aparelhos é de muita importancia na therapeutica, cirurgia, industrias, etc.

3.—A irradiação da energia radioelectrica não é essencial para o funcionamento adequado dos aparelhos, e pode evitar-se ou controlar-se sem reduzir a utilidade de cada aparelho, para o fim que se emprega.

4.—A irradiação ocorre geralmente no circuito de sahida, nos circuitos internos ou nas fontes de energia todos os quaes são elementos essenciaes.

5.—A magnitude da irradiação depende da frequencia ou frequencias de funcionamento, da potencia e do desenho, installação e funcionamento do aparelho.

6.—A irradiação que emana das fontes de energia pode evitar-se usando um filtro de linha adequado. A irradiação dos circuitos internos pode evitar-se usando caixas metalicas adequadas. A irradiação dos circuitos de sahida pode reduzir-se a um nivel em que não se cause interferencia ás radiocommunições usando uma tela metalica sempre que o protector cubra todo o aparelho e suas dimensões sejam taes que não se produzam grandes correntes parasitas.

7.—Em muitos casos pode ser que não seja pratico empregar tal protecção.

8.—Se pôde usar nos mencionados aparelhos qualquer frequencia na porção util do "spectrum" de radio. No entanto, muitos dos aparelhos therapeuticos modernos, que causam a maior parte da interferencia a longa distancia, operam em frequencias de 10,000 a 20,000 kilocyclos, aproximadamente. Quando se utilizam outras frequencias causa-se interferencia principalmente á recepção a curta distancia ou a distancia moderada.

9.—Nos casos em que não é pratico proteger todo o aparelho para controlar a irradiação, o unico meio para conseguir que as machinas funcionem sem causar interferencia é usar frequencias não assignadas a serviços de radio.

10. O aparelho therapeutico usual é essencialmente um emissor de radio do typo oscillante de autoexcitação, e emprega geralmente corrente de placa auto-rectificada. A causa da inestabilidade inherente aos circuitos oscilladores, ás grandes variações de voltagem durante cada cyclo da corrente subministrada á placa e aos usos diferentes que pode dar-se ao circuito de sahida, a frequencia em serviço varia durante a operação normal numa margem muito amplia, possivelmente um ou dois megacyclos quando se opera em uma frequencia aproximada de 15 megacyclos.

11.—Todas as machinas therapeuticas desenhadas para um mesmo serviço podem operar na mesma frequencia sem limitar sua utilidade, já que a irradiação emittida por outras machinas não affecta seu funcionamento. Necessitar-se-ia mais aparelhos e maiores despesas para poder funcionar em uma frequencia fixa, pois haveria que ter controlar automatico de frequencias afim de manter a frequencia em que se opera, com uma variação pelo menos de 1/20 de um por cento. Em 15 megacyclos isto representaria uma extensão de faixa de 15 Kc/s., o que corresponde praticamente a todo um canal de comunicação.

12.—Conforme a informação mais acertada de que se dispõe, o funcionamento diathermico, deveria restringir-se até que a sciencia alcance a tal ponto, em que os aparelhos possam ser desenhados até supprimir completamente as irradiações interferentes a tres frequencias, ou sejam, aproximadamente, 12, 25 e 50 megacyclos.

13.—Com respeito aos aparelhos taes como systemas de intercomunicação domestica e certos typos de fornos de inducção, assim como aparelhos analogos que empregam frequencias medias ou baixas, deveria exigir-se que limitem todo o possivel a geração de harmonicos e que facam a prova de rigor afim de ver que a irradiação não passe de um nivel determinado.

14.—Cada paiz contractante deverá promulgar o regulamento necessario para obrigar a que se protejam por completo e que se sujeitem a frequencias determinadas os aparelhos electricos que garem energia electrica de radiofrequencia, como medida essencial a sua operação, mas que não se dedicam ás radiocomunicações.

NOTA:

Vide.—(O informe apresentado pelo Canada sobre “A Radio-interferencia por Aparelhos Electro-therapeuticos” encontra-se no Documento C.I.R./Doc. 43)

Em fé do que os respectivos Delegados assignaram varios exemplares do presente Instrumento en espanhol, inglez, portuguez e francez que serão depositados nos archivos do Governo cubano, o qual encaminhará aos outros Governos contractantes uma copia authenticada em cada uma dessas linguas.

NOTES:

(1) 4500-5200 Kc.

Les Hautes Parties contractantes s'engagent individuellement à faire une étude spéciale de ces bandes de fréquences en les considérant comme une des solutions possibles pour la radio-diffusion nationale dans les pays de la Zone Centrale situés au sud de Panama Cette étude devrait être soumise à la considération de la Conférence du Caire, avec les recommandations appropriées basées sur les points suivants:

(a) Usage d'antennes dirigées dans les stations de radio-diffusion afin d'éviter des interférences aux services d'autres régions.

(b) Détermination de la puissance nocturne maximum pour les stations de radio-diffusion, dans cette bande de fréquence.

(c) L'amplitude totale de la bande de radio-diffusion entre 4500 et 5200 Kc. ne devra pas dépasser 300 Kc.

La proposition présentée par le Brésil au sujet de l'assignation des bandes de fréquences de 5900 à 6000 Kc. et de 9600 à 9700 Kc. à la Radio-diffusion, sera étudiée avant l'inauguration de la Conférence du Caire, selon les principes exposés dans la suivante Nota (3) di-dessous.

(3) 6000-25.000 Kc.

Au moment de considérer les besoins du service de la Radio-diffusion dans la bande de fréquences de 6000 à 25000 Kc. la Conférence Interaméricaine de Radio-Communications a convenu appliquer les principes suivants à l'étude de ce problème et de présenter à la Conférence de Radio-communications du Caire des recommandations basées sur ces principes.

1.—Accomplissement strict des dispositions du paragraphe 19 de l'article 7 du Règlement Général de Radio-communications, annexé à la Convention Internationale de Télécommunications, qui a eu lieu à Madrid en 1932, et qui est ainsi rédigée.

"Il est reconnu que les fréquences entre 6000 et 30000 Kc. (50 et 10 mètres) sont très efficaces pour les communications de longue distance. Les Administrations s'efforceront, autant qu'il leur sera possible, de réserver les fréquences de cette bande à ces communications, excepté quand leur emploi pour des communications à courtes distances, ou à distances moyennes, n'entraîne pas une cause d'interférences dans les communications à longue distance."

4.—Il ne serait pas prudent d'étendre les bandes de Radio-diffusion de hautes fréquences qui existent aujourd'hui, jusqu'à ce que l'on obtienne de tous les pays la promesse formelle de respecter strictement les tableaux d'assignation de fréquences qui s'adopteront à la Conférence du Caire. Sur ce sujet en attire l'attention sur le fait suivant, une étude de la documentation respective démontrerait que beau-coup de stations émetteuses, télégraphiques et téléphoniques emploient actuellement des fréquences comprises dans toute la gamme des hautes fréquences du spectre contrairement aux dispositions prévues par le Règlement Général de Radio-communications de Madrid.

a) De pas employer une puissance inférieure à 5 Kw pour le service international de Radio-diffusion.

b) D'employer des antennes dirigées dans tous les cas ou cela serait utile pour prêter un bon service à des pays ou à des régions déterminés, en raison de l'heure du jour, des heures que préfère le public pour la Radio-diffusion, de la fréquence qu'on emploie, etc.

c) Que les bandes comprendront des divisions intérieures pour que l'on puisse donner des priorités aux différentes sortes de postes Radio-diffuseurs, en raison d'une puissance appropriée et de la qualité des émissions, du point de vue des principes de génie reconnues.

6.—L'usage en commun, des voies de Radio-diffusion à hautes fréquences, entre pays et continents du monde, offrira un sensible soulagement dans ces bandes de Radio-diffusion de hautes fréquences, si cet usage est basé sur des principes de génie.

7.—Les services actuels qui fonctionnent dans les bandes de fréquences autorisées n'en seront pas éliminés, à moins que l'on ne fournisse des fréquences appropriées pour les remplacer; par conséquent il est très important de remettre à la Conférence du Caire des recommandations contenant des vœux spécifiques sur ce sujet.

Note spéciale: La décision prise à Caire au sujet des recommandations qui seront présentées conformément aux notes 1), 2) et 3) modifiera automatiquement l'attribution aux services du Tableau IV ci-dessus.

SECTION 3 FREQUENCES ASSIGNABLES BASSES SUR LES EMISSIONS RADIOTELEGRAPHIQUES.

Les voies de communication d'une largeur de plus de 4 Kc/s. ou de plus de 5 kc/s pourront être assignées quand la largeur de bande autorisée de la transmission soit telle qu'il soit besoin d'un usage de ces voies plus larges. Par exemple: deux canaux télégraphiques adjacents pourront être destinés à un usage téléphonique dans ce cas la fréquence assignée à un poste devra être la fréquence moyenne de ces voies. Dans le tableau suivant apparaissent les fréquences qui devront être assignées aux postes. On pourra modifier ces valeurs dans les cas où ce soit en bénéfice de la séparation qui existe entre les fréquences.

SECTION 4. TOLÉRANCE ET ÉMISSIONS PARASITES.

(1) TABLEAU DE TOLERANCE ET D'INSTABILITES.

La Conférence Interaméricaine de Radio-Communications,

CONSIDERANT:

- a) Que le progrès de la technique depuis la rédaction du Tableau inclus dans l'Appendice I du Règlement Général de Radio-Communication de Madrid, permet une réduction sensible, des chiffres concernant les tolérances et les instabilités qui y apparaissent.
- b) Que même dans le cas où il serait opportun de continuer l'application des tolérances et des instabilités que fixe le Règlement Général de Madrid pour les émetteurs actuellement en usage, on devrait imposer des conditions plus sévères aux émetteurs construits après la date indiquée dans le tableau ci-dessous;
- c) Qu'il serait bon d'obtenir des renseignements supplémentaires sur les tolérances et sur les instabilités qui peuvent s'appliquer actuellement dans la pratique aux fréquences supérieures à 23.000 Kilocycles, qui pourraient être l'objet d'une réglementation internationale.

DECIDE:

1.—Que le progrès de la technique en matière de stabilisation de fréquences est parvenu à un tel point, que tous les postes peuvent se maintenir dans les limites de tolérances et d'instabilités spécifiées dans le tableau ci-dessous annexé, et aussi coopérer dans la réduction d'interférences produites par la fluctuation des fréquences.

2.—Que ce tableau devrait remplacer celui qui apparaît dans l'Appendice I du Règlement Général de Madrid.

3.—Que la question de l'amélioration des conditions de tolérances et d'instabilité, devrait se maintenir dans l'Agenda et s'élargir jusqu'à comprendre des fréquences plus hautes que celles qui apparaissent dans le tableau suivant, d'accord avec la réglementation qui s'adoptera à la Conférence du Cairo;

TABLEAU RÉVISÉ DE TOLÉRANCE DE FRÉQUENCES ET D'INSTABILITÉS.

2.—Cette séparation est produite par la combinaison des trois erreurs ci-dessous:

- a) L'erreur du Radio-Fréquencemètre ou de l'indicateur de fréquence employé.
- b) L'erreur faite en accordant le poste émetteur.
- c) Variations lentes de la fréquence de l'émetteur.

3.—Dans la tolérance de fréquences, on ne tient pas compte de la modulation.

4.—L'instabilité de fréquences est le maximum de séparation admissible, qui n'est causée que par l'erreur signalée dans le paragraphe c) antérieur.

- (1) On reconnaît le fait qu'il y a dans ce service un grand nombre d'émetteurs à étincelles, et a émetteurs simples auto-oscillateurs qui ne peuvent pas s'ajuster à cette condition.

Notes:—

1.—Les Administrations s'efforceront de profiter des progrès de la technique, pour réduire progressivement les tolérances des fréquences et les limites d'instabilité.

2.—Il est entendu que les postes des bateaux qui opèrent dans des bandes communes, devront se conformer aux tolérances applicables aux postes terrestres, et devront aussi, respecter les dispositions de l'article 7, paragraphe 117, du règlement général de Radio-Communications de Madrid.

3.—Le document ci-dessus exposé, a été approuvé d'accord avec l'avis No. 93 adoptée par la C.C.I.R. de Bucarest, avec les modifications des en-têtes des colonnes 1 et 3.

SUPPRESSION D'EMISSIONS PARASITES

Les Gouvernements participants sont d'accord pour exiger que les stations soumises à leur juridiction emploient des émetteurs qui soient, autant que possible, libres de toutes sortes d'émissions parasites. Ces rayonnements ne devront pas atteindre une intensité telle qu'elle soit cause d'interférences à l'égard d'appareils récepteurs de construction moderne, qui sont accordés hors de la bande de fréquence de l'émission nécessaire au type employé. Dans le cas de l'émission du type A-3 (radio-téléphonie) le transmetteur ne devra pas être modulé excessivement par rapport à sa capacité de modulation, à un point tel que cela soit cause d'une production de rayonnements parasites susceptibles d'interférences et en ce qui concerne la modulation d'amplitude, le pourcentage de modulation dans les crêtes fréquentes ne devra pas être inférieur à 75%. On devra prendre les précautions nécessaires pour que le transmetteur ne soit pas modulé en excès par rapport à sa capacité de modulation.

On appelle rayonnement parasite, tout rayonnement d'un transmetteur qui se trouve hors de la bande de fréquence normale d'émission pour le type de transmission employé, en y comprenant toutes les productions d'harmoniques de modulations, claquements de manipulateurs, oscillations parasites ou autres effets transitoires.

SECTION 5.—NE PAS EMPLOYER 333 Kc/s. COMME FREQUENCE D'APPEL AERONAUTIQUE

En relation avec l'Article 7, paragraphe 11, du Règlement de Madrid, le fréquence de 333 Kc. ne devra pas s'employer comme fréquence internationale, d'appel dans le Service aéronautique dans le Continent américain, excepté dans des cas spéciaux, en rapport avec des vols transatlantiques.

SECTION 6.—TRAFFIC SUR 500 Kc.

En relation avec l'article 19, Section 1, paragraphe 6-a du Règlement des Radiocommunications de Madrid, tout (le continent américain) en exceptant la Baie d'Hudson et les régions qui sont au nord, sera considéré comme région d'intense trafic, d'accord avec la définition dudit article.—Par conséquent, en exceptant la Baie de Hudson et les régions situées au Nord de cette Baie, le trafic dans les 500 Kc/s devra se limiter à la transmission, d'appels de détresse de messages urgents et de sécurité, et de radiotélégrammes courts et isolés.—

(38) LE TERME "VOIE".

Se rapporte à une partie du spectre de radio-communication suffisamment large pour permettre son emploi par un poste de radio-communication pour effectuer les communications. Il comprend les trois éléments ci-dessous:

- (1) la "bande de fréquence d'émission".
- (2) Le double de la tolérance de fréquence spécifiée".
- (3) Les "bandes de protection d'interférences" s'il en est besoin.

(39) L'EXPRESSION "BANDES DE FREQUENCES D'EMISSION".

Veut dire que la bande de fréquence d'émission est la bande réellement occupée par cette émission pour le type de transmission et vitesse des signaux employés.

(40) L'EXPRESSION "BANDES DE PROTECTION D'INTERFERENCE":

Se rapporte aux bandes de fréquence additionnelles à la bande de fréquence d'émission et de tolérance de fréquence, qui peuvent être permises pour qu'il n'y ait pas d'interférence entre des stations qui ont des assignations de fréquences adjacentes. En général cette disposition dépend de la sélectivité du récepteur et des caractéristiques du transmetteur.

(41) LE TERME "PRINCIPALEMENT"

Quand il s'emploie en relation avec certaines bandes de la table d'assignation de cet arrangement, il veut dire qu'à mesure que des installations, dûment autorisées des services principaux sont entreprises, elles auront la préférence sur les voies disponibles de cette bande.

Dans chacune de ces bandes, l'assignation de voies pour d'autres services différents de ceux de l'assignation générale, se fera de telle sorte qu'on évitera l'interférence inadmissible avec les postes existants dans le service principal.

(42) STATIONS DE RADIO-DIFFUSION DE FACSIMIL:

SECTION 8.—AMATEURS.

On a pris par unanimité les dispositions suivantes, en annexe aux tableaux des assignations, en ce qui concerne les amateurs,

1.—Que la bande 1750 à 2050 kc/s. soit assignée aux émissions A-1 et A-3.

2.—Qu'après une étude des recommandations de la Conférence de Radio-communication de Buenos Ayres, révision de Rio de Janeiro de 1937, e et f, de la recommandation No. 10, on a décidé leur modification, sans en altérer le sens, et on les a remplacées par la rédaction suivante:

- e) Que les Administrations indiqueront la convenance d'utiliser les bandes de 1750 à 2050 Kc/s et de 3500 à 4000 Kc/s pour des services d'amateurs, de préférence pour des communications de courtes distances.
- f) Que les Administrations recommanderont de ne pas employer les bandes de 7000 à 7300 Kcs et de 14000 à 14400 Kcs. pour des communications de postes d'amateurs à courte distance.

3500 à 3800 Kc/s.	pour A-1	seulement
3800 à 4000 Kc/s.	“ A-1 et A-3
7000 à 7050	“ “ A-1
7050 à 7150	“ “ A-1 et A-3	(A-3 seulement pour l'Amérique latine)
7150 à 7300 Kc/s.	pour A-1	seulement
14000 à 14100	“ “ A-1
14100 à 14300	“ “ A-1 et A-3
14300 à 14400	“ “ A-1	seulement.

On pourra employer l'émission du Type A-1 dans toute la bande de fréquences comprise entre 14000 et 14400 Kc/s.— Les pays de L'Amérique latine, Canada et Terre Neuve, pourront employer une émission du Type A-3 dans les fréquences comprises entre 14100 et 14300 Kc/s.— Les Etats Unis d'Amérique emploieront des émissions du type A-3 entre 14150 et 14250 Kc/s., au moins jusqu'au 31 décembre 1939.

4.—Les bandes de

1750 à 2050 Kc/s.
3500 à 4000	“
7000 à 7300	“
14000 à 14400	“
56000 à 60000	“

seront réservées aux amateurs.

3.—Afin de faire un meilleur usage de la bande de 14 mégacycles en ce qui concerne la radio-téléphonie, et pour éviter une congestion indue, causée par la présence de débutants non familiarisés à l'usage des hautes fréquences, on fait la suggestion suivante: qu'il soit exigé un temps suffisamment long d'épreuve pour acquérir l'expérience nécessaire, et aussi un examen technique et pratique avant de donner la permission à un amateur d'employer la bande de 14 mégacycles pour la radiotéléphonie.

6.—Les bandes d'amateurs attribuées réamment ne seront employées par aucun type de service de radio-diffusion, de service fixe, onde service mobile.

SECTION 9.—MESSAGES A DES TIERS EMIS PAR DES AMATEURS

Considérant que le Règlement général de Radio-communications annexé à la Convention internationale de Radio-communications de Madrid, dispose qu'il est défendu aux stations d'amateurs d'émettre des messages internationaux qui sont fournis par des tiers, sauf dans les cas où ceci a été modifié par des accords spéciaux entre les pays intéressés; et

Considérant qu'il est évident que l'on encouragerait la communauté d'intérêts entre les peuples de toutes les Amériques, en stimulant l'échange, par les stations d'amateurs et sans aucune rétribution, des messages amicaux qui émanent de nos citoyens;

La Conférence Interaméricaine de Radio-communications:

A CONVENU:

Que dans le but de stimuler les relations étroites et amicales entre les peuples des Amériques, les Administrations des pays contractants dont les législations intérieures le permettent, conviennent que les stations d'amateurs de leurs pays respectifs et de leurs possessions pourront établir un échange international de messages provenant de tiers, dans les cas où ces messages soient tels qu'ils ne puissent être transmis par aucun moyen existant de communication électrique, et que pour cette transmission il ne soit payé, directement ou indirectement aucune rétribution.

SECTION 10.—SERVICE INTERNATIONAL DE RADIO-COMMUNICATIONS POUR LA POLICE.

2.—Les stations destinées au service de communications internationales de police, emploieront normalement les facilités prévues pour le service national de police; dans tous les cas cependant: a) les fréquences de police employées principalement pour la communication radio-téléphonique avec des unités de police mobile ne seront pas employées pour des communications radio-télégraphiques; b) les stations de divers pays au voisinage des frontières entre pays pourront être autorisées par leurs administrations à échanger entre points fixes des communications radio-téléphoniques, et c) les fréquences suivantes seront d'abord employées pour la communication radio-télégraphique de la police nationale de même que pour l'internationale:

2808 Kc/s onde de travail	5135 Kc/s. onde de travail (Pendant le jour seulement)
2812 Kc/s onde de travail	5140 Kc/s. onde de travail (pendant le jour seulement.)

3.—Les notifications concernant les renseignements de stations destinées au service de police internationale, se remettront au Bureau de l'Union Internationale de Télécommunications à Berne, Suisse pour que toutes les stations qui désirent communiquer entre elles puissent être renseignées sur les détails concernant le fonctionnement individuel.

4.—Afin d'assurer l'uniformité du maniement des messages, on suivra la procédure suivante:

(a) Ce service, se réglera en général sur les dispositions de l'article XVI du Règlement Général de Radio-communications, annexé à la Convention Internationale de Télécommunications de Madrid, 1932.

(b) On fera un usage complet de la liste des abréviations qui apparaît dans l'appendice 9 du Règlement Général de Radio-communications annexé à la Convention Internationale de Télécommunications de Madrid, 1932. On n'emploiera pas le langage courant si une abréviation est suffisante. Les indications de service sont les suivantes: P.—Priorité, pour messages qui doivent être transmis immédiatement sans tenir compte du numéro des autres messages déposés. Les messages qui ne contiennent aucune indication de service seront transmis dans l'ordre ils ont été recus.

(c) Les messages dans lequel auront un préambule, un texte et une signature de la manière suivante:

(1) Préambule: Le préambule du message sera: Un numéro d'ordre précédé des lettres NR; des indications appropriées de service; check (ceci est le compte des mots d'accord avec le système de compte standard du cable) les lettres CK suivies des chiffres qui indiquent le nombre des paroles contenues dans le texte du message; le bureau et le pays d'origine (sans abrèger); jour du mois et mois; heure de la déposition; adresse.

- (2) Texte: Le texte pourra être établi en langage clair ou chiffré.
- (3) Signature: La signature contiendra le nom et le titre de la personne qui a remis le message.

SECTION 11.—AIDE DE LA RADIO COMMUNICATION À LA NAVIGATION AÉRIENNE.

STANDARDS DE L'INTENSITÉ DE CHAMP ET PROPORTIONS D'INTERFÉRENCE.

a) la grande importance de l'aide prêtée au trafic aérien par la Radio-Communication; le développement extraordinaire du trafic aérien et l'expansion beaucoup plus grande que celui-ci aura certainement dans l'avenir;

b) la précision qu'exigent les services Radio-électriques d'aide à la navigation aérienne concernant la stabilité des émissions qui sont gênées par la transmission en trajectoires multiples, laquelle peut être réduite au minimum en choisissant des fréquences qui subissent l'influence des ondes réfléchies avec moins d'effet;

c) la grande limitation de la gamme des fréquences qui possèdent les caractéristiques de propagation nécessaires, mentionnées dans la considération antérieure b);

d) que les aéronefs en vol dépendent absolument des stations de Radio en ce qui concerne la navigation et les communications.

e) le grand nombre d'aéronefs de toutes les parties du monde qui actuellement emploient et doivent continuer à employer en commun le nombre limité de fréquences appropriées à l'aide de la navigation aérienne; ce qui oblige à observer une économie très stricte dans leur usage, pour qu'on puisse desservir tous les aéronefs avec un minimum d'interférence;

f) la normalisation, qu'il serait bon d'établir, pour faciliter d'après les considérations ci-dessus, la navigation aérienne internationale, en coordonnant, et autant que possible en rendant uniforme l'appareillage et la procédure d'exploitation.

g) qu'un seul poste terrestre, un radio-phare d'orientation par exemple, peut prêter simultanément aide à un nombre presque illimité d'aéronefs en vol.

h) la grande responsabilité des services radio-électriques, destinés à l'aide de la navigation aérienne, de desservir convenablement les aéronefs dont la sécurité en certaines circonstances dépend entièrement de la continuité de la réception des signaux de navigation;

i) le délai très bref qui a été donné pour faire des études techniques à partir de la clôture de la Conférence Technique Intéraméricaine d'Aviation de Lima, du mois de septembre 1937.

3.—La Conférence Interaméricaine de Radio-Communications:

A CONVENU

a) Que, d'accord avec les recommandations de la Conférence de Lima, les pays représentés à cette Conférence, prépareront et échangeront entre eux, au plus tard, le 1er. juin 1938, tous les renseignements susceptibles d'être utilisés pour la rédaction des tableaux suivants, qui serviront de guides en ce qui concerne l'application des principes techniques mentionnés ci-dessous:

1.—Tableau I. qui contiendra une liste des divers types de services radio-électriques d'aide à la navigation aérienne qui ont été approuvés pour être appliqués.

2.—Tableau II. qui spécifiera les intensités de signal minimum qui sont nécessaires pour la réception satisfaisante des diverses classes d'aide radio-électrique à la navigation aérienne, ces renseignements qui seront employés comme base, pour déterminer les aires de service normal.

3.—Tableau III. qui spécifiera les valeurs admissibles, de l'intensité du signal interférant pour les divers types d'aide radio électrique à la navigation aérienne, en exprimant ces valeurs en forme de rapport entre les signaux interférés et les signaux interférants dans le contour minimum de signal de service; a) dans la même fréquence, b) 3 Kc. hors de la fréquence et c) 6 Kc. hors de la fréquence.

b) Qu'il faut espérer que les services radio-électriques d'aide à la navigation aérienne, spécialement ceux de radio-diffusion unilatérale ainsi que les radio-phares, observeront les plus hautes règles de continuité de stabilité et de qualité d'émission:

c) Que pour économiser des fréquences, on attribuera un nombre limité de voies appropriées aux services radio-électriques d'aide à la navigation aérienne en les séparant le moins qu'il est pratique possible en tenant compte du type de service et de la classe d'émission; et qu'autant que possible toutes les nations devront réserver les mêmes bandes aux types analogues de service, de façon à pouvoir simplifier les récepteurs et à obtenir au moyen de la normalisation un agrandissement des limites géographiques d'utilité.

d) Que l'usage en commun des fréquences pour fournir les services nécessaires dans les bandes autorisées, peut être réglé par un accord régional entre les pays qui ont à l'intérieur de leurs frontières, des sections de l'aire d'interférence des stations existantes d'après la table de relations d'interférences et de signaux de service.

e) Que la puissance transmise par les postes d'aide à la navigation aérienne dans les bandes de fréquences autorisées, devront généralement se limiter aux valeurs compatibles avec l'intensité de signal dont on a besoin normalement, dans l'aire dans laquelle on a prévu le service, afin de réduire à un minimum l'interférence hors de l'aire de ce service.

SECTION 12.—SUPPRESSION DES INTERFÉRENCES CAUSÉES PAR DES APPAREILS ÉLECTRIQUES.

1.—Les appareils diathermiques, fours à induction, systèmes d'intercommunication domestique au moyen de hautes fréquences et autres appareils électriques qui emploient des courants de radio-fréquence comme élément essentiel de leur fonctionnement, peuvent causer des interférences aux radio-communications.

2.—L'usage de ces appareils est d'une grande importance en thérapeutique, chirurgie, industrie etc.

3.—Le rayonnement de l'énergie radio-électrique n'est pas essentiel pour le fonctionnement approprié des appareils et on peut l'éviter ou le contrôler sans diminuer l'utilité de chaque appareil, pour le but auquel il est destiné.—

5.—La grandeur du rayonnement dépend de la fréquence ou des fréquences du fonctionnement, de la puissance et de la construction, de l'installation et du fonctionnement de l'appareil.

6.—Le rayonnement qui émane des sources d'énergie peut être évité en faisant usage d'un filtre de ligne approprié. Le rayonnement des circuits intérieurs peut s'éviter en employant des boîtes métalliques appropriées. Le rayonnement des circuits de sortie peut se réduire à un niveau au lequel il ne soit pas causé d'interférence aux radio-communications en employant un écran métallique, de telle façon que l'écran recouvre tout l'appareil, et que ses dimensions soient suffisantes pour empêcher que des courants importants n'y prennent

7.—Il se peut que dans beaucoup de cas l'usage d'un tel écran ne soit pas pratique.

8.—On peut employer dans ces appareils une fréquence quelconque dans la partie utile du spectre de radio-communication. Cependant beaucoup d'appareils thérapeutiques modernes qui causent la plupart des interférences à longue distance, opèrent sur des fréquences de 10000 à 20000 Kc/s. approximativement. Quand on emploie d'autres fréquences on cause des interférences surtout à la réception à courte distance, ou à moyenne distance.

10.—L'appareil thérapeutique commun est essentiellement un émetteur du type oscillant par auto-excitation qui emploie généralement un courant de plaque auto-rectifié. A cause de l'instabilité inhérente aux circuits oscillateurs, aux grandes variations de voltages pendant chaque cycle du courant fourni à la plaque et aux divers usages que l'on peut donner au circuit de sortie, la fréquence varie pendant l'opération normale dans de très larges limites, vraisemblablement un ou deux mégacycles lorsqu'on opère sur une fréquence de près de 15 mégacycles.

11.—Toutes les machines thérapeutiques construites pour un même service peuvent opérer à la même fréquence sans limiter leur utilité, puisque le rayonnement émis par d'autres machines ne gêne en rien leur fonctionnement. Il faudrait des semblables appareils plus compliqués et de prix plus élevés pour pouvoir fonctionner sur une fréquence stable puisqu'on devrait installer un contrôle automatique de fréquences pour maintenir la fréquence sur laquelle on opère avec une variation d'au moins 1/20 de un pourcent. Sur 15 mégacycles, ce qui correspondrait pratiquement à un canal entier de communications.

13.—Au sujet des appareils comme les systèmes d'inter-communication domestique et comme certains types de fours à induction, ainsi qu'au sujet d'appareils analogues qui emploient des fréquences moyennes ou basses, on devrait exiger que la génération d'harmoniques soit limitée autant que possible, et qu'une épreuve de rigueur soit faite pour vérifier si le rayonnement ne dépasse pas un niveau déterminé.

15.—Un rapport sur "la radio-interférence par les appareils électro-thérapeutiques", qui a été présenté par le Canada et qui doit être considéré comme faisant partie des dispositions adoptées à ce sujet, est annexé au présent document.

("Radio-Interférence produite par des Appareils électro-thérapeutiques". Rapport présenté par le Canada Document C. I. R. Doc. 43.)

En foi de quoi, les Délégués respectifs ont signé des copies de cet instrument en espagnol, en anglais, en portugais et en français qui seront déposées aux archives du Gouvernement de Cuba; ce Gouvernement en enverra une copie certifiée en chaque langue, aux autres Gouvernements contractants.

D'accord avec la suggestion concernant un échange de rapports techniques, la Conférence interaméricaine de Radio-communications considère les renseignements suivants, qui seront fournis par le Gouvernement des Etats Unis à tous les pays américains.

La direction de tous les radio-phares d'orientation.

Les lettres d'appel.

La fréquence d'opération en kilocycles.

Les signaux d'identification du poste.

La position et la distance par rapport au champ d'atterrissage le plus proche en indiquant la hauteur exacte du champ au-dessus du niveau de la mer.

L'horaire des irradiations téléphoniques de rapport météorologiques et d'avertissements aux aviateurs.

2.—Des cartes où sont signalées la situation et la portée de toutes les stations d'orientation, de rapports météorologiques et de radio-phares indicateurs.

4.—Des cartes des routes du service postal aérien fédéral des Etats Unis d'Amérique.

5.—Des tableaux avec leur interprétation graphique ou correspondante où sont signalées l'aire du service normal et l'aire normale d'interférence de chaque type de poste d'orientation. Ces Tableaux seront basés sur l'appréciation des valeurs définitives des signaux de service minimum, et les proportions maximum d'interférences, et seront corrigées en ce qui concerne les variations de l'efficacité de l'antenne d'émission à toutes les fréquences depuis 200 à 400 kilocycles.

6.—Des courbes d'atténuation qui seront basées sur les mesures des stations actuellement existantes des radio-phares d'orientation et qui signaleront le changement d'intensité de l'onde réfléchie avec la

fréquence et la distance, et le maximum et le minimum indiqués pour l'atténuation terrestre, tels qu'ils ont été fixés dans des régions du territoire continental des Etats Unis, très différentes les unes des autres.

7.-Des spécifications détaillées sur le fonctionnement des divers types radio-électriques d'aide à l'aviation préparés par le Bureau d'Aviation des Etats Unis d'Amérique et approuvés pour être appliqués.

A State or municipal game farm or city park may possess, purchase, sell, and transport live migratory waterfowl without a permit, but no such waterfowl shall be purchased from or sold to a person (other than such State or municipal game farm or city park) unless he has a permit. Feathers of wild ducks and wild geese legally killed, and feathers of such birds seized and condemned by Federal or State game authorities, may be possessed, purchased, sold, and transported for use in making fishing flies, bed pillows, and mattresses, and for such similar commercial purposes, but not for millinery or ornamental purposes.

Regulation 9.—PERMITS TO COLLECT MIGRATORY BIRDS FOR SCIENTIFIC PURPOSES

Collections for scientific purposes.

1. A person in possession of a valid, subsisting permit issued to him by a State, on its part, authorizing him to take therein migratory birds or their nests or eggs for scientific purposes may take such birds or their nests or eggs in such State for such purposes when authorized by a permit issued to him by the Secretary. Both permits shall be carried on his person when he is taking migratory birds, or their nests or eggs, thereunder, and shall be exhibited to any person requesting to see them; but nothing herein shall be deemed to permit the taking of any migratory game bird during the open season therefor in any manner or by any means or at any time of the day not permitted by regulations 3 and 4 of these regulations.

Restriction.

Applications for permits.

2. Applications for permits shall be addressed to the Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C., and must state the name and address of the applicant, his age, the State or Territory in which migratory birds or their nests or eggs are proposed to be taken, the purpose for which they are intended, information sufficient to show that such birds, nests, or eggs permitted to be taken will be devoted to scientific purposes, and the names and addresses of at least two well-known ornithologists, principals, or superintendents of educational or zoological institutions, officials or members of zoological or natural history organizations, or instructors in zoology in high schools, colleges, or universities, from whom may be obtained information respecting the applicant's status as a scientific investigator. The applicant must furnish such other information touching his fitness to be entrusted with a permit as may be called for by the Secretary.

Effect of permit.

3. A permit may limit the number and species of migratory birds or their nests or eggs that may be taken thereunder, and the places where, time when, and means by which they may be taken, and may authorize the holder thereof, when possessed of an equivalent State permit, to possess, purchase, sell, exchange, and transport migratory birds and their nests and eggs for scientific purposes but not to purchase or sell to any person not authorized by these regulations or by a permit issued thereunder to sell or purchase such birds, nests, or eggs, or it may limit the holder to one or more of these privileges. Public museums, zoological parks and societies, and public scientific and educational institutions may possess, purchase, sell, exchange, and transport migratory birds and their nests and eggs for scientific purposes, without a permit, but no such birds, nests, or eggs shall be taken without a permit or purchased from, sold to, or exchanged with a person not authorized by these regulations or by a permit issued thereunder to sell, purchase, or exchange them. Migratory birds found wounded or dead, in the wounding or killing of which the finder was not implicated, may be salvaged by him and possessed under permit issued by the Secretary upon such terms and conditions as shall be stated in the permit, but they may not be sold, purchased, bartered, or exchanged. The plumage and skins of migratory game birds legally taken may be possessed and transported by a person without a permit.

Taxidermists.

4. A taxidermist, when authorized by a permit issued by the Secretary, may possess any migratory bird or nest or egg thereof delivered to him for mounting or other preparation by any person who has legally taken or legally possesses it and may transport such bird, nest, or egg in consummation of such purpose when likewise authorized by the State in which such permittee is operating. Every such permittee shall keep books and records correctly setting forth the name and address of each person delivering each migratory bird or nest or egg thereof to him, together with the name of each species, the date of delivery, the disposition of each such bird, nest, or egg and the date thereof, and such books and records shall be available for inspection at all reasonable hours on request of any authorized representative of the Department of the Interior.

5. No permit issued by the Secretary authorizes the taking, possession, sale, purchase, exchange, or transportation of any migratory bird or nest or egg thereof unless the permittee has in his possession while exercising any such privilege a valid, subsisting permit of equivalent tenor issued to him by the State in which he proposes to operate. No permit issued by the Secretary authorizes the transportation of any migratory bird, or part, nest, or egg thereof from Mexico into the United States unless such bird, or part, nest, or egg is accompanied by a Mexican export permit. Permits are not transferable and are revocable at any time in the discretion of the Secretary. A permit revoked by the Secretary shall be surrendered to him by the person to whom it was issued on demand of any employee of the United States Department of the Interior authorized to enforce the Migratory Bird Treaty Act. Whenever requested by the Chief of the Bureau, the permittee shall submit to him such report of his operations under the permit as may be called for, and in any event shall file with the Secretary, on a form provided therefor, on or before January 10, a full report of his operations during the preceding calendar year. Failure to make the reports herein provided for will be cause for revocation of the permit.

6. Every package in which migratory birds or parts, nests, or eggs thereof are shipped wholly within a State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or in which such birds, parts, nests, or eggs are transported by any means whatever from one State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, to, into, or through another State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or to a foreign country for scientific purposes shall be plainly and clearly marked, labeled, or tagged, on the outside thereof to show the name and address of the consignor and consignee, the contents of the package, the number of the permit under authority of which it is transported, and that the specimens contained therein are for scientific purposes.

Regulation 10.—PERMITS TO KILL MIGRATORY BIRDS INJURIOUS TO PROPERTY

Community injury.—When information is furnished the Secretary that any species of migratory bird has become, under extraordinary conditions, seriously injurious to agriculture or other interests in any particular community, an investigation will be made to determine the nature and extent of the injury, whether the birds alleged to be doing the damage should be killed, and, if so, during what times and by what means. Upon his determination an appropriate order will be made.

Specific injury.—Upon receipt by the Chief of the Bureau, or the regional director of the Bureau of Biological Survey in the region where the injury occurs, of information from the owner, tenant, or share cropper that migratory birds are injuring his crops or other property on the land on which he resides, together with a statement of the location of the land, the nature of the crops or property being injured, the extent of such injury, and the particular species of birds committing the injury, an investigation will be made and if it is determined from such investigation that the injury complained of is substantial

Every person exercising any privilege provided for in this regulation shall keep an accurate record of all migratory birds killed by him and whenever requested by the Chief of the Bureau or by the regional director shall submit promptly, on a form provided by the Bureau for the purpose, a report correctly stating the species and the number of each species of migratory birds killed by him and in any event shall submit such report to the regional director on or before January 10 of each year. Failure to submit a report as required by this regulation will be sufficient cause for revocation of the permit or withdrawal of any privilege accorded any person failing to make the report.

Compliance with State laws, etc.; conditions.

Nothing in these regulations or in any permit issued thereunder shall be construed to permit the taking, possession, sale, purchase, or transportation of migratory birds or parts, nests, or eggs thereof contrary to the laws and regulations of any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, made for the purpose of giving further protection to migratory birds, their nests, and eggs, when such laws and regulations are not inconsistent with the conventions between the United States and any other country for the protection of migratory birds or with the Migratory Bird Treaty Act and do not extend the open seasons for such birds beyond the dates prescribed by these regulations.

Regulation 12.—TRANSPORTATION OF GAME MAMMALS TO AND FROM MEXICO

Designated uses of territorial waters not permitted.

AND I do hereby further declare and proclaim that any frequenting and use of the waters within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States by the vessels of a belligerent, whether public ships or privateers for the purpose of preparing for hostile operations, or as posts of observation upon the ships of war or privateers or merchant vessels of an opposing belligerent must be regarded as unfriendly and offensive, and in violation of that neutrality which it is the determination of this government to observe; and to the end that the hazard and inconvenience of such apprehended practices may be avoided, I further proclaim and declare that from and after the fifth day of September instant, and so long as this proclamation shall be in effect, no ship of war or privateer of any belligerent shall be permitted to make use of any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States as a station or place of resort for any warlike purpose or for the purpose of obtaining warlike equipment; no privateer of a belligerent shall be permitted to depart from any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States; and no ship of war of a belligerent shall be permitted to sail out of or leave any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States from which a vessel of an opposing belligerent (whether the same shall be a ship of war or a merchant ship) shall have previously departed, until after the expiration of at least twenty-four hours from the departure of such last mentioned vessel beyond the jurisdiction of the United States.

Time limit for departure of belligerent vessels; exception.

If any ship of war of a belligerent shall, after the time this notification takes effect, be found in, or shall enter any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, such vessel shall not be permitted to remain in such port, harbor, roadstead, or waters more than twenty-four hours, except in case of stress of weather, or for delay in receiving supplies or repairs, or when detained by the United States; in any of which cases the authorities of the port, or of the nearest port (as the case may be), shall require her to put to sea as soon as the cause of the delay is at an end, unless within the preceding twenty-four hours a vessel, whether ship of war or merchant ship of an opposing belligerent, shall have departed therefrom, in which case the time limited for the departure of such ship of war shall be extended so far as may be necessary to secure an interval of not less than twenty-four hours between such departure and that of any ship of war or merchant ship of an opposing belligerent which may have previously quit the same port, harbor, roadstead, or waters.

Vessels for scientific, etc., purposes.

Vessels used exclusively for scientific, religious, or philanthropic purposes are exempted from the foregoing provisions as to the length of time ships of war may remain in the ports, harbors, roadsteads, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

Limitation on number of belligerent ships in U. S. waters.

The maximum number of ships of war belonging to a belligerent and its allies which may be in one of the ports, harbors, or roadsteads subject to the jurisdiction of the United States simultaneously shall be three.

Ships of opposing belligerents, provisions for departure.

When ships of war of opposing belligerents are present simultaneously in the same port, harbor, roadstead, or waters, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, the one entering first shall depart first, unless she is in such condition as to warrant extending her stay. In any case the ship which arrived later has the right to notify the other through the competent local authority that within twenty-four hours she will leave such port, harbor, roadstead, or waters, the one first entering, however, having the right to depart within that time. If the one first entering leaves, the notifying ship must observe the prescribed interval of twenty-four hours. If a delay beyond twenty-four hours from the time of arrival is granted, the termination of the cause of delay will be considered the time of arrival in deciding the right of priority in departing.

Vessels of a belligerent shall not be permitted to depart successively from any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States at such intervals as will delay the departure of a ship of war of an opposing belligerent from such ports, harbors, roadsteads, or waters for more than twenty-four hours beyond her desired time of sailing. If, however, the departure of several ships of war and merchant ships of opposing belligerents from the same port, harbor, roadstead, or waters is involved, the order of their departure therefrom shall be so arranged as to afford the opportunity of leaving alternately to the vessels of the opposing belligerents, and to cause the least detention consistent with the objects of this proclamation.

All belligerent vessels shall refrain from use of their radio and signal apparatus while in the harbors, ports, roadsteads, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except for calls of distress and communications connected with safe navigation or arrangements for the arrival of the vessel within, or departure from, such harbors, ports, roadsteads, or waters, or passage through such waters; provided that such communications will not be of direct material aid to the belligerent in the conduct of military operations against an opposing belligerent. The radio of belligerent merchant vessels may be sealed by the authorities of the United States, and such seals shall not be broken within the jurisdiction of the United States except by proper authority of the United States.

No ship of war of a belligerent shall be permitted, while in any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, to take in any supplies except provisions and such other things as may be requisite for the subsistence of her crew in amounts necessary to bring such supplies to her peace standard, and except such fuel, lubricants, and feed water only as may be sufficient, with that already on board, to carry such vessel, if without any sail power, to the nearest port of her own country; or in case a vessel is rigged to go under sail, and may also be propelled by machinery, then half the quantity of fuel, lubricants, and feed water which she would be entitled to have on board, if dependent upon propelling machinery alone, and no fuel, lubricants, or feed water shall be again supplied to any such ship of war in the same or any other port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States until after the expiration of three months from the time when such fuel, lubricants and feed water may have been last supplied to her within waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. The amounts of fuel, lubricants, and feed water allowable under the above provisions shall be based on the economical speed of the vessel, plus an allowance of thirty per centum for eventualities.

No ship of war of a belligerent shall be permitted, while in any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, to make repairs beyond those that are essential to render the vessel seaworthy and which in no degree constitute an increase in her military strength. Repairs shall be made without delay. Damages which are found to have been produced by the enemy's fire shall in no case be repaired.

No ship of war of a belligerent shall effect repairs or receive fuel, lubricants, feed water, or provisions within the jurisdiction of the United States without written authorization of the proper authorities of the United States. Before such authorization will be issued, the commander of the vessel shall furnish to such authorities a written declaration, duly signed by such commander, stating the date, port, and amounts of supplies last received in the jurisdiction of the United States, the amounts of fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions on board, the port to which the vessel is proceeding, the economical speed of the vessel, the rate of consumption of fuel, lubricants, and feed water at such speed, and the amount of each class of supplies desired.

Sealing of radios by U. S. authorities.

Restriction.

Basis for allotments.

Repairs, restrictions.

Declaration by commander of vessel.

Inclusion of certificate.

Provision of supplies, etc., by U. S. agencies prohibited.

Right of search; prizes.

Vessels operating under public control for hostile, etc., purposes.

Neutrality of persons within U. S. territory.

Applicability to Canal Zone; exception.
Post, p. 2638.

Misconduct of U. S. nationals, etc., protection denied.

Continuance in effect.

If repairs are desired, a similar declaration shall be furnished stating the cause of the damage and the nature of the repairs. In either case, a certificate shall be included to the effect that the desired services are in accord with the rules of the United States in that behalf.

No agency of the United States Government shall, directly or indirectly, provide supplies nor effect repairs to a belligerent ship of war.

No vessel of a belligerent shall exercise the right of search within the waters under the jurisdiction of the United States, nor shall prizes be taken by belligerent vessels within such waters. Subject to any applicable treaty provisions in force, prizes captured by belligerent vessels shall not enter any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters under the jurisdiction of the United States except in case of unseaworthiness, stress of weather, or want of fuel or provisions; when the cause has disappeared, the prize must leave immediately, and if a prize captured by a belligerent vessel enters any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States for any other reason than on account of unseaworthiness, stress of weather, or want of fuel or provisions, or fails to leave as soon as the circumstances which justified the entrance are at an end, the prize with its officers and crew will be released and the prize crew will be interned. A belligerent Prize Court can not be set up on territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States or on a vessel in the ports, harbors, roadsteads, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

The provisions of this proclamation pertaining to ships of war shall apply equally to any vessel operating under public control for hostile or military purposes.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that the statutes and the treaties of the United States and the law of nations alike require that no person, within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States, shall take part, directly or indirectly, in the said war, but shall remain at peace with all of the said belligerents, and shall maintain a strict and impartial neutrality.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that the provisions of this proclamation shall apply to the Canal Zone except in so far as such provisions may be specifically modified by a proclamation or proclamations issued for the Canal Zone.

AND I do hereby enjoin all nationals of the United States, and all persons residing or being within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, to observe the laws thereof, and to commit no act contrary to the provisions of the said statutes or treaties or in violation of the law of nations in that behalf.

AND I do hereby give notice that all nationals of the United States and others who may claim the protection of this government, who may misconduct themselves in the premises, will do so at their peril, and that they can in no wise obtain any protection from the government of the United States against the consequences of their misconduct.

This proclamation shall continue in full force and effect unless and until modified, revoked or otherwise terminated, pursuant to law.

PRESCRIBING REGULATIONS CONCERNING NEUTRALITY
IN THE CANAL ZONE

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

September 5, 1939
[No. 23501]

Preamble.
Ante, p. 2629.

Modification of previous proclamation in application to Canal Zone.

Time limit for departure of belligerent vessels.

Limitation on number of belligerent ships in Canal Zone waters.

Ships of opposing belligerents, exception to provisions for departure.

Basis for determining priority in departure.

WHEREAS a proclamation having been issued by me on the fifth day of September instant declaring the neutrality of the United States of America in the war now existing between Germany and France; Poland; the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand.

AND WHEREAS the provisions of the said proclamation apply to the Canal Zone except in so far as such provisions may be modified by a proclamation issued for the Canal Zone;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do declare and proclaim that, from and after the fifth day of September instant, the said proclamation issued by me on the fifth day of September instant, in its application to the Canal Zone, is hereby modified as follows:

1. The limit of twenty-four hours prescribed by the above proclamation, with certain exceptions, as the maximum time a belligerent ship of war may remain within the jurisdiction of the United States shall apply to the total time such ship of war may remain in all the waters of the Canal Zone, except that the time required to transit the Canal shall be in addition to the prescribed twenty-four hours. Such transit shall be effected with the least possible delay in accordance with the Canal regulations in force, and only with such intermission as may result from the necessities of the service.

2. The maximum number of ships of war belonging to a belligerent and its allies which may be simultaneously in either terminal port and the terminal waters adjacent to such port shall be three. The maximum number of such vessels in all the waters of the Canal Zone simultaneously, including those in transit through the Canal, shall be six.

3. Belligerent ships of war, not carrying aircraft, departing from the jurisdiction of the Canal Zone from one of the terminal ports shall not be required to observe the prescribed interval of time between such departure and the departure from such jurisdiction of a vessel of an opposing belligerent from the other terminal port.

4. The time of original arrival of vessels within the jurisdiction of the Canal Zone, whether or not they transit the Canal, shall be used as the time of arrival in deciding the right of priority, between vessels of opposing belligerents, in departing from the jurisdiction of the Canal Zone.

5. If a belligerent ship of war which has left the waters of the Canal Zone, whether she has transitted the Canal or not, returns within a period of one week after her departure, she shall lose all right of priority in departure from the Canal Zone, or in passage through the Canal, over vessels of an opposing belligerent which may enter those waters after her return and before the expiration of one week subsequent to her previous departure. In any such case, the time of departure of a vessel which has so returned shall be fixed by the Canal authorities, who may in so doing consider the wishes of the commander or master of a vessel or vessels of an opposing belligerent then present within the waters of the Canal Zone.

Loss of priority rights on return within one week.

Fixing of departure time by Canal authorities.

6. If it is wholly impossible, as determined by the Governor of the Panama Canal, for a belligerent ship of war to effect repairs through, or to obtain fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions from, a private contractor within the Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama, the agencies of the United States administered by the Canal authorities may, in order to facilitate the operation of the Canal or its appurtenances, effect such repairs and furnish such supplies in accordance with the Canal regulations in force, but when repairs and supplies are so obtained they shall be limited to such repairs and such amounts of fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions, with that already on board, as may be necessary to enable the vessel to proceed to the nearest accessible port, not an enemy port, in the general direction of her voyage, at which she can obtain further repairs or supplies necessary for the continuation of the voyage. The amounts of fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions so received shall be deducted from the amounts otherwise allowed in ports, harbors, roadsteads, and waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, including the Canal Zone, during any time within a period of three months thereafter. No public vessel of a belligerent shall receive fuel or lubricants while within the territorial waters of the Canal Zone except under written authorization of the Canal Authorities, specifying the amount of fuel and lubricants which may be received. Moreover, the repair facilities and docks belonging to the United States and administered by the Canal Authorities shall not be used by a public vessel of a belligerent, except when necessary in case of actual distress, and then only upon the order of the Canal Authorities, and only to the degree necessary to render the vessel sea-worthy. Any work authorized shall be done with the least possible delay.

Repairs and supplies permitted; condition.

Limitation.

Deduction of supplies from allowances.

Fuel, etc., authorization by Canal authorities.

Use of docks, etc., by public vessels of belligerents.

7. In the Canal Zone, prizes shall be in all respects subject to the same rules as ships of war of the belligerents.

Rules for prizes.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that, from and after the fifth day of September instant, the following additional provisions shall be effective in the Canal Zone:

Additional provisions.

1. No belligerent shall embark or disembark troops, munitions of war, or warlike materials in the Canal Zone, except when required by the Canal authorities, or in case of accidental hindrance of the transit. In such cases the Canal authorities shall be the judges of the necessity, and the transit shall be resumed with all dispatch.

Embarkation or disembarkation of troops, munitions, etc.

2. No belligerent aircraft shall be navigated into, within, or through the air spaces above the territory or waters of the Canal Zone.

Navigation of belligerent aircraft.

3. The enforcement of neutrality of the United States within the Canal Zone and administrative action in connection therewith shall be the responsibility of the Governor of the Panama Canal; and the military and naval forces stationed in the Canal Zone shall give him such assistance for this purpose as he may request; provided that, if an officer of the Army is designated to assume authority and jurisdiction over the operation of the Panama Canal as provided in Section 8 of Title 2 of the Canal Zone Code, such officer of the Army shall thereafter have such responsibility.

Provisions deemed additional.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that the provisions of this proclamation and the provisions of the proclamation of the fifth day of September instant are in addition to the "Rules and Regulations for the Operation and Navigation of the Panama Canal and Approaches Thereto, including all Waters under its jurisdiction" prescribed by Executive Order No. 4314, of September 25, 1925, as amended.

Continuance in effect.

This proclamation shall continue in full force and effect unless and until modified, revoked, or otherwise terminated pursuant to law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

IMPOSING QUOTAS ON IMPORTS OF COTTON AND COTTON WASTE

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

September 5, 1939

[No. 2351]

Preamble.
Post, p. 2769.

7 U. S. C., Supp. V,

WHEREAS pursuant to section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 as amended by section 31 of the Act of August 24, 1935 (49 Stat. 750, 773), as amended by section 5 of the Act of February 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 1148, 1152), and as reenacted by section 1 of the Act of June 3, 1937 (50 Stat. 246), I caused the United States Tariff Commission to make an investigation to determine whether cotton or cotton waste was being imported into the United States under such conditions and in sufficient quantities as to render or tend to render ineffective or materially interfere with the program undertaken with respect to cotton under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or to reduce substantially the amount of any product processed in the United States from cotton;

WHEREAS, in the course of the investigation, after due notice, a hearing was held, at which parties interested were given opportunity to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard, and in addition to the hearing, the Commission made such investigation as it deemed necessary for a full disclosure and presentation of the facts; and

WHEREAS the Commission has made findings of fact and has transmitted to me a report of such findings and its recommendations based thereon, together with a transcript of the evidence submitted at the hearing, and has also transmitted a copy of such report to the Secretary of Agriculture:

Findings as to cotton and cotton waste.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby find, on the basis of such investigation and report, that cotton and cotton waste are being imported into the United States under such conditions and in sufficient quantities as to tend to render ineffective the program undertaken with respect to cotton under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended. Accordingly, I hereby proclaim that the total quantities of cotton and cotton waste originating in any of the countries named in the following tables which may be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in any year, commencing September 20, shall not exceed the quantities shown opposite each of said countries, which quantities I hereby find and declare shown by the investigation to be necessary to prescribe in order that the entry of cotton and cotton waste will not render or tend to render ineffective or materially interfere with the program undertaken with respect to cotton under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or reduce substantially the amount of any product processed in the United States from cotton produced in the United States:

PROCLAIMING A NATIONAL EMERGENCY IN CONNECTION WITH THE OBSERVANCE, SAFEGUARDING, AND ENFORCEMENT OF NEUTRALITY AND THE STRENGTHENING OF THE NATIONAL DEFENSE WITHIN THE LIMITS OF PEACE-TIME AUTHORIZATIONS

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

[No. 2352]

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a proclamation issued by me on September 5, 1939, proclaimed the neutrality of the United States in the war now unhappily existing between certain nations; and

Preamble.
Ante, p. 2629.

WHEREAS this state of war imposes on the United States certain duties with respect to the proper observance, safeguarding, and enforcement of such neutrality, and the strengthening of the national defense within the limits of peace-time authorizations; and

WHEREAS measures required at this time call for the exercise of only a limited number of the powers granted in a national emergency:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ### THANKSGIVING DAY—1939

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Thanksgiving Day.
 Designation of Thursday, November 23, 1939, as.

I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-third of November 1939, as a day of general thanksgiving.

More than three centuries ago, at the season of the gathering in of the harvest, the Pilgrims humbly paused in their work and gave thanks to God for the preservation of their community and for the abundant yield of the soil. A century and a half later, after the new Nation had been formed, and the charter of government, the Constitution of the Republic, had received the assent of the States, President Washington and his successors invited the people of the Nation to lay down their tasks one day in the year and give thanks for the blessings that had been granted them by Divine Providence. It is fitting that we should continue this hallowed custom and select a day in 1939 to be dedicated to reverent thoughts of thanksgiving.

Our Nation has gone steadily forward in the application of democratic processes to economic and social problems. We have faced the specters of business depression, of unemployment, and of widespread agricultural distress, and our positive efforts to alleviate these conditions have met with heartening results. We have also been permitted to see the fruition of measures which we have undertaken in the realms of health, social welfare, and the conservation of resources. As a Nation we are deeply grateful that in a world of turmoil we are at peace with all countries, and we especially rejoice in the strengthened bonds of our friendship with the other peoples of the Western Hemisphere.

Let us, on the day set aside for this purpose, give thanks to the Ruler of the Universe for the strength which He has vouchsafed us to carry on our daily labors and for the hope that lives within us of the coming of a day when peace and the productive activities of peace shall reign on every continent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 31st day of October, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and of [SEAL] the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

SIXTEENTH DECENNIAL CENSUS

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

February 9, 1940

[No. 2385]

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 18, 1929, 46 Stat. 21, the Sixteenth Decennial Census of the United States will be taken beginning April first, nineteen hundred and forty; and

WHEREAS this Census, which will mark the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the first United States Census, is required by the Constitution of the United States to determine the apportionment among the several States of seats in the House of Representatives; and

WHEREAS the information obtained from the Census inquiries this year must present a complete and current factual picture of the Nation's people, homes, farms, factories, and other resources to measure the effects of the difficult decade now closing and to guide us intelligently in the future:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby declare and make known that, under the aforesaid act of Congress, it is the duty of every person over eighteen years of age to answer all questions on the Census schedules applying to him and the family to which he belongs, and to the farm or home occupied by him or his family, and all other Census schedules as required by law, and that any person refusing to do so is subject to penalty.

The sole purpose of the Census is to secure general statistical information regarding the population, business activities, and resources of the country, and replies are required from individuals only to enable the compilation of such general statistics. No person can be harmed in any way by furnishing the information required. The Census has nothing to do with taxation, with military or jury service, with the compulsion of school attendance, with the regulation of immigration, or with the enforcement of any national, state, or local law, or ordinance. There need be no fear that any disclosure will be made regarding any individual person or his affairs. For the due protection of the rights and interests of the persons furnishing information, every employee of the Census Bureau is prohibited, under heavy penalty, from disclosing any information which may thus come to his knowledge.

Life and liberty in a free democracy entail a variety of cooperative actions for the common good. The prompt, complete, and accurate answering of all official inquiries addressed to each person by Census officials should be regarded by him as one of the requirements of good citizenship.

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT WEEK

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

April 12, 1940

Preamble.

Both the State and Federal governments have been especially concerned with the problems of older workers, many thousands of whom, despite their persistent efforts, still lack a place in industry. Among these are a considerable number of World War Veterans, who now average forty-seven years of age, and who, I feel, have a particular appeal to our national sense of responsibility.

Our public employment service—a nation-wide network of sixteen hundred offices now operated jointly by the State and Federal governments—has made special efforts in behalf of workers past forty years of age, including veterans. We know from the facts gathered by this agency that men and women in middle life possess abilities and skills which would fit them for employment in nearly every line of work. We know further that these older workers, when given an opportunity, demonstrate a seasoned experience and a mature application to their tasks which in many callings outweigh the physical advantages of youth.

53 Stat. 2535.

With these considerations in mind, I issued a proclamation last year designating an Employment Week and requesting that all our citizens give particular and active attention to the problems of older workers lacking employment. During the month in which Employment Week occurred over a third of a million jobs—a third more than during the same month of the previous year—were filled through the public employment offices, and a quarter of a million of these placements were in private industry. Moreover, placements proceeded at an accelerated rate in the month following Employment Week. Because of the concerted efforts of government, of public-spirited groups, and, particularly, of employers throughout the land, thousands of workers over forty years of age, among them veterans, shared beneficially in this fine result.

I am grateful for the wholehearted response to my first appeal; and as President, I desire to encourage a continued nation-wide interest in this persistent problem.

National Employment Week and National Employment Sunday.
Designation of.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning May 1, 1940, as National Employment Week, and Sunday, May 5, 1940, as National Employment Sunday, and I urge all churches, civic organizations, Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, veterans' organizations, industry, labor, public-spirited citizens, the radio, and the press throughout the United States to observe that week as National Employment Week, to the end that interest in the welfare of all the unemployed, and especially the workers over forty years of age, may be stimulated and employment be extended to them.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DAY OF PRAYER

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

August 7, 1940

A PROCLAMATION

The American heritage of individual freedom and of government deriving its powers from the consent of the governed has from the time of the Fathers of our Republic been proudly transmitted to each succeeding generation, and to us of this generation has fallen the task of preserving it and transmitting it to the future. We are now engaged in a mighty effort to fortify that heritage.

Preamble.

Mindful of our duties in the family of nations we have endeavored to prevent the outbreak and the spread of war, and we have raised our voices against international injustice. As Americans and as lovers of freedom we are humbly sympathetic with those who are facing tribulation in lands across the seas.

When every succeeding day brings sad news of suffering and disaster abroad we are especially conscious of the Divine Power and of our dependence upon God's merciful guidance. With this consciousness in our hearts it is seemly that we should, at a time like this, pray to Almighty God for His blessing on our country and for the establishment of a just and permanent peace among all the nations of the world.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby set aside Sunday, September 8, 1940, as a day of prayer; and I urge the people of the United States, of all creeds and denominations, to pray on that day, in their churches or at their homes, on the high seas or wherever they may be, beseeching the Ruler of the Universe to bless our Republic, to make us reverently grateful for our heritage and firm in its defense, and to grant to this land and to the troubled world a righteous, enduring peace.

Sunday, September 8, 1940, set aside as a day of prayer.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 7th day of August, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty, and of the [SEAL] Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fifth.

Cooperation of all employees, etc.

America stands at the crossroads of its destiny. Time and distance have been shortened. A few weeks have seen great nations fall. We cannot remain indifferent to the philosophy of force now rampant in the world. The terrible fate of nations whose weakness invited attack is too well known to us all.

We must and will marshal our great potential strength to fend off war from our shores. We must and will prevent our land from becoming a victim of aggression.

Our decision has been made.

It is in that spirit that the people of our country are assuming the burdens that now become necessary. Offers of service have flooded in from patriotic citizens in every part of the nation, who ask only what they can do to help. Now there is both the opportunity and the need for many thousands to assist in listing the names and addresses of the millions who will enroll on registration day at school houses, polling places, and town halls.

The Congress has debated without partisanship and has now enacted a law establishing a selective method of augmenting our armed forces. The method is fair, it is sure, it is democratic—it is the will of our people.

After thoughtful deliberation, and as the first step, our young men will come from the factories and the fields, the cities and the towns, to enroll their names on registration day.

On that eventful day my generation will salute their generation. May we all renew within our hearts that conception of liberty and that way of life which we have all inherited. May we all strengthen our resolve to hold high the torch of freedom in this darkening world so that our children and their children may not be robbed of their rightful inheritance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Thanksgiving Day.
Designation of Thursday, Nov. 21,
1940, as.

I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-first day of November 1940, to be observed nationally as a day of thanksgiving. In a year which has seen calamity and sorrow fall upon many peoples elsewhere in the world may we give thanks for our preservation. On the same day, in the same hour, let us pray:

Almighty God, who hast given us this good land for our heritage; We humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honourable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogancy, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy Name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home, and that, through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; Amen.
