

INTERNATIONAL JURISPRUDENCE

Call for Nominations The Law Library of Congress seeks nominations for scholars to give the inaugural lecture for the

Frederic R. and Molly S. Kellogg Biennial Lecture on Jurisprudence

at the

Library of Congress

The Lecturer is to be chosen from among the most distinguished contributors to the tradition of international jurisprudence judged through writings, reputation, and broad and continuing influence on the contemporary literature, or, in exceptional cases, prospective influence on the literature.

Please submit nominations by April 10, 2009 to cher@loc.gov.

Lecture will be held in Washington, DC on October 30, 2009.

Specific Questions? Please see <http://www.loc.gov/law> or call 202 707 1496.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS