

PREFACE

Class P: Subclasses P-PA was originally published in 1928 and reissued with supplementary pages in 1968 under the title Philology. Linguistics. Classical Philology. Classical Literature. A supplement with the title Byzantine and Modern Greek Literature. Medieval and Modern Latin Literature was published in 1942 and reissued in 1968 with supplementary pages of additions and changes. The 1997 edition incorporated all supplementary material into the main text. The 2005 edition cumulated all additions and changes from the period 1997-2005. This was followed by an updated edition in 2010. This 2015 edition includes all changes since 2010.

In the Library of Congress classification schedules, classification numbers or spans of numbers that appear in parentheses are formerly valid numbers that are now obsolete. Numbers or spans that appear in angle brackets are optional numbers that have never been used at the Library of Congress but are provided for other libraries that wish to use them. In most cases, a parenthesized or angle-bracketed number is accompanied by a "see" reference directing the user to the actual number that the Library of Congress currently uses, or a note explaining Library of Congress practice.

Access to the online version of the full Library of Congress Classification is available on the World Wide Web by subscription to Classification Web. Details about ordering and pricing may be obtained from the Cataloging Distribution Service at

New or revised numbers and captions are added to the LC Classification schedules as a result of development proposals made by the cataloging staff of the Library of Congress and cooperating institutions. Upon approval of these proposals by the editorial meeting of the Policy and Standards Division, new classification records are created or existing records are revised in the master classification database. Lists of newly approved or revised classification numbers and captions are posted on the World Wide Web at Janis L. Young, senior cataloging policy specialist in the Policy and Standards Division, is responsible for coordinating the overall intellectual and editorial content of class P and its various subclasses. Kent Griffiths and Ethel Tillman, assistant editors of classification schedules, are responsible for creating new classification records, maintaining the master database, and creating index terms for the captions.
