BACKGROUND: This instruction sheet provides capitalization guidelines for establishing headings for named entities, including structures, events, movements, places, geographical features, etc. As a general rule, when a new heading for a named entity is established, all words in the heading are capitalized, including common nouns or adjectives which form an integral part of the name. Subject headings and subdivisions already established are assigned as they appear in the subject authority file.

1. Policy for name headings used as subject headings. When using valid personal, corporate, and jurisdictional names and uniform titles as subject headings, transcribe them exactly as they appear on name authority records, including capital letters as indicated.

2. Policy for subject headings established in the subject authority file. Transcribe existing headings and subdivisions exactly as they appear in subject authority records, using capital letters as indicated.

3. Proper nouns and adjectives. Capitalize proper nouns and adjectives in subject headings, subdivisions, or references regardless of whether they are in the initial position. Examples:

150 ## $a !Kung (African people)
150 ## $a *Naborr (Horse)
150 ## $a 9969 Braille (Asteroid)
150 ## $a Tariff on X-ray equipment and supplies
100 0# $a Jesus Christ $x Anointing at Bethany
150 ## $a Gosannen kassen ekotoba (Scrolls)
450 ## $a Hachiman Tarō ekotoba (Scrolls)
Appendix B: Capitalization

4. Initial words. Capitalize the first word of a subject heading, subdivision, or reference regardless of whether it is a proper name. Examples:

150 ## $a Teenage boys
450 ## $a Adolescent boys

150 ## $a Writing $x Materials and instruments
150 ## $a Serbo-Croatian language $y To 1500

151 ## $a Beauce (France)
451 ## $a La Beauce (France)

151 ## $a Cévennes Mountains (France)
451 ## $a Les Cévennes (France)

Exception: When a term is found in reference sources with the initial letter consistently lowercased, establish the heading (or reference) in that form. Examples:

150 ## $a p-adic numbers
150 ## $a p-divisible groups

150 ## $a 35mm cameras
450 ## $a 35 mm cameras

150 ## $a Three-manifolds (Topology)
450 ## $a 3-dimensional manifolds (Topology)

5. Capitalization according to reference sources. Capitalize any letter within a heading that appears as such in reference sources. Use this rule in establishing named systems, computer languages, tests, etc. Examples:

150 ## $a 4-H clubs
150 ## $a Agent Orange
150 ## $a California Basic Educational Skills Test
150 ## $a DC-to-DC converters

Appendix B: Capitalization

6. Conjunctions, prepositions, and articles. Do not capitalize conjunctions, prepositions and the articles a, an, and the and their equivalents in other languages if they are not the first word in the heading, subdivision, or reference.  Examples:

150 ## $a Colors in the Bible
151 ## $a Chesapeake and Ohio Canal (Md. and Washington, D.C.)

Exception: Capitalize The if it is the first word in a parenthetical qualifier, or the first word following a comma in an inverted heading.  Examples:

150 ## $a Jota (The Serbo-Croatian letter)
151 ## $a Geysers, The (Calif.)

7. Inverted headings and subdivisions. Capitalize the word following a comma that would be in the initial position if the heading, subdivision, or reference were expressed as a phrase in direct word order.  Capitalization is especially important to clarify inverted headings.  Examples:

150 ## $a Sculpture, Mandingo
150 ## $a Medicine, Magic, mystic, and spagiric
150 ## $a Coral Sea, Battle of the, 1942

150 ## $a Citizenship as point of contact (Conflict of laws)

Note: In the past, certain headings and subdivisions were established with parenthetical qualifiers beginning with lowercased prepositions or with other lowercased words. Continue using and establishing headings of this type in situations where a pattern for their use exists, but do not propose new headings of this type where no previous pattern exists. Example:

150 ## $a English language $v Conversation and phrase books (for secretaries)

9. Hyphenated compounds. When capitalizing the first part of a hyphenated compound, capitalize the second part also if it is a proper noun or proper adjective. 22. Capitalization rules for languages other than English. Use the current, appropriate rules for capitalization for the language concerned when establishing headings and making references. For guidance consult such sources as Appendix A of RDA and reference sources. In cases of conflict, generally prefer the capitalization rule in Appendix A of RDA. Examples:

151 ## $a Tatar Strait (Russia)
451 ## $a Tatarskii proliv (Russia)

Strait is capitalized in the English heading Tatar Strait (Russia) in accordance with sec. 21, above. The Russian word for strait, proliv, as part of the vernacular UF reference, is lowercased because it appears as such in Russian encyclopedias and because lowercasing is consistent with the capitalization rules for Russian geographic names in Appendix A of RDA.
