

Introduction

0:00

Welcome to the first video in a series made to introduce the usage of LCGFT, that is, the Library of Congress Genre Form Terms.

0:09

This training is presented by the Cataloging Policy Specialists in the Policy, Training, and Cooperative Programs Division of the Library of Congress.

0:19

The scope and purpose of this training is to introduce how to use LCGFT in your bibliographic records.

0:26

The conceptual differences between LCSH and LCGFT will be introduced.

0:32

Practical instruction on the application of the vocabulary will also be presented.

0:38

This includes how to access the manual in its different formats, providing working examples of real life material, proposing new terms, and the internal review process.

0:49

Here is a list of all the videos included in the series.

0:52

This video, Video 1, is the introduction to the series.

0:56

Video 2 presents an introduction of the concepts of Isness and Aboutness.

1:01

Video 3 gives instructions on how to access the LCGFT manual.

1:07

Video 4 gives instruction on how to access the LCGFT vocabulary.

1:12

Video 5 has examples of assigning LCGFT to resources.

1:17

Video 6 has more examples of assigning LCGFT to resources.

1:22

Video 7 demonstrates the first part of the proposal process, focusing on the steps preparing a proposal.

1:29

Video 8 demonstrates the second part of the proposal process, focusing on the logistics of submitting a proposal.

1:36

Video 9 covers the internal review process.

1:40

Thank you for joining this training.

1:42

Please e-mail us at genreform@loc.gov if you have any questions.