

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
FEDLINK

Federal Library and Information Network

Date

Thursday
August 17, 2017

Time

2:00 pm - 4:00 pm

Place

Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) Library
1776 D Street, NW
Washington, DC

Metro/Directions

The DAR Library is in the same block as Constitution Hall. The entrance is about half-way in on D St. from 17th St. and the Ellipse. The closest Metro stations are Farragut West and Farragut North, both about 6-7 blocks away. The handicap-accessible entrance is on the C St. side of the building closest to Constitution Hall. On-street parking is very limited and subject to unexpected closures by the Metropolitan Police.

Sponsor

FEDLINK Education Working Group

Information

Call FEDLINK (202) 707-4813
TTY (202) 707-4995 Request
ADA Accommodations five business days in advance at
ADA@loc.gov.

Registration

Free, but advanced registration is required. Limited to 30 attendees.

Cancellations

Please notify FEDLINK at (202)
707-4848 if you cannot attend to allow those on the waiting list an opportunity to register.

FEDLINK Orientation to Federal Libraries and Information Centers Series: Daughters of the American Revolution Library

As part of a series of orientations to libraries and information centers, FEDLINK is offering an opportunity for federal librarians to become acquainted with the programs and services of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) Library.

The DAR Library is one of the country's premier centers for American genealogical research. Founded in 1896, the library is physically located in the former auditorium of the Daughters of the American Revolution's original beaux Arts building, Memorial Continental Hall, which was completed in 1910. The library has been open to the public since 1900 and features unique materials that document the family histories of Americans in the past four centuries.

The program will include an overview and tour of the Library and DAR Headquarters with Darryn Licklitter, Director of the DAR Library and Genealogy Office and Stacie Newton, Assistant Director of the DAR Library. The DAR Headquarters complex also houses the DAR Museum Gallery and exhibit rooms and the Americana Collection of manuscript materials. An overview of these collections will also be included in the tour.