CHAP. 344.—An Act To amend section 876 of the Revised Statutes.

United States courts. R. S., sec. 876, p. 176, amended.

Subpoenas may run into other districts.

Proviso.
Distance limit in civil cases, extended by permission of court.

Courts of District of Columbia included.

Amendment effective only for three years.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 876 of the Revised Statutes of the United States be, and is hereby, amended so as to read as follows:

"SEC. 876. Subpoenas for witnesses who are required to attend a court of the United States, in any district, may run into any other district: Provided, That in civil cases no writ of subpoena shall issue for witnesses living out of the district in which the court is held at a greater distance than one hundred miles from the place of holding the same without the permission of the court being first had upon proper application and cause shown. The word 'district' and the words 'district court' as used herein shall be construed to include the District of Columbia and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia."

This amendment shall be effective for a period of three years after the date of the passage of this Act, after which section 876 as it exists in the present law shall be and remain in full force and effect.
