SIXTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS. Sess. II. Chs. 33, 34, 39. 1922.

CHAP. 33.—An Act To amend section 2372 of the Revised Statutes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 2372 of the Revised Statutes is amended by adding thereto the following:

"In all cases where a final entry of public lands has been or may be hereafter canceled, and such entry is held by the Land Department or by a court of competent jurisdiction to have been confirmed under the proviso to section 7 of the Act of March 3, 1891 (Twenty-sixth Statutes, page 1099), if the land has been disposed of to or appropriated by a claimant under the homestead or desert-land laws, or patented to a claimant under other public-land laws, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, and under rules to be prescribed by him, to change the entry and transfer the payment to any other tract of surveyed public land, nonmineral in character, free from lawful claim, and otherwise subject to general disposition: Provided, That the entryman, his heirs, or assigns shall file a relinquishment of all right, title, and interest in and to the land originally entered: Provided further, That no right or claim under the provisions of this paragraph shall be assignable or transferable."

Approved, January 27, 1922.

CHAP. 34.—An Act Adding lands to the State of Texas and ceding jurisdiction to the State of Texas over certain lands or bancos heretofore or hereafter acquired by the United States of America from the United States of Mexico.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all the lands or bancos acquired by the Government of the United States of America by virtue of its treaty with the United States of Mexico of March 20, 1905, and subsequent thereto, and which lie adjacent to the territory of the State of Texas as constituted by the compromise act of Congress of September 9, 1850, and accepted by the State of Texas on November 25, 1850, shall, upon the acceptance of this Act by the State of Texas, be and become a part of the State of Texas, and shall be under the civil and criminal jurisdiction of said State of Texas; and that all lands or bancos hereafter acquired by the United States of America from the United States of Mexico, by virtue of said treaty, which shall lie adjoining to the State of Texas, shall be and become part of said State of Texas and be subject to its civil and criminal jurisdiction without any further enactment by the Congress of the United States.

CHAP. 39.—An Act To add certain lands to Mount McKinley National Park, Alaska.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the south, east, and north boundaries of the Mount McKinley National Park are hereby changed as follows: Beginning at the summit of Mount Russell, which is the present southwest corner of the park; thence in a northeasterly direction one hundred miles, more or less, to a point on the one hundred and forty-ninth meridian, which is twenty-five miles south of a point due east of the upper northwest corner of the park; thence north along the one hundred and forty-ninth meridian twenty-five miles; thence west forty miles, more or less, to the present upper northwest corner of Mount McKinley National Park. And all these lands lying between the above-described boundary and the present...
