[T. S. 962]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, a North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement between the United States of America, Canada, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, and Mexico, was signed by their respective plenipotentiaries at Habana on December 13, 1937, a true copy of which agreement as certified by the Undersecretary of State of Cuba, in the English, Spanish and French languages is in words and figures as follows:

NORTH AMERICAN REGIONAL BROADCASTING AGREEMENT Post, p. 1398.

Canada
Cuba
Dominican Republic
Haiti
Mexico
United States of America

The undersigned, plenipotentiaries of the Governments listed above, having met in conference at Habana, Cuba, have, in common agreement and subject to ratification, concluded the following Agreement.

PURPOSE AND SCOPE OF THIS AGREEMENT

1. Purpose of Agreement. The purpose of this Agreement is to regulate and establish principles covering the use of the standard broadcast band in the North American Region so that each country may make the most effective use thereof with the minimum technical interference between broadcast stations.

2. North American Region. The North American Region (hereinafter referred to as "Region") for the purpose of this Agreement shall be deemed to include and to consist of the following countries: Canada, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Haiti, Mexico, Newfoundland, and United States of America.

3. Standard broadcast band. The standard broadcast band shall be deemed to be the band of frequencies extending from 550 to 1600 kc, both inclusive, both 550 kc and 1600 kc being the carrier frequencies of broadcasting channels as hereinafter defined. The Governments agree, subject to the provisions of Article 7 of the General Radio Regulations annexed to the International Telecommunications Convention, Madrid, 1932, that this band of frequencies shall be allocated exclusively to broadcasting in the Region.

Stat. 1429.

4. Sovereign right to use channels. The sovereign right of all countries, parties to this Agreement, to the use of every channel in the standard broadcast band is recognized. The Governments recognize, however, that until technical developments reach a state permitting the elimination of radio interference of international character, a regional arrangement between them is necessary in order to promote standardization and to minimize interference.

5. Regional character of Agreement. The Governments recognize that this Agreement, and each provision thereof, is a regional arrangement within the meaning of, and authorized by the International Telecommunications Convention and the General Radio Regulations annexed thereto.

49 Stat. 2391, 2445; 54
Stat. 1417.

II

TECHNICAL

A. DEFINITIONS

1. Broadcast station. A station the emissions of which are primarily intended to be received by the general public.

2. Broadcast channels—550 to 1600 kc. A broadcast channel is a band of frequencies ten (10) kc in width, with the carrier frequency at the center. Channels shall be designated by their assigned carrier frequencies. Carrier frequencies assigned to broadcast stations shall begin at 550 kc and be in successive steps of 10 kc. No intermediate frequency shall be assigned as the carrier frequency of any broadcast station.

3. Service areas.

(a) Primary service area. The primary service area of a broadcast station is the area in which the ground wave is not subject to objectionable interference or objectionable fading.

(b) Secondary service area. The secondary service area of a broadcast station is the area served by the sky wave and not subject to objectionable interference. The signal is subject to intermittent variations in intensity.

4. Dominant stations. A "dominant" station is a Class I station, as hereinafter defined, operating on a clear channel.

5. Secondary station. A "secondary" station is any station except a Class I station operating on a clear channel.

6. Objectionable interference. Objectionable interference is the degree of interference produced when, at a specified boundary or field intensity contour with respect to the desired station, the field intensity of an undesired station (or the root-mean-square value of field intensities of two or more stations on the same frequency) exceeds for ten (10) percent or more of the time the values hereinafter set forth in this Agreement.

7. Power. The power of a radio transmitter is the power supplied to the antenna. The power in the antenna of a modulated-wave transmitter shall be expressed in two numbers, one indicating the power of the carrier frequency supplied to the antenna, and the other the actual maximum percentage of modulation.

8. Spurious radiation. A spurious radiation from a transmitter is any radiation outside the frequency band of emission normal for the type of transmission employed, including any harmonic modulation products, key clicks, parasitic oscillations and other transient effects.

9. English, French and Spanish equivalents. It is agreed that, as used in this Agreement, the French and Spanish words below set forth are respectively the equivalent of, and mean the same as, the English terms opposite which they appear:

English	French	Spanish
Clear channel	Frequence libre	Canal despejado

B. CLASSES OF CHANNELS AND ALLOCATION THEREOF

1. Three classes: The 106 channels in the standard broadcast band are divided into three principal classes: clear, regional and local.

2. Clear channel: A clear channel is one on which the dominant station or stations render service over wide areas and which are cleared of objectionable interference, within their primary service areas and over all or a substantial portion of their secondary service areas.

3. Regional channel: A regional channel is one on which several stations may operate with powers not in excess of 5 kw. The primary service area of a station operating on any such channel may be limited, as a consequence of interference, to a given field intensity contour.

4. Local channel: A local channel is one on which several stations may operate with powers not in excess of 250 watts. The primary service area of a station operating on any such channel may be limited, as a consequence of interference, to a given field intensity contour.

5. Number of channels of each class: The number of channels of each class shall be as follows:

Clear channels	59
Regional channels	41
Local channels	6

6. Allocation of specific channels to each class: The channels are allocated to the several classes as follows:

Clear channels. The following channels are designated as clear channels: 640, 650, 660, 670, 680, 690, 700, 710, 720, 730, 740, 750, 760, 770, 780, 800, 810, 820, 830, 840, 850, 860, 870, 880, 890, 900, 940, 990, 1000, 1010, 1020, 1030, 1040, 1050, 1060, 1070, 1080, 1090, 1100, 1110, 1120, 1130, 1140, 1160, 1170, 1180, 1190, 1200, 1210, 1220, 1500, 1510, 1520, 1530, 1540, 1550, 1560, 1570 and 1580.

Regional channels. The following channels are designated as regional channels: 550, 560, 570, 580, 590, 600, 610, 620, 630, 790, 910, 920, 930, 950, 960, 970, 980, 1150, 1250, 1260, 1270, 1280, 1290, 1300, 1310, 1320, 1330, 1350, 1360, 1370, 1380, 1390, 1410, 1420, 1430, 1440, 1460, 1470, 1480, 1590, 1600.

Local channels. The following channels are designated as local channels: 1230, 1240, 1340, 1400, 1450, and 1490 kc.

7. Use of regional and local channels by countries. All countries may use all regional and all local channels, subject to the power limitations and standards for prevention of objectionable interference set forth in this Agreement.

8. Priority of use of clear channels by countries.

(a) The clear channels are assigned for priority of use by Class I and II stations in the several countries in accordance with the table set forth in Appendix I.

(b) Each such channel shall be used in a manner conforming to the best engineering practice with due regard to the service to be rendered by the dominant stations operating thereon, as set forth elsewhere in this Agreement. If, for one year within the term of this Agreement, a country fails to make any use of a clear channel assigned to it, the channel shall be considered open for use by the other countries, parties to this Agreement, pursuant to such arrangement as may be agreed upon by their respective administrations and without any necessity for revision of this Agreement.

(c) No country to which a clear channel has been thus assigned shall permit, or agree to permit, any other country to use such channel in a manner not in conformity with this Agreement without first giving sixty days^a advance notice of its intention so to do to all other countries, parties to this Agreement. If during this period of sixty days^a any other country shall present objections to such proposed use of the channel, the country to which the clear channel has been assigned shall not permit, or agree to permit, such proposed use until the difference presented by the objection has been amicably resolved.

(d) If within the period of this Agreement the country to which a clear channel has been assigned shall have made use of the channel but not in the manner above prescribed or not to the extent required by the provisions of this Agreement, such country shall be considered as having relinquished that portion of the rights which it has not used and at the expiration of this Agreement the other countries party thereto shall have the right, if they see fit, to withdraw the unused privileges from such country and to reassign them to any or all of the other interested countries.

C. CLASSES OF STATIONS AND USE OF THE SEVERAL CLASSES OF CHANNELS.

1. Classes of stations. Broadcast stations are divided into four principal classes, to be designated Class I, Class II, Class III, and Class IV, respectively.

2. Definitions of classes. The four classes of broadcast stations are defined as follows:

Class I: A dominant station operating on a clear channel and designed to render primary and secondary service over an extended area and at relatively long distances. Class I stations are subdivided into two classes:

Class I-A: A Class I station which operates with power of 50 kw or more and which has its primary service area, within the limits of the country in which the station is located, free from objectionable interference from other stations on the same and adjacent channels, and its secondary service area, within the same limits, free from objectionable interference from stations on the same channel, in accordance with the engineering standards hereinafter set forth.

Class I-B: A Class I station which operates with power of not less than 10 kw or more than 50 kw and which has its primary service area free from objectionable interference from other stations on the same and adjacent channels and its secondary service area free from objectionable interference from stations on the same channel, in accordance with the engineering standards hereinafter set forth.

(a) When two Class I-B stations on the same channel are separated by a distance of 2800 miles or more, neither station shall be required to install a directional antenna.

(b) When two Class I-B stations on the same channel are separated by a distance of more than 1800 miles and less than 2800 miles, it will, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be assumed that each station is free of objectionable interference caused by the other and neither shall be required to install directional antennas or take other precautions to avoid such interference. In case the existence of objectionable interference is proved, the governments concerned will consult with each other regarding the desirability and practicality of installation of directional antennas or the taking of other precautions to eliminate the interference and will determine by special arrangement the measures, if any, to be taken.

(c) When two Class I-B stations on the same channel are separated by a distance less than 1800 miles, it will, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be assumed that the installation of directional antennas or the taking of other precautions to avoid interference is necessary, and the governments concerned will consult with each other and will take such measures as may be agreed upon between them to the end that the objectionable interference may be reduced or eliminated.

Class II: A "secondary" station which operates on a clear channel and is designed to render service over a primary service area which, depending on geographical location and power used, may be relatively large, but which is limited by and subject to such interference as may be received from Class I stations. A station of this class shall operate with power of not less than 0.25 kw or more than 50 kw. Whenever necessary a Class II station shall use a directional antenna or other means to avoid interference, in accordance with the engineering standards hereinafter set forth, with Class I stations and with other Class II stations.

Class III: A station which operates on a regional channel and is designed to render service primarily to a metropolitan district and the rural area contained therein and contiguous thereto. Class III stations are subdivided into two classes:

Class III-A: A Class III station which operates with power not less than one kilowatt or more than five kilowatts and the service area of which is subject to interference in accordance with the engineering standards hereinafter set forth.

Class III-B: A Class III station which operates with a power not less than 0.5 kw or more than 1 kw night and 5 kw daytime and the service area of which is subject to interference in accord with the engineering standards hereinafter set forth.

Class IV: A station using a local channel and designed to render service primarily to a city or town and the suburban and rural areas contiguous thereto. The power of a station of this class shall not be less than 0.1 kw or more than 0.25 kw and its service area is subject to interference in accord with the engineering standards hereinafter set forth.

3. Change of class. If a station or stations in Class III-B located in any country can, through the use of directional antennas or otherwise, so reduce the interference caused or received by such station or stations to the field contour to which interference to stations in Class III-A is allowed, such station or stations shall automatically be classified and included in Class III-A and shall thereafter be so recognized and treated by the Administrations of all countries within the Region.

4. Use of clear channels.

(a) In principle and subject only to the exception hereinafter set forth, Class I stations shall be assigned only to clear channels.

(b) Class II stations may be assigned to clear channels only on condition that objectionable interference will not be caused to any Class I stations. Where any country has priority of use of a clear channel for any Class I-A station, no other country shall assign any Class II station to that channel for nighttime operation (from sunset to sunrise at the location of the Class II station) unless such Class II station is located not less than 650 miles from the nearest border of the country in which the Class I-A station is located; provided, however, that where an assignment for a Class II station is specifically stated in Appendix I, such assignment shall be deemed as authorized under the limitations therein set forth.

Post, p. 1020.

5. Use of regional channels.

(a) In general only Class III-A and Class III-B stations shall be assigned to regional channels.

(b) On condition that interference be not caused to any Class III-A or Class III-B station, and subject to such interference as may be received from Class III-A or Class III-B stations, Class IV stations may be assigned to regional channels.

(c) Because of their geographical location with respect to the North American continent, special consideration will be given to the use by Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti and Newfoundland of stations of Classes I and II assigned to certain regional channels under certain conditions, with respect to power and precautions to avoid objectionable interference as set forth in Appendix VII.

Post, p. 1034.

6. Use of local channels. Only Class IV stations shall be assigned to local channels.

D. SERVICE AND INTERFERENCE

1. Satisfactory signal. It is recognized that, in the absence of interference from other stations and in regions where the natural electrical noise level is not abnormally high, a signal of 100 microvolts per meter constitutes a usable signal in rural and sparsely settled areas but that, because of the higher electrical noise levels in more thickly populated communities, greater field intensities (ranging as high as 25 millivolts or more in cities) are necessary to render satisfactory service. It is further recognized that it is not possible to accord protection to stations from objectionable interference over the entire areas over which their signals are or may be above the electrical noise level, particularly at night, and that it is necessary to specify boundaries or contours at or within which stations are protected from objectionable interference from other stations.

2. Areas protected from objectionable interference. The boundaries or contours at and within which the several classes of stations shall be protected from objectionable interference are as set forth in Appendix II. No station, however, need be protected from objectionable interference at any point outside the boundaries of the country in which such station is located.

Post, p. 1024.

With respect to the root-mean-square values of interfering field intensities referred to herein, it shall be understood to apply in determining the interference between existing stations and no station thereafter assigned the channel shall increase the root-mean-square value of the interfering field intensity above the maxima specified in the attached tables.

3. Objectionable interference on the same channel. Objectionable interference shall be deemed to exist to a station when, at the boundary or field intensity contour specified in Appendix II with respect to the class to which the station belongs, the field intensity of an interfering station (or the root-mean-square value of the field intensities of two or more interfering stations) operating on the same channel, exceeds for ten (10) percent or more of the time the value of the permissible interfering signal set forth opposite such class in Appendix II.

Post, p. 1024.

4. Interference to dominant clear channel stations. A station shall be considered as not capable of causing objectionable interference to a Class I clear channel station on the same frequency when it is separated from the dominant clear channel station by a difference of 70 degrees or more of longitude.

5. Objectionable interference on adjacent channels. It is recognized, in principle, that objectionable interference may be caused to a desired station when, at or within the specified contours of a desired station, the field intensity of the ground wave of an undesired station operating on an adjacent channel (or the root-mean-square value of the field intensities of two or more such undesired stations operating on the same adjacent channel) exceeds a value determined by the following ratio:

Separation between channels	Minimum permissible ratio of desired to undesired signals
10 kc	1 to 0.5
20 kc	1 to 10
30 kc	1 to 50

For convenient reference, the maximum permissible values of interfering signals on such adjacent channels at specified contours are set forth in Appendix III, Table I.

Post, p. 1025.

6. Application of standards to existing stations.

(a) For the purpose of estimating objectionable interference, all stations (other than those of Class II) shall be assumed to use the maximum power permitted to their respective classes. In this connection, the power of Class I-A stations shall be considered to be 50 kw or the actual power, if higher.

(b) After this agreement has been placed in operation a station thereafter assigned a channel already assigned to other stations shall not be considered as preventing existing stations from increasing their power to the maximum allowed their class, even though such power increase may limit the newly assigned station to a field intensity contour of higher value than that permitted its class.

7. Frequency stability The operating frequency of each broadcast station shall be maintained to within 50 cycles of the assigned frequency until January 1, 1939, and thereafter the frequency of each new station or each station where a new transmitter is installed shall be maintained within 20 cycles of the assigned frequency, and after January 1, 1942, the frequency of all stations shall be maintained within 20 cycles of the assigned frequency.

8. Spurious radiation. The governments shall endeavor to reduce and, if possible, eliminate spurious radiations from broadcast stations. Such radiations shall be reduced in all cases until they are not of sufficient intensity to cause interference outside the frequency band required for the type of emission employed. With respect to type A-3 emissions (radio-telephony) the transmitter should not be modulated in excess of its modulation capability to the extent that interfering spurious radiations occur, and, with respect to amplitude modulation, the operating percentage of modulation should not be less than seventy-five (75) percent on peaks of frequent recurrence. Means should be employed to insure that the transmitter is not modulated in excess of its modulation capability.

E. DETERMINATION OF PRESENCE OF OBJECTIONABLE INTERFERENCE

1. Antenna performance. For the purpose of calculating the presence and the degree of objectionable interference, stations of the several classes shall be assumed to produce effective field, corrected for absorption, for one kilowatt of input power to the antenna, as follows:

Class of Station	At One Mile	At One Kilometer
I	225 mv/m	362 mv/m
II and III	175 mv/m	282 mv/m
IV	150 mv/m	241 mv/m

In case a directional antenna is employed, the interfering signal of a broadcasting station will vary in different directions. To determine the interference in any direction, in the absence of actual interference measurements, the horizontal and vertical field intensity patterns of the directional antenna must be calculated and by comparing the appropriate vectors in the horizontal or vertical pattern with that of a nondirectional with the same effective field, the interfering signal toward any other station can be expressed in terms of kilowatts. This rating in kilowatts shall be applied in the use of mileage separation tables or in computing distances from the propagation curves or tables.

2. Power. The power of a station shall, for the purposes of notifications required by this Agreement, be determined in one of the following manners:

(a) By taking the product of the square of the antenna current and the antenna resistance (antenna input power).

(b) By determination of the station's effective field intensity, corrected for absorption, by making sufficient field intensity measurements on at least eight radials as nearly equally spaced as practicable and by relating the field intensity thus determined to the effective field intensity of a station having the antenna efficiency stipulated above for its class.

3. Methods of determining the presence of objectionable interference—General. The existence or absence of objectionable interference from stations on the same or adjacent channels shall be determined by one of the following methods:

(a) By actual measurements obtained in the method hereinafter prescribed; or, with the mutual consent of the countries concerned:

Post, pp. 1026, 1027.

(b) By reference to the propagation curves in Appendices IV and V, or

Post, p. 1028.

(c) By reference to the distance tables set forth in Appendix VI.

4. Actual proof of existence or absence of objectionable interference. The existence or absence of objectionable interference may be proved by field intensity measurements or recordings made with suitable apparatus, duly calibrated, by Government engineers or other engineers as may be mutually acceptable to the Governments concerned. Such field intensity measurements shall be made in the manner and for the periods of time mutually agreed upon by the Governments concerned.

The contracting Governments agree to facilitate the making of the measurements by requiring the stations involved to remain silent or operate in the manner deemed necessary, and at such times as not to interrupt regular schedules.

5. Proof based on propagation curves and distance tables.

Post, p. 1027.

(a) Sky wave curves. In computing the distance to the 50 per cent sky wave field intensity contour of a Class I station of a given power, and also in computing the 10 percent sky wave field intensity of an alleged interfering station, of any class and given power, at a specified distance, use may be made of the appropriate graphs set forth in Appendix V, entitled "Average Sky Wave Field Intensity Corresponding to the Second Hour after Sunset in the Recording Station, 100 Millivolt per Meter at One Mile (161 at one kilometer)".

Post, p. 1026.

(b) Ground wave curves. The distance to any specified ground wave field intensity contour may be determined from appropriate ground wave curves plotted for the frequency under consideration and the conductivity and dielectric constant of the earth between the station and desired contour. The frequency and the conductivity of the earth must be considered in every case and where the distance is great due allowance must be made for loss due to curvature of the earth. A family of curves is necessary for this purpose. A graph for a conductivity of 10^{-12} is set forth in Appendix IV, entitled "Ground Wave Field Intensity vs. Distance for One Kilowatt Radiated From Short Antenna". Three frequencies in the standard broadcast band are given. For other frequencies and soil conditions (conductivity and dielectric constant) other curves are required. A conductivity of 10^{-13} is considered average and is used throughout in determining the ground wave value for computing the mileage separation tables.

(c) Distance tables. Table I shows the required day separation in miles between broadcast stations on the same channel. Table II gives the required distance in miles from the boundary of a country in which a Class I-A station is located for the daytime operation of a Class II station on the same channel in another country. Table III gives the required separation in miles between broadcast stations on adjacent channels during both daytime and nighttime. Table IV gives the required night separation in miles between broadcast stations operating on the same channel. The assumed conditions of operation are given in Appendix VI.

Post, p. 1026.

The tables are based upon the use of nondirectional antennas but, in case a directional antenna is employed at a particular station, it will be necessary to consider the radiation distribution of the directional antenna involved and to modify the mileage separation accordingly. The night separation tables for stations on the same frequency are computed from the skywave curve given in Appendix V. These curves are based on extensive measurements of the skywave produced by broadcasting stations and shall be considered as accurate in all cases unless proof to the contrary is available as set out in Section E 4. The mileage separation tables for the same channel during daytime and for adjacent channels day and night are computed from the groundwave curve in Appendix IV. Tables apply only in case the frequency is 1000 kc and the assumed soil conductivity and dielectric constant prevail. Since these values vary in every case the tables for daytime and adjacent channel separation cannot be used except as a general guide. In any case under consideration an estimate of the mileage separation required may be made from the operating frequency and known or assumed soil conditions. To determine the interference accurately, measurements must be made in accordance with Section E 4 on the frequency under consideration or on another frequency and from the curves the values may be determined for the desired frequency.

Post, p. 1027.

Post, p. 1026.

F. MISCELLANEOUS

1. Engineering standards. The engineering standards set forth in this Agreement are subject to revision when justified by technical advances in the art, with the mutual consent of the governments parties to this Agreement.

III

NOTIFICATION AND EFFECT THEREOF

1. Initial notification.

Each Government shall, as soon as possible after ratification of this Agreement, and in any event not later than 180 days prior to the effective date thereof, transmit to the other Governments

(a) A complete list of all broadcast stations actually in operation in its country in the standard broadcast band both as of the date of the signing of this Agreement and as of the date of transmitting said list, showing with respect to each station its call signal, location, frequency, power, and antenna characteristics, together with all changes authorized to be made with respect to said stations on or before the effective date of this Agreement, and the classification claimed for each such station.

(b) A complete list of all changes authorized to be made with respect to said stations after the effective date of this Agreement, the dates on or before which such changes are to be consummated, and the classification claimed for each such station under this Agreement when the proposed change has been consummated.

(c) A complete list of all new broadcast stations authorized but not yet in operation, showing with respect to each such station its call signal, location, frequency, power and antenna characteristics, the date on or before which each such station shall commence operation, and the classification claimed for it under this Agreement.

(d) The Governments agree that prior to the effective date of this Agreement, they will, so far as possible, resolve all conflicts that may arise between them as a result of the foregoing initial listings, and that, notwithstanding some such conflicts may remain unresolved, they will cooperate to the end that there be no delay in putting the provisions of this Agreement into full force and effect on that date.

(e) In resolving conflicts in the use of clear channels, and in the listing of Class I and Class II stations, the provisions of this Agreement and particularly of Appendix I shall be controlling. In resolving conflicts in the use of regional and local channels, and in the listing of Class III and Class IV stations, priority of use shall be recognized in each country with respect to stations which at the time of signing of this Agreement are in actual operation, which in substance conform to the definitions of said classes as set forth in this Agreement, and with respect to which no substantial change is made or proposed; a change of frequency in order to conform to the designation of channels in this Agreement shall not be deemed a substantial change.

Post, p. 1020.

2. Subsequent notifications. After the effective date of this Agreement and throughout the period during which it shall remain in effect, each Government shall promptly notify the other Governments by registered letter of all further changes in existing broadcast stations and of all further new broadcast stations, together with similar information with regard to each such change or new station, and the proposed date on which each such change is to go into effect and on which each such new station is to actually commence operation.

3. Effect of notification. Each Government may, within 30 days of receiving notification of any proposed change in the assignment of an existing station or of the authorization of a new station in another country, notify the Government of the latter country of any objection it may have thereto under the terms of this Agreement.

4. Conflict between notifications. To be valid, notifications of changes in the assignments of existing stations, or of authorizations of new stations must be such that the assignments proposed therein are in accordance with this Agreement and are such as not to involve objectionable interference to existing stations in other countries, assigned and operating in accordance with this Agreement. As between two or more notifications of changes or authorizations of new stations proceeding from different countries, after the effective date of this Agreement, priority in the date of mailing of notification shall govern.

5. Cessation of effect. (a) A notification of a proposed change in the assignment of an existing station or of an authorization of a new station shall cease to have any force and effect if, within one year of the date thereof such change shall not have been actually consummated or such new station shall not have actually commenced continuous operation. (b) In special cases in which circumstances beyond the control of the Administration concerned have prevented the completion of the change or the construction of the new station, the term of the original notification may be extended for a period of six months.

6. Bern Bureau. The foregoing notifications shall be made independently of and in addition to those which, under current practice, are sent to the Bureau of the International Telecommunications Union.

IV

ARBITRATION

In case of disagreement between two or more contracting Governments concerning the execution of this Agreement the dispute, if it is not settled through diplomatic channels, shall be submitted to arbitration at the request of one of the Governments in disagreement. Unless the parties in disagreement agree to adopt a procedure already established by treaties concluded between them for the settlement of international disputes, the procedure shall be that provided for in Article 15 of the International Telecommunications Convention of Madrid, 1932.

49 Stat. 2408.

V

RATIFICATION, EXECUTION, AND DENUNCIATION

1. Ratification. To be valid this Agreement must be ratified by Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the United States of America.

If and when three of said four countries shall have ratified and the fourth shall, through unavoidable circumstances, have been unable to ratify but shall have signified to those countries that have ratified, its readiness, pending ratification and as an administrative measure, to put the provisions of this Agreement (including the contents of Appendix I) into effect in whole or in part, then such country, together with those countries which shall have ratified, may, by administrative agreement between them, fix a definite date on which they shall give effect to such provisions, which date shall preferably be one year from the date of such administrative agreement.

Post, p. 1020.

The ratifications must be deposited, as soon as possible, through diplomatic channels, in the archives of the Government of Cuba. This same Government shall, through diplomatic channels, notify the other signatory Governments of the ratifications as soon as they are received.

2. Effect of ratification. This Agreement shall be valid only as between such countries as shall have ratified it.

3. Execution. The contracting Governments undertake to apply the provisions of this Agreement, and to take the steps necessary to enforce said provisions upon the private operating agencies recognized or authorized by them to establish and operate broadcast stations within their respective countries.

4. Denunciation. Each contracting Government shall have the right to denounce this Agreement by a notification addressed, through diplomatic channels, to the Government of Cuba, and announced by that Government, through diplomatic channels, to all the other contracting Governments. This denunciation shall take effect at the expiration of the period of one year from the date on which the notification was received by the Government of Cuba. This effect shall apply only to the author of the denunciation. This Agreement shall remain in force for the other contracting Governments but only as between such Governments.

TABLE VI

SPECIAL CONDITIONS AFFECTING THE UNITED STATES

The 24 Class I and II stations in the United States which use clear channels with other countries party to this agreement are given in Tables III and IV.

The remaining 39 Class I and II stations of the United States will be assigned the following clear channels:

640	650	660	670	680	700	710	720	750	760	770	780
1120	1160	1180	1200	1210	1500	1510	1520	1530

It is recognized that the United States must make extensive adjustments in the assignments of its existing stations in order to make possible the carrying out of this Agreement, that these adjustments will require approximately a year, and that it is not possible for the United States at this time to specify on which of the said 32 channels it will have priority of use for Class I-A stations, Class I-B stations and Class II stations respectively, nor the locations of such stations, power and other information with respect thereto. The United States may assign Class I-A stations to at least 25 of said channels. The United States agrees that ninety days before the effective date of this Agreement it will communicate this information to each of the other countries parties to this Agreement, and such information, when communicated, shall be considered part of this Agreement as if fully set forth herein.

Nothing stated in this Agreement shall be construed to preclude the United States of America from asserting, and enjoying recognition of, priority of use with reference to certain other Class II stations (not included in the 63 stations mentioned in Table I) which are now in actual operation in the band 640-1190 kcs and which are known under the Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission as "limited time stations" and "daytime stations" (having hours of operation limited to sunset taken either at their respective locations or at the locations of the respective dominant stations on clear channels and in some cases including hours not actually used by said dominant stations) which stations may, so far as permitted by the terms of this Agreement and the engineering standards herein set forth, be given assignments substantially equivalent to those they now enjoy.

TABLE VII

SPECIAL CONDITIONS REGARDING THE USE OF 1010 KC BY CUBA AND CANADA

With regard to the use of the clear channel of 1010 kc by a Class I-A station in Canada, and by a Class I-B station in Cuba, both countries mutually agree that the interfering signal shall not exceed for 10 per cent of the time or more the value of 50 microvolts per meter at the following points of measurement: in Cuba at any point east of the province of Camaguey, and in Canada at any point west of the province of Manitoba.

TABLE VIII

SPECIAL CONDITIONS AFFECTING CANADA

Nothing stated in this Agreement shall be construed to preclude Canada from asserting priority of use with reference to certain Class III and IV stations now in operation in Canada on existing clear and regional channels which through this Agreement will become of a class of channel which may not permit their use by Class III and IV stations.

APPENDIX II

PROTECTED SERVICE CONTOURS AND PERMISSIBLE INTERFERENCE SIGNALS FOR BROADCAST STATIONS

I B	Clear	10 kw to 50 kw	100 uv/m	500 uv/m (50 % sky wave)	5 uv/m	25 uv/m
II	Clear ^e	0.25 kw to 50 kw	500 uv/m ^e	2500 uv/m ^e (Ground wave)	25 uv/m ^e	125 uv/m ^e
III A	Regional	1 kw to 5 kw	500 uv/m	2500 uv/m (Ground wave)	25 uv/m	125 uv/m
III B	Regional	0.5 kw to 1 kw night and 5 kw day	500 uv/m	4000 uv/m (Ground wave)	25 uv/m	200 uv/m
IV	Local	0.1 kw to 0.25 kw	500 uv/m	4000 uv/m (Ground wave)	25 uv/m	200 uv/m

^a In accordance with other provisions in this Agreement this freedom of interference does not apply outside the boundaries of the country in which the station is located.

^b From other stations on same channel only. For adjacent channels see Appendix III, Table I.

^c Sky wave field intensity exceeded for 10% of the time.

^d No Class II station shall be assigned to the same channel as a Class I A station for nighttime operation (from sunset to sunrise) less than 650 miles of the nearest border of the country in which the Class I A station is located.

^e These values are with respect to interference from all stations except Class I, which stations may cause interference to a field intensity contour of higher value. However, it is recommended that Class II stations be so located that the interference received from Class I stations will not exceed these values. If the Class II stations are limited by Class I stations to higher values, then such values shall be the standard established with respect to interference from all other classes of stations.

APPENDIX III

ADJACENT CHANNEL INTERFERENCE

Channel separation between desired and undesired stations.	Maximum ground wave field intensity of undesired station.
10 kc	0.25 mv/m
20 kc	5.0 mv/m
30 kc	25.0 mv/m

The undesired ground wave signal shall be measured at or within the 0.5 mv/m ground wave contour of the desired station. These values apply to all classes of stations both day and night and are based on ground waves only. No adjacent channel interference is considered on the basis of an interfering sky wave.

ENGINEERING REQUIREMENTS FOR THE USE OF REGIONAL CHANNELS
BY CLASS II STATION UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION C 5 c

Ante, p. 1011.

A Class II station assigned to a regional channel in accordance with Section C 5 c shall use a directional antenna or other means to limit the interfering signal within the protected service area of any Class III station on the channel to the value set forth in Appendix II, Table I. The interfering signal in case of projected operation shall be determined from the characteristics of the antenna and appropriate curve in Appendix V. In case of actual operation the interfering signal shall be determined by the method described in Section E 4.

Ante, p. 1024.

Ante, p. 1014.

Class III stations, operating on a channel to which a Class II station is assigned, should limit the interference to the Class II station in conformity with the provisions of Appendix II, Table I.

CONVENIO REGIONAL NORTEAMERICANO DE RADIODIFUSION, celebrado entre los Gobiernos que a continuación se expresan: Canadá, Cuba, Estados Unidos de América, Haiti, México y la República Dominicana.

Los infrascritos, Plenipotenciarios de los Gobiernos arriba mencionados, reunidos en conferencia en la Habana, Cuba, han celebrado, de común acuerdo, el siguiente Convenio que requiere la previa ratificación de los Gobiernos respectivos.

I

FINALIDAD Y ALCANCE DE ESTE CONVENIO.

1. Objeto del Convenio. El objeto de este Convenio es reglamentar y establecer los principios relativos al uso de la banda normal de radiodifusión en la Región Norteamericana, de modo que cada país pueda utilizarla de la manera más efectiva y con la menor interferencia técnica posible entre las estaciones difusoras.

2. Región Norteamericana. Se entenderá que la región Norteamericana (que en lo sucesivo se denominará "la Región") para los efectos del presente Convenio comprende a, y consiste de, los siguientes países: Canadá, Cuba, Estados Unidos de América, Haiti, México, Terranova y la República Dominicana.

3. Banda normal de radiodifusión. Se entenderá que la banda normal de radiodifusión es la banda de frecuencias que se extiende desde los 550 a los 1600 kc. ambos inclusive, siendo tanto los 550 kc. como los 1600 kc. frecuencias portadoras de canales de radiodifusión, según más adelante se definen. Los Gobiernos convienen en que esta banda de frecuencias se asignará exclusivamente a la radiodifusión en la Región, sujetándose siempre a las disposiciones del Artículo 7o. del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones anexo a la Convención Internacional de Telecomunicaciones (Madrid, 1932).

4. Derecho soberano al uso de los canales. Se reconoce el derecho soberano que asiste a todos los países que son partes de este Convenio para usar todos los canales en la banda normal de radiodifusión. Los Gobiernos reconocen, sin embargo, que entretanto los adelantos técnicos alcancen un grado tal que permita la eliminación de las interferencias de radio de carácter internacional, es necesario un arreglo regional entre ellos con objeto de fomentar la normalización y reducir a un mínimo las interferencias.

5. Carácter regional del Convenio. Los Gobiernos reconocen que este Convenio y cada una de sus disposiciones, tienen el carácter de un arreglo regional tal como se entiende y queda autorizado en la Convención Internacional de Telecomunicaciones y el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones anexo a ella.

II

TECNICA

A. DEFINICIONES.

1. Estación difusora. Aquella estación cuyas emisiones están principalmente destinadas a ser recibidas por el público en general.

2. Canales de radiodifusión—550 a 1600 kc. Un canal de radiodifusión es una banda de frecuencias de diez (10) kc. de ancho, con la frecuencia portadora al centro. Los canales se designarán por sus frecuencias portadoras asignadas. Las frecuencias portadoras asignadas a las estaciones difusoras comenzarán en 550 kc. y continuarán en etapas sucesivas de 10 kc. No se asignará, como frecuencia portadora de una estación de radio difusión, ninguna frecuencia intermedia entre los valores de las etapas sucesivas de 10 kc.

3. Areas de servicio.

(a) Area de servicio primario. El área de servicio primario de una estación difusora es aquélla en que la onda terrestre no está sujeta a interferencia o desvanecimiento objetables.

(b) Area de servicio secundario. El área de servicio secundario de una estación difusora es aquélla dentro de la cual se presta el servicio por medio de la onda reflejada y que no está sujeta a interferencia objetable. La señal es susceptible de sufrir variaciones intermitentes de intensidad.

4. Estación dominante. Es una estación de Clase I, tal como se define a continuación, que funciona en un canal despejado.

5. Estación secundaria. Es cualquiera estación, excepción hecha de las de la Clase I, que funciona en un canal despejado.

6. Interferencia objetable. Interferencia objetable es aquel grado de interferencia que resulta cuando el valor de la intensidad de campo de una estación interferente (o la raíz del promedio de los cuadrados de las intensidades de campo de dos o más estaciones en la misma frecuencia) excede, durante el diez (10) por ciento o más del tiempo, en un límite o contorno de intensidad de campo determinado con respecto a la estación interferida, de los valores fijados en otra parte de este convenio.

7. Potencia. La potencia de un transmisor de radio es la que se suministra a la antena. La potencia en la antena de un transmisor de onda modulada se expresará por dos cifras, una que indique la potencia de la frecuencia portadora suministrada a la antena y otra el porcentaje máximo de modulación realmente empleado.

8. Emisiones espurias. Emisión espuria de un transmisor es cualquier radiación fuera de la banda normal de emisión para el tipo de transmisión empleado, incluyendo cualquier componente armónico de modulación, impactos de llave, oscilaciones parásitas o cualquier otro fenómeno transitorio.

9. Equivalencias en inglés, francés y español. Según se aplican en este Convenio, los términos en francés y en español que se indican a continuación se aceptan como respectivamente equivalentes, y significando lo mismo que los términos en inglés a ellos antepuestos:

Inglés	Francés	Español
Clear channel	Frequence libre	Canal despejado
Objectionable interference	Brouillage nuisible	Interferencia objetable.

B. CLASES Y DISTRIBUCION DE CANALES.

1. Tres clases: Los 106 canales en la banda normal de radiodifusión se dividen en tres clases principales; despejados, regionales y locales.

2. Canal despejado: Canal despejado es aquél en el que la estación o estaciones dominantes prestan servicio sobre áreas extensas, teniendo libre de interferencia objetable tanto su área de servicio primario, como la totalidad o gran parte de sus áreas de servicio secundario.

3. Canal regional: Canal regional es aquél en el que pueden operar varias estaciones cuyas potencias no excedan de 5 kw. El área de servicio primario de una estación que funcione en un canal de esta clase podrá quedar limitada, por razón de interferencia, a un contorno determinado de intensidad de campo.

4. Canal local: Canal local es aquél en el que pueden operar varias estaciones cuyas potencias no excedan de 250 vatios. El área de servicio primario de cualquiera estación que ocupe un canal de esta clase podrá quedar limitada, por razón de interferencia, a un contorno determinado de intensidad de campo.

5. Número de canales de cada clase: El número de canales de cada clase será como sigue:

Canales despejados	59
Canales regionales	41
Canales locales	6

6. Asignación de canales específicos a cada clase: Los canales se asignan a las distintas clases como sigue:

Los siguientes canales se designan como canales despejados: 640, 650, 660, 670, 680, 690, 700, 710, 720, 730, 740, 750, 760, 770, 780, 800, 810, 820, 830, 840, 850, 860, 870, 880, 890, 900, 940, 990, 1000, 1010, 1020, 1030, 1040, 1050, 1060, 1070, 1080, 1090, 1100, 1110, 1120, 1130, 1140, 1160, 1170, 1180, 1190, 1200, 1210, 1220, 1500, 1510, 1520, 1530, 1540, 1550, 1560, 1570 y 1580.

7. Uso de canales regionales y locales por los países. Todos los países podrán usar todos los canales regionales y locales, sujetándose a las limitaciones de potencia y a las normas para prevenir la interferencia objetable consignadas en este Convenio.

8. Prioridad en el uso de canales despejados por los países.

(a) Los canales despejados se asignan para la prioridad en el uso por estaciones de las Clases I y II en los distintos países, de acuerdo con la tabla contenida en el Apéndice I.

(b) Cada uno de estos canales será usado ajustándose a las mejores prácticas de ingeniería, teniendo en cuenta el servicio que hayan de prestar las estaciones dominantes que en ellos funcionen, según se estipula en otra parte de este Convenio. Si durante el término de un año, en el periodo de vigencia de este Convenio, un país no hiciere uso alguno de un canal despejado que le hubiere sido asignado, dicho canal se considerará libre para ser utilizado por los demás países, partes en este Convenio, de acuerdo con el arreglo que celebren a este respecto las administraciones respectivas y sin necesidad de revisar este Convenio.

(c) Ningún país al cual se haya asignado un canal despejado permitirá, ni convendrá en permitir, a cualquier otro país que lo use en forma alguna que no esté de acuerdo con las disposiciones de este Convenio, sin dar aviso previo de su intención con sesenta días ^a de anticipación, a todos los demás países participantes en este mismo Convenio. Si, durante este periodo de sesenta días ^a cualquiera otro país hiciere objeciones al uso del canal en la forma propuesta, el país al cual se hubiera asignado el canal despejado no permitirá, ni convendrá en permitir, el uso propuesto, mientras no se hubiere resuelto amigablemente el conflicto a que diere lugar la objeción presentada.

(d) Si, dentro del período de vigencia de este Convenio, el país que tuviere asignado un canal despejado lo hubiere usado pero no en la forma arriba estipulada o en la extensión en que lo exigen las disposiciones de este Convenio, se entenderá que tal país ha renunciado a aquella parte de sus derechos que no hubiere usado y, al vencerse este Convenio, los demás países contratantes tendrán el derecho de retirarle a dicho país, si así lo estimaren conveniente, los privilegios no usados, y asignarlos de nuevo a cualquiera de los demás países interesados, o a todos ellos.

C. CLASES DE ESTACIONES Y USO DE LAS DIVERSAS CLASES DE CANALES.

1. Clases de Estaciones. Las estaciones difusoras se dividen en cuatro clases principales, que se denominarán Clase I, Clase II, Clase III y Clase IV, respectivamente.

2. Definición de las clases. Las cuatro clases de estaciones difusoras se definen como sigue:

^a Días comunes, (Naturales).

Clase I: Una estación dominante que funciona en un canal despejado y que está destinada a prestar servicios primario y secundario en un área extensa y a distancias relativamente grandes.

Las estaciones de Clase I se subdividen en dos clases:

Clase I-A: Una estación de Clase I que trabaja con potencia de 50 o más kilovatios y cuya área de servicio primario está libre dentro de las fronteras del país donde la estación está ubicada, de interferencia objetable producida por otras estaciones en el mismo canal o en canales adyacentes; estando asimismo su área de servicio secundario; dentro de los mismos límites, libre de interferencia objetable producida por estaciones en el mismo canal, de acuerdo con las normas de ingeniería que se establecen más adelante.

Clase I-B: Una estación de Clase I que trabaja con una potencia de no menos de 10 ni más de 50 kw y cuya área de servicio primario está libre de interferencia objetable producida por otras estaciones en el mismo canal y en los canales adyacentes, y cuya área de servicio secundario está asimismo libre de interferencia objetable proveniente de estaciones que operan en el mismo canal, de acuerdo con las normas de ingeniería que se establecen más adelante.

(a) Cuando entre dos estaciones de la Clase I-B, en el mismo canal, medie una distancia de 2,800 millas, o más, no se le exigirá a ninguna de ellas que instale antena direccional.

(b) Cuando entre dos estaciones de la Clase I-B, en el mismo canal medie una distancia mayor de 1800 millas y menor de 2800, se entenderá, salvo pruebas en contrario, que cada una de dichas estaciones está libre de interferencia objetable producida por la otra, y a ninguna de ellas se le exigirá que instale antenas direccionales o tome precauciones de cualquiera otra índole para evitar tal interferencia. En caso de que se compruebe la existencia de interferencia objetable, los gobiernos interesados se consultarán respecto a la conveniencia y practicabilidad de la instalación de antenas direccionales o de tomar precauciones de otra índole con el objeto de eliminar la interferencia, y determinarán por acuerdo especial las medidas que deban tomarse.

(c) Cuando entre dos estaciones de la Clase I-B, en el mismo canal medie una distancia menor de 1800 millas, se entenderá, salvo pruebas en contrario, que es necesaria la instalación de antenas direccionales o la adopción de precauciones de otra índole para prevenir la interferencia, y los gobiernos interesados se consultarán y tomarán las medidas en que convengan con el fin de reducir o eliminar la interferencia objetable.

Clase II: Estación "secundaria" que opera en un canal despejado y que está destinada a prestar servicio sobre un área de servicio primario que, si se tiene en cuenta la ubicación geográfica y la potencia usada, puede ser relativamente extensa, pero que está limitada por, y sujeta a la interferencia que le puedan causar las estaciones de la Clase I. Una estación de esta clase funcionará con una potencia no menor de 0.25 kw. ni mayor de 50 kw. Una estación de Clase II utilizará, siempre que sea necesario, antena direccional u otros medios para evitar interferencia con estaciones de la Clase I, o con otras estaciones de la Clase II, de acuerdo con las normas de ingeniería que más adelante se establecen.

Clase III: Estación que opera en un canal regional y que está destinada a prestar servicio principalmente a zonas metropolitanas y a las áreas rurales adyacentes y contiguas a ellas. Las estaciones de la clase III se subdividen en dos clases:

Clase III-A: Una estación de la Clase III que trabaja con potencia no menor de 1 kw. ni mayor de 5 kw. y cuya área de servicio está sujeta a sufrir interferencia, de acuerdo con las normas de ingeniería que más adelante se consignan.

Clase III-B: Una estación de la Clase III que trabaja con potencia no menor de 0.5 kw. ni mayor de 1 kw. durante la noche y 5 kw. durante el día, y cuya área de servicio queda sujeta a sufrir interferencia de acuerdo con las normas de ingeniería que más adelante se consignan.—

Clase IV: Una estación que, utilizando un canal local, está destinada a prestar servicio principalmente a una ciudad o población y a las áreas suburbanas y rurales contiguas a ésta. La potencia de una estación de esta clase no será menor de 0.1 kw. ni mayor de 0.25 kw. y su área de servicio está sujeta a sufrir interferencia de acuerdo con las normas de ingeniería que más adelante se consignan.

3.—Cambio de clase: Si una o más estaciones de la Clase III-B ubicadas en cualquier país pueden, haciendo uso de antenas direccionales o por otros medios, reducir la interferencia causada o recibida por dicha estación o estaciones al contorno de campo en que se permite interferencia a las estaciones de la Clase III-A, tal estación o estaciones quedarán clasificadas e incluidas automáticamente dentro de la Clase III-A, y de allí en adelante las Administraciones de todos los países comprendidos en la Región las reconocerán y tratarán como tales.

4. Uso de canales despejados.

(a) En principio, y únicamente con la excepción que más adelante se estipula, las estaciones de la Clase I se asignarán sólo a canales despejados.

(b) Las estaciones de la Clase II podrán asignarse únicamente a canales despejados, siempre que no se produzca interferencia objetable a ninguna estación de la Clase I. Cuando cualquier país tenga prioridad en el uso de un canal despejado para cualquier estación de la Clase I-A, ningún otro país asignará una estación de la Clase II a ese canal para funcionamiento nocturno (desde la puesta a la salida del sol en la ubicación de la estación de la Clase II) a menos que tal estación de la Clase II esté situada a no menos de 650 millas de la frontera más cercana del país en el que esté ubicada la estación de la Clase I-A; disponiéndose, sin embargo, que en el caso de que se mencione de un modo específico tal asignación en el Apéndice I, se entenderá que la misma ha sido autorizada dentro de las limitaciones estipuladas en dicho Apéndice.

5. Uso de canales regionales.

(a) En general, a canales regionales sólo se asignarán estaciones de las Clases III-A y III-B.

(b) Podrán asignarse estaciones de la Clase IV a canales regionales, a condición de que no se produzca interferencia a ninguna estación de las Clases III-A ó III-B; quedando, además, la estación de la Clase IV, sujeta a la interferencia que pudiera sufrir de estaciones de las Clases III-A ó III-B.

(c) Debido a la posición geográfica que ocupan Cuba, la República Dominicana, Haití y Terranova, con respecto al Continente norteamericano, se dará consideración especial al uso que estos países hagan de estaciones de las Clases I y II asignadas a ciertos canales regionales bajo ciertas condiciones, en cuanto a potencia y a precauciones para evitar interferencia objetable según lo dispuesto en el Apéndice VII.

6. Uso de canales locales.—Se asignarán únicamente estaciones de la Clase IV a canales locales.

D. SERVICIO E INTERFERENCIA.

1. Señal satisfactoria. Se acepta que, no habiendo interferencia de otras estaciones y en regiones donde el nivel de ruidos producidos por fenómenos eléctricos naturales no sea anormalmente alto, constituye una señal utilizable la que tenga un valor de 100 microvoltios por metro, dentro de áreas rurales y escasamente pobladas; pero en las regiones más densamente pobladas, donde son más elevados los niveles de ruidos eléctricos, hay necesidad de intensidades de campo más grandes (que se elevan hasta 25 milivoltios o más dentro de las ciudades) para que pueda prestarse un servicio satisfactorio. Se reconoce asimismo que no es posible proteger contra interferencia objetable la totalidad de las áreas dentro de las cuales las señales de las estaciones estén o puedan estar sobre el nivel de ruidos eléctricos, particularmente durante la noche; siendo necesario, por lo tanto, especificar límites o contornos en o dentro de los cuales se protegerán las estaciones contra interferencia objetable producida por otras estaciones.

2. Áreas protegidas contra interferencia objetable.

En el Apéndice II se establecen los límites o contornos en, o dentro de los cuales, se protegerán contra interferencia objetable las diversas clases de estaciones. Ninguna estación, sin embargo, necesita ser protegida contra interferencia objetable en ningún punto fuera de las fronteras del país donde se halla ubicada tal estación.

Con respecto a los valores cuadráticos medios de las intensidades de campo interferentes a que se hace referencia en este instrumento, se entenderá que se aplican para determinar la interferencia entre estaciones ya existentes, y ninguna estación a la que se asigne posteriormente el canal deberá producir un aumento en el valor cuadrático medio de la intensidad de campo interferente sobre los máximos especificados en las tablas adjuntas a este instrumento.

3. Interferencia objetable en el mismo canal. Se entenderá que existe interferencia objetable a una estación cuando, en los límites o contornos de intensidad de campo especificados en el Apéndice II con respecto a la clase a que pertenece la estación, la intensidad de campo de una estación interferente que opere en el mismo canal (o la raíz del promedio de los cuadrados de las intensidades de campo de dos o más estaciones interferentes), excede, durante el diez (10) por ciento del tiempo, o más, del valor permisible para la señal interferente que se establece para tal clase en el Apéndice II.

4. Interferencia a estaciones dominantes de canal despejado. Se considerará que una estación no es capaz de producir interferencia objetable a una estación de canal despejado de la Clase I, en la misma frecuencia, cuando medie entre ella y la estación dominante de canal despejado una diferencia de setenta o más grados de longitud.

5. Interferencia objetable en canales adyacentes.

Se reconoce, en principio, que puede causarse interferencia objetable a una estación determinada cuando en, o dentro de, los contornos especificados de dicha estación, la intensidad de campo de la onda terrestre de una estación interferente que opere en un canal adyacente (o el valor de la raíz del promedio de los cuadrados de las intensidades de campo de dos o más de tales estaciones interferentes que trabajen en el mismo canal adyacente) excede del valor determinado por las siguientes proporciones:

Separación entre canales.	Relación mínima permisible entre las señales interferidas e interferentes.
10 kc	1 a 0.5
20 kc	1 a 10
30 kc	1 a 50

En el Apéndice III, Tabla I, se consignan los valores máximos permisibles de las señales interferentes en tales canales adyacentes, en determinados contornos, con el objeto de facilitar su consulta.

6. Aplicación de normas a las estaciones existentes.

(a) Para poder calcular la interferencia objetable, se considerará que todas las estaciones, salvo las de la Clase II, emplean la potencia máxima permitida a sus clases respectivas. A este respecto, se considerará que la potencia de las estaciones de la Clase I-A es de 50 kilovatios, o la potencia real usada, si fuere superior a 50 kilovatios.

(b) Si, después de que hubiere entrado en vigor este Convenio, se asignare una estación a un canal ya asignado a otras estaciones, no se considerará que ésta nueva asignación impide que las estaciones ya existentes aumenten su potencia hasta el máximo permitido a las de su Clase, aun cuando éste aumento en la potencia pueda limitar a la estación recién asignada a un contorno de intensidad de campo de un valor superior al que se permite a su clase.

7. Estabilidad de frecuencia. Hasta el día 1ro de Enero de 1939, se mantendrá la frecuencia de funcionamiento de cada estación difusora dentro de un margen de 50 ciclos de la frecuencia asignada; con posterioridad a dicha fecha, la frecuencia de cada estación nueva, o de cada estación donde se instale un nuevo transmisor, se mantendrá dentro de un margen de 20 ciclos de la frecuencia asignada; y, después del 1ro de Enero de 1942, la frecuencia, de todas las estaciones se mantendrá dentro de un margen de 20 ciclos de la frecuencia asignada.

8. Emisiones espurias. Los Gobiernos procurarán reducir y, si fuere posible, eliminar las emisiones espurias de las estaciones difusoras. En todos los casos deberán reducirse tales emisiones al grado de que no tengan suficiente intensidad para producir interferencia fuera de la banda de frecuencias necesaria para el tipo de emisión empleado. Con respecto a las emisiones del tipo A-3 (radiotelefonía), no deberá modularse el transmisor en exceso de su capacidad de modulación al grado de que pudieran ocurrir emisiones espurias interferentes, y con respecto a la modulación por amplitud, el tanto por ciento efectivo de modulación no deberá ser menor del setenta y cinco por ciento (75%) en los máximos de frecuente repetición. Deberán emplearse los medios necesarios para evitar que el transmisor sea modulado en exceso de su capacidad de modulación.

E. DETERMINACION DE LA PRESENCIA DE INTERFERENCIA OBJETABLE.

1. Funcionamiento de la antena. Para poder calcular la presencia y el grado de interferencia objetable, se considerará que las estaciones de las diferentes clases producen un campo efectivo, rectificado en cuanto a absorción, por cada kilovatio de potencia de entrada a la antena, como sigue:

Clase de estación	A una milla	A un kilómetro
I	225 mv/m	362 mv/m
II y III	175 mv/m	282 mv/m
IV	150 mv/m	241 mv/m

En el caso de emplearse una antena direccional, la señal interferente de una estación difusora variará en diferentes direcciones. Para determinar la interferencia en cualquier dirección sin contar con datos de medición efectivos, deberán calcularse las configuraciones de intensidad de campo horizontal y vertical de la antena direccional; y, comparando los vectores apropiados en la configuración horizontal o vertical con los de una antena no direccional que tenga el mismo campo efectivo, la señal interferente hacia cualquier otra estación podrá expresarse en kilovatios. Este cómputo en kilovatios se aplicará al considerar las tablas de separación en millas o al calcular las distancias por medio de las curvas o tablas de propagación.

2. Potencia. La potencia de una estación se determinará, para las notificaciones requeridas por este Convenio, por uno de los siguientes métodos:

(a) Tomando el producto del cuadrado de la corriente de antena por la resistencia de la misma (potencia de entrada a la antena).

(b) Determinando la intensidad de campo efectiva de la estación, rectificadas en cuanto a absorción, tomando suficientes lecturas de medidas de intensidad de campo, cuando menos en ocho radiales espaciados tan igualmente como sea posible, y relacionando la intensidad de campo así determinada con la intensidad de campo efectiva de una estación que tenga la eficiencia de antena estipulada para su clase.

3. Métodos para determinar la presencia de interferencia objetable, en general. La existencia o ausencia de interferencia objetable originada por estaciones en el mismo canal, o en canales adyacentes, se determinará por cualquiera de los métodos siguientes:

(a) por medio de mediciones efectivas tomadas siguiendo el método que más adelante se establece; ó, contando con el consentimiento mutuo de los países afectados:

(b) por referencia a las curvas de propagación de los Apéndices IV y V, ó

(c) por referencia a las tablas de distancias que aparecen en el Apéndice VI.

4. Prueba efectiva de la existencia o inexistencia de interferencia objetable. La existencia o inexistencia de interferencia objetable podrá comprobarse por medio de mediciones de intensidad de campo o por registros hechos con aparatos apropiados, debidamente calibrados, por ingenieros del Gobierno u otros ingenieros cuya intervención se acepte por mutuo acuerdo de los Gobiernos interesados. Tales mediciones de la intensidad de campo se harán en la forma, y durante los períodos, que convengan mutuamente los Gobiernos interesados. Los Gobiernos contratantes convienen en facilitar las mediciones exigiendo de las estaciones en cuestión que suspendan su transmisión o que funcionen en la manera y ocasión que se estime necesario, en períodos que no signifiquen la interrupción de sus programas regulares.

5. Testimonios basados en las curvas de propagación y tablas de distancia.

(a) Curvas de la onda reflejada. Al calcular la distancia al contorno de intensidad de campo del 50 por ciento de la onda reflejada de una estación de la Clase I que trabaje con una potencia dada, así como para calcular el 10 por ciento de la intensidad de campo de la onda reflejada de una estación que se considere interferente, de cualquier clase y con determinada potencia, a una distancia especificada, podrán utilizarse las curvas correspondientes que se indican en el Apéndice V, y denominadas "Intensidad de campo media de la onda reflejada correspondiente a la segunda hora después de la puesta del sol en la estación de registro, 100 milivoltios por metro a una milla (161 a un kilómetro)".

(b) Curvas de onda terrestre. Se puede determinar la distancia a cualquier contorno especificado de intensidad de campo de onda terrestre valiéndose de las curvas apropiadas de onda terrestre, trazadas con respecto a la frecuencia en cuestión, y a la conductividad y la constante dieléctrica de la tierra entre la estación y el contorno escogido.—Se tomarán en consideración, en cada caso, tanto la frecuencia de transmisión como la conductividad de la tierra y si la distancia fuere grande, deberán tomarse en consideración las pérdidas que ocasiona la curvatura terrestre.—Para este objeto es necesario un grupo de curvas.—En el Apéndice IV se presenta una gráfica para una conductividad de 10–13 bajo el título de "Intensidad de campo de la onda terrestre en relación con la distancia para un kilovatio radiado por una antena corta".—Se dan tres frecuencias en la banda normal de radiodifusión. Para otras frecuencias y otras condiciones de la tierra, (constante dieléctrica y de conductibilidad), se requieren otras curvas.—Se considera como media una conductibilidad de 10-13, usándose esta constante en todo el proceso para determinar el valor de la onda terrestre en el cálculo de las tablas de separación en términos de millas.—

Las tablas están basadas en el uso de antenas no direccionales; pero, si se empleare una antena direccional en una estación determinada, habrá que considerar la distribución de la radiación de dicha antena, modificando correspondientemente la separación en millas. Para calcular las Tablas de separación en el servicio nocturno de estaciones en la misma frecuencia, se ha empleado la curva de onda reflejada que se muestra en el Apéndice V. Dichas curvas tienen como base abundantes y cuidadosas medidas de ondas reflejadas producidas por estaciones difusoras y se las considerará exactas en todos los casos, a menos de que se presenten testimonios en contrario, según se estipula en la Sección E-4. Las Tablas de separación en millas para estaciones en un mismo canal, para servicio diurno, y para canales adyacentes en el servicio diurno y nocturno, se han calculado valiéndose de la curva de onda terrestre que aparece en el Apéndice IV. Las Tablas se aplican únicamente en el caso de que la frecuencia sea de 1000 kilociclos y de que la constante dieléctrica y la conductibilidad terrestre sean las supuestas.—En vista de que estos valores varían en cada caso, las Tablas de separación para servicio diurno y canales adyacentes no podrán usarse sino como guía general.—Al considerar cada caso en particular, podrá calcularse la separación en millas requerida, tomando en cuenta la frecuencia de trabajo y las condiciones de la tierra conocidas o supuestas.—Para determinar la interferencia con exactitud, deberán efectuarse medidas de acuerdo con lo expuesto en la Sección E-4, en la frecuencia que se esté considerando o en cualquier otra frecuencia; pudiendo determinarse, por medio de las curvas, los valores para la frecuencia deseada.—

F.—GENERALIDADES.

1.—Normas de Ingeniería.—Las normas de ingeniería establecidas en este Convenio quedan sujetas a revisión para cuando los adelantos técnicos lo justifiquen, según lo determinen de común acuerdo los Gobiernos participantes en el mismo.—

(c) Una lista completa de todas las nuevas estaciones difusoras autorizadas, pero que aún no estuvieren funcionando, indicando, con respecto a cada una de tales estaciones, el indicativo de llamada, la ubicación, frecuencia, potencia y características de antena, así como la fecha en la cual, o antes de la cual, comenzará dicha estación a trabajar, y la clasificación que pretenda atribuirsele según las disposiciones de este Convenio.—

(d) Los Gobiernos acuerdan que, antes de la fecha en que entre en vigor este Convenio, harán cuanto sea posible por solucionar todos los conflictos que puedan suscitarse entre ellos como resultado de los informes anteriormente citados, y que, aun cuando algunos de esos conflictos pudieran quedar sin solución, ellos cooperarán con objeto de no retrasar la fecha en que las disposiciones de este Convenio deban entrar en vigor.—

(e) En la solución de los conflictos que se suscitaren con motivo del uso de canales despejados y de la clasificación de las estaciones de las Clases I y II, regirán las disposiciones de este Convenio y principalmente las que se consignan en el Apéndice I.— En la solución de los conflictos que surjan respecto al uso de los canales regionales y locales y de la clasificación de las estaciones de las Clases III y IV, se reconocerá a cada país el derecho de prioridad en el uso, respecto a las estaciones que se encuentren en funcionamiento efectivo en la fecha de la firma de este Convenio, y que se ajusten esencialmente a las definiciones que para dichas clases establece este Convenio, y en las que no se haya hecho ni se proyecte hacer cambio sustancial alguno. No se considerará cambio sustancial un cambio de frecuencia que se hiciere con objeto de cumplir con lo referente a distribución de canales en este Convenio.—

2.—Notificaciones subsiguientes.—Con posterioridad a la fecha en que entre en vigor este Convenio y durante todo el periodo de su vigencia, cada Gobierno notificará a los demás Gobiernos, con toda prontitud y por carta certificada, respecto de los cambios adicionales que se efectuen en las estaciones difusoras ya existentes, así como de toda nueva estación difusora, transmitiendo informes similares con respecto a cada uno de tales cambios o nuevas estaciones, y la fecha en que se proyecte efectuar cada cambio o en la que cada nueva estación haya de iniciar efectivamente su funcionamiento.—

3.—Efecto de la notificación.—Dentro de un plazo de 30 días, a contar de la fecha en que se hubiere recibido una notificación respecto de cualquier cambio propuesto en la asignación de una estación ya existente, o de la autorización para una nueva estación en otro país, cada Gobierno podrá comunicar al Gobierno de dicho país cualquier objeción que pudiera tener al respecto, de conformidad con los términos de este Convenio.—

4.—Conflicto entre notificaciones.—Para que sean válidas las notificaciones de cambios en las asignaciones de estaciones ya existentes, o de autorizaciones para nuevas estaciones, deberán ser tales que las asignaciones en ellas propuestas estén de acuerdo con este Convenio, y no signifiquen producción de interferencia objetable a las estaciones existentes en otros países, que estén asignadas y trabajen de acuerdo con las disposiciones de este Convenio. Después de la fecha en que entre en vigor este Convenio regirá la prioridad de la fecha de certificación postal de la notificación, en caso de haber dos o más notificaciones de cambios u autorizaciones para nuevas estaciones, procedentes de diferentes países.—

(b) En aquellos casos especiales en que circunstancias fuera del dominio de la Administración interesada no le hubieren permitido terminar el cambio o la construcción de la nueva estación, podrá extenderse por un periodo de 6 meses el término de la notificación original.—

6.—Oficina de Berna.—Las notificaciones citadas deberán hacerse independientemente y en adición a las que, según las prácticas acostumbradas, se remiten a la Oficina de la Unión Internacional de Telecomunicaciones.—

ARBITRAJE.

En caso de haber desacuerdo entre dos o más de los Gobiernos contratantes en lo que se refiere a la ejecución del presente Convenio, y que no pudiere arreglarse por la vía diplomática, la controversia será sometida a arbitraje a petición de uno de los Gobiernos en desacuerdo.— A menos que las partes en desacuerdo decidan usar un procedimiento ya establecido por tratados celebrados entre ellos para la solución de controversias internacionales, el procedimiento a seguir será el previsto en el Artículo 15 de la Convención Internacional de Telecomunicaciones de Madrid, 1932.—

RATIFICACION, EJECUCION Y DENUNCIA.

1.—Ratificación.—Para que este Convenio sea válido deberá ser ratificado por el Canadá, Cuba, México y los Estados Unidos de América.—

Si tres de estos cuatro países ratificaren, y cuando hubieren ratificado el cuarto país no hubiere podido ratificar debido a circunstancias inevitables, más hubiere manifestado a los países que ya hubieren ratificado que está dispuesto, mientras se tramite la ratificación, a poner en vigor las disposiciones de este Acuerdo, (incluyendo lo previsto en el Apéndice I), en todo o en parte, como medida administrativa; entonces, el precitado país, junto con los que ya hubieren ratificado, podrá fijar, mediante acuerdo administrativo concertado entre ellos, la fecha en la cual deban ponerse en efecto las referidas disposiciones, fecha que deberá ser, con preferencia, un año después de la firma del acuerdo administrativo arriba mencionado.—

Las ratificaciones deberán ser depositadas, a la mayor brevedad posible, por la vía diplomática, en los archivos del Gobierno de Cuba.— Este Gobierno notificará, por la vía diplomática, a los demás Gobiernos signatarios, respecto a las ratificaciones tan pronto se reciban.—

2.—Efecto de la ratificación.—Este Convenio será válido únicamente entre los países que lo hayan ratificado.—

3.—Ejecución.—Los Gobiernos contratantes se comprometen a aplicar las disposiciones de este Convenio y a tomar las medidas necesarias para hacer que cumplan dichas disposiciones las empresas particulares reconocidas o autorizadas por ellos para establecer y operar estaciones difusoras dentro de sus países respectivos.—

4.—Denuncia.—Cada Gobierno contratante tendrá el derecho de denunciar este Convenio mediante notificación dirigida, por la vía diplomática, al Gobierno de Cuba y anunciada por este Gobierno, por la misma vía, a todos los demás Gobiernos contratantes.— Esta denuncia surtirá efecto al expirar el plazo de un año contado desde la fecha en que la notificación hubiere sido recibida por el Gobierno de Cuba.— Tal efecto se aplicará únicamente al autor de la denuncia.— Este Convenio seguirá en vigor para todos los demás Gobiernos contratantes, pero solamente en lo que se refiere a dichos Gobiernos.—

ENTRADA EN VIGOR Y DURACION DE ESTE CONVENIO.

1.—Excepto en lo que se refiere a las disposiciones de la Sección 1 de la Parte III, Sección 1 de la Parte V y el Párrafo 3 de la Table VI del Apéndice I anexo, (cuyas disposiciones entrarán en vigor inmediatamente que se haga válido este Convenio), este Convenio entrará en vigor un año después de la fecha en que haya sido ratificado por el cuarto de aquellos Gobiernos cuya ratificación es indispensable para la validez del mismo.— Los Gobiernos cooperarán en todo lo posible para que las disposiciones de este Convenio se cumplan con anterioridad a la fecha de entrada en vigor.—

2.—Este Convenio permanecerá en vigor por un período de cinco años a partir de la fecha en que comience a regir.—

ADHESION.—

Este Convenio estará abierto a adhesión en nombre de Terranova.

En testimonio de lo cual, los Plenipotenciarios respectivos han suscrito el Convenio por triplicado, siendo un texto en inglés, uno en español y otro en francés, quedando depositado cada uno de estos textos en los archivos del Gobierno de Cuba y siendo remitida una copia de cada uno de ellos a cada Gobierno contratante.—

TABLA VI

CONDICIONES ESPECIALES QUE AFECTAN A LOS ESTADOS UNIDOS DE AMÉRICA.

Las Tablas III y IV muestran las 24 estaciones de la Clase I y II en los Estados Unidos de América que comparten el uso de canales despejados con otros países partes en este Convenio.

A las 39 estaciones restantes, de las Clases I y II de los Estados Unidos de América, se les asignarán los siguientes canales despejados:

640	650	660	670	680	700	710	720	750	760	770	780
820	830	840	850	870	880	890	1020	1030	1040	1100
1120	1160	1180	1200	1210	1500	1510	1520	1530

Se reconoce que los Estados Unidos de América tienen que hacer numerosos reajustes en la asignación de sus estaciones establecidas para poder llevar a efecto este Convenio; que para hacer estos reajustes se necesitará por lo menos un año y que por el momento no le es posible a los Estados Unidos de América especificar en cuales de los 32 canales ha de tener prioridad en el uso para estaciones Clase I-A, Clase I-B y Clase II, respectivamente, ni señalar la ubicación de dichas estaciones, su potencia y otros informes sobre ellas. Los Estados Unidos de América, podrán asignar estaciones Clase I-A a por lo menos 25 de dichos canales. Los Estados Unidos de América convienen en que noventa días antes de entrar en vigor este Convenio suministrarán estos informes a los otros países partes en este Convenio, y que esta información, cuando haya sido comunicada, será considerada como parte de este Convenio tal como si apareciera in extenso en el mismo.

Nada de lo expuesto en este Convenio se interpretará en el sentido de que impide a los Estados Unidos de América hacer valer y que se le reconozca la prioridad en el uso en lo que se refiere a ciertas otras estaciones de la Clase II (que no se incluyen entre las 63 estaciones que se mencionan en la Tabla I) que en la actualidad operan en la banda de 640 a 1190 kilociclos y que en los Reglamentos de la Comisión Federal de Comunicaciones (Federal Communications Commission) se denominan "estaciones de tiempo limitado" ("limited time stations") y "estaciones diurnas" ("daytime stations")—estableciéndose la puesta del sol como límite de sus horas de funcionamiento—ya sea que la puesta del sol se tome en las ubicaciones respectivas de las estaciones o en las de las estaciones dominantes respectivas de canal despejado, lo que en algunos casos incluye horas en que en efecto no usan dichas estaciones dominantes,—estaciones a las que se les puede hacer asignaciones que en lo substancial sean equivalentes a las que ahora tienen, siempre que lo permitan las disposiciones de este Convenio y las normas de ingeniería que en él se establecen.

TABLA VII

CONDICIONES ESPECIALES CON RESPECTO AL USO DE 1010 KC POR CUBA Y CANADÁ.

Con respecto al uso del canal despejado de 1010 kc por una estación Clase I-A en el Canadá, y por una Estación Clase I-B en Cuba, ambos países acuerdan mutuamente que la señal interferente no excederá durante el 10 por ciento del tiempo, o más, el valor de 50 microvoltios por metro en los siguientes puntos de medida: en Cuba en cualquier punto al este de la provincia de Camagüey, y en el Canadá en cualquier punto al oeste de la Provincia de Manitoba.

TABLA VIII

CONDICIONES ESPECIALES QUE AFECTAN AL CANADÁ

Nada de lo expresado en este Convenio se interpretará en el sentido de que impide al Canadá hacer valer la prioridad en el uso con respecto a ciertas estaciones de Clase III y IV actualmente en funcionamiento en el Canadá en canales ahora despejados y regionales, los cuales por este Convenio se convertirán en canales de una clase que pudieran no permitir su uso por estaciones de Clase III y IV.

IV	Local	0.1 kw a 0.25 kw	500 uv/m	4000 uv/m (onda terrestre)	25 uv/m	200 uv/m

* De acuerdo con otras disposiciones de este Convenio esta libertad de interferencia no es aplicable fuera de las fronteras del país en el cual está situada la estación.

† De otras estaciones en el mismo canal solamente. Véase el Apéndice III, Tabla I, respecto a los canales adyacentes.

^d Se excede la intensidad de campo de la onda reflejada 10% del tiempo.

^e No se asignará estación alguna de la Clase II al mismo canal que una estación de la Clase I-A para que opere de noche (desde la puesta hasta la salida del sol) a menos de 650 millas de la frontera más cercana del país en que esté situada la estación de la Clase I-A.

* Estos valores se refieren a interferencia causada por todas las estaciones excepto las de la Clase I las cuales pueden causar interferencia en un contorno de intensidad de campo de valor más elevado. Sin embargo, se recomienda que las estaciones de la Clase II se sitúen de tal modo que la interferencia que les causen las estaciones de la Clase I no exceda estos valores. Si las estaciones de la Clase II quedan limitadas por las de la Clase I a valores más elevados, entonces esos valores constituirán la norma establecida respecto a la interferencia de parte de todas las otras clases de estaciones.

INTERFERENCIA DE CANALES ADYACENTES

10 kc	0.25 mv/m
20 kc	5.0 mv/m
30 kc	25.0 mv/m

La señal de onda terrestre interferente se medirá en o dentro del contorno de onda terrestre de 0.5 mv/m de la estación interferida. Estos valores se aplican a todas las clases de estaciones tanto durante el día como durante la noche y están basados en las ondas terrestres únicamente. No se considerarán interferencias de canales adyacentes tomando como base una onda reflejada interferente.

TABLAS DE SEPARACION EN MILLAS

Las distancias que deben separar a las estaciones radiodifusoras, según se establecen en las Tablas, se basan en las condiciones siguientes:

- 1.—Uso de antenas no direccionales.
- 2.—Eficiencia de la antena (en mv/m a una milla por cada kilovatio)
 - Clase I - 225 mv/m.
 - Clase II y III - 175 mv/m.
 - Clase IV - 150 mv/m.
- 3.—Frecuencia: 1000 kc.
- 4.—Conductibilidad de la corteza terrestre, $s=10^{-13}$.
- 5.—Constante dieléctrica de la corteza terrestre, $\epsilon=15$.
- 6.—Transmisión en la onda terrestre según gráfica en el Apéndice IV.
- 7.—Transmisión de la onda reflejada según gráfica en el Apéndice V.

APENDICE VII

REQUISITOS DE INGENIERIA PARA EL USO DE CANALES REGIONALES
POR ESTACIONES DE LA CLASE II, SEGÚN LO DISPUESTO EN LA
SECCIÓN C 5 c.

Una estación de la Clase II asignada a un canal regional de acuerdo con la Sección C 5 c usará una antena direccional u otros medios de limitar la señal interferente dentro del área de servicio protegida de una estación de la clase II en el mismo canal a los valores indicados en el Apéndice II, Tabla I. La señal interferente en los casos de estaciones en proyecto se determinará de acuerdo con las características de la antena y la curva apropiada del Apéndice V. En caso de que la estación esté funcionando la señal interferente se determinará por el método que se describe en la Sección E 4.

Las estaciones de la Clase III que ocupan un canal al cual se ha asignado una estación de la Clase II deberán limitar la interferencia causada a una estación de la clase II de acuerdo con las disposiciones del Apéndice II, Tabla I.

ACCORD REGIONAL DE RADIO-DIFFUSION DE L'AMERIQUE DU NORD

Canada, Cuba, Etats Unis d'Amérique, Haïti, Mexique et République Dominicaine.

Les soussignés plénipotentiaires des gouvernements ci-dessus énumérés, s'étant réunis en conférence à la Havane, ont d'un commun accord et sous réserve de ratification, arrêté la Convention suivante:

OBJET ET PORTEE DE CETTE CONVENTION.

1. Objet de la Convention. L'objet de la présente Convention est le réglemant et l'établissement des principes qui protègent l'emploi de la bande normale de diffusion dans la Région de l'Amérique du Nord de telle façon que chaque pays puisse obtenir l'emploi le plus efficace de cette bande avec le minimum d'interférence technique entre les postes diffuseurs.

2. Région de l'Amérique du Nord. On considerera que la Region de l'Amérique du Nord (qui sera désignée par "Region" dans les pages suivantes) comprendra et sera formée par les pays suivants: Canada, Cuba, République Dominicaine, Haïti, Mexique, Terre-Neuve et Etats Unis d'Améri[ri]que.

3. Bande Normale de Diffusion. On appellera Bande Normale de Diffusion la bande de fréquence qui comprend 550 Kc. à 1600 Kc., les deux comprises; la fréquence de 550 ainsi que celle de 1600 Kc/s. seront des fréquences porteuses de voies de diffusion d'accord avec ce qui est défini ci-dessous. Les Gouvernements assujétis aux dispositions de l'article 7 du Règlement Général de Radio-communications annexé à la Convention Internationale de Télécommunications (Madrid 1932) accordent que cette bande de fréquences sera exclusivement assignée à la radio-diffusion dans cette Région.

4. Droit Souverain a l'Emploi des Voies. On reconnait à tous les pays parties de cette Convention, le droit souverain à l'emploi de toutes les voies dans la bande normale de diffusion. Cependant les Gouvernements reconnaissent que jusqu'a ce que les progrès techniques n'atteigne un état permettant l'élimination de l'interférence de radio-diffusion, de caractère international, un arrangement régional, signé par eux, est nécessaire pour établir la normalisation et réduire l'interférence au minimum.

5. Caractère Régional de la Convention. Les Gouvernements reconnaissent que la présente Convention, ainsi que chacune de ses parties est un arrangement régional dans l'esprit de la Convention Internationale de Télécommunications et du Règlement Général de Radio-communications qui y est annexé, et autorisée par ces derniers.

II.

TECHNIQUE.

A.—DEFINITIONS.

1.—Station de radio-diffusion: Une station dont les émissions sont principalement destinées à être reçues par le public en général.

2.—Voies de radio-diffusion—550 à 1600 Kc.: Une voie de radio-diffusion est une bande de fréquence de 10Kc. de largeur dont la fréquence porteuse occupe le centre. Les voies seront désignées par les fréquences porteuses attribuées. Les fréquences porteuses attribuées aux stations de radio-diffusion commenceront à 550 Kc. et augmenteront progressivement de 10 en 10 Kc. Aucune fréquence intermédiaire ne devra être attribuée comme fréquence porteuse d'une station de radio-diffusion.

3.—Aires de service:

(a) Aire de service primaire. On appelle aire de service primaire d'une station de radio-diffusion l'aire dans laquelle l'onde de surface n'est sujette à aucune interférence nuisible ou aucun évanouissement nuisible.

(b) Aire de service secondaire. On appelle aire de service secondaire d'une station de radio-diffusion d'aire desservie par l'onde réfléchie sans interférence nuisible. L'intensité de champ y est sujette à des fluctuations intermittentes.

4.—Station dominantes. Une station dominante est une station de la classe I, définie ci-après, travaillant sur une voie libre.

5.—Station secondaire. Une station secondaire est une station quelconque, autre qu'une station de la classe I, travaillant sur une voie libre.

6.—Interférence nuisible. Il y a interférence nuisible lorsque, à une limite déterminée ou aux limites d'une valeur déterminée d'intensité de champ de la station désirée, l'intensité de champ d'une station non désirée (ou la valeur effective du carré moyen des intensités de champ de deux ou de plusieurs stations travaillant sur la même fréquence) dépasse dix (10) pour cent du temps, ou plus, les valeurs spécifiées dans le présent Accord.

7.—Puissance. La puissance d'un radioémetteur est la puissance fournie à l'antenne. La puissance d'antenne d'un émetteur modulé s'exprimera par deux chiffres, l'un indiquant la puissance-antenne de l'onde porteuse et l'autre le maximum réel du pourcentage de modulation.

8.—Rayonnement parasite. On appelle rayonnement parasite d'un émetteur toute émission qui se trouve en dehors de la bande de fréquence normale du type d'émission employé, y compris les harmoniques de modulation, les claquements de manipulation, les oscillations parasites et autres effets transitoires.

9.—Équivalents anglais français et espagnols.

Il est convenu que, pour les fins de cet accord, les mots français et espagnols indiqués ci-dessous sont respectivement équivalents et ont la même signification que les termes anglais en face desquels ils sont inscrits.

Anglais	Français	Espagnol
Clear channel.	Voie libre	Canal despejado.
Objectionable interference	Interference nuisible	Interferencia objetable.

B.—CLASSES DE VOIES ET ATTRIBUTIONS DE CELLES-CI.

1.—Trois classes. Les 106 voies de la bande normale de radio-diffusion sont divisées en trois classes principales: libre, régionale et locale.

2.—Voies libres. On appelle voie libre une voie sur laquelle la ou les stations dominantes desservent des territoires, étendus, et sont exemptes d'interférence nuisible dans les limites de leur aire de service primaire, et sur la totalité ou une partie importante de leur aire de service secondaire.

3.—Voie régionale. On appelle voie régionale une voie sur laquelle plusieurs stations peuvent travailler avec des puissances n'excédant pas 5 Kw. L'aire de service primaire d'une station travaillant sur l'une de ces voies est limitée, comme conséquence de l'interférence, à une limite déterminée de la valeur d'intensité de champ.

5.—Nombre de voies de chaque classe. Le nombre de voies de chaque classe est comme suit:

Voies libres	59
Voies régionales	41
Voies locales	6

6.—Attribution de voies déterminées à chaque classe: Les voies sont attribuées aux différentes classes comme suit:

Voies libres: Les voies suivantes sont désignées comme voies libres: 640, 650, 660, 670, 680, 690, 700, 710, 720, 730, 740, 750, 760, 770, 780, 800, 810, 820, 830, 840, 850, 860, 870, 880, 890, 900, 940, 990, 1000, 1010, 1020, 1030, 1040, 1050, 1060, 1070, 1080, 1090, 1100, 1110, 1120, 1130, 1140, 1160, 1170, 1180, 1190, 1200, 1210, 1220, 1500, 1510, 1520, 1530, 1540, 1550, 1560, 1570 et 1580.

Voies locales.: Les voies suivantes sont désignées comme voies locales: 1230, 1240, 1340, 1400, 1450 et 1490 kc.

7.—Emploi des voies régionales et locales par les pays.

Tous les pays pourront utiliser toutes les voies régionales et toutes les voies locales, sujet aux restrictions de puissance et aux stipulations pour éviter l'interférence nuisible, spécifiée dans le présent Accord.

8.—Priorité d'emploi des voies libres par les pays.

(a) Les voies libres sont attribuées avec priorité d'emploi par les stations des classes I et II, dans les divers pays, en conformité avec le tableau de l'Appendice I.

(b) Chacune de ces voies devra être utilisée d'une manière conforme à la meilleure technique, ayant en vue le service que les stations dominantes, travaillant sur ces mêmes voies doivent rendre, en conformité avec les stipulations du présent Accord. Si toutefois, pendant une année quelconque de la durée du présent Accord, un pays ne fait aucun emploi d'une voie libre qui lui a été attribuée, celle-ci sera considérée comme disponible pour les autres pays, participants au présent Accord, à la suite d'un arrangement entre leurs administrations respectives, et sans qu'il soit nécessaire de réviser le présent Accord.

(c) Aucun pays à qui une voie libre a été ainsi attribuée ne permettra ou ne conviendra de permettre à un autre pays d'utiliser cette voie d'une manière qui ne soit pas conforme au présent Accord sans avoir donné au préalable 60 jours (*) d'avis de son intention, à tous les autres pays participants au présent Accord. Si durant cet intervalle de 60 jours, un autre pays présente des objections à l'usage proposé de cette voie, le pays à qui la voie libre était attribuée ne permettra pas et ne conviendra pas de permettre tel usage proposé, jusqu'à ce que le différent représenté par l'objection, ait été amicalement résolu.

(d) Si pendant la durée du présent Accord un pays à qui une voie libre a été attribuée a utilisé cette voie mais non de la manière prescrite, ou sans en faire usage complet aux termes du présent Accord, ce pays sera considéré avoir abandonné la partie de ses droits qu'il n'a pas utilisés, et à l'expiration du présent Accord, les autres pays participants auront le droit, s'ils le jugent bon, de retirer à tel pays les privilèges non utilisés et de les attribuer à l'un des pays intéressés ou à tous les autres.

C. CLASSES DE STATIONS ET UTILISATION DES DIVERSES CLASSES DE VOIS.

1.—Classes de stations. Les stations de radio-diffusion sont divisées en 4 classes principales qui seront désignées Classe I, Classe II, Classe III, et Classe IV respectivement.

2.—Définition des classes. Les quatre classes de stations de radio-diffusion sont définies comme suit:

(*) jours communs ou naturels.

Classe 1.—Une station dominante travaillant sur une voie libre et destinée à rendre un service primaire et secondaire à des territoires étendus et à des distances relativement grandes.

Les stations de la classe I, forment deux subdivisions.

Classe I-A: Une station de la classe I, travaillant avec une puissance de 50 kw. ou plus et dont l'aire de service primaire, dans les limites du pays où la station est située, est exempte d'interférence nuisible provenant d'autres stations travaillant sur la même voie ou sur voies adjacentes et son aire de service secondaire, en dedans des mêmes limites exempte d'interférence nuisible, provenant de stations travaillant sur la même voie en conformité avec les règles techniques stipulées ci-après.

Classe I-B: Une station de la classe I travaillant avec une puissance de pas moins de 10 kw. et pas plus de 50 kw. et dont l'aire de service primaire est exempte d'interférences nuisibles provenant d'autres stations travaillant sur la même voie et sur les voies adjacentes, et son aire de service secondaire exempte d'interférences nuisibles provenant de stations travaillant sur la même voie, en conformité avec les règles techniques stipulées ci-après.

(a) Lorsque deux stations de la Classe I-b travaillant sur la même voie sont séparées par une distance de 2800 milles ou plus, ni l'une ni l'autre ne seront obligées à installer une antenne dirigée.

(b) Lorsque deux stations de la classe I-b, travaillant sur la même voie, sont séparées par une distance de plus de 1800 milles et de moins de 2800 milles, on considérera, à moins de preuve du contraire, que chacune d'elles est exempte d'interférence nuisible causée par l'autre et ni l'autre ne sera obligée à installer une antenne dirigée, ou à prendre d'autres mesures pour éviter l'interférence. Dans le cas où l'interférence nuisible est prouvée, les Gouvernements intéressés consulteront sur la convenance et la possibilité d'installer des antennes dirigées ou de prendre d'autres mesures pour faire disparaître l'interférence, et détermineront le cas échéant, par arrangement spécial, les mesures à prendre.

(c) Lorsque deux stations de la Classe I-b travaillant sur la même voie sont séparées par une distance de moins de 1800 milles, on considérera, à moins de preuve du contraire, qu'il est nécessaire, pour éviter l'interférence d'installer des antennes dirigées ou de prendre d'autres mesures, et les gouvernements intéressés se concerteront pour prendre les mesures convenues afin de faire disparaître ou de diminuer l'interférence nuisible.

Classe II. Une station "secondaire" travaillant sur une voie libre, et destinée à desservir une aire de service primaire qui, selon la situation géographique et la puissance utilisée, peut être relativement étendue, mais qui est sujette à l'interférence provenant des stations de la classe I et qui est limitée par celle-ci. Une telle station travaillera avec une puissance de pas moins de 0.25 Kw. et de pas plus de 50 Kw. Chaque fois qu'il sera nécessaire une station de la classe II utilisera une antenne dirigée ou d'autres moyens pour éviter l'interférence aux stations de la Classe I et aux autres stations de la classe II, en conformité avec les règles techniques stipulées ci-après.

Classe III.—Une station travaillant sur une voie régionale et principalement destinée à desservir un district métropolitain et le territoire rural environnant. Les stations de la classe III forment deux subdivisions:

Classe III-A: Une station de la classe III travaillant avec une puissance de pas moins de un kilowatt et de pas plus de cinq kilowatts, et dont l'aire de service est sujette à l'interférence, en conformité, avec les règles techniques stipulées ci-après.

Classe III-B: Une station de la classe III travaillant avec une puissance de pas moins de 0.5 Kw. et de pas plus de 1 Kw. la nuit et 5 Kw. le jour, et dont l'aire de service est sujette à l'interférence, en conformité avec les règles techniques stipulées ci-après.

Classe IV. Une station utilisant une voie locale et destinée principalement à desservir un bourg ou une ville et la région avoisinante. La puissance d'une station de cette classe ne devra pas être inférieure à 0.1 Kw. ou supérieure à 0.25 Kw. et son aire de service est sujette à l'interférence, en conformité avec les règles techniques stipulées ci-après.

4.—Emploi des voies libres.

(a) En principe et sujettes seulement à l'exception stipulée ci-après, les stations de la classe I ne pourront utiliser que des voies libres.

(b) les stations de la Classe II ne pourront utiliser que des voies libres, mais à condition de ne causer aucune interférence nuisible aux stations de la Classe I; lorsqu'un pays a la priorité de l'emploi d'une voie libre, pour une station de la classe I-A, aucun autre pays ne devra attribuer cette voie à une station de la classe II travaillant la nuit (depuis le coucher jusqu'au lever du soleil au point où la station de la classe II est située) à moins que cette station de la classe II soit située à une distance de pas moins de 650 milles de la frontière la plus rapprochée du pays où la station de la classe I-A est située; il est entendu cependant que pour les cas où une station de la classe II ou l'attribution d'une station de la classe II a été spécifiée à l'appendice I, cette attribution sera tenue pour autorisée avec les restrictions qui y sont stipulées.

(a) En général, les voies régionales ne pourront être attribuées qu'à des stations des classes III-A et III-B.

(b) A condition de ne pas causer d'interférences aux stations des classes III-A ou III-B, et sujet aux interférences qu'elles pourront recevoir des stations de la classe III-A ou de la classe III-B, les stations de la classe IV pourront utiliser des voies régionales.

(c) A cause de leur situation géographique par rapport au continent américain, on considérera spécialement l'utilisation par Cuba, Saint-Domingue, Haiti, et Terre-Neuve de certaines voies régionales pour des stations des classes I et II, sous certaines conditions concernant la puissance et les précautions à prendre pour éviter l'interférence nuisible telle que stipulée à l'Appendice VII.

6.—Emploi des voies locales. Seules les stations de la classe IV pourront utiliser des voies locales.

D.—SERVICE ET INTERFERENCE.

1.—Signal satisfaisant. Il est reconnu qu'en l'absence d'interférences provenant d'autres stations et dans les régions où le niveau des atmosphériques et des bruits parasites n'est pas excessif, un signal de 100 microvolts par mètre est un signal utilisable dans les régions rurales et de faible population, mais qu'à cause du niveau plus élevé des parasites, des intensités de champ plus élevées (s'élevant jusqu'à 25 millivolts ou plus dans les villes) sont nécessaires pour desservir les régions dont la population est plus dense. Il est reconnu de plus qu'il n'est pas possible de protéger les stations contre l'interférence nuisible, particulièrement la nuit sur toute l'étendue des territoires où leurs signaux ont un niveau supérieur à celui des parasites, et qu'il est nécessaire de stipuler des limites ou périmètres auxquels ou à l'intérieur desquels les stations sont protégées contre l'interférence nuisible provenant d'autres stations.

En ce qui concerne les valeurs effectives des intensités de champ des interférences dont il est question dans ce document, il est entendu qu'elles s'appliquent pour déterminer l'interférence entre des stations existantes, et qu'aucune station à laquelle une voie serait attribuée par la suite ne devra augmenter la valeur effective de l'intensité du champ d'interférence au dessus des maxima stipulée dans les tableaux annexés.

3.—Interférence nuisible sur la même voie.

On considérera qu'il y a interférence nuisible au service d'une station lorsque à une limite déterminée ou aux limites d'une valeur déterminée d'intensité de champ, tel que stipulé à l'appendice II, au sujet de la classe à laquelle la station appartient, l'intensité de champ de la station qui produit l'interférence (ou la valeur effective des intensités de champ de deux ou de plusieurs stations qui produisent l'interférence), et qui travaille sur la même voie dix (10) pour cent du temps ou plus, la valeur admissible, tel que stipulé pour cette classes à l'Appendice II.

4.—Interférences causées aux stations dominantes sur voie libre. Une station est considérée incapable de causer de l'interférence nuisible à une station de la classe I travaillant sur la même fréquence quand elle est séparée de la station dominante par une différence de longitude de 70° ou plus.

5.—Interférence nuisible sur les voies adjacentes. On reconnaît en principe qu'on peut causer de l'interférence nuisible à une station désirée lorsque aux limites ou à l'intérieur des limites d'une valeur déterminée de l'intensité de champ de la station désirée, l'intensité de champ de l'onde de surface d'une station non désirée travaillant sur une voie adjacente (ou la valeur effective des intensités de champ de deux ou de plusieurs stations non désirées travaillant sur la même voie adjacente) dépasse la valeur déterminée par les rapports suivants:

Séparation entre les voies.	Rapport minimum admissible du signal désiré au signal non désiré.
10 kc	1 à 0.5
20 kc	1 à 10
30 kc.	1 à 50

On peut s'en rapporter au Tableau I de l'Appendice III, pour les valeurs maximum admissibles du signal d'interférence sur voies adjacentes et pour les périmètres stipulés.

6.—Application des règles aux stations existantes.

(a) Pour évaluer l'interférence nuisible, toutes les stations (autres que celles de la Classe II) seront considérées comme utilisant les puissances maxima permises pour leurs classes respectives. A cette fin, la puissance des stations de la classe 1-A sera considérée être 50 Kw. ou la puissance réelle si elle dépasse cette valeur.

8.—Rayonnement parasite. Les Gouvernements tâcheront de diminuer et, s'il est possible d'éliminer les émissions parasites des stations de radio-diffusion,— Ces rayonnements seront diminués dans tous les cas de façon à n'avoir pas une intensité suffisante pour causer de l'interférence en dehors de la bande de fréquences nécessaire pour le type d'émission employé.— En ce qui concerne le type d'émission A-3 (radio-téléphonique) le transmetteur ne devra pas être modulé au-delà de sa capacité de modulation jusqu'au point de produire des émissions parasites capables de causer de l'interférence, et en ce qui concerne la modulation d'amplitude, le pourcentage de modulation dans les crêtes fréquences ne devra pas être inférieur à 75%. On devra prendre les précautions nécessaires pour que le transmetteur ne soit pas modulé au-delà de sa capacité de modulation.

E.—DÉTERMINATION DE LA PRÉSENCE DE L'INTERFÉRENCE NUISIBLE.

1.—Rendement de l'antenne.— Afin de prévoir la présence de l'interférence nuisible et de pouvoir en évaluer le degré, les stations de diverses classes seront considérées comme produisant des valeurs effectives d'intensité de champ, corrigées pour l'absorption, et par kilowatt de puissance fournie à l'antenne, comme suit:

Classe de station	A un mille	A un kilometre.
I	225 mv/m	362 mv/m
II et III	175 mv/m	282 mv/m
IV	150 mv/m	241 mv/m

Si on emploie une antenne dirigée, le signal d'une station de radio-diffusion susceptible de causer de l'interférence variera dans des directions différentes.— Pour déterminer l'interférence dans une direction donnée et en l'absence de mesures, de l'interférence, les schémas d'intensité de champ horizontal et d'intensité de champ de l'antenne dirigée devront être calculés et par comparaison de vecteurs appropriés du schéma horizontal ou vertical avec ceux d'une antenne non dirigée ayant la même valeur effective de champ, on pourra évaluer en kilowatts l'intensité du signal dans la direction d'une autre station. On se servira de la puissance ainsi déterminée pour faire l'usage des tableaux de séparation en milles ou pour calculer les distances d'après les courbes ou les tableaux de propagation.

2.—Puissance. La puissance d'une station sera déterminée, pour les fins de notifications requises par le présent accord, par l'une des méthodes suivantes:

(a) En faisant le produit du carré du courant d'antenne par la résistance de l'antenne (puissance fournie à l'antenne).

La présence ou l'absence d'interférences nuisibles provenant des stations travaillant sur la même voie ou sur des voies adjacentes sera déterminée par l'une des méthodes suivantes:

(a) Par des mesures effectuées de la manière stipulée ci-après. Ou, du consentement mutuel des pays intéressés;

(b) En s'en rapportant aux courbes de propagation qui apparaissent aux Appendices IV et V, ou

(c) En s'en rapportant au tableau de distances qui apparaît à l'Appendice VI.

4.—Preuve de la présence ou de l'absence d'interférence nuisible.—

La présence ou l'absence d'interférence nuisible peut être prouvée par des mesures ou par des enregistreurs d'intensité de champ, effectuées avec des appareils appropriés, dûment étalonnés, par des ingénieurs du Gouvernement ou d'autres ingénieurs mutuellement acceptés par les Gouvernements intéressés. Ces mesures d'intensité de champ seront effectuées de la manière et pour les périodes de temps mutuellement convenus par les Gouvernements intéressés.

caractéristiques du sol (conductivité et constance diélectrique) d'autres courbes sont nécessaires. La conductivité de 10^{-13} est considérée comme une moyenne et a servi à déterminer toutes les valeurs d'onde de surface pour le calcul des tableaux de distances de séparation.

(c) Tableaux de distances.

Le Tableau I indique les distances requises en milles, entre les stations de radio-diffusion travaillant le jour sur la même voie. Le Tableau II indique les distances requises en milles, à partir de la frontière d'un pays dans lequel est située une station de la classe I-A, dans le cas d'une station de la classe II, travaillant le jour sur la même voie dans un autre pays. Le Tableau III indique les distances requises, en milles, entre des stations de radio-diffusion travaillant le jour et la nuit sur des voies adjacentes. Le Tableau IV indique les distances requises, en milles, entre des stations de radio-diffusion travaillant la nuit sur la même voie. L'Appendice VI indique les conditions de travail supposées pour le calcul de ces Tableaux.

Les Tableaux sont établis en supposant que l'on utilise une antenne non dirigée, pour les cas particuliers où on emploie une antenne dirigée, il sera nécessaire de prendre en considération le schéma de distribution du rayonnement de l'antenne dirigée en question, et de modifier les distances en conséquence. Les Tableaux qui indiquent les distances pour les stations travaillant la nuit sur la même voie ont été calculées d'après la courbe d'onde d'espace de l'Appendice V. Ces courbes sont établies d'après des mesures nombreuses de l'onde d'espace produite par les stations de radio-diffusion, et seront considérées comme exactes dans tous les cas à moins de preuve du contraire, telle que stipulée à la Section E-4.— Les Tableaux de distances pour les stations travaillant sur la même voie pendant le jour, et pour les stations travaillant sur des voies adjacentes pendant le jour et pendant la nuit sont calculés d'après la courbe d'onde de surface de l'Appendice IV. Ces Tableaux ne sont applicables que pour la fréquence de mille Kc. et pour la conductivité et la constance diélectrique supposée. Etant donné que ces valeurs sont différentes dans chaque cas les Tableaux de distances pour le jour et pour les voies adjacentes, ne devront être utilisés que comme un guide.— Dans chaque cas particulier on pourra évaluer les distances requises en tenant compte de la fréquence de travail et des caractéristiques du sol connues ou supposées.— Pour déterminer l'interférence avec exactitude il faut effectuer des mesures comme il est stipulé dans la Section E-4, soit sur la fréquence en question, soit sur une autre fréquence, en déterminant les valeurs cherchées d'après les courbes.—

F. DIVERS:

III

LES NOTIFICATIONS ET LEURS EFFETS.

1.—Notification initiale.—

Chaque Gouvernement adressera aux autres Gouvernements dans le plus bref délai possible, à partir de la ratification de cette Convention, et 180 jours avant la date de l'entrée en vigueur de cette ratification:

(a) Une liste complète de toutes les stations de radio-diffusion qui opèrent réellement dans leur pays dans la bande normale de radio-diffusion, au moment de la signature de la Convention et au moment de l'envoi de cette liste; cette liste contiendra au sujet de chaque station le signal d'appel, l'emplacement, la fréquence, la puissance et les caractéristiques de l'antenne, avec tous les changements autorisés au sujet de ces postes à la date de l'entrée en vigueur de cette convention, ou auparavant, et la classification réclamée pour chaque station.

(c) Une liste complète de toutes les nouvelles stations de radio-diffusion autorisées mais qui ne fonctionnent pas encore, en y comprenant au sujet de chacune d'elles le signal d'appel, l'emplacement, la fréquence, la puissance et les caractéristiques d'antenne, ainsi que la date à laquelle ou avant laquelle chacune de ces stations commencera ses opérations et la classification réclamée pour elle en vertu de cette Convention.

(d) Les Gouvernements accordent qu'ils résoudre, aussitôt que cela soit possible, et avant la date d'entrée en vigueur de la présente Convention, tous les différents qui peuvent apparaître entre elles comme résultat des lignes préliminaires ci-dessus; et que, même dans le cas où quelques uns de ces différents ne soient pas résolus, ils coopéreront, sans aucun retard, pour que les dispositions de cette Convention entrent en vigueur et soient appliquées à cette date.

(e) La résolution des différents concernant l'usage de voies libres et la relation des postes des classes première et deuxième (I et II) se fera d'accord avec les dispositions de cette Convention et spécialement d'accord avec l'Appendice numéro 1. Pour la résolution des différents concernant l'emploi des voies libres régionales et locales, et la relation des postes des classes III et IV, on établira dans chaque pays un droit de priorité pour les postes qui fonctionnent réellement à la date de la signature de cette Convention et qui s'accordent en essence aux définitions des classes mentionnées, comme elles apparaissent dans la présente convention, et au sujet desquels on ne fasse ou l'on ne propose aucun changement essentiel; on n'appellera pas changement essentiel un changement de fréquence fait pour s'adapter à la désignation des voies que fait la présente Convention.

4.—Différents dus aux Notifications. Pour que les notifications de changement des assignations des stations existantes ou des autorisations de nouvelles stations soient valables, elles devront être telles que les assignations proposées soient d'accord avec la présente Convention et qu'elles ne soient pas cause d'interférences gênantes à des stations existant en d'autres pays, assignées et fonctionnant d'accord avec la présente Convention. Si l'on faisait deux ou plus de deux notifications de changements ou d'autorisations de nouvelles stations provenant de différents pays, après l'entrée en vigueur de cette Convention, on se guidera par la date de la réception postale de la notification.

(a) La notification d'un changement concernant l'assignation d'une station ou l'autorisation d'une nouvelle station cessera ses effets et n'aura aucune valeur, si, après une année à partir de sa date, ce changement n'a pas lieu réellement, ou si la nouvelle station commence pas à fonctionner réellement et d'une façon continue.

(b) Dans des cas spéciaux, quand des circonstances indépendantes du contrôle de l'Administration en question, ont empêché de compléter le changement ou la construction d'une nouvelle station; le délai de la première notification pourra s'allonger de six mois.

6.—Bureau de Berne.—Les notifications ci-dessus se feront indépendamment et en plus de celles que l'on a l'habitude de remettre au bureau de l'union internationale de Télé-communications.

IV

En cas de désaccord entre deux ou plusieurs Gouvernements contractants, relativement à l'exécution de la présente convention, le différend, s'il n'est réglé par la voie diplomatique, sera soumis à un jugement arbitral à la demande d'un quelconque des Gouvernements en désaccord. A moins que les parties en désaccord ne s'entendent pour faire usage d'une procédure déjà établie, par des Traités conclus entre elles, pour le Règlement des Conflits Internationaux; la pro-cédure sera celle qui est exposée par l'article 15 de la Convention Internationale de Communications de Madrid de 1932.

V

RATIFICATION, EXECUTION ET DENONCIATION.

1.—Ratificación.—Pour que cette Convention soit valable, elle devra être ratifiée par le Canada, Cuba, Mexique et les Etats Unis d'Amérique.

Si trois de ces quatre pays la ratifient, et si une fois faites ces ratifications, le quatrième pays ne peut ratifier à cause de circonstances inévitables, en déclarant cependant aux pays qui on déjà ratifié qu'il est disposé à faire entrer en vigueur les dispositions de cet Accord (y compris ce que prévoit l'Appendice I) en tout ou en partie, comme mesure administrative, pendant que l'ont fait les démarches nécessaires pour cette ratification; ce quatrième pays pourra fixer, avec les pays qui ont ratifié, au moyen d'un accord administratif, arrêté par eux tous, la date à laquelle devront avoir effet les dispositions en question, date qui devrait être préférablement celle de l'année suivant à la signature de l'accord administratif ci-dessus mentionné.

Les ratifications devront être déposées, dans le plus bref délai possible aux archives du Gouvernement de Cuba. Aussitot reçues, ces ratifications, ce Gouvernement devra les communiquer par la voie diplomatique aux autres Gouvernement signataires.

2.—Effect de la ratification. Cette Convention n'est valable que pour les pays qui l'ont ratifiée.

4.—Dénonciation. Chaque Gouvernement contractant aura le droit de dénoncer cette Convention au moyen d'une communication adressée par la voie diplomatique au Gouvernement de Cuba, et communiquée par ce Gouvernement, par la meme voie, aux autres Gouvernements contractants. Cette dénonciation aura effect quand un délai d'un an se sera écoulé, à partir de la date à laquelle le Gouvernement de Cuba aura reçu la communication. Cet effet ne s'appliquera qu'à l'auteur de la dénonciation. Cette Convention restera en vigueur pour les autres Gouvernements contractants, mais seulement en ce qui les concerne.

VI.

ENTREE EN VIGUEUR ET DUREE DE CETTE CONVENTION.

1.—Exception faite de ce qui concerne les dispositions de la Section 1 de la IIIème Partie, de la Section 1 de la Vème Partie, et du Paragraphe 3 de la Table VI de l'Appendice I annexé, (dont les dispositions entreront en vigueur aussitôt que cette Convention soit valable) cette Convention entrera en vigueur un an après la date à laquelle elle a été ratifiée par la quatrième partie des pays dont la ratification est indispensable pour que la Convention soit valable. Les Gouvernements coopéreront, pour que, dans la mesure du possible les dispositions de la présente Convention soient observées antérieurement à la date de l'entrée en vigueur.

2.—La présente Convention restera en vigueur pendant cinq ans à partir de sa date d'entrée en vigueur.

VII

La présente Convention restera ouverte pour l'adhésion de Terre-Neuve.

En foi de quoi les Délégués Plénipotentiaires respectifs ont signé trois exemplaires de cette Convention, un en anglais, un en espagnol, et un en français; un exemplaire de chacun de ceux-ci sera déposé aux archives du Gouvernement de Cuba, et chaque Gouvernement contractant en recevra une copie.

CONDITIONS SPECIALES CONCERNANT LES ETATS UNIS D'AMÉRIQUE.

Les 24 stations des classe I et II des Etats Unis qui utilisent des voies libres avec d'autres pays participant aux présent Accord, sont indiquées par les Tableaux III et IV.

Les voies libres suivantes seront attribuées aux 39 autres stations des classes I et II des Etats Unis:

830 840 850 870 880 890 1020 1030 1040 1100 1120 1160

On reconnaît que les Etats Unis devront effectuer des modifications importantes dans les attributions de ses stations existantes pour rendre possible la mise en pratique du présent Accord, que ces modifications exigeront un délai d'environ une année, et qu'il n'est pas possible aux Etats Unis de spécifier en ce moment sur lesquelles de ces 32 voies sera fixée leur priorité pour des stations de la classe I-A, des stations de la classe I-B et des stations de la classe II respectivement, ni de spécifier la situation, la puissance et autres renseignements concernant ces stations. Les Etats Unis pourront attribuer aux moins 25 de ces voies à des stations de la classe I-A. Les Etats Unis s'engagent à communiquer ces renseignements à chaque'un des autres pays participants au présent Accord quatre vingts dix jours avant la date d'entrée en vigueur de celui-ci et ces renseignements, lorsqu'ils auront été communiqués seront considérés comme faisant partie du présent Accord tout comme s'ils y étaient inclus.—

Rien de ce qui a été exposé dans la présente Convention ne pourra s'interpréter dans le sens d'un empêchement pour les Etats Unis de faire valoir et de faire reconnaître la priorité de l'usage se rapportant à d'autres stations de la Classe II (qui ne sont pas comprises entre les 63 stations de la Table I) qui actuellement exploitent la bande de 640 à 1190 kilocycles, et qui dans les Règlements de la Commission Fédérale de Communications (Federal Communications Commission) se désignent par "stations de temps limité" ("limited time stations") et "stations de jour" ("daytime stations")—en fixant le coucher du soleil comme limite de leurs heures d'exploitation—soit le coucher du soleil des situations respectives des stations, soit celui des stations dominantes respectives de la voie libre, ce qui est cause quelquefois que ces stations dominantes ne peuvent employer certaines heures,—stations auxquelles on peut fixer des attributions qui soient en essence équivalentes à celles qu'elles ont à présent, si les dispositions de cette Convention et les principes de génie qui y sont établis, le permettent.

CONDITIONS SPECIALES CONCERNANT L'USAGE DE 1010 Kc/s PAR CUBA ET LE CANADA

En ce qui concerne l'utilisation de la voie libre de 1010 Kc/s par une station de la classe I-A au Canada, et par une station de la classe I-B à Cuba, ces deux pays ont mutuellement convenu que le signal d'interférence ne dépassera pas, pendant 10% ou plus du temps, la valeur de 50 microvolts par mètre aux points de mesure suivants: à Cuba, un point quelconque à l'est de la province de Camagüey, et au Canada un point quelconque à l'ouest de la province de Manitoba.

TABLEAU VIII

CONDITIONS SPECIALES CONCERNANT LE CANADA

Rien de ce qui est dit dans le présent Accord ne sera interprété comme pouvant empêcher le Canada d'affirmer ses droits de priorité au sujet de certaines stations des classes III et IV, actuellement en exploitation au Canada sur des voies libres et régionales actuelles qui comme résultat du présent Accord, passeront dans une classe de voies que des stations des classes III et IV, ne devront pas utiliser.

TABLEAU I

PERIMETRES DE SERVICE PROTEGES ET INTENSITES D'INTERFERENCE ADMISSIBLES POUR LES STATIONS DE RADIO-DIFFUSION

Classe de Station	Classe de Voie exploité.	Puissance admissible	Périmètre ou contour d'intensité de signaux de l'aire protégée contre l'interférence nuisible *		Signal interférent admissible *
			Jour	Nuit	Jour	Nuit *
I-A	Libre	50 Kw ou plus	Frontières du pays ou est située la Station		5 uv/m	25 uv/m ^d
I-B	Libre	10 Kw à 50 Kw	100 uv/m	500 uv/m (50% onde réfléchie)	5 uv/m	25 uv/m
II	Libre ^d	0.25 Kw à 50 Kw	500 uv/m	2500 uv/m (onde de surface)	25 uv/m	125 uv/m *
III-A	Régional	1 Kw à 5 Kw.	500 uv/m	2500 uv/m (onde de surface)	25 uv/m	125 uv/m
III-B	Régional	0.5 Kw à 1 Kw la nuit et 5 Kw le jour	500 uv/m	4000 uv/m (onde de surface)	25 uv/m	200 uv/m
IV	Local	0.1 Kw à 0.25 Kw	500 uv/m	4000 uv/m (onde de surface)	25 uv/m	200 uv/m

^b Seulement dans la mesure qu'elle provient de stations travaillant sur la même voie. Pour les voies adjacentes voir l'Appendice III Tableau I.

*Intensité d'onde d'espace dépassée pendant 10% du temps.

^d On ne devra pas attribuer à une station de la classe II travaillant la nuit (depuis le coucher jusqu'au lever du soleil), la même voie qu'à une station de la classe I-A, à une distance de moins de 650 milles à partir de la frontière la plus rapprochée du pays où la station de la classe I-A est située.

*Ces valeurs sont par rapport à l'interférence provenant de toutes les stations exceptées celles de la classe I qui pourront causer de l'interférence jusqu'aux limites d'une valeur plus élevée d'intensité de champ. Toutefois, on recommande de placer les stations de la classe II de telle sorte que l'interférence qu'elles reçoivent des stations de la classe I ne dépasse pas ces valeurs. Si les stations de la classe II sont limitées par les stations de la classe I à des valeurs plus élevées, ces dernières deviendront la règle par rapport à l'interférence provenant de toutes les autres classes de stations.

10 kc.	0. 25 mv/m

Le signal d'onde de surface non désiré devra être mesuré aux limites ou a l'intérieur des limites de l'onde de surface de 0.5mv/m de la station désirée. Ces valeurs s'appliquent à toutes les classes de stations le jour et la nuit et se rapportent aux ondes de surface seulement. On ne devra pas tenir compte de l'onde d'espace pour le calcul ou la mesure de l'interférence provenant des stations qui travaillent sur des voies adjacentes.

PRINCIPES DE GÉNIE POUR L'USAGE DES VOIES RÉGIONALES PAR LES STATIONS DE LA CLASSE II, D'APRÈS LES DISPOSITIONS DE LA SECTION C 5 c.

Une station de la Classe II assignée à une voie régionale d'accord avec la section C 5 c, utilisera une antenne dirigée ou d'autres moyens pour limiter le signal d'interférence sur l'aire de service protégée d'une station de la Classe II sur la même voie aux valeurs indiqués dans l'Appendice II, Tableau I. Quand il s'agira de projets de stations le signal d'interférence sera déterminé d'accord avec les caractéristiques de l'antenne et de la courbe appropriée de l'Appendice V. Quand il s'agira d'une station existante le signal d'interférence sera déterminé par la methode décrite dans la Section E 4.

Les stations de la Classe III qui sont sur une voie qui a été attribuée à une station de la classe II, elles devront limiter l'interférence causée à une station de la Classe II, selon les dispositions de l'Appendice II, Tableau I.

ARTICULO III

In order to avoid, as far as may be possible, the doubts which might result from difference in the scope of the Spanish word "delito" and the English words "crime" and "offense", as well as the exact translation into Spanish of the expressions "attempt" and "accessories before or after the fact", and the exact translation into English of the words used in the Guatemalan penal legislation "tentativa", "cómplice" and "encubridor", the High Contracting Parties declare that for the application both of the Treaty of Extradition which they concluded on February 27, 1903, and for the application of the present Additional Convention, the Spanish word "delito" is equivalent to the English words "crime" and "offense"; that the Spanish words "delito frustrado" and "tentativa" are equivalent to the English word "attempt"; and that the Spanish names "cómplice" and "encubridor" are translated into English as "accessories before or after the fact".

A fin de evitar, hasta donde sea posible, las dudas que pudieran resultar de diferencia en el alcance de la palabra castellana "delito" y de las palabras inglesas "crime" y "offense", así como la exacta traducción al castellano de las palabras "attempt" y "accessories before or after the fact", y de la exacta traducción al inglés de las palabras usadas por la legislación penal guatemalteca "tentativa", "cómplice" y "encubridor", las Altas Partes Contratantes declaran que para la aplicación tanto del Tratado de Extradición que celebraron el 27 de febrero de 1903, como para la aplicación de la presente Convención adicional, la palabra castellana "delito" es equivalente de las palabras inglesas "crime" y "offense"; que las palabras castellanas "delito frustrado" y "tentativa" son equivalentes a la palabra inglesa "attempt"; y que los nombres castellanos "cómplice" y "encubridor" en inglés se traducen como "accessories before or after the fact".

Changes in quotas.
U. S. market.

La Junta Interamericana del Café, que se establece en el Artículo IX de este Convenio, estará facultada para aumentar o disminuir las cuotas para el mercado de los Estados Unidos, con el objeto de ajustar la oferta al cálculo o estimación de la demanda. Tal aumento o disminución no podrá acordarse con más frecuencia de una vez cada seis meses; y ninguna modificación excederá en cada caso del cinco por ciento de las cuotas básicas especificadas en el Artículo I. El aumento total o la disminución total en el primer año de cuota no excederá del cinco por ciento de tales cuotas básicas. Cualquier aumento o disminución en las cuotas permanecerá en vigor hasta que sea substituído por un nuevo cambio de las mismas, y las que se fijen para cada año de cuota serán calculadas aplicando a las cuotas básicas el promedio compensado (weighted average) de los cambios que hubiere acordado la Junta en el mismo año. Salvo lo estipulado en los Artículos IV, V y VII, no se alterará el porcentaje de cada uno de los países participantes sobre la cantidad total de café que éstos podrán exportar al mercado de los Estados Unidos.

La Junta estará también facultada para aumentar o disminuir las cuotas de exportación para el mercado de fuera de los Estados Unidos en la medida que estime necesaria para ajustar la oferta al cálculo o estimación de la demanda, pero sin alterar el porcentaje de cada uno de los países participantes sobre la cantidad total de café que puedan exportar a ese mercado, salvo lo estipulado en

The Inter-American Coffee Board provided for in Article IX of this Agreement shall have the authority to increase or decrease the quotas for the United States market in order to adjust supplies to estimated requirements. No such increase or decrease shall be made oftener than once every six months nor shall any change at any one time exceed 5 percent of the basic quotas specified in Article I. The total increase or decrease in the first quota year shall not exceed 5 percent of such basic quotas. Any increase or decrease in the quotas shall remain in effect until superseded by a new change in quotas, and the quotas for any quota year shall be calculated by applying to the basic quotas the weighted average of the changes made by the Board during the same year. Except as provided in Articles IV, V and VII, the percentage of each of the participating countries in the total quantity of coffee which these countries may export to the United States market shall be maintained unchanged.

The Board shall also have the authority to increase or decrease the export quotas for the market outside the United States to the extent that it deems necessary to adjust supplies to estimated requirements, maintaining unchanged the percentage of each of the participating countries in the total quantity of coffee to be exported to that market, except as provided in Articles IV, V and VII.

ARTIGO III

ARTICLE III

A Junta Interamericana do Café estabelecida pelo Artigo IX deste Convênio, terá atribuições para aumentar ou diminuir as quotas para o mercado dos Estados Unidos no intuito de ajustar a oferta à procura calculada. Esse aumento ou diminuição só poderá ser feito uma vez em cada seis meses, não devendo nenhuma modificação em cada caso exceder de 5 por cento às quotas básicas especificadas no Artigo I. Fica entendido, porém, que o aumento ou a diminuição total no primeiro ano de controle não poderá exceder de 5 por cento das quotas básicas. Esses aumentos ou diminuições nas quotas permanecerão em vigor até que sejam substituídas por uma nova mudança nas quotas, e as quotas fixadas para qualquer ano de controle serão calculadas aplicando-se às quotas básicas a média compensada (weighted average) das mudanças feitas pela Junta durante o dito ano. Salvo o estipulado nos Artigos IV, V e VII, não se alterará a porcentagem de cada um dos países participantes na quantidade total do café que tais países podem exportar para o mercado dos Estados Unidos.

A Junta terá também atribuições para aumentar ou diminuir as quotas de exportação para mercados fora dos Estados Unidos, conforme julgar conveniente para ajustar a oferta à procura calculada, sem alterar, porém, a porcentagem de cada um dos países participantes na quantidade total do café a ser exportado para o dito mercado, salvo o estipulado nos Artigos IV, V e VII. Sem

Le Conseil Interaméricain du Café, établi à l'Article IX du présent Accord, aura le pouvoir d'augmenter ou de diminuer les quotités pour le marché des Etats-Unis dans le but d'adapter l'offre à la demande estimée. Toute augmentation ou diminution ne sera consentie qu'une fois chaque semestre; et cette modification ne dépassera, en aucun cas, 5 pour cent de la quotité de base établie à l'Article I. Pendant la première année de contrôle ni l'augmentation ni la diminution totale ne pourront être supérieures aux 5 pour cent de ladite quotité de base. Toute augmentation ou diminution des quotités demeurera en vigueur jusqu'à ce qu'elle soit remplacée par une nouvelle modification des quotités, et les quotités fixées pour chaque année de contrôle seront établies en appliquant aux quotités de base la moyenne quantitative (weighted average) des modifications qu'aura consenties le Conseil pendant la même année. Sous réserve des dispositions des Articles IV, V et VII, le pourcentage établi sur la quantité totale de café que chaque pays participant pourra exporter à destination du marché des Etats-Unis, ne sera pas modifié.

Le Conseil aura aussi le pouvoir d'augmenter ou de diminuer les quotités d'exportation destinées au marché au dehors des Etats-Unis, suivant qu'il le jugera nécessaire, sans, toutefois, modifier le pourcentage alloué à chacun des pays participants sur la quantité totale de café qu'ils pourront exporter à destination de ce marché sous réserve des stipulations des Articles IV, V et VII. Néanmoins, le Con-

Nevertheless, the Board shall not have the authority to distribute these quotas among determined countries or regions of the market outside the United States.

ARTÍCULO IV

ARTICLE IV

Agreement to limitation.

Cada país productor participante en este Convenio se compromete a limitar sus exportaciones de café a los Estados Unidos de América de modo que éstas no excedan, durante cada año de cuota, su cuota de exportación respectiva.

Each producing country participating in this Agreement undertakes to limit its coffee exports to the United States of America during each quota year, to its respective export quota.

Adjustments.

En caso de que por circunstancias imprevistas la exportación total de café de un país a los Estados Unidos de América excediere en cualquier año de cuota el límite de su cuota de exportación para el mercado de los Estados Unidos, la del siguiente año le será disminuída en una cantidad igual al exceso.

In the event that, due to unforeseen circumstances, a country's total exports of coffee to the United States of America exceed in any quota year its export quota for the United States market, that quota for the following year shall be decreased by the amount of the excess.

Si cualquiera de los países productores que participan en este Convenio llegare a exportar, en cualquier año de cuota, una cantidad de café inferior a su cuota asignada para el mercado de los Estados Unidos, la Junta podrá aumentar la cuota de dicho país para el año de cuota próximo siguiente en una cantidad igual al saldo no cubierto en el año de cuota anterior, hasta el límite de un diez por ciento de la cuota correspondiente al referido año anterior.

If any producing country participating in this Agreement has exported in any quota year less than its quota for the United States market, the Board may increase that country's quota for the immediately following quota year by an amount equal to the deficiency for the preceding quota year, up to the limit of 10 percent of the quota for such previous year.

Las disposiciones de este Artículo se aplicarán también a las cuotas de exportación para el mercado de fuera de los Estados Unidos.

The provisions of this Article shall also apply to the export quotas for the market outside the United States.

ARTIGO IV

Cada país produtor participante neste Convênio obriga-se a limitar as suas exportações de café para os Estados Unidos da América, durante cada ano de contrôle, à sua respectiva quota de exportação.

Se por circunstâncias imprevisitas, a exportação total de café de um país para os Estados Unidos da América ultrapassar em qualquer ano de quota o limite de sua quota de exportação para o mercado dos Estados Unidos, essa quota para o ano seguinte deverá diminuir em quantidade igual à em que tiver excedido.

Se qualquer dos países produtores participantes no Convênio exportar em qualquer ano de contrôle uma quantidade de café inferior à sua quota para o mercado dos Estados Unidos, a Junta poderá aumentar a quota do dito país para o ano de contrôle seguinte, em quantidade igual ao saldo não coberto no ano anterior, até o limite de dez por cento da quota para o dito ano anterior.

As disposições deste artigo aplicam-se também às quotas de exportação destinadas ao mercado fóra dos Estados Unidos.

ARTICLE IV

Chaque pays producteur participant au présent Accord s'engage à limiter ses exportations de café aux Etats-Unis d'Amérique, pendant chaque année de contrôle, à sa quotité respective d'exportation.

Si, par suite de circonstances imprévues, l'exportation totale de café d'un pays aux Etats-Unis d'Amérique, en une année de contrôle quelconque, dépasse sa quotité d'exportation pour le marché des Etats-Unis, ladite quotité pour l'année suivante sera diminuée d'une quantité égale à l'excédent.

S'il arrive que l'un quelconque des pays producteurs participants au présent Accord exporte, en une année de contrôle quelconque, une quantité de café au-dessous de sa quotité respective pour le marché des Etats-Unis, le Conseil pourra augmenter la quotité dudit pays pour l'année de contrôle suivante, par une quantité égale à celle non exportée pendant l'année précédente, pourvu que la quantité non exportée n'excède pas dix pour cent de la quotité de l'année en question.

Les dispositions du présent Article s'appliqueront également aux quotités d'exportation accordées pour le marché au dehors des Etats-Unis.

Si une quantité de café exportée au marché au dehors des Etats-Unis est détruite par un tion or any other accident, before arriving at any foreign port, shall not be charged against the quota of the respective country corresponding to the date of shipment, provided that the loss is duly established before the Inter-American Coffee Board.

ARTÍCULO V

ARTICLE V

Transfer of quotas in case of change in demand.

En vista de la posibilidad de cambios en la demanda de café de determinada procedencia en el mercado de fuera de los Estados Unidos, la Junta estará facultada, previa aprobación por las dos terceras partes de sus votos, para traspasar, a solicitud de cualquiera de los países participantes, una parte de la cuota de dicho país en el mercado de los Estados Unidos, a su respectiva cuota para el mercado de fuera de los Estados Unidos, a fin de lograr un mejor equilibrio entre la oferta y la demanda de tipos especiales de café. En tales casos, la Junta estará facultada para llenar el déficit consiguiente en la cuota total para el mercado de los Estados Unidos, aumentando las cuotas de los otros países productores participantes en este Convenio en proporción a sus cuotas básicas.

In view of the possibility of changes in the demand for coffee of a particular origin in the market outside the United States, the Board is empowered, by a two-thirds vote, to transfer, on the request of any participating country, a part of that country's quota for the United States market to its quota for the market outside the United States in order to bring about a better balance between supply and demand in special types of coffee. In such cases, the Board is authorized to make up the resulting deficiency in the total quota for the United States market by increasing the quotas of the other producing countries participating in this agreement in proportion to their basic quotas.

ARTICLE VI

Official certification for shipments.

Cada país productor que participa en este Convenio adoptará todas las medidas necesarias de su parte para la ejecución y funcionamiento del mismo y expedirá para cada embarque de café un documento oficial que certifique que el embarque está dentro de la cuota correspondiente fijada de acuerdo con las estipulaciones de este Convenio.

Each producing country participating in this Agreement shall take all measures necessary on its part for the execution and operation of this Agreement and shall issue for each coffee shipment an official document certifying that the shipment is within the corresponding quota fixed in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

ARTIGO V

Em vista da possibilidade de haver mudanças na procura do café de determinada procedência no mercado fora dos Estados Unidos, a Junta poderá, após aprovação por dois terços dos seus votos, transferir, a pedido de qualquer país participante, parte da quota do dito país no mercado dos Estados Unidos para a quota do mesmo país no mercado fora dos Estados Unidos, afim de conseguir melhor equilíbrio entre a oferta e a procura de tipos especiais de café. Nesse caso a Junta acha-se autorizada a preencher a deficiência que daí resultará na quota total para o mercado dos Estados Unidos, aumentando as quotas dos outros países produtores participantes neste Convênio na proporção de suas quotas básicas.

ARTICLE V

Etant donné la possibilité de variation dans la demande de café d'une origine déterminée sur le marché au dehors des Etats-Unis, le Conseil est autorisé, moyennant approbation par les deux tiers de ses votes, de transférer, à la demande de l'un quelconque des pays participants, une partie de la quotité dudit pays pour le marché des Etats-Unis à sa quotité respective pour le marché au dehors des Etats-Unis, afin d'améliorer l'équilibre entre l'offre et la demande de genres spéciaux de café. Dans ce cas, le Conseil est autorisé à combler la lacune que résultera dans les quotités totales pour le marché des Etats-Unis en augmentant les quotités des autres pays producteurs participants au présent Accord, au pro rata de leurs quotités de base.

ARTIGO VI

Cada país produtor participante neste Convênio tomará por sua parte todas as medidas necessárias para a execução e funcionamento do mesmo e emitirá para cada embarque de café um documento oficial atestando que o embarque está dentro da quota correspondente fixada de acôrdo com as estipulações deste Convênio.

ARTICLE VI

Chaque pays producteur participant au présent Accord adoptera toutes les mesures nécessaires qui lui incombent pour l'exécution et le fonctionnement de cet Accord, et fera établir, pour chaque chargement de café, un document officiel attestant que le chargement se trouve dans les limites de la quotité correspondante fixée d'après les stipulations du présent Accord.

Los vuelos objeto de este Convenio no se efectuarán sino hasta que se hayan designado las rutas y lugares a los que se refiere el párrafo anterior.

QUINTA.—Cada Gobierno asume la obligación de que ninguna de sus naves aéreas tomará más de 24 horas para transitar el territorio del otro, incluyendo el uso de todos los puntos de aterrizaje o amarizaje dentro del territorio y aguas territoriales de este último, salvo el caso de fuerza mayor en que podrá prorrogarse la estancia por el tiempo que juzgue necesario el Gobierno cuyo territorio se transite.

SEXTA.—Cualquier aeroplano o hidroplano militar de cualesquiera de las Partes Contratantes que aterrice o amarice en cualquiera de los puntos designados para tal objeto en el territorio de la otra Parte, tendrá derecho a la suministra- ción solamente de aquellos combustibles, alimentos, provisiones, etc., que el último país esté conforme en suministrar de acuerdo con su propia legislación. EIGHTH.—Present conditions of possible threats of armed aggression against the American Continent will exist, in so far as the reciprocal concessions emanating from this Agreement are concerned, so long as the Governments of the United States and Mexico shall jointly deem them to exist; and it is expressly understood that the mere notification by one of the High Contracting Parties to the other that it considers that the state of affairs that has brought about this Agreement has disappeared, will suffice for the complete termination of the concessions and obligations herein contained. Si alguno de los Gobiernos tuviera necesidad de material o equipo para este fin, que el otro Gobierno esté en condiciones de suministrar, el asunto será motivo de conversaciones, y cualquier material o equipo será suministrado en los términos y condiciones que se acuerden.

OCTAVA.—El actual estado de posibles amenazas de agresión armada al Continente Americano subsistirá, por lo que se refiere a las concesiones recíprocas derivadas de este Convenio, por todo el tiempo que el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos y el de México así lo reconozcan conjuntamente, y queda expresamente entendido que la sola notificación por una de las Altas Partes Contratantes a la otra, de que considera que ha desaparecido el estado de cosas, motivo de este Convenio, será suficiente para la completa terminación de las concesiones y obligaciones a que el mismo se refiere. Tal notificación podrá ser hecha por los conductos diplomáticos usuales, o directamente por un Gobierno al otro. Las naves aéreas de cualesquiera de las Partes que se encuentren en tránsito en el momento en que tal notificación unilateral sea hecha, tendrán 24 horas para salir del territorio de la otra.

NINTH.—This Agreement, when ratified by the Constitutional branch of each Government, will become effective as of the date of the exchange of ratifications, which shall take place in the city of Washington as soon as possible.

NOVENA.—El presente Convenio, ratificado por los respectivos órganos constitucionales de cada Gobierno, entrará en vigor a partir de la fecha del canje de ratificaciones que se efectuará en la ciudad de Wáshington, tan pronto como sea posible.

DEFENSE OF GREENLAND FORSVAR

WHEREAS:

ONE. After the invasion and occupation of Denmark on April 9, 1940 by foreign military forces, the United Greenland Councils at their meeting at Godhavn on May 3, 1940 adopted in the name of the people of Greenland a resolution reiterating their oath of allegiance to King Christian X of Denmark and expressing the hope that, for as long as Greenland remains cut off from the mother country, the Government of the United States of America will continue to hold in mind the exposed position of the Danish flag in Greenland, of the native Greenland and Danish population, and of established public order; and

TWO. The Governments of all of the American Republics have agreed that the status of regions in the Western Hemisphere belonging to European powers is a subject of deep concern to the American Nations, and that the course of military events in Europe and the changes resulting from them may create the grave danger that European territorial possessions in America may be converted into strategic centers of aggression against nations of the American Continent; and

TO. Alle amerikanske Republikers Regeringer har erklæret sig enige i, at de, europæiske Magter tilhørende, i den vestlige Hemisfære beliggende Omraaders Status er et Spørgsmaal af alvorlig Betydning for de amerikanske Nationer, og at Udviklingen af de militære Begivenheder i Europa og deraf følgende Forandringer vil kunne medføre den alvorlige Fare, at de europæiske territoriale Besiddelser i Amerika forvandles til strategiske Udgangspunkter for Angreb imod det amerikanske Kontinents Nationer;

TRE. Grønlands Forsvar imod Angreb fra Ikke-amerikanske Magters Side er af afgørende Vigtighed for Bevarelsen af det the American Continent and is a subject of vital concern to the United States of America and also to the Kingdom of Denmark; and

EXCHANGE OF NOTES

The Secretary of State to the Danish Minister

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON
April 7, 1941

SIR:

I have the honor to refer to the informal conversations which you have had with officers of the Department of State during which the concern of the Government of the United States was expressed over the effect of recent military developments, particularly affecting Greenland, upon the maintenance of the peace and security of the United States and the rest of the American Continent.

You are also aware of the interest of the Government of the United States in maintaining unimpaired the safety of Greenland and the sovereignty of Denmark over that island. My Government has continuously had in mind the desire expressed by the United Greenland Councils at their meeting at Godhavn on May 3, 1940 that the Government of the United States of America would continue to hold in mind the exposed position of the Danish flag in Greenland and of the native Greenland and Danish population of the island.

My Government has taken note of the unusual situation in which Greenland now finds itself. The Kingdom of Denmark is at present under occupation by a foreign army. The Government of the United States has condemned that invasion as a violation of Danish sovereign rights, and has repeatedly expressed its friendly concern and its most earnest hope for the complete and speedy liberation of Denmark. Although the Government of the United States fully recognizes the sovereignty of the Kingdom of Denmark over Greenland, it is unhappily clear that the Government in Denmark is not in a position to exercise sovereign power over Greenland so long as the present military occupation continues.

54 Stat. 2491.

Greenland is within the area embraced by the Monroe Doctrine and by the Act of Havana, with which you are familiar, and its defense against attack by a non-American power is plainly essential to the preservation of the peace and security of the American continent, and of the traditional policies of this Government respecting the Western Hemisphere.

My Government has consequently proposed measures for the adequate defense of Greenland consistent with the obligations of the United States under the Act of Havana signed on July 30, 1940. In doing so it is animated by sentiments of the completest friendliness for Denmark, and believes that by taking these steps it is safeguarding the eventual re-establishment of the normal relationship between Greenland and the Kingdom of Denmark.

I have the honor to enclose a draft of the proposed agreement relating to the defense of Greenland, which I believe embodies the ideas agreed upon in the course of our various conversations.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

CORDELL HULL

Draft of Agreement.

HENRIK DE KAUFFMANN,

Minister of Denmark.

The Danish Minister to the Secretary of State

ROYAL DANISH LEGATION

WASHINGTON, D. C.

April 9, 1941.

SIR:

I have received your note of the seventh instant concerning the defense of Greenland together with a draft of a proposed agreement regarding the same subject.

It is with appreciation that I note your renewed assurance that, although the present circumstances prevent the Government in Denmark for the time being from exercising its powers in respect of Greenland, your Government fully recognizes the Sovereignty of the Kingdom of Denmark over the island. At the same time I wish to convey to you my feelings of gratitude for the expression of friendly concern of your Government and its earnest hope for the complete and speedy liberation of Denmark.

I share your view that the proposed agreement, arrived at after an open and friendly exchange of views, is, under the singularly unusual circumstances, the best measure to assure both Greenland's present safety and the future of the island under Danish Sovereignty.

Furthermore, I am of the opinion that the terms of the agreement protect, as far as possible, the interests of the native population of Greenland whose welfare traditionally has been the paramount aim of Denmark's policy in Greenland.

I, therefore, shall accept and sign the agreement as proposed, acting on behalf of His Majesty, the King of Denmark, in His capacity of Sovereign over Greenland, whose authorities in Greenland have concurred herein.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to you, Mr. Secretary of State, the assurances of my highest consideration.

HENRIK KAUFFMANN

CORDELL HULL,

Arrangement between the United States of America and Canada respecting the temporary diversion for power purposes of additional waters of the Niagara River above the Falls. Effected by exchange of notes signed at Washington May 20, 1941; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States June 12, 1941; approved by the President of the United States June 13, 1941.

The Secretary of State to the Canadian Minister

WASHINGTON
May 20, 1941

SIR:

I have the honor to refer to conversations which have taken place recently between officials of the Governments of the United States and Canada with respect to the immediate and pressing needs for additional power in the Niagara Falls area for national defense purposes. Throughout these conversations, as well as in previous conversations during the course of years, on the general subject of the Falls at Niagara, two objectives have been kept in mind: first, the scenic beauty of this great heritage of the two countries; and second, the utilization of the power resources available there, consistent with the primary obligation of preserving the scenic beauty of the Falls.

Recent surveys have indicated that there is now idle equipment available and set up which could utilize at once an additional diversion for power purposes of 5,000 cubic feet per second on the United States side. I am informed by the defense authorities of this Government and by the Federal Power Commission that this additional power is urgently needed in connection with the Government's National Defense Program. It is likewise understood from conversations with the appropriate Canadian officials that 3,000 cubic feet per second could be used immediately on the Canadian side in connection with the furtherance of the war efforts of Canada. These figures represent the immediate needs of the two Governments and do not pretend to take into consideration all industrial requirements of the two countries in the area by reason of the present emergency.

In view of the above, and having in mind assurances of engineers that there will be no material adverse effect to the scenic beauty of the Falls, I propose through this exchange of notes that for the duration of the emergency and in all events subject to reconsideration by both Governments on October 1, 1942, an additional diversion for power purposes of 5,000 cubic feet per second be utilized on the United States side of the Niagara River above the Falls. In making this proposal this Government is prepared to give assurances that no objection will be raised to an additional diversion of 3,000 cubic feet per second on the Canadian side of the Niagara River above the Falls. It is also proposed that the engineers of the two Governments be instructed to take such steps as may be necessary with a view to initiating forthwith the construction of works designed to distribute the flow of water over the Falls in such a manner as to preserve their scenic beauty.

Moreover, the American Government proposes that upon the entry into effect of the Agreement for the Utilization of the Water in the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Basin signed on March 19, 1941,¹ the foregoing arrangements will be subject to the provisions of Article IX of the Agreement, and that it will be open to the Commission appointed under the provisions of the Agreement and carrying out the duties imposed upon it, to take such action as may be necessary, and as may come within the scope of the Agreement with regard to diversions at Niagara.

If the foregoing is acceptable to the Government of Canada, this note and your reply thereto, when approved by the Senate, shall be regarded as placing on record the understanding arrived at between the two Governments concerning this matter.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

SEÑOR SECRETARIO:

Tengo a honra manifestar a Vuestra Excelencia que mi Gobierno, basándose en el principio de reciprocidad, está muy interesado en que el Departamento del Tesoro de los Estados Unidos de América declare formal y oficialmente que las entradas de las compañías navieras incorporadas bajo las leyes panameñas están exentas del impuesto sobre la renta.

Con la presente me es grato remitir a Vuestra Excelencia los documentos, debidamente autenticados, que contienen las disposiciones legales de la República de Panamá por las cuáles se exonera a las compañías navieras incorporadas bajo las leyes de los Estados Unidos de todo impuesto. Mucho le agradecería a Vuestra Excelencia que, si a bien lo tiene, haga llegar dichas disposiciones hasta el Departamento del Tesoro a fin de obtener la declaración deseada por mi Gobierno. Los documentos que se remiten son los siguientes:

- a) folleto de edición oficial que contienen todas las leyes y decretos en que consta que la República de Panamá no impone contribuciones a la industria naviera de los Estados Unidos;
- b) copia de la Resolución Ejecutiva No. 33-bis, de 1936, y
- c) certificado del señor Secretario de Estado en el Despacho de Hacienda y Tesoro, en el cual se hace constar expresamente que "las naves mercantes de los Estados Unidos de América ó de ciudadanos de ese país" están exentas del impuesto sobre la renta.

Las disposiciones legales contenidas en dichos documentos se pueden sintetizar como sigue:

- 1) Un gravamen es impuesto por la República de Panamá sobre las ganancias netas de todas las personas de acuerdo con la Ley del Fondo Obrero y del Agricultor, Ley 49 de 1934.

- 2) Por Resolución Ejecutiva No. 33-bis, del 2 de Marzo de 1936, fue resuelto lo siguiente:

“Las entradas que se derivan de las operaciones del comercio marítimo, de las naves mercantes de propiedad de corporaciones organizadas en los Estados Unidos de América ó de ciudadanos de ese ó de cualquier otro país, que residan ya sea en Panamá ó en el exterior, no causan el impuesto del Fondo del Obrero y del Agricultor creado por la Ley 49 de 1934, aún cuando los contratos de transporte se celebren en Panamá”.

- 3) La Asamblea Nacional de la República de Panamá, decretó en 1938 una nueva Ley de impuestos conocida por Ley No. 62 de 1938. Esta Ley no ha sido puesta en vigor por haber sido suspendida por el Decreto No. 41 del 5 de abril de 1939 y por el Decreto No. 146-bis del 30 de diciembre de 1939.

En vista, pues, de todo lo arriba mencionado mi Gobierno vería con mucho agrado que el Gobierno de Vuestra Excelencia diera la seguridad de que, salvo cambios de la ley en el futuro, los ciudadanos de la República de Panamá y sociedades incorporadas bajo las leyes panameñas, han sido desde 1936 y serán después, exceptuadas del impuesto sobre las ganancias derivadas de operaciones marítimas, conforme a lo provisto en las Secciones 211 (b) y 231 (d) del Código de Ingresos de los Estados Unidos de América (Internal Revenue Code of the United States of America).

Sírvase Vuestra Excelencia aceptar mis gracias anticipadas por la atención que se digne prestar a esta solicitud y las seguridades de mi más alta y distinguida consideración,

EMBASSY OF PANAMA
WASHINGTON

Number D-14

JANUARY 15, 1941

MR. SECRETARY:

I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that my Government, upon the basis of the principle of reciprocity, is very much interested in having the Treasury Department of the United States of America declare formally and officially that the revenues of shipping companies incorporated under Panamanian laws are exempt from income taxes.

I take pleasure in forwarding herewith to Your Excellency the documents, [1] duly authenticated, which contain the legal provisions of the Republic of Panama by which shipping companies incorporated under the laws of the United States are exempted from any tax. I should be very grateful if Your Excellency—provided you deem fit—would transmit the above-mentioned provisions to the Treasury Department in order to obtain the declaration desired by my Government. The documents which are being forwarded are the following:

- a) officially issued booklet containing all the laws and decrees which show that the Republic of Panama does not impose taxes upon the shipping industry of the United States;
- b) copy of Executive Resolution No. 33-bis, of 1936, and
- c) certificate of the Secretary of State in the Office of Hacienda and Treasury, in which it is expressly stated that “the merchant ships of the United States of America or of citizens of that country” are exempt from the income tax.

The legal provisions to be found in the above-mentioned documents may be summarized as follows:

- 1) A tax is imposed by the Republic of Panama upon the net earnings of all persons in accordance with the “Ley del Fondo Obrero y del Agricultor,” law 49 of 1934.
- 2) By Executive Resolution No. 33-bis, of March 2, 1936, the following was decreed:

“Revenues which are derived from the operations of maritime commerce of merchant ships belonging to corporations organized in the United States of America or to citizens of that or any other country who reside either in Panama or abroad, are not subject to the tax of the “Fondo del Obrero y del Agricultor” created by law 49 of 1934, even though the transportation contracts may be drawn up in Panama”.

- 3) The National Assembly of the Republic of Panama enacted in 1938 a new tax law known as law no. 62 of 1938. This law has not been put into force, due to its having been suspended by Decree No. 41 of April 5, 1939, and by Decree No. 146-bis of December 30, 1939.

In view, therefore, of all that has been cited above, my Government would be very much pleased if Your Excellency’s Government would give the assurance that, subject to changes of the law in the future, the citizens of the Republic of Panama and firms incorporated under Panamanian laws have been since 1936 and will henceforth be exempt from the tax on profits derived from maritime operations, as provided in sections 211 (b) and 231 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code of the United States of America.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to refer to your Embassy's note of January 15, 1941 (Number D-14) concerning the desire of your Government that the revenues of shipping companies incorporated under Panamanian laws be declared exempt from income taxes. Reference is also made to the note of the Department of State of February 8 on the subject.

A letter has been received from the Treasury Department in which reference is made to the provisions of Executive Resolution No. 33-bis of March 2, 1936 contained in the authenticated documents enclosed with the Embassy's note relating to the exemption of the revenues derived from the operations of merchant ships from the tax imposed by Panamanian Law 49 of 1934. It is stated in the letter that these provisions "satisfy the equivalent exemption requirements of sections 212 (b) and 231 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code and the corresponding sections of the Revenue Act of 1938 and the Revenue Act of 1936". It is added that

(b), 231 (d).
52 Stat. 528, 530.
49 Stat. 1715, 1717.

"Consequently, nonresident alien individuals (including citizens of the Republic of Panama) and foreign corporations (including corporations organized under Panamanian laws) are exempt from Federal income tax with respect to their income which consists exclusively of earnings derived from the operation of a ship or ships documented under the laws of Panama, for the years 1936 to 1940, inclusive. This ruling is equally applicable to subsequent years, as long as there remain in force and effect the provisions of the Executive Resolution No. 33-bis of March 2, 1936, relative to the exemption from income tax of the revenues derived from the operations of merchant ships."

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Considering that it is desirable and in the mutual interest of the United States of America and the Republic of Costa Rica that a source of crude rubber be developed in Costa Rica, and that the Governments of the two countries cooperate in conducting investigations with respect to the methods of rubber cultivation, the development of superior strains of rubber, disease control, use of intercrops, and other matter, with a view to the successful establishment of a self-sustaining rubber culture industry; and

(e) shall provide, free of charge, necessary office space and laboratory facilities at the central experiment station for two scientists to be designated, at its option by the Ministry of State for Agriculture of Costa Rica for the purpose of conducting cooperative investigations on a basis of equality with experts designated by the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America; provided, that the salaries and living accommodations of any such scientists shall be furnished by the Ministry of State for Agriculture of Costa Rica;

(f) Shall undertake such experimental studies and field investigations at the central experiment station and on the lands furnished by the Ministry of State for Agriculture of Costa Rica as may be practicable with a view to the establishment of a successful rubber plantation industry; and

(g) shall furnish to the Ministry of State for Agriculture of Costa Rica, free of any charge, stocks of superior strains of the rubber tree now in its possession and of any additional superior strains collected by it as a result of surveys or cultivated at its experiment station which, after being tested by it, are found to be superior, such stocks to be furnished at a date as early, and in such quantity, as may be possible with the facilities available for propagation and in view of the equitable requirements of any other cooperating agency.

ARTICULO III

Las tierras, facilidades y servicios suministrados por el Secretario de Estado en el Despacho de Fomento y Agricultura de Costa Rica deberán ser adecuados y adaptables a los propósitos de este Convenio.

Con exclusión de los salarios de los científicos y supervigilantes nombrados por el Departamento de Agricultura de los Estados Unidos de América, el Departamento no estará obligado bajo los términos de este Convenio a gastar una suma de más de cuarenta y cinco mil dollars ($45,000.00) durante el primer año, ni más de veinte mil dollars ($20,000.00) durante cada una de los años siguientes. El primer año comenzará el día en que sea efectivo el presente Convenio.

ARTICULO IV

Este Convenio entrará en efecto el día en que sea firmado y permanecerá vigente hasta seis meses después del día en que cualquiera de los gobiernos contratantes comunique por escrito al otro gobierno contratante su intención de dar por terminado el Convenio a condición, sin embargo, de que el Convenio no permanecerá en vigencia después del 30 de Junio de 1943 excepto a opción del Departamento de Agricultura de los Estados Unidos de América, opción la cual será notificada al Gobierno de Costa Rica por el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América a más tardar un mes antes de dicha fecha.

MR. CHARGÉ D'AFFAIRES:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your courteous note no. 726 of April 19, 1941 relative to the conclusion of an agreement for carrying out cooperative rubber investigations in Costa Rica.

I am pleased to inform you that the views of the Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture having been consulted with regard to the proposed agreement, this high official replied, by his note no. 3755 of the 9th instant, expressing his full approval of the matter.

Therefore, I have pleasure in informing you that my Government is disposed to accept the said agreement, upon the following terms:

Acceptance by Costa Rica.

ARTICLE I

The Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture of Costa Rica, seeking uses for vast areas of rich undeveloped lands and abandoned banana farms on which individual growers or plantation companies can produce a profitable export crop of rubber and thereby increase the foreign trade and the income of the people of Costa Rica,

(a) shall provide, without charge, to the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America a site for a central experiment station, lands necessary for experimental rubber plantings, and a site for residences, and in accordance with this provision shall accord the Department of Agriculture the free use of the following-described areas of land:

which areas are to be used for the purpose of a central experiment station and for seedling nurseries, test plantings, and breeding gardens;

(2) in the Guapiles district adjoining and to the north of the "Old Line" railway, that area of land known as Los Diamantes farm, consisting of 1,170 hectares (about 2,902 acres), to be used for experimental plantings and as a demonstrational rubber farm (clone propagation); and

(3) in the Reventazón Valley near Turrialba, on the north side of the public road leading eastward from the town of Turrialba, that area of land known as the Jesús Pazos farm, consisting of approximately 2.6 hectares (about 6.5 acres) to be used as a residential site;

(b) shall permit or have permitted, through proper authorization whenever necessary from other departments of the Government of Costa Rica, the importation into Costa Rica, free of duty or any fee whatsoever, all material and property of the Government of the United States of America which may be required for the construction, operation, and maintenance of the afore-mentioned central experiment station.

(c) shall permit the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America to import into or export from Costa Rica all materials, such as seeds, stumps, or budwood, for the planting of rubber-producing plants which the Department of Agriculture may require for the investigations contemplated by this agreement or which the Department of Agriculture may desire to ship elsewhere, provided that all such imports or exports shall be certified by a duly qualified official of the Department of Agriculture to be free from noxious insects and contagious diseases; and

(d) shall prohibit the redistribution of any strains of rubber trees furnished it by the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America to individuals, cooperators, companies, agencies, or governments, except to agencies or governments in the Western Hemisphere which reciprocally agree to furnish similar material which they may have in their possession, upon the understanding that the prohibition provided in this paragraph shall extend to and be applied by any agency or government to which any such strains of rubber trees may be redistributed.

ARTICLE II

The Department of Agriculture of the United States of America, under authority granted by the Congress of the United States of America,

(a) shall establish in Costa Rica a central rubber experiment station, upon the conditions specified above, and make field plantings to demonstrate practical methods of plantation rubber production;

(b) shall conduct laboratory and field investigations, and make information concerning the results thereof available for the benefit of the rubber-producing industry in Costa Rica and in other countries of the Western Hemisphere;

(c) shall provide, out of funds available to it, any necessary laboratory and office facilities and housing facilities for employees on the land furnished by the Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture of Costa Rica, as may be required for conducting the investigations contemplated by this agreement;

(e) shall provide, free of charge, necessary office space and laboratory facilities at the central experiment station for two scientists to be designated, at its option by the Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture of Costa Rica for the purpose of conducting cooperative investigations on a basis of equality with experts designated by the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America; provided that the salaries and living accommodations of any such scientists shall be furnished by the Ministry of State for Agriculture of Costa Rica;

(f) shall undertake such experimental studies and field investigations at the central experiment station and on the lands furnished by the Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture of Costa Rica as may be practicable with a view to the establishment of a successful rubber-plantation industry; and

(g) shall furnish to the Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture of Costa Rica, free of any charge, stocks of superior strains of the rubber tree now in its possession and of any additional superior strains collected by it as a result of surveys or cultivated at its experiment stations which, after being tested by it, are found to be superior, such stocks to be furnished at a date as early, and in such quantity, as may be possible, with the facilities available for propagation and in view of the equitable requirements of any other cooperating agency.

ARTICLE III

The lands, facilities, and services furnished by the Secretary of State in the Ministry of Public Works and Agriculture of Costa Rica shall be suitable and adequate for the purposes of this agreement.

Exclusive of the salaries of scientists and overseers designated by the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America, the Department shall not be obligated under this agreement to expend an amount in excess of forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000.00) during the first year, nor in excess of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) during any one year thereafter. The first year shall begin on the day of the entry into effect of this agreement.

ARTICLE IV

This agreement shall come into effect on the day on which it is signed, and shall remain in force until six months from the day on which either contracting government shall have given notice in writing to the other contracting government of its intention to terminate the agreement; provided, however, that the agreement shall not remain in force after June 30, 1943 except at the option of the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America, which option shall be notified to the Government of Costa Rica by the Government of the United States of America at least one month prior to that date.

ARTICLE V

Upon the termination of this agreement, the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America shall be permitted to remove, sell, or otherwise dispose of the improvements mentioned in the foregoing article II, including all buildings and facilities belonging to it, but excluding all fencing of land or plantings of rubber or other crops growing on the land; provided, however, that in the event of any sale of such improvements, the Government of Costa Rica shall have priority in the purchase thereof. The price at which any such improvements may be sold shall be established in accordance with regulations made by the Department of Agriculture of the United States of America.

Effective date.

The Government of Costa Rica agrees that, as suggested in your note of April 19, 1941, the foregoing agreement shall become effective on the date of this note.

It pleases me to reiterate to you the expressions of my most distinguished consideration.

SEÑOR ENCARGADO DE NEGOCIOS:

Tengo el honor de referirme a la nota de Vuestra Señoría N° 726 de 19 de abril de 1941, con respecto a la conclusión de un convenio para llevar a cabo investigaciones sobre el cultivo del hule en Costa Rica, y a mi nota N° 1843*B del 16 del corriente mes, en la cual se aceptan los términos del convenio mencionados en la nota de Vuestra Señoría, con excepción, sin embargo, de la parte final del párrafo (b) del Artículo I, referente a la exención de derechos para los efectos personales que introduzcan a su llegada a Costa Rica los empleados americanos que ingresen a trabajar en la Estación central de Experimentación, de acuerdo con los términos del convenio.

La supresión de esta parte del Artículo I, fue hecha por razones que han sido verbalmente explicadas a Vuestra Señoría. Sin embargo, como los servicios que prestaría el personal de la Estación Central de Experimentación para el cultivo del hule, no pueden considerarse sino como una eficaz y gratuita colaboración del Gobierno de Vuestra Señoría para el estudio de un nuevo y reproductivo producto de nuestro suelo, estoy seguro que el Señor Secretario de Fomento, en colaboración con el Señor Secretario de Hacienda, encontrarán medios de complacer al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América en el otorgamiento de la franquicia aduanera para aquellos efectos personales que los empleados americanos de la mencionada Estación introduzcan a su arribo a Costa Rica, a condición de que el Director de la Estación de Experimentación certifique que tales efectos personales no serán revendidos.

Acojo complacido esta oportunidad para renovar a Vuestra Señoría los sentimientos de mi más distinguida consideración.

MR. CHARGÉ D'AFFAIRES:

I have the honor to refer to your note no. 726 of April 19, 1941, relative to the conclusion of an agreement for rubber-culture investigations in Costa Rica, and to my note no. 1843*B of the 16th instant, by which are accepted the terms of the agreement mentioned in your note with the exception, nevertheless, of the final part of paragraph (b) of article I, relative to the exemption from duties for the personal property brought into Costa Rica by the American employees upon their entry for work in the central experiment station in accordance with the terms of the agreement.

Ante, p. 1368.

Ante, p. 1375.

The deletion of this part of article I was for reasons which have already been verbally explained to you. However, as the services to be rendered by the personnel of the central experiment station for the cultivation of rubber can only be considered as an effective and gratuitous collaboration by your Government for the study of a new and reproductive product of our soil, I am certain that the Minister of Public Works, in collaboration with the Minister of Finance, will find a way to accommodate the Government of the United States of America in granting exemption of customs duties for the personal effects of the American employees of the said station which they may bring into Costa Rica at the time of their arrival, on condition that the director of the experiment station certify that such personal effects will not be resold.

I am pleased to take this opportunity to renew to you the sentiments of my most distinguished consideration.

October 27 and No-

 [E. A. S. 223]

Supplementary arrangement between the United States of America and Canada respecting an additional temporary diversion for power purposes of waters of the Niagara River above the Falls. Effected by exchanges of notes signed at Washington October 27 and November 27, 1941; ratification advised by the Senate of the United States November 27, 1941; approved by the President of the United States November 27, 1941.

The Secretary of State to the Canadian Minister

WASHINGTON

October 27, 1941.

SIR:

I have the honor to refer to the exchange of notes of May 20, 1941 [1] regarding increased diversions of water for power purposes at Niagara Falls, and to conversations that have recently taken place between officials of the Governments of the United States and Canada regarding the urgent need for additional power in the Niagara Falls area.

In my note of May 20, with which you agreed on behalf of the Canadian Government, I said, in part:

“In view of the above, and having in mind assurances of engineers that there will be no material adverse effect to the scenic beauty of the Falls, I propose through this exchange of notes that for the duration of the emergency and in all events subject to reconsideration by both Governments on October 1, 1942, an additional diversion for power purposes of 5,000 cubic feet per second be utilized on the United States side of the Niagara River above the Falls. In making this proposal this Government is prepared to give assurances that no objection will be raised to an additional diversion of 3,000 cubic feet per second on the Canadian side of the Niagara River above the Falls. It is also proposed that the engineers of the two Governments be instructed to take such steps as may be necessary with a view to initiating forthwith the construction of works designed to distribute the flow of waters over the Falls in such a manner as to preserve their scenic beauty.

“Moreover, the American Government proposes that upon the entry into effect of the Agreement for the Utilization of the Water in the Great Lakes – St. Lawrence Basin signed on March 19, 1941,[2] the foregoing arrangements will be subject to the provisions of Article IX of the Agreement, and that it will be open to the Commission appointed under the provisions of the Agreement and carrying out the duties imposed upon it, to take such action as may be necessary, and as may come within the scope of the Agreement with regard to diversions at Niagara.”

I am advised by the defense authorities of this Government and by the Federal Power Commission that, notwithstanding the additional diversions authorized in May, there is now a gravely urgent need for more power in the Niagara Falls area for manufacturing vitally necessary to the United States National Defense and Lease-Lend Programs. I understand that a similar need exists on the Canadian side.

On the United States side in this area there is idle equipment which could at once utilize an additional diversion for power purposes of 7,500 cubic feet per second. I understand that, on the Canadian side, the existing equipment is in the course of normal operations fully used only in daytime hours and that, if fully used during the night hours, it could utilize an additional diversion amounting, in the daily aggregate, to 6,000 cubic feet per second.

I propose therefore that, for the duration of the emergency and in any event subject to reconsideration on October 1, 1942:—

U. S. proposal.

1. The Canadian Government will raise no objection to an additional diversion for power purposes of 7,500 cubic feet per second, in terms of the daily aggregate, through existing facilities, on the United States side of the Niagara River above the Falls, and

2. The United States Government will raise no objection to an additional diversion for power purposes of 6,000 cubic feet per second, in terms of the daily aggregate, through existing facilities, on the Canadian side of the Niagara River above the Falls.

These diversions would be subject to an operating margin of one percent of the total diversions whether authorized by this agreement or otherwise, and could be exceeded to that extent in order to provide for small excesses which may occur at times in the interest of efficient operation.

Operating margin.

Upon acceptance of these proposals by your Government, it will be even more important than it was earlier in the year to proceed with the construction, in the 1942 open season, of remedial works. The United States—St. Lawrence Advisory Committee and the Canadian Temporary Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Basin Committee (created pursuant to the Exchange of Notes of October 14, 1940) [1] should be instructed immediately by the respective Governments to concert for the purpose of jointly recommending to the two Governments—(1) the exact nature and design of the works that should be constructed in 1942, and (2) the allocation of the task of construction as between the two Governments. Upon the recommendations being accepted by the two Governments, and the acceptance notified to each other, the construction would be undertaken pursuant to the recommendations. The total cost of the works would be divided equally between the two Governments regardless of the allocation of the task of construction.

The United States Government proposes further that upon the entry into effect of the Agreement for the Utilization of the Water in the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Basin signed on March 19, 1941, the foregoing arrangements will be subject to the provisions of Article IX of the Agreement, and that it will be open to the Commission appointed under the provisions of the Agreement and carrying out the duties imposed upon it, to take such action as may be necessary, and as may come within the scope of the Agreement with regard to diversions at Niagara.^[1]

If the foregoing is acceptable to the Government of Canada, this note and your reply thereto, when approved by the Senate, will be regarded as placing on record the agreement of the two Governments concerning this matter.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Arrangement between the United States of America, Canada, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, and Mexico, comprising recommendations of the North American Regional Radio-Engineering Meeting (supplemental to North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement, Habana, 1937). Signed at Washington January 30, 1941; effective March 29, 1941.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The representatives of the Governments of Canada, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Mexico, and the United States of America, having met in Washington, D. C., United States of America, in an Engineering Conference from January 14 to 30, 1941, for the purpose of resolving, so far as possible, all conflicts arising as a result of the listings of standard broadcast stations by these Governments communicated to the interested Governments pursuant to the provisions of Part III, Section 1, Paragraph d of the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement (Habana, 1937), [1] having given appropriate recognition to the sovereign rights of all countries parties to the Agreement to the use of every channel in the standard broadcast band as provided for in Part I, Section 4 of the Agreement, and having reconciled, in their technical aspects, the conflicts which have arisen as a result of the aforementioned listings, recommend that the appropriate radio administrations of these Governments take such action as may be necessary to accomplish the following:

Ante, p. 1016.

Ante, p. 1006.

Licenses, permits,
etc.

(a) To make effective prior to March 29, 1941, such licenses, permits or authorizations as may be necessary under the laws, regulations or practices of the respective countries to place in effect the listings of broadcast stations as set forth in the appendices hereto; [2]

Installation of control apparatus.

(b) To adopt immediately adequate measures so that the crystals and associated frequency control apparatus as well as circuit tuning elements necessary for the proper operation of the stations in accordance with the listings included in the appendices hereto shall be installed prior to March 29, 1941;

Time for placing requirements in effect.

(c) To place in effect at 0800 Greenwich Mean Time (3 a. m., E. S. T.) March 29, 1941, the actual operation of broadcast stations on frequencies and at locations in accordance with the listings set forth in the appendices hereto. When a directional antenna as required has not been installed, the operating power will be restricted to a value which will not cause any objectionable interference to stations of other countries. Each administration will take the necessary measures to prevent the operation of any station not conforming with these requirements and the listings included in the appendices hereto;

² [Pp. 1407-1443. The appendices were drawn up in the English language only.]

(d) To make adequate arrangements immediately in the manner provided for in Paragraph (a) for the erection and operation of the necessary antenna system or other special construction required by the listings of the broadcast stations as set forth in the appendices hereto;

Antenna system,
etc.

(e) To refrain from making any new station assignments or changes in existing assignments as to location, power, frequency, or hours of operation, effective prior to March 29, 1941, which are not specifically for the purpose of complying with the listings of broadcast stations as set forth in the appendices hereto. This, however, does not preclude notification of additional assignments to be made effective after March 29, 1941.

Restriction on station assignments.

2. In case the operation of any station in accordance with the listings of broadcast stations as set forth in the appendices hereto may, as a result of actual measurements, be found to cause objectionable interference in excess of the amount computed in accordance with the standards set forth in the Agreement, negotiations may be instituted to reduce the interference in accordance with the appropriate technical principles thereof.

Reduction of interference.

3. The radio administrations shall communicate to each other as soon as possible through the medium of the Inter-American Radio Office (O.I.R.) complete description of the directional antennas required by the listings as set forth in the appendices hereto.

Communication of description of directional antennas.

4. The original of these Recommendations and their Appendices shall be deposited in the Ministry of State of the Republic of Cuba at Habana with the original of the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement (Habana, 1937) to which it is supplemental, and certified copies of these Recommendations shall be transmitted to the Governments through their respective delegations.

Deposit of original Recommendations and Appendices.

5. The Governments shall communicate to each other as soon as possible by telegraph and mail through the medium of the Inter-American Radio Office (O.I.R.) their acceptance of these recommendations. In the absence of any notification to the Inter-American Radio Office (O.I.R.) prior to March 1, 1941, by any Government, it will be understood that the listings of broadcast stations set forth in the appendices hereto, together with all other recommendations contained in this instrument, are approved and accepted by such Government.

Communication of acceptance.

6. Prior to March 1, 1941, no Government shall make public the listings of broadcast stations of any other Government unless the latter shall have already made its own listings public.

Restriction on publication of listings.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the respective representatives sign these Recommendations, in triplicate, one copy in English, one copy in Spanish and one copy in French, each of which shall be deposited in the archives of the Government of Cuba through the Department of State of the United States of America.

RECOMENDACIONES

1. Los representantes de los Gobiernos del Canadá, Cuba, los Estados Unidos de América, Haití, México y la República Dominicana, habiéndose reunido en Wáshington, D. C., Estados Unidos de América, en una Conferencia de Ingeniería, del 14 al 30 de enero de 1941, con el propósito de solucionar hasta donde sea posible todos los conflictos que se susciten como resultado de las listas de estaciones difusoras que funcionan en la banda normal de radiodifusión, presentadas por estos Gobiernos y comunicadas a los Gobiernos interesados, de conformidad con las disposiciones de la Parte III, Sección I, Párrafo d, del Convenio Regional Norteamericano de Radiodifusión (La Habana, 1937), y habiendo reconocido debidamente el derecho soberano que asiste a todos los países signatarios del Convenio para usar todos los canales en la banda normal de radiodifusión, en atención a lo establecido en la Parte I, Sección 4 del Convenio, y habiendo conciliado, en sus aspectos técnicos, los conflictos que se han suscitado como consecuencia de las listas antes mencionadas, recomiendan que las correspondientes administraciones de radio de esos Gobiernos dispongan lo que sea necesario para lograr lo siguiente:

(a) Poner en vigor, de acuerdo con las leyes, reglamentos o prácticas de los respectivos países, y con anterioridad al 29 de marzo de 1941, las licencias, permisos o autorizaciones que juzguen necesarias para que surtan efecto las listas de estaciones radiodifusoras, tal como constan en los apéndices de estas Recomendaciones.^{1]}

(b) Hacer inmediatamente los arreglos pertinentes a fin de que los cristales, el equipo asociado con el control de la frecuencia y los elementos para la sintonía de los circuitos, que sean necesarios para el debido funcionamiento de las estaciones, de conformidad con las listas que se incluyen como apéndices de estas Recomendaciones, estén instalados con anterioridad al 29 de marzo de 1941.

(c) Dar principio a las 0800 horas del meridiano de Greenwich (3:00 a.m., hora "standard" del este), del 29 de marzo de 1941, al funcionamiento efectivo de las estaciones radiodifusoras en las frecuencias y en las ubicaciones que se establece en las listas que se incluyen como apéndices de estas Recomendaciones. Cuando no se haya instalado una antena direccional de la manera especificada se restringirá la potencia de trabajo a un valor que no cause interferencia objetable a las estaciones de otros países. Cada administración tomará las medidas necesarias para evitar el funcionamiento de cualquier estación que no haya cumplido con estos requisitos y con las listas que se incluyen como apéndices de estas Recomendaciones.

(d) Hacer inmediatamente los arreglos pertinentes, de la manera prevista en el párrafo (a), para que se instalen y funcionen cualquier sistema de antenas que sea necesario u otra construcción especial exigida por las listas de estaciones radiodifusoras, tal como constan en los apéndices de estas Recomendaciones.

(e) Abstenerse de otorgar cualquier asignación a nueva estación o de efectuar cambios en las existentes en cuanto se refiere a ubicación, potencia, frecuencia u horas de funcionamiento que entren en vigor con anterioridad al 29 de marzo de 1941 y que no tengan por objeto específico cumplir con lo dispuesto en las listas de estaciones radiodifusoras, tal como constan en los apéndices de estas Recomendaciones. Esto, sin embargo, no impide que se hagan notificaciones de asignaciones adicionales que hayan de tener efecto después del 29 de marzo de 1941.

2. En el caso de que el funcionamiento de cualquiera estación de acuerdo con las listas de estaciones radiodifusoras, tal como constan en los apéndices de estas Recomendaciones, pueda, como resultado de mediciones reales, causar interferencia objetable en exceso del valor computado de acuerdo con las normas establecidas en el Convenio, se podrán iniciar negociaciones para reducir la interferencia de conformidad con los principios técnicos apropiados que se indican en el mismo Convenio.

3. Las administraciones de radio se comunicarán mutuamente, a la mayor brevedad posible, por intermedio de la Oficina Interamericana de Radio (O.I.R.) descripciones completas de las antenas direccionales exigidas por las listas que se incluyen como apéndices de estas Recomendaciones.

4. RECOMMANDATIONS

1. Les représentants des Gouvernements du Canada, de Cuba, de la République Dominicaine, d'Haïti, du Mexique et des Etats-Unis d'Amérique, s'étant réunis à Washington, D. C., Etats-Unis d'Amérique, du 14 au 30 janvier, 1941, en un Congrès d'Ingénieurs, dans le but de résoudre autant que possible tous les conflits résultant de l'attribution, par ces Gouvernements, de stations de radiodiffusion dans la bande normale, lesquelles attributions sont notifiées aux Gouvernements intéressés en vertu des dispositions de la Partie III, Section 1, Paragraphe d de l'Accord Régional Nord-américain sur la Radiodiffusion (La Havane, 1937); ayant dûment reconnu le droit souverain de tous les pays parties à l'Accord d'employer toutes les voies de la bande normale de radiodiffusion, ainsi qu'il est prévu dans la 1^{ère} Partie, Section 4 de l'Accord; et ayant reconcilié les aspects techniques des conflits survenus par suite des attributions susmentionnées, recommandent que les administrations compétentes de la T. S. F. de ces Gouvernements prennent les mesures nécessaires en vue d'obtenir le résultat suivant:

(a) La mise en vigueur, avant le 29 mars, 1941, des licences, permis ou autorisations exigés par la législation, les règlements ou la pratique des pays respectifs, pour l'entrée en vigueur des attributions de stations de radiodiffusion figurant dans les Appendices aux présentes Recommandations; [1]

(b) L'adoption immédiate des mesures nécessaires pour que soient installés avant le 29 mars, 1941, les cristaux et les dispositifs connexes pour le contrôle des fréquences, ainsi que les éléments d'accordage des circuits, nécessaires au fonctionnement efficace des stations en conformité des attributions figurant dans les Appendices aux présentes Recommandations;

(d) L'adoption immédiate des mesures nécessaires, ainsi qu'il est prévu à l'alinéa (a), pour la réalisation et l'emploi des systèmes d'antennes requis et des autres constructions spéciales rendues nécessaires par les attributions de stations figurant dans les Appendices aux présentes Recommandations;

(e) Ne pas faire de nouvelles attributions de stations ni de modifications des attributions actuelles quant à l'emplacement, la puissance, la fréquence ou les heures de travail, devant entrer en vigueur avant le 29 mars, 1941, à moins que ces attributions ou modifications ne soient faites expressément dans le but de les rendre conformes aux attributions de stations figurant dans les Appendices aux présentes Recommandations. Toutefois, ceci n'empêche pas la notification des attributions additionnelles devant entrer en vigueur après le 29 mars, 1941.

3. Les administrations de la T.S.F. se communiqueront aussitôt que possible par l'intermédiaire d[un] Bureau Interaméricain de la T.S.F. (O.I.R.) une description complète des antennes directionnelles requises par les attributions figurant dans les Appendices aux présentes Recommandations.

4. L'original des présentes Recommandations et leurs Appendices seront déposés au Ministère d'Etat de la République de Cuba, à la Havane, avec l'original de l'Accord Régional Nord-américain sur la Radiodiffusion (la Havane, 1937) dont il est le complément, et des copies certifiées conformes de ces Recommandations seront transmises aux Gouvernements par l'intermédiaire de leurs délégations respectives.

5. Les Gouvernements se communiqueront aussitôt que possible, par télégraphie et par la poste, et par l'intermédiaire du Bureau Interaméricain de la T. S. F. (O. I. R.) leur acceptation des présentes Recommandations. Si un Gouvernement quelconque ne fait aucune notification, avant le premier mars, 1941, au Bureau Interaméricain de la T.S.F. (O.I.R.), il sera entendu que ce Gouvernement approuve et accepte les attributions de stations de radiodiffusion figurant dans les Appendices aux présentes Recommandations, ainsi que toutes les autres recommandations y contenues.

6. Aucun Gouvernement ne publiera, avant le 1^{er} mars, 1941, les attributions de stations de radiodiffusion d'un autre Gouvernement, à moins que ce dernier ne les ait lui-même déjà publiées.

EN FOI DE QUOI les représentants respectifs signent les présentes Recommandations en trois exemplaires rédigés respectivement dans les langues française, anglaise et espagnole, lesquels seront déposés aux archives du Gouvernement de Cuba, par l'intermédiaire du Département d'Etat des Etats-Unis d'Amérique.

This assignment is agreed to between the United States and Canada as listed. Canada agrees to interpose no objection to an increase in the operating power of WFIL to 5kw with the radiation to Kirkland Lake on the bearing 338 degrees not to exceed 392 mv/m unattenuated at one mile (that produced by a nondirectional 5kw station having 175 mv/m at one mile for 1kw). It is further agreed that the frequency 1220 kc will not be assigned within the United States for a reasonable time to permit assignment of CJKL to this frequency if the station should so elect. If subsequent investigations indicate the frequency 560 kc to be more desirable and CJKL elects to remain on this channel under the aforementioned conditions, further use of the frequency 1220 kc in the northeastern portion of North America will be the subject of further negotiations on the basis of established priorities.

XEBZ	Mexico, D.F.	500	DA	II
	Class II assignment with 500 watts in Mexico, D.F., on the clear channel 660 kilocycles, occupied by WEAJ, a Class I-A station in the United States, acceptable subject to directional antenna to protect the border of the United States in accordance with the engineering standards of the Treaty. It is recognized, under Part II, Section F, of the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement, that "the engineering standards set forth in this Agreement are subject to revision when justified by technical advances in the art" and that advances in the art of designing directional antennas permit reduction of the safety distance of 650 miles provided by Part II, C, Article 4 (b) of the Agreement to 400 miles when the propagation will take place over mountainous regions near the station and will not take place over seawater or along ideal paths between the Class II station and border of the country to which the Class I-A station on the channel is assigned, and when the most modern engineering development of antenna design and antenna control are utilized to avoid and prevent interference. Accordingly, the United States, in spite of its priority and other rights of use for a Class I-A station on this frequency, agrees to this revision of the safety distance of 650 miles provided by Part II, C, Article 4 (b) solely for stations installed in Mexico City and its contiguous area, it being understood that the permissible interfering signal from such Mexican stations shall not at any time exceed the values specified in Table I of Appendix II of the Agreement and that the United States may at any future time exercise its other rights under the Agreement with respect to the use of this frequency, without regard to any priorities resulting from the establishment of such Mexican stations.

This assignment is agreed to between the United States and Canada as listed. Canada agrees to interpose no objection to an increase in the operating power of WFIL to 5kw with the radiation to Kirkland Lake on the bearing 338 degrees not to exceed 392 mv/m unattenuated at one mile (that produced by a nondirectional 5kw station having 175 mv/m at one mile for 1kw). It is further agreed that the frequency 1220 kc will not be assigned within the United States for a reasonable time to permit assignment of CJKL to this frequency if the station should so elect. If subsequent investigations indicate the frequency 560 kc to be more desirable and CJKL elects to remain on this channel under the aforementioned conditions, further use of the frequency 1220 kc in the north-eastern portion of North America will be the subject of further negotiations on the basis of established priorities.

For the Secretary of State of the United States of America:

EDWARD YARDLEY
Director of Personnel

March 17 and June 6
and 17, 1941
[E. A. S. 228]

Arrangement between the United States of America and Canada respecting joint committees on economic cooperation. Effected by aide-mémoire dated March 17 and June 6 and 17, 1941.

The Canadian Legation to the Department of State

MARCH 17TH, 1941.

AIDE-MEMOIRE

The Canadian Government have been giving consideration to the military, economic and social problems which are likely to arise in Canada unless steps are taken to examine the possibility of arranging for co-operation between the war-expanded industries of Canada and the United States or for their co-ordination or integration. It is the belief of the Canadian Government that the promotion of economy and efficiency during the present period of crisis, the solution of the problems which will be posed during the period of transition from war to peace, and adequate and effective provision for the continuing requirements of hemispheric defence, all demand that early and detailed study be given to this question. Such a study might include an examination of the possibility and advisability of preventing duplication and mutually injurious competition by arranging for co-operation between the two countries in the further definition of all strategic, critical and essential war materials, and in the establishment of stock piles of certain of them.

In the opinion of the Canadian Government, the present channels of communication between Ottawa and Washington do not provide adequate facilities for the detailed consideration of so complicated and technical a subject. It is for this reason that the Canadian Government have decided to approach the Government of the United States with the proposal which is outlined in the attached memorandum. [1] This memorandum was recently submitted to the War Committee of the Canadian Cabinet and received the approval of that body.

The Canadian Government attach great importance to the proposal. If it is accepted by the Government of the United States, they consider it desirable that an early start should be made by the Joint Committees of Inquiry, since the tasks to be assigned to them will inevitably involve protracted study. It is intended that the duties of the Committees should be strictly confined to investigation, study and report, and that decisions as to any action that may be required should be taken by the respective Governments after the Committees' reports have been presented.

CANADIAN LEGATION,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
H. W.

MEMORANDUM ON ECONOMIC COOPERATION WITH THE UNITED STATES

Pursuant to the approval of the War Committee of the Cabinet, on the recommendation of the Wartime Requirements Board, that a memorandum be drafted on a plan for exploring the possibility of a greater degree of economic cooperation with the United States in the war effort and in anticipating post-war economic consequences, we beg to submit the following:

1. The Problem

The objects of the proposal for increased economic cooperation with the United States are:

- (a) to effect a more economic, more efficient, and more co-ordinated utilization of the combined resources of the two countries in the production of war requirements, and
- (b) to minimize the probable post-war economic disequilibrium consequent upon the changes which the economy in each country is presently undergoing.

2. Joint Committees of Inquiry

We recommend that, for purposes of preliminary study, an informal committee of three persons be appointed by each Government. These committees should separately and collectively analyze the problems involved and report thereon as well as on the form of a more permanent organization, if the necessity of such an organization arises from their report. The reports should be made to the President of the United States, and to the Prime Minister of Canada, respectively.

Of the three members of the Canadian committee, we recommend that at least two be designated by the Department of Munitions and Supply, and one by the Department of Finance. In addition to these three members, it is suggested that a liaison officer, representing the Department of External Affairs, should be appointed in order that the Secretary of State for External Affairs may be kept closely in touch with the activities of the committee. It is assumed that the United States will wish to appoint a similar liaison officer from the State Department, in order that the Secretary of State may be kept similarly informed. It is not intended that the liaison officers should be members of the committee or should participate in its work.

We desire to stress the importance of care being exercised in the selection of the personnel of the committee, having due regard to its functions which will involve a great deal of research and analysis.

3. Subject Matter of Study

We recommend that the Joint Committees of Inquiry explore the following subjects and report thereon:

- (a) The making of an inventory of the available supplies of materials in each country, an analysis of the probable needs for them, and the allocation of these materials between the two countries, with due regard to the necessary priorities;

(b) The policy of building up inventories of strategic or critical materials, such as rubber, tin, and steel alloys, and the amounts to be accumulated in each country, with special regard to materials of which the supply might be cut off because of unfavourable developments;

(c) The possibility, in some degree, of each country specializing in the production of finished and semi-finished articles which it can produce more economically and to greater advantage;

(d) The possibility, in some degree, of each country specializing in the production of materials; e. g., chemicals, steel, aluminum, brass, zinc, etc., etc., which it can produce more economically and to greater advantage.

(e) The most economic and efficient use of the shipping and port facilities of the two countries;

(f) The available power supply and the supply of coal and oil in each country;

(g) The exchange of technical knowledge relating to production, and the exchange of technicians between the two countries.

(h) Coordination of priority policies in each country.

(i) The exchange of information relating to the requirements of labour, materials and plant for production, and of current information relating to actual and anticipated production.

Subject to the approval of the Minister of Munitions and Supply, the committees might also consider the allocation of the output of machine tools in the two countries, and the specialization on machine tool production in each country.

The Department of State to the Canadian Legation

AIDE-MEMOIRE

The Government of the United States has given careful and sympathetic consideration to the suggestion made by the Canadian Government in its Aide-Memoire dated March 17th, 1941, transmitted to the Department of State through the Canadian Legation at Washington. Note has been taken of the belief of the Canadian Government that early and detailed study should be given to the possibility of arranging for cooperation between the war-expanded industries of Canada and the United States, or for their coordination or integration; and also of the belief of the Canadian Government that such a study might assist in promoting economy and efficiency during the present period of crisis, and during the period of transition from war to peace, and also in connection with the continuing requirements of hemispheric defense.

The Government of the United States agrees with the Canadian Government that present channels of communication between Ottawa and Washington would not provide adequate facilities for detailed consideration of certain of the subjects presented in the Aide Memoire of March 17th under reference, as further developed by the Memorandum on Economic Cooperation with the United States attached thereto. Developments occurring subsequent to the date of that note have, however, taken care of certain of the problems dealt with in the note under reference. More especially, direct contact has already been established between the officials of the Government of the United States and of the Government of Canada charged with priorities, and with production of war material. It would accordingly appear that a number of the topics mentioned in the "Memorandum on Economic Cooperation with the United States" are already being dealt with.

It is not considered desirable to entrust to the proposed committees jurisdiction over these specific contacts already established, except as the committees may from time to time, from their knowledge of the situation, feel it desirable to make recommendations.

The long range aspects of the problem, both those during the present emergency and those comprehended in the numbered paragraph (b) of the Aide-Memoire under reference, do not appear to be covered by existing arrangements.

Recognizing that the suggestion made by the Canadian Government has great importance, the Government of the United States agrees that joint committees of inquiry should be appointed to explore, subject to the foregoing observations, the possibility of a greater degree of economic cooperation between Canada and the United States,

"(a) To effect a more economic, more efficient and more coordinated utilization of the combined resources of the two countries in the production of defense requirements" (to the extent that this is not now being done); and

"(b) To minimize the probable post-war economic disequilibrium consequent upon the changes which the economy in each country is presently undergoing."

To that end the Government of the United States has tentatively designated the following Committee: Mr. William L. Batt; Mr. Harry D. White; Professor Alvin H. Hansen; and Mr. E. Dana Durand.

If acceptable to the Canadian Government, the Government of the United States proposes to reserve the right to name Mr. A. A. Berle, Jr. to sit with the committees from time to time, as occasion may render desirable; and it is prepared to name Mr. L. D. Stinebower as liaison officer in order that the Secretary of State may be kept closely in touch with the activities of the committees.

The Government of the United States believes that the joint committees of inquiry should be given latitude to add to the specific list contained in the memorandum submitted by the Canadian Government such other topics as may appear properly to fall within the terms of reference implicit in the statement of the problem to be explored.

It is understood that the Canadian Government is prepared to appoint its committee of inquiry. Upon notification of the appointment of such committee, the Government of the United States will be happy to have it proceed to Washington, and to make arrangements permitting prompt undertaking of the work.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, June 6, 1941

The Canadian Legation to the Department of State

AIDE MEMOIRE

The Government of Canada have learned with satisfaction that the Government of the United States are prepared to participate in the Economic Enquiry which was the subject of the Canadian Legation's aide memoire of March 17th, 1941, and of the Department of State's reply of June 6th, 1941. They are in general agreement with the proposals outlined in the Department of State's aide memoire of June 6th.

The Government of Canada have designated the following Committee:

Designation of Canadian Committee.

- Mr. R. A. C. Henry, Economics Adviser to the Minister of Munitions and Supply;
- Professor W. A. Mackintosh, Special Assistant to the Deputy Minister of Finance;
- Mr. D. A. Skelton, Chief of the Research Department, Bank of Canada; and
- Mr. J. G. Bouchard, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

If it is acceptable to the Government of the United States, the Government of Canada propose that the arrangement whereby the Honourable A. A. Berle, Jr., should meet with the Committees from time to time as occasion may render desirable should be extended likewise to Mr. H. L. Keenleyside of the Department of External Affairs. It is also proposed to designate a Canadian Liaison Officer in order that the Secretary of State for External Affairs may be kept directly informed of the work of the Committees; the name of the person so designated will be notified shortly.

CANADIAN LEGATION,
WASHINGTON, D. C.,

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS it is provided in the Tariff Act of 1930 of the Congress of the United States of America, as amended by the Act of June 12, 1934, entitled "AN ACT To amend the Tariff Act of 1930" (48 Stat. 943), which amending Act was extended by Joint Resolutions of Congress, approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24) and April 12, 1940 (54 Stat. 107), as follows:

19 U. S. C. §§ 1351-1354.

"Sec. 350. (a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and for such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part.

“(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the application, with respect to rates of duty established under this section pursuant to agreements with countries other than Cuba, of the provisions of the treaty of commercial reciprocity concluded between the United States and the Republic of Cuba on December 11, 1902, or to preclude giving effect to an exclusive agreement with Cuba concluded under this section, modifying the existing preferential customs treatment of any article the growth, produce, or manufacture of Cuba: Provided, That the duties payable on such an article shall in no case be increased or decreased by more than 50 per centum of the duties now payable thereon.”

33 Stat. 2136.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, an exclusive and preferential Trade Agreement was entered into between the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba on August 24, 1934, [1] which Agreement I did make public by my proclamation of August 24, 1934;

WHEREAS, pursuant to the said Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, a supplementary Trade Agreement, and an accompanying Protocol, were entered into on December 18, 1939 [2] to supplement and amend the said Trade Agreement of August 24, 1934 between the two countries;

54 Stat. 2014.

WHEREAS I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, have found as a fact that certain existing duties and other import restrictions of the United States of America and the Republic of Cuba are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States of America and that the purpose declared in the above-quoted provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,

MINISTERIO DE ESTADO
 La Habana, 23 de diciembre de 1941.

EXCELENCIA:

Tengo el honor de referirme a las estipulaciones del convenio comercial suplementario entre nuestros dos países firmado hoy en La Habana, que establece un tipo de derechos reducidos sobre azúcar de origen cubano que se importe en los Estados Unidos de América.

Con vista de la vital importancia que las exportaciones de azúcar tienen para la economía de Cuba, y de la posición predominante de los Estados Unidos como mercado para el azúcar de Cuba, mi Gobierno desea que se considere lo grave de la posibilidad de que se adopten en los Estados Unidos de América, en cualquier tiempo, medidas que pudieran afectar adversamente la situación de Cuba como abastecedora de azúcar al mercado de los Estados Unidos, en comparación con las que se establecen en las estipulaciones de la Ley Azucarera de 1937, ya que mi Gobierno estima que tales medidas anularían los fines de este Convenio y de las relaciones comerciales existentes.

Habría de apreciar recibir de Vuestra Excelencia las seguridades que sean apropiadas con respecto a este asunto.

Aprovecho esta oportunidad para renovar a Vuestra Excelencia las seguridades de mi más alta consideración.

MINISTRY OF STATE
Habana, December 23, 1941.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to refer to the provisions of the supplementary trade agreement between our two countries signed at Habana this day, which establishes a reduced rate of duty on sugar of Cuban origin imported into the United States.

In view of the vital importance of sugar exports to the economy of Cuba, and of the predominant position of the United States as a market for Cuban sugar, my Government desires that consideration be given to the gravity of the possibility of the adoption of measures at any time in the United States which might adversely affect the position of Cuba as a supplier of sugar for the United States market, as compared with those established by the provisions of the Sugar Act of 1937, inasmuch as my Government considers that such measures would nullify the objectives of this agreement and of the existing commercial relations.

I should appreciate receiving from Your Excellency such assurances in this regard as may be appropriate.

I take this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

Minister of State

His Excellency

GEORGE S. MESSERSMITH,
*Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America,
Habana, Cuba.*

The Ambassador to the Minister of State

EMBASSY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Habana, December 23, 1941.

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note referring to the tariff concession granting a reduced rate of duty on sugar of Cuban origin provided for by the supplementary trade agreement between our two countries signed at Habana this day, expressing preoccupation regarding the position of Cuban sugar in the United States market, and requesting assurances in this regard.

I have the honor to state that I am directed by my Government to assure Your Excellency that the interest of your Government in maintaining the position of the Republic of Cuba as a supplier of sugar for the United States market, at least in the same proportion as provided for in the Sugar Act of 1937, which is considered of vital importance to the maintenance of the existing economic relations between both countries, is fully appreciated, and that therefore my Government will make at all times every appropriate and possible effort to safeguard that position.

It is understood that this exchange of notes constitutes an integral part of the supplementary trade agreement signed this day.

Please accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

GEORGE S. MESSERSMITH

of America*

Agreement between the United States of America and El Salvador respecting the exchange of official publications. Effected by exchange of notes signed November 21 and 27, 1941; effective November 27, 1941.

The American Minister to the Salvadoran Minister of Foreign Affairs

No. 851 LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
San Salvador, November 21, 1941

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of Your Excellency's note no. A. 710 D. 2451 of November 14, 1941, [1] with regard to the proposed agreement between our respective Governments for the exchange of their official publications.

My Government now proposes that the agreement be made on a scale less extensive than that envisaged in our earlier correspondence on the subject. It is accordingly suggested that the Government of the United States furnish two partial sets of the official publications of the United States Government, one to be deposited with Your Excellency's Ministry and the second in the Biblioteca Nacional at San Salvador, provided that it is agreeable to Your Excellency's Government to furnish regularly to the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., two copies of its official publications.

A revised list of the publications which can be furnished regularly by my Government is enclosed.[2]

I shall be grateful for an expression of Your Excellency's views on this proposal, for communication to my Government.

I avail myself of the opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest and most distinguished consideration.

The use of the frequency 500 kc shall be limited, in consequence, to danger signals, urgency calls, the requirements of safety, calls and answers thereto and the transmission of brief and single radiotelegrams.

54 Stat. 1525.

ARTICLE 4.

Frequency Tolerances

(1) Technical progress in the matter of frequency stabilization is such that it is possible for all stations to keep themselves within the tolerances specified in Appendix 1 to the General Radio Regulations of Cairo. (Table of Frequency Tolerances);

54 Stat. 1589.

(2) The Table of Frequency Tolerances of the General Radio Regulations is adopted;

(3) The Administrations will promote through their responsible centers the fullest exchange of information concerning stations deviating excessively from their assigned frequency; such data to be transmitted with the greatest possible expedition in order that immediate corrective measures may be undertaken while the transmitting apparatus is in difficulty.

(4) As between the countries of South America, the interchange of data shall be carried out in accordance with the provisions of the South American Radiocommunications Agreement.

ARTICLE 5.

(2) The participating Governments agree to require stations under their jurisdiction to use transmitters which are as free as practicable from all spurious emissions.

(3) These radiations should not be of sufficient intensity to cause interference on receiving sets of modern design which are tuned outside the frequency band of emission required for the type of emission employed. In the case of type A-3 emission¹ (radiotelephony), the transmitter should not be modulated in excess of its modulation capability to the extent that interfering spurious radiations occur and in the case of amplitude modulation the operation percentage of modulation should not be less than 75 percent on peaks of frequent recurrence. Adequate means should be employed to insure that the transmitter is not modulated in excess of its modulation capability.

(4) A non-essential radiation is any radiation from a transmitter which is out-side the frequency band of emission normal for the type of transmission employed, including any harmonic modulation products, key clicks, parasitic oscillations or other transient effects.

ARTICLE 6.

Suppression of Interference caused by Electrical Apparatus

The American countries shall adopt measures to suppress or alleviate, as much as possible, interference caused by apparatus or equipment which may generate, or radiate radio frequency currents capable of interfering with, or adversely affecting, the reception of radio transmissions. (See Annex No. 1).^[1]

ARTICLE 7.

International Police Services

1.— When the signatory countries authorize their police stations which are located in close proximity to the national boundaries of contiguous countries to transmit emergency information with similar stations of another country, the following rules shall be applied:

Rules.

a) Only police stations located close to the boundaries of contiguous countries shall be allowed to engage in this exchange of information.

b) In general, only important police messages are to be handled, such as those which would lose their value due to slowness and time limitations of other communication systems.

c) The frequencies to be used in radiotelephone communications with mobile police units shall not be used for radiotelegraph communications.

d) Whenever the exchange of radiotelephone communications is authorized, these communications shall be made on the frequencies assigned to the respective stations for radiotelephone service.

e) If the exchange of radiotelegraph communications is authorized, these communications shall be made on the following frequencies:

2804 Calling	5195 Day calling
2808 Working	5135 Day working
2812 Working	5140 Day working

Notifications.

f) Notifications concerning the particulars of stations engaged in international police service shall be forwarded to the Bureau of International Telecommunications Union, Berne, Switzerland, in order that all stations desiring to intercommunicate may be kept informed of the details concerning their operations.

54 Stat. 1507.

g) This service shall, in general, conform with the provisions of Article 17 of the Cairo Radio Regulations.

Abbreviations.

54 Stat. 1621.

h) Full use shall be made of the list of abbreviations appearing in Appendix 11 to the Cairo Radio Regulations. Plain language shall not be used if abbreviations will suffice. Service indications are as follows: "P", priority, for messages that are to be sent immediately, regardless of the number of other messages on file. If no service indication is given the messages are to be transmitted in the order of receipt.

Composition of message.

i) The message shall contain the preamble, text, and signature, as follows:

(1) Preamble.— The preamble of the message shall consist of the following: the serial number preceded by the letter "NR"; service indications as appropriate; check (this is the group count according to standard cable count system); the letter "CK" followed by numerals indicating the number of words contained in the text of the message; office and country of origin (not abbreviated), day of month and month, hour or filing and address.

(2) Text.— The text may be either in plain language or code.

(3) Signature.— The signature shall include the name and title of the person originating the message.

Amateur Third Part Messages

The American countries, with the purpose of further improving the close and friendly relations existing between the peoples of America, and when their internal legislation permits, agree that amateur radio stations in their respective countries and possessions may internationally exchange messages emanating from third parties; provided, however, that such messages shall be of a character that would not normally be sent by any other existing means of electrical communications and on which no compensation may be directly or indirectly paid.

ARTICLE 9.

Effective Date, Adherence and Denunciation

The present Agreement will enter into effect the first day of July, nineteen hundred and forty, for the countries which may have approve it, but also remains open for the adherence of any other American country.

Any country which may wish to withdraw must denounce it with a notice of at least one year in advance.

Approvals, adherences and denunciations must be communicated through diplomatic channels to the Government of Chile which will transmit them to the other interested Governments.

In witness whereof, the respective delegates have signed copies of this instrument, one each in Spanish, English, Portuguese and French,¹ to be deposited in the archives of the Government of Chile, which shall forward an authenticated copy thereof in each language to the other contracting Governments.

DECLARATIONS

I

STATEMENT WITH REGARD TO THE INTER-AMERICAN RADIOCOMMUNICATION CONVENTION.

THE SECOND INTER-AMERICAN RADIO CONFERENCE, in considering the propositions presented by some of the governments there represented and intended to introduce reforms in the Convention subscribed at Havana, Cuba, in December, 1937, formulates the following:

54 Stat. 2514.

That it confirms fully the authority of the Conference to modify, in whole or in part, the Convention, within the limitations imposed thereby, and by the accompanying Regulation;

That, with the object of avoiding improvisations in codified instruments, the proposals providing for reform of the Convention must be studied carefully and sufficiently in advance;

That in accordance with such a principle, all the propositions presented at the present Conference will be referred for consideration to the next Conference, which must render a decision concerning them;

That any new proposal for reform of the Convention must be referred to the following Conference, at least six months before the corresponding sessions commence, with a brief statement regarding the reasons;

That notwithstanding the principles enunciated, it recognizes the immediate necessity of making the following clarifications with regard to the Convention:

Article 6: It is recognized, in this article, that the consultative character of the O. I. R. is not such as to authorize an initiative in consultations and reports, but only such as to permit it to effect the exchange of data and to facilitate consultations which the American countries may arrange among themselves, and always provided that they deem it desirable to do so through it as intermediary.

Article 7: It is recognized that the extent of the powers of the O. I. R. is limited to the work of the conferences themselves, and to the work growing out of these conferences. The O. I. R., which is obviously an exchange office, may not interpret or take the initiative in the application of the Convention, Agreement, or Recommendations.

Article 7 of Annex No. 2: It is recognized that any government may change the category in which it appears, in which case the change will become effective in the annual period following that in which notification is given.

This declaration will be included in the Final Act of the Second Inter-American Radio Conference.

II

UNIFORMITY OF TIME AND TIME SIGNALS IN THE AMERICAN CONTINENT.

The Second Inter-American Radiocommunications Conference would view with approval the adoption of Standard Zone Time by the American countries which have not already done so, with the hope that such may be accomplished within a reasonable period, and that at the same time there will be adopted a uniform code system for broadcasting radio time signals.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Second Inter-American Radio Conference recommends to the American countries:

I

SHORT-WAVE BROADCASTING

With the purpose of reaching an agreement for the more efficient use of short-wave channels in the frequency bands assigned to broadcasting, between 6000 and 28000 kc, the Second Inter-American Radio Conference, taking into account existing high-frequency broadcasting conditions throughout the world, recommends that those American countries which have not yet done so, reorganize their short-wave broadcasting services, using as a basis for this, the most modern and efficient standards of radio technique.

Based upon the results obtained in the course of these studies in each country, the next Inter-American Conference will be in a position to make recommendations for allocations which will provide for the requirements of each country of the Americas, proceeding later, at an International Conference, to incorporate them in the world allocation structure.

II

ESTABLISHMENT OF MONITORING STATIONS

To comply with Articles 13 and 14 of the Inter-American Radiocommunications Convention concerning the checking of frequencies by means of the establishment of monitoring stations in each country and the direct exchange of the corresponding technical information between the Governments or between these monitoring stations, according to the Administrative procedure of each country.

53 Stat. 1596, 1597.

FREEDOM OF RADIOCOMMUNICATIONS

That, in order further to improve the friendly relations already existing between the American nations, they reaffirm reciprocally, the legitimate principle of freedom in radiocommunications authorized to supply a public service, in conformity with the existing legislation of the several countries and with international agreements on the subject.

IV

EXCHANGE OF BROADCAST PROGRAM SCHEDULES

It is recommended that authorized radiobroadcasting organizations of the interested countries, exchange, sufficiently in advance, programs of their broadcasts, especially all those relating to important national or international events. In this case, it is recommended that telegraph or telephone be utilized, if necessary, to thus assure receipt with sufficient time for appropriate publicity and its retransmission, as far as possible.

V

STATION IDENTIFICATION FOR S.W. BROADCASTING STATIONS

It is recommended that those American countries which wish to do so, identify the distinctive calls of shortwave broadcasting stations by means of letters of the alphabet and numerals. Such identification may consist of two or more letters which may be followed by one or more numbers, indicating the frequency of transmission.

If possible, preference should be given to the use of three letters and three or four numerals. In this case, the first two letters will identify the country, the third letter the city or district, and the numerals, the frequency in kilocycles per second, eliminating the final figure.

It is further recommended that this identification be transmitted in the English, Spanish, Portuguese and French languages.

VI

INTERCHANGE OF METEOROLOGICAL INFORMATION.

Considering:

- 1.- That to date it has not been possible to achieve an effective coordination between all the countries of America for the purpose of exchanging synoptic meteorological information;
- 2.- That in order to obtain such a result it is indispensable to coordinate meteorological and radioelectric services;

it is recommended:

- a) that, at the time the joint meetings of the Regional III and IV Commissions of Meteorology are held in Washington in 1941, there be included also technical representation of official radioelectric organizations in order to establish a definite Inter-American plan for centralizing and exchanging meteorological reports and other related data;
- b) that, with six months anticipation, the radioelectric organizations send the forementioned regional commissions information relative to available radiocommunication facilities in accordance with the questionnaire annexed hereto, and also any other data of possible interest in order to guide the preliminary work of the joint meetings;
- c) that the Government of Chile advise the Regional Commissions III and IV of the above recommendations.

QUESTIONNAIRE FOR THE COORDINATION OF METEOROLOGICAL INFORMATION TRANSMISSIONS.

Question	Immediate Possibilities	Future Prospects
1.- Number of radio transmitters and schedule of time available
2.- Location of transmitters
3.- Frequency bands available in each transmitter
4.- Working frequencies of the transmitters (include all frequencies available for this service)
5.- Kind of frequency control (crystal, etc.) and class of emission (A1, A2, A3)
6.- Effective power in antenna of the transmitters
7.- How many simultaneous transmissions can be made with equipment available.
8.- How many different frequencies can be received simultaneously
9.- The time (G.M.T.) at which it will be possible to begin daily transmissions of synoptic observations of 12, 18 and 23 or 24 o'clock G.M.T.
10.- Maximum time required for the transmission of the observations of No. 9.

(1) Indicate approximate date of accomplishment.

VII

ROUTE FREQUENCIES PROVIDED BY THE GENERAL RADIO REGULATIONS.

- a) That every effort be made to shift at the earliest practicable moment the aeronautical mobile services of the air routes to those frequencies which were allocated by the Cairo General Radio Regulations for these particular routes.
- b) that the Cairo Inter-American route frequencies be not employed within national boundaries except wherein required for services to the air routes between the countries of the Americas.
- c) that all of the installations at present available for the needs of the security of Inter-American flights should be maintained in effect until replaced or no longer required because of other adequate provisions.

54 Stat. 1417.

VIII

ADDITIONAL FREQUENCIES BELOW 6000 KC REQUIRED FOR INTER-CONTINENTAL AIR ROUTES

- a) That, insofar as possible, all the American countries should select the same frequencies for use throughout any given Inter-American route;
- b) that short distance frequencies be provided to supplement the long distance frequencies assigned by the General Radio Regulations to the Inter-continental air routes in order to insure aeronautical route communications at all distances.

- c) that there be provided adequate frequencies for local aeronautical communications at route terminals and intermediate airports.
- d) that it be permitted, in the meantime, to continue the use of the frequencies 5692.5, 5405, 3082.5, 2870 and 1638 kc which are actually assigned to aircraft and aeronautical stations on the Inter-American route.

IX

AIR-GROUND COMMUNICATIONS

Considering:

- 1.- that it is essential to institute a security organization (which may involve coordination between various agencies, both government and non-government in nature) comprising services for radio-communication, radio-guidance, traffic control and the safe-guarding of aircraft;
- 2.- that it will result in confusion if a multiplicity of ground aeronautical stations at one time take on the responsibility of communications concerning the security of a given aircraft, and that this will also result in radio disturbances;
- 3.- that under certain conditions it may be difficult to keep watch simultaneously on more than one radio frequency on board aircraft;
- 4.- that it is necessary to economize in the number of frequencies employed and in their use;

it is recommended:

- a) that each of the various air traffic lanes which can be considered as constituting an Inter-American air route, in the sense in which this expression is defined for the distribution of the radio frequencies in the General Radio Regulations of Cairo, be divided into sectors of control, each sector being allocated to a station serving such route;
- b) that, in principle, the boundary of a sector of control is the middle of the distance separating the station to which such sector is allocated, from the station controlling the following sector of the same lane;
- c) that, for a given flight, the exact point where the transfer of communications control from one station to the next will be effected is determined by an agreement between the ground stations concerned, and the aircraft.

X

POINT-TO-POINT COMMUNICATIONS OF THE AERONAUTICAL SERVICES

Considering:

- 1.- that the establishment of sectors of control might necessitate the employment of a rapid and adequate fixed communications service between control stations;

- 2.- that it might happen that frequencies allocated to routes by the General Radio Regulations of Cairo do not permit of insuring the necessary volume of traffic between fixed points, as well as all the essential communications with aircraft;
- 3.- that the aeronautical services are not prohibited by the General Radio Regulations to use frequencies in the bands allocated to the fixed services for communication between fixed points.

54 Stat. 1417.

it is recommended:

- a) that a rapid and effective radio communications service be established between control stations of the same lane, either between adjacent stations on the one hand, or between terminal stations on the other. For this purpose, at least two series of frequencies will have to be provided according to the distances to be covered and for day and night operations;
- b) that long distance communications between control stations be strictly reduced to the exchange of messages relating to the security of aircraft and to the regularity of flights;
- c) that each government examine the possibility of providing for the use of fixed service aeronautical stations, suitable frequencies in the bands allocated to the fixed services, which will insure a rapid transmission of the traffic necessary to control stations with which a direct radio communication will be required. The frequencies found to be available as a result of this examination will be placed at the disposal of all. It is expected that the contribution of each country of the frequencies will be proportionate in number to its interest in the service.
- d) that transmissions made by a special aeronautical station and intended for reception by one or more other such stations serving long trans-oceanic air routes and situated at distances appropriate to the propagation characteristics of the frequency band in use at a given time, shall be conducted on the same radio frequency.
- e) that frequencies allocated to routes or frequencies chosen for aeronautical fixed service should not be employed for meteorological messages which might be broadcast more economically in general broadcasts or by other means;
- f) that to this end the countries participating in this Conference should prepare and exchange not later than March 1, 1941, pertinent data which may be of value.

XI

STUDY OF THE NEEDS OF THE AERONAUTICAL SERVICES FOR ADDITIONAL FREQUENCIES

Considering:

- a) that the domestic and international aeronautical services have been marked by a steady growth and that they will undoubtedly continue to expand rapidly;

- b) that it would be desirable to have supplementary data regarding the radio needs of the aeronautical services in the Western Hemisphere; recommends:

- 1.- that a study should be made with a view of obtaining at the earliest practicable date a reasonable number of additional channels for the aeronautical services, should these additional channels be found necessary;
- 2.- that to this end the countries participating in this Conference should prepare and exchange before March 1, 1941, all pertinent data which may be of value in formulating definite proposals for consideration at the next International Telecommunications Conference.

XII

DIVISION OF TIME IN THE USE OF ROUTE FREQUENCIES

Considering:

that the Inter-continental Route Frequencies are for the joint use by aircraft and aeronautical stations of all countries and the General Radio Regulations of Cairo do not as yet cover all phases of radio operating procedures in the aeronautical services, such as division of operating time in the use of route frequencies;

54 Stat. 1417.

it is recommended:

that a study be made to determine what additional radio regulations should be prescribed for the international aeronautical services; that any additional radio regulations for the aeronautical services be coordinated with the existing regulations both international and of each individual nation governing the mobile services in general.

XIII

STABILIZED TRANSMITTING FREQUENCIES IN THE VARIOUS BANDS

Considering:

54 Stat. 1417.

- 1.- that the new tolerances fixed by the General Regulations of Cairo will probably require the employment of automatic frequency control devices;
- 2.- that the possible use of all the frequencies designated in each band for each intercontinental line would necessitate the provision of a large number of frequencies;

it is recommended:

- a) that as a temporary measure, aircraft transmitters should, if necessary, be capable of transmitting on two fixed frequencies in each band;
- b) that information be exchanged on the methods employed to attain the necessary stability requirements.

XIV

AIRCRAFT RADIO EQUIPMENT (GENERAL).

Considering:

that the joint use of the Intercontinental Route Frequencies introduces new problems of equipment design because of the necessarily more rigid tolerances governing such regulatory matters as frequency stability, band-change, quick frequency shift, etc.

it is recommended:

that the competent aeronautical and radio consultative bodies be asked to prepare appropriate technical and performance recommendations in all matters upon which standardization appears to be desirable and practicable such as for example:

- a) Minimum number of frequency bands which should be covered by aircraft radio equipment and a study of the specific frequency bands to be covered.
- b) Minimum number of stabilized frequencies which should be provided.
- c) Band-change and frequency-change requirements.
- d) Transmitter and receiver calibration standardization.
- e) Minimum transmitter power and receiver sensitivity.

XV

RADIO EQUIPMENT FOR AERONAUTICAL CONTROL STATIONS

It is recommended:

- a) that a study be made of the minimum radio facilities for control stations of air navigation serving the inter-continental air routes;
- b) that there be undertaken an exchange of all information relative to existing installations at each base.

XVI

RADIO AIDS TO AIR NAVIGATION.

STANDARDS OF FIELD STRENGTH AND INTERFERENCE RATIOS.

The Second Inter-American Radio Conference resolves:

- 1.— that the countries of the Western Hemisphere should exchange all available pertinent data on the following subjects:
 - a) Lists of various types of radio aids to air navigation which have been approved for service operation.
 - b) Information on minimum signal intensities required for satisfactory reception of the various types of radio aids to air navigation.

- c) Permissible values of interfering signal strength for the various types of radio aids to air navigation expressed in ratios of desired to undesired signal measured at the minimum signal contour (a) on the same frequency, and (b) on frequencies removed therefrom by specified numbers of kilocycles.
- 2.- that radio aids to air navigation, especially those which are of a one-way or broadcast nature, such as radiobeacons, should maintain the highest possible standards of reliability, stability and quality of emissions.
 - 3.- as far as possible, all nations should reserve the same wave bands for similar types of service in order to simplify radio equipment design and through such standardization extend the geographical limits of usefulness of aircraft radio equipment.
 - 4.- that the power radiated by radio aids to air navigation in the authorized frequencies bands should be consistent with the normal required signal intensity within the area in which it is desired to render service.

XVII

AIR NAVIGATIONAL AIDS.

It is recommended:

that inasmuch as the next world aeronautical radio conference will probably consider the standardization on a world-wide basis of reduced visibility radio landing devices for aircraft, information be exchanged between the governments which have conducted experimentation on devices of this nature, and also between other governments signatory to this agreement.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The resolutions and new questions dealing with aeronautical communications are the result of discussions which used as a basis some of the recommendations drafted by the Subcommittee of the Third World Conference of Aeronautical Radio Experts which met at Krakow, Poland, in May 1939.

XVIII

AMATEURS (GENERAL).

It is recommended:

- a) Require amateurs operating radiotelephonic services in the band 14000 to 14400 kc to go through a period of preliminary training assuring a minimum of experience in order to insure the efficient use of this band.
- b) Prohibit the employment of amateur stations, both fixed and mobile, from rendering a broadcasting service, and make every effort to limit operations to specific purposes, without invading the sphere of activity that properly belongs to other radio services.

- c) that the organizations of amateurs on the American Continent reach an agreement among themselves through their respective Governments to establish and propose at the next Inter-American Conference a continental plan for the sub-division of the bands among the various types of emission.

ANNEX (See Art. VI).

Ante, p. 1487.

TECHNICAL STANDARDS IN CONNECTION WITH THE SUPPRESSION OF INTERFERENCE CAUSED BY ELECTRICAL APPARATUS.

SUPPRESSION OF INTERFERENCE CAUSED BY ELECTRICAL APPARATUS.

- 1.- Diathermy apparatus, induction field heaters, carrier call systems, and similar non-radio apparatus which uses radio frequency currents as an essential to their operation, may be a serious source of interference to radio-communications.
- 2.- The use of such apparatus has an important place in therapeutics, surgery, industry etc.
- 3.- The radiation of radio energy is not essential to the proper functioning of the apparatus and can be prevented or controlled without impairing the usefulness of the apparatus for its intended purpose.
- 4.- The radiation takes place generally from the output circuit, internal circuits or power supply connection, all of which are essential elements.
- 5.- The extent of the radiation depends upon the operating frequency or frequencies, power, and the design, installation and operating of the apparatus.
- 6.- The radiation through the power supply connection can be prevented by means of a shielded transformer or a line filter. Radiation from the internal circuits can be prevented by means of suitable metallic cases. The radiation from the output circuits can be reduced to a level so as not to cause interference to radio communications by means of suitable metallic shielding, if the shielding encloses the entire apparatus and is of sufficient dimensions that large eddy currents are not produced in the shield. Aluminium foil paper and well-bonded copper screening have been successfully employed for shielding of rooms enclosing diathermy apparatus.
- 7.- The frequencies used for such apparatus may be any frequency in the useful radio spectrum. However, many diathermy units (which cause most long-distance radio interference) operate in frequencies from approximately 10000 to 25000 kilocycles. Operations on other frequencies mainly cause interference to local or moderate distance reception.
- 8.- The usual diathermy machine is essentially a radio transmitter of the self-excited oscillating type and generally uses self-rectifying plate power supply. Due to the inherent instability of the oscillator circuits, and the different uses to which the output circuit is subject, the operating frequency will vary during normal operation over very wide bands, provided automatic frequency control equipment is not incorporated.

- 9.- All diathermy machines designed for the same service can operate on the same frequency without impairing their usefulness, since their operation is not affected by radiation from other machines. Operation on a specific frequency with a very close frequency tolerance is practicable, with little added cost. It is understood that the present design of diathermy equipment has to a great extent gravitated to frequencies above approximately 12 megacycles, hence it is recommended that the subscribing countries consider requiring all diathermy machines to use not more than two frequencies in harmonic relation above 12 megacycles which will not interfere with existing radio assignments. The harmonic relationship between the two frequencies provides a further guarantee against interference to radio-communication.
- 10.- Standards of good engineering practice are believed to be practicable at the present time and consideration of the adoption by the governments of such standards at the earliest practicable date is recommended. The standards should include the following subjects:
 - a) Frequencies to be used.
 - b) Automatic frequency control.
 - c) Frequency stability.
 - d) Type of emission.
 - e) Maximum power output.
 - f) Harmonic radiation to be effectively suppressed.
 - g) Internal circuits to be effectively shielded.
 - h) Radiation from power supply connection to be eliminated.
- 11.- Where diathermy apparatus does not comply with the standards which may be adopted by the subscribing countries should consider the desirability of requiring such apparatus to be operated in a properly shielded room.
- 12.- Such apparatus as carrier call systems and certain types of induction furnaces and similar apparatus using medium or low frequencies should be required to restrict the generation of harmonics and make the necessary test to determine that radiation of signal does not result beyond a prescribed level.
- 13.- The interested administrations will interchange all information concerning the solution of the problem created by the serious interference caused by diathermy apparatus to radio communications

Con respecto a la asignación de frecuencias establecidas en este artículo, la Delegación de los Estados Unidos de Norteamérica, señala la existencia de la Reserva N° 5 en el Protocolo Final del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones (El Cairo, 1938) en base a las cuales se reserva el derecho de utilizar la banda 21650-21750 tanto para los servicios móviles como para radiodifusión.

NOTA 2

Con respecto a la Nota 6 Artículo 1, las Delegaciones de Brasil, Colombia, Ecuador, Perú y Venezuela, señalan la existencia de las Reservas N.os 2 y 13 en el Protocolo Final del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones (El Cairo, 1938) en base a las cuales fué concluído el Acuerdo Regional de Bogotá (1939), y declaran que aceptan las asignaciones de frecuencias por servicios del Acuerdo Interamericano, en todo lo que no afecta al mencionado Acuerdo Regional de Bogotá, ni a las reservas precitadas.

NOTA 3

En el caso de que, por alguna de las declaraciones precedentes los servicios radioeléctricos de los países participantes en el Acuerdo Interamericano sean molestados, estos países se reservan el derecho de aplicar la Declaración N° 18 del Protocolo Final del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones (El Cairo, 1938)

ARTICULO 2.

Bandas de frecuencias asignadas a los aficionados.

De conformidad con lo establecido en el art. 7 del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones (El Cairo, 1938) se asignan para aficionados las siguientes bandas:

- | | |
|------------------------|---|
| a) 1750 - 2050 Kc/s. | en la Zona Septentrional y en la Zona Central (excluidos de ésta los países de Sudamérica al Sur de Panamá) |
| b) 1715 - 2000 Kc/s. | para la Zona Meridional y los países de Sudamérica al sur de Panamá. |
| c) 3500 - 4000 Kc/s. | para todos los países signatarios del Continente Americano. |
| d) 7000 - 7300 Kc/s. | Id. |
| e) 14000 - 14400 Kc/s. | Id. |
| f) 28000 - 30000 Kc/s. | Id. |
| g) 56000 - 60000 Kc/s. | Id. |

Uso de la frecuencia de 500 Kc/s.

Con referencia a las disposiciones del art. 21 párrafo 4 (3) (N° 485 y 486) del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones, todo el Continente Americano, con excepción de la Bahía de Hudson y la Región Norte de la misma, se considerará como región de tráfico intenso. El empleo de la frecuencia de 500 Kc/s. queda limitado, en consecuencia, a las señales de socorro, de urgencia, de seguridad, de llamada y de respuesta y a la transmisión de radiotelegramas breves y aislados.

ARTICULO 4

Tolerancias de frecuencias.

- 1.—El progreso técnico en lo referente a la estabilización de frecuencias ha llegado a un punto tal que todas las estaciones pueden mantenerse dentro de las tolerancias especificadas en el Apéndice 1 del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones, El Cairo, 1938. (Tabla de Tolerancia de Frecuencias).
- 2.—Se adoptan las tablas de tolerancia de Frecuencias del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones.
- 3.—Las administraciones de los países promoverán el intercambio más amplio por intermedio de sus centros responsables de informaciones concernientes a las estaciones que se aparten excesivamente de su frecuencia asignada. Tales informaciones deberán ser transmitidas con la mayor rapidez posible a fin de que puedan disponerse medidas correctivas inmediatas, mientras el transmisor esté en dificultad.
- 4.—Para los países de Sudamérica el intercambio de informaciones será regidos por las disposiciones del Acuerdo Sudamericano de Radiocomunicaciones.

Irradiaciones no esenciales.

Con el objeto de evitar irradiaciones no esenciales, la elección y manejo de los aparatos de emisión deberán inspirarse en los más recientes progresos de la técnica, adoptándose para tal fin los dictámenes del Comité Consultivo Internacional de Radiocomunicaciones (C.C.I.R.).

Las administraciones participantes acuerdan exigir de las estaciones bajo su jurisdicción que empleen transmisores que estén tan libres como sea posible de toda emisión parásita.

Estas irradiaciones no deben ser de una intensidad tal que causen interferencias en los equipos de recepción de diseño moderno que estén ajustados fuera de la banda de emisión requerida para el tipo de emisión empleada. En el caso de la emisión de tipo A-3 (radiotelefonía) el transmisor no deberá estar modulado más allá de su capacidad de modulación en forma que pueda dar lugar a irradiaciones interferentes parasitarias y en el caso de amplitud de modulación el porcentaje de modulación operatorio no deberá ser inferior a 75% en los picos de frecuente repetición. Deberán adoptarse los medios más adecuados para asegurar que el transmisor no sea modulado en exceso de su capacidad de modulación.

Una irradiación no esencial es cualquier irradiación procedente de un transmisor que se encuentre fuera de la banda de emisión normal para el tipo de transmisión empleada, incluyendo cualquier producto armónico de modulación, golpes de manipulación, oscilaciones parásitas u otros defectos transitorios.

Supresión de interferencias causadas por aparatos eléctricos.

Los países americanos tomarán providencias en el sentido de suprimir o atenuar, lo más posible, las perturbaciones causadas por los aparatos e instalaciones que produzcan, transmitan o utilicen electricidad, capaces de dificultar o perjudicar la recepción de las transmisiones radioeléctricas. (Ver Anexo N° 1) [1]

ARTICULO 7

Servicio de Policía Internacional.

Cuando los países signatarios autoricen a sus estaciones policiales situadas en la proximidad de sus fronteras nacionales el intercambio de informaciones de emergencia con estaciones similares de otro país, se podrán aplicar las siguientes reglas:

- a) Sólo se autorizarán para estos intercambios a las estaciones policiales situadas en la proximidad de las fronteras nacionales.

- b) En general, las comunicaciones se concretarán a mensajes de importancia policial de carácter urgente que perderían la oportunidad si fueran cursados por los medios normales de comunicación.
- c) Las frecuencias usadas para comunicaciones radiotelefónicas con unidades móviles de policía no serán empleadas para comunicaciones radiotelegráficas.
- d) Cuando fuere autorizado el intercambio de comunicaciones radiotelefónicas, éstas se efectuarán en las frecuencias asignadas a las respectivas estaciones para el servicio radiotelefónico.
- e) En caso de autorizarse el intercambio de comunicaciones radiotelegráficas, éstas se efectuarán en las siguientes frecuencias:

2804 Kc/s. llamada	5195 Kc/s. llamada durante el día.
2808 Kc/s. operando	5135 Kc/s. operando durante el día
2812 Kc/s. operando	5140 Kc/s. operando durante el día.

- f) Los detalles relativos a las estaciones dedicadas al servicio de policía internacional serán notificados a la Oficina de la Unión Internacional de Telecomunicaciones (Berna) para que todas las estaciones que deseen intercomunicarse estén informadas de las características de operación de cada una de ellas.
- g) El servicio se ajustará en general a las disposiciones del art. 17 del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones (El Cairo, 1938).
- h) Se emplearán, con la mayor amplitud posible, las abreviaturas establecidas en el Apéndice 11 del Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones (El Cairo, 1938). Se procurará no emplear el idioma corriente cuando pueda substituirse con las abreviaturas. Se utilizará la indicación de servicio P (indicación de prioridad) para los mensajes que deban ser transmitidos de inmediato y con preferencia a todos los demás. A falta de esta indicación de servicio los mensajes se transmitirán en el orden de recepción.
- i) Los mensajes estarán constituidos por el preámbulo, el texto y la firma, como sigue:
 - 1). Preámbulo. Estará constituido por el número de serie precedido por las letras NR; la indicación de servicio que corresponda; la cantidad de palabras contadas de acuerdo con los sistemas normales de las oficinas telegráficas, precedida de la letra "CK"; oficina y país de origen (sin abreviaturas); día del mes y mes; hora de depósito y dirección.
 - 2). Texto. Podrá estar redactado en idioma corriente o en clave.
 - 3). Firma. Incluirá el nombre y título del remitente del mensaje.

ARTICULO 8

Mensajes de aficionados a terceros.

Los países americanos con el propósito de incrementar las estrechas y amistosas relaciones existentes entre los pueblos de América y cuando las legislaciones internas lo permitan, acuerdan que las estaciones de radioaficionados en sus respectivos países y posesiones podrán cambiar mensajes internacionales emanados de terceras personas; siempre que tales mensajes, sin embargo, sean de un carácter tal que normalmente no serían enviados por ningún otro medio de comunicación eléctrica y con respecto de los cuales no podrá percibirse directa o indirectamente ningún emolumento.

Vigencia, Adhesión y Denuncia.

- 1.- El presente acuerdo entrará en vigor el primero de Julio de mil novecientos cuarenta, para los países que le hubieren dado su aprobación y queda abierto, también, a la adhesión de cualquier otro país americano.
- 2.- Cualquier país que desee ponerle término, deberá denunciarlo, a lo menos, con un año de anticipación.
- 3.- Las aprobaciones, adhesiones y denuncias, deberán comunicarse por vía diplomática, al Gobierno de Chile, el que deberá trasmitirlas a los demás Gobiernos interesados.

En fé de lo cual, los respectivos Plenipotenciarios han firmado sendos ejemplares de este instrumento en español, inglés, portugués y francés, [1] los cuales quedarán depositados en los archivos del Gobierno de Chile, que enviará copia autenticada de ellos, en cada uno de dichos idiomas, a los demás Gobiernos contratantes.

Hecho en la ciudad de Santiago de Chile, a veintiseis días del mes de Enero del año de mil novecientos cuarenta.

DECLARACIONES

REFERENTE CONVENIO.

LA SEGUNDA CONFERENCIA INTERAMERICANA DE RADIO, al considerar las proposiciones presentadas por algunos de los gobiernos en ella representados y destinados a introducir reformas en la Convención de La Habana, Cuba, en Diciembre de 1937, formula la siguiente:

DECLARACION

Que ratifica plenamente la facultad de la Conferencia para modificar, total o parcialmente, la Convención dentro de las restricciones impuestas por la misma y por el Reglamento anexo;

Que, con el propósito de evitar improvisaciones en instrumentos codificados, los proyectos tendientes a reformar la Convención deben ser estudiados detenidamente y con la antelación necesaria;

Que, consecuente con tal principio, todas las proposiciones, presentadas en la Conferencia actual pasan al estudio de la Conferencia próxima, la cual deberá pronunciarse sobre ellas;

Que, todo nuevo proyecto de reforma a la Convención deberá ser enviado a la Conferencia próxima, por lo menos seis meses antes de que se inicien las correspondientes sesiones, con una breve exposición de motivos;

Que, no obstante los enunciados principios, reconoce la necesidad impostergable de hacer las siguientes aclaraciones a la Convención:

Art. 6: Se reconoce que, en este artículo, el carácter consultivo de la O.I.R. no la autoriza para evacuar consultas o informes, sino solamente para realizar el intercambio de informaciones y facilitar las consultas que los países americanos efectúen entre sí, siempre que estimen conveniente hacerlo por su intermedio.

Art. 7: Se reconoce que la extensión de las atribuciones de la O.I.R. están circunscritas a los trabajos de las Conferencias mismas y a los trabajos consultivos a estas conferencias. La O.I.R. que es, evidentemente, una oficina de intercambio no puede interpretar o tener la iniciativa de la aplicación del convenio, del acuerdo o recomendaciones.

Art. 7 del anexo N° 2: Se reconoce que cada Gobierno puede modificar la categoría en que figura, en cuyo caso la entrada en vigor de la modificación comenzará a hacerse efectiva en el ejercicio anual siguiente al de la notificación.—

Esta Declaración será incluida en el Acta Final de la Segunda Conferencia Interamericana de Radiocomunicaciones.

II

UNIFORMIDAD DE LOS HUSOS HORARIOS Y SEÑALES HORARIAS EN EL CONTINENTE AMERICANO.

RECOMENDACIONES

a los países americanos:

I

RADIODIFUSIÓN EN ONDAS CORTAS

Con el objeto de llegar a un acuerdo para el empleo más eficiente de los canales de onda corta en las bandas de frecuencia asignadas a la radiodifusión, 6000 a 28000 Kc/s. la Segunda Conferencia Interamericana de Radiocomunicaciones, tomando en consideración las condiciones existentes en todo el mundo respecto de la radiodifusión en alta frecuencia, recomienda a aquellos países americanos que aún no lo han hecho, reorganizar sus servicios de radiodifusión en onda corta, ajustándose para ésto a las normas más modernas y eficientes de la técnica radioeléctrica.

Basada en los resultados que se alcancen en el curso de dichos estudios en cada país, la próxima Conferencia Interamericana estaría en situación de hacer recomendaciones acerca de asignaciones que cubran las necesidades de cada país de las Américas, procediendo más tarde en una Conferencia Internacional a incorporarlas a la estructura universal de asignaciones.

II

ESTABLECIMIENTO DE PUESTOS DE CONTRALOR

Dar cumplimiento a los artículos 13 y 14 de la Convención Interamericana de Radiocomunicaciones, sobre verificación de las frecuencias mediante el establecimiento de puestos de contralor en cada país y el intercambio directo entre los Gobiernos, o entre dichos puestos, de acuerdo con la práctica administrativa de cada país, de las informaciones técnicas correspondientes.

III

LIBERTAD EN LAS RADIOCOMUNICACIONES

Que, a fin de intensificar las relaciones amistosas existentes entre las naciones americanas, éstas reafirman, en forma recíproca, el principio legítimo de la libertad en las radiocomunicaciones autorizadas para efectuar un servicio público, de acuerdo con las legislaciones vigentes en los respectivos países y con los convenios internacionales sobre la materia.

IV

INTERCAMBIO DE PROGRAMAS SOBRE RADIODIFUSIÓN

Se recomienda que las organizaciones de Radiodifusión de los países interesados, debidamente autorizadas, intercambien con la debida anticipación los programas correspondientes a sus emisiones, sobre todo los relacionados con importantes acontecimientos nacionales o internacionales. En este caso se recomienda hacer uso del telégrafo o del teléfono, si fuere necesario, a fin de asegurar el recibo con tiempo suficiente para la apropiada publicidad y su retransmisión, en cuanto sea posible.

SEÑALES DISTINTIVAS PARA ESTACIONES DE RADIODIFUSIÓN EN ONDA CORTA.

Se recomienda a los países americanos, que lo deseen, identificar los distintivos de las estaciones de radiodifusión de onda corta por medio de letras y números. Tal identificación podrá consistir en dos o más letras, que pueden ser seguidas por uno o más números, que indiquen la frecuencia de la transmisión.

Si fuera posible, deberá darse preferencia al uso de tres letras y de tres o cuatro números. En este caso las dos primeras letras identificarían el país; la tercera letra la zona o ciudad y los números la frecuencia en kilociclos por segundo, eliminando la última cifra.

Se recomienda, además, que esta identificación sea transmitida en los idiomas Inglés, Castellano, Portugués y Francés.

VI

INTERCAMBIO DE INFORMACIONES METEOROLÓGICAS

Considerando:

- 1.- Que hasta la fecha no ha sido posible obtener una coordinación efectiva entre todos los países de América para realizar el intercambio adecuado de informaciones meteorológicas, sinópticas;
- 2.- que para arribar a tal resultado es indispensable una coordinación de los servicios meteorológicos y radioeléctricos.

Se recomienda:

- a.- que en oportunidad de celebrarse en Washington en 1941 la reunión conjunta de las Comisiones Regionales III y IV de Meteorología, se realice una reunión mixta de técnicos de los organismos radioeléctricos oficiales a fin de establecer un plan interamericano definitivo sobre las cuestiones vinculadas con la centralización e intercambio de informes meteorológicos y demás problemas conexos;
- b.- que con una anticipación de seis meses los organismos radioeléctricos envíen a las Comisiones Regionales mencionadas informes relativos a sus posibilidades de acuerdo con el cuestionario anexo, como así todo otro dato de posible interés a fin de orientar los trabajos preliminares de las reuniones mixtas.

- c.- Se encarece al Gobierno de Chile poner en conocimiento de las Comisiones Regionales III y IV las presentes recomendaciones.

CUESTIONARIO PARA LA COORDINACION DE TRANSMISIONES DE INFORMACION METEOROLOGICA

OBJETO	POSIBILIDADES INMEDIATAS-	POSIBILIDADES FUTURAS (1)
1.- Número de transmisores radioeléctricos y horarios disponibles. 2.- Ubicación de los mismos. 3.- Bandas de frecuencias de cada transmisor. 4.- Frecuencias de trabajos de los transmisores (incluir todas las frecuencias disponibles para este servicio) 5.- Tipo de control (cristal, etc.) y tipo de emisión (A1, A2, A3.) 6.- Potencia efectiva en antena de los transmisores 7.- Cuantas transmisiones simultáneas pueden efectuarse con los equipos disponibles. 8.- Cuantas recepciones simultáneas pueden efectuarse. 9.- Hora T.M.G. en la que pueden iniciarse diariamente las transmisiones de las observaciones sinópticas de las 12, 18 y 23 ó 24 horas T.M.G. 10.- Tiempo máximo necesario para la transmisión de las observaciones del n° 9.

(1) Indicar fecha aproximada de su realización.

FRECUENCIAS DE RUTA PROVISTAS POR EL REGLAMENTO GENERAL DE RADIOCOMUNICACIONES

- a) Que se hagan todos los esfuerzos posibles para cambiar, tan pronto sea practicable, los servicios móviles aeronáuticos de las rutas aéreas a las frecuencias que les fueren asignadas por el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones de El Cairo para dichas rutas;
- b) que las frecuencias señaladas en El Cairo para las rutas interamericanas no sean empleadas dentro de las fronteras nacionales con excepción de los casos en que sean usadas para servir rutas aéreas entre países de América;
- c) que todas las instalaciones disponibles en la actualidad para las necesidades de seguridad en los vuelos interamericanos sean mantenidas en funcionamiento hasta ser reemplazadas o que por haberse tomado otras disposiciones adecuadas, ya no sean necesarias.

VIII

PARA RUTAS AÉREAS INTERCONTINENTALES

- a) ue, en la medida de sus posibilidades, todas las administraciones americanas elijan las mismas frecuencias para ser empleadas durante todo el curso de una ruta intercontinental dada;
- b) que se provean frecuencias de corta distancia para complementar las frecuencias de larga distancia asignadas por el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones a las rutas aéreas intercontinentales con el objeto de asegurar comunicaciones aeronáuticas por rutas a cualquier distancia;
- c) que se provean frecuencias adecuadas para comunicaciones aeronáuticas locales en los terminales de rutas y puertos aéreos intermediários.
- d) que sea permitido, mientras tanto, continuar utilizando las frecuencias de 5692.5, 5405, 3082.5, 2870 y 1638 Kc/s. que actualmente estuvieran asignadas a aeronaves y estaciones aeronáuticas en la ruta interamericana.

IX

COMUNICACIONES ENTRE AERONAVES Y TIERRA

Considerando:

- 1.—Que la institución de una organización de seguridad es esencial (que puede comprender coordinación entre varias entidades, de naturaleza tanto gubernativas como nó gubernativas) comprendiendo servicios para la comunicación por radio, dirección por radio, control de tráfico y la seguridad en la protección de naves aéreas;
- 2.—que resultaría una confusión si, a un mismo tiempo, múltiples estaciones aeronáuticas de tierra tomaran sobre si la responsabilidad de comunicaciones referentes a la seguridad de una aeronave dada, y que esto produciría, además, disturbios en los servicios de radio;
- 3.—que bajo ciertas condiciones podrá ser difícil mantener una vigilancia simultánea sobre más de una frecuencia de radio a bordo de las aeronavés; ;
- 4.—que es necesario economizar en el número de frecuencias que se emplean y en su uso.

Se recomienda:

- a) que cada uno de los caminos para tráfico aéreo que puedan considerarse como constituyentes de una ruta aérea Interamericana, dentro del sentido que se dá a esta expresión en los Reglamentos Generales de El Cairo al definirla con motivo de la distribución de las radio-frecuencias, sea dividida en sectores de Control, siendo asignado cada sector a una estación que sirva tal ruta;

- b) que, en principio, el límite de un sector de control es la mitad de la distancia que separa la estación a que tal Sector pueda estar asignado, de la estación que controle el sector siguiente en el mismo camino aéreo;
- c) que, para un vuelo dado, el punto exacto donde ha de transferirse el control de comunicaciones de una estación a la siguiente será determinado mediante un acuerdo entre las estaciones de tierra respectivas y la aeronave. .

X

COMUNICACION-ES DEL SERVICIO AERONÁUTICO ENTRE PUNTOS FIJOS
Considerando:

- 1.—Que el establecimiento de sectores de control podría requerir el empleo de un servicio fijo adecuado y rápido de comunicaciones entre las estaciones de control;
- 2.—que podría suceder que las frecuencias asignadas a las rutas por el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones no permitirán asegurar el volúmen necesario de tráfico entre puntos fijos, como asimismo, las comunicaciones esenciales de las aeronaves;
- 3.—que el Reglamento General de Radiocomunicaciones no prohíbe el empleo de frecuencias, a los servicios aeronáuticos, dentro de las bandas asignadas a los servicios fijos de comunicación entre puntos fijos.

Se recomienda:

- a) que se establezca un servicio de radiocomunicación rápido y eficiente, entre estaciones de control de un mismo camino aéreo, ya sea entre estaciones adyacentes por una parte o entre estaciones terminales por la otra. Para este objeto, a lo menos dos series de frecuencias tendrán que proveerse según sean las distancias y para las operaciones diurnas y nocturnas;
- b) que las comunicaciones a larga distancia entre estaciones de control sean reducidas estrictamente al cambio de mensajes relacionados con la seguridad de aeronaves y la regularidad de los vuelos;
- c) que cada gobierno examine la posibilidad de proporcionar, para el uso de estaciones aeronáuticas de servicio fijo, frecuencias apropiadas dentro de las bandas asignadas a los servicios fijos, que puedan asegurar una rápida transmisión del tráfico necesario a las estaciones de control con las cuales se requiere una radiocomunicación directa. Las frecuencias que puedan encontrarse disponibles después de este exámen serán puestas a disposición de todos; es de prever que la contribución de cada país para las frecuencias será en número proporcional a sus intereses en el servicio;
- d) que se realicen sobre la misma frecuencia transmisiones de radio emitidas por una estación aeronáutica fija, especialmente designada, y destinadas a ser recibidas por una o más estaciones semejantes, que cubran largas rutas transoceánicas, y situadas a distancias apropiadas a la propagación característica de las frecuencias empleadas en un momento dado;

- e) que las frecuencias asignadas a rutas o las frecuencias elegidas para los servicios fijos aeronáuticos no serán empleadas para despachos meteorológicos que podrían ser difundidos más económicamente en radiodifusiones generales o por otros medios;
- f) que para los fines indicados, los países participantes en esta Conferencia preparen y procedan a intercambiar antes del 1° de Marzo de 1941, todas las informaciones pertinentes que puedan ser de valor.

XI

ESTUDIOS DE LAS FRECUENCIAS NECESARIAS PARA LOS SERVICIOS AERONÁUTICOS.

Considerando:

- a) que los servicios de aeronáutica nacionales o internacionales han demostrado un crecimiento regular y que sin lugar a duda, continuará su expansión rápidamente;
- b) que sería conveniente contar con datos suplementarios concernientes a las necesidades de la radio para los servicios aeronáuticos en el Hemisferio Occidental;

Recomienda:

- 1.— que se lleve a efecto un estudio destinado a obtener en la fecha más próxima que sea practicable fijar, un número razonable de canales adicionales para los servicios de aeronáutica. Si estos canales adicionales fueran considerados necesarios.
- 2.— que con el fin antedicho, los países participantes en esta Conferencia preparen y canjeen antes del 1° de Marzo de 1941 todas las informaciones pertinentes que puedan ser de valor para formular proposiciones definitivas para la consideración en la próxima Conferencia Internacional de Telecomunicaciones.

DIVISIÓN DE TIEMPO EN EL USO DE LAS FRECUENCIAS DE RUTA

Considerando:

Que las frecuencias de rutas intercontinentales están destinadas a ser empleadas conjuntamente por las aeronaves y las estaciones aeronáuticas de todos los países y que el Reglamento General de El Cairo no cubre, hasta ahora, todas las fases de los procedimientos de operaciones de radio en los servicios aeronáuticos, como ser, por ejemplo, la división del tiempo de operación en el uso de las frecuencias de ruta;

Se recomienda:

Que se haga un estudio con el objeto de determinar qué reglamentos adicionales de radio podrían ser dictados para los servicios internacionales de aeronáutica. Que cualquier reglamentación adicional de radio para los servicios aeronáuticos sea coordinada con las reglamentaciones existentes cubriendo los servicios móviles en general, tanto internacionales como individuales de cada país.

XIII

FRECUENCIAS ESTABILIZADAS DE TRANSMISIÓN EN LAS DIVERSAS BANDAS

Considerando:

- 1.—Que las nuevas tolerancias fijadas por el Reglamento General de El Cairo probablemente harán necesario el empleo de aparatos automáticos para el control de frecuencia;
- 2.—que el empleo posible de todas las frecuencias designadas en cada banda para cada línea intercontinental haría necesario proveer un gran número de frecuencias;

Se recomienda:

- a) que en el carácter de medida temporal, los transmisores de aeronaves deberán estar capacitados, si fuera necesario, para transmitir sobre dos frecuencias fijas en cada banda;
- b) que se proceda a canjear informaciones sobre los métodos que se emplean para alcanzar la estabilidad necesaria.

XIV

EQUIPO DE RADIO PARA AERONAVES (GENERAL).

Considerando:

Que el uso en conjunto de las frecuencias de las rutas intercontinentales trae nuevos problemas de diseño de equipo en vista de las tolerancias, necesariamente más rígidas, que se refieran a tales materias reglamentarias como estabilidad de frecuencia, cambios de banda, alteración rápida de frecuencias, etc.

Se recomienda:

que se pida a los cuerpos consultivos competentes en aeronáutica y radio que preparen recomendaciones adecuadas, técnicas como de funcionamiento, sobre todas las materias en las cuales la standarización sería deseable y practicable, como ser:

- a) Número mínimo de bandas de frecuencia que debiera ser cubierto por equipos radioeléctricos de aeronaves, y un estudio de las bandas específicas que debieran ser cubiertas.
- b) Número mínimo de frecuencias estabilizadas que debieran proveerse.
- c) Requerimientos para cambios de frecuencia y de bandas.
- d) Normas de calibración para transmisores y receptores.
- e) Potencia transmisora mínima y sensibilidad del receptor.

EQUIPOS RADIOELÉCTRICOS PARA ESTACIONES DE CONTROL
DE AERONAVEGACIÓN

Se recomienda:

- a) que se efectúe un estudio respecto a las condiciones del equipo radioeléctrico mínimo para las estaciones de control de navegación aérea que sirven las rutas intercontinentales y,
- b) el intercambio de todas las informaciones relacionadas con las instalaciones ya existentes en cada base.

XVI

DISPOSITIVOS RADIOELÉCTRICOS PARA LA AERONAVEGACIÓN (NORMAS DE INTENSIDAD DE CAMPO Y MARGEN DE INTERFERENCIAS)

1. Que los países del Hemisferio Occidental procedan a intercambiar todas las informaciones pertinentes de que se disponga sobre las siguientes materias:

- a) Listas de varios tipos de auxilios de radio a la navegación aérea que hayan sido aprobados para operación de servicio.
- b) Informaciones sobre la intensidad mínima de señales requerida para una recepción satisfactoria de los diferentes tipos de dispositivos radioeléctricos para la aeronavegación.—
- c) Indicación de los valores admisibles en la potencia de la señalización interferente, empleable por los diferentes tipos de dispositivos radioeléctricos para la aeronavegación, expresado en un margen que revele la recepción de señales desde el punto “deseable” hasta el punto “no deseable”. Estas observaciones se harán con el mínimum de potencia para señales de servicio y sus contornos (a) sobre la misma frecuencia, y, (b) sobre frecuencias separadas de esa frecuencia por números especificados de kilociclos;

2. que los dispositivos radioeléctricos para aeronavegación, especialmente aquellos que operan en un solo sentido a semejanza de radiodifusión, como ser los radio-faros, deberán mantener las más altas normas de seguridad, estabilidad y calidad de emisión;

3. hasta donde sea posible, todas las naciones deberán reservar las mismas bandas de onda para tipos similares de servicio con el objeto de simplificar el diseño; o de equipo radial y, mediante esta standarización, extender los límites geográficos del aprovechamiento de los equipos de radio en la aeronavegación;

4. que la potencia radiada por los dispositivos radioeléctricos para la aeronavegación dentro de las bandas de frecuencia autorizadas debe ser consistente con la intensidad normal requerida para la señalización, dentro de la región donde se desea imponer tales servicios.

XVII

DISPOSITIVOS RADIOELÉCTRICOS DE SEGURIDAD PARA LAS AERONAVES

Se recomienda:

que siendo probable que la próxima Conferencia Mundial Aeronáutica considere normas mundiales de dispositivos radioeléctricos para aterrizaje de aeronaves con escasa visibilidad, se intercambien informaciones entre las administraciones que hayan experimentado estos dispositivos y también entre las otras administraciones que forman parte de este Acuerdo.

NOTA ACLARATORIA:

Las resoluciones y nuevas cuestiones que se refieren a los servicios aeronáuticos son el resultado de discusiones basadas sobre algunas de las recomendaciones redactadas por la Sub-Comisión de la Tercera Conferencia Mundial de Expertos Aeronáuticos reunida en Cracovia (Polonia) en Mayo de 1939.

XVIII

AFICIONADOS (VARIOS)

- a) Requerir a los aficionados que operen en radiotelefonía en la banda de 14000 a 14400 Kc/s. un período previo de ensayo destinado a asegurar una experiencia mínima, a fin de garantizar el uso eficiente de esta banda.
- b) Prohibir el empleo de estaciones de aficionados, ya sean fijas o móviles, para realizar servicio de radiodifusión, procurando que las mismas se circunscriban a su función específica, sin invadir la esfera de acción que corresponde a otros servicios de radiocomunicaciones.
- c) Que las organizaciones de aficionados del Continente Americano se pongan de acuerdo entre sí por intermedio de las respectivas administraciones para establecer y proponer a la próxima Conferencia Interamericana un plan continental de subdivisión de las bandas para los diversos tipos de emisión.

ANEXO

(Ver artículo N° 6.-)

ALGUNAS NORMAS TÉCNICAS RELACIONADAS CON LA SUPRESIÓN DE INTERFERENCIAS CAUSADAS POR APARATOS ELÉCTRICOS.

- 1.- Aparatos de diatermia, calentadores con campo de inducción, sistemas de llamada con onda portadora, y otros aparatos similares que empleen corriente de radiofrecuencia como algo esencial a su funcionamiento sin ser aparatos de radiocomunicación, pueden llegar a ser una fuente muy seria de interferencias a las radiocomunicaciones.
- 2.- Tales aparatos tienen un lugar destacado en la terapéutica, la cirugía, las industrias, etc.

3.— La irradiación de energía radiofrecuente no es esencial para el funcionamiento de los aparatos mencionados y puede ser impedida o controlada sin disminuir la utilidad de los mismos en cuanto a su finalidad.

4.— La irradiación tiene lugar generalmente en el circuito de alimentación, circuitos interiores o en los contactos con la fuente de energía eléctrica, todos los cuales constituyen elementos esenciales de estos aparatos.

5.— El alcance de la irradiación depende de la frecuencia o frecuencias empleadas, de la potencia, diseño, instalación y manejo del aparato.

6.— La irradiación proveniente de los enchufes o contactos con las fuentes de energía eléctrica puede evitarse por medio de un transformador blindado o un filtro de línea. La irradiación de los circuitos internos puede ser evitada por medio de cajas metálicas apropiadas. La irradiación de los circuitos de alimentación puede ser reducida a un nivel tal que no ocasione perturbaciones a las radiocomunicaciones, por medio de un blindaje metálico adecuado, siempre que el blindaje encierre todo el aparato y sea de dimensiones suficientes para que no se produzcan fuertes corrientes de Foucault en el mismo. Se han empleado con éxito pantallas de papel de aluminio y pantallas de cobre bien unidas para blindar las habitaciones en las cuales funcionan aparatos de diatermia.

7.— Las frecuencias que se emplean para tales aparatos podrían ser cualquiera de las comprendidas en las bandas aprovechables del espectro radial. Sin embargo, muchos equipos de diatermia (precisamente aquellos que más perturbaciones radiales causan a larga distancia) operan con frecuencias de aproximadamente 10000 a 25000 Kc/s. El empleo de frecuencias fuera de esta banda, causa a la recepción perturbaciones más bien de carácter local o a distancias moderadas.

8.— Los aparatos de diatermia comúnmente empleados son esencialmente transmisores de radio del tipo de oscilación auto-excitante y por lo general emplean energía anódica auto-rectificada. Siempre que no se haya incorporado un dispositivo automático de control de frecuencia y aún cuando el aparato funcione normalmente, la frecuencia de operación variará sobre bandas muy amplias debido a la inestabilidad inherente de los circuitos de oscilación, la gran variación de voltaje en el curso de un ciclo de alimentación de energía anódica, y la variación de cargas a que está sometido el circuito de alimentación.

9.— Todas las instalaciones de diatermia destinadas al mismo servicio pueden funcionar en la misma frecuencia sin disminuir su utilidad ya que su funcionamiento no es afectado por irradiaciones de otros aparatos. Es practicable operar sobre una frecuencia específica dentro de una tolerancia de frecuencia muy estrecha y sin encarecer mayormente el equipo. Queda entendido que en la actualidad la tendencia general en el diseño de los equipos de diatermia es la de emplear frecuencias superiores a 12 megaciclos aproximadamente y por lo tanto, se recomienda que los países contratantes consideren la conveniencia de requerir que todas las instalaciones de diatermia no empleen más de dos frecuencias, las cuales deben ser superiores a 12 megaciclos y estar en relación armónica, evitando de este modo perturbaciones en las frecuencias asignadas a las radiocomunicaciones. El empleo de dos frecuencias en relación armónica, proporciona una garantía aún mayor contra las interferencias a las radiocomunicaciones.

10.— En la actualidad se, estima factible, aplicar normas basadas sobre buenos principios de ingeniería práctica y se recomienda a las administraciones la adopción de tales normas, a la brevedad posible.

Estas normas deben comprender las siguientes materias:

- a) Frecuencias que deben emplearse,
- b) Control automático de frecuencia.
- c) Estabilidad de frecuencia.
- d) Tipo de emisión.
- e) Potencia máxima generada.
- f) Supresión efectiva de irradiaciones armónicas.
- g) Blindaje efectivo de los circuitos internos.
- h) Eliminación de la irradiación proveniente de las fuentes de energía.

11.— En el caso de aparatos de diatermia que no cumplan con las normas que puedan ser adoptadas, los países contratantes deberán considerar la conveniencia de requerir que tales aparatos funcionen sólo en locales debidamente blindados.

b) Quando o emprego desta faixa de frequência fôr suscetível de provocar interferências aos serviços de outro país, procurar-se-á, na medida do possível, comunicar aos demais países signatários os dados de localização, potência, frequência e tipo de serviço da ou das estações autorizadas a funcionar nestas faixas.

NOTA 1

Com respeito à designação de frequências estabelecidas neste artigo, a Delegação dos Estados Unidos da América do Norte, chama a atenção para a existência da Reserva nº 5 no Protocolo Final do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938) segundo as quais se reserva o direito de utilizar a faixa 21650 - 21750 tanto para os serviços móveis como para radiodifusão.

NOTA 2

Com respeito à Nota 6, Artigo 1º, as Delegações do Brasil, Colômbia, Equador, Perú e Venezuela, chamam a atenção para a existência das Reservas n.ºs. 2 e 13 no Protocolo Final do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938) sobre cujas bases foi concluído o Acórdo Regional de Bogotá (1939), e declaram que aceitam as atribuições de frequências por serviços do Acórdo Interamericano, em tudo quanto não afetem ao precitado Acórdo Regional de Bogotá, nem as reservas antes citadas.

NOTA 3.

Para o caso de serem afetados os serviços radioelétricos dos países participantes no Acórdo Interamericano, por alguma das declarações precedentes, reservam-se estes países o direito de aplicarem a Declaração nº 18 do Protocolo Final do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938)

ARTIGO 2.

Faixas de frequências designadas aos amadores.

De conformidade com o estabelecido no Artigo 7º do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938), designam-se para amadores as seguintes faixas:

- | | | |
|----|---------------------|---|
| a) | 1750 - 2050 Kc/s. | na Zona Setentrional e na Zona Central (excluídos desta os países sulamericanos ao sul do Panamá) |
| b) | 1715 - 2000 Kc/s | Para a Zona Meridional e os países sulamericanos ao Sul do Panamá. |
| c) | 3500 - 4000 Kc/s. | Para todos os países signatários do Continente Americano. |

| e) | 14000 - 14400 Kc/s. | id. |
| f) | 28000 - 30000 Kc/s. | id. |
| g) | 56000 - 60000 Kc/s. | id. |

ARTIGO 3.

Uso da frequência de 500 Kc/s.

Com referência às disposições do Art. 21, § 4 (3) (nº 485 e 486) do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações, todo o Continente Americano, com exceção feita da Bahia de Hudson e da Região norte da mesma, considerar-se-á como região de tráfego intensivo. O emprego da frequência de 500 Kc/s. fica, em consequência, limitado aos sinais de auxílio, de urgência, de segurança, de chamada e de resposta e à transmissão de radiotelegramas breves e isolados.

ARTIGO 4.

Tolerâncias de frequências.

1. O progresso técnico no referente à estabilização de frequências chega a um ponto tal que todas as estações podem manter-se dentro das tolerâncias especificadas no Apêndice 1 do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938). (Tabela de Tolerância de Frequências).

2. Adeptam-se as tabelas de tolerância de Frequências do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações.

3. As administrações dos países promoverão o intercâ bio mais amplo por intermédio de seus centros responsáveis de informações concernentes às estações que se afastem excessivamente da sua frequência designada. Tais informações transmitir-se-ão com a maior presteza possível afim de poder dispôr medidas correctivas, para o transmissor que se achar em dificuldades.

4. Para os países da América do Sul, o intercâ bio de informações será regido pelas disposições do Acôrdo Sulamericano de Radiocomunicações.

ARTIGO 5.

Irradiações não essenciais.

Com o fim de evitar irradiações não essenciais, a escolha e manejo de aparelhos de emissão deverão inspirar-se nos mais recentes progressos da técnica, adoptando para tal fim os dictâmens do Comité Consultivo Internacional de Radiocomunicações (C.C.I.R.)

As administrações participantes resolvem exigir das estações sob sua jurisdição que empreguem transmissores que estejam tão livres quanto possível de toda emissão parasita.

Estas irradiações não deverão ser de uma intensidade tal que causem interferências nos equipamentos de recepção de desenho moderno que estejam ajustados fora da faixa de emissão requerida para o tipo da emissão empregada. No caso da emissão de tipo A-3 (radiotelefonía) o transmissor não deverá estar modulado além da sua capacidade de modulação, de maneira que possa dar lugar a irradiações interferentes parasitárias e no caso de amplitude de modulação, a percentagem de modulação operatória não deverá ser inferior a 75% nos picos de frequente repetição. Deverão adoptar-se meios mais adequados para assegurar que o transmissor não seja modulado em excesso da sua capacidade de modulação.

Uma irradiação não essencial é qualquer irradiação procedente de um transmissor que se ache fora da faixa de emissão normal para o tipo de transmissão empregada, incluindo qualquer produto armónico de modulação, golpes de manipulação, oscilações parasitas ou outros defeitos transmitórios.

ARTIGO 6.

Supressão de interferências causadas por aparelhos eléctricos

Os países americanos tomarão providências no sentido de suprimir ou atenuar, o mais possível, as perturbações causadas pelos aparelhos e instalações que produzam, transmitam ou utilizem electricidade, capazes de dificultar ou prejudicar a recepção das transmissões radioelétricas. (Vice Anexo nº 1.) [1]

ARTIGO 7.

Serviço de Polícia Internacional.

Quando os países signatários autorizem as suas estações policiaes situadas na proximidade de suas fronteiras nacionais o intercâmbio de informações de emergência com estações similares de outro país, poder-se-ão aplicar as seguintes regras:

a) Só se autorizam para estes intercâmbios às estações policiaes situadas na proximidade das fronteiras nacionais.

b) Em geral, as comunicações concretar-se-ão a mensagens de importância policial de carácter urgente que perderiam a oportunidade se fossem transmitidas pelos meios normais de comunicação.

c) As frequências usadas para comunicações rádiotelefônicas com unidades móveis de polícia não serão empregadas para comunicações rádiotelegráficas.

d) Quando fôr autorizado o intercâmbio de comunicações radio-telefônicas, estas se efetuarão nas frequências atribuídas às respectivas estações para o serviço radiotelefônico.

e) No caso de autorizar-se o intercâmbio de comunicações radio-telegráficas, estas se efetuarão nas seguintes frequências:

2804 Kc/s. chamada	5195 Kc/s. chamada durante o dia.
2808 Kc/s. operando	5135 Kc/s. operando durante o dia.
2812 Kc/s. operando	5140 Kc/s. operando durante o dia.

f) Os detalhes relativos às estações dedicadas ao serviço de polícia internacional serão notificados à Repartição da União Internacional de Telecomunicações (Berna) para que todas as estações que desejem intercomunicar-se estejam informadas das características de operação de cada uma delas.

g) O serviço ajustar-se-á em geral às disposições do Art. 17 do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938).

h) Empregar-se-ão, com a maior amplitude possível, as abreviaturas estabelecidas no Apêndice 11 do Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações (Cairo, 1938). Procurar-se-á não empregar a língua corrente quando se possa substituir pelas abreviaturas. Utilizar-se-á a indicação de serviço P (indicação de primacia) para mensagens que devam ser transmitidas imediatamente e com preferência a todos os demais. À falta desta indicação de serviço, as mensagens se transmitirão na ordem de recepção.

i) As mensagens estarão constituídas pelo preâmbulo, o texto e a assinatura, na forma indicada a seguir:

1) Preâmbulo. Estará constituído pelo número de série precedido pelas letras NR; a indicação de serviço que corresponda; o número de palavras contadas de acôrdo com os sistemas normais das repartições telegráficas, precedido da letra "CK"; repartição e país de origem (sem abreviaturas); dia do mês e mês; hora de depósito e enderêço.

2) Texto. Poderá estar redigido em língua corrente ou em cifra.

3) Assinatura. Incluirá o nome e título do remetente da mensagem.

ARTIGO 8.

Mensagens de amadores a terceiros.

Os países americanos, com o intuito de incrementar as estreitas e amistosas relações existentes entre os povos de América e quando as legislações internas o permitam, concordam em que as estações de rádio-amadores, nos seus respectivos países e possessões poderão trocar mensagens internacionais emanadas de terceiras pessoas; sempre que tais mensagens, entretanto, sejam de caráter tal que, normalmente, não seriam enviadas por nenhum outro meio de comunicação elétrica e em respeito às quais não se poderá cobrar, direta ou indiretamente, nenhum emolumento.

ARTIGO 9.

Vigência, Adesão e Denúncia.

1. O presente acôrdo entrará em vigência em primeiro de Julho de milnovecentos e quarenta, para os países que lhe tenham dado a sua aprovação ficando, também, aberto à adesão de qualquer outro país americano.
2. Qualquer país que deseje pôr-lhe termo, deverá denunciá-lo, pelo menos, com um ano de antecedência.
3. As aprovações, adesões e denúncias deverão comunicar-se por via diplomática, ao Govêrno do Chile, o qual deverá transmiti-las, por sua vez, aos demais Govêrnos interessados.

Em fe do que os respectivos Plenipotenciarios firmaram exemplares deste instrumento em espanhol, ingles, portugues, e frances, [2] os quais ficarão depositados nos arquivos do Governo do Chile, que enviara copia autenticada deles, em cada uma das mencionadas linguas, aos demais Governos contratantes.

Feito na cidade de Santiago do Chile, aos vinte e seis dias do mes de Janeiro de mil novecentos e quarenta.

DECLARAÇÕES

REFERÊNTE AO CONVÊNIO.

DECLARAÇÃO

Que ratifica plenamente a faculdade da Conferência para modificar, total ou parcialmente, a Convenção dentro das restrições impostas pela mesma e pelo Regulamento anexo;

Que, no intuito de evitar improvisações em instrumentos codificados, os projetos tendentes a reformar a Convenção devem ser estudados detidamente e com a necessária antecedência;

Que, consequente com tal princípio, todas as proposições, apresentadas na Conferência atual, passam ao estudo da Conferência próxima, a qual deverá pronunciar-se sobre elas;

Que, todo novo projeto de reforma à Convenção deverá ser remetido à próxima Conferência, pelo menos seis meses antes do início das correspondentes sessões, acompanhados duma breve exposição de motivos;

Que, não obstante os enunciados princípios, reconhece a necessidade impostergável de fazer as seguintes esclarecimentos à Convenção:

Art. 6: Reconhece-se que, neste artigo, o caráter consultivo da O.I.R. não autoriza a evacuar consultas ou informes, senão unicamente com o fim de efetuar o intercâmbio de informações e suministrar as consultas que os países americanos efetuem entre sí, sempre que estimem conveniente fazê-lo pelo seu intermédio.

Art. 7: Reconhece-se que a extensão das atribuições da O.I.R. estão circunscritas aos trabalhos consultivos a estas conferências. A O.I.R. que é, evidentemente, uma Repartição de intercâmbio, não pode interpretar ou ter a iniciativa da aplicação do convênio, do acôrdo ou das recomendações.

Art. 7 do anexo nº 2: Reconhece-se que cada Governo pode modificar a categoria em que figura, em cujo caso começará a fazer-se efetiva a entrada em vigência da modificação no exercício anual seguinte ao da notificação.

Esta Declaração será incluída na Acta Final da Segunda Conferência Interamericana de Radiocomunicações.

II

UNIFORMIDADE DOS FUSOS HORÁRIOS E SINAIS HORÁRIOS NO CONTINENTE AMERICANO.

RECOMENDAÇÕES

A Segunda Conferencia Interamericana de Radiocomunicações,

RECOMENDA

I

RADIODIFUSÃO EM ONDAS CURTAS

Com o intuito de chegar a um acôrdo quanto ao emprego mais eficiente dos canais de onda curta nas faixas de frequência atribuídas à radiodifusão, 6000 a 28000 Kc/s., a Segunda Conferência Interamericana de Radiocomunicações, tomando em consideração as condições existentes em todo o mundo com respeito à radiodifusão em alta frequência, recomenda a aquêles países americanos que ainda não o tenham feito, a reorganização dos seus serviços de radiodifusão em onda curta, ajustando-se nisto às normas mais modernas e eficientes da técnica radioelétrica.

Baseada nos resultados que alcançem no curso dos aludidos estudos em cada país, a próxima Conferência Interamericana estaria em condições de fazer recomendações no que diz respeito às atribuições que satisfagam às necessidades de cada país das Américas, procedendo mais adiante numa Conferência Internacional a incorporá-las à estrutura universal de atribuições.

II

ESTABELECIMENTO DE POSTOS DE CONTROLE

Dar cumprimento aos artigos 13 e 14 da Convenção Interamericana de Radiocomunicações no referente à verificação das frequências mediante o estabelecimento de postos de Controle em cada país e a permuta direta entre os Governos, ou entre os aludidos postos, de acôrdo com a prática administrativa de cada país, das informações técnicas correspondentes.

LIBERDADE NAS RADIOCOMUNICAÇÕES.

Que, afim de intensificar as relações amistosas existentes entre as nações americanas, estas reafirmem, em forma recíproca, o princípio legítimo da liberdade nas radiocomunicações autorizadas para efetuar um serviço público, de acôrdo com as legislações vigentes nos respectivos países e com os convênios internacionais sôbre a matéria.

IV INTERCÂMBIO DE PROGRAMAS SÔBRE RADIODIFUSÃO.

Recomenda-se que os organismos de radiodifusão dos países interessados, devidamente autorizados, permutem com a devida antecipação os programas correspondentes às suas emissões, sobre tudo os relacionados com importantes acontecimentos nacionais e internacionais. Nêste caso, recomenda-se fazer uso do telégrafo ou do telefone, se fôr necessário, afim de assegurar o recebimento com tempo suficiente para a apropriada publicidade e sua retransmissão, em quanto seja possível.

V SINAIS DISTINTIVOS PARA ESTAÇÕES DE RADIODIFUSÃO EM ONDA CURTA.

Recomenda-se aos países americanos, que o desejem, identificar os distintivos das estações de radiodifusão de onda curta por médio de letras e números. Tal identificação poderá consistir em duas ou mais letras, que podem ser seguidas por um ou mais algarismos, que indiquem a frequência de transmissão.

Se fôr possível, dar-se-á preferência ao uso de tres letras e de tres ou quatro algarismos. Nêste caso, as duas primeiras letras identificarão o país; a terceira letra, a zona ou cidade, e os algarismos, a frequência em kilociclos por segundo, eliminando a última cifra.

Recomenda-se, além disso, que esta identificação seja transmitida nas linguas inglêsa, espanhola, portuguesa e francesa.

VI

INTERCÂMBIO DE INFORMAÇÕES METEOROLÓGICAS.

Considerando:

1. Que até hoje não foi possível obter uma coordenação efetiva entre todos os países da América para realizar o intercâmbio adequado de informações meteorológicas, sinópticas;
2. que para chegar a tal resultado, é indispensável uma coordenação dos serviços meteorológicos e radioelétricos;

Recomenda-se:

- a) Que na ocasião de celebrar-se, em Washington, em 1941, a reunião conjunta das Comissões Regionais III e IV de meteorologia, se realize uma reunião mixta de técnicos dos organismos radioelétricos oficiais afim de estabelecer um plano interamericano definitivo sobre as questões vinculadas com a centralização e intercâmbio de informações meteorológicas e demais problemas conexos.
- b) que, com uma antecipação de seis meses, os organismos radioelétricos remetam às Comissões Regionais mencionadas, informações relativas às suas possibilidades, de acôrdo com o questionário anexo, como também qualquer outro dado de possível interêsse, afim de orientar os trabalhos preliminares das reuniões. mixtas.
- c) Encarece-se ao Govêrno do Chile levar ao conhecimento das Comissões Regionais III e IV as presentes recomendações.

VII

FREQUÊNCIAS DE ROTA PREVISTAS PELO REGULAMENTO GERAL DE RADIOCOMUNICAÇÕES

- a) Que se façam todos os esforços possíveis para mudar tão pronto seja praticável, os serviços móveis aeronáuticos das rotas aéreas para as frequências que lhes foram atribuídas pelo Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações do Cairo para as mencionadas rotas.
- b) Que as frequências determinadas no Cairo para as rotas interamericanas não sejam empregadas dentro das fronteiras nacionais, com exceção dos casos em que sejam utilizadas para servir rotas aéreas entre países da América;
- c) que todas as instalações disponíveis na atualidade para as necessidades de segurança nos vôos interamericanos sejam mantidas em funcionamento até serem substituídas, ou que, em vista de se haver tomado outras disposições adequadas, já não sejam necessárias.

VIII

FREQUÊNCIAS ADICIONAIS INFERIORES A 6000 Kc/s. PARA ROTAS AÉREAS INTERCONTINENTAIS.

- a) Que, na medida das suas possibilidades, todas as administrações americanas escolham/° frequências para serem empregadas durante todo o curso duma rota intercontinental determinada;

(/° as mesmas)

- b) que se disponham frequências de curta distância para complementar as frequências de longa distância atribuídas pelo Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações às rotas aéronáuticas intercontinentais com o objeto de assegurar comunicações aeronáuticas por rotas a qualquer distância;
- c) que se provejam frequências adequadas para comunicações aeronáuticas locais nos terminais de rotas e portos aéreos intermediários;
- d) que seja permitido, no entretanto, continuar utilizando as frequências de 5692,5, 5405, 3082,5, 2870 e 1638 Kc/s. que atualmente estiveram atribuídas a aeronaves e estações aeronáuticas na rota interamericana.

IX

COMUNICAÇÕES ENTRE AERONAVES E TERRA.

Considerando:

1. Que a instituição de uma organização de segurança é essencial (que pode compreender a coordenação entre várias entidades, de natureza tanto governamentais como não governamentais), compreendendo serviços para a comunicação por rádio, direção por rádio, controle do tráfego e segurança na proteção de naves aéreas;
2. que resultaria uma confusão se, a um mesmo tempo, uma multiplicidade de estações aeronáuticas de terra tomaram para si a responsabilidade de comunicações referentes à segurança duma aeronave determinada, e que isto produziria, além disso, perturbações nos serviços de rádio;
3. que, sob certas condições, poderá ser difícil manter uma vigilância simultânea sobre mais duma frequência de rádio a bordo das aeronaves;
4. que é necessário economizar no número de frequências que se empregam e no seu uso;

Recomenda-se:

- a) Que cada uma das vias para tráfego aéreo que possam considerar-se como constituintes duma rota aérea Interamericana, dentro do sentido que se dá a este termo nos Regulamentos Gerais do Cairo ao defini-lo com motivo da distribuição das rádio-frequências, seja dividida em setores de Controle, sendo atribuído cada setor a uma estação que sirva tal rota.
- b) que, em princípio, o limite dum setor de controle é a metade da distância que separa a estação à que tal setor possa estar atribuído, da estação que controle o setor seguinte na mesma via aérea;
- c) que, para um determinado vôo, o ponto exato onde transferir-se-á o controle de comunicações duma estação à seguinte, será determinado mediante um acôrdo entre as estações de terra respectivas e a aeronave.

X

COMUNICAÇÕES DO SERVIÇO AERONÁUTICO ENTRE PONTOS FIXOS.

Considerando:

1. Que o estabelecimento de setores de controle poderia requerer o emprego dum serviço fixo adequado e rápido de comunicações entre as estações de controle;
2. que poderia acontecer que as frequências atribuídas às rotas pelo Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações não permitirão assegurar o volume necessário de tráfego entre pontos fixos, como também, as comunicações essenciais das aeronaves;
3. que o Regulamento Geral de Radiocomunicações não proíbe o emprego de frequências, aos serviços aeronáuticos, dentro das faixas atribuídas aos serviços fixos de comunicação entre pontos fixos;

Recomenda-se:

- a) que se estabeleça um serviço de radiocomunicação rápido e eficiente, entre estações de controle dum mesma via aérea, por uma parte, entre estações adjacentes, e por outra, entre estações terminais. Para tal objeto, pelo menos duas séries de frequências terão de se prover, segundo as distâncias, e para as operações diurnas e noturnas.
- b) Que as comunicações a longa distância entre estações de controle sejam reduzidas estritamente à permuta de mensagens relacionadas com a segurança de aeronaves e a regularidade dos vôos;
- c) que cada governo examine a possibilidade de proporcionar, para o uso de estações aeronáuticas de serviço fixo, frequências apropriadas dentro das faixas atribuídas aos serviços fixos, que possam assegurar uma rápida transmissão do tráfego necessário às estações de controle com as quais se requer uma radiocomunicação direta. As frequências que possam encontrar-se disponíveis depois deste exame, serão postas à disposição de todos; é de se prever que a contribuição de cada país para as frequências será num número proporcional aos seus interesses no serviço.
- d) Que se realizem sobre a mesma frequência transmissões de rádio emitidas por uma estação aeronáutica fixa, especialmente designada, e destinadas a serem recebidas por uma ou mais estações similares, que cobram longas rotas transoceânicas, e situadas a distâncias apropriadas à propagação característica das frequências empregadas num momento determinado;
- e) que as frequências atribuídas a rotas e as frequências escolhidas para os serviços fixos aeronáuticos não serão empregadas para despachos meteorológicos que poderiam ser difundidos mais economicamente em radiodifusões gerais ou por outros meios;
- f) que para os fins indicados, os países participantes nesta Conferência preparem e procedam a permutar antes do 1º de Março de 1941 todas as informações pertinentes que possam ser de valor.

XI

ESTUDOS DE FREQUÊNCIAS NECESSÁRIAS PARA OS SERVIÇOS AERONÁUTICOS

Considerando:

- a) Que os serviços de aeronáutica nacionais ou internacionais têm demonstrado um crescimento regular e que sem lugar a dúvida, a sua expansão continuará rapidamente;
- b) que seria conveniente contar com dados suplementários concernentes às necessidades da rádio para os serviços aeronáuticos no Hemisfério Occidental;

Recomenda-se

1. Que se realize um estudo destinado a obter na data mais próxima que fôr possível fixar, um número razoável de canais adicionais para os serviços de aeronáutica. Si éstos canais forem considerados necessários.
2. que, com o fim acima aludido, os países participantes nêsta Conferência preparem e permutem antes do 1º de Março de . . . 1941 todas as informações pertinentes que possam ser de valor para formular proposições definitivas para a sua consideração na próxima Conferência Internacional de Telecomunicações.

DIVISÃO DE TEMPO NO USO DAS FREQUÊNCIAS DE ROTA.

Considerando:

Que as frequências de rotas de rotas intercontinentais estão destinadas a serem empregadas conjuntamente pelas aeronaves e as estações aeronáuticas de todos os países e que o Regulamento Geral do Cairo não cobre, até hoje, todas as faces dos procedimentos de operações de rádio nos serviços aeronáuticos, como serem, por exemplo, a divisão do tempo de operação no uso das frequências de rota;

Recomenda-se:

Que se faça um estudo com o fim de determinar quais dos regulamentos adicionais de rádio poderiam ser prescriptos para os serviços internacionais de aeronáutica. Que qualquer regulamentação adicional de rádio para os serviços aeronáuticos seja coordenada com as regulamentações existentes cobrindo os serviços móveis em geral, tanto internacionais como individuais de cada país.

XIII

FREQUÊNCIAS ESTABILIZADAS DE TRANSMISSÃO NAS DIVERSAS FAIXAS.

Considerando:

1. Que as novas tolerâncias fixadas pelo Regulamento Geral do Cairo provávelmente farão necessário o emprego de aparelhos aeronáuticos para o controle de frequência;

2. que o emprego de todas as frequências atribuídas em cada faixa para cada linha intercontinental faria necessário prover um grande número de frequências;

Recomenda-se:

- a) Que no caráter de medida temporária, os transmissores de aeronaves deverão estar capacitados, se fôr necessário, para transmitir sôbre as duas frequências fixas em cada faixa.
- b) que se proceda a trocar informações sôbre os métodos que se empregam para alcançar a estabilidade necessária.

XIV

EQUIPAMENTO DE RÁDIO PARA AERONAVES (GERAL)

Considerando:

Que o uso em conjunto das frequências das rotas intercontinentais trazem novos problemas de desenho do equipamento em vista das tolerâncias, necessariamente mais rígidas, que se referam a tais materias regulamentares como a estabilidade de frequência, mudança de faixas, alteração rápida de frequências, etc.

Recomenda-se:

de pedir aos corpos consultivos competentes em aeronáutica e rádio que preparem recomendações adequadas, técnicas como de funcionamento, sôbre todas as matérias nas quais a standardização seria desejável e praticável, como ser:

- a) número mínimo de faixas de frequências que deveria ser coberto por equipamentos radioelétricos de aeronaves, e um estudo das faixas específicas que deveriam ser cobertas.
- b) número mínimo de frequências estabilizadas que deveriam prover-se.
- c) Requerimentos para mudanças de frequências e de faixas.
- d) Normas de calibração para transmissores e receptores.
- e) Potência transmissora mínima e sensibilidade do receptor.

EQUIPOS RADIOELÉTRICOS PARA ESTAÇÕES DE CONTROLE DE AERONAVEGAÇÃO.

Recomenda-se:

- a) Que se realize um estudo referente às condições do equipamento radioelétrico mínimo para as estações de controle de navegação aérea que servem às rotas intercontinentais e,
- b) o intercâmbio de todas as informações relacionadas com as instalações já existentes em cada base.

XVI

DISPOSITIVOS RADIOELÉTRICOS PARA A AERONAVEGAÇÃO (NORMAS DE INTENSIDADE DE CAMPO E MARGEM DE INTERFERÊNCIAS)

1. Que os países do Hemisfério Ocidental procedam a intercâmbiar todas as informações pertinentes de que se disponham sobre as seguintes matérias:

a) Listas de vários tipos de auxílios de rádio à navegação aérea que tenham sido aprovados para operação de serviço.

b) Informações sobre a intensidade mínima de sinais requerida para uma recepção satisfatória dos diferentes tipos de dispositivos radioelétricos para a aeronavegação.

c) Indicação dos valores admissíveis na potência da sinalização interferente, empregável pelos diferentes tipos de dispositivos radioelétricos para a aeronavegação, expressado numa margem que revele a recepção de sinais desde o ponto "desejável" até o ponto "não desejável". Estas observações se farão com o mínimo de potência para sinais do serviço e seus contornos (a) sobre a mesma frequência, e, (b) sobre frequências separadas daquela frequência por números especificados de kilociclos;

2. que os dispositivos radioelétricos para aeronavegação, especialmente aquêles que operam num só sentido a semelhança de radiodifusão, como serem os radio-faróis, manter-se-ão as mais elevadas normas de segurança, estabilidade e qualidade de emissão.

3. Até o limite do possível, todas as nações deverão reservar as mesmas faixas de onda para tipos similares de serviço com o fim de simplificar o desenho; o de equipamento radial e, por meio desta standardização, estender os limites geográficos do aproveitamento dos equipos de rádio na aeronavegação;

4. que a potência radiada pelos dispositivos radioelétricos para a aeronavegação dentro das faixas de frequência autorizadas deve ser consistente com a intensidade normal requerida para a sinalização, dentro da região onde se desejar impôr tais serviços.

XVII

DISPOSITIVOS RADIOELÉTRICOS DE SEGURANÇA PARA AS AERONAVES.

Recomenda-se:

que sendo provável que a próxima Conferência Mundial Aero-náutica considere normas mundiais de dispositivos radioelétricos para aterrissagem de aeronaves com escaça visibilidade, se permutem informações entre as administrações que tenham experimentado estes dispositivos e também entre as demais administrações que formam parte deste Acôrdo.

NOTA EXPLANATORIA:

As resoluções e questões novas que se referem aos serviços aeronáuticos são o resultado de discussões baseadas em algumas das recomendações redigidas pela Sub-Comissão da Terceira Conferência Mundial de Expertos Aeronáuticos reunida em Cracovia (Polonia) em Maio de 1939.

XVIII

AMADORES (VÁRIOS)

- a) Requerer aos amadores que operem em radiotelefonia na faixa de 14000 a 144000 Kc/s. um período prévio de ensaio destinado a assegurar uma experiência mínima, afim de garantir o uso eficiente desta faixa.
- b) Proibir o emprego de estações de amadores, tanto sejam fixas como móveis, para realizar serviço de radiodifusão, procurando que as mesmas se circunscrevam à sua função específica, sem envadir a esfera de ação que corresponde a outros serviços de radiocomunicações.
- c) Que as organizações de amadores do Continente Americano se ponham de acôrdo entre sí por intermédio das respectivas administrações para estabelecer e proponder a próxima Conferência Interamericana um plano continental de subdivisão das faixas para os diversos tipos de emissão.

(Vide o Artigo nº 6.)

ALGUMAS NORMAS TÉCNICAS RELACIONADAS COM A SUPRESSÃO DE INTERFERÊNCIAS CAUSADAS POR APARELHOS ELÉTRICOS.

1. Aparelhos de diatermia, aquecedores com campo de indução, sistemas de chamada com onda portadora, e outros aparelhos similares que utilizem corrente de radiofrequência como algo essencial para o seu funcionamento sem serem aparelhos de radiocomunicação, podem chegar a ser uma fonte muito séria de interferências às radiocomunicações.
2. Tais aparelhos ocupam um lugar destacado na terapêutica, a cirurgia, as indústrias, etc.
3. A irradiação de energia radiofrequente não é essencial para o funcionamento dos aparelhos mencionados e pode ser evitada ou controlada sem diminuir a utilidade dos mesmos no tocante à sua finalidade.
4. A irradiação geralmente tem lugar no circuito de alimentação, circuitos interiores ou nos contatos com a fonte de energia elétrica, todos os quais constituem elementos essenciais destes aparelhos.
5. O alcance da irradiação depende da frequência ou frequências empregadas, da potência, do desenho, da instalação e do manejo do aparelho.
6. A irradiação proveniente das tomadas de corrente elétrica ou dos contatos com as fontes de energia elétrica pode se evitar por meio dum transformador blindado ou dum filtro de linha. A irradiação dos circuitos internos pode ser evitada por meio de caixas metálicas apropriadas. A irradiação dos circuitos de alimentação pode ser reduzida a uma proporção tal que não chegue a ocasionar perturbações, por meio duma blindagem metálica adequada, sempre que a blindagem encerre todo o aparelho e que seja de dimensões suficientes para que não se produzam fortes correntes de Foucault no mesmo. Têm-se empregado com êxito pantalhas de papel de alumínio e pantalhas de cobre bem unidas para blindar as habitações nas quais funcionam aparelhos de diatermia.

7. As frequências que se empregam para tais aparelhos poderiam ser qualquer das compreendidas nas faixas aproveitáveis do espectro radial. Não obstante, muitos equipamentos de diatermia (precisamente aquêles que mais perturbações radiais causam a longa distância) operam com frequências de aproximadamente 10000 a 25000 Kc/s. O emprego de frequências fora desta faixa, causa à recepção perturbações mais bem de caráter local ou a distâncias moderadas.

8. Os aparelhos de diatermia comumente empregados são essencialmente transmissores de rádio do tipo de oscilação auto-exitante e pelo geral empregam energia anódica auto-rectificada. Sempre que não se tenha incorporado um dispositivo automático de controle de frequência e ainda quando o aparelho funcione normalmente, a frequência de operação variaria sobre faixas muito amplas devido à instabilidade inerente aos circuitos de oscilação, a grande variação de voltagem no curso dum ciclo de alimentação de energia anódica, e a variação de cargas a que está submetido o circuito de alimentação.

9. Todas as instalações de diatermia destinadas ao mesmo serviço podem funcionar na mesma frequência sem diminuírem a sua utilidade já que seu funcionamento não é afectado por irradiações de outros aparelhos. É praticável operar sobre uma frequência específica dentro duma tolerância de frequência muito estreita e sem maior recargo do custo do equipamento. Fica entendido que na actualidade a tendência geral no desenho dos equipamentos de diatermia é a de empregar frequências superiores a 12 megacyclos aproximadamente e, em consequência, recomenda-se que os países contratantes considerem a conveniência de requerirem que todas as instalações de diatermia não empreguem mais de duas frequências, as quais devem ser superiores a 12 megacyclos e estar em relação armónica, evitando dêste modo perturbações nas frequências atribuídas às radiocomunicações. O emprego de duas frequências em relação armónica, proporciona uma garantia ainda mayor contra as interferencias às radiocomunicações.

10. Na actualidade, estima-se factível a aplicação de normas baseadas sobre bons princípios de engenharia prática e recomenda-se às administrações a adopção de tais normas, à brevidade possível.

Estas normas devem compreender as seguintes matérias:

- a) Frequências que devem empregar-se.
- b) Controle automático de frequência.
- c) Estabilidade de frequência.
- d) Tipo de emissão.
- e) Potência máxima gerada.
- f) Supressão efetiva de irradiações armónicas.
- g) Blindagem efetiva dos circuitos internos.
- h) Eliminação da irradiação proveniente das fontes de energia.

11. No caso de aparelhos de diatermia que não cumprirem com as normas que possam ser adoptadas, os países contratantes deverão considerar a conveniência de requerer que tais aparelhos funcionem unicamente em localidades devidamente blindadas.

12. Os aparelhos destinados a chamadas interdomésticas, certos tipos de fornos de indução e outros similares que empreguem frequências meias ou baixas, deverão estar submetidos ao requerimento de restringirem a geração de armónicas e deverão ser submetidos a provas para comprovar que a sua irradiação não exceda certo nível prefixado.

13. As administrações interessadas trocarão todas as informações relacionadas com a solução do problema criado pelas sérias perturbações que afectam aos serviços de radiocomunicação.

Agreement between the United States of America and Iceland respecting the defense of Iceland by United States forces. Effected July 1, 1941; ratified by the Icelandic Regent in Council July 10, 1941.

July 1, 1941
[E. A. S. 232]

Message sent by the Prime Minister of Iceland to the President of the United States, July 1, 1941

In a conversation of June 24th, the British Minister explained that British forces in Iceland are required elsewhere. At the same time he stressed the immense importance of adequate defense of Iceland. He also called my attention to the declaration of the President of the United States to the effect that he must take all necessary measures to ensure the safety of the Western Hemisphere—one of the President's measures is to assist in the defense of Iceland—and that the President is therefore prepared to send here immediately United States troops to supplement and eventually to replace the British force here. But that he does not consider that he can take this course except at the invitation of the Iceland Government.

After careful consideration of all the circumstances the Iceland Government, in view of the present state of affairs, admit that this measure is in accordance with the interest of Iceland, and therefore are ready to entrust the protection of Iceland to United States on the following conditions.

1. United States promise to withdraw all their military forces, land, air and sea, from Iceland immediately on conclusion of present war.

2. United States further promise to recognize the absolute independence and sovereignty of Iceland and to exercise their best efforts with those powers which will negotiate the peace treaty at the conclusion of the present war in order that such treaty shall likewise recognize the absolute independence and sovereignty of Iceland.

3. United States promise not to interfere with Government of Iceland neither while their armed forces remain in this country nor afterwards.

4. United States promise to organize the defense of the country in such a way as to ensure the greatest possible safety for the inhabitants themselves and assure that they suffer minimum disturbance from military activities; these activities being carried out in consultation with Iceland authorities as far as possible. Also because of small population of Iceland and consequent danger to nation from presence of a numerous army, great care must be taken that only picked troops are sent here. Military authorities should be also instructed to keep in mind that Icelanders have been unarmed for centuries and are entirely unaccustomed to military discipline and conduct of troops towards the inhabitants of the country should be ordered accordingly.

5. United States undertake defense of the country without expense to Iceland and promise compensation for all damage occasioned to the inhabitants by their military activities.

6. United States promise to further interests of Iceland in every way in their power, including that of supplying the country with sufficient necessities, of securing necessary shipping to and from the country and of making in other respects favorable commercial and trade agreements with it.

7. Iceland Government expect that declaration made by President in this connection will be in agreement with these premises on the part of Iceland, and Government would much appreciate its being given the opportunity of being cognizant with wording of this declaration before it is published.

8. On the part of Iceland it is considered obvious that if United States undertake defense of the country it must be strong enough to meet every eventuality and particularly in the beginning it is expected that as far as possible efforts will be made to prevent any special danger in connection with change-over. Iceland Government lays special stress on there being sufficient airplanes for defensive purposes wherever they are required and they can be used as soon as decision is made for United States to undertake the defense of the country.

This decision is made on the part of Iceland as an absolutely free and sovereign state and it is considered as a matter of course that United States will from the beginning recognize this legal status of the country, both states immediately exchanging diplomatic representatives.

Message sent by the President of the United States July 1, 1941 in response to a message from the Prime Minister of Iceland

I have received your message in which you have informed me that after careful consideration of all the circumstances, the Iceland Government, in view of the present state of affairs, admits that the sending to Iceland of United States troops to supplement and eventually to replace the present British forces there would be in accordance with the interests of Iceland and that, therefore, the Iceland Government is ready to entrust the protection of Iceland to the United States on the following considerations:

1. United States promise to withdraw all their military forces, land, air and sea, from Iceland immediately on conclusion of present war.
2. United States further promise to recognize the absolute independence and sovereignty of Iceland and to exercise their best efforts with those powers which will negotiate the peace treaty at the conclusion of the present war in order that such treaty shall likewise recognize the absolute independence and sovereignty of Iceland.
3. United States promise not to interfere with Government of Iceland, neither while their armed forces remain in the country nor afterwards.

Withdrawal on conclusion of war.

Recognition of Iceland's independence and sovereignty.

Noninterference.

4. United States promise to organize the defense of the country in such a way as to ensure the greatest possible safety for the inhabitants themselves and assure that they suffer minimum disturbance from military activities; these activities being carried out in consultation with Iceland authorities as far as possible. Also, because of small population of Iceland and consequent danger to nation from presence of a numerous army, great care must be taken that only picked troops are sent. Military authorities should be also instructed to keep in mind that Icelanders have been unarmed for centuries and are entirely unaccustomed to military discipline and conduct of troops towards the inhabitants of the country should be ordered accordingly.

Organization of defense.

5. United States undertake defense of the country without expense to Iceland and promise compensation for all damage occasioned to the inhabitants by their military activities.

No expense to Iceland.

6. United States promise to further interests of Iceland in every way in their power, including that of supplying the country with sufficient necessities, of securing necessary shipping to and from the country and of making in other respects favorable commercial and trade agreements with it.

Trade.

7. Iceland Government expect that declaration made by President in this connection will be in agreement with these premises on the part of Iceland, and Government would much appreciate its being given the opportunity of being cognizant with wording of this declaration before it is published.

Declaration.

8. On the part of Iceland it is considered obvious that if United States undertake defense of the country it must be strong enough to meet every eventuality and particularly in the beginning it is expected that as far as possible efforts will be made to prevent any special danger in connection with change-over. Iceland Government lays special stress on there being sufficient airplanes for defensive purposes wherever they are required and they can be used as soon as decision is made for United States to undertake the defense of the country.

Strength of U. S. forces.

You further state that this decision is made on the part of Iceland as an absolutely free and sovereign state and that it is considered as a matter of course that the United States will from the beginning recognize the legal status of Iceland, both states immediately exchanging diplomatic representatives.

I take pleasure in confirming to you hereby that the conditions set forth in your communication now under acknowledgment are fully acceptable to the Government of the United States and that these conditions will be observed in the relations between the United States and Iceland. I may further say that it will give me pleasure to request of the Congress its agreement in order that diplomatic representatives may be exchanged between our two countries.

Acceptance of conditions by U. S.

It is the announced policy of the Government of the United States to undertake to join with the other nations of the Western Hemisphere in the defense of the New World against any attempt at aggression. In the opinion of this Government, it is imperative that the integrity and independence of Iceland should be preserved because of the fact that any occupation of Iceland by a power whose only too clearly apparent plans for world conquest include the domination of the peoples of the New World would at once directly menace the security of the entire Western Hemisphere.

It is for that reason that in response to your message, the Government of the United States will send immediately troops to supplement and eventually to replace the British forces now there.

The steps so taken by the Government of the United States are taken in full recognition of the sovereignty and independence of Iceland and with the clear understanding that American military or naval forces sent to Iceland will in no wise interfere in the slightest degree with the internal and domestic affairs of the Icelandic people; and with the further understanding that immediately upon the termination of the present international emergency, all such military and naval forces will be at once withdrawn leaving the people of Iceland and their Government in full sovereign control of their own territory.

The people of Iceland hold a proud position among the democracies of the world, with a historic tradition of freedom and of individual liberty which is more than a thousand years old. It is, therefore, all the more appropriate that in response to your message, the Government of the United States, while undertaking this defensive measure for the preservation of the independence and security of the democracies of the New World should at the same time be afforded the privilege of cooperating in this manner with your Government in the defense of the historic democracy of Iceland.

I am communicating this message, for their information, to the Governments of all of the other nations of the Western Hemisphere.

Arrangement between the United States of America and Canada respecting visits in uniform by members of defense forces. Effected by exchange of notes signed August 28 and September 4, 1941; effective September 11, 1941. And exchange of notes dated May 17 and 29, 1940.

The American Minister to the Canadian Acting Secretary of State for External Affairs

LEGATION OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
Ottawa, Canada, August 28, 1941.

No. 474

SIR:

With a view to securing greater uniformity of practice in the matter of the wearing of uniform by unarmed members of the United States Army and Navy when visiting Canada, and by unarmed members of the Canadian forces when visiting the United States, and to adopting on a reciprocal basis a more liberal regime than has prevailed hitherto, my Government suggests that the following procedure may be agreed upon:

Unarmed members of the military, naval and air forces of each country may travel in uniform to the other country and wear uniform while within the other country provided:

Proposed procedure.

- (1) that the privileges thus granted to military personnel shall not be construed as waiving or modifying in any way Immigration regulations of the other country, or permit the actual movement of troops by one country through the territory of the other, and
- (2) that military personnel of one country proceeding to the territory of the other shall have in their possession valid military papers, i. e., "leave of absence" papers, soldier's "pass", or a Navy "identification card" or Naval "leave ticket" if travelling for personal reasons; or "official orders" if travelling on duty.

This note and your reply, accepting my Government's proposals, will together constitute an arrangement that becomes effective the 7th day from the date of your reply. It is understood that the arrangement is terminable by either Government on notice, and that it will supersede the arrangement effected between the two Governments by the exchange of notes dated March 7, April 5 and June 22, 1939, [1] as amended by the further exchange of notes dated May 17 and May 29, 1940.[2]

Effective date; termination.

Prior arrangement superseded.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

PIERREPONT MOFFAT.

DEPARTMENT OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS
CANADA

No. 158

OTTAWA, September 4, 1941.

SIR,

I have the honour to refer to your note of August 28, No. 474, concerning the proposed arrangements for governing the wearing of uniforms by members of the United States forces when visiting Canada and by members of the Canadian forces when visiting the United States, and wish to state that the suggested arrangement, which will become effective the 7th day from the date of this reply, is agreeable to this Government.

It is understood that this arrangement is terminable by either Government on notice, and that it will supersede the arrangement effected between the two Governments by the exchange of notes dated March 7th, April 5th and June 22nd, 1939, as amended by the further exchange of notes dated May 17th and May 29th, 1940.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Acting Secretary of State for External Affairs.

THE UNITED STATES MINISTER TO CANADA,
Legation of the United States of America,

EXCHANGE OF NOTES

The Canadian Minister to the Secretary of State

No. 137

MAY 17, 1940.

His Majesty's Minister for Canada presents his compliments to the Secretary of State and has the honour to refer to the Arrangement arrived at between Canada and the United States regarding visits in uniform by members of defense forces, effected by exchange of notes dated March 7th, April 5th and June 22nd, 1939.

The effect of the Arrangement which came into force on July 1st, 1939, is that an individual uniformed member of the United States forces may enter Canada (and vice versa) if he produces a written pass from his Commanding Officer, the pass to show the dates of the commencement and termination of the visit.

While there has been no correspondence on the subject, it is presumed that the United States Government would now consider that the Arrangement lapsed upon Canada's entry into the war. However, even if the Arrangement has lapsed, the Canadian Government would be glad to continue to observe its terms so far as visits of the United States forces to Canada are concerned.

In transmitting the attitude of the Canadian Government Mr. Christie desires to state that it would be appreciated if in due course the Legation might be informed whether the United States Government has any objection to the continuance of the pre-war régime governing such visits to Canada.

CANADIAN LEGATION
WASHINGTON, D. C.

M. M. M.

The Secretary of State to the Canadian Chargé d'Affaires ad interim

The Secretary of State presents his compliments to the Chargé d'Affaires ad interim of Canada and refers to the Minister's note no. 137 of May 17, 1940 regarding the arrangement between the United States of America and Canada for visits in uniform by members of defense forces which was effected by an exchange of notes dated March 7, April 5 and June 22, 1939.

53 Stat. 2439.

The United States Government considers that the arrangement is still in force and will be glad to continue to observe its terms so far as visits of the United States forces to Canada are concerned. However, in view of the changed situation the United States Government assumes that members of the armed forces of Canada will not come to the United States on any military mission, and it is hoped that so far as may be feasible members of the armed forces of Canada will not visit the United States in uniform.

Agreement between the United States of America and Mexico respecting expropriation of petroleum properties. Effected by exchange of notes signed November 19, 1941.

The Mexican Ambassador to the Secretary of State

EMBAJADA DE MEXICO

WASHINGTON, D. C., a 19 de noviembre de 1941.

SEÑOR SECRETARIO:

Tengo el honor de hacer referencia a las recientes conversaciones que he celebrado con Vuestra Excelencia acerca de la indemnización a los nacionales de los Estados Unidos de América que, con relación a la industria del petróleo en los Estados Unidos Mexicanos, fueron afectados por actos de expropiación o de otra manera, en sus propiedades, derechos o intereses, después del 17 de marzo de 1938, por el Gobierno de México.

Entiendo que hemos convenido en lo siguiente:

1°.—Cada uno de los Gobiernos nombrará, dentro de los treinta días siguientes a la fecha de esta nota, un perito, cuyo deber será determinar la justa compensación que se pagará a los nacionales de los Estados Unidos de América que, con relación a la industria del petróleo en los Estados Unidos Mexicanos, fueron afectados con detrimento de sus propiedades, derechos o intereses, después del 17 de marzo de 1938, por actos del Gobierno de México. Sin embargo, las estipulaciones de esta nota no se aplican a las propiedades, derechos o intereses que hayan quedado comprendidos en un arreglo respecto a su compra, traspaso, o indemnización celebrado por sus propietarios o poseedores y el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos Mexicanos, y, por consiguiente, los peritos excluirán dichos derechos, intereses y propiedades de su labor de avalúo y de sus dictámenes.

2°.—Los peritos designados celebrarán su primera reunión en la ciudad de México, dentro de los quince días siguientes a la fecha del último nombramiento hecho por los Gobiernos. Las posteriores sesiones y demás actos periciales se efectuarán en las fechas y lugares que los mismos peritos determinen, en territorio mexicano, y dentro de los plazos que señala este convenio.

3°.—Los dos Gobiernos designarán los auxiliares que requieran sus respectivos peritos para el mejor desempeño de su cometido.

4°.—Los gastos por sueldos, mantenimiento, transporte y demás erogaciones incidentales de los peritos y sus auxiliares serán suministrados por el Gobierno que los haya nombrado. Los gastos conjuntos en que se incurra durante los procedimientos periciales serán pagados por los dos Gobiernos por partes iguales.

5°.—Los peritos siempre colaborarán y cooperarán estrechamente en sus procedimientos de avalúo. Podrán obtener directamente los datos y elementos probatorios que consideren pertinentes para ilustrar su juicio, o recibirlos de las personas e instituciones interesadas y de los Gobiernos de México y de los Estados Unidos de América.

6°.—Los peritos tendrán libre acceso a todos los archivos que se encuentren en poder del Gobierno de México, así como también a los campos petroleros, terrenos, instalaciones, oficinas y edificios y cualesquiera otras propiedades que directa o indirectamente se relacionen con la valuación. El perito de los Estados Unidos, a petición del perito mexicano, solicitará de las personas e instituciones interesadas las pruebas pertinentes; cuando esa solicitud se refiera a las ya presentadas por tales personas o instituciones, su negativa para acceder a la solicitud hará aplicable la parte correspondiente del párrafo 9°.

8°.—Dentro de un plazo de dos meses, contados desde la fecha de su primera reunión, los peritos deberán obtener y recibir todos los datos, informes y elementos probatorios; sin embargo, gozarán de un término adicional de un mes, para la presentación por cualquier experto, de datos, informes y pruebas adicionales que complementen, aclaren o rectifiquen los elementos obtenidos o recibidos durante el aludido plazo de dos meses.

9°.—Los peritos están obligados a examinar y justipreciar todas las probanzas obtenidas directamente o que les sean sometidas. No tomarán en cuenta ninguna prueba específica rendida ex-parte, cuando la persona o institución que la someta se niegue en relación con aquella a proporcionar pruebas complementarias pertinentes solicitadas por el experto de los Estados Unidos, de acuerdo con las estipulaciones del párrafo sexto. Los peritos no tendrán en cuenta razones de naturaleza técnica al formular sus resoluciones—ya sea la conjunta o las rendidas en desacuerdo—sino que fijarán compensaciones adecuadas con fundamento en normas comunes de justicia y equidad, y se basarán en el valor de las propiedades, derechos o intereses, en el momento en que fueron afectados por actos del Gobierno de México y siempre que esas propiedades, derechos o intereses hayan sido adquiridos por nacionales de los Estados Unidos de América antes del 18 de marzo de 1938.

10°.—Los peritos darán fin a sus labores dentro de los cinco meses siguientes a la fecha de esta nota. Si se pusieren de acuerdo sobre el monto de las compensaciones que correspondan a los nacionales de los Estados Unidos que hubieran sido afectados, rendirán a los dos Gobiernos un dictamen conjunto, fijando con precisión las indemnizaciones que acuerden. Los peritos deben formular recomendaciones sobre el modo y condiciones de pago de la compensación.

devengará desde la fecha que fijen los mismos peritos hasta el momento de efectuarse el pago.

12°.—Ambos Gobiernos convienen en considerar inapelable el dictamen conjunto surgido del acuerdo de los peritos y, en consecuencia, como definitivas, las compensaciones e intereses que ese dictamen determine.

13°.—Si, en el plazo señalado en el párrafo 10°, los peritos no llegaren a ponerse de acuerdo sobre el monto de la justa compensación, dentro de un período adicional de un mes, cada uno someterá a su propio Gobierno un dictamen por separado especificando las indemnizaciones que considere pertinentes.

14°.—En caso de falta de acuerdo entre los peritos, y una vez fenecido el término a que se refiere el párrafo 13°, los dos Gobiernos, dentro del plazo de un mes, iniciarán negociaciones diplomáticas, con el objeto de fijar el importe de las compensaciones que deban pagarse.

15°.—Si, en un plazo de cinco meses, a partir de la iniciación de las negociaciones diplomáticas, como se establece en el párrafo 14°, los dos Gobiernos no llegaren a convenir sobre el monto de las compensaciones que deban pagarse, el presente Convenio quedará sin efecto, devolviéndose a los Estados Unidos Mexicanos, a petición de su Gobierno, la cantidad depositada de acuerdo con la estipulación pertinente del párrafo que sigue.

16°.—Los dos Gobiernos convendrán la forma y términos de pago de las compensaciones que se determinen por alguno de los dos procedimientos anteriores como debidas a los afectados, nacionales de los Estados Unidos. Dicho pago deberá realizarse, sin embargo, dentro de un período no mayor de siete años.

El Gobierno de México entregará hoy, en calidad de depósito, al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos de América, la cantidad de Dls. 9,000,000.00 (NUEVE MILLONES DE DOLARES), moneda de los Estados Unidos de América, suma que se aplicará inmediatamente a cuenta de la compensación que se haya fijado como precedente.

17°.—El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos facilitará las negociaciones entre el Gobierno de México y los representantes de las empresas petroleras que pudieran interesarse en un arreglo para la colocación en el mercado de los productos petroleros mexicanos de exportación.

18°.—Nada de lo contenido en esta nota será considerado como precedente, ni se invocará por ninguno de los dos Gobiernos para la resolución, entre ellos, de cualquiera dificultad, conflicto, controversia o arbitraje futuros. La resolución de este caso se considera como singular y excepcional, propia únicamente para él y motivada por el carácter del problema en sí mismo.

Sírvase aceptar, Vuestra Excelencia, las seguridades de mi alta consideración.

F. CASTILLO NÁJERA
Embajador.

Excelentísimo Señor
CORDELL HULL,
Secretario de Estado,
etc., etc., etc.

The Secretary of State to the Mexican Ambassador

 WASHINGTON
 November 19, 1941

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note of today's date, reading as follows:

"I have the honor to refer to recent conversations I have had with Your Excellency with reference to compensating the nationals of the United States of America whose properties, rights or interests in the petroleum industry in the United Mexican States were affected by acts of expropriation or otherwise by the Government of Mexico subsequent to March 17, 1938.

It is my understanding that the following has been agreed upon:

1. Each of the Governments will appoint, within the thirty days following the date of this note, an expert whose duty it shall be to determine the just compensation to be paid the nationals of the United States of America whose properties, rights or interests in the petroleum industry in the United Mexican States were affected to their detriment by acts of the Government of Mexico subsequent to March 17, 1938. Nevertheless, the provisions of this note do not apply to properties, rights or interests which may have been included in any arrangement with respect to their purchase, transfer or indemnification concluded between their owners or possessors and the Government of the United Mexican States and, in consequence, the experts will exclude from their evaluation proceedings and reports said rights, interests and properties.

Appointment of experts to determine compensation.

2. The designated experts will hold their first meeting in Mexico City within 15 days following the appointment last made by either Government. The later meetings and other activities of the experts will take place on the dates and at the places which the experts themselves determine within the periods contemplated by this agreement and they shall be held on Mexican territory.

Meetings.

3. Each Government shall designate such assistants as the respective experts may require to facilitate their labors.

Assistants.

4. The expenses of salaries, maintenance, transportation and other incidental expenditures of the experts and their assistants, will be met by the Government naming them. The joint expenses incurred during the proceedings of the experts shall be shared equally by the two Governments.

Expenses.

5. The experts shall at all times closely collaborate and cooperate in their evaluation proceedings. They may obtain directly such data and evidence as they may consider pertinent to forming their opinion, or receive them from the interested persons and institutions and from the Governments of Mexico and of the United States of America.

Procurement of data and evidence.

Access to records,
etc.

6. The experts shall have free access to all records in the possession of the Mexican Government, as well as to the oil fields, lands, installations, offices, buildings and any other properties whatsoever involved directly or indirectly in the evaluation. The United States expert, on the request of the Mexican expert, will ask the interested persons and institutions for pertinent evidence; when such request relates to evidence already submitted by such persons or institutions their refusal to comply with the request will bring into operation the applicable provision of paragraph 9.

Collaboration.

7. As soon as one expert obtains or learns of any pertinent data, report, or evidence, he will inform the other. Either expert may request from the other the furnishing of any data, report or evidence which for any reason are available only to the other.

Time allowed for procurement of data.

8. Within a period of two months, from the date of their first meeting, the experts shall obtain and receive all data, reports, and evidence; except that a further period of one month shall be allowed for the presentation by either expert of additional data, reports and evidence complementing, clarifying or rectifying the material obtained or received in the said period of two months.

Examination and appraisal of proofs.

9. The experts are required to examine and appraise all the proofs obtained directly or that may be submitted to them. They shall not take into account any specific evidence submitted ex parte when the person or institution submitting it refuses in connection with it to furnish pertinent complementary evidence requested by the United States expert, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 6. The experts shall not take into account reasons of a technical nature in formulating their decisions—be these joint or those submitted in disagreement—but will fix adequate indemnities on the basis of common rules of justice and equity and will be guided by the value of the properties, rights or interests at the time they were affected by acts of the Government of Mexico provided that these properties, rights or interests had been acquired by nationals of the United States of America prior to March 18, 1938.

completion of work.

10. The experts shall complete their work within five months from the date of this note. If they are in accord regarding the amount of the compensation due to the affected United States nationals, they shall submit a joint report to the two Governments fixing exactly the indemnities upon which they agree. The experts shall formulate recommendations as to the manner and conditions of payment of the compensation.

Interest.

11. The experts shall fix equitable interest upon the indemnity compensation they find due; this interest will apply from the date fixed by these experts up to the time of payment.

Joint report.

12. Both Governments agree to consider unappealable the joint report resulting from the agreement of the experts, and, in consequence, as definitive, the compensation and interest fixed in such report.

13. If, within the period indicated in paragraph 10, the experts are unable to reach agreement regarding the amount of just compensation, each one, within an additional period of one month, shall submit to his own Government a separate report specifying the compensations which he considers due.

Separate reports in case of disagreement.

14. In the event that the two experts fail to agree, and upon the expiration of the period specified in paragraph 13, the two Governments shall, within a period of one month, initiate diplomatic negotiations with a view to establishing the amount of the compensations to be paid.

Diplomatic negotiations.

15. If, within a period of five months from the date of initiation of diplomatic negotiations, as provided in paragraph 14, the two Governments do not agree upon the amount of compensation to be paid, the present agreement shall be without effect, and there shall be returned to the United Mexican States, at the request of the Government thereof, the amount deposited in accordance with the pertinent stipulation of the following paragraph.

Nullification of agreement; return of deposit.

16. The two Governments shall agree upon the manner and conditions of payment of the compensation found to be due to the affected United States nationals under either of the two aforementioned procedures. Such payment shall, however, be completed within a period of not more than seven years.

Manner and conditions of payment.

The Government of Mexico will deliver today, as a deposit, to the Government of the United States of America, the sum of $9,000,000 (NINE MILLION DOLLARS), United States currency, which sum shall be applied immediately on account of the compensation determined to be due.

Mexican deposit.

17. The Government of the United States will facilitate negotiations between the Government of Mexico and representatives of such oil companies as may be interested in an agreement for the marketing of exports of Mexican petroleum products.

Negotiations with oil companies.

18. Nothing contained in this note shall be regarded as a precedent or be invoked by either of the two Governments in the settlement, between them, of any future difficulty, conflict, controversy or arbitration. The action herein provided for is considered as singular and exceptional, appropriate solely to this case, and motivated by the character of the problem itself."

Not regarded as precedent.

In reply, I have the honor to confirm the understanding we have reached as set forth in Your Excellency's note under reference.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

His Excellency

Señor Dr. Don FRANCISCO CASTILLO NÁJERA,
Ambassador of Mexico.

[E. A. S. 235]

Agreement and exchanges of notes between the United States of America and Great Britain respecting leased naval and air bases, and protocol between the United States of America, Great Britain, and Canada concerning the defense of Newfoundland. Signed March 27, 1941.

AGREEMENT

WHEREAS the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, in consultation with the Government of Newfoundland, are desirous at this time of further effectuating the declarations made on their behalf by his Excellency the Most Honourable the Marquess of Lothian, C.H., His Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, in his communication of the 2nd September, 1940, to the Secretary of State of the United States of America, a copy of which is set out in Annex I hereto and made a part hereof;

Post, p. 1572.

And whereas it is agreed that leases in respect of the naval and air bases to be leased to the United States of America in Newfoundland, Bermuda, Jamaica, St. Lucia, Antigua, Trinidad and British Guiana, respectively, shall forthwith be executed substantially in the forms of the leases set out in Annex II hereto, which are hereby approved, and that a similar lease in respect of a base in the Bahamas shall be executed as soon as possible;

Post, p. 1574.

And whereas it is desired to determine by common agreement certain matters relating to the lease of the said bases, as provided in the communication of the 2nd September, 1940, and the reply thereto of the same date from the Honourable Cordell Hull, Secretary of State of the United States, set out in Annex I and made a part hereof;

Post, p. 1572.

And whereas it is desired that this Agreement shall be fulfilled in a spirit of good neighbourliness between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the United Kingdom, and that details of its practical application shall be arranged by friendly co-operation;

The Undersigned, duly authorised to that effect, have agreed as follows:—

ARTICLE I.

General Description of Rights.

(1) The United States shall have all the rights, power and authority within the Leased Areas which are necessary for the establishment, use, operation and defence thereof, or appropriate for their control, and all the rights, power and authority within the limits of territorial waters and air spaces adjacent to, or in the vicinity of, the Leased Areas, which are necessary to provide access to and defence of the Leased Areas, or appropriate for control thereof.

(2) The said rights, power and authority shall include, inter alia, the right, power and authority:—

- (a) to construct (including dredging and filling), maintain, operate, use, occupy and control the said Bases;
- (b) to improve and deepen the harbours, channels, entrances and anchorages, and generally to fit the premises for use as naval and air bases;
- (c) to control, so far as may be required for the efficient operation of the Bases, and within the limits of military necessity, anchorages, moorings and movements of ships and water-borne craft and the anchorages, moorings, landings, take-offs, movements and operations of aircraft;
- (d) to regulate and control within the Leased Areas all communications within, to and from the areas leased;
- (e) to install, maintain, use and operate under-sea and other defences, defence devices and controls, including detecting and other similar facilities.

(3) In the exercise of the above-mentioned rights, the United States agrees that the powers granted to it outside the Leased Areas will not be used unreasonably or, unless required by military necessity, so as to interfere with the necessary rights of navigation, aviation or communication to or from or within the Territories, but that they shall be used in the spirit of the fourth clause of the Preamble.

(4) In the practical application outside the Leased Areas of the foregoing paragraphs there shall be, as occasion requires, consultation between the Government of the United States and the Government of the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE II.

Special Emergency Powers.

When the United States is engaged in war or in time of other emergency, the Government of the United Kingdom agree that the United States may exercise in the Territories and surrounding waters or air spaces all such rights, power and authority as may be necessary for conducting any military operations deemed desirable by the United States, but these rights will be exercised with all possible regard to the spirit of the fourth clause of the Preamble.

ARTICLE III.

Non-user.

The United States shall be under no obligation to improve the Leased Areas or any part thereof for use as naval or air bases, or to exercise any right, power or authority granted in respect of the Leased Areas, or to maintain forces therein, or to provide for the defence thereof; but if and so long as any Leased Area, or any part thereof, is not used by the United States for the purposes in this Agreement set forth, the Government of the United Kingdom or the Government of the Territory may take such steps therein as shall be agreed with the United States to be desirable for the maintenance of public health, safety, law and order, and, if necessary, for defence.

ARTICLE IV.

Jurisdiction.

(1) In any case in which—

- (a) a member of the United States forces, a national of the United States or a person who is not a British subject shall be charged with having committed, either within or without the Leased Areas, an offence of a military nature, punishable under the law of the United States, including, but not restricted to, treason, an offence relating to sabotage or espionage, or any other offence relating to the security and protection of United States naval and air Bases, establishments, equipment or other property or to operations of the Government of the United States in the Territory; or
- (b) a British subject shall be charged with having committed any such offence within a Leased Area and shall be apprehended therein; or
- (c) a person other than a British subject shall be charged with having committed an offence of any other nature within a Leased Area, the United States shall have the absolute right in the first instance to assume and exercise jurisdiction with respect to such offence.

(2) If the United States shall elect not to assume and exercise such jurisdiction the United States Authorities shall, where such offence is punishable in virtue of legislation enacted pursuant to Article V or otherwise under the law of the Territory, so inform the Government of the Territory and shall, if it shall be agreed between the Government of the Territory and the United States Authorities that the alleged offender should be brought to trial, surrender him to the appropriate authority in the Territory for that purpose.

(3) If a British subject shall be charged with having committed within a Leased Area an offence of the nature described in paragraph (1) (a) of this Article, and shall not be apprehended therein, he shall, if in the Territory outside the Leased Areas, be brought to trial before the courts of the Territory; or, if the offence is not punishable under the law of the Territory, he shall, on the request of the United States Authorities, be apprehended and surrendered to the United States Authorities, and the United States shall have the right to exercise jurisdiction with respect to the alleged offence.

(4) When the United States exercises jurisdiction under this Article and the person charged is a British subject, he shall be tried by a United States court sitting in a Leased Area in the Territory.

(5) Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed to affect, prejudice or restrict the full exercise at all times of jurisdiction and control by the United States in matters of discipline and internal administration over members of the United States forces, as conferred by the law of the United States and any regulations made thereunder.

ARTICLE V.

Security Legislation.

The Government of the Territory will take such steps as may from time to time be agreed to be necessary with a view to the enactment of legislation to ensure the adequate security and protection of the United States naval and air Bases, establishments, equipment and other property, and the operations of the United States under the Leases and this Agreement and the punishment of persons who may contravene any laws or regulations made for that purpose. The Government of the Territory will also from time to time consult with the United States Authorities in order that the laws and regulations of the United States and the Territory in relation to such matters may, so far as circumstances permit, be similar in character.

ARTICLE VI.

Arrest and Service of Process.

(1) No arrest shall be made and no process, civil or criminal, shall be served within any Leased Area except with the permission of the Commanding Officer in charge of the United States forces in such Leased Area; but should the Commanding Officer refuse to grant such permission he shall (except in cases where the United States Authorities elect to assume and exercise jurisdiction in accordance with Article IV (1)) forthwith take the necessary steps to arrest the person charged and surrender him to the appropriate authority of the Territory or to serve such process, as the case may be, and to provide for the attendance of the server of such process before the appropriate court of the Territory or procure such server to make the necessary affidavit or declaration to prove such service.

(2) In cases where the courts of the United States have jurisdiction under Article IV, the Government of the Territory will on request give reciprocal facilities as regards the service of process and the arrest and surrender of alleged offenders.

(3) In this Article the expression "process" includes any process by way of summons, subpoena, warrant, writ or other judicial document for securing the attendance of a witness, or for the production of any documents or exhibits, required in any proceedings civil or criminal.

ARTICLE VII.

Right of Audience for United States Counsel.

In cases in which a member of the United States forces shall be a party to civil or criminal proceedings in any court of the Territory by reason of some alleged act or omission arising out of or in the course of his official duty, United States counsel (authorised to practise before the courts of the United States) shall have the right of audience, provided that such counsel is in the service of the Government of the United States and appointed for that purpose either generally or specially by the appropriate authority.

ARTICLE VIII.

Surrender of Offenders.

Where a person charged with an offence which falls to be dealt with by the courts of the Territory is in a Leased Area, or a person charged with an offence which falls under Article IV to be dealt with by courts of the United States is in the Territory but outside the Leased Areas, such person shall be surrendered to the Government of the Territory or to the United States Authorities, as the case may be, in accordance with special arrangements made between that Government and those Authorities.

ARTICLE IX.

Public Services.

The United States shall have the right to employ and use all utilities, services and facilities, roads, highways, bridges, viaducts, canals and similar channels of transportation belonging to, or controlled or regulated by, the Government of the Territory or the Government of the United Kingdom, under conditions comparable to and no less favourable than those applicable from time to time to the Government of the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE X.

Surveys.

(1) The United States shall have the right, after appropriate notification has been given to the Government of the Territory, to make topographic and hydrographic surveys outside the Leased Areas in any part of the Territory and waters adjacent thereto. Copies, with title and triangulation data, of any surveys so made will be furnished to the Government of the Territory.

(2) Notification and copies will be given to the United States Authorities of any such surveys carried out by the Government of the United Kingdom or the Government of the Territory.

ARTICLE XI.

Shipping and Aviation.

(1) Lights and other aids to navigation of vessels and aircraft placed or established in the Leased Areas and the territorial waters adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof shall conform to the system in use in the Territory. The position, characteristics and any alterations thereof shall be notified in advance to the appropriate authority in the Territory.

(2) United States public vessels operated by the War or Navy Departments, by the Coastguard or by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, bound to or departing from a Leased Area shall not on entering or leaving the Leased Area or the territorial waters in the vicinity thereof be subject to compulsory pilotage or to light or harbour dues in the Territory. If a pilot is taken pilotage shall be paid for at appropriate rates.

(3) British commercial vessels may use the Leased Areas on the same terms and conditions as United States commercial vessels.

(4) It is understood that a Leased Area is not a part of the territory of the United States for the purpose of coastwise shipping laws so as to exclude British vessels from trade between the United States and the Leased Areas.

(5) Commercial aircraft will not be authorised to operate from any of the Bases (save in case of emergency or for strictly military purposes under supervision of the War or Navy Departments) except by agreement between the United States and the Government of the United Kingdom; provided that in the case of Newfoundland such agreement shall be between the United States and the Government of Newfoundland.

ARTICLE XII.

Motor Traffic.

(1) Standard and test types of motor vehicles as determined by the United States shall not be prevented from using roads in a Territory by reason of non-compliance with any law relating to construction of motor vehicles.

(2) No tax or fee shall be payable in respect of registration or licensing for use in a Territory of motor vehicles belonging to the Government of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

Immigration.

(1) The immigration laws of the Territory shall not operate or apply so as to prevent admission into the Territory, for the purposes of this Agreement, of any member of the United States Forces posted to a Leased Area or any person (not being a national of a Power at war with His Majesty the King) employed by, or under a contract with, the Government of the United States in connection with the construction, maintenance, operation or defence of the Bases in the Territory; but suitable arrangements will be made by the United States to enable such persons to be readily identified and their status to be established.

(2) If the status of any person within the Territory and admitted thereto under the foregoing paragraph shall be altered so that he would no longer be entitled to such admission, the United States Authorities shall notify the Government of the Territory and shall, if such person be required to leave the Territory by that Government, be responsible for providing him with a passage from the Territory within a reasonable time, and shall in the meantime prevent his becoming a public responsibility of the Territory.

ARTICLE XIV.

Customs and other Duties.

(1) No import, excise, consumption or other tax, duty or impost shall be charged on—

- (a) material, equipment, supplies or goods for use in the construction, maintenance, operation or defence of the Bases, consigned to, or destined for, the United States Authorities or a contractor;
- (b) goods for use or consumption aboard United States public vessels of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard or Coast and Geodetic Surveys;
- (c) goods consigned to the United States Authorities for the use of institutions under Government control known as Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Stores, Commissary Stores or Service Clubs, or for sale thereat to members of the United States forces, or civilian employees of the United States being nationals of the United States and employed in connection with the Bases, or members of their families resident with them and not engaged in any business or occupation in the Territory;
- (d) the personal belongings or household effects of persons referred to in sub-paragraph (c), and of contractors and their employees being nationals of the United States employed in the construction, maintenance or operation of the Bases and present in the Territory by reason only of such employment.

(2) No export tax shall be charged on the material, equipment, supplies or goods mentioned in paragraph (1) in the event of re-shipment from the Territory.

(3) This Article shall apply notwithstanding that the material, equipment, supplies or goods pass through other parts of the Territory en route to or from a Leased Area.

(4) Administrative measures shall be taken by the United States Authorities to prevent the resale of goods which are sold under paragraph (1) (c), or imported under paragraph (1) (d), of this Article, to persons not entitled to buy goods at such Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Stores, Commissary Stores or Service Clubs, or not entitled to free importation under paragraph (1) (d); and generally to prevent abuse of the customs privileges granted under this Article. There shall be co-operation between such Authorities and the Government of the Territory to this end.

ARTICLE XV.

Wireless and Cables.

(1) Except with the consent of the Government of the Territory, no wireless station shall be established or submarine cable landed in a Leased Area otherwise than for military purposes.

(2) All questions relating to frequencies, power and like matters, used by apparatus designed to emit electric radiation, shall be settled by mutual arrangement.

ARTICLE XVI.

Postal Facilities.

The United States shall have the right to establish United States Post Offices in the Leased Areas for the exclusive use of the United States forces, and civilian personnel (including contractors and their employees) who are nationals of the United States and employed in connection with the construction, maintenance, operation or defence of the Bases, and the families of such persons, for domestic use between United States Post Offices in Leased Areas and between such Post Offices and other United States Post Offices and Post Offices in the Panama Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands.

ARTICLE XVII.

Taxation.

(1) No member of the United States forces or national of the United States, serving or employed in the Territory in connection with the construction, maintenance, operation or defence of the Bases, and residing in the Territory by reason only of such employment, or his wife or minor children, shall be liable to pay income tax in the Territory except in respect of income derived from the Territory.

No. 1.

*The Marquess of Lothian to Mr. Cordell Hull*WASHINGTON, September 2, 1940.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour, under instructions from His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to inform you that in view of the friendly and sympathetic interest of His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom in the national security of the United States and their desire to strengthen the ability of the United States to co-operate effectively with the other nations of the Americas in the defence of the Western Hemisphere, His Majesty's Government will secure the grant to the Government of the United States, freely and without consideration, of the lease for immediate establishment and use of Naval and Air bases and facilities for entrance thereto and the operation and protection thereof, on the Avalon Peninsula and on the Southern coast of Newfoundland, and on the East coast and on the Great Bay of Bermuda.

Furthermore, in view of the above and in view of the desire of the United States to acquire additional Air and Naval bases in the Caribbean and in British Guiana, and without endeavouring to place a monetary or commercial value upon the many tangible and intangible rights and properties involved, His Majesty's Government will make available to the United States for immediate establishment and use Naval and Air bases and facilities for entrance thereto and the operation and protection thereof, on the Eastern side of the Bahamas, the Southern coast of Jamaica, the Western coast of St. Lucia, the West coast of Trinidad in the Gulf of Paria, in the Island of Antigua, and in British Guiana within fifty miles of Georgetown, in exchange for Naval and Military equipment and material which the United States Government will transfer to His Majesty's Government.

All of the bases and facilities referred to in the preceding paragraphs will be leased to the United States for a period of ninety-nine years free from all rent and charges other than such compensation to be mutually agreed on to be paid by the United States in order to compensate the owners of private property for loss by expropriation or damage arising out of the establishment of the bases and facilities in question.

His Majesty's Government in the leases to be agreed upon will grant to the United States for the period of the leases all the rights, power and authority within the bases leased, and within the limits of the territorial waters and air spaces adjacent to or in the vicinity of such bases, necessary to provide access to and defence of such bases and appropriate provisions for their control.

Without prejudice to the above-mentioned rights of the United States authorities and their jurisdiction within the leased areas, the adjustment and reconciliation between the jurisdiction of the authorities of the United States within these areas and the jurisdiction of the authorities of the territories in which these areas are situated shall be determined by common agreement.

The exact location and bounds of the aforesaid bases, the necessary seaward, coast and anti-aircraft defences, the location of sufficient military garrisons, stores and other necessary auxiliary facilities shall be determined by common agreement.

His Majesty's Government are prepared to designate immediately experts to meet with experts of the United States for these purposes. Should these experts be unable to agree in any particular situation except in the case of Newfoundland and Bermuda, the matter shall be settled by the Secretary of State of the United States and His Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

I have, &c.

THE undersigned plenipotentiaries of the Governments of Canada, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America having been authorized by their respective Governments to clarify certain matters concerning the defence of Newfoundland arising out of the Agreement signed this day concerning the Bases leased to the United States, have drawn up and signed the following Protocol:—

Defense of Newfoundland.

1. It is recognised that the defence of Newfoundland is an integral feature of the Canadian scheme of defence, and as such is a matter of special concern to the Canadian Government, which has already assumed certain responsibilities for this defence.

2. It is agreed therefore that, in all powers which may be exercised and in such actions as may be taken under the Agreement for the use and operation of United States bases dated the 27th March, 1941, in respect of Newfoundland, Canadian interests in regard to defence will be fully respected.

3. Nothing in the Agreement shall affect arrangements relative to the defence of Newfoundland already made by the Governments of the United States and Canada in pursuance of recommendations submitted to those Governments by the Permanent Joint Board on Defence—United States and Canada.

4. It is further agreed that in all consultations concerning Newfoundland arising out of Articles I (4), II and XI (5) of the Agreement, or of any other Articles involving considerations of defence, the Canadian Government as well as the Government of Newfoundland will have the right to participate.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES, KNOWN AS THE ATLANTIC CHARTER, BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE PRIME MINISTER OF THE UNITED KINGDOM, AUGUST 14, 1941

Joint declaration of the President of the United States of America and the Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill, representing His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, being met together, deem it right to make known certain common principles in the national policies of their respective countries on which they base their hopes for a better future for the world.

First, their countries seek no aggrandizement, territorial or other;

Second, they desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned;

Third, they respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; and they wish to see sovereign rights and self-government restored to those who have been forcibly deprived of them;

Fourth, they will endeavor, with due respect for their existing obligations, to further the enjoyment by all States, great or small, victor or vanquished, of access, on equal terms, to the trade and to the raw materials of the world which are needed for their economic prosperity;

Fifth, they desire to bring about the fullest collaboration between all nations in the economic field with the object of securing, for all, improved labor standards, economic advancement and social security;

Sixth, after the final destruction of the Nazi tyranny, they hope to see established a peace which will afford to all nations the means of dwelling in safety within their own boundaries, and which will afford assurance that all the men in all the lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear and want;

Seventh, such a peace should enable all men to traverse the high seas and oceans without hindrance;

Eighth, they believe that all of the nations of the world, for realistic as well as spiritual reasons must come to the abandonment of the use of force. Since no future peace can be maintained if land, sea or air armaments continue to be employed by nations which threaten, or may threaten, aggression outside of their frontiers, they believe, pending the establishment of a wider and permanent system of general security, that the disarmament of such nations is essential. They will likewise aid and encourage all other practicable measures which will lighten for peace-loving peoples the crushing burden of armaments.

CANCER CONTROL MONTH—1941

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

 March 18, 1941

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Public Resolution No. 82, 75th Congress, approved March 28, 1938 (52 Stat. 148), authorizes and requests the President to issue annually a proclamation setting apart the month of April of each year as Cancer Control Month, and to invite similar action on the part of the Governors of the several States, Territories, and possessions of the United States; and 36 U. S. C. §150.

WHEREAS such Public Resolution requests that such proclamations invite the medical profession, the press, and all agencies and individuals interested in a national program for the control of the disease of cancer, by education and other cooperative means, to unite during the month of April in a public dedication to such a program and in a concerted effort to impress upon the people of the nation the necessity for such a program; and

WHEREAS through the National Cancer Institute of the United States Public Health Service, the Federal Government is leading the way in advancing research, in promoting effective treatment methods, and in advocating the provision of adequate facilities for cancer patients, as are the several States which have adopted programs for the control of cancer, as well as voluntary groups led by the Women's Field Army which are engaged in a nation-wide educational campaign; and

WHEREAS last year cancer was responsible for the deaths of approximately 152,000 Americans, many of whom were occupying key positions in industries and professions related to the national defense; and

WHEREAS great improvements in treatment facilities for cancer patients have been made during the past year, with cancer clinics approved by the American College of Surgeons now reaching the encouraging total of 345; and

WHEREAS it now remains for the individual citizen to shoulder his responsibility by informing himself regarding cancer symptoms and the necessity for early diagnosis and treatment:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby set apart the month of April, 1941, as Cancer Control Month, and invite similar action on the part of the Governors of the several States, Territories, and possessions of the United States; and, in order that the American people may become better informed concerning the prevalence of cancer and the effective steps which can be taken to control it, I commend to the medical profession, scientific groups, all organs of opinion, including the press, radio, and motion picture industry, and educators, and civic leaders, the importance of conveying educational information to the American people and of impressing upon them the necessity for eternal vigilance in this fight for humanity. Cancer control must be an important part of our unified effort to make America strong and keep her morale high. This fight can be won only when physicians, scientists, and public health officials are effectively aided by a public opinion that is well informed regarding the few basic facts of cancer control.

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT WEEK

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

 April 2, 1941

A PROCLAMATION

Despite great expansions in employment resulting directly and indirectly from our vast National Defense Program, the State and Federal governments continue to be concerned with the problems of older workers, many of whom still lack a place in industry. Among these are a considerable number of World War veterans, men who now average 48 years of age, and who, I feel, have a special appeal to our national sense of responsibility particularly during this time of national defense preparation.

The United States Employment Service—a Nation-wide network of 1500 offices operated jointly by the State and Federal governments—has made special efforts in behalf of workers past 40 years of age, including veterans. In the interest of utilizing all possible skills in our defense program, I urge that employers review carefully their standards of physical qualifications to assure that these valuable workers are not barred from employment. We know from available facts that men and women in middle life possess abilities and skills which fit them for employment in nearly every line of work and that they have a definite contribution to make at this time of increasing shortages of experienced workers. It is important in our national defense effort that we fully and effectively use the available manpower of the Nation.

A year ago I designated a National Employment Week during which I asked that all our citizens give particular and active attention to the problem of older workers who lack employment. The concerted efforts of government, many public-spirited groups, and particularly of employers throughout the land, resulted in the employment of thousands of workers past 40, among them many veterans.

I am grateful for the whole-hearted response to that appeal; and as President, I desire to encourage a continued Nation-wide interest in this persistent problem.

Week beginning
May 4, 1941, declared as National Employment Week.
Sunday, May 4, 1941, declared as National Employment
Sunday.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby declare the week beginning May 4, 1941, as National Employment Week, and Sunday, May 4, 1941, as National Employment Sunday. I urge all churches, civic organizations, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, veterans' organizations, industry, labor, public-spirited citizens, radio, and the press throughout the United States to observe that week as National Employment Week, to the end that interest in the welfare of all those not now working, and especially the worker over 40, may be stimulated and employment be extended to them.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 2d day of April in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-one and of the [SEAL] Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fifth.

PROCLAIMING THAT AN UNLIMITED NATIONAL EMERGENCY CONFRONTS THIS COUNTRY, WHICH REQUIRES THAT ITS MILITARY, NAVAL, AIR AND CIVILIAN DEFENSES BE PUT ON THE BASIS OF READINESS TO REPEL ANY AND ALL ACTS OR THREATS OF AGGRESSION DIRECTED TOWARD ANY PART OF THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

May 27, 1941

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS on September 8, 1939 because of the outbreak of war in Europe a proclamation was issued declaring a limited national emergency and directing measures "for the purpose of strengthening our national defense within the limits of peacetime authorizations",

54 Stat 2643.
50 U. S. C., app.,
prec. § 1 note.

WHEREAS a succession of events makes plain that the objectives of the Axis belligerents in such war are not confined to those avowed at its commencement, but include overthrow throughout the world of existing democratic order, and a worldwide domination of peoples and economies through the destruction of all resistance on land and sea and in the air, AND

WHEREAS indifference on the part of the United States to the increasing menace would be perilous, and common prudence requires that for the security of this nation and of this hemisphere we should pass from peacetime authorizations of military strength to such a basis as will enable us to cope instantly and decisively with any attempt at hostile encirclement of this hemisphere, or the establishment of any base for aggression against it, as well as to repel the threat of predatory incursion by foreign agents into our territory and society,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do proclaim that an unlimited national emergency confronts this country, which requires that its military, naval, air and civilian defenses be put on the basis of readiness to repel any and all acts or threats of aggression directed toward any part of the Western Hemisphere.

Unlimited national
claimed.

I call upon all the loyal citizens engaged in production for defense to give precedence to the needs of the nation to the end that a system of government that makes private enterprise possible may survive.

I call upon all our loyal workmen as well as employers to merge their lesser differences in the larger effort to insure the survival of the only kind of government which recognizes the rights of labor or of capital.

I call upon loyal state and local leaders and officials to cooperate with the civilian defense agencies of the United States to assure our internal security against foreign directed subversion and to put every community in order for maximum productive effort and minimum of waste and unnecessary frictions.

I call upon all loyal citizens to place the nation's needs first in mind and in action to the end that we may mobilize and have ready for instant defensive use all of the physical powers, all of the moral strength and all of the material resources of this nation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

WHEREAS the Commission has made findings of fact and has transmitted to me a report of such findings and its recommendations based thereon, together with a transcript of the evidence submitted at the hearings, and has also transmitted a copy of such report to the Secretary of Agriculture:

NATIONAL SAFETY CAMPAIGN

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

The Nation is confronted with a rapidly rising accident toll. At the present rate, the total number of deaths from accidents this year will exceed 100,000. Traffic accidents alone caused 34,500 deaths in 1940, and thus far in the present year there has been an increase of seventeen per cent in traffic fatalities.

By taking a huge toll in life and property, accidents definitely hinder our national defense effort. To insure maximum efficiency we must have maximum safety twenty-four hours a day—not only at work, but also on the highway, at home, everywhere.

The troubled times in which we live must not make us callous or indifferent to human suffering. These unusual times require unusual safety efforts.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the officers and directors of the National Safety Council to mobilize its nation-wide resources in leading a concerted and intensified campaign against accidents, and do call upon every citizen, in public or private capacity, to enlist in this campaign and do his part in preventing wastage of human and material resources of the Nation through accidents.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 18th day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

THANKSGIVING DAY—1941

November 8, 1941

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Designation of Nov.
20, 1941 as Thanksgiving Day.

I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate and set aside Thursday, the twentieth day of November 1941, as a day to be observed in giving thanks to the Heavenly Source of our earthly blessings.

Our beloved country is free and strong. Our moral and physical defenses against the forces of threatened aggression are mounting daily in magnitude and effectiveness.

In the interest of our own future, we are sending succor at increasing pace to those peoples abroad who are bravely defending their homes and their precious liberties against annihilation.

We have not lost our faith in the spiritual dignity of man, our proud belief in the right of all people to live out their lives in freedom and with equal treatment. The love of democracy still burns brightly in our hearts.

We are grateful to the Father of us all for the innumerable daily manifestations of His beneficent mercy in affairs both public and private, for the bounties of the harvest, for opportunities to labor and to serve, and for the continuance of those homely joys and satisfactions which enrich our lives.

Let us ask the Divine Blessing on our decision and determination to protect our way of life against the forces of evil and slavery which seek in these days to encompass us.

On the day appointed for this purpose, let us reflect at our homes or places of worship on the goodness of God and, in giving thanks, let us pray for a speedy end to strife and the establishment on earth of freedom, brotherhood, and justice for enduring time.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

BILL OF RIGHTS DAY

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

November 27, 1941
[No. 2524]

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a Joint Resolution of the Congress, approved August 21, 1941, authorizes and requests the President of the United States "to issue a proclamation designating December 15, 1941 as Bill of Rights Day, calling upon officials of the Government to display the flag of the United States on all Government buildings on that day, and inviting the people of the United States to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies and prayer":

Ante, p. 665.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate December 15, 1941 as Bill of Rights Day. And I call upon the officials of the Government, and upon the people of the United States, to observe the day by displaying the flag of the United States on public buildings and by meeting together for such prayers and such ceremonies as may seem to them appropriate.

Designation of Dec. 15, 1941 as Bill of Rights Day.

The first ten amendments, the great American charter of personal liberty and human dignity, became a part of the Constitution of the United States on the 15th day of December 1791.

It is fitting that the anniversary of its adoption should be remembered by the nation which, for one hundred and fifty years, has enjoyed the immeasurable privileges which that charter guaranteed: the privileges of freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly and the free right to petition the government for redress of grievances.

It is especially fitting that this anniversary should be remembered and observed by those institutions of a democratic people which owe their very existence to the guarantees of the Bill of Rights: the free schools, the free churches, the labor unions, the religious and educational and civic organizations of all kinds which, without the guarantee of the Bill of Rights, could never have existed; which sicken and disappear whenever, in any country, these rights are curtailed or withdrawn.

The 15th day of December, 1941, is therefore set apart as a day of mobilization for freedom and for human rights, a day of remembrance of the democratic and peaceful action by which these rights were gained, a day of reassessment of their present meaning and their living worth.

Those who have long enjoyed such privileges as we enjoy forget in time that men have died to win them. They come in time to take these rights for granted and to assume their protection is assured. We, however, who have seen these privileges lost in other continents and other countries can now appreciate their meaning to those people who enjoyed them once and now no longer can. We understand in some measure what their loss can mean. And by that realization we have come to a clearer conception of their worth to us, and to a stronger and more unalterable determination that here in our land they shall not be lost or weakened or curtailed.

It is to give public expression and outward form to that understanding and that determination that we are about to commemorate the adoption of the Bill of Rights and rededicate its principles and its practice.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

RED CROSS WAR FUND CAMPAIGN

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS our country has been viciously attacked and forced into a war of vast proportions, which will inevitably bring grief and distress to many and self-sacrifice to all; and

WHEREAS for more than sixty years the American National Red Cross has played a vital role in binding up the wounds of the injured, in sheltering, feeding, and clothing the homeless, in succoring the distressed, in rebuilding broken lives, and in rehabilitating the victims of catastrophes of nature and of war; and

WHEREAS in preparation for just such an emergency as we are now facing, the American National Red Cross has been spending funds at the rate of more than one million dollars a month, which is but a small fraction of the amount that the organization now requires in order to carry out effectively its functions as an essential auxiliary of our armed forces, particularly as a friendly liaison in welfare problems between the man in service and his family at home, and as a key agency in the civil-defense plans:

Beginning of campaign.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, and President of the American National Red Cross, do hereby proclaim the beginning, as of this date, of a Red Cross War Fund Campaign for the raising of a minimum sum of fifty million dollars; and I appeal to the American people to make this campaign an overwhelming success. Realizing the desire of every American to participate in the national war effort, I confidently anticipate an immediate and spontaneous response to this appeal.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DAY OF PRAYER

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

The year 1941 has brought upon our nation a war of aggression by powers dominated by arrogant rulers whose selfish purpose is to destroy free institutions. They would thereby take from the freedom-loving peoples of the earth the hard-won liberties gained over many centuries.

The new year of 1942 calls for the courage and the resolution of old and young to help to win a world struggle in order that we may preserve all we hold dear.

We are confident in our devotion to country, in our love of freedom, in our inheritance of courage. But our strength, as the strength of all men everywhere, is of greater avail as God upholds us.

THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby appoint the first day of the year 1942 as a day of prayer, of asking forgiveness for our shortcomings of the past, of consecration to the tasks of the present, of asking God's help in days to come.

Appointment of
Jan. 1, 1942 as a day of prayer.

We need His guidance that this people may be humble in spirit but strong in the conviction of the right; steadfast to endure sacrifices and brave to achieve a victory of liberty and peace.
