In Brief

NLS celebrates its 90th anniversary

March 3, 2021, marked the 90th anniversary of the National Library Service for the Blind and Print Disabled. NLS will be celebrating throughout 2021 by sharing historical tidbits, interviews, and congratulations from the Library of Congress and others. To follow along as we commemorate our history or share your own experiences with NLS, join us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/thatalldayread or visit our anniversary landing page at www.loc.gov/nls/about/90th-anniversary/.

NLS virtual jazz concert available on YouTube

Patrons who missed the live virtual concert on March 3 featuring jazz pianist and NLS patron Matthew Whitaker may still listen to the concert on YouTube at <https://www.youtube.com/c/loc>. The concert kicked off the NLS 90th anniversary celebration and was preceded by an interview with Whitaker, which is also available on YouTube. For more information about Matthew Whitaker, check out the NLS Music Notes blog at <https://blogs.loc.gov/nls-music-notes> or the Library of Congress event page at <https://go.usa.gov/xsCzy>.

Andrew Heiskell Braille and Talking Book Library online offerings

The Andrew Heiskell Braille and Talking Book Library in New York City offers free, interactive Zoom workshops on assistive technology, braille, and books. To receive invitations and reminders about upcoming workshops, email heiskelltech+subscribe@googlegroups.com to join the Tech and Culture mailing list. The library has also launched a new podcast called Talkin' Talking Books. Each episode will feature library staff, volunteers, and patrons engaging in lively and light-hearted conversation about books available through NLS. The first episode can be accessed at <http://bit.ly/39AIP4a>. For more information about Andrew Heiskell's offerings, visit www.nypl.org/locations/heiskell or call 212-621-0627.

In Brief

Monthly accessibility webinars available from Freedom Scientific

Patrons who use JAWS, Fusion, or ZoomText may find the free webinars offered by creator Freedom Scientific useful. Webinars are generally held on the third Thursday of the month at 12 noon Eastern Time and can be accessed at www.freedomscientific.com/training/freeweinars. Recent topics have included using JAWS to access Microsoft Teams, using JAWS to host a Zoom meeting, and braille literacy. Recordings of all previous webinars are available from the Freedom Scientific website as streaming audio or video.

Free braille children's books available in BRF

Scholastic and American Action Fund for Blind Children and Adults have collaborated to release Tracey West's Dragon Masters series free in BRF. This seventeen-book series follows various eight-year-olds and their dragon partners. The protagonist of books sixteen, Tessa, is blind. All books can be downloaded from www.actionfund.org/resources/dragon-masters. Books one through fourteen are also available as digital talking books from NLS, beginning with Dragon Masters Books 1–6 (DB96217).

Tactile Images announces new partnership with Getty and NFB

Tactile Images, Getty Images, and the National Federation of the Blind have joined forces to make millions of culturally important images available in accessible formats to museums and other educational institutions around the world. Several traveling exhibits have already been developed, including George Washington: Founding Father and Vincent van Gogh: Masterworks. More exhibits are to follow. While many museums around the world are currently closed due to the COVID-19 pandemic, patrons can look forward to new and more accessible displays when cultural institutions reopen. For more information, visit <https://tactileimages.com>.

Accessible Pharmacy offers home delivery and consultations

Launched in 2020, Accessible Pharmacy is a home delivery pharmacy specializing in the needs of blind and low vision individuals. It offers more than ten different types of packaging, including ScripTalk, as well as patient education services. For more information, visit www.accessiblepharmacy.com or call 215-799-9900. Accessible Pharmacy has also formed a partnership with Be My Eyes, and its experts can be accessed through the Specialized Help section on the Be My Eyes app for patrons who already subscribe to that service.

Books for Adults

All books listed in this issue of Talking Book Topics (TBT) have been distributed to cooperating libraries, though TBT does not include every book that has been produced by NLS. The complete collection, containing a wide range of fiction and nonfiction books, including biographies, classics, westerns, mysteries, and romances, can be found by visiting www.loc.gov/nls.

Registered users may also download all titles and magazines from the NLS Braille and Audio Reading Download (BARD) service at <https://nlsbard.loc.gov>. The free BARD Mobile app is available from the App Store, Google Play, and Amazon's Appstore for reading talking books on your personal smart phone or tablet. To learn more about the collection or to sign up for BARD, contact your local cooperating library. Regional library telephone numbers and email addresses are listed on the last pages of this magazine.

Books within the headings Adult Fiction and Adult Nonfiction are listed alphabetically by subject category, author last name, and title. For example the title War and Peace by Leo Tolstoy would be listed in Adult Fiction under the Classics subject category and by the last name Tolstoy.

Note: A notice may appear immediately following the book description to indicate occurrences of violence, strong language, or descriptions of sex. The word "some" before any of these terms indicates an occasional or infrequent occurrence, as in "some strong language." Commercial audiobooks for which NLS does not have access to the print book may display the notice "unrated," which means that the book may or may not contain violence, strong language, or descriptions of sex.
