Dear George:

I talked with Marion the other night at Chapel Hill. I suggested that she wire you her itinerary. She will probably be moving into your region within the next day or two. She still has a few things to do in North Carolina.

I wish you would outline to her very carefully the type of thing you talked to Russell about and that you also talked to Arthur Rothstein and me about the last time you were in Washington; do not be afraid to give her very detailed descriptions of the things in the field which she has to photograph. After all, you have a knowledge of the cotton story better in hand than anybody I know of, and the little details which will come to your mind are terribly important to a photographer. If we are going to do this job, I would like to do it as thoroughly as we can.

What do you have in the way of cooperative enterprises? We have a gib drive on now, getting pictures on scoops. Give her any ideas along this line you may have in mind. I don't know whether she'll be able to get them done or not, though.

We are now working on a set of rehabilitation panels similar to the ones on the Negro. As soon as they are completed, you will have one set and probably more.

With best regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Roy E. Stryker
