Private

Philadelphia, September 25, 1863.

Hon. Abraham Lincoln

President of the United States

Sir,

Permit me, as Editor of the "Ladies' Book," to request a few minutes of your precious time, while laying before you a subject of deep interest to myself and as I trust many to the President of our Republic, of some importance. This subject is to have the day of our annual Thanksgiving made a National and United Nation Festival.

You may have observed that for some years past, there has been an increasing interest felt in our land to have the Thanksgiving held on the same day in all the States, as now needs national recognition and authoritative fixation, only to become heretofore our American custom and institution. Indeed, one of the purposes (briefly hinted there on early now) which will make the idea and its proper close and show also the popularity of the plan.

For the last fifteen years I have set forth this idea in the "Ladies' Book," and placed the request before the governors of all the States and Territories, who, I have written to our Ministers abroad, and our Ministers to the nations and communities in the body, from the recipient I have received uniformly the most kind approval. Two of these letters one from Governor (now General) Banks and one from Governor Morgan also enclosed both letters, as you will see, herewith added to bring about the desired Thanksgiving Union.

But I find there are obstacles not possible to be overcome, without legislative aid, that each State should by statute make it obligatory on the Governor to Appoint the last Thursday of November, annually, as Thanksgiving Day; or, as this law would require, years to be realized, it has come to me that a proclamation from the President of the United States would be the best, surest, and most fitting method of National Appropriateness.

I have written to my friend, Hon. Mr. M. Cannon, and requested him to confer with President Johnson on this subject.

The President of the United States has also power to Appoint, for the District of Columbia and the Territories, also for the Army and Navy and all American citizen, absent either claim pension from the U.S. Government could he not with right as well as duty, issue this proclamation for a Day of Thanksgiving for all the above classes of persons, and would it not be fitting and patriotic for him to apply to the Governor of all the States granting these to unite, for the last Thursday in November as the Day of Thanksgiving for the people of each State? Thus the great Union Festival of America would be established.

The purpose of this letter is to remind President Lincoln to set forth his Proclamation appointing the last Thursday in November (which falls this year on the 26th) as the National Thanksgiving for all those classes of people the State under the National Government particularly, and commemorating this Union Thanksgiving to each State Executive, the by the people assembled and action of the President of the United States, this humanity and liberty. The great American Festival of Thanksgiving would be forever secured.

An immediate proclamation would be necessary so as to reach all the States in season for State appointments, was to anticipate the early appointments by Governor. Secure this liberty I have taken.

With profound respect

Your Truly,

Sarah Josepha Hale.

Editor of the "Godey's"
Sarah J. Hale to Abraham Lincoln, Monday, September 28, 1863 (Thanksgiving)

From Sarah J. Hale to Abraham Lincoln1, September 28, 1863
Private

Philadelphia, Sept. 28th 1863.

Sir.--

Permit me, as Editress of the "Lady's Book", to request a few minutes of your precious time, while laying before you a subject of deep interest to myself and -- as I trust -- even to the President of our Republic, of some importance. This subject is to have the day of our annual Thanksgiving made a National and fixed Union Festival.

You may have observed that, for some years past, there has been an increasing interest felt in our land to have the Thanksgiving held on the same day, in all the States; it now needs National recognition and authoritative fixation, only, to become permanently, an American custom and institution. Enclosed are three papers (being printed these are easily read) which will make the idea and its progress clear and show also the popularity of the plan.

For the last fifteen years I have set forth this idea in the "Lady's Book", and placed the papers before the Governors of all the States and Territories -- also I have sent these to our Ministers abroad, and our Missionaries to the heathen -- and commanders in the Navy. From the recipients I have received, uniformly the most kind approval. Two of these letters, one from Governor (now General) Banks and one from Governor Morgan2 are enclosed; both gentlemen as you will see, have nobly aided to bring about the desired Thanksgiving Union.

But I find there are obstacles not possible to be overcome without legislative aid -- that each State should, by statute, make it obligatory on the Governor to appoint the last Thursday of November, annually, as Thanksgiving Day; -- or, as this way would require years to be realized, it has occurred to me that a proclamation from the President of the United States would be the best, surest and most fitting method of National appointment.

I have written to my friend, Hon. Wm. H. Seward, and requested him to confer with President Lincoln on this subject As the President of the United States has the power of appointments for the District of Columbia and the Territories; also for the Army and Navy and all American citizens abroad who claim protection from the U. S. Flag -- could he not, with right as well as duty, issue his proclamation for a Day of National Thanksgiving for all the above classes of persons? And would it not be fitting and patriotic for him to appeal to the Governors of all the States, inviting and commending these to unite in issuing proclamations for the last Thursday in November as the Day of Thanksgiving for the people of each State? Thus the great Union Festival of America would be established.

Now the purpose of this letter is to entreat President Lincoln to put forth his Proclamation, appointing the last Thursday in November (which falls this year on the 26th) as the National Thanksgiving for all those classes of people who are under the National Government particularly, and commending this Union Thanksgiving to each State Executive: thus, by the noble example and action of the President of the United States, the permanency and unity of our Great American Festival of Thanksgiving would be forever secured.
An immediate proclamation would be necessary, so as to reach all the States in season for State appointments, also to anticipate the early appointments by Governors.3

Excuse the liberty I have taken
With profound respect
Yrs truly

Sarah Josepha Hale,
Editress of the "Ladys Book"

[Note 1 ID: Sarah J. Hale, a poet and novelist, became editor of the Ladies' Magazine in 1828. In 1837 the Ladies' Magazine was sold and became known as the Lady's Book. Hale served as editor of the Lady's Book until 1877. During her tenure as editor, Hale made the magazine the most recognized and influential periodical for women. Hale was involved in numerous philanthropic pursuits and used her position as editor to advocate the education of women.]

[Note 2 Nathaniel P. Banks and Edwin D. Morgan]

[Note 3 On October 3, Lincoln issued a proclamation that urged Americans to observe the last Thursday in November as a day of thanksgiving. See Collected Works, VI, 496-97.]